See ADMISSION — ADMISSIONS BY OR AGAINST THIRD PERSONS, 2 N.W.P. 207.

See APPELLATE COURT--OBJECTIONS FIRST TAKEN IN APPEAL, 9 W.R. 503.

See ARBITRATION—MISCELLANEOUS, 57 P.R. 1876.

Ground not urged in lower appellate Court —Right to urge in further appeal—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXXII, r. 7, 134 P.L.R. 1911.

See EVIDENCE—MAPS, 15 C. 353.

See GHATWALI TENURE, 18 W.R. 376.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 20 W.R. 197.

See JUDGMENT—GENERAL. A.W.N. 1882, 6.

Of appeal—See JURISDICTION—QUESTION OF JURISDICTION, 7 B.H.C.A.C. 79.

See LOCAL INVESTIGATION, 8 W.R. 6.

See PLAINT—AMENDMENT OF PLAINT, 2 B.H.C. 162.

See REVIEW—REVIEW AFTER TIME, 114 P.R. 1876.

Giving no opportunity for reply—Ground for special appeal—See RIGHT OF REPLY, 8 B.L.R. App. 44.

Alternative reliefs in plaint—Partition—Findings of fact unaccompanied by reasons—Not conclusive in second appeal—Practice—Procedure. — See VARIANCE BETWEEN PLEADINGS AND PROOF, 19 B. 323.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal.

(1)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 565, 566, 587 — Second appeal—Determination of questions of fact—Remand.—It was not intended that the High Court, sitting as a Court of second appeal, should determine questions of fact on the evidence. The only grounds on which second appeals are cognizable, are those mentioned in s. 584, which relate to errors of law or usage having the force of law or substantial error or defect in procedure which may possibly have produced error or defect in the decision of the case on the merits. When an appeal has been admitted on those grounds, the whole case cannot be opened so as to enable the High Court to deal with it under s. 565. If the lower appellate Court has omitted to frame or try any issue or to determine any essential question of fact, the proper course for the High Court is to remit the issues for trial to that Court. GIRDHARI LAL v. W. CRAWFORD, 9 A. 147 = A. W. N. 1886, 325. (7 A. 765, 8 A. 172, Overruled.)

(2)—Improper admission of evidence by lower Court—Remand.—Though the High Court cannot, on second appeal, generally look at the evidence itself to decide the sufficiency of evidence in the case, other than that improperly admitted, to support the lower Court's finding, yet, in cases where it is clear from the judgment that the Court below has arrived at its findings independently of the improperly admitted evidence, there need be no remand. WOMES CHANDER CHATTERJEE v. CHUNDER CHURN ROY CHOWDHRY, 7 C. 293. (24 W. R. 392, Diss.) [R., 23 C. 179, 31 C. 380, 35 C. 701 = 12 C. W. N. 657 = 6 C. L. J. 563.]

(3)—Extension of time for presenting appeal.—The High Court has the power to extend the time for presenting a special (appeal. BABOO KASHINAUTH ROY v. MYNOODDEEN CHOWDRY, W.R.F.B. 146.

(4)—Presentation—Vacation—No indulgence can be shown to a special appellant whose time for appealing had expired, by reason of his not exercising any diligence in preparing his petition. The vacations are not periods to be added to the prescribed periods for appealing. KISHTOPROSHAUD CHUCKERBUTTY v. RADA KANTO BHUTTACHARJEE, W. R. 1864, Mis. 13.

(5)—Special or second appeal—Procedure in special appeal—Right of respondent to urge objections under s. 348, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859.—In a special appeal, as well as in a regular appeal, it is competent for the respondent to show that points decided against him ought to have been decided in his favour. In an appeal in a suit for enhancement of rent, where the tenant is appellant and seeks to reduce the amount, the respondents may show, on other points of law, that it ought to have been enhanced beyond that which the decree gave him. HILLS v. ISHORE GHOSE, Marsh, 161 = W.R.F.B. 48 = 1 Ind. Jur. O. S. 25 = 1 Hay 350.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(6)—Appeal—Right of respondent to take objection which he might have taken in separate special appeal.—The respondent in a special appeal could not take any objection to the decision of the lower Court which he might have taken if he had preferred a separate special appeal. MAKUDU RAVULLAN v. MASTAN SAHIB, 1 M.H.C. 102. (1 Ind. Jur. 25, Not F.)

(7)—Issues in the lower Court, party abiding by, not competent to go behind issues on special appeal.—On special appeal, the High Court, cannot allow a party to go behind the issues, by which he was content to abide in the Court below and which were actually tried there properly. If either of the lower Courts had refused to entertain any material issue, it would have afforded him good ground of complaint, but, in the absence of any such allegation, it is not competent to him to raise objection, on such grounds, during special appeal. SHAIKH AHMED MUNDUL v. SHAIKH SONAOOLLAH, 8 W. R. 5.

(8)—Second appeal—Pleadings—Meaning of plea that the judgment of the lower appellate Court is perverse.—It is not competent to an appellant in second appeal under a ground that the judgment of the lower appellate Court is perverse to raise any question of law. JWALA PRASAD v. BINDA CHARAN, A.W.N. 1892, 8.

(9)—Obscurity in judgment, how removed—Appeal.—Where the decision of a Court is obscure on any point, it is the business of the Court which passed the decision to make it clear on an application made to it for that purpose. It is not the duty of the appellate Court to make that clear which is obscure in the judgment of a lower Court. SHUMBOONATH SINGH v. MOOKTA RAM KOTAL, 11 W.R. 381.

(10)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 561—Second appeal—Objections—Withdrawal of appeal, effect of, on hearing of objections.—Where an appellant filed his appeal on the eighty-ninth day of limitation and the respondent, after the period of limitation for an appeal had expired filed objections under s. 561 of the Civ. Pro. Code and where at the hearing the appellant adandoned the appeal. Held that the objections also could not be entertained. THAKUR RAI v. GULZAR RAM, A.W. N. 1893, 68.

(11)—Second appeal—Perverse judgment of lower appellate Court—Civ. Pro. Code, 1872, s. 594.—Where the lower appellate Court had drawn such unreasonable and strained conclusions from the facts, all of which conclusively pointed in a direction opposite to its decision, held that its decision could not be allowed to stand. RAJRANI KUARI v. MANNI SAHU, A. W.N. 1882, 66.

(12)—Misplacement of the burden of proof.—Where misplacement of the onus has been acquiesced in by the parties in the Court of first instance or in the lower appellate Court, the

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

High Court would be very reluctant to interfere with the result unless there are reasons to suppose that the error may have produced error in the decision of the case on the merits. GANGADAS v. DAMA, 5 Bom. L.R. 177.

(13)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act VIII of 1859, *s.*372 —Special appeal—Remand of suit for finding on issue framed — Objection by special appellant going to merits of case.—Where the lower Court returned a finding on an issue framed by the High Court in a special appeal, the special appellant could not take an objection to the finding and the evidence so returned going to the merits of the case which otherwise was not open to him. No rights were given by s. 25 of Act XXIII of 1861 which were inconsistent with s. 372 of Act VIII of 1859. NILAYATATCHI v. VENKATACHALAM MUDALI, 1 M.H.C. 250.

(14)—Special appeal—New ground. — In special appeal, a new ground may be taken, if it manifestly arises out of the facts alleged and admitted, whether pressed or not before the lower appellate Court. KALI MOHUN CHATTERJEE v. KALI KRISHNA ROY CHOWDHRY, 2 B.L.R. App. 39=11 W.R. 183. [R., 2 M. 346.]

(15)—New point taken for first time in second appeal — Question of law.—The High Court will allow a new point to be taken for the first time in second appeal, when it is purely a question of law which arises on the findings of the Courts below, and could not be affected by any facts outside those findings. NAGESH v. GURU RAO, 17 B. 303. [R., 18 B. 679, 27 B. 452, 1 N.L.R. 1.]

(16)—Point not taken in lower Courts, whether could be taken for first time in second appeal—Practice.—A point not taken in both the lower Courts, and not made one of the grounds of second appeal, cannot be taken for the first time in second appeal, where it sets up a new right differing in kind (and not merely in degree) from that asserted throughout the trial. RACHAWA v. SHIVAYOGAPA, 18 B. 679. [R., 1 N.L.R. 1.]

(17)—Second appeal—New point.—An appellant should not, upon second appeal, be allowed to raise an entirely new point, if it is one for the right determination of which it is necessary to go into evidence which has not been produced in the lower Courts, or unless it is a pure point of law going to the question of the jurisdiction of the lower Courts, and capable of being determined without the consideration of any evidence other than that on the record; and even if it falls within such exceptions, it is a pure matter of discretion with the Court to consider it or not. FAKIR CHAND AUDHIPARI v. ANUNDA CHUNDER BHATTACHARJI, 14 C. 666. [R., 1 N.L.R. 1.]

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(18)—Second appeal—New defence.—A defence which was not raised either in the Court of first instance or in the lower appellate Court could not be raised for the first time in second appeal. RAGHUNANDAN RAI v. SUT RAMRAJ, A.W.N. 1881, 72.

(19)—Legal plea, raised for first time in second appeal—Duty of Court.—A legal plea cannot be allowed to be raised for the first time in second appeal, when it would be necessary for the Court to ascertain many points of facts, before it could properly adjudicate upon such plea. The uniform practice of the Court is to allow legal pleas in second appeals for the first time only when they require no new points of facts for determination, and those pleas can be disposed of on the materials on the record. MAHABIR TIWARI v. JHANGUR, A.W.N. 1887, 213. [R., 13 A. 381.]

(20)—Practice — Second appeal — Defendant respondent not allowed to set up in second appeal a case which he had not set up in either of the lower Courts.—A respondent to a second appeal, defendant in the suit, should not be allowed to set up in second appeal a case involving findings of fact, which case he has never set up in either of the lower Courts. KESHO TEWARI v. RADHE KISHAN, A.W.N. 1898, 107.

(21)—Plea taken for the first time in, entertainment of.—Plaintiffs sued on a mortgage, of which they alleged themselves to be assignees. The mortgage was found, by the Court of first instance, to be a genuine transaction. On appeal, it was found to be a sham. In second appeal, it was contended for the plaintiffs that, even if the mortgage was a sham, as between the mortgagor and the mortgagee, they (the plaintiffs) took it as bona fide assignees without notice. Held, the plea being one not put forward before the lower Courts, could not be entertained, for the first time, in second appeal. ANNAMALAI CHETTIAR v. PITCHU AIYAR, 15 M.L.J. 28=28 M. 122. [R., 30 M. 470=17 M.L.J. 119=2 M.L.T. 104, F.B.]

(22)—Objection as to jurisdiction involving questions of fact, not admissible in special appeal.—The question in this special appeal related to jurisdiction. The defendant-appellant contended that the Court in which the suit was brought had no jurisdiction as he was living in Calcutta. The lower appellate Court had found that, though he may, to some extent, have been living in Calcutta, he had also a dwelling-house within the jurisdiction of the Court in which he was sued. It was sought to be urged during second appeal that the defendant had made a transfer to other parties, of his rights and interests in the house. But the High Court held that as such objection had not been taken even before the lower appellate Court, it was not competent to the defendant to raise it in special appeal. RAMANUND ROY CHOWDHRY v. URNOKALEE DEBEA, 2 W.R. 267.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(23)—Point not taken in Courts below, taken for first time in second appeal—Costs.—Where the Subordinate Judge awarded a fourth share to the plaintiff (adopted son), and the defendant (natural son) in his appeal to the District Court did not raise any question about the correctness of that award, but contended in second appeal that, under any circumstances, the plaintiff was entitled only to a fifth share, held that, under the circumstances and having regard to the nature of the question, the point might be allowed in the second appeal but that the appellant could not be allowed the costs of the appeal. GIRIAPA v. NINGAPA, 17 B. 100. [R., 17 B. 303, 27 B. 452.]

(24)—Plea not raised in original Court or grounds of appeal—Plea raised in special appeal.—Where an issue was not raised before the original Court, nor was it taken in the grounds of appeal from its judgment, held, that it was too late to set up the plea for the first time in the special appeal to the High Court, especially when the evidence was not directed to it. AMEEROONNISSA KHATOON v. ABADOONNISSA KHATOON, 15 B.L.R. 67, P.C.= 23 W.R. 208=2 I.A. 87=3 Sar. 423.

(25)—Practice—Second appeal—Plea that appeal in lower Court was barred by limitation—Plea cannot be raised at the hearing when not taken in memo of appeal.—A plea that an appeal to the lower appellate Court was time-barred because the insufficient Court-fee in the memo of appeal therein was not made good till after the expiry of the period of limitation, cannot be urged at the hearing of the second appeal when it has not been taken in the memo of second appeal. RAM KISHEN UPADHIA v. DIPAUPADHIA, 13 A. 580=A.W.N. 1891, 166. [R., 15 A. 123, F.B.=13 A.W.N. 47, 34 C. 941 =11 C.W.N. 959, 6 C.L.J. 237.]

(26)—Practice—Plea of limitation not raised in the written statement—New pleas involving decisions of new facts—Whether can be raised in second appeal—Act XV of 1877 (Limitation), sch. II, arts. 119, 144 and 127.—Where the defendant only contended in his written statement that art. 119 was applicable, but on second appeal relied on arts. 127 and 144. Held, that as the new pleas of limitation under arts. 127 and 144 involve the decision of new questions of fact the defendant-appellant cannot be allowed to raise them in second appeal. Art. 119 of the Limitation Act has no application to a suit for possession. (25 C. 354, 30 M. 308, R.) Obiter.—Art. 91 of the Limitation Act does not apply where the prayer for the cancellation of a document is not an essential part of the plaintiff's relief. APPAVU MANIGARAN v. MUTHUSWAMY PILLAI, 5 M.L.T. 262. (14 M. 26, R.)

(27)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 374—Special appeal—Point of law.—A point of law, neither raised in the Court of first instance, nor alluded to in the lower appellate Court could not, under s. 374 of Act VIII of 1859, be argued for the first time in special appeal before the High Court. LALLA JOWAHIR LALL PANDEY v. THE COURT OF WARDS ON BEHALF OF SHIVA SUNKUR PERSHAD SAHOO, 17 W.R. 214.

(28)—Pleadings—Special appeal—Point of law first raised.—A point of law may be raised for the first time in special appeal, even though it was not taken before the High Court on a former occasion when it passed an order of remand. DARIMBA DEBIA v. NIL MONEE SINGH DEO, 15 W.R. 180.

(29)—Objection taken for first time in second appeal—Practice.—An objection based upon a point of law may be made in second appeal, and the Court must take notice of it, if it does not involve the taking of any additional evidence on matters of disputed facts. GAVDAPPA v. GIRIMALLAPPA, 19 B. 331. [R., 25 B. 202, 1 N.L.R. 1, 1 S.L.R. 142.]

(30)—Hindu Law—Joint family—Mitakshara law—Alienation by joint consent or by kura—Special appeal—Parties not to set up new case.—In a Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara law, the family property can only be alienated by the joint consent of all the members, express or implied, or in the event of such a case of family necessity occurring, as will, in the eye of the law, save to invest the karta with authority to alien as the agent of all, then by the karta alone. It is not competent to a party to a special appeal before the High Court to raise an argument entirely different from that raised in the Courts below and to set up a state of facts entirely inconsistent with his statements in the lower Courts. BUNSEE LALL v. SHAIKH AOLADH AHSAN, 22 W.R. 552.

(31)—Special appeal—New issue.—The plaintiff's case in the lower Court having been that his father had been extravagant, and the issue there having been whether the debts for which plaintiff's ancestral property was to be sold had been incurred for purposes sanctioned by the Hindu law, held that he could not in special appeal be permitted to change the allegation on which he went to trial and raise a new point, viz., that his father having, under the Mitakshara law, been only a sharer with his sons, the rights and interests sold could not comprise the whole property. SHIU DAS NARAYAN SINGH v. BHAGWAN DUTT, 2 B.L.R. App. 15=11 W.R.O.C. 10.

(32)—Res judicata—If plea can first be taken in special appeal—Practice—Second appeal.—A plea of res judicata may be taken orally in second appeal though it is not entered on the memorandum of appeal, inasmuch as such a plea involves a question of jurisdiction which a Court is bound to entertain whenever such question comes to its notice. BRIJBASI RAI v. SHIVATAHLU RAI, A. W. N. 1891, 10.

Special or Second Appeal*—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(33)—Pleadings—Second appeal—Point raised for the first time—When not to be allowed—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s. 100—Res judicata between co-defendants—Previous rent suit—Subsequent title suit.—Where a point was not raised in the written statement, nor was any issue framed upon it, and no evidence was adduced by either of the parties with regard to it, and the Courts below had not expressed any opinion on the point : Held, that that point cannot be allowed to be raised for the first time in second appeal. Where, in a previous rent suit, the real question for determination was whether the landlords were entitled to recover rent from all the defendants or from some of the defendants only, and the Court held that the landlords had failed to prove that they were entitled to recover rent from some of the defendants : Held, that this finding cannot preclude these defendants from establishing their title to the property as against the other defendants in the previous suit, if they have any title. JINNAT ALI v. NISSA BIBI, 7 Ind. Cas. 123 (31 C. 958, 8 C.W.N. 30, 1 Ind. Cas. 913, 36 C. 193, 5 C.W.N. 724, Rel. on).

(34)—Plea of title under miras pottah—New plea in special appeal.—In a suit for possession of certain lands by right of purchase, the defendant pleaded that he had long held the lands under a miras pottah which both the Courts below found to be false. Held that the defendant should not be allowed in special appeal to take his stand on an altogether new case based upon a separate title under s. 6 of Act X of 1859, that is to say a right of occupancy accorded to a ryot in possession for 12 years. SOORJO KOOMAR v. GUNGADHUR ROY, 12 W.R. 80. (8 W.R. 374, 10 W.R. 361, D.; 11 M.I.A. 7, F.) [D., 19 W.R. 219.]

(35)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act X of 1877, s. 232—Assignment not in writing—Objection for the first time taken in special appeal.—Though s. 232 of the Civ. Pro. Code contemplates the existence of an assignment in writing as a condition precedent to the assignee's application to execute the decree being granted, there is nothing in that section which required the assignment to be filed with the proceedings; and when such objection is taken for the first time in special appeal, it must be presumed that the Court executing the decree did all things which the law prescribed to be necessary, and non constat that an assignment in writing exists, though it does not appear to have been filed. TOTA SINGH v. KAHN SINGH, 87 P.R. 1880.

(36)—Mortgage — Redemption — Plea, not taken in lower Courts, taken in the appellate Court—Validity.—Where a plaintiff sues for redemption on the ground of holding in right of dower, she cannot be allowed, in special appeal, to base her right to redeem on the ground of being heir to mortgagor. MUSSAMUT BEBEE RAHOMAN v. MUSSAMUT FUZULOONISSA, W.R. 1864, 326.

Special or Second Appeal*—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(37)—Practice—Confession of judgment by one of several defendants — Dismissal of suit—Second appeal—Objection for the first time.—One of the defendants in a suit for possession and mesne profits confessed judgment. The suit was nevertheless dismissed in the Court of first instance and on appeal. The plaintiff appealed to the High Court, and there he objected for the first time to the decrees of the lower Courts on the ground that one of the defendants had confessed judgment. Held that he could not take that objection in second appeal. DWARKA v. RAMDHANI, A.W.N. 1883, 158.

(38)—Easement—New point in second appeal.—It is not open to the defendant to raise a new point that the way claimed was not a defined track, without having raised it in the lower Courts or in the memorandum of second appeal. SHAIKH KHODA BUKSH v. SHAIKH TAJUDDIN, 8 C.W.N. 359.

(39)—Pleadings—Setting up new case in second appeal—Suit for partition—Prayer in the nature of an easement, whether can be granted—Practice.—Where the plaintiff has sued only for partition between himself and the defendants, he cannot, in second appeal, be permitted to set up a new case in the nature of an easement, and ask for an injunction restraining defendants from interfering with his user of the property as a cattle pen. SANKARALINGA MAISTRY v. POONAMALI MAISTRY, 6 Ind. Cas. 423 = 8 M.L.T. 87. (34 C. 51, 4 C.L.J. 437, 11 C.W.N. 20, 1 M.L.T. 364, D.)

(40)—Ground of appeal taken in lower appellate Court not argued there—Whether bars its being taken in second appeal—Notice, sufficiency of.—Where the notice on which a party relies is only a four days' notice it was held that it was clearly insufficient in law. The fact that a ground of appeal taken in the lower appellate Court was not argued therein does not prevent its being taken in second appeal. RAMACHANDRA v. LAXMIPATHAYA, 3 M.L.T. 293. (18 M. 83, R.)

(41)—Second appeal—Objection of want of proper notice to quit raised for first tme in appeal—Practice.—In a suit for ejectment, the objection by the tenant of want of a proper notice to quit may be raised for the first time even in second appeal. (2 M. 346, 12 M. 353, P. J. for 1880, p. 122, R.) In the present case, the objection was not taken in the written statement, nor apparently even in the memorandum of appeal. It was, nevertheless, in fact, dealt with by the appellate Court. Held that the High Court in second appeal would allow the defendant to take the objection of want of notice. VITHU v. DHONDI, 15 B. 407. [R., 18 B. 110.]

(42)—Compromise—Revival of suit—Jurisdiction—Special appeal.—Where the Court below might have dealt with the suit as if it had been a revival of the previous suit which ended in compromise, but has not done so, the High Court cannot do so in special appeal. TRILOCHUN CHATTERJEE v. RASH MOHUN CHATTERJEE, 20 W.R. 432.

Special or Second Appeal*—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(43)—Failure to suit—Relief first asked in special appeal.—When a plaintiff fails to make out a claim for enhanced rent, he is not] entitled in special appeal to a decree for rent at the original rate. KASHEE PERSHAD SEN NEOGEE v. JAMIR PAIKAR, 2 C L.R. 265.

(44)—Sale by widow of her absolute property—Special appeal.—Where the plaintiff claimed as a reversioner to set aside a sale made by a Hindu widow, and it was found that the property belonged to the widow absolutely, the plaintiff not having in the lower Courts put forward any claim as heir of the widow cannot be allowed to urge such claim in special appeal. KRIPA NATH MOJOOMDAR v. SARODA CHOWDHRAIN, 1 W.R. 282.

(45)—Suit for declaration that certain property is self-acquired—Variation of title in special appeal—Variation of relief.—Where a plaintiff sues to set aside a summary order declaring his brother to bave rights and interests in certain property, and to have it declared that that property is his own self-acquired property and fails to prove his allegation, he cannot, in special appeal, ask the Court to declare that he is entitled to a moiety of the property as a member of a joint Hindu family. As he had chosen to sue on a particular title and had failed to establish it, he cannot ask the Court to give him a decree on a title which he, looking to the character in which he brought his suit, had repudiated. A Court can give to a party proving his title any relief that it may think necessary, though it may not be what the plaintiff seeks; but a Court cannot allow a plaintiff to vary his title. HEMANGINEE DOSSEE v. PITAMBER DEY, 5 W.R. 197.

(46)—Alleged admission by party—Statement by Judge—Enquiry as to whether Judge was right in making statement—Special appeal—Review—Procedure.—Where a Judge states as a fact that an admission was made before him by a party to the suit, the High Court in special appeal has no power to enquire whether he was right or not in making that statement. If the Judge erred in supposing the alleged admission to have been made, the proper course for the party was at once to bring the error to the notice of the Judge, and to apply for a review of his judgment. BYKUNTNATH GOOPTO v. PROSUNNO MOYEE DABIA, 5 W.R. 196.

(47)—Special appeal—New title.—The defendants who in the Court below unsuccessfully claimed to retain possession of some land under a Kabala from a Muhammadan widow, who was alleged by them to have been absolutely entitled thereto under her right of dower, could not, in special appeal, set up for the first time that the widow was entitled to a share by inheritance, if not as denmohur, no case of that kind having been made in the Courts below, and no enquiry asked for into the state of the family or as to whether any and what share came to the widow. AMBIKA CHARAN DUTT v. NADIR HOSSEIN, 2 B.L.R.A.C. 258=11 W. R. 133.

Special or Second Appeal*—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(48)—Review—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 353, 375—Special appeal, rules in trial of—Finding of lower appellate Court, based on insufficient evidence—Procedure.—A case which is tried on special appeal is subject to all rules provided for regular appeals so far as the same may be applicable. Where the High Court comes to the conclusion that the evidence on the record is not legally or reasonably sufficient to support the findings of the lower appellate Court, it can deal with the case without any remand, and without calling up the case and re-hearing it. JOY RAM ROY v. OMRAO ROY, 12 W.R. 431.

(49)—Adverse finding of fact by first Court—Omission to file memorandum of objections—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 348.—Where the first Court found against the defendant on a matter of fact, but decreed in his favour on a point of law, and on the plaintiff's appeal, the defendant omitted to file a memorandum of objections to the adverse finding of fact of the first Court, and the appellate Court did not go into the question of fact in confirming the decree of the first Court on the point of law, held that, under the circumstances, the High Court could give judgment, in special appeal, in plaintiff's favour, without a remand. WAIGANKAR v. WADEKAR, 5 B H.C.A.C. 194.

(50)—Marine Insurance—Perils of sea—Constructive total loss—Remand—Special appeal—Interference of fact from evidence.—Plaintiff sued to recover Rs. 897 with interest, as for a total loss, upon a policy of insurance on goods shipped on board a vessel for the voyage from Surat to Karachi. The vessel, after leaving Surat, met with bad weather, and, having sprung a leak, was forced to put into Dwarka harbour. Of the goods shipped, the iron was thrown overboard during the voyage, and jagari and oil were placed in a godown at Dwarka, and subsequently plundered and carried away by robbers. The cotton seeds alone remained and they were sold after being dried and cleaned. The District Judge found for the plaintiff. Held, (a) that there was no actual total loss of goods insured, as a large portion of them was landed at Dwarka, and supposing the robbery to be a loss occasioned by perils of the sea, still the cotton seeds which formed the more valuable portion of the cargo remained; (b) that the robbery was a loss not strictly by perils of the sea, but by one of the perils insured against; (c) that the District Judge should have considered whether there was a constructive total loss of the goods insured to entitle the plaintiff to abandon.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

The High Court accordingly remanded the case to the District Judge for determining whether the whole or any part of the cargo was practically capable of being sent in a marketable state of the port of destination. The District Judge was further directed to find whether there was any constructive total loss in which case plaintiff would be entitled to recover the amount claimed with interest, and if not, to award such a proportion of the value of the iron and jagari and oil which were actully lost, and of the amount of the deterioration suffered by the cotton seeds and other articles, as the sum insured by the defendant bore to the whole sum insured. In estimating the value of the goods lost and the amount of the deterioration which the under-writers were to be charged with, the District Judge was directed to consider what proportion the sum insured bore to the actual value of the goods, and if it was less than the actual value, to allow for the loss and deterioration in the same proportion. [R., 12 B.H.C. 23.] The High Court is not at liberty, in a special appeal, to draw any inference of fact from the evidence in the case. DWRAKADAS LALUBHAI v. ADAM ALI SULTAN ALI, 3 B.H.C.A.C. 1. [R., 12 B. H.C. 23.]

(51)—Remand to lower appellate Court—Fresh evidence taken by lower appellate Court under s. 356, Act VIII of 1859, Special appeal not to be treated as regular appeal.—On this special appeal, it was urged that, as the lower appellate Court had, instead of remitting the case to the first Court, itself taken fresh evidence, the High Court must treat the case as a regular appeal and should come to a finding on that evidence; in other words, every suitor being entitled to two findings on matters of fact, where the first appellate Court chooses to itself take further evidence, the case takes then a form of an original suit and must be heard by the High Court not as a special appeal, but, as a regular appeal. The High Court held that the Legislature when enacting Act VIII of 1859, never intended to convert special appeals into regular appeals when it allowed the Judge sitting as a Court of appeal to record further evidence under s. 536, or to pronounce a judgment on the evidence recorded which had not been considered by the first Court as described in s. 353. LALLA HEERA LAL v. GOUREE BYJNATH PERSHAD, 4 W.R. 43.

(52)—Discovery of fresh evidence—Review petition.—Where a party on coming tothe High Court on second appeal discovers that there is evidence which ought to have been placed before the lower Courts, the practice is to allow the second appeal to be withdrawn in order that a review petition may be presented to the lower appellate Court. RAMCHANDRA v. KRISHNAJI, 5 Bom. L.R. 615=28 B. 4. [R., 31 M. 415.]

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(53)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 355—Additional evidence taken in lower appellate Court— Special appeal to High Court—Procedure by High Court.—The fact of a lower appellate Court taking additional evidence under s. 355, Act VIII of 1859, does not make a special appeal oefore the High Court liable to be heard and decided as if it were a regular appeal. MAHMOOD KAMIL v. ABDOOL LUTEEF, 23 W.R. 51. [Appr., 7 A. 765, F. B.]

(54)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act VIII of 1859, s. 355—Appeal—Admission of fresh evidence by appellate Court — Special appeal—Power of High Court to examine said evidence.—Where the first appellate Court examined a witness not examined by the lower Court, the High Court in special appeal was entitled to consider the evidence of the said witness. ABDOOL LUTEEF v. MAHOMED KAMIL, 22 W.R. 369.

(55)—Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, s. 4—Uniform payment of rent—Evidence bearing on every year—Exclusion of period of ejectment by vis major—High Court—Special appeal—Evidence—Difference in appreciation of evidence by lower Court—Decision on question of evidence by High Court.—To support a finding of uniformity of payment of rent for any given number of years, it is not necessary that there should be evidence bearing directly on every year of that number; it is sufficient if the whole space of the time is included between limits upon which the evidence bears, provided that that evidence is such as to lead to the belief that the rent was uniform throughout the intervening period. A break in the intervening period by eviction of the tenant by a third person though it would put an end to the ryot's possession, would not destroy his holding. So that, if he is subsequently restored to possession, he is restored to his original holding. Where the Court of first instance and the first appellate Court differed in the consideration of the evidence adduced in a case and came to different conclusions the High Court went into the question of evidence fully. RASHBEHARY GHOSE v. RAM COOMAR GHOSE, 22 W.R. 487.

(56)—Second appeal—Sufficiency of evidence to support given conclusion of fact—Question of law.—It is a question of law for the High Court to determine on second appeal, whether there is evidence before it, on which a Court could properly arrive at any given conclusion of fact. BIDHUMUKHI DABEA CHOWDHRAIN v. KEFYUTULLAH, 12 C. 93. (12 C. 82, F.) [F., L.B.R. 1893-1900, 543.]

(57)—Appreciation of evidence.—An appreciation of evidence by the lower appellate Court is binding upon the High Court in second appeal; but, where such appreciation is influenced by an erroneous view of the plaintiff's cause of action as stated in his plaint, it is open to the High Court in second appeal to interfere. BALA v. SHIVA, 5 Bom. L.R. 85=27 B. 271.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

—— 6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(58)—Second appeal—Practice—Party refusing to produce evidence in lower Court—Case not to be remanded.—Where a party had ample opportunities to produce his evidence, but refused to submit to the ruling of the first Court as to the onus of proof and declined to produce evidence, the High Court refused in second appeal to remand the case so as to give the party another opportunity of putting in his evidence. KANHIA LAL v. DEBI DAS, 22 A. 141=A.W.N. 1900, 2.

(59)—Letting in evidence in—Evidence not placed before the lower appellate Court.— A party can validly object to the letting in of fresh evidence, not placed before the lower appellate Court, in second appeal. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. MANJESHWAR KRISHNAYA, 31 M. 415. (28 B. 4, 18 M. 480, R.)

(60)—Plaintiff summoned as witness by defendant—Non-appearance of plaintiff--Dismissal of suit.—In the absence of any petition by the defendant for attachment or other legal process to be made by the Court to compel plaintiff to appear, it is not obligatory on the Court to dismiss the case merely on account of the non-appearance of the plaintiff summoned by the defendant to attend as witness. BUSHTEE NARAIN ROY v. SHAM SOONDUR NUNDEE, 2 W.R. Act X, Rul. 42

(61)—Remand—Order of remand to be followed by lower Court—Mesne profits—Principle of assessments.—Where a suit was remanded by the High Court for the assessment of mesne profits with reference to the principle laid down in 13 W.R. 37 if a certain state of things be found to have existed, and the Munsif assessed the profits accordingly on findings that such state of things existed, but the Judge on appeal, being of opinion that the ruling in 13 W.R. 37 had been overruled by a later decision in 14 W.R. 294-295, reversed the decision of the Munsif, held that the Judge ought to have obeyed and carried out the order of remand. If that order was wrong, the party aggrieved had his remedy by way of review, but he could not ask the High Court on special appeal to go behind the order and hold that it was wrong with reference to the ruling in 14 W.R. pp. 294-295. (13 W.R. 37, R.) The ruling in 9 W.R. 446 (F.B.) with reference to the principle assessing mesne profits considered and explained. NURSINGH ROY v. JOHN ANDERSON, 19 W.R. 125 (After remand from 16 W.R. 21.) [F., 24 W.R. 271.]

(62)—Suit to set aside sale by widow—Absence of legal necessity—Remand on special appeal—High Court whether competent to see if evidence on record warrants a contrary finding.—Plaintiff the son of one R sued for possession of certain property by setting aside a deed of sale executed by the widows of R as guardians of the plaintiff during his minority. The decree of the first Court affirmed by the first appellate Court was, that the deed of sale be set aside and plaintiff do recover possession, on the ground that there was no necessity to sell the property. The High Court was of opinion that there was no error in law sufficient to justify the reversal of the decision of the Judge and to hold that the sale was valid as having been made under necessity. Appellants urged that the case might be remanded for further enquiry, but it was held that the High Court has power before a case was remanded, to see whether there is any evidence on the record which would warrant a contrary finding, and unless there should be evidence on the record which would have justified the Judge in finding that there was a legal and valid cause for the sale in this case, a remand to the lower Court would be useless. (Per Peacock, C.J.)—Per Bayley, J. The law does not enable the High Court to try questions of fact on evidence in special appeal, as it could do in regular appeal, because there is this legal distinction between the two forms of appeal, viz., that the former trial shall be limited to questions detailed in s. 372 of Act VIII of 1859 from which a finding of fact is entirely excluded, and the latter, i.e., regular appeal may be on questions of law and questions of fact also. The special appeal law, Act VIII of 1859, s. 372, does not allow of the High Court trying facts on the evidence on the record, the question of the sufficiency of evidence being a matter for regular appeal only. RAM PERSHAD SOOKUL v. RAJUNDER SAHOY, 6 W.R. 262. [Cons., 24 W.R. 20.]

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(63)—High Court, powers of, in second appeal—Evidence.—Where in a suit for pre-emption based on contract, the District Judge, on appeal, found that the right existed as a custom and decreed in favour of the plaintiff, on a state of facts not asserted by him, the High Court can, in second appeal, look into the evidence already on the record to see whether the plaintiff's allegations as to the basis of his right are substantiated (Per Petheram, C.J., Oldfield and Tyrrell, JJ.; Straight and Brodhurst, JJ., contra). DEOKISHEN v. BANSI, 8 A. 172, F.B. =A.W.N. 1886, 35 (7 A. 765, R.) [Overruled, 9 A. 147, F.B.]

(64) — Practice — Duty of High Court in revision.—In second appeals, it is not the duty of the High Court to enter into the merits of the evidence, a fortiori, in cases of revision. All that the High Court, as a Court of revision, is required to do, is to see whether the requirements of the law have been duly and properly obeyed by the Courts whose orders are subjected to revision, and whether the irregularity as to failure of exercise of jurisdiction is such as would justify interference by the High Court. MUHAMMAD HUSAIN v. AJUDHIA PRASAD, 10 A. 467=A.W.N. 1888, 179.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(65)—Special appeal from judgment—Review after disposal of appeal—Act VIII of 1859, s. 376—Admission of special appeal, what constitutes.—Held that a Judge was right in refusing to entertain an application for a review of his judgment, after a special appeal from that judgment had been admitted, tried, and disposed of. The words "special appeal shall have been admitted" in s. 376 of Act VIII of 1859, refer to cases which have got beyond the inchoate stage of appeals, and in which it had been shown prima facie that there were errors in law. RAJ DHAREE LALL v. MAHADEO SINGH, 11 W.R. 511. (5 W.R. 25, F.B., Dist.; 9 W.R. 301; 407, F.).

(66)—Remand order, appeal against—High Court bound by findings of fact of lower appellate Court.—Whether an appeal is made against an order of remand by the Court of first appeal, or whether the propriety of such order is questioned only in a second appeal from the decree which might ultimately be made by that Court, in either case, the High Court cannot question the findings of fact of the lower Court, unless they are contrary to law, or if partly of law and partly of fact, unless there was no evidence to support them. TIKA RAM v. SHAMA CHARAN, 20 A. 42=17 A.W.N. 195. [R., 14 P. R. 1904=140 P.L.R. 1904.]

(67)—Admission of appeal after time—Power of High Court to rectify such error.—The High Court, in special appeal, can examine the grounds on which an appeal has been admitted by the lower Court after the period allowed by the law of limitation. CHUNDER DOSS v. BOSHOON LALL SOOKUL, 8 C. 251=11 C.L.R. 177. (2 B.L.R. A.C. 184, Note=10 W.R. 178).

(68)—Proof of document—Possession—Conduct of suit—Special appeal—Substantial error or defect in law—Evidence of fact.—In 1841, the plaintiffs herein filed a suit to recover possession of two villages. In answer to that, the defendants herein who were also defendants in that suit produced a document purporting to be a conveyance by way of mortgage in 1792, by the ancestors of the plaintiffs, of their 6/16 share in the villages, to the ancestors of the defendants, to become a sale at the expiration of 10 years in the event of the debt not being paid off. That suit of 1841 was withdrawn by consent with a view to arbitration. The plaintiffs subsequently brought the present action in 1859 for recovery of the same two villages. The defendants tendered the document of 1792 in evidence in the present case. The said document was in the record of the Court from the date of its first production in 1841, till the date of this suit, without plaintiffs taking any steps to bring the question of its genuineness to a decision. Held that the time which had elapsed since it was first produced must be taken into account and that the defendants ought not to be required to prove the document in the same way that they might have been required to do when it was first produced and relied upon by them. Held, further, that the case might have been different if the defendants had, by their conduct in the interval, admitted that the document was not a genuine one, or had shown that they did not intend to rely upon it, so as to mislead the plaintiffs and induce them not to take any further proceedings. An objection of want of evidence of a fact cannot be taken in special appeal when the suit appears to have been conducted as on an admission of that fact. The High Court on special appeal cannot examine into the evidence recorded in the suit with a view of determining a question of fact. DEVAJI GOYAJI v. GODADBHAI GODEBHAI, 2 B.H.C. 27. [Appl., 23 W.R. 174.]

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(69)—Question of fact—Concurrent finding.—The Court refused to interfere with the concurrent decision of the Courts below on a question of fact. ATTAR SINGH v. SOWAYA SINGH, 38 P.R. 1866.

(70)—Second appeal—Finding of fact.—A second appeal lies where there was no evidence before the lower appellate Court upon which that Court could properly arrive at the conclusion of fact at which it did arrive. SHIVABASAVA KOM AMINGAVDA v. SANGAPPA BIN AMINGAVDA, 1 A.L.J. 637, P.C.=8 C.W.N. 865=29 B. 1=6 Bom. L.R. 770=8 Sar. 720, (14 I.A. 101, 17 I.A. 122, Appl.).

(71)—Finding of fact.—A finding of fact cannot be interfered with in second appeal, however erroneous, if there be some evidence in support of the finding. DWARKA NATH BAKSHI v. MUKUNDU LAL CHOWDHURY, 5 C.L.J. 55. (18 C. 23, R.)

(72)—High Court, Second Appeal—Question of fact.—The High Court has generally no jurisdiction to entertain second appeal on the ground of erroneous findings of facts however gross or inexcusable the error would seem to be: but it will interfere in those cases where it is clear that the lower appellate Court has completely failed to appreciate the points which justly weighed with the Court of first instance. AMRITA v. DADA, 4 Bom. L.R. 822. [R., 5 Bom. L.R. 956].

(73)—Findings of fact.—Findings of fact arrived at by the lower Courts are binding upon the High Court in second appeal but when the lower Courts attach erroneous legal inferences to findings of pure facts they are open to correction in second appeal. RAJARAM v. NANCHAND, 3 Bom. L.R. 225.

(74)—Findings of fact.—The High Court cannot accept a finding of fact, arrived at without an application of sound principles to the consideration of evidence, as binding upon it. SHARIFA v. MUNEKHAN, 3 Bom. L.R. 167 =25 B. 574. [D., A.W.N. 1904, 135, 26 A. 594.]

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(75)—Second appeal—Question of fact.—The High Court cannot interfere in second appeal with question of fact. BENI BAHADUR SINGH v. RAM BARAN SINGH, A.W.N. 1887, 183.

(76)—Finding of fact.—Where the question involved is a pure question of fact, no second iappeal lies except under very special circumstances. Per Mahmood, J.—The effect of the Full Bench Ruling in Nivath Singh's case, (7 All. 649; is not that, upon a mere suggestion of the appellant, a second appeal can be converted into a first appeal or that translating the whole of the evidence into the English language would entitle the appellant to have his appeal, on pure questions of fact, admitted and heard. Any amount of translations from one language into another cannot affect the provisions of the law contained in ss. 584 and 585, Civ.Pro. Code. The Court is bound to hear the parties even when they appear in person, and cannot speak the English language. KARAMAT-UL-LAH v. BADAR-UD-DIN, A.W.N. 1886, 161.

(77)—Question of fact.—The sufficiency or insufficiency of accommodation for residence to a Hindu widow is a question of fact determinable by the exigencies of each case, and the High Court in second appeal will not disturb the conclusions arrived at by the Courts below. KISANDAS v. RUNGUBAI, 9 Bom. L R. 383.

(78)—Question of fact—Second appeal—Conclusiveness of finding.—A person who had contracted to supply bread to the troops at Peshawar authorised the defendants to take payment of moneys due from Government and to pay to the soojeewallas, who had supplied him the flour required for the contract. In a suit by the contractor's wife and son to recover a certain amount as such soojewallas, held that the question whether the plaintiffs were included in the class to whom payments were to be made, was purely a question of fact which could not be entertained in second appeal. MUSSAMUT CHANGEE v. MEWA RAM, 13 P.R. 1866.

(79)—Finding of facts—Interference on second appeal.—The High Court will not, on second appeal, generally interfere with the findings of facts by the lower appellate Court, except on some very special ground, as where there is no such satisfactory finding of facts as appears necessary under the peculiar circumstances of the case. GOLUCK NATH v. KIRTI CHUNDER HALDAR, 16 C. 645.

(80)—Second appeal—Interference on questions of fact.—If, in second appeal, it is found that certain material facts, which have an important bearing upon the question at issue, have been omitted to be considered, the High Court will interfere with the decision of the lower appellate Court, even if it be on a question of faet. DENA NATH BANERJEE v. HARI DASI, 11 C. 499.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(81)—Findings of fact—Interference by High Court in second appeal.—The High Court will interfere with findings of fact, even in second appeal, in extraordinary cases where the lower appellate Court has clearly misapprehended the evidence, before it, discarding important evidence and giving unwarranted weight to other evidence so as to be led into, not any mere incidental mistake, but a total misconception of the case. FUTTEHMA BEGUM v. MOHAMED AUSUR, 9 C. 309. [Overruled, 18 C. 23, P.C.; R., 7 A. 649, F.B.=5 A.W.N. 151, 12 C. 563].

(82)—Inference from finding of fact.—In second appeal, although it is not open to the Court to question the correctness of a finding of fact, it is open to it to question the soundness of an inference drawn from a finding of fact. KRISHNA KISHORE NEOGI v. MIR MAHOMED ALI, 3 C.W.N. 255. (20 C. 93, R.)

(83)—Findings of fact—Inferences from facts found.—The High Court in second appeal is bound by the finding of facts arrived at by the lower appellate Court; yet it is open to the High Court to consider the propriety of the inference drawn by the lower appellate Court from the facts. GANESH v. VITHAL, 6 Bom. L.R. 312.

(84)—Inference of law from findings of fact.—The High Court can on second appeal interfere with incorrect inferences of law as to the legal consequences regarded as following from facts found by the lower Courts. VENKATESH v. BHAVANISHANKER, 5 Bom. L.R. 174.

(85)—Inference of law from findings of fact—Questions of mixed law and fact—Second appeal.—Though pure findings of fact cannot be interfered with on second appeal, yet, it is competent to, and is the duty of, a Court on second appeal to interfere with incorrect inferences of law as to the legal consequences regarded as following from the facts found by the lower appellate Court. LACHMESWAR SINGH v. MANOWAR HOSSEIN, 19 C. 253=19 I.A. 48, P.C.=6 Sar. 133. [F., 5 Bom. L.R. 225; R., 21 B. 91, 21 B. 110, 24 C. 825, 25 B. 202, 4 Bom. L.R. 801, 5 Bom. L.R. 174, 5 Bom. L.R. 956.]

(86)—Practice — Second appeal — Inference of law from facts.—In second appeal, the High Court will interfere with a finding embodying only an inference of law deduced from facts found byit. BANKU BEHARI SHAHA v. KRISTO GOVINDO JOARDAR, 30 C. 433.

(87) — Concurrent findings on matter of evidence—Second appellate Court not to disturb such findings.—Where there had been a conflict of evidence and the first two Courts decided that the evidence of the plaintiffs predominated the Court of second appeal would not disturb their finding. SETH DHANRAJ v. BAXI BAHADURSING, 4 C.P.L.R. 67.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(88)—Act VII of 1868—Concurrence of lower Courts as to portion only of plaintiff's claim, not sufficient to bar second appeal.—The concurrence of both lower Courts as to portion only of the plaintiff's claim is not such a concurrence as would bar a second appeal in regard to the whole claim, but has rather the effect of forcing the party to appeal under Act VII of 1868 for the portion only as to which the lower Courts differed in opinion. The concurrence of the first and second Courts for the purpose of barring a second appeal must be absolute in regard to all substantial rights dependent on fact, or else an appeal will always lie. NIGHAYA v. JULLA, 76 P.R. 1869.

(89)—First and second appeals—Findings of fact and conclusions of law.—Although the findings of fact of a Court in first appeal must, when there is evidence on the record in support of them, be accepted as final by a Court hearing an appeal from an appellate decree, yet the correctness of the conclusion of law from the facts found can be considered in second appeal. WUTZLER v. SHARPE, 15 A. 270= A.W.N. 1893, 151.

(90)—Finding of fact, when can be questioned in second appeal.—Per Edge, C.J.—A finding of fact, where there is absolutely no evidence to support it, can be questioned in second appeal, because it is then a question of law. ANGAN LAL v. MUHAMMAD HUSSAIN, 13 A. 409=A. W.N. 1891, 159.

(91)—Findings of fact based on conjecture—Powers of High Court.—Findings of fact not based on evidence, but upon conjectures made by the lower Courts, are, strictly speaking, legal inferences and the expression of their legal views; and the High Court can, in second appeal, decide whether such inferences and such views are correct under the law. (Per Mahmood, J.). SANKAR LAL v. SUKHRANI, 4 A. 462=A.W.N. 1882, 106.

(92)—Second regular appeal—Finding of facts—Concurrence of two Courts—Act VII of 1868, s. 5.—The plaintiff in the present suit sued for the release of certain property attached in execution as property of his brother. The first Court held the property to be joint and therefore not liable to attachment for the debts of the plaintiff's brother. It accordingly decreed the plaintiff's claim. On appeal to the Deputy Commissioner, it was held that though the property was joint, the plaintiff's brother's share was liable to attachment in execution. The plaintiff thereupon appealed to the Commissioner urging that the property was not joint. Held that, notwithstanding the concurrence of two Courts on facts, it was still open to the Commissioner on second regular appeal to alter that finding. DEVI DITTA v. JHUNDU, 29 P.R. 1873.

(93)—Special appeal—Finding of fact—User of easement as of right—Finding by lower appellate Court of plaintiff's failure to prove.—

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

The lower appellate Court had found upon the evidence that the plaintiff, appellant in the second appeal, had not proved his user, as of right, of an easement on the defendant-respondent's land, and the High Court held that it could not interfere with such finding which was a decision on a question of fact which the law gave the second appellate Court no power to question, and also that it was not warranted in inferring a user in the absence of evidence of enjoyment by the appellant. MOONSHEE ZUMEER ALI v. MUSSUMUT DURGHAHIM, 2 W.R. 212.

(94)—Muhammadan Law—Decree against husband—Execution against property standing in the name of the wife—Finding of fact by the lower Court—Appeal.—In a suit by a decree-holder against a Muhammadan husband in respect of property standing in the name of his wife, held, that a distinct finding of fact had been arrived at by the lower appellate Court which could not be interfered with in special appeal. The Court accordingly dismissed the special appeal under cl. 36 of the Letters Patent. RANEE SHURNO MOYEE v. LUCHMEEPUT CHUTTER SINGH, 6 W.R. 118.

(95)—Suit for rent—Question of nugdee rent and bhowlee tenant—Finding of fact.—In a suit for arrears of rent, a decision on the question whether the defendants were holding on payment of nugdee rents or as bhowlee tenants, is a finding of fact, which cannot be interfered in special appeal. SHUMBUL SINGH v. BABOO TOONDUN SINGH, 24 W.R. 469.

(96)—Findings of fact—Misconstruction of deed.—The High Court will, in second appeal, interfere with findings of facts of the lower Courts, if they are based upon a misconstruction of, or a misinterpretation of the meaning of passages in, a document which is the very foundation of the claim. HARA SUNDAR MAJUMDAR v. BASUNTA KUMAR ROY, 9 C.W.N. 154. (19 W.R. 222, R.).

(97)—Assault — Damages, amount of—Question of fact—Practice—High Court, power of.—In a suit for damages for an assault, the question of the amount of damages is a question of fact, and it is not open to the High Court to interfere in second appeal upon such a question. MUMTAZ HUSAIN v. A. E. LEWIS, 9 Ind. Cas. 984. (31 A. 338, 6 A.L.J. 381, 1 Ind. Cas. 760, 10 W.R. 164, 3 C.L.J. 140, R.)

(98)—Question of fact—Translation of records.—In a second appeal where the only ground taken is that "the judgment of the lower appellate Court is based on mere conjecture, and not supported by the evidence on the record," it is the duty of the appellant to get the evidence relied on by him to prove his plea translated and to furnish the Court with the translations of the evidence in order that the

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

Court should be in a position to arrive at a conclusion on the matter. AJUDHIA PRASAD v. MOHAN LAL, A.W.N. 1886, 167.

(99)—Findings of fact — Papers not fully translated.—In a second appeal on a mere question of fact, time was given to the appellant to prepare a paper-book containing all the evidence in the case. When the case came on for hearing, it appeared that, so far from all the evidence on which the decrees of the lower Courts were based being placed before the Court, the Court had not even the evidence of the appellant's witnesses in its integrity. Held that it would be most unjust and misleading to try any question on selected samples only of the evidence furnished by one party to a controversy, and that it would be most improper to admit pleas on questions of fact to be addressed to the High Court on any basis less extensive than the entire evidence referred to. HEMRAJ v. PARTAB SINGH, A.W.N. 1886, 166.

(100)—Second appeal, finding of fact when binding in — Finding based on legally insufficient evidence—Failure of plaintiff to prove his case in original Court — Further evidence, whether can be permitted in second appeal.—A finding of fact, in order to be conclusive and binding on a Court of second appeal, must be a finding based on evidence legally sufficient to support it, and where there is no sufficient evidence to justify such a finding, the finding cannot operate as a finding of fact. Where a plaintiff had failed in the Court of first instance to produce all the evidence to support his case: Held, that it would be improper to permit him in second appeal to call further evidence. GAURI SHANKAR v. MADHO CHARAN, 16 Ind. Cas. 887.

(101)—Lower appellate Court confirming decision of first Court—Reasons for decision not set out—Special appeal.—The absence of any reasons by the lower appellate Court for confirming the decision of the Court of first instance, or the insufficiency of additional reasons, where such are given, is no ground in special appeal either for reversing the judgment or for ordering a new trial. SHAMEE MAHOMED v. PRODHAN PALEE, 5 W.R. 178.

(102)—Special appeal—Second appeal—Procedure in second appeal—Powers of appellate Court—Question of fact—Ss. 584, 585, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882.—The limitations to the power of the appellate Court, by ss. 584 and 585, in a second appeal, ought to be attended to, and the appellant ought not to be allowed to question, the finding of the first appellate Court, on a question off act. PERTAP CHUNDER GHOSE v. MAHENDRA NATH PURKAIT, 17 C. 291 = 16 I.A. 233, P.C. = 5 Sar. 444. [R., 17 C. 726, F.B.; 18 C. 23 = 17 I.A. 122; 26 C. 53; 2 C.W.N. 649; 25 B. 202; 4 C.L.J. 198; 26 B. 617.]

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(103)—Lower Courts giving decree without jurisdiction—Special appeal—Costs.—Where in a special appeal before the High Court, it was found that the Courts below had passed judgment in a case without jurisdiction and that the Court of Small Causes had to try the case, the High Court directed the plaint to be sent to the Small Cause Court upon the plaintiff paying within 3 months all the costs of the litigation. DHUN MONEE CHOWDHRAIN v. WOOMA CHURN ROY, 23 W.R. 445.

(104)—Change of pleading not allowed.—Where the plaintiff sued for possession by avoidance of a deed of gift and failed, he cannot, in second appeal, claim as heir of the donee, nor can he claim to set aside a sale by the donee as being unauthorised by the deed of gift. KANHIA v. MAHIN LAL, 10 A. 495 = A.W.N. 1888, 181.

(105)—Vendor and purchaser—Jurisdiction—Previous application to Collector—Suit premature.—An objection having been raised, in second appeal, that the Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit, as the plaintiffs had not asked the Collector to place them on the register, held that this circumstance was not necessary to give jurisdiction, although it might be a reason for treating the suit as premature. The objection, however, being taken for the first time in second appeal, was disallowed. BHIKAJI v. PANDU, 19 B. 43.

(106)—Stamp—Document tendered in evidence not duly stamped—Failure to pay stamp duty and penalty in lower Court—Offer to pay same in second appeal, not allowed.—An instrument which is not duly stamped will not be admitted in evidence, on second appeal, on payment of the stamp and penalty, when there is no evidence that the stamp and penalty were tendered to and refused by the District Court. LAKSHMAN DAS v. RAMBHAU, 20 B. 791.

(107)—Second appeal — Application to set aside sale on grounds of fraud and material irregularity made under old Code—Rejection of application — Order, decree under old Code—Subsequent passing of new Code — Whether character of order affected — Consent order (person named as executor) — Consent order against him—Executorship renounced—Whether order binding upon person taking out letters of administration.—An application to set aside an execution sale on the ground of fraud and material irregularity was dismissed by the first Court on September 21, 1907. The order was upheld on appeal. Held, that a second appeal was competent, for the order was a decree under s. 244 of the old Code, and the new Code could not retrospectively affect the character of that order which under the new Code is not a decree under s. 47, but an order under O. XXI, rr. 90 and 92. A creditor of a deceased debtor cannot sue a person named as executor in the will of the deceased, unless he has either administered, that is, intermeddled with, the estate or proved the will. Consequently, the seizure and sale of part of the testator's assets under an execution founded upon a judgment in a suit so constituted is ineffectual to bind the testator's estate. (1894 A.C. 437, 63 L.J. P.C. 90, 6 R. 510, 71 L T. 99, 2 Ind. Cas. 818, 14 C.W.N. 256, 4 Bom. L.R. 340, Rel) A consent order against two persons, who were named as executors in the will of a deceased person but who had subsequently renounced, is not binding upon the estate of the deceased in the hands of a person in whose favour the letters of administration have been granted. LAL BEHARY MITRA v. NAGENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE, 16 Ind. Cas. 690.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—continued.

(108)—Second appeal—Application to set aside sale on ground of fraud—Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, ss. 104 (2), 154, O. XXI, rr. 90, 92, O. XLIII, r. 1 (j)—Accrual of right of appeal Commencement of Code—Fraud—General allegation without particulars, whether sufficient.—A second appeal does not lie under the Code of 1908 against an appellate order confirming an order of refusal to set aside a sale in execution on the ground of fraud. Where a sale was held on November 14th, 1908, and an application to set it aside was made on December 12th, following, but the order rejecting the application was made on July 5th, 1909, after the commencement of the new Code, Held that no second appeal lay. General allegations of fraud unaccompanied by particulars are not sufficient to amount to an averment of fraud of which any Court ought to take notice. RAJ MOHAN PAL v. GOBINDA CHANDRA PAL, 14 Ind. Cas. 53.

(109)—Enhancement of rent, suit for—Mokururee lease—Decision against plaintiff—Proof of tender—Special appeal.—Where a question as to whether there was a mokururee lease or not was raised in a suit for enhancement of rent which was decided against the plaintiff, held that he could not, in special appeal, take advantage of the want of regular proof of tender and have his suit dismissed entirely with the result that he (plaintiff) might bring a fresh suit for compelling the defendant to pay the money. DWARKANATH SIRCAR v. GUNGA NARAIN SHALOOYE, 19 W.R. 93.

(110)—Decree of ejectment — Inquiry into nature of tenure in special appeal—Interference by High Court.—The High Court cannot, in special appeal, go behind a decree for ejectment and hold that the tenure was of such a character that no order for ejectment could pass. BEEGO ROY v. BAL MOHUND MISSER, 17 W.R. 421.

(111)—Personal property plundered, suit to recover value of, limitation for—Act XIV of 1859, s. 1, cl. 16—Measure of damages, objection regarding, whether could be raised in special appeal.—A suit for damages to recover the value of personal property plundered and other consequent damages, is in no sense a suit for damages on account of injury to personal property within the meaning of cl. 2, s. 2, of Act XIV of 1859. The period of limitation applicable to a suit for damages in respect of such plundered property is six years as mentioned in cl. 16 of s. 1 of Act XIV of 1859, no other limitation having been expressly provided for such suits by the Act. SHEIKH AHMEDOOLLA v. HUR CHURN PANDAH, 2 W.R 235.

Proceedings before village conciliator—Their nature — Certificate — Computation of limitation—Limitation Act XV of 1877, art. 144—Onus of proof—Objection to jurisdiction of Court—Second Appeal—See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, ss. 46, 47, 48, 13 B. 424.

A plea that a suit was filed in a wrong Court, cannot, for the first time, be raised in second appeal—See U.P. ACT II OF 1901, ss. 25 and 31, A.W.N. 1905, 53=2 A.L.J. 156.

See APPELLATE COURT — OBJECTIONS FIRST TAKEN IN APPEAL, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 254 =11 W.R. 134, 9 W.R. 493.

Power to enter into question of jurisdiction of Court deciding appeal—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. IX, r. 3, ss. 99, 105, 6 Ind. Cas. 464 =7 A.L.J. 675.

See JURISDICTION—QUESTION OF JURISDICTION, 8 B.H.C. A.C. 245, 12 B.H.C. 13.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT — EJECTMENT, 18 B. 110.

See LIMITATION — QUESTION OF LIMITATION, 8 B. 535.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ss. 4, 5, 25 M. 166.

Misconstruction of a portion of documentary evidence—Question of fact—Ground for—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 89, 90, 120, 1 C. L.J. 232=32 C. 719.

When question of limitation can be raised for the first time in—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 91, 141, 9 C.W.N. 636=1 C.L.J. 408=33 C. 257.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER, A.W.N. 1882, 139.

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION, 14 W.R. 425.

Point not taken even in the memorandum of second appeal cannot be allowed—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 5 M.L.T. 210.

Belief or disbelief in evidence—Different effects—Second Appeal—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 7 C. 263=8 C.L.R. 449.

Objection raised for the first time in second appeal—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 1 C.W.N. 530.

Impossible findings of lower Courts — High Court's powers of interference — See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 2 A.L.J. 27=27 A. 356=A.W.N. 1904, 276.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——6.—Practice and Procedure in Special Appeal—concluded.

See BOM. REG. XVIII OF 1827, s. 10, 10 B. H.C. 441.

See REVIEW—JURISDICTION TO REVIEW, 9 B.H.C. 238.

See REVIEW—REVIEWS AFTER TIME, 6 B.H.C. A C. 146.

See RIGHT OF SUIT—BUILDING, SUIT TO RESTRAIN, 22 W.R. 73.

Objection as to under-valuation of suit—Under-valuation not prejudicially affecting disposal of suit—Second appeal—Admissibility of objection—See SUITS VALUATION ACT, 1887, s. 11, 24 M. 43.

Second appeal—Suit to recover money made over by Magistrate acting under s. 517, Crim. Pro. Code—Suit of Small Cause nature—See TORT, 9 C.W.N. 495=1 C.L.J. 355.

——7.—Right of Special Appeal.

(1)—General—Second appeals to the High Court—Portion of Civ. Pro. Code covering them.—Second appeals to the High Court must either come within chap. 42 or under ss. 588 and 591 of the Civ. Pro. Code (of 1877). HIRDHAMUN JHA v. JINGHOOR JHA, 5 C. 711.

(2)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 586 (=s. 102, new Code)—What determines whether second appeal lies.—For the purpose of determining whether a second appeal lies or is prohibited by the section, what must be looked at is not the shape in which the case comes up in appeal to the High Court, but the shape in which the suit was originally instituted in the Court of first instance. KIAM-UD-DIN v. RAJJO, 11 A. 13=A.W.N. 1888, 280. [Appl., 15 B. 400.]

(3)—Second appeals — Restricted to matters contained in decrees.—Appeals from appellate decrees under s. 584 of the Civ. Pro. Code (of 1877) must be restricted to matters contained in the decree alone and do not lie against particular findings in the judgment. [R., 56 P.R. 1904=84 P.L.R. 1904, A.W.N. 1908, 211=4 M.L.T. 172.] Quære.—Whether any finding of a Court, not embodied in the decree can be considered as res judicata in a subsequent suit? KOYLASH CHUNDER KOOSARI v. RAM LALL NAG, 6 C. 206. See also NIAMUT KHAN v. PHADU BULDIA, 6 C. 319.

(4)—Act XVII of 1877, s. 39, whether retrospective.—The repeal of Act IX of 1873 by Act XVII of 1877 prevented any more second regular appeals being presented thereunder and from the date of its repeal by s. 39 of Act XVII of 1877. No such appeal will, after the passing of the latter Act, be permitted in suits under Rs. 50 in value of the nature cognizable by a Small Cause Court. But there is nothing in Act XVII of 1877 to take away the jurisdiction of the Court over a pending appeal. PANA LAL v. ALA DIA SHAH, 4 P.R. 1878.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——7.—Right of Special Appeal—continued.

(5)—Act XVII of 1877, s. 38—Modification of decree — Second regular appeal — Jurisdiction.—Where plaintiff's claim was decreed in full against all the defendants, and the Judicial Assistant, on appeal by all the defendants, modified the decree by reversing it against some defendants only, held that the decree of the Court of original jurisdiction had been modified within the meaning of s. 38 of Act XVII of 1877, and that, therefore, a second regular appeal by the remaining defendants in respect to whom the decree of the First Court was confirmed should have been presented to the Court of the Commissioner, and not the Chief Court. KANHA v. DIAL SINGH, 12 P.R. 1880.

(6)—Second appeal allowed—Act X of 1877, s. 584—Construction—Second appeal—Defendant.—A respondent in an appeal, who does not appear at the hearing of the appeal or present a petition for a rehearing, may, under Act X of 1877, present a second appeal against the decree of the lower Court. MODALATHA, ex parte, S. 2 M. 75. [Diss., 4 A. 387, F.B., 1 L.B.R. 183, R., 8 A. 354, 31 M. 157=3 M. L.T. 336; D., 10 C.P.L.R. 32.]

(7)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 347—Appeal struck off for default—Appeal against order refusing to revive.—A special appeal lies against an order of the lower appellate Court refusing to revive, under s. 347, Act VIII of 1859, an appeal struck off for default. SHAIKH GOLAM MAHOMED AKBUR v. KOONJ BEHAREE LAL, 5 W.R. Mis. 27.

(8)—Act LIII of 1860, s. 2—Application for revival of suit rejected—Special appeal.—Held by the Full Bench that, if an application for revival of a suit under s. 2, Act LIII of 1860, is rejected, a special appeal will lie against such order. BUNGSHEEDHUR MUNDUL v. PUDDO LOCHUN ROY SIRDAR GHATWAL, W.R.F.B. 11=Marsh. 38=1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 5 =1 Hay. 90.

(9)—Decision indicated to be erroneous by decree and judgment taken together—Special appeal.—An aggrieved party has a right of special appeal against the decision of a lower appellate Court, if its decree, as explained by its judgment taken together, shows that the decision is erroneous. MAHARANI INDERJEET KOONWAR v. CHOKEW SAHOO, W.R. F.B. 81.

(10)—Enhancement of rent, suit for—Value below Rs. 100—Special appeal to High Court—Act VIII of 1869 (B.C.), s. 102.—Notice of enhancement—Formalities — Omission of certain words—How affects suit.—Where, in a suit for enhancement of rent, the question of right to enhance had been determined, held that a special appeal will lie to the High Court under s. 102 of Act VIII of 1869 (B.C.). Where the defendant, in a suit for enhancement, knew well and pleaded to the grounds of enhancement, held that the mere omission of the words "same class of tenants" in the notice of enhancement was not fatal to the suit. Held further that the omission of the words "otherwise than by the agency and at the expense of the ryot" was also immaterial, where the plaint distinctly stated that the productive powers of the soil had increased owing to the fact that it had been irrigated by water taken from the plaintiff's khas tank. MESSRS. WATSON & CO. v. RAM DHEEN GHOSE, 17 W.R. 495.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——7.—Right of Special Appeal—continued.

(11)—Alteration of rent—Special appeal—Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869.—Where the point which has been decided by the Judge in appeal is simply this—whether the rent fixed by a previous decision was subsequently altered and new arrangements come to between the parties—that does not come within the purview of s.102, Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869. NURUBDESSUR PERSHAD ROY v. SHAIKH JUNGOLE, 24 W. R. 49.

(12)—S. 586, Act XIV of 1882, Civ. Pro. Code—Suit for arrears of chowkidari tax—Second appeal.—In a suit for arrears of chowkidari tax, there is a second appeal. ASSANULLA KHAN BAHADUR v. TIRTHABASHINI, 22 C. 680.

(13)—No second appeal allowed—Act VIII of 1859—Erroneous remand under s. 351 instead of calling for additional evidence under s. 355, not by itself ground for special appeal.—Under s. 351 of the Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), it is not competent to an appellate Court to remand a case where the judgment of the first Court had not been passed on a preliminary point which excluded any necessary evidence of fact. In such a case, the appellate Court should proceed to call for additional evidence under s. 355 directing the first Court to record such evidence but retaining the case on its own file. But if, under such circumstances, the appellate Court remands the case under s. 351, such erroneous procedure constituting only a technical objection by which the appellant cannot have been in any way prejudiced, it could not, by itself, empower him to maintain a second appeal. NOWCOWREE MUNDUL v. MOOKTA BIBEE, 2 W.R. 181. [Appr., 14 B. 232; R., 6 W.R. 47, 13 W.R. 76, 20 W. R. 188.]

(14)—Order of confirmation of sale passed by first appellate Court, no second appeal lies from.—A preliminary objection was taken to the second appeal, in this case, on the ground that the order of the first appellate Court that confirmed the sale was final under s. 257 of Act VIII of 1859. Upholding the objection, the High Court dismissed the second appeal because the appellant, having had his regular appeal, had legally no ground for a second appeal. MUDDUN MOHUN ROY CHOWDHRY v. RAM CHUNDER GOOPTO, 2 W.R. Mis. 41.

(15)—Decision of first Court not appealed against—Special appeal.—Parties, who did not appeal from the decision of the first Court, cannot appeal specially against the decision of the lower appellate Court, on the ground that the decision of the first Court prejudiced their rights. BOYKANT RAM SAHOO v. POORNO CHUNDER DASS, W.R. 1864, Act X, Rul. 97.

(16)—Application by plaintiffs for withdrawal of suit, refusal of, not a ground for special appeal.—The question whether or not an application by a plaintiff to withdraw his suit should be granted is one entirely within the discretion of the first Court and the refusal of such an application cannot by itself form any ground for special appeal. RAJ KISHEN ROY v. RAJ KISHEN DEO, 6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 24.

(17)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 521, 522, 582—Decree by first Court against terms of award—Decree on first appeal in accordance with award, no second appeal lies from.—The provisions of ss. 521 and 522 of the Code of Civil Procedure are applicable to the Court of first appeal by reason of s. 582, so that, when a Court of first instance wrongly sets aside an arbitration award and passes a decree against its terms, and the Court of first appeal dealing with the merits of the case comes to the conclusion that the award was not open to any such objections as are contemplated by s. 521 of the Code, and upon that finding, passes a decree strictly in conformity with the terms of such arbitration award, such decree of the Court of first appeal is entitled to the same finality as the decree of the first Court would have been entitled to under the last part of s. 522 of the Code. Such a decree cannot, therefore, be made the subject of a second appeal. NAURANG SINGH v. SADAPAL SINGH, 10 A. 8 = A.W N. 1887, 240. (12 W.R. 93, 12 C.L.R. 564, Diss.) [Overruled, 28 A. 408 = A.W.N. 1906, 64 = 3 A.L.J. 168; Diss., 8 C.W. N. 390; F., 89 P.R. 1904 = 26 P.L.R. 1905.]

(18)—Suit cognizable by Small Cause Court.—No second appeal lies in a suit cognizable by a Small Cause Court, notwithstanding the fact that a question of title to immoveable property was raised, tried and decided in the lower Court. MOHESH MAHTO v. SHEIK PIRU, 2 C. 470, F.B. = 1 C.L.R. 33. [Appr., 3 M. 192, F.B., 15 B. 400; F., 24 C. 557; Compare, 31 C. 1001.]

(19)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Cross decrees—Sale of decree—Special appeal.—Under s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861, no special appeal will lie in a suit for damages for the sale of a decree for a very inadequate consideration. The purchaser of a decree is no party to the suit within the meaning of s. 11, Act XXIII of 1861. KRISTO MONEE THAKOOR v. BISHAMBHUR DOSS, 5 W.R. 216.

(20)—Special appeal—Appeal of co-defendant—No appeal preferred by special appellant against decision of first Court.—A defendant is not entitled to prefer a special appeal against a decision passed on the appeal of his co-defendant, by which the decision of the Court of first instance not appealed against by the former was upheld. MODHOO SOODUN ROY v. SHURMO MOYEE DEBEE, 5 W.R 106. [R., 7 W.R. 366.]

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

—7.—Right of Special Appeal—continued.

(21)—Non-appearing defendant with interest identical with plaintiffs, not entitled to appeal from judgment in favour of his co-defendants.—The present special appellant was one of the defendants in the lower Courts. Plaintiffs who were putneedars under him sued to recover land from the proprietors of an adjoining talook and made their landlord, the special appellant, a pro forma defendant. Plaintiffs having failed to prove possession, the suit was dismissed; and special appellant, who did not appear in the Court below, now sought, in this special appeal by him, to set aside the judgment adverse to his putneedars, but the High Court held that he was not in a position to bring a special appeal. He was a defendant in the case, but did not appear, and, though his interests were identical with those of the plaintiffs who had not preferred any appeal, yet he could not be allowed to occupy their position and appeal against the judgment favourable to his co-defendants. JUGUNNATH CHATERJEE v. MESSRS. GORDON STUART AND CO., 6 W.R. 36.

(22)—Special appeal by one defendant against another—Maintainability.—A special appeal by one defendant against another cannot be entertained. RAMESSUR GHOSE v. AZUM JOARDAR, 17 W.R. 373.

(23)—Ex parte decree—Appeal decided on merits—Special appeal.—Where a defendant against whom an ex parte decree was passed appealed to the District Judge without stating that the case was decided ex parte, and the District Judge dismissed the appeal on the merits, held that no special appeal lay to the High Court on the ground that he ought to have dismissed it without going into the merits. GHOLAM ESHAK v. HYDER MOOLLAH, W.R. F.B. 46.

(24)—Breach of condition in lease—Suit by lessor to recover premises let—Judgment ex parte against lessee—Intervenor—Special appeal.—Plaintiff sued his lessee under cl. 5 of s. 23 of Act X of 1859 to recover possession of the leased premises on the ground that the lessee had committed a breach of a condition in the lease which entitled the lessor to eject him. The lessee never appeared in the suit. His vendee was admitted to defend as intervenor. The lower appellate Court decreed generally in favour of the plaintiff finding that the lease forbade the alienation of the premises, and declared that any attempt to alienate should be a void act. On both defendants appealing specially, it was held that the defendants had neither of them a right of special appeal. The lessee defendant having allowed judgment to go by default was not entitled to appeal but to proceed by the method described for defaulters in Act X of 1859. Further, the intervenor defendant was admittedly an entire stranger to the subject of the suit taking no rights from the lessee as against the plaintiff, and had only appeared in the suit on his own voluntary application and consequently he could claim no right to appeal. MOOKTADOSSIA v. SHAMA CHURN GHOSE, 3 W.R. Act X, Rul. 164.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

—7.—Right of Special Appeal—continued.

(25)—Act VIII of 1869—Suit for rent—Special appeal.—In a suit for rent not exceeding Rs.100, based upon a kabooleut and a jummabundee, the ryot stated that these documents were forged and that he held under the plaintiff not under these documents, but under a mokururee pottah. The lower appellate Court found that the documents relied on by the plaintiff were forgeries, and, with a view to determine the amount of rent, inquired and decided on the genuineness of the defendant's mokururee pottah. Held, that no special appeal lay under s. 102 of Act VIII of 1869. MOULVIE SYUD MAHOMED v. FOUZDAR ROY, 25 W.R. 14.

(26)—Special appeal—Rent suit—Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, s. 102.—Where, in a suit for arrears of rent, the amount sued for is under Rs.100, and no question to enhance or vary the rate has been determined, nor any question of title as between parties having conflicting claims thereto, there is no special appeal. SHUMBUL SINGH v. BABOO TOONDUN, 24 W. R. 469.

(27)—Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, s. 102—Suit for rent—Question of enjoyment—Special appeal.—In a suit for rent, where the claim is under Rs. 100 and both the lower Courts find on the question of enjoyment of rent, and on that question only, no special appeal lies. BABOO JUGGUR NATH SINGH v. BHIKUN ROY, 24 W.R. 479.

(28)—Suit for rent—No question of right to enhance or very rent—Special appeal—Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869.—Under s. 102 of Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, no appeal lies to the High Court where the suit is merely one for rent, and is valued at less than Rs. 100, and no question of right to enhance or vary the rent, nor any question relating to interest in land as between parties having conflicting claims thereto has been determined by the judgment. SREENATH ROY v. AINOODDEEN SHAHA, 25 W.R. 103.

(29)—Suit for rent—Special appeal—Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869.—In a suit for arrears of rent under Rs. 50, in which no question of title to land or right to enhance or vary rent has been decided, no special appeal will lie to the High Court when the lower appellate Court has not decided any question of title, even though the Court of first instance gave a decision on the question of title. BHUGWAN DUTT MISSER v. NOWNEEDH LALL, 25 W.R. 153.

(30)—Suit for rent—Question of title—Special appeal.—No special appeal lies to the High Court against a decision in a suit for rent of the value of less than Rs. 100 and in which no right to recover the rent nad been determined. ROY JUNG BAHADOOR v. JUGDEO ROY, 25 W.R. 257.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——7.—Right of Speci Appeal—concluded.

(31)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 372—Bengal Act VIII of 1869, s. 102—Rent-suits under Rs. 100—Second appeal.—Held by the majority of the Full Bench that no second appeal lies to the High Court in suits for rent under Rs. 100, where no question of right to enhance or vary the rent, nor any question relating to a title to land or to some interest in land as between persons having conflicting claims thereto, is involved. 13 B.L.R. 376= 21 W.R. 320, F.B., having settled the law, it should not be disturbed. BUT Jackson, J., held that in such cases, a second appeal would lie. S. 102 of Act VIII of 1869 (B.C.) has not expressly taken away the right of second appeal conferred by s. 372 of the Civ. Pro. Code (VIII of 1859); even if it had done so, the question would arise whether the Bengal Legislature could do so. Obiter.—It is wrong to deprive a party of his legal rights merely out of deference to the practice of a Court—Per Jackson, J., dissentiente. LUNGESSUR KOOER v. SOOKHA OJAH, 3 C. 151=1 C.L.R. 39, F.B.

(32)—Rent suit for less than Rs. 100—Second appeal—Act VIII of 1869 (B.C.), s. 102.—No second appeal would lie to the High Court in a rent suit of the value of less than Rs. 100, though the defendant set up the title of a third party, so long as such third party did not intervene in the suit. ROMAPROSAD ROY v. SHORUP PARAMANICK, 8 C. 712. [R., 10 C. P.L.R. 33, 14 C.P.L.R. 31, 12 C P.L.R. 1.]

(33)—Suit by landlord for a moiety of cess paid to Government — Dismissal of suit by lower Courts as being in contravention of s. 7, Rent Recovery Act—Second appeal.—A suit by a landlord for the recovery of a moiety of cess paid to Government was dismissed by the lower Courts on the ground that it was in contravention of the provisions of s. 7 of the Rent Recovery Act. Held, no second appeal lay. NARAYANASAWMY NAIDU GARU v. KOLACHINA VENKATAPPAYA, 7 M.L.T. 362. (13 M.L.J. 211, F.)

Failure of plaintiff to establish ground of enhancement—Decision settling rent—Second appeal—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, ss. 105, 109 (3), 6 Ind. Cas. 501.

See APPEAL—EX-PARTE DECREES, 2 W.R. Mis. 23.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, O. XXI, r. 72, s. 104, O. XLIII, r. 1, 21 C. 789.

Suit against tenant for damages for cutting wood, nature of—Appeal—Second appeal—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—PROPERTY IN TREES, ETC., ON LEASED PREMISES, 6 C.L.J. 218.

Incidental determination of question of title, effect of—See RES JUDICATA—COMPETENCY OF COURT, A.W.N. 1907, 218=4 A.L.J. 517.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits.

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACTS.

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACTS.

See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF.

See SMALL CAUSE COURT, PRESIDENCY TOWNS, JURISDICTION OF.

(1)—Small Cause Court suit—Second appeal.—No second appeal lies to the High Court from a suit which is of the nature of small causes, and where the amount in dispute is less than Rs. 500, s. 586, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. VASUDEO v. DAMODAR, 6 Bom. L.R. 370. [R., 30 B. 147=7 Bom. L.R. 741.] See VINAYAK v. KRISHNA RAO, 3 Bom. L.R. 239=25 B. 625 and KESRISANG v. NARANSANG, 10 Bom. L.R. 733.

(2)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Special appeal—Provisions applicable in execution cases as well as in suits.—The words used in s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861 clearly bar an appeal in all the cases that are expressly alluded to in that section. The explicit words of the section have the effect of overriding s. 387 of Act VIII of 1859. The provision applies as well to cases in execution of decrees as in suits themselves; and it also applies to suits and to proceedings in execution whether they be commenced before 1861 or even before 1859. RAM JADUB CHATTERJEE v. BASH MONEE DOSSEE, 8 W.R. 321.

(3)—S. 647, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Second appeal—Suit cognizable by Court of Small Causes—Decree—Execution.—No second appeal lies from an order passed, in execution of a decree in a suit of the nature cognizable in the Court of Small Causes. NARAYAN v. NAGINDAS, 7 Bom. L.R. 641=30 B. 113.

(4)—Decree in suit of less than Rs. 500 in value before establishment of Small Cause Courts—Order in execution—Second appeal.—A second appeal would lie from an order made in the execution of a decree of the year 1856 obtained in a suit of less than Rs. 500 in value, the suit not being one of the nature cognizable in Courts of Small Causes which were not established in the year 1856. BHAGWANTI PRASAD v. THE COLLECTOR OF BASTI, A.W.N. 1885, 269.

(5)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 244—Act XLIII of 1860—Act XXIII of 1861—Act X of 1877 (Civ. Pro Code), ss. 3, 586, 590—Small Cause execution—Second appeal.—Where a Small Cause suit was instituted in 1856, and a decree was passed, and the execution application in that suit was made in July, 1883, held that there was no second appeal from the order passed in first appeal in the execution petition. Such an application must be held to have been made under the rule of s. 3 of the Civ. Pro. Code of 1877, as amended by Act XII of 1879, which enacted that nothing in the Code of 1877 should affect " any proceedings in execution of decree that may have been commenced and were still pending at the date of the 1st October, 1877," i.e., any execution proceedings in this case pending on that day would not be affected by anything contained in the Code of 1877. But no proceedings in execution instituted after that date would be thus saved. On the contrary all the rules of the Civ. Pro. Code of 1877 as amended in 1879 would be applicable to them, and, among the rest, the rule of ss. 586 and 590, declaring that no second appeal would lie in such a case. BHAGWATI PRASAD v. THE COLLECTOR OF BASTI, A.W.N. 1886, 181.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

—— 8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(6)—Execution of decree—Order of Small Cause Court — Special appeal.—No special appeal lies from an order in execution of a decree made in a suit under Rs. 500 in value and of the nature cognizable in a Small Cause Court. DEWAN SINGH v. MITHA, 65 P.R. 1876.

(7)—Small Cause Court suit—Decree execution.—No second appeal lies from an order passed in execution of a decree in a suit of the nature cognizable in the Court of Small Causes. NARAYAN v. NAGINDAS, 7 Bom. L.R. 641 = 30 B. 113.

(8)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Suit of Small Cause nature, orders passed in—Special appeal.—This was an appeal by the judgment-debtor against an order made for executing the decree, and the High Court accepted as valid the objection taken to the hearing of the appeal, namely, that as the order appealed against was one relating to the execution of a decree passed in a suit of a nature cognizable in Courts of Small Causes under Act XLII of 1860, under the 27th section of Act XXIII of 1861, no special appeal lay from the order passed in regular appeal. The special appellant contended in answer to the above that the suit in which the original decree was passed was antecedent to Act VIII of 1859, and that consequently the section will not apply. But it was held that the words of s. 27 distinctly lay down that no special appeal would lie from any decision passed on regular appeal after the passing of the Act, that is to say, even if the suit had been instituted before the passing of the Act, where the regular appeal was decided after the passing of it, a special appeal would be barred. MOBARUKOONISSA BEGUM v. OZEER JEMADAR, 8 W.R. 107.

(9)—Special appeal—Act XXIII of 1861, ss. 27, 411—Act VIII of 1859, s. 387 (11).—Held, that notwithstanding s. 387, Act VIII of 1859, s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861, bars a special appeal in a suit of the nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes instituted before Act XXIII of 1861 came into operation. SOORJO COOMAR SURMA ROY v. KRISTO COOMAR CHOWDHRY, 12 B.L.R. 224, F.B. = 14 W.R. 30. [F., 2 A. 112; R., 7 C. 337.]

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(10)—Special appeal—Suit of a nature cognizable by a Small Cause Court—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Act XLIII of 1860, s. 1.—Under s. 1 of Act XLIII of 1860 and s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861, a special appeal is prohibited in suits of the nature triable by Courts of Small Causes, instituted prior to the passing of the former Act. Held, accordingly, that there was no special appeal from an order, made on regular appeal after the passing of Act XXIII of 1861, in execution of a decree in such suit, instituted before Act XLIII of 1860 came into force. BHICHUK SINGH v. NAGESWAR NATH, 2 A. 112. (12 B.L.R. 224 = 14 W.R. F.B. 30, F.)

(11)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Special appeal—Execution of decree in suit of Small Cause nature.—The provisions of s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861, would apply to bar a special appeal in execution proceedings arising out of a suit which had been instituted before the passing of Act VIII of 1859, s. 387 of that Act notwithstanding. By that section, the Legislature has intended to allow no special appeal from any decision or order passed on regular appeal in any suit of a nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes, where the value is below Rs. 500, the words "regular appeal in any suit" meaning the first or general appeal. The analogy of special appeals in execution proceedings follows that of special appeals in regular suits, and when the law itself does not, by any express terms, create a right of special appeal in regard to the suit (that is, on the decree itself in the cause), for the same reasons the special appeal is taken away in execution proceedings as well. ANUND CHUNDER ROY v. SIDHY GOPAL MISSER, 8 W.R. 112. [Appr., 12 W.R. 86; R., 27 C. 484 = 4 C.W.N. 269.]

(12)—Review—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Special appeal—Execution.—No special appeal lies under s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861, in execution-proceedings arising out of the original decree, which was for a sum less than Rs. 500, and in a suit cognizable by the Court of Small Causes. DEBEE PERSHAD SING v. SYUD DELAWAR ALI, 12 W.R. 86. (8 W.R. 112, F.) [Appr., 12 M. 116.]

(13)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 223, 228, 586 (= ss. 38, 42, 102, new Code)—Second appeal—Order in execution of decree—Small Cause suit—Transfer of decree.—No second appeal lies from an order in execution in a suit of the nature cognizable by a Small Cause Court, where the subject-matter of the suit is less than Rs. 500, whether the execution proceedings are taken in the Court which passed the decree or in that to which the decree may have been transferred for execution. HARAK v. RAM SARUP, 12 A. 579 = A.W.N. 1890, 206. (12 A. 581, Appr.) [Appr., 18 A. 481 = 16 A.W.N. 160; Appl., 25 C. 872; R., 23 M. 547, F.B., 8 O.C. 405.]

(14)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 584, 586 (= ss. 100, 102, new Code)—Execution of decree,

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

appeal against order passed in—Jurisdiction determined by suit amount—Suit of Small Cause nature—Revision and second appeal.—The pecuniary jurisdiction for purposes of an appeal, whether from a decree in a regular suit or from an order in execution proceedings of such a decree, depends upon the valuation of the original suit in which the decree was passed, and not merely the actual amount affected by the order sought to be appealed. Where, therefore, execution was applied for in a Munsif's Court as regards a sum below Rs. 500, the value of the matter in dispute having been of a Small Cause nature and above Rs. 500 and the order of the Munsif therein was upheld in appeal by the District Court, held that a second appeal would lie from such order and proceedings by way of revision could not be taken. NAZAR HUSAIN v. KEZRI MAL, 12 A. 581= A.W.N. 1890, 203. [Appr., 12 A. 579.]

(15)—Act X of 1859—Distraint by landlord—Payment by defaulter—Release of property distrained—Misappropriation by ryot—Remedy of owner of property—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Special appeal—Wrong decision as to jurisdiction by Civil Court.—Where, on payment by the defaulter of the amount due, the property distrained was released and made over by the landlord to the ryot, who misappropriated the same to himself, the real owner of the property distrained had no remedy under Act X of 1859, but was entitled to sue for damages in the Civil Court. Where, in a suit for damages for less than Rs. 500, the lower appellate Court held that the suit was not cognizable by any Civil Court, s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861, did not bar a special appeal, on the ground that the suit was of a nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes. SHAIKH GUREEBOOLLAH v. SHAIKH SYEFOOLLAH, 7 W.R. 41.

(16)—Suit for damages—Small Cause nature—Second appeal.—A suit for damages amounting to less than Rs. 500, being in its nature a small cause, does not admit of a second appeal, even though a question of title to land has incidentally to be tried and the suit is brought in the District Munsif's Court. The question has reference to the mode of adjudication and not to the forum. MANAPPA MUDALI v. S.T. MCCARTHY, 3 M. 192, F.B. [R., 17 C. 707, 23 M. 547.]

(17)—Small Cause suit tried by ordinary Civil Court—Suit for account—Small Cause Court jurisdiction.— Small Cause suit taken cognizance of by an ordinary Civil Court within the local jurisdiction of a Small Cause Court—Second appeal lay. [Diss., 9 B. 259, 26 A. 358=A.W.N. 1904, 50; Dist., 21 C. 249.] Suit for balance due on account of rents held cognizable by Small Cause Courts, even though accounts, had to be gone into. [R., 6 C. 284.] If a suit is improperly brought in a Civil Court, which has no jurisdiction to entertain it, instead of in a Small Cause Court, it cannot be said that the parties cannot prefer a special appeal to have the matter set right. A special appeal does lie in such cases. DYEBUKEE NUNDEN SEN v. MUDHOO MUTTY GOOPTA, 1 C. 123=24 W.R. 478. N.B.—This was a case when Act XI of 1865 was in force. [R., 6 C.594.]

(18)—Jurisdiction — Small Cause Court—Detinue—Special appeal--Plaintiff, a talookdar, sued her late husband's agent for the delivery up of certain account papers and documents, for an account of his agency, and in default of account for Rs. 500 as damages. Held that the suit was of a nature cognizable by a Small Cause Court and that, consequently, no special appeal would lie. HURRI NARAIN ROY CHOWDHRY v. JOY DURGA DASSI, 2 C.L.R. 17.

(19)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Act XLII of 1860—Act VIII of 1859, s. 327—Suits on private arbitration—Special appeal.—The provision in s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861, that no special appeal shall lie from any decision or order passed on regular appeal "in any suit of the nature cognizable in Courts of Small Causes under Act XLII of 1860," includes not only suits of the nature made cognizable by Act XLII of 1860, but all suits cognizable in Courts of Small Causes constituted under that Act, even such as are made cognizable by s. 327 of Act VIII of 1859. A suit for Rs. 247 upon an award made upon a private arbitration, being one cognizable by a Court of Small Causes, no special appeal will lie to the High Court against the order of an ordinary Civil Court in respect of such award MUSSAMAT BANU v. NARAYAN SAHU, 4 B.L.R. App. 82=13 W.R. 233. (1 B.L.R.A.C. 43=10 W.R. 85, F.).

(20)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Suit based on arbitration award—Special appeal, maintainability of, when amount due under award is less than Rs. 500—Set off.—S. 27, Act XXIII of 1861, is inapplicable to a suit which, though seeking to recover a particular sum found due to a plaintiff under an award, is still based on the award generally containing other findings and provisions, and with reference to which important questions have been raised, and which questions could not be considered in a Small Cause Court. And consequently special appeal lies in such cases. The provision in the Civ. Pro. Code, in regard to set-off is one regulating procedure, and is not intended to take away any right of set-off, whether legal or equitable, which parties would have had independently of it; and the right of set-off will be found to exist not only in cases of mutual debts and credits, but also where the cross-demands arise out of one and the same transaction or are so connected in their nature and circumstances as to make it inequitable that the plaintiff should recover and the defendant be driven to a cross-suit. Where the mutual debts, credits and cross demands, in fact everything relating to the rights and liabilities of both parties, are based on one general right and title, viz., the title given by an award, a right of set-off could be allowed. GAURI SAHAI v. RAM SAHAI, 7 N.W.P. 157. (1 M.H.C. 396, 2 M.L.J. 296, F.) [F., 7 A. 284 = 5 A.W.N. 40.]

Special or Second Appeal*—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(21)—Suit against law-agent—Suit for money unaccounted for—Special appeal—Act XI of 1865, s. 6.—In a suit to recover plaintiff's money in the hands of the defendant unaccounted for, it was admitted that plaintiff retained and employed the defendant as a mukhtear or law-agent, to conduct and look after his law suits, and to receive and disburse monies on his account connected with such law suits, the defendant receiving a monthly salary, held that the suit might be brought under the terms "claim for money due under a contract" within the meaning of s. 6 of Act XI of 1865, and that it was also possible to include this claim under the term damage, because the plaintiff might claim the amount for which he brought the suit as damages by reason of the wrong done by the defendant in not acting fully up to his instructions. JOOGUL KISHORE ROY v. RUGHOO NATH SEAL, 20 W.R. 4.

(22)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 586—Suit impleading sons of living debtor, not one of a Small Cause nature.—A suit impleading the sons of a living Hindu debtor as defendants along with him was held to be not one of a Small Cause nature so far as it related to the sons. NARASINGA v. SUBBA, 12 M. 139, F.B.

(23)—Small Cause Courts Act (XI of 1865), s. 6—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 586—Second appeal.—Plaintiff brought a suit upon a hundi which was drawn by B and S in May 1882 in favour of M for the acceptance of a firm M. indorsed the hundi to the defendants who indorsed it to the plaintiff. The suit as brought was in reality for the recovery of a sum of Rs. 400 principal, and Rs. 49 interest, which in April 1884, the plaintiff was constrained to pay to the last indorsees in consequence of the hundi not having been accepted and having been dishonoured. The plaintiff included in his plaint a prayer that the defendants should be ordered to hand over to him another hundi, or to obtain from the original drawers a duplicate of the hundi drawn in May 1882, because, by reason of the original hundi having been lost, the plaintiff was unable to produce it in Court and give documentary evidence in support of his claim. Held that in the first place the latter prayer was one which the plaintiff was not competent to make against the defendants, that in the next place, the fact that he included such a prayer in his plaint could not change the suit, which was for the recovery of money due under a contract and as such cognizable in a Court of Small Causes, into a suit of a different nature and not cognizable in such Court, that the suit was therefore of a Small Cause nature so that no second appeal lay to the High Court. BANKEY LAL v. MOHAN, A.W.N. 1886, 73.

Special or Second Appeal*—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(24)—Small Cause Court suit—Second appeal.—Plaintiff sold certain properties to the defendants' ancestors, and the vendees entered into an agreement by which they bound themselves to pay as part of the consideration a certain sum yearly in cash, a proportion of profits, and to give possession of 10 bighas of land. Plaintiff brought a suit to recover arrears for two years of the above cash payment and for Rs. 60 for rents wrongfully realized. Held that the suit was of a nature cognizable by a Small Cause Court and that no second appeal lay, as the amount was under Rs. 500. HAYAT ALI v. DAWAN RAI, A.W.N. 1886, 296. (A. W.N. 1882, 114, D.)

(25)—Mofussil Small Cause Courts Act (XI of 1865), s. 6—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 586—Second appeal.—A suit brought by a Hindu wife against her husband to recover Rs. 24, being 12 months' arrears of maintenance due to her under a written agreement for maintenance executed in her favour by the defendant, is nothing more nor less than an action to recover money due under a contract, and as the amount is below Rs. 500, s. 586, Civ. Pro. Code, applies, and no second appeal lies in such a suit. HARDEO DAS v. PARBATI, A. W. N. 1887, 94.

(26)—Suit of Small Cause nature—Second appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 586.—The zemindari estate of R was sold in execution of a money-decree held by the plaintiff who purchased the estate himself at the auction-sale. The sale was subject to a previous mortgage. The mortgagee then obtained a decree on the mortgage in execution of which the property was again sold. After satisfying the mortgage-decree and the expenses of sale, there remained a balance of Rs. 274, which was in deposit with the Collector. Out of this, about Rs. 150 were attached by N in execution of money-decree held by him against R. The plaintiff thereupon brought the present suit against N to recover the amount so attached with interest, on the ground that since he had purchased all the rights and interest of R in the zemindari, he was entitled to the balance of the purchase-money remaining after the satisfaction of the mortgage decree. Held that the suit, regarded in its natural aspect was simply one for the refund of Rs. 150 with interest, wrongly taken out of Court by the defendant and belonging to the plaintiff as the substitute, by prior purchase, of the zemindari rights and interests of R, and that whether it fell into the category of cases referred to in the ruling in 8 B. 17, or was to be treated as a claim for money had and received to the use of the plaintiff, it was in the nature of a suit cognizable by a Court of Small Causes and there could therefore be no second appeal. RAM PRASAD SINGH v. NAND KISHORE, A.W.N. 1887, 213.

(27)—Suit by zemindar for dak expenses—Small Cause nature of suit—Special appeal, Act

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

XXIII of 1861, s. 27.—A case in which a Zemindar sues a putneedar for dak expenses according to his putnee-jumma, is a case of a nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes; and as such, by reason of s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861, no special appeal will lie. MAHARAJAH DHERAJ MAHTAB CHUND BAHADOOR v. RADHA BINODE CHOWDRY, 8 W. R. 517.

(28)—Jurisdiction—Suit by Zemindar to recover dak charges—Suit of Small Cause nature.—A suit by a Zemindar against his putnidar, founded upon a contract between the parties, for the recovery of a sum of money which had been expended by the Zemindar in the way of Zemindaree dak charges, which expenses, it was alleged, the putneedar was bound by his contract to bear, is cognizable by a Court of Small Causes. ERSKINE v. TRILOCHUN CHATTERJEE, 9 W.R. 518. [Expl. and D., 22 C. 680.]

(29)—Suit for damages—Jurisdiction of Small Cause Court—Special appeal—Act XI of 1865, s. 6—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27.—Under s. 6 of Act XI of 1865, suits for damages, when the amount claimed does not exceed Rs. 500, shall be cognizable by a Small Cause Court, whether the damage is in respect of moveable property or immoveable property, and under s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861, no special appeal lies to the High Court in such suits. BHEENUCK LALL MAHTOON v. RUNG LALL MAHTOON, 11 W. R. 369.

(30)—Suit for damages — Jurisdiction of Small Cause Court—Special appeal.—No second appeal can be allowed in a suit for damages where the sum claimed is under Rs. 500, such a suit being one within the cognizance of the SmallCause Courts, although, on account of the absence of a Small Cause Court in the locality, it happened to have been instituted as an original suit in the Court of a Munsiff. KENOO MUNDUL AND DOOKEAH SIRCAR v. MOHWA MAHOMED, 2 W.R. 136.

(31)—Suit by landholder against purchaser of produce for rent—Suit for damages— Small Cause suit.—Where a landholder sues the purchaser of the tenant's land for rent due from the tenant, on the ground that the rent is a first charge on the produce, the liability is one arising not ex contractu but ex delicto; the suit is therefore, one for damages, and cognizable by a Court of Small Causes; and when the amount claimed is below Rs. 500, there will be no second appeal. SHIBBA v. HULASI, 6 A. 518 = A.W.N. 1883, 114.

(32)—Second appeal—Suit by purchaser for possession or damages—Suit instituted on failure to obtain possession from third persons—Suit cognisable by Small Cause Court.—The purchaser of certain land sued to recover it from third persons who were in possession. The suit having been dismissed, he instituted a suit against the vendor for possession or damages for breach of contract. Held that the prayer for possession of the land was a futile one and could not be given effect to, as the land was in the possession of third parties, who had established their right to possession as against the plaintiff. The suit was thus really one for damages and as such one of a nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes. No second appeal lay from a decision in the suit, where the claim was for less than Rs. 500. VENKATARAMANUJA REDDIAR v. SUBBARAYA PILLAI, 13 M.L.J. 299.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(33) — Suit for compensation for illegal distress—Court of Small Causes—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887), s. 15, sch. II, cl. 35 (j)—Cause of action—Limitation—Rent Recovery Act, Madras (VIII of 1865), s. 78. —A suit by tenants against their landlord for compensation for illegal distress or attachment, where the plaint alleged that the plaintiffs had been raiyats for a long time cultivating the land of the defendant and that, while there were no arrears of any kind due to the defendant in respect of the said land, the defendant, without giving any notice of demand to the plaintiffs, unlawfully took possession of two heaps of paddy out of the three heaps raised by the plaintiffs on the said land in a particular year, saying that he had attached the same, and the plaint prayed for an order directing the defendant to deliver to the plaintiffs about five garces of grain worth about Rs. 250 in respect of the two heaps of paddy of which the plaintiff took unlawful possession, was held to be in substance a suit for compensation for illegal distress or attachment and not a suit for the recovery of specific property. It was therefore not a suit of the nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes, and a second appeal would lie therefrom. (22 M. 457, D.) [R., 27 M. 430.] In such a suit as the one mentioned above, the wrong is complete and the cause of action arises on the date when the unlawful distress was made, and the suit will be barred under s. 78 of the Madras Rent Recovery Act unless brought within 6 months of the above date. PAMU SANYASI v. ZAMINDAR OF JAYAPUR, 25 M. 540. (24 M. 339, D.)

(34)—Property leased to plaintiff in putnee as mal, found to be another person's lakheraj land—Consideration money when recoverable by lessee.—The first two Courts gave the plaintiff a decree for a sum of money described as the proportion of consideration money paid in respect of a village which was leased as a mal to the plaintiff, but which was subsequently discovered to belong to a third party as lakhiraj. On special appeal, the High Court held that the right of the plaintiff to receive back any portion of the consideration money depended upon his establishing one of two points, namely, either that he had been fraudulently induced by the defendant to pay the sum by false representations that the defendant had a good title to the land or that there was a warranty and covenant of good title made by him. RAJAH NILMONEE SINGH DEO v. MESSRS. GORDON, STUART AND CO., 6 W.R. 162.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(35)—Special or second appeal—Small Cause Court suits—Suit where claim for damages exceeds Rs. 500 but decree is given for less than Rs. 500—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27.—Where the damages claimed in a suit exceeded Rs. 500, and the Court gave the plaintiff less than Rs. 500 damages. Held that the right of appeal was not taken away by Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27. NEELMONEE SINGH DEO v. GORDON, STUART AND CO., 1 Ind. Jur., N. S, 356=6 W.R. 152.

(36)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Suit for damages—Special appeal.—A decree-holder who had taken out execution against his judgment-debtor was paid a portion of the decree amount by the latter, and given a surety bond by the plaintiff for the balance. Subsequently, the plaintiff was arrested on the institution of proceedings under s. 204 of Act VIII of 1859, and had to pay the balance due under the decree. Thereupon he sued to recover Rs. 500 as damages for illegal arrest.—Held, that it was a suit clearly cognizable by the Small Cause Courts under s. 6 of Act XI of 1865, and that, under s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861, no special appeal would lie, as the sum claimed was not in excess of Rs. 500. TOOLSEE RAM v. NUND KISHORE LALL, 12 W.R. 471.

(37)—Personal injury—Pecuniary loss—Suit for damages—Jurisdiction.—A suit for damages for personal injury cannot be tried by a Court of Small Causes unless some actual pecuniary damage has resulted from the injury. ALI BUKSH DOCTOR v. SHEIKH SAMIRUDDIN, 4 B.L.R.A.C. 31=12 W.R. 477. (4 W.R. 7, R.; 10 W.R. 115, D.)

(38)—Suit for damages—Absence of allegation of special pecuniary damage—Jurisdiction of Small Cause Court.—The preliminary objection taken to this second appeal on the ground that no such appeal would lie, the suit being one for damages under Rs. 500 was overruled since there was no allegation in the plaint that any special damage of a pecuniary nature resulted from the injury complained of, and the case was not therefore one of which the Small Cause Court could take cognizance so that no second appeal could be maintained on the merits. The second appeal was dismissed for the following reasons :—This was a suit for damages for a slander upon the plaintiff, and the lower appellate Court had recorded its reasons for holding that the accusation was false so as to imply malice sufficient to constitute the ground for damages, and the contention could not be accepted that the Judge had merely found that there was an accusation of theft against the plaintiff which was not brought home to him, and there was no sufficient ground to hold the defendant amenable for damages. RAJ CHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY v. PUNCHANUN SURMAH CHOWDHRY, 4 W. R. 7 [F., 4 B.L.R. A.C. 31=12 W.R. 477.]

(39)—Mofussil Small Cause Courts Act (XI of 1865), s. 6, proviso 3—Suit for damages partly for loss of reputation and partly for actual damage, whether a Small Cause suit—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 586 (=s. 102, new Code)—Second appeal.—A suit for damages, where part of the claim referred to loss of reputation and part to actual damage, was held, with reference to the Act, to be of the nature cognizable by a Small Cause Court. There cannot, therefore, be a second appeal in such a suit, where the subject-matter is of less value than Rs. 500. JIWA RAM SINGH v. BHOLA, 10 A. 49=A.W.N. 1887 268. (13 W. R. 434, R.)

(40)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 246—Attachment—Claim—Payment to save property from sale—Suit for damages—Suit of Small Cause nature.—Where a certain property has been attached in execution of a decree and a claim preferred under s. 246, Act VIII of 1859, is rejected and the unsuccessful claimant pays a certain sum of money to save his property from sale, a suit by him to recover the money so paid is in reality a suit for damages and is a suit of a Small Cause nature. POORSUTTUM CHUNDER v. GOUR SOONDER PANDEY, 18 W. R. 283.

(41)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Special appeal.—A mortgagor borrowed a certain sum of money below Rs. 500 in order to redeem his property, promising to sell the same to the lender, but as he failed to redeem it, the mortgage was foreclosed. Held that the suit by the lender against the mortgagor to recover his money was one for damages as upon a breach of contract, and that no special appeal would lie in such a case under s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861. KHULLEEL MAHOMED v. FURZAM ALLY, 12 W.R. 269.

(42)—Breach of private arrangement, damages for—Small Cause Court, jurisdiction of—Special appeal if lies.—A special appeal does not lie in a suit for damages for breach of a private arrangement when the amount is within the jurisdiction of a Small Cause Court. CHUNDEY PERSAD DOSS v. KASSEENATH DOSS, W. R. 1864, 346.

(43)—Suit for damages below Rs. 500—Suit for destruction of crops, cognizable by Small Cause Court under s. 3 of Act XLII of 1860—Special appeal.—This was a suit to recover damages from the Executive Engineer of the division for not cutting through a certain bund whereby plaintiff's crops were destroyed in consequence of accumulation of water. It was held to be cognizable by the Small Cause Court so that no special appeal could lie. The nature of suits cognizable by the Small Cause Court is explained in s. 3, Act XLII of 1860. Suits for damages of any description, when for sums below Rs. 500, are so cognizable, and there is no restriction in the section as to any particular damages personal or otherwise. GOPEENATH PAUL v. LIEUTENANT, S. GEORGE, 6 W.R. 7.

(44)—Suit for damages for injury to reputation and pain of body—Suit of Small Cause nature—Special appeal.—A charged B in the

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

Criminal Court with plotting to murder him. B was arrested accordingly and brought handcuffed before the Magistrate. The charge was dismissed B then sued A for damages on account of "the injury to his reputation and pain of body and mind" caused by the malicious prosecution of him by A on a false charge. The damages were laid at Rs. 100. Held that the suit being one of a nature cognizable in Courts of Small Causes, no special appeal lay under s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861. NADIAR CHAND ROY v. BAIKANT NATH MISSER, 4 B.L.R. A.C. 33, N. [R., 4 B.L.R. A.C. 31=12 W.R. 477.]

(45)—Suit for damages—False charge of mischief—Personal injury—Special appeal.—A suit for damages occasioned to plaintiff by the defendant having brought a false and malicious charge of mischief by fire against the plaintiff in a Criminal Court is not cognizable by a Court of Small Causes, and a special appeal will lie to the High Court although the damages claimed are below Rs. 500. PRANKRISHNA BANNERJEE v. NADIAR CHAND CHATTERJEE, 4 B.L.R. A.C. 35, Note=10 W.R. 115. [F., 4 B.L.R. A.C. 31=12 W.R. 477.]

(46)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act VIII of 1859, s. 350—Question of stamp—Special appeal.—Under the provisions of s. 350, Act VIII of 1859, when the decision of the lower appellate Court on the question of stamp does not affect the case on the merits, it is not for the High Court to interfere. KHAN MAHOMED SHAHA v. LALL MAHOMED, 15 W.R. 179.

(47)—Suit to recover cash paid on defendant's persuasion—Defendant's promise to get lambardar credit money to plaintiff, failure of—Suit cognizable by Small Cause Court as suit for damages—Special appeal.—The defendants in this case, without claiming any right to collect rent on their own account, persuaded the plaintiff to pay a certain amount of cash and grain to them, promising that they would get the lambardar to give plaintiff credit for the same in the accounts. This they failed to do, and the plaintiff, who was compelled to pay the lambardar the full amount, brought the present suit for recovering the cash and the value of the grain. Held that the suit was not a suit for an illegal exaction of rent but, practically, a suit for damages and of a nature cognizable in the Small Cause Court so that no special appeal could be entertained. SYUD YACOOB ALI v. KOOER SINGH, 2 N.W.P. 111.

(48)—Suit for money due under an implied contract—Suits of Small Cause nature.—A suit for money due under an implied contract below Rs. 500 is cognizable in a Court of Small Causes and consequently no second appeal lies. JAGAT RAJ v. JAGRAJ SINGH, A.W.N. 1881, 96.

(49)—Small Cause Courts Act (XI of 1865), s. 6—Suit based on agreement between parties and on a customary right—Second appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 586.—A suit for the recovery of money (Rupees four) upon the ground of a certain agreement between the plaintiff and the defendant, and of a customary right, falls within the purview of s 6 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (XI of 1865), and therefore, a second appeal in such a suit is barred by the provisions of s. 586, Civ. Pro. Code. SHEODIHAL PANDE v. MAHESH PANDE, A.W.N. 1887, 228.

(50)—Small Cause suits—Suit for money based on "sule-namah."—In the course of a revenue case between two rival claimants, the parties came to a compromise by which one party renounced all claim to the property and the other agreed to be answerable for all claims, present or future, which might be made against the former. Having been compelled to pay the costs of certain pre-emption suits, the party who renounced all claims, sued the other person for recovery of the amount, basing the suit on the compromise. Held that there was no second appeal, as the nature of the suit was merely of the nature of suits cognizable in Moffusil Court of Small Causes. NAIMAL HAQ v. ABDUL LATIF, A.W.N. 1881, 5.

(51)—Haq-i-Chaharum based on contract—Suit of a Small Cause nature—Second appeal.—A suit by a Zamindar for haq-i-chaharum of one fourth of the price of trees cut down by tenants is, when based upon a razinama or agreement, one of a nature cognizable by a Small Cause Court, and consequently, when the amount claimed in such a suit is below five hundred rupees, there can be no second appeal. HARI SINGH v. BALDEO SINGH, 2 A. 905. (1 A. 444, F.)

(52)—Small Cause Court suit—Suit for plaintiff's share of money recovered by his co-plaintiff in another suit—Act XI of 1865 (Mufassal Small Cause Courts Act), *s.*6—Special appeal.—A suit for the plaintiff's share of money recovered by his co-plaintiff in another suit is one for money due on a contract within the meaning of s. 6 of Act XI of 1865, and is, therefore, of a nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes; and where the claim is less than Rs. 500 in value, no second appeal would lie in the suit. DEBI DAS v. LACHMAN SINGH, 7 A. 896=A.W.N. 1885, 292.

(53)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 586 (=s. 102, new Code)—Suit by purchaser at auction sale to recover price paid—Small Cause suit—No second appeal.—A suit by the purchaser at a sale in execution of a decree, against the decree holder, for a refund of the sale price paid by him, on the ground that the judgment-debtors had no saleable interest in the property sold, is of a nature cognizable by a Small Cause Court; and where the amount does not exceed Rs. 500, a second appeal is barred by s. 586, Civ. Pro. Code. MAKUND RAM v. BODH KISHEN, 20 A. 80=A.W.N. 1897, 198.

(54)—Suit for money received by defendant for plaintiff's use—Limitation Act, 1877, art. 62—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, 1887,

Special or Second Appeal*—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

arts. 8, 31.—Suits for rent are expressly excluded from the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes by art. 8. (7 Bur. L.R. 98, D.) A suit for rent is essentially a suit by a landlord against a tenant. Respondent plaintiff alleged that she and appellant jointly let certain paddy land and shared the rent equally, and that defendant-appellant received the whole of the rent for the year 1262 and refused to pay respondent her share. Respondent sued to recover her share, Rs.116-1-7. Held that the suit was of a nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes, and that a second appeal was therefore barred by s. 586, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. MA KA v.MA WIN. BYU, 1 L.B.R. 335. (23 M. 547, 26 C. 842, F.) [R., L.B.R. 1905, 1906, 47.]

(55)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Suit for money improperly taken away by defendant from Collector—Small Cause suit—Special Appeal—Small Cause suit filed as original suit—Appeal—Jurisdiction—Charter Act, s. 15—Act XI of 1865, s. 6—Some defendants living outside the jurisdiction of Small Cause Court.—A suit for the recovery of a certain sum of money below Rs. 500 alleged to have been improperly taken away by the defendants from the Collector who held that money deposit on account of certain lands taken by Government for public purposes, is a suit cognizable by the Small Cause Court and no special appeal can lie to the High Court under the express provisions of s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861. Where a suit cognizable by a Small Cause Court was instituted in a Munsiff's Court having jurisdiction within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Small Cause Court, and was tried by the Munsiff, and heard in appeal by the District Judge, the High Court, under the powers vested in it by s. 15 of the Charter Act, set aside in special appeal the decision of both the lower Courts as having been passed without jurisdiction. [R., 1 A. 101, F.B.; Cons., 8 P.R. 1883.] Although some of the defendants to a suit are living at a place over which the Small Cause Court has no jurisdiction, if the other defendants are living within the local limits of the jurisdiction assigned to that Court, this fact would be sufficient to bring the suit within the category of "suits cognizable by the Small Cause Court" as described in s. 6 of Act XI of 1865. TARINI CHARAN MOOKERJEE v. RAJA PURNA CHANDRA ROY, 6 B.L.R. 717=15 W. R. 397.

(56)—Suit for arrears of malikana—Small Cause suit—Second appeal.—The respondent sued the appellant for Rs. 30, arrears of malikana, which were payable to her by the appellant, in respect of certain land held by him, under the terms of the wajib-ul-arz. Held that the suit fell without the scope of the Small Cause Court, as the claim affected the proprietary interest in immoveable property of the owner, and that there was a second appeal in the case. BHAWAN SINGH v. CHATTAR KUAR, A.W.N. 1882, 114.

Special or Second Appeal*—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(57)—Action to recover share of malikana—Small Cause Court—Jurisdiction.—An action for the recovery of the plaintiff's share of malikana which the defendant had realized from the Collector, is a suit to recover a certain sum of money, and is therefore cognizable by the Small Cause Court. LASMANI DEBIA v. MAHOMMED HAFEZULLA, 3 B.L.R. App. 96. [Expl., 8 P.R. 1883.]

(58)—Suit of a Small Cause nature—Suit for sale-proceeds—Second Appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 586.—When one creditor sues another for the recovery of sale proceeds wrongly paid over to the latter, by order of the Court in execution proceedings, and for the amendment, of such order, the latter prayer is superfluous and the suit is really one of a Small Cause nature; and if the amount claimed does not exceed Rs. 500, there can be no second appeal in such a suit. MATA PRASAD v. GAURI, 3 A. 59. [Diss., 10 C. 388.]

(59)—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, IX of 1877, art. 13—Suit to recover land cess—Value of suit less than Rs. 500—Suit of Small Cause nature—Second appeal.—A suit to recover land-cess does not fall under art. 13 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. Consequently, where the total amount of rent including the land-cess was less than Rs. 500 in value, no second appeal lay from a decree of the first Court. ZAMINDAR OF TARLA v. LATCHIA, 13 M. L. J. 211. [F., 7 M. L. T. 362.]

(60)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 586—Suit on muchalka for kist with prayer for enforcement of charge on land—Suit of Small Cause nature—Second appeal.—Plaintiff, a zamindar, sued to recover the kist due under a muchalka. The plaint contained a prayer that the amount claimed might be charged on the land to which the muchalka related. The sum claimed was less than Rs. 50. Held that the plaint must be read simply as a plaint for the enforcement of the terms of the muchalka and that it was of a Small Cause nature. Consequently, no second appeal lay. HARISCHANDRA DEO v. NARAYANA, 24 M. 508. (19 M. 329, F.)

(61)—Civ Pro. Code, 1882, s. 586—Suit for jodi on liability of land—Suit of Small Cause nature—Second appeal.—Plaintiff sued to recover the jodi due to him on the liability of the land. The amount was less than Rs. 500. Held, that as all suits for rent are of a nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes, the claim for liability of the land, in the present case, did not alter the nature of the suit. Consequently, no second appeal lay. PADMAVATHEMMA v. VENKATAGIRI RAJAH, 24 M. 511, Note. [F., 24 M. 509.]

(62)—Suit for damages for cultivation of sir land—Jurisdiction of Small Cause Court—Second appeal.—Where, on partition, certain sir-land belonging to the defendant was assigned to the plaintiffs, but the defendant continued to cultivate it for a certain period without any rent having been fixed. Held that a suit for recovery of compensation for the defendant's use and occupation of such land was one cognizable in a Court of Small Causes and that therefore no second appeal would lie. RAM PRASAD v. DINA KUAR, A. W. N. 1881, 160.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(63)—Jurisdiction—Small Cause suit—Suit for division of ascertained debts—Act XI of 1865, s. 6.—Where the only question in a suit is as to a sum certain and how it is to be divided, the suit is of the description cognizable by Small Cause Courts, and, in such cases, no special appeal lies to the High Court. MUSSUMAT OODEYTA v. GOPAL, 2 Agra 234.

(64)—Suit for money—Appeal—Act XXIII of 1861.—A decree in a suit for money and grain due on an adjustment of account is not a declaratory decree, and a special appeal does not lie to the High Court under s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861. BULDEO SINGH v. RAM SURUN LALL, 25 W.R. 234. [R., 6 C. 284 = 7 C.L.R. 94; F., 2 C.W.N. 303; D., 28 C. 227.]

(65)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Special appeal—Bond suit—Decree for land.—Where the original suit was for money on a bond under Rs. 500, the fact of its having been decided on a solehnama by which the creditor obtained land in lieu of money does not change the nature of the suit with reference to s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861, or make it open to special appeal. SRIMATI TALAN BIBI v. SRIMATI TENU BIBI, 6 B.L.R. App. 82 = 15 W.R. 65.

(66)—Jurisdiction of Court of Small Causes—Mesne profits.—A suit for the recovery of mesne profits not amounting to Rs. 500 is one cognizable by a Court of Small Causes. No special appeal lies in such a case. KAKAJI SAKHARAM v. GOVIND GANESH, 8 B.H.C. A. C. 96. [R., 25 B. 85.]

(67)—Mesne profits—Jurisdiction—Court of Small Causes—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27.—A suit for mesne profits is a suit for damages within the meaning of s. 6, Act XI of 1865, and if the demand does not exceed Rs. 500, no special appeal will lie with reference to s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861. SRIMATI RAM PYARI DEBI v. DINANATH MOOKERJEE, 2 B.L.R.S.N. 13 (a) = 10 W.R. 375.

(68)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 586—Suit for mesne profits—Second appeal.—A suit for mesne profits being cognizable by a Court of Small Causes, a second appeal does not lie from a decision in such a suit. SUBBA RAO v. SITARAMAYYA, 24 M. 118.

(69)—Second appeal in a suit for less than Rs. 500—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 586—Suit for profits of immoveable property belonging to plaintiff and for profits wrongfully received by defendant—Act IX of 1887, sch. II, art. 31—Small Cause Court, mofussil, jurisdiction of.—The plaintiff stated in her plaint that under a foreclosure decree she was the proprietress of a 6 annas 2 pies share in a hamlet named pura Kharagman, that she sued the defendants for possession of the aforesaid hamlet and a decree was passed in her favour subject to her paying some mortgage-money; but on appeal a decree was passed in her favour whereby she became entitled to obtain possession of the hamlet without paying any sum of money and thus the plaintiff's right to get the above named hamlet became confirmed; that the defendants held unlawful possession of the aforesaid share of the plaintiff, during the pendency of the suit and they were benefited by the profits thereof which, in fact, the plaintiff should have got; that the mesne profits of the share in suit for three years 1306 to 1308-amounted to Rs. 202-5-6 to which the plaintiff was entitled. The value of the subject-matter of the suit was less than Rs. 500. The point for decision was whether the second appeal in the suit fell within the purview of s. 586, Code of Civil Procedure. Held, that the suit fell within the latter portion of art. 31, sch II Act IX of 1887; that the jurisdiction of the Small Cause Court was barred and that s. 586 of the Code of the Civil Procedure did not apply. MUSAMMAT KUSUM KOER v. MUKHDOOM KHAN, 7 O.C. 202.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(70)—Special appeal — Jurisdiction — Suit cognizable by Small Cause Court—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27.—The suit brought to recover Rs. 200 paid in respect of the purchase of land which was never completed, is a suit of the description cognizable by the Small Cause Court and consequently no special appeal lies. KHOOB CHUND v. HAZAREE LALL, 1 Agra 275.

(71)—Excess rent—Damages—Appeal — Act XI of 1865, s. 6—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27.—Where a tenant sued his landlord to recover a sum paid over and above what was due on account of rent, held that the case was not one of contribution for shares of rent as against co-parceners, although originally the transaction may have been connected with payment of rent for co-parceners, but that it was a suit for damages for the non-refund of the over-payment. The suit being cognizable by the Court of Small Causes under s. 6, Act XI of 1865, no special appeal lies to the High Court. SIB SAHAYA SUKUL v. BIR CHANDRA JUBARAJ GOSWAMI, 2 B. L. R. A. C. 172 = 11 W.R. 30. [F., 1 A. 388.]

(72)—Act X of 1876, s. 15—Suits excluded from jurisdiction of Small Cause Court—Second appeal—Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877), s. 586.—Act X of 1876, s. 15, removes suits in which the Collector is a party from the jurisdiction of the Small Cause Court. In such a case, however, the nature of the suit, by which must be understood the jural relations between parties, remains unaltered, so that such a suit, irrespective of the said s. 15, continues to be one of the nature cognizable by a Small Cause

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

Court, for the purpose of the prohibition of a second appeal therefrom by reason of s. 586 of the Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877). MUSA MIYA SAHEB v. SYED GULAM HUSEIN MAHAMED, 7 B. 100. [R., 23 M. 547=10 M. L.J. 329, F.B.]

(73)—Suit by lessee—Government Revenue—Special appeal.—Where a lessee sues on a contract for a refund of excess revenue, a special appeal is not admissible if the amount claimed be below Rs. 500. MR. JOHN WHITE v. TRIPORA SUNKUR MOOKERJEE, W.R. 1864, 297.

(74)—Suit for share of profits received by joint owner of land in excess, cognizable by Small Cause Court — Special appeal—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27.—Plaintiff's case was that he and the defendant were jointly entitled to the profits of certain lands and that the defendant had received Rs. 235 more than his share. He accordingly instituted this suit to recover the sum and got a decree. The suit was clearly one cognizable in the Small Cause Court and consequently no second appeal would lie by reason of the provisions of s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861. JOYNARAIN MANJEE v. MADDOOSOODUN GORAIT, 2 W. R. 134.

75)—Suit for profits of grove—Wajib-ul-arz—Landlord and tenant—Act XVIII of 1873 (N. W. P. Rent Act), s. 93 (a)—Suit of a Small Cause nature—Second appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 586.—A suit by a landlord against a tenant, for a portion of the value of the produce of a grove held by the tenant, based on an agreement contained in the Wajib-ul-arz and not based on any custom or right, does not fall within the terms of s. 93 (a) of the Rent Act and is not cognizable by a Revenue Court, but is one based upon contract, and therefore of a nature cognizable by a Small Cause Court, and where the amount of it does not exceed Rs. 500, there can be no second appeal in such a case, though it may have been wrongly instituted in a Revenue Court and decided on appeal by the District Judge. SARNAM TEWARI v. SAKINA BIBI, 3 A. 37.

(76)—Act XI of 1865, s. 6—Small Cause suit—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Special appeal—Suit against Government.—When one B was a Nazir in the Judge's Court of Tippera, a sum of Rs. 1,879 was stolen from the Government Treasury and B had been improperly made to pay the same. B died leaving the plaintiff and others his heirs. Subsequently, the police found Rs. 245 of the above sum and it was made over to the plaintiff and the other heirs of B. Plaintiff brought this suit against Government to recover Rs. 408, her share of the amount paid by B to Government. Held that the suit was one cognizable by a Court of Small Causes and under s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861, no special appeal lay to the High Court. THE COLLECTOR OF TIPPERA v. MUSSUMAT MAFIZUNNISSA BIBI, 4 B.L.R. App. 46.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(77)—Small Cause Court—Immoveable property—Special appeals—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27.—The original suit in this case was brought to recover the balance of a sum secured by mortgage of immoveable property, and the plaint claimed to recover the same either from that portion of the mortgaged property which had passed into the hands of a purchaser under a decree, or from the residue of the mortgaged property which still remained in the hands of the mortgagor, or from the mortgagor and the purchaser personally. Held that this was not a suit of the nature cognizable in a Court of Small Causes, within the meaning of Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27 and that therefore, though the claim did not exceed Rs. 500, the right to file a special appeal was not excluded: and that it did not affect the nature of the suit whether the plaint on the face of it sought to recover in the alternative, either from the mortgagor personally or from the mortgaged property. ATMARAM B. KAGJI v. SADSHIVH MAHAJANI, 2 B.H.C. 1.

(78)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 582—Suit by assignee of bond hypothecating moveable property, not one of a Small Cause nature so as to preclude second appeal.—Where the transferee of a debt-bond hypothecating standing crops institutes a suit to enforce his rights, such suit would not be a Small Cause Court suit, within the meaning of s. 65 of Act XI of 1865, so that a second appeal might be precluded by reason of the provisions of s. 586 of the Civ. Pro. Code. KALKA PRASAD v. CHANDAN SINGH, 10 A. 20=A.W.N. 1887, 270. (7 A. 855, 9 W.R. 136, 2 M.H.C. 474, R.) [R., 16 A. 315.]

(79)—Small Cause Court suit—Suit for enforcement of hypothecation of moveable property—Act XI of 1865, s. 6.—A suit for money againt defendants personally and by enforcement of the hypothecation of cattle in the hands of third parties who were added as defendants, cannot lie in a Small Cause Court, as the suit cannot be regarded as falling under the category of a "suit for money due on a bond or other contract," or of a "suit for personal property or for the value of such property" within the meaning of s. 6 of Act XI of 1865. SURAJPAL SINGH v. JAIRAMGIR, 7 A. 855=A.W.N. 1885. 289. (9 W.R. 136, 7 A. 152, R.) [F., 10 A. 20.]

(80)—Suit of the nature cognizable in a Court of Small Causes — Jurisdiction — Construction of hypothecation bond—Special appeal.—The defendant executed a bond in favour of the plaintiff in which it was provided that in case of default by the defendant the plaintiff should be entitled to recover his money from three boats pledged and also from the other moveable and immoveable property of the defendant. In a suit on the bond the plaintiff asked for a decree for Rs. 500. "Bakajalat wa nilam tin munsil kishti mai digar jaedad mankula wa gaer mankula":—Held, that the document executed by the defendant did not create a mortgage of, or confer a lien upon any property of the executant except the boats specifically mentioned in that document, and that the plaintiff was not entitled to a decree for sale of any property other than the boats. Held further, that the suit was of the nature cognizable in a Court of Small Causes, and no second appeal lay. DEBI v. KEDAR NATH, 1 O.C. 191.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(81)—Mortgage—Suit for sale—Subsequent prayer for simple money decree — Suit not of Small Cause nature—Jurisdiction of Court—Second appeal.—In this case, a suit was brought for sale upon a mortgage. It having been discovered that there was a prior mortgage upon the property, the plaintiff withdrew his claim against the property and asked for a simple money decree. Held that this latter fact did not render the suit a Small Cause suit, and that the jurisdiction of the Court depends upon the nature of the suit as brought, and not upon the character which it ultimately assumes, and therefore, a second appeal lay from the decree in the suit. LALA BISHUN SARUP v. MANGAL SEN, 24 A. 457, Note [R., 24 A, 456.]

(82)—Suit against lambardar by assignee of mortgage of share—Suit for money had and received—Small Cause Court suit — Special appeal.—A suit, by the assignee of a mortgage of a share of an undivided estate, against the lambardar for the profits of such share for a certain year, is a suit for money had and received to the plaintiff's use, and is, therefore, one of a Small Cause nature, in which there is no second appeal when the amount does not exceed Rs. 500. MUHAMDI BEGAM v. ABBAS ALI KHAN, 5 A. 531.

(83)—Mortgage of fruit of growing plantain trees—Mortgage of moveable property—Small Cause nature—Second appeal.—A mortgage of the fruit of growing plantain trees is a mortgage of moveable property, and therefore a suit for the recovery of a sum less than Rs. 500 on such a mortgage is a suit of a Small Cause nature in which there is no second appeal. RANGASAMY KONAN v. SELLAPERUMAL PADAYACHI, 11 M.L.J. 343.

(84)—Suit for fallen tree or its value—Small Cause Court suit—Special appeal.—The plaintiff sued the defendant for a tree or Rs. 20, its value alleging that the latter had wrongfully taken such tree on falling down. Held that such a suit was a suit of a Small Cause nature, and no second appeal would lie. SKINNER v. DILDAR KHAN, A.W.N. 1881, 175.

(85)—Landlord and tenant—Suit for fruit of trees or share of proceeds—Claim based on wajib-ul-arz—Nature of claim—Jurisdiction of Small Cause Court—Act XI of 1865, s. 6—Second appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 586.—A suit for recovering an amount below Rs. 500 being the value of half the mangoes produced on a certain land against the defendants who were the tenants under the plaintiffs, the claim being founded on an agreement contained in the wajib-ul-arz, is only a suit to recover personal property under a contract, and is, therefore, one cognizable by a Small Cause Court under s. 6 of Act XI of 1865. Under s. 586, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, no second appeal would lie to the High Court in such a suit. BISHUN v. NAIPAL, A.W.N. 1885, 299.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(86)—Suit for damages for branches of a tree cut and misappropriated—Cognizance by Small Cause Court—Act XI of 1865 (Mofussil Small Cause Courts), s 6—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 586—Second appeal.—A suit for damages on account of the branches of a tree cut and misappropriated though involving a question of title to immoveable property, was held to be cognizable by a Small Cause Court, and hence no second appeal could lie. The test for jurisdiction is not the nature of the title claimed nor the nature of the property out of which such title arises, but the specific remedy prayed for in the suit. ABDUL KARIM v. LACHHMAN, A.W.N. 1888, 43.

(87)—Suit for the price of trees cut and removed—Damages—Special appeal—Jurisdiction.—If, in a suit for the value of trees cut and removed, the Court in order to determine whether plaintiff is entitled, as damages, to the value of his trees, has to go into evidence as to whether they belong to the plaintiff or not, such fact does not make it the less a suit for damages. Such a suit is cognizable by the Court of Small Causes and no special appeal will lie. SHIB DEEN TEWARY v. BUKSHEE RAM PROTAB SINGH, W.R. 1864 Mis. 3.

(88)—Suit for price of personal property sold—Claim for price due to one of the joint owners—Liability of buyer—Suit within cognizance of Small Causes Court—Special appeal.—Plaintiff sued for the value of certain articles alleged to belong to himself and another. Defendant pleaded payment of the whole price to that other. The Sudder Ameen disallowed the objection and the High Court held that he was right in doing so. Plaintiff and the co-owner were not partners, nor was there anything to show that the plaintiff had authorized her co-owner to receive her share also as her agent or otherwise. On second appeal by the defendant, plaintiff objected that the suit was one sustainable in a Small Cause Court under Act XLII of 1860, s. 3, and that therefore the right of special appeal was taken away by s. 27, Act XXII of 1861. The suit being one for money due for personal property the High Court was of opinion that the preliminary objection to the appeal was well founded. The High Court observed that if the owners were partners or the suit had been on a necessarily entire contract, plaintiff could not have split the cause of action and sued alone for her own share. In the present case, however, the sale was only of the property of one co-owner made by another. RADHANATH SAHA v. KAMEENEE SOONDEREE DOSSEE, 2 W.R. 37.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits —continued.

(89)—Act XI of 1865, s. 6—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Jurisdiction—Appeal.—A suit for the materials, bamboos, post, verandah, etc., appertaining to four thatched huts, wherein plaintiff sought a decree to break up and remove them, or to obtain their value to the extent of Rs. 29 as. 4 was held to come under s. 6, Act XI of 1865, and to be a case in which by s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861, no special appeal would lie. KASI CHANDRA DUTT v. JADU NATH CHUKERBUTTY, 8 B.L.R. 512, Note = 10 W.R. 29. [Overruled, 8 B.L.R. 508, F.B. = 17 W.R. 309.]

(90)—Act XI of 1865, s. 6—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Special appeal.—A suit brought by the plaintiff to recover possession from the defendant of a 12 annas-share in a boat by establishment of his right, is a claim for personal property within the meaning of s. 6 of the Small Cause Courts Act. Therefore no special appeal lies in such a case under Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27. MOHOMED AZIM BHOOYAH v. MAHOMED SOMEE, 21 W.R. 413.

(91)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Suit triable by Court of Small Causes—Special appeal.—A suit brought to recover the price of a tree cut down by the defendant, and the price of fish caught by him in plaintiff's tank (the total value of the claim being only Rs. 45), is triable by a Court of Small Causes, and consequently no special appeal lies to the High Court. SUJJAD ALI v. BHOLA RAM, 5 N.W.P. 24.

(92)—Special appeal—Small Cause suit—Suit to recover value of fruits of trees taken by defendant.—A suit to recover the value of the fruit of certain mango trees alleged to have been misappropriated by the defendants was one of a Small Cause nature and no special appeal lay. SHAMANUND v. NUND KOOMAR, 3 Agra 290 = Agra F.B., Ed. 1874, 153.

(93)—Jurisdiction—Widow's suit to recover husband's personal property—Act XI of 1865, s. 6—Construction—Small Cause Court suits.—A suit by a widow as heiress of her deceased husband for personal property valued at Rs. 200 said to have been taken from him in his life time and carried away by defendants, was held to be within the cognizance of a Small Cause Court, under s. 6, Act XI of 1865. The words "a share or part of share in an intestacy" in the second proviso to that section, apply to suits by persons claiming as heirs against other persons similarly entitled, in order to determine their respective rights and interests, and to suits against persons administering the estate of a person who has died intestate where the share or proportion to which the claimant is entitled is in question. KAPAHI BEWA v. KESHRAM KUCH, 2 B.L.R. App. 23 = 11 W.R. 93. [F., 27 A. 622 = 2 A.L.J. 388 = A.W.N. 1905, 134.]

(94)—Suit to recover share in produce—Prayer for account of profits—Maintainability in Small Cause Court—Question of title arising, whether excludes jurisdiction—Second appeal.—A suit to recover, as plaintiff's share in the produce of certain dhara and khote (immoveable) properties, Rs. 339-14-2 or any other sum found due on taking accounts from the defendant, the managing khot, who denied the plaintiff's right to the produce of some of the properties, was held to be a Small Cause, in spite of a question of title being raised and an account having been asked for in the alternative, so that no second appeal lay. The mere fact of a question of title arising does not prevent the suit being triable by a Court of Small Causes, also, by merely asking, in the alternative, for an account of the profits or produce of certain properties, plaintiff cannot convert a Small Cause suit into one of a different nature. NARAYAN v. BALAJI, 21 B. 248. [F., 25 B. 625, 1 L.B.R. 335, 32 B. 560 = 10 Bom. L.R. 733, 7 Ind. Cas. 390 = 8 M.L.T. 281; R., 137 P.L.R. 1901, 6 Bom. L.R. 370, A.W.N. 1906, 29 = 3 A.L.J. 23, U.B.R. 1908, 3rd Qr., Prov. Small Cause Courts Act, s. 3, 20 P.R. 1911.]

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(95)—Suit for arrears of rents—Small Cause suits—Special appeal—Act XI of 1865, s. 6 (4).—Suits of the nature cognizable by Courts of Small Causes must mean, without reference to cl. 4 of s. 6 of Act XI of 1865, and must be, cognizable in general. A suit for arrears of rent when the claim is under Rs. 500, is not cognizable by a Court of Small Causes and a special appeal, therefore, lies to the High Court. RAMACHANDRA RAGHUNATH v. ABAJIBIN RASTYA, 6 B.H C.A.C. 12. [F., 22 M. 229; R., 23 M. 547 = 10 M.L.J. 329.]

(96)—Act XI of 1865, s. 6—Small Cause Court—Special appeal.—Where the plaintiff claimed a sum of money under the name of a zemindari cess, but in point of fact what was claimed was claimed on account of the use of land, held that such a suit being one cognizable by a Small Cause Court under s. 6, Act XI of 1865, a special appeal would not lie. The circumstance that a question relating to title has been incidentally decided in the course of a suit does not necessarily take the suit out of the category of suits of a nature cognizable by Small Cause Courts. BUCHOO CHOWBEY v. GHOORLAIT, 4 N.W.P. 56.

(97)—Appeal—Suit to recover enhanced assessment and cess.—A suit by a landlord to recover from his mulgeni tenant the enhanced assessment and cess upon the land subsequent to the date of the lease may be regarded as a suit to recover arrears of rent at an increased rate. The suit not being thus cognisable by a Court of Small Causes, a second appeal is maintainable. BAHSHETTI v. VENKATARAMANA, 3 B. 154.

(98)—Civ. Pro. Code (XIV of 1882), s. 586—Suits for recovery of rent, of nature cognisable by Courts of Small Causes—Second appeal not maintainable.—Suits for any rent, whether due for houses or in respect of any other immoveable property, are suits of a nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes within the meaning of s. 586, Civ. Pro. Code. When the legislature determines that suits of a certain character may be made triable in Courts of Small Causes without further action on the part of the legislature, those suits are of a nature cognizable in Courts of Small Causes even though the local Government may not establish Small Cause Courts or invest any Judge with power to try Small Cause suits in particular as Small Cause suits. In cases where such action has not been taken by Government the suits might not become actually cognizable by such Courts, but their nature or character as originally declared by the legislature remains unaffected. SOUNDARAM AYYAR v. SENNIA NAICKAN. 23 M. 547 =10 M.L.J. 329. F.B. (22 M. 229, Overruled.) [F., 1 L.B.R. 69; R., 2 L.B.R. 47; D., 1 L.B. R. 335.]

Specia or Second Appeal*—continued.

——8—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(99)— Suit for specific performance of contract— Valuation above Rs. 500— Exemption from jurisdiction of Small Cause Court--Special appeal.—The respondents raised the preliminary objection that, as the suit was valued only at Rs. 500, there cannot be, under s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861, any special appeal to the High Court, but the High Court overruled the above objection on the ground, that, as the case was one for specific performance of a contract, it was not a suit which, under s. 6 of Act XI of 1865, could be tried by a Small Cause Court, and consequently a special appeal would lie in such a case. NILKANTH SURMAH v. BISHEN BASHEE, 6 W.R. 322.

(100) — Default of payment of rent by putneedar—Suit to establish liability of surety— Special appeal not barred—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27.—In a suit to establish the liability of the surety in respect of arrears of rent due from a putneedar, the question whether the putneedar has not paid his rent will have to be decided, and such a question not being one within the cognizance of the Small Cause Court, a special appeal would not be barred in such a case by s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861. MAHARAJAH MAHATAB CHUND BAHADOOR v. BROJONATH MITTER, 8 W.R. 111.

(101)—Question of right to land arising incidentally—Jurisdiction—Small Cause Court— Special appeal.—This was a second appeal filed by the plaintiff against the lower Court's decision dismissing his suit for the price of certain trees on the ground that he was not entitled to claim the price of such trees. It was objected that, as the suit was one in its nature cognizable by Small Cause Court, no second appeal would lie. The objection was accepted by the High Court which held that the jurisdiction of the Small Cause Court was not affected by the circumstances that it had to enquire into a question of title to land as incident to the question of the value of trees taken off the land. SHUMBHOO CHOWDHRY v. MR. R. COMBS, 2 W.R. 179.

Special or Second Appeal*—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(102)—Suit for contribution relating to costs —Question of admissibility of special appeal to be decided by Court itself and not its officer.— The subject-matter of the present suit was a claim by the plaintiff against the defendants for contribution in respect of costs which the plaintiff had had to pay in a suit in which he and the defendants were jointly interested. On this petition of special appeal, the Deputy Registrar had recorded that the case was one of the Small Cause Court class, in which according to s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861, no special appeal lay. The High Court directed that the appeal be admitted observing that the admissibility of a special appeal in such a case was a matter which should be decided judicially by the Court itself and not by one of its officers. KISTO COOMAR CHOWDHRY v. ANUND MOYEE CHOWDHRAIN, 6 W.R. Miss. 128.

(103)—Decree against several persons jointly— Suit for contribution—Jurisdiction of Small Cause Court – Second appeal.— A suit for contribution not arising out of contract, but in respect of money due under a decree making both the plaintiff and the defendants jointly liable, is not one cognizable by a Court of Small Causes, which cannot deal with questions of equity, and a second appeal will lie in such a suit. FUTTEH ALI v. GUNGANATH ROY, 8 C. 113=10 C. L. R. 20. (7 W.R. 377, F.; 3 A. 66, D.)

(104)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—'Decision or order,' meaning of, in—Small Cause Court's jurisdiction—Co-sharer paying Government revenue of joint property—Suit for contribution.— The 'decision or order' mentioned in s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861 is confined to those decrees which, if made in the Small Cause Court, would be conclusively binding on the parties. It cannot therefore include a decree passed in pursuance of a judgment on an issue affecting the proprietary relations between the parties which, if it had properly arisen incidentally in a suit actually brought in a Small Cause Court, could not then have been finally concluded between the parties. Held also that, although the Government revenue payable by each kullum may not be separate and specifically defined, it cannot, on that account, be taken that one co-sharer cannot recover from the others the due portion of the jumma for the whole mahal which he had been obliged to pay. BHOOP NARAIN SAHAO v. MEER MAHOMED HOSSEIN, 4 W. R. 60. [Diss., 18 W. R. 104; R., 6 W. R. Mis. 128.]

(105)—Special appeal—Suit of Small Cause nature—Question of title necessary for decision. —In a suit of a Small Cause nature, where a question of title has arisen which must be determined before the plaintiff can get a decree, and the lower appellate Court has failed to determine it, a special appeal is admissible. PACHOO RAREE v. GOOROO CHURN DASS, 15 W. R. 556.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

—— 8.—Small Cause Court Suits—continued.

(106)—Small Cause Court—Title to land—Special appeal admissible.—Where, in a suit of the nature triable by a Small Cause Court, to determine the question at issue, it was necessary for the Court of appeal in the first instance to determine a question of title to land which question, however, was not determined by that Court, held that a special appeal lay to the High Court. KISANDRAM v. JETHIRAM, 5 B.H.C.A C. 57.

(107)—Small Cause Court—Question of title—Special appeal.—In this suit, the plaintiff sought to recover a share of one-half of an annuity obtained by the common ancestor of both the parties, laying his claim at Rs.259-9-1. The lower appellate Court went into the question of the plaintiff's title. Held that though the suit was of a nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes, still as the lower appellate Court had gone into and decided a question of title, a special appeallay to the High Court, and the objection as to the maintainability of the appeal under s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861 was not tenable. W.D. DIKSHIT v. B.V. DIKSHIT, 2 B.H.C. 4. [Diss., 18 W.R. 104; F., 4 B.H.C. 114, 5 B.H.C. A.C.J. 57; Appl., 15 W.R. 556.]

(108)—Suit for damages and declaration—Jurisdiction—Special appeal—Act XLII of 1860, s. 3—Act XXIII of 1861, *s.*27.—A suit for damages below Rs. 500 for detention of materials of the plaintiff's house and for a declaration of his title thereto is cognizable by a Court of Small Causes under s. 3, Act XLII of 1860, because such a suit involves no question of title, the claim for declaration of title being in law mere surplusage and without meaning. Consequently, a special appeal in respect of it is barred by s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861. KISHUB CHUNDER SHAHA v. BROMMO MOYEE DABEA, I W.R. 35.

(109)—Special appeal—Suit of Small Cause nature—Value less than Rs. 500—Question of title involved.—No special appeal lay from the decision of a Court of Small Causes in a suit for less than Rs. 500, being the value of crops misappropriated by the defendants, although the suit involved a question of title, inasmuch as a Court of Small Causes is competent to decide a question of title incidentally. HEDAETOOLLAH v. SHAIKH KARLOO, 7 W. R. 73.

(110)—Suit for damages for crops cut and carried away—Denial of plaintiff's title to land—Suit of Small Cause nature—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Special appeal—Additional stamp not leviable by reason of value of land.—In this suit brought by the plaintiff to recover, from the defendant, damages on account of the latter having cut and carried away her crops, the defendant denied the plaintiff's title to the land and an adjudication on that point became necessary only so far as to enable the Court to decide the plaintiff's claim for damages. The order of the lower Court compelling the plaintiff to pay additional stamp duty was erroneous, but the character of the suit was in no respect changed by the payment; and the High Court therefore upheld the preliminary objection taken to the defendant's special appeal that it was barred by s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861, the suit and decree having been merely for damages below Rs. 500. RAM DYAL GANGOOLY v. HURO SOONDUREE DOSSIA, 10 W. R. 272.

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——8.—Small Cause Court Suits—concluded.

(111)—Special appeal—Limitation—Objection not taken in Courts below—Suit of Small Cause nature.—Special appeal.—Where the objection as to limitation was never raised in the Courts below, and the decree of which execution is now sought was made in a suit of the nature of a Small Cause Court suit, the special appeal must be dismissed. RAJAH MOKOOND NARAIN DEO v. PERSHAD MUDDUCK, 18 W. R. 252.

(112)—Case of Small Cause nature—Decision passed prior to Act XXVII of 1860, special appeal from, not barred by s. 27 of Act.—In this case, the respondent took the preliminary objection that no special appeal would lie under s. 27 of Act XXIII of 1861, inasmuch as the suit was of the nature of a Small Cause Court case. But, it was held that that section is prospective, and the decision sought to be carried out was obtained long before the passing of that Act. The respondent further pleaded that he was entitled to the benefit of s. 7 of Regulation VII of 1832, which barred all special appeals in these cases. But the High Court held that the above two laws had no connection and the right preserved to parties in pending suits under s. 387 of Act VIII of 1859 does not refer to or contemplate such provisions as those laid down in Reg. VII of 1832. BHOLANATH DUTT v. MOHADEB SHEET, 3 W. R. Mis. 19. [Diss., 8 W. R. 107; R., 2 A. 112.]

See APPEAL—ORDERS, 7 B. 292.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT — PAYMENT OF RENT BY TENANT, 11 B.H.C. 106.

Suit by auction purchaser for refund of purchase money on failure of consideration — Cognizability by Small Cause Court—Second appeal—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE — MISCELLANEOUS, 12 Bom.L.R. 723=7 Ind. Cas. 955.

——9.—Miscellaneous.

(1)—Finding on issue of fact remanded—Objections—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 565, 566, 568, 587.—Held by the Full Bench (Tyrrell, J., dissenting) that findings upon issues remanded by the High Court in second appeals, cannot be impeached on the evidence as in first appeals, but objections to such findings must be restricted to the limits within which the original pleas in second appeal are confined. 7 A. 649, P.) Per Petheram, C.J., and Tyrrell, J.—Ss. 565 and 566 of the Civ. Pro. Code, are, so far as may be, incorporated in the chapter which relates to second appeals, and when the evidence for disposing of the real issues in the case has been taken and exists on the record, it is within the powers, and is the duty of the High Court, on the hearing of a second appeal, to itself fix and determine such issues on the evidence on the record, and not to put the parties to the expense and delay involved by a remand. Per Straight, J.—It is true that by s. 587 of the Civ. Pro. Code, the provisions of the Chapter regulating first appeals, are declared to be applicable, " so far as may be," to second appeals, but it is obvious that this does not mean that they are to be adopted indiscriminately or in their entirety ; and it cannot be held that the section affords any sanction for the High Court deciding questions of fact in any shape or at any stage of a second appeal. (2 A.W.N. 104 and 158, R.) Per Tyrrell, J.—. The jurisdiction of Courts of second appeal, in respect of questions of fact is restricted in so much as the appeal may not be entertained on grounds of fact, but under the circumstances of s. 566, no less than under the abnormal circumstances contemplated by the ruling in 7 A. 649, the High Court may take cognisance of omitted issues of fact, and must determine them if there be evidence upon the record sufficient for that purpose. In cases where the Court, still acting under s. 566, has been obliged, in the absence of evidence on the record, to supplement the defect through the agency of the Court below, its jurisdiction in respect of such evidence does not become limited thereby, or by reason only of the circumstance that the evidence is accompanied by a " finding " of the inferior Court. The word " finding " is of course used in s. 566, in its restricted sense of an answer to the proposition referred for inquiry and not of an award or decision on the issue before the Court. BAL KISHEN v. JASODA KUAR, 7 A. 765 F.B. = A.W.N. 1885, 225. [Overruled, 9 A. 147, F.B.; Appl., 8 A. 172, F.B.; R., 24 C. 98]

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(2)—Custom—Evidence—Tenant occupying house in abadi—Rights of such a tenant.—Whether or not a custom prevails whereby tenants of houses are empowered to sell the materials of their houses and the sites of the houses so long as the houses are standing is to some extent a question of law. The High Court, in second appeal, has jurisdiction to consider the evidence given in support of such a custom and determine whether or not that evidence is sufficient in point of law to establish a custom. Where, the tenants of a certain village sold the sites of their houses alleging a custom that they had a right to do so by virtue of a local custom and the Zemindar sued to have those sale-deeds cancelled, and the lower Court found on the evidence that the custom did prevail, held that the Court below was right in the conclusion to which it had come. GIRRAJ SINGH v. HARGOBIND SAHAI, 7 A.L.J. 36 = 4 Ind. Cas. 304 = 32 A. 125. (28 A. 698, 30 A. 311, F.B., R.)

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(3)—Finding of fact—Special appeal.—A finding of fact by the lower appellate Court was set aside on special appeal and the case was remanded on the ground that the Judge assumed a state of things in favour of the defendant which the defendant had not urged, and which was contradictory to his case, and because the finding of the Judge was opposed to the inference properly arising from the facts. SURBESWAR GOSE v. CHOTO ARIZOLLAH MANDAL, 8 B.L.R. App. 78 = 17 W.R. 213.

(4)—Proceeding to enforce decree—Question of fact.—It is a question of fact whether the action of a judgment-creditor, by which he prevented the attempt of the judgment-debtor to transfer his decree into another name, is a proceeding taken to enforce the decree which the judgment-creditor seeks to execute, and the finding upon that question of fact cannot be disturbed in special appeal. SHEIKH IRSHAD ALI v. RADHU SHAH, 13 B.L.R. App. 1 = 21 W.R. 188.

(5)—Court sale—Purchaser's right—Second appeal.—The question as to what the purchaser at a Court sale actually bargained and paid for is not a mere question of fact, but a mixed question of law and fact, and the High Court can, in second appeal, consider this question, and is not bound by the finding of the lower appellate Court. GNANAMMAL v. MUTHUSAMI, 13 M. 47.

(6)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 206—Order in execution of decree—Appeal—Special appeal—Appeal presented after Act X of 1877 come into force—Power of Court to which decree transferred for execution.—The question in this case was whether s. 591 of Act X of 1877 precluded an appeal to the Chief Court being preferred on or after the 1st of October, 1877, from an order passed before that date by a Court disposing finally of an appeal from an order in execution of the decree. Held that the provisions of the Act do not apply so as to exclude an appeal presented after October 1st, 1877 from an order passed under Act VIII of 1859 when that Act allowed an appeal. Held also that the Court to which a copy of a decree is transmitted for execution under the provisions of s. 286 of Act VIII of 1859 is authorised only to execute it within its own jurisdiction. It cannot authorise any other Court to execute the decree. When such authority is requisite, it can be granted only by the Court whose duty it was originally and in the first instance to execute the decree. BHAG SINGH v. BISHAMBAR DAS, 129 P.R. 1879, F.B. [R., 75 P.R. 1881, 12 P.R. 1900 = (1900) P.L.R. 63.]

(7)—Act XXVIII of 1868, ss. 37, 40—Suit to eject tenant—Question regrding compensation payable, whether could be raised by tenant on special appeal.—According to the terms of s. 37 of Act XXVIII of 1868, it is the duty of a person suing to eject a tenant, to declare either that compensation for improvements has been paid to the defendant or that no compensation is payable, or that there is a difference between the parties as to the amount or value of the compensation to be made. The above matters not having been placed before the Court by the plaintiff in the present case, or dealt with by the first Court on its own motion, the defendant had a right to have the omission rectified in special appeal. NATHAL v. SULTAN, 149 P. R. 1879. [Appr., 96 P.R. 1881.]

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——9.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(8)—Evidence — Special appeal.—Where it was found in special appeal that the lower appellate Court, though considering the evidence of the witnesses in detail, did not meet the first Court's judgment in a single point, the latter Court's decision was restored, and that of the lower appellate Court reversed. SHAIKH ASSANOOLLAH v. SUFFER ALI, 21 W.R. 135.

(9)—S. 13, Act I of 1872 (Evidence)—Second appeal—Finding of lower Courts on existence of usage based on irrelevant matters—Effect.—Where the findings of the lower appellate Court are mainly based on what is irrelevant, and though that Court has also referred to what is evidence, it is impossible to say that its conclusions proceed upon a proper consideration of that evidence alone, the case must be remanded for re-trial. PALAKDHARI RAI v. MANNERS, 23 C. 179.

(10)—Interference by High Court in special appeal.—The High Court will always refuse to interfere with the appellate judgment of a lower Court, unless it commits some error of law or is under some misapprehension of law. NOOR ALI MIAN KHONDKAR v. ASHANULLAH, 11 C. 608.

(11)—Special appeal to Sudder Dewanny Adawlut.—Act XVI of 1853, cl. 4, enacts that no special appeal should lie, nor shall any decision be reversed, altered, or remanded by any of the Sudder Courts upon the ground that the decision of any question of fact is contrary to, or not warranted by, evidence taken, or any probability deduced from the record. Held, that such enactment was to be carried to its full legitimate extent, except where the decree of the inferior Court is founded on an inference of law, when a special appeal lies to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut. Thus, when the Judge of the inferior Court stated that the inclination of his opinion was, that there had been a sale, but that the defendant could not rely upon that defence, because he had attempted to strengthen his case by a forged bill of sale, and that the estate, if not sold, must have been mortgaged, as insisted by the plaintiff, and thereupon decided without further proof that the estate was mortgaged; and such judgment was held not to be a finding of fact, but an inference of law, and analogous to a misdirection of a Judge to a jury, and, in such circumstances, a special appeal to the Sudder Dewanny Adawlut lies from such decree. SEVVAJI

Special or Second Appeal—continued.

——9—Miscellaneous—continued.

VIJAYA RAGHUNATHA VALOJI KRISTNAN GOPALAR v. CHINNA NAYANA CHETTI, 10 M. I.A. 151=2 Sar. 88.

(12)—Right to appeal from decision in appeal in favour of appellant.—Where an appellant succeeded on the point raised by him and got precisely what he wanted, he could not be permitted to prefer an appeal from the decision in his favour, on the ground that the lower appellate Court was wrong in deciding it in the way it did, as there was nothing for him to appeal against. It is nothing to the purpose that he had since been differently advised by another legal adviser. AMAN AHIR v. NANHEY, 7 C.P.L.R. 141.

(13)—Appeal—Return of plaint by appellate Court—Second appeal — Stamp.— On appeal against the decree of a Munsif, the Judge returned the plaint finding that the Munsif had no jurisdiction. The plaintiff preferred an appeal to the High Court in the shape of a first appeal from an order. Held that there was no order from which a first appeal would lie. The lower appellate Court had made a decree from which the remedy was by appeal from that decree on the requisite stamp. CHATTAR LAL v. HAR LAL, A.W.N. 1883, 165.

(14)—Misjoinder of causes of action—Dismissal of the suit in second appeal.—Where a suit is not objected to on the score of misjoinder of causes of action at or before the settlement of issues in the Court of first instance, under s. 53 (b) (iii) of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, it is not permissible to dismiss the suit on that ground in second appeal. SANNA v. GANAPA, 5 Bom. L.R. 185.

(15)—Changing case in second appeal.—A plaintiff will not be allowed to change his case in second appeal. DASSORATHY HURI CHUNDER MAHAPATTRA v. RAM KRISHNA JANA, 9 C. 526=13 C.L.R. 114.

(16)—Second appeal—Question of fraud not raised in lower Courts.—Where a question of fraud, which might have been a substantial and serious one under s. 53 of the Transfer of Property Act, was not taken in either of the lower Courts, the High Court cannot entertain it in second appeal, although it is raised in the memorandum of appeal. DURGA CHURN ROY CHOWDHURY v. MONMOHINI DASSI, 15 C. 771.

(17)—Application to set aside ex parte decree—Second appeal—Revision—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 588, 622.—No appeal lies against an appellate order reversing a refusal to set aside an ex parte decree; nor would the High Court interfere in revision in such a case. AUBINASH CHUNDER MOOKERJEE v. MARTIN, 8 C. 832.

(18)—Rent-suit—Intervenor—Special appeal—Act VIII of 1869 (B.C.), s. 302.—The circumstance that a question has been determined at the hearing of the appeal before the District Court in a rent suit, by which a party who has intervened, may be injuriously affected, will not make the appeal cognizable as a special appeal, unless the decision has determined a question of title or interest in land as between parties having conflicting claims thereto. RAJ KISHEN MOOKERJEE v. SREE NATH DUTT, 23 W.R. 408.

Special or Second Appeal—concluded.

——9.—Miscellaneous—concluded.

(19)—Validity of Civil Court's decree—Liability to be questioned in special appeal—Account-books—Evidence.—A decree that had become final and conclusive by operation of law is not open to be questioned in special appeal as to its validity. Account books of the opposite party can be used as corroborative evidence and not as independent evidence, as it would be highly unjust to bind anybody by entries which the adversary has made against him in books over which he has no control whatever. RAMESSUR SINGH v. ADJODHYA PERSHAD SINGH, 13 W. R. 294.

(20)—Order in execution, institution of suit to set aside—Application to file special appeal out of time subsequent to suit, not grantable.—Where from an order in the Execution Department passed by the lower Court, a special appeal was maintainable, and the applicant, instead of taking that course, brought a regular suit to get rid of the order, the High Court held that since he had elected one remedy, it could not, in order to enable him to try another, allow him to file a special appeal out of time. KALEE KISHORE SEIN v. NILAMBUR SEIN, 2 W.R. Mis. 35.

(21)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 346—Construction—Appeal dismissed for default—Interest in excess of principal—Decree debts—Reg. XV of 1793.—(a) A party seeking to put in motion the stringent provisions of s. 346, Act VIII of 1859, which provides for the dismissal of an appeal for default, is bound to show very distinctly that the procedure under it has been strictly complied with. (b) Therefore, assuming that the said section applies to miscellaneous cases, it does not apply to a case in which the appellant did not make his appearance on the day to which the case was adjourned or in which the appellant is unable to show that he had any notice that his appeal would be heard on the day on which the Judge disposed of it. Reg. XV of 1793 which prohibits award of interest in excess of principal, applies to sums decreed only, and not to interest which has accumulated through the neglect of the judgment-debtor to pay. SHIB CHUNDER GUPTO v. ALLAD MONEE DOSSIA, 5 W.R Mis. 22. [D., 4 N.L. R. 166]

(22)—Jurisdiction—Finding by first Court not appealed against—Right to take objection in special appeal.—Where the question of jurisdiction based on a question of fact was decided by the first Court against the defendant and the latter did not prefer any appeal against the said decision, it was not competent for him to urge the plea again in special appeal. RAJ NARAIN v. ROWSHUN MULL, 22 W.R. 124.

Specific Performance.

(1)—Specific performance—Requisites to entitle party to specific performance—Ability of plaintiff to perform his part of agreement—Absence of default.—A Court of equity will not decree specific execution of an agreement in favour of a party who is not competent to perform his part of the agreement. To entitle a party to specific performance, he must show that there has been no default on his part, and that he has taken all proper steps towards performance on his own part. BUNGSEEDHUR MULLICK v. CALCUTTA AUCTION COMPANY, 1 Hyde 45. RAM FUNOO KOONDOO v. MULLICK DOSSEE, 14 W.R. 338.

(2)—Decree—Form—Suit for specific performance.—In drawing up a decree in a suit for the specific performance of an award, the Court should prescribe a time within which the defendants should perform their obligations. If the defendants fail to perform their duties within the time specified and fail also to show sufficient cause for their failure to do so, the Court should direct the imprisonment of the defendants or the attachment of their property or both. SHEORAM v. GANESHI LAL, A.W.N. 1883, 176. [R., A.W.N. 1883, 218.]

(3)—Specific performance of contract—Reasonable time.—Parties seeking for specific performance of contracts should come to the Court for relief within a reasonable time. SETH SAM v. APPUNDI IBRAHIM SAHIB AND MRS. MARIA VARDEN. 6 M H.C. 75.

(4)—Delay in bringing the suit—Specific performance—Court's discretion under s. 22, Specific Relief Act.—There may be circumstances, under which a Court, exercising the discretion with which it is vested under the Specific Relief Act, may think it right to dismiss a suit brought nearly three years after the contract was entered into, and there may be also circumstances, which may justify a Court in awarding a decree, even when the suit is brought after such a delay; each case must depend upon its own circumstances. But where the objection as to the delay was not taken in the lower Courts, the High Court, in second appeal, will not be justified in directing the dismissal of the suit. MOKUND LALL v. CHOTAY LALL, 10 C. 1061.

(5)—Suit for specific performance—Denial of plaintiff's title—Cause of action—Obiter—Per Garth, C.J.—Cause of action for a suit for specific performance does not arise until the plaintiff's title to specific performance is denied by the defendant. If the suit is brought within three years of such denial it will be in time. AHMED MAHOMED PATTEL v. ADGEIN DOOPLY, 2 C. 323. [Obs., 19 M. 391.]

(6)—Suit for ejectment—Plea of contract of sale—Bar of remedy to enforce contract—Plea not available.—Where the defendant, in a suit for ejectment, sets up the plea of a contract of sale in his favour, the plea cannot be maintained, if his remedy, by way of a suit for specific performance, has become barred by limitation. JEYRAM MAHAJAN v. GANPATI MALI, 17 C. P.L.R. 19. (16 A. 344, 21 M. 291, 13 C.P.L.R. 163, R.)

Specific Performance—continued.

(7)—Suit for specific performance of contract—Limitation—Cause of action—Where the plaintiff brought a suit for specific performance of a deed of contract executed in his favour alleging that the deed provided that, on the defendant's obtaining a decree for certain property, a portion of it was to be conveyed to the plaintiff by a deed of sale, held that the plaintiff's cause of action commenced from the date the defendant obtained the decree. THACOOR SREENATH SINGH v. AMEER KHAN, 1 W.R. 144.

(8)—Property situate out of jurisdiction—Suit for specific performance—Agreement to mortgage lands beyond jurisdiction—Suit for return of money paid thereunder.—A suit for the specific performance of a mortgage of lands situate beyond the limits of the original jurisdiction of the High Court would not lie, though the agreement to execute it, made in Calcutta, described the parties as then living in Calcutta. [R., 14 B. 353, 19 C. 353, 23 B. 22, 22 B. 701, 27 M. 157, 33 C. 1065=4 C.L.J. 238.] A decree could, however, be made for the amount paid by the plaintiff, in the same case, under the agreement, inasmuch as he was carrying on business in Calcutta and the money was paid there. The defendant would be entitled to redeem the property under the mortgage (if executed) by paying the sum in Calcutta. SREENATH ROY v. GALLY DOSS GHOSE, 5 C. 82.

(9)—Specific performance—Relief asked for cancellation of deed—Incidental relief—Appeal to District Judge—Jurisdiction.—In a suit for specific performance of a contract of sale, if the plaintiff also asks for the cancellation of the sale-deed in favour of the defendant vendee, the relief is merely incidental to the claim for specific performance of contract, and the District Judge is competent to entertain an appeal in respect of such a suit, the value of the main relief being within his cognizance. NITYANAND v. BISHANLAL, 8 A.L.J. 660. [8 A.L.J. 266, D.]

(10)—Suit for specific performance of a contract to sell land—Essence of specific performance—Misjoinder of causes of action.—Though a suit for specific performance of a contract to sell land might be "a suit for land" within the meaning of the Charter, it does not come under s. 44, rule (a) of the Civ. Pro. Code. In such a case there would be no misjoinder of causes of action within the meaning of s. 44 (a) of the Civ. Pro. Code, where the suit is for money in the alternative. [R., L.B.R., 1872—1892, 355.] Per Pontifex, J.—It is of the essence of specific performance that, except under special circumstances, part only of an agreement ought not to be deemed to be performed. G. M. CUTTS v. T. F. BROWN, 6 C. 328=7 C.L.R. 171.

Specific Performance—continued.

(11)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877), s. 44, rule (a)—Suit for specific performance of contract to sell land—Suit for the recovery of immoveable property—Joinder of causes of action—Contract—Admissibility of parol evidence to vary written evidence.—In a suit for specific performance of a contract to sell a share in a house and premises, the plaintiff also sought to recover a sum of money due from the defendant on promissory notes. Held that the suit was not a "suit for the recovery of immoveable property or for declaration of title to immoveable property" within the meaning of s. 44, rule (a), Civ. Pro. Code, and that the cause of action in respect of the promissory notes which had been jointed without the leave of the Court, was not improperly joined. (1 C. 249, cited and commented on.) Per Wilson, J.—Under s. 44, rule (a), Civ. Pro. Code, a suit for the recovery of immoveable property, etc., is a suit founded upon an existing title in which the plaintiff seeks to get possession of the property. The words "to obtain a declaration of title" apply to a case where a title exists and the plaintiff seeks to have that fact declared. Where the plaint in a suit for specific performance of a contract to sell a certain share of a house, set out a written contract, and alleged that, on its having been subsequently discovered that the share was less than it was originally believed to be, the price was reduced by verbal agreement, held that the written contract must be taken as intact save as to the price, and that no evidence could be given by the defendants in contradiction of the other terms of the document. BROWN v. CUTTS, 5 C.L.R. 487 (4 C.L.R 419. F.)

(12)—Plea of purchase for consideration without notice in suit for—A plea of purchase for consideration without notice in a suit for specific performance must be distinctly raised and proved. GOPAL BALKRISHNA v. GANPAT NAGO RAODESPANDE, 13 C.P.L.R. 172 (10 C.P.L.R. 107, F.) [R., 14 C.P.L.R. 117.]

(13)—Dismissal of purchaser's suit for specific performance—Vendor's right to retain purchase money.—Dismissal of purchaser's suit for specific performance of a contract of sale on the ground of non-payment of consideration-money would not of itself entitle the vendor to retain the amount deposited with him, and the purchaser would be entitled to a refund of such amount. ALOKESHI DASSI v. HARA CHAND DASS, 24 C. 897=1 C.W.N. 705.

(14)—Sale—Payment of purchase-money—Deed not delivered—Re-sale—Specific performance.—Where the purchaser of property pays earnest money, and a deed of transfer is executed and registered, but not delivered, it being stipulated that the purchaser should pay the balance, and then get the deed, but no time is fixed for payment of the balance, the vendor is bound to wait a reasonable time for payment, and if he re-sells the property within a week, the second purchaser takes nothing and the first purchaser is entitled to a decree for specific performance. MUTHUR ALI v. SHEO SAHOY SINGH, W.R. 1864, 281.

Specific Performance—continued.

(15)—Dismissal of suit for specific performance—Decree for refund of earnest money though not asked for by plaintiff as alternative relief—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), O. VII, r 7 —It does not necessarily follow from the dismissal of a suit for specific performance that an order for the refund of the purchase-money should also be denied. (21 B. 927, 24 C. 897, 1 C.W N. 705, 31 A. 68, 9 C.L.J. 512, 11 Bom. L.R. 525, 19 M.L.J. 295, 6 M.L.T. 89, 1 Ind. Cas 890, 27 Ch. Div. 89, 53 L.J. Ch. 1055 50 L T. 573, 32 W R. 802, 48 J.P. 773, F) If a suit for specific performance be dismissed the Court can, nevertheless, give the plaintiff a decree for refund of the deposit, although he had not asked for any such alternative relief. RAGHU NATH SAHAY v. CHANDRA PROTAB SINGH, 15 Ind. Cas. 268.

(16)—Sale—Deposit of earnest money by vendee—Repudiation of contract—Rights of vendee—Refusal to grant specific performance against vendee—Rights of vendor—Vendee's lien for part of purchase-money paid to vendor.—Where a purchaser of land, after making a payment by way of deposit, unjustifiably repudiates the contract, or is in any other way goes off through his default, he is not entitled to recover the deposit from the vendor. [R., 33 M. 375=20 M.L J. 230=6 M L.T. 334=6 Ind. Cas. 941.] Where, there are in the above case, circumstances which would require the Court to refuse specific performance, it does not follow that the vendor would be entitled to retain the deposit. From the moment part of the purchase money is paid, the purchaser has a lien upon the property to that extent which lien can only be lost to him by reason of his failing to carry out his side of the contract. BALVANTA v. BIRA, 23 B 56.

(17)—Suit for specific performance—Suit for ejectment from a dock—Temporary injunction—Contradictory affidavits.—In a suit for specific performance of an agreement alleged to have been entered into between the plaintiffs and defendants under which the plaintiffs were, on payment of certain rent, entitled to the use and occupation of a certain mud dock for the repair of two of their vessels, and from which the defendants had threatened to eject them whilst they were making such repairs, the plaintiffs applied for an ad interim injunction to restrain the defendants from taking proceedings which they were about to take in the Hooghly Court to recover possession of the dock, pending the decision of the present suit, and from taking any other steps to interfere with the plaintiffs' possession of the dock until the repairs in course of being executed were completed. In support of the application, the plaintiffs' agent filed affidavits stating that, on the faith of the agreement, one of the steamers had been docked and taken to pieces and that the plaintiffs could not remove the said vessel, until the repairs were completed, without great and ruinous expense,

Specific Performance—continued.

whereas no loss would accrue to the defendants by the plaintiffs being permitted to remain in occupation of the dock until the repairs of their steamer were completed. The defendants in their affidavits denied the agreement set up by the plaintiffs and set forth another agreement under which they claimed to be entitled to eject the plaintiffs, and did not deny the loss to the plaintiffs involved in the removal of the steamer before the repairs were completed, but stated that it was the plaintiffs' own folly to have taken the vessel to pieces and that they must take the consequences. It was found by the Court that the plaintiffs had acted bona fide. The plaintiffs' suit was filed in the High Court at Calcutta The defendants' suit for possession of the dock, which was threatened to be instituted, would be tried by the Hooghly Court, unless it be transferred to the High Court. Held by Markby, J., that the suit having been filed first in the High Court, and being a suit in which the High Court could do full justice, it was the Court in which the suit ought to be tried and therefore the plaintiffs were entitled to an ad interim injunction restraining the defendants from bringing their suit until the disposal of the plaintiffs' suit. Held on appeal that, under the special circumstances of the case, there was an equity which entitled the plaintiffs to be kept in quiet and undisturbed possession of the dock until they completed the repairs of the ship, and that the defendants should be restrained, not from bringing their suit, but from executing any decree or order which they might obtain therein, until the plaintiffs should have had a reasonable time within which to complete the repairs of their ship and remove her. W. MORAN v. THE RIVER STEAM NAVIGATION COMPANY, 14 B. L.R. 352. [D., 4 C. 380=4 C.L R. 434.]

(18)—Suit for specific performance of agreement to sell or for refund of consideration—Agreement found not enforceable—Limitation for alternative relief—Contract Act, s. 65—Limitation Act, sch. II, art. 97.—If, in a suit for specific performance of an agreement to sell, or for a refund of the consideration money paid, the High Court, in a second appeal finds the agreement to be unenforceable, the cause of action for the refund arises on the date of such finding, and would be governed by art. 97 of the Limitation Act. UDIT NARAIN MISR v. MUHAMMAD MINNAT-UL-LAH. 25 A. 618= A.W.N. 1903, 117. (11 A. 47, F) [Appr., 31 A. 68, P. C.=9 C.L.J. 512=11 Bom. L. R. 525.]

(19)—Registration—Remedy for refusal—Act XX of 1866, s. 84.—The remedy for refusal to register an instrument is by a petition to the Judge under s. 84, Act XX of 1866. A regular suit to enforce registration does not lie. TULSI SAHU v. MAHADEO DAS, 2 B.L.R A.C. 105= 10 W R. 483. (10 W.R F B. 51, Relied on.) [F., 12 W. R. 385=4 B.L.R.A.C. 65]

(20)—Act XX of 1866, ss. 2, 49, 84—Registration of deeds—Denial of execution.—An instrument acknowledging the payment of the consideration-money for what was to be ultimately an absolute sale of the property in question—for what, in equity, did presently operate as a sale of the property—is an instrument, which by Act XX of 1866, s. 2, is required to be registered, and cannot be received in evidence under s. 49 if it had not been registered. Where a person who is alleged to have executed a deed denies before the Registering officer that the deed was executed by him, the Zilla Judge, having regard to the provisions of s. 84 and the form of the petition given in the schedule to the Act, has jurisdiction to determine such a question. FATI CHAND SAHU v. LILAMBAR SING DAS, 9 B L. R. 433, P. C. =16 W.R. P.C. 2=14 M.I.A 129 =2 Suther (1) 467=2 Sar. 709. [F., 20 W.R. 291, 22 W R. 309, 1 B. 190, 2 B. 489; R., 4 B. 126, 7 B. 310; D., 12 B.H C. 175, 2 C. 131, P.C. =3 I.A. 221=26 W.R. 50, 9 A. 108, F.B]

Specific Performance—continued.

(21)—Suit for—Agreement to lease—Registration if necessary—Indian Registration Act (III of 1877), ss. 3, 17 (d) and 49—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 54—Present demise—Interest in land.—Unless an agreement to lease certain premises operates as a present demise, it does not, of itself, create any interest in or charge on the property agreed to be demised, and can, therefore, be given in evidence for the purpose of enforcing specific performance of it, without its having been registered under the provisions of the Indian Registration Act. An unregistered agreement to lease provided for the grant of lease for a period of five years commencing from the day following the day on which the agreement was entered into, and also provided that the proposed lessee would get a proper kabuliyat granted to him to be registered at his own cost: Held, that, on the day the agreement was come to, there was no present demise, and, therefore the agreement could be adduced in evidence for the enforcement of specific performance thereof. SATYENDRA NATH BOSE v. ANIL CHANDRA GHOSE, 14 C.W N. 65=5 Ind. Cas. 38. (10 B. 101, 17 M.L.J. 218, F.)

(22)—Contract—Specific performance—Unregistered document—Right of suit.—Where a party taking a part of the consideration-money in advance retains the deed of sale, the other party may bring a suit to recover the deed or compel the execution of a fresh document. Held (Mookerjee, J., dissenting) that plaintiff could not sue for possession in the same suit. TRIPURA SUNDARI v. RASIK CHANDRA KANUNGUI, 6 B.L R. App. 134=15 W.R. 189.

(23)—Specific performance—Sale of land in exchange for other land—Breach of contract—Remedy—Suit for damages.—Where a piece of land was sold in consideration of receiving in exchange another piece of land, which was not given, the seller's remedy, having regard to the terms of the contract made, was not by a suit to get back the land sold, but by a suit for damages for the breach of the contract, by a suit for specific performance of the contract or so much of it as was left unperformed. NASIR ALI v. GOVERNMENT, 3 Agra 394.

(24)—Specific performance—Contract—Public policy.—The plaintiff Company engaged the first defendant, an Inspector of Land Records, to purchase certain land in the name of the second defendant as their agent, and agreed to pay a certain remuneration. The lower Court dismissed the suit for specific performance on the ground that the contract was against public policy: Held, reversing the decree, that the District Judge had invented a new head of public policy, and the dereliction of duty on the part of the first defendant was not a thing contrary to law or something having the force of law. GEORGE GILLESPIE AND CO., LD. v. MAUNG MAUNG, 8 Ind. Cas. 441. (7 O.C. 268, R.)

(25)—Suit for specific performance of contract to purchase land—Amount of balance of purchase-money specified in decree—Application for rectification of decree.—This suit was brought by the plaintiff for specific performance of a contract by the defendant Company for the purchase of a piece of land of about 5280 sq. yds. in extent at the rate of Re. 1-1-6 per sq. yd. Setting forth the agreement the plaint prayed "that the defendant Company may be decreed specifically to perform the contract and to pay to the plaintiff the balance of purchase-money due to him, viz, the sum of Rs. 4,475." The decree was drawn up in terms of the above prayer of the plaint. Subsequently, finding that on calculating the price on the 5280 sq. yds. of the land, the balance of purchase-money after deducting the Rs. 1,000 paid as earnest money was Rs 4,775, and not Rs. 4,475, and that the latter figure had been entered in the plaint through clerical error, plaintiff moved to get the decree amended accordingly. Held that the decree should be rectified by striking out the words "the sum of Rs. 4,475 being." The prayer in the plaint for payment of the sum erroneously mentioned therein was superfluous and so was the direction in the decree to pay that same amount. The essential part of the judgment was that the defendant was specifically to perform his contract and if the decree made mention of a sum of rupees, the payment of which cannot by itself amount to performance of the contract, it could not be retained as correctly representing the intention of the judgment. PHEROZSHA P. RANDERIA v. THE SUN MILLS, 22 B. 370. [F., 5 N.L.R. 159.]

(26)—Necessity for plea and proof of transfer in good faith for value without notice by defendant in suit for.—In a suit for specific performance of a contract for sale, the defendant is bound to set up distinctly the plea that he is the transferee for value in good faith without notice and to give prima facie evidence in support of that plea. Unless and until he does this, the plaintiff is entitled to succeed from the mere priority of his contract. HIRA SINGH v. NARAIN GOND, 10 C.P.L.R. 107. [R., 13 C.P.L.R. 172, 2 N.L R. 57, 1 N.L.R. 147.]

Specific Performance—continued.

(27)—Contract of sale—Intention of parties regarding fixing of price.—Where the intention of the parties to a contract to sell was that the price should be fixed at a fair and reasonable valuation and the mode of ascertaining the price was subsidiary and non-essential, specific performance of the contract could be enforced. BUDHIA BHOYER v. HARI RAM TELI, 14 C.P.L.R. 117. (7 I.A. 107, R.)

(28)—Suit for, delay short of limitation in the institution of, when bars the relief.—In a suit for specific performance of an agreement to sell certain premises to plaintiff, the question arose whether the delay on the plaintiff's part, in the institution of the suit, was evidence of abandonment by plaintiff of his admitted rights under the agreement. Held, delay is not material, so long as matters remain in statuquo and it has neither prejudiced the defendant, nor amounted to a waiver of the plaintiff's right by acquiescence. In such cases, any lapse of time, short of the period allowed under the Limitation Act, cannot disentitle the plaintiff to the proper relief. Further, the defendants, in this case, having failed to establish abandonment of plaintiff's admitted rights, the onus of proving which lay upon them, any delay, on the plaintiff's part short of the period of limitation, could not be held to deprive him of his right to a decree for specific performance. KISSEN GOPAL SADANEY v. KALLY PROSONNO SETT, 33 C. 633. (2 B. 133, R.)

(29)—Specific performance of contract—Contract for sale - Building upon it before completion of sale—Rights of vendee.—Where the contract is for the performance of a certain act with a sum annexed whether by way of penalty or damages, to secure the performance of that act specific performance may be decreed. But where the contract is that one of two things shall be done at the election of the party who has to perform the contract, viz, the performance of the act or the payment of the sum of money, the contract is satisfied by the payment of the sum of money, and there is no ground for providing against the party having the election to compel the performance of the other contract. If the promisee chooses to begin building on the land, the subject-matter of the contract, before completing his title, he does so at his own risk, and cannot, by such precipitate action, deprive the promisor of the option which the latter has reserved to himself. RAM DHAN v. MOHAN LAL, 1 A.L.J. 688.

(30)—Contract to sell — Subsequent sale to another with notice of previous contract—Suit for possession—Stipulation of penalty for non-performance of contract—S. R. Act, s. 18.—A person who has entered into a contract for the purchase of a certain property can sue for possession of the property and specific performance of the contract, although it is subsequently sold to another who has had notice of the previous contract. The stipulation of a penalty for the non-performance of the contract to sell, per se, does not avoid a suit for specific performance under s. 18 of the Specific Relief Act. HUKAN CHAND v. NIKKA SINGH, 15 P.R. 1908 = 27 P. W.R. 1908 = 97 P.L.R. 1908. (10 C. 710, 2 C. 468, 6 C. 534, 31 P.R. 1897, 2 P.R. 1885, R.)

Specific Performance—continued.

(31)—Contract—Undivided Mitakshara family, suit against the father of—Breach of trust—Legal necessity.—Where a suit is brought against the father of an undivided Mitakshara family, having sons, for the specific performance of a contract to sell land, the Court would not ordinarily decree specific performance of the contract with full knowledge that the vendor's powers of alienation are limited and can be exercised, without a breach of trust, only when there exists a necessity sufficient to justify the transfer, in the absence of which the sons might at any moment interdict the sale. In such a case, the Court would ordinarily require the plaintiff to give some proof of the necessity for the sale. BAIKUNTHA BARIK v. SHIB DASS, 2 C L.J. 321. (5 M. 337, 4 M.L. J. 9, F)

(32)—Specific performance of contract of sale entered into before passing of Punjab Alienation of Land Act (XIII of 1900) not barred by the Act.—Held, that a suit for specific performance of a contract of sale of land, entered into before the date the Punjab Alienation of Land Act came into force, filed after that date, is maintainable and possession of the land can be allowed to the plaintiff without regard to the provisions of the Act. HARI CHAND V. BURA MAL, 27 P.L.R. 1906.

(33)—Contract for sale—Specific performance—Mother guardian of minors—Contract with—Collector's permission—Form of decree.—The mother of the defendants, who were minors at the time, agreed to sell a particular share in lieu of a debt due by the father of the defendants to the plaintiff. The permission of the Collector was obtained and a sale-deed was executed. The mother refused to register it, but no suit was brought for compulsory registration. Plaintiff sued the defendants for specific performance of the contract. Held that a Court has jurisdiction to direct specific performance of the contract and do require the defendants to do all necessary acts for the purpose of fulfilling the obligation into which through their guardian they had entered, and that the plaintiff was entitled to have a fresh sale-deed executed and registered. AMER CHAND V. NATHU, 7 A.L.J. 887. = 7 Ind. Cas. 408.

(34)—Sale of land by receiver—Misdescription—Purchaser personally acquainted with property sold—Title to land below high and low water mark.—Where a purchaser is personally acquainted with the real estate of the property sold, he cannot, on account of a circumstance of which he was all along perfectly aware, and which was patent, either reject the contract, or demand an abatement of price. If persons, without satisfying themselves as to the real title to property, choose to buy at sales where the party selling professes to sell merely his "right, title and interest," such as it is, they have no one but themselves to blame if they afterwards find they do not get such a title as they could have wished. At such a sale, it is before he bids, and not afterwards, that an intending purchaser should inquire into the nature of the title which the vendor can make (Coles v. Gadsden, 34 Beav. 416, F.). [D., 21 B. 827.] Those who have a grant of the land down to low-water mark will have all subsequent accretions. GANGADHARSIRKAR v. KASINATH BISWAS, 9 B.L.R. 128. (Scratton v. Brown, 4 B. and C. 485, F.)

Specific Performance—continued.

(35)—Contract for sale--Breach—Suit for specific performance — Damages.—The plaintiff contracted with defendant to purchase from him eight-annas share of certain landed estates; but as regards certain lands in those estates situated within a detailed boundary, it was agreed that those lands should be excluded from the contract, and the defendant bound himself to make over to the plaintiff other lands in exchange for them. The plaintiff asserted that the defendant had not made over any lands in exchange under the term of the contract, and he, therefore, sued to recover the lands which were excepted from the contract. Held that, if the defendant had broken his contract, the plaintiff might sue him either for specific performance or for damages, but he could not, under the contract, sue to recover the lands which he did not buy. KISHOREE DEBIA v. JUGUNNATH ACHARJEE, 9 W.R. 269.

(36)—Specific performance—Contract to sell – Subsequent sale to stranger—Registration Act (XIX of 1843, Agreement to sell—Registration.—The first defendant agreed to sell certain property to the plaintiff and received certain sums of money as advances for the consideration money. Subsequently he obtained an offer of a larger sum from the second defendant, for the property, and so sold the same to him. Plaintiff now sued for the specific performance of the contract of sale. It was found that the plaintiff did not in any way neglect to carry out the agreement. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to specific performance of the contract, and to obtain possession of the disputed estate on paying down the correct amount of consideration money, unless the defendant who had purchased the property can show a better title. [R., 7 W.R. 258, 4 B. 126, F.B.] A deed of agreement to sell at some future period may be registered under Act XIX of 1843. SHIB KISHEN DOSS v. SHEIKH ABDUL SOBHAN CHOWDHRY, 3 W.R. 103.

(37)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—Decree—Adjustment—Specific performance.—The parties to a decree entered into an arrangement by which the plaintiff was to obtain possession from defendants of certain premises not in the decree and the defendant was to obtain possession from the plaintiff of certain other premises also not in the decree. This arrangement was not certified to the Court. The Court therefore rejected the arrangement under s. 206 of Act VIII of 1859. The plaintiff then sued for specific performance of the arrangement. Held that the adjustment might fairly be looked upon as a contract entered into by the parties subsequent to, and, by its terms for property not in the decree, and therefore a suit for specific performance would lie. The subject-matter being beyond the decree, s 11 of Act XXIII of 1861, which relates to subject-matters relating to the decree, would not apply. RAM LUCHUN BUBRA v. MADHUB CHUNDER BUBRA, 3 W.R. 118.

(38)—Specific performance—Cause of action—Suppression of sale-deed by vendor after execution.—Where, in pursuance of an agreement for sale of lands, a sale-deed has been executed, but the vendor makes away with it before registration, and suppresses it, the purchaser who has paid consideration for it is entitled to have a fresh deed executed and registered, just as he would have if the document had been accidentally lost or destroyed. CHINNA KRISHNA REDDI v. DORASAMI REDDI, 20 M. 19.

(39)—Suit for—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 244—Right of suit—Estoppel.—The plaintiff had previously sued the defendant for khas possession of certain land, and the suit was compromised and dismissed, the defendant agreeing to execute a kabuliyat in favour of the plaintiff for a term of ten years at a certain rate of rent. Defendant did not execute the kabuliyat and assigned the land. Plaintiff sued the defendant for ejectment on the ground that the defendant had forfeited his tenancy by such assignment. That having been dismissed, the present suit was brought by the plaintiff for specific performance of the contract to execute the kabuliyat: held, (1) that, as there was no direction in the previous decree for the execution of any kabuliyat, the present suit was not barred by s, 244 of Civ. Pro. Code, (2) that in suing to eject the defendant, the plaintiff had not acted in contravention of the compromise and was not precluded from suing on that compromise. CHUNI LAL DUTTA v. HIRA LAL DUTTA, 7 C.W.N. 258.

(40)—Suit for—Pleadings—Practice—Plea in defence—Omission of material term in written contract—Onus—Duty to examine himself—Agreement to take lease on lessor erecting suitable buildings—Time, if essence of contract—Reasonable time—Witness—Evidence—Credibility.—In a suit for specific performance, it is important to distinguish between negotiation and contract, and to ascertain what the contract is, when and by whom it was made, and who the parties are who are bound by it. Where a party concluded a contract with another party, without at any time disclosing that he was acting in the matter as agent for some other person, whether he was really acting as such agent or not, the burden of the contract rested on him, the other party not being concerned with his undisclosed intentions. If the plaintiff's case is clear and the written statement of the defendant raises no defence, the practice in English Courts allows the plaintiff, in a suit for specific performance, to move for a decree on the written statement being put in, and to get such a decree at once and as a matter of course. It is incumbent on a party, who seeks to make out that, by inadvertence or mistake, an important term has been omitted from a contract drawn up by himself with his own hand and signed by him, to pledge his oath to the truth of his story, specially when the other party comes forward and swears that the suggestion is without foundation. G. & Co. agreed to take a lease of certain premises from H, at a certain rent, upon the latter undertaking to erect new buildings (on a plan which G. & Co. approved), to replace existing ones, which were, to the knowledge of both parties, in the occupation of tenants, whom it might take time to eject. Held that time was not made the essence of the contract, though it was clear that, in the contemplation of both parties, the buildings were to be completed without unreasonable delay. In case of undue delay on the part of H, the other parties (G. & Co.) might have made time the essence of the contract, by giving notice that they would not hold themselves bound to complete, unless the buildings were finished within a specified time, provided the time allowed were such as the Court would hold to be reasonable und r the circum tances. It is not incumbent upon a party to give corroborative evidence of statements, which are not challenged by the other party. MOULVIE MAHOMED IKRAMULL HUQ v. WILKIE, 11 C.W.N. 946 P.C.=17 M.L J. 454 =4 A.L J. 740=6 C.L.J. 682=2 M.L.T. 448.

Specific Performance—continued.

(41)—Suit for—Lease—Covenant for renewal —Construction of document—Time, whether or not of the essence of contract.—The plaintiff sued for specific performance of a covenant or renewal contained in a lease, the material clause of which was as follows :—' After the expiration of the said term, if the lessee shall so desire, the executant shall have no objection whatever to renew the lease for a further term of twenty years on the terms and in consideration of the payment of the rent mentioned in the lease.' There was nothing in the lease to indicate that notice of intention to renew was to be given before its expiration. Held, on a construction of the lease, that time was not of the essence of the contract, and that the plaintiff had not forfeited his right to have the lease renewed by reason of having allowed some months to elapse, after the expiration of the original term, before he gave notice to the defendants of his intention to take advantage of the covenant for renewal. JAGGI LAL v. SIR W. E. COOPER, A.W.N. 1905, 154=27 A. 696.

(42)—Suit for—Agreement to lease—Lease not registered—Contract, if divisible.—Although a document, which has been executed, is inoperative in law and wholly ineffectual to create title in the intended lessee, it is nevertheless evidence of a valid agreement to execute a lease and may consequently form the foundation of an action for specific performance. It is not an inflexible proposition of law that every contract to grant a lease is an indivisible contract. SURENDRA NATH NAG CHOWDHURY v. GOPAL CHUNDER GHOSH, 12 C.L. J. 464=8 Ind. Cas. 794.

Specific Performance—continued.

(43)—Suit for specific performance of agreement to lease—Lease to third party without notice of agreement—Right to specific performance after termination of lease.—Plaintiff complained that the defendant No. 1 had agreed to lease certain property to him, but granted to the defendants, second party, a lease for some years. On the allegation that the latter took their lease with knowledge of the plaintiff's claim, he instituted this suit for specific performance of his contract and the cancellation of the above lease to the defendants second party. It having been found that these defendants had no notice of the plaintiff's claim, and had taken their lease in good faith, the Court maintained their rights under such lease and decreed that, at the termination of the same, the first defendant should execute a lease to the plaintiff as originally agreed upon. The defendant No. 1 had by his own action rendered himself temporarily unable to perform the contract, and his position cannot, in any way, be better than that of a person who laboured under a disability before he entered into the contract. SARJU PRASAD SINGH v. WAZIR ALI, 23 A. 119=A.W.N. 1901, 11.

(44)—Grounds for review—Implied contract in lease.—A party contracting and failing to perform his contract may be sued, at the pleasure of the other party, either for specific performance or for damages. A lessor, when he gives a lease, enters into an implied contract to give his lessee peaceable possession of the land which is the subject of the lease (affirming on review, (11 W.R. 278.) MUNNEE DUTT SINGH v. WILLIAM CAMPBELL, 12 W.R. 149. [R., 25 B. 269.]

(45)—Oral contract to execute lease—Subsequent registered lease with notice—Suit for specific performance of oral agreement.—Where, in pursuance of an oral agreement to grant a lease of property, A executed a lease in B's favour, but did not complete it by delivery and registration ; he, afterwards, executing a registered lease of the same property to C, who had notice of the prior oral agreement, it was held that B could specifically enforce the oral agreement and that he was entitled to a declaration that the subsequent registered lease was void as against him. NEMAI CHARAN DABAL v. KOKIL BEG, 6 C. 534=7 C L.R. 487. [F., 15 P.R. 1908=97 P.L.R 1908=27 P.W R. 1908, 10 C. 710; Appl., 13 C. 70 ; R., 6 B. 168, F.B., 13 M. 324, 27 B. 452.]

(46)—Agreement in lease—Construction—Suit for specific performance by assignee of lease —Specific performance of agreement to sell land —Character of property.—Where a mokurari

Specific Performance—continued.

lease of ancestral village lands, granted for certain defined purposes, provided the leasing out of further extra land according to the lessee's requirements, at a proper rate, held, in a suit for specific performance of the lease of the entire extra land by the assignee of the lease, that, on the construction of the patta, the lessors would be bound to settle with the lessee or his assigns only so much land as might be necessary for the purpose of carrying out of the original objects of the lease. The assignees in the above case would not be entitled to a grant of a lease of the extra land, at a proper rate, if their purpose was simply to sell it. [D., 36 C. 675=9 C.L.J. 523.] A decree for specific performance of an agreement to sell land cannot be refused merely on the ground of the peculiar character of the property (as containing coal or other valuable minerals, for example), and the consequent difficulty in arriving at a fair valuation. THE NEW BEERBHOOM COAL COMPANY v. BULARAM MAHATA, 5 C. 932=7 I A. 107=7 C.L.R. 247=4 Sar. 145 (On appeal from 5 C. 175.)

(47)—Contract for benefit of minor—Specific performance.—A decree for specific performance of contract relating to property of a minor, can be given against the minor, when it is for his benefit that the contract should be performed. KHAIRUNNESSA BIBI v. LOKE NATH PAL, 27 C. 276. (18 M. 415 Appr.; 20 C. 509, Diss.) [F., 26 B. 326=3 Bom. L.R. 898; Appr., 11 C.W.N. 207; R., 4 Bom. L. R. 587, 34 C. 168 F. B.=11 C.W.N. 34=4 C.L.J. 431=1 M. L. T. 360.]

(48)—Contract of lease to enable lessor to obtain money to evict another tenant in possession.—Specific performance of a contract of lease may be decreed though the lease was intended to enable the lessor to obtain money for commencing legal proceedings against the then tenant of the property comprised under the lease. PITCHUKUTTI CHETTI v. KAMALA NAYAKKAN, 1 M.H.C. 153.

(49)—Specific performance—Addition of defendant—Plaint not amended—Petition treated as part of plaint—Agreement to be specifically performed to be definite—Degree of certainty—Extrinsic evidence—Claim of specific performance found to be excessive—Where original claim found to be unsustainable—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 22—Discretion of Court, what means.—The plaintiffs brought this suit against defendant No.1 for the specific performance of a contract. Subsequently, they prayed that defendant No. 2 might be added as a defendant, because he had, with full notice of the prior contract in favour of the plaintiffs, taken a conveyance of the property from defendant No. 1. The application was granted and defendant No. 2 was added as a defendant. The plaint, however, was not amended. It was objected on the part of defendant No. 2 that, as the plaint stood, it did not disclose any cause of action against him and ought to be dismissed: Held, that, as no objection was taken on this ground by defendant No. 2 in his written statement, and as the application may be treated as part of the plaint, the suit should not be dismissed against defendant No. 2 on that ground. All agreements, in order to be executed in a Court of equity, must be certain and definite. But that is sufficiently certain which can be made certain. Therefore, the principle is that the description must be such as to enable the Court to determine with certainty, with the aid of such extrinsic evidence as is admissible under the rules of evidence, what property was intended by the parties to be covered thereby. Where the plaintiff has asked for specific performance of an agreement and it is found that the claim was excessive, he may be allowed to succeed on the basis of an alternative claim for a more limited right. But if the plaintiff gives evidence in support of the original claim which is found unsustainable, he cannot succeed on a different claim contrary to his own evidence. S. 22 of the Specific Relief Act provides that the jurisdiction to decree specific performance is discretionary; but the discretion is neither arbitrary nor capricious, but a sound judicial discretion regulated by the established principles of equity. The circumstances stated in s. 22 are illustrative and not exhaustive. A contract which, although not illegal, is detrimental to the public welfare, should not be enforced in equity. The relief lies in the discretion of the Court only in so far as it must necessarily judge whether, under the circumstances of the case, the contract is or is not an equitable one; but if it is determined that the contract is fair and reasonable, and that the conduct of the plaintiff has not been unconscientious, there is no room for the application of judicial discretion. GAJ KUMAR CHAND v. LACHMAN RAM, 10 Ind. Cas. 503.

(50)—Suit for specific performances of contract—Damages—Jurisdiction of High Court—Court of Equity in England—Cause of action, statement of.—In England, a Court of Equity can entertain a suit for specific performance of a contract, and grant specific performance of part only, with an award of damages, if necessary, for the remainder. The High Courts in India have a similar power under the provisions of the Charter Act and Act VIII of 1859. Held that, in a suit for specific performance of a contract, a statement of the terms of the contract and the refusal of the defendants to perform their part of it and of plaintiff's readiness to do his part in it will suffice to indicate the cause of action. UNUNTORAM DOSS v. RAMLOCHUN AITCH, 14 W.R. O J. 15.

(51)—Mesne profits—Possession under invalid lakheraj claim—Specific performance—Lapse of time.—Where defendants who were ordered to pay wasilat for certain lands which they had possessed under an invalid lakheraj claim, enter into a compromise with the plaintiff, who is their zemindar, and agree that if they default in paying rent, or if the lands become khas of the zemindar, or are, by any means whatsoever, to be alienated, they will point out the lands, or if they fail to do this, will pay damages for the same, plaintiff may obtain a decree for specific performance, notwithstanding lapse of time and surrender of the lands. RAJAH PROTAP CHUNDER SINGH v. GOOROO DOSS ROY, W.R. 1864, 76.

Specific Performance—continued.

(52)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act VIII of 1859, s. 192—Decree for specific performance of contract and damages in the alternative—Ascertainment of amount of damages a necessary preliminary—Specific performance—Contract of partnership—Grant of injunction restraining partner from excluding co-partner. — S. 192, Civ. Pro. Code, Act VIII of 1859, applied to cases in which, action having been brought for damages for breach of contract, the Court, with the assent of the plaintiff, decreed, as an alternative, that the contract was to be specifically performed. It was therefore necessary that as a preliminary to such a decree the amount of damages should be ascertained. Specific performance is a branch of the jurisdiction of the English Courts of Equity not taken from the Roman Law, and its application to partnerships is governed by precisely the same rules as those which govern it in other trasactions. The natural remedy for the breach of an agreement to enter into a partnership is an action for damages. There were only two classes of cases in which the specific performance of such an agreement had been granted :—First, where the parties had agreed to execute some formal instrument which would have conferred rights which would not have existed unless it had been executed ; secondly, where there had been an agreement which had come to an end, to carry on a joint adventure and the decree that the agreement was a valid agreement, prefaced by the declaration that the contract ought to have been specifically performed, was made merely as the foundation of a decree for an account. In decreeing specific performance, the Court has always to consider whether it can enforce the whole of the agreement, and where it cannot do so, this peculiar relief will always be refused. Plaintiff sued the defendants to compel specific performance of an agreement by which the parties contracted to work in partnership an Abkari farm of certain taluks for a certain number of years. Some time after the date of the said agreement, in consequence of a default (for which none of the parties were to blame) in regard to the payment of the deposit money for a taluk, the farm of that taluk was re-sold by the Collector and purchased by the second defendant, one of the contracting partners in the agreement. The first defendant contended that the agreement had been cancelled by the re-sale by the Collector and consequently there had never been a partnership between the plaintiff, the second defendant and himself. Held that the plaintiff was equitably entitled to an injunction to restrain the first defendant from doing anything to exclude the plaintiff, from participating in the contract and benefits of the partnership under the agreement. VIRUDACHALA NATTAN v. RAMASAMI NAYAKAN, 1 M.H.C. 341. [R., 32 M. 76=19 M.L.J. 10=1 Ind. Cas. 384=4 M.L.T. 456.]

Specific Performance—continued.

(53)—Civ. Pro. Code. s. 375—Transfer of Property Act, s 83.—Where a sum of money is deposited in Court under s. 83, Transfer of Property Act, by the vendee of the mortgagor, and the mortgagee raises objections, which however, are subsequently withdrawn in pursuance of a compromise, the mortgagee is not precluded from enforcing the terms of the compromise by the fact that those terms were not brought to the knowledge of the Court. TATAYYA v. PICHAYYA, 13 M 316.

(54)—Suit to recover money under a contract is a suit for—No claim for damages for breach of contract—Jurisdiction of Small Cause Court. —The defendant agreed to pay to the plaintiff Rs. 60, upon which the latter was to transfer 4 pattahs to the former. He subsequently failed to so pay the money and take a transfer, as agreed upon. The plaintiff then brought a suit to recover the sum due under the contract. Held, that the suit as thus brought, is one, for specific performance of the contract, nothing being said about damages for breach of contract, and that the Small Cause Court had therefore no jurisdiction to try the suit. NARIGIRI VEERASALINGAM v. SUTHAPALLY SATHIRAZU, 5 M L.T. 296. (28 B. 1, D.)

(55)—Partition deed partly acted upon—Suit to enforce rights as previously existing.—Where a partition deed is admitted and it has been acted upon as to one of the parties, and it is shown that if anything has been left incomplete this is not owing to the defendant's unwillingness, but owing to the plaintiff's neglect, and she asserted nothing against the deed in the way of undue influence, the plaintiff's right is not to treat the partition deed as a nullity and to sue for her rights as they existed previously, but a right to enforce performance. MUSST. BHOWANEE KOONWER v. THAKOOR DASS, 2 Agra 277.

(56)—Reg. XIX of 1814—Application by putteedars for butwarrah—Breach of stipulation at time of butwarrah—Suit for specific performance—Jurisdiction — Civil Court.— At the time when the putteedars in this case applied for a butwarrah under Reg. XIX of 1814, it was stipulated by an agreement between the putteedars of a seven anna and a six anna share, that, in the event of a certain village falling by division wholly to either of those putteedars, they would re-unite and hold the 13 annas share joint as heretofore. One of the parties having resiled from the agreement, the other party brought this suit in the Civil Court for specific performance. Held that plaintiffs were entitled to sue for specific performance, and that such a suit would lie only in a Civil Court. It was objected that the agreement cannot be enforced, inasmuch as there was no consideration, and it was never acted upon. But it was held that although no money consideration was mentioned in the agreement, that could not by itself bar the agreement being enforced, inasmuch as the parties had swaived all objections with reference to the particular village specified or any other falling wholly or in part to their respective shares, and had agreed that, however the butwarrah might turn out, they would, as between themselves, re-unite. NUCKCHAD SINGH v. HUNOOMAN DUTT SINGH, 10 W.R. 69.

Specific Performance—continued.

(57)—Specific performance—Contract to build dwelling-house—Sale of land—Vendor's successor failing to act—Ekrarnama, construction of—Indian contracts, construction of.—The contracts of the people of India should be liberally construed. The form of expression, the literal sense, is not to be so much regarded as the real meaning of the parties which the transaction discloses. A certain property was sold by the mother of the plaintiff to the father of the defendant, a near relation. On the same date, the purchaser entered into an agreement to re-sell the property to the plaintiff on the following terms: "I do therefore hereby execute this ekrar and agree that, if you erect a family dwelling-house on the said land within 10 years from this day, then I would execute a deed of absolute sale in your favour in respect of the said land, etc., on receiving from you the said consideration...And I, my heirs or representatives in succession, shall never be competent, to raise any objection to the same, and, if we do so, then you shall be competent, by depositing in the proper Court the said consideration money, to get a kobala executed through the Court and take possession of the said land." Within the 10 years, the plaintiff endeavoured to secure the benefit of that contract, but his endeavours were resisted by the defendant:—Held, that the condition of building a dwelling-house was one which required the concurrence of the vendor or his successors: that, when the vendor's successors failed to act up to that common agreement, the condition of building was made impossible of performance by them, and that the case fell within the latter part of the contract which described the relations of the parties, in case an objection was made to the performance of the contract by the vendor. That, as the consideration-money was deposited in Court, the plaintiff was entitled to a decree for specific performance of the contract of sale. NARAIN v. MOHENDRA, 15 C.L.J. 332=14 Ind. Cas. 820.

(58)—Right of stranger to demand performance—Cestui que trust.—Ordinarily, a stranger to the contract cannot demand performance. But a person, beneficially entitled under the contract (i.e.) a cestui que trust, although he was no party to it, may enforce the obligation arising under it. SURENDRO KESHUB ROY v. DOORGA SOONDARY DOSSEE, 19 C. 513=19 I.A. 108, P.C.=6 Sar. 150.

(59)—Specific performance, suit for—Possession, whether can be claimed — Agreement to finance litigation and get conveyance upon payment of certain sum—Litigation successful in first Court—Litigation compromised in appeal by defendant with knowledge of agreement—Suit for specific performance, if should be decreed.—

Specific Performance—continued.

Defendant No. 1 brought a suit for recovery of possession of certain property against defendants Nos. 2 and 3. During the pendency of that suit, the present plaintiff entered into an agreement with defendant No. 1 to the effect that he would finance the litigation and that the defendant No. 1 upon receipt of Rs. 2,000 would execute a conveyance of the property to the present plaintiff. The suit was successful in the primary Court, but on appeal a compromise decree was made by which the decree of the first Court was set aside. The defendants Nos. 2 and 3 obtained the assent of defendant No. 1 to that compromise by paying him Rs. 1,500. The defendants Nos. 2 and 3, at the time of the compromise decree, were aware of the agreement between the present plaintiff and the defendant No. 1. The plaintiff sued for a declaration that the compromise decree was fraudulent and collusive and did not affect his rights and for specific performance of the agreement between himself and defendant No. 1: Held, (1) that the propriety of an agreement of this nature could be questioned only by the parties thereto. (12 C.W.N. 393=35 C.420=10 Bom.L.R. 230=7 C.L.J. 335=5 A.L.J.184=18 M.L.J. 100=3 M.L.T. 344=14 Bur.L.R. 49, P.C., 27 A. 271=9 C.W.N. 477=15 M.L.J. 197=32 I.A. 113, P.C., 2 Ind. Cas. 385=14 C.W.N. 191, Rel.); (2) that the principle that a decree by consent was operative between the parties so long as it was not set aside in a proper judicial proceeding, in the same manner as if it were a decree upon contest, could not be applied to the prejudice of a stranger to the decree; (3) that the plaintiff was entitled to show that the decree was fraudulent and collusive and does not affect his legal rights; (4) that a decree for specific performance ought to be made in favour of the plaintiff against all the defendants who should execute a conveyance and Rs. 2,000 should be deposited to their credit; (5) that a prayer for possession might be coupled with a prayer for specific performance. FATEH CHAND v. NARSINGH DAS, 16 Ind. Cas. 988. (14 C.L.J. 159=11 Ind. Cas. 228, F.)

(60)—Mortgage—Agreement to convey mortgaged property in case of default—Contract for sale—Suit for specific performance—First and second mortgagees—Act I of 1877, s. 27 (b).—A bond hypothecating immoveable property, in which the obligor agrees that, on default of payment of the money by the appointed date, he would execute a conveyance of such property, and that, if he failed to do so, the obligee might sue to get a conveyance executed, is not a deed of conditional sale, and it would not be necessary for the obligee under it to take proceedings to foreclose the mortgage; its terms amount to no more than an ordinary contract to do a particular act at a time appointed, of which specific performance may be enforced by the promise. Where, under the above circumstances, a prior mortgagee sues the mortgagor and a subsequent mortgagee or a purchaser in execution of a decree obtained on the subsequent mortgage for specific performance of a contract for sale contained in the prior mortgage, it is doubtful whether it is competent to the latter (even on the assumption that he had no notice of the agreement for sale), to claim, under s. 27 (b) of the Specific Relief Act, that specific performance of the agreement should not be granted; for the contest in such a case really lies between a prior and a subsequent lien created upon the same property which has passed to the transferee under a sale in execution of a decree for enforcement of the subsequent lien. BADRI PRASAD v. DAULAT RAM, 3 A. 706 = A.W.N. 1881, 61. [R., U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. II, 573.]

Specific Performance—continued.

(61)—Specific performance of contract, suit for —Execution of agreement denied—Proof of agreement—Consistency with proved facts and conduct of the parties—Onerous bargain, but not unconscionable— Fraud or misrepresentation absent—Court's duty to grant specific performance.—The defendant on the 30th September 1905 drew five bills for Rs. 10,000 each payable at three months after date in favour of the plaintiff who endorsed them over to the Bank of Bengal to enable the defendant to obtain Rs. 50,000 from the Bank. For this accommodation defendant was to pay plaintiff interest at 6 per cent. on the amount of the bills. The defendant further executed, as security for the money which he received from the Bank, a mortgage of certain lands which he hoped to sell for much above a lakh of rupees. Being unable to meet the bills when they fell due on the 2nd January 1906 or the interest due thereon, he entered into a further arrangement with the plaintiff, under which the bills were renewed on 3rd January 1906, for a further term of three months on the same terms, the defendant executing a promissory note for the interest paid by the plaintiff to the Bank and the interest due by the defendant to the plaintiff. Defendant failed to meet the bills or the interest on 6th June 1906, the due date, and the plaintiff's case was that, in consideration of plaintiff agreeing to renew the bills for a further period of three months, the defendant signed a letter sent to him by the plaintiff whereby he agreed to convey the land mortgaged to the plaintiff for one lakh, should he fail to meet the interest due on the bills a third time. The defendant having so failed, plaintiff brought this suit for specific performance and in the alternative for damages. The defendant denied that he signed this last agreement and suggested that there was another arrangement according to which plaintiff consented to wait for six months for his interest (which the evidence showed he had been demanding all the time) with a right of pre-emption at an indefinite price far above one lakh of rupees which the defendant knew was the plaintiff's limit. Held, that, in dealing with a case of this kind, in which the parties are at issue on a vital question of fact, the safe principle is to consider which story fits in with the admitted circumstances: That the defendant's story could not be believed without overlooking the fact that the whole question of the renewal of the bills was involved in whatever arrangement was arrived at on 4th April 1906, and that neither the conduct of the defendant nor the acts of the plaintiff were consistent with the arrangement alleged by the defendant but appeared to be in accord with the agreement as alleged by the plaintiff; that in the absence of any evidence of fraud or misrepresentation on the part of the plaintiff which induced the defendant to enter into the contract, the Court would not be justified in refusing to make a decree for specific performance; that the contract, though onerous was not unconscionable, and it would be difficult to say in the circumstances disclosed that the plaintiff took an improper advantage of his position or the difficulties of the defendant. G.W. DAVIS v. MAUNG SHWE GO, 15 C.W.N. 934, P.C.

Specific Performance—continued.

(62)—Agreement between husband and wife —Separate property of wife—Agreement in English form, specific performance of—Concealment of fact.—Case where their Lordships of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council decreed specific performance of an agreement in the English form, made between husband and wife (Armenian Christians) in the nature of a family compromise, respecting the wife's separate property. The wife alleged that property purchased by the husband had been concealed by him from her when she executed the agreement; held, in the circumstances, that that fact, if proved, was not sufficient to entitle the wife to treat the agreement as a nullity. GREGORY v. COCHRANE, 8 M.I.A. 275 = 1 Sar. 779.

(63)—Specific performance—Plaintiff to carry out material part of agreement—Variation of written agreement by parol evidence.—A party who comes into Court to ask for the specific execution of an agreement must show that he is willing and able to carry it out in all its material parts so far as he had himself stipulated for, and also that no act of his own in relation to the agreement has in any material degree damnified his opponent. And he cannot be allowed to select one stipulation for breach and another for performance. He must be prepared to carry out in its entirety his own part of the contract before he can call upon his adversary, through the instrumentality of the Court, to specifically execute the latter portion of the agreement. In resisting specific performance of an agreement, it is competent to the defendant to show by oral evidence that the real intention of the parties to the agreement has not been correctly expressed in the written document. VISHVANATH ATMARAM v. BAPU NARAYAN, 1 B.H.C. 262.

(64)—Contract suit to enforce—Conditions. —Where plaintiff did not act up to the original terms of a contract and broke it, the defendant was not bound to deliver over or ratify the document which it was contended should be executed between them. RAM TUNOO KOONDOO v. MULLICKA DOSSEE, 14 W.R. 338.

(65)—Specific performance of contract, when enforceable.—Specific performance can be enforced only when there is a completed and final contract between the parties and binding on the defendant. Where a deed was executed for the sale of certain immoveable properties, but at the same time it was found that certain terms and conditions had been arranged between the parties for embodiment in a formal sale-deed, and that it was only upon these terms and conditions that the defendant was prepared to complete the transaction, and that these terms and conditions were intentionally and fraudulently omitted from the sale document executed by the defendant, held that specific performance of the sale cannot be enforced. BARU MAL v. DHUM SINGH, A.W.N. 1884, 161.

Specific Performance—continued.

(66)—Breach of contract—Liquidated damages—Penalty—Specific performance—Pleadings.--If an indenture or memorandum of agreement contains covenants or promises for the performance of various acts and duties, and then provides for the payment of one large sum by way of compensation in case of the non-performance of all or of any one of the things stipulated to be done, and the damages in every case of non performance are altogether uncertain and incapable of accurate valuation, the sum agreed to be paid will be treated as liquidated damages, and not as a penalty. A plaintiff who sues for damages and is entitled to them, cannot be likewise entitled to specific performance or to an injunction against the further breach of the agreement. The defendant in a suit for breach of contract can plead, without being obliged to bring a fresh suit, that the plaintiff, being the first to break the agreement, cannot now sue for damages for something subsequently done by the defendant in contravention of it. MUSSAMAT ASHRUFOONISSA BEGUM v. STEWART, 7 W.R. 303.

(67) — Contract for purchase— Subsequent mortgage by vendor--Suit for—by vendor—Legality of objection by vendee on ground of subsequent mortgage.—Plaintiff sued for specific performance of a contract to purchase land. Defendant took the objection, among others, that, after the contract had been entered into, plaintiff had created an incumbrance by way of mortgage of the land in question together with other property. The lower Court dismissed the suit, holding that, by having created the said mortgage subsequent to the contract, plaintiff had rendered himself incapable of conveying the land free from incumbrances, that his case falls under cl. (b) of s. 24 of the Specific Relief Act and that specific performance could not, therefore, be "enforced in his favour." Held, reversing the lower Court's decree, the incumbrance does not afford an objection to the title, but is a matter of conveyance only. Therefore, though, if the plaintiff had sold away the property outright and thus disabled himself from performing his part of the contract, his suit for specific performance would have been rightly dismissed, yet, as in this case, he had created only a mortgage of the land, he is entitled, before his suit for specific performance can be dismissed, to be allowed an opportunity to show that he was able to convey a title free from incumbrances. MEGHRAJ MARWARI v. CHUNI LAL MARWARI, 1 N.L.R. 190.

Specific Performance—continued.

(68)—Contract of sale—Specific performance—Covenant for title.—Under ordinary circumstances. it is an accepted principle of law that "in every contract for the sale of land, a condition is implied for a good title, and the failure to mention it does not necessarily render such contract incomplete." And the Court will carry into effect a contract framed in general terms, where the law will supply the details. But where the vendee is fully aware of the precise character of the rights possessed by the vendor in the property contracted to be sold, and the vendor has undertaken to sell only his rights and interests whatever they might be, and where the vendee was also aware of the fact that other persons besides the vendor had interests in the property, the Court will not decree that the vender should give a covenant for good title. BINDESHRI PRASAD v. JAIRAM, A.W.N. 1884, 169.

(69) —Specific performance—Sale—Payment of purchase-money—Rescission of contract.—Plaintiff agreed to purchase certain property belonging to the first defendant, paid a portion of the price to him and sent the balance to his brother who misappropriated it. The first defendant sold the property to the second defendant. Now the plaintiff sued the vendor and the purchaser for specific performance. Held that the brother's misappropriation of the money intended for the vendor did not relieve the plaintiff of the obligation of payment. There was nothing which attached fraud to the vendor or vendee as against the plaintiff. The vendor was at liberty to consider the agreement for sale at an end when he found the plaintiff not ready to fulfil the condition of payment of the purchase money. TAFAZZUL HUSAIN v. ALI HUSAIN, A.W.N. 1883, 146.

(70) —Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 25—Vendor and vendee—"Title free from reasonable doubt," meaning of—Effect of plaintiff's failure to show title—Vendor deriving title through will of former owner—Four days' notice given to vendor to produce and prove will, if sufficient to entitle vendee to rescind contract of sale—Clause in contract requiring vendor to hand over deeds relating to property, Construction of—Good title must be shown by vendor.—On a contract by the plaintiff to sell land to defendant, the former cannot obtain specific performance unless he is able to give the latter a good title, i.e., a "title free from reasonable doubt," since, in the absence of any special contract that plaintiff should show only such title as he could give, the general law laid down in s. 25 of the Act must prevail. [R., 21 B. 827; D., 19 B. 828.] On the dismissal of a suit for specific performance for the reason that the defendant could not be required to carry out the contract of sale, as the plaintiff failed to show a good title to the property, the defendant was held entitled to the return of the earnest money he had given and to have a lien for the amount. Quære:—Where a vendee ascertained that the title to property sold to him was derived through the will of a former owner which had not been proved, held that it was doubtful whether a notice given by the vendee to the vendor to produce the will and give satisfactory proof of its being the last will of the said owner within four days, would be a reasonable notice so as to entitle the vendee afterwards to rescind the contract. A contract of sale provided as follows:—"At the time of the execution of the deed of sale, you (the vendor) are duly to give us (the purchasers), the title deeds, vouchers and bills, whatever there may be relating to the said property." Held that this clause referred to whatever documents of title were required, under the terms of the contract or under the general law, to be handed over by the plaintiff to the defendant at the execution of the deed of sale. Where the words were coupled with the clause at the end of the bargain paper, providing that within two months the vendor is "duly to have everything cleared," held that the contract or covenant for the title made by the vendor with the purchaser was really a contract that there was no claim to the property; and that the vendor cannot obtain specific performance of the contract by showing only such title as he could give. In the present case, plaintiff sued for specific performance of a contract of sale. By an agreement in 1888, defendant purchased a certain house in Bombay from the plaintiff for Rs.6,000 and it was provided therein that, at the time of the execution of the sale-deed which was fixed at two months from the date of this agreement, the plaintiff should hand over to the defendant "the title-deeds, vouchers and bills, whatever there may be relating to the said property" and also that within this time of two months, "we are to have everything cleared." In 1890, plaintiff filed this suit for specific performance and the defendant contended that the plaintiff had failed to show good title to the property. The facts were as follows:—N, the original owner of the property, mortgaged it to V in 1880. Then, in 1882, N and his mortgagee V sold it to C; but this deed was not registered. However C entered into possession somehow and retained the property till 1885. N died in 1883, but he left a will in 1883, by which he bequeathed his property to the said V and appointed him his executor. No probate of the will had been obtained. In 1885, C sold the property to H, and a deed of conveyance was duly executed by C, in which V also joined as a conveying party, both in his own right and as executor of N's will. H sold the property to the present plaintiff. The question was whether, under the aforesaid circumstances, the plaintiff had a good title to give to the defendants. Held that the title shown by the plaintiff was not a good title. In consequence of the non-registration of the deed of 1882, the equity of redemption of the property was not conveyed by it to C, but remained in N up to the time of his death. On his death, it passed to his executor V, and it was clear that unless V joined as executor in the conveyance, C could not give a complete title to H in 1885, i.e., the plaintiff must show not only that V did convey, but also that he had a right to convey the equity of redemption to H. By s. 187 of the Indian Succession Act X of 1865, the only mode of proving this is by the probate of N's Will, and this admittedly had never been obtained. This was the flaw in the plaintiff's title of which the defendant complained. Supposing an heir of N were to sue the person in possession to redeem the property from the mortgage of 1880, the defendant in such a suit would have no defence as against the heir, unless he could prove that he had acquired the equity of redemption. This, however, he could not do, unless he proved that V as N's executor, had conveyed the equity of redemption to his predecessor in title. For this purpose, under s. 187 of the Succession Act, 1865, probate would be necessary, and he would consequently be obliged to prove the will and pay duty upon all the property included in it. That would be a liability which the Court could not impose upon a defendant resisting specific performance of a contract like this, but that would be the effect of giving the plaintiff the decree prayed for in his plaint. The suit was, therefore, dismissed. HAJEE MAHOMED METHA v. MUSAJI ESAJI, 15 B. 657.

Specific Performance—continued.

Specific Performance—continued.

(71)—Contract to sell not registered—Bona fide purchase—Valuable consideration—No notice of prior contract—Effect—Sale to third party—Specific performance—Act XIX of 1843.—The defendant agreed to sell certain property to the plaintiff on payment of a certain sum at a future time. Instead of carrying out his bargain the defendant sold the property to C. Then the plaintiff sued for the specific performance of the contract of sale. It was contended that the deed of sale to C was registered whilst the contract in favour of the plaintiff was not registered, and therefore under Act XIX of 1843 the former was entitled to precedence over the latter. Held that Act XIX of 1843 refers to deeds of sale or gift of land; but the deed propounded by the plaintiff was merely a contract to sell land at some future time. The want of registration, therefore, of the first deed to the plaintiff was no bar per se, to his preferential claim. If C can prove that he bought the share in good faith for valuable consideration, without notice, his possession cannot be disturbed in consequence of the defendant's non-fulfilment of his contract with the plaintiff. The only remedy for the plaintiff in that case would be an action for damages. RAMTONOO SURMAH SIRCAR v. GOUR CHUNDER SURMAH SIRCAR, 3 W.R. 64. [F., 7 W.R. 463; R., 6 W.R. 234, 7 W.R. 142, 4 B. 126, F.B.]

(72)—Specific performance--Prior sale-deed not registered--Subsequent bona fide purchase under registered deed—Remedy open to prior purchaser.—Where property was purchased by a person by means of a registered sale-deed bona fide and in ignorance of the existence of a prior unregistered deed of sale, the prior purchaser cannot seek his remedy against the executants by a suit for specific performance of the contract, but must sue them for damages only. NUND KISHORE LALL v. MOHUN LALL, 22 W.R. 164.

Specific Performance—continued.

(73)—Contract—Specific performance of part of contract—Sale.—In a suit under an agreement by the defendant to recover possession of one half of a patni taluk and to get a conveyance executed therefor in plaintiff's favour, where the defendants' share was found to be at most one-fourth and plaintiff could therefore, get one-eighth share only, it was held that, even if the agreement were binding on the defendant, the Court could not compel such partial performance which was all that could take place. NUFFUR CHUNDER CHUNDER v. KHOODEERAM PORAMANICK, 24 W.R. 434.

(74)— Contract of sale—Right to demand warrant of title.—The plaintiff sued for specific performance of a contract of sale, and prayed that a judgment might be passed ordering the defendant to execute and get registered a sale-deed in favour of the plaintiff in respect of the property claimed, by entering a guarantee of good title. He had withheld payment of the purchase-money beyond the stipulated time, insisting on a warranty of title being given. Held, that the contract of sale did not give the plaintiff a right to demand warrantee of title, that there was no proper excuse for his delay in the payment of the purchase-money, and that a decree for specific performance could not therefore be passed. BINDESHRI PRASAD v. MAHANT JAIRAM GIR, 9 A. 705, P.C.=14 I.A. 173=5 Sar. 61.

(75)—Contract to sell land at a fair valuation.—A contract to sell land at a fair valuation will be specifically enforced by a Court when there is no difficulty in ascertaining, by the usual means, what a fair valuation would be. But it is otherwise if, on account of the peculiar character of the property, as when the land contains coal or valuable minerals, the ordinary methods would not help the Court in arriving at a proper determination of the value which must, in such a case, greatly depend upon guess and speculation. In such a case, the Court cannot grant specific performance. THE NEW BEERBOOM COAL CO. v. BHULORAM MAHATA, 5 C. 175=2 C.L.R. 268.

(76)—Agreement to sell land by guardian of minor contingent upon leave of Court—Specific performance—Specific Relief Act, 1877, s. 26.—Where an agreement to sell certain land belonging to certain minors, for a fixed price, entered into on their behalf by their certificated guardian, was made contingent upon the leave of the Court, but the permission was granted for a higher price, held that, as the contract as it stood was never a complete contract at any time as it was contingent upon the leave of the Court, and as such leave did not extend to the whole contract as agreed upon between the parties, the contract could not be specifically enforced, and s. 26, Specific Relief Act, did not apply. NARAIN PATTRO v. AUKBOY NARAIN MANNA, 12 C. 152.

(77)—S. 18, Act XL of 1858—S. 31, Act VIII of 1890 (Guardian and Wards)—Specific performance of voidable contracts.—A contract, so long as it is voidable, cannot be specifically enforced. As it is open to an infant, on attaining majority to question the transaction made by his guardian, a decree for specific performance cannot, or at all events, should not, be made against him while an infant. The jurisdiction to decree specific performance is discretionary, although the discretion must be judicially exercised. No Court would, even if it could, make a decree for the specific performance of a contract affecting an infant, unless the contract was shown to be for the infant's benefit. JUGAL KISHORI CHOWDHURANI v. ANUNDA LAL CHOWDHURI, 22 C. 545. (5 C. 363, R.) [F., 26 B. 326=3 Bom. L.R. 898; R., 4 Bom. L.R. 587, 11 C.W.N. 34=34 C. 163=4 C.L.J. 431=1 M.L.T. 360; Cons., 11 C. W.N. 207.]

(78)—Contract for sale by mother as guardian of infant son, incapable of performance by infant's death—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 18—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 43.—The defendant, as the mother and guardian of her infant son, contracted to sell a piece of land to the plaintiff, undertaking to take out a certificate of guardianship and permission to sell from the District Judge, within five months. The agreement further provided for the refund of the earnest money in case of the defendant's failure to obtain the necessary permission. The infant son died within the five months, before the certificate could be applied for, the defendant succeeded to the property by right of heirship and refused to sell the property. In a suit for specific performance of the contract, held, that there can be no decree against the defendant for specific performance of the contract for sale. S. 18 of the Specific Relief Act has no application to a case where the defendant does not contract to sell the property as if it were his own nor does s. 43 of the Transfer of Property Act apply to a case where there is no erroneous representation made by the defendant. RASHMONI DASI v. SOORJA KANATA ROY CHOWDHURY, 2 C.L.J. 6=9 C.W.N. 1019=32 C. 832.

(79)—Conveyance, registered and delivered, if operative—Consideration not paid, effect of—Agreement to sell—Not enforceable—Limitation.—If A executes a conveyance in favour of B by way of mokarari, and the document is registered and delivered, it is operative, even though it is proved that the consideration agreed upon has not been paid. Its validity cannot be questioned by a third party. A agreed to sell property to X and, subsequently, conveyed it to B, who took with notice of the prior contract. X obtained a decree for specific performance against A, but did not make B party to the suit; X then sued B to recover possession. Held, that X had no enforceable title as against B, because at the date of the institution of the suit, his equitable right had been barred by limitation. MANOGI SINGH v. SARAT LAL MAHTO, 4 C. L.J. 334.

Specific Performance—continued.

(80)—Specific performance—Infant—Contract for purchase of immoveable property by guardian or manager—Mutuality, want of—Position and powers of guardian and manager, if similar.—It is not within the competence of a manager of a minor's estate or within the competence of a guardian of a minor to bind the minor or the minor's estate by a contract for the purchase of immoveable property. The minor in such a case not being bound by the contract, there is no mutuality in it, and he cannot on attaining majority obtain specific performance of it. (11 C.W.N. 34, P.C.) Quære.—Whether the position and powers of a manager and those of the guardian are the same. MIR SARWARJAN v. FAKHRUDDIN MAHOMED CHOWDHRY, 16 C.W.N. 74, P.C.

(81)—Member of joint Hindu family governed by Mitakshara—Contract to sell his own share, whether may be specifically enforced—Contract to sell one's own and co-sharer's share—Specific performance of his share, whether may be decreed—Right to damages.—Three members of a joint Hindu family, governed by the Mitakshara, made a contract with the plaintiff to give him a lease in respect of 8 annas-share held by themselves and their joint brother R. Held, that, as the four brothers were members of a joint family governed by the Mitakshara law, the three brothers who made the contract had no definite share before partition and could not be compelled to make an alienation which would be invalid in law: that, therefore, they could not be compelled to execute a lease in respect of a 6 annas-share in the joint property; for such a lease would be invalid and the Court will not order that to be done which when done would be invalid. Where a person is jointly interested in an estate with another person and purports to deal with the entirety, specific performance will not be granted against him as to his share, the plaintiff's only remedy being by way of damages. JADU NANDAN SINGH v. ABDAL RAHMAN, 11 Ind. Cas. 892. (1895) 1 Q. B. 683, 64 L.J.Q. B. 441, 14 R. 347. 72 L. T. 382, 43 W. R. 584, 59 J. P. 279, Rel on.)

(82)—Specific performance — Agreement to convey land to three persons—One of them alone suing for specific performance—Absence of right—Contract Act, s. 45.—Where a person entered into an agreement with the plaintiff and two others to convey certain land, held, that the plaintiff alone had no right to demand specific performance of the agreement when the other two were not willing to do so. KORIPALLI RAMIAH v. SAJJA SUBBIAH, 11 M.L.T. 192=M.W.N. 1912, 415=13 Ind. Cas 315. (24 C. 832, F.)

(83)—Contract for sale of house—Agreement to complete sale within stipulated time—Default by purchaser—Extension of time given by seller—Effect—Final notice by vendor to vendee to complete purchase—Suit for specific performance.

Specific Performance—continued.

—This was a suit for specific performance of a contract to sell a house under the following circumstances:—Under an agreement, dated 23-6-1886, the defendant undertook to sell the plaint house to the plaintiff and made it a condition that the sale should be completed in 12 days. At the time of the agreement, the house in question was in a dangerous condition, requiring urgent repairs. The house had been purchased by the defendant from X in February 1886. Part of the purchase-money only was paid by the defendant and the conveyance to him had not been completed. The object of the defendant in re-selling the house to the plaintiff was to get rid of all responsibility and liability to repair. The plaintiff having made default in completing the sale within the stipulated time, time was extended till 10th August. The plaintiff took no steps, and a letter of warning was sent by the defendant on 24-7-1886 to the former that, in case the sale was not completed within the time extended (10th August), the agreement of 23rd June would be null and void. The plaintiff was inactive without taking any steps till after the expiry of the extended time. The defendant, thereupon, served a notice on the plaintiff, dated 7-9-1886 calling on him to carry out the agreement of 23-6-1886, and gave him 4 days within which to do the same. The four days expired without the plaintiff doing anything in respect of the matter. Thereupon the defendant completed his own conveyance from X and repaired the house at his cost. The present suit was thereupon brought by the plaintiff enforcing specific performance of the agreement of 23-6-1886. Held (1) that, considering the circumstances under which the house was contracted to be sold to the plaintiff and the nature of the property, the time stipulated for performance was not "a formal term immaterial in the contract," but was of the essence of the contract; (2) that the extension of time granted at the request of plaintiff, to the 10th August, operated only as a waiver to the extent of substituting the extended time for the original time and did not effect a destruction of the essentiality of the time; and (3) that the plaintiff was not entitled to specific performance he having taken no steps to complete the sale in spite of the defendant's letter of 24th July which was a timely warning to him that the contract would not be kept in suspense after the expiry of the extended time. With reference to the contention raised on behalf of the plaintiff that the defendant's letter of 7-9-1886 treated the contract as subsisting at that time and gave the plaintiff a fresh starting point, the defendant having waived under the letter all the plaintiff's previous default, it was held that the letter was only a qualified and conditional waiver of the performance within the stipulated time, the condition being that the plaintiff should complete the sale within 4 days. That condition not having been complied with, the waiver could not be relied on. Quære—Whether the 4 days' time limited by the letter of 7-9-1886 was unreasonable, considering all the circumstances of the case, and assuming that time was not originally of the essence of the contract? HAJI FAKIR MAHOMED v. SHAIK ABDULLA, 12 B. 658.

Specific Performance—continued.

(84)—Contract to convey—Bona fide purchaser for value—Specific performance—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 27, cl. (b).—Specific perfomance of a contract to convey property cannot be enforced against a person who subsequently purchased the property in good faith and without notice of the prior contract. TRAILOKYA NATH BISWAS v. JOYKALI CHOWDRAIN, 11 C L R. 454.

(85)—Suit for specific performance--Unreasonable delay.—A purchased with his own money certain land for himself and B. He remained in sole possession in the hope that B would pay him his quota of the purchase-money. B, however, did not do so, and allowed A to continue in possession for 24 years. Held that B, by allowing an unreasonably long time to elapse without paying his quota of the purchase-money, had precluded himself from claiming specific performance of the original arrangement, and under the circumstances, the fact that B's name also was entered in the Settlement record would not help him or deprive A of the plea of long delay on the part of B. MOTI RAM v. LUCHMAN SINGH, 106 P. R. 1868.

(86)—Agreement between Government and Zemindar—Specific performance of one of the terms.—Where the Government undertook, in an agreement with a Zemindar, to retain in its own hands the construction of certain khals and other things, the Zemindar could not, though the Government would, partly in consideration of the agreement and partly in consideration of its duty, as paramount power, no doubt, be desirous of taking all steps necessary for the object with a view to the comfort and health of the population, seek to compel it by a plaint filed in Court to re-excavate and clear the water-passage of a certain khal, it being against the policy of the law, even before the Specific Relief Act, to enforce specific performance of such contracts. CHUNDER SEKHUR MOOKERJEE v. THE COLLECTOR OF MIDNAPORE, 3 C. 464 = 1 C.L.R. 384.

(87)—Champerty—Suit for specific performance—Mahomedan mooktear interfering with affairs of Hindu family.—An agreement under which a Mahomedan mooktear interfering in the affairs of a Hindu family advanced money to carry on a suit by members of that family to set aside alienations made by their father, on the understanding that he was to be entitled to the share of the estate recovered from the purchasers in the event of success, savours of champerty and a suit by him for specific performance of such agreement could not be countenanced. SHEIKH ABED HOSSEIN v. LALLA RAMSARAN, 13 B.L.R. 516, Note = 13 W.R. 426. [D., 8 B.H.C. 1.]

Specific Performance—continued.

(88)—Specific performance of contract—Contract executed in exercise of power given by will—Will found false—Enforcement against executant as heir—Delay in suing, not amounting to waiver, or acquiescence, if bar to relief.—The widow of the deceased owner, jointly with another who as executor had obtained probate of a will alleged to have been left by the deceased, executed an agreement for sale of land, the widow purporting thereby to exercise a power given by the will to assent to conveyances executed by the executor. The probate subsequently having been revoked: Held, that the contract was specifically enforceable against the widow to the extent of her interest. Delay which did not amount to waiver, abandonment or acquiescence, and in no way altered the position of the defendant, did not disentitle the plaintiff to sue for specific performance. (33 C. 633, F.; 10 C. 1061, R.) In the special circumstances of the case, specific performance of the contract was refused. KEDAR NATH SAMANTA v. MANU BIBI, 16 C.W.N. 247 = 13 Ind. Cas. 879.

(89)—Of contract—Futile attempts to rescind agreement—Right to specific performance—Failure of consideration.—It cannot be laid down as an abstract proposition that there is any necessary inconsistency in a person, who has unsuccessfully tried to rescind an agreement, afterwards claiming performance of it. In a suit between a person claiming an estate by virtue of an alleged adoption and another person disputing the truth and validity of such adoption, a compromise was entered into, whereby the latter admitted the adoption and agreed to refrain from questioning the truth and validity of the adoption of the former; the object of the former in entering into the compromise was to obtain a clear admission of his title to the estate from the latter and to secure himself from attacks from that quarter. The latter, however, contrary to the terms of the compromise, repudiated the validity of the adoption, and tried to rescind the agreement of compromise in a subsequent litigation, but without success. The second party claimed, in a subsequent suit, to enforce the terms of the compromise. Held, under the circumstances, that the principal consideration for the compromise being an abstention, on the second party's part, from questioning the legality of the adoption of the first party, and there having been a failure on the part of the second party to keep up to the terms of the compromise and the conduct of the second party having been at variance with, and having amounted to a subversion of, the relation intended to be established by the compromise, there was such a failure of consideration for the agreement of compromise as to disentitle the second party to a specific performance of the same. SRISA CHANDRA ROY v. ROY BANOMALI RAI BAHADUR, 2 A.L.J. 31, P.C. = 8 C.W.N. 594 = 31 C. 585 = 6 Bom. L. R. 501 = 14 M.L.J. 185 = 31 I.A. 107 = 8 Sar. 677.

(90)—Suit for recovery of money agreed to be paid on a mortgage-debt—Specific performance of contract to lend money—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 21, cl. (a).—The plaintiff mortgaged certain property to the defendants for Rs. 12,000. He received Rs. 4,000 in cash. Rs. 7,000 were left with the defendants to pay off a prior mortgage and the balance, Rs. 1,000, was to be paid to the plaintiff after a month and half. This was a suit to recover this sum of Rs. 1,000. The defence was that the defendants had to pay Rs. 9,400 to the prior mortgagee so that instead of there being a sum of Rs. 1,000 due to the plaintiff he owed them Rs. 400. Held that, it being a contract to lend money, a suit for specific performance of such a contract was not maintainable. Held, further, that such a contract does not create a debt. MEHDI ABBAS v. MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN. 11 O. C. 217. (8 O.C. 5, A.W.N. 1908, 105, R.)

Specific Performance—continued.

(91)—Unpaid balance of mortgage.—A Court ought not to make a decree for specific performance of an agreement to lend money on mortgage. The proper remedy is to obtain compensation or damages for breach of contract. ANAKARAN KASMI v. SAIDAMADATH AVULLA, 2 M. 79.

(92)—Suit for specific performance of contract—Expiration of stipulated time before decree—Hypothecation bond.—Where it was stipulated in a hypothecation bond that in default of payment of interest as agreed, and within a fixed period from the date of the bond, the obligee might sue for possession of the property hypothecated, and default having occurred, a suit was brought for possession within the period mentioned in the bond, held that nevertheless a decree for possession should not be given if, before passing of decree, such period had expired, for such decree could not give the obligee possession within the period mentioned in the bond. BALWANT SINGH v. GUMANI RAM, 3 A. 591 = A.W.N. 1883, 142.

(93)—Suit to enforce award—Suit for specific performance of contract.—A suit founded on an award is not a suit for the specific performance of a contract, any more than is a suit based upon a sale-deed a suit for the specific performance of the contract of sale, and the mere fact that the title of the parties to the property had been declared by the award sued on could not make any difference. SHEO NARAIN v. BENI MADHO, 23 A. 285 = A.W.N. 1901, 83. (23 M. 593, F.; 5 A. 263, 16 A. 3, D.) [F., 15 C.P.L.R. 115, 7 O.C. 369, 33 C. 881 = 4 C.L. J. 162; R., 10 O.C. 218, U.B.R. 1909, Limitation, 9; D., 26 A. 497 = A.W.N. 1904, 72.]

(94)—Suit founded on award not one for specific performance.—A suit founded on an award is not a suit for the specific performance of a contract. DALSING BRAHMAN v. MT. SARASWATI, 15 C.P.L.R. 115. (23 A. 285, 23 M. 593, F.)

(95)—Agreement to execute bond after some months to secure payment of money—Suit for money, without suing for specific performance of agreement to execute bond—Appeal—Improper admission of document.—By an agreement the defendant agreed to pay to the plaintiff within six months a sum of Rs. 4,000; and that, if this were not paid within that time, he would give the plaintiff a bond for payment of the same with interest at 8 annas per mensem at the end of another six months. The money was not paid and the bond was not executed. After the lapse of more than 12 months from the date of agreement, he sued for the amount with interest. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to sue for the amount with interest, without suing for the specific performance of the agreement to give a bond at the end of the six months. The improper admission of a document is no ground of appeal. RAHIMUNISSA v. MOHAMED MIRZA, 10 C.L.R. 103.

(96)—Specific performance—Lease by some of several proprietors of a village—Right to enforce lease.—The plaintiff sued for specific performance of an alleged contract to gave him a lease of a village. Plaintiff applied by petition to the proprietors of the village for the lease and tendered payment in advance, but payment was not received. These proprietors, however, wrote upon the petition their approval by the word "munjoor." Subsequently one of the proprietors, who represented a certain share in the village, instead of giving a lease of that portion, renewed the old lease of the previous lessee: Held that, under the above circumstances, there was not such a contract, on consideration received, as to make this a case where a suit for specific performance rather than a suit for damages was the correct form of action. BAL GOBIND MUHTOON v. MEER LUTAFUT HOSSEIN, 7 W.R. 142.

(97)—Contract—Specific performance of contract—Contract to lease land—Lessor's lease determined by Municipality to whom land belonged—Contract impossible of performance.—Plaintiff sued defendant for specific performance of a contract to lease land, for which he alleged he had paid defendant Rs. 500 as advance. Defendant pleaded that he was himself a lessee under the Municipality, who had determined his lease, and that plaintiff was aware of it. Held, that, as the contract had become impossible of performance by the defendant, it could not be specifically enforced. T. SESHADRI IYENGAR v. C. RAMANUJA IYENGAR, 4 Ind. Cas. 96 = 6 M.L.T. 375.

(98)—Specific performance—Grant of Kutkina pottah to one person—Subsequent grant with possession to another—Remedy open to first grantee—Damages.—Where a Kutkina pottah of certain lands was granted first to a certain person and subsequently another, with possession, was granted in favour of another person, the former was not entitled to claim specific performance of the contract, but was entitled only to claim damages for breach thereof, unless the latter did not raise any objection to his recovering possession of the lands. BUJRUNGEE DUTT PATTICK v. SHAIKH MOORAD ALI, 22 W.R. 7.

(99)—Contract—Damages.—Where plaintiff having agreed to assign to defendants for a consideration certain arrears of rent due to him brings a suit in which he tenders the kobala of assignment, and claims the consideration money with interest, held, that he had misconceived the shape in which his suit was brought; and as his claim is purely for money, he should sue for damages for breach of contract. Where, in a former suit, brought by the present defendant for specific performance of the same contract, plaintiff, who was defendant (there), resisted successfully, and without qualification, he could not afterwards treat the contract as subsisting. SHEO PERGAH ROY v. INJORE TEWAREE, 21 W.R. 433.

Specific Performance—continued.

(100)—Land required for public purposes—Act VI of 1857, s. 32—Correspondence between Government officer and owner of land held to create contract enforceable at law—Manufactory includes well inside.—With reference to the acquisition of the defendants' mill for a public purpose, the B.B. and C I. Railway, the defendant's letter stating that they had appointed an arbitrator on their behalf was held to create a contract of which specific performance could not be enforced. Held, further, that the defendants had, by appointing their arbitrators to determine the compensation for the land required, waived any irregularity in the previous proceedings, and precluded themselves from claiming to have the whole manufactory taken under s. 32 of Act VI of 1857, though no proceedings were taken in the arbitration for nearly twelve months subsequently, and the defendants had shortly before such proceedings made such a claim. A well in a mill compound wherefrom the mill's engine is supplied with water, is part of a manufactory. KHAR SHEDJI NASARVANJI CAMA v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE, 5 B.H.C.O.C. 97. [R., 14 C. 423.]

(101)—Suit for possession based on compromise—Limitation—Adverse possession.—In a suit for possession based on a compromise between the parties in a previous litigation, it was contended for the defendants that the suit was barred by limitation, and adverse possession, and that the plaintiff was not entitled to any relief, as, under the compromise, he was entitled to the property only so long as his character as lessee had not changed in the meanwhile. Held that the suit was not a suit for specific performance of a contract of sale: but a suit for immoveable property, and would be covered, not by art. 113 of the schedule to the Limitation Act, but by art. 145. Held, further, that the possession by the defendants at the time when they entered into the compromise to deliver over the land to the plaintiff cannot be taken to be hostile to the plaintiff, but can only be adverse to him from and after the date of the agreement by reason of their having refused to carry out that promise. Held, also, that the agreement could not be regarded as personal to the plaintiff in his original character of lessee when the character of his lease had been changed, because it had been renewed by the superior landlord since the first ageeement had been made between him and the defendants, if it was through defendants' failure to surrender possession that plaintiff was not in possession at the time of the renewal of his lease. The zemindar must be taken to have renewed on the understanding that it covered the same lands that he would have been entitled to hold under the previous lease. MR. C. G. D. BETTS v. MAHOMED ISMAEL CHOWDHRY, 25 W.R. 521.

Specific Performance—continued.

(102)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 93—Injunction to restrain marriage — Betrothal — Hindu law—Specific performance.—S. 93 of the Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859) was never meant to apply to a case where the petitioner applied for an injunction to restrain a Hindu widow from giving her minor daughter in marriage to a third party pending the decision of a suit brought by the petitioner to enforce specific performance of a contract of marriage made between his son and the defendant's daughter. A Court cannot order specific performance of a contract of marriage (the girl not being a party to the suit), or compel the father to carry out a marriage with the person to whom the daughter had been betrothed. A betrothal is not, according to Hindu Law, an actual and complete marriage. GUNPUT NARAIN SINGH v. MUSSAMUT RAJUN KOOER, 24 W.R. 207.

See U. P. ACT XVII OF 1876, s. 219, cl. (d), 5 O.C. 140.

Agreement to lease—Time of commencement not fixed—See AGREEMENT, 13 C.W.N. 326=6 M.L.T. 368=4 Ind. Cas. 85.

Suit for specific performance of award—Assessment of compensation impossible—See AWARD, 24 A. 164=A.W.N. 1901, 208.

See AWARD, 7 O.C. 369.

Benami transfer of property for illegal purpose not carried into execution—Contract to sell by transferee—Suit for specific performance of contract--Right of transfer or to resist suit—See BENAMI TRANSACTION—GENERAL, 3 M.L.T. 244=18 M.L.J. 151=31 M. 97.

Suit for—, whether necessary for recovery of Chakran land on its resumption and transfer to zemindar—See CHAKRAN LAND, 12 C.W.N. 459=7 C.L.J. 439=35 C. 346.

See CHAMPERTY, 150 P.R. 1889.

Of contract for sale of land—Parties to suit for.—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 11, O. I, rr.3,10 (2), 13, O.II, rr.3, 6, 7, O. XIV, r. 1(5). O. XVIII, r. 1, 13 Bom. L.R. 1061.

Agreement for sale—Vendee put in possession subsequently ejected by vendors—Sale not completed—Suit by vendee for possession and injunction — Similar suit by vendors — Subsequent suit by vendee for specific performance—Omission to set up grounds of defence—Res judicata—See CIV. PRO. CODE 1908, s. 11, O. II, r. 2, 24 M. 491=6 C.W.N. 17, P.C.

Specific Performance—continued.

Suit for, and possession against certified purchaser—Maintainability— See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 66, 8 Ind. Cas. 258.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. I, rr. 8 (2), 10 (2), (3), (4), (5), 11, O. VII, rr. 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, s. 107 (2), O. XXII, r. 11, 1 L.B.R. 252.

Cause of action whether same for suit for specific performance of contract to reconvey land and for mesne profits—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, r. 2, 13 C.W.N. 669=4 Ind. Cas. 534.

Contract to sell—Decree for specific performance—Failure of suit for possession—Subsequent suit for recovery of amount paid—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O II, r. 2, 24 M. 27=10 M.L J. 217.

Dismissal of suit for, of agreement to renew kanom—Suit for renewal fees paid on agreement, not barred—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, r. 2, 27 M. 380.

Suit for, of contract of sale dismissed—Subsequent suit for recovery of money paid as part price—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, r. 2, 8 M.L J. 61.

Suit for, of contract for lease of immoveable property is one relating to the property—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXXIX, r. 1, 2 Ind. Cas. 266.

Suit for, of an award—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, sch. II, r. 20, U.B.R. (1897-1901), Vol. II, 293.

See CONTRACT—CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACTS, 10 C. 588.

Right of beneficiary to enforce performance of contract—See CONTRACT—MISCELLANEOUS, 14 C.P.L.R. 22.

Of contract—Decree for damages—Discretion—See CONTRACT—MISCELLANEOUS, 28 P.L.R. 1905=49 P.R. 1905.

Suit for, of contract of sale and for delivery of possession—Court fee—See COURT-FEES ACT, 1870, s. 7, cls. 5, 10, 14 C.L.J. 159.

Contract of Sale—Prayer—See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—SUITS CONCERNING DOCUMENTS, 18 M. 324.

See DECREE—ALTERATION OR AMENDMENT OF DECREE, 15 C. 211.

Suit for ejectment—Right of defendant to set up claim for—See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR, 13 C.P.L.R. 163.

Of an agreement in writing—Admission of parol evidence—See EVIDENCE—PAROL EVIDENCE, 6 C. 328=7 C.L.R. 171.

Contract subsequently varied by parol contract—Evidence Act, s. 92 (4)—See EVIDENCE—PAROL EVIDENCE, 7 C.L.R. 577.

Decree upon a compromise for execution of a conveyance to be proceeded with as a decree for specific performance—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—EXECUTION OF DECREE ON OR AFTER AGREEMENTS OR COMPROMISE, 10 C.W.N. 845.

Specific Performance—continued.

Of contract by guardian—See GUARDIAN—DUTIES AND POWERS OF GUARDIANS, 11 C.W.N. 34=34 C. 163=1 M.L.T. 360=4 C.L.J. 431.

Contract by certificated guardian on behalf of minor for sale to plaintiff—Subsequent sale to a third person—Suit by plaintiff for—See GUARDIAN—DUTIES AND POWERS OF GUARDIANS, 10 C.W.N. 763.

Contract to sell by guardian with Court's permission—Subsequent sale with permission for higher price—Whether first contract is specifically enforceable—See GUARDIAN—MISCELLANEOUS, 4 A.L.J. 24=A.W.N. 1907, 25=29 A. 213.

Hindu Law—Decree for, against father—Right of son born after contract to sell, but before suit—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 20 M. 354=7 M.L.J. 240.

Contract to sell ancestral estate—Specific performance—Rights of infant son, protection of—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 5 M. 337, F.B.

Minor—Doctrine of mutuality—Hindu Law—See HINDU LAW—GUARDIANSHIP, 18 M. 415=5 M.L.J. 164.

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 26 M. 74=12 M.L.J. 400.

Of contract to sell his share by a member of a joint Hindu family—Parties to suit—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 3 N L.R. 160.

Contract to give girl in marriage—Injunction—See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE, 1 C. 74.

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE, 7 B.H.C. O.C. 122, 5 N.W.P. 102.

Agreement between divided brothers as regards estate of a deceased divided brother—Widow of deceased not a party to the agreement—Specific performance—Limitation—See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONERS, 17 M.L.J. 505=30 M. 486=2 M.L.T. 443.

See JURISDICTION—SUITS FOR LAND, 14 B. 353.

Suit for abatement of rent—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts—Putneedar—See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 1 B.L.R., F.B., 93=10 W.R., F.B., 41.

Suit for specific performance or condition of lease—See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT, 2 Agra 392.

See LAND TENURE—IN BOMBAY, 4 B.H.C. O.C. 1.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—EJECTMENT, 18 B. 110.

See LEASE—GENERAL, 5 M.H.C. 251.

Suit for—See LEASE—GENERAL, 9 C.L.J. 523=36 C. 675=1 Ind. Cas. 626.

Lease—Possession not given as per covenant—Suit for recovery of money—Suit for—See LEASE—ZURIPESHGI LEASE, 6 Ind. Cas. 704.

Specific Performance—continued.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 113, 5 A. 263=A.W.N. 1882, 16, 11 A. 27=A.W.N. 1888, 254, 5 C. 175=2 C.L.R. 268.

Suit for — No time fixed for performance — Demand and refusal — Limitation — See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 113, 11 Ind. Cas. 25.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 113, 136 144, 2 A. 718.

See LIMITATION ACT. 1908, arts. 113, 144, 6 A. 231=A.W.N. 1884, 42.

Suit for—See LIS PENDENS, 13 C.W.N. 226 =9 C.L.J. 96=3 Ind. Cas. 696.

Gift to a female member and her children—Contract by mother alone to sell the gifted property without the children's consent—Right to claim—See MALABAR LAW—GIFT, 4 Ind. Cas. 90=6 M.L.J. 373=20 M.L.J. 134.

Mortgagee with right of pre-emption—Suit by third party for, of contract to sell—Specific Relief Act, s. 27 (b)—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 2 L.B.R. 108.

Foreclosure—Partition—Agreement by parties—Specific performance—Suit for possession —Limitation — See MORTGAGE BY CONDITIONAL SALE, 217 P.L.R. 1911=138 P.W.R. 1911=11 Ind. Cas. 299.

Suit for specific performance and possession —Subsequent purchaser — Misjoinder — See MULTIFARIOUSNESS, 18 M. 415=5 M.L.J. 164.

See PARTIES TO SUIT—GENERAL, 19 M. 211, 2 C.W.N. 42.

Agreement to pay agent a permanent annuity —Suit for, by agent—Want of consideration See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—REVOCATION OF AGENT'S AUTHORITY, 5 B. 253.

See RES JUDICATA—MATTERS IN ISSUE, 18 B. 537.

See RES JUDICATA—MISCELLANEOUS, 6 C.W.N. 314.

Payment of part consideration—Delay in paying balance—Suit for—Discretion of Court. —See SALE—GENERAL, 7 Ind. Cas. 568.

Suit for specific performance or alternative damages—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 1 B.L.R. A.C. 91=10 W.R. 130.

Of agreement to give share in subject-matter of litigation—Burden of proof — Limitation— See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 6, 9 Ind. Cas. 243.

Prior unregistered contract of sale—Subsequent registered sale—Notice—Suit for—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 54, A. W.N. 1887, 15.

Suit by vendor for—Parties—See VENDOR AND PURCHASER—GENERAL, 11 Bom. L.R. 545=6 M.L.T. 200.

Specific Performance—concluded.

Distinction between vendor's suit and purchaser's suit for—See VENDOR AND PURCHASER—GENERAL, 19 C. 358.

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER—BILLS OF SALE, 2 B.L.R.P.C. 111=12 M.I.A. 275=12 W.R.P.C. 6.

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER—COMPLETION OF TRANSFER, 17 C. 919, 5 B. 554.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877).

[REP. IN PT., ACT XII OF 1891; (LOCALLY), ACT II OF 1882; ACT IV OF 1882. S. 21; APPLICATION RESTRICTED, AND REP. IN PT. (LOCALLY), ACT IX OF 1899, SS. 3, 21. DECLARED IN FORCE IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATE), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4, S 9 DECLARED IN FORCE IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3.]

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

(1)—Mistake of law—Mistake of fact—Undue delay in seeking performance—Refusal thereof—discretion.—It is well-established that the delay of either party to a contract in not prosecuting his right to the interference of the Court by the institution of a suit may constitute such laches as well disentitle him to the aid of the Court. For the purpose of specific performance, undue delay may amount to an abandonment of the contract by an aggrieved party. "A party cannot call upon a Court of Equity for specific performance unless he has shown himself ready, desirous, prompt and eager. The rule is specially applicable when the subject-matter of the contract is of a speculative or fluctuating value. Where a provision of a contract is invalid, e.g., a power to sell to be exercised by a simple mortgagee without the intervention of the Court, due to a common mistake of law and not of facts, held, that a Court of Equity will not, in general, relieve against a mistake in a contract which was a mistake of law; but there are cases in which the Court does not hold itself strictly bound by this rule, but relieves against a mistake of law if there be any equitable ground, which makes it, under the particular facts of the case, inequitable that a party benefited by the mistake should retain that benefit. NAWAB BEGAM v. A. H. CREET, A.W.N. 1905, 147=2 A.L.J. 405=27 A. 678.

(2)—Injunction, permanent and temporary—Specific relief.—Quære—Relief by injunction is a form of specific relief. Whether the principles governing the grant of a perpetual injunction under the Specific Relief Act and the grant of a temporary injunction under s. 493, Civ. Pro. Code, are identical. SUBBA NAIDU v. HAJI BADSHA SAHIB, 26 M. 168=13 M.L.J. 13.

(3)—Temporary injunction—Permanent injunction—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 492, 493.—Per Sargent, C.J.—The Specific Relief Act purports to deal only with perpetual injunctions, leaving temporary injunctions to be regulated by chapter XXXV of the Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 492,

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

493 of that Code state the particular cases in which a temporary injunction may be granted. In the latter section, it is provided that an application may be made for a temporary injunction to "restrain a breach of contract." It is plain, however, that, apart from the special circumstances which determine whether the Court should, in its discretion, grant an injunction before the hearing of the suit, the same general principles must equally apply to the granting of a temporary injunction as to a perpetual injunction, and those principles must, therefore, be sought in the Specific Relief Act. NUSSERWANJI MERWANJI PANDAY v. GORDAN, 6 B. 266. [F., 17 P.L R. 1900; R., 26 M. 168.]

(4)—Injunction—Removal of timber by landlord—Grant of injunction.—Injunction will not be granted preventing a landlord from cutting and carrying away timber standing on the leased land, where pecuniary compensation will afford adequate relief. PUNA PATIL v. GANGJI MOKASI, 1 C.P.L.R 151.

(5)—Warrant of execution—Seizure of immoveable property not described in decree—Illegal possession.—Where a warrant was issued to the Sheriff to seize certain specific immoveable property not coming within the description in the decree, it was held that possession under such warrant would not be an illegal possession under the meaning of s. 15. JADUB CHUNDER CHECHKY v. HEERALOLL SHAHA, 1 Ind. Jur., N.S., 21=Bourke, O.C., 384.

(6)—Act X of 1859, s. 15—Suit for possession of lands forming part of village.—A suit under s. 15 of Act X of 1859, to recover possession of certain lands from which the plaintiff alleged himself to have been dispossessed by the defendant was dismissed on the ground that, as the suit was not in respect of the possession of the entire village, but only of a parcel of land forming part of the village, the Court could neither declare the plaintiff's possession regarding the entire village, nor give him a decree for possession of the particular parcel on proof of his possession. On application to the High Court under s. 15 of the Charter Act, held there was no reason why the lower Court should not try whether the land in suit was in plaintiff's possession and whether he was dispossessed as alleged, and whether he should not have possession. In the matter of OMAR CHAND MAHATA v. THE NAWAB NAZIM OF BENGAL, 11 W.R. 223. [R., 1 A. 101. 18 A. 4, D., 14 W. R. 212.]

(7)—Suit for correction or alteration of Record of Rights—Maintainability.—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, ss. 50, 111. 111-A, 5 Ind. Cas. 266.

(8)—Buildings affected by nuisance and smoke of adjacent mill—Awarding of combined relief of injunction and damages to occupier—Plaintiff when barred by laches.—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 8 B. 35.

(9)—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 78 P.R. 1901, 21 B. 502.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(10)—See POSSESSION—SUITS FOR POSSESSION, 26 M. 514.

(11)—See TRADE MARK, 98 P.L.R. 1902=55 P.R. 1902.

(12)—Ch. VIII—Injunction against Municipality.—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 21 A. 348=A.W.N. 1899, 97.

(13)—Ss. 3, 21 (e)—Agreement by administrator in excess of his powers—Not specifically enforceable.—See COMPROMISE — MISCELLANEOUS, 14 C.W.N. 451=5 Ind. Cas. 236=11 C.L.J. 346.

(14)—Ss. 8, 9—Suit for possession based on title—Title not proved—No decree for possession can be given—Defendant trespasser—Plaintiff in continuous peaceful possession.—When a plaintiff brings a suit for possession on the basis of title and fails to establish title, he cannot be granted a decree under the first paragraph of s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877. Obiter—In some instances previous possession may afford evidence of title, and where the defendant is a trespasser and the plaintiff has been in continuous and peaceful possession, he would be entitled to retain such possession. LACHMAN v. SHAMBU NARAIN, 7 Ind. Cas. 495=7 A.L.J. 1078=33 A. 174. (15 A. 384, Overruled; 25 M. 448, 11 M.L J. 403, A.W.N. 1884, 39, A.W.N. 1889, 89, Rel.; A·W.N. 1897, 145, D.)

——S. 9.

See POSSESSION—SUITS FOR POSSESSION.

(15)—S. 9—Object and application of—Suit for possession by person wrongfully ejected—Joinder of claim for damages.—The first para. of s. 9 of the Act has a most salutary object in view, viz., to discourage persons forcibly or otherwise than in due process of law, turning persons in possession of property out of possession thereof, and the Courts should give effect to it in all cases to which it applies, whether it is expressly pleaded or not. It is not illegal to join a claim for damages and for establishment of title with a claim for recovery of possession under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. RAM HARAK RAI v. SHODIHAL JATI, 13 A. 384=A.W.N. 1893, 163. [Overruled, 33 A. 174=7 A.L.J. 1078=7 Ind. Cas. 495; Not F., 25 M. 448=11 M.L.J. 403; F., A.W.N. 1907, 244=4 A.L.J. 601.]

(16)—S. 9—Object of section—Constructive possession by receipt of rents—Non-payment of rent—Possessory suit under s. 9.—The object of s. 9 is to provide a speedy remedy for that class of cases, where a person in physical possession of property is forcibly dispossessed from it against his will and consent. [Appr., 19 C. 544, F.B.; R., 57 P.L.R. 1903=13 P. R. 1903, 13 C. W. N. 307, Note, 13 C. W. N. 305; D., 13 C. W. N. 303.] Where a person was in the receipt and enjoyment of the rents from the ryots, the mere discontinuance of the payment of that rent would not constitute a dispossession without his consent within the meaning of the Specific Relief Act. TARINI MOHUN MOZUMDAR v. GUNGA PROSAD CHUCKERBUTTY, 14 C. 649. [R., 5 M. L. J. 95, 24 C. 296, 16 C. P. L. R. 154.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(17)—S. 9—Suit for proprietary possession—Defendant originally let into possession by act of the plaintiff.—Held that s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, could not be applied to a case in which the plaintiff sued for proprietary possession and alleged that he had himself let the defendant into possession, but that the defendant had subsequently done acts indicating his intention to interfere with the plaintiff's ownership. BALDEO DAS v. MANGNI RAM, A.W.N. 1900, 7.

(18)—S. 9—Possessory suit—Point for determination — Dispossession within six months before suit—Finding that plaintiff not in possession—Suit to be dismissed—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), sch. II, art. 3.—It is not a point requisite for the purposes of a suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, that the plaintiff was in possession of the land in suit within six months from the date of dispossession. All that has to be determined is, whether the plaintiff was dispossessed and whether his suit was brought within six months from when the dispossession occurred. Where a Court finds that there was no dispossession, because there was no possession by the plaintiff, the suit should be dismissed. JNAN CHANDRA NAG DAS v. LOCHH MOHAN BASAK, 13 Ind. Cas. 341.

(19)—S. 9—Suit on dispossession by person having better title, to be brought within six months under the section.—A party ousted by a person who has no better right is, with reference to the person so ousting, entitled to recover by virtue of the possession he had held before the ouster, even though that possession was without any title. But where a plaintiff, having been in possession without any title, seeks to recover possession of which he has been forcibly deprived by a defendant having a good title, he can do so only under the provisions of s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. So, where the defendants had held the property under a lease from a person found to have title to it as the true owner, a suit to recover possession of such property from them would lie only under the provisions of the said s. 9, and such a suit could not therefore be brought beyond six months from the date of dispossession by the defendants. MUSTAPHA SAHEB v. SANTHA PILLAI, 23 M. 179. (16 I.A. 186, 12 A. 51, 20 I.A. 99, 20 C. 834, R.; 26 C. 579, D.) [R., 26 M. 514, 137 P. L.R. 1902, 5 Bom. L.R. 264, U.B.R. 1905, fourth quarter, Evidence, p. 7, 3 S.L.R. 149.]

(20)—S. 9, Act I of 1877 (Specific Relief Act)—Suit by person not in juridical possession.—Possession of a certain room with the plaintiff, as representing his father and uncle, who were alive, but were not parties to the suit. was held not to be juridical possession in the plaintiff so as to entitle him to maintain a suit under s. 9,

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

Act I of 1877. NRITTO LALL MITTER v. RAJENDRO NARAIN DEB, 22 C. 562. [R., 21 B. 98, 31 C. 48, F.B.]

(21)—S. 9—Possessory suit—Partial dispossession.—A possessory suit, under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, lies when possession has been disturbed partially as well as wholly. SABAPATHI CHETTI v. SUBRAYA CHETTI, 3 M. 250.

(22)—S. 9—Dispossession in execution of decree obtained against third party, if in due course of law.—Where the burgadars of a tenant were dispossessed from their land in execution of a decree against the tenant to which the burgadars were not parties, and which was obtained upon a false admission by the tenant himself: Held—That the dispossession was in due course of law within the meaning of s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. HARAN CHANDRA PAL v. MADAN MOHAN BANIKHYA, 15 C. W. N. 956.

(23)—S. 9—Suit for possession—Plaintiff dispossessed without his consent, otherwise than in due course of law.—In a suit for possession of immoveable property, if the finding is that the plaintiff was dispossessed of his immoveable property, without his consent, otherwise than in due course of law he is entitled to possession under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, although the suit was not expressly brought under that section. MUSAMMAT MAKTULA v. KULESWAR MISRA, 5 Ind. Cas. 482. (A.W.N. 1907, 244, 4 A.L.J. 601, 15 A. 384, A.W.N. 1897, 145, F.)

(24)—S. 9—Alluvion—Chur lands—Dispossession by Government—Settlement—Suit for possession—Limitation—Prescription—Title not made out—Previous possession.—In a suit for the recovery of possession of certain chur lands of which the plaintiffs were dispossessed by the Government by taking up the whole of the lands as the property of the Government, the principal defendant in the suit, and setting them with the other defendants, the plaintiffs failed to establish the main ground upon which the suit was brought, viz, re-formation on old or former sites belonging to them, but the Judge gave the plaintiffs a decree on the ground that their title by prescription was made out. Held that the title by prescription would not avail the plaintiffs inasmuch as their possession was not of sufficient duration to extinguish the title of Government. Lands to which a person is unable to make out title cannot be recovered by him on the ground of previous possession merely, except in a suit under s. 15. Act XIV of 1859, which must be brought within six months from the time of dispossession. AMEEROONNISSA KHATOON v. J. P. WISE, 24 W.R. 435. [R., 2 B. 19.]

(25)—S. 9—Dispossession in due course of law—Suit by tenant of judgment-debtor against auction-purchaser—Delivery of possession—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 318 and 319.—When, on obtaining delivery of possession of immoveable property under s. 318 of the Code of Civil Procedure, the auction-purchaser dispossessed a tenant of the judgment-debtor held, that the auction-purchaser, not having proceeded under s. 319 of the Code, the dispossession was not in due course of law, and a suit under s. 9, Specific Relief Act, was maintainable. MULUK PATOONI v. BHARAT CHANDRA DAS, 12 C.W.N. 694.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(26)—S. 9—Dispossession—Ouster of tenant, if dispossession of landlord.—The ouster of a tenant is an ouster of the landlord for which the landlord can sue under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. AKHIL CHANDRA DEY v. AKHIL CHANDRA BISWAS, 15 C.W.N. 715. (13 C.W.N. 303, 307 N, 305, 835, 12 C.L.J. 483. F.; 6 C.W.N. 616, Not F.)

(27)—S. 9—Dispossession of tenant—Right of landlord to sue under s. 9.—The right to receive rent is "immoveable property" within the meaning of s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act; therefore the dispossession of a tenant entitles the landlord to sue under the section. RANGASWAMY IYENGAR v. KRISHNA GOVINDEN, 8 Ind. Cas. 344=9 M.L.T. 205. (5 M.L.J. 95, Appl.; 21 M. 288, D.)

(28)—S. 9—Dispossession—Possession through tenant—Possessory suit, whether lies at landlord's instance.—A landlord holding possession through a tenant can bring a suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act to recover possession of land of which he has been dispossessed by the act of a third party. NOBIN DAS v. KAILASH CHANDRA DEY, 7 Ind. Cas. 924=12 C.L.J. 483. (13 C.W.N. 303, 1 Ind. Cas. 150, 28 M. 238, F.; 13 C.W.N. 307, Note, 1 Ind. Cas. 151, 13 C.W.N. 305, 1 Ind. Cas. 152, R.; 14 C. 619, 6 C.W.N. 616, 19 C. 544, F.B., D.)

(29)—S. 9—Possessory suit—Tenant holding over—Dispossession of the tenant by land-lord—Dispossession not in "due course of law."—A tenant holding over is indeed a tenant on sufferance, but it is not competent for the landlord to suo motu dispossess such a tenant without his consent. And such a dispossession is not one in "due course of law" within the meaning of s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877. The phrase "due course of law" in s. 9 of the Act means the regular, normal process and effect of the law operating on a matter which has been laid before it for adjudication; in other words, it refers to the process and operation of the law invoked by the ordinary method of a Civil suit. RUDRAPPA v. NARSINGRAO, 7 Bom. L R. 12=29 B 213.

(30)—S. 9—Decree against landlord for khas possession—Ouster of tenants in execution—Tenant's remedy—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 332.—Where, in execution of a decree for khas possession obtained against the landlord, the plaintiffs who were tenants were dispossessed. Held, that the plaintiffs were not dispossessed otherwise than in due course of law, within the meaning of s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. KAMINI SUNDARI DASSYA v. SABED SHEIK, 14 C.W.N. 403=5 Ind. Cas. 798.

(31)—S. 9—Thicca tenant, ejectment of—Civ. Pro. Code (1908), s. 115—Jurisdiction—Error of law.—Where, in a suit, brought within six months from the date of dispossession, under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, to recover lands from which the plaintiff was dispossessed by the end of 1218, B S., the Munsif found that the plaintiff was in possession of the lands for the year 1318, B.S., as thicca tenant or tenant-at-will, but, holding that the said thicca right ceased after 1318, dismissed the plaintiff's suit. Held that the tenant was entitled to a decree for possession of those lands. Held, also, that the Munsif's decision was a refusal to exercise jurisdiction vested in him, and the High Court could interfere under s. 115 of the Civ. Pro. Code. RAMDOYAL SHAMANTA v. UPENDRANATH SHAMANTA, 17 C.W.N. 501=18 Ind. Cas. 298.

(32)—S. 9—Tenant holding over—Illegal dispossession—Suit for possession—Act XIV of 1859, s. 15.—A tenant in possession, holding over under an expired lease if dispossessed without his consent of the land otherwise than by due coure of law, is entitled to sue and recover possession, notwithstanding a pottah set up by the defendant. SOFAOLL KHAN v. WOOPEAN KHAN, 9 W R. 123. [R., 29 B. 213=7 Bom. L.R. 12.]

(33)—S. 9—Dispossession of tenant by person other than landlord—Right of landlord to maintain possessory suit.—Where the person in actual physical possession of land is a tenant, the landlord is not competent, on his being ousted by a third person to bring a suit for possession under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. DINKARSHA BAPU ZAMINDAR v. ANANTSHA BAPU ZAMINDAR, 16 C P.L.R. 154. (14 C.P. L.R. 649, 20 B. 260, 13 C.P.L.R. 62, R.)

(34)—S. 9—Suit by non-occupancy raiyat for recovery of possession—Limitation.—S. 9 of the Specific Relief Act applies to a suit to recover possession by a non-occupancy raiyat who has been dispossessed of his holding by his landlord, otherwise than in due course of law, and so the limitation applicable to such a suit is six months from the date of dispossession. BHAGABATI CHARAN ROY v. LUTTON MONDOL, 7 C.W.N. 218. (17 C. 926, Diss.) [Overruled, 8 C.W.N. 446, F.B.=31 C 647; D., 9 C.W.N. 56.]

(35)—S. 9—Dispossession of tenant—Landlord if may sue—Adhiars of Bhutan Duars, if tenants—High Court's power to revise—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s 115.—The decision in 13 C.W.N. 303 is in direct conflict with that in 6 C.W.N. 616. Semble, (approving of the former decision): when a landlord is deprived of the possession of the benefits arising out of the land demised, by reason of the dispossession of the tenant, he should be entitled to obtain recovery under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. Adhiars of Bhutan Duars are tenants. When a Munsiff refused to make a decree under s 9, Specific Relief Act, in favour of a landlord, because he thought that the land was not in his possession but in that of his tenants, and so he was not dispossessed within the meaning of s. 9, Specific Relief Act. Held, that he merely committed an error of law, and the High Court in revision could not interfere with his decision. SHYAMA CHURN GHOSH v. MAHOMED ALI, 13 C.W.N. 835=10 C.L.J. 30=3 Ind. Cas. 466. (11 C. 6, 1 C.W.N. 633, 19 C. 544, 13 C.W.N. 303, R.)

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(36)—S. 9—Tenant, dispossession of by third party — Suit by landlord, maintainability of, under.—Where a tenant in possession was dispossessed immediately before his tenancy terminated by the wrongful act of a third party a landlord holding possession through that tenant can bring a suit under s. 9 of the Act. JAGANNATHA CHARRY v. RAMA RAYER, 28 M. 238.

(37)—S. 9--Landlord and tenant.--The remedy indicated by s. 9, Act I of 1877, is not the only remedy which the Legislature has provided for a non occupancy raiyat who has been dispossessed otherwise than in due course of law. (Prinsep. J. contra.) TAMIZUDDIN v. ASHRUB ALI, 31 C.647, F.B.=8 C.W.N. 446. (7 C.W.N. 218, Overruled). [R., 7 C.L.J. 72, 12 C.W.N. 899.]

(38)—S. 9 — Landlord holding constructive possession — Applicability of section — Specific portions of Survey numbers — Whether immoveable property.—S. 9 of the Specific Relief Act applies to the constructive possession of the landlord. (28 M. 238, F.) Specific portions of survey numbers do amount to immoveable property. SAHIBRAKHIO WD. JUMO v. JUMROMAL SAHSANOMAL, 5 S.L.R. 42. (19 C. 544, 23 B. 67, R.)

(39)—S. 9—Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act (VI of 1908, B.C.), ss. 68, 71 and 139—Suit to recover possession of lands, whether barred under s. 139 of the Act—Civil Court, jurisdiction of —"Suits" and "applications" distinction of, in the Act—Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act (I of 1879, B.C.), s. 37 (b)—Rent Recovery Act (X of 1859), s. 23, cl. (b).—A suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, to recover possession of lands from which the tenant has been unlawfully ejected by the landlord, is not barred by s. 139 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, inasmuch as the latter is a bar only in respect of applications and not of suits. Per Woodroffe, J.—The Civil Court has the jurisdiction to try such a suit, as it is competent for a party, under the general law contained in the Specific Relief Act, to take the benefit of its provisions and to bring a suit thereunder, unless there is some special law which deprives him of the benefit of the general provisions of the Specific Relief Act. Per Carnduff, J.—The words "suits and applications" in the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act are not interchangeable terms. Where the words of an Act, as enacted, are clear, the Legislature only, and not the Courts, can correct any mistake involved in their use. KHETRA NATH GHATAK v. PIRU BAMRI, 13 C.L.J. 250=15 C.W.N. 387.

(40)—S. 9—Suit under, by mortgagee in possession—Proper defence.—In a suit for possession under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act by a mortgagee with possession who has been forcibly dispossessed by the mortgagor, the mortgagor cannot escape liability by pleading that the mortgage and possession under it were obtained by the fraud of the mortgagee. The proper remedy for the mortgagor was by way of a suit to set aside the mortgage and to recover possession, and he has no right to dispossess the mortgagee without the intervention of a Court of Justice having jurisdiction for the purpose. SAYAJI Bin NIMBAJI v. RANJI Bin LINGAPA, 5 B. 446. [R., 2 C.P.L.R. 173, 7 C.P. L.R. 3].

(41)—S. 9—Possession through tenant—Dispossession—Possessory suit if lies at the landlord's instance—Total diluviation of land during suit if ousts Court's jurisdiction.—Quære, whether a person, who holds possession of land through tenants and is dispossessed, is precluded from instituting a suit under s. 9, Specific Relief Act. (13 C.W.N. 303, 6 C.W.N. 616. R.) Quære, whether the total diluviation of the land in the course of a suit under s. 9, Specific Relief Act, ousts the jurisdiction of the Court. JANOKI NATH ROY CHOUDHURY v. DINA MANI CHAUDHURANI, 13 C.W.N. 305=1 Ind. Cas. 152.

(42)—S. 9—Possessory suit — Possession of plaintiff, if must have been physical possession—Possession through tenants—Ouster of tenants—Tenants not made parties—Jurisdiction.—S. 9, Specific Relief Act, is not confined in its application to cases in which the plaintiff has been deprived of actual bodily possession. Held, that, in this case, the complete ouster of the tenant in actual occupation of the land amounted to the ouster of his immediate landlord to whom rent used to be paid. In a suit under the section, instituted by the immediate landlord of the dispossessed tenants, who were not made parties to the suit, the Court made a decree in the plaintiff's favour. Held, that the non-joinder of the tenants did not affect the jurisdiction of the Court, and the High Court would not interfere. BINDUBASHINI CHAUDHURANI v. SRIMATI JAHNAVI CHAUDHURANI, 13 C.W.N. 303=1 Ind. Cas. 150. [F., 13 C.W.N. 835= 10 C.L.J. 30; R., 13 C.W.N. 305=1 Ind. Cas. 152.]

(43)—S. 9—Possession, physical or constructive—Collusion by tenant with trespasser—Right of suit.—S. 9 of the Specific Relief Act contemplates the case of a person who, being in physical possession of property, is dispossessed. So, where plaintiff was in constructive possession of a plot of land through his tenant, and the latter was dispossessed, plaintiff had no right to maintain a suit under s. 9 of the Act. Plaintiff is also not entitled to bring a suit even where, subsequent to such dispossession, the tenant in collusion with the person who dispossessed him refused to bring a suit. SONATON SHOME v. SHEIKH HELIM, 6 C.W.N. 616. [Disappr., 13 C.W.N. 835=10 C.L.J. 30; Expl., 13 P.R. 1903=57 P.L.R. 1903; R., 13 C.W.N. 305.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(44)—Ss. 8, 9—'Possession,' meaning of—Possession of a priest, custodian and menial, of a temple belonging to others, whether can be protected.—The plaintiff was the officiating priest, custodian and menial of a temple which belonged to the Wawa community, and it was his duty to officiate at religious services, to lock up the building when not required, to sweep the floor, to repair, etc. All Hindus including the defendant can go into the temple when they like, to worship the idol there, can walk into the garden there, etc. Plaintiff sued for possession under s. 9, on the ground of dispossession by defendants. Held, possession must imply, first, some actual power over the object possessed, and, secondly, some amount of will to avail oneself of that power, or, as it is called in Roman Law, the corpus and animus respectively. Held, also that the animus of a servant or manager or any dependent, who exercises control in a purely representative capacity, is not sufficient to make his control amount to juridical possession, his possession being the possession of the person in whose behalf the control is exercised. Possession in law is a substantive right or interest which exists and has legal incidents and advantages apart from the true owner's title, and where a person has, in his own right, and not merely as representative of another, such control over immoveable property as to be able to exclude others from it, and has the intention of exercising such power of exclusion, he has a right, if dispossessed without his consent, otherwise than in due course of law, to seek relief under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. Held also, that the possession in this case did not amount to juridical possession under s. 9. BAWA CHHATAGIR v. MATANOMAL, 3 S.L.R. 149=4 Ind. Cas. 359. (23 M. 179, Appl.)

(45)—S. 9—Persons dispossessed whether must be co-plaintiffs—Possession, act of—Nature of property—Grazing cattle whether act of possession.—Where a person enters wrongfully upon any land, it is open to any one of the persons dispossessed to maintain an action for his ejectment, and it is no substantial grievance that all the persons dispossessed have not been joined as plaintiffs. He is sufficiently protected if the person dispossessed are on the record either as plaintiffs or as pro formâ defendants. Whether a particular act may be treated as an act of possession, depends upon the nature of the property and the special circumstances of the case. The fact that the cattle of a person occasionally grazed on a piece of land is not by itself sufficient to show that the land was in the possession of that person. DEBENDRA NATH SARKAR v. BINDHUBALA DASI, 13 Ind. Cas. 125. (7 Ind. Cas. 700, 12 C.L.J. 605, F.)

(46)—S. 9—Suit in ejectment by licensee against trespasser, maintainability of.—A licensee of land, if dispossessed by a trespasser, is entitled to maintain not merely a suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, but also a regular suit on the basis of his title as lessee. SITA RAM v. JAGAN NATH, 17 Ind. Cas. 469.

(47)—S. 9, applicability of—Suit to recover possession against trespasser—Limitation Act, art. 142, applicability of—Cause of action, accrual of.—S. 9 provides that a person dispossessed, without his consent, of immoveable property, otherwise than in due course of law, can institute a suit for the recovery of possession within six months from the date of dispossession. But this section is inapplicable to the case of a person, who, although he cannot show a better title to the property, is dispossessed by a trespasser, who has no title at all to the property. In such a case, the plaintiff must prove his possession prior to the time when he was admittedly dispossessed by the trespasser and the suit to recover possession is governed by art. 142 of the Limitation Act, the cause of action arising from the date of dispossession. WA THA v. PE HLAW, 3 L.B.R. 27. (8 B. 371, 6 B. 215, F.; 2 L.B.R. 56, 16 C. 473, 7 I.A. 73, R.; 17 C. 256, Diss.)

(48) S. 9—Trespasser—Previous possession—Title.—Where plaintiff has been dispossessed of land by a tresspasser and does not sue under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act within six months of the dispossession, he is still entitled to recover possession on the more ground of his previous possession unless the defendant can show some title or can prove that plaintiff had unlawfully dispossessed the defendant. The Specific Relief Act gives the plaintiff the rights within six months to sue for repossession, quite irrespective of questions of title. The decision that where neither party prove title, plaintiff can succeed on proving previous possession from which he has been wrongfully ousted within 12 years considered with reference to s. 110 of the Evidence Act, amounts to a ruling that possession by plaintiff not shown to be unlawful, is a sufficient proof that defendant is not the owner when all the evidence on defendant's behalf is that he is in possession as a trespasser. MAUNG SHWE THI v. MAUNG SO BON, U. B. R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 619. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 360, 421, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 377.]

(49)—Possession—Dispossession—Wrong-doer.—A person in possession has a good title as against every stranger, and one who dispossesses him, having no title in himself is a wrong-doer and cannot defend himself by showing that the title is in some third person. In such cases, proof of previous possession is without more evidence of the plaintiff's title to recover from the defendants who are proved to be wrong-doers. There is a difference between such a suit and a suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877. In the former, the Court awards the claim only when it finds that the plaintiff had peaceable possession before dispossession and that the defendant has no title and is a wrong-doer, the plaintiff's previous possession being in law sufficient proof of his title; in the latter,

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

the Court can only go into the question of dispossession within six months before suit and cannot enquire into the defendant's title. ALI v. PACHUBIBI, 5 Bom. L.R. 264. [R, 13 C. L.J. 649.]

(50)—S. 9—Suit on title—Dispossession within six months before suit.—In a suit for possession as usufructuary mortgagee of an occupancy holding, it was found that the plaintiff obtained possession in January, 1905. The defendants dispossessed the plaintiff in July 1905, who, next month, instituted a suit in the Civil Court for possession of the fields. The plaintiff never pleaded s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act in the Courts below which dismissed the suit. The plaintiff appealed to the High Court. Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to be put back into possession of the fields in suit. PARBHU LAL v. RAM CHARAN, 4 A. L. J. 601 = A. W. N. 1907, 244. (A.W.N. 1893, 163, A.W.N. 1897, 145, F). [F., 5 Ind. Cas. 482.]

(51)—S. 9—Summary suit by person dispossessed of immoveable property—Suit for declaration of title.—A plaintiff, alleging that upon the death of a Hindu widow, he had obtained possession of certain immoveable property as heir of her husband, but had been wrongfully dispossessed by the defendants, sued for declaration of his title as such heir, and to have the defendants ejected as trespassers, and for recovery of possession. The lower appellate Court treated the case as falling within s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), and directed the Court of first instance, which had dismissed the suit on the ground that the plaintiff had failed to prove his title, to deal with it as a summary suit under that section. Held that this view was erroneous, as s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act referred only to cases in which no title was set up, but only the fact of dispossession established, and the plaintiff in this case sought a declaration of his title. CHUTHAN RAI v. SHEOGHULAM RAI, A.W.N. 1889, 89.

(52)—S. 9—Suit in ejectment on possessory title—Suit brought after six months from dispossession—Notwithstanding s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, which provides a summary remedy, a suit may be brought by a person dispossessed of immoveable property, against a trespasser, more than six months from the date of dispossession, and the plaintiff may succeed on the sole ground of his previous possession and without proving his title. (Davison v. Gent, 26 L.J., Exch., 122; Asher v. Whitloch, L.R. 1 Q.B. 1, 7 I.A. 73, 6 B. 215, 8 B. 371, A.W.N. 1337, 55, R.) Per Mahmood, J. (dissenting.) Such a suit can be brought only within six months from the date of dispossession; if brought more than six months after dispossession, the plaintiff cannot succeed unless he proves title. WALI AHMAD KHAN v. AJUDHIA KANDU, 13 A. 537 = A.W.N. 1891, 196. [R., 7 C.P.L.R. 3, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 619, 12 C.P.L.R. 59, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 270, 78 P.R. 1902 = 137 P.L.R. 1902, 29 B. 213 = 7 Bom. L.R. 12. 8 C.W.N. 446, 29 A. 52 = 3 A.L.J. 775 = A.W.N. 1906, 264.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(53)—S. 9—Suit to establish title to immoveable property and to recover possession—Section not applicable.—A suit to establish title to immoveable property and to recover possession is not one under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, and the Court must therefore decide it with reference to the title of the plaintiff and not on the basis of mere possession. WAJID ALI v. RAM SARAN SAHAI, A.W.N. 1884, 39. [R., 7 A.L.J. 1078, F.B. = 7 Ind. Cas. 495 = 9 M.L.T Sup. 95.]

(54)—S. 9—Practice—Suit for possession on title—S. 9 applied, though not specifically pleaded.—A Court should in all casses where it applies give effect to the first paragraph of s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, although that section may not have been relied on by the party in whose favour it is applicable, but he may have brought a suit for possession based on a plea of title. MOUSI v. KASHI, A.W.N. 1897, 145. (A.W.N. 1893, 163, F.) [F., A. W.N. 1907, 244 = 4 A.L.J. 601.]

(55)—S. 9—Possessory suit—Question of title not to be gone into—Possession to be proved—Acts of trespass over property not sufficient—Juridical possession, what constitutes.—The question of title is not to be determined in a suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. It is immeterial, if the plaintiff was in possession, that such possession was without title. But the plaintiff will have to prove juridical possession and not mere isolated acts of trespass. He must prove that he exercised acts which amounted to acts of dominion, the nature of which must vary with the nature of the property. Acts of dominion, though exercised over a part only of the property, may be evidence of possession of the whole. Acts of dominion should be exclusive. If the plaintiff's occupation has been peaceable and uninterrupted and has extended over a sufficient length of time, the possession would be sufficient for a possessory decree. RAJ KISHANA PARUI v. MUKTARAM DAS, 7 Ind. Cas. 700 = 12 C.L.J. 605. (15 B. 685, 7 B.H.C. A.C. 82, Rel.)

(56)—S. 9—Ouster of trespasser without recourse to law—Decree under—obtained by trespasser—Suit for title by owner—Limitation—Starting point—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), sch. II, art. 142.—Where a rightful owner of lands was dispossessed, but succeeded in ousting the trespasser without recourse to law, and continued in possession, until dispossessed under a decree obtained by the trespasser under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. Held, that possession so obtained by the rightful owner was possession within the meaning of art. 142, sch. II, Limitation Act. JONAB SHEIKH v. MAHARAJA SURAYA KANT ACHARYYA, 10 C.W.N. 1081 = 33 C. 821. (2 C.L.J. 1, 9 C.W. N. 1061, F.) [R., 6 C.L.J. 472.]

(57)—S. 9—Act XIV of 1859, s. 15—Long anterior possession—Title.—Where a plaintiff sues to recover possession after ouster, held that long anterior possession only, without proof of title, cannot avail him, if he fails to sue within 6 months of the alleged ouster, as prescribed by s. 15 Act XIV of 1859. AMEER BIBEE v. TUKROONISSA BEGUM, 7 W.R. 332.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(58)—S. 9—Decree—Possessory decree—Joinder of a claim for damages—Question of title—Appeal.—A claim for damages ought not to be joined with a claim for recovery of possession under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, inasmuch as the claim for damages necessarily puts in issue the plaintiff's title. A decree for possession under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, and for damages is a bad decree, one liable to be set aside altogether, and not capable of being split up into two portions—(a) a valid decree for possession, (b) a bad decree for damages. An appeal, if any, would lie from the whole of the decree and not from a part of it. NAZIR AHMAD v. ABID ALI, 8 A.L.J. 910.

(59)—S. 9—Suit to recover possession—Proof of title—Mere proof of possession, without proof of title, whether sufficient.—The plaintiff in a suit to recover possession from a trespasser brought more than six months after dispossession must prove title, mere previous possession for any period short of the statutory period of 12 years being insufficient for the purpose. (9 C. 130, 139, 17 C. 256, 3 C.W.N. 158, Appr.; 8 W.R. 386, 7 C. 591, Diss.; 7 I.A. 73, R.; 20 C. 834, P.C., Expl.) To a person wishing to recover possession merely on previous possession, without proof of any title, the remedy prescribed is to be found in s. 9, Specific Relief Act. If the does not avail himself of that remedy by bringing a suit within six months, it becomes barred. NISA CHAND GAITA v. KANCHIRAM BAGANI, 26 C. 579=3 C W.N. 568. [R., 137 P.L.R. 1902=78 P.R. 1902, 31 C. 647=8 C.W.N. 446; Diss., 26 M. 514=13 M.L.J. 146; 5 Bom. L.R. 264; D., 23 M. 179.]

(60)—S. 9—Suit for land based on title—Court treating it partly as summary suit for possession and partly as based on title—A suit to recover possession of lands with mesne profits on the allegation of title to them where the defence is that the plaintiff has no title and that the defendant has been in possession all along ought not to be regarded by the Court partly as one under s. 9, Specific Relief Act, and partly as one based on the plaintiff's title, so as to be decreed with regard to possession and dismissed with regard to the title, as the suit as laid by the plaintiff is a suit in ejectment and is founded on plaintiff's title, and as it is not a suit brought under the special provisions of s. 9 of Specific Relief Act. RAMASAMI CHETTI v. PARAMAN CHETTI, 25 M. 448=1 M. L. J. 403. (15 A. 384, Not F.)

(61)—S. 9—Civil Court, competency of, to decree possession in suit on allegation of illegal dispossession—Defendant's failure to prove title—Adverse possession for statutory period, title even against rightful owner—Prior possession for shorter period, sufficient title against mere wrong-doer.—Notwithstanding the provisions of s. 15 of Act XIV of 1859, it is competent to Civil Courts to give a decree for immoveable property on the bare ground of illegal dispossession in a suit brought after six months from the date of such dispossession, where the defendant has failed to prove his own title to the same. Irrespective of the said s. 15 of Act XIV, the High Court held that possession for a period of sixty years and upwards is sufficient to create a title in the possessor which no other person can question or repudiate. Also, adverse possession, for any period sufficient under the Limitation Act, is itself a title, even against the rightful owner himself, and against a mere wrong-doer, prior possession however short will itself support title. Illegal dispossession is itself a good cause of action such as the Civil Courts are bound to recognize. In the case of suits for recovery of immoveable property on allegation of dispossession, the Civil Courts have to determine the particular cause of action that has arisen between the parties to the suit; and it is with reference to this cause of action only that their determination would be final and conclusive as provided for by s. 2, Act VIII of 1859. They cannot look beyond the parties to the suit, and proceed to find out who is the rightful owner if the plaintiff and defendant are not. Such an enquiry would be not only useless in its practical result, but also illegal as declared by the Privy Council in 5 W.R.P.C. 69. The High Court therefore did not uphold the contention of the defendant that the lower appellate Court has committed an error in law in decreeing the julkur in dispute, to the special respondent, solely on the ground of prior possession and illegal dispossession without any proof of title, and dismissed the appeal, holding that such objection of the defendant was itself erroneous in law and that the decision of the Principal Sudder Ameen in favour of the plaintiff had not been shown to be erroneous at all. KHAJAH ENAETOOLLAH CHOWDHRY v. KISHEN SOONDUR SARMA, 8 W.R. 386. [Not F., 17 C. 256; Diss., 26 C. 579=3 C.W.N. 568; R., 11 W.R. 550, 5 C.L.R. 278, 29 B. 213=7 Bom. L.R. 12; D., 9 W.R. 259.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(62)—S. 9—Suit for right to collect rent—Suit for immoveable property—Maintainability of suit.—Plaintiff sued for restoration of possession of his right to collect rent. The suit was instituted under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. Held that, as the expression "immoveable property" used in s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act has to be construed, under the provisions of s. 2 of the Act, to be what it is defined to be in the General Clauses Act, the plaintiff was entitled to a decree in his favour if he made out his case. An order to pay rent as heretofore to plaintiff and not to pay rents to defendants until the latter dispossessed the former in due course of law was sufficient to restore possession. INNASI PILLAI v. SIVAGANGA DESIKAR, 5 M.L.J. 95.

(63)—S. 9—Right of ferry—Immoveable property.—A right of ferry is immoveable property or an interest therein within the meaning of s. 9, Specific Relief Act. KRISHNA v. AKILANDA,

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

13, M. 54 [Appr., 5 M.L.J. 95 ; R., 19 C. 544, F.B., 12 C.P.L.R. 52.]

(64)—S. 9—Right of way—Immoveable property—Easement.—A right of way is not immoveable property within the meaning of s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. Per Fulton, J.—A right which cannot be transferred apart from the dominant heritage does not appear to come within the term "property" as used in s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. Right of way is an interest in land, but it is an interest entirely dependent on the possession of the property to which it appertains, and cannot be possessed apart from it. It is a right appurtenant to property but taken by itself does not come within the term property which, under the section, must be property capable of separate enjoyment as an independent right. S. 9 of the Specific Relief Act is inapplicable to easements. MANGALDASS v. JEWANRAM, 1. Bom. L. R. 167=23 B. 673.

(65)—S. 9—Easement—Right of way—Suit to enforce—Act XIV of 1859, s. 15.—The provisions of s. 15, Act XIV of 1859, are not applicable to a suit to enforce a right of way. HARO DYAL BOSE v. KRISTO GOBIND SEIN, 17 W.R. 70. [Appr., 23 B. 673 ; R., 12 B. 221 ; D., 19 C. 544, F.B.]

(66)—S. 9, right to hold a 'hat' not immoveable property under—'Hat,' suit to recover possession of.—Immoveable property intended to be dealt with by s. 9, Specific Relief Act, is something of which actual physical possession can be given and taken. That expression cannot include an incorporeal right. A mere right to hold a hat, the possession of which is held by collecting tolls and rents, is not an immoveable property under s. 9. A suit to recover possession of such a right is not entertainable under that section. FUZLUR RAHMAN v. KRISHNA PRASAD, 29 C. 614. (19 C. 544, Rel. on.)

(67)—S. 9—Private right of fishery whether immoveable property under.—A suit for the possession of a right of fishery in a khal, the soil of which does not belong to the plaintiff, does not come within the provisions of s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. So, a person who has for a time exercised the exclusive right of fishing in water, which covers the land which does not belong to him and who is forcibly prevented from fishing in such water, cannot maintain an action for such prevention under s. 9 of the Act. By the Full Bench, (Prinsep and Pigot, JJ, dissenting). FADU JHALA v. GOUR MOHAN JHALA, 19 C. 544, F.B. [F., 5 M.L.J. 95, 24 C. 449 ; Appr., 23 B. 673 ; Rel. on, 29 C. 614 ; R., 29 C. 1=5 C.W.N. 821, F.B. ; Diss., 12 C.P.L.R. 52.]

(68)—S. 9—Right to fish—Suit for possession of.—S. 9 of the Specific Relief Act does not refer to a suit for the possession of a jalkar or a right of fishery over land belonging to a stranger. Where the plaintiffs had no right to the land, nor were they in possession of the land, but that for certain parts of the year they had power or license to fish, their suit for possession of a fishery in a khal would not come within the purview of s. 9, Act I of 1877. NATABAR PARUE v. KUBIR PARUE, 18 C. 80. [F., 19 C. 544.]

(69)—S. 9—Civ. Pro. Code (1882), s. 43 (=O. II, r. 2, new Code)—Summary suit for possession — Plaintiff restored to possession—Subsequent suit by plaintiff for mesne profits—Burden of proof.—One L.N. died possession of certain immoveable property. He left him surviving a widow, M.K. One N.D. obtained possession of some portion of the said immoveable property, as he alleged, under a lease from M.K., and held possession, at any rate, for some months, down to the 27th of November 1897. After the death of M.K., one S.K. who claimed to be the adopted son of M.K. by some means other than legal process, dispossessed N.D.N.D. thereupon instituted a suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, and, having obtained a decree in that suit was restored to possession. He then instituted a suit against S.K. to recover mesne profits for the time during which he was out of possession. As to this suit it was held (1) that the suit was not liable to be defeated by reason of s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code ; and (2) that as to the other issues arising in the suit the first was, whether the defendant was the true owner, of the property, the burden of proving which was on him ; and, secondly, if the defendant established his title, whether the plaintiff had such an interest in the property under the lease set up by him or otherwise, as would entitle him to remain in possession as against the defendant. SHEO KUMAR v. NARAIN DAS, 24 A. 501=A.W.N. 1902, 139.

(70)—S. 9—Possession, suit for—Act XIV of 1859, s. 15—Award under—Possession and dispossession—Onus of proof.—In a suit for possession, where the defendant sets up an award under s. 15, Act XIV of 1859, in his favour, the onus of proving possession and dispossession alleged in the plaint lies, in the first instance, on the plaintiff before the defendant could be called upon to prove his case. JUGGURNATH DEB v. MAHOMED MOKEEM, 17 W.R. 161.

(71)—S. 9—Mode of proof required in suit under—Sufficiency of proof of prior juridical possession.—In a suit under the section all that is necessary for a plaintiff to prove is that he was in juridical possession and that he has been dispossessed otherwise than in due course of law. BALRAM MISAR v. BAIRAGI MALI, 12 C.P.L.R. 52. (5 B. 208, 15 B. 685, R.) [R., 16 C.P.L.R. 154.]

(72)—S. 9—Evidence—Possessory suit, decree in, if evidence of title.—A decree in a suit for possession under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act proves possession and possession is evidence of title. It cannot, therefore, be said that such a decree is no evidence of title. The value to be attributed to it is a matter to be determined by the final Court of fact. Such a decree, though based upon a possessory title, is prima facie evidence of title to the land as against a stranger. KOILASH CHANDRA SANTRA v. GAJENDRA NATH MISRA, 15 C.L.J. 1=13 Ind. Cas. 407.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(73)—S. 9—Evidence of title—Proof of nature of possession—Evidence of kind of possession—Exclusion—Material irregularity—Jurisdiction—Remedy by way of suit—Revision—S. 115, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908.—In a possessory suit under s. 9, Specific Relief Act, 1877, evidence of title is admissible for the purpose of ascertaining the nature of possession, and the exclusion of evidence of the nature of possession itself is not justifiable and amounts to a material irregularity in the exercise of jurisdiction. Where another remedy by way of suit is open to parties for settling their disputes, the Courts will decline to exercise powers of revision under s. 115, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908. H. BAWA CHATAGIR v. MATANOMAL DEWANMAL, 4 S. L.R. 80=8 Ind. Cas. 215.

(74)—S. 9—Previous possession—Dispossession—Judgment of District Judge reversing Munsif's judgment, upon credibility of witnesses—Effect.—Except in a suit under s. 9, Specific Relief Act, which must, under art. 3, Limitation Act, be brought within six months from the date of dispossession, mere previous possession will not entitle the plaintiff to obtain a decree for recovery of possession. (8W.R. 389, 9 C. 130, 9 C. 39, 5 C.L.R. 278, 7 I.A. 73, 8 B. 371, 6 B. 215, 7 C. 591, R.) [Cons., 3 C.W.N. 158, 12 C.P.L.R. 59; R., 7 C.P.L.R. 3, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 619, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 270, 26 C. 579, 25 B. 287, 8 C.W.N. 446=31 C. 647; Doubted, 137 P.L.R. 1902=78 P.R. 1902; Diss., 3 L.B.R. 27, 10 Bom. L.R. 571.] The judgment of a District Judge, setting aside a carefully considered judgment of a Munsif, upon the credibility of the witnesses, did not fulfil the proper conditions that a judgment reversing a decision ought to fulfil. A judgment, which does not in the body give reasons for its conclusion is not a judgment at all. In such a case the decree of the District Judge was formally set aside, the case was remanded to him and called up to the High Court to be tried as a Regular Appeal. PURMESHUR CHOWDHRY v. BRIJO LALL CHOWDHRY, 17 C. 266.

(75)—S. 9—The Mamlatdars' Courts' Act (Bombay Act III of 1876)—Suit by trespasser to recover possession.—A mere trespasser who has been dispossessed is not entitled to bring a suit for possession under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act; nor can he invoke the aid of the Mamlatdar under the Mamlatdars' Courts' Act. (7 B.H.C. 82, 8 B. 371, 5 B. 208, R.) In the present case, plaintiff sued to recover possession of a certain room from the defendant under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, alleging that he had been in possession up to the 3rd June 1890. The defendant contended that he had been in possession of the room in question, and that about 30th May, 1890, the plaintiff put a padlock on the room and went to Bombay, and that as he, the defendant, wanted the use of his room, he removed a window two days afterwards and effected an entrance. The question was whether, assuming the defendant's story to be true, the plaintiff's possession was such as to enable him to avail himself of the above section. Held on a reference to the High Court that, assuming the defendant's statement was true (as to which no opinion was expressed), even if the plaintiff can be said to have been in possession by what he did, still, such possession, not having been acquiesced in by the defendant, never became a judicial possession which could give him the right to invoke the aid of the Mamlatdar or the Court under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. AMIRUDIN v. MAHAMAD JAMAL, 15 B. 685. [R., 12 C.P.L.R. 52, 7 Ind. Cas. 700=12 C.L.J. 605.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(76)—S. 9—Suit under Mamlatdars Courts Act (Bom. Act III of 1876)—Subsequent suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877).—A Mamlatdar's decision, in a possessory suit brought under the Bombay Mamlatdars Courts Act, 1876, respecting the possession of immoveable property, is not conclusive in a subsequent suit even though it be brought under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877. RAMCHANDRA v. NARASIMHACHARYA, 1 Bom. L.R. 660=24 B. 251.

(77)—S. 9—Possessory decree, direction in.—A direction in a decree passed in a suit under s. 9, Specific Relief Act, that the costs of removal of certain huts should be paid by the defendant, must be set aside as being beyond the scope of a possessory decree under the section. TILAK CHANDRA DASS v. FATIK CHANDRA DASS, 25 C. 802.

(78)—S. 9—Possessory suit—Execution of decree—Appeal from order in execution proceedings.—In execution of a decree for possession of land in a suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, a third person applied for postponement of the delivery of possession until the sugarcane crop standing on the land and sold to him by the judgment-debtor had been first removed by him. The first Court disallowed the application. On appeal, the District Court reversed the order of the lower Court. Held that, by the last clause of s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, no appeal lay from any order or decree passed in any suit under the section. According to the explanation to s. 647, Civ. Pro. Code, applications for execution of decrees were proceedings in suits. Consequently, no appeal lay from an order passed in execution of a decree in a suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. THOMAS SOUZA v. GULAM MOIDEEN BEARI, 26 M. 438. [R., 3 C.L.J. 276.]

(79)—S. 9—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 32, 588—Second appeal.—The plaintiff brought a possessory suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, and the Court ordered a party to be added as defendant, apparently acting under s. 32, Civ. Pro. Code. The plaintiff appealed from the order to the District Judge. The Judge admitted the appeal as made under cl. 2, s. 588, Civ.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

Pro. Code, and cancelled the order of the first Court. The original defendant preferred a second appeal to the High Court. Held that the Judge's order under s. 588, Civ. Pro. Code, by the last paragraph of s. 588, was final and that no second appeal lay to the High Court. SKINNER v. KINLOCK, A.W.N. 1886, 138.

(80)—S. 9—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 622 and 103 —Rehearing—Review.—The High Court can interfere under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, without an application from a party. An application for a rehearing under s. 103, Civ. Pro. Code, is not prohibited by the terms of s. 9 of Specific Relief Act. A rehearing differs widely from a review. ANDREW ANTHONY v. THE REV. J. M. DUPONT, 4 M. 217.

(81)—S. 9—Revision—Another remedy open. —In a suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, which is dismissed, a remedy by way of a suit for declaration of title is open to the aggrieved party, and consequently no revision will lie. RAM KISHAN DAS v. JAI KISHAN DAS, 8 A. L.J. 791. (30 A. 331=5 A.L.J. 297, F.)

(82)—S. 9—Suit for possession—Criminal proceedings—Effect of—Revision—Other remedy open—Not entertainable.—Criminal proceedings, if any, taken under s. 145 of the Crim. Pro. Code in no way interfere with the plaintiff's right under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, which accrued so soon as his possession was interfered with by the defendant. The High Court will not interfere in revision where other remedies are open to the aggrieved party. JWALA v. GANGA PRASAD, 5 A.L.J. 297=A.W. N. 1908, 142=30 A. 331. (10 A. 119, R.) [R., 13 C.W.N. 305=1 Ind. Cas. 152.]

(83)—S. 9—Civil Court—Criminal Court—Jurisdiction—S. 145, Crim. Pro. Code.—Under s. 9, Specific Relief Act, the Civil Court is authorised to restore a party into possession, if he has within the last six months, been dispossessed without his consent, otherwise than by due course of law, whereas the Criminal Court can only maintain a person in possession, if he is found to be in such possession upon the date of the institution of a proceeding under s. 145, Crim. Pro. Code, or if he was in possession within two months antecedent to that date. LOLIT MOHAN MOITRA v. SURJA KANTA ACHARJEE, 28 C. 709=5 C.W.N. 749. (23 C. 495, 25 C. 727.)

(84)—S. 9—Crim. Pro. Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 144, 145, 192 (2) and 529—Proceedings under s. 145, if may be instituted during the pendency of a suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—Prohibitory order under s. 144, how far invalidates findings of possession in s. 145 proceeding—Transfer of proceeding under s. 145 by Subordinate Magistrate—Legality—S. 529—Curing of defect in transfer. —A Magistrate is not incompetent to proceed under s. 145, Crim. Pro. Code, with regard to properties which form the subject-matter of a pending suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. A prohibitory order under s. 144, Crim. Pro. Code, was passed against certain landlords with respect to certain lands in a proceeding to which the tenants were not parties. Subsequently in a proceeding under s. 145, Crim. Pro. Code, the Magistrate found that the landlords were in possession of the lands through their tenants at a date when the prohibitory order was still in force. Held, that, as the tenants were not parties to the proceeding in which the prohibitory order under s. 144, Crim. Pro. Code, was made, the subsequent finding, in the proceeding under s. 145, Crim. Pro. Code, that the landlords were in possession through the tenants, was not bad in law. A Subordinate Magistrate cannot be empowered under s. 192 (2), Crim. Pro. Code, to transfer proceedings under s. 145, Crim. Pro. Code. But a transfer of such proceedings made by a Subordinate Magistrate empowered under s. 192 (2) is a legal defect curable by s. 529, Crim. Pro. Code. KISHORI LAL ROY CHOWDHURY v. SRINATH ROY, 13 C.W.N. 530=36 C. 370= 9 Cr. L.J. 399=1 Ind. Cas. 817. (4 C.W.N. 821, Rel. on.)

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(85)—S. 9—Action of ejectment not under s. 9—Whether plaintiff entitled to decree for possession on account of previous possession—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 85, sub-ss. (1) and (2), 13 C.L.J. 649.

(86)—S. 9—What amounts to taking possession in due course of law—Suit by tenant for recovering possession—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 87, 11 C.L.J. 433=6 Ind. Cas. 553.

(87)—S. 9—Dispossession of tenant by landlord— Remedy open to tenant—See C. P. ACT XVII OF 1889, s. 92, 16 C.P.L.R. 41.

(88)—S. 9—Party entitled to bring suit under—Failure—Effect—See PUN. ACT XVIII OF 1884, s. 70 (a), 13 P.R. 1910=20 P.W.R. 1910=5 Ind. Cas. 808.

(89)—S. 9—When applicable—See U.P. ACT XII OF 1881, s. 9, 8 A.L.J. 404.

(90)—S. 9—Proceedings under s. 331, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, open to appeal—See APPEAL —ORDERS, 22 C. 830.

(91) — S. 9 — See BUDDHIST LAW — ECCLESIASTICAL, U.B.R. 1892—1896, VOL. II, 82.

(92)—S. 9—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, r. 2, 137 P.L.R. 1902=78 P.R. 1902.

(93)—S. 9— Compromise of suit under — Effect of — See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXIII, r. 3, 3 L.B.R. 243.

(94)—S. 9—See EASEMENT, 1 Bom. L.R. 167=23 B. 673.

(95)—S. 9—Failure to institute summary suit—No bar to suit for ejectment — See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR, 12 C.P.L.R. 59.

(96)—S. 9—See EVIDENCE — DECREES, JUDGMENTS AND PROCEEDINGS IN SUITS, 23 C. 693.

(97)—S. 9—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 33, 23 C. 441.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(98)—S. 9—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 110, 2 Bom.L.R. 1111=25 B. 237.

(99)—S. 9—Suit by tenant against landlord for recovery of possession on alleged unlawful dispossession—Jurisdiction—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 14 O.C. 60 =9 Ind. Cas. 748.

(100)—S. 9—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 28, 1 M.H.C. 85.

(101)—S. 9—Effect of wrongful dispossession of trespasser by rightful owner, for purposes of limitation—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 142, 2 C.L.J. 1.

(102)—S. 9—Suit under — Ejectment by several persons—Parties to suit—See PARTIES TO SUIT—GENERAL, 5 B. 208.

(103)—S. 9—Suit for possession of exclusive right of fishing in creek — Right of fishing whether immoveable property within s. 9—See PARTIES TO SUIT—SUITS BY REPRESENTATIVES OF A CLASS, 12 B. 221.

(104)—S. 9—See POSSESSION— EVIDENCE OF POSSESSION AND TITLE, 5 Bom L.R. 264.

(105)—S. 9—See POSSESSION—NATURE OF POSSESSION, 15 B. 238.

(106)—S. 9—Suit in Mamlatdar's Court — Dismissal for default — Res judicata — Suit under—See RES JUDICATA—ADJUDICATIONS, 6 B. 477.

(107)—S. 9—See REVISION—GENERAL, 57 P.L.R. 1903.

(108)—S. 9—See TITLE, 5 C.L.R. 278.

(108-a)—S. 9—See No. 14, supra.

(109)—Ss. 9, 39, 42—Concurrent suit under s. 39 for cancellation of deed of gift—Splitting of causes of action.—Where a suit for possession is laid under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act and, during its pendency, a suit is instituted under s. 39 for cancellation of a deed of a gift under which the defendant claims, held that there is no splitting of causes of action and that the second suit was not bad as one for a declaration of title under s. 42. JAI GOPAL MUKERJI v. LALIT MOHAN, 26 A. 236=A.W.N. 1904, 7.

(110)—Ss. 9, 42 — See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR— DECLARATION OF TITLE, 20 C. 834, P.C.=20 I.A. 99.

(111)—Ss. 10, 11—See DECREE—DECREE, FORM OF, 22 M. 478.

(112)—S. 11—See No. 111, supra.

(113)—S. 12—Specific performance — Case where pecuniary damages not an adequate relief.—Specific performance of any contract may in the discretion of the Court be enforced when the act agreed to be done is such that pecuniary compensation for its non-performance would not afford adequate relief. Unless and until the contrary is proved, the Court shall presume that the breach of a contract to transfer immoveable property cannot be adequately relieved by compensation in money. In an agreement to sell immoveable property, if the defendants (vendors) without any good reason, refuse to complete their part of the contract, the Court may, in its discretion, compel them to comply with the terms of s. 12 and enforce specific performance. MAUNG PE v. KIN KAUK, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II. 539.

(114)—S. 12—Specific performance—Unilateral mistake.—The Courts are reluctant to refuse specific performance on the ground of unilateral mistake unless the defendant prove something further. What this further evidence should amount to, has been thus expressed: "that a hardship amounting to injustice would be inflicted upon the defendant by holding him to his bargain." HUNSRAJ v. RANCHHODDAS, 7 Bom. L.R. 319.

(115)—S. 12 — See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 68, cl. (c), 2 O.C. 24.

(116)—Ss. 12 and 21 (a)—Suit for recovery of property based on title acquired under a mortgage deed—Whether suit for specific performance—Whether money compensation an adequate relief—See SUIT, 10 O.C. 218.

(117)—Ss. 12, 21, 22—Suit for execution of fresh bond for money—Suit for specific performance—Suit to restore terms of lost bond for money—Nature of evidence required.—A suit is not maintainable for the execution of a fresh bond for money, where the original bond, handed over to the defendant for registration, is either withhold or destroyed by him; for the plaintiff could obtain his full remedy by suing for the money in respect of which a fresh bond is claimed. In a suit for the execution of a fresh instrument under the above circumstances or for the restoration of the terms of a lost instrument, the evidence adduced must contain sufficient materials to enable the Court to find with reasonable certainty that the bond was of the tenor and in the terms alleged by the plaintiffs. MAYA RAM v. PRAG DAT, 5 A. 44= A.W.N. 1882, 154.

(118)—Ss. 12, 21, 24—Agreement to execute gift deed in favour of third party—Specific performance whether can be enforced.—A suit for pre-emption of a shop brought against the defendant was withdrawn on an agreement being entered into between the parties that they should unite in gifting the shop to a Dharm Sala. Defendant having failed to carry out the agreement, plaintiff brought a suit wherein he prayed that the first defendant jointly with plaintiff should, in accordance with the agreement, execute a registered deed of the shop in favour of the manager of the Dharm Sala and should deliver possession. A decree was finally made against the first defendant directing him to execute a deed of gift in respect of the shop in suit in favour of the said manager and to have the same duly registered. It was contended that the instrument of agreement could not be received in evidence because it required registration. Held, that, so far as it was an agreement, it needed no registration, being merely an agreement, not of itself purporting or operating to create, declare or assign any right, title or interest to or in immoveable property, but that certain act should be done in future by the defendant. It was further objected that s. 24 of the Specific Relief Act was a bar to the present suit, the ground of the objection being that the plaintiff could recover no damages for a breach of the contract and that he had no personal interest in its performance since it was for the benefit of a third party; but it was held that the argument was based on a misconception of the object of s. 24 of the Specific Relief Act. That section deals with objections not derived from the nature of the contract, but solely from the acts or conduct of the claimant, that is, with objections personal to the plaintiff seeking relief by specific performance, and in the present case there was no personal objection such as to deprive the plaintiff of his title to the relief sought. On the point whether the plaintiff was entitled to a decree in regard to the defendant's undertaking to register the deed, the Chief Court pointed out a distinction between a suit to compel registration of an executed deed, of which the registration was by law compulsory, and a suit to obtain specific performance of a promise to execute and register such a deed, a suit which necessarily implies that the deed has not been executed. The reason why a suit to compel specific performance of a promise to register a deed does not lie is that the plaintiff cannot succeed without offering the deed in evidence, and s. 49 of the Registration Act forbids it to be admitted in evidence. The same reason does not apply when the suit is to compel performance of a promise to execute and register the deed. There is nothing in the Registration Act to prevent a Court from decreeing against a promisor specific performance of his promise to execute and register a deed, so far as the performance of his promise can be obtained by his personal obedience. SHIB DIAL v. HIRA NUND, 100 P.R. 1890.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(119)—Ss. 12, 54, cls. (b), (c) and (d)—Injunction—Sale of shares.—The plaintiff's firm, which admittedly owed a very large amount to the defendant's firm, sued for an injunction to restrain the latter from realizing the securities which it held by sale. Held, that pecuniary compensation would afford adequate relief and the suit for injunction should be dismissed. SOLIAPPA CHETTY v. SOLIAPPA CHETTY, 11 Ind. Cas. 607.

(120)—S. 14—Agreement to sell land—Portion of land found impossible to be conveyed, subsequently—Specific performance—Not allowable.—Where A agreed to sell certain plots of land mentioned in a sale-proclamation under a decree in his favour, but he did not acquire a portion of those plots under the Court-sale and was not in a position to convey them: Held, that specific performance cannot be enforced under s. 14, Specific Relief Act. KOTA KRISHNAYYA v. MATOORI SUBBRAYA, 9 M.L.T. 318.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(121)—S. 15—Specific performance of contract of sale—Agreement by manager of joint family—Other members not parties—Enforcibility of the contract.—S. 15 of the Specific Relief Act applies where a member of an undivided Hindu family agrees to sell part of the joint property in which he has only a share. Where the managing member of a Hindu family agrees to sell the family property and the other co-parceners are not parties to the agreement, and it is found that the agreement is not binding on the latter, specific performance of the contract cannot be enforced. JUTURI NAGIAH v. ARIPARALA VENKATARAMA SASTRULU, 15 Ind. Cas. 623. (26 M. 74, 12 M.L.J. 400, 32 M. 320, 4 Ind. Cas. 506, 33 M. 359, 7 M.L.T. 137, 20 M.L.J. 328, 5 Ind. Cas. 79, Expl. and D.; 1912 M.W.N. 87, 11 M.L.T. 87, 22 M.L.J. 257, 13 Ind. Cas. 471, R.)

(122)—Ss. 15, 16, 17—Agreement to sell land—Agreement on behalf of minors—Contract not for purposes binding on minors—Adult parties cannot be compelled to specifically perform the contract on behalf of minors—Specific performance permissible as against adult parties to the extent of their shares in the property.—The defendants Nos. 1 and 4 for themselves and also as guardians of defendants Nos. 2 and 3 agreed to sell certain lands to plaintiff for Rs. 1,400. Plaintiff sued defendants for specific performance of the contract. It was found that the agreement was for purposes not binding on the minor defendants: Held (1), that no decree could be passed compelling a conveyance of the interest of second and third defendants as well by the first and fourth defendants; (2) that plaintiff was, however, entitled to a conveyance, by first and fourth defendants, of their interest in the property agreed to be sold, on payment of the full consideration stipulated without abatement or compensation. PONAKA SUBBA RANI REDDY v. VADAMADI SESHACHELLAM, 5 Ind. Cas. 79=7 M.L.T. 137=20 M.L.J. 328. (5 M. 337, 32 M. 320, 4 Ind. Cas. 506, D.; 26 M. 74, R.)

(123)—Ss. 15, 17—Agreement to sell by undivided Hindu father—Absence of son's concurrence—Power of father to sell—Suit for specific performance—Proper form of decree.—Where a father, first defendant, the managing member of an undivided Hindu family consisting of himself and his son (the second defendant), agreed to sell to the plaintiff a piece of land belonging to the family, without the concurrence of his son, and plaintiff sued for specific performance, held, that s. 15 of Act I of 1877 would be applicable only if the first defendant had no interest in any portion of the property agreed to be conveyed as in illustration (a) or is unable to convey such portion as in illustration (b) to that section. An undivided father has an interest in, and power of disposal over, for certain purposes, every portion of the undivided property. Held, that the proper decree in the present case, would be one for specific performance of the contract to sell the whole of the plaint land, without determining whether such sale

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

would bind the second defendant. SRINIVASA REDDI v. SIVARAMA REDDI, 32 M. 320=4 Ind. Cas 506. (26 M. 74, F.) [Doubted and D., 7 M.L.T. 137=5 Ind. Cas. 79=20 M. L.J. 328.]

(124)—S. 16—Single contract to sell land to different persons.—In a suit to enforce specific performance of a single contract to convey land to several persons, the parties on each side must be marshalled as plaintiffs and defendants, and it is not open to some only of the joint-contractees to institute such a suit where the others refuse to have specific performance. SAFIUR RAHMAN v. MAHARAMUNNESSA BIBI, 24 C. 832.

(125)—S. 16—See NO. 122, supra.

(126)—S. 17—Performance of contract—Document signed by only one of the executants on the understanding that others would join it—Proposed agreement—Imperfect contract.—A deed of sale purporting to have been executed by three persons was signed by only one of the executants. The other two executants did not sign it. The contract embodied in the deed was to take effect only on its execution by all the parties: Held, that the document constituted merely a proposed agreement which had never been perfected, and one of the executants having executed it on the understanding that the others would join in its execution, the contract could not be enforced. MARHA SINGH v. MOHAMMAD UMAR, 7 Ind. Cas. 393. (25 M. 389, 12 M.L.J. 17, R.)

(126-a)—S. 17—See NOS. 122, 123, supra.

(127)—Ss. 17 and 15—Hindu family — Divided brother — Agreement to sell — Part performance — Court's power — Execution of sale-deed.—In a case of divided Hindu family, specific performance of a part of a contract, affecting some of the properties, cannot be ordered by Courts, as s. 17, Specific Relief Act, expressly prohibits it. In cases falling under s. 15, it is open to the Courts to grant a decree or not, for part-performance, the term "may" indicating their discretion (33 M. 359, 32 M. 320, 26 M. 74, Expl. and D.) The Court cannot compel the defendant to execute a deed of sale for the whole property and, on his failure to do so, to issue one in his name under the seal of the Court, as it cannot sanction a transaction devoid of any legal effect. The Court cannot ask a party to do a certain act which would in effect drive a third party to suit. GOVINDA NAICKEN v. APATHSAHAYA IYER, M. W. N. 1912, 87 11 M.L.T. 87=22 M.L.J. 257=13 Ind. Cas. 471.

(128)—S. 18—Suit for specific performance—Contract of sale of mortgaged property—Mortgage undisclosed—T.P. Act, s. 55 (5) (b).—In a suit by the plaintiff for the specific performance of a contract of sale of a piece of land or, in the alternative, for the return of the earnest money and for damages for breach of the contract, it was held, (1) that the plaintiff was entitled to a decree for specific performance of the contract of sale, under s. 18 of the Specific Relief Act, (2) and, that, as the land contracted to be sold was burdened with a mortgage, which fact was not disclosed to the plaintiff when the oral contract for sale was made, the plaintiff was entitled under s. 55 (5) (b) of T.P. Act, to retain out of the purchase-money, the amount payable to the mortgagee, if the defendant did not pay off the mortgage before executing the conveyance. BA PE v. MA MA, 4 L.B.R. 86. (11 Bur. L.R. 257, R.)

(129)—S. 18—See BENAMI TRANSACTION—GENERAL, 7 Ind. Cas. 218.

(130)—S. 18 (a)—See HINDU LAW—GIFT, 14 M. 459.

(131)—S. 18, cl. (c)—Right of the purchaser of a mortgage-decree to compel the vendor to pay off incumbrance thereon.—Where a mortgage-decree was sold free from incumbrances, the purchaser has a right under—to compel the vendor to pay off any incumbrance upon the decree and make over the decree to him free of such incumbrance. KHETSIDAS AGARWALA v. SHIB NARAYAN MURDA, 9 C.W.N. 178. (15 W.R. 545, R.)

(132)—S. 18 (b) and s. 21 (f)—Contract for sale of immoveable property with cultivating rights in sir lands—Sanction of Revenue authorities necessary under Central Provinces Tenancy Act—Failure to obtain sanction—Remedy not by way of specific relief—Damages—S. 18, cl. (b) and s. 21 (b), not applicable—Central Provinces Tenancy Act, IX of 1883, s. 42—Scope and object of.—R sued M for specific performance of a contract to sell a share of a mouza, with cultivating rights in the sir land, or for any other relief to which he may be entitled. Held, that, the sanction of the Revenue authorities being, under the provisions of the Central Provinces Tenancy Act, necessary for transferring the cultivating rights on sir land, the defendant cannot be compelled to do his best to obtain such sanction, but that failure to obtain such sanction, will afford good ground for the award of damages. Neither s. 18, cl. (b), nor s. 21, cl. (b), Specific Relief Act, would apply to such a case. The policy of s. 45, Central Provinces Tenancy Act being the protection of the proprietor, the application contemplated by it is one voluntarily made by him, and the Revenue authorities would not be likely to grant an application which they found he was making under compulsion. MANSING v. RAMPIRE, 6 N.L.R. 185=8 Ind. Cas. 1184.

(133)—Ss. 18 and 22—Sale of reversionary interest—Right of vendee—Surety—Undue influence—Inadequacy of price.—Though a sale of reversionary interest does not at the time effect a transfer of the property, it creates a right which can be enforced when it falls into possession. The relation of suretyship does not give rise to the presumption of undue influence. In considering the inadequacy or otherwise of consideration, the Court will have to take into account the circumstance that it will not come into possession for an indefinite time. MALIK ALA BAKSH v. GULAM, 13 P.R. 1899.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(134)—S. 19—Alternative prayer—Specific performance—Compensation.—A mourasi patta having been granted by one of several share-holders, the others refused to ratify the contract and ejected the grantee, who thereupon sued all the share-holders to enforce the contract, or, in the alternative, to recover the salami paid by him. Held that the alternative claim for the salami might be treated as a claim for compensation for breach of the contract, and that the plaintiff was entitled to join such claim to the main claim for specific performance. RAJDAUR CHOWDHRY v. KALI KRISTNA BHATTACHARJYA, 8 C. 963=11 C.L.R. 330. [R., 29 C. 257.]

(135)—S. 19—Specific performance—Plaintiff's failure to ask for compensation—Court's power to grant—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 49 (e).—Although the plaintiff might not have asked in his plaint in so many words in accordance with the requirements of the section for compensation, in substitution for the performance by the defendant of his part of the contract, yet, if it be clear from the circumstances of the case that the plaintiff has in effect asked for compensation also in the alternative, it is equitable and competent to the Court to give him a decree for money by way of compensation under this section. SHEO NIWAJ v. GOPAL, A.W.N. 1881, 22.

(136)—Ss. 19 and 21 (g)—See CONTRACT—MISCELLANEOUS, 28 P.L.R. 1905=49 P.R. 1905.

(137)—Ss. 20, 21, 57—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 14 M. 18.

(138)—S. 21—Agreement to refer matters in dispute to arbitration—Applicability of, to pending suits.—In a suit for pre-emption, after service of summons on the defendants, the parties agreed to refer the matters in dispute between them to arbitration and an arbitration agreement was drawn up and signed. Held, the agreement was a bar to the suit. S. 21 of the Specific Relief Act applies to an agreement before suit, as well as to one made during pendency of a suit. It would be most inconvenient if two simultaneous proceedings in respect of disputes were allowed, namely, arbitration proceedings and proceedings before a Court of justice. SHEO DAT v. SHEO SHANKAR SING, 27 A. 53=1 A.L.J. 398.

(139)—S. 21—Partners, agreement amongst, to refer disputes to arbitration—Withdrawal of one without cause, from arbitration—Suit to recover a share in debt realised by the other partner, if lies.—Where a person has agreed with another that all matters in controversy between them should be referred to arbitration, it is not open to that person to resile from the agreement unless for good and sufficient cause. A dispute between partners, whose business has come to an end, regarding the division of assets, can only be finally settled in a proper suit for dissolution of partnership and for adjustment of accounts, and it is not proper that each of the parties should proceed by separate suits in order to recover from the other any sums due to the partnership business which he alone may have realised.—Where, on the termination of a partnership business, the partners agreed to refer all matters in dispute between them relating to the partnership to arbitration, and then one of the partners withdrew from the arbitration without sufficient cause, and instituted a suit in the Small Cause Court to recover a half share of a partnership debt realised by the other partner:—Held, that the debt in suit being one of the matters which the plaintiff had contracted to refer to arbitration, s. 21, Specific Relief Act, was a bar to the continuance of the suit. That the suit was not maintainable at all. RAM CHANDRA PAL v. KRISHNA LAL PAL, 17 C.W.N. 351=17 Ind. Cas. 600.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(140)—S. 21—Reference to arbitration—How far bar to suit.—Where an agreement was to refer the dispute to three named arbitrators without any provision for the appointment of other arbitrators, and two of them refused to act, there is no subsisting agreement capable of being carried into effect, and s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act is no bar to a suit in respect of any subject which was referred to arbitration. JAITUM BI v. NABI SAHIB, 12 M.L.T. 346=M.W.N. 1912, 957=24 M.L.J. 15=17 Ind. Cas. 389.

(141)—S. 21—Reference to arbitration of matter in suit—Award therein, bar to further proceedings.—Where the parties to a suit refer the matter of such suit to arbitration, without the intervention of the Court, and an award is passed dismissing the plaintiff's claim, such award is a bar to further proceedings in the suit. (S. 21, Specific Relief Act). SALIG RAM v. JHUNNA KUAR, 4 A. 546=A.W.N. 1882, 135. [Not Foll., 4 O.C. 17; F., 27 A. 53=A.W.N. 1904, 160=1 A.L.J. 389.]

(142)—S. 21—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Plea in bar of suit.—Before s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act could be pleaded in bar of a suit for damages for breach of a contract according to whose terms the parties had agreed to refer any disputes between them to arbitration; it must be shown that the plaintiff had refused to refer to arbitration. The filing of the plaint is not such a refusal. KOOMUD CHUNDER DASS v. CHUNDER KANT MOOKERJEE, 5 C. 498=5 C.L.R. 284. [F., 80 P.R. 1906; R., 11 B. 199, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Civ, 542.]

(143)—S. 21—Reference to arbitration—Bar to suit—Refusal to bring a case within s. 21.—The mere existence of a contract to refer to arbitration does not bar a suit without regard to refusal. Refusal is essential to bring a case within s. 21 of Specific Relief Act. MAUNG SHWE NYO v. MAUNG AUNG HMO, U.B.R. 1897—1901 Vol. II, 542. (5 C. 500, 8 A. 60, 11 B. 109, 17 C. 200, Rel on.)

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(144)—S. 21—Effect of agreement to refer to arbitration after institution of suit.—S. 21 of the Specific Relief Act, applies when the agreement to refer to arbitration is made after the institution of suit. KALU RAM v. NANAUK CHAND, U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. II, 541. (9 A. 168, F.) [Com. upon, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 542.]

(145)—S. 21—Arbitration out of Court--Pending suit—Specific Relief Act, s. 21, last clause, applicable.—As has been held in 130 P.R. 1882, the last clause of s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act is inapplicable to a case in which a reference to arbitration has been made during the pendency and not before the institution of a suit. In this case there was no sufficient reason for refusing to follow the abovementioned ruling, especially as the ultimate result would be the same, even assuming that s. 21 of the Act as applicable, since the plaintiff had not refused to perform the agreement to refer to arbitration, but it had rather remained in abeyance, if not been allowed altogether to lapse, by mutual consent. FAKIR v. JAIMAL. 50 P R. 1891. (132 P.R. 1882, F.) [F., 115 P.R. 1912=1912 P.L.R. Sup. 6=191 P.W.R. 1912=15 Ind. Cas. 140.]

(146)—S. 21—Agreement to refer to arbitration.—On the 13th December 1897 the parties referred the matter in dispute regarding the plaintiff's right of pre-emption to arbitration. On the 25th December the arbitrator gave his award, but on the 23rd December 1897, before the award was given, the plaintiff instituted the suit to enforce his right of pre-emption which was dismissed by both the Lower Courts, as barred by s. 21, Specific Relief Act, 1877. On further appeal, it was contended that no question of law was involved, since it was found by the Lower Court that the plaintiff had refused to perform the contract to refer, and the finding being on a question of fact, no further appeal lay. Held, overruling the contention, that the main facts being admitted, the real question was whether s. 21, Specific Relief Act, 1877, as a matter of law barred the suit. Held further that the suit was not barred by s. 51 Specific Relief Act, 1877, or by the award given on the 25th December 1897. MUHAMMAD KAMAR-UD-DIN v. AHMAD JAN, P.L.R. 900, p. 481. (19 P.R. 1896, concurred.)

(147)—S. 21 — Arbitration — Agreement to refer to arbitration future dispute— Maintainability of suit—Burden of proof.—The parties to the suit entered into an agreement, which contained a condition that, if any dispute arises between the parties regarding the agreement, it shall be settled by a certain person and his decision shall be binding on the parties. The plaintiffs sued the defendants for recovery of money basing their claim on the agreement. It was contended that, since the plaintiffs had refused to refer the dispute between them to the arbitration of the person named, their suit was barred by s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act. Held, that the burden of establishing the plea was on the defendants and that they had failed to discharge it. UDHE SINGH v. SARDAR BISHEN SINGH. 35 P.L.R. 1911=26 P.R. 1911=55 P.W.R. 1911 =9 Ind. Cas. 736.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(148)—S. 21—Contract to refer to arbitration —No time fixed for award—Revocation of the contract—Just cause—Onus—Revocation inferred from conduct of parties—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 523—Right to enforce decision by arbitrators—Limitation—Existence or non-existence of the contract to refer after limitation.—The plaintiff and the defendant agreed to refer their disputes to arbitration. The defendant attended the meetings of the arbitrators, but the plaintiff did not, and gave a notice to the arbitrators not to proceed with the award. The arbitrators dropped further proceedings. The defendant did not attempt to put in force the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure to force on the award, and allowed the limitation to expire: Then the plaintiff sued and the defendant resisted the claim on the strength of s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act: Held (1) that a contract to refer disputes to arbitration implies a contract to do all things necessary to the making of a valid award, so far as the parties were concerned; (2) that a contract to refer to arbitration could be rescinded by mutual agreement of both parties or by one of them for a just cause; that the burden of proving the existence of just cause for revocation lay upon the party who revoked the contract. Per Richards, J.—If, after a contract to refer is entered into, nothing is done for a long time, the Court might infer that the parties rescinded it by mutual consent. But this is not a necessary inference. If the contract to refer was never rescinded, it must be in existence the mere fact that there might be difficulty in applying the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure to the case does not render the contract non-existent. Per Tudball, J.—If one of the parties to a contract to refer refuses to go on with the arbitration, the other party might resort to one of the following courses open to him: (a) He might take action within the period of limitation, under the provisions of the law as contained in the Civ. Pro. Code, to enforce a decision by the arbitrators, or (b) he might sue for damages for breach of contract. If the party entitled to the above remedies has resorted to neither of the two courses within the period of limitation, the contract can no longer be said to be in existence in the eye of the law. RAM KUMAR SINGH v. JAGMOHAN SINGH, 6 Ind. Cas. 420.

(149)—S. 21—Arbitration—Reference during progress of suit—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 523.—Where parties in the course of a suit referred the matters in dispute to arbitration, held that the last part of s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, bars the further hearing of the suit that the section is not confined to cases of pre-existing reference alone at the institution of suit. SHIB LAL v. HIRA LAL, A.W.N. 1888, 133. [F., 1 A.L.J. 398=27 A. 53, A.W.N. 1904, 9, A.W.N. 1904, 160.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(150)—*S.*21—Arbitration—Agreement to refer made pending suit—Such agreement a bar to the continuance of the suit.—Held that where parties to a suit have agreed to refer the matters in dispute between them to arbitration such an agreement ousts the jurisdiction of the Court, whether it is filed in Court under s. 523 of the Code of Civil Procedure or not. SHEO SHANKAR SINGH v. SHEO DAT, A.W.N. 1904, 9. (A.W.N. 1888, 133,F.; 23 C. 956, Diss.) [Confirmed on appeal, 27 A. 53.]

(151)—S. 21—Contract to refer to arbitration—Refusal—A refusal to carry out a submission to arbitration once fully made is not a "refusal to perform the contract to refer" within the meaning of this section. KARAM CHAND v. RAM DAS, 19 P.R. 1896.

(152)—S. 21—Suit referred to arbitration—Withdrawal of suit with liberty to bring fresh suit—Subsequent suit for same matter, maintainability of.—The wording of s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act is wide enough to include contracts to refer any matter which can legally be referred to arbitration. One of such matters is a suit which is proceeding in Court. Where the matters in difference between the parties to a suit have been referred to arbitration, this section bars a fresh suit between the parties in respect of the same matters, notwithstanding that the Court has permitted the first suit to be withdrawn with liberty to bring a fresh suit. SHEOAMBAR v. DEODAT, 9 A. 168= A.W.N. 1887, 13. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 541; D., 4 O.C. 17.]

(153)—S. 21—Reference to arbitration—Withdrawal of suit before award with liberty to bring a fresh suit.—An order of reference to arbitrators was made by a Court, but before the date fixed for the delivery of the award, the plaintiff withdrew his suit under s. 373, Civ. Pro. Code, with leave to bring a fresh suit. Held that the plaintiff was competent to bring a fresh suit. KASHI BAI v. RAM KRISHNA, 1 A.L.J. 257. (9 A. 168, D.)

(154)—S. 21—Withdrawal of party from submission to arbitration—Refusal to perform contract to refer.—In this case, the defendant also pleaded that the plaintiff had agreed to refer the disputes between them to arbitration, but that the plaintiff prohibited the arbitrators from proceeding by giving them a notice not to make the award and thereby precluded herself from maintaining this suit, but it was held that the suit was not on that account barred. Even if the withdrawal of a party from a submission to arbitration be a refusal to perform a contract to refer a controversy to arbitration within the meaning of s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act I of 1877, the defendant relying upon that as a ground of defence is bound to bring his case within the wording of the section. It was not proved that the subject of the plaintiff's claim to maintenance was laid before the arbitrators at all and that the plaintiff refused to perform her agreement to refer. Nor was there any evidence to show the time at which the plaintiff withdrew from the arbitration, whether it was before or after the time allowed to the arbitrators to make and publish their award, because it could not, in the latter case, in any view of the section, be held that there was a refusal on her part to perform her agreement to refer. Further, the defendant took no steps to have the agreement to refer filed in Court under s. 523 of Civ. Pro. Code, and thus render the plaintiff's attempt to withdraw from it nugatory, and there was nothing under the circumstances to show that the defendant did not acquiesce in such withdrawal. ADHIBAI v. CURSANDAS NATHU, 11 B. 199. [R., 4 O. C. 17.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(155)—S. 21—Arbitration—Refusal to refer—Suit in respect of matter agreed to be referred.—One of the parties to an agreement to refer matters in controversy to arbitration brought a suit in respect of a part or the subject-matter thus referred. The defendants pleaded that the suit bas barred by s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act, but without alleging that the plaintiff had refused to perform his part of the contract. Held that the mere fact of filing the suit did not amount to a refusal on the plaintiff's part to perform his contract, within the meaning of s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act. The contract, the existence of which would bar a suit under the circumstances contemplated by s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act, must be an operative contract, and not a contract broken up by the conduct of all the parties to it. TAHAL v. BISHESHAR, 8 A. 57=A.W.N. 1885 331, 333. [Appr., 11 B. 199; R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 542, 29 A. 13=3 A.L.J. 613=A.W.N. 1906, 253.]

(156)—S. 21—Refusal to arbitrate, to be before suit—English Judicature Act, O. XXIV, r. 1—Applicability.—A refusal to arbitrate, so as to bar a suit under s. 21, Specific Relief Act, must be before the action is brought, in order that such refusal and the arbitration clause may constitute a defence to an action on the agreement. [R., 4 O.C. 17, 70 P.L.R. 1906=80 P.R 1906; Diss., A.W.N. (1904) 9.] O. XXIV, r. 1, under the English Judicature Act, applies to defences on the merits which arise after the institution of a suit. CRISP v. ADLARD, 23 C. 956.

(157)—S. 21—Suit for damages for breach of contract—Agreement to refer to arbitration any dispute arising under the contract.—Plaintiff sued for damages for breach of a contract. The defence was that the suit was unsustainable, on the ground that there was a stipulation in the contract in question, to refer the dispute arising thereunder to arbitration, and that the plaintiff ought not to have sued in the face of that stipulation. There was no evidence to show, either that the defendant proposed to refer to arbitration before the suit was brought or that the plaintiff refused to proceed to arbitration. Held, that s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act can be relied on as bar to a suit on a contract, only in case of a refusal by plaintiff to refer the dispute to arbitration, and that, in this case, no such refusal on the part of the plaintiff

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

having been proved, the defence was unsustainable. RALLI v. WALAITI RAM, 80 P.R. 1906 = 70 P. L. R. 1907. (5 C. 493, 5 C. L. R. 284, F.)

(158)—S. 21—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Omission by arbitrators to do anything for a long time—Suit whether barred.—Where the parties to a suit agreed to refer the matter in dispute to arbitration and a submission to arbitration was accordingly executed on the 17th April 1877 and the arbitrators had done nothing under such agreement till the institution of the present suit on the 8th November 1880, held that such an agreement was no bar to the present suit, as it had lapsed, not having been acted on within a reasonable time. ATMA RAI v. SHEOBARAN RAI, A.W.N. 1882, 58.

(159)—S. 21—Suit to compel signature to reference to arbitration—See ACT XI OF 1899, ss. 4 (b), 19, 4 S.L.R. 149.

(160)—S. 21, effect of—See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF BOMBAY, 11 Bom. L. R. 273 = 34 B. 13 = 3 Ind. Cas. 837.

(161)—S. 21—See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 27 A. 53 = 1 A.L.J. 398.

(162)—S. 21—Contract to perform which permission of Court is necessary cannot be specifically enforced—See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881, s. 90, cl. 2, 1 Ind. Cas. 364.

(163)—S. 21 (a)—Contract to lend money on mortgage—Suit for money, agreed to be lent—Specific performance, suit for, maintainability of—Suit for breach of contract.—Plaintiff's property was subject to a mortgage. It was agreed between the plaintiff and defendant that the former was to mortgage the property to the defendant for a certain sum, that the defendant was to retain, in his hands, a certain sum of money to pay off the mortgage and to pay plaintiff the remaining amount of consideration in cash. A mortgage-deed embodying these terms was given to the defendant. The defendant not having paid off the mortgage or the remaining amount to the plaintiff, as agreed upon, the latter sued for the recovery of the amount agreed to be paid to him. Held, that the suit, viewed as one for specific performance of a contract to lend money, was opposed to cl. (a) of s. 21 of the Act and it was not maintainable (a). Held, also, that, viewed as a suit for compensation for breach of contract, it failed because there was no evidence of any damage to the plaintiff. Held, further, that a mere recital in a deed that the consideration had been paid could not be construed as a contract in writing to pay the consideration-money. RAMANAND v. NAKCHED, 8 O.C. 5. (24 M. 288, 25 M. 55, 25 M. 587, R.; 18 A. 200, Diss.) [R., 10 O.C. 69; R. and Expl., 11 O.C. 217.]

(164)—S. 21 (a)—Specific performance—Agreement to pay money in instalments—Suit not maintainable.—A suit for specific performance of an agreement to pay a certain sum of money by instalments is not maintainable, as compensation in money for the non-performance of it is an adequate relief. HUKUM SINGH v. KHUNI LAL, 8 A.L.J. 1282.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(165)—S. 21 (a), ill. (2)—See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT, 1887, sch. II, art. 15, U. B. R. 1908, 3rd Qr., Provincial S.C. Court Act, 3.

(166)—S. 21 (e)—Registration Act (1908), s. 17 (h)—Amalnamah, unregistered—Oral evidence—Admissibility to prove contract—Breach of trust—Contract to sell trust property, whether specifically enforceable.—An unregistered amalnamah and also oral evidence are admissible to prove the terms of an alleged contract, when the object of the suit is to secure specific performance thereof. (6 Ind. Cas. 634 = 11 C.L.J. 548, 6 Ind. Cas. 346 = 12 C.L.J. 25 = 15 C.W.N. 375, 12 C.L.J. 464 = 8 Ind. Cas. 794, Rel. on.) Where it is clear from the amalnama that the parties intended that a proper document should be executed and registered in order to perfect the title of the lessee: Held that, under cl. (h) of s. 17 of the Registration Act, the amalnama was not compulsorily registrable. (16 I.A. 233 = 17 C. 291, R.) Before a decree for specific performance of contract is made, the Court must ascertain whether the contract is specifically enforceable, and one of the elements to be taken into consideration is whether the specific performance of the contract would involve a breach of trust. (1805, 2 Sch. and Lef. 29 = 9 R.R. 98 (1721), 1 Bro. Q.C. 186, 1 W.R. 4, 12 C. 152, 5 Ind. Cas. 236 = 11 C.L.J. 346 = 14 C.W.N. 151, Rel. on.) If the property, intended to be leased, is trust property, and the proposed lease is beyond the authority of the trustee lessor, a Court of equity will not grant specific performance of the contract. MAHOMED ESMAT KHAN v. NUNDA DULAL CHAKRABARTI, 16 Ind. Cas. 390.

(167)—S. 21, last clause—Applicability—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Institution of suit in Presidency town—Ss. 2, 3, 19, Act IX of 1899—Arbitration—Application for stay of suit—Sch. II, s. 18, Civ. Pro. Code (1908).—The last 37 words of s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act do not apply to the agreement to refer to arbitration, in cases where, if the matter submitted to arbitration were the subject of a suit, the suit could have been instituted in a Presidency town. The provisions of the arbitration Act IX of 1899 are applicable to such a case. Held also that, as no application under s. 19 of the Arbitration Act or under s. 18 of the second schedule of the Civ. Pro. Code, was made for stay of suit, the suit was not barred by the last clause of s. 21 of the Specific Relief Act, at the time the suit was instituted. TAPESSIER AND CO. v. NASIR-UD-DIN, 37 P.R. 1912 = 130 P.W.R. 1912 = 15 Ind. Cas. 402.

(168)—S. 21—See Nos. 13, 116, 117, 118, 132, 136, 137, supra.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(169)—Ss. 21 and 30—Suit to enforce award—Specific performance of award.—Where in a suit on an award to recover a certain sum of money allowed by the arbitrator, it was contended among other things that having regard to ss. 21 and 30 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, the plaintiff was not entitled to have the award enforced: Held, that the objection proceeded on the assumption that the suit was one for specific performance, which, in fact, it was not; but it was a suit for the recovery of money and for relief incidental thereto. FARDUNJI v. JAMSEDJI, 5 Bom. L.R. 705=28 B. 1.

(170)—Ss. 21, 39—Mortgage deed executed for fraudulent purpose—Cancellation of—Fraud not effected—Estoppel—Arbitration.—A person, although a party to a fraud, is not debarred from suing for the cancellation of a deed, executed by him, provided the intended fraud has not been carried into effect. MA ME v. MAUNG SIN, U. B. R. 1897, Vol. II, 544. (11 B. 708, 18 B. 372, 23 B. 406, 23 C. 460, 962, 18 M. 378, 20 M. 326, 3 C.W.N. (Notes) CCXXXII, 9 C.L.R. 64, 12 C.L.R. 64, 11 M.I.A. 551 as cited in Field's Law of Evidence 511, 13 M.I.A 551, 585, 600, 6 W.R. 287, 13 W.R. 87, 20 W.R. 112, 21 W.R. 422, 23 W.R. 42, 24 W.R. 391, R.) [R. and F., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 400; R., U.B.R. 1908, 3rd Qr, Benami Transaction 1.]

(171)—Ss. 21, 57—Joint Stock Company if may be restrained from dismissing its Managing Agent—Shareholders of Company if may be restrained from considering proposal of removal of Managing Agents — Injunction — Contract of service.—Under ss. 21 and 57 of the Specific Relief Act, a Limited Liability Company cannot be restrained by injunction from dispensing with the services of Managing Agents, even when the contract of service provides that the Managing Agents are only to be removed in a specified manner and after a specified period. Nor can the share-holders be restrained by injunction from considering the question of such removal at an Extraordinary General Meeting. The remedy of the Managing Agents for dismissal, if wrongful, lies in a suit for damages. SIRCAR v. THE BARABONI COAL CONCERN, LD., 16 C.W.N. 289=13 Ind. Cas. 868. (25 Ch. D. 320, 1883, Rel. on.)

(172)—S. 22—Specific performance—Discretion of Court.—A party cannot call upon a Court of Equity for a specific performance unless he has shown himself ready, desirous, prompt and eager. This rule of law is not in so many words expressed in s. 22 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, but the first paragraph of that section which gives the Court a judicial discretion must be read as implying and including it. The following paragraph of the section which points out the cases in which specific performance may not be decreed is not intended to be exhaustive but merely illustrative of the general principle, which is embodied in the first paragraph. The second clause of the section no doubt contemplates that, as a general rule, the question of the hardship of a contract is to be judged of at the time at which it is entered into but it also contemplates an exception to the general rule in cases where events involving hardship have occurred subsequent to the contract due in some way to the party who seeks specific performance. PEER MAHOMED v. MAHOMED, 6 Bom. L.R. 1013=29 B. 234.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(173)—S. 22—Negative agreement—Breach—Suit for enforcing agreement—Discretion of Court in granting injunction.—This was a suit for obtaining an injunction restraining the defendant from carrying on business as a cutter or tailor for ten years from the date of the plaint agreement between the parties. The defendant was for a long time in the service of the plaintiff, a milliner carrying on business in Bombay, and left his service in 1890, being at that time indebted to him to a large amount. Criminal proceedings were taken against him by the plaintiff and during the time when he was on bail, he was in the service of a rival milliner, T. The plaint agreement was thereupon entered into between the plaintiff and defendant on 1-2-1893 in writing which provided (1) for payment of Rs. 1,950 by the defendant in full satisfaction of the plaintiff's claim, (2) for the defendant entering plaintiff's service as cutter for ten years from date of agreement. The agreement also prevented the defendant from carrying on business as a cutter or tailor, either on his own account or as a partner or servant of another until the expiry of the said period of 10 years in case of the defendant's dismissal from plaintiff's service for any fault before the period had run out. After the criminal proceedings were thrown out, the plaintiff sought to enforce the agreement, because the defendant entered the service of the rival milliner. Hence the suit: Held, that the Court, in the exercise of the discretion given to it under s. 22 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), would not grant the injunction. The parties were not on equal terms, and by refusing to take any action, the Court would relegate the parties to their original position. CALLIANJI HARJIVAN v. NARSI TRICUM, 18 B. 702. [R., 23 B. 103, 5 Bom. L.R. 878.]

(174)—S. 22—Suit and specific performance—Delay of 7 years to bring suit—Limitation—Time wherefrom it runs.—Where there was no time fixed for the execution of a conveyance, time begins to run only from the time when demand was made and performance refused. Even where the plaintiff is guilty of undue delay in instituting a suit for specific performance, the suit will be decreed if it is not shown that the delay has in any way prejudiced the defendant. ABDUL KHADIR v. NAGASARUPU, M.W.N. 1912, 1004=17 Ind. Cas. 399.

(175)—S. 22—Agreement by way of compromise, decree for specific performance of.—This was an appeal by the defendants in the Court below, against an order of that Court decreeing specific performance of an agreement by way of compromise alleged to have been entered into by the defendants on the one side, and by the Collector of Bareilly for the Court of Wards on the other side on behalf of certain minors under the guardianship of the Court of Wards. The Collector had instituted the suit for the specific performance of the compromise alleging that he had performed his part of the agreement by withdrawing from the defence in the suit compromised, and by admitting the claim made by the defendants in that suit, and praying that the defendants be directed to carry out their promise. Defendants contended that even if there had been a completed agreement between the parties, it was void as a nudum pactum for which no consideration had been given, and that the agreement was of such a nature that the Court below in the exercise of its judicial discretion ought to have refused to enforce it. As to the question whether that which the Collector undertook to do under the compromise and actually did do amounted to sufficient consideration, it was held that it should be decided with reference to the state of things at the time irrespective of subsequent events. Though the result of a judicial decision pronounced some years afterwards, showed that the consideration given by the Collector was in the result worthless, that was no reason why the Court should not support the agreement arrived at between the parties. The compromise was a good consideration for the contract at the time when it was entered into, and it might therefore be enforced without any enquiry as to the validity of the claim. In respect of the objection that the lower Court in decreeing specific performance had not exercised its discretion properly, the case of the compromise was held to come under case III in s. 22 of the Specific Relief Act providing that where the "plaintiff has done substantial acts.....the Court may properly exercise a discretion to decree specific performance." The Collector had done the "substantial act," namely, the withdrawal from the defence on behalf of his ward and confessing judgment, and it was, therefore, competent to the Court to have decreed specific performance of the contract under the compromise. SHIB LAL v. THE COLLECTOR OF BAREILLY, 16 A. 423=A.W.N. 1894, 161. [R., 6 Bom. L. R. 1018.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(176)—S. 22—Specific performance of contract—Circumstances under which performance may be refused—Where in a suit for specific performance of a contract, the circumstances under which the contract is made are such as to give the plaintiffs an undue advantage over the defendant, though there may be no fraud, and where the performance of the contract would involve some hardship on the defendant which he did not foresee, whereas its non-performance would involve no such hardship on the plaintiff, held that the Court should exercise its discretion and refuse to grant specific performance of the contract. BALLA MAL v. CHUNNI LAL, 16 A.L.J. 498=17 Ind. Cas. 782. (16 A. 423, R.)

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(177)—S. 22.—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 22, 31 P.R. 1897.

(178)—S. 22—Agreement among rival bidders at Court-sale not to bid against each other—Consideration not unlawful—Contract valid—Suit for specific performance of the contract, maintainability of—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 23, 1 C L J. 85.

(179)—S. 22—See Nos. 117, 133, supra.

(180)—Ss. 22, 56, 57—Injunction—Specific performance—Discretion of Court—Agreement not to work for rival tradesman—Damages.—The plaintiff carried on business in Bombay as milliner and the defendant had been formerly a cutter in the plaintiff's service, but left it in 1890. The defendant was then largely indebted to the plaintiff in respect of moneys not accounted for and also in respect of loans made by the plaintiff to him. The plaintiff instituted criminal proceedings in the Police Court on a charge of criminal breach of trust, and procured a warrant for his arrest. The defendant surrendered and at the time of the agreement hereinafter mentioned, the proceedings in this matter were going on. The defendant was out on bail, and was then in the service of a rival milliner B. On the 1st February, 1893, an agreement in writing was made between the plaintiff and the defendant whereby the defendant agreed as follows:— (1) to pay the plaintiff Rs. 1,950 in full settlement of the plaintiff's claim; (2) to enter the plaintiff's service as cutter and to serve him for ten years from the date of agreement; (3) to serve plaintiff honestly; (4) in case plaintiff was obliged to dismiss him for some "fault," then, until the expiration of the said period of ten years the defendant should not carry on the business of a cutter or tailor either directly or indirectly, on his own account or as partner or servant of another, and in case he should do so, the plaintiff should be at liberty to stop him. On the 15th February, 1893, the charge of criminal breach of trust, which had been brought by the plaintiff against the defendant, was dismissed by the Magistrate, the plaintiff offering no evidence in support of it. The plaintiff subsequently called on the defendant to enter into his employment in accordance with the said agreement, but the defendant refused to do so and remained in the service of B. The plaintiff, therefore, filed this suit praying that the defendant should be restrained by injunction from carrying on business as a cutter or tailor for a period of ten years from the date of the above agreement. The lower Court dismissed the suit. Held, on appeal, that the lower Court was right in refusing either to grant specific performance of the agreement or an injunction against the defendant, but that inasmuch as the lower Court held in its discretion that pecuniary compensation was the plaintiff's remedy, it ought not to have dismissed the suit, but ought either itself to have awarded damages to the plaintiff, or to have ordered an inquiry as to damages. Since the plaintiff was held entitled to a remedy, the appropriate remedy should be awarded. The appellate Court accordingly passed a decree against the defendant and awarded the plaintiff Rs. 10 as nominal damages but without costs. CALLIANJI HARJIVAN v. NARSI TRICUM, 9 B. 764. [R., 26 B. 735.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(181)—S. 23—Right of third party on contract.—The general rule that a person who is not a party to a contract can neither be bound by nor take advantage of it is subject to some marked exceptions. One of such exceptions arises where the agreement in question is a family settlement of doubtful rights. For such exceptions, s. 23, Specific Relief Act, and the case of Williams v. Williams and cases collected in Collett's edition of the Specific Relief Act may be referred to. AVADH SARJU PRASAD SINGH v. SITA RAM SINGH, 1 A. L. J. 329. [R., 3 A.L.J. 785=A.W.N. 1906, 261.]

(182)—S. 23, cl. (b)—Sale—Mortgage—Contract to re-sell—Specific performance.—On the sale of land with an agreement to re-purchase the same within a certain number of years, held, that such agreement does not operate to constitute a mortgage of such land. Although such agreement may not contain an express reservation of the right of re-purchase to the vendor's heirs, yet in the case of the vendor's death his representatives in interest can claim specific performance of the contract to re-sell under s. 23, cl. (b) of the Specific Relief Act. VERAPPA UDIAN v. MAZAN, 1 L. B. R. 25.

(183)—S. 23, cl (c)—Family arrangement—Compromise of doubtful rights—Person beneficially entitled under compromise—Suit to enforce compromise by person not a party thereto.—A suit to set aside a deed of partition between the members of the same family was compromised. By the deed of compromise it was stipulated that certain of the parties to the compromise should pay to the plaintiff Rs. 5000. The plaintiff was not a party to the suit or compromise. Held, that plaintiff, being a person beneficially interested under the compromise, was entitled to sue for the recovery of the money, if the compromise was a compromise of doubtful rights. PROTAP NARAIN MUKERJEE v. SARAT KUMARI DEBI, 5 C. W. N. 386.

(184)—S. 23, cl. (6)—Personal quality of party, material ingredient of contract—Plaintiff to be prompt to perform his part.—Where the personal quality of the party with whom a contract is made, is a material ingredient in the contract, the right to enforce specific performance ceases upon the death of the person with whom the contract is effected. His legal representative is not entitled to claim such right. A party cannot call upon a Court of equity for specific performance unless he shows himself ready, eager and prompt; and the right to specifically enforce the contract would be lost by the party guilty of laches in performing his part of the contract, although time is not mentioned in the contract as the essence of it. MOHENDRA NATH MOOKERJEE v. KALI PROSHAD JOHURI, 30 C. 265=7 C.W.N. 229.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(185)—S. 23 (c)—Partition deed beneficial to minor member of joint Hindu family—His right to sue on the deed—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, A.W.N. 1906, 261=29 A. 37=3 A. L.J. 785.

(186)—Ss. 23, cl. h, 27, cl. e.—Applicability of—See ACT VI OF 1882, s. 45, 13 B. 415.

(187)—S. 24, cl. (b)—Suit by mortgagee to recover mortgage money not a suit for specific performance—Damages arising from failure to pay off a prior mortgagee, separate suit for—Undue influence—Void or voidable contract—Contract Act, ss. 39 and 54—Set-off.—A mortgagee brought a suit to recover his mortgage money, principal and interest, according to the terms of his mortgage bond. It was found that the mortgagee had not paid a portion of the mortgage-money to a prior mortgagee as stipulated in the bond. The defendants, mortgagors, contended that the suit should be considered to be one for specific performance under s. 24, cl. (b) of the Specific Relief Act and that, as the plaintiff mortgagee had failed to perform his part of the contract by not paying off the prior mortgage, the defendants were not bound to carry out their part of the contract, and all that the plaintiff was entitled to recover was the balance of the principal amount found to be actually due and such interest as the Court might consider fair, the provision as to compound interest being unenforceable as having been obtained by undue influence. Held, that this was a suit for recovery of money, based on a mortgage-bond, and could not be regarded as one for specific performance under s. 24 (b) of the Specific Relief Act. Held, further, that there being no evidence of undue influence and the deed not having been shown to be either void or voidable, the provision to pay compound interest according to the terms of the deed must be enforced. Held, also, that the defendants could, in a separate suit, sue the plaintiff mortgagee for recovery of such damages as may have accrued to them owing to the mortgagee not having paid off the prior mortgage. RANI RAGHUBANS KUAR v. RAUNAK ALI, 10 O.C. 69. (8 O.C. 5, 18 M. 126, R.)

(188)—S. 24—See No. 118, supra.

(189)—S. 25 (b).—"Reasonable doubt" what is.—The words "reasonable doubt" in cl. (b) of s. 25 contemplate a reasonable decent probability of litigation. MAHOMEDALLY v. JEHANGIR, 2 Bom. L.R. 59.

(190)—S. 27—Misjoinder of causes of action.—In a suit for the specific performance of an agreement to execute a deed of sale of certain immovable property and for possession of the same which impleaded not only the party to the agreement but also persons who, subsequent to the agreement purchased the property at an execution sale, on the ground that they did so in bad faith with notice of the agreement, held, considering the terms of s. 27 of the Specific Relief Act, that the suit was not necessarily bad for misjoinder of causes of action. GUMANI v. RAM CHARAN, 1 A. 555.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(191)—S. 27—Registration, effect of—Notice.—"Notice" is not defined in the Specific Relief Act. The doctrine of constructive notice has been pushed to its extreme limit in England, and in this country, it requires even more careful application against a purchaser for value. Registration of an ekrarnamah is not sufficient notice of a contract within the meaning of s. 27, Specific Relief Act. PREONATH CHATTOPADHYA v. ASHUTOSH GHOSE, 27 C. 358=4 C.W.N. 490. (23 C. 790, F.; 7 C. 199, Cited.; 15 M. 268, R.; 6 B. 168, Diss.) [Appr., 7 C.W.N.21; Not F., 26 B. 538; Diss., 6 Bom. L.R. 1043.]

(192)—S. 27—Trusts Act, 1882, s. 91—Purchaser with notice of prior contract to sell.—The claim of a vendee with notice of a prior agreement to sell cannot, under s. 27 of the Specific Relief Act, prevail as against the prior promisee's right to specific performance. Further, under s. 91 of the Trusts Act, the vendee must be held to have the property for the benefit of the prior promisee. NAMASIVAYAM PILLAI v. NELLAYAPPA PILLAI, 18 M. 43.

(193)—S. 27—Contract—Agreement to sell—Specific performance of contract—Subsequent sale to other persons under registered deed of sale—Prior equity of plaintiff—Subsequent purchaser to prove purchase for value, bona fide and without notice—Person selling property subject to charge cannot give a higher title to his vendor—Trusts Act (II of 1882), s. 91—'Acquire,' meaning of.—Defendants 1 and 2 agreed to sell their property to the plaintiff. Subsequently, they sold the property to defendants Nos. 3 and 4 under a registered sale-deed. The plaintiff sued defendants Nos. 1 and 2 for specific performance of his contract and to recover possession of the property. The first Court awarded his claim. Held, confirming the decree, that the plaintiff having, under his contract, a prior equity, was entitled to succeed. Where bona fide contract, whether oral or written, is made for the sale of property, and a third party afterwards buys the property with notice of the prior contract, the title of the party claiming under the prior contract prevails against the subsequent purchaser, although the latter's purchase may have been registered and although he has obtained possession under his purchase. Notice before actual payment of the whole of the purchase-money, even although it may have been secured, or before the conveyance is actually executed, is binding in the same manner as notice had before the contract; for although the purchaser had no remedy at law against the payment of the residue, for which he gave his security, yet he would be entitled to relief in equity, on bringing his bill and showing that, though he has given a security for payment of the residue of his purchase-money, yet he had since had notice of an incumbrance, under which circumstances the Court would stop payment of the money due on the security. The word "acquire" in s. 91, Indian Trusts Act, 1882, is quite consistent with the English rule that the purchase should be complete both by payment and conveyance before notice in order to defeat a person having a prior equity. HIMATLAL v. VASUDEO, 14 Bom. L.R. 634=36 B. 446=16 Ind. Cas. 490.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(194)—S. 27—See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, A.W.N. 1883, 159.

(195)—S. 27—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, ss. 17 (h). 50, 27 C. 468.

(196)—S. 27—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 48, 13 M. 324.

(197)—S. 27—See RES JUDICATA—MISCELLANEOUS, 6 C.W.N. 314.

(198)—S. 27—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 54, 60, 24 M. 449.

(199)—S. 27 (b)—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O.I, r. 8 (2), 1 L.B.R. 252.

(200)—S. 27 (b)—Mortgagee with right of pre-emption—Suit by third party for specific performance of contract to sell—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 2 L.B.R. 108.

(201)—S. 24 (b)—Sale by registered deed to one person—Prior verbal sale to another—Notice—See SALE—GENERAL, 4 L.B.R. 26.

(202)—S. 27 (b)—See VENDOR AND PURCHASER—NOTICE, 10 C. 710.

(203)—S. 27—See No. 186, supra.

(204)—S. 28—Specific performance—Contract by mother as guardian of minor—Enforceability.—There is nothing in s. 28 of the Specific Relief Act to support the position that specific performance cannot be decreed against a minor. KRISHNASAMI v. SUNDARAPPAYAR, 18 M. 415=5 M.L.J. 164. [Appr., 27 C. 276.]

(205)—S. 28—Agreement to sell reversionary interest—Purchase-money less than market value of reversion—Specific performance.—It was the rule in England, until the passing of 31 Vic., C. 4, that the Court would not decree specific performance of an agreement to sell a reversionary interest, when the purchase-money was less than the market value of the reversion. Such cannot be held to be the rule in India. No mention of it is found in the Specific Relief Act, and if it had been intended to give effect to it, it should have been found in s. 28 of the Specific Relief Act. GITABAI v. BALAJI KESHAV, 17 B. 232.

(206)—S. 28 (a)—Specific performance—Inadequacy of consideration—Mutuality.—The fact that the consideration is inadequate is not a bar to the granting of specific performance of a contract to sell immoveable property, when the price is not so grossly inadequate as to justify the inference of fraud having been practised. [F., 2 C.L.J. 321.] Quære:—Whether, having regard to the express provision of the Specific Relief Act, the principle of mutuality is one which ought to be recognised here? RAMACHENDRA AIYER v. SUNDRA MURTHI MUDALI, 4 M.L.J. 9.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(207)—S. 30—Maintainability of suit under, to enforce an award made out of Court.—Where a reference to arbitration and an award thereon were made, under proceedings out of Court, during the pendency therein of legal proceedings, it was held, that it was competent for a party to it to enforce the award by means of a suit under the provisions of s. 30 of the Specific Relief Act; and the fact that the matter of the arbitration and the award thereon was kept back from the knowledge of the Court, till the determination of the proceedings pending therein, could make no difference. WATHAWA alias NGA TUN MIN v. NGA PO, U.B.R., 1st Qr., Specific Relief, p. 3. (24 W.R. 41, 4 M.H. C. 119, 15 M. 99, 19 M. 290, 20 M. 490, R.)

(208)—S. 30—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 113, 5 A. 263 = A.W.N. 1883, 16, 16 A. 3 = A.W.N. 1893, 179.

(209)—S. 30—See No. 169, supra.

(210)—S. 31—Contract of tenancy—Suit for rectification.—A party to a contract of tenancy, desiring to have it rectified or altered, must sue under s. 31 of the Specific Relief Act. ANARULLAH SHAIKH v. KOYLASH CHUNDER BOSE, 8 C. 118.

(211)—S. 31 — Mortgage-bond — Mistake unilateral—Rectification, suit for, not mantainable—Specific performance, suit for, proper remedy—Unilateral mistake good defence.—A suit for the rectification of a mortgage-bond on the ground that the share mortgaged has been wrongly described, cannot be maintained as the mistake is only unilateral and not mutual. A mistake on one side may be a ground of defence or a ground for rescinding, but not for correcting or rectifying an instrument. To rectify a contract, where the mistake was unilateral and not mutual, is, in effect, to make for one party a new contract different from what he intended. Where the mistake is only unilateral, a suit for specific performance would be the proper remedy. (Wells, A.J.C., doubting). THAKUR JAWAHIR SINGH v. ARJUN SINGH, 8 O.C. 1.

(212)—S. 31—Terms which the parties to a document intentionally omitted to insert therein—Whether the document may be rectified in respect of such terms.—Where the parties to a contract deliberately omitted certain terms relating to it, from the deed embodying the contract, under the mistaken idea that, though oral and excluded from the deed, those terms could be enforced, to hold that subsequent resiling by one of the parties entitles the other to rectification of the deed would be to depart from the express terms of s. 31 of the Act, to nullify the provisions of s. 92, Indian Evidence Act, and to overlook the presumption that every one is supposed to be acquainted with the law. There can be no rectification, if it was by the intention of the parties that the written instrument did not comprise all the terms of the actual agreement, since that party, who deliberately and gratuitously ran the risk involved in trusting to the other's honour must continue to abide by such previous determination. The Court cannot, and ought not to, interfere for the rectification of such an instrument by the introduction, into it, of the intentionally omitted terms because what is done on purpose is evidently not done by mistake. LATCHMAN RAO v. GANPAT RAO, 2 N.L.R. 49.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(213)—S. 31—Objections by respondent against a party not appellant in the appeal and having distinct interest—Rectification of sale-deed upon which plaintiff's title rests.—A respondent has no right to file objections against a party who is not an appellant in the case and whose interest is entirely distinct from those of the appellants. In a suit for possession, the plaintiff's title to the plots in suit rested upon a sale-deed. Those plots did not appear in the deed, but it was said that, by mistake, other numbers were inserted. Another sale-deed was subsequently executed by the defendant in favour of the plaintiff with the object of rectifying the mistake in the first deed, but the numbers in suit did not appear in the second deed: Held, that the deed, upon which the plaintiff's claim rested, not having been rectified in accordance with the provisions of s. 31 of the Specific Relief Act, the plaintiff's suit was not maintainable. SAJJAD HUSAIN v. BAKAR ALI, 11 O. C. 93. (23 A. 93, 30 C. 655, F.)

(214)—S. 31 — Instrument—Rectification — Mistake—Court—Jurisdiction.—The use of the word "contract" in s. 31 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, is apt to mislead. What the Court has to rectify is the instrument: to do which, it has jurisdiction to ascertain what the real contract was. If that is established, then the instrument purporting to embody it may be rectified. The Court will only act on parol evidence when satisfied that there is no existing writing which contains the original instructions or contract. JIWRAJ v. THE NORWICH ASSURANCE COMPANY, 5 Bom. L. R. 853.

(215)—S. 31—Relief on the ground of mistake—Mutual mistake—Rectification of instruments.—To establish a right to rectification of a document it is necessary to show that there has been either fraud or mutual mistake. To afford a relief on the ground of mutual mistake under the terms of s. 31 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, it is necessary that the Court should find it clearly proved that there was such mistake. It is clear that a person who seeks to rectify a deed upon the ground of mistake must be required to establish, in the clearest and most satisfactory manner, that the alleged intention to which he desires it to be made conformable continued concurrently in the minds of all parties down to the time of its execution, and also must be able to show exactly and precisely the form to which the deed ought to be brought. For there is a material difference between setting aside an instrument and rectifying it on the ground of mistake. In the latter case one can only act upon the mutual and concurrent intention of all parties for whom the Court is virtually making a new written agreement. MADHAVJI v. RAMNATH, 8 Bom. L.R. 354=30 B. 457.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(216)—S. 31—Wrong survey number in mortgage-deed—Rectification of error in decree—Suit for rectification—Rights of third parties—See DECREE—ALTERATION OR AMENDMENT OF DECREE, 8 N.L.R. 13.

(217)—S. 31—See DEED—RECTIFICATION OF DEEDS, 14 C. 308, P.C.=14 I.A. 18.

(218)—S. 31—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 92, proviso 1, 3 L.B.R. 227.

(219)—S. 31—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 93 and 94, 130 P.L.R. 1910=8 Ind. Cas. 554.

(220)—S. 32, proviso—Consequential relief not claimed—Dismissal of suit.—Where a person is forcibly turned out of his house, he is entitled to claim, in addition to a relief for declaration of his right, a relief as to possession. Where he only seeks a declaration, which the Court, in consequence of the proviso to s. 42 is unable to make, the necessary result is that the suit should be dismissed. In such cases no other relief can be granted. KEDAR SAHU v. BHAGWANTI, 8 A.L.J. 462. (28 B. 567, Not F.)

(221)—S. 35—Rescission of contract—Condition of recission.—The condition on which a contract would be rescinded under s. 35 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) is that the plaintiff should be shown to have been less to blame in the transaction than the defendant. It is not sufficient to show that the plaintiff and the defendant were both in pari delicto. HARI BALAKRISHNA v. NARO MORESHWAR, 18 B. 342.

(222)—S. 36—Injunction—Discretion of Court.—It is open to the Court to refuse an injunction where the state of things complained of is the outcome of the plaintiff's own conduct, and where he does not satisfy the Court that his own acts and dealings in the matter have been fair and honest. SEENI CHETTIAR v. SANTHANATHAN CHETTIAR, 20 M. 88, F.B.=6 M. L.J. 281.

(223)—S. 38—Rescission of contract—Contract Act, s. 12.—If a party to a contract seeks to enforce a contract which is void under s. 12 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, on account of the absence of capacity to contract in the other contracting party, it is not permissible to give equitable relief. However, statutory relief can be given under ss. 38 and 41 of the Specific Relief Act when rescission of a contract is asked for on this ground. MONOSSEH v. SHAPURJI, 10 Bom. L.R. 1004.

(224)—S. 38—See MINOR—CONTRACT BY MINOR, 25 C. 616=2 C.W.N. 330.

(225)—Ss. 38, 41—Equity to repay consideration money.—Where money has been advanced to an infant on mortgage with full knowledge of his infancy, a Court can, in the exercise of discretion conferred on it by ss. 38, 41, Specific Relief Act, refuse to order its return by the infant to the other party. A Court of equity cannot say that it is equitable to compel a person to pay any moneys in respect of a transaction which as against that person the Legislature has declared to be void. (Thurston v. Nottingham Permanent Benefit Building Society L.R. (1902), 1 Ch. 1, F.) MOHRI BIBEE v. DHARMODAS GHOSE. 30 C. 539. P.C.=30 I.A. 114=7 C.W.N. 441=5 Bom. L.R. 421=8 Sar. 374. [R., 3 C.L.J. 260, 10 Bom. L.R. 1004, 52 P.R. 1904=85 P.L.R. 1904; F., 33 P.R. 1904; Appr., 28 B. 181=5 Bom. L.R. 916, 1908 A.W.N. 267=5 A.L.J. 674, 1 S.L.R. 221; D., 5 A.L.J. 674.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(226)—Ss. 38, 41—See LUNATIC, 10 Bom. L. R. 1004.

(227)—Ss. 38, 41—See MINOR—GENERAL, 33 P.R. 1904.

(228)—S. 39—Limitation Act, 1877, art. 91—Suit for possession.—A suit for possession of property could not be treated as barred, for the simple reason, that a decree declaratory of the plaintiff's right to have a material document, relating to the property, cancelled, might have been, but was not, sued for, and that such suit had became barred by time under art. 91, Limitation Act. BENI PERSHAD KOERI v. DEEDHANATH ROY, 27 C 156, P.C.=26 I.A. 216=4 C.W.N. 274=7 Sar. 580.

(229)—S. 39—Suit for cancellation of document—Suit based on non-registration of document—Discretion of Court.—In a suit under s. 39 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), the plaintiff, in the lower appellate Court, resiled from the position taken up by him in the first Court to the effect that the instrument in suit was a forgery, and only contended that it was of no avail, for non-compliance with s. 17 of the Registration Act (Act III of 1877). The lower appellate Court dismissed the suit. Held that the exercise of the discretion of a Court under s. 39 of the Specific Relief Act ought not to be interfered with except on strong grounds that the plaintiff had failed to show grounds, for any reasonable apprehension of serious injury within the meaning of the section, and that it was not for a Court acting under the section to go into the question whether the instrument required registration, or would be admissible in evidence. BHAWAR RAI v. JAHANDAR KHAN, A.W.N. 1889, 147. (1 A. 622, R.)

(230)—S. 39—Sale of property with covenant for title—Third party claiming encumbrance—Suit by vendor for cancellation of encumbrance—Maintainbility.—Where the plaintiff sold certain property with a guarantee to his vendees that the property was free from encumbrances, and the defendant, subsequent to the sale, obtained a decree enforcinga mortgage of the same property, a suit by the plaintiff (as vendor) against the defendant to have the deed of mortgage and the decree cancelled on the ground of fraud, was held maintainable under s. 39 of the Specific Relief Act, I of 1877, because the encumbrance set up, if left unchallenged, would affect his pocket (the plaintiff standing in the shoes of the vendee for the purpose of meeting the incumbrance). JHUNA v. BENI RAM, A.W.N. 1885, 192.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(231)—S. 39—Declaratory suit—Court Fees Act, sch, II, art. 17 (iii).—Held, that cases under s. 39 of the Specific Relief Act are in the nature of simple declaratory suits, and are chargeable with Court-fees under sch. II, art. 17 (iii), Court Fees Act. DURGA BAKHSH v. MIRZA MOHAMMAD ALI BEG, 10 C. 123. (5 A. 331, A.W.N. 1889, 124, F.)

(232)—S. 39—Cancellation of instruments—Discretion—Court.—When the exercise of the Court's discretion under Chapter V of the Specific Relief Act is invoked, it is obviously material to see whether the plaintiffs have acted with promptness and whether any delay on their part has altered the position of the defendants, as well as to consider what is the nature of their claim. Held, on the facts of the case, that the plaintiffs had not shown that they had reasonable apprehension that the award in dispute if left outstanding would cause them serious injury, nor was their conduct such as to call for an exercise of the Court's discretion under s. 39 of the Specific Relief Act in their favour. VALLI v. DATTOOBHOY, 2 Bom. L.R. 907=25 B. 10.

(233)—S. 39—Void or voidable instrument, suit for cancelling—Test—Reasonable apprehension of injury.—Under s. 39 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), any person against whom a written instrument is void or voidable, who has reasonable apprehension that such instrument, if left outstanding, may cause him serious injury, may sue for cancellation thereof. The test to be applied in such cases is "reasonable apprehension of serious injury." Whether that exists or not, must depend upon the circumstances of the particular case with which the Court has to deal. It is not a fixed rule of law that a man, who has parted with the property, in respect of which a void or voidable instrument exists, cannot, in any case, sue to have such instrument cancelled. KOTRABASSAPPAYA v. CHENVIRAPPAYA, 23 B. 375.

(234)—S. 39—Landlord and Tenant—Suit for cancellation of deed—Suit for possession—Limitation.—Where a landlord sues a tenant for the cancellation of an instrument under which the latter purports to hold his tenement, and the recovery of possession of the tenement is only put in as a consequential relief, the suit would come within s. 39 or s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, and the relevant article of limitation would be either art. 91 or art. 120 of the Limitation Act. RAJA RAMPAL v. BALBHADAR, 4 Bom. L. R. 832=25 A. 1, P.C=29 I.A. 203=6 C.W.N. 849=8 Sar. 340.

(235)—S. 39—Cancellation of instruments—Another suit.—On the 12th March 1899, C brought a suit against D to recover on a bond passed by D to C: to this suit the defence was that the bond was void being passed for the balance due on wagering transactions. While this suit was pending, D brought a suit on the 13th June 1899, to have the bond mentioned above cancelled and delivered up to him, under the provisions of s. 39 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877: Held, that the form of specific relief under s. 39 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, was founded upon the administration of a protective justice for fear; that, in this case, there could be no fear that D would suffer serious injury if he did not bring the second suit, for the plea which was the foundation of the second action was raised by him in the defence to the first suit, and that, therefore, no necessity for the bringing of the second action had arisen. CHHAGANLAL v. DHONDU, 5 Bom. L. R. 575=27 B. 607.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(236)—S. 39—Suit for cancellation of a forged receipt—Maintainable—Receipt whether on "instrument."—Held that, under s. 39, a suit may be brought for the cancellation of a forged instrument [Vide III, (b)] since, if it is not cancelled and left outstanding, it may cause serious injury. Held also that a receipt is an instrument within s. 39 of the Act. VENKATA SRINIVASACHARLU v. KADAMBI KUNDALAM ANDALAMMA, 7 M.L.T. 270=5 Ind. Cas. 240.

(237)—S. 39—Balance struck in account book, whether a 'written instrument' within s. 39, Specific Relief Act—Suit for cancellation—Reasonable apprehension of injury.—An entry of a balance in an account book binding, as an acknowledgment, the person referred to in it, is a written instrument within the meaning of s. 39 of the Specific Relief Act and such an entry may cause a person professedly bound to reasonable apprehension of serious injury. The question whether a suit for cancellation is maintainable depends on whether, in the particular case, the possible injury is so serious and the apprehension of it so reasonable that the Court ought to allow the suit. In the present case, the suit was not justified by reasonable apprehension of serious injury, and if the first Court had exercised its discretion and refused to enquire into the case on the merits it would have acted rightly. As, however, that Court had gone into the merits and come to a distinct finding on them, the appellate Court was held to be not justified in rejecting the suit in limine. Where the first Court has gone into the merits of the case and come to a finding in favour of a party, such party is entitled to ask that his suit should not be dismissed without a consideration of the merits by the appellate Court. GAUSA v. GANGA RAM, 12 P.R. 1890.

(238)—S. 39—Burden of proof—Suit for cancellation of document on the ground of forgery—Defendant bound to prove—Presumption against misconduct—Non-applicability—Evidence Act, ss. 102, 114.—Where a person institutes a suit under s. 39 of the Specific Relief Act, to have a bond purporting to have been executed by him adjudged a forgery and delivered up for cancellation, held that the onus of proof in the strict sense of the term is on the defendant, inasmuch as the defendant would fail if no evidence at all were given on either side (s. 102 of the Evidence Act). (3 C.P.L.R. 159, 7 C. 736, R.). There is no doubt a general presumption against misconduct of all kinds, but the value of this cannot but be small where the misconduct alleged is the very foundation of the suit. MAHADEO v. VITHOBA, 9 N.L.R. 8=18 Ind. Cas. 853. (1 N.L.R. 169, R.).

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(239)—S. 39—Sale-deed — Consideration—Non-payment or inadequacy of—No ground for cancellation.—The non-payment or inadequacy of the consideration mentioned in a sale-deed is not sufficient to justify the cancellation of the deed of sale. KILARU KOTTAYYA v. POLAVARAPU MALLAYYA, 13 M.L.T. 521=M.W.N. 1913, 637=19 Ind. Cas. 746.

(240)—S. 39—Suit to set aside an award, maintainability of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1882, ch. XXXVII, 3 L.B.R. 4.

(241)—S. 39, suit under—Whether which party is in possession, if material—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, U.B.R. 1905, Civ. Pro. Code, 36.

(242)—S. 39—See COURT FEES, A.W.N. 1889, 124.

(243)—S. 39—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 7. IV, cl. (c), 5 A. 331=A.W.N. 1883, 55.

(244)—S. 39—Suit for cancellation of a document—Valuation—Court-fee payable on plaint in such suit—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 7, para 4, cl. (c) and art. 17, sch. II, 29 B. 207 =6 Bom. L.R. 1125.

(245)—S. 39—Proceedings before District Registrar ordering registration of document—Civil suit to cancel the document—Maintainability—See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—SUITS CONCERNING DOCUMENTS, 7 C. 736=9 C.L.R. 471.

(246)—S. 39—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 3 Bom. L.R. 682.

(247)—S. 39—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 91, 5 A. 322=A.W.N. 1883, 49.

(248)—S. 39—Suit for cancellation of sale-deed as a sham—Cause of action—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 91, 15 M.L.J. 228=28 M. 349.

(249)—S. 39—Suit for declaration that a deed is inoperative—Cause of action—Limitation—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 91, 5 Ind. Cas. 497.

(250)—S. 39—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 5 Bom. L.R. 575.

(251)—Ss. 39, 40—See PARTITION—MISCELLANEOUS, 44 P.R. 1894.

(252)—Ss. 39 and 40—See PLAINT—AMENDMENT OF PLAINT, 186 P.R. 1882.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(253)—Ss. 39, 42—Cancellation of instrument—Declaration of title—Sale-deed executed—Executant cannot obtain declaration of his title unless he gets the deed set aside.—The executant of a sale-deed cannot obtain a declaration of his title to the property sold, unless and until he first gets the sale-deed set aside. PANNA BIBI v. HABIBA, 6 Ind. Cas. 891.

(254)—Ss. 39 and 42—Secondary evidence of a document the loss of which is not proved—Right of mortgagee in possession—Cancellation of leases by mortgagor.—A mortgagee brought a suit under s. 39, Act I of 1877, for cancellation of leases executed by the mortgagor in favour of certain persons. A certified copy of the deed of mortgage was filed by the plaintiff. Having failed to prove the conditions and terms of the mortgage, the plaintiff in appeal admitted that the prayer under s. 39, Act I of 1877, could not be maintained, and prayed for a decree under s. 42, that the documents were not binding on him: Held, that having failed to prove the conditions of the mortgage which according to the plaint entitled the plaintiff to a decree for the cancellation of the lease under s. 39, Act I of 1877, he was not entitled to a mere declaratory decree under s. 42 of that Act, based solely on his admitted status as mortgagee, irrespective of the conditions and terms of the mortgage, and to the effect that the leases, having been executed by the mortgagor subsequent to the mortgage, were not binding on him. ASHGAR HUSAIN v. DURGA, 1 O.C. 18.

(255)—Ss. 39, 42—Declaratory decree—Principle to be followed in giving such decrees—Cancellation of an instrument where allowable.—Under s. 39 of the Specific Relief Act, the mere fact that a person executes a deed by which he purports to convey to another property which in fact belongs to himself but is in the possession of a third party would not give such third party a cause of action for a suit for the cancellation of the instrument in question. Under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, the granting of a declaratory decree is a matter of discretion with the Court and such discretion would not be properly exercised by giving a declaration about a mere truism in law. NARENDRA BAHADUR SINGH v. BASUDEO MISRA, 14 Ind. Cas. 81. (17 C. 933=17 I.A. 107, R.).

(256)—Ss. 39, 42—Suit for declaration that a document is void—Possession—Discretion—Appeal filed where no appeal lay—Cross objections—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 22, 8 A.L.J. 1297.

(257)—Ss. 39 and 42—See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR — GENERAL, 1 O.C. Sup. 5.

(258)—S. 40—Interest necessary to support suit.—A person who has assigned all his interest in property, cannot maintain a suit for the cancellation of a document apparently executed by him and affecting the same property. IYYAPPA v. RAMALAKSHMAMMA, 13 M. 549. [R., 23 B. 375, 1 O.C. 175.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(259)—S. 40—Suit for cancellation of instrument—Power of Court to cancel same in part.—Where a suit is instituted for the cancellation of án instrument it is competent to the Court to cancel the instrument in part and allow it to stand for the rest. KHUB SINGH v. JHAU LAL, 12 C.P.L.R. 13.

(260)—S. 40—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 56, 7 C. 474=8 C.L.R 501.

(260-a)—S. 40—See Nos. 251, 252, supra.

(261)—S. 41—Cancellation of instrument—Compensation to injured party.—The ruling in Mohori Bebee v. Dhurmodas Ghose (5 Bom. L.R. 421) proceeds upon the principle that a Court of Equity cannot say that it is equitable to compel a person to pay any moneys in respect of a transaction which against that person the legislature has declared to be void. That decision is also an authority for the proposition that the circumstances of a particular case may be such, that having regard to s. 41 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, the Court may, on adjudging the cancellation of an instrument, require the party to whom such relief is granted to make any compensation to the other which justice may require. DATTARAM v. VINAYAK, 5 Bom. L.R. 916=28 B. 181.

(262)—S. 41—Rescission of contract—Equitable relief.—If a party to a contract seeks to enforce a contract which is void under s. 12 of the Contract Act, 1872, on account of the absence of capacity to contract in the other contracting party, it is not permissible to give equitable relief. However, statutory relief can be given under ss. 38 and 41 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, when rescission of a contract is asked for on this ground. MONOSSEH v. SHAPURJI, 10 Bom. L.R. 1004.

(263)—S. 41—Sale by minor vendee deceived and acting in good faith—Refund of purchase-money—Equity—Ss. 64, 65, Contract Act.—Plaintiff, when within 39 days of being sui juris, sold some land for Rs. 400 to the defendant, who was not aware that the vendor was an infant, but was deceived and acted in good faith. In a suit for possession of the land, held that plaintiff was liable to refund the purchase-money as a condition precedent to obtaining a decree for possession. The fact that ss. 64 and 65 of the Contract Act do not apply to the facts of this case does not exclude the application of s. 41 of the Specific Relief Act and the rule of equity therein contained. BALUK RAM v. DADN, 76 P.R. 1910=112 P.W.R. 1910=98 P.L.R. 1910. (26 A. 342, 28 B. 181, 30 C. 539, 31 A. 21, F.)

(264)—S. 41—Instrument executed by minor—Cancellation—Plea for compensation not taken in first Court—Second appeal—High Court's discretion to remand case for determination of question of compensation.—The policy of law is not to encourage persons to take transfers and alienations from minors. A sale-deed was executed by minors, who afterwards sued for the cancellation of sale-deed and possession. In the first Court the defendants did not raise the plea that they were entitled to compensation under s. 41 of the Specific Relief Act. This point was, therefore, not gone into by the first Court, nor was the evidence taken upon it. The plea was taken in appeal before the District Judge for the first time, but he also did not consider it: Held, under the circumstances, that the High Court did see no reason in second appeal to remand the case to the lower Court for determination of the question of compensation. GOKUL v. KARAN SINGH, 8 Ind. Cas. 782.

(265)—S. 41—Minor—Mortgage by de facto guardian—Existence of just debt by deceased father—Invalidity of mortgage—Restoration of benefit received by father — Not allowed—Muhammadan Law—Compensation to defendant—When granted.—Where a minor sued for the cancellation of a mortgage made after his father's death by his paternal uncle as his de facto guardian in order to pay off a just debt incurred by the father. Held that the paternal uncle had no authority, as the de facto guardian, to make the mortgage. Where the father himself, during his lifetime, did not charge the land in his possession with the payment of that debt, there was no legal liability enforcible against the minor plaintiff or against the estate in his hand to pay his father's debt, and he should not be compelled to restore the amount of his father's debt to the defendant before he is granted any relief (144 P.R. 1883, 4 P.R. 1913, F. B. and 74 P.R. 1910, R.) Under s. 41, Specific Relief Act, the Court has ample power, on adjudging a cancellation of a mortgage debt in favour of the plaintiff, to require the latter to make any compensation to the other which justice may require. But where the defendant, as in his instance, has been in possession of the land for the last 12 years and has been enjoying its produce during that time, and has been sufficiently compensated, nothing further can reasonably be demanded of the plaintiff as compensation to the defendant. CHOGHATTA v. ASA MAL, 30 P.R. 1913=17 Ind. Cas. 371.

(266)—S. 41—Contract by minor—Suit upon contract—Restoration of benefit—Costs—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 11, 64, 65, 9 Ind. Cas. 124=4 S.L.R. 250.

(267)—S. 41—Applicability—Promissory note—Minority—See MINOR—GENERAL, 8 A.L.J. 1058.

(268)—S. 41—See Nos. 225, 226, 227, supra.

(268-a) S. 42—See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR.

(269)—S. 42—Scope of section.—Where the right is of a remote and speculative nature, s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act does not apply. NAIPAL v. BACHANI, A.W.N. 1886, 140.

(270)—S. 42, application of.—Held that the proviso to s. 42 of the Act would not bar a suit for a declaration, in a case where the Civil

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

Court, if the plaintiff was found to be out of possession, was not competent to grant consequential relief in the shape of a decree for possession as a tenant at fixed rates. BRIJ BHUKHAN v. DURGA DAT, 20 A. 258=A.W.N. 1898, 41.

(271)—S. 42—Declaratory decree — When may be granted.—The plaintiffs, zemindars, got possession of the suit land from the defendant (the tenant), because the latter cut down the trees on the land contrary to the terms of the tenancy. The defendant took proceedings under s. 95, cl. (n), of Act XII of 1881 (Rent Act) and made an application to the Revenue Court to be replaced in possession, and the latter Court made an order awarding possession to him, but he did not take any steps to execute the order. Thereupon, the plaintiffs instituted the present suit in the Civil Court for a declaration of their right to the land in suit and for the setting aside of the Revenue Court's order awarding possession to the defendant. The defendant contended that the suit was not maintainable under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, I of 1877. Held, allowing the contention of the defendant, that the suit could not be maintained. S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, I of 1877, is intended to provide a remedy only where no other remedy exists. The order of the Revenue Court awarding possession to the defendant did not affect the plaintiffs' right, and it was open to the latter to bring a suit to eject the defendant without resorting to the extreme legislation of s. 42 of Act I of 1877. Moreover, the defendant did not put the Revenue Court's decree in force, and so long as he did not put it in force, the plaintiffs might remain in possession of the land. And even if he puts his decree in force, the questions between the parties might be tried by instituting proceedings under s. 35 of the Rent Act or by an action in the Civil Court. RAM DIHAL v. UDASI, A.W.N. 1885, 176.

(272)—S. 42—Declaratory relief under, when granted by Courts—Cause of action.—The declaratory relief contemplated by s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, I of 1877, is to be given to the person seeking it only when no other kind of relief is available to him. The proviso to the section means that the declaration is not to be made unless it is necessary for the ends of justice. So, where the reversioners of a Hindu widow (who inherited her husband's property as his heir) sued for a declaration that a mortgage executed by her deceased husband had been paid off (the suit having been brought at a time when the mortgagee, having obtained a decree on the mortgage, attached the mortgaged property in execution), held that there was no cause of action for the suit, and that it could not be maintained under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, because it was open to the plaintiffs either to set up their case when the mortgage decree was sought to be executed, or if they fail, to bring a regular suit by way of appeal. JHARI SINGH v. GANGA KUMAR, A.W.N. 1885, 215.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(273)—S. 42 — Declaratory suit—Cause of action.—There were two brothers J and H. J had a son D, the plaintiff. H had two sons, the defendants in the suit. J and H were possessed of self-acquired shares in certain villages. In 1875, J applied to the Revenue Court that the name of his son D might be recorded in respect of his villages, and the petition went on to say that, as D was of weak intellect, any sale or mortgage that he might execute without the permission of his cousins should be invalid and that, upon his death, his cousins should be entitled to succeed to the property. Both J and D were examined before the Revenue officer who disposed of the petition, and, in the result, D's name was recorded with the name of H's sons as owners of an eight-annas share in the villages. Then, in 1885, D of his own motion and without being instigated by any other person, went before the Revenue authorities and applied for the amendment of the khewat and the jamabandis by a separate record of his name being made in respect of four annas out of the eight annas share. Nothing was done by the defendants before the application to throw a cloud upon the right asserted by D. The Revenue officer passed orders that until steps were taken by D, for a partition of the property, so that the share might be ascertained, no such amendment could be made. Treating this order as the ground for a suit, plaintiff came to the Civil Court and sought relief against the defendants in the shape of a declaratory decree. Held, that no sufficient materials were shown on the face of the plaint to entitle the plaintiff to come into Court for a declaratory decree, that nothing was described as having been done by the defendants in contravention of the rights which the plaintiff asserted and that those rights were never denied before suit. Held, further, that even if there were a cause of action, the suit would still fail, because the plaintiff could have sought further and better relief than a bare declaration and he might have gone and could even go and ask the Revenue Court for partition of the immoveable property. BAIJ NATH v. DUDH NATH, A.W.N. 1886, 93.

(274)—S. 42—Butwara proceedings after private partition—Declaratory decree, nature.—A declaratory decree, simply declaring that the plaintiff's lands are separate, without at the same time determining where those lands are, and how they are bounded, is not warranted by the provisions of s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. Under that section, the plaintiff can only obtain a declaratory decree with reference to specific property. CHURAMAN SINGH v. ANOOP SINGH, 11 C.L.R. 533.

(275)—S. 42—Suit for declaration.—The grantee of a village from a Zamindarni had the grant made to him ratified by her successors. He then applied to the Collector for separate registration of the village in his name according to the terms of the grant and the ratification. The Collector registered his village separately, but, on appeal to Government, the separate registration and assessment was ordered to be cancelled. The grantee now sued the Secretary of State for a declaration that the Government's order directing the cancellation of the separate registration and assessment was illegal and ultra vires. Long before the suit, the order of Government had been carried out by the Collector. Held, in these circumstances and with reference to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, that a suit for a declaration did not lie. The plaint contained also a prayer "for such other relief as the circumstances of the case may require," and even if this could be held to refer to a prayer for consequential relief, the suit was bad for non-joinder, as in such a suit the zemindar was a necessary party. FISCHER v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 19 M. 292 [Reversed, 22 M. 270, P. C., 26 I.A. 16=3 C.W.N. 161.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(276)—S. 42, Specific Relief Act—"Legal character," scope of.—The words "legal character" are wide enough to include the right of franchise and also the right of being elected as a Municipal Commissioner. SABHAPAT SINGH v. ABDUL GAFFUR, 24 C. 107.

(277)—S. 42—Suit under—Parties.—A stranger to a contract, of which specific performance is sought, cannot be a party to the suit. LUCKUMSEY OOKERDA v. FAZULLA CASSUMBHOY, 5 B. 177.

(278)—S. 42—Declaratory decree—Discretion of Court—Judicial exercise of discretion.—Held that, where an appellate Court in a suit brought by a minor for declaration that a sale made by the minor's mother of property which had come to her from her father was void as against the minor, dismissed the suit without going into the merits thereof solely on the ground that it appeared to be collusive, this was not a judicial exercise of the discretion given to the Court by s. 42 of Act I of 1877, but that the Court ought to have heard the appeal on the merits. JHANDU v. RAMJI LAL, A.W.N. 1895, 148.

(279)—S. 42—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 578—Declaratory decree—Improper or irregular exercise of discretionary power—Objection thereto.—An improper or irregular exercise of the discretionary power conferred on a Court by s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act does not, in itself, constitute a sufficient ground for the reversal of a decree which is not open to any objection upon the ground of jurisdiction or of the merits of the rights of the parties. Such an error is covered by s. 578, Civ. Pro. Code. MUHAMMAD MAHSHUK ALI KHAN v. KHUDA BAKHSH, 9 A. 622=A.W.N. 1887, 226. (8 A. 365, R.) [R., 6 O.C. 324.]

(280)—S. 42—Grant of declaratory decrees under—Discretionary with Courts—Inherent power in Courts to stay or dismiss vexatious suits—Court-fees Act—Plaints for mere declaration ad valorem fees not leviable on.—One, D, was the common ancestor, through whom the parties to this suit traced their relationship. His eldest son, who was the last holder of the Zemindari, succeeded him as Zemindar and died, having adopted his daughter's son, the second defendant, and leaving a will in his favour. The third and fourth defendants were the sons of a deceased son of D. The first defendant was a surviving son of D and plaintiff was the son of the first defendant. In the present suit plaintiff prayed for the following declaration:—(1) that the will in favour of the second defendant was not binding on him; (2) that the adoption of the second defendant was not valid and (3) that the proceedings in a previous litigation in which the plaintiff's father, the present first defendant, had unsuccessfully disputed the said adoption were not binding on the plaintiff. As to the prayer in respect of the will, held, on the plaintiff's own allegations, the will would be but a brutum fulmen so far as his rights were concerned. It might be that, if the will were not declared invalid, it could be used as a piece of evidence against the plaintiff's case, that the estate was inalienable; but the bringing into existence of any and every piece of evidence against the plaintiff's rights could not entitle him to get relief by way of declaration (31 I.A. 67, R.) As to the adoption, the prayer for a declaration that it was not valid was equally unsustainable. Where the conditions warranting the validity of the adoption were in truth wanting, but the party alleging the adoption pretends that those conditions existed, a person, whose rights would in law be affected by the adoption so set up, will have the right to sue for, and obtain, a declaration that that adoption was invalid in order that the cloud sought by the adoption to be cast upon the plaintiff's title might be removed. But, in the present case, the transaction of gift and acceptance in adoption of the second defendant was so totally nugatory and ineffective in relation to the Zemindari, that it would be futile to make the subject of judicial investigation for the purposes of the grant of specific relief by way of declaration. As to the remaining prayer in respect of the prior litigation, plaintiff hereby seeks to re-open questions definitely settled by decisions pronounced upon the amplest materials and after the most careful consideration, during litigation covering three-quarters of a century and comes forward with fictitious allegations invented to bolster up a totally baseless claim which is liable to be dismissed as vexatious. When a Court of competent jurisdiction holds that a suit has been instituted vexatiously, it is competent for the Court to stay the suit or to dismiss it without proof, in exercise of the Court's inherent power to prevent abuse of its process. On the question of court-fees payable on the plaint in this suit, held, upon the face of the plaint, it is one for a mere declaration and the proper stamp-duty is that due in respect of the declarations sought for and not the ad valorem duty calculated with reference to the value of the Zemindari, the property in regard to which the declarations are sought. VIJAYASAWMY THEVAR v. SASIVARNA THEVAR, 15 M.L.J. 469=28 M. 560.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(281)—S. 42—Right to relief of declaration under, whether affected by delay in suing.—Inasmuch as a period of limitation has been prescribed even for suits where the grant of the relief sought is within the discretion of the Court, mere lapse of time short of the period of limitation should ordinarily be held not to be a good ground by itself for refusing such relief. So, where a Court finds that a mortgage in question in the suit is not binding on the plaintiffs therein, it ought to give them a declaratory decree to that effect, and not refuse the same on the ground of a delay of some years in bringing the suit filed, however, within the prescribed period of limitation. ATHIKARATH NANU MENON v. ERATHANIKAT KOMU NAIR, 21 M. 42.

(282)—S. 42—Dismissal of declaratory suit under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act—Subsequent suit for possession—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 43.—S. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code does not apply so as to bar a suit for recovery of possession of land in relation to which the plaintiff had previously brought a suit under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act for a declaration of title, which suit had been dismissed on the ground that the plaintiff was not in possession. MOHAN LAL v. BALASO, 14 A. 512=A W.N. 1892, 80. (8 C. 819, F.) [R., 7 C.P.L.R. 63, 17 A. 174.]

(283)—S. 42—Crim. Pro. Code (Act V of 1898), s. 146—Order under, effect on possession—Suit by one party against the other for declaration, if lies—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 42.—Where, in a proceeding under s. 145, Crim. Pro. Code, between the plaintiff and the defendants, the Magistrate being unable to decide which party was in possession passed an order under s. 146 of the Code, and appointed the Collector as Receiver to take possession of the land. Held, that the plaintiff was justified in instituting a suit for declaration of title against the defendants and was not bound to ask for recovery of possession of the land. The suit was therefore not bad under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. THE ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. BHAGWAN CHANDRA RAY CHAUDRY, 15 C.W.N. 758.

(284)—S. 42—Declaratory decree—Denial of title to specific rights—Under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, I of 1877, any person whose title to any right as to any property is denied can sue for a declaration of his title and may obtain a declaration of his title if he does not omit to seek further relief which he may be able to seek. KALIDAS JIVRAM v. GOR-PARJORAM HIRJI, 16 B. 309.

(285)—S. 42—Denial of plaintiff's title—Cause of action—Declaratory suit—Agreement—Document of legal value—Nudum pactum.—A suit for the declaration of an abstract right cannot be maintained. There must be some infringement or threatened infringement of the plaintiff's right. The plaintiff must allege and prove a denial of his right before his plaint is filed; the cause of action must be antecedent to the suit, and not subsequent. An agreement between representative Hindus and Mahomedans, by which the Hindus undertook to stop the playing of musical instruments during their festivals, and the Mahomedans promised that there would be no dispute about the slaughter of cows, cannot be interpreted as a denial of the title of a Mahomedan to slaughter cows, so as to enable him to maintain his suit for a declaration of his title. Some Mahomedans signed a document in which they promised that they would not create any quarrel or disturbance or litigation in connection with the sacrifice of cows; Held, that the document was a mere nudum pactum of no legal force or efficiency. MAHOMED YAKUB v. MANGRU RAI, 7 Ind. Cas. 318.

(286)—S. 42—Title and possession—Suit for declaration of, as to possession only.—A person who alleges title as well as possession cannot be allowed to ask for a declaration as to his possession only as it would leave the real matter of dispute, i.e., the question of title undealt with and undisposed of. MUTA ALI v. MEHTAB RAI, 48 P.R. 1892.

(287)—S. 42—Suit for declaration of fact of plaintiff's possession—Absence of allegation of plaintiff's title.—S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act will not admit of a plaintiff asking for a declaration, not that he had any title in the ordinary sense of the word to the property in dispute, but merely that he was in possession of it and that he was entitled to the legal benefits and consequences of such possession, not against all the world, but merely against the defendant who had no title. SAYAD BADR-UD-DIN v. SAYAD ABDUL KARIM, 12 P.R. 1888, F.B. [R., 48 P.R. 1892.]

(288)—S. 42—Declaration—Denial of title—Practice and procedure.—S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act entitles a person to institute a suit against any person denying or interested to deny his title to such character or right as the section describes. Hence, where there has been no denial no suit for declaration can be instituted. CHINTAMAN v. MAHADEV, 6 Bom. L.R. 283.

(289)—S. 42—Rent-decrees obtained by defendant against plaintiff's tenants, if amount to dispo session—Throwing cloud on title—Declaratory suit, proper remedy.—Where the plaintiff sued for declaration of title to certain lands, alleging that the same were in possession of his tenants, but that the defendant had thrown a cloud on his title by recovering rent-decrees against some of the tenants:—Held, that the plaintiff could not in this suit ask for any further relief than a mere declaration of title, and was proceeding in the right manner in suing for declaration of title only. SATISH CHUNDER BHUTTACHARYA v. SATYA CHURN MAJUMDER, 14 C.W.N. 576=5 Ind. Cas. 531. (13 C. 147, 15 M. 307, 26 C. 11, Rel.)

(290)—S. 42—Suit for declaration of title by zamindar against tenants who had got their own names recorded as owners in the khewat—Further relief for ejecting tenants not asked—Suit not barred—Agra Tenancy Act (Local, II of 1901), s. 56—Ejectment—Verbal denial of landholder's title by tenants.—Defendants, who were occupancy tenants of a certain grove land, managed to have their own names recorded in the khewat as proprietors in respect of the plot of land. The zamindar sued for a declaration of his title. Defence was that the suit was barred by the proviso to s. 42, Specific Relief Act, inasmuch as the plaintiff had omitted to ask for the further relief of ejectment of the defendants. Held, that the mere fact that the tenants had got their names recorded in the khewat and had thereby denied the landholder's title, did not give the landholder a right to sue for ejectment in a Civil Court (21 A. 143, R.) and that the suit was not barred by the proviso to s. 42, Specific Relief Act, as no further relief under the circumstances could have been asked for by the zamindar.—Obiter dicta.—Tenants cannot be objected otherwise than under the provisions of s. 56, Agra Tenancy Act (II of 1901). A mere verbal denial of landholder's authority by tenant is not sufficient ground for ejectment under the Act. INAYAT ULLAH KHAN v. KHUDA BAKSH, 1 Ind. Cas. 635.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(291)—S. 42—No prayer for possession of land of which plaintiffs were not in possession-Punjab Tenancy Act (XVI of 1887), s. 98 (1)—Suit under, for a declaration of title.—B died leaving his properties by his will to his brothers, the plaintiffs, and his sons, the defendants. On the death of B, mutation was effected in favour of the sons, and the plaintiffs who were in possession of a certain land were recorded as tenants-at-will in respect of it. The defendants got a notice of ejectment issued against the plaintiffs. The brothers then sued in the Revenue Court to contest the notice of ejectment, and the Revenue Court directed them to establish their title in a Civil Court, under s. 98 (1) of the Punjab Tenancy Act. The plaintiffs accordingly sued for a declaration that the will was valid and that the defendants had no right to oust them from the land of which they (the plaintiffs) were in possession. Held, that the proviso to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act was no bar to the suit, since the plaintiffs' suit related to the validity of the will, only so far as it referred to the lands with regard to which the Revenue Court directed them to have their title established, and the fact that there were other properties covered by the will, of which possession was not asked for did not affect the question at issue at all. BISHAN DASS v. MASSU, 82 P. R. 1909=130 P. W. R. 1909=3 Ind. Cas. 600=143 P. L. R. 1909, (182 P. R. 1883. 12 P. R. 1899, 16 B. 608; 28 B. 567, R.)

(292)—S. 42—Suit for declaring that a customary right does not exist—Maintainability—Cause of action.—A suit for a declaration that a customary right does not exist entitling the defendants to take a certain portion of the fruit crops in a certain grove cannot be maintained under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877). Such a suit was held to have no cause of action. CHANDAN SAHU v. RAM PRASAD SINGH, A. W. N. 1885, 293.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(293)—S. 42—Suit for declaration of invalidity of marriage between co-defendants, whether maintainable.—In a suit by the brothers and uncle of second defendant for a declaration that her (2nd defendant's) marriage with the 1st defendant, which admittedly took place with the usual ceremonies, but with the consent only of the maternal grandfather of the girl, was null and void, held, that the suit must be dismissed on the ground that the plaintiffs had no locus standi, they being not entitled to such a declaration under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, inasmuch as the declaration sought, if granted, would be inoperative as regards the persons whom it would profess to affect as any decree obtained by third parties with reference to the marriage of the co-defendants would not make the question a res judicata in any future suit between themselves. Whatever may be the effect, as a judgment in rem under s. 41 of the Evidence Act, of a decree passed in a suit between Hindus and Muhammadans to have a marriage declared valid or invalid, such a decree should only be passed when the suit is instituted by one party to the marriage against the other party to it. SOHEL SINGH v. MT. SADI, 99 P.R. 1888.

(294)—S. 42—Suit by the plaintiff for a declaration that the defendant is not his lawful wife—Crim. Pro. Code (Act V of 1898), s. 488.—A suit by a person against whom an order for maintenance in favour of defendant has been made by a Magistrate under s. 488 of the Crim. Pro. Code, is maintainable in a Civil Court for a declaration that the defendant is not his wife. MUSSAMMAT BAKHAN v. ALA BAKHSH, 100 P.L.R. 1903=26 P.R. 1903. (21 P.R. 1894 (Cr.), 18 A. 29, 20 W.R. 58 (Cr.), 41 P.R. 1876, R.)

(295)—S. 42—Suit for declaration of the invalidity, on the ground of fraud, of an arbitration award and of decrees based thereon—No further relief claimed—Suit held to be maintainable.—The plaintiff brought her suit to have an arbitration award, alleged to have been made on the basis of an invalid agreement, declared null and void as against her; that if for any reason the award, so far as it related to the two suits referred to as Nos. 2 and 9 of 1899, be considered binding upon the plaintiff, the remaining portion of the arbitration award might be held invalid as against the plaintiff; also that the decrees which had been passed in the suits Nos. 2 and 9 of 1899 might be declared invalid. No further relief was claimed, nor did it appear that for the present in that suit any further relief could be claimed by the plaintiff. The basis of the suit was the allegation that the plaintiff's consent to the arbitration had been obtained by fraud. Held that s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act had no application to such a suit and that under the circumstances the suit was maintainable. GOMTI KUNWAR v. DARAB KUNWAR, A.W.N. 1902. 187. (7 A. 884, D.; 218 A. 9, R.)

Advocate High Court
Jammu & Kashmir

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(296)—S. 42—Suit for a bare declaration that he was entitled to collect debts due to the estate of a deceased, a succession certificate having been granted to another.—Plaintiff, alleging that he was the undivided paternal uncle of one S, deceased, brought this suit for declaration that he was entitled to collect the plaint mentioned debts payable to S in respect of which debts defendant, widow of S, had already obtained a succession certificate authorising her to collect them. Overruling the decision of the Court of first instance that, inits discretion, it ought to refuse to make the declaration, asked for, held, there is no reason for refusing to grant a decree merely on the ground that the plaintiff asks for a mere declaration that he was entitled to collect the debts and asked for nothing else. It might be that he required nothing more and in those circumstances to refuse to make the decree asked for would be a denial of the justice and the suit as framed was maintainable under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. CHINNAPPA CHETTIAR v. THULASI AMMAL, 15 M.L.J. 399.

(297)—S. 42—Suit for declaration of abstract right—Cause of action—Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889), s. 8.—Where a Hindu widow applied for a succession certificate to enable her to collect the debts of her deceased husband and was opposed by the next reversioners, upon the ground that they had no objection to her enjoying only the interest on the money during her life, and an order to that effect was passed, whereupon she brought a suit for declaration that she was entitled to the whole sum of money, held, that the suit was maintainable ; the limitation upon her power to get in the money, having been placed at the instance of the reversioners. KESHO RAM SINGH v. RAM KUAR, 7 A.L.J. 311 = 5 Ind. Cas. 593 = 32 A. 316.

(298)—S. 42—Act VIII of 1859, s. 15—Power to adopt—Declaration, suit for, that power is invalid—Maintainability.—S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act has been substituted for s. 15 of Act VIII of 1859. No suit will lie by a reversionary heir for a declaration that a certain letter, alleged to have been written by the deceased husband of the widow, giving the widow authority to adopt a son, is a forgery, and for an injunction restraining the adoption. RUN BAHADUR SINGH v. MUSSUMUT LUCHO COOWAR, 4 C.L.R. 270. (1 Boul. 137, F.)

(299)—S. 42—Suit for declaration that defendant is not adopted son—Who can bring suit.—A suit to set aside an adoption made by a Hindu widow could only be brought by the nearest reversioner. It is only when he colludes or refuses without sufficient cause to sue that more distant heirs can sue. (10 B.H.C. 351, 8 I.A. 14, R.) The principle of this rule is that every declaratory decree must be ancillary to some consequential relief obtainable thereby, and it is plain that no such relief is possible in the case of distant and contingent, and not presumptive reversionary heirs. (2 I.A. 169.) And also because a mere contingency, which confers no present or certain interest, will not suffice as a basis for such a declaration. The grant of relief in declaratory suits being not a matter of right but of discretion, a claim so obviously stale cannot be entertained where no right to bring the suit has been clearly established. ANYABA v. DAJI, 20 B. 202.

(300)—S. 42—Hereditary trust held by father, right of adopted son to—Nature of the devolution of the trust—Suit for mere declaration not maintainable.—Plaintiffs sued for a declaration that, as the adopted son of the first defendant, he had acquired an interest in the management of the hereditary trust held by his adoptive father. Held if the devolution of the office of hereditary trustee vested in the first defendant is to be held as governed by the rules bearing on the holding of the joint family property, plaintiff could have claimed joint possession and management and the present suit for a mere declaratory decree was unsustainable with reference to s. 42 of the Act. Further, if the devolution of the trust followed the descent of separate property, plaintiff was not entitled to claim any right inherent in the office so long as his father held it. In either view, therefore, the present suit was unsustainable NATARAJA CHETTY v. KOLANDAVELU CHETTY, 15 M.L.J. 456.

(301)—S. 42—Declaratory suit, for declaration that defendant is not the adopted son of the plaintiff--Maintainability.—Where an adoption alleged to have been made by the plaintiff has been set up under circumstances, which would operate to the prejudice of the plaintiff if he did not take steps to have it declared not true, there is such an infringement of the plaintiff's rights, if he is a sole owner, as to entitle him to sue for, and obtain, a declaration that the defendant, the alleged adoptee was never taken by him, the plaintiff, in adoption. To enable plaintiff to institute such a suit, it is not necessary that the claim must have been set up by the adoptee himself as by his having said or done anything with reference to the adoption. CHINNASAWMY MUDALIAR v. AMBALAVANA MUDALIAR, 29 M. 48.

(302)—S. 42--Suit for a declaratory decree that a certain boy was the adopted son of the plaintiff's husband.—Plaintiff's right of guardianship of a boy based on the allegation, that he was the adopted son of the plaintiff's husband, was disallowed by the District Judge under s. 48, Guardian and Wards Act, VIII of 1890, on the ground that the adoption was not proved. Plaintiff filed a suit to obtain a declaration that the boy was the adopted son of her husband, and the prayer was that the plaintiff should get the custody of the boy in virtue of a declaration, that he was the adopted son of the plaintiff's husband, or some other relief. Held, that the suit did not fall within the purview of s. 42, Specific Relief Act, 1877, and the declaratory decree could not be granted. Held, further, that though an appellate Court when fully accepting the findings of fact and the deductions to be drawn from them should not-capriciouly interfere, yet when it takes a different view of the facts or draws different deductions from them, it is bound to exercise its discretion and to uphold or upset the judgment of the first Court as may be proper in the particular case before it. MUSSAMMAT KAMRANI v. MUSSAMMAT KALWANTI, 24 P.L.R. 1900. (13 C. 3, F.)

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(303)—S. 42—Buddhist Law—Will—Adoption of son.—It has been ruled that a Buddhist has no power to make a will. As pointed out in several of the cases in the High Courts of India the power of granting declaratory decrees has to be exercised with great caution so as to prevent useless and mischievous litigation. The kittima adopted children of Maung Lu Tha sued his natural children by a divorced wife for a declaration of title on the ground that they had reason to believe that the defendants would make a claim to the inheritance on Maung Lu Tha's death. A decree was given declaring that the defendants had no right in the property that might be left by Maung Lu Tha, and that, as far as they were concerned, the plaintiffs had a right to the whole of such property. Held—that the lower Courts were wrong in deciding what were the contingent rights of the plaintiffs as against the defendants in the estate of Maung Lu Tha in the event of his death, and that there should merely be a decree declaring on the issue raised that plaintiffs possessed the legal character of the adopted children of Maung Lu Tha. MA MIN KIN v. MAUNG PO THEIN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 623. (9 W.R. 460, 12 W.R. 26, 23 W.R. 150, 1 A. 688, 1 M. 65, 8 A. 60, 5 C. 512, 8 C. 12, 21 W.R. 430, R.) [R., U. B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 116.]

(304)—S. 42—Declaration, suit for — Consequential relief— Suit for declaration, that defendant not mutwali or not legally appointed mutwali—No prayer for possession or appointment of another mutwali—Whether suit maintainable.—The plaintiff asked (1) for, a declaration that a certain wakfnamah was invalid, and that the defendant had not acquired any valid title as mutwalli under that document, or (2) that, if the wakfnamah be valid, then the defendant had not been legally appointed mutwalli. But the plaintiff did not ask for recovery of possession or for the removal of the defendant and the appointment of a trustee duly appointed: Held, that, under s. 42, Specific Relief Act, the suit was incompetent, as the plaintiff, being able to seek further relief, had not done so. (4 C.L.J. 568, 13 C. 147, 1 M. 40, 3 B. 230, R.) The further relief referred to in the proviso to s. 42, Specific Relief Act, is further relief in relation to the legal character or right to any property to which the plaintiff is entitled and whose title to such character or right the defendant denies or is interested in denying, and it must be relief appropriate to and consequent on the right or title asserted. ERFAN MANDAL v. SAMIRUDDIN MANDAL, 15 Ind. Cas. 552. (13 M. 324, R.)

(305)—S. 42 — Monastery and monastery land — Poggalika gift of such property to pongyi—Whether such gift gives donee any right to property—Where donee's right is disputed—Whether donee in such case has a cause of action—Whether suit lies to protect the rights of pongyi—Where such gift was made before 1876—Whether jurisdiction of Civil Courts is barred—Lower Burma Land and Revenue Act (No. II of 1876), ss. 4 (b) and 56.—U sued A for a declaratory decree, under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, to declare his right with respect to certain land, alleging that, in the year 1236 B.E., a monastery was built on it, and that it and the land around it was given him as a poggalika gift; that, in the year 1261 B.E., the monastery fell into disrepair, and he tried to pull it down and build a new one on the site and that the defendants tried to prevent him from so doing. The defence was that the monastery was given as a poggalika gift but not the monastery land. Held that, as the gift appeared to have been made in 1226 B.E., or before that date and long before the Lower Burma Land and Revenue Act came into force, by s. 4 (b) of the Act, nothing in Part II of the Act applied to the land and that the land did not come within the provisions of s. 56 of the Act; and that, therefore, the jurisdiction of the Civil Court was not barred with respect to it. Held also that, as the plaintiff alleged that he was forcibly prevented from building a fresh monastery by certain persons, whom or whose representatives he sued and that, as the defence did not allege that he was not forcibly prevented, but that the land did not belong to him, in other words, that his claim to the land was contested, there was a cause of action, which was peaceful possession for the future. It was also urged that the second Court was wrong in holding that, when the gift of the monastery was made, the land was included in the gift. Held that the second Court agreed with the first Court in its view of the evidence, and that, as there was a concurrent finding of fact, that finding could not be questioned on second appeal. It was further urged that the plaintiff could not sue in his personal capacity. Held that, as in poggalika gifts the person to whom the offering is made has a right to keep it, a priest, who has received a poggalika gift, has a right to sue to protect his rights in it. MRA PAW v. U PYIN NYA, 14 Bur. L.R. 277.

(306)—S. 42—Plaintiff out of possession of temple and its properties—Right to manage in alternate years—Suit for mere declaration—No prayer for possession—Maintainability of suit.—A plaintiff who is out of possession of a temple and its properties cannot maintain a suit for declaration alone. The facts that the plaintiff would be entitled to possession only in alternate years, and that as the Court could not give him relief by way of possession (on the date of hearing) all that he would be entitled to is a mere declaration of his rights, do not in the least affect the question. APPU PILLAY v. PERUMAL PILLAY, 23 M.L.J. 118=12 M. L.T. 168=16 Ind. Cas. 630.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(307)—S. 42—Mahomedan Law—Waqf—Persons entitled to use the property—Declaration of right—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908), ss. 92, 93—Permission to sue.—The plaintiffs, without permission of the Legal Remembrancer, brought a suit for declaration that a certain Idgah and the lands adjoining were wakf property. The Court below found the property in dispute to be endowed property. Held that the plaintiffs were entitled to maintain the suit, as they were Mahomedans resident in the district and had a right to frequent and use the mosque for devotion, and the lands adjoining were appurtenant to the mosque. MUHAMMAD ALUM v. AKBAR HUSAIN, 7 A.L.J. 797 =6 Ind. Cas. 835=32 A. 631. (5 A. 497, 7 A. 178, F.; 8 A. 31, D.)

(208)—S. 42.—Suit for declaration—Religious endowment—Wakf—Mutuwalli—Assignment by the mutuwallis—Services performed by the sons of a mutuwalli—Suit by the sons to have the alienations declared illegal—Civ. Pro. Code (XIV of 1882), s. 539—Mosque, service of.—The plaintiffs brought this suit against their father (defendant 3), his cousins (defendants 4, 5) and their mortgagors and purchasers defendants 1, 2) to recover possession of certain lands; alleging that the lands were granted in inam to the Kazi family, to which the plaintiff and defendants 3, 4, 5 belonged, that the inam was granted to defray the expenses connected with the service of a certain mosque, that as the defendants ceased to perform the services of the mosque, the service was latterly performed by the plaintiffs, and that eight annas share in the hands of the defendants 3, 4, 5, was at first mortgaged and then sold to defendants 1, 2 by defendants 3, 4, 5. The plaintiffs, therefore, claimed that as the lands were held in inam for mosque service and as the service was not performed by defendants 3, 4, 5, the plaintiffs who performed the service were entitled to recover possession of the lands. The lower Court held that the claim was not maintainable, because plaintiffs' father was still alive and had not transferred his right to his son; and as long as defendants 3, 4, 5, had not been removed from their office in the mosque, the plaintiffs were not entitled to claim possession in the suit as framed. Held, reversing the decree of the lower Court that the claim was maintainable.—Per Parsons, J.—"The result of the authorities seems satisfactorily to establish the right of the plaintiffs to bring a suit to have the alienations made by their father and uncles set aside and the wakf property restored to the service of the mosque. They are not merely beneficiaries, they are members of the family of the mutuwallis and the persons on whom on the death of the present mutuwallis the office of mutuwalli would fall by descent, if indeed, it has not already fallen by abandonment and resignation. The plaintiffs as beneficiaries and members of the family and next heirs, are entitled to sue the mutuwallis and their assignees to have the alienations set aside and the wakf property restored to the wakf. If they are also the holders of the office or mutuwalli, they can obtain the possession of the wakf property themselves to be by them applied to the purposes of the wakf."—Per Ranade, J.—"A person to be entitled to bring a suit in respect of wakf property must have a beneficiary interest as a wakf in this case was given partly for service and partly for maintenance in which latter case the plaintiffs have an interest along with defendands 3, 4, 5; they are beneficiaries and are not utter strangers. The plaintiffs have thus a legal character and are entitled to a right to sue under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. As far as their suit seeks a declaration against strangers they are entitled to sue, and s. 539 does not come in their way. The suit, therefore, is maintainable for the declaratory relief which is their principal cause of action, and which is included in the larger relief prayed for. The relief about possession might also be claimed under certain circumstances if it is proved that they have succeeded to the office of the mutuwalli." KAJI HASSAN v. SAGUN, 1 Bom. L.R. 649=24 B. 170.

(309)—S. 42—Declaratory suit—Plaintiff's chance of succession to the property in suit very remote—Dismissal of suit.—Where the plaintiff, whose claim of succession to the property in the suit was a very remote one, sued to set aside a mortgage of the property, and the suit was dismissed, the Chief Court declined to make an order of remand for further enquiry in the case. TARA SINGH v. MUSSAMMAT CHANDI, 51 P. L.R. 1908.

(310)—S. 42—Suit by a remote reversioner—Nearer reversioner alive—Death—Collusion.—Plaintiff sued for a declaration of the invalidity as against his interest, of a mortgage executed by defendant No. 1, a Hindu widow, to defendant No. 2, plaintiff, being a reversioner of 1st defendant's husband, M. M's daughter's son, a nearer reversioner, was alive, when the suit was brought, but died pior to the disposal of the appeal. Held, that, as a nearer reversioner was alive at the date of suit, plaintiff's suit was unsustainable, in the absence of an allegation or proof that the nearer reversioner and the widow colluded; the fact that the nearer reversioner died after suit, could not better the position of plaintiff so far as the maintainability of suit in its inception was concerned. SHEOPAL SINGH v. MUSSAMMAT BUNDOO KUAR, 8 O C. 81. (26 A. 238, R.; 1 A.L.J. 380, Diss.; 8 I.A. 14, Expl.)

(311)—S. 42—Hindu widow—Alienation of property to her daughter—Suit for declaration by reversioner.—When a Hindu widow succeeding to the separate landed estate of her deceased husband makes a gift of such estate to her daughter, the reversioners are entitled to sue for a declaration that the person alleged to be the daughter is not the daughter of the deceased and that they are reversionary heirs. SHEORATAN RAI v. LAPPU KUAR, A.W.N. 1881, 160.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(312)—S. 42—Declaration of title, suit for—remote reversioner—Limitation—Setting up adverse right—Cause of action.—D, a separated Hindu, and his son A, died in 1891 on the same day, the father dying first. A's son, S M, died a week later, leaving his mother H and his grandmother M; M got possession of the property, and in 1908 executed a will in favour of her daughter S. The reversioners of D brought a suit in 1908 for declaration that the will would have no effect on their reversionary right. S set up her right to the property, ignoring that of H. Held, that, even during the lifetime of H, the plaintiffs were entitled to institute a suit for declaration only under the provisions of s. 42, Specific Relief Act. Held, further, that the suit was not barred by limitation. Mutation of names in M's favour was more or less an equivocal act and might possibly have given a cause of action, but when, in 1908, M specifically declared that the heir to the property was S, and S herself asserted her title, the plaintiffs acquired a cause of action sufficient to entitle them to sue. SHEORAJI v. RAMJAS PANDY, 8 A.L.J. 454=9 Ind. Cas. 501.

(313)—S. 42—Alienation—Widow of occupancy tenant—Suit for declaration by deceased's collaterals whether maintainable—Punjab Tenancy Act (XVI of 1887), s. 60.—The collaterals of a tenant with rights of occupancy can sue for a declaration that an alienation by his widow is of no effect on their reversionary interest; and s. 60 of Act XVI of 1887 relates only to objections by landlords to alienations, and the making of special provisions for these does not even imply that no one but a landlord can object. GAMI v. MUSSAMMAT KHIO, 205 P. R. 1889. (159 P.R. 1879, D.) [Appr., 4 P.R. 1900, Rev.; R., 31 P.R. 1896, F.B., 39 P.R. 1898.]

(314)—S. 42—Declaratory decree—Reversioner suit by, against Taluqdar's widow—Discretion of Court—Oudh Estates Act I of 1869.—I S died on the 4th June 1877 possessed of a Taluka, governed by the Oudh Estates Act (I of 1869). He left three widows and the first appellant as the first married of the widows succeeded to the taluka. The other widows subsequently died. On the 25th December 1896 the first appellant executed a will by which she purported to declare the second appellant, her sister's son as her heir and successor to the estate, and the will was subsequently duly registered. The respondent sued the appellants, alleging himself to be the next reversionary heir to the estate. He contended that the first appellant's will was invalid for the purpose of transferring the estate, and he asked for a declaratory decree to that effect. The appellants denied that the first appellant was in possession as a Hindu widow and contended that she was absolute owner of the estate under an oral will of her husband, and that the mere execution of a will did not give the respondent a cause of action to obtain a declaratory decree. The Court of first instance granted the decree as prayed, and that decree was affirmed on appeal by the Court of Judicial Commissioner. Under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, a claim to a declaratory decree is not a matter of right but rests with the judicial discretion of the Courts. Considering the circumstances of the present case it was held that the decisions of the Courts below made in the deliberate exercise of a discretion entrusted to them by law should not be interfered with. THAKURAIN JAIPAL KUNWAR v. BHAYIA INDAR BAHADUR SINGH, 7 O.C. 239=26 A. 238, P.C.=8 C.W.N. 465=14 M.L.J. 149=6 Bom. L.R. 495=31 I.A. 67=8 Sar. 625. [R., 8 O.C. 21.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(315)—S. 42—Declaratory suit—Reversionary rights.—In a suit by G under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act for a declaration that a certain transaction, and a decree and a subsequent conditional sale by his mother M, which flowed out of it, were ineffectual as against his reversionary rights which, by his plaint he alleged, would come into existence as a present right upon the death of M, it appeared that the property in respect of which the declaration was sought originally belonged to M's father, that the latter died a separated Hindu and left behind him five daughters, one of whom was M. Held that, according to the Hindu Law, all the five daughters took the share of their father jointly on his death, that, though, for the purposes of their own enjoyment, they might divide the estate among themselves and enjoy it in severalty for their own convenience, they could not by such division interfere with or alter the rules of Hindu Law as to the succession thereto on the death of all or any one of them, that on the death of the plaintiff's mother M, her interest in the estate would go to her surviving sisters, that on the death of any one of them, the surviving sisters would succeed to the interest of the last deceased until by the death of all of them the succession to the estate in its entirety passed elsewhere, and that the probability of the plaintiff ever succeeding to this property was of so deferred and remote a kind that this was not a case in which the Courts would exercise in favour of the plaintiff the discretion vested in them by s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. MANIK RAM v. GAUPATA MISR, A W.N. 1886, 22.

(316)—S. 42—Compromise by Hindu widow—Declaratory suit.—A Hindu woman K, on the death of her widowed mother, succeeded to the immoveable properties left by her father. She executed a deed of gift in favour of a person. Then P and B sued her and her donee to have it declared that they were entitled to succeed her. The suit was compromised. According to the compromise, the woman agreed that the property, then in her possession should be taken by the plaintiffs and her co-defendant in moieties at her death. Then G and Z brought this suit for a declaration that the terms of the compromise were not binding upon them and were inoperative so far as they were concerned. They alleged in the plaint that they were persons entitled to maintain this action under s. 42, Specific Relief Act, being entitled to a legal character or right of property which had been denied by the defendants. Held that, assuming the plaintiffs had a legal character or right to succeed as heirs to the woman K, the effect of the compromise and the suit was practically to deny that there were any persons more nearly entitled to the property in question than the particular persons named, that, in the event of the death of the parties, and if litigation should arise in the future, it would be easy to argue that that was a declaration by one who was a member of the family, which showed that no one was entitled to take the property nearer than the parties to the former action, and therefore the case was remanded to the lower Court to consider whether or not the plaintiffs were persons who were entitled to the legal character or right alleged by them under s. 42, Specific Relief Act. GULAB SINGH v. KHUSHAL KAUR, A.W.N. 1886, 307.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(317)—S. 42—Cause of action for declaratory suit by reversioner—Execution of will by widow.—The execution of a will by a limited owner such as a Hindu widow does not, as a general rule, afford a sufficient reason for granting a declaratory decree to the effect that the will was invalid for the purpose of transferring the estate. JAIPAL KUNWAR v. INDAR BHAHADUR SINGH, 26 A. 238, P.C.=31 I.A. 67=8 C.W.N. 465=6 Bom. L.R. 495=14 M.L.J. 149=8 Sar. 625. [R., 8 O.C. 81, 28 M. 560=15 M.L.J. 469, 3 C.L.J. 224.]

(318)—S. 42—Right of presumptive heir to sue for declaration of reversionary right.—The expression "legal character" means a positive recognized by law. A person who stands in the position as presumptive heir upon the death of a Hindu widow is entitled to maintain a suit for a declaration of his reversionary right. RAO HIRALAL v. THAKUR GULAB SINGH, 10 C.P.L.R. 1. (4 A. 16, 22 C. 354, F.; 10 M. 90, 6 C. 528, R.)

(319)—S. 42—Suit to set aside a mortgage by Hindu widow—Reversionary heirs—Discretion of Court—Proper case—Declaration in dismissed suit—Legality.—Where a Hindu widow mortgaged a portion of her husband's estate for a small sum of money which might be paid off by the widow in her lifetime, a suit by the reversionary heirs, specially when there is a dispute as to who the nearer reversionary heir or heirs are, is premature and not maintainable. A Civil Court has ample discretion under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act to exercise the jurisdiction vested in it and to decline to set aside, during her lifetime, an alienation made by a Hindu widow when no proper case has been made out by the party seeking to have such alienation set aside. (9 C. 817, 10 C. 324, D.) A declaration affecting the plaintiff in a suit which is dismissed is not legal. CHHOTU MAHTON v. MUSSTT. SHEOBARTI KOER, 3 C.W.N. 445.

(320)—S. 42—Rights of a Hindu daughter, a next reversioner, to sue for construction of will of father and for declarations incidental thereto.—A Hindu daughter is entitled, during the lifetime of her mother, to maintain a suit for the construction of a will of her deceased father and declaration incidental thereto, especially where the mother has allowed her rights, if any, to be barred by limitation and where the immediate conduct of the executors will be determined by the construction. A suit for the construction of a will is maintainable only when some immediate necessity for the construction is established: "perpetuation of testimony" is not the only ground on which declaratory suits of this description are allowed. SRINIBASH DAS v. MONMOHINI DASI, 3 C.L.J. 224. (2 I.A. 169, 15 B.L.R. 83, D.; 29 C. 260, 32 C. 62, 3 B.L.R. 362, 21 W.R. 86, note, F.)

(321)—S. 42—Suit by reversioner to declare his interest.—A suit by a reversioner to declare that he is entitled to the property after the widow's death is not maintainable when there is no allegation of wrongful act on the part of the widow or denial of his title on her part. MUHAMMADI v. MUSSAMMAT JIWANI, 42 P.R. 1898.

(322)—S. 42—Cause of action—Hindu Law—Widow—Suit against reversioners for declaration that widow was competent to transfer property for necessity.—The plaintiff, a Hindu widow of Arora caste, residing in the town of Kohat, sued her husband's reversioners for a declaration that she was entitled to alienate family property in her charge in order to discharge certain bona fide expenditure partly incurred and partly to be incurred. The plaintiff had served a notice on the defendants giving them intimation of her intention to alienate but they paid no attention to it. The defendants denied the plaintiff's title to the property and pleaded that the suit did not lie. Held that, in the absence of allegation by the plaintiff that the defendants had overtly disputed her rights to alienate, the suit was premature. MANNA SINGH v. MUSSAMMAT BAI JAN, 76 P.L.R. 1904.

(323)—S. 42, Act I of 1877 (Specific Relief)—Conversion of life-estate into absolute estate.—Where a Hindu widow relinquishes her life-interest in a portion of property inherited from her husband in favour of a reversioner, and the latter, in consideration thereof, gives an absolute interest to the widow in another portion of the estate, the next reversioner may maintain a suit for a declaration during the lifetime of the widow, that the deed under which the above alienations were made are invalid. HEM CHUNDER SANYAL v. SARNAMOYI DEBI, 22 C. 884. (10 C. 324, P.C., R.; 23 W.R. 314, P.C., 8 C. 761, 17 C. 933, P.C., D.) [F., 7 Bom. L.R. 622, 8 M.L.T. 355=18 M.L.J. 309, 35 C. 939 =12 C.W.N. 837=8 C.L.J. 280; R., 29 C. 260, 3 C L J. 224, 10 C.P.L.R. 1, 16 P.L.R. 1902=17 P.R. 1902; D., 2 C.W.N. 132, 31 M. 446; Cons., 25 B. 129.]

(324)—S. 42—Adoption, suit to set aside—Suit by distant reversioner—Pleadings.—The mere possibility of succeeding to the estate held by the widow for life does not confer on the person who has it the right to sue to contest an adoption. Such a suit must be brought either by the presumptive reversioner, or, in the case of his refusal to sue or precluding himself by act or word from suing, or of his concurrence in the alleged wrongful act or collusion, by the next reversioner. In such a case, the plaint must state why the presumptive heir does not sue, and the Court will, in the exercise of its discretion, decide whether the plaintiff is competent to sue, and whether it is necessary that any other party should be joined. GYANENDRO NATH ROY v. LOBONGOMUNJORI DABI, 11 C.L.R. 198. (6 C. 764, P.C., F.)

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(325)—S. 42—Reversioner's right of suit—When widow's act prejudicial.—A reversioner's right to bring a declaratory suit under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act exists not only when the alenation in dispute is by the widow herself, but it applies also to a case where she may alienate in her capacity as guardian. The right to declaratory relief exists where an act prejudicial to the estate is done by the widow. SUNKARA RAMIAH v. SUNKARA SUBBAMMAH, M.W.N. 1912, 70=13 Ind. Cas. 489. (33 A. 430, 26 A. 606, R.)

(326)—S. 42—Declaratory decree—Discretion of the Court—Will—Hindu widow—Privy Council—Practice.—Under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, a claim to a declaratory decree is not a matter of right, but it rests with the judicial discretion of the Courts. The execution of a will by a limited owner, such as a Hindu widow, does not as a general rule, afford a sufficient reason for granting a declaratory decree. Their Lordships of the Privy Council are always slow to reverse the decision of the Courts below made in the deliberate exercise of a discretion entrusted to them by law. THAKURAIN JAIPAL KUNWAR v. BHANJA INDAR, 6 Bom. L.R. 495, P.C.=26 A. 238=8 C.W.N. 465=14 M.L.J. 149=31 I A. 67=8 Sar. 625. [R., 8 O.C. 81, 28 M. 560=15 M. L.J. 469, 3 C.L.J. 224.]

(327)—S. 42—Suit for declaration in anticipation of future litigation—Maintainability.—Under s. 42 a suit for a declaration in anticipation of possible future litigation cannot be maintained. RAJASING ZAMINDAR v. JHINGRAO TELI, 6 C.P.L.R. 51.

(328)—S. 42—Declaration where plaintiff's property not transferred—Cause of action—Discretion—Hindu law — Mitakshara — Joint family—Power of undivided co-parcener to alienate property—Consent of co-parceners—Benefit of family.—The mere apprehension that complication may arise in future is not a proper ground for the granting of a declaratory decree. Where therefore a sale-deed impeached by the plaintiff is found not to include his share, he is not entitled to a decree either for possession or for a declaration of title. Per Karamat Hussain, J.—In a Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara in these provinces, one sharer has no authority without the consent of his co-sharers to dispose of his undivided share of the joint family property even for the benefit of the joint family. JAMNA PRASAD v. JAGDEO, 6 A.L.J. 11=A.W.N. 1908, 163=5 M.L.T. 56=1 Ind Cas. 83. (16 A. 369, Not F.)

(329)—S. 42—Suit for declaration—Bom. Act V of 1879, s. 37—Crim. Pro. Code (Act X of 1882), s. 133.—In a suit for a declaration that certain land on which the plaintiff had erected an otta was his property and not that of Government, where it appeared that the Magistrate had made an order, under s. 133 of the Crim. Pro. Code, for the removal of the otta as an obstruction to the public way, held that the public roads were vested by s. 37 of Bom. Act V of 1879 in the Government of Bombay who were thus "interested to deny" the plaintiff's title to the land, and that, therefore, under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, the plaintiff (subject to the discretion of the Court) was entitled to a declaration as against the Government of his right to the land, and that he was not called upon to wait until the Government had taken possession of the land. The Magistrate's order under s. 133, Crim. Pro. Code, is not a conclusive determination of the question of title. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. JETHABHI KALIDAS, 17 B 293. (15 C. 460, R.) [R., 22 B. 330, 76 P.L R. 1904.]

(330)—S. 42—Suit for declaration of non-proprietor's right to hold their houses free of charge—Maintainability.—The right to hold a house free of charge is a continuously existing and very real though incorporeal 'property' and so a suit can be brought for a declaration that certain non-proprietary residents of a village are entitled to hold their houses in the village abadi free of any demands on the part of the proprietors for fees and dues. RALA MAL v. BIR SINGH, 48 P.R. 1887.

(331)—S. 42—Decree for arrears of rent against a judgment-debtor since deceased—Order for sale of joint ancestral proprety in execution of the said decree—Suit by some of the descendants for declaration of the invalidity of the order for sale—Non-joinder of parties, dismissal of suit for—Discretion of Court.—In execution of two decrees for arrears of rent obtained by the present defendant against a certain person, since deceased the defendant made an application to the Collector under the Rent Act for attachment and sale of the judgment-debtor's ancestral property, which was ordered accordingly. The sons of the judgment-debtor objected to the sale but their objection was disallowed. Instead of filing their objections in the Collector's Court, the grandsons and great-grandsons of the judgment-debtor instituted the present suit for a declaration that the entire share in the property was not liable to be sold. They did not limit their claim to a declaration that their own interest was not liable to be sold. Though the sons of the judgment-debtor were alive, they were not made parties to the suit. The Court of first instance dismissed the suit on the ground of non-joinder of the sons of the judgment-debtor as parties to the suit. Held, that the Court of first instance had exercised a wise discretion in refusing to grant the relief under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. It is obviously inconvenient that the Court should intervene in a matter which is pending in the Collector's Court, particularly as the Legislature has provided a definite course, for persons in the position of plaintiffs to take in a case where property, in which they claim to have an interest, is being attached and sold. MAHARAJA OF BENARES v. RAMJI KHAN, 27 A. 138 = A.W.N. 1904, 190 = 1 A.L.J. 512.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(332)—S. 42—Suit for declaration of right to recover rent—Maintainability—Act XII of 1881 (N.W.P. Rent Act), s. 148, proviso.—A suit by a person for a declaration of his right to recover his proportion of rent in consequence of a decree passed adversely to him by a Revenue Court in a previous suit instituted under Act XII of 1881, to which previous suit the present defendants were parties, is one which could be maintained under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act I of 1877 and his power to sue is specially provided for by the proviso to s. 148 of the Rent Act XII of 1881. SABT ALI v. BASHIER DAULAT, A.W.N. 1885, 194.

(333)—S. 42—N.W.P. Rent Act (XII of 1881), s. 95—Civil and Revenue Courts—Jurisdiction.—Where the tenants of certain lands sued their zemindar, alleging that they had been erroneously entered in the settlement papers by the Settlement Officer as occupancy-tenants whereas they were really tenants at fixed rates, and seeking for a declaration that the said entry made by the Settlement Officer was wrong and should stand as an entry exhibiting them as tenants at fixed rates, held that the suit was not cognizable by the Civil Courts. It is true that the Civil Courts alone have jurisdiction to grant declaratory decrees under s. 42. Specific Relief Act, but it is equally true that it is not every action for a declaration of right, title, or interest, that can be taken cognizance of by the Civil Courts. By the special rule contained in s. 95, N.W.P. Rent Act, it is provided that the Civil Courts shall not take cognizance of any dispute or matter on which any application of the nature mentioned in that section might be made. The plaintiffs might have applied to have the nature of their tenure determined as provided and therefore the cognizance of the Civil Courts is barred. SADIK ALI v. LIAKAT ALI, A.W.N. 1887, 214.

(334)—S. 42—Possession—Suit for declaration of title-Application for partition in Revenue Court—Objection—Land Revenue Act (Act III of 1901), ss. 111, 233 (k).—The plaintiffs, who were lambardars, objected, under s. 111 of the Land Revenue Act, to an application for partition made by the defendant, alleging that the latter had no share in the Zemindari, and they were required to institute a suit in the Civil Court. Accordingly the present suit for declaration was brought. Held, that the plaintiffs, being admittedly in possession as lambardars, all that was needed was a declaration to the effect that the defendant had no title, and such a declaration having been made by the Civil Court, it would not be necessary for the plaintiffs to seek any further relief. The suit, therefore, was not barred under the provisions of s. 42, Specific Relief Act. Held also, that s. 233 (k), Land Revenue Act, did not apply to the case, as it was provided for by s. 111 of that Act, and the decision of the Civil Court referred to in the latter section meant the "final decision" of that Court. RAM CHARAN v. RAM PARTAB, 5 A.L.J. 614 = A.W.N. 1908, 249.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(335)—S. 42—Suit to stay partition by Collector—Act VIII of 1876 (B.C.).—Where a person, under s. 42, Specific Relief Act, sues for the purpose of staying a partition which was ordered by the Collector under the Act of 1876, on the ground of a private partition having been already made, he must prove that there has been such a private partition and that under it he is entitled to and was separately in possession of some specific portion of the property again sought to be partitioned by the Collector; and he can have no declaration affecting the rights of other shares in the parent estate. KALUP NATH SINGH v. LALA RAMDEIN LALL, 16 C. 117. (3 C.L.R. 453, D.)

(336)—S. 42—Mortgage by qualified owner—Suit by reversioner for declaration of his right to redeem—Discretion of Court.—Where a woman, having only a life interest, mortgaged a portion of the property, and the reversioners sue for a declaration of their right to redeem the mortgage in the event of her death, the Court should not in the exercise of the discretion conferred by s. 42, make the declaration. Because, the woman's right to redeem might possibly become time-barred before her death, and the mortgagees are entitled to the benefit of this contingency. Further, it may be that, when the right now vested in her passes to the reversioners they may be unwilling or unable to exercise it. MUTHUKARUPPAN v. KASINATHAN PILLAY, 2 M.L.T. 67.

(337)—S. 42—Mortgage by Karnavan of a Malabar Tarwad to a stranger—Re-demise by mortgagee to the Karnavan who is in possession—Suit by other members for a mere declaration that mortgage is not binding.—The first and second defendants, the Karnavan and senior Anandravan of a Malabar Tarwad, mortgaged Tarwad properties to the third defendant, a stranger, who leased the same to the first and second defendants. The first defendant never parted with possession of the property. Plaintiffs, the other members of the Tarwad, sued for a declaration that the mortgage was not binding on the Tarwad. Held, that the plaintiffs need not have claimed possession, and that a declaration was the only relief open to them. URUMI KORAN v. AHMAD, 6 M.L.T. 157 = 3 Ind. Cas. 41. (17 M. 232, Appl.) this suit, alleging that they had mortgaged certain land to the defendants and put them in possession thereof, and that the defendants had fraudulently obtained in the settlement department an order to record their names as proprietors of the mortgaged property, sought, under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, to obtain a declaration of their proprietary right to the land and cancellation of the order made in the settlement department. The Court of first instance gave the plaintiffs a decree as sought. The defendants appealed to the District Judge, who reversed the decree of the Court below on the ground that the plaintiffs might have sued to redeem the land, and therefore, under the proviso to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, could not lawfully be granted a declaratory decree. The plaintiffs appealed to the High Court. Held that the appeal must prevail and that the Judge had misapplied the proviso to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. It was not incumbent on the plaintiffs to sue for redemption of mortgage as well as for a declaration of their title as mortgagors. RAM CHARAN v. DURGA PRASAD A.W.N. 1884, 78.

(338)—S. 42—Declaratory decree—Mortgage—Redemption of mortgage.—The plaintiffs in

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(339)—S. 42—Purchaser of mortgaged property, suit by, for declaration that sale-deed set up by mortgagee is invalid as against him--Maintainability—Redemption whether to be sought.—The purchaser of mortgaged property may institute a suit for mere declaration that a sale-deed set up by the mortgagee is fraudulent and invalid as against him and in such a suit, the plaintiff is not bound to sue for redemption. SUBRAHMANYA MUDALY v. CHITHRAPUTRA MUDALY, 9 M. L. J. 165.

(340)—S. 42—Declaratory decree— Burden of proof—Suit by usufructuary mortgagee in possession that property is not saleable in execution of decree on a prior mortgage.—When a plaintiff seeks from the Court a declaratory decree, it lies upon him to make out his title affirmatively. Although in the case of a party in possession defending his title it may be different, still, where the party in possession sets the Court in motion, and seeks a declaration establishing his title against a third party, the plaintiff is in the same position as any other plaintiff and must make out his case. The Court will not in such a case exercise the discretionary power conferred upon it by s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act in favour of the plaintiff. A usufructuary mortgagee in possession sued for a declaration that the mortgaged property was uot saleable in execution of a decree for sale obtained by another mortgagee on a mortgage prior to his own, on the ground that the prior motgagee did not make him a party to his suit. Held, that in such a case the plaintiff had to prove not only that he had obtained possession as a usufructuary mortgagee and was still in possession, but that his mortgage still subsisted and had not been discharged. CHITTA SINGH v. DEBI DIN, 24 A. 170.

(341)—S. 42—Suit to declare mortgage invalid—Some items under mortgage not in plaintiff's possession—Rest in his possession—Entire suit not to be dismissed—Suit maintainable as regards latter.—A suit to declare that a mortgage of several items of property was not binding on the plaintiff is not liable to be wholly dismissed, under s. 42, Specific Relief Act, merely because no prayer was asked for recovery of possession of some items which were not in plaintiff's possession (15 M. 225, Not F.) The declaration prayed for by the plaintiff may be given in respect of the items in his possession. CHOMU HENGSU v. SANRARA BELCHAMPADA. 8 M.L.T. 358=7 Ind Cas. 867.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(342)—S. 42—Mortgagee's possession is that of mortgagor—Mortgagor can maintain a suit for declaration.—The possession of a usufructuary mortgagee is the possession of his mortgagor. If any third person effects a transfer of the property to the detriment of the interest of the mortgagor, he can sue for a declaration of his title, notwithstanding the fact that the mortgagee is in possession. Section 42 of the Specific Relief Act does not bar such a suit. MUSSAMMAT AKASI v. JUTAGIR alias PARSRAMGIR, 6 Ind. Cas. 166.

(343)—S. 42—Successive mortgages— Suit for declaration that prior mortgage not redeemable without paying amount of second mortgage--Further relief—Payment of mortgage amount by mortgagors—Right to have appeal heard not barred.—In July 1877, defendants mortgaged to plaintiff certain immoveable propertywith possession. In September 1879, defendants by a second mortgage, further charged the same land to the extent of another amount which it was agreed should be repaid on the day when the first mortgage fell due. The balance of Rs. 400 due on the second mortgage not having been paid, plaintiff prayed for a declaration that defendants could not redeem the mortgage of 1879, without paying the said sum of Rs. 400. Defendants objected that the suit was not maintainable for the reason that consequential relief was available. This objection was held to be not maintainable. There was no further relief arising out of the cause of action sued upon, viz., the refusal to recognize the mortgage of 1879 to which plaintiff could be said to be necessarily entitled in the present case. It was open to the plaintiff to elect that, so far as he was concerned, the mortgage should subsist,and to maintain the present suit merely to clear away the doubts which had been thrown upon the validity of the mortgage by the defendant. At the bearing of this appeal it was contended by way of preliminary objection that, after the institution of the suit, the defendants had sued for and obtained redemption of both the mortgages actually paying up the amount of the mortgages and recovering possession of the mortgaged property, and that therefore there was really nothing left for the defendants (appellants) to gain by prosecuting their appeal further and the appeal should not be allowed to proceed. Held that the defendants were clearly entitled to have their appeal heard and determined except when they themselves might have elected to abandon it. JODHA v. BUDH RAM, 35 P. R. 1890.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(344)—S. 42—Mortgage-decree—Purchase by mortgagee in execution—Suit maintainable for declaration of judgment-debtor's exclusive right to property sold.—When plaintiff, the mortgagee in execution of a decree obtained by him, sought to sell the property mortgaged, defendants, brothers of the mortgagor judgment-debtor, set up claims to it which struck at the root of the mortgage, and, if sustained, would have rendered it practically useless. In this suit, instituted by the plaintiff, praying for a declaration that the property belonged to the mortgagor exclusively and not jointly with his brothers as claimed by them, the Court of first instance, which found that the mortgagor was the sole owner and that the claim of the defendants was untenable, was held to have rightly exercised its discretion in having given the plaintiff the declaratory decree sought by him under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. WAMANRAO v. RUSTOMJI, 21 B. 701. [R., 6 C.L.J. 74=11 C.W.N. 732, 36 C. 726=10 C.L.J. 189=1 Ind. Cas. 549.]

(345)—S. 42—Adverse possession—Mortgage.—In a suit for declaration of title, the defendants raised two pleas, (1) adverse possession, and (2) bar under s. 42 Specific Relief Act. It appeared that more than 12 years prior to the suit, one J executed a sale-deed by which he sold the equity of redemption to the plaintiff, and that the property so was and continued to be in the possession of the of the mortgagees. The defendants were the representatives of J. Held that, as the defendants admittedly had not been in possession and had admitted that the mortgagees had been in possession from a period prior to the date of sale, no question of adverse possession arose as between the plaintiffs and the defendants; held also that the suit was not barred by s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, as the plaintiff could not have asked for any further relief, as an action for possession could not be maintained against the defendants, because they were never in possession, and as an action for redemption could not be maintained against the defendants as they were not the mortgagees. BIRANGI v. RAM SARAN, A.W.N. 1887, 103.

(346)—S. 42—Declaratory suit without consequential relief.—A suit to have the true construction of a statute declared and to have an act done in contravention of the statute rightly understood pronounced void and of no effect, is not the sort of the declaratory suit prohibited by s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. There may be cases where no further relief could be asked. And the decree in such a suit cannot be said to be inexecutable, for the declaration of the void and illegal character of the act done against the statute, would mean the restoration or maintenance of the act or order which was cancelled by the illegal act. FISHER v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 3 C.W.N. 161=26 I. A. 16=22 M. 270=7 Sar. 459. [Expl., 17 M. L. J. 423; R., 23 M. 385.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(347)—S. 42, proviso—Declaratory suit—Further relief.—The further relief which the plaintiff is bound to claim under the proviso to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, is such relief as he would be in a position to claim from the defendant in an ordinary suit, by virtue of the title which he seeks to establish or of which he prays for a declaration (14 C. 586, 15 M. 15, R.) The plaintiff's ability to seek further relief than a mere declaration of title depends upon the circumstances of a particular case. A Court will not throw out a suit on the ground that it is barred by the proviso to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, unless it is satisfied beyond all doubt that the plaintiff ought to seek further relief and yet has claimed nothing beyond a declaration of title. AISA SIDDIKA v. BIDHU SEKHAR, 17 C. L. J. 30=18 Ind. Cas. 633.

(348)—S. 42—Declaratory decree, when should be made and when refused—Consequential relief, injunction if.—S. 42 of the Act does not sanction every form of declaration, but only a declaration that the plaintiff is entitled to any legal character or to any right as to any property. Courts in this country should see that plaints, which pray for declaratory decrees only conform to the terms of s. 42, Specific Relief Act. An injunction is a consequential relief. The limit imposed by s. 42 of the Act is on decrees which are merely declaratory and does not expressly extend to decrees in which relief is administered and declarations are embodied as introductory to that relief. For such declarations legislative sanction is not required as they rest on long established practice. But for all that the Court should be circumspect and even chary as to the declarations it makes; it is ordinarily enough that relief should be granted without the declaration. MUSTT. DEOKALI KOER v. BABU KEDAR NATH, 16 C.W.N. 838=39 C. 704=15 Ind. Cas. 427.

(349)—S. 42—Suit for mere declaration—Omission to ask for consequential relief—Effect of.—S. 42, Specific Relief Act, does not empower a Court to dismiss a suit, merely because the plaintiff, being able to seek further relief than a mere declaration of title, omits to do so. It merely says that, in such a case, no Court shall make a declaration. If there is some relief which the plaintiff was able to seek but has not done so, an opportunity should certainly be given to the plaintiff to include that relief, conditionally (if necessary) upon her paying the additional Court-fees. SHWARNAMOYI DEBYA v. NAVADURGA DEBYA CHOWDHURANI, 3 Ind. Cas. 161. (28 B. 567, 28 B. 332, 29 B. 19, F.)

(350)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 539—Consequential relief.—Where in a suit under s. 539, Civ. Pro. Code, the plaintiffs ask for the relief specified in cl. (a) thereof, s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act is no bar to the maintainability of the suit, on the ground that there is no prayer for consequential relief. NETI RAMA JOGIAH v. VENKATACHARLU, 26 M. 450.

(351)—S. 42—Declaratory suit—Prayer for further relief.—Where the plaintiff, alleging that he was in possession of certain lands, sought to have his right to such possession declared, and the alienations inconsistent therewith, and to which he had not assented, set aside, held that the lower appellate Court was not competent to dismiss the suit on the ground that he might have prayed for maintenance of possession but had omitted to do so. BHOLAI PANDEY v. RAGHUBANS PANDEY, A.W.N. 1881, 60.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(352)—S. 42—Declaratory suit—Consequential relief.—A suit for a bare declaration that the plaintiffs are members of the defendants' tarwad and have community of property with them, where the plaintiffs do not pray for consequential relief of any kind and in the plaint they expressly reserve their contentions with the defendants as to the latter's right of management of their property excluding the plaintiffs', is barred by the proviso to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. RAMAN ADIODI v. UNNI ADIODI, 11 M L.J. 338.

(353)—S. 42 — Consequential relief.—The proviso to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act is not applicable to a suit for a mere declaration of right to property without any prayer for possession, where it appears that possession of the property was, at the time of the suit, neither with the defendant nor with the plaintiff, the property having been in custodia legis and in the hands of an officer of Court, though, owing to a mere accident, the officer is the plaintiff himself; for, in such a case, as the defendant has not been in possession of the property, the plaintiff cannot, as against him, have claimed as consequential relief an order for delivery. VEDANAYAGA MUDALIAR v. VEDAMMAL, 27 M. 591 [R., 32 B. 275=10 Bom. L.R. 149.]

(354)—S. 42—Declaratory suit—Declaration—Suit—Dismissal—Injunction— Consequential relief.—S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act does not empower a Court to dismiss a suit where the plaintiff being able to seek further relief omits to do so. All that is enacted by the section is that in such a case no Court shall make a declaration. An injunction is a "further relief" within the meaning of s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. KUNJ BIHARI v. KESHAVLAL, 6 Bom. L. R. 475=28 B. 567.

(355)—*S.*42—Declaration—Injunction—Consequential relief.—In a suit for a declaration that the plaintiffs are entitled to enjoy certain lands without paying the summary settlement, the local fund cess or any kind of assessment to Government, the plaintiff should also ask for the consequential relief by way of injunction. KALABHAI v. SECRETARY OF STATE, 6 Bom. L.R. 648=29 B. 19.

(356)—S. 42—Suit for injunction—Right to use articles for worship—Maintainability of suit.—Plaintiff sued the defendants for an injunction restraining them from causing obstruction to the performance of pujah by the plaintiff in the temple, and prayed for a decree directing the defendants to open the doors of the temple locked by them. Held that the plaintiff need not sue for possession under the circumstances of the case, because the plaintiff has only a right of access to the temple and to the use of articles kept therein for the purpose of performing worship. The suit for permanent injunction, therefore, would not be barred by his failure to claim possession. VENGAN POOSARI v. PATCHAMUTHU, 14 M. L. J. 290. [R., 33 M. 452=20 M.L.J. 301=7 M.L.T. 311=5 Ind. Cas. 630.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(357)—S. 42—Declaratory suit—Consequential relief—Injunction not to execute decree in foreign territory.—A suit for a mere declaration that a certain decree has been collusively obtained is not barred by the provisions of s. 42, Specific Relief Act, when it is not necessary for the plaintiff, who is not bound by that decree, to seek to set it aside. No consequential relief can be asked for in the form of an order addressed to a foreign Court, or of an injunction to a person not to execute a decree in a foreign territory. NARAYANA AIYAR v. ASTANASI. 4 M.L.J. 254.

(358)—S. 42—Suit for declaration and injunction—Further relief, omission to ask for.—In a suit for a declaration that the plaintiffs and not the defendants were the trustees and managers of a pagoda, and for a perpetual injunction restraining the defendants from interfering with the plaintiffs in the management thereof, where it was found that the defendants were in possession of the temple jewels and other temple property, held that the plaintiffs were entitled to a further relief than a mere declaration of title, and that, having regard to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, the suit for a declaration could not lie. Held, further, that the plaint could not be sustained even in so far as it asked for an injunction, as injunction was not the appropriate remedy, and to grant to plaintiffs relief such as was asked for in the suit would be to allow them to obtain by a side wind the declaration which according to the law they were not entitled to have. RAMASAWMI AIYAR v. ANNASAWMI AIYAR, 8 M.L.J. 124.

(359)—S. 42—Declaratory decree—Consequential relief—Injunction—Constructive possession.—Where defendants are in constructive possession through tenants, and plaintiff desires to have constructive possession only, the utmost that the plaintiff can ask for, or obtain, against the defendants is a declaration of rights, binding the defendants, coupled with an injunction preventing them from interfering with such rights. Held, also, that the plaintiff is not bound to ask for actual physical possession from the tenants, and that there is no rule of law to compel a man to seek for all the relief that he is entitled to or might obtain if he desired it. An injunction is a "consequential relief" as contemplated by s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. PARASRAM v. BHIMBHAI, 5 Bom. L.R. 195.

(360)—S. 42—Suit for a declaration and injunction—Maintainability of—Plaintiff out of possession at the date of suit.—Where the plaintiff himself admits that, at the date of the suit, he was out of possession, his suit for a mere declaration and injunction is barred by s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. DEIVASIKAMANI BHATTAR v. SUBBIAH BHATTAR, 5 M. L.T. 224.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(361)—S. 42—Declaration of right—Consequential relief—Injunction not asked for.—Where the defendant interferes with the plaintiff's right in building upon a piece of land on the ground that he (defendant) is a joint owner, the plaintiff is entitled to bring a suit for a declaration that he is the exclusive owner and need not ask for an injunction to restrain the defendant from interfering with his right. SUNDAR LAL v. RAM GHULAM, 3 A.L.J. 316=A.W.N. 1906, 149. (15 M. 15, R.)

(362)—S. 42, proviso—Suit for declaration and confirmation of possession—Plaintiff not in possession at date of suit—Possession not claimed as consequential relief—Whether suit liable to dismissal—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 145—Order—Dispossession.—A prayer for confirmation of possession is a prayer for consequential relief. (15 W. R. 95, 16 W. R. 213, 19 W. R. 18, 22 W. R. 438, 15 B. L. R. 172, F.) A suit for declaration of title and for confirmation of possession is not barred by the proviso to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, simply because the plaintiff was not in possession at the date of the suit, and instead of seeking recovery of possession, he claimed confirmation of possession as a consequential relief. If it transpires that the plaintiff, as a matter of fact or of law, was not in possession at the date of the suit, the only objection which can possibly be taken is that consequential relief, which the plaintiff may be really entitled to obtain, namely, recovery of possession, is different from the consequential relief which he has actually sought, namely confirmation of possession. But it would be a meaningless technicality in this class of cases to dismiss the suit on the ground that the relief which the plaintiff is entitled to obtain is different from the relief he has actually sought. (16 W. R. 27, 24 W. R. 301, 25 W. R. 168, 11 C. L. R. 443 and 451, Rel. on.) The proposition cannot be comprehensively laid down that, in every case where an order under s. 145 of the Crim. Pro. Code has been made, the necessary consequence is the actual dispossession of the unsuccessful party. JHUMANKARTI v. DEBU LAL SINGH, 16 Ind. Cas. 898.

(363)—S. 42—Suit for declaratory decree—Consequential relief—Cancellation of document.—The owner of property coming into Court for a declaration of his title thereto on the ground of the defendant's having obtained a decree for sale on a mortgage of the same property from a stranger and causing a proclamation of sale thereof, is not bound to ask for cancellation of the mortgage or the decree thereon as a consequential relief. GANGA GHULAM v. TAPESHRI PRASAD, 26 A. 606 =A. W. N. 1904, 128.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(364)—S. 42—Suit to establish the right to attach certain property—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 283—Consequential relief.—S. 283 of the Civ. Pro. Code says nothing about consequential relief. So, a suit brought under that section is not affected by the proviso to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. KYA GET v. BU NWE, 4 B.L.R. 88.

(365)—S. 42—Declaratory decree—Further relief.—The effect of the proviso to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act is that the Court shall not make a declaration in the events specified in the proviso, and not that the Court shall not grant the relief that is prayed. SAKHARAM v. COLLECTOR OF RATNAGIRI, 6 Bom. L.R. 124 =28 B. 332.

(366)—S. 42—Suit for declaration and injunction—Declaration that a certain person is not plaintiff's son—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s. 9—Suit of a civil nature—Suit for declaration—Minors, suits against—Stay of suit—Practice and procedure.—The plaintiff sued for a declaration that the defendant No. 2 was not his son, and that he was not born to defendant No. 1 (wife of plaintiff), and for an injunction restraining defendant No. 1 from proclaiming to the world that defendant No. 2 was plaintiff's son, and from claiming maintenance for him as such son. It was contended that the suit as framed would not lie: Held, that, having regard to the really serious nature of the question with which the plaintiff was faced as soon as the assertion was made that a son not admitted by him had been born to his wife, his contention as to his right under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act was perfectly reasonable, and the suit was, therefore, one which fell within the purview of s. 42. Held, further, that the Court of first instance in entertaining the suit had exercised a proper discretion in the matter; for the plaintiff's own hand had been forced by the open assertion of a definite claim on behalf of the minor defendant, a claim which the plaintiff was entitled to repel at a time when the material evidence was obtainable. The general power vested in the Courts in India under the Civ. Pro. Code to entertain all suits of civil nature, excepting suits of which cognizance is barred by any enactment for the time being in force, does not carry with it the general power of making declarations except in so far as such power is expressly conferred by statute. It is not the practice to stay suits against infants until they have attained full age, as it is generally considered that an infant's case can be sufficiently placed before the Court by a duly constituted guardian. BAI SHRI VAKTUBA v. AGARSINJI, 12 Bom.L.R. 697=34 B 676=7 Ind. Cas. 945.

(367)—S. 42—Declaratory suit—Omission to seek further relief, when such relief is possible—Duty of Court—Amendment of plaint.—Plaintiff sued to have cut certain trees on his land, which had been sold to defendant. The suit was couched in the form of a declaratory suit to the effect that the defendant was not entitled to keep the trees standing on the plain-tiff's land. The original Court gave the plaintiff a declaratory decree to the above effect, with a direction that the defendant should cut the trees. The lower appellate Court dismissed the suit on the ground that the plaintiff, being able to seek further relief, had omitted to claim it. Held, by the Chief Court, that the lower appellate Court should have directed the plaintiff to amend the plaint by asking for the further relief, viz., a permanent injunction to restrain the defendant to allow the trees to stand on his land and to cut them. HAZARA SINGH v. BISHEN SINGH, 128 P.R. 1907.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(368)—S. 42—Suit to set aside auction sale—Subsequent dispossession of plaintiff—Amendment of plaint, if necessary.—Where, after the plaintiff had instituted a suit to set aside an auction sale in respect of property of which he was then in possession, the plaintiff was dispossessed by the auction-purchaser, held that the plaint need not necessarily be amended into a suit for possession, and that the suit should not be dismissed for failing to make such amendment. RAM ADHAR v. RAM SHANKAR, 26 A. 215 = A.W.N. 1903, 236. (A.W.N. 1900, 172, F.)

(369)—S. 42—Plaintiff losing possession two days after institution of his suit for a declaration—Amendment of plaint—Grounds of appeal—Suit decided on a preliminary point.—Where a plaintiff has instituted a suit for a declaration and two days afterwards the defendants are put into possession under the decree to protect his rights against which the plaintiff has sued for a declaration: Held, that the plaintiff cannot be compelled to amend his plaint so as to include in it a prayer for possession. It is clear that when a suit has been decided on a preliminary point, an appellant cannot be taken to have waived objections urged by him in the lower Court as to other points merely because he has not included those other points in his grounds of appeal. SURJAN SINGH v. BALDEO PRASAD, A. W. N. 1900, 172. [F., 26 A. 215.]

(370)—S. 42—Suit for declaration of title to hold lands free from payment of Government-revenue—Amendment of plaint by a prayer for injunction—Discretion of Court.—Plaintiffs sued for a declaration that they were entitled to hold certain lands free from the payment of Government-revenue and other cesses. The defendant, Secretary of State, contended that the suit was not sustainable, under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, no claim for any consequential relief having been put forward. At a very late stage of the suit, the plaintiff applied for amendment of the plaint by adding a prayer for injunction. This application was refused. Held, on appeal to the High Court, (1) that the suit, as brought, was unsustainable for want of a prayer for consequential relief and (2) that the prayer for amendment ought not to have been refused though it was late, seeing that the amendment asked for was a mere matter of form not affecting the merits of the claim or transforming the nature of the suit. The plaintiff should have been allowed the amendment subject to his paying the costs incurred by the other side up to date thereof. KALABHAI v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA, 29 B. 19.

(371)—S. 42—Declaration, suit for, that a decree was fraudulent—Further relief—Court-fee how to be assessed — Plaint originally correctly framed—Subsequent amendment, defective—Restoration by appellate Court—It is necessary for the plaintiff to ask not only for a declaration that a decree obtained against him was fraudulent, but also for a consequential relief, viz., either to have the fraudulent decree set aside or to have a perpetual injunction granted to restrain the decree-holder from executing it. (25 C. 49, F.) A suit for a declaration that a decree obtained against the plaintiff was fraudulent, with a consequential relief, should ordinarily be valued at the amount for which the decree sought to be set aside was obtained. (11 C.W.N. 705, F.) Where the plaint was originally correctly framed, but by reason of an unfounded objection as to deficiency of Court-fees taken by the defendant, the plaintiff withdrew his prayer for consequential relief, which resulted in the dismissal of the suit on the ground of its not being maintainable, the High Court in second appeal allowed the plaint to be amended and restored to its original form. THAKUR PROSAD v. PUNKAL SINGH, 8 C.L.J. 485.

(372)—S. 42—Limitation—Applicable to.—In the case of declaratory suits time does not commence to run until the right to sue accrues. DATTATRAYA v. RAMCHANDRA, 2 Bom. L.R. 354 = 24 B. 533.

(373)—S. 42—Cancellation of instrument—Limitation.—Where a landlord sues a tenant for the cancellation of an instrument under which the latter purports to hold his tenement, and the recovery of the possession of the tenement is only put in as a consequential relief, the suit would come within s. 39 or 42 of the Specific Relief Act, and the relevant article of the Limitation Act would be either Art. 91 or 120. RAJA RAMPAL SINGH v. BALBHADDAR, 4 Bom. L.R. 832 = 25 A. 1 = 29 I.A. 203 = 6 C.W.N. 849 = 8 Sar. 340, P.C.

(374)—S. 42—Suit for a declaratory decree—Limitatien—Suit to set aside an order of an officer of Government—Unnecessary prayer—Act XV of 1877 (Limitation Act), sch. II, No. 14.—On the 3rd June, 1884, a Collector, in partition proceedings under the N.W.P. Land Revenue Act (XIX of 1873) included a temple within the defendant's mahal, but ordered the plaintiff to contribute a certain sum yearly towards its expenses. On the 2nd June, 1887, the plaintiff instituted a suit for a declaration that the order was ultra vires, and passed without jurisdiction. Held that the suit must be dismissed, as the case was not within s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) since the Collector's order did not impugn in any way the title of the plaintiff to any property. Held, that although the Collector's order was ultra vires, and the suit to have it so declared was wholly unnecessary, still as the plaintiff had chosen to bring it, art. 14, sch. II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) must be applied to it, and the suit was barred by limitation. BIJAI MISR v. GOBIND GIR, A.W.N. 1890, 195.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(375)—S. 42—Parties — Defendant's death before the suit was instituted— Representatives — Punjab Land Revenue Act, 1887, s. 45 — Declaratory suit—Limitation Act, 1877, second schedule, art. 120.—When the representatives of a respondent who died before the suit was instituted against him were not made parties to the appeal the decision of the case would not bind them. Where the Revenue authorities included land in dispute in the estate of the defendants without the knowledge of the plaintiffs, held, that a suit to obtain declaration of plaintiff's title to the land, on the allegation that the defendants are now taking advantage of the entry to endeavour to oust plaintiffs from the land was maintainable under s. 42, Specific Relief Act, and s. 45, Punjab Land Revenue Act, 1887. Held, further that art. 120, sch. II, Limitation Act XV of 1877 was applicable to the case. NATHA SINGH v. SADIQ ALI, 25 P.L.R. 1900=20 P. R. 1900.

(376)—S. 42—Occupancy holding — Suit by presumptive heir during the lifetime of the tenant.—V applied to the Revenue Court for mutation of names in favour of his daughter, S and his daughter's son K, along with his own in respect of his occupancy holding. M contested the application on the ground that K was not the daughter's son. A compromise was effected between V and M, wherein it was stated that M was joint in cultivation with V, and was entitled to succeed, and that K was not the heir. In a suit brought by K for a declaration that he was the heir of V, held, that K, as daughter's son or the nearest collateral male relative who was sharing in the cultivation of the occupancy holding with the recorded tenant V, was a person entitled to a legal character within the meaning of s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, and that the dispute between K and M was a fit subject for a declaration under that section even during the lifetime of V. MOHENDRA MISRA v. KEDAR PANDE, 9 A.L.J. 788=14 Ind. Cas. 746.

(377)—S. 42—Claim of private right by plaintiff over land—Claim of public right by defendants — Cause of action — Crim. Pro. Code, s. 133 — Parties — Persons claiming public right are alone necessary parties—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 30 — Irregularity in not recording formal order.—Where the plaintiff claims a private right upon a certain land, over which a public right of way is claimed by the defendants, who initiated proceedings under s. 133, Crim. Pro. Code, and there has been an order by the Magistrate upon the plaintiff to remove certain structure which the Magistrate found to be an obstruction upon the alleged public right of way: Held, that, as a cloud had been thrown upon his title by the proceedings under s. 133, Crim. Pro. Code, the plaintiff had a cause of action to bring a suit for declaration of his title: Held, also, that the plaintiff had a right to bring the suit against the defendants alone, without impleading any other member of the public. Where notices under s. 30 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, were issued one year before the trial, mentioning the defendants and other residents of the neighbouring villages, and the defendants put in written statement after the service of the notices, and adduced evidence in support of the public right of way, the notices must be considered to be definite enough, and the simple fact that particular person was not directed, by an express order of the Court before the trial, as authorized to defend the suit, did not affect the result of the case. SHEIK EKHAR ALI v. ANU MANJHI, 6 Ind. Cas. 46. (21 C. 180, 29 C. 100, F.; 17 C. 906, R.)

(378)—S. 42—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 578.—Even if the plaintiff had no ground for coming into Court under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act for a declaratory decree, yet, when such a suit had actually been entertained and disposed of on the merits and had resulted in a decree which is sound on the merits, the appellate Court ought not to interfere with such a decree, for, even if there had been an irregularity in the original Court entertaining the suit, such irregularity would be covered by s. 578 Civ. Pro. Code. POHKAR DAS v. RAM PRASAD, A. W.N. 1887, 231. (8 A. 365, R.)

(379)—S. 42.—Declaratory decree of title to ownership of land refused where there was break in possession for about twenty years before the annexation of Upper Burma. MAUNG CHA v. MAUNG PE GYI, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 554.

(380)—S. 42—Voluntary conveyance by debtor —Suit to impeach conveyance as fraudulent and void—Mere creditor without decree not competent to sue--Declaratory decree.--A mere creditor, who has not obtained a decree for his debt, cannot sue to impeach, as being fraudulent and void, a voluntary conveyance by his debtor, first because he is not competent to claim a declaration under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, until he has a decree for his debt, and secondly because before that decree is made, the only relief that could be sought by him is the relief afforded by a declaratory decree. NATHA SINGA v. GURBAKSH SINGH, 10 P R. 1882. (86 P.R. 1879, R.)

(381)—S. 42 — *Declaration — Possession — —Order under s.*59, Land Registration Act, VII (B.C.) of 1876—Effect.—The effect of an order under s. 59 of the Land Registration Act is stated in s. 62 of that Act to be "that of settling the actual possession."—When the plaintiff who is admittedly out of possession in consequence of an order under the Land Registration Act, has not sued to recover possession, but has asked merely for a declaratory decree, his suit is barred under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. The proviso to that section clearly states that no Court shall make any such declaration when the plaintiff, being able to seek other relief than a mere declaration of title, omits to do so. RAM MUNDUR v. JANKI PERSHAD, 12 C L.R. 139. [F., 26 C. 845=4 C.W.N. 162.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(382)—S. 42—Government order cancelling separate registration--Suit for declaring illegality —Suit for cancellation of a Government order—Parties—Grantee of portion of estate—Subsequent separate registration—Amount of peishcush payable—A plaint praying for a declaratory decree that an order of Government cancelling the separate registration of portion of an estate, but without seeking consequential relief, is not bad under s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act. It is a suit asking that an act done in contravention of a statute is void, and the Specific Relief Act does not apply to it. Even supposing that the Act applied, no further relief need be asked since it would be the duty of the Collector, when the decree is passed declaring the Government order illegal, to make such alterations in the registers as are consequent on the decree. [R., 23 M. 385, 17 M.L.J. 423.] In a suit framed as above, the zamindar of the estate, of a portion of which separate registration is sought, or his lessees are not necessary parties. Where the grant of a village forming part of a zamindari was made on the condition that the grantee was to pay every year to the Circar as peishcush Rs. 3,500, and the village was subsequently separately registered, held that Rs. 3,500 was fixed provisionally to cover the portion of Government revenue attributable to that village and that, after separation, the grantee should pay direct to the Collector only the burdens fixed as properly incident to that village. ROBERT FISCHER v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 22 M. 270, P.C.=26 I A. 16=3 C.W.N. 161=7 Sar. 459.

(383)—S. 42 — Declaratory relief sought against tenant—Possession, prayer for—Under-proprietary rights, acquisition by prescription of--Second appeal, new pleas first taken in.—The plaintiffs' suit against J for arrears of rent having failed, they sued him in the Civil Court for a declaration that he had no proprietary or under-proprietary right in the land in dispute. J alleged that he was not in possession of the land and that it was in the possession of H and C, who were made defendants. They pleaded that the land had been in their possession as zamindars from the time of native rule. The Court of first instance decreed the suit and granted the declaration prayed for, and the Court of first appeal dismissed the defendant's appeal. In second appeal it was contended by the defendant that the proviso to s. 42, Specific Relief Act, barred the declaration given by the Court of first instance inasmuch as the plaintiffs could have sued for possession of the land and not merely for declaratory relief. This plea was not taken in the memorandum of appeal. Held, that as the suit was originally brought, the plaintiffs inasmuch as they alleged that J was a tenant, could not have claimed possession. When H and C were joined as defendants they did not plead in the lower Courts that the plaintiffs should sue for possession of the land, and it was too late to take such a plea in second appeal. Held further, that, if the defendants, as they contended, had been in possession of the land for 12 years, claiming to be the underproprietors of the same, and adversely to the plaintiffs, the plaintiffs would not be entitled to the declaration granted inasmuch as the defendants would have acquired under-proprietary rights by prescription. HARNANDAN v. RAHA BHUP INDAR BIKHRAM SINGH, 4 O C. 207.

(384)—S. 42—Suit to declare that plaintiffs are not bound to make certain payments—A suit will lie to declare that the plaintiffs are not liable to pay mahsal or batai which the defendant alleged he had a right to levy and enforce his claim. S. BAHADUR KHAN v. JIWAN, 27 P.R. 1899.

(385)—S. 42—Defendant entitled to possession but not in actual possession—Suit for declaration--Maintainability--Operation of s. 42 as bar to suit--Requisites.—Where, though the defendant was entitled to obtain possession of certain Chatram properties under a decree of the High Court, he was not at the date of the suit in actual possession of the same. Held that it cannot be contended that a suit by the plaintiff for a mere declaration of his right will not lie. In order that a suit can be held to be unmaintainable by the application of s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act, it must be shown that the defendant was in possession and as against him the plaintiff could have obtained an order for delivery of possession. MALAIYA PILLAI v. TIRUMALAPERUMAL PILLAI, 10 M.L.T. 277. (28 C. 845, 28 M. 338, R.)

(386)—S. 42—Suit for mere declaration—Scramble for possession and no effective ouster of plaintiff—Subsistence Inam granted by zemindar jointly to plaintiff's and defendant's ancestors—Such Inam not limited to lineal male descendants—B.S O. 57, whether applicable--Effect of that order.—Plaintiff sued for a declaration of his title to a half share in the Mokhasa village of B, which had been jointly granted by the zemindar of Nuzid as a subsistence grant to the ancestors of the plaintiff's and defendant's families. The District Judge decreed his claim. The defendants appealed. They contended: (1) that the village being an unenfranchised subsistence Inam, it could only pass to the direct lineal male heirs of the last holder; and the plaintiff being an adopted son, cannot inherit it; and that it passed by survivorship to the defendants, the representatives of the other grantee. And reliance was placed on Board's Standing Order No. 57; (2) that most of the tenants having attorned to the defendants and executed muchilikas to them, they should be taken to be in exclusive possession of the village and the plaintiff's suit for mere declaration is not maintainable.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

Held:—(1) in the absence of the original Inam grant, it cannot be assumed that it ceased to have operation so far as the plaintiff's family was concerned, on the death of his adoptive father; (2) that B.S.O. 57 does not apply to this case, as the reversionary right belonged to the zemindar and not the Government; (3) that, even if it does apply, it only gives the Government the right to resume it and does not treat the grant as lapsing, though the Government does not choose to exercise its right: (4) as it is not proved that the defendants had collected more than their share of the rents of the village, there was no effective ouster of the plaintiff, but only a scramble for possession; and therefore the plaintiff's suit for mere declaration is maintainable. BOYANAPALLI VENUGOPALA ROW GARU v. POTHAPALLI VENKATA NARASIMHA ROW GARU, 2 M.W.N. 1911, 384. (15 M. 307, R.)

(387)—S. 42—See ACT XXIII OF 1871, ss. 4 to 6, 2 O.C. 57.

(388)—S. 42—See U.P. ACT XII OF 1881, s. 7, A.W.N. 1893, 177.

(389)—S. 42—See U.P. ACT XXII OF 1886, ss. 5, 108, cl. (4), 5 O.C. 118.

(390)—S. 42—Maintainability of suit in Civil Court for declaration that plaintiff is entitled to get from his co-sharer the amount due from him, on account of the arrears of revenue—See U.P. ACT XXII OF 1886, s. 108, 9 O.C. 232.

(391)—S. 42—See BENAMI TRANSACTION—GENERAL, 21 M. 231.

(392)—S. 42—See CAUSE OF ACTION, 20 P. R. 1900.

(393)—S. 42—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 11, O. II, r. 2, 4 A. 261, F.B.

(394)—S. 42—Suit for declaration of right to office of Dharmakarta—No prayer for possession of temple lands—Tenants willing to pay rent—No bar to suit—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 92, 10 M.L.T. 356=21 M.L.J. 952.

(395)—S. 42—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. I, r. 8 (1), 3 O.C. 351.

(396)—S. 42—No denial of legal character—No consequential relief—Maintainability of suit—Whether s. 42 controls s. 539, Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. I, r. 8 (1), ss. 92, 93, 7 M.L.T. 45=5 Ind. Cas. 515.

(397)—S. 42—Suit for specific performance of contract of sale, based upon award of arbitrators—Subsequent suit for possession, maintainability of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, r. 2, sch. II, r. 20, 4 N.L.R. 14.

(398)—S. 42—Difference between s. 283, Civ. Pro. Code (1882) and—Grant of declaratory decree—Interference with discretion of Court—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 16, 52, 58, 60, 63, 8 Ind. Cas. 608.

(399)—S. 42—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 60, 61, 63, 24 M. 20.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(400)—S. 42—Suit under s. 283, Civ. Pro. Code, maintainability of, when no further relief is asked for—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 63, 29 M. 151.

(401)—S. 42—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O XXI, r. 63, 111 P.R. 1900, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 481.

(402)—S. 42—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 7, cls. (vi) (c) and (viii), s. 12 (ii); art. 17, cl. (1) of sch. II, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 355.

(403)—S. 42—Suit for declaration that plaintiffs are the real decree-holders of the decree obtained by defendent and that the decree should be transferred to them—Consequential relief—Court fee—Amendment of plaint—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, sch. I, art. 17, 47 P.L.R. 1911=1 P.R. 1911=22 P.W.R. 1911=9 Ind. Cas. 673.

(404)—S. 42—Suit by reversioners for possession—Uncertainty of widow's death—Competency of Court to pass declaratory decree—See CUSTOMS—PUNJAB—ALIENATION, 1 P.W.R. 1910=5 Ind. Cas. 587.

(405)—S. 42—Suit for declaration of title—Property in possession of tenants—Receipt of rent not proved—Maintainability of suit—See CUSTOMS—PUNJAB—INHERITANCE, 5 P.R. 1908=29 P.W.R. 1908=99 P.L.R. 1908.

(406)—S. 42—See CUSTOMS—PUNJAB—INHERITANCE, 14 P.L.R. 1900, 72 P.R. 1906=108 P.L.R. 1907.

(407)—S. 42—Suit by daughter's son for a declaration that a gift by a Hindu widow to her daughters, and sale by one daughter to another, are void beyond widow's lifetime—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 4 A.L.J. 677=A.W.N. 1907, 269.

(408)—S. 42—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 11 Bom. L.R. 606=3 Ind. Cas. 257.

(409)—S. 42—Discretion of Courts—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 3 Ind. Cas. 234.

(410)—S. 42—Defendant not in possession—Plaintiff cannot claim possession as "further relief"—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 5 Ind. Cas. 343=7 M.L.T. 253=20 M.L.J. 709.

(411)—S. 42—See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONERS, 8 O.C. 21.

(412)—S. 42—Suit by more remote reversioner when nearer reversioner alive—See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONERS, 32 C. 62=9 C.W.N. 25.

(413)—S. 42—Suit by presumptive reversioner against widow for injunction against waste and alienation—See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONERS, 2 A.L.J. 84=A.W.N. 1905, 6=27 A. 406.

(414)—S. 42—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 25 M. 504, 28 M. 363=15 M.L.J. 299, 8 Ind. Cas. 517.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(415)—S. 42—See INJUNCTION—GENERAL, 5 Bom. L.R. 195.

(416)—S. 42—Declaratory decree—Negative declaration—Declaration of contingent right—See JURISDICTION—GENERAL, 12 C. W. N. 777=8 C.L.J. 1 =4 M.L.T. 27=35 C. 777.

(417)—S. 42—See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 3 M.L.T. 309, P.L.R. 1900, p. 541.

(418)—S. 42—See LEASE—GENERAL, 6 A. L.J. 177=31 A. 271=2 Ind. Cas. 209.

(419)—S. 42—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 14, 1 O.C. 272.

(420)—S. 42—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 118, 119 and 144, 26 M. 291=13 M.L.J. 27.

(421)—S. 42—Suit for declaration of title to immoveable property—Applicability of Limitation Act to such a suit—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 120, 144, 1 C.L.J. 73.

(422)—S. 42—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, A.W.N. 1894, 205.

(423)—S. 42—Suit by sub-mortgagee for a declaration that a declaration held by the mortgagee had been satisfied—See MORTGAGE—MISCELLANEOUS, 2 A.L.J. 609.

(424)—S. 42—Altering prayer of plaint—Suit for declaratory decree—See MUTATION OF NAMES IN REVENUE REGISTER OF HOLDINGS, 2 L.B.R. 243.

(425)—S. 42—Declaratory suit—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 54, amendment of plaint by adding prayer for consequential relief—See PLAINT—AMENDMENT OF PLAINT, 9 B. 355.

(426)—S. 42—Suit for decree declaratory of title without prayer for consequential relief—Relief by way of injunction not sought—Effect—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 424, notice under—See PUBLIC OFFICER, 14 B. 395.

(427)—S. 42—Suit for declaration as to membership of tarwad—Suit instituted in subordinate Court — Prior suit in Munsif's Court—Valuation of suit to avoid jurisdiction—Maintainability of suit—See RES JUDICATA—COMPETENCY OF COURT, 24 M. 275.

(428)—S. 42—Declaration of reversionary interest—Protection of present interest of plaintiff—Maintainability of suit—See RES JUDICATA — MISCELLANEOUS, 11 C.L.J. 623=6 Ind. Cas. 301.

(429)—S. 42—See RIGHT OF SUIT—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE, 7 A. 533=A.W. N. 1885, 124.

(430)—S. 42—Suit to eject trustee—Possession — Valuation for jurisdiction — Specific Relief Act, s. 42—See VALUATION OF SUITS, 8 M. 516.

(431)—S. 42—See WILL—MISCELLANEOUS, 15 B. 697.

(432)—S. 42, proviso—Not applicable to suits under s: 283, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882.—The proviso to s. 42, Specific Relief Act, has no application to suits instituted under s. 283,

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. SAHIB DIAL v. LAJPAT RAI, 10 P.R. 1912. (29 M. 151, 14 M. 23, 51 P.R. 1897, F.B., F.; 16 M. 140, N.F.)

(433)—S. 42, proviso—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 278—Suit for declaration of title to attached property—No application for removal of attachment under s. 278, Civ. Pro. Code—Suit not barred—The object of the proviso to s. 42 of the Act is to prevent a plaintiff from getting a declaration in one suit, and consequential relief afterwards in another. In a suit which was merely for a declaration that certain land attached and sold in execution of a decree at the instance of the defendant was the property of the plaintiff and not liable to attachment, it was found that no application for removal of attachment had been made under s. 278, Civ. Pro. Code. Held, the proviso to s. 42 of the Act did not apply to the suit. P. L. A. N. ALLAGAPPA CHETTY v. NAZAMATALI CAOWDHRY, 4 L.B.R. 263. (1 L.B.R. 1, 4 L.B.R. 88, 4 L.B.R. 75, R.)

(434)—S 42, proviso—'Able to seek further relief'—Land in possession of defendant's tenant.—Plaintiff suing for mere declaration—Maintainability.—The fact that the land in dispute is in possession of the tenants, who apparently hold under the defendant, in no way entitles the plaintiff, who is out of possession, to bring a declaratory suit. He certainly is able to seek further relief than a mere declaration of title within the purview of s. 42, Act I of 1877. ABDUL GHAFUR v. MUSSAMMAT MEHARUN-NISSA, 101 P.R. 1909=4 Ind. Cas. 856. (25 M. 504, F.; 15 M. 307, D.)

(435)—S. 42, proviso—One plaintiff out of possession — Other plaintiff in possession in defendant's right—Declaratory suit—Second suit for possession.—Where, out of two plaintiffs to a suit for declaration of title, it appeared that one was not in possession of the property claimed, and the other was in possession but in the right of the defendant who had previously been in possession, held, that the suit was barred by the express provision of s. 42, Specific Relief Act, and ought to be dismissed. But the dismissal of this suit would not affect the right of these plaintiffs, if they were entitled to possession, from instituting and maintaining a suit for possession. AKBAR KHAN v. TURABAN, 5 A.L.J. 640.

(436)—S. 42, proviso—Suit for declaratory decree.—The proviso to s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act forbids the giving of a mere declaratory decree where the plaintiff being able to seek further relief omits to do so. Where a plaintiff being able to sue for an injunction, omits to do so, the Court cannot grant a mere declaration of title. As the suit was framed in this case, it was a land suit within the definition of the term "land suit" in s. 2 of the Lower Burma Courts Act, because a suit in which a right to and interest in the standing crops on the land was claimed, is a "land suit" for the purposes of s. 2, Lower Burma Courts Act. MA DUN v. MA PAU, 2 L.B.R. 124. [D., L.B.R. 1907—1908, 88; R., L.B.R. 1905—1906, 90.]

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(437)—S. 42, Ill. (e)—Suit for possession under will— Will found invalid—Suit for declaration of reversionary heirship —Where the plaintiff seeks for possession and establishment of his title from a Hindu widow on the ground of being the heir of the deceased under his will, and the will is held to be not genuine, he cannot obtain in that suit a declaration under the terms of ill. (e) to s. 42, Specific Relief Act, 1877 ; as such relief is not asked for in the plaint. BALBHADDAR v. SURTI, A W.N. 1881. 93.

(438)—S. 42, ill. (e)—Existence of presumptive reversioners—Right of contingent and more remote reversioners to sue—See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONERS, 28 M 57=14 M.L.J. 209.

(439)—S. 42, ills. (e) and (f), Scope of—Presumptive reversionary heir entitled after widow's death—Suit to set aside the will of last male owner.—A presumptive reversionary heir, entitled to inherit after the death of the widow of the last male owner, is entitled to sue for declaration that an alleged will, under which other persons claimed the property as devisees, was made under undue influence and coercion, and is, therefore, invalid as against his reversionary right. The right of the presumptive reversioner to sue for declaration under s. 42 of the Act, is not confined to the case of transactions by the widow herself, as are referred to in ills. (e) and (f) to the section ; nor is such a reversioner bound to show collusion, acquiescence or laches on the part of the widow, before he is allowed to institute the suit. PUTTANNA alias, KESHAVA BHATTA v. RAMAKRISHNA SASTRI. 30 M. 195 =17 M.L.J. 374. (6 C. 764, P.C., D.) [R., 3 Ind. Cas. 178=10 C.L.J. 263.]

(440)—S. 42—See Nos. 109, 110, 253 to 257, supra.

(441)—Ss. 42, 39—Suit for declaration of invalidity of alienation of waqf property—No relief to set aside deed or the decree for possession in favour of alienees—No bar under proviso to s. 42—Nature of relief under s. 39—Mahant of religious endowment—Nature of his power.—A, claiming to be in possession, brought a suit for a declaration that a sale by defendant No. I in favour of defendants Nos. 2 and 3, of certain waqf property, was illegal, and that the decree for possession of the said property passed in favour of defendants Nos 2 and 3 on the strength of the said sale should have no effect on the property sold. Held, that, even if the plaintiff could have brought a suit under s. 39 of the Specific Relief Act for cancellation of the deed of sale, he was not bound to do so, and that the present suit for a mere declaration without any consequential relief lay. (13 M. 324, F.) The proviso to s. 42, Specific Relief Act, was only applicable for such relief as was appropriate and consequent on the right asserted. The relief under s. 39 would be a species of auxiliary relief, and not such further relief as is contemplated by the proviso to s. 42 aforesaid. Held also, that, as regards the setting aside of the decree for possession in favour of defendants Nos. 2 and 3, the plaintiff who was no party to it can regard it as a nullity, and that there was no necessity for him to get it set aside specifically when he was no party to it. The powers of a Mahant of a religious institution in matters of alienation of the endowment property are analogous to those of a Hindu widow. AMIN CHAND v. SANT MURLI DHAR. 18 P.R. 1913 =19 Ind. Cas. 211=211 P.L.R. 1913=151 P. W R. 1913. (3 P.R. 1902, F.)

(442)—Ss. 42, 45—Municipality—Election—Omission of a candidate's name from the candidates' list prepared by the Receiving Officer—Suit for declaration and injunction.—A Receiving Officer, appointed by the Collector under the Election Rules, refused to accept the nomination paper of the plaintiff, a candidate at a by-election for a councillorship of the Surat City Municipality : and the list of candidates that was published omitted plaintiff's name from it. The plaintiff thereupon sued the Municipality for a declaration that he was entitled to come forward as a candidate and for an injunction to prevent the Municipality from carrying on the by-election without accepting plaintiff as a candidate : Held, (1) that the suit for declaration failed since the Municipality neither denied nor was interested to deny the character or right which the plaintiff sought to establish. It was the Receiving Officer that was concerned with the question and over him the Municipality had no control ; (2) that the claim for injunction too could not be sustained, since the Municipality had done no wrong and was threatening to do no wrong ; it only proposed to proceed in accordance with the Act and the Rules so far as they related to it. SURAT MUNICIPALITY v. CHUNILAL, 8 Bom. L.R. 209=30 B. 409.

(443)—Ss. 42, 54—Declaration—Meaning of "property"—Right to Birt—Spes successionis —Injunction when can be claimed—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 2 (2), 115, 216 P. L. R. 1911.

(444)—Ss. 42, 54—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 22 M. 189.

(445)—S. 45—Scope of section.—The conditions set forth in s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, are cumulative. RUSTOM v. KENNEDY, 4 Bom. L.R. C.A. 1=26 B. 396.

(446)—S. 45—Scope of Section—Procedure—Companies Act VI of 1882, s. 58.—When there was a remedy both specific, adequate and appropriate under s. 58 of the Companies' Act, the plaintiff cannot invoke the provisions of Ch. VIII of the Specific Relief Act for the enforcement of public duties. Ex parte R. GILBERT ; In the matter of the BOMBAY FIRE INSURANCE CO., LTD., 16 B. 398.

(447)—S. 45.—Enforcement of public duties —Public servant—High Court.—The Commissioner of Police at Bombay, acting under s. 28 of the Bombay City Police Act, 1902, issued a notice upon the applicants requiring them to vacate the premises occupied by them, and intimating that "failure to comply with this notice will render you liable to punishment under s. 129" of the Act. The applicants applied to the High Court, under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, for a rule against the Commissioner of Police to show cause why the notice should not be cancelled and why he should not be restrained from carrying the same into effect: Held, that the cancellation of the notice or the non-enforcing of it is an act clearly incumbent by law upon the Commissioner of Police, so as to bring it within s. 45 (b) of the Specific Relief Act, 1877. In re TARABAI, 7 Bom. L.R. 161.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(448)—S. 45—Enforcement of public duties—Public servants—High Court—"Personal right"—Interpretation—Act XLVIII of 1860, ss. 11, 12—Commissioner of Police—Licenses—Discretion in granting licenses—Eating house.—A person purchased the business and stock in trade of an eating house which was carried on under a license granted by the Commissioner of Police, Bombay, under Act XLVIII of 1880. Subsequent to his purchase, he applied to the Commissioner of Police for a transfer of the license to his name. This leave was refused. He, thereupon, applied to the High Court, under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act, for an order directing the Commissioner to grant a license to him: Held, that no order could be made under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act, as the Commissioner of Police, had, under ss. 11 and 12 of Act XLVIII of 1860, a discretion in the matter of granting licenses. The five conditions mentioned in s. 45, Specific Relief Act, are not disjunctive, the effect of which is that if any one of them is not complied with the section cannot be put into operation. The words "personal right" in s. 45 (a) of the Specific Relief Act, are intended to cover rights in rem such as every human being in a civilized society possesses independently of any act of his own. In re RUSTOM, 3 Bom. L.R. 653.

(449)—S. 45—Calcutta Municipal Act (III of 1899, B.C.), ss. 88, 556 -Agreement for lease—Contract—Calling of tenders when obligatory—Covenant in lease relating to the tenement—Mandamus — Matters of discretion. — Under s. 556 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, the Corporation of Calcutta has the power to lease any property vested in them on any terms they think fit, without calling for any tenders in that behalf. Although a covenant in or in respect of a lease is a contract, yet, if the same relate to the demised premises and be not independent of them, then, in that case, the contract in the covenant does not come within the meaning of s. 88 of the Calcutta Municipal Act so as to make it obligatory upon the Corporation to call for tenders. In the matter of JOGENDRA NATH MUKHUTI, 13 C.W.N. 129=36 C. 274=1 Ind. Cas. 968. [R., 13 C.W.N. 740.]

(450)—S. 45—See BEN. ACT II OF 1888, ss. 8, 19, 21 to 23, 31, 23 C. 717.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(451)—S. 45—See BEN. ACT II OF 1888, ss. 14, 24, 31, 19 C. 192.

(452)—S. 45—Application to High Court to require a public officer to do a specific act—See BOM. ACT III OF 1888, ss. 33, 34, 12 Bom. L. R. 737=34 B. 659.

(453) — S. 45—Mandamus, issue of—See MAD. ACT I OF 1902, ss. 3, 23, 48, 7 M.L.T. 73=5 Ind. Cas. 740.

(454)—S. 45 and proviso (c)—Mandamus, issue of, by High Court against public officer for non-performance of statutory duty—Election roll, preparation of—Calcutta Municipal Act (B.C. III of 1899), sch. IV, r. 8—Time, place and officer for lodging notice of claim or objection to voter's list as provided by the Act, if may be varied.—Where the Calcutta Municipal Act, sch IV, r. 8, provides that the notice of any claims or objections to the voter's list should be lodged with the Chairman on or before the 1st of January, and some persons, instead of filing such notice of claims before the duly authorized Deputy Chairman, who kept the Election Department open on that day, left the notice of claims on the 1st of January with the Secretary to the Corporation in his private residence, and then, on the 2nd of January, they took the papers from the Secretary and filed them with the Deputy Chairman: Held, that the requirement under the Act had not been satisfied and the Deputy Chairman had no authority to extend the time to the 2nd of January and allow the claim. The omission of a statutory officer to perform the public duties as to the settlement of election roll in the manner provided by the Act amounts to doing or forbearing to do something not consonant to right and justice, and it is within the jurisdiction of the High Court to issue an order in the form of a mandamus on the officer under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act. In re MR. ROMESH CHANDRA SEN, 16 C.W.N. 472=15 C.L.J. 494=39 C. 598=14 Ind. Cas. 682.

(455)—S. 45—See No. 442, supra.

(456)—Ss. 45, 46—Mandamus on Board of Revenue to release estate in charge of Court of Wards--Necessary parties to application—Other legal remedy available—Question of title if will be gone into.—The petitioner having obtained a decree in the Court of the Subordinate Judge of Shahbad for recovery of possession, against an infant, of an estate of which the Court of Wards had taken possession on behalf of the infant, applied, pending defendant's appeal to the High Court, for an order under s. 45, Specific Relief Act, calling upon the Members of the Board of Revenue forming the Court of Wards to release the estate from its charge: Held that the failure to implead the infant, whose interest would be affected if the application succeeded, was fatal to the application. That the exercise by the High Court of its extraordinary powers under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act was not called for, as an adequate legal remedy viz., by way of execution of his decree, was open to the petitioner. That the Court will not make an order under the section, unless it is satisfied that it is clearly incumbent on the opposite party to do the act, and pending the appeal to the High Court it could not be said that it was clearly incumbent on the opposite party to release the estate. That the Court will not in such a proceeding try a question of title. In the matter of KESHO PRASAD SINGH, 15 C.W.N. 503=13 C.L.J. 390.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(457)—Ss. 45, 46—Public duties, enforcement of—Applicant guilty of grave misconduct—Application to be admitted to examination—Applicant debarred from appearing—Notification in Calcutta Gazette. In dealing with an application under Chap. VIII of the Specific Relief Act, the principles applicable to a writ of mandamus should be generally followed (35 I. A. 130=8 C.L.J. 103=32 B. 466, R.). S. 45 of the Specific Relief Act enables the Court to make an order requiring any specific act to be done or forborne and nothing else: s. 46 provides that an application must be founded on an affidavit of the person injured stating his right, his demand of justice and denial thereof. Where, by a petition, the applicant prayed, first, for an order that the Board of Examiners acted illegally in not publishing the petitioner's name in the list of successful candidates; secondly, that it might be declared that the petitioner had passed the Pleadership Examination, that his name should be gazetted as a successful candidate, or, it might be declared that the order appearing in the Calcutta Gazette which was passed by the Board or Examiners of the Pleadership and Muktearship Examinations or by the Local Government was illegal and ultra vires, and, thirdly, that it might be declared that the Board of Examiners had acted illegally in not entertaining the petitioner's application and his certificate of character and not allowing him to appear at the ensuing examination, Held, that, as the application completely disregarded in substance the provisions of ss.45 and 46 of the Specific Relief Act, it was not maintainable. That the jurisdiction conferred on the High Court by chapter VIII of the Specific Relief Act should not be strained in favour of the applicant, as he had not come with clean hands. BOARD OF EXAMINERS v. PROVAS CHUNDER ROY, 17 C.L.J. 354=40 C. 588=18 Ind. Cas. 527=17 C.W.N. 1225.

(458)—S. 46—See Nos. 456, 457, supra.

(459)—S. 47—Act XIV of 1859, s. 15—Suit for possession—Growing crops.—Where a person recovered possession of certain land in virtue of a decree under s. 15 of Act XIV of 1859, held, that he recovered the land with the crops growing upon it and that he was entitled to cut the same. SHIRAJEE PRAMANICK v. EMAM BUKSH BISWAS, 13 W.R. 104.

(460)—S. 52—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 141, 151, O XXXIX, r. 1, 8 S.L.R. 128=4 Ind. Cas. 609.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(460-a)—S. 53—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES.

(460-b)—S. 54—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES.

(461)—S. 54—Mandatory injunction—Actual damage, whether necessary.—The plaintiff sued for an injunction restraining the defendant from using certain newly erected brick-kilns in the vicinity of the plaintiff's fruit garden. The brick-kiln had never been used, but there was evidence that similar brick-kiln in the neighbourhood had produced serious damage to similar fruit gardens. Held that the plaintiff had a good case for the granting of an injunction, and that it was not necessary to show that actual damage had been caused in the particular instance, before a mandatory injunction could issue. HARGU LAL v. DWARKA PRASAD, 1 A.L.J. 239=A.W.N. 1904, 101.

(462)—S. 54—Perpetual injunction when granted under.—Where the defendants threaten to invade the enjoyment of property by the plaintiffs, and the invasion is such that pecuniary compensation would not afford adequate relief, the plaintiffs have a right to obtain a perpetual injunction under s. 54 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877). KALIDAS JIVRAM v. GOR PARJARAM HIRJI, 15 B. 309.

(463)—S. 54—Easement—Enjoyment of light and air through windows—Obstruction—Remedy—Injunction or damages—Power of Court to grant injunction.—The power of the Courts in India to grant a perpetual injunction is determined by the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 54. Where there is a material injury to that which is a clear legal right, and it appears that damages, from the nature of the case, would not be a complete compensation, the Court will interfere by injunction. The plaintiff sued for an injunction restraining the defendant from erecting a building which would interfere with the access of light and air (which he had been enjoying for 24 years) through 4 windows in the southern wall of the plaintiff's house. The northern wall of the defendant's building was 6 feet distant from the southern wall of the plaintiff's house (in which the windows were put up) and was intended to be raised to a height of 64 feet, with the result that light and air passing through the windows would be obstructed. Held that, as the comfort of the plaintiff in the use of the house was not materially diminished by the decrease in the amount of light and air which had been passing through the windows, the plaintiff was entitled only to damages, but not to an injunction. DHUNJIBHOY COWASJI UMRIGAR v. LISBOA, 13 B. 252. [F., 20 B. 704; Cons., 18 B. 474; R., 19 A. 259, 22 M. 251, 7 Bom. L.R. 352, 7 Bom. L.R. 73, 3 N.L.R. 114, 3 S.L.R. 30=1 Ind. Cas. 958].

(464)—S. 54—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 120, 13 M. 445.

(465)—S. 54—See MARRIAGE, U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. II, 488.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(466)—S. 54—See PRESCRIPTION—EASEMENT—LIGHT AND AIR, 18 B. 474.

(467)—S. 54, ill. (k)—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 23, 31 C. 174=9 C.W.N. 87.

(468)—S. 54—See Nos. 119, 443, 444, supra.

(469)—Ss. 54 and 55—Prohibitory and mandatory injunctions—Obstruction to light and air—Discretion of Court to grant injunction or damages—See EASEMENTS ACT, 1882, ss. 7, 15, 16, 33, 35, 3 N.L.R. 114.

(470)—Ss. 54, 56—Partition proceedings in Revenue Court—Suit for temporary injunction to restrain.—The same principles which govern the granting of perpetual injunction are applicable to the case of temporary injunctions. According to s. 56 (b) the Chief Court has no power to restrain partition proceedings in a Revenue Court which is in no way subordinate to the Chief Court. MALIK SOHARA KHAN v. AHMAD KHAN, 57 P.R. 1899=17 P.L.R. 1900.

(471)—Ss. 54, 56—Easement—Light and air—Obstruction to—Substantial deprivation—Damages not adequate relief—Injunction ordinarily granted.—Where a wall constructed by the defendant was admittedly built flush with the plaintiff's house, the effect of which was, so far as the means for access of light and air were concerned, to prevent them entirely. Held, that the plaintiff had a right of action. To constitute an actionable obstruction of ancient lights, it is not enough that the light is less than before. There must be a substantial deprivation of light enough to render the occupation of a house uncomfortable according to the ordinary notions of mankind. Held, also, that this was not a case in which adequate compensation can be given by way of damages, or a case in which an equally efficacious remedy can certainly be obtained by some other novel mode of proceeding (22 M. 251, R.; 22 M. 251, not assented to). Injunction is the rule and damages the exception. RAMANJULU NAIDU v. APPARANJI AMMAL, 9 M.L.T. 383. (13 B. 252, 18 B. 474, R.)

(472)—Ss. 54, 56—Injunction—Restraining defendant from executing decree—Multiplicity of suit.—The defendant obtained a decree for recovery of possession of certain land from which, he said, he had been wrongfully ousted. But before he had taken any steps to execute his decree or had threatened to execute it, the plaintiff brought a suit for perpetual injunction to restrain the defendant from taking possession of the lands decreed to him, by executing the decree:—Held, that the case did not fall under s. 54 of the Specific Relief Act, and that the plaintiff was not entitled to an injunction. KARNODHAR HALDAR v. HARI PROSAD RAI CHOWDHURY, 6 Ind. Cas. 444=14 C.W.N. 878=12 C.L.J. 86=37 C. 731.

(473)—Ss. 54, 56 (b)—Application to stay partition proceedings pending in Revenue Court

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

—Temporary injunction.—The petitioners' suit for a declaration of their title as proprietors of certain land which had been recorded in the Revenue papers as Shamilat deh was dismissed. Their appeal in the Chief Court was admitted. They applied for an order staying partition proceedings pending in the Revenue Court till the decision of the appeal. Held, that s. 56 (b) of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, was a bar to the application, as the Court in which proceedings were pending was not subordinate to the Chief Court. Held, further, that the same general principles must equally apply to the granting of a temporary injunction as to a perpetual injunction. MALIK SHARA KHAN v. AHMAD KHAN. 17 P.L.R 1900=57 P.R. 1899. (6 B. 266, F.)

(474)—Ss. 54, cls. (d) and (e), 56 (c)—Transfer of a non-transferable holding, enforced recognition of—Injunction—Irreparable loss—Marfatdar, receipt of rent from, if amounts to a recognition of his right to a tenancy.—The defendant obtained a decree against a third person in a suit to which the plaintiffs (respondents) were not parties. The plaintiffs were landlords of the land covered by the decree. The land was a non-transferable holding, and they brought a suit to prevent the defendant from taking possession of the holding, covered by the defendant's decree. The plaintiffs never recognised the defendant as a tenent. Held, that the enforced recognition of the transferability of a holding is an 'irreparable injury' and an injunction can be granted. Held, also, that, if the injunction was not granted, the plaintiffs will be compelled to bring a suit to eject the defendant, and that will result in a multiplicity of proceedings. The foundation of the Court's jurisdiction to grant an injunction rests on the probability of irreparable injury, the inadequacy of pecuniary compensation and the prevention of a multiplicity of suits. The Courts may grant an injunction in all cases of trespass according to their discretion, such discretion being exercised according to the principles of the Specific Relief Act and the circumstances of the particular case. Under s. 56 (b) an injunction cannot be granted by a Court to stay proceedings in a Court not subordinate to the Court granting the injunction. But when no proceedings are pending, an injunction can be granted. (14 M. 425, R.) The mere receipt of rent from a marfatdar does not involve any recognition of the marfatdar's personal right to a tenancy on transfer from an old tenant. KARNADHAR HALDHAR v. HARI PRASAD, 6 M.L.T. 247=3 Ind. Cas. 338. (11 C.W.N. 865, R.)

(474 a)—S. 55—See INJUNCTION.

(475)—S. 55—Mandatory injunction—Suit for demolition of buildings-Delay in suing—Damage.—The plaintiff sued (inter alia) for the demolition of a building erected on property which has been found to belong jointly to the parties. The suit was instituted about a year and a half

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

after the completion of the building, but the lower appellate Court had found that the plaintiff, though he lodged no complaint, had, from the first, protested against the erection and that the building blocked one of the lower doors of the plaintiff's house: Held, that the circumstances of the case did not warrant interference with the mandatory injunction granted by the lower appellate Court in the plaintiff's favour. RAJA RAM v. MOTI RAM, A.W.N. 1906, 221. (A.W.N. 1901, 53, 30 C. 901, D.)

(476)—S. 55—Penetration of trees on neighbour's wall—Continuing actionable nuisance—Threatened injury — Injunction.—Injunction may be granted, not merely when an injury had actually taken place, but also when it has been threatened. A mandatory injunction is ordinarily the proper remedy in cases of continuing actionable nuisance, such as branches overhanging, and roots penetrating into, adjoining land (Lemmon v. Webb, (1895) A. C. 1; Norris v. Baker, 1 Roll. Rep 393: Baten's case, 9 Rep. 53; Shelfer v. City of London Electric Lighting Co., 1 Ch. 287, 19 B 420, R.) A perpetual injunction restraining the defendants from planting trees, that are likely to penetrate into the foundation of plaintiff's building and wall, will be unworkable. LAKSHMI NARAIN BANERJEE v. TARA PROSONNA BANERJEE, 31 C. 944=8 C.W.N. 710. (24 C. 260, R.) [R., 3 N.L.R. 114].

(477)—S. 55—Mandatory injunction—Discretion of Court.—No general rule can be laid down as to the cases in which a mandatory injunction should be given to a co-sharer who brings a suit for such injunction, and who does not sue until some time after the completion of the building complained of. KAUSHAL SINGH v. GANESH SINGH, A.W.N. 1901, 53.

(478)—S. 55—Mandatory injunction—Suit for demolition of buildings—Delay in suing.—Certain co-sharers sued for demolition of some tiled buildings erected by other co-sharers without the consent of the plaintiffs on common land. The suit was brought some months after the completion of the buildings, the construction of which the plaintiffs were held to be cognizant of. It was not shown that the plaintiffs suffered any special damage from the building, or that the encroachment was such that they could not be compensated for it. Held that this was not a case in which a mandatory injunction should be granted. GANESH SINGH v. KAUSHAL SINGH, A.W.N. 1900, 55. (A.W.N. 1885, 277, 8 C. 708, 16 C. 252, 12 A. 486, 18 A. 115, R.)

(479)—S. 55, ch. X—Trespass—Wall built on footings of neighbour's wall—Building completed promptly—Mandatory injunction—Proper remedy—Footings—Existence for long time—Presumption.—Where the footings of a wall have been in existence for a great length of time, it is fair to presume that they were not placed there wrongfully and that they were placed within the limits of the land belonging to the owner of the wall. Where a trespass by way of building a wall on the footings of plaintiff's wall has been carried out, not as the result of long and continuous work, but of work completed quietly and promptly, and where the trespass is one which still continues and will continue so long as the wall is permitted to remain in its present site, and where there has been no delay or acquiescence on the part of the plaintiff who instituted the suit after the completion of the wall. Held, that the proper remedy is by way of mandatory injunction, and that, in accordance with what is provided in s. 55, Specific Relief Act, it will be right to compel the defendant to pull so much of the wall as is an encroachment on the plaintiff's land. The case comes clearly within the law laid down in ch. X of the Specific Relief Act. ABDUL HOOSSAIN v. RAM CHARAN LAW, 38 C. 687.

(480)—S. 55—See No. 469, supra.

(480-a)—S. 56—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES.

(481)—S. 56—Grant of injunction, when proper—Discretion of Court—Award of damages—Practice.—Where the actual invasion of a right and other circumstances of the case show that the invasion is likely to continue, the proper remedy in such a case is injunction, under s. 56 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877. To say that the plaintiff ought to sue for damages every time that the right is invaded is to drive him to a multiplicity of suits. It is not necessary that any positive evidence should be let in by the plaintiff for the purpose of showing that the defendant intended evading the rights in the future also. That is a question which can be determined on the probabilities of the case, the surrounding circumstances, and by the light of the conduct of the defendant in the actual obstruction which he has caused in one year and with reference to the attitude which he adopts. In a suit for injunction the Court can grant relief by way of damages. BAL SAMRAT v. SARDARSANG HAMABHAI, 13 Bom. L.R. 905.

(482)—S. 56—Mandatory injunction against tenant.—Where an agricultural tenant changed the character of the land by planting mangoes, to the landlord's knowledge, though without his consent, held, the landlord was not entitled to a mandatory injunction, after having stood by quietly for over three years. MOYNA MISSER v. RUPIKUN, 9 C. 609=12 C.L.R. 300.

(483)—S. 56—Door opened on one's land—Egress and ingress—Flow of water—Dispossession disentitling one to an injunction, what constitutes.—The defendant placed a chhappar on the wall of his house and made a door opening on to the plaintiff's land, which was also used by the defendant for egress and ingress. The plaintiff sued for an injunction to close the door and to remove the thatch and to prevent the flowing of water from the defendant's roo on to his land. Held, that the facts did not constitute such a dispossession as to bar the suit under s. 56 of the Specific Relief Act and to necessitate a resort to an action for ejectment. GAURI SHANKER v. LALA RAM, 12 O.C. 33=1 Ind. Cas. 689.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(484)—S. 56—Magistrate's order—Bengal Municipal Act (III of 1884. B.C), s. 44—Chairman's power to lease or sell—Estoppel.—A suit, for a declaration that the land on which the plaintiff's house was built belonged to him and was not a public road and for the withdrawal of an order issued by the Magistrate, directing him to demolish it, is not barred by s. 56 of the Specific Relief Act. The Chairman of a Municipality has no power, under s. 44 of the Bengal Municipal Act, to sell or lease a land belonging to the Municipality. Only the Commissioners at a meeting can do so. Where the plaintiff was allowed two years and four months, after taking lease, to construct a drain round the house; held, that the Municipality was not estopped from questioning the lease. JAGANNATH SAHA v. THE CHAIRMAN ON BEHALF OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF BERHAMPUR MUNICIPALITY, 9 C.L.J. 286=4 Ind. Cas. 55.

(485)—S. 56—See PUN. ACT XX OF 1891, ss. 92, 95, P.L.R. 1900, p. 385.

(486)—S. 56—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, O. XXI, r. 2, 31 C. 480=8 C.W.N. 395.

(487)—S. 56 (b)—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXXIX. r. 1, A.W.N. 1884, 352.

(488)—S. 56 (b) and (f)—See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 5 A. 429=A.W.N. 1883, 67.

(489)—S. 56 (g)—See NUISANCE, 78 P.R. 1901.

(490)—S. 56 (i)—Injunction — No other equally efficacious relief existing.—S. 56 (i) of the Specific Relief Act prohibits an injunction being granted where there is any other remedy which would give equally efficacious relief. BAPU v. GUNAJEE, 1 Bom. L.R. 210.

(491)—S. 56, cl. (k)—Municipal funds, expenditure of, for unauthorized purposes—Rate-payer entitled to injunction against Municipality.—This suit was brought by some of the rate-payers of a Municipality for an injunction to restrain the Municipality from expending money in the purchase of a band of music. Plaintiffs alleged that the use of the Municipal funds for such a purpose was ultra vires and therefore illegal. Without deciding the legality of the matter, the District Judge dismissed the suit on the ground that the plaintiffs were not entitled to sue as individuals without proof of special damage. The High Court was of opinion that his decision could not be supported. As a general rule, Courts of Justice will not permit individuals interested in any fund or estate to institute or maintain a suit without bringing before the Court all persons interested in the matter. This general rule has its exceptions and it is settled law that any individual member of a corporation may file a suit for the purpose of restraining the corporation from doing any act which may be illegal. There is not much of distinction between a shareholder suing a Company and an individual rate-payer suing a Municipal Corporation, to the funds of which he contributes, and in the proper application of which funds he is necessarily interested. Each individual who contributes and is liable to contribute to the fund must be held to be personally interested in the due application of that fund and does not therefore fall within the prohibition of cl. (k) of s. 56 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877. The plaintiffs in the present case, as rate-payers, were not mere stangers, but were directly interested in the application of the municipal funds which interest, however small, would suffice to entitle them to sue in their individual capacity. VAMAN v. MUNICIPALITY OF SHOLAPUR, 22 B. 646.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—continued.

(492)—S. 56—See Nos. 180, 471, 472, 473, 474, supra.

(493)—S. 57—Breach of contract—Injunction—Damages—Proper remedy.—Suit for specific performance of an agreement entered into with defendants and for injunction restraining defendants, from committing a breach of the agreement and for damages. The defendants were the owners of mica mines and the agreement for financing them was that the plaintiffs were to give them a standing advance of Rs. 55,000, for a period of five years, that the plaintiffs were to appoint a manager to assist the defendants in the management of their business, and also to assist them with their advice that the sales were to be made jointly by the plaintiffs and the defendants, and thatthe plaintiffs should be entitled for their advice and services to a commission of 5 per cent. The defendants broke the agreement by parting with their mica to third parties without the intervention of the plaintiffs. Held, that, though the contract could not in all details be specifically performed, the plaintiffs were entitled to an injunction under s. 57, Specific Relief Act, to enforce the negative covenant that the defendants would not part with their mica without the plaintiff's consent. (26 M.168, R.) Held also that damages could not be awarded in this suit for the present breach, as damages would not prevent the defendants from committing fresh breacnes and driving the plaintiffs to fresh suits in future. SOUTH INDIAN EXPORT CO. v. A. SUBBA NAIDU, 8 M.L.T. 149=7 Ind. Cas. 243.

(494)—S. 57—Contract of service—Negative agreement—Injunction—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 27—Contract—Restraint of trade.—S. 57 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, deals only with such objection to the enforcement of a negative agreement as might arise from the inability of the Court to compel specific performance of affirmative agreement coupled therewith, and leave unaffected objections that might arise on other grounds such as the invalidity of a negative agreement, so far as it would operate to restrain any one from exercising a lawful trade or business. The section extends to agreements of a negative character such as are necessarily implied from contracts for whole time service, even if not expressed therein and the operation of such contracts as contracts for service, appears in such cases to prevent the application of s. 27 of the Contract Act, 1872, to such negative agreements so far as they purport to impose restrictions only during the period of affirmative agreement for service after the expiry of that period, such negative agreement could form no part of a contract to exercise the business or trade, and would then be void as agreements purporting to do nothing else than restrain. PRAGJI v. PRANJIWAN, 5 Bom. L.R. 878.

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—concluded.

(495)—S. 57—Injunction—Implied negative covenant—Codified law.—Where the law has been codified, it is of little avail to enquire what is the law apart from such codification, and the Courts must look to the Code itself as their guide in the matter. Under s. 57 of the Specific Relief Act, the Courts in India are empowered to grant an injunction to perform a negative agreement, express or implied, when it is not possible to compel specifically the performance of the affirmative agreement. (23 B. 103, F) The defendant covenanted under an agreement "diligently and to the best of of his ability to devote himself to the duties as a draftsman and general assistant" to the plaintiff company for five years. Held, that the agreement implied that he would not give his services during that period to any other person, and in such a case, an injunction is not only the most effective but the only remedy according to the principles of equity, justice and good conscience. BURN & CO., LTD. v. COLIN MAC DONALD, 13 C.W.N. 253=9 C.L.J. 190=36 C. 354=1 Ind. Cas. 829.

(496) —S. 57—See NOS. 137, 171, 180, supra.

Speculative Sale.

Contract Act, s. 23—Champerty.—A speculative sale is not bad on the ground of being against public policy. RAMANUJA AYYANGAR v. NARAYANA AYYANGAR, 18 M. 374. [R, 2 N.L.R. 17.]

Speculative Suit.

See CHAMPERTY.

Speculative Theory.

Questions relating to testamentary capacity—Speculative theory derived from medical books and judicial dicta, not a safe basis—See WILL—EXECUTION, 22 C. 1 P.C. =22 I.A. 171.

Spes Successionis.

(1)—Chance of succession of heir-apparent—Not transferable—Mahomedan Law.—The chance of an heir-apparent succeeding to an estate is neither transferable nor releasable according to Mahomedan law. It is only by an application of the principle that equity considers that done which ought to be done, that such a chance can, if at all, be bound. SUMSUDDIN v. ABDUL, 8 Bom. L.R. 781=31 B. 165, (On appeal from 8 Bom. L.R. 252, O.C.J.)

Spes Successionis—concluded.

(2)—Transfer of—Muhammadan Law—Under the Mahomedan law a mere spes successionis cannot be the subject of a valid transfer. But this principle does not affect a transaction, in the nature of a family arrangement, by which the father makes immediate provision for his daughter, to take effect both in his life-time and after his death in consideration of the daughter agreeing not to claim her legal share as heir on his death. Whether such a transaction should be set aside as inequitable depends upon circumstances at the time it was made, not upon subsequent events. SHAMSUDIN v. ABDUL HOOSEIN, 8 Bom. L.R. 252. [See on appeal, 8 Bom. L. R. 781=31 B. 165.]

(3)—Mahomeden Law.—A mere spes successionis is unknown to and not recognised by the Mahomedan law. ABDOOL v. GOOLAM, 7 Bom. L. R. 742=30 B. 304.

Agreement by expectant heir to give property which he hopes to get after his adoption—Effect—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 12 Bom. L. R. 910=8 Ind. Cas. 625.

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, 6 C.W.N. 169=20 I. A. 1=24 A. 94, P. C.=4 Bom. L. R. 233.

Nature of Reversioner's interest—Whether a —See REVERSIONER, 214 P.L R. 1911.

Spiritual Adviser.

Suit for cancellation of instrument—Gift to spiritual adviser—Fiduciary relationship—Undue influence—See BURDEN OF PROOF—DECREES AND DEEDS, SUITS RELATING TO, 12 A. 523=A.W.N. 1890, 56.

Spiritual Benefit.

Whether the only principle of inheritance under the Dayabhaga School.—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 12 C.W. N. 511=35 C. 721.

Spiritual Brother.

Certificate to collect debts of personal estate of deceased Mohunt—Spiritual son and—of a Mohunt—See CERTIFICATE TO COLLECT DEBTS, 4 C. 954=4 C.L.R. 49.

Spiritual Necessities.

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 8 M. 552.

Spiritual Son.

Certificate to collect debts of personal estate of deceased Mohunt—and Spiritual brother of a Mohunt—See CERTIFICATE TO COLLECT DEBTS, 4 C. 954=4 C.L R. 49.

Splitting up of Cause of Action.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 11.

Splitting up of Cause of Action—continued.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, r. 2.

See RES JUDICATA.

s (1)—Several plots of land under one patta—Separate suit not maintainable for rent of each plot—Splitting up of cause of action.—In this series of suits for rent brought by the plaintiff with regard to several parcels of land, the defendant pleaded that all the parcels were held by him under one pottah by which he was bound to pay one lump sum as rent for all the parcels, and contended that consequently only one suit would lie for all the rent claimed under the pottah, and the plaintiff could not split up and sue separately for each parcel. The lower appellate Court, while holding that the pottah, was of the above description, considered that the contract contained in it had been departed from and waived by the parties, and therefore that the suits might be treated as distinct suits brought for the rent of each parcel. The High Court held that the acts of the parties amounted to no such departure from, or waiver of the original pottah as could sustain the present suit. RAJAH OJOODHEARAM KHAN v. NILKUNT MYTEE, 2 W.R. Act X, Rul. 36.

(2)—Dispossession of rights in three villages—Suit to recover one of the villages—Subsequent suit for other two not maintainable—Splitting of cause of action—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 43.—The acts of the defendant by which the plaintiffs had been dispossessed of three villages were done with the same object, namely, in pursuance of a claim of ownership antagonistic to the plaintiffs. Plaintiffs were therefore bound to sue once for all for recovery of possession of the whole estate. But they brought a suit in respect to one of the villages only omitting to sue for the lands comprised in the other two villages. Held that they could not subsequently maintain a suit relating to those villages by reason of s. 43 of Act X of 1877. MADDA SINGH v. BUKAN SINGH, 9 P.R. 1881. [R., 110 P.R. 1883 ; D., 162 P.R. 1884.]

(3)—House let for season vacated before term—Suit against lessee for rent accrued due—Suit whether maintainable as for damages in respect of remaining term—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 43—Defendant took the plaintiff's premises on lease for the season of 1881, at a monthly rent payable on the 21st of each month. He entered on occupation on the 21st of April and paid up the rent due on 21st May and 21st July. On 16th July, the plaintiff was informed that the defendant intended to give up the tenancy of the house on August 22nd, but as a matter of fact the house was vacated on the 22nd July. Plaintiff, in a previous suit, having obtained a decree against the defendant for rent due up to the 21st of August, instituted the present suit for damages for wrongful refusal to pay plaintiff rent for the remainder of the term from the 21st August 1881. The question was whether the plaintiff, having already sued for and recovered rent up to 21st of August, was debarred under the provisions of s. 43 of Act X of 1877 from recovering damages from the same defendant on account of breach of contract to pay rent: Held that the plaintiff had not split his claim. On the announcement by the defendant to the plaintiff before the term for payment came, that he intended not to pay his rent, it was open to the plaintiff, as the promisee, to treat such notice as a present breach of contract, and he might, had he chosen to do so, have sued at once for damages for non-performance. It was however open to the promisee to disregard the notice and insist upon performance according to the contract. This the plaintiff elected to do. On September 2nd, the date of the suit in which the cause of action was one month's rent, no rent for any period subsequent to August 21st had accrued due. The provisions of s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code, did not therefore apply to the case. R.D. GOODALL v. J.W. ALEXANDER 70 P.R. 1882.

(4)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 43—Suit for possession of land—Subsequent suit for mesne profits, bar of—Omission to urge plea in lower Courts—Effect.—S. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, being a provision introduced for the benefit of a defendant to prevent him from being harassed by numerous suits, it should be expressly pleaded by him before judgment if he wishes to take advantage of it, and consequently no Court is bound to take up proprio motu the question involved in that section unless the defendant urges it, as such question is not one of jurisdiction. Where a plaintiff who had obtained a decree for possession of land in a previous suit, sued for mesne profits accruing on the land before the decree for possession was passed, and the lower Courts decreed his claim, the Chief Court refused to consider the objection urged for the first time before it, that the plaintiff's claim was barred by s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code. MUHAMMAD NUR v. MUSSAMUT MAHROIA, 37 P.R. 1883. (138 P.R. 1882, R.)

(5)—Cause of action for possession as well as mesne profits—Previous suit for profits only—Subsequent suit for possession barred by s. 43, Civ. Pro. Code.—With reference to para 3 of s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877), it was held that it was not open to the plaintiffs to bring the present suit for the possession of the land. When the plaintiffs instituted their former suit for a share of the produce of a certain harvest, they had a cause of action which entitled them to sue for possession as well as for mesne profits. In that case, notwithstanding that the defendants challenged the plaintiffs to sue for all their remedies at once, the agent of the plaintiffs distinctly declined to sue for possession at that time, nor did he obtain permission from the Court to bring a subsequent suit for possession. Under the words of the said para, the present action was therefore held to be barred. PHALLA v. KESAR SINGH, 138 P.R. 1882. [Diss., 129 P.R. 1889 ; Appr., 47 P.R. 1886 ; R., 37 P.R. 1885 ; D., 79 P.R. 1886.]

Splitting up of Cause of Action—continued.

(6)—Suit for profits of land—Subsequent suit for possession of land—Act X of 1877, s. 43.—There is no reason why a person should not be allowed first to bring a suit for profits of land which defendant, his agent, had misappropriated, and afterwards to bring a suit for possession of that land which the agent refused to give up. The subsequent suit could not be barred by s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code, the cause of action being the defendant's refusal to deliver possession, as the claim for possession could not be said to have arisen out of the cause of action on which he first sued when there was no allegation in the plaint that the defendant had refused plaintiff possession or was holding in adverse possession. MALIK FATTEH MUHAMMAD v. THE ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL OF BENGAL, 59 P.R. 1883. (24 P.R. 1882, R.) [D., 47 P.R. 1886.]

(7)—Proprietary right—Suit to establish—Suit for occupancy right.—A plaintiff against whom a notice of ejectment was issued by the defendant who was the recorded proprietor first brought a suit to establish his proprietary right, which was rejected. A second suit by him to establish his right of occupancy in the same land was barred. JIWAN v. PIR BAKHSH, 9 P.R. 1884, Rev.

(8)—Civ. Pro. Code, (Act XIV of 1882), s. 43—Second suit on same cause of action, bar of.—L, H, and S were three brothers of whom the plaintiffs represented L and the defendant H's son. S having died, the defendant was in possession of the whole estate as the plaintiffs had been absentees then. The plaintiffs, after first obtaining a decree for their one-third share of the estate, sued subsequently to recover a half of S's third; and the question was whether the former suit did not bar the subsequent suit under s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882). The lower Courts decided that it did not, holding that there were two separate causes of action. Held, that the causes of action were not the absenteeism and the inheritance right, but the defendant's refusal to acknowledge the plaintiff's right of entry; that the right to entry at the date of the first suit was not a right to enter on a third, but on a half of the estate; and that as in their former suit they claimed only a third, the residue of their then outstanding claim was barred by s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882). MAHI v. USMAN, 15 P. R. 1885.

(9)—Joint property situate in several districts—Separate partition suits in several districts—Splitting of claim—Act XIV of 1882, s. 43.—A and B were joint owners in joint possession for immoveable property (houses) in two districts F and G. A sued in district F for partition of all the houses in that district and got a decree for one-half. A, having subsequently continued in joint possession with B of the property, there demanded partition from B of such property, and on B's refusal sued for it in that district. Held, that there was nothing in the above circumstances to bind a Court trying the case to hold that there was such a splitting of claim by A in the first suit that it was not competent for him to maintain the second. BHAI NIHAL SINGH v SOWAYA SINGH, 162 P. R. 1884. (9 P.R. 1881, D.) [R., 43 P.R. 1906=122 P.L.R. 1906.]

Splitting up of Cause of Action—continued.

(10)—Res judicata—Civ. Pro. Code, (Act X of 1877), s. 43—Suits for different properties purchased under different deeds—Cause of action.—The plaintiff to whom a certain amount was due by the defendant on a mortgage, purchased from him for a portion of this amount a certain share in a village, and for the remaining portion, a share in another village. The sale deeds were executed on the same date and registered. The defendant having refused to deliver possession, the plaintiff first brought a suit in respect of one village alone, and having obtained a decree, he then brought a second suit in respect of the other village. The defendant contended that the second suit was barred by s. 43, Civ. Pro. Code.—Held, that the transactions which took place between the parties did not form only one transaction but resulted in two separate sales of distinct properties; and the causes of action in the two suits, being thus different, that the second suit was not barred by s. 43, Civ. Pro. Code. MASSA SINGH v. KHAN SINGH, 110 P. R. 1883. (9 P. R. 1881, D.)

(11)—Suit for mistaken remedy, dismissal of, for defect in frame of suit—Second suit on same cause of action for proper remedy—Civ. Pro. Code Act X of 1877, s. 43.—The dismissal of a suit for declaration of title, when consequential relief might have been prayed for, on the ground of the ommission to seek for such relief, is only a case of a dismissal of the suit for defect in the frame of the suit in contravention of s. 42 of the Specific Relief Act And, when such a dismissal is accompanied by a distinct refusal to adjudicate upon the subject-matter submitted for decision, s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code cannot preclude the plaintiff whose suit has been dismissed from bringing a second suit founded upon the same cause of action. The object of the clauses enacted in s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877) is to prevent further litigation concerning the subject-matter of dispute and there cannot be said to have been previous litigation regarding the same subject-matter when the Court has refused to exercise its function to give a decision between the litigants. The plaintiff is then at liberty, under s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code, notwithstanding, to commence proceedings de novo, and that without any express permission. There is nothing in s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code, which prevents a man who has mistaken his remedy and sued for what he is not entitled to, from subsequently bringing a suit for a remedy to which he has a right. The said s. 43 is directed against the splitting of claims, and it does not operate to prevent a man, who has lost a suit merely because it was brought in a wrong form, from repairing his error and suing for the proper remedy. BHOLA SINGH v. GURDIT SINGH, 66 P. R. 1884. [R., 35 P.R. 1885, 32 P.R. 1910=57 P.L.R. 1910=6 Ind. Cas. 655, 245 P.W.R. 1912=251 P.L.R. 1912.]

Splitting up of Cause of Action—continued.

(12)—Civ. Pro. Code., s. 43—First suit for cancelling invalid mortgage—Second suit for possession— Bar of suit.—An occupancy tenant under the plaintiffs had executed a mortgage of certain properties in favour of C who had been ever since enjoying the same uninterruptedly. The plaintiffs, proprietors, first brought a suit for the cancellation of the mortgage document and had it cancelled. Held that a subsequent suit by them for possession of the properties was barred under s. 43, Civ. Pro. Code as such possession could and should have been asked for in the previous suit alone. BAWA SANT RAM v. CHANDA SINGH, 47 P.R. 1886. (24 P.R. 1882, 138 P. R. 1882, 59 P.R. 1883, R.)

(13)—Minor's property, mortgage of, by mother—Suit against mother only—Subsequent suit against mother and son to enforce mortgage lien, if maintainable—Civ. Pro. Code, ss 13, 43.—A mother and a son cannot be regarded as the same party where the question is whether the son is bound by his mother's act during his infancy. A Mahomedan widow mortgaged her minor son's property in 1868 professing to act as his guardian, without mentioning his title in the mortgage deed. Six years after, the mortgagees sued the mother alone without making the son a party, and obtained a money decree against her for the debt due under the deed. In 1880 the mortgagees sued to enforce their lien against the property, impleading both the mother and the son (who had become a major by that time). The son pleaded that the second suit was barred under ss. 13 and 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code. The first Court passed a money decree against both the defendants, while the lower appellate Court dismissed the suit as being barred by the last clause of s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code. Held, on appeal to the Chief Court that so far as the plaintiff's claim against the son was concerned it could not be said that they had split their cause of action by suing for separate remedies, as there was no suit against him before; that the second suit being against a different party for a different remedy from that previously obtained, there was no question of res judicata; and that the cause of action against the mother was exhausted. MT. BHAGWANDEVI v. MEHR BAKSH, 41 P.R. 1883.

(14)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 43—Mortgage-deed providing for possession in default of payment of interest—First suit for interest—Second suit on subsequent default for possession, if maintainable.—The terms of a mortgage-deed were, that the mortgagor was to remain in possession of the mortgaged property paying an annual sum for interest; on default of which the mortgagee was to get possession of the lands and take the profits therefrom in lieu of interest. On the mortgagor making default, the mortgagee sued him and obtained a decree for interest. On a subsequent default being made, the mortgagee sued for possession of the property; held that the causes of action in the two suits were distinct and separate and therefore, s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code, was no bar to the second

Splitting up of Cause of Action—concluded.

suit. RAMAN v. WAZIRA, 79 P.R. 1886. (138 P.R. 1882, D.) [D., 31 P.L.R. 1910=8 Ind. Cas. 224, 268 P.W.R. 1912.]

(15)—Civ Pro. Code. 1877, s. 43—Bond—Splitting cause of action—Agreement to pay interest month by month—Term for payment of principal—Stipulation permitting suit for entire amount on default of payment of interest—Suit for interest—Second suit for principal with interest.—This suit brought for recovering principal and balance of interest due on a mortgage-bond was dismissed by the Courts below as barred under s. 43 of Act X of 1877, on the ground that the plaintiff, having, in a former suit, simply claimed and recovered a decree for the interest due on the same bond up to the date of that suit, whereas he might have then claimed, under the stipulations of the bond, the entire debt with interest, was now debarred from bringing a fresh suit because of his having split his cause of action. Held, that, to constitute a bar under s. 43 of Act X of 1877, what is claimed in the subsequent suit must be something that can be deemed to have formed a constituent part of the former claim which the plaintiff was entitled to make in respect of the cause of action then sued upon, but which, in point of fact, he had omitted to sue for. The distinct agreement in this case, stipulating to pay the interest "month by month" constituted, when there was default of such payment, the basis of a distinct cause of action, and the creditor was entitled to demand and to enforce his demand for the payment of interest as stipulated, without being compelled to proceed to the further step of demanding the whole of the debt and enforcing his demand by the sale of the mortgaged property. RAM BHAJ v. DEVIA, 123 P R. 1881. [R., 10 P.R. 1883, 188 P.R. 1883, 70 P.R. 1889, 28 P.R. 1907.]

(16)—Splitting of claim—Inheritance—Circular 95 of 1858.—Plaintiff was not in a position to prove his claim to a house when he brought his suit to recover certain land as a part of the inheritance. Held that that fact of itself did not prevent him from bringing a suit for the house also when evidence to prove his claim in regard to it became available to him. If a plaintiff finds himself unable at a particular juncture to prove his demand as to the whole of a certain inheritance, there is no law to prevent his suing for what he can obtain, and afterwards if possessed of better evidence, suing for another portion of the property, provided that the portions constitute distinct properties. FUTTA v. SUMMA, 57 P. R. 1866.

See CUSTOMS—PUNJAB—ADOPTION, 35 P. R. 1885.

Splitting up of Claim.

See CIV. PRO CODE, 1908, s. 11.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, r. 2.

See RES JUDICATA.

See SPLITTING UP OF CAUSE OF ACTION.

Sradh.

Alienation by widow—Necessity—at Gya—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 11 B. L. R. 118=19 W. R. 426.

Srotriyam.

Alienation of, by holder—Validity.—A Srotriyam conferred for lives is inalienable by the holder for the time being except as to his own life interest. SUNDARAMURTI MUDALI v. VALLINAYAKI AMMAL, 1 M. H. C. 465. [D., 2 M. H. C. 341.]

Stables.

For milch-cows, license for, by the Municipal Commissioner, Bombay— See Bom. ACT III OF 1888, s. 394, 5 Bom. L.R. 1001=28 B. 253.

Staff Corps.

Attachment of moiety of pay of officer of the Indian Staff Corps—See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, 25 M. 402.

Stakeholders.

Agreement to pay to two stakeholders—Death of one—Failure to pay to the other—Whether breach of contract—See CONTRACT, —GENERAL, 9 M. L. T. 454.

Suit for winnings on a wager—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 30, 2 L.B.R. 271.

Money deposited with Barrister—Suit for recovery of—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—ADVOCATE, 194 P.R. 1883.

A person, even though he be an advocate with whom fee-money is deposited on certain conditions is a stake-holder — See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—ADVOCATE, 52 P.R. 1894.

Stamp.

See COURT FEES ACT, 1870.

See STAMP ACTS.

See VALUATION OF APPEALS.

See VALUATION OF SUITS.

(1)—Bond—Stamp—Evasion of stamp and registration rules.—Three bonds for Rs. 49 each were given by A to B on the same date, and they bore a stamp of four annas each. In a suit on these bonds, the question was raised whether they were admissible in evidence, seeing that there was an apparent evasion of the stamp and registration rules. Held that the plaintiff was within the law and the bonds were admissible in evidence. So long as the letter of the law is adhered to, the Court cannot object to any apparent evasion of the stamp and registration rules. In re a REFERENCE BY JUDGE, SMALL CAUSE COURT, AMRITSAR, 5 P.R. 1866, Civ. Ref.

(2)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 31—Dismissal of suit—Under-valuation found after—Order levying deficient stamp duty illegal.—It is not open to the Court to levy from a plaintiff additional stamp duty after the dismissal of the suit, on the ground that the suit was at first undervalued. The only penalty for under-valuation is the rejection of the plaint, under s. 31, Act VIII of 1859, before the trial of the suit. CHOOHUR KHAN v. MUMOO KHAN, 15 P.R. 1868.

Stamp—continued.

(3)—Suit on bond—Sufficiency of stamp—Rise in value of property.—Where a bond stipulating for the delivery, on a future day, by the debtor, of a certain quantity of grain, was stamped on a calculation of the then value of the grain, a subsequent rise in the value of the grain, at the institution of a suit to recover the grain or the price of it, would not make the instrument one not sufficiently stamped under the Act. BHAIRAB CHUNDRA CHOWDRI v. ALEK JAN, 13 C. 268.

(4)—Certificate of sale—Sale subject to mortgage lien—Property sold in different lots to different persons—Stamp duty payable by each purchaser, amount of.—Where immoveable properties, subject to an individual mortgage lien, have been attached and sold in several lots to several different persons, in computing the stamp duty payable by the purchaser of any one lot, the whole amount of the principal mortgage-debt, and not merely a proportionate amount of it, is to be added to the price, and the total amount forms the consideration upon which the ad valorem stamp duty is to be calculated, as each purchaser is to obtain a separate certificate. In re VISHNU KESHAV SATHE, 10 B. 58. (Bombay P.J. for 1884, p. 98, R.)

(5)—Act XVIII of 1869, sch. II, art. 5—Unstamped acknowledgment—Objection as to admissibility of.—The words "note or memorandum whereby a debt is acknowledged to be due" in art. 5, sch. II, Act XVIII of 1869, taken in their most natural sense, mean a document made for the purpose of recording and affording evidence of an acknowledgment of a debt, and do not include every letter or other writing which, though written without any idea whatever of securing evidence of an acknowledgment, happens incidentally to contain an acknowledgment express or implied. An objection that certain letters were inadmissible inasmuch as each of them was not stamped under art. 5 of sch. II to Act XVIII of 1869, cannot be taken for the first time in appeal. DR. J.C. MORICE v. THE SIMLA BANK CORPORATION LIMITED, SIMLA, 2 P.R. 1878. (3 B.L.R.A.C. 126, 235, 5 B.L.R. App. 10, 21 P.R. 1866, 79 P.R. 1870, F.) [R., 2 P.R. 1884.]

(6)—Act X of 1862, sch, II, art. 11, Note 1—Stamp duty—Refund—Remand.—When a suit is remanded in part, the appellant is entitled to only a proportionate refund of stamp-duty. (By the majority of the Full Bench, Campbell and Loch, JJ., contra.) In the matter of the petition of DOORGA DASS DUTT, B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 511=6 W.R. Mis. 65. [F., 18 W.R. 434; D., 20 W.R. 106.]

(7)—S. 34, Court Fees Act, 1870—Transfer of Stamps.—Transfer of a Court-fee stamp on promise of a stamp of equal value being returned is no "sale" under s. 34, Act VII of 1870, and no conviction can be sustained for such transfer. KEDAR NATH SHAHA v. EMPEROR, 30 C. 921=7 C.W.N. 704.

Stamp —continued.

(8)—Stamp duty—Decision on objections.—Stamp objections are the care of the Court and when they are raised it is for the Court to decide whether they ought to be sustained, without any regard to the ground, as being the sole and only possible ground upon which the objection may have been taken. R.D. SELTMA v. MIRZA MAHOMED SHIRAZI, 9 Bom. L.R 1034.

(9)—Sufficiency of stamp—Document—Construction—Practice.—In determining the question whether a document bears a sufficient stamp, the document must be looked at as it stands. A defect, if any, in the Stamp Act cannot be cured by construing a document to be other than what it is or purports to be. SAKHARAM v. RAMCHANDRA, 5 Bom. L.R. 28 =27 B. 279.

(10)—Stamp—Construction of document—Act X of 1862, sch. A, arts. 25 and 35.—One of the defendants in answer to a suit for the recovery of possession of certain land produced a document of which the following is a translation:—"We Hanuman Singh and Kalka Singh do hereby grant to Nandan Ram Misir asshankalap the plot called Rae Chanda consisting of one bigha land and two Mahwa trees in grove called Satti. We shall take no rent thereof; while the grantee is to avail it for (his) whole life. Any one of our family will have no right to interfere afterwards. Given this Asarh Badi 2nd, 1274 Fasli, Sambat 1924. (Corresponding to the 19th June, 1867)." The document when produced bore a stamp of 2 annas only. On objection being taken by the plaintiff that this document was insufficiently stamped a reference was made through the District Judge to the High Court. Held that the document must be construed as a conveyance on the face of which no value appears, and as such, should have been stamped with a stamp of the value of Rs. 50. LACHMAN SINGH v. ISHRI SINGH, A.W.N. 1891, 65.

(11)—Unstamped document, admissibility in evidence of, for collateral purposes.—Documents happening to be unstamped can be admitted, when tendered in evidence, not for the purpose of giving effect to the documents themselves directly, but for some other collateral purpose. RUSTOMJI EDULJI CROOS v. CURSETJI SORABJI CROOS, 4 B. 349.

(12)—Stamp—Promissory note payable on demand—Collateral agreement.—In applying the Stamp law, the stamp duty must be paid upon what is stated in the instrument, and cannot depend on collateral evidence. Where a promissory note is payable on demand, it ought to be stamped as a note payable on demand, although there may be a collateral agreement between the parties that the holder will not present it for a given time, or that, if paid on demand, the maker of the note shall be entitled to a certain amount of discount to be deducted. CHANDRAKANT MOOKERJEE v. KARTIK CHARAN CHAILE, 5 B.L.R. 103=14 W.R.O.C. 38. [F., 3 C. 220, 16 C. 432; R., 6 Bom. L.R. 679.]

Stamp —continued.

(13)—Unstamped document—Evidence.—The want of stamp in a document admitted as evidence, where the error of receiving it unstamped did not affect the merits of the case, is not a ground for reversing a decision. MARK RIDDED CURRIE v. S. V. MUTU RAMAN CHETTY, 3 B.L.R.A.C., 126=11 W.R. 520. [F., 5 B.L.R. App. 10, 16 W.R. 6, 25 W.R. 376; R., 13 B. 449, F.B.; Disc., 2 A. 554; D., 11 B.H.C. 125.]

(14)—Suit on unstamped Hundi—Hundi not admissible in evidence—Plaintiff whether entitled to recover on original consideration.—The Stamp Law and the Law of Evidence in England are the same as those of India, in regard to the admissibility of an unstamped document in evidence, and the exclusion of oral by documentary evidence, and, it has been ruled in England that, when a plaintiff cannot recover on a count on a note for want of a stamp, he may recover on account for money lent by proving an acknowledgment on a demand made. In the present case, it was found that plaintiff paid defendant Rs. 300; that the latter on demand repaid Rs. 68-11-0 on account. There was, therefore, evidence on which plaintiff might recover the balance of the monies originally lent although he could not put the hundi in evidence. MANI RAM v. KALA MAL, 4 P.R. 1881. [F., 82 P.R. 1891; Appr., 73 P.R. 1886; D., 42 P.R. 1895.]

(15)—Insufficiently stamped hatchitta—Admission—Cause of action—. Where, in the case of an insufficiently stamped hatchitta amounting to a promissory note, the defendant admitted the loan but pleaded payment, held, the plaintiff had a cause of action, whereupon he might maintain a suit independently of the note. PRAMATHA NATH SANDAL v. DWARKA NATH DEY, 23 C. 851. (7 C. 256, Expl.; 3 C. 314, F.) [Rel. on, 6 O.C. 16; R., 28 B. 360=2 Bom. L.R. 25, 9 O.C. 314].

(16)—Unstamped account—Evidence.—An account of advances made to, and part-payments made by the defendant, in his handwriting and signed by him, need not be stamped, in order to be admissible in evidence. BROJO GOBIND SHAHA v. GOLUCK CHUNDER SHAHA, 9 C. 127. (4 C. 885, F.) [F., 15 C. 162.]

(17)—Reception in evidence of unstamped and unregistered document—Objection in first appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, 1959, s. 350—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 578.—An appellate Court may admit and consider an objection to the reception, in evidence, of an unstamped and unregistered document. SAFDER ALI KHAN v. LACHMAN DAS, 2 A. 554. (3 B.L.R. 126, Disc.) [R., 2 N.L.R. 121.]

(18)—Deficiency of—Document admitted in evidence—Objection taken on appeal.—The holder of a bill or note, which is defective and inadmissible in evidence for want of a stamp, may still sue on the consideration the person to whom he gave it, though he cannot use the bill in support of his suit. When a document has been admitted in evidence, no objection on the score of absence or deficiency in stamping can be taken on appeal. KRISHNNAJI v. RAJMAL, 2 Bom. L.R, 25=24 B. 360.

Stamp—continued.

(19)—Stamp—Objection to stamp based on rules of Revenue Department.—The objection that a security bond is engrossed on an eight anna stamp threaded to other stamps aggregating to the full value, contrary to the rules of the Revenue Department is merely a technical objection and does not affect the merits of the case. MR. A. D. DUNNE v. AMEEROONISSA KHATOON, 13 W.R. 41.

(20)—Evidence—Time of stamping—Duty of Court.—Where a document, which under the stamp laws requires to be stamped, is tendered in evidence, all that the Civil Court has to see is that it bears a proper stamp at the time when it is offered in evidence. The Civil Court is not bound, nor is it at liberty, to allow the parties to go into evidence to show at what time the instrument was stamped. KALI CHURN DAS v. NOBO KRISTO PAL, 9 C.L R. 272. (24 W.R. 198, F.) [R., 6 Bom. L.R. 699.]

(21) — Penalty — Secondary evidence of a document.—Secondary evidence of the contents of a document, which was liable to stamp-duty but was unstamped, cannot be admitted on payment of a penalty. KOPASAN v. SHAMU, 7 M. 440. [F., U.B.R. (1892—1896), Vol. II, 632, 17 M. 473; R., 23 M. 49, 4 M.L.J. 192.]

(22)—Stamp—Document tendered in evidence not duly stamped—Failure to pay stamp duty and penalty in lower Court—Offer to pay same in second appeal, not allowed.—An instrument which is not duly stamped will not be admitted in evidence, on second appeal, on payment of the stamp and penalty, when there is no evidence that the stamp and penalty were tendered to and refused by the District Court. LAKSHMAN DAS v. RAMBHAU, 20 B. 791.

(23)—Permission to pay stamp duty of lost instrument— Quære.—Whether permission to pay the stamp duty and penalty can be given in the case of a lost instrument? ARUNACHELLAM CHETTY v. OLAGAPPA CHETTY, 4 M.H.C. 312. [R., U.B.R. (1892-1896), Vol. II, 631, 23 M. 49, P.C.]

(24)—Execution of agreement in Calcutta — Pleading in the mofussil—Stamp duty.—Where parties residing and carrying on business in Calcutta execute agreements without intending to plead the same in mofussil, held, under the old Stamp Law, that such documents were good and binding though not on stamped papers. GOURY CHURN MOOKERJEE v. JOGENDRA NATH MOOKERJEE, W. R. 1864, 289. [R., 4 M.L.J. 192.]

(25)—Valuation of appeal to Privy Council —Bengal Stamp Reg. X of 1829, necessity of compliance with the terms of —Fresh evidence on question of value, if admissible.—In this case, the leave to appeal originally granted provided that such leave should be null and of no effect unless satisfactory evidence should be supplied by the appellants to the Registrar of the Sudder Court, that the real or market value of the land in dispute exceeded the sum of Rs. 10,000. This order having been obtained ex parte and appearing to have been obtained upon an inaccurate statement of the facts, was discharged. The present application was put in to discharge the said order of discharge and to restore the appeal. Held, there was no fraud practised upon the Court in obtaining the order granting leave to appeal and the condition on which that order was granted had been fulfilled. There was, therefore, prima facie no ground for refusing to restore the appeal. It was contended for the respondents that the value of the land in dispute was untruly stated in the plaint in fraud of the Revenue Laws of India, and that leave to appeal ought not therefore to be granted. But it was held that it was a mistake on the part of the Court, no less than that of the appellants, to have allowed the cause to proceed upon such a representation of the value as was continued in the supplementary plaint, and their Lordships suggested that Bengal Reg. X of 1829 upon the subject of value should be carefully attended to. Permission was asked by the respondent to go into evidence on the question of value, but their Lordships were not disposed to deviate in this respect from their original order, which was carefully and designedly confined to evidence to be adduced by the appellants, with a view to prevent the introduction, for the purpose of a merely fiscal Regulation, of a contested issue on the question of value, a result, which in their Lordships' judgment ought, in all cases, as far as justice will permit, to be avoided. MOHUN LAL SOOKUL v. DEBEE DOSS DUTT, 2 W. R. P. C., 9=8 M.I.A. 492=1 Suther. 458=1 Sar. 811.

Stamp—continued.

(26)—Lease for term of 3 years with covenant for renewal of lease after expiry of term—Stamp duty payable.—An instrument of lease for a term of 3 years at a monthly rent of Rs. 190, with a covenant on the part of the lessor to renew the lease, at the option of the lessee, for a further term of one or two years from the expiration of the said term of 3 years, is liable to be stamped only with the duty payable on a lease for a term of 3 years, as the instrument contains only one contract, a demise, the option of renewal of the lease being ancillary to it and forming part of the consideration for entering into the lease. THE SECRETARY TO THE COMMISSIONER OF SALT v. SUTHERLAND ORR, 11 M.L.J. 350, F.B.

(27)—Correspondence containing agreement to lease—Stamping.—Where a correspondence contained a complete agreement to lease in the absence of anything to connect the subsequent draft and engrossed lease properly stamped with it, the latter could not be treated a part of the correspondence. Such being the case, the correspondence must be stamped and the penalty paid before it could be admitted in evidence. A. C. BOYD v. A. KREIG, 17 C. 548.

(28)—Sunnud authorising gomastah to collect and sue for rents—Stamp duty—Act X of 1862,

Stamp—continued.

sch. A, art, 143.—A sunnud which authorises a gomastah to collect rents and to sue for them must be stamped. If it is a general power of attorney which authorises the gomastah to collect rents generally and to sue for them, it necessary, it requires a four rupees stamp under art. 143, sch. A of Act X of 1862. RUGHOO NUNDUN THAKOOR v. RAM CHANDER KUPALI, 10 W.R.F.B. 39.

(29)—Agreement with covenant sounding in damages is not a bond--Stamp duty.--An instrument with a covenant to do a particular act, the breach whereof is to be compensated in damages, is not a bond; it requires only an eight anna stamp. GISBORNE AND CO. v. SUBAL BOWRI, 8 C. 284=10 C.L.R. 219. [R., 9 A. 585, F.B.]

(30)—Stamp—Promissory note.—A promissory note is sufficiently stamped if the stamp is sufficient to cover the principal sum secured by the note. GOMEZ v. YOUNG, 2 B.L.R.O. C. 165=12 W.R O.C. 1.

(31)—Pro note bearing a stamp not cancelled, admitted by first Court—Appellate Court whether can question admissibility.—Though a promissory note bearing a stamp not properly cancelled is inadmissible in evidence, yet, when the Court of first instance has admitted it, the appellate Court cannot question its admissibility in appeal. MI KE v. NGA KAN GYI AND NGA PO SIN, U.B.R. 4th Qr. Stamp, 3. (U.B.R. 1897—01, 11, 556, 559. F.; 2 L.B.R. 103, Diss.; 14 B. 152, 18 B. 369, R. and Com.)

(32)—Conflict of laws—Promissory note executed at Rampur in favour of the Nawab without stamp—Stamp affixed when suit filed in British India—Lex loci contractus—Rampur Stamp Law, s. 52. proviso (c)—Admissibility in evidence.—A promissory note was executed in favour of "the Nawab of Rampur" at Rampur. It was not stamped. According to s. 52 of the Rampur Stamp Law, no document which required a stamp, but was not stamped, could be admitted in evidence for any purpose or be acted upon, unless it was executed in favour of the state (proviso c.). The suit was brought in British India, the plaintiff's pleader affixing an one anna stamp on the document when he filed it. The Subordinate Judge held that it was immaterial to find what the law at Rampur was and decreed the suit. Held that it was material to find what the law in force at Rampur was about the validity of unstamped documents. Held further that the note having been executed in favour of the "Nawab of Rampur" and not "Sir Mohammad Hamid Ali Khan Bahadur, &c.," was one executed in favour of the State within the meaning of the aforesaid proviso, although the money was not advanced to the defendant from the State Treasury. It was, therefore, though unstamped, a note in accordance with the law in existence at the place of contract, and could be admitted in evidence against the defendant in British India. AMNA BEGUM v. NAWAB OF RAMPUR, 8 A.L.J. 566.

Stamp—continued.

(33)—Unstamped memorandum of account.—In case of an unstamped memorandum of account signed by defendant, if the account is inadmissible in evidence on the ground of want of stamp, the suit will have to be dismissed, no other evidence being admissible. DINGAR MAL v. GOPAL, A.W.N. 1881, 108.

(34) Memorandum of appeal insufficiently stamped—Stamp not supplied within time fixed—Dismissal of appeal—Appeal—Revision.—Where an appeal is struck off the file, owing to the failure of the appellant to make up the deficiency in Court fees on the memorandum of appeal, within the time allowed, the appellant can prefer an appeal from that order as from a decree and should not apply for revision under s. 622, Act X of 1877. In re PETITION OF MACHAL SAHU, A.W.N. 1881, 51.

(35)—Stamp on plaint.—The amount of the stamp upon the plaint is not conclusive of the value of the subject matter of the suit. MOHUN LALL SOOKUL v. BEBEE DOSS, 7 M.I.A. 428=1 Suther. 458=1 Sar. 739.

(36)—Stamp on plaint—Quaere.—Whether the stamp upon the plaint required by Ben. Reg. X of 1829, s. 17, being for fiscal purposes only, is conclusive of the value of the property sued for? MUSSUMAT AMEENA KHATOOR v. RADHABENOD MISSER, 7 M.I.A. 261=12 Moo. P.C. 470=1 Sar. 644.

(37)—Appeal—Return of plaint by appellate Court.—Where an order has directed a plaint to be returned for presentation to the proper Court, an appeal from such an order is an appeal from an order and should be stamped with Rs. 2. It not being an appeal from a decree, full stamp-duty need not be paid. FAZLUR RAHIM v. ABU AHMED, 30 C. 453=7 C.W.N. 402. (26 C. 275, F.)

(38)—Plaint not stamped—Credit asked for excess paid elsewhere.—Where the plaint is not stamped but the plaintiff claims that the necessary stamp for the same relief has been furnished in excess in another suit, the credit claimed cannot be allowed. ASSAN v. PATHUMMA, 22 M. 494.

(39)—'Dowl Fehrist' Stamp.—A 'dowl fehrist' is no more a contract than are chittas, measurement papers or 'sumthalic' papers, and does not require to be stamped or registered. GUNGAPERSHAD v. GOGUN SING, 3 C. 322. [F., 5 C. 864=6 C.L.R. 286; D., 10 C.L.R. 121.]

(40)—Act X of 1862, arts. 7, 12—Document regarding remuneration to pleader—Agreement for service within art. 7, and not bond under art. 12.—An agreement by a client retaining a pleader for procuring a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, and reciting that, in consideration of his trouble, he was to receive a certain fixed sum of money in any event, is an agreement for service within the meaning of art. 7 of Act X of 1862, and not a bond or other obligation for the payment of money under art. 12; and the question depends on the nature of the document and not on the amount secured thereby. DULPUT RAI v. RUHEEM BUKSH, 86 P.R. 1869. [D., 82 P.R. 1870.]

Stamp—continued.

(41)—Bond—Pleader's fees—Act XVIII of 1869.—An instrument by which a party appoints a vakil and agrees to pay a certain sum on the accused in the case being acquitted and to pay nothing if they are convicted, comes under the definition of a bond given in Act XVIII of 1869, s. 3, para. 5, and must be stamped accordingly. SPENCER v. EMAMOODDEEN, 82 P.R. 1870.

(42)—Bombay Regulation XVIII of 1827, s. 12, cl. (2)—Sale-deed under—Suit to recover possession—Practice.—In the case of a sale-deed executed on an one-anna stamp when Regulation XVIII of 1827 (Bombay) was in force, held that the deed was sufficiently stamped under cl. (2) of s. 2 of the Regulation, but that the plaintiff suing thereon cannot obtain a judgment for a sum or value beyond what is covered by the stamp, unless he paid an additional stamp-duty and penalty, which the Court might allow him to do. MULJI BECHAR v. JETHA JESHANKAR, 10 B. 239.

(43) —Contract—Suit for recovering costs of preparing deeds of indenture and debenture—Stamp duty—Place of origin of cause of action—Jurisdiction—Counter claim against plaintiff not allowed—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 111.—By an agreement of December 1892, plaintiffs, contractors, entered into a contract with the defendant Company for the supply of machinery to be delivered and paid for in the manner agreed on. On difficulties arising as to payment, a supplementary agreement was entered into between the parties in August 1894 by which it was arranged that the plaintiffs should accept shares in the Company and debentures charged on its property in satisfaction of their claim. By the fifth clause of the agreement, it was provided as follows:—"The Company shall forthwith execute an indenture of trust in favour of the trustees to be named by the contractors for the purpose of securing the debentures, such indenture and debentures to be prepared by the solicitors of the contractors at the expense of the Company and to be approved of by the company's solicitors. It was to recover the costs of the preparation of the above said indenture and debentures from the defendant Company that the plaintiffs brought this suit. On the materal issue as to jurisdiction, the Court was held to have jurisdiction, leave having been given under cl. 52 of the Letters Patent. Where one of the parties assents to a contract in Bombay, part of the cause of action must surely be taken to have arisen at Bombay; for, if the assent of such party to the contract be disproved, the whole contract would fall to the ground and with it the right of suit. Also, under the circumstances of this case, the preparation of the documents in Bombay and their approval by the defendants, Bombay solicitors having deen accepted, it must be held to have been intended that they should be prepared in Bombay and paid for there. The issue whether, under the above agreement, the defendants were liable to pay the stamp-duty for the deeds was decided in the affirmative. Under the agreement the defendant Company were liable to pay all the costs incidental to the execution of the deeds and the term 'prepared' must have been intended to include the stamping of the document but for which it could not be executed. On another issue raised as to whether the defendants were not entitled to set off their counter-claim for damages against the plaintiffs for their failure to carry out the earlier agreement of 1892, it was held that such counter-claim or set-off should not be permitted, for, the claim was not one for an ascertained sum of money legally recoverable from the plaintiffs, as provided for in s. 111 of the Civ. Pro. Code. DOBSON AND BARLOW v. THE BENGAL SPINNING AND WEAVING COMPANY, 21 B. 126. [R., 20 M. 336 = 16 M. L.J. 395 = 1 M.L.T. 153.]

Stamp—continued.

This circular calls for annual statements regarding stamp fees, and the expense to Government for each description of Court. Cir. No. 2, dated the 13th February 1865, 2 W.R. Civ. Cir. Order, p. 1.

This circular deals with stamp on receipts from suitors for money repaid to them from sums in deposit. Cir. No 22. dated the 13th September 1865, 4 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 1.

This circular draws attention to circular No. 2 of 1865, calling for annual statements regarding stamp fees and the expense to Government for each description of Court. Cir. No. 4, dated the 20th February 1866, 5 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 2.

This circular substitutes new rule regarding stamp paper on which applications for new trials under s. 21, Act XI, 1865, &c., are to be engrossed. Cir. Order No 35, dated 14th December 1867, 9 W.R. Civ. Cir., p. 1.

This circular requests Courts to satisfy themselves as to the cancellation of adhesive stamps filed between 1st April last and the receipt of Circular, dated 17th January 1871. Civ. Cir. No. 10, dated 13th April 1871, 15 W.R. Civ. Cir., p. 19.

This circular calls attention to Rules relative to the use of Bicolor and Adhesive Stamps as denoting fees chargeable under the Court Fees Act. Civ. Cir. Memo. No. 1, dated 10th January 1872, 17 W.R. Rules and Orders of the High Court, p. 1.

This circular directs that Collectors, &c., are to be careful that Stamps commonly used are always available at Sub-divisions. Rev. Cir. No. 4, 20 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 3.

This circular directs that occasional inspection is to be made by heads of offices to ensure the effectual punching and defacement of stamps. Rev. Cir. No. 3, 20 W.R. Rev. Cir. p. 7.

Stamp—continued.

This circular makes an alteration in cl. 4, s. 6, Ch. XIII of Board Rules, regarding Stamps. Rev. Cir. No. 1, 20 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 9

This letter circulates Financial Department Order drawing attention to an instance of fraud in a District Stamp Office, and directing precautions to be taken when Collector grants refund or renewal of stamps. Rev. Cir. No. 10, 20 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 14.

This circular directs that Court-fee Stamps for processes should be put in with application and fixed on process at once, and that postage labels should not be received until party desires process should be actually transmitted. Civ. Cir. No. 17, 20 W.R. Rules and Orders of the High Court, p. 8.

This circular calls for report regarding number of stamps required to be repunched monthly in the Courts at head-quarters and subdivisions, and asks whether any inconvenience is felt in carrying out orders on the point. Rev. Cir. No. 5, 21 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 4.

This letter circulates Financial Department Orders of 31st January 1874, regarding cancellation and punching of stamps. Rev. Cir. No. 4, 21 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 6.

This circular draws attention to previous circular regarding the punching of stamps affixed to documents. Civ. Cir. Memo. No. 4 of 14th February 1874, 21 W.R. H C. Rules and Orders, p. 9.

This circular in supersession of previous circulars, promulgates new rules regarding payment of discount on stamps. Rev. Cir. No. 2, 22 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 3.

This circular lays down orders regarding the refund of judicial stamps when the applications for refund are unsupported by certificates. Rev. Cir. No. 5, 22 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 5.

This circular communicates orders of Government in a case of embezzlement of stamps at a sub-divisional treasury. Rev. Cir. No. 6, 22 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 5.

This circulates Financial Department Resolution regarding the refund or renewal of a Stamped Paper. Rev. Cir. No. 6, 23 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 17.

This circular promulgates rules for guidance of proceedings held by District Officers for realization of Stamp Fees in Pauper Suits. Rev. Cir. No. 1, 23 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 29.

With reference to Government Order regarding ss. 49 and 50 of the General Stamp Act, this circular intimates that documents not correctly prepared are to be considered as insufficiently stamped, and treated accordingly. Rev. Cir. No. 2, 23 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 31.

This letter circulates Financial Resolution relating to the cancellation of stamp labels on certain documents before issue. Civ. Cir. Order No. 13, 23 W.R. Rules and Orders of High Court, p. 13.

Stamp—continued.

This circular deals with quarterly stamp statements and their comparison with previous year's quarters. Rev. Cir. No. 4, 24 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 5.

This circular deals with the indents for stamps. Rev. Cir. No. 7, 24 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 7.

This circular cancels C. O. No. 10 of March 1875 as to Store Book of stamps. Rev. Cir. No. 3, 24 W.R. Rev Cir., p. 18.

This circular deals with the exchange of adhesive stamp for stamped papers. Rev. Cir. No. 1, 24 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 25.

This circular directs that frauds in connection with stamps are to be reported immediately. Rev. Cir. No. 2, 24 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 25.

This circular lays down certain additional precaution in the custody of stamp-labels. Rev. Cir. No. 6, 24 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 27.

This circular lays down that the periodical inspection of documents bearing adhesive labels is to apply to all papers which require such labels. Rev. Cir. No. 7, 24 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 27.

This circular deals with the duties of Collectors when unstamped or insufficiently stamped documents are produced before them. Rev. Cir. No. 6, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 4.

This circular deals with the Board's Rule 8, s. I, about issue of stamps after 27th of the month. Rev. Cir. No. 3, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 6.

This circular deals with non-judicial stamps. Rev. Cir. No. 5, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 7.

This circular lays down a new table of rates of discount on sale of stamps. Rev. Cir. No. 1, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir. p. 10.

This circular states that certificates of purchase-money are not conveyances, and should not be stamped —C.O. No. 4 of January, 1876, cancelled. Rev. Cir. No. 2, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 12.

This circular deals with the corrections in form of license for vend of stamps. Rev. Cir. No. 5, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 12.

This circular deals with the value of stamps stored in sub-divisions. Rev. Cir. No. 5, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 22.

This circular deals with the details of land-revenue — Excise and stamp return. Rev. Cir. No. 7, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 22.

This circular deals with stamp return No. XXXV. Rev. Cir. No. 8, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 23.

This circular deals with the evasion of stamp-law in loans. Rev. Cir. No. 3, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 25.

This circular deals with the evasion of stamp duty in blank transfer deeds. Rev. Cir. No. 4, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 27.

Stamp—continued.

All receipts for sums of over Rs. 20, except those granted to cultivators for rent, must have a one-anna stamp. The postage stamp on a receipt sent by post is not enough. Rev. Cir. No. 4, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 29.

This circular deals with the stamping of documents after execution—Prosecution. 25 W.R.H.C. Rules Cir. No. 5, dated 25th March 1876, p. 4.

See ACT VI OF 1882, ss. 76, 79, A.W.N. 1900, 15.

See APPEAL — ARBITRATION, 3 B.L.R. App. 104=12 W.R. 50.

Appeal—Rejection for insufficient — Appeal from order—See APPEAL—ORDERS, A.W.N. 1883, 255.

Evidence—Objection as to stamp in special appeal—See APPELLATE COURT — OBJECTIONS FIRST TAKEN IN APPEAL, 4 B.L.R. A.C. 27 Note=12 W.R. 362.

Suit-bond unstamped - Appeal—See APPELLATE COURT—REJECTION OR ADMISSION OF EVIDENCE, 5 B.L.R. App. 10.

Letters submitting to arbitration — Not required—Verbal agreement, evidence of—See ARBITRATION—REFERENCE TO ARBITRATION, 19 B. 32.

Objection as to want of, cannot be taken for the first time in second appeal—See AWARD, 10 C.L.J. 41=2 Ind. Cas. 414=37 C. 63=14 C.W.N. 75.

Issue of certificate of sale—Insufficiency of stamp—Court not bound to grant fresh certificate—See CERTIFICATE OF SALE, 9 B. 526.

Order rejecting memorandum of appeal—Duty—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 2, O. VI, r. 17, O. VII, r. 11, O VI, r. 18, O. XLI, r. 3, s. 107 (2), O. XXII, r. 11, A.W.N. 1885, 323.

Sum recoverable by Government as stamp-fees, first charge on proceeds of sale—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXXIII, r. 10, 25 M. 733 =12 M.L.J. 405.

Memorandum of objection insufficiently stamped—Defect not made good—Dismissal for default—Appeal memo. also insufficiently stamped—Appeal—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 22, s. 146, 4 N.L.R. 168.

Application to wind up partnership—Nature of suit—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 265, 13 C. L.R. 160.

Declaratory suits—Stamp duty—Act VII of 1870, s. 12—See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—DECLARATION OF TITLES, 1 M. 40.

Unstamped document—Secondary evidence of its contents—Admissibility—See EVIDENCE —GENERAL, 2 M.W.N. 1911, 166.

Entry in book recording extent of holding and rate of rent—Admissibility in evidence—

Stamp—continued.

Unstamped and unregistered document—See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS DOCUMENTS, 5 C. 864=6 C.L.R. 286.

Secondary evidence—Unstamped instrument —Notice to produce—See EVIDENCE—SECONDARY EVIDENCE, 2 M. 208.

See EVIDENCE—SECONDARY EVIDENCE, 21 B. 201, F.B.

Document inadmissible for want of—Suit thereon—Suit on original cause of action—Maintainability—See EVIDENCE — MISCELLANEOUS, 21 M.L.J. 462.

Insufficient stamp—Document admitted by the defendant—Dismissal of suit—Legality—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 58, 11 Ind. Cas. 810.

Unstamped entry in account book—Admission in evidence—See IRREGULARITIES, A. W.N. 1882, 115.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—RELATIONSHIP OF LANDLORD AND TENANT, 4 M.H.C. 153.

Plaint sent to Court unstamped—Requisite Court fee paid after expiry of the period of Limitation—Plague restrictions—See LIMITATION—GENERAL, P.L.R. 1900, p. 191.

Limitation—Plaint sent to Court by post unstamped—Plaintiff restrained from going to Court owing to plague under executive orders —Court-fees Act, 1870, s. 28—See LIMITATION —GENERAL, P.L.R. 1900, p. 189.

Plaint insufficiently stamped — Deficiency made up within time allowed—Suit not barred —See LIMITATION—GENERAL, 3 Ind. Cas. 557.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 3, 3 P.R. 1893.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 3, art. 23, 20 C. 41.

See MORTGAGE —ACCOUNTS BETWEEN MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE, 9 B. 435.

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS—BILL OF EXCHANGE, 16 C. 432.

Partition suit—Title of plaintiff to share in many of the properties included in plaint denied—Court-fee payable—See PARTITION—MISCELLANEOUS, 20 C. 762.

Plaint, insufficiently stamped— Deficiency not made good within time allowed by Court—Plaint admitted subject to defendant's objections— Subsequent rejection of plaint— See PLAINT—REJECTION OF PLAINT, A.W.N. 1891, 166.

Finality of decision of first Court as to undervaluation of plaint—Plaint not to be rejected without opportunity to plaintiff to affix proper stamp—See PLAINT—REJECTION OF PLAINT, 9 B. 355.

Plaint or appeal if returnable for presentation in proper Court, after admission, in wrong Court and cancellation of Court-fees — See PLAINT—RETURN OF PLAINT, 7 B. 487.

Stamp—concluded.

Petition of compromise containing recital of a previous oral agreement for lease, whether requires stamp — See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 17, 12 C.W.N. 59.

Release—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 17, cl. (3), 2 A. 554.

See BOM. REG. XXVIII OF 1827, s. 14, cl. 1, 5 B. 127.

See RESISTANCE TO EXECUTION OF DECREE, 4 B.L.R. F.B. 94=12 W.R. F.B. 25.

See SECURITY FOR COSTS, 21 B. 576.

Second appeal—Plea that appeal in lower Court was barred by limitation—Plea cannot be raised at the hearing when not taken in memo. of appeal—See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE IN SPECIAL APPEAL, 13 A. 580=11 A.W.N. 166.

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL—MISCELLANEOUS, A.W.N. 1883, 165.

On certificate—See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATES ACT, 1889, ss. 17, 20, 19 B. 145.

Stamp Act (XXXVI of 1860).

[REP. ACT X OF 1862].

See STAMP.

See STAMP DUTY.

(1)—Stamp Law (Act XXXVI of 1860), s. 14—Optional stamp—Bond—Rights of obligee.—Where a person knowingly and without mistake, ignorance or inadvertence, executes a document on an optional stamp, the obligee can recover such a sum only as that optional stamp covers; no larger sum than that can be recovered in any Court of Justice under the provisions of s. 14, Act XXXVI of 1860, and no amount of penalty can make up the deficiency in the stamp. SYUD KERAMUT ALI v. MOONSHEE ABDOOL WAHAB, 17 W.R. 131.

(2)—Sch. A, cl. 4—Instrument in the nature of promissory note—Amount of stamp duty payable.—An instrument contained the following: "We bind ourselves to pay with interest to.....the sum of rupees.....being the balance of dealings held with your firm and the amount received this day from you in cash on account of stamp." Held that the instrument, though not a bond or hundi, was in the nature of a promissory note and came within the description in cl. 4, sch. A of Act XXXVI of 1860. HUTUMAN SAHIB v. HUSAIN SAHIB, 1 M.H.C. 152.

(3)—Sch. A, cl. 20—Agreement to share in profits and loss in consideration of amount advanced—Partnership agreement—Amount of stamp duty.—The defendant had obtained from Government the Abkari farm of a taluk. In consideration of a certain amount advanced, by the plaintiff for payment of the deposit, an agreement was entered into between the parties, whereby the whole management of the business was to reside in the plaintiff, and both the parties were to share in the profits and loss and render accounts to each other. The document did not purport to transfer to the plaintiff a separate and distinct property in either the shops or the trees of the farm. Held that the agreement provided for a partnership between the parties in respect of the subject matter of the whole undivided contract, each sharing the profit or loss in equal proportions. The document was, therefore, a deed of partnership and had to be stamped under cl. 20, sch. A of Act XXXVI of 1860. CHINNAIYA NATTAN v. MUTHUSWAMI PILLAI, 1 M.H.C. 226.

Stamp Act (XXXVI of 1860)—concluded.

(4)—Stamp—Bombay Regulations — Sch. A and s. 14—Promissory note containing agreement to waive jurisdiction.—A promissory note containing an agreement by the maker that, in case of any dispute or difference arising concerning the payment of the note or the subject-matter thereof, the same shall and may be sued in the Supreme Court, and "to the jurisdiction of which I hereby waive and agree to waive all pleas," properly stamped as a promissory note, did not require an additional stamp as an agreement under Act XXXVI of 1860, sch. A and s. 14. RAKHALDASS SINGHEE v. ROY CHUNDER DUTT, 1 Ind. Jur. O. S. 124.

Stamp Act (X of 1862).

[REP. ACT VII OF 1870.]

(1) — Mourosee-ryotee pottahs, stamp duty not chargeable for.—In this suit for enhanced rent, plaintiff admitted the tenure of the defendant, who however, pleaded a mourosee-ryotee pottah. The lower Courts refused to admit the pottah because it was not stampted and the lower appellate Court refused even to allow the defendant to pay the prescribed price and obtain a stamp on the document on the ground that the defendant had wilfully evaded the law. The High Court held that the Judge was wrong. The pottah purported to be a mourosee pottah, which, if genuine, would protect the tenure from enhancement, and such a pottah, neither under the old Stamp Law (Reg. X of 1829) governing this case, nor under the new law (Act X of 1862) required to be written on stamped paper. MOHEEOODEEN AHMED v. PRANNATH ROY CHOWDHRY. 3 W.R. Act X, Rul. 142.

(2)—Stamp Act—Transfer of under-tenure endorsed on pottah—Admissibility in evidence.—Where the transfer of an under-tenure is effected by an endorsement on the back of the tenant's pottah, the endorsement is not admissible in evidence, unless it be stamped as though it were a separate deed. TETAI ABOM v. GAGAI GURA CHAWA, 3 B.L.R. App. 30; PITAYE AHUNG v. GIRGHEE KOER AJOOAH, 11 W.R. 363. [R., 12 W.R. 203.]

(3)—Petition for lease, if registrable—Registration Act (XX of 1865), s. 17—Stamp duty and penalty — Evidence—Suit in ejectment, Act X of 1859, s. 78.—S. 17, XX of 1866, does not provide for the registration of a petition asking for a lease. Stamp duty and penalty are not leviable on such petition, when it is used as evidence of a contract to be entered into between parties. [F., 17 W.R. 509 ; Appl., 7 C. 703, F.B. = 10 C.L R. 121.] Where, in a suit in ejectment instituted under Act X of 1859, the judgment-debtor fails to invoke the protection of s. 78 of the Act, against the decree-holder, he cannot, in special appeal, claim the 15 days' time under the section within which to pay the money. CHOONEE MUNDAR v. CHUNDEE LALL DASS, 14 W.R. 178.

Stamp Act (X of 1862)—continued.

(4)—Stamp Act (X of 1862)—Promissory note—Ambiguity.—Where the wording of a promissory note bearing a one anna stamp appears to be ambiguous as to whether it is payable on demand the Court will take the evidence of the parties as to the intention, and will then decide whether it is properly stamped. Under such circumstances, the Court will take evidence of usage. BANK OF HINDUSTAN, CHINA AND JAPAN v. SEDGWICK, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 107.

(5)—Decision as to stamp duty—Power of Court of appeal.—An appellate Court has got power to re-open in appeal the question whether a document, which the Court of first instance has declared to be liable to stamp under Act X of 1862, is so liable. SUBRAYA PILLAI v. SRINIVASA PILLAI, 3 M.H.C. 71.

(6)—Unstamped bond—Intention to evade stamp laws—Evidence—Construction.—Where a bond contained a stipulation to the effect that, as the obligors were urgently in want of money and unable to procure a stamp, they executed the bond on plain paper, agreeing to make good any penalty the obligees might have to pay in suing them to enforce the obligation, held that this was not in point of law an agreement to evade the stamp laws, though, as a matter of fact, an intention to evade the stamp laws might have been inferred. SASHI BHUSAN BANERJEE v. TARACHAND KAR, 3 B.L.R.A. C. 329 = 11 W.R. 553.

(7)—Stamp—Release on insufficient stamp—Such deed confined only to so much property as would be covered by the stamp.—A deed was written on unstamped paper, but it was stipulated in the deed that A should get it stamped, which was done, but, instead of an ad valorem stamp, a stamp of 2 annas only was impressed. A, after having been in possession of his allotment for ten years, brought a suit against his elder brother, claiming a share in the family estate, accordingly to the ordinary Hindu Law, and impeaching the deed of release as forgery. The Sudder Ameen upheld the deed. On appeal to the Civil Court of Dharwar, A for the first time objected to the reception of the deed as evidence, as not being impressed with a stamp sufficient to cover the value of the property released. That Court admitted the deed as evidence of the release. On appeal, the High Court also upheld the deed, but, under Bom. Reg. XVIII of 1827, s. 10, cl. 1, and s. 12, cl. 2, reduced its effect and operation by making it a deed of release for so much only of the property comprised in it as would be covered by the 2 annas stamp impressed. The Judicial Committee reversing such decree, held that the course adopted by the High Court in respect to the insufficiency of the stamp was erroneous, as it was the duty of that Court (1) either to have refused to admit the deed as evidence for want of a proper stamp, or (2) in the alternative, to have required to deed to be properly stamped before admitting it as evidence. MANTAPPA NADGOWDA v. BASWANTRAO NADGOWDA, 15 W.R.P.C. 32 = 14 M I.A. 24 = 2 Suther 407 = 2 Sar. 648.

(8)—Insufficient stamp duty — Contract.—Where two distinct contracts are written on one paper affixed with the stamp duty payable on only one of the two contracts, the Court may take into aocount the stamp already on the instrument in making up the aggregate of the stamp required BALAJI MAHADEV v. KRISHNAJI CHIMNAJI, 6 B H C.A.C. 95.

(9)—Mortgage—Execution and delivery to mortgagor of supplementary deed reserving equity of redemption—Subsequent possession of deed by mortgagee—Presumption—Stamp.—Certain lands were mortgaged by A to B by a deed which on the face of it appeared to be a deed of absolute sale ; at the same time, an ekrar which reserved the equity of redemption to A was executed and made over to him. In a suit subsequently brought by B, for confirmation of possession and registration of title, on the allegation that A had returned the ekrar to him, thereby surrendering the equity of redemption, A's plea was that the ekrar was lost and had somehow found its way to the plaintiff. Held that, as it was admitted that the ekrar was in plaintiff's possession, he was entitled to the benefit of the presumption of law which was in his favour, and the onus lay on the defendant to prove by legal evidence the loss of the ekrar. Held also that, as the deed was on the face of it an absolute sale, and as the effect of the deed was merely controlled by the ekrar, the effect of the return of the ekrar to the mortgagee was that the equity of redemption which, under the ekrar, was vested in the mortgagor, became extinguished, so that it was unnecessary to execute any separate document requiring a separate stamp. RAJ COOMAR SINGH v. RAM SUHAYE ROY, 11 W.R. 151.

(10)—See APPELLATE COURT—REJECTION OR ADMISSION OF EVIDENCE, 3 B.L.R. A C. 126 = 11 W.R. 520.

(11)—See CONSIDERATION, 7 B.H.C. A.C. 10.

(12)—See COPY OF DECREE OR JUDGMENTS, 1 W.R. Mis. 21.

(13)—See DAMAGES—MEASURE AND ASSESSMENT, 5 W.R. S.C.C. Ref. 10.

(14)—Promissory note not duly stamped—Stamp penalty not receivable—Suit on note—See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS—PROMISSORY NOTES—GENERAL, 7 M.A.C. 361.

Stamp Act (X of 1862)—continued.

(15)—Ss. 3 and 54—Engrossing document on unstamped paper.—Persons who bave merely engrossed documents liable to stamp duty on unstamped papers are not liable to be fined under s. 54. Act X of 1862. REG. v. JOTI bin SATU, 1 B.H.C 37.

(16)—S. 14—Act X of 1862—Documents without proper stamp—Admissibility as against person producing same.—Documents not bearing proper stamp under Act X of 1862 are not admissible in evidence to show the terms of the deed as against the party producing the same. THAKOOR OOMRAO SINGH v. THAKOORANEE MEHTAB KOONWUR, 3 Agra 103.

(17)—S. 14—Stamp Act—Transfer of under-tenure endorsed on potta—Admissibility in evidence.—Where the transfer of an under-tenure is effected by an endorsement on the back of the tenant's potta, the endorsement is not admissible in evidence, unless it be stamped as though it were a separate deed. TETAI ABOM v. GAGAI GURA CHAWA, 3 B.L.R. App. 30.

(18)—S. 14—Validity of Bonds subsequently stamped—Act VIII of 1859—Act XXXVI of 1860—Act X of 1862.—A bond properly stamped when produced at the first hearing of a suit, and when the Court is asked to receive it in evidence, is valid under Acts VIII of 1859, XXXVI of 1860 and X of 1862, even though it may not be stamped at the time of the institution of the suit. ATMARAM v. AMIRCHAND, 3 B.H.C.A.C. 92.

(19)—S. 14—Stamp, determination as to payment of—Real nature of instrument—Discretion—Appeal.—In determining what provision of the Stamp laws is applicable to a particular instrument, regard must be had to the real nature of the instrument, and not to the title which may have been given to it by the parties, if the contents of the title show that the title was a misnomer. When the Legislature has not made any particular rule of conduct imperative, but leaves the procedure to be followed under particular circumstances within the discretion of the Court of Judge, it is intended that a sound and reasonable discretion should be exercised, and not that the matter should depend on the caprice or fancy of the Court or individuals in whom the discretion may be vested. When the Court of original jurisdiction exercises the jurisdiction vested in it in an irregular and unreasonable manner, it is the duty of an appellate Court to rectify its erroneous procedure. A Civil Court is bound to allow the defects in an insufficiently stamped deed to be made good in the manner which the law has provided, when there is no reason to suspect any design on the part of the holder to defraud the revenue; and if it arbitrarily and without assigning any reason refuses the relief which it has power to grant, it is the duty of the Court, to which an appeal lies from its decision, to correct the error which has been committed. M. G. PENDS v. R S. MALSE, 3 B H.C.A.C. 94. [R., 6 B. 304; D., 10 B.H.C. 406.]

Stamp Act (X of 1862)—continued.

(20)—S. 14—See APPELLATE COURT—REJECTION OR ADMISSION OF EVIDENCE, 5 B. L.R. App. 10.

(21)—S. 15—See BOM. REG. XVIII OF 1827, s. 13, 5 B. 621.

(22)—Cl. 6, s. 15—See PAUPER SUIT, 10 W. R. 357.

(23)—Ss. 15, 17—Question of stamp-duty—Jursdiction of Small Cause Court.—The plaintiff sued to recover a sum of money, being a debt secured by a hissab entered in a leaf of plaintiff's khatta-book, and the defendant denied the claim and objected to the admission of the leaf as it did not bear the proper stamp, held that the Judge of the Small Cause Court was competent to find on the facts before him whether the omission or neglect to execute the instrument on paper bearing the proper stamp did or did not arise from any intention to evade the stamp duty. RAJ CHUNDER SHAHA v. GOBIND CHUNDER KOOLAL, 18 W. R. 102.

(24)—S. 17—Unstamped documents — Evidence—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 130, 350.—Where documents have been insufficiently stamped, payment may be made into Court of the proper stamp-duty; but documents not stamped at all ought not to be received as evidence. Where unstamped receipts, which might have been properly rejected by the first Court, have been filed there and accepted as evidence, an appellate Court is bound to consider them as evidence in the case, and the decree of the Court of first instance cannot be reversed or modified for that reason. LALJI SINGH v. SYAD AKRAM SER, 3 B.L.R.A.C. 235=12 W.R. 47. [F., 5 B.L.R. App. 10; D., 11 B.H. C. 129.]

(25)—S. 17—Unstamped deed—Payment of penalty—Reg. X of 1829, s. 14, cl. 5.—The sale deed in this case executed in 1939 had to be stamped under Reg. X of 1829 which was then in force; and the suit was brought when Act X of 1862 was in operation. The document was therefore inadmissible. But the Court viewed the case as subject alike to cl. 5, s. 14 of Reg. X of 1829 and to s. 17 of Act X of 1862, and held that the Court of first instance might have admitted the document (on the ground that the plaintiff would have been subjected to unmerited hardship or injustice), upon payment of a discretional fine. The case was accordingly remanded for this purpose. TURTEE v. MUKH RAM, 59 P. R. 1867. [R., 28 P. R. 1878.]

(26)—S. 17—See APPEAL—CASES WHERE APPEAL LIES OR NOT, 3 W.R. Act X, Rul. 158.

(27)—S. 17, Cl. (1)—Stamp—Rejection of document—Appeal.—In a suit on a joint and several promissory note, the first defendant admitted his liability, but on the note being tendered in evidence, it was objected to on behalf of the second defendant, as it bore only an adhesive stamp which it was contended was, moreover, of inadequate value, the note though purporting to be payable on demand, being really intended by the parties to it to be payable three months after date. The Division Judge of the High Court, after inquiry refused to allow the document to be received in evidence upon payment of the penalty; and the case having been gone into as for money lent, judgment was given for the plaintiff as against the first defendant, but in favour of the second defendant with costs. On appeal by the plaintiff, it was held, (i) that an appeal lay to the High Court from the decision of a Judge in a Division Court rejecting a document, tendered in evidence under s. 17, cl. 1 of the Stamp Act, 1862, on the ground that there had been an intention to evade the payment of stamp duty; (ii) that the point upon which the decision of the Court is to be final, under s. 17 of the Act, is as to what is the proper amount of stamp duty which the document ought to bear, and not as to whether the Court ought, or ought not, to receive the document in evidence; (iii) that a Court to which a document is tendered in evidence under s. 17 of the Act, ought not to reject it, unless it clearly appears that there was an intention to evade the payment of stamp duty; and (iv) that the circumstances of the present case did not disclose any intention to evade the payment of the duty, and that, therefore, the Judge was not justified in refusing to receive payment of the penalty and to allow the note to be given in evidence. ROYAL BANK OF INDIA v. HORMASJI KHARSEDJI, 3 B.H.C.O.C. 153.

Stamp Act (X of 1862)—continued.

(28)—S. 17, cl. 1—Document liable to stamp duty, unstamped—Objection for first time taken in appeal, maintainability of.—The Stamp Act (X of 1862), prohibits an unstamped document from being received in evidence or acted upon in any civil proceeding in a Court of Justice, except on payment of the proper amount of stamp duty and penalty which every Civil Court is by s. 17, cl. 1, empowered to ascertain and receive. It is imperative on the High Court hearing the suit on appeal to give effect to this provision, though the objection be pointed out for the first time on the hearing of the appeal. A. ADINARAYANA SETTI v. F J.V. MINCHIN, 3 M H C. 297. [R., 5 M.H.C. 391.]

(29)—S. 17—See No. 23, supra.

(30)—S. 26—Refund of stamp duty—Hearing of suit.—For the purposes of refusing or granting a certificate for the refund of stamp duty under s. 26, Act X of 1862, the hearing of a suit must be considered to commence when proof of the service of the summons is taken on the day appointed for the hearing; and where proof of service of the summons has been previously taken, it must be considered as if it had not been taken until the commencement of proceedings in the case on the day appointed for hearing. AMIRCHAND JAMNADAS v. MAGGAN AMTHU. 4 B.H.C.A.C. 176.

(31)—S. 30—Stamp Act (XVIII of 1869), s. 28—Promissory note unstamped—Admission in evidence on payment of penalty.—In a suit on the following unstamped document, dated 25th October, 1869:—"Whereas I (defendant) have borrowed Rs. 1,500 of the Company's coin from you without interest, without a bond, hence I declare that I shall repay on or before the 15th Falgun Suddi the whole amount in question in one lump and take back this chitta; should I fail to repay the amount in question on the above date, I will pay interest ....." the defendant pleaded that under s. 30 of Act X of 1862, the Stamp Act in force at the time of its execution, it was inadmissible in evidence. Held that the chitta was in substance a promissory note within the words of s. 28, Act XVIII of 1869, and could not be admitted in evidence on payment of penalty. Held also that though the document itself was executed before the date when Act XVIII of 1869 came into operation, s. 28 of the Act did apply. NANDAN MISSER v. CHATTERBATI, 13 B.L.R. App. 33, 21 W.R. 446. [F., 16 M. 283; Rel. cn., 4 Bom. L.R. 912; Appl., 7 C. 256; R., 2 B. 19, 1 A. 725.]

Stamp Act (X of 1862)—continued.

(32)—S. 32—Valuation of claim—Appeal to High Court.—Under s. 32 of Act X of 1862, the High Court can entertain an appeal relating to the valuation of a claim. BASOO MAD FUROSH v. HUREE PANDEY, 11 W. R. 479.

(33)—S. 54—See No. 15, supra.

(34)—Act X of 1862, sch. A, as amended by Act XXVI of 1867—Written order by master on servant's petition to pay money—Stamp duty.—A written direction by master to a servant for the payment of money belonging to the former in the hands of the latter is not an order for the payment of money within the scope and intention of the terms used in sch. A, Act X of 1862, as amended by Act XXVI of 1867. SREE PUTBALWANT RAO v. FUTTEH-OO-DEEN, 1 N.W.P. 143.

(35)—Stamp Act, X of 1862, sch. A, art. 1—Pro note for re-payment of grain—Stamp duty.—A document in the form of a pronote, for the repayment of a certain quantity of grain, requires a stamp of one rupee under art. 1, sch. A of the Stamp Act, X of 1862. LACHIRAM JAYASANGI v. RAJI bin SHIVAJI, 6 B.H.C.A. C. 107.

(36)—Sch. A, art. 3—Suit for rent—Kabuliat—Stamp duty.—In a suit for payment of rent for use and occupation of land, where the basis of the plaintiff's rent claim is for a kabuliat without which the tenant cannot lawfully hold the land, the agreement produced for evidencing the contract, if not the deed of contract itself, is not liable to be stamped under art. 3, sch. A of Act X of 1862. CHOONEE MUNDUL v. CHUNDI LALL DASS, 14 W R. 334.

(37)—Sch. A, arts. 4, 15—Agreement to supply cotton.—An agreement to supply cotton in consideration of a sum of money received requires Stamp of the value specified in art. 4, sch. A, Stamp Act X of 1862. SAMSUDDIN SULTAN v. RAMJI BHIKA, 5 B.H.C.A.C. 151.

Stamp Act (X of 1862)—continued.

(38)—Sch. A, art. 10—Promissory note—Bond.—A promissory note, attested by a witness, does not require to be stamped as a bond under Act X of 1862, sch. A, art 10. The words in that clause "not being a bond, instrument, or writing bearing the attestation of one or more witnesses," referred only to the preceding words, "other order or obligation for the payment of money." Also the words "bearing the attestation of one or more witnesses apply only to the words "instrument or writing," and not to the word "bond." GLADSTONE v. SADOO CHURN DUTT, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 203.

(39)—Sch A., cl. 10—See SHARES, B.H.C. O.C. 9.

(40)—Sch. A, art. 12—Appeal to Privy Council—Security bond for costs—Stamp duty—Art. 12, sch. A of the Stamp Act X of 1862, is applicable to a security bond tendered in appeal to the Privy Council by way of security for costs; and according to it, the bond ought to be engrossed on a stamp of the value of Rs. 25 SOONJAHAREE KOONWUR v. RAMESSUR PANDEY, 5 W.R. Mis. 47.

(41)—Sch. A, art. 12—Suit on instalment bond solehnamah filed by defendant in, not petition under art. 10, Act XXVI of 1869—Stamp duty Agreement—Act X of 1862, sch. A.—The first of the two cases referred for the opinion of the High Court by the Judge of the Small Cause Court was a suit on a bond for Rs. 40 with interest. A solehnamah was filed by the defendant by which he admitted that Rs. 25 was due, and agreed to pay the same by instalments. The High Court agreeing with the Small Cause Judge held that the solehnamah was not a petition but an agreement, so that the proper stamp duty was not one anna but two annas as for an instalment bond. The Second case was also a suit on a bond after filing which plaintiff put in a razeenamah stating that the defendant had satisfied his claim and so he withdrew the suit. This razeenamah was rather of the nature of a petition than of an agreement. Plaintiff had already paid a stamp duty on the bond, and the razeenamah was simply in the nature of an application stating that the money due on that bond had been satisfied. MANICK CHUNDER ROY v. LALMON SHEIKH, 8 W.R. 214.

(42)—Sch. A, art. 12—Bond—Agreement.—An instrument reciting that A has sold certain premises to B for Rs. 620 and has received Rs. 25 for earnest money, and that he will execute a sale deed on receipt of the balance of the purchase-money and will not retract, is a conditional bond falling under art. 12, sch. A, Act X of 1862, on which the stamp duty payable is four annas. P.R. 1866, S.C.C. Rul. No. 4.

(43)—Sch. A, arts. 12, 23, 35 and 46—Notification No. 835, dated the 19*th February*, 1886—Deed of dower containing also a hypothecation of immoveable property.—Where a deed of dower executed in 1862, besides containing provision for the dower of a Muhammadan wife, also contained a hypothecation of shares in certain villages as security for the payment of such dower, it was held that the deed, though exempted from stamp duty as a deed of dower by virtue of a Notification of the Government of India was still liable to duty as a mortgage-deed under the provisions of Act X of 1862. ABBASI BEGAM v. TUFAIE ALI KHAN, A.W.N. 1900, 23.

(43-a)—Sch. A, art. 15—See No. 37, supra.

(44)—Art. 18, sch. A—Optional stamp—Provision for penalty.—If the parties to an agreement add to the stipulation which it contains a provision whereby a sum of money is made payable by way of fine or penalty in the event of the non-performance at the appointed time of the work contracted to be done,-such a provision is an obligation for the payment of money and for the due execution of work within the meaning of the law and therefore requires an optional stamp. Where the Court expressly found that the omission to provide a proper stamp was neither intentional nor for the purpose of evading the stamp law, the Court should have received the document in evidence on payment into Court of the amount of stamp duty payable. COLLINS v. DEWAN SINGH, 2 N.W.P. 465.

(45)—Sch. A, art. 23—See No. 43, supra.

(46)—Sch. A, art. 35—See No. 43, supra.

(47)—Sch. A, art. 42—See LANDLORD AND TENANT — RELATIONSHIP OF LANDLORD AND TENANT, 4 M.H.C. 153.

(48)—Sch. A, art. 43—Gomasta's sunnad—Stamp.—A sunnad which authorises a gomasta to attach rents and to sue for them, requires to be stamped. If it is a general power-of-attorney authorising him to collect and sue for rents, it must bear a four rupee stamp under Act X of 1862, sch. A, art. 43. RAGHUNANDAN THAKUR v. RAM CHARAN KAPALI, 1 B.L.R.F.B. 55=10 W.R. F.B. 39.

(49)—Sch. A, art. 46—See No. 43, supra.

(50)—Sch. A, art. 54—Instrument of partition—Each sharer's copy, meaning of.—In the case of a document purporting to be a partition-deed between brothers, it was held that since each sharer's copy of an instrument under Act X of 1862 must be taken to mean each sharer's part as exemplification of an instrument executed in duplicate, triplicate, etc., the document in question should be stamped as if it were such a copy under Act X of 1862, sch. A, art. 54. NARAYAN RAGHUNATH POTNIS v. KASHINATH VIDYADHAR, 8 B. 299.

(51)—Sch. B.—Practice—Time allowed for obtaining copy—Appeal—Stamp paper—Plain paper.—The principle laid down by the rule of Circular Order No. 31 of the 3rd October 1864 which provides that "the time allowed for obtaining a copy shall not begin to count till the whole of the requisite pieces of stamp paper of the copy are put in," applies to plain paper filed under the "general rule" at the end of sch. B, Act X of 1862, when the copy cannot be conveniently comprised within the stamp paper put in. CHUMUN CHOWDHRY v. SHAIKH ALI AZIM, 9 W.R. 138.

Stamp Act (X of 1862)—concluded.

(52)—Sch. B—See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL—ERRORS OF LAW OR PROCEDURE, 5 B.H.C. 153.

(53)—Sch. B, cl. 11—Suit for title to fractional share in Zemindari—Interest in land.—A suit for a declaration of the plaintiff's title to a fractional share in a Zemindari paying revenue to Government cannot be deemed to be a suit, "for lands forming one entire mehal or a specific portion thereof, with a defined jumma;" the share in question in this case was held to be an "interest in land" falling within the purview of Act X of 1862, sch. B, cl. 11, note (e) and the mode of valuation to be adopted was that laid down in that note. RAJ CHUNDER ROY v. CHUNDEE CHURN NAIK, 8 W. R. 437.

Stamp Act (XVIII of 1869).

[REP., ACT I OF 1879.]

(1)—Insufficiency of stamps—Civil Courts.—Act XVIII of 1869 allows the Civil Court to receive the proper amount of stamp, not only in cases of insufficiency of stamp, but also where documents have not been stamped at all. MAHOMED RIJAH v. THE COLLECTOR OF CHITTAGONG, 6 B.L.R. App. 117=15 W.R. 116.

(2)—Orders on tenants—Unstamped documents—Admissibility.—Documents which appear to be orders upon the tenants to hold themselves responsible for a particular person to whom a release had been executed by their landlord are admissible in evidence without being stamped, as they do not come under the description of any of the documents which the law requires to be stamped. BUKSHEE KUNNEE LALL v. MAHARANEE THAKOORNATH SAI, 25 W.R. 80. [F., 25 W.R. 376.]

(3)—Unregistered kubooliat—Evidence—Admissibility.—A kubooliat executed at a time when the law did not require registration, is admissible in evidence though unregistered. SHEO RAM SINGH v. SEWAK RAM, 20 W.R. 83.

(4)—Prior and subsequent assignment of debt—Decree-holder—Respective rights—Assignment of chose in action—Stamp Act—Doubtful cases—Benefit of doubt.—The prior assignee in equity of a chose in action (debt), not having given notice to the debtor from whom the debt is due cannot claim against a subsequent assignee for valuable consideration who did give such notice. When it is said that an assignee has not done everything to perfect the assignment until he has given notice to the debtor, that means to perfect it for certain purposes, for it is plainly complete as between the assignor and assignee, if no third person claiming under the assignor intervened. This reason does not apply to the judgment-creditors, who obtain their decrees quite irrespectively of the property, the subject of assignment. A judgment-creditor may under his judgment take in execution all that belongs to the debtor and nothing more. He stands in the place of his debtor. He only takes the property of his debtor subject to every liability under which the debtor himself held it. And he cannot claim the rights similar to those of a prior assignee. [R., 6 B. 193, 21 B. 205, 21 B. 287, 16 B. 91.] A letter by which a chose in action is equitably assigned does not require a stamp where it is not in British India at the time of assessment. [R., 2 C. 58, 23 C. 187.] Whenever it is in doubt whether the Legislature intended to impose a charge upon the subject in favour of the Crown, the benefit of the doubt must, as established by a legion of authorities, be given to the subject. MEGJI HANSRAJ v. RAMJI JOITA, 8 B.H.C O.C. 169.

Stamp Act (XVIII of 1869)—continued.

(5)—Decree for amount covered by stamp—Effect.—A plea raised by defendant to the effect that, as plaintiff sued on a plaint with a stamp of only Rs. 25-he could not get more than an amount for which a stamp of that value would be sufficient was not decided on its merits, because it was ruled that plaintiff could not get more than he claimed and that amount was covered by the stamp. BUDDUN SAHU v. RAMPERTAB SAHU, 25 W.R. 511.

(6)—Partition deed — Registration— Agreement of partition—Stamp.—A deed of partition does not require registration, nor is it required to be stamped. An agreement of partition is admissible in evidence without being stamped, to show the intention of the parties. NEM ROY v. LALMUN ROY, 25 W.R. 376.

(7)—Letter containing admission—Admissibility in evidence—Stamp.—A letter containing an admission is admissible in evidence without stamp. SITUL PERSHAD v. MONOHUR DOSS, 23 W.R. 325.

(8)— Lease — Documents substituting new terms—Stamp.—Where, after a first complete lease deed has itself been executed, stamped, and registered, another document is prepared and executed with a view to alter that first complete document and to substitute, so far as the rent is concerned, certain new terms for the old terms, the latter document requires under the Stamp Act to be itself stamped with a stamp which is rendered necessary for a lease. It is not merely a paper which is to be taken in connection with another paper that has already been stamped, in order to supply what is deficient in that paper, i.e., such that the two must be taken together in order to arrive at the agreement of lease which was originally come to. BYJNATH DUTT JHA v. MUSSAMUT PUTSOHEE DOBAIN, 20 W.R. 36. [R., 14 C.L.J. 411].

(9)—Ijara Muchalka—Lease under General Stamp Act of 1869—Stamp duty.—An 'Ijara Muchalka' is a lease or farm of land revenue, which a superior is entitled to receive from a subordinate proprietor, and falls within the definition of a lease contained in the General Stamp Act of 1869. [R., 4 M.L.J. 201.] The stamp duty payable on it is the duty with which a bond for the total amount payable under such lease during the first year of the term is chargeable. This being so, the penalty for an insufficient estimate should attach only to the obligation of that year. In such a case, sufficient effect would be given to s. 26 of Act I of 1879, if, in the first year of the term, no more than the amount covered by the stamp is allowed to be recovered, though in subsequent years effect may be given to the terms of the instrument. THE COLLECTOR OF TANJORE v. RAMASAMIER, 3 M. 342, F.B. [R., 4 M.L.J. 201.]

Stamp Act (XVIII of 1869)—continued.

(10)—Deed of sale—Schedule—Stamp.—A schedule appended to a deed of sale does not require to be stamped under the provisions of Act XVIII of 1869. PROCEEDINGS, 3RD NOVEMBER 1871, 6 M.H.C. App. 36.

(11)—Conveyance—Covenant for title—Additional duty.—A conveyance, with the usual covenant for title, cannot be construed as constituting an indemnity bond, so as to render the document liable to stamp duty as an indemnity bond, in addition to the stamp duty to which it is liable as a conveyance. ON REFERENCE BY THE BOARD OF REVENUE, 1 M. 133. [R., 25 M. 3.]

(12)—Appeal against "order as to fine" under Civ. Pro. Code—Inapplicable to penalties under —See APPEAL—ORDERS, 5 C. 311.

(13)—See APPELLATE COURT—POWERS OF APPELLATE COURT, 28 P.R. 1878.

(14)—S. 2, cl. 5—Bond—Definition of.—The definition of "bond" in the Stamp Act is not exhaustive; the word "includes" in cl. 5 of s. 2 has an extending force, and does not limit the meaning of the term to the substance of the definition. NASIBUN v. PREOSUNKER GHOSE, 8 C. 534.

(15)—S. 3—Conveyance—Sale of two or more items—Stamp-duty.—Where two or more items of property are sold for a certain sum of money and the value of each item is also mentioned in the instrument, the document is simply a deed of sale coming solely under the definition of "conveyance" in Act XVIII of 1869, s. 3. The stamp-duty leviable upon such instrument should be calculated upon the aggregate sum specified therein and not upon the various items for which each property had been passed. In re TUKARAM HARI ATRE, 10 B.H.C. 354.

(16)—S. 3—Entries of loans in account books.—Entries of loans in account books cannot be treated as bonds within the meaning of cl. 5, s. 3 of Act XVIII of 1869. THE QUEEN v. BULDEO, 2 N.W.P. 453.

(17)—S. 3, art. 13—Stamp—Letters of assignment of crop.—Letters of assignment in respect of a season's crop held not to be mortgage-deeds but agreements requiring a stamp of 8 annas. MORAN v. MITTU BIBEE, 2 C. 58.

Stamp Act (XVIII of 1869)—continued.

(18)—Ss. 3, 18—Suit on promissory note not stamped—Evidence.—An unstamped promissory note payable on demand is inadmissible as evidence under cl. 25, s. 3, Act XVIII of 1869. Plaintiff recovering on an unstamped promissory note must recover on the contract actually made, and not on any implied contract. Quære: Does not s. 18, Act XVIII of 1869 prevent the contention that a defendant's written statement and deposition may contain such an admission as renders it unnecessary for the plaintiff to put the written contract in evidence? ANKUR CHUNDER ROY CHOWDHRY v. MADHUB CHUNDER GHOSE, 21 W. R. 1. [F., 12 B. 443; R., 7 C. 256, 18 B. 369, U.B.R. 1907, 3rd Qr., Evidence, 5; D., 3 C. 314=2 C.L.R. 412 (N), 21 B. 360.]

(19)—S. 3 (5), (25), sch. II, art. 11—See INTEREST—STIPULATION IN THE NATURE OF PENALTY, 3 A. 260, F. B.

(20)—S. 3 (25), sch. II, art. 5—See EVIDENCE—SECONDARY EVIDENCE, 3 A. 581, F.B.

(21)—S. 4—Instrument executed in foreign country—Admissibility in British India without British stamp.—An instrument executed in a foreign country, which is valid by the law of that country and does not affect any property within British India, can be admitted in evidence in British India without a British stamp. NARAYAN SADASHIV v. BAPUJI BALAL, 7 B. H C.A.C. 140.

(22)—Ss. 5, 8, 19, 20, 26, 28—See EVIDENCE—SECONDARY EVIDENCE, 4 C. 259=2 C.L.R. 409.

(23)—Ss. 5, 18, 28—Stamp—Document stamped after execution but before tender—Evidence.—A document, to which a one anna adhesive stamp ought to be affixed, is admissible in evidence, if, when tendered, it bears the requisite stamp, even though such stamp had been affixed after the execution of the document. BHAURAM MADAN GOPAL v. RAMNARAYAN GOPAL, 12 B.H.C. 208.

(24)—S. 8—See No. 22, supra.

(25)—S. 9—Account stated and signed by defendant agreeing to pay interest—Stamp duty.—An account stated and signed by the defendant in the plaintiff's account book and containing a stipulation for payment of interest, was held to fall within the terms of s. 9 of Act XVIII of 1869, and to have been sufficiently stamped with one-anna stamp. GIRDHAR NARAN v. UMER AJU, 4 B. 326.

(26)—S. 14, sch. II, art. 11—Debt bond containing distinct agreement, stamp duty chargeable on.—Where in a simple money bond executed for a loan of Rs. 12-8-0, there was contained a promise made by the obligor to give a certain quantity of grain to the obligee besides repaying the principal with interest, the proper stamp duty payable on the instrument was held to be eight annas, that being the stamp duty required for an agreement liable to the higher rate of duty of the two parts of the instrument in question. It was however competent to the obligee to abandon the agreement for the payment of nagli and sue to recover the principal Rs. 12-8 0. with interest, a stamp of two annas being sufficient to cover the loan bond for the amount. CHIMNAJI v. RANU, 4 B. 19.

Stamp Act (XVIII of 1869)—continued.

(27)—S. 15, sch. II, art. 7—Receipt or discharge.—A memorandum purporting that a sum of money has been received by a Bank from a person, other than a constituent of such Bank, to be credited to a constituent's account, and furnished by the Bank for transmission to such constituent, is not a receipt or discharge given for or upon payment of money in satisfaction of a debt, within the meaning of art. 7 of Act XVIII of 1869, sch. II, and is not chargeable with stamp duty. In re THE UNCOVENANTED SERVICE BANK, LTD., 3 C.L R. 597.

(27-a)—S. 18—See Nos. 18, 23, supra.

(28)—Ss. 18, 28—Document stamped after execution—Admissibility—Suit based on unstamped document—Evidence.—A document is receivable in evidence on being duly stamped and as bearing the stamp required by the law for the purpose of the trial in which the document is tendered in evidence, and it is no business of the Court to inquire at what time the stamp was affixed or whether the provision of the Stamp Law was duly observed. That is a matter which is connected with the law as to penalties. [Appl., 9 C.L.R. 272.] If a document is not receivable in evidence as not being duly stamped, the plaintiff might recover on such part of the case as he could make out by other evidence. SREEMUTTY NOOR BIBEE v. SHAIKH RUMZAN, 24 W.R. 198.

(29)--S. 19—See No. 22, supra.

(30)—S. 20—See No. 22, supra.

(31)—Ss. 20 and 22—Unstamped document—Penalty—Evasion of stamp duty—Unstamped pro-note—Parol evidence—Terms of contract.—Under s. 20 of Act XVIII of 1869, a Court ought not to admit a document in evidence on payment of stamp duty and penalty if it finds that the document was unstamped or insufficiently stamped with the intention of evading stamp duty. If the Court inadvertently received stamp duty and penalty and made an endorsement on an unstamped document and admitted it in evidence but afterwards found that the original omission was owing to an intention to evade payment of stamp duty, it ought to cancel the endorsement and impound the deed and send it to the Collector. Where a contract is reduced to writing and the only cause of action which the plaintiff has against the defendant arises out of the contract embodied in an unstamped promissory note, no oral evidence is admissible to prove the terms of the contract. PROSUNNO NATH LAHIREE v. TRIPOORA SOONDUREE DABEE, 24 W.R. 88. [R., 17 C. L.J. 399, 16 Ind. Cas. 33.]

(32)—Stamp Act, XVIII of 1869, ss. 20, 28—Promissory note—Unstamped—Admissibility on payment of stamp-duty and penalty.—Under s.28, Act XVIII of 1869, an unstamped pro-note could not be admitted in evidence though stamp-duty and penalty were paid. DOSABHAI KAVASJI v. KHERBADJI HORMASJI, 7 B H.C. O.C. 180.

(33)—Ss. 20, 49—Bond executed on two stamp papers, when admissible—Stamp vendor's certificate.—A bond which, instead of being executed on a single impressed stamp is written on two stamp papers (making up the aggregate value required), cannot be said to be properly stamped according to the Stamp Act, in the absence of the stamp vendor's certificate as required by the proviso to s. 49 of the Act, and a penalty is consequently leviable under s. 20, before it can be admitted in evidence. CHEYN SUKH DASS v. MUSA, 26 P.R. 1876, F.B. (64 P.R. 1874, overruled; 7 M.H.C. 36, F.)

(34)—S. 22—See No. 31, supra.

(35)—S. 26—See No. 22, supra.

(36)—S. 28—Promissory note insufficiently stamped—Erroneous procedure in lower Court.—The plea of the defendant in this suit that the document sued on by the plaintiff was insufficiently stamped, was overruled by both the lower Courts which decreed the plaintiff's claim. On special appeal by the defendant, the High Court was of opinion that the document was a promissory note and should bear a stamp of 12 annas and that the deficiency in stamps could not be supplied when the document was admitted in evidence. The appeal was, however, held to fail because the document had been admitted by the first Court and accepted by the lower Court as bearing a sufficient stamp, and the insufficiency of the stamp was the only ground charged in special appeal; and further, the error in the admission of the document did not in any way affect the decision on the merits. MAKBUL AHMED v. MUSSAMUT IFTIKHAR-UN-NISSA BEGUM, 7 N.W.P. 124. [R., 3 A. 581, F.B.]

(37)—S. 28—Pro-note--What.—A document containing a promise to pay money and paddy is not a promissory note for the purpose of the General Stamp Act, 1869, s. 28. MUTHU v. MUTHAN, 4 M. 296, F.B.

(38)—S. 28—Stamp Act X of 1862, s. 30—Promissory note unstamped—Admission in evidence on payment of penalty.—In a suit on the following unstamped document, dated 25th October, 1869:—"Whereas I (defendant) have borrowed Rs. 1,500 of the Company's coin from you without interest, without a bond, hence I declare that I shall repay on or before the 15th Falgun Suddi the whole amount in question in one lump and take back this chitta; should I fail to repay the amount in question on the above date I will pay interest.....", the defendant pleaded that under s. 30 of Act X of 1862, the Stamp Act in force at the time of its execution, it was inadmissible in evidence. Held that the chitta was in substance, a promissory note within the words of s. 28, Act

Stamp Act (XVIII of 1869)—continued.

XVIII of 1869, and could not be admitted in evidence on payment of penalty. Held also that though the document itself was executed before the date when Act XVIII of 1869 came into operation, s. 28 of the Act did apply. NANDAN MISSER v. CHATTERBATI, 13 B.L.R. App. 33 =21 W.R. 446. [F., 16 M. 283; Rel. on., 4 Bom. L.R. 912; Appl., 7 C. 256; R., 2 B. 19 1 A. 725.]

(39)—S. 28—See Nos. 22, 24, 28, 23, supra.

(40)—Ss. 39, 40—Promissory note—Evidence.—S. 39 of the Stamp Act provides that when an unstamped or insufficiently stamped document is endorsed by the Collector to the effect that the full stamp duty with which it is chargeable has been paid, it shall be deemed to be duly stamped, and shall be receivable in evidence or otherwise in all Courts and public offices, as if originally executed on paper bearing the proper stamp. And although the Collector is not authorized to make any such endorsement on a promissory note, yet a promissory note so endorsed by him may nevertheless be received in evidence notwithstanding such irregularity. GIRDHARI DAS v. JAGAN NATH, 3 A. 115. [F., 13 B. 449, F.B.]

(41)—S. 40—See No. 40, supra.

(42)—S. 49—Deed written on two stamp papers admissibility of.—A deed of sale requiring a stamp of Rs. 20 but written on two Ten Rupee stamped papers, held admissible in evidence without payment of a penalty. GANGA RAM v. MOLAK RAM, 64 P.R. 1874. [Overruled, 26 P.R. 1876.]

(43)—S. 49—Bond written partly on one and partly on another stamp paper—Admissibility in evidence—Stamp duty and penalty.—A bond written partly on one and partly on another stamp paper, the two aggregating the proper stamp leviable—was tendered in evidence without the certificate required by s. 49 of the General Stamp Act. Held that there was a deficiency of stamp on the bond and therefore a liability to the penalty, and that the deficieney must be held to be equivalent to the difference between the value of the stamp on one of the papers and the whole value chargeable. PROCEEDINGS, 6TH NOVEMBER, 1874, 7 M.H.C. App. 36.

(44)—S. 49—See No. 33, supra.

(45)— Art. 15 — Conveyances—Ad valorem duty.—Act XVIII of 1869 has not made any provision for an ad valorem stamp-duty where the consideration of a conveyance consists of shares in a public company made over to the vendor. The word "amount" in cl. 15, sch.I of that Act clearly means amount of money, and does not include or denote such a consideration as that expressed in the agreement entered into between the parties in the case, namely, the par value of the shares of a Company. The words "or secured" in s. 15, manifestly apply only to cases of mortgages and the like, and do not apply to a conveyance out and out, whatever the consideration for such conveyance may be. THE PORTING CANNING LAND COMPANY, Petitioners, 16 W.R. 208.

Stamp Act (XVIII of 1869)—continued.

(46)—Sch. I and sch. II, cl. 11—Bond and agreement.—Where an instrument which set forth a contract for the sale and delivery of 500 to 700 cases of hog's lard on certain terms, contained an undertaking on the part of the seller not to sell any hog's lard to any other party, or to make any shipments during the term of the contract without the consent of the purchaser, under a penalty of Rs. 5,000 by way of liquidated damages in the event of his failure to take delivery under the contract, held that the document was an agreement and not a bond. ROBERT AND CHARRIOL v. SHIRCORE, 7 B.L.R. 510. [Appr., 8 C. 284].

(47)—Sch. II, cl. 5—Adjustment of accounts—Necessity for stamp — Admissibility in evidence.—An adjustment of account is not admissible in evidence, unless stamped with an one-anna stamp. TARINEY CHURN NUNDY v. SHEIKH ABDUR ROHOMAN, 2 C.L.R. 346.

(48)—Sch II, art. 5—Document liable to stamp duty under the Stamp Act, how determined—Entry in an account attested by borrower—Stamp duty.—In determining whether a document falls within the description of documents liable to stamp duty under the Stamp Act, the entire document must be looked at. [F., 9 C. 127.] An entry in an account, with two sides to it—viz., 'amount advanced' and amount received,'--the amount due on which varies from time to time, and depends upon the relation of the two sides is not, because of the borrower affixing his seal or signature to each entry of advance, a note or memorandum whereby any debt is acknowledged to be due, and is not chargeable with stamp duty. BROJENDER COOMAR v. BROMOYEE CHOWDHRANI, 4 C. 885 =3 C.L.R. 520. [R., 31 C. 1043=9 C.W.N. 83; D., 11 C. W.N. 1122.]

(49)—Sch II, art. 5—Entry of balance due not signed by debtor.—An entry of the balance struck in the creditor's account, which is not signed by the debtor. is not a note or memorandum of the kind mentioned in Art. 5, sch. II of the Stamp Act, 1869. NAND RAM v. RAM PRASAD, 2 A. 641.

(50)—Sch II, art. 5 — Running account — Balance brought forward—Stamp.—The provisions contained in art. 5, sch. II, Act XVIII of 1869, mean that only once the stamp is to be affixed in a running account, the balance brought forward from the close of a previous year not being a new balance requiring fresh stamp. INDRA CHAND ASWAL v. KALEE DOSS MITTER, 24 W.R. 439.

(51)—Sch. II, art. 5—Balance of accouut—Stamp duty.—Art. 5 of sch. II of the General Stamp Act applies to cases where any account, debt, or demand, or any part thereof amounting to Rs. 20 or upwards, is expressed to have been balanced and assented to by both the parties. An entry in a hat-chitta representing a balance of account arrived at by one only of the parties, does not require to be stamped. KOONJO MOHUN DOSS v. KRISHNA CHUNDER SHAHA, 25 W.R. 361. [D., 11 C.W.N. 1122].

Advocate High Court Jammu & Kashmir Srinagar

Stamp Act (XVIII of 1869)—continued.

(52)—Sch. II, art. 5—See No. 20, supra.

(53)—Sch II, arts 5, 11—Rejection of document—Tender of stamp duty and penalty before appellate Court.—Where the amount of stamp duty and the penalty on a document were not tendered, when it was first offered in evidence and rejected, an appellate Court has no authority to direct the reception of the instrument on a subsequent tender of the amount. CHAMPABATY v BIBI JIBAN. 4 C. 213 (1 B.L.R. 58 F.B. = 10 W.R. 51, 7 W.R. 439, F.) [F., 3 A.W.N. 93; R., 1900 P.L.R. 303.]

(53-a)—Sch. II, art. 7—See No. 27, supra.

(54)—Sch. II, art. 11—Instrument—Construction of—Stamp duty.—An instrument under which a person acknowledges having received a sum of money and undertakes to pay interest at a specified rate per mensem must be construed as an agreement falling within art. 11 of Act XVIII of 1869. MRS. A. FERRIER v. RAM KALPA GHOSE, 23 W.R. 403. [F., 15 C. 150.]

(55)—Sch. II, art. 11—Contract for execution of work — Stamp-duty—Bond by surety —Stamp.—A contract with the Public Works Department for the execution of works falls within art. 11, sch. II of Act XVIII of 1869, and must be stamped with a stamp of eight annas. Where a contractor enters into a simple agreement and his sureties give bonds for the performance of that agreement by him, the bonds are chargeable with duty under art. 5, sch. I, and not art. 20, sch. II. ANONYMOUS—REFERENCE TO HIGH COURT BY FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER OF OUDH, 13 W.R. 353.

(56)—Sch. II, art. 11—Agreement—Stamp.—The document produced by the defendant in this case, the stipulation in the concluding part of which he sought to make use of for the purpose of proving that he was not bound to restore to the plaintiffs the promissory notes sued for by them, unless and until a house belonging to him was given back to him in good order, was held to constitute an agreement requiring a stamp of eight annas under art. 11 of sch. II of Act XVIII of 1869. MOTILAL AND BHOGILAL v. MUNSHOOK KURAMCHAND, 4 B. 328.

(57)—Sch. II, art. 11—Legal Practitioner—Agreement to reward pleader by share of amount realized in suit—Legality—Necessity of stamp.—The Court should not enforce an agreement to reward a pleader for his professional services by a share of the amount received in suit in which he is retained. Where a pleader is to receive a remuneration under a special agreement contained in his vakalatnamah or in a separate document, the document containing the agreement must bear a stamp of adequate value. NUTHOO LALL v. BUDREE PERSHAD, 3 Agra 286.

(57-a)—Sch. II, art. 11—See Nos. 19, 26, 46, 53, supra.

(58)—Sch. II, art. 13—Power of attorney for registration of document—Stamp—Act VIII of 1871, s. 33 (a).—For a power of attorney for registration of a document in a Registration Office, a stamp of eight annas is sufficient under art. 13, sch. II of the General Stamp Act XVIII of 1869. In re KESHAV KASI NATH, 9 B.H.C. 43.

Stamp Act (XVIII of 1869)—concluded.

(59)—Sch. II, cl. 20—Policy of assurance, transfer of—Stamp duty.—An assignment of a policy of insurance by endorsement is liable, as a collateral instrument, to a stamp duty of one rupee under sch. II, cl. 20 of the General Stamp Act, 1869; but not a re-transfer of the same back to the assured, all claims having been satisfied—Per Markby & Ainslie, JJ. Neither of the endorsements is chargeable with any duty—Per Garth, C.J. In the matter of THOMPSON'S POLICY, 3 C. 347.

Stamp Act (I of 1879).

[REP., ACT II OF 1899.]

(1)—Stamp Act—Construction.—The Stamp Act of (1879) in India ought to be construed according to the same principles of construction as the Stamp Act in England and the earlier Stamp Acts in this country. RAMEN CHETTY v. MAHOMED GHOUSE, 16 C. 432.

(2)—Rules of Governor-General, 3rd March, 1882, 5 (e)—Construction—Stamped paper—Writing on reverse.—The rule is an enabling rule, authorising parties to use plain papers in addition to a stamp paper, where the whole of an instrument cannot be written on the side of the stamp paper which bears the stamp. The rule, while favouring the writing of an instrument only on that side, does not prohibit the writing on the reverse side. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 7 M. 176, F B.

(3)—Sufficiency of stamp—By what law governed.—Under the provisions of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, the duty chargeable on unstamped or insufficiently stamped documents should be calculated with reference to the law in force at the time of the execution, but the penalty leviable is in all cases determined by the Act of 1879. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 5 M. 394, F.B.

(4)—General Stamp Act, 1869—Indian Stamp Act of 1879—'Chargeable'.—The date of execution of a document is that which is regarded in the use of the word 'chargeable' in the Acts of 1869 and 1879.—A document, executed when the Act of 1869 was in force, and coming under the definition of promissory note, if it is not duly stamped, cannot be admitted in evidence on the ground, that it is a bond within the meaning of the Act of 1879, by the payment of penalty. The levy of a penalty, on the admission of an insufficiently stamped document, implies a punishment for neglect in failing to affix the proper stamp at the time of execution. NARAYANAN CHETTI v. KARUPATHAN, 3 M. 251. [R., 5 M. 394, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 485.]

(5)—Unstamped document executed in Australia in 1862—Penalty.—An assignment of an interest in a will was executed by an unstamped instrument on the 25th May, 1862. It was not chargeable with stamp duty either under the Stamp Act XXXVI of 1860 or under X of 1862. Consequently, no penalty could be levied under Act I of 1879. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 14 M. 255, F.B.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(6)—Stamp Act—Power of attorney.—A document executed by a number of mirasidars of a village, authorising the person in whose favour it is executed to recover for them Swatantrams and other continual income appertaining to their rights, is a power-of-attorney and must be stamped with a five-rupeee stamp. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 15 M. 386, F.B.

(7)—Release executed by two brothers—Provisions for payment of annuity, deed not chargeable with stamp in respect of.—A document executed by two brothers purported to relinquish their right to certain property in favour of another brother of theirs, and provided that the latter was to discharge certain debts and pay an annuity to both the executants. The document was held liable to be stamped as a release only because the provisions in favour of the executants were a mere recital of the consideration for the release and oreated no interest in their favour so as to necessitate additional stamp duty as regards such provisions. EKNATH S. GOWNDE v. JAGANATH S. GOWNDE, 9 B. 417. [Appr., 18 M. 233, F.B.]

(8)—Attested instrument promising to pay balance due on previous bond—Bond—Stamp.—On settlement of accounts under a former bond executed by the defendant he executed a document by which he undertook to pay on demand the amount found due with interest, and the document was attested. Held that the document was not promissory note but a bond within the definition in Stamp Act I of of 1879 and chargeable accordingly. BALAKRISHNA TRIMBAK v. GOVIND PAND NAIK, 8 B. 297, F.B.

(9)—Presentation of insufficiently stamped document for registration—Effect.—There is no provision in the Registration Act or in the Stamp Act, which lays down that, where a document is presented for registration insufficiently stamped, the presentation shall be no presentation. It is a good presentation, though the actual registration is delayed SHAMA CHARAN DAS v. JOYENOOLAH, 11 C. 750.

(10)—Construction of instrument—Trust deed—Settlement--Testamentary document Stamp.—The party executing the instrument in question called it a trust deed. It was clearly intended to have immediate operation, the most important test in distinguishing a settlement from a will. It vested the properties at once in trustees, and the provisions as to the management and the ultimate beneficial interest in the properties show that it was contemplated that its operation might extend beyond the lifetime of the owner. The question was whether such an instrument was a testamentary document or a settlement. Held that it was a settlement within the definition of the term in the Stamp Act (I of 1879), in spite of the fact that the management by the owner during his lifetime had been reserved; and that it should be stamped accordingly. (Crossman v. The Queen, 18 Q.B D. 256; Attorney-General v. Heywood, 19 Q.B D. 326, R.) REFERENCE BY THE COLLECTOR AND SUPERINTENDENT OF STAMPS, BOMBAY, 20 B. 210, F.B. [F., 20 M.L.J. 519=8 M.L.T. 139=7 Ind. Cas. 357=33 M. 304.]

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(11)—Stamp Act — Document insufficiently stamped—Copy not admissible in evidence.—Where it appears that a document which is not produced was insufficiently stamped, a copy of the document cannot be admitted in evidence on payment of penalty. RAJAH OF BOBBILI v. BHANAYAMMI, 4 M.L.J. 192.

(12)—Signing, whether necessary for execution—Unstamped document alleged to be in the possession of defendant—Admissibility of secondary evidence.—There is nothing to show that, in the Stamp Act of 1879, it was intended to exempt from stamp duty instruments executed otherwise than by signing. The plaintiff sued for redemption of a mortgage, alleging that the mortgage was recorded on a purabaik in the possession of the defendant. The defendant denied having any such document. Held (1) that the parabaik document, though not signed, was executed within the meaning of the Stamp Act (I of 1879) then in force, and therefore was not exempt from stamp duty; (2) and that secondary evidence of the contents of the unstamped document was not admissible, though the defendant was alleged to be withholding it MI TA v. NGA SEIN, U.B.R. 1907: 4th Qr., Execution — Signing, 5. (U B.R. 1892—1896. Vol I, 303 U.B R 1897—1901, II, 365, 421 U.B.R. 1907. Ex. Signing p. 1, 26 I.A. 262, 19 B. 635, R.)

(13)—See CAUSE OF ACTION, L.B R. 1893—1900, 122.

(14)—S. 1—Stamp Act, construction of.—Acts of the nature of the Stamp Act should, when there is a doubt as to what construction should be placed upon their terms, be construed in favour of the subject. BISHAMBARNATH v. NAND KISHORE, 15 A. 56=A.W.N 1892, 234.

(15)—S 2, cl. 13—Agreement—Declaration of trust.—An agreement among certain persons to make over certain surplus receipts from their respective trades to a trustee, to be held by him on certain trusts mentioned in the agreement, is a declaration of trust and an agreement not otherwise provided for, and the intended fund, indicated as security, is not specified property within the meaning of s. 2 cl 13 REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 11 M 216. F.B.

(16)—S. 3—Bond.—A document which contains a promise to pay, on demand, a certain sum with interest and which bears the signature of the writer and some others as witnesses, is a bond, and liable to stamp duty as such. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 49, 13 M. 147, F.B.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(17)—S. 3—Deed of family arrangement.—A deed of family arrangement, by which one conveyed a pargana and a sum of money to his brother, in consideration of the latter releasing certain family property on which he had claims is neither a conveyance nor a settlement, nor an instrument of partition within the meaning of Act I of 1879. In the matter of the MAHARAJAH OF DURBUNGAH, 7 C. 21.

(18)—S. 3—Omission of stamp vendor to make necessary endorsements on stamp paper—Effect of.—The omission of a stamp vendor to endorse on a stamped paper the particulars required of him does not make the document not duly stamped within s. 3 (10) of Stamp Act, 1879. REFERENCE UNDER THE STAMP ACT, S. 46, 11 M. 377, F.B.

(19)—S. 3, cl. 4—Agreement for service with provision for penalty in money, not chargeable with duty for bond.—An agreement in writing was entered into between the plaintiffs and defendant, the latter undertaking to serve the company of the former at Madras for a certain number of years. The document contained a clause whereby the defendant bound himself to the plaintiffs, under a penalty in money, to faithfully perform the matters under the agreement. It was merely an agreement for the purposes of the Stamp Act, and the addition of the penalty could not make any difference so as to require it to be stamped as a bond. MADRAS RAILWAY CO. v. RUST, 14 M. 18.

(20)—S. 3 (4), cl. (b)—Attestation—Writer's statement in document as written by him, whether sufficient attestation.—A document under which the promisor undertakes to pay on a certain date with the accrued interest, to the person to whom it is executed, the sum of money borrowed from him, requires to be stamped as a bond only when attested by witnesses. A mere statement made in writing, in the document, by the scribe thereof to the effect that it has been written by his pen and is correct, cannot amount to an 'attestation' by a witness necessary in the case of a bond under cl. (b) of sub-s. (4) of s. 3 of the Indian Stamp Act (I of 1879). REFERENCE UNDER ACT I OF 1879, S. 49, 17 A 211, F.B. = A.W.N. 1895, 61. [F., 3 P.L.R. 1902; R., 4 Bom. L.R. 912.]

(21)—S. 3, cl. 4 (b)—Bond.—A document is a bond, which contains a promise to pay a certain sum on demand, not made payable to bearer or order, and in which the signature of the obligor is attested by a witness. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 49, 10 M. 158, F.B. [F., 13 M. 147; R., 3 P.L.R. 1902.]

(22)—S. 3 (4) (b)—Instrument evidencing a loan of grain—Bond.—The defendants in this case executed the instrument that they were sued on, stating that they borrowed a certain quantity of grain from the plaintiff and undertaking to repay the same in larger measure. Overruling the contention that the instrument was an agreement and should have borne a stamp of eight annas, it was held to be a bond within the meaning of s. 3 (4) (b) of the Stamp Act, I of 1879, and to have been properly stamped with a stamp of annas two, as the market value of the grain was clearly less than Rs. 10. MAGANDAS KHEMCHAND v. RAMCHANDRA HIRAJI, 7 B. 137.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(23)—S. 3, cl. 4 (b)—Khata in debtor's name containing his acknowledgment of receipt of loan amount—Affixture of signature of writer as such—Khata an acknowledgment only and not a bond.—Reference was made to the High Court of the question whether the khata book in the debtor's name, in which he had entered an acknowledgment of his having received the loan amount, and to which the writer of the khata attached his signature as such, constituted a bond within the meaning of cl. 4 (b) of s. 3 of the Stamp Act, I of 1879, and the Court held that the document amounted to a mere acknowledgment of a debt and was not a bond within its definition in the Stamp Act. There was nothing to lead to the supposition that the writer signed it as an attesting witness. DULABH VANMALI v. REHMAN JAMAL, 14 B. 511.

(24)—S. 3 (9)—Transfer by trustees to cestui que trust—Conveyance.—A transfer, by trustees of trust property to a cestui que trust in pursuance of the trust, need not be made for a pecuniary consideration, but if the parties think fit to frame the instrument as a sale-deed and to express that it is made in part for a money consideration, it is liable as a conveyance to duty calculated on such consideration. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 7 M. 350, F B.

(25)—S. 3 (10)—"Unduly stamped"—Rule 5 (e) of the Government of India, dated 3rd March 1882.—Rule 5 (e) of the rules issued by the Governor-General in Council under ss. 9, 15, 17, 32, 51 and 56 of the Stamp Act, 1879, requires that the part of an instrument which is written on plain sheets of paper attached to the stamped paper, must be attested by the parties executing it and by the witnesses thereto. The effect of this is to declare, that an instrument written contrary to the rule is not duly stamped within the meaning of s. 3 (10) of the Stamp Act. Held, by Kernan, Muttusami Iyer and Brandt, JJ., that the rule is ultra vires and inoperative for the purpose intended. (Per Turner, C.J., contra). REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 8 M. 532, F.B.

(26)—S. 3 (11)—Document purporting to divide property—Instrument of partition.—Where the parties to a document, purporting to be co-owners of certain properties, agreed, in that capacity, to divide the property in severalty, the document, though styled a release-deed, was held to fall within the definition of "instrument of partition" in cl. 11, s. 3 of the Act. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 12 M. 198, F.B.

(27)—S. 3 (11)—Partition deed—List of divided property—Agreement to divide outstandings.—A document, which contains a note that certain property has been allotted for the maintenance of parents, and a memorandum of the particulars of the property which has fallen to the share of one of the brothers, and also an agreement for the future division of outstandings, need not be stamped as a partition deed. It does not, of itself, operate to release the joint interests of the other parties to the partition and create a sole interest in the person whose share it records. The document should, in respect of the agreement for future division, bear an agreement stamp. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 49, 7 M. 385, F.B.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(28)—S. 3, cl. 11—Instrument of partition—Stamp-duty—Value of property partitioned, computed for purposes of Stamp Act.—The words, "the final order," in s. 3, cl. 11 of the Stamp Act, mean not the order passed by a Revenue Court authorizing a partition to proceed, but the order passed after the partition has been made declaring the various allotments of land. The Stamp duty leviable on an instrument of partition should be calculated upon the value of the entire property sought to be divided, and not merely on the value of the portion assigned to the applicant for partition. The value of the property partitioned must be computed, for the purpose of the Stamp Act, with reference to its market value, and not according to the rules laid down in the Court Fees Act for determining the fee payable on plaints and appeals. REFERENCE BY BOARD OF REVENUE, N.W.P. UNDER ACT I OF 1879, 2 A. 64, F.B.

(29)—S. 3, cl. 11—Written agreement between co-sharers to divide property according to award of arbitrators—Partition deed.—Where the members of an undivided Hindu family executed a document, whereby they agreed to be bound by the award of certain arbitrators for partition, held that the instrument was an agreement to divide property in severalty and was, therefore a partition deed which required to be stamped, as such under cl. 11 of s. 3 of the Stamp Act, 1879. In re VASANJI HARI BHAI, 15 B. 617.

(30)—S. 3, cl. 13—Mortgage—Indemnity—Stamp duty.—An agreement between the Secretary of State and a salt contractor stated that the contractor had lodged in the treasury Government promissory notes as security for the due and faithful performance by the contractor of his contract and that, on the completion of the contract to the satisfaction of the Deputy Commissioner, the promissory notes should be returned and delivered up to the contractor. The above agreement was a mortgage, and the indemnity clause being incidental to all mortgage deeds, was not liable to a separate duty. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 11 M. 39, F.B.

(31)—S. 3, cl. 13—Lease-deed reciting hypothecation by lessees to secure payment of rent, whether chargeable as lease or as mortgage under s. 3, cl. 13 of Stamp Act—Applicability of s. 7—Where by a deed under which certain lands had been leased to the lessees, the latter had hypothecated certain property of their own for the purpose of securing the payment of the agreed rent in cash and the performance of the undertaking under the lease to deliver certain cart-loads of straw and grass, the document was held to constitute a mortgage deed as defined in cl. 13 of s. 3 of the Indian Stamp Act and to be chargeable with stamp duty as such. The mortgage was not a distinct matter from the lease, and the instrument was not therefore one comprising or relating to several distinct matters. It therefore fell within para. 2 of s. 7 of the Act, and was consequently chargeable with duty only as a mortgage-deed, that being the higher duty. REFERENCE UNDER ACT I OF 1879 (INDIAN STAMP ACT), S. 49, 17 A. 55, F.B. = A.W.N. 1894, 204. (8 C. 254, R.)

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(32)—S. 3, cl. 15—Memorandum of proposed insurance—Policy of insurance—Document not contemplating any other formal document.—A document which is not a mere slip or memorandum of a proposed insurance, which mentions the sum for which the assurer declares the name of the ship, the voyage and premium, which provides for losses being paid on its production in conformity with certain conditions in the possession of the assurers, which expressly guaranteed the payment of losses and claims settled under it, and which, on the face of it, does not contemplate the necessity of any other document of a more formal character being passed to the assured, is an instrument which requires to be stamped as a policy under cl. 15, s. 3 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879). In re MARINE INSURANCE CERTIFICATE, 19 B. 130, F. B.

(33)—S. 3 (17)—Receipt.—To constitute a "receipt" within the meaning of s. 3 (17) of the Stamp Act (I of 1879), there must be an acknowledgment, either express or signified or imported, of the receipt and not a mere statement that money was received. In re JAMNADAS HARINARAN, 23 B. 54.

(34)—S. 3 (19)(b)—Settlement -Gift.—The definition of the term "settlement" in the Stamp Act suggests the creation of separate interests in favour of several persons who may have a legal or moral claim on the settlor, or for whom he may desire to make a provision. Where, therefore, a person bestows on his sister and her son certain land, because of natural affection, the document is liable to stamp duty as a gift and not as a settlement. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 7 M. 349, F.B. [D., 21 M. 422.]

(35)—Ss. 3, 9, 33, 34, 57—Pro-note payable otherwise than on demand—Pro-note written on impressed sheet of proper value bearing word 'hund,' if duly stamped - Construction of Stamp Laws—Government Notification No. 2955, dated 1-12-1882, effect of.—A promissory note for less than Rs. 200, payable otherwise than on demand, but not more than one year after date, and requiring a stamp of two annas, was held to be duly stamped, when it was written on an impressed sheet of the value of two annas, notwithstanding that it bore the word 'hundi,' [F., 21 P.R.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

1891.] Provisions of laws relating to stamps and cognate matters are to be construed strictly, and, whenever there is any ambiguity or doubt, in favour of the subject. The effect of Government Notification No. 2955, dated 1 12-1882. is not to prohibit pro-notes, other than those chargeable with a duty of 6. 10 or 12 annas, being written on impressed sheets bearing the word 'hundi' thereon. RADHA BAI v. NATHU RAM, 13 A. 66 = A.W.N. 1890, 238.

(36)—Ss. 3 (15), 25 (c)—Uncovenanted Civil Service Family Pension Fund—Entrance certificate—An entrance certificate granted under the rules of the Uncovenanted Civil Service Family Pension Fund is a life policy and is within s. 3, sub. s. 15 of the Stamp Act. If it is for an amount within Rs. 1,000, it is chargeable with a stamp duty of 6 as. Such an instrument is not within the scope of s. 25 (c) of the Act. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, 1879, S. 46, 19 C 499.

(37)—S. 3, cl. 11, s. 29 (c)—Partition deed.—Where documents evidence that three out of seven brothers have received Rs. 200 each in pursuance of partition of family property and that they remain liable, each for one-seventh of the family debts. in one case the executant also adding that his claims have been fully satisfied, the documents are partition-deeds. and must be stamped accordingly, having regard to the provisions of s 23 (e) of Act I of 1899. Each member must pay according to the share which he has taken under the partition. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 15 M. 164, F B.

(38)—Ss. 3, 31, 51.—Allowance for spoiled stamps.—Allowance for spoiled stamps may be made under s. 51 of the Stamp Act when a stamped instrument has been endorsed by the Collector under s. 31 of the Act. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 11 M. 37, F.B.

(39)—Ss. 3, (6) 34—Order for payment addressed to person not a banker—Stamp duty.—Where a certain "chits" for specified sums of money were addressed by A to B who had previously agreed to lend him money and who was requested to pay the amounts mentioned in the "chits" to A's creditors, held that the chits in question did not require a stamp as the agreement did not constitute B A's banker, within the meaning of cl. 6 (3) of the Stamp Act (I of 1879). RATULAL RANGILDAS v. VRIZ BHUKKAN, PARABURAM, 17 B. 684, F.B.

(40)—Ss. 3, 50—Admission of unstamped document by first Court on payment of duty and penalty—Power of appellate Court to review.—Where an unstamped document has been received in evidence by the first Court, under s. 3 of the Stamp Act, upon payment of the prescribed duty and penalty, an appellate Court cannot review the proceedings of the lower Court in regard to such reception in evidence, except in the case provided for by s. 50 of the Act. PUNCHANUND DASS CHOWDHRY v. TARAMONI CHOWDHRAIN, 12 C. 64. [F., L.B. R. 1893-1900, 485; R., 17 B. 235.]

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(41)—Ss. 3 (10), 61—Absence of certificate as required by rule 5 (b) of the Rules made by the Governor-General in Council—"Duly stamped" instrument.—The absence of the certificate, required by Rule 5 (b) of the Rules, dated 3rd March, 1882, issued by the Governor-General in Council, under the Stamp Act, does not make a document "not duly stamped" within the intention of the Act, and the person executing the document has not committed any offence punishable under s. 61 of the Act. The non-compliance by the treasury officer or the stamp vendor with the direction to give such a certificate is not an act for which the person purchasing the stamp from him can be punished by the invalidation of the stamps innocently brought by him. QUEEN EMPRESS v. TRAILAKYA NATH BARAL, 18 C. 39.

(42)—S. 3, art. 9—Provision for life of donee, a settlement and not a gift—Gift for consideration, a conveyance.—A document containing no absolute and unqualified disposition of property, but only a provision for the life of the donee. with reversion to the settlor or his heirs, is not a gift, but only a "settlement" within them eaning of the Stamp Act A document by which the executant, in pursuance of a razinamah filed in a suit for maintenance brought against him by a widow, transferred certain land to her with power to alienate, and subject only to the condition that no further claim for maintenance was to be put forward by her, would constitute neither a settlement nor a gift but must be treated as a conveyance and stamped accordingly. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s, 46, 21 M. 422.

(43)—S. 3, sch. I Art. 11—"Duly stamped"—Bill of exchange payable otherwise than on demand—The words "duev stamped" in s. 3 of the Stamp Act signify "stamped or written upon paper bearing an impressed stamp." A bill of exchange for Rs. 500, payable otherwise than on demand, must be stamped with an impressed stamp of the value of six annas. RADHAKANT SHAHA v. ABHOY CHURN MITTER, 8 C. 721 = 11 C.L.R. 310.

(44)—S. 3, sch. I art. 13—Bond.—A document by which a Debenture Company agrees to pay £220,000 for the cost of the construction of a certain railway on certain terms, and which contains a provision that the Company should be at liberty to retain £40,000 as compensation for risks, expenses etc., must be stamped as a bond for the payment of £220.000, REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 15 M. 193, F.B. [R., 11 Bom. L.R. 386]

(45)—S. 3, cl. 9, sch. I. art. 21—Contract for sale of standing trees, chargeable as an agreement and not a conveyance.—The document in this case, in respect of the stamp duty on which reference was made to the High Court under s. 48 of the Stamp Act bore a stamp of one rupee. The so-called purchaser of the trees under the document was allowed by it to cut and remove the trees within the specified villages within two years, and there was also the provision that such trees as he had not cut off within the two years should remain the property of the vendor. The High Court decided that the document did not require to be stamped as a conveyance under s. 3, cl. 9, and art. 21 of sch. I of the Stamp Act. Whether the instrument be regarded as a sale of the trees when cut by the purchaser, in which case it would be a memorandum relating to the sale of "goods and merchandise" or as an agreement to allow the contractor to cut and remove the trees on certain conditions, it was sufficiently stamped either under art. 2 of sch. II or under art. 5 of sch. I of the same Act. VOHRA MAHOMADALI v. RAMACHANDRA, 22 B. 785.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(46)—S. 3 (13), sch. I, and arts. 290 44—Mortgage—Definition for purposes of stamp duty—s. 54, T. P. Act, 1882.—For the purpose of ascertaining what stamp duty is payable on an instrument, alleged to be a mortgage, the definition of mortgage, as given in the Stamp Act, and not that in the T.P. Act, is to be referred to. [R., 4 L.B.R. 2.] Art. 29 applies to an instrument evidencing an agreement to secure the re-payment of a loan which means an instrument executed at the time the loan is made, and not to the case of an assignment by way of mortgage of a valuable security to secure a pre-existing debt. This article contemplates an instrument contemporaneous with the advance and with the deposit. An instrument evidencing an agreement to secure the re-payement of a loan of a certain sum of money with interest, for which a certain promissory note payable on demand was given as collateral security, is a mortgage-deed as defined by s. 3, sub-s. 13, Stamp Act, and the stamp duty on it is payable under art. 44 of the Act, and not under art. 29. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DEBENDRA KRISHNA MITTER, 27 C. 587 = 4 C.W.N. 524.

(47)—S. 3 (17), sch. I, No. 52—"Sarkhat"—Receipt.—A "Sarkhat" or document signed by a creditor, acknowledging the receipt of sugar-cane juice, the price of which exceeded Rs. 20, but without anything to show that the sugar-cane juice had been received in part satisfaction of a bond, is not a "receipt," within the meaning of the Indian Stamp Act, but only a memorandum of sugar-cane juice supplied, and does not require to be stamped. DEBI PRASAD v. RUPU, 6 A. 253 = A.W.N. 1884, 72.

(48)—S. 3, cl. (11), sch. I, art. 54—Document securing life-interest to executant with reversion to his sons—Release deed.—A document securing to the executant the enjoyment for life of a portion of the joint family property with a reversion to his sons at any subsequent division of the property, though not merely renouncing the executant's claim against any or all of the property, should be stamped as a release deed and not as a partition deed. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s. 46, 18 M. 233, F.B.

(49)—S. 3 (17), sch. II, art 15 (b)—Barrister's fees—Stamp duty on receipt.—A Barrister's fees for services in litigation being a gratuity or honorarium, the payment of such fees must be held to be without consideration, so that a receipt given by him for his fees is exempted from stamp duty by art. 15 (b) of sch. II of the Stamp Act. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s. 46, 9 M. 140, F.B. [R., 25 A. 509 = 23 A.W.N. 104; D., 10 C.P.L.R. 11, Crim.]

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(50)—S. 4 (c)—Document insufficiently stamped admitted in evidence by lower Court—Power of appellate Court to exclude it.—An appellate Court is not competent to question the admissibility of a document (though insufficiently stamped) which has been admitted in evidence by a lower Court. SHIDAPA v. IRAVA, 18 B 737. [F., 8 M.L.J. 66; R., U B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. II, 559.]

(51)—S. 4 (c), sch. I, art. 5—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, sch. II, art. I (b), 8 M. 15, F.B.

(52)—S. 5—See POWER OF ATTORNEY, 23 C. 187.

(53)—Ss. 5, 11, 18, 34—Promissory note executed out of British India not properly stamped—Suit thereon in British India—Maintainability.—Suit on a promissory note executed out of British India and not properly stamped. The question was as to the admissibility of the promissory note in British India. Held that s. 34 of the Stamp Act did not render it inadmissible in evidence. That section only applied to an instrument which was "chargeable with duty," but there was no provision of law which required a promissory note executed out of British India to be stamped before it was sued on or used in Court. The holder of the note not having done any of the acts referred to in ss. 5 and 18 of the Act, the obligation to stamp it does not arise. MAHOMED ROWTHAN v. MAHOMED HUSIN ROWTHAN, 22 M. 337 = 9 M.L.J. 135.

(54)—Ss. 5, 14, 35, 37, 39—Conveyance and release—Stamp.—Where a conveyance for Rs. 100 was written on the face of a one rupee stamped paper and a release on the back of the paper, the first instrument should be considered to have been written, executed, and stamped, according to law. The second instrument can be validated on payment of the deficient stamp duty and the penalty under s. 39 of the Stamp Act. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s. 46, 11 M. 40, F.B.

(55)—S. 6, sch. I, art. 38—Deed conveying immoveable property—Consent of undivided nephew of executant—Deed of adoption—Endorsement of—Consent by natural mother and father of adopted boy.—A executed a sale-deed to B. on a 3 Rs. stamp paper conveying thereunder certain immoveable property for Rs. 275. The deed contained an endorsement by the undivided nephew of the executant, giving his consent to the sale. Held, that the conveyance and the endorsement of consent were "several instruments" to complete the transaction as contemplated by s. 6 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879) and that the consent should be written on a separate stamp-paper of the value of one rupee. X acknowledged the fact of the due adoption of B on a ten-rupee stamp paper, which recited that B was constituted X's heir to his interest in the family property and contained also an endorsement by the natural mother and father of the adopted boy giving their consent to the adoption. Held that the document not conferring an authority to adopt, was not chargeable under art. 38 of sch. I of the Stamp Act (I of 1879), and that therefore the endorsements below it were not chargeable with any stamp duty. In the matter of HANMAPPA, 13 B. 281. [Doubted, 17 B. 687.]

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(56)—S. 7—Contracts for several loans—Construction.—Where sixteen different persons borrowed a quantity of rice from a certain person and passed a single bond to the creditor showing how much was borrowed by each, and the bond did not contain a joint engagement to pay the entire debt, held that the instrument ought to be regarded as containing sixteen distinct contracts liable to stamp duty as such under s. 7 of the Stamp Act. SHABUDIN MAHOMED v. HIRNAK RAJANAK, 10 B. 47. [D., 16 P. W. R. 1910=15 P. R 1910.]

(57)—S. 7—Stamp duty payable on lease deed—Payment of rent monthly—Repayment of rent received in advance—Instrument not relating to "several distinct matters."—Where the consideration for a lease consisted partly of rent to be paid each month and partly of a sum equal to a month's rent paid in advance and to be repaid at the end of the lease, the instrument was not to be regarded as dealing with the two distinct matters under s. 7 of Act I of 1879, but as relating only to one matter. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s. 61 (1), 26 M. 473.

(58)—S. 7—Execution of single power of attorney by several persons—No common interest—Validity.—It is not competent for several persons who are unconnected and have no common interest in a property to execute a single power of attorney in respect thereof. Separate documents should be executed by each of the individuals. REERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s. 46. 2 M. L. J. 118, F. B.

(59)—S 7—Instruments embodying two contracts though of same matter—Promissory note containing two undertakings by two provisions.—The test under s. 7 is whether an instrument relates to several distinct matters. If it does, it must be charged with the aggregate duty payable in respect of all such matters though they may be grouped together and the instrument is signed at one and the same place by all the executants. But if the matter is single the duty need not be increased though the several executants had signed separately and within separate endorsements reciting their liability. It is immaterial that the deed comprises distinct contracts if only such contracts relate to the same matter. MUSA v. KAHAN, 102 P. R. 1893. [R., 15 P. R. 1910, F. B.]

(60)—S. 7, paras 1 and 2—Lease and usufructuary mortgage—Stamp duty.—Where certain properties were leased for a certain term, under an instrument which provided that the yearly rental was to go towards payment of interest and liquidation by the end of the term, of a debt due by the lessor held that though the arrangement effected was partly a lease and partly an usufructuary mortgage the instrument should be stamped as a mortgage only under para. 2 of s. 7 of the Stamp Act. S. 7, para (1) of the Stamp Act relates only to transactions so distinct in their nature as to be capable of being carried out by two or more instruments instead of one. Ex parte HILL, 8 C. 254=10 C.L.R. 33. [F., 17 A. 55, F.B.]

(61)—Ss. 7, 34—Instrument executed by two persons jointly—Stamp duty—Document once admitted cannot be rejected on ground of insufficiency of stamps.—An instrument otherwise properly stamped does not become two instruments for purposes of stamp for the simple reason that it is executed by two persons. If the two persons have executed it jointly and the matter of the bond has been dealt with as a single one the whole instrument will be treated as a single instrument for purposes of stamp duty. Where an insufficiently stamped instrument has been admitted in evidence in the lower Court such admission cannot be called in question by the appellate Court. WILAITI v. PIR BAKSH, A.W.N. 1884, 318.

(62)—S. 7, sch I, No. 5 (c)—Agreement with a penal clause - Bond for amount of penalty.—Held by the Full Bench, Stuart, C. J., dissenting:—An agreement with a penal clause, by which the obligor undertakes, in the event of his failing to fulfil the conditions of the agreement, to pay certain amount as penalty to the obligee, is chargeable, under s. 7 of the Stamp Act, with the stamp duty leviable on a bond for the amount of such penalty. Per Stuart, C.J.—For the purposes of the Stamp Act, the penal clause in the agreement cannot be considered separately, as constituting a bond, but simply as one of the several subsidiary clauses making up the whole agreement, and the document is only chargeable as an agreement. (Sch. I, No. 5 (c)). REFERENCE BY BOARD OF REVENUE N.W.P UNDER ACT I OF 1879, 2 A. 654. F.B. [Diss., 8 C. 284; Doubted, 9 A. 585, F.B.]

(63)—S. 9—See No. 35, supra and No. 113, infra.

(64)—S. 9, r 6.—Promissory note on impressed hundi paper.—A promissory note for Rs. 4,300, written on an impressed hundi paper for Rs. 3, was correctly stamped and did not contravene rules framed under the Stamp Act. The rules under s. 9 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879), require that a document, such as the above, must be written on an impressed sheet. They render it compulsory that promissory notes chargeable with a duty of 6, 10 or 12 annas must be written on a hundi paper; but that does not imply any prohibition against other promissory notes also being so written, as the hundi papers are also impressed sheets. BANK OF MADRAS v. SUBBARAYALU, 14 M. 32. [F., 21 P.R. 1891.]

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(65)—S. 10—Hundi—Stamp——A hundi, for a sum of Rs. 380, payable otherwise than on demand, cannot be stamped with an adhesive stamp. The words "drawn or made out of British India" in cl. (b) of s. 10 of the Stamp Act of 1879, apply to the entire clause. DEVAJI v. RAMAKRISHNAIAH, 2 M. 173.

(66)—Ss. 10, 11—Promissory note stamped as hundi—No adhesive stamp—Admissibility in evidence.—A promissory note payable on demand, which must, under s. 11 of sch. I of Act I of 1879, be stamped with an adhesive stamp for one anna, but which is written on an impressed stamp as a hundi, is nevertheless admissible in evidence. SADIK ALI v. RANI KANNO DAI, A.W.N. 1885. 317.

(67)—S. 11.—Rule as to cancellation of adhesive stamp, cases to which applicable.—The receipt to a salary bill of a Government official, which requires to be stamped before or at the time of its execution is not an instrument contemplated by the first paragraph of s. 11 of the Stamp Act, 1879. That paragraph applies to cases in which the instrument chargeable with duty may be stamped after execution. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAHAT ALI KHAN, 9 A. 210 = A.W.N. 1887, 5.

(68)—S. 11—See Nos. 53, 66, supra and No. 190, infra.

(69)—Ss. 11, 16—Stamp—Hundi—Execution, meaning of—Time of execution—Stamp affixed and subsequently cancelled—Where a hundi was written by the defendant and stamped by him with a one-anna stamp which was left uncancelled and the hundi was subsequently taken by him to the plaintiff's son who received it from him and at the time of receiving it cancelled the stamp by writing the date across it: Held, that the hundi was duly stamped under ss. 10 and 16 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879) and was admissible in evidence. If, at the time of delivery, which completed its legal character, the hundi was stamped, and if the cancellation took place at that time as part of the same transaction, it was sufficient. A deed is duly stamped if the stamp is affixed and cancelled at the time of execution or if, having been at any time previously affixed, it is cancelled at the time of execution. "Execution" when applied to a document, is the last act or series of acts which completes it. It might be defined as formal completion. The contract on a negotiable instrument is until delivery incomplete and revocable. Until delivery, a hundi is not clothed with the essential characteristics of a negotiable instrument. BHAWANJI HARBHUM v. DEVJI PUNJA, 19 B. 635. [R., 3 O.C. 195. U.B.R. 1907, 4th Qr., Execution, Signing, 5.]

(70)—Ss. 13, 14, 34—Simple money-bond on impressed stamped paper—Transfer by endorsement—Stamp duty.—Where a simple money-bond executed on an impressed stamp paper was transferred by endorsement on the back thereof, held that the endorsement required a stamp and could be stamped under s. 34 of Act (I of 1879). PRAHLAD LAKSHMAN RAV NIKANE v. VITHU, 17 B. 687, F.B.

(71)—S. 14—See Nos. 54, 70, supra.

(72)—S. 16—Pro-note—Stamp affixed and cancelled soon after signature—Admissibility.—A pro-note was first signed by the executant and the stamp was affixed and cancelled immediately after Held that as the signing and stamping were continuous acts in the same transaction the pro-note was stamped at the time of the execution within the meaning of s. 16, and was admissible in evidence. SURIJ MULL v. HUDSON, 24 M 259. [R., 6 Bom. L.R. 699.]

(73)—S. 16—See No. 69, supra.

(74)—Ss. 16, 34—Document stamped after execution—Admissibility of.—A document which is stamped subsequently to execution, but before it is produced in Court, cannot be admitted in evidence. Under s. 34 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879), all instruments chargeable with duty should be duly stamped and under s. 16 they must be stamped before or at the time of execution. JETHIBAI v. RAMCHANDRA NAROTTAM, 13 B. 484.

(75)—S. 16, sch. I, art. 1—Acknowledgment of debt—Execution of Rukka—Contract of pay, Novation of—Cause of action.—The defendant executed two rukkas for certain sums of money borrowed from the plaintiff on the 30th June and the 12th July 1893. On the 22nd November 1895 an account was made of the money due to the plaintiff from the defendant in respect of the two rukkas and for the sum found due up to the said date; the defendant executed a rukka in which the debts due on the first two rukkas were mentioned and acknowledged in the following terms: "Mabligh 12, 937-14-0.....Tarikh 22nd November 1895, aj tak baki nikle wuh wajib-ul ada hai." This rukka bore a one-anna adhesive stamp, Held, that the acknowledgment of the balance found due in the rukka was an acknowledgment within the meaning of art. 1, sch. I, Act I of 1879, and was stamped at the time of execution, within the meaning of s. 16 of that Act. The mere acknowledgment of a debt, signed by the debtor, although it may amount to the so called 'account stated,' does not evidence a new contract to pay the debt admitted to be due Held therefore that the acknowledgment contained in the rukka, dated the 22nd November 1895, was not in itself evidence of a new contract to pay that debt, and did not give the plaintiff a fresh and independent cause of action against the defendant. JAWAHIR SINGH v LACHMAN DAS, 3 O.C 195. [Rel. on., 6 O C. 16; Expressed., 7 O C. 166; D., 11 O.C. 152.]

(76)—S. 18—Pro-note made out of British India.—A pro-note made out of British India comes within the provisions of s. 18 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879). When the first holder sues upon the pro-note within British India, it is enough that he is ready to affix the proper stamp before the decree is passed. The pro-note need not be stamped before being received in evidence in the suit. The obligation to affix a stamp arises only when the first holder presents it for acceptance or payment, endorses, transfers, or otherwise negotiates the note. (Griffin v. Weatherby, L R. 3 Q.B. 753, R.) SIMULU EBRAHIM ROWTHAN v. ABDUL RAHIMAN MAHOMED, 8 M. L.J. 182.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(77)—S. 18—See No. 53, supra.

(78)—S. 23—Bond for re-payment of double the amount borrowed.—A bond (securing a loan), which recites that double the amount must be repaid for principal and interest in certain instalments, or earlier in case of default in the punctual payment of interest, is one chargeable with a stamp duty chargeable on double the amount lent S. 23, Stamp Act, has no application to such a bond. SAMBHU CHANDRA BEPARI v. KRISHNA CHARAN BEPARI, 26 C. 179. [R., 11 C.W.N. 1122, 4 N.L.R. 90; Not F., 3 Bom. L.R. 133.]

(79)—S. 24—Property sold subject to mortgage—Payment of mortgage, no part of consideration—Document conveying such property—Stamp duty.—Where property is sold subject to a mortgage or other charge, the payment of such mortgage or charge forms, under ordinary circumstances, no part of the consideration for the purchase. The stamp duty payable on a document conveying such a property is an ad valorem duty on the consideration for the sale. REFERENCE FROM THE BOARD OF REVENUE, 10 C 92=13 C L.R. 164.

(80)—S. 24, cl. (3)—Admission of document in evidence as being duly stamped—Competency of appellate Court to question admissibility—Bombay Reg. XVIII of 1827, s. 10.—S. 34 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879), applies to all instruments whenever executed and it must be held to override the special provisions of s. 10 of Bombay Reg. XVIII of 1827 which provides that any instrument which requires a stamp is not valid unless duly stamped. After the admission by a Court of first instance of a document in evidence as having been duly stamped, it is not competent to the appellate Court, under s. 34, cl. 3 of Stamp Act, to question its admissibility. If the appellate Court considers the document to be insufficiently stamped, it can only proceed under s. 50 of the Stamp Act. GURPADAPA BIN IRAPA v. NARO VITHAL KULKARNI, 13 B. 493. [F., 18 B. 737; R., 17 B. 235.]

(81)—S. 24 and sch. I, art. 5—Deed containing agreement and relinquishment of title—Stamp duty.—Where, under the same instrument, a mortgagor relinquishes his title to the mortgaged property in favour of the mortgagee, and also agress to pay the Government assessment on the land until the transfer of the land to the name of the mortgagee in the Collector's books the instrument would be liable to two stamp duties, one as a conveyance under s. 24 of the Stamp Act, 1879, calculated on the original mortgage amount plus the amount mentioned in the deed, and the other as an agreement not otherwise provided for under art. 5 of sch. I of the Act. SINAPAYA v. SHIVAPA, 15 B. 675.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(81-a)—S. 25—See No. 36, supra.

(82)—S. 25 (e), sch. I, art. 10—Annuity—Award securing an annuity.—By an award a sum of Rs. 5 per mensem was made payable to a certain person, but without any mention whether the sum was secured or intended to be secured to the heirs or representatives of the person to whom it was payable. Held that the award ought to be stamped as a document securing an annuity under s. 25. cl (c) of Act I of 1879. REFERENCE UNDER ACT I OF 1879, s. 49, A.W.N. 1896. 197.

(83)—S 26—"Claimable," meaning of—Bond to secure future advances.—The word "claimable," in s. 26, Act I of 1879, means "claimable in a Court of Justice." A plaintiff obligee is entitled to bring a suit on a mortgage-deed executed to secure future advances, even when more than the sum secured by the deed has been realised by him privately. HARENDRA LAL ROY CHOWDHRY v. TARINI CHARAN CHAKRAVARTI, 31 C. 807=8 C.W.N. 667.

(84)—S. 26—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 73, 74, 4 M.L.J. 201.

(85)—S. 29—See No. 37, supra.

(86)—S. 31—See No. 38, supra.

(86-a)—S. 33—See No. 35, supra.

(87)—Ss. 33, 61, 34, 49, 50—Admission of promissory note improperly stamped—Reference.—A promissory note payable not on demand but within a year after date, is liable to be stamped with a two anna stamp under cl. (b), art. 11, sch. I, Act I of 1879. Where an instrument has been treated as a promissory note, the reference cannot have been made under s. 49. S. 50 does not apply to the case of an instrument of any of the classes excepted in the first proviso to s. 34 of the Stamp Act, which has been erroneously admitted in evidence by a lower Court, and in such a case the Court can proceed under s. 33 of the Act. BAIJU v. JOWAHIR, 193 P R. 1883, F.B. [Cons., 2 P.R. 1891, F.B.].

(88)—S. 34—Admission of deed in evidence—Objection in appeal—Proviso 3, scope of.—The order of admission of a document in evidence cannot be called in question in the appellate Court. Proviso 3 to s. 34 relates to all instruments chargeable with duty including those exempted under proviso I. MANGAL SAIN v. GOBIND DAS, 139 P.R. 1890. [F., 2 P.R. 1891; R., 103 P.R. 1908.]

(89)—S. 34—Impressed sheets bearing the word "hundi."—Promissory notes for sums not exceeding Rs. 5,000 made in British India and payable otherwise than on demand but not more than one year after date or sight will be held to be properly stamped though written on impressed sheets of proper value, bearing the word "hundi." HILL v. NIHAL CHAND, 21 P.R. 1891. (13 A. 66, 14 M. 32, F.)

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(90)—S. 34—Promissory note — Admission in evidence of, already admitted —Admission of a promissory note admitted in evidence under proviso I of s. 34, Stamp Act, cannot be questioned at any stage of the same suit on the ground that the instrument has not been duly stamped. MA HNIN LE v. MAUNG E, L.B.R. 1893–1900, 485. (12 C. 64, F.)

(91)—S. 34—Admission of document not properly stamped—Questioning in appeal.—When a document has once been admitted in evidence, its admission cannot be objected to in an appellate Court on the ground that it is not properly stamped. DIWAN LACHMAN DAS v. DHOLAN DAS, 2 P.R. 1891. (139 P.R. 1890, F.) [R., 108 P.R. 1908.]

(92)—S. 34—Stamp not duly cancelled—Admission and subsequent rejection of—Gambling—Money borrowed for—Private and public gambling distinguished.—Courts of first instance should carefully examine documents chargeable with duty to see that they are duly stamped before admitting them in evidence. When, however, a document not duly stamped has been admitted in evidence it cannot subsequently in the same suit be rejected because it was not duly stamped. Where money is borrowed to be used in gambling, the question whether the object of the loan was unlawful depends upon whether the gambling was of a kind forbidden by law. MA PYU v MAUNG HEIN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 60 (7 M. 301, R.)

(93)—S. 34 — Promissory note, nature of.—A letter was in the following terms:—"In addition to Rs. 115 already received, Rs 385 is also required. Please send it by the bearer Streenivasan. The amount will be returned with interest at 12 per cent. without delay." Held that it was not a promissory-note within the meaning of that term as used in s. 34, Act I of 1879, as there was no unconditional undertaking on the face of the document to pay the money, and as it was clear on the face of the document that the undertaking was conditional on the amount being remitted as requested. BHARATA PISHARODI v. VASUDEVAN NAMBUDRI, 27 M. 1, F B. (16 M. 233, Diss.; 23 M. 156, foot-note, Appr.).

(94)—S. 34—Suit upon Hundis—Hundis not properly stamped—Admissibility in evidence—Admission by defendant—Effect—Decree—Validity.—A suit was brought upon two hundis which were inadmissible in evidence for want of impressed stamps. The lower appellate Court awarded the plaintiff's claim on the ground that the admissions by the defendant in his written statement rendered it unnecessary to put the hundis in evidence. Held that, under s. 34 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879), the hundis in question (not being properly stamped) should not only not be received in evidence but they should not also be "acted upon," in any manner. In this case, the hundi is "acted upon," where a decree is passed on it, whether proved or admitted, and, owing to the language of the Stamp Act, s. 34, effect cannot be given to it in either case: CHENBASAPA v LAKSHMAN RAMACHANDRA, 18 B. 369. [F., 17 M.L.J. 308=30 M. 386, 7 Ind. Cas. 320=8 M.L.T. 251; R., 18 B. 745, 24 B. 360, U.B.R. 1897-1901, 556, 25 A. 509=23 A.W.N. 104, 73 P.L.R. 1907=66 P.R. 1906, 11 C.L.J. 426=14 C.W.N. 703; Cons., 2 L.B.R. 333, U.B.R. 1909, 4th Qr., Stamp, 36, 12 Bom. L.R. 466; D., 18 B. 614.]

Stamp Act (I of 1879) continued

(95)—S. 34—Original instrument chargeable with penalty—Documents constituting secondary evidence not governed by the section.—The provisions that have been enacted in the Indian Stamp Act (I of 1879), for the case of deeds either unstamped, or insufficiently stamped, have no application when the original deed, which ought to have been stamped or was insufficiently stamped, has not been produced. The above provisions deal with, and exclusively refer to, the admission as evidence of original documents which, at the time of their execution, were not stamped at all, or were insufficiently stamped. So, a party ought not to be permitted to prove a copy of a deed tendered by him and to use it as secondary evidence either on due payment of a penalty into Court, or upon its endorsement by the Collector. RAJA OF BOBBILI v. INUGANTI CHINA SITARAMASAMI GARU, 23 M. 49=26 I A. 262=4 C.W.N 117, P.C.=7 Sar. 597. [R., U.B.R. 1897-1901, 365, U.B.R. 1907, 4th Qr., Execution-Signing, 5.]

(96)—S. 34—See ACKNOWLEDGMENT, 18 B. 614.

(97)—S. 34—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1882, s. 257-a A.W.N. 1883, 93, F.B.

(98)—S. 34—See EVIDENCE—SECONDARY EVIDENCE, A.W.N. 1899, 210.

(99)—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 91, 102, 114, U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. II, 396.

(100)—S. 34—Acknowledgment— Admissibility in evidence—See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS—PROMISSORY NOTES—FORM OF, 8 C. 645.

(101)—S. 34, cl. 3—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 578—Unstamped hundi, admission on appeal—Objection in second appeal disallowed.—An unstamped hundi which is admitted in evidence upon an erroneous construction of the law, cannot under cl. 3, s. 34 of the Stamp Act be allowed to be called in question in second appeal. Nor can the Court entertain the objection, as it is not one affecting the merits of the decision. RAMASAMI v. RAMASAMI, 5 M. 220. [F., 8 M.L.J. 66; Appr., 13 B. 449, F.B., 17 B. 235.]

(102)—S. 34, sub s. 3—Notice of allotment, unstamped—Admissibility in evidence.—It is clear from sub-s. 3 of s. 34 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879) that a notice of allotment which is not duly stamped is admissible in evidence. MOHUN LALL v. SRI GUNGAJI COTTON MILLS COMPANY, 4 C.W.N. 369. (26 C. 955, F.).

Stamp Act (I of 1879) —continued.

(103)—S. 34, sub-s. 3—Agreement admitted in evidence in lower Court.—Where an agreement is admitted in evidence rightly or wrongly by the original Court, any objection as to its admissibility in evidence on the ground that it was not properly stamped cannot be entertained in appeal, having regard to s. 34, sub-s. 3 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879). HARDEO DAS v. PARBATI, A W N. 1887, 94.

(104)—S. 34, proviso (3)—Admission of document—Insufficiency of stamp.—Attention called to this provision of law which is—"When an instrument has been admitted in evidence, such admission shall not, except as provided in s. 50, be called in question at any stage of the same suit or proceeding on the ground that the instrument has not been duly stamped." NGA PYAN NA v. MAUNG THA ZAN, U.B.R. 1892-1896, Vol. II, 633. [R., U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. II, 559.]

(105)—S. 34—See Nos. 35, 39, 53, 61, 70, 74, 87, supra, and Nos. 142-a, 143, 190, infra.

(106)—Ss. 34, 35, 39—Unstamped document, admission of, on levy of duty and penalty—Production of original instrument necessary.—The requirement in s. 35 of the Indian Stamp Act (I of 1879) that the officer admitting an instrument in evidence under s. 34 shall send to the Collector an authenticated copy of the instrument, and the provision in s. 39 that such officer shall certify by endorsement on the document that the proper duty and penalty have been levied, clearly show that a Court cannot admit, in evidence, an unstamped document, under s 34, unless the original instrument is actually produced before it. In such a case, secondary evidence cannot be admitted by the Court to prove the contents of the documents, the original instrument having been inadmissible, as not duly stamped. KALLU v. HALKI, 18 A. 295 = A.W.N. 1896, 68

(107)—Ss. 34, 41—Act XVIII of 1869—Suit to recover penalty paid on unstamped document—If applicable in case of documents executed when prior stamp laws were in force—Mufassil Small Cause Courts Act XI of 1865, s. 6—Suit not of the nature of Small Causes—Second appeal.—In a suit on an unstamped bond, the plaintiff had to pay stamp duty and penalty under s. 34 of Act I of 1879, and the present suit was brought under s 41 of the Act for the recovery from the defendant of the amount of such stamp duty and penalty. It was contended on behalf of the defendant that when the bond was executed, Act XVIII of 1869 was the Stamp Law, that that Act did not contain any provisions in it similar to s. 41 of Act I of 1879, and that the present Act was inapplicable to the case of the present bond. Held that this contention, being based upon an erroneous presumption that the penalty on the bond was wrongly imposed under s. 34 of the Stamp Act, I of 1879, was untenable, and that the defendant was bound, under s. 41 of the Act, to pay to the plaintiff the amount claimed by him.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

The rule contained in the body of s. 34 of the Stamp Act I of 1879, renders unstamped documents inadmissible in evidence, and the first proviso prescribes a procedure by which they may, in certain cases, be admitted on payment of duty and penalty. The rules belong to the province of procedure, ad litis ordinationem, and must regulate the manner in which unstamped documents are to be dealt with in suits instituted after the passing of Act 1 of 1879, whether such documents were executed before or after the time when the Act came into force. This view does not proceed upon giving any retrospective effect to the enactment, but, on the contrary, is consistent with the rule that penalties cannot be imposed under a repealed Act. And the interpretation is borne out by the language of the Act itself, for the important expressions 'chargeable' and "duly stamped" as they occur in s. 34, must be interpreted in the sense in which they are defined in cls. (5) and (10) of s. 3, and they show that s. 34 contemplates that its provisions are to govern the imposition of penalty on unstamped documents, even though executed before Act I of 1879 came into force. The penalty on the bond in the present case being therefore rightly imposed under s. 34 of the Act, it follows that the provisions of s. 41 are applicable to the case, and available to the plaintiff. The claim in the present suit having arisen out of a rule of law as contained in s. 41 of the Stamp Act, cannot fall under the category of "debt, damage or demand" as used in s. 6 of the Mufassil Small Cause Courts Act, XI of 1865. Therefore, it was held that there could be no objection to a second appeal therein. ATMA RAM v. SARDAR KUAR, A.W.N. 1884, 328.

(108)—Ss. 34, 50—Insufficiently stamped document admitted in evidence—Effect—When an instrument has been admitted in evidence, and judgment delivered, its admission can be questioned only by the appellate Court in a proceeding under s. 50 of the Stamp Act. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 8 M. 564, F B.

(109)—S. 34, proviso 3, s. 50, proviso 2—Entry of transfer of land in Thugyi's Register No. IX—Exclusion by appellate Court of unstamped document already admitted by Court of first instance—Ejectment suit—Burden of proof.—A report entered in the Thugyi's Register No. IX of the transfer of land by sale, signed by the transferrer, does not require to be stamped. A Court of Appeal has no power to exclude from evidence an unstamped document already admitted by the Court of first instance before whom no question had been raised about its exemption or otherwise from stamp duty. MAUNG SHWE LON v. MAUNG SHWE AN, L.B.R. 1893-1900, 68.

(110)—S. 35—Unstamped document—Decree—Practice.—Decree cannot be given on unstamped document not produced, even though its production in evidence is not necessary. MA EIN MIN v. MAUNG TUN THA, U.B.R. (1897-

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

1901, Vol. II, 556. (U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. II, 365, 379, 391, R.; 21 W.R. 1, 18 B. 369, F.) [R., U. B. R. 1907, 4th Qr. Evidence, 13, U.B R 1909, Stamp, 3.]

(111)--*S.*35--Determination of stamp--Penalty.—The duty chargeable on an insufficiently stamped document must be decided with reference to the Act in force at the date of execution of the document and the penalty leviable is to be determined always in accordance with the provisions of the Act in force at the time of so determining. In re DEVI DITTA MAL, 7 P.R. 1885, Rev.

(112)—S. 35—Lost document insufficiently stamped—Secondary evidence.—The Stamp Act provides for the admission of an instrument in evidence upon payment of duty and penalty, but makes no provision for the admission of secondary evidence of its contents upon such payment. Apart from revenue considerations, the use of stamped paper is of assistance in securing the genuineness of documents, and considerable room would be given for fraud if omission to comply with the Stamp law were condoned without insisting on the production of the documents in respect of which they take place. Secondary evidence of a lost document not stamped in accordance with law is inadmissible. MAUNG SO v. MAUNG PYI, U B.R. (1892-1896), Vol II, 631. (8 C L.R. 533, F.; 7 M.440, 2 M.208, 4 M.H.C. 312, 20 W.R. 63, R.) [R., 2 U.B.R. 1892—1896, 371.]

(112-a)—S. 35—See Nos. 54, 106, supra.

(113)—Stamp Act, ss. 35,9 —Hundi written on two stamps—Evidentiary value — Hundi inadmissible—Suit on original cause of action.—A hundi written on two impressed stamps sewn together contrary to one of the rules made by the Governor-General in Council requiring such hundis to be drawn up on a single stamp, is not duly stamped, and is therefore not admissible in evidence under s. 34 of the Stamp Act. Notwithstanding the inadmissibility of the Hundi, a plaintiff can still obtain a decree if he can show an original cause of action complete in itself and independent of the hundi and for which the hundi was only a collateral security. SAMAD MIR v. BRIJ LAL, 73 P R. 1886. [R., 82 P.R 1891, 42 P.R. 1895.]

(114)—S. 36—Rule of interpretation — Insufficiently stamped document admitted in evidence—Effect.—The ordinary rule of interpretation is that an enactment is to be construed according to its plain meaning where there is no ambiguity and no sufficient reason for supposing any other meaning to have been intended by the Legislature. When a Court of First Insance bas admitted in evidence a document not stamped, the appellate Court cannot question its admissibility on the ground that it is not stamped. MI PO v. MA THE ON, U.B.R. (1897-1901), Vol. II, 539. (U.B.R. 1892-1896, Vcl. II, 633, 13 B. 449, 18 B. 737, 3 C 787, 8 M. 564, 11 W.R. 521, 16 W.R. 6, R.) [Affirmed, U.B.R. 1909, Stamp, 3.]

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(115)—S. 37—Certificate of Collector that document is duly stamped—Production of certificate after dismissal of suit and when appeal is pending—Order of remand.—In a suit by certain bankers to recover the principal and interest, on the basis of an instrument described as a sarkhat executed in their favour by the defendants, the original Court found that the document was understamped and invalid, and therefore inadmissible in Court. The appellate Court dismissed the appeal solely on the ground that the document was improperly stamped. Subsequent to the order of dismissal, a certificate was given by the Collector, under s. 37 of the Stamp Act, that the document upon which the suit was brought was duly stamped. The plaintiffs preferred a second appeal to the High Court. Held, that the lower appellate Court had come to no finding on the facts, that as the Collector had given the certificate since the dismissal of the appeal by the lower appellate Court, the certificate was binding upon the High Court, and that, consequently, the lower appellate Court must proceed to hear the appeal upon the merits, and to dispose of the issue in the light of all the legal evidence in the case, and that consequently the appeal should be allowed and the case remanded under s. 562, Civ. Pro, Code. AGAR CHAND v. BALAK RAI, A W.N. 1887, 21.

(116)—S. 37—See No. 54, supra.

(116-a)—S. 37 (b)—Decision of Collector as to chargeability of instrument, not final—Duty of Civil Court under s. 33.—While the Indian Stamp Act makes the certificate of the Collector given under cl. (a) of s. 37 conclusive evidence, there is nothing in it which provides that his decision under cl. (b) shall be final or conclusive. If his decision is complied with, and the duty and penalty paid, then under s. 39 the instrument will be admissible in evidence, but, where such decision has not been obeyed and the duty and penalty not paid, a Civil Court before whom the instrument may come has the duty cast upon it, under s.33, of examining the document and of determining for itself whether the instrument is duly stamped or not, and, if not, of taking the steps laid down in ss. 33 34, and 35, whatever decision it may come to being subject to revision under s. 50. HARIBAI v. KRISHNARAV, 22 B. 632. [R., 9 Bom. L. R. 119.]

(117)—S. 39—Penalty—Lost document.—A copy of a lost unstamped document cannot be admitted in evidence on payment of the penalty, for, s. 39 of the Stamp Act, prescribing such penalty, pre-supposes that the document is forthcoming. RANGA RAU v. BHAVAYAMMI, 17 M. 473=4 M L J. 192. (7 M. 440, F.).

(118)—S. 39—See Nos. 54, 106, supra.

(119)—S. 39, Pro. 3—Documents admitted in evidence on payment of stamp duty and penalty--Subsequent rejection--Validity—Remand—Civ. Pro. Code (1882), s. 578—The plaintiff sued to recover a sum of Rs. 653-7-0 due on 3 khatas signed by the defendant. On an objection having been taken by the defendant that the khatas sued on were not duly stamped, the Subordinate Judge admitted them in evidence on payment by the plaintiff of the proper stamp duty and penalty, as required by s. 34 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879), holding that the khatas were bonds within the meaning of s. 3 of the Act. His successor in office held that the khatas were promissory notes and could be stamped only on the date of their execution. Being of opinion that they had been illegally admitted in evidence on payment of stamp duty, he dismissed the suit. On appeal, the District Judge held that the Subordinate Judge, having once admitted the khatas in evidence on payment of the requisite stamp duty, was precluded from calling in question their admissibility by the terms of proviso 3 to s. 34 of the Stamp Act. The lower Court's decree was reversed and the case remanded for trial on the merits. On appeal to the High Court against the order of remand, held, (1) that the khatas sued on cannot be rejected, when once they had been admitted on payment of the requisite stamp duty and penalty, and (2) that the order of remand not being one which affected the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court, it was not competent to the High Court to interfere with it under s. 578 of the Civ. Pro Code, 1882. DEVACHAND v. HIRACHAND KAMARAJ, 13 B. 449 F.B. [F., 18 B. 737, U.B.R. 1897—1901, 559, 8 M.L.J. 66.]

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(120)—S. 41—Suit for the amount of stamp duty and penalty — Costs — Civ. Pro. Code, s. 13—A fresh suit is maintainable for the recovery of the amount of stamp duty and penalty paid by plaintiff in his suit against the defendant on an instrument not duly stamped, executed by the latter who was bound to bear the expense of providing the proper stamp. S. 41 of the Stamp Act does not prohibit such a suit, and ss. 13 and 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code, have obviously no application, nor can stamp duty and penalty be regarded as strictly within the designation of costs. ISHAR DAS v. MASUD KHAN, 6 A. 70=A.W.N. 1883, 211.

(121)—S. 41—See No. 107 supra.

(122)—S. 44 (b)—Instrument—Mortgage deed —Further advance—Stamp.—When property is once mortgaged and a further advance is made on the security of the same property by a fresh mortgage deed which extends the period of redemption of the original mortgage, the new mortgage deed should be stamped only in respect of the amount of the new loan advanced. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, 1879, 1 Bom. L.R. 7.

(123)—S. 46, sch. I, arts. 5 (c) 44—Muchalika executed by Abkaree licensee.—A Muchalka executed by an abkari licensee, which simply states that the executant agrees to all the terms and conditions mentioned in the license, one of them being that, as a security for the due performance of the conditions of the contract, the licensee shall deposit with the Collector a sum equal to three months' rental ought to be stamped with an eight-anna stamp. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 15 M. 134, F.B.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(124)—S. 46, sch. I, art. 16—Execution sale of property subject to incumbrance—Stamps for sale certificate.—Where, in execution of a decree, property is sold subject to an incumbrance the stamp on the sale certificate should be calculated on the amount of the purchase money and not on that amount plus the amount of the incumbrance. JWALA PRASAD v. RAM NARAIN, 15 A. 107=A.W.N. 1892, 243.

(125)—S. 49—See DISTRICT JUDGE, JURISDICTION OF, 11 M. 38, F.B.

(125-a)—S. 49—See No. 87, supra.

(125-b)—S. 50—See Nos. 40, 87, 108, 109. supra.

(126)—S. 51—Stamp paper for engrossing sale certificate accidentally spoiled in Court—Effect.—Where a stamp paper for the engrossment of a sale certificate was inadvertently punched by an officer of the Court and an instrument was subsequently drawn up on it notwithstanding and delivered to the purchaser, the document could not be treated as unstamped. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 18 M. 235, F.B.

(127)—S. 51 (a)—Extent of its application.—Cl. (a) of s. 51 of the Stamp Act applies only to cases of accidental spoiling of the paper of which the stamp is made, and does not cover cases in which a person has used the paper in the ordinary way, but has made a mistake in using it. NARASIMHA CHARYULU v. APPA RAU, 18 M. 122.

(128)—S. 51 (d) (6)—Deed of conditional sale —Refund of cancelled stamps used for mortgage-deed in favour of another.—A person owning certain lands executed a duly stamped document purporting to mortgage them with possession. The transaction fell through before registration of the deed, and soon afterwards a deed of conditional sale of the same lands was executed by him on another stamp paper in favour of some other person. On an application by him for refund of the stamp used for the cancelled mortgage-deed, he was given the refund under s. 51 (d) 6 of the Stamp Act. The omission of the words 'between the same parties' which occur in cl. (7), from cl. (6), shows that the latter clause is sufficiently wide to admit of a case like the present in which, though one of the parties has been altered, and the new document is technically of a somewhat different nature, the transaction evidenced by both instruments is, in effect, practically the same. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46. 16 M. 459 F.B.=2 M.L.J. 181.

(129)—S. 51—See No. 38, supra.

(130)—S. 57—See No. 35, supra.

(131)—S. 58—Evidence of payment—Receipt.—S. 58 of the Indian Stamp Act does not preclude other evidence than a receipt being adduced to prove payment. It only provides that a party making a payment may demand a receipt. Even when a receipt is given and is not produced in evidence, evidence aliunde is admissible in proof of the payment. SESHAYYA v. SUBBAMMA, 8 M.L.J. 269.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(132)—Ss. 58, 61, 64.—Meaning of the expression, "signing otherwise than as witness"—Agent authorised to sign on behalf of the firm—Liability—Proof of demand of stamped receipt—Refusal to grant stamped receipt by a firm—Liability of the members of the firm—Meaning of the term "person".—The words "signing otherwise than as witness," in s. 61 of the Act includes the writing of a person's name by himself, or by his authority, with the intention of authenticating a document as being that of the person whose name is so written. An ordinary agent authorised to sign on behalf of the principal comes within the purview of the section. Where a clerk signs a firm's name to certain letters under the authority of the firm, it makes little difference that he wrote the letters at the dictation of the Manager, and he may properly be convicted under s. 61 of the Act. To bring home a charge under s. 64, it must be shown that the person accused had been required under s. 58 to give a properly stamped receipt, and had refused to give it. The term "person" used in ss. 61 and 64 of the Stamp Act includes the members of a trading partnership. So, where a firm granted an unstamped receipt for money signed by their Agent, on their behalf, the members of the firm were held liable, under ss. 61 and 64, since they were, in contemplation of law, the persons who signed the unstamped receipt, refusing to give a duly stamped receipt, and it was not necessary that the members must have been present at the writing of the unstamped instruments or must have been aware of the writing of them. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KHETTER MOHUN CHOWDHRY, 27 C. 324.

(133)—S. 61—See Nos. 41, 87, 132, supra.

(134)—Ss. 61, 64—Receipt—Acknowledgment by letter.—Where the receipt of money exceeding Rs. 20 in satisfaction of a debt is acknowledged by its being mentioned in a letter, without a receipt stamp being affixed, the writer is liable to punishment under s. 61 of the Stamp Act, and not under s. 64. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 8 M. 11, F.B.

(135)—S. 64—See Nos. 132, 134, supra.

(136)—S. 67—Scope of.—The second clause in s. 67 of the Indian Stamp Act, is not controlled by the first clause so as to restrict its application to negotiable instruments. The clause is of general application. REFERENCE UNDER THE STAMP ACT, S. 46, 9 M. 138 F.B.

(137)—Sch. I, No. 1,—Acknowledgment of debt—Proper stamp.—A document contained an entry to the following effect and it bore a stamp of one anna:—"Out of Rs. 22-3-0 due to Shaik by my late elder brother Ahmed, I have paid Re. 1; the balance will be paid by instalments." Held, that the instrument was nothing more than an acknowledgment of a debt and was sufficiently stamped. BANDA HUSAIN v. YAWAR HUSAIN, A.W.N. 1883, 127.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(138)—Sch. I, art. 1—Limitation Act, 1877, s. 19—Letter acknowledging debt, can save limitation, although unstamped—Where a letter, from a debtor to his creditor, written anti litem motam and before limitation in respect of the debt had expired, was tendered in evidence as an acknowledgment of the debt for the purpose of saving limitation, held that the same was admissible for the said purpose, though unstamped, because it was not written with the intention of supplying evidence of the debt, and there was in existence at the time other evidence of the same [R., 19 A. 255, 21 B. 201, 30 C. 687.] whether a document, or the kind mentioned above, amounts to an acknowledgment within the terms of art. 1, sch. I of the Stamp Act, is a fact which depends in each case upon the intention of the writer, and such intention may be ascertained from the surrounding circumstances of the case and from what was taking place when the document was written. BISHAMBAR NATH v. NAND KISHORE, 15 A. 56 = A.W.N. 1892, 234. [R., 21 B. 201, 30 C. 687.]

(139)—Sch I. art. 1—Nikash or balance sheet—Admissibility in evidence—A nikash prepared and signed by a gumasta of a business, showing a balance due by him to the owner of the business is not an acknowledgment of a debt within the meaning of art. 1 of the Act and is admissible in evidence unstamped. NUND KUMAR SHAHA v. SHURNOMOYI, 15 C. 162.

(140)—Sch I, art. 1—Entry by debtor in books of creditor — Acknowledgment.— Whether an account signed by the debtor in the creditor's books amounts to an acknowledgment under art. 1, sch. I of the Stamp Act, depends upon the form and intention of the entry. BINGA RAM v. RAJMOHUN ROY, 8 C. 282. [R., 21 B. 201, F.B., 30 C. 687.]

(141)—Art. 1—Acknowledgment—Not a pro-note.—An entry in an account book which purported to attest that the accounts of a certain person had been balanced by a third party who had declared that the result of the making up of the accounts was to show that a certain sum was due by a certain person who, in the presence of a witness signed an acknowledgment of the correctness of the accounts; held not to be a bond and therefore not liable to duty as such. CHAMBA RAM v. CROWN, 4 P.R. 1885, Rev.

(142)—Sch. I, art. 1—See No. 75, supra.

(142-a)—Sch. I, art. 1 and s. 34—See EVIDENCE—SECONDARY EVIDENCE, 21 B. 201, F.B.

(143)—Sch. I, art. 1, cl. (5) (c), s. 34—Lower Court wrongly admitting instrument without payment of stamp duty and penalty—Appellate

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

Court cannot reject document as inadmissible.—A letter written to one partner after the dissolution of partnership by the other partners setting forth the terms of compromise arranged between the parties with regard to the dispute between them regarding that partner's share in the partnership business, though it may contain an approximate statement of the value of that share, is not an acknowledgment intended to be used as evidence of the debt so as to fall within art. 1, sch. I of the Stamp Act, but it must be treated as an agreement not otherwise provided for by the Stamp Act, and is therefore chargeable with a duty of eight annas under art. 1, cl. 5 (c) of sch. I. But when such a letter was admitted in evidence by the District Munsif without payment of stamp duty and penalty, the District Judge in appeal was precluded by s. 34 of the Stamp Act from rejecting it as inadmissible. LAKSHMINARAYANA v. RAMAJOGI GARU, 8 M L.J 66. (5 M. 220, 3 C. 787, 13 B. 449, 18 B. 737, F.)

(144)—Sch. I, art. 2—Court-Fees Act, 1870, sch. II, art. 16—Administration-bond, chargeable with duty under Stamp Act, art. 2.—The usual bond executed on the grant of letters of administration will have to be stamped under art. 2, sch. I of the Indian Stamp Act 1879, which being the later Act and inconsistent with the provision in art. 16 of sch. II of the Court-Fees Act of 1870, repeals the said provisions of the Court-Fees Act by necessary implication. In the goods of F.M. TROWARD, 165 P.R. 1879.

(145)—Sch. I, art. 4—Agreement to lease.—An agreement to lease must be stamped as such under art. 4, sch. I of the Stamp Act, notwithstanding that another instrument was intended to be executed. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 17 M. 280 (F.B.) = 4 M.L.J. 104.

(146)—Sch. I, art. 5—Receipt for money paid for agreed future sale of shares in Company—Undertaking to execute a formal document of Sale—Receipt liable to stamp duty.—By the document in question the executants purported to sell their interest in certain receipts for a Company's shares purchased by them from the creditors of that company; they passed the document merely as a receipt acknowledging payment to them of some money by the intended vendees undertaking that, whenever the latter desired a formal document of sale, the same shall be executed. The property in the receipts, the subject of sale, not having been intended to pass to the executees of the document under consideration, it was merely an agreement liable to a duty of eight annas under Stamp Act, I of 1879. sch. I, art. 5. HEPTULA SHEKH ADAM AND COMPANY v. ESAF-ALI ABDUL ALI, 14 B. 316.

(147)—Sch. I, art. 5, s. 26, scope and applicability of.—The language of cls. (3) and (4) of the Stamp Act seems clearly to imply that the document must provide for the payment of a fixed sum of money, whether ascertained at the time or not, by one person to another. Held—that, where parties were engaged in a business in which the plaintiff advances money to the defendant on promissory note and an instrument was drawn up between them in which, among other arrangements, it was provided that a certain rate of profit (or interest) should be paid on the loans, the document was not a bond but an agreement chargeable with fixed and not ad valorem duty, and that consequently s. 26 of the Stamp Act was not applicable. DAWOODJEE BAMJEE v. KAIROODEEN, U.B.R. (1892-1896) Vol. II, 629.

(148)—Sch. I, cl. 5—Document—Agreement to pay—Stamp Act.—A document ran as follows; —"This document, hand-note, is executed by me for the purpose of purchasing a ghor. I take from you Rs. 7. I will pay interest on the sum at half-anna per rupee per mensem. Having received Rs. 7 in cash, this hand-note is executed." Held, that the document was not a bond nor a pro-note, but an agreement to pay, chargeable with duty under cl. 5 of the schedule to the Stamp Act. MURARI MOHAN ROY v. KHETTUR NATH MULLIK, 15 C. 150. [R., 10 C.P.L.R. (Cr.) 1; D., 4 Bom. L.R. 912.]

(149)—Sch. I, art. 5 (a)—Liability to stamp duty of agreement by correspondence.—Fiscal enactment— Construction.—Where an agreement for the sale of certain shares is contained in a number of letters which passed between the parties, none of them requires to be stamped under art. 5 (a). sch, I, of the Stamp Act, and they are not inadmissible in evidence for want of a stamp. [R., 111 P.L.R. 1907=71 P.R. 1906.] The Stamp Act being a fiscal enactment, the intention to tax a particular instrument must appear in terms clear and positive, and in case of doubt, the construction must be in favour of the subject. RAMIER v. GOULD, 13 M. 255.

(150)—Sch. I, art. 5 (c) Pasture ground—Agreement to lease—General Clauses Act (I of 1868), s. 2—Growing grass, if immoveable property—Stamp duty.—A rented his pasture ground to B. The rent-note recited that B was to graze 13 she-buffaloes at Rs. 1-10 per head on the ground for a fixed period for a consideration of Rs. 21-2-0 to be paid by him to A in two instalments, that the whole amount should become payable at once in default of payment of any instalment, and that interest should be paid at the rate of 2 per cent. per month, if the amount remained unpaid beyond the fixed period. Held (Nanabhai Haridas, J. dissentiente) that the instrument was an agreement and, as such, chargeable with a stamp duty of eight annas under cl. (c) of art. 5, sch. I of the Stamp Act (I of 1879). Per Nanabhai Haridas, J.—Growing grass is immoveable property within the definition of the expression in s. 2 of the General Clauses Act (I of 1868). So, the instrument was a lease chargeable with a stamp duty of four annas. If growing grass is not immoveable property the agreement is one for or relating to the sale of goods, the price being fixed with reference to the quantity to be consumed by the cattle. So, the instrument is exempt from stamp duty under sch. II, art. 2 (a) of the Stamp Act (I of 1879). In re HORMASJI IRANI, 13 B. 87.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(151)—Sch. I, art. 5—See Nos. 51, 62, 81, 123, supra.

(152)—Sch. I, arts. 5 (c), 44 (a)—Agreement—Mortgage.—A deed of contract for work, executed by a contractor contained the provision that the Executive Engineer, for the time being, may retain 10 per cent. on the value of the work done to cover compensation for default on the part of the contractor and as security for the proper performance of the contract. The proper construction of the provision is, that the contractor waives the prompt payment of a percentage of the sum to accrue due to him and agrees that the Government may set off against it, what sums it may be entitled to recover from him by reason of breach of contract. The contract is not a mortgage, but an agreement chargeable with stamp duty, under art. 5 (c) of sch I of the Stamp Act. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46. 7 M. 209. F. B.

(153)—Sch. I, art. 8. (=art. 10 of Act II of 1899)—Articles of association—Special resolution superseding articles of association—Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882), s. 79—A document styled as "articles of association" was drawn up by a company limited by shares, on a special resolution in supersession of the 'articles' it already possessed. On its happening to be impounded as unstamped by the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies to whom a copy of the record of this special resolution was forwarded under the provisions of s. 79 of the Companies Act (1882), held that the Companies Act did not contemplate any such thing as new articles of association, and that the document in question was nothing more than a record of a special resolution, and, as such, did not require to be stamped under art. 8, sch. (I), Stamp Act, 1879. In the matter of THE NEW EGERTON WOOLLEN MILLS, 22 A. 131=A. W. N. 1900, 15.

(154)—Sch. I, art. 9—See No. 42, supra.

(155)—Sch. I, art. 10—See No. 82, supra.

(156)—Sch. I, art. 11—Bond — Impressed stamp—Attestation—Instrument stamped with adhesive stamp—Payable to person or order.—An instrument attested by witnesses and not payable to bearer or order is a bond as defined in the Stamp Act, and if the stamp it bears is not a stamp which is proper for such an instrument, the instrument should be treated as unstamped. [F, 15 M. 259.] A document stamped with an adhesive stamp of one anna, purporting to be a promissory note attested by two witnesses and payable to person or order on demand, is not a bond but a promissory note. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 8 M. 87, F.B.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(157)—Sch. I, art. 11—See No. 43, supra.

(158)—Sch. I, art. 13—See No. 44, supra.

(158-a)—Sch. I, arts. 13 and 44—Bond for earnest money received—Hypothecation of produce as collateral security—Stamp-duty chargeable—Where, under a document, the obligor borrowed money from the obligee which was to be treated as earnest money for an undertaking by the former to supply a certain quantity of sugar to the latter, and as collateral security the obligor hypothecated the produce in his field of sugarcane, without fixing any value therefor, the instrument was held to be a "bond" falling under No. 13 of sch. I of the Stamp Act I of 1879, and also to be a mortgage-deed under No. 44 (b) of the above schedule, and with reference to s. 7 of the Act, the stamp duty which was the same in either view of the instrument was the highest that could be charged in respect of it. In the matter of GAJRAJ SINGH, 9 A. 585=A.W.N. 1887, 190.

(159)—Sch. I, arts 13, 44 (a)—Document with clause agreeing to secure debts in debentures issued—Mortgage-deed.—Under a clause in a document between an Electric Tramway Company and an Electric Construction Company, the fromer agreed that, on execution of the document, they would issue and hand over to the Construction Company, £8,000 part of the £25,000 second debentures, and that such second debentures, together with the £20,000, first debentures already issued to the Construction Company, and the remaining £5,000 first debentures, subject to the prior charges thereon, shall be held by them as security for the admitted debt of a large amount previously mentioned in the document as due to them by the Tramway Company. The provisions of the above clause in the operative part of the document was held to constitute it a mortgage deed under the Indian Stamp Act. It was not the case of a mere agreement to make a transfer, but an undertaking to deliver the debentures on the execution of the document, and, the debentures having to be handed over to the transferee Company, the mortgage deed was chargeable as one with possession under art. 44 (a), sch. I of the Stamp Act I of 1879. Also, in respect of another provision in the document undertaking to make further advances, it was held liable to further duty as an agreement "not otherwise provided for." REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, 1879, S. 46, 23 M. 207.

(160)—Sch. I, art. 16—Certificate of sale—Purchase of equity of redemption—Duty.—The stamp on a certificate of sale is regulated by the amount of the purchase money; it is to bear the same stamp as a conveyance for a consideration equal to the amount of the purchase money. It is one thing to make a sale subject to a condition to discharge a mortgage, and another to sell the property subject to a mortgage, that is, to sell the interest remaining in the mortgagor without imposing on the purchaser any obligation. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 7 M. 421, F.B.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(161)—Cl. 16, sch. I—Certificate of sale—Stamp duty—Property sold subject to mortgage.—Stamp.—The stamp duty payable on a certificate of sale in governed by cl. 16, sch. I of the Stamp Act. Where property sold is under mortgage, the transfer is not necessarily subject to the charge, and where it is not, the mortgage debt cannot be regarded as forming any part of the consideration for the transfer. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 49, 5 M. 18, F.B. [F., 10 C. 92.]

(162)—Sch. I, art. 16—See No. 124, supra.

(163)—Sch. I, Arts. 16, 21—Sale in execution subject to mortgage—Valuation of property sold—Sale proclamation—Sale-certificate—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 282, 287—Mortgages, noted in the proclamation of sale as claims upon the property sold, should not necessarily be entered in the certificate of sale, or be computed as part of the purchase-money, unless they have been admitted by the parties, or established by decree, or unless they have been declared, under s. 282 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, to be charges on the property, and the Court has seen fit to sell it subject to them, but they should be entered in the certificate and computed as part of the purchase-money if they have thus been admitted or established, or if they have been declared, under s. 282 of the Civ. Pro. Code, and the sale has been made subject to them. Claims admitted by parties or established by the decree of a Court should be entitled in the proclamation of sale as charges upon the property, though they have come to the knowledge of the Court in an enquiry under s. 287 only and have not been made the subject of an order under s. 287 of the Code. SHANTAPPA CHEDAMBARAYA v. SUBRAO RAMCHANDRA YELLAPUR, 18 B. 175, F.B.

(164)—Sch. I, art. 21—Conveyance—Consideration set forth less than instrinsic value.—The proper Stamp duty payable on a conveyance is to be calculated on the consideration set forth in it, whatever may be the intrinsic value of the property conveyed. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 20 M. 27.

(165)—Sch. I, art. 21—Conveyance to vendors themselves under different denomination.—A conveyance of property by certain persons, though only to themselves under another denomination, is, for purposes of stamp duty, leviable under art. 21 of the Stamp Act, as if it were to different persons. In re THE KONDOLI TEA CO., LTD., 13 C. 42. [D., 17 B. 235.]

(166)—Sch. I, art. 21—Winding up of company—Transfer of Property of old to new company—Conveyance—Stamp.—Where an old company on its being wound up conveyed to the new company some of its property by means of an instrument, which in terms was a conveyance of property at an agreed value, held, that the instrument was the sale of such property at that price, and was governed by art. 21 of the Stamp Act (I of 1879). And the fact that the transaction was a part of a larger transaction, would not affect the character of the instrument. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, 1879, S. 46, 20 B. 432.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(167)—Sch. I, art. 21—Transfer of lease—Transfer of share of a partnership.—Where a transaction is in substance a sale of a share in a partnership, and the transfer of a share in a lease only forms part of the subject-matter of the sale, as being a part of the partnership assets, the transaction should be regarded not as the transfer of a lease, but as the sale of a share in a partnership; so that the stamp duty thereon should be levied under art. 21 of the Stamp Act. (5 M. 15 held not applicable). In re THE MENGLAS TEA ESTATE, 12 C. 383. [D., 17 B. 235; R., 23 C. 283, 3 C. L.J. 52.]

(168)—Sch. I, art. 21—See Nos. 45, 163, supra.

(169)—Arts. 21, 60 (b)—Conveyance of lands and transfer of lease-hold interest.—Where by one and the same deed a conveyance of free-hold lands and good-will and a transfer of interests secured by leases, when Act I of 1879 was in force, are effected, the deed should be stamped under art. 121 of that Act (art. 23 Act II of 1899) with an ad valorem duty on the conveyance of the free-hold property, good-will, etc., and under art. 60 of the above Act (art. 62 Act II of 1899) with a duty of Rs. 5 on the transfer of each of the interests secured by the leases. IN THE MATTER OF A REFERENCE UNDER THE STAMP ACT. 23 C. 283. (12 C. 383, R.)

(170)—Sch. I, art. 22—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 62—Copy of document filed with plaint—Attestation by Court or its officer—Stamp duty not leviable.—Art. 22 of sch. I of the Stamp Act does not apply to copies or extracts of entries in account books and other similar books which a Civil Court has to attest under s. 62 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, for the attestation in such a case by the Court or its officer is not made on the application of the owner of the copy, but solely in consequence of the express direction of the Code, with a view to its being filed for the purpose of identifying the book entry when produced at the hearing. KRISHNAJI SADASHIV RANADE v. DULABA, 15 B. 687. [R., 26 B. 522.]

(171)—Sch. I, art. 22—Copy of order passed on application to Municipal Board—Certificate as true copy endorsed by Secretary.—Records of the proceedings of a Municipal Board are public documents, and the officer who is authorised to deliver copies of public documents in the course of his official duties is for such purpose a public officer. The Secretary of a Municipality is an officer who in the ordinary course of his official duty, is authorised to deliver copies of the public documents of which he has the custody as Secretary. So, a copy granted, of an application presented to a Municipal Board, and of the order of the Board thereon, and certified as correct by the Secretary of the Board, would come within art. 22 of sch. I of the Indian Stamp

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

Act so as to require an eight annas stamp under the article. REFERENCE UNDER S. 46 OF ACT I OF 1879, 19 A. 293, F.B.=A.W.N. 1897, 61.

(172)—Act X of 1862, sch. A, arts. 23, 25—Conveyance—Stamp duty.—The deed submitted in this case under s. 49 of Act I of 1879 was a transfer for the consideration therein expressed of the exclusive right to all the kankar under the land owned by the grantors. It was accordingly a conveyance within the meaning of art. 23 of sch. A of Act X of 1862, inasmuch as it transferred to a person for a consideration an exclusive right to property. As no value, however, appeared on the face of the conveyance, it was decided that it fell under the 2nd clause of art. 25 of the schedule and was chargeable with stamp duty thereunder. SCOTT v. BANNA, 44 P.R. 1881, F B.

(173)—Sch. I, art. 27—Sch. II, art. 11 (a)—Entry on roll of advocates—Exemption from duty.—A person, already enrolled as a Vakil of the High Court, Madras applying to be entered on the roll of advocates, is exempted from the duty prescribed under art. 27, sch. I of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879, by virtue of art. 11 (a). sch. II. In re PARTHASARADI, 8 M. 14, F.B. [R., 36 C. 645=9 C.L.J. 621.]

(174)—First schedule, art. 27 and sch. II, Exemption 11—Court of Judicial Commissioner of Burmah—Entry as advocate of High Court.—The term "High Court" as used in exemption No. 11 in sch. II of the General Stamp Act, 1879, does not include the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of Burmah. In re GRANT, 14 P.R. 1888.

(175)—Sch. I, art. 29—See No. 46, supra.

(176)—Arts. 29, 44, Sch. I—Distinction between.—Art. 44, sch. I, Act I of 1879, deals with cases in which the interest in, or right over property, is transferred, whether possession is given or not for the purposes of the mortgage. Art. 29 is limited to cases where moveable property only is given in pledge, coupled with an agreement securing the re-payment of a loan. In the matter of KO SHWAY AUNG v. STRANG STEEL AND CO, 21 C. 241.

(177)—Sch. I, arts. 35, 39, cls. (c), (d)—Lease of shares for consideration of premium and rent reserved—Stipulation by lessees to pay Government demand till expiry of lease—Payment of demand to be deemed as rent reserved—Stamp.—Upon case stated by the Financial Commissioner, the question as to the stamp duty upon the instrument forming the subject of this reference was decided by the Chief Court to the effect that the instrument was a lease falling under the provisions of art. 39, cl. (d), sch. I, Act I of 1879. By the terms of the instrument under consideration, the owners executed a lease on their shares in certain villages, in consideration of a lump sum of money being paid in annual instalments throughout the period of the lease. Such lump sum was held to be of the nature of a fine or premium, and it was not the less of that nature because the rate per annum at which it fell, when distributed over the entire term of the lease, happened to be stated in the instrument. With regard, however, to the provision in the instrument as to the payment of the Government demand, by the lessees, the Chief Court was of opinion that the sums so to be paid by the lessees periodically during the lease, being certain in amount, were of the nature of rent. And as the lease was one granted for a fine or premium in addition to rent reserved, viz., the Government demand, it fell under art. 39, cl. (d), sch. I of Act I of 1879. Per Plowden, J., dissenting:—The sum payable under an engagement by the lessees to pay the taxes payable in respect of the property demised was not in the nature either of rent reserved or of a fine or premium, and the instrument referred therefore fell under cl. (c) and not under cl. (d) of art. 39 of Act I of 1879. In re A REFERENCE BY THE FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER OF THE PUNJAB, 102 P.R. 1882.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(178)—Sch. I, art. 36—Grant of annuity charged on revenues of village—Endorsement by grantor's adopted son—Stamp—Gift.—A widow executed a settlement on plain paper granting thereby an annuity charged on the revenues of a village for religious purposes, and, on her adopting a son, he endorsed that paper by way of ratification of the gift; the instrument was held chargeable as a single instrument with the duty payable for a deed of gift under art. 36 of sch. I of the Stamp Act I of 1879. In re BHAVANIBAI, 7 B. 194.

(179)—Art. 38—Deed acknowledging former adoption—Construction—Stamp duty—A Hindu widow executed a deed of adoption which recited as follows:—"I have no male or female issue. There being also no one in whose name the patilki vatan could be held hereafter, I spoke to your father of whom you are the youngest son, and he having consented, I placed you in my lap on 1st of August 1887 and adopted you as my son according to the customs and usages of Hindu religion. You have thus become my son from that date. Your name has been changed to Ravbhaji. You have got all the powers usually vested in a son." On a reference having been made to the High Court as to whether the deed must be treated as to deed of adoption, held that the document was distinct from an "adoption deed" or "authority to adopt" which is liable to stamp duty under art. 38 of sch. I of the Stamp Act (I of 1879), and that it was not liable to any stamp duty at all. In the matter of AMBAI, 13 B. 280. [F., 13 B. 281.]

(180)—Sch. I, art. 38—See No. 55, supra.

(181)—Sch. I, Art. 39 (a), (c), (d)—Rent—Mortgage—Lease—Premium and fine.—A document purporting to be a lease for four years fixed a certain annual rent, and out of the total rent a portion was payable in advance. This stipulation is only for a payment of rent in anticipation and not for the payment of a premium or fine, within the meaning of art. 39 (c) of the Stamp Act, 1879. Where by a rent agreement for a certain term a certain rent is fixed, and the lessee is to deposit one year's rent to be credited to the rent of the last year of the term, the deposit is not a fine or premium, within the meaning of art. 39 (c) of the Stamp Act. When a debtor conveys to his creditor land, for a certain term of years in liquidation of the principal and interest, and the creditor is to enjoy the profits and suffer the loss, but has to pay to the debtor an annual rent, the document is a lease with a premium liable to duty under art. 39 (d), sch. I of the Stamp Act. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 7 M. 203, F.B.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(182)—Sch. I, art. 39 (b)—Lease—Rent—Duty.—A perpetual lease, reserving a certain rent, the greater portion of which, representing the Government peshkash, the lessee is directed to pay to Government, and the balance to the lessor, is liable to stamp duty, on the whole amount reserved, and not merely on the balance to be paid to the lessor. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 7 M. 155, F.B. [R., 25 M. 752.]

(183)—Sch. I, art. 39—See No. 177, supra.

(184)—Sch. I, art. 39 and sch. II, art. 13, cl. (b)—Lease for purpose other than of cultivation—Stamp duty.—A kabuliyat or lease relaing to immoveable property let to a tenant for any purpose other than the cultivation of land, is not exempt from stamp duty under art. 13, cl. (b) of sch. II of the Stamp Act, 1879, and is chargeable with such duty under art. 39 of sch. I of the Act. NARAYAN RAMCHANDRA v. DHONDU RAGHU, 10 B. 173. [D., 15 B. 73.]

(185)—Sch. I, art. 44 (a)—Kanom deed—Stamp duly payable as on mortgage—Calculation of consideration.—A kanom deed of jenmam land, being a mortgage, must be stamped under art. 14 (a) of sch. I of the Stamp Act, and in calculating the consideration, the ascertained amount of compensation for improvements which is expressly named in the instrument and has been paid at the landlord's request by the incoming to the outgoing tenant, must be included. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 22 M. 164, F.B.

(186)—Sch. I, art. 44, cl. (a)—Rule of construction—Distinction between cls. (a) and (b) in art. 44—"Given," construction of—"Agreed to be given," construction of.—Art. 44 cl. (a) applies only to those deeds, where immediate possession of the property is given, or agreed to be given, by the terms of the deed to the mortgagee. The Stamp Act is a Revenue Act, and the rule of construction of such Acts is, that, in case of the doubt, the construction most beneficial to the subject is to be adopted—Per Garth, C.J., and Field, J. [R., U.B.R. 1903, Court Fees 1]. The principle of the distinction between the two classes of mortgages in art. 44 is that, where the title to the land and the possession or immediate right to possession both pass to the mortgagee, the same duty is charged as upon a conveyance by way of sale; but when the title only passes, and possession, or the right to possession, does not, the lower duty is chargeable. —Per Garth, C.J. The word "given" points out that only those transactions are intended to be covered where the transfer of possession takes place in consequence of the agreement on the part of the mortgagor to deliver over possession as part of the security for the mortgage money; but where the mortgagee becomes entitled to enter upon possession, irrespective of the consent of the mortgagor to make over possession, cl. (a) will not apply—Per Mitter, J. The words "agreed to be given" can only apply where there is an express or implied agreement to give possession; and not where there is no such agreement, express or implied, and the effect of the document is such that a mortgagee has merely a right enforceable in a Court of law to obtain possession.—Per Field, J. ANONYMOUS, 10 C. 274.

(187)—Sch. I, art. 44 (b)—Mortgage-deed with stipulation to give possession at future date—Applicability of cl. (b) of art. 44, sch. I, Stamp Act I of 1879.—Where, by the terms of a mortgage-deed, possession was agreed to be given at a future date on default of repayment of the mortgage amount on that date; no possession having been given at the time of execution, cl. (b) of art. 44 of the Stamp Act of 1879 and not cl. (a) would apply to the case. Cl. (a) has been intended to cover only cases of mortgage with possession, and the words "agreed to be given" are to be read as if the words "at the time of execution" immediately followed and qualified the word "given." HINGANGHAT MILL COMPANY, LTD. v. REKCHAND BHIKAMCHAND, 8 B. 310, F.B.

(188)—Sch. I, art. 44 (b)—Mortgage—Assignment of growing crop.—A document, evidencing an agreement by which a person, in consideration of a certain sum of money to be advanced to him by another, assigns to that other the whole crop of coffee then growing upon a certain estate, upon trust, inter alia, to secure the repayment of the sum advanced with a stipulation that he should cultivate the crop till maturity and deliver it to the other, is a mortgage liable to duty under art. 44 (b) of sch. I of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 8 M. 104, F.B.

(189)—Sch. I, art. 44—See Nos. 46, 123, 152, 159, 176, supra.

(190)—Sch. I, art. 46; sch. II, cl. 2, and ss. 11 and 34—Broker's sold notes on agreement by sale—Cancellation of stamps.—The one anna stamp on one of the sold notes which the broker had given to the plaintiffs in this case was cancelled "by a small portion of the first letter of the defendant's signature consisting of a slightly curved line" and the Court held that "whatever may have been intended by the small ink line upon the right side of the stamp it did not effect such a cancellation of the stamp as prescribed by s. 11 of the Stamp Act. The question also arose for decision whether by cl. 2 of sch. II to the Stamp Act, I of 1879, the documents in this case were exempt from stamp duty. That clause, exempting an agreement or memorandum of agreement "for, or relating to, sale of goods or merchandise exclusively not being a note or memorandum chargeable under art. 46 of sch. I," had the effect of settling it that, where an agreement is contained in a document of the nature of a notice or memorandum chargeable under art. 46 of sch. I. It should be stamped and the rule equally applies whether such agreement is contained in one of such notes or more. S. A. RALLI v. CARAMALLI FAZAL, 14 B. 102. [Appr., 28 B. 432=6 Bom. L.R. 436; R., 2 L.B.R. 103, U.B.R. 1909, Stamp 36].

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(191)—Sch. I, art. 50, cl. (b)—Gift-deed with direction to manitain donor.—A document by means of which property was conferred on the donee with a direction to him to maintain the donor, was held to be not a trust-deed, but an instrument of gift coming under art. 36 of the Act. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, 1879, 12 M. 89.

(192)—Sch. I, art. 50, cl. (b)—Power of attorney.—Where a number of rayats execute a joint document authorising a certain person to receive on their behalf money in which all of them are interested, and sign the refund bill, the document is not a vakalatnama, but a power of attorney and has to bear a one rupee stamp under. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 9 M. 358, F.B.

(193)—Sch. I, art. 50 (b)—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, Sch. II, art. 10 (a), 9 M. 146, F.B.

(194)—Sch. I, art. 52—Receipt granted by Municipality for tax paid exceeding rupees twenty—Stamp duty.—A receipt granted on behalf of a municipal body acknowledging receipt of monies paid in satisfaction of municipal taxes, the amount paid being over twenty rupees, requires a receipt stamp. Such a receipt is an instrument requiring a stamp under Act I of 1879, sch. I, art. 52, unless it comes under sch. II, art. 15 (b), which exempts from stamp duty a receipt for payment of money "without consideration." A receipt for payment of the rates due to a Municipality under the Act constituting it, is one passed on a payment in satisfaction or discharge of a legal obligation imposed by the Act, and not on a gratuitous payment or one "without consideration," within the meaning of sch. II, art. (b), of the Stamp Act I of 1879. In re KARACHI MUNICIPALITY, 12 B. 103.

(195)—Sch. I, art. 52—See No. 47, supra, and No. 198, infra.

(196)—Sch. I, art. 54—Release.—In calculating the stamp due on a document, which is a release, an one anna adhesive stamp with which it is affixed ought to be taken into account. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 50, 15 M. 299, F.B.

(197)—Sch. I, art. 54—See No. 48, supra.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(198)—Sch. I, arts. 54, 52, sch. II, art. 15, cl. (b)—"Receipt" in cl. (17), s. 3—Exemption from stamp-duty—"Consideration" as defined in Contract Act.—To render a document liable to duty as a receipt, it must, upon its face, fall within the definition of "receipt" in cl. 17 of s. 3 of the Stamp Act and also within art. 52 of sch. I; and to exempt it, it must upon the face of it fall within cl. (b) of art. 15 of sch. II. In neither case can resort be had to extrinsic evidence to establish any fact or statement not contained in the document, that is not either expressly stated or to be gathered by necessary implication from its expressed contents. Every document must be judged on its actual contents as it is, and not on its contents as they might have been stated consistently with facts which are not disclosed although existent. The definition of "consideration" in the Contract Act is not necessarily a definition for all purposes, including that of the Stamp Act, though it may be a useful guide to ascertain its meaning for the purpose last mentioned; and whether a particular thing is a "consideration" for a payment within the meaning of the Stamp Act, must be determined with reference to the thing itself, rather than to the capacity of the parties to the payment to contract upon that basis, or the sufficiency of such thing to support a contract. Services rendered by a counsel to his client are a "consideration" although the counsel and client be incapable of entering into a valid contract, and a receipt given by the former to the latter requires a stamp as it is not exempt under s. 15 (b), sch. II, of the Stamp Act. REFERENCE UNDER S. 46 OF THE INDIAN STAMP ACT I OF 1879, 85 P.R. 1885, F.B. (20 P.R. 1874, Cited) [Diss., 15 P.R. 1897, F.B., Cr.]

(199)—Sch. I, art. 57—Settlement—Stamp duty.—The term, "as set forth in such settlement," in art. 57 of sch. I of the Stamp Act, do not refer to the property settled, but to the value of the property settled; and therefore the stamp duty payable on a settlement is, the value of the property settled, which should be set forth in the settlement. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 8 M. 453, F.B.

(200)—Cl. 60, sch. I—Application of—Assignment—Lease—Stamp.—Where an assignment of rights created by certain leases is a conveyance and is also a transfer under cl. 60, the stamp duty leviable on it is regulated by the provisions of that clause. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 5 M. 15, F.B.

(200-a)—Sch. I, art. 60—See No. 169, supra.

(201)—Sch. II, I (b)—Affidavit for immediate purpose of being used or filed in Court, exempt from stamp duty.—An affidavit in support of an application for copies, stating that they were needed for presentation in a certain suit against the applicant, is exempt from stamp duty. The question depends on the construction of the words of Act I of 1879, sch. II (b) "for the immediate purpose of being used or filed in any Court, or before the officer of any Court."

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

When a statute requires that something shall be done 'forthwith' or immediately, it should be regarded as allowing a reasonable time for doing it. The test in such cases, therefore, is whether, under the particular circumstances, there was any such unreasonable delay as would be consistent with what is meant by "immediate." From the examination of the dates in the present matter, the Court inferred that, at the time the affidavit was made, the purpose existed of filing it in a Court, and this purpose was carried out promptly. The affidavit was therefore liable to no stamp duty by reason of the said sch. II, I (b) of Act I of 1879. In re THE APPLICATION OF SESHAMMA, 12 B. 276. [F., 30 B. 275=7 Bom. L.R. 697.]

(202)—Sch. II, art. 2—Exemption—Agreement for the sale of goods.—The test, as to whether a document falls within the exemption or not, is to see whether the document evidences only a transaction of sale or a sale and some other independent transaction, and if the former, the number of subsidiary stipulations it may contain cannot alter the nature of the transaction. KYD v. MAHOMED, 15 M. 150. [R., 36 C. 736.]

(203)—Sch. II, cl 2 (a)—Agreement relating to the sale of goods.—The exemption in—covers the case of a document which purports to be an agreement to sell goods, the price to be paid one month after the execution of the agreement, and the goods to be at the risk of the purchaser on the execution of the agreement, and the goods to be at the risk of the purchaser on the execution of the document. If goods not removed as stipulated, it was agreed they should become the property of the seller. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 10 M. 27, F.B.

(204)—Sch. II, art. 2 — See No. 190, supra.

(205)—Sch. II, art. 12 (b)—Security-bond for due accounting for "property" received by virtue of office.—Bond executed by the sureties of an officer of Government to secure the due execution of his office and the due accounting by such officer of "public monies, deposits, notes, stamp papers, postage labels, or other property" of Government committed to his charge. Per Stuart, C.J.—The words "other property" must be taken to mean property of the same kind as previously mentioned, and therefore, money or the like of money; the bond is therefore exempt from stamp duty under art. 12 (b) of sch. II of the Stamp Act. Per Oldfield, J.—The bond is exempt from stamp duty as the words, "the due accounting for money," "the due accounting for property," are mere surplusage, being the same thing as the due execution of his office. Per Spankie, J. and Straight, J.—The words in art. 12 (b) are not mere surplusage. The Legislature has drawn a distinction between the due execution of an office and the due accounting for money received by virtue thereof. The bond in question, being one for the due accounting for property, is not exempt from stamp duty. REFERENCE BY THE BOARD OF REVENUE, N.W.P., 3 A. 788, F.B.=A.W.N. 1881, 74.

Stamp Act (I of 1879)—continued.

(206)—Sch. II, art. 13, cl. (b)—Lease executed by cultivator, when exempt from stamp duty.—The provisions in cl. (b) art. 13, sch. II of Act I of 1879, exempt all leases executed in the case of a cultivator without the payment or delivery of any fine or premium, whatever the reserved or annual rent may be, provided it be for a definite term not exceeding one year, and also whatever the term may be, provided the annual rent reserved does not exceed Rs. 100. In re BHAVAN BADHAR, 6 B. 691, F.B.

(207)—Sch. II, art. 13 (b)—Lease for planting cocoanut trees—If lessee a cultivator.—A person who takes a lease of land for planting cocoanut trees is, in respect of that occupation, a "cultivator" within the meaning of art. 13 (b) of sch. II of the Stamp Act (I of 1879). A lease given by him is exempted from stamp duty if the annual rent reserved does not exceed Rs. 100. RAMACHANDRA VIASUDEVSHET v. BABAJI KUSAJI, 15 B. 73.

(208)—Sch. II, No. 13 (b) & (c)—"Cultivator"—Lease granted to a cultivator—Exemption from stamp-duty.—The term "cultivator" in No. 13, Sch. II of the Stamp Act, connotes only those persons who actually cultivate the soil themselves, or who cultivate it by members of their household, or by their servants, or by hired labour, and with their own or hired stock, in other words, the class of husbandmen or actual agriculturists; but not farmers, middlemen or lessees, even though cultivation may be carried on to some extent by such persons in area covered by their lease. Therefore, where the land, the subject of a lease was for a large part not cultivable or susceptible of being treated as a cultivator's holding in any legitimate sense of the word, held that the lease was not exempt from stamp duty. STAMP REFERENCE, 5 A. 360=A.W.N. 1883, 113. [D., 15 B. 73.]

(209)—Sch. II, art. 13, cl. (c)—Lease of salt-pans, counterpart of—Stamp duty.—A counterpart of a lease of salt-pans not purporting to be the counterpart of a lease granted to a cultivator is not exempted from stamp duty by cl. (c) of art. 13 of sch. II of the Indian Stamp Act (1 of 1879). MANJUNATH MANGESHAYA BAINDUR v. MANGESH SHASHAGIRIAPA GOKARNKAR, 18 B. 546, F.B.

(210) — Sch. II, art. 13 — See No. 184, supra.

(211)—Sch. II, art. 15.—Receipt passed by connsel for fees, not chargeable with stamp duty.—A barrister's fee for services in litigation being, in the eye of law, a gratuity or honorarium, a receipt executed by counsel in favour of his client who has paid him a fee for professional services (the amount exceeding Rs. 20), is not chargeable with duty under the Stamp Act (I of 1879)—concluded.

Indian Stamp Act. STAMP REFERENCE FROM THE BOARD OF REVENUE N.W.P. AND O. 16 A. 132, F.B. = A.W N. 1894, 12. [R., 25 A. 509 = 23 A.W.N. 104.]

(212)—Sch. II, art. 15 (a)—Receipt—Endorsement of payment on mortgage bond.—An endorsement on a mortgage bond acknowledging the receipt of the sum secured by the instrument, is exempt from stamp duty under sch. II, art. 15 (a). REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s. 46, 10 M. 64, F.B. [R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 732.]

(213)—Sch. II, art. 15 (b)—Receipt given by Secretary of Club to member for club bill.—A receipt in writing, given by the Secretary or other Manager of a club to a member, acknowledging a payment in amount above Rs. 20, is liable to a receipt stamp. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s. 46, 10 M. 85, F.B.

(214)—Sch. II, art. 15—See Nos. 49, 198, supra.

Stamp Act (II of 1899).

[AM. (IN LOWER BURMA)- ACT VI OF 1900, S. 47. Ss. 2, 26, 29 (a), 40 (b), 56 (1), SCH. I AM., S. 23 A, ADDED., ACT XV OF 1904. S. 2 (19) REP. IN PT., SS. 11, 29, 30, 32, 35, 40, 41, 51, 69, 74 AM., SCH. I, ARTS. 24, 41, 47, 53 AM., ACT V OF 1906. DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3. DECLARED NOT TO EXTEND TO THE HILL DISTRICTS OF ARAKAN, REG. II OF 1901.]

(1)—Award of lugyis—Instrument of partition — Unstamped document — Stamp duty and penalty not tendered in Original Court—Admission of document by appellate Court.—Where the stamp duty and penalty on an award by lugyis, which fell under the description of "instrument of partition" as defined in the Indian Stamp Act, 1899—was not tendered in the Original Court, an appellate Court could not admit the document in evidence even if the stamp and penalty had been tendered. (4 C. 213, F.) Whether registration was requisite is open to doubt. MA SHWE KYAW v. MA BOK GALE, 1 L. B. R. 84.

(2)—S. 2—See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT, 1881, s. 4, 4 O.C. 318.

(3)—S. 2 (5)—Bond — Promissory note — Stamp.—An instrument evidencing an unconditional agreement to pay a certain sum of money only, the payment not being expressed to the bearer thereof and the name of the payee being not apparent on the face of it, must be treated as a bond and should be stamped as such. LALA v. BHAGA, 3 Bom. L.R. 699.

(4)—S. 2 (5), (b)—Bond—Promissory Note.—The suit was based on a document executed by defendant to plaintiff bearing an one-anna stamp and attested by two witnesses. It was for money received and not payable to bearer or order. Held, the document was a bond and not a promissory note and it was liable to stamp-duty as a bond. VENKU v. SITARAM, 29 B 82 = 6 Bom. L.R. 841.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(5)—S. 2 (5) (c)—Bond—Agreement of sale between two merchants—Attestation.—An ordinary agreement for a sale of cotton between two merchants, when attested by a witness, becomes a bond within the meaning of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899. In re RALLI BROS., 8 Bom. L.R. 234.

(6)—S. 2 (5) (c)—Promissory note—Attestation.—Under the Stamp Act, a promissory note unless it is payable to order or bearer, is to be deemed a bond if attested. R. D. SETHNA v. MIRZA MAHOMED SHIRAZI, 9 Bom. L.R. 1034.

(7)—S. 2 (5) (c)—Cheque—Post-dated.—A post-dated banker's cheque is available in the hands of its holder and is admissible in evidence with only a one anna stamp. MOTILAL v. JAGMOHANDAS, 6 Bom. L.R. 699.

(8)—S. 2 (7)—Negotiable Instruments Act (XXVI of 1881) s. 5—Cheque—Receipt—Instrument purporting to receive money from bank and specifying name of messenger.—An instrument which purports to receive a sum of money from the saving account of a depositor with a bank and specifies the name of the messenger who is to receive payment is only a receipt and is not liable to stamp duty as a cheque. In re STAMP ACT, 38 P.L.R. 1912 = 13 Ind. Cas. 330 = 184 P.W.R. 1912. (17 B. 684, D.)

(9)—S. 2, cl. (10), art. 62, cl. (b)—Contract, assignment of— Chose in action.—A document, which assigned the benefit of a contract to the plaintiff, contained the words: "I have sold the whole of my right and interest in this contract and in the goods mentioned therein to the plaintiff:" Held, that the document was a chose in action and therefore came under s. 2, cl. (10) of the Stamp Act, and that an ad valorem stamp would be necessary: NATHU v. HANSRAJ, 9 Bom L.R. 119.

(10)—S. 2 (15)—Instrument of partition—Release— Stamp.—In a joint Hindu family consisting of three brothers, one of them first agreed to take, in lieu of his share in the family property moveable and immoveable, a certain amount in cash and certain securities for money in the form of bonds securing debts due to the family; and executed a document in the form of a release in favour of the eldest brother. On the next day, the other brother passed to the same eldest brother a document in the form of a release, whereby he and the eldest brother divided the remaining family property by the latter handing over to him securities for money: Held that the first document was an instrument of partition, as defined by s. 2 (15), Stamp Act, 1899, for its effect was to divide the property of the three co-owning brothers between the executant on one side and the two brothers on the other. Held that the second document also amounted to an instrument of partition, as by the same the two remaining co-owners divided their property in severalty. In re GOVIND PANDURANG KAMAT, 12 Bom. L.R. 936 = 8 Ind. Cas. 632.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(11)—S. 2 (15)—Instrument of partition—Stamp.—Lists of money bonds and lands prepared by members of a joint Hindu family indicating what portion has gone to the share of each at a private partition whereafter they begin to live separately, are to be deemed instruments of partition within the meaning of s. 2, cl. 15, of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899. GANPAT KRIPARAM v SUPDU KRIPARAM, 10 Bom. L.R. 778=32 B. 509.

(12)—S. 2 (15)—Instrument of partition—Award directing a partition—Stamp.—An award whereby the arbitrators indicate the division of property among the rival litigants is an instrument of partition within the meaning of s. 2, cl. 15 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899. KALIDAS v. TRIBHUWANDAS, 8 Bom. L.R. 869=31 B. 68.

(13)—S. 2 (15)—Instrument of partition—Decree made in accordance with a Commissioner's report—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 396.—A decree passed, under s. 396 of the Civ. Pro. Code, in accordance with a Commissioner's report, is a final order for effecting a partition passed by a Civil Court, and must, therefore, be stamped as an instrument of partition. BALARAM v. RAMKRISHNA, 7 Bom. L.R. 308=29 B. 366.

(14)—S. 2 (15)—Partition deed—Deed for the dissolution of partnership—Stamp.—Where the partners in a partnership business by a deed divide between themselves certain debts of the firm to be collected and appropriated, but remain joint regarding the other items of business, the deed must be construed as a partition deed and not as a deed for the dissolution of partnership, for the purposes of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899. CHOTURAM v. GANESH, 3 Bom.L.R. 132.

(15)—S. (2), cl. 17—Trust-deed for securing mortgage debentures—Stamp duty.—A document was endorsed as a "trust-deed for securing mortgage debentures" and was executed for the purpose of securing money to be advanced by way of loan. It was argued, on behalf of the executants of the deed, that it cannot be regarded as a mortgage-deed, because it did not itself purport to transfer to, and vest in, the trustees any interest in the properties specified in the document. Held that, as the trustees were given the right to have the properties vested in them, to be held by them as trustees for the debenture-holders and as security for the amount to be advanced on the debentures, and as they were given the usual rights of entry, taking possession and management, which mortgagees and trustees for debenture-holders are usually given, the deed created rights over the properties in favour of the trustees, and was mortgage deed under the definition in s 2 (17), Stamp Act. STAMP ACT, In re, 4 L.B.R. 2, F.B. (27 C. 587, R.)

(16)—S. 2 (21)—Power of attorney.—An instrument which authorizes a person to receive certain money and sign a receipt, but which does not empower him to do so in the name of the person executing the instrument, does not amount to a power of attorney. TRIBHOWAN v. PANDURANG, 3 Bom. L. R. 697.

(17)—S. 2 (22)—Promissory Note—Bond.—Held. that a document in the following terms was a promissory note as defined in s. 2 (22) of the Stamp Act and not a bond. "Rs. 37 "which remain due to be paid, to be paid to "Gurditta According to this receipt, thirty "seven rupees. To be paid in two or three days. "To be paid by Dhanna Singh, Bazaz, 10th "Poh Sambat 1954—Written by Das Mal, "Wadhawa, at the dictation of Dhanna Singh, "Stamp affixed—Signed by Dhanna Singh with "his own pen." GURDITTA MAL v. DHANNA SINGH, 3 P.L.R. 1902=14 P.R. 1902, F. B. [R., 93 P.R. 1902, F.B.]

(18)—S. 2, (23)—Meaning of term "receipt" in—Certificate to the effect that a premium on an insurance policy has been paid, issued for the purpose of supporting a claim to exemption from income-tax not a receipt.—The meaning of the terms "acknowledged" and "acknowledgment" used in s 2, sub division 23, of the Stamp Act must be limited to documents given to or issued for the benefit of the debtor, acknowledging to him the payment of money etc., or delivery of goods, in discharge or satisfaction of his debt or the demand upon him. Obviously it could not have been intended that every acknowledgment of payment of a debt should be chargeable with stamp duty. For instance it is not to be supposed that the Legislature contemplated that a letter written by one friend to another stating that he had received payment of a debt from some third person must be stamped with an anna stamp. Accordingly a certificate to the effect that a premium on an insurance policy has been paid issued for the purpose of supporting a claim to exemption from income-tax on the amount paid and not primarily intended for use as evidence of payment between the policy-holder and the insurance company is not a receipt, and is therefore exempt from stamp duty. ANONYMOUS, 2 L.B.R. 30. (Rex v. James Harvey, 1812, Russell and Ryan, 227; 4 C. 829. 11 C. 267, R.)

(19)—Ss. 2, 7, sch. I, art. 47-A—Construction—Bills of lading by Inland River Steam Navigation Company—Case of company taking risk.—An Act of this nature must be construed strictly. Bills of lading by Inland River Steam Navigation Company for goods consigned with them at one place for being delivered at another are bills of lading within the meaning of the Stamp Act (1899), and as such are liable to stamp duty under that Act (Sewell v. Burdick (1884), L.R. 10 App. Cas. 74, R.) The fact that they do not relate to the carriage of goods by a sea-going in vessel, but to Inland Navigation only, cannot alter the nature and character of the documents. Where, in consideration of an increased payment, a company takes all risk respect to the carriage of goods sent on a sea voyage, this fact does not render the deed liable to stamp duty as a sea policy. REFERENCE UNDER THE STAMP ACT OF 1899, 30 C. 565.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(20)—Ss. (2) and (22)—Bond, Promissory note—Negotiable Instruments Act (VI of 1881), ss. 4 and 5—"Certain person," what it includes.—A document was executed between a person called the "debtor" of the first part, the three persons called the "sureties" of the second part, and a Chetty firm of R.M.A. R.R.M., called the "creditor," which term was to include "the members for the time being of the firm of R. M.A.R.M., their representatives and assigns" of the third part. It recited that a sum of Rs. 36,000 was due irom the debtor to the creditor in respect of monies due on six pro-notes that the debtor had asked the creditor to accept a portion of the sum due, and as to the rest to give time and to receive it on certain dates mentioned in equal instalments, that, in consideration of so doing, the sureties had agreed to join with the debtor in making the payments to the creditor, and that the advance had been received by the creditor. Then there was a promise to pay the creditor the balance on the dates mentioned and to pay interest. The document was in form an agreement and was stamped as such. Held, that, for purposes of the Stamp Act, 1899, it was neither a bond nor a promissory note, and that it was duly stamped as an instrument. As there was absence of certainty with regard to the person or to whose order the money was payable, it is not a promissory note. Under s. 4 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, a "certain" person is one who is capable of being ascertained on the date on which the promissory note is made. So where the sum is made payable on a future date to "the members for the time being" of a specified firm, the instrument is not a promissory note as defined by the Neg. Instr. Act. In re YEO ENG PWA v. CHETTY FIRM OF R. M.A.R.R.M., 5 L.B.R. 102, F.B.=4 Ind. Cas. 293. (8 C. 284, R).

(21)—Ss. 2 (21) 60, sch. I, art. 48 (g)—Document authorising holder to appear and do all acts necessary for execution of decree—Duty chargeable thereon. See POWER-OF-ATTORNEY, 8 A.L.J. 378, F.B.

(22)—Ss. 2 (2) and (3) 67, sch. I, art. 13—Bill of exchange—First of exchange stamped with one anna—Whether stamp duty necessary on second of exchange.—A second of exchange, payable on demand, does not require to be stamped with a stamp of one anna, when the first of exchange has been stamped with a stamp of one anna. In re THE NETHERLANDS TRADING SOCIETY, 4 L.B.R. 320, F.B.

(23)—S. 2 (14) and sch. I, art. 5 (b)—Letter containing statement of a credit entry in writer's accounts with rate of interest, and a promise to repay same with interest—Memorandum of agreement—Instrument—Liability to pay duty.—Held (Ormond, J., dissenting) that a letter, acknowledging the receipt of a certain sum of money, as having been borrowed, two months before, for particular period and at a particular rate of interest and stating that the loan had been duly entered in the writer's books and that it will be repaid with interest on the due date, was an "instrument," as defined in s. 2 (14) of the Stamp Act, 1899, and was chargeable as a memorandum of agreement, under art. 5 (b) of the first schedule to the Act, with a duty of 8 annas. In re V R S.A.R. RAMAN CHETTY, 4 L.B.R. 324=14 Bur. L.R. 292. (13 M. 255, R.)

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(24)—S. 2 (5) (b), sch. I, arts. 1 and 15—Acknowledgment—Bond.—Held, by the Full Bench, that the following entry in the books of account of the plaintiff being an acknowledgment of a debt signed by the debtor, and attested by witnesses, was chargeable with stamp duty as a bond and not as an acknowledgment: —Lekha paya Ganda, beta Suiana da, Suhela beta Sujana da, Miti Jeth Sudi 13, Sal 1957, Ticket 1 anna. Rs. 948 baqui lene Ganda pason: Suhela pason, biaj saikra da Rs. 1. robkari Jhaba Singh. beta Bure da, robkari Mehtab Singh, beta Sarup Singh da. Nishani Ganda di nishani Suhela di. (Mohr) Roda, Lambardar. Zubani Suhela di, Ganda di zubani. DAULA v. GANDA, 101 P.L.R. 1903, F.B.=35 P.R. 1903. [R., 102 P.R. 1905, 102 P.R. 1908, 119 P.R. 1908.]

(25)—S. 2 (5) (b) arts. 6, 15, 62—Bond—Agreement to lend money—Transfer of mortgage.—The transaction comprised in a document, consisted of a transfer of mortgage by one S to the A company, and an agreement inter alia that the company should lend money at the request of S, for making improvements, additions and repairs to the buildings and machinery of the H Mills up to an unascertained though ascertainable amount, and also such money as might be required for working the said Mills. On the question as to the amount of Stamp duty leviable on the document. Held, that the document was liable to duty as a transfer of mortgage and as an agreement. An agreement to lend money does not create an obligation to pay money within the meaning of s. 2 (5) (b) of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899, and is not chargeable as a bond. THE HITVARDHAK COTTON MILLS CO., LTD v. SORABJI DINSHAW KARAKA, 11 Bom. L.R. 386=33 B. 426=2 Ind. Cas. 432.

(26)—S. 2 (15), sch. I, art. 45—Decree for partition—Stamp required under the General Stamp Act—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. I, rr. 8 (2), 10 (2), (3), (5), 11, 32 C. 483.

(27)—S. 2 (21), sch. I—art. 48—Power of attorney in favour of person not a certificated Mukhtar or Pleader—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), sch. II, art. 10—Value of stamp.—Where a power-of-attorney is executed in favour of a person, who is not a certificated Mukhtar or Pleader under the Legal Practitioners Act, the document should be stamped with the stamp provided for by art. 48 of the Stamp Act, and not with a Court-fee stamp as provided for by art. 10 of sch. II of the Court Fees Act. PERMANAND v. SAT PERSHAD, 9 Ind. Cas. 617.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(28)—S. 2 (23), sch. I, art. 53—Receipt—Consideration — Contract —Payment by one officer of a firm to another for the purposes of the firm, if for consideration.—Certain pay orders in respect of money to be paid to creditors of a firm had been made out by the Accounts Department of the firm, and were sent to the cashier who paid the amount to assistants for payment to the creditors, and the assistants signed their names on the back of the pay orders in acknowledgment of receipt. Held, that the acknowledgments were not liable to stamp duty as receipts for payment with consideration. There was in the circumstances no contract between the cashier and the assistants. In the matter of MESSRS BURN AND CO., 14 C. W.N. 833=6 Ind. Cas. 778=37 C. 634.

(29)—S. 2, cls. (12), (23), art. 53, sch. I, ss. 17, 12, 63—Receipted bill bearing uncancelled adhesive stamp—Stamp duty chargeable.—A document which, on the face of it, purports to be a bill or account of monies due for goods supplied, and contains the words "received payment" and the signature of the persons to whom the money was due, is a document chargeable with stamp duty, the same being a receipt. In the matter of a REFERENCE FROM THE FINANCIAL COMMISSIONER, 1 L.B.R. 281. (9 A. 210, Millen v. Dent, 1847, Q.B. 846, F.)

(30)—S. 2 (24), art. 58 a—Settlement—Stamp—Power exercised under appointment by will—Executors devoting money to charity—Subscriptions gathered by an appeal to public—Declaration of trust as regards subscription.—An instrument declaring trusts of certain funds placed in the hands of trustees for a charitable purpose was engrossed on a stamp paper of Rs. 15. The funds amounting in all to about three lakhs of rupees were derived from two sources. A lakh of rupees was the result of appeals for the charity, and was brought in various amounts by different contributors, who in some instances coupled the amounts with letters expressing their wishes with regard to the money. The remaining two lakhs were provided by the executors of one A H to whom the sum was bequeathed by A H for establishing such a charity as the executors thought fit. A question having arisen whether the stamp was properly valued: Held, (1) that, so far as the fund of one lakh was concerned, no previous disposition had been made in writing of any portion of it, and the instrument recorded by way of declaration of trust the terms of the disposition of the fund, and was, therefore, a settlement within the meaning of s. 2 (24) of the Stamp Act, 1899, and chargeable with duty at eight annas per cent. (2) That, so far as the two lakhs was concerned, the instrument was an appointment chargeable with a duty of Rs. 15 under art. 7, sch. I of the Stamp Act, 1899, inasmuch as the provisions of the will amounted to a disposition for a charitable purpose of the sum, and the executors in appropriating the money were exercising the power of appointment conferred upon them by the will. In re ABDULLA HAJI DAWOOD BOWLA ORPHANAGE, 13 Bom. L.R. 646.

(31)—S. 4—Sale of land — Mortgage of the land sold executed by the purchaser, duty chargeable on.—In answer to a reference to the Full Bench under s. 57 (1) of the Act, it was held, that a document whereby a purchaser transferred to his vendor, by way of mortgage, an interest in the land sold, is not an, 'instrument employed for completing the sale of the property and the deed is, therefore, chargeable with the full amount of duty appropriate to the description of the mortgage under which it comes, specified in art. 40 of sch. I of the Act. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, 1899, No. 12 of 1905, 3 L.B.R. 205, F.B.

(32)—S. 5—Lease deed containing undertaking to renew for further term — Stamp duty—Document relating to distinct matters.—An instrument of lease for a term of three years containing a covenant, on the part of the lessor, to renew the lease at the option of the lessee for a further term of one or two years is chargeable with stamp duty only as a lease for a term of three years. It need not be stamped with the aggregate of the duties payable on a lease for such a term and on an agreement to give a lease for a term of two years. The transaction or matter to which such an instrument relates is single and indivisible and it cannot be treated as relating to two distinct matters within the meaning of s. 5 of the Stamp Act. The instrument contains only one contract, a demise; the option of renewal of the lease is ancillary to it and forms part of the consideration for entering into the lease; and an instrument can be regarded as falling under two distinct categories, each requiring a separate stamp, only where there is what is called a "distinct consideration" for each, and not where there is a unity of consideration. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s. 57, 25 M. 3. [F., 26 M. 473.]

(33)—S. 5—Agreement for mining rights—Agreement with several landholders not having joint interest—Stamp duty payable.—Several landholders not having joint interest in their lands entered into an agreement with a company, giving to the latter a license to prospect and work upon their lands for minerals and undertaking to sell or lease the mining rights in the lands if required by the company. They further undertook not to sell the mining rights to any other person for a number of years and indemnify the company from claims that might be made by any other persons. The question was as to the stamp duty payable on the instrument. Held that the instrument dealt with distinct matters, i.e., with agreements with several persons with regard to their separate property. It did not contain distinct matters with any one landholder. The instrument was chargeable with the aggregate amount of the duties with which separate instruments relating to the same matters would be chargeable. The proper stamp to be affixed in such a case was an eight-annas stamp or as many such stamps as there were separate landholders who were made parties to the agreement. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s. 57, 24 M. 176, F.B.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(33-a)—S. 5—See No. 115, infra.

(34)—Ss. 5, 6, 36, sch. I, arts. 5 and 43—Bought and sold notes—Agreement to refer to arbitration—Stamp duty—Document not duly stamped—Admission by arbitrators—Effect—Arbitration by Bengal Chamber of Commerce—Arbitration Rules VI (g) and (o), X—Scope.—The contract in this case was comprised in bought and sold notes, each signed by the brokers and stamped under art. 43 of the Stamp Act with a stamp of 2 annas. This contract contained a number of conditions one of which constituted the submission to arbitration. Held that the agreement to refer any dispute whatever arising out of the contract to arbitration is a part of the contract itself, and not a 'distinct matter' within the meaning of s. 5 of the Stamp Act, and that the documents together making the contract were not chargeable with duty otherwise than as broker's notes under art. 43 of that Act. (15 M. 150, F.; 13 C.W.N. 63, 13 C.W.N. 297=36 C. 388, Diss.; 19 B. 32, R.) If documents, which were not duly stamped, were admitted and acted upon by the arbitrators, s. 36 of the Stamp Act would prevent such admission from being called in question at any stage of the same proceeding, except under s. 61 of the Act, and an application to file the award of the arbitrators would be a part of the 'same proceeding.' Grammatically speaking, Rule VI of the arbitration rules of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce requires the Registrar, upon the receipt of the application of either party, to proceed to constitute a Court consisting of 2 or more arbitrators, and also, in the case of need, an umpire to adjudicate on the dispute. But, having regard to Rule VI (m) and VI (o), the omission to so nominate an umpire would not be a ground for setting aside or varying the award. The Court will be averse to setting aside or pronouncing as illegal the proceedings of a Tribunal selected by the parties themselves. It certainly should not do so on technical grounds. The fact that the names of the arbitrators were not disclosed to the parties is a state of things contemplated by Rule X of the arbitration rules and can be no objection to the award. Rule VI (g) does not provide that parties may, with the express permission of the arbitrators, appear before them; but the converse, namely, that, they, shall not, without the express permission of the arbitrators, be entitled to appear. The arbitrators may, if they please, invite or permit the parties to appear, but the invitation or permission must come from them; the parties are not entitled to appear or even to ask for such permission. THE BOMBAY COMPANY, LTD. v. THE NATIONAL JUTE MILLS CO., LTD., 39 C. 669=16 Ind. Cas. 153.

(35)—Ss. 5, 12, 13, 14 (=Stamp Act, 1879, ss. 7, 13, 14, 15)-Contract by principal and surety,

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

whether single stamp paper sufficient—Document begun on reverse of impressed stamp—Validity.—A contract of the principal was written first and signed by him on a stamp paper; then commenced the contract of the surety on the same stamp paper and signed by him. Held that the two together constituted but one instrument and were liable to a single stamp duty notwithstanding the apparent separation of the clauses respectively relating to the principal's contract and that of the surety; the contract of the surety being incidental and accessory to that of the principal and in respect of one and the same sum or consideration—the leading object or character of the document being the securing of that sum [R., 13 C.W.N. 815=1 Ind. Cas. 670, 15 P.R. 1910=16 P.W.R. 1910=4 P.L.R. 1910.] A document begun on the reverse of an impressed stamp does not fall within the prohibitory words of ss. 12, 13, 14 of the Act. It is not necessary that the document should commence on any particular side of a stamp paper, the only thing prohibited by the sections being the writing of the document in such a manner as to deface the stamp or to render a second use of the stamp possible. DOWLATRAM HARJI v. VITHO RADHOJI, 5 B. 188, F.B. [R., 13 A. 66.]

(36)—Ss. 5, 35, and sch. I, art. 5 (a)—Agreement by villagers to supply fish in consideration of payment of advance—Whether one contract for sale of goods—Unity of consideration—Agreement relating to distinct matters—Admission of document—Penalty.—Some villagers entered into an agreement to supply fish in consideration of an advance paid. The questions for determination were:—(1) whether the agreement was one relating to sale of goods exclusively; (2) whether there was unity of consideration; and (3) whether the document could be admitted in evidence. Held, (1) that the agreement was not one relating to the sale of goods exclusively, so as to bring it within sch. I, art. 5, Ex. (a) of Act II of 1899; nor (2) was it one comprising or relating to distinct matters within the meaning of s. 5 of Act II of 1899; and (3) that the Court has jurisdiction to admit the document on payment of duty and penalty as provided in s. 35 of Act II of 1899. MARIA JACOB RODRIGUES v. PETER FERNANDU, 5 M.L.T. 135, F.B.=19 M.L.J. 35=2 Ind. Cas. 481.

(37)—Ss. 5, 57—Mining lease—Agreement relating to several lands belonging to different owners—Document how chargeable.—An agreement was entered into for the purpose of mining operations between a company and the owners of several pieces of land. A single agreement was drawn up and the intention was to have it executed by the several land owners, each severally interested in the piece of land mentioned against his name in the schedule annexed thereto. Held that the instrument was chargeable with the aggregate amount of the duties with which separate instruments relating to the same matters would be chargeable. For, agreements with two or more ryots not jointly interested in the same land for the purchase or lease of their lands, were distinct agreements which might give rise to different rights of action by or against the several ryots. In the present instance, the instrument dealt with several distinct matters, i e., with agreements with several persons with regard to their separate property. In re BODY NAIKAN AND BEST AND CO., 10 M.L.J. 378, F.B.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(38)—S. 5 and sch. I, art. 35—Lease concurred to by persons other than lessor, if multifarious document.—B, to whom A had agreed for a certain price to transfer the mining rights in a certain property for a priod of 999 years, subject to the payment of certain rents and royalties, agreed to transfer those rights to C, subject to the same conditions as to rents and royalties, but for an increased price. To carry this last agreement into effect, a lease was executed, but concurrence of A amongst others was obtained to it: Held, that the instrument was a single lease and liable to stamp duty as such. It was not a multifarious document within the meaning of s. 5 of the Stamp Act embodying two leases. The concurrence, which it was thought proper to obtain of several persons other than the lessor, did not alter the character of the lease or the nature of the transaction. In the matter of PARASEA COLLIERIES, LD. 14 C.W.N. 861=6 Ind. Cas. 762=37 C. 628.

(39)—S. 5, arts. 40 (b), 57 (b)—Deed of mortgage executed by mortgagor, mortgagee and surety—Stamp duty payable—Test to ascertain proper duly.—Held, that an instrument of mortgage securing the re-payment of a loan of Rs. 2,000, under which both the mortgagor and surety jointly and severally undertake liability in respect of the loan, and under which it would be competent to the creditor to claim the money from either the mortgagor or the surety, is correctly stamped, if it bears a ten-rupees stamp as a mortgage-deed, within the meaning of art. 40 (b) and s. 5 of the Act, and need not bear in addition a five-rupee stamp as also falling under art. 57 (b). (5 B. 188, F.B., Rel.; 10 B. 47, D.) The test under the Stamp Act is not whether the instrument embodies distinct contracts, but whether it comprises distinct matters. In re STAMP DUTY LIABLE ON A CERTAIN DEED EXECUTED BY M. GHULAM HAIDAR AND ABDUL LATIFF IN FAVOUR OF THE PUNJAB BANKING CO., LTD., PESHAWAR. 15 P.R. 1910, F.B.=16 P.W.R. 1910=4 P.L.R. 1910=5 Ind. Cas. 812. (102 P.R. 1895, F.)

(40)—S. 6—See No. 34, supra, and No. 115, infra.

(41)—S. 7—See No. 19, supra,

(42)—S. 9, cl. 15—Final order effecting partition—Chargeable with stamp duty—As in instrument of partition—Order—Chargeable—Only if final—Final order—To be passed—After share of each is ascertained—Final order—Analogy—Order under s. 265, Civ. Pro. Code.—Where the decree effects an actual partition of the property among the parties and is therefore the final order in the suit effecting partition, it is chargeable with duty as an instrument of partition. To make an order chargeable under the section (Stamp Act, 1899, s. 9, cl. 15) it must effect an actual division. A final order allotting specified property to each co-sharer should be passed only after the Court has determined the share of each (32 C. 483, F.). Further proceedings on such a final order will merely lie for delivery of possession. Such a final order is analogous to the one passed by the Collector under s. 265 of the old Civ. Pro. Code. THIRUVENGADATHAN AIYA v. MANGAYYA, 2 M.W.N. 1911, 516.

(43)—S. 9, cl 15—Final order, meaning of—Final decree or order in execution.—"Final order" in s. 9, cl. 15 of the Stamp Act, cannot be read to mean final decree. It applies to some order of the Civil Court passed in execution. SESHACHALAM PILLAI v. ALWAR CHETTY, 2 M.W.N. 1911, 515.

(44)—S. 12—Stamp—Promissory note—Stamp not cancelled—Evidence of consideration for debt aliunde admissible.—Plaintiff sued for the recovery of a loan secured by a promissory note. When the promissory note was produced in Court, it was found that the stamp on it had not been cancelled, and it was therefore treated as an unstamped document and the Court refused to allow other evidence to be given of the debt. Held, that the evidence of the debt was admissible aliunde. When a cause of action for money is once complete in itself, whether for goods sold or money lent or for any other claim, and the debtor then gives a bill or note to the creditor for payment of the money at a future time, the creditor, if the bill or note is not paid at maturity, may, always as a rule, sue for the original consideration, provided that he has not endorsed or lost or parted with the bill or note under such circumstances as to make the debtor liable upon it to some third person. BANARSI PRASAD v. FAZAL AHMED, A.W.N. (1906), 9=3 A.L.J. 25=28 A. 298. (7 C. 256, F.).

(45)—S. 12—Stamp—Mode of cancellation of adhesive stamp.—A person who cancels an adhesive stamp affixed to a document does so sufficiently if he writes his name across it. It is not necessary that he should also date the stamp. KIRPA RAM v. BARU MAL, A.W.N. 1906, 95=3 A.L.J. 326.

(46)—S. 12—Adhesive stamp, cancellation of—Adhesive stamp, lines drawn on, effect of—Burden of proof of consideration.—Where the stamp on a pro-note or a receipt was cancelled by having lines drawn across it in different directions, each line extending more or less beyond the edges of the stamp on to the paper on which the document was written, held, that the adhesive stamps on the document in question had been cancelled in a sufficiently effectual manner. The question whether the requirements of law about the cancellation of stamp had or had not been sufficiently complied with was to be determined upon the examination of the document concerned in each particular case. (108 P.R. 1908, Appr.) Held further, that, when a document is admitted in evidence, and its execution either admitted by the defendant or proved against him and the receipt of consideration acknowledged therein, the burden would lie upon the defendant to prove the want of consideration. MOHAMMAD AMIR MIRZA BEG v. BABU KEDAR NATH, 15 O.C. 58=15 Ind. Cas. 202.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(47)—S. 12 (3)—Act I of 1879, s. 11—Stamp—Cancellation — Receipt stamp. — The mere drawing of two parallel lines over a receipt stamp, affixed to an instrument, does not amount to its cancellation either under s. 11 of the Stamp Act of 1879, or s. 12 (3) of the Stamp Act of 1899. VIRABHADRAPA v. BHIMAJI, 6 Bom.L.R. 436=28 B. 432.

(48)—S. 12—See Nos. 29, 35, supra.

(49)—Ss. 12, 35—Hundi—Stamps not properly cancelled—Inadmissibility in evidence—Proof of debt aliunde.—Where the stamps on a hundi were not properly cancelled as required by s. 12 of the Stamp Act. Held, that the hundi is not admissible in evidence. (28 B. 432, R.) Where the plaint is drawn in sufficiently wide terms, and though it is possible that there may be some defence on the merits, the lower Court ought not to refuse to take evidence, apart from the hundi, as to the existence of the debt. PEOPLE'S BANK OF INDIA, LIMITED v. ABDUL KARIM, 18 P.R. 1912=65 P.W.R. 1912=15 P.L.R 1912=14 Ind. Cas. 512. (28 B. 432, 66 P.R. 1906, 26 A. 178, 28 A. 298, R.)

(50)—Ss. 12, 35, 36—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s 562—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), O. XLI, rule 23—Remand—Appeal against order of—Hundi—Stamp not cancelled—Document indexed but not admitted in evidence.—Where, in a suit filed in August, 1908, a remand was made under s 562 of the old Civ. Pro. Code. Held, that the course of appeal was regulated by the old Code and not by the new Code. (12 P.R. 1900=P.L.R. 1900, 63, F.) Where a document has been marked as an exhibit without any note on it to the effect that it has been admitted in evidence, and there is nothing to show that its treatment as evidence in the case was otherwise than tentative. Held, that objection could be raised as to its admissibility at any later stage of the suit, on the ground that it was not properly stamped. (12 M.L.J. 351, D.) A hundi, the stamp on which was not cancelled at the time of its execution, is not admissible in evidence. SUNDAR DAS v. THE PEOPLES BANK OF INDIA, LTD., RAWALPINDI BRANCH, 169 P.L.R. 1912=272 P.W.R. 1912=16 Ind. Cas. 834.

(51)—Ss. 12, 35, 36, 61—Promissory note bearing uncancelled stamp.—A promissory note bearing a stamp not cancelled as required by law is inadmissible in evidence under s. 35 of the Indian Stamp Act. A Court which gives a decree on such a document acts contrary to law. (14 B. 102, 18 B. 369, F.) Reading ss. 35, 36 and 61 together it appears that s. 36 applies to instruments which may be admitted in evidence under the provisos to s. 35, and to instruments which a Court holds to be not liable to duty, but the absolute provisions of the main part of s. 35 are not affected by s. 36, and if a Court admits and acts on an unstamped document which cannot under any circumstances be admitted and acted upon, s. 36 does not prevent a superior Court from dealing with the illegality. MAUNG BA KYWAN v. MA KYE KYEE, 2 L.B.R. 103. [Diss., U.B.R. 1909, Stamp, 3.]

(52)—Ss. 12 (3), 36, 61—Drawing two lines across the face of an adhesive stamp—Effect—Appellate Court's power to question admissibility of document admitted by Court of first instance.—It seems that the drawing of two lines across the face of an adhesive stamp on a document amounts to such cancellation as is required by s. 12 (3) of the Indian Stamp Act. (28 B. 432, 6 Bom.L.R. 436, doubted). Where a document, on which a suit is brought, is filed with the plaint, and is admitted in evidence in the first Court without demur or objection, held, that objection to its inadmissibility cannot, under the circumstances of the case, be raised in the appellate Court. (139 P. R. 1890, 2 P.R. 1891, 24 B. 360, R.) No order with regard to the stamp having been made in this case by the Court of first instance, s. 61 of the Act is inapplicable. PIRAN DITTA v. MANGAL SINGH, 108 P.R. 1908=207 P.W.R. 1908.

(53)—S. 13—See No. 35, supra.

(54)—S. 14—See No. 35, supra.

(54)—S. 17—Stamped—Duly stamped—Post-dated cheque.—The term "stamped" in s. 17 of the Indian Stamp Act (II of 1899) means stamped not only with a stamp of the amount required by law but also in the manner prescribed by law. MOTILAL v. JAGMOHANDAS, 6 Bom. L.R. 699.

(55)—S. 17—Reg. XVIII of 1827, ss. 13, 14—Post stamped bond—Representatives of grantor of bond—Third parties—Practice—Mofussil Judge—Rulings of High Court.—A bond stamped after the grantor's death is valid against his heir. The personal representatives or other persons claiming as kindred of one deceased grantor occupy, for the purposes of Reg. XVIII of 1827, the same position which the deceased would have occupied had he been alive. It is not correct to say that such representative or kindred of the deceased is a third party within the meaning of the Regulation. According to English law, the executors or administrators of a deceased person are implied in himself, and so far at least as regards the enactment in Reg. XVIII of 1827, the same rule applied to personal representatives of a deceased Hindu or Muhammadan. [F., 5 B.H.C.A.C. 217.] When there has been a uniform series of decisions by the higher appeal Court extending over a number of years, great injury to litigants will arise if the Courts in the mofussil do not hold themselves bound by these decisions, although it is of course competent to any mofussil Judge who may dissent from the established ruling, to record when he deems it necessary, the reasons, which lead him to dissent, but leaving it to the higher appellate Court to reconsider its former rulings. It is not proper on the part of the muffusil Judge to depart from the precedents of the higher Court, of his own accord. RAGHIA v. DHRMA JHATU, 1 B.H C. 52.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(56)—S. 17—See No. 29 supra.

(57)—S. 22—See No. 20, supra.

(58)—S. 23—Promissory note—Acknowledgment containing a promise to pay on demand—Stamp.—An acknowledgment containing an express promise to pay the principal with interest on demand, amounts to a promissory note and should be stamped as such. MATHURBHAI v. DALPAT, 3 Bom. L.R. 839.

(59)—S. 23—Bond—Principal — Interest — Stamp duty.—A bond secured an amount of Rs. 10 as principal money : and as regards interest the bond provided that "interest on this sum amounts to Rs. 2-8-0." Held that the bond should be stamped as for Rs. 10 (ten) only ; and that the provision about interest should be left out of consideration for the purposes of Indian Stamp Act, 1899. VITHU v. NATHU, 3 Bom. L.R. 133.

(59-a)—S. 23—See Nos. 112, 113, 121, infra.

(60)—S. 24 — Mortgage — Sale — Stamp.—Where a mortgaged property is sold to the mortgagee along with other property not mortgaged, the stamp on the deed of sale need not cover the mortgaged property. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, II OF 1899, 4 Bom. L.R. 430.

(61)—S. 24 — Explanation—Proviso— Mortgagee.—The benefit provided by proviso to explanation to s. 24 enures also for the benefit of the assignee of a mortgagee. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, 5 Bom. L.R. 523.

(62)—S. 24—Mortgage deed—Exemption from duty, when allowable—Statute imposing burden, construction of, in whose favour—Exemption, construction of, in whose favour.—The proviso to s. 24 of the Indian Stamp Act (II of 1899) contemplates that, to entitle the mortgagor to a deduction thereunder, the property transferred should be identical with that mortgaged and should not merely form a portion thereof. An enactment imposing a burden requires a strict construction in favour of the subject, but an exemption must be strictly construed in favour of the State. In re NIRABA, In re LUXMAN AND GANPAT, 29 B. 203=6 Bom.L.R. 844.

(63)—S. 24, has no connection with question of liability to registration—See SALE—GENERAL, 3 N.L.R. 72.

(63-a)—S. 24—See No. 121, infra.

(64)—Ss. 24, 25—Art. 63—Sale of leasehold property—Rent reserved not liable to ad valorem duty—Stamp duty leviable only on the actual consideration money.—Where a leasehold property demised to the original lessee for a term of 999 years at the yearly rent of Rs. 39-11-0 was assigned to the trustees of a charity for a sum of Rs. 1,02,000, the trustees undertaking to pay the rent reserved by the lease, held that the ad valorem duty was payable only on the money consideration actually mentioned in the conveyance, i.e., the amount of the purchase-money. In re STAMP ACT, 2 Bom. L.R. 401 =24 B. 257.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(65)—S. 25—See No. 64, supra.

(66)—S. 26, sch. I, arts. 57 (b) and 62 (c)—Stamp duty payable—Security for due fulfilment of duties as Cashier.—An instrument was executed between a firm M, a person R, and another firm M L, and its provisions fell under two heads: Those under the first related to the transfer to M L by M of a mortgage executed by R to an assistant of the firm M and by him formally assigned to M ; and the provisions of the other part related to the accountability to the firm M L of R (who was the Cashier of M.L) in respect of the firm's funds coming to his hands as their Cashier, and constituted a mortgage deed executed as security for the due fulfilment of his duties as Cashier and as security for the repayment of any sum he might be found liable for as Cashier, to an extent not exceeding Rs. 6,000. Held that the first part of the instrument was only the transfer of a mortgage, and as such liable to a fixed stamp duty under art. 62, cl. (c) of sch. I of the Indian Stamp Act, and that the stamp duty payable as to the second part was also a fixed duty (art. 57, cl. (b) of sch. I) and that s. 26 of the Act had no application to the case. Held also, that though there was in the instrument a promise on the part of R to pay M.L. the amount payable by him under the original mortgage, as the sustenance of no part of the claim the firm involved giving effect to the promise, the claim must be held to be unaffected thereby, even if the promise could have been treated as one requiring the payment of an ad valorem duty. MCDOWELL AND CO. v. RAGAVA CHETTY, 27 M. 71.

(67)—Ss. 31, 32, 57—Adjudication by Collector as to duty chargeable on instrument, no "case."—A determination by the Collector, under the powers conferred on him by s. 31 of the Stamp Act, of the stamp duty with which an instrument is chargeable, when it has been duly endorsed on the instrument, is final in respect of the instrument under s. 32 of the Act ; it is not a "case" which can be referred by the Revenue authorities to the High Court under s. 57 of the Act. The word "case" as used in s. 57 means a matter which has to be disposed of by the Revenue authorities conformably to the judgment of the High Court on the case referred to it for opinion by the Revenue authorities. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 57, 25 M. 751. [R., 25 M. 752, F.B.]

(68)—S. 32—See No. 67, supra.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(69)—Ss. 32, 37, 57 and r. 16 of the rules under the Act—Instrument chargeable with duty of one anna—Four quarter-anna stamps affixed—Whether "unstamped" or "not duly stamped"—"Stamp of sufficient amount but of improper description" under r. 16—Validation by Collector—Civil Court's power to revise—Validation pending appeal against order rejecting instrument—Effect—Ground for interference in appeal—Court's duty on finding instrument not duly stamped—Proper course. — When the duty payable on an instrument is one anna, and one anna has been paid to the Government by the purchase of 4 quarter-anna Government stamps of that amount, though not of the description, which under the Act and rules should be used for the instrument in question, then the instrument "bears a stamp of sufficient amount but of improper description," within the meaning of r. 16 of rules under the Stamp Act, and should not be classed as unstamped, though the stamp used, instead of being a wrong description of "revenue stamp" (a term not used in the Stamp Act), happens to be a stamp of some other department of the same Government, whether judicial, postal, forest or telegraph, and such instrument can be validated by the Collector (23 A. 213, F.B., Diss). Except upon a reference under s. 57 of the Stamp Act, 1899, by the Chief Controlling Revenue Authority, a Civil Court has no power to review the correctness of a Collector's certificate. S. 32 of the Act makes the Collector's cerficate final as to the admissibility in evidence of a document, so far as its admissibility depends on its being duly stamped. The effect of the Collector's certificate under ss. 32 and 37 of the Act is that the promissory note in question which originally bore 4 quarter-anna stamps and which was validated, by the Collector pending appeal against a judgment which rejected the document as unstamped, must be deemed to have been duly stamped from the date of its execution. Where a promissory note as the one in question was rejected as unstamped, but is now to be deemed to have been duly stamped as from the date of its execution, the order of the lower Court, though it might have been right when it was passed, is now shown to have been wrong, and is therefore a good ground of appeal against its decision. Where a Court finds that an instrument was not "duly stamped" and that it conld be validated under r. 16, the proper course for the Court would be to give the party a reasonable opportunity of moving the Collector and getting the instrument validated. A lower Court's omission to give such opportunity is a good ground of appeal. TUKARAM v. SONAJI, 7 N.L.R. 26.

(70)—S. 35—Unstamped promissory note, inadmissibility of, in evidence—Suit whether maintainable on the verbal agreement embodied in the note—Admission of execution of a deed is not the same as admission of a liability thereunder.—Plaintiff sued to recover money from the defendant, alleging that defendant had executed a pro-note in his favour on account of rent due, and that, as the said pro-note was not properly stamped, he claimed the same as a debt due under a prior book account. The suit, as based on such account, was admittedly barred by limitation at the date of its institution. It was contended on appeal that the suit was maintainable on two other grounds. viz:—(1) When the pro-note was executed, the defendant had agreed verbally to pay the amount in question on a certain date and that limitation, therefore, began to run from that date. (2) Plaintiff could rely upon defendant's admission of the execution of the pro-note, leaving it to him to prove the repayment of the amount. Held (1) as the oral agreement was, on the same day, embodied in a written agreement (pro-note), the pro-note alone can supply the evidence of the agreement and (24 B. 360 F; 20 P.R. 1883, R.) the latter cannot be proved aliunde (s. 91, Evidence Act); (2) the admission as to the execution of the deed could not be relied on, in respect of the liability thereunder. Under these circumstances, granting plaintiff a decree would be 'acting upon' and giving effect to the pro-note, a document, which under s. 35 of the Stamp Act, could not be admitted and acted upon by a Court for any purpose. GANGA RAM v. AMIR CHAND, 66 P.R. 1906=73 P.L.R. 1907. 18 B. 369, 21 B. 201 F.B. F.)

(71)—S. 35—Duly stamped.—The expression "duly stamped" in s. 35 of the Act refers to the time when the document is tendered in evidence. MOTILAL v. JAGMOHANDAS, 6 Bom. L.R. 699.

(72)—S. 35—Evidence—Account signed but unstamped—Admissibility as admission.—An account signed by the party but not duly stamped showing the balance up to date, and containing a promise to pay interest upon the consolidated balance, cannot be received as evidence in support of a claim to interest on that balance, but, as a samadaskat, or simple admission of the balance then due, it is receivable although not stamped. DHONDU JAGANNATH v. NARAYAN RAMCHANDRA, 1 B.H.C.R. 47. [R., 22 B. 513, 25 B. 616=3 Bom. L.R. 213.]

(73)—S. 35—Unstamped instrument not admissible for any purpose—Secondary evidence.—An instrument, which is chargeable with stamp duty and is not so stamped, is, unlike an invalid instrument which is receivable for collateral purposes, not admissible for any purpose whatsoever, save in Criminal Cases. Secondary evidence of its execution of contents is not receivable, even if it be merely for the purpose of showing the nature of possession transferred by such instrument. THAJI BEEBI v. TIRUMALIAPPA, 17 M.L.J. 308=30 M. 386. [F., 7 Ind. Cas. 320.]

(74)—S. 35—Suit on an unstamped pro-note—Admission of liability by defendant—Decree whether valid.—In a suit based on an unstamped promissory note and not on the original consideration which gave rise to it, no decree should be passed even where the defendant admits liability. KODALI MATHAYA v. TANGOPPALA RAMAYA, 7 Ind. Cas. 320. = 8 M.L.T. 151. (18 B. 369, 30 M. 386, 17 M.L.J. 308, F; 29 M. 111, 15 M.L.J. 484, D.)

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(75)—S. 35—See Nos. 36, 49, 50, 51, supra and No. 115, infra.

(76)—Ss. 35, 36—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O XIII, rr. 1 (2), 3 and 6, 12 M.L.J. 351.

(77)—Ss. 35, 36, 61—Instrument not duly stamped, if admitted into evidence—Admission not to be questioned—Duty of appellate Court when admitted by first Court—Arrears of rent, transfer of-Interest, whether passes to transferee—Abwab—selami and teherir.—S. 61 of the Stamp Act is framed for fiscal purposes, that is to say, for the protection of the Government revenue, and it does not affect the provisions of s. 36, which distinctly provides that, when an instrument has been admitted in evidence, such admission shall not be called in question at any subsequent stage of the suit. Therefore, where a document not duly stamped has been admitted into evidence by the first Court, the appellate Court should regard is as admissible in evidence, and at the same time declare that an extra duty ought to be paid and that that duty and the penalty should be leviable from the person who filed the document, and that that sum might be recovered by the Collector. Where certain arrears of rent are transferred, the interest on them, being a legal incident, also passes to the transferee. A landlord is not entitled to recover such sums as selami wasil baki selami and teherir which are abwabs. SYED BASIR-UD-DIN AHMED v. KALIKA PROSAD SINGH, 7 Ind. Cas. 382. (15 C. 828, 17 C. 726, Rel.)

(78)—Ss. 35, 38, 40, 60—Stamp—Reference to Chief Court, when may be made—Powers of Court as to document not put in evidence—Adjudication by Collector binding on Courts.—The reference under s. 60 of the Act can only be made under the circumstances specified in it. The Judge must feel doubt as to the amount of duty to be paid in respect of any instrument under proviso (a) to s. 35. S. 60 does not deal with a case, where reference has been made to a Collector and his adjudication obtained.—Where a suit is dismissed without being called to hearing, no reference can be made as to a document produced in Court by the plaintiff with his plaint. A Court has no power to overhaul an account-book, produced in a case, for the purpose of putting in evidence an entry contained in it and take action under the Stamp Act in regard to entries not put in evidence. A Court acts without jurisdiction in calling upon a party to produce his account-book in Court and to impound the same, when there is no case before the Court. Under s. 40 (a) of the Stamp Act, the adjudication of the Collector as to the amount of duty chargeable on an instrument is final and cannot be questioned by Courts. The Chief Court declined to entertain the reference, submitted by the

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

District Judge, as made in contravention of the provision of s. 60 of the Stamp Act. MUSSAMMAT JAI DEVI v. GOKAL CHAND, 131 P.L.R. 1906, F. B.

(79)—Ss. 35 (b) and 42—Stamp—Penalty—Unstamped receipt.—In applying proviso (b) of s. 35 of Act II of 1899, the Court should not levy the duty of one anna as well as the penalty of one rupee. And when a receipt is admitted in evidence under the proviso above referred to, it is not necessary that the receipt should be endorsed in the manner provided for in s. 42. REFERENCE UNDER S. 57 OF ACT II OF 1899, 24 A. 374, F.B. = A.W.N. 1902, 72.

(80)—S. 36—Instrument, insufficiently stamped—Admissibility of instrument when not to be questioned—Acknowledgment evidencing a fresh contract.—Held, that an instrument once accepted, rightly or wrongly, in evidence cannot, by reason of the special provisions of s. 36 of the Stamp Act, be challenged on account of deficiency of stamp duty. Where an acknowledgment contained the words " and shall be paid," held, that these words evidence a fresh contract furnishing an independent cause of action. HUMAYUN v. WAJID ALI, 11 O.C. 152. (3 O.C. 195, D.)

(81)—S. 36—Admitted in evidence—Document objected to for want of stamp—Question regarding admissibility reduced to issue—Issue determined at the final decision of the suit—Document in the meanwhile allowed to be exhibited—Mistake of Court—Court to correct its own mistakes suo motu.—In the course of a suit, a document was tendered in evidence; but its admissibility was objected to. An issue was accordingly raised to try the question. The Court postponed its decision until the delivery of the judgment on the whole case, and after evidence recorded on all the issues, including the issue as to the admissibility of the document. In the meantime, the document was exhibited as part of the evidence. In delivering its final judgment, the Court held that the document was inadmissible in evidence. On appeal, the lower appellate Court held that, though the document was inadmissible for want of stamp, yet, as it was as a matter of fact let in and exhibited as a piece of evidence by the Court at the trial, its admissibility could not be objected to at any subsequent stage of the case. Held, (1) that the document should be excluded from the evidence (2) that the party was not bound to ask the Court to correct the mistake. The Court ought to have corrected it suo motu, because the mistake was that of the Court, and the party had nothing to do with it and he had done all he could to get the document excluded. The expression "admitted in evidence" in s. 36 of the Stamp Act, 1899, means the act of letting the document in as part of the evidence; but it must be letting in as a result of judicial determination of the question whether it can be admitted in evidence or not for want of stamp. In other words, the Court admitting it must have applied its mind consciously to the question whether the document is admissible or not. CHUNILAL TULSIRAM v. MULABAI, 12 Bom L.R. 466=6 Ind. Cas. 903.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(82)—S. 36—Stamp on pro-note not duly cancelled—Pro-note admitted in evidence in ex-parte trial—Ex parte judgment set aside—Admissibility in evidence—S. 36, Stamp Act, really lays down a rule preventing only the exclusion of what already is in evidence in the proceedings. But if certain proceedings terminated and other proceedings re-commence where the document would not be regarded as being in evidence already, the section has no application. A suit was at first tried ex parte, at which a pro-note with a stamp not duly cancelled was admitted in evidence. The ex parte judgment was subsequently set aside and proceedings were commenced de novo. Held that its admissibility could be called in question again, after the ex parte proceedings were set aside. It is not possible to lay down any general rule as to what mode of cancellation would be effective. SOLAMALAI MUDALIAR v. VADAMALAI MUTHIRAN, 12 M.L.T. 122=23 M.L.J. 273=16 Ind. Cas. 96.

(83)—S. 36—Reg. X of 1829, s. 3 and sch. A, art. 20—Admissibility in evidence of copy of a sulehamah of 1867 the only evidence of a mortgage—Copy bearing stamp of Re. 1—Presumption regarding stamp on original—Document admitted in evidence—Admissibility not to be questioned on the ground of its not being duly stamped.—In a suit for redemption of a mortgage made in 1857, the only evidence tendered to prove the transaction was a certified copy of a sulenamah. That copy bore a stamp of Re. 1, and the record of the suit in which the original sulenamah was filed having been destroyed, it did not appear what stamp the original bore. The sulenamah was signed by the pleaders and filed in Court. The Court of first instance admitted the copy in evidence, but the lower appellate Court was of opinion that the original sulenamah ought to have been stamped as a mortgage with a ten-rupee stamp, but it could not be presumed to have been so stamped and the copy was therefore inadmissible in evidence. Held, that, the copy having been admitted in evidence by the Court of first instance, no further question as to its admissibility could be raised in appeal, on the ground that it was not duly stamped. Held, further, that there was no presumption under Reg. X of 1829 sch. A, art. 20, that the original document bore the same stamp as the copy, that article only providing that on the copy should be paid " the same duty as prescribed for the original deed" and not "as paid for the original deed." Held, further, that in the absence of any evidence to the contrary, it must be presumed that the Court which accepted the original sulenamah acted according to law, and according to s. 3, Reg. X of 1829, was satisfied that the document was duly stamped before it was placed on the record. ABID HUSSAIN v. ASHAR HUSSAIN, 11 A.L.J. 506=19 Ind. Cas. 445.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(84)—S. 36—See Nos. 34, 50, 51, 52, 76, 77, supra.

(85)—Ss. 36, 38—Impounded instrument admissible in evidence on payment of penalty—Court bound to accept the instrument.—When an instrument, not being one of the excepted instruments in sub-sec. (a) of s. 35 of the Stamp Act, is tendered in Court, the Court is to accept it and shall admit it as evidence on payment of the duty; and the person tendering it is entitled to compel the Court to accept the instrument if the duty and penalty are paid. S. 35 of the Stamp Act does not prevent an instrument which is not absolutely rejected or which comes within the excepted ones, from being admitted on payment of penalty. NATHU v. HANSRAJ, 9 Bom. L.R. 122.

(86)—S. 37—See No. 69, supra.

(87)—S. 37, sch. 1, art. 1—Document stamped with postage stamp instead of receipt stamp—Stamp of improper description, meaning of.—The words 'stamp of an improper description' in s. 37 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899, as well as in the Rules under the Act are not to be interpreted as including a description of stamp appropriate for purposes outside the Stamp Act altogether, but must be confined to a stamp which is used for the purpose of denoting the stamp duty chargeable on an instrument, but which is improper in a particular case having regard to the Act and the Rules. In the case of an acknowledgment, the stamp used must not only be an 'adhesive stamp,' but it must also be a stamp "for indicating the payment of duty" on the instrument under the Stamp Act. So, a postage stamp used in such a case cannot, with reference to the words in s. 37, amount to a stamp of "improper description," but should be regarded as not a stamp at all within the meaning of the Act and Rules. REFERENCE UNDER S. 57 OF ACT II OF 1899, 23 A. 213. F.B.=A.W.N. 1901, 54.

(88)—S. 38—See No. 78, 85, supra.

(89)—S. 40—See No. 78, supra.

(90)—Ss. 40 and 42—Stamped—Effect of Collector's certificate that document is properly stamped.—A subordinate Judge, finding that a document upon which the plaintiff's suit depended was not properly stamped, impounded the document and sent it to the Collector, meanwhile dismissing the plaintiff's suit. The Collector certified under s. 40 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899, that the proper amount of duty and penalty had been realized. Held, that the document then became admissible in evidence and the Court should have taken it into consideration. UMDA BIBI v. TIKAI RAM, A.W.N. (1907) 38=4 A.L.J. 205.

(91)—S. 42—See Nos. 79, 90, supra.

(92)—Ss. 40 and 44—Duty and penalty recovered from person filing documents—Suit against Secretary of State, maintainability of—Certain documents insufficiently stamped.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

were put in evidence by the representatives in interest of the executants. The Collector recovered from the persons filing them, the duty and penalty by sale of their property. Held, that the Collector's order was open to review by Revenue authorities, and no suit lay against the Secretary of State for refund of penalty, realised. Held further, that the persons, who wish a document to be admitted in evidence, are the persons from whom a Collector can realise the duty and penalty, and if it is due from a third person, they can bring a suit and recover it from him. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. BASHARAT ULLAH, 5 A.L.J. 262=A.W.N. 1908, 130 =30 A. 271.

(93)—S. 44—See No. 92, supra.

(93-a)—S. 63—See No. 126, infra.

(94)—S. 52, sch. I, art. 45—Partition-suit—Decree drawn up by mistake on Court-fee stamp—Inherent power of Court—Non-judicial stamp directed to be filed—Refund of value of Court-fee stamp—See PARTITION—GENERAL, 7 Ind. Cas. 94=14 C.W.N. 1101=12 C. L.J. 324.

(95)—S. 57— Certificate by Head quarters Deputy Collector that documents are exempt from duty—Reference by Revenue Board to High Court.—A Sub-Registrar, before whom certain documents were produced for registration, impounded them on the ground that they were chargeable as leases; but the Head-Quarters Deputy Collector, to whom they were forwarded for adjudication of stamp duty, certified that they were exempt from duty. The Inspector-General of Registration, disagreeing with the opinion of the Deputy Collector, referred the matter of the orders of the Board of Revenue, expressing the opinion that the documents were chargeable as agreements under art. 5 (b) of sch. I of the Stamp Act, 1899. The Board of Revenue expressed the view that the documents should be ranked as leases, but referred the question as to stamp duty to the High Court. Held (Sir Arnold White, C.J., dissenting) that the High Cout had no jurisdiction to decide the question. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 57, 25 M. 752.

(96)—S. 57—See Nos. 37, 67, 69, supra.

(97)—S. 60—See Nos. 21, 78, supra.

(98)—S. 61—See Nos. 51, 52, 77, supra.

(99)—S. 62; cl. (b)—Receipt not stamped—If master liable.—Where an unstamped receipt was granted by a person alleged to have been the clerk of a firm, and the sole surviving member of the firm was in consequence accused of an offence under s 62, cl. (b) of the Stamp Act, held that since there was nothing to connect the accused directly with the execution of the receipt, he had not committed any offence. GOLAM HOSSAIN ARIFF v. THE EMPEROR, 8 C.W.N. 378.

(100)—S. 63—See No. 29, supra.

(101)—S. 67—See No. 22, supra.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(102)—Art. 1, sch. I—Document containing memorandum or note of a debt, construction of—Not a promissory note or acknowledgment—Necessity for stamp—Admissibility of document in evidence.—A suit was brought to recover certain amount due on a paper containing the following words:—"Account of (defendants), 8th February, 1901; interest 1 p.c. per mensem, payable 3rd May, 1901, Rs. 500, borrowed from (plaintiff)." The paper was stamped with a stamp of one anna. The lower Court held the paper was inadmissible in evidence on the ground that it was not properly stamped, and refused to allow the plaintiff to give any parol evidence of the debt. Held, the document is not a promissory note; it is not a bond and it is not an acknowledgment of a debt containing a promise to repay the debt or a stipulation to pay interest. It is nothing more than a memorandum or note drawn up between the parties as to a transaction which had just been settled between them. Even if it be an acknowledgment requiring to be stamped, it had been sufficiently stamped. Appeal allowed and suit remanded for disposal on the merits. UDIT UPADHAYA v. BHAWANI DIN, 27 A. 84=A. W.N. 1904, 169=1 A.L.J. 483. [R., A. W. N. 1906, 80=3 A. L. J. 242=28 A. 436, 4 L.B.R. 330=14 Bur. L.R. 287; D., 11 C.W. N. 1122.]

(103)—Art. 1, sch. I—Stamp—Construction of document—Memorandum of account—Acknowledgment of debt—Admissibility of evidence.—The plaintiff sued for the recovery of certain sums of money lent by her deceased husband to the defendants, a firm of bankers, and she produced in support of her claim two documents described in the lower Courts as "sarkhats." These were documents in the form of extracts from bankers' books, showing a credit and debit side and, in one case, a balance struck, but they were not signed by the parties or either of them, and they contained no acknowledgment of, or promise to pay, a debt. They were not stamped. Held that these papers were merely memoranda which might be given in evidence for what they were worth, but did not require to be stamped. DULMHA KUNWAR v. MAHADEO PRASAD, A.W.N 1906, 80=3 A.L.J. 242 =28 A. 436. (27 A. 84, R.)

(104)—Sch. I, art. 1—Account adjusted and balanced and signed as correct, if acknowledgment inadmissible unless stamped—Debt and account, Distinction between—Limitation.—The plaintiff had various monetary dealings with the defendant from and after 28th August, 1905; the account up to the 1st of September, 1908, was adjusted and stated between them showing a balance of Rs. 45,039-9-3 due to plaintiff, below which "I accept this correct—E. and O. E." was written by plaintiff; the defendant signed below it without affixing an one anna stamp; the balance was carried forward, further debit entries were continued and on the date of filing the suit (6th July, 1911) Rs. 58,932-1-3 were due to the plaintiff from the defendant. The trial Judge regarded the debit balance on 1st September

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

1908 and the words and signature below it as acknowledgment of debt by the defendant within the meaning of Stamp Act (II of 1899), sch. I, art. 1, and held it to be inadmissible in evidence and disallowed the amount as being barred by limitation. On appeal, held by Jenkins, C.J.—That the signature of the defendant admitting the balance struck to be correct (errors and omissions excepted) was not an acknowledgment of debt within the meaning of sch. I, art. 1, of the Stamp Act, and that the plaintiff was entitled to a decree for the whole amount in suit. (15 C. 162, F.) Woodroffe, J.—That the entry of the 1st September, 1908, and the acknowledgment of same by defendant was only an admission by him of the correctness of the account, and did not require to be stamped to be admissible in evidence. J. C. GALSTAUN v. W. O. HUTCHNISON, 16 C.W.N 945=39 C. 789=15 Ind. Cas. 279. (4 C. 885, 9 C. 127, 15 C. 162, Discussed.)

(105)—Sch. I, art. 1—See Nos. 24, 97, supra and Nos. 112, 113, infra.

(105 a)—Sch. I, arts. 1 and 5 (b)—Entry in creditor's account book acknowledging debt and stipulating to pay interest — Memorandum of agreement chargeable with duty of 8 annas.—Held (Ormond, J., dissenting) that an entry in a creditor's account book, signed by the debtor and containing an acknowledgment of a debt, with the words "at a premium of one anna and six pies above the two months tavanai interest" was more than a mere acknowledgment of a debt, as the particular words constituted a "stipulation to pay interest," and that the document was a "memorandum of an agreement," chargeable with a duty of 8 annas, under art. 5 (b), Sch. I of the Act. In re K. M. K. R. KUMARAPPA CHETTY, 4 L.B.R. 330, F.B.=14 Bur. L.R. 287. (35 C. 111, 25 B. 373, F.; 27 A. 284, Diss.; 22 C. 757, R.)

(106)—Art. 5—Document—Lease—Rent not reserved—Stamp.—A document whereby no rent is reserved comes under the category of agreements not otherwise provided for and is properly stamped with a duty of eight annas, under the Indian Stamp Act, sch. I, art. 5. In re NARAYANADAS. 3 Bom. L.R. 401.

(107)—Art 5—Agreement to pay a sum of money with interest on demand—Promissory note.—An instrument evidencing an agreement to pay a certain sum of money with interest on demand is a promissory note; and can be stamped with one anna stamp. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 60, 4 Bom. L.R. 912.

(108)—Art. 5—Acknowledgment—Agreement—Stipulation to pay interest.—An acknowledgment bearing a one anna stamp mentioned interest of a certain rate having been agreed upon but contained no express stipulation to pay: Held that the acknowledgment must be treated as an agreement, because the provision about interest had reference to the future and was not covered by the past acknowledgment. LAXUMIBAI v. GANESH, 2 Bom. L.R. 1132=25 B. 373.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(109)—Sch. I, art. 5, exception (a)—"Agreement for sale of goods," what is.—An instrument, which acknowledges the receipt of a certain sum of money, and further, in consideration of this payment, agrees to sell paddy at the harvest time at a certain rate, is not an agreement "for, or relating to the sale of goods exclusively," and is not therefore exempt under cl. (a) of the exemptions to art. 5. So it should be stamped 8 as. under art. 5 (b). Per Hartnoll, J:—"Even supposing this instrument is an agreement for the sale of goods, it seems to be more than that and to be an acknowledgment of a debt." In re REVENUE STAMP CASE. NO. 19 OF 1909-10 OF THE COLLECTOR, PROME, 5 L.B.R 157, F.B.=5 Ind Cas. 986. (15 M. 152, R.)

(110)—Art. 5 (b)—Agreement for exchange of goods—Exchange—Goods—Stamp.—An agreement, purporting to exchange cotton for cotton seeds received and not in exchange for a price, requires to be stamped with an eight annas stamp, under sch. I, art. 5 (b) of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899. SAMARATMAL v. GOVIND, 3 Bom. L.R. 384=25 B. 696.

(111)—Sch. I, art. 5—See Nos. 23, 34, 36, 105-a, supra.

(112)—Sch. I, art. 5, cl. (b) and art. 1 and s. 23—Hatchitta containing implied promise to pay interest whether acknowledgment of debt, or agreement or memorandum of agreement—Stamp duty.—A hatchitta ran as follows:—"Account E. B. (the debtor). The year 1312, B.S. Interest on this amount at the rate of 1 anna per month per rupee." Then followed the credit and the debit entries. Held that there was an implied promise to pay interest, and the document ought to be stamped as an agreement or a memorandum of agreement with an eight-annas stamp, and not as an acknowledgment of a debt with a one-anna stamp only. ENATULLAH BISWAS v. GAJARUDDI BISWAS, 11 C.W.N. 1122. (27 A. 84, Diss.; 25 B. 373, F.; 25 W.R. 361, 4 C. 835, D.)

(113)—Sch. I, art. 5, cl. (b), art. 1 and s 23—Halchitta, containing stipulation to pay interest—Acknowledgment or agreement—Stamp-duty.—Held that the document sued upon was not a mere acknowledgment of a debt, inasmuch as it contained a stipulation that the amount should bear interest at a certain rate, and should therefore have been stamped as an agreement or memorandum of agreement with a stamp of As. 8 under cl. (b) of art. 5 of sch I of the Stamp Act. MULCHAND LALA v. KASHIBULLAH BISWAS, 11 C.W.N. 1120=35 C. 111. (25 B. 373, Rel. on.) [F., 4 L.B.R. 330=14 Bur. L.R. 287.]

(114)—Arts. 5, 34 (= Stamp Act I of 1879, sch. I, arts. 5, 28)—Indemnity note to Railway Company by consignee, stamp duty on.—An indemnity note, passed by a consignee in respect of delivery to him of goods by a Railway Company, for which he was unable to produce the Railway receipt was held not to be an "indemnity bond" falling under art. 28 of the Stamp Act (1879), but to be only an agreement under art. 5, and liable to a stamp duty of only eight annas. REFERENCE FROM CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF CENTRAL PROVINCES, 5 B. 478, F.B. [D., L.B.R 1893—1900, 119.]

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(115)—Sch. I, arts. 5 and 43 and ss. 5,6 and 35—Contract notes, containing provisions for submission of disputes to arbitration, to be proved and stamped with duty of 8 annas—See ARBITRATION—MISCELLANEOUS. 13 C. W N. 63=1 Ind. Cas. 371.

(116)—Sch I, art. 6—See No. 25, supra.

(117)—Sch I, art. 13—See No. 22, supra.

(118)—Sch I, art. 15—Relinquishment of a claim to immoveable property — Value over Rs. 100—Whether release—Necessity for registration—Hindu Law—Succession — Son living joint with father--Occupancy right possessed by father—Preferential right to succeed.—A formal renunciation of a claim to immoveable property of the value of over Rs. 100 is a release which requires a five-rupee stamp, and requires registration whether the claim is legally valid or not. (95 P.R. 1894, 96 P.R. 1895, 30 B. 304, R.) Under the Hindu Law, a son who has remained joint with his father is his heir and succeeds to his separate or self-acquired property (i.e., occupancy right, in preference to one who has separated. ATMARAM v. LALA, 7 N.L.R. 36. (4 N L R. 9, F.)

(119)—Art. 15—Lease — Agreement to pay for the balance of the previous year—Bond.—The agreement in a lease to pay a certain thing on account of balance for the previous year amounts to a bond, and should be stamped as such under art. 15 of schedule of the Stamp Act, 1899. RAMCHANDRA v. DHONDHOO, 7 Bom. L R. 929.

(120)—Sch. I, art. 15—See Nos 24 25, supra.

(121)—Art. 18, ss 23, 24 (= Stamp Act I of 1879, art. 16, ss. 23, 24)—Certificate of sale, stamp duty on.—A certificate of sale, granted to the purchaser of property sold by public auction subject to a mortgage, is chargeable with stamp duty not only on the purchase money paid but also in respect of the principal sum due on the mortgage, the arrears of interest due thereon not being included. SHA NAGINDAS JEYCHAND v. HALALKORE NATHWA GHEESLA, 5 B. 470, F.B. [Not F., 10 C. 92=13 C.L.R. 164, 7 M. 421, F.B.; F., 15 B. 532; R., 6 O.C. 76, 1 S.L. R. 44.]

(122)—Arts 23, 24—Havala—Letter permitting a person to collect sum due to the writer—Conveyance.—A havala or a letter authorizing a person to receive from a third party a sum of money due to its writer amounts to a conveyance and should be stamped as such. NANDUBAI v. GAU, 4 Bom. L.R. 951=27 B. 150.

(123)—Arts. 23, 55—Conveyance—Release.—A document which is styled as a release (under art. 55, sch. I of the Stamp Act) under which the executant not only relinquishes his rights over a certain portion of his property but receives a specific sum of money for the bargain, is a conveyance and is chargeable as such under art. 23 of the Act. In re HIRALAL NAWALRAM, 10 Bom. L.R. 730=32 B. 509.

(124)—Art. 24—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), ss. 141-A, 142-A—Account books—Extracts—Stamp.—A copy of an extract from an entry in an account book, filed under the provisions of ss. 141-A and 142-A of the Civ. Pro. Code, does not require to be stamped under art. 24 of sch. I of the Stamp Act, 1899. KASTUR v. FAKIRIA, 4 Bom. L R 223=26 B. 522.

(125)—Sch. I, art. 24—See No. 122, supra.

(126)—Sch. I, art. 30 (a), s. 52 (a)—Stamp duty, exemption of, refund--Attorney—Advocate—Enrolment fee, exemption of—One B, at the time of his enrolment as an Attorney of the High Court, paid Stamp duty of Rs. 250 under art. 27, sch. I of the Indian Stamp Act (I of 1879). He had not previously paid the duty of Rs. 250 for articles of clerkship, not having served his articles in India. Subsequently, at the time of his enrolment as an Advocate of the High Court, he, without objection, paid Stamp duty of Rs. 500, under Art. 30 (a), sch. I of the Stamp Act (II of 1899). Afterwards B claimed exemption from Stamp duty of Rs. 500 levied at the time of his enrolment as an Advocate and asked for a refund of this amount. Held (on a reference from the Board of Revenue, L.P.), that exemption could be claimed and allowed, and that the amount paid should be refunded. In the matter of R. A. BAXTER, 9 C.L J. 621=36 C. 645=2 Ind. Cas 843.

(127)—Art. 32 (a)—Mortgage deed—Further charge — Stamp.—The mortgagors mortgaged their field with possession to the mortgagee for Rs. 180; and the deed of mortgage was engrossed on a stamp paper of Rs. 2. Subsequently the same mortgagors remortgaged the same field to the same mortgagee for Rs. 250, which consideration was made up of the said Rs. 100 and other debt of Rs. 70 due to the mortgagee. This deed bore a stamp of Re. 1 only: Held, that the second bond should be stamped as mortgage bond with possession for Rs. 250; since it was not intended to operate merely as a further charge under a still subsisting mortgage, but as a new mortgage for Rs. 250 in which the previous one merged. MEGHA v. AGARSING, 3 Bom. L.R. 42=25 B. 370.

(128)—Sch. I, art. 34—See No. 114, supra.

(129)—Sch. I, art. 35—See No. 38, supra.

(130)—Art. 39—Promissory note—Promise to pay at a certain place.—A promissory note does not lose its character as such merely because it contains a promise to pay at a certain place. DEVA RATNA v. FAKIR ADAM, 4 Bom. L.R. 428.

(131)—Sch. I, art. 40—See No. 39, supra.

(132)—Sch. I, art 43—See Nos. 34, 115, supra.

Stamp Act (II of 1899)—continued.

(133)—Sch. 1, art. 45—See Nos. 26, 94, supra.

(134)—Art. 47 (d)—Insurance Policy—Provident Society—Ad valorem duty.—A Provident Society issued the certificate of membership in the following terms:—"You have on condition of your conforming to the rules and regulations of this society from time to time in force, insured your life in the class of this society at the age of, etc." Held, that the certificate did not come under the Stamp Act, art. 17, but fell under the art. 47 (d), and was liable to pay ad valorem duty. In re HIMAT PROVIDENT SOCIETY, LD., 3 Bom. L R. 43=25 B. 376.

(134-a)—Sch. I, art. 47-A—See No. 19, supra.

(135)—Art. 48—Power of attorney—Instrument—Stamp.—An instrument which authorizes a person to receive certain money and sign a receipt, but which does not empower him to do so in the name of the person executing the instrument, does not amount to a power of attorney. TRIBHOWAN v. PANDURANG, 3 Bom.L.R. 697.

(136)—Art. 48 (d)—Power of Attorney—Stamp.—A power of attorney, which enables the agent to recover a judgment-debt due to his principal, but which, in prosecution of this object, authorizes the agent not only to take out execution of the decree already obtained; but also, if necessary, to institute a fresh suit against the judgment-debtor for the recovery of the debt, falls under cl. (d), art. 48, sch. I, Indian Stamp Act, 1899. In re GOPALRAO, 3 Bom. L.R. 890.

(137)—Sch. I, art. 48—See Nos. 21, 27, supra.

(138)—Sch. I, art. 53, Exemption (b)—Transfer from Provincial to Local Funds by adjustments in Collector's accounts—Receipts by Presidents of District Board—Stamp.—Receipts granted by Presidents of District Boards for amounts transferred from Provincial to Local Funds by adjustments in the Collector's books of account are exempt from stamp duty as being receipts for payment of money without consideration within the meaning of art. 53, Stamp Act, exemption (b). In re SECRETARY TO THE COMMISSIONER OF SALT, MADRAS, 9 Ind. Cas. 342, F.B.=9 M.L.T. 355.

(139)—Sch. I, art. 52 (c)—Stamp—Receipt for rent—Receipt for money paid out of Court in satisfaction of a decree for rent.—Although a receipt for rent of an agricultural holding is exempt from payment of stamp under art. 53(c) of the Act, a receipt for payment out of Court of money due under a decree for such rent is not so exempt. EMPEROR v. DUNGAR, A.W.N. 1908, 272=5 A.L.J. 747.

(140)—Sch. I, art. 53—See Nos. 28, 29, supra.

(141)—Sch. I, art. 55—Release — Document by benami purchaser at Court sale renouncing his claims in favour of true purchaser—Stamp.—Where a document was executed by a certified purchaser of property sold in execution of a decree, renouncing all claims he may have or be supposed to have in respect of the property, in favour of the person who it was alleged was the true purchaser, held, it was a release within the meaning of art. 55, of the Act and was liable to be stamped accordingly. REFERENCE UNDER S. 57 OF ACT II OF 1899, 24 A. 372, F.B.=A W.N. 1902, 71.

(142)—Art. 55—Release—Gift—Relinquishment by a reversioner.—A deed evidencing relinquishment of his claim by the reversioner is a release and must be stamped accordingly. KRISHNAJI NARAIN HARDIKAR v. BALAKRISHNA VENKATESH PHADKE, 11 Bom. L. R. 735=33 B. 657=8 Ind. Cas. 772.

(143)—Sch. I, art. 55—See No. 123, supra.

(144)—Sch. I, art. 55—See Nos. 39, 65, supra.

(145)—Art. 58 (a)—Deed of settlement—Stamp.—A deed of settlement remains a deed of settlement within the meaning of art. 58-A (as modified by Act XV of 1904), although it records, by way of declaration or otherwise, the terms of a disposition, not made in writing, at a date anterior to the passing of the Act XV of 1904. In re MANSUKHRAM, 7 Bom.L R. 931.

(145-a) — Sch. I, art. 58-A — See No. 30, supra.

(146)—Sch.I, art. 62—See Nos. 25, 66, supra.

(147)—Sch. I, art. 63—See No. 64, supra.

Stamp Duty.

See COURT FEES.

See COURT FEES ACT, 1870.

See STAMP ACTS.

See VALUATION OF APPEAL.

See VALUATION OF SUIT.

(1)—*S.*10, cl 2, Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 10, cl. 2, scope and effect of.—S. 10, cl. 2 of the Court Fees Act, is not imperative, so as to compel the Chief Court to dismiss a suit after decree, when the default in payment of stamps (which a plaintiff-respondent to an appeal has been ordered to pay) is not wilful, the object of the section being to protect the revenue and not to impose penalties. MAJLIS v. MUNNA SINGH, 84 P.R. 1876.

(2)—Court-Fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 27—Stamp duty—Rules of Local Government—Numter of stamps.—Under s. 27 of Act VII of 1870, the Local Government may, from time to time, make rules for regulating the supply and the number of stamps to be used under the Act. Held that a petition of regular appeal bearing 19 bi-color stamps of the value of Rs. 465 was sufficiently stamped according to the rules made by the Local Government. HURO MONEE v. KRISTO INDRO SHAHA, 17 W.R. 220.

(3)—Document executed in England and in India—Stamp duty.—An agreement executed

Stamp Duty—continued.

in England, though it bears an English stamp, if it is executed again in India, has to be stamped again under the Indian stamp law. OAKES AND CO. v. JACKSON, 1 M. 134.

(4)—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7, cl. V—Claim for portion of holding—Stamp fee.—As there is no provision in the Court Fees Act for the value of a fractional part of a holding recorded in the Collector's register as separately assessed with land revenue being calculated on the land revenue, the stamp fee leviable when a claim is made for portion of a holding must be calculated on the market value of the land under s. 7, cl. V (d). HAIDAR ALI v. SONDHA, 102 P R. 1880. [F., 6 P.R. 1883.]

(5)—Act VIII of 1865, ss. 35, 40, certificates of sale issued under—No stamp duty.—Certificates of sale issued under ss. 35, 40 of Act VIII of 1865 cannot be regarded as conveyances subject to stamp duty. CASE REFERRED BY THE BOARD OF REVENUE, NO. 2 OF 1875, 8 M.H.C. 112.

(6)—Stamp Act XXXVI of 1860, sch. A—Security bond to Abkari renter — Exemption from stamp duty.—A security bond executed by a third party to an Abkari renter was not exempt from stamp duty. RAMASWAMI CHETTI v. PAPPA REDDI, 1 M.H.C. 190.

(7)—Mistake in stamp duty—Rectification.—A mistake in stamp duty can, in some cases, be rectified, but this is a qualified privilege; and this cannot be done where the relief to be granted is altogether distinct from that originally sought. In such a case additional stamp should not be allowed to be put on the plaint. CHOKALINGAPESHANA NAICKER v. ACHIYAR, 1 M. 40. [F., 8 M. 516, 15 M. 15; Appl., 3 B. 230; D., 2 A. 63, 4 M. 131, 14 B. 395, 17 B. 56.]

(8)—Document—Sufficiency of stamp — Admissibility in evidence—In determining whether a document is sufficiently stamped for the purpose of deciding upon its admissibility in evidence, you must look at the document itself as it stands, and not at any collateral circumstances which may be shown in evidence. RAMEN CHETTY v. MAHOMED GHOUSE, 16 C. 432. (5 B.L.R. 103, R.) [F., 27 B. 279; R., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 119, 24 M. 259.]

(9)—Unstamped document—Penalty not paid—Dismissal of suit.—If a plaintiff declines to pay the stamp duty and penalty on an unstamped document, the Court should not dismiss the suit but should enquire into the merits on the rest of the evidence produced in the case. BISSUMBHUR DOSS v. BOISTUB CHURN DOSS, W R. 1864, 321.

(10)—Written statement—Set-off—Plaint.—A written statement containing a claim of set-off must be regarded as a plaint in regard to such set-off, and should be stamped accordingly. CHENAPPA v. RAGHUNATHA, 15 M. 29=1 M. L.J. 598.

(11)—Declaratory decree—Consequential relief—Appeal—Court-fees.—Ad valorem stamp duty

Stamp Duty—continued.

is payable on an appeal from a declaratory decree giving consequential relief. A. B. MILLER v. AKHOOREE RAM, 15 W.R. 412.

(12)—Court Fees Act—Stamp on double probate.—No stamp duty is payable on a double probate, that is, a probate to each of the executors, which recites, and in fact, proceeds upon the first, where leave was reserved for the second executor to take out probate when the first probate was granted. In the goods of BIBEE AMEERUN, 15 W R. 496.

(13)—Document containing request to borrow on certain conditions—Promissory Note—Proposal—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 4—Stamp duty.—Where a document contains a request to borrow a certain sum of money on certain conditions, it is not an unconditional undertaking to pay, but constitutes only a proposal under s. 4 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872). Not being a promissory note, it is not liable to stamp duty. DHONDBHAT NARHARBHAT v. V. ATMARAM MORESHWAR, 13 B. 669. [F., 7 M.L.J. 220=23 M. 156, 14 M.L.J. 65=27 M. 1; D., 16 M. 283.]

(14)—Agreement—Unstamped hundi—Admissibility.—A was the tenant of a village under B. C was the agent and manager of B. A was in arrears of rent and drew a properly stamped hundi on his brother D for Rs. 1,000 in favour of C or his order, and there was an engagement in the hundi on the part of the drawer to deliver over to the drawee an equivalent of grain, and it was added that C would issue orders to the above effect. D on receipt of this hundi drew upon its back another hundi upon his mother-in-law in the following terms, "on demand please pay to C or to his order the within mentioned amount for grain to be supplied me by A on the order of the said C." This was signed by the drawee and beneath his signature appeared that of C. This hundi was unstamped. The amount was paid to C, but the equivalent in grain was not surrendered to D. In a suit by D against C, B, and A, where D alleged that C entered upon a binding engagement with him to deliver or permit the delivery of grain of the value of Rs. 1,000, and that he failed to fulfil his engagement, and that D was therefore entitled to damages, held that the latter hundi was not admissible in evidence as it was unstamped and that there was no evidence of any agreement like the one relied on by D. MAHOMED RAHAMUTTULLA SAHIB GARU v. J. T. WARD, 5 M.H.C. 391.

(15)—Bank memorandum intimating receipt of money—Stamp duty.—A Bank memorandum purporting to intimate that money remitted by one person had been credited to the account of another, is not chargeable with any stamp duty, if the money is paid otherwise than "in satisfaction of a debt," or if the document cannot operate as a 'receipt or discharge' because it is not given to the party who paid the money. In re ACT XVIII OF 1869 AND OF THE UNCOVENANTED SERVICE BANK, LIMITED, 4 C. 829=3 C.L.R. 597. [R., 2 L.B.R. 307.]

Stamp Duty—continued.

(16)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 316—Application for sale certificate by auction-purchaser—Stamp duty.—As s. 316 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, does not require even a written application from an auction-purchaser for a certificate of sale, such application need not bear any stamp. HIRA AMBAIDAS v. TECKCHAND AMBAIDAS, 13 B. 670.

(17)—Certificate of sale—Property sold subject to mortgage—Stamp duty leviable on purchase money.—In the case of a certificate of sale granted by a Civil Court in respect of property declared to be incumbered with a mortgage lien, the amount of the purchase money plus the amount of the mortgage due on the property should be held to be the consideration in respect of which the stamp duty should be levied. MEER KAISUR KHAN MURAD KHAN v. EBRAHIM KHAN MUSA KHAN, 15 B. 532, F.B. (5 B. 470, F.; 9 B. 47, P.J. for 1884, p 260, R.)

(18)—Stamp—Penalty—Obligor if liable to pay amount paid by obligee.—Where both the obligor and obligee united in endeavouring to evade the law which prescribes the use of a stamp in the execution of a bond, the passing of a decree against the obligor for the amount of stamp penalty paid into Court by the obligee was contrary to the policy of law which governed such questions. GARUDA REDDI v. GUDI JANAKAYYA GARU, 1 M.H.C. 124.

(19)—Appeal to Privy Council—Security for costs—Mortgage-deed executed to secure, chargeable with ad valorem stamp—Act X of 1862, sch. A.—Act XXVI of 1867, sch. B, not applicable.—An instrument of mortgage tendered by a party as security for costs of the appeal presented by him for transmission to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council should bear an ad valorem stamp under sch. A of Act X of 1862. The instrument is one required by the Chief Court in pursuance of the rules made by the Judicial Committee and not merely in conformity with the Civ. Pro. Code, and consequently, the words in art. 1 of sch. B of Act XXVI of 1867 can have no application where the Court acting ministerially on behalf of the Privy Council receives an obligation; and a stamp of 8 As. under that article would not be sufficient for such an instrument. MAHOMED RUFFEE v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 63 P.R. 1869.

(20)—Suit for the amount of stamp duty and penalty—Stamp Act, 1879, s. 41—Costs—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 13.—A fresh suit is maintainable for the recovery of the amount of stamp duty and penalty paid by plaintiff in his suit against the defendant on an instrument not duly stamped, executed by the latter who was bound to bear the expense of providing the proper stamp. S. 41 of the Stamp Act does not prohibit such a suit, and ss. 13 and 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code have obviously no application, nor can stamp duty and penalty be regarded as strictly within the designation of costs. ISHAR DAS v. MASUD KHAN, 6 A. 70=A.W. N. 1883. 211.

Stamp Duty—continued.

(21)—Court Fees Act, VII of 1870, s. 7, para. 5, applicability of—Commissioner, order of, whether final—Sale deed conveying no specific land—Suit for possession by purchaser—Valuation—Stamp.—Where the question was not merely one relating to valuation for the purpose of determining the amount of fee chargeable, but whether a particular article of para. 5 of s. 7 of the Court Fees Act applied to a suit, held that the order of the Commissioner on such question was appealable as such order is not final under s. 12, cl. 1. (42 P. R. 1874, Rel. on.) In a suit by a purchaser for possession of a certain portion of land in a joint khata under a sale-deed which conveyed to him no specific land, the value of the land for possession of which he sues, must be deemed to be five times the revenue payable upon the whole khata, for the purpose of the Court Fees Act; and unless his plaint bears stamps on that amount, it is liable to be rejected. GANDA MAL v. MUSSAMMAT MAHTABO, 67 P.R. 1878.

(22)—Court Fees Act—Application for return of document—Witness—Stamp.—There is nothing in the Court Fees Act which makes an application by a witness for the return of a document produced by him in obedience to a summons and filed with the records of a case, chargeable with stamp-duty. ANONYMOUS, 115 W.R. 237.

Applications for new trials in Small Cause Courts—Stamp duty. Cir. No. 32, dated the 19th December 1865, 4 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 7.

Return called for of original suits disposed of, and of stamp duty levied on their institution during March 1865. Cir. No. 34, dated the 23rd December 1865, 4 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 8.

Explanation of Circular No. 34 of 1865, calling for return of original suits disposed of, and of stamp duty levied on their institution during March 1865. Cir. No 7, dated the 7th March 1866, 5 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 3.

Calling for information regarding amount of stamp duty levied on institution of suits and total costs of suits Cir. No. 10, dated the 23rd March 1866, 5 W. R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 4.

This circular deals with explanation of Circular No. 10, regarding amount of stamp duty levied in institution of suits and total costs of suits, and further calls for the statements therein required. Cir. No. 20, dated the 16th May 1866, 5 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 10.

This circular lays down a revised form of register of stamp duties levied under sch. B, s. 6, Act XXVI of 1867. Cir. No. 30, dated the 16th September 1867, 8 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 8.

Stamp Duty—concluded.

Rule regarding the levy of stamp duty on depositions and documentary exhibits in cases. Rev. Cir. No. 4, 21 W.R. Rev. Civ , p. 13.

See APPELLATE COURT — POWERS OF APPELLATE COURT, 15 M. 29=1 M.L.J. 598.

Admissibility of document subject to payment of stamp duty—Finality of decision of Court of First Instance—See APPELLATE COURT—REJECTION OR ADMISSION OF EVIDENCE, 2 M H C. 321.

See APPELLATE COURT—REJECTION OR ADMISSION OF EVIDENCE, 3 C.L R. 79.

See CONTRACT—BREACH OF CONTRACT, 6 W.R 49.

Recital of sale—Conveyance—Stamp duty—See CONVEYANCE, 23 C. 283.

See COSTS—SPECIAL CASES, 3 Agra Rev. 5.

Bona fide mistake of vakil—Extension of time—Payment of deficient stamp duty—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS— PLEADER—MISCELLANEOUS, 9 M.L.J. 348.

See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 1 L.B.R. 96.

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL—ERRORS OF LAW OR PROCEDURE, 5 M.H.C. 330.

Stamp Duty, Refund of.

(1)—Court fees—Review—No final disposal—Refund of stamp duty.—Where an application in the nature of a review was not finally disposed of, there was nothing to prevent the Court from ordering refund of the stamp duty paid therefor. PROSUNNO CHUNDER ROY CHOWDHRY v. NOBO KRISTO CHATTERJEE, 18 W R. 434. [D., 20 W.R. 106= 11 B.L.R. 370.]

(2)—Stamp duty—Refund of excess— Power of High Court—Power of Government — Court Fees Act VII of 1870.—The High Court has no power to issue a certificate authorizing the Collector to refund excess stamp duty paid in by a suitor by reason of over-valuation of his suit on the part of the Civil Court. The Government, however, may order such refund, notwithstanding the absence of any special provision in the law authorizing them to do so. In the matter of the petition of MOULVIE SYUD ZOYNOODDEEN HOSSEIN KHAN, 11 B.L.R. 370=20 W.R. 106.

(3)—Stamp duty on appeal, refund of, on compromise.—Where an appeal filed in the Sudder Court was compromised before a Bench of that Court in the presence of both the parties, before the appeal was entered in the cause list hung up in the Court room, the appellant was held entitled to refund of the full value of the stamp used for the petition of appeal. In the matter of GUJENDRO NARAIN ROY, 11 W.R. 188.

(4)—Termination of suit on adjustment of claim—Right of plaintiff to refund of stamp

Stamp Duty, Refund of—continued.

duty—Rules under s. 26 of Act X of 1862 modifying s. 98 of Act VIII of 1859.—A refund of half the stamp-duty paid on the plaint should be allowed to the plaintiff, where an agreement by way of adjustment made between the parties has brought the proceedings before the Court to an end in such a way that no decree can issue in continuation of what has passed in Court, and the adjustment has taken place by the acts of the defendants and not by the withdrawal of the suits ex parte; and the circumstances are such that no decree can be obtained relating to the matter without a fresh suit between the parties upon the agreement. SOWDAGUR SING v. PIR BUKSH, 47 P.R. 1869.

(5)—Appeal—Compromise—Refund of stamp duty.—Where an appealed suit is compromised pending the hearing, the appellant will not be entitled to a refund of stamp duty. THE LAND MORTGAGE BANK OF INDIA (CREDIT FONCIER INDIAN), LIMITED v. GREGORY PAUL MEHTUS, 4 B. L.R. App. 96.

(6)—Appeal withdrawn—Consent of parties—Refund of stamp duty.—An appellant is not entitled to a refund of stamp duty in an appeal withdrawn by consent of parties. In the matter of the petition of ABDOOL HAMED CHOWDHRY, 4 B L.R. App. 96, Note. [F., 4 B.L R. App. 96.]

(7)—Stamp duty—Adjustment of suit in Court of Small Causes—Application by plaintiff for refund of stamp duty.—Where the plaintiff in a Court of Small Causes applied for a refund of the stamp duty paid by him on the ground that the suit had been adjusted out of Court, it was necessary for him to bring himself strictly within the latter part of s. 98 of Act VIII of 1859 as modified by s. 26 of Act X of 1862. ANONYMOUS OR TIRUMANI CHETTI v. AVADAI VALAN, 1 M.H.C. 127.

(8)—Remand—Stamp duty — Refund—Appeal—Costs.—The stamp duty on a petition of appeal is refundable in a case remanded. A party succeeding in an appeal on some preliminary points is entitled to costs irrespective of the result of the ultimate decision. MASSEYK v. JUGABHANDHOO DUTT, 1 W.R. Mis. 12.

(9)—Examination of stamps—Responsibility of Registrar of High Court—Application for refund of stamp duty — Oral application—Mukhtear may apply for refund — Partial remand.—The registrar of a High Court should undertake the duty of, or responsible for, the examination of stamps; it is a fiscal duty more properly belonging to a Revenue Officer of Government. An application for refund of stamp duty need not be in writing at all. A mooktear, if duly authorized, may apply for refund of stamp duty. Where an appeal was presented to the High Court in respect of property not exceeding Rs. 3,000 in value under the Stamp law then in force, and the stamp duty on such appeal was Rs. 100, and it appeared that the result of the appeal was a remand in respect to a portion of the property involved in the suit of which the value was Rs. 1,756, it was held that, as the appellant was successful in his appeal in respect of property representing a value which must, of itself, have required a stamp of Rs. 100, and as that portion of the appeal on which he failed did not necessitate the payment of any further stamp duty, it was unnecessary to charge the appellant with any stamp duty in respect of the portion of his claim as to which he failed, but which did not involve payment of additional stamp duty. BHIKOO MOOLA v. RASH MONEE DOSSEE, 9 W.R. 357.

Stamp Duty, Refund of—concluded.

This circular forwards new form of certificate for refund of stamp duty. Cir. No. 28, dated the 13th September 1867, 8 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 7.

This circular deals with the amount of stamp duty refunded under note (f), art. 12, sch B, Act X of 1862. Cir. No. 12, dated the 23rd March 1866, 5 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 5.

See COMPROMISE—COMPROMISE OF SUITS UNDER CIV. PRO. CODE, 12 W.R. 376.

Compromise of suit on day for defendants' appearance—See COMPROMISE—COMPROMISE OF SUITS IN CIV. PRO. CODE, Marsh. 274 = 2 Hay 213.

See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 15, 11 B.L.R. 372, Note.

Right of Government to stamp fees—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 149, 182, 2 B.L.R. App. 22 = 11 W.R. O.C. 67.

Refund—See REMAND, B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 511 = 6 W.R. Mis. 65.

Stamp Fraud.

This circular deals with the evasion of stamp law by money-lenders—Promissory notes. 25 W.R H.C. Rules, Cir. Order No. 9, dated 12th May 1876, p. 11.

This circular deals with the responsibility of serishtadars as regards stamp frauds. Rev. Cir. No. 4, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 8.

This circular deals with the fraudulent use of postage stamps. Rev. Cir. No. 2, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir., p. 30.

Stamp Law.

(1)—Unstamped bond—Intention to evade stamp laws—Evidence—Construction.—Where a bond contained a stipulation to the effect that, as the obligors were urgently in want of money and unable to procure a stamp, they executed the bond on plain paper, agreeing to make good any penalty the obligees might have to pay in suing them to enforce the obligation, held that this was not in point of law an agreement to evade the stamp laws, though, as a matter of fact, an intention to evade the stamp laws might have been inferred. SASHI BHUSAN BANERJEE v. TARCHAND KAR, 3 B.L.R. A.C. 329 = 11 W.R. 553.

Stamp Law—concluded.

This circular states that the working of the Stamp law is to be watched. Cir. No. 19, dated the 8th July 1867, 8 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 1.

This circular cancels Civil Circular Order No. 20 of 1847 as inconsistent with existing Stamp law and a recent ruling of the High Court cited. Cir. No. 24, dated the 7th August 1867, 8 W.R. Civ. Cir. Orders, p. 5.

Stamp Vendor.

(1)—Omission of stamp vendor to endorse particulars.—The omission of a stamp vendor to endorse on a stamped paper the particulars required of him does not make the document not duly stamped within s.3 (10) of Stamp Act, 1879. REFERENCE UNDER THE STAMP ACT, s. 46, 11 M. 377, F.B.

Standard Pole.

Of measurement—Jurisdiction of Collector—See MEASUREMENT OF LANDS, 6 B.L.R. 1, F.B. = 14 W.R. F.B. 5

Standing Crops.

(1)—Standing crops—Immoveable property.—Standing crops have repeatedly been held to be immoveable property and not moveable property. So long as the crops are on the ground, they must be regarded as immoveable property. When these are severed from the land they become moveable property. SURAT LALL MONDAL v. UMAR HAJI, 22 C. 877.

(2)—Standing crops—Limitation Act—Definitions in Registration Acts.—Standing crops are not moveable property within the meaning of the Limitation Act. (3 B.L.R. 509, 510, 24 W.R. 294. F.; 3 C. 331, R.) The definitions in the Registration Acts are expressly given for the purposes of those Acts and ought not to govern the decision of questions raised under other Acts. PANDAH GAZI v. JENNUDDI, 4 C. 665 = 2 C.L.R. 526.

See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, s.22, 6 B. 592.

See U. P. ACT XII OF 1881, ss. 42, 95, 206, 24 A. 517 = A.W.N. 1902, 50.

See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, 11 M. 193.

Small Cause Courts, whether could attach and sell standing crops—See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, 14 A. 30 = A.W.N. 1891, 174.

Customs as regards, and trees on land—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 11, 14, O. II, r. 2, s. 47, U.B.R. 1897 = 1901, Vol. II, 213.

Claim to—Right of successful claimant—See CLAIM, 8 Ind. Cas. 77.

Mortgage — Decree — Suit by decree-holder against purchaser for value of standing crops—See EMBLEMENTS, DOCTRINE OF, 13 M. 15.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—EJECTMENT, 5 C. 135.

Standing Crops—concluded.

Are immoveable property within the meaning of the Limitation Act—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 2, 29, 36, 9 C.W.N. 376=32 C. 459.

Assignment of bond hypothecating crops valid without registration See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 17, 10 A. 20=A.W.N. 1887, 270.

Execution sale of mortgaged property—Right to standing crops—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—GENERAL, 2 B. 670.

Suits to establish right to—on basis of title to land not cognisable by Provincial Small Cause Court—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 21 C. 430.

Suit for declaration of title—Declaratory decree—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 42, Proviso, L.B.R. (1903—1904), Vol. II, 124.

Standing Orders of Board of Revenue, Madras.

S. O. No. 15, rr. 4, 5, 7, 11, 13 & 14—See DARKHAST RULES, 1 M.L.T. 278=29 M. 461; APPEAL THEREON DISMISSED, 2 M.L.T. 141 =30 M. 270.

Standing Timber.

(1)—Standing timber-Immoveable property.—For the purposes of the Mofussil Small Cause Courts Act, standing timber must be classed as immoveable property. UMED RAM v. DAULAT RAM, 5 A. 564, F.B.=A. W. N. 1883, 148. [F., 11 M. 193; R., 10 A. 159.]

See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, ss. 2 and 17, 5 M. L.J. 253.

See BUR. REG. II OF 1897, s. 3, U. B. R. (1902-1903), Vol. II. Civil, UPPER BURMA REGISTRATION REGULATION, p. 1.

If immoveable property—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 132, A W. N. 1887, 59.

Stani.

Position and powers of—Waste—Destruction of inheritance—See MALABAR LAW—GENERAL, 7 M.L.J. 317.

Stanom.

Suit for declaration of right to a—Maintainability—See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—MISCELLANEOUS, 1 M.W.N. 1911, 353.

Stare Decisis.

(1)—Applicability of the maxim.—The principle of stare decisis is of undoubted value in its bearing on the law of the property. KASHIRAM v. PANDU, 4 Bom. L. R. 688. MANILAL v. VANMALIDAS, 7 Bom. L.R. 644.

(2)—Rule of.—Stare decisis is a salutary rule, and where injustice is not effected by following rule of law laid down many years ago, and consistently adhered to, it is obviously inexpedient to vary that rule. ABDUL RAZAK v. MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM, 14 P.L.R. 1903.

Stare Decisis—concluded.

(3)—Principle of.—The doctrine that 'where there is a long course of decisions, they ought not to be reversed and the law thus altered' should not be applied where the series of decisions had varied from time to time in the grounds upon which they were based. RAJA RAO VENKATA SURYA MAHIPATI RAMA KRISHNA RAO BAHADUR v. THE COURT OF WARDS, 22 M. 383=3 C.W.N. 413, P. C.=26 I. A. 83=9 M. L. J. Supt. p. 1=1 Bom. L. R. 277=7 Sar. 481.

(4)—Judgment of single Judge—How far binding on another single Judge.—A Judge sitting on the original side of the High Court is ordinarily bound to follow the judgment of another Judge when the latter has decided a question of law, or laid down certain principles of practice or procedure, or judicially construed any provision of law prevailing in the country; but the former is not bound to follow the latter's findings of facts based on the evidence recorded by him, when the evidence that may be available before the Judge in a later case may be fuller and more reliable and may tend to lead him to a different conclusion. JAMSHED v. SOONABAI, 10 Bom. L. R. 417=32 B. 122.

Rule of stare decisis—Applicability to Hindu law—See. HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 17 A. 294, F.B.=A. W. N. 1895, 167.

State.

See GOVERNMENT.

Right of—To waste lands—Presumption of ownership of Government—See FOREST LANDS, 15 M.L.J. 147=28 M. 257.

State Land.

(1)—Question as to land being state land.—Questions as to land being State land or private should not be raised when they are unnecessary for the decision of claims as between the parties themselves. MAUNG AUNG BYI v. MAUNG YAN BYO, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 634. [R., U.B.R. 1902—1903, II, C.P.C. 1.]

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 9, U.B.R. (1897-1901), Vol. II, 209, 211.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 116, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 651.

Attachment of produce of—Duty of Court. See EXECUTION OF DECREE-MODE OF EXECUTION. U.B.R. 1908, 3rd Qr., Land and Rev. Reg. 1.

Statement in Previous Suit.

Statement in previous suit — Estoppel.—The statement of a person in a previous suit that he and another were the descendants of a common grandfather and that he intended to admit the other to a share in the property might estop him under s. 115 of the Evidence Act from asserting that the other was not the descendant of a common grandfather, which was a matter of fact; but the bare statement of his intention to give that other a share in the estate did not per se create a title to a share, though it might give rise to the inference that he knew or believed the other to be entitled to a share, and such statement as to intention availed nothing unless it amounted to a contract. DULA SINGH v. KISHAN SINGH, 86 P R. 1876.

Statement in Previous Suit—concluded.

Statements of Objects and Reasons.

See STATUTES, CONSTRUCTION OF, 5 A. 121, F.B. = A.WN. 1882, 128, 14 A. 145 = A.W.N. 1892, 6, 10 C. 166, F.B. = 13 C.L.R. 342.

Stationery.

This circular enquires whether Judges are restricted to any particular monthly sum for the purchase of stationery, &c., and if such sum is sufficient. Civ. Cir No. 9 dated 1st September 1869, 12 W.R. Civ. Cir. 7.

This circular directs that charges for binding books are to be met from allowance for stationery, and not to from an item in contingent bill. Cir. No. 3 dated 26 March, 1868, 9 W.R. Civ. Cir. 3.

Stationery Accounts.

This circular deals with the expenditure on account of stationery in 1864 and 1865 by each Sudder Ameen in his double capacity of Sudder Ameen and Sudder Moonsiff. Cir. No. 47, dated the 5th December 1866, 6 W.R. Civ. Cir. Order, p. 13.

Stationery Superintendent.

This circular directs that all future applications for printed or lithographed forms are to be made to the Superintendent of Stationery. Civ. Cir. No. 16 dated 17th June 1870, 14 W. R. Civ. Cir. 1.

This circular draws attention to circular of June 1870 directing that applications for forms should be made to Superintendent of Stationery. Civ. Cir. Memo. No. 13 of 13th May 1874, 21 W.R.H.C. Rules & Crs. 27.

This circular deals with the corrigendum to be made in letter to Superintendent of Stationery circulated with Cir. Memo. No. 7, dated 17th December 1870. Civ. Cir. Memo No. 17, dated 11th January 1871, 15 W.R. Civ. Cir. 2.

Status.

Question of status—Res judicata.—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 41, 110, U.B.R. 1910, 4th Qr., 61.

Statute 8, Anne, C. 14.

Applicability to India.—The Statute 8, Anne, C. 14, does not apply to this country (Per Peacock, C.J.). It does not apply to a case in which a claimant is seeking to enforce the payment of her rent from another creditor for rent, even if it would, where the claim was against an ordinary execution-creditor. S. M. PADAMANI DASI v. JAGADAMBA DASI, 3 B.L R. O. C. 56.

Statute 29, Car. II, C. 3 (Statute of Frauds.)

(1)—Statute of Frauds (29 Car. II, c. 3)—Hindu and Mahomedan defendants.—Where a contract is proved to have been entered into, but no memorandum thereof in writing has been signed by the parties, a Hindu defendant is not entitled to plead the Statute of Frauds, that statute not being applicable to Hindu and Mahomedan defendants. BORRODAILE v. CHAINSOOK BUXYRAM, 1 Ind. Jur, O.S., 70 = 1 Hyde, 51.

(2)—Statute of Frauds (29 Car. II, c. 3)—Application of, to the High Court, Original Civil Side.—Quaere—Does the Statute of frauds form any part of the procedure of the High Court in its original jurisdiction? RAM SAGUR DUTT v. NOBO GOPAL MOOKERJEE, Bourke, O.C., 367.

(3)—See GUARANTEE, 5 B L R 639.

(4)—Statute of Frauds, applicability of, in the case of Parsis—Resulting trust under will, necessity of taking probate—See PARSIS, 6 B. 363.

(5)—Applicability to India—See TRUSTS, 11 Bom. L. R 85 = 5 M. L. T. 301 = 33 B. 509 = 2 Ind. Cas. 701.

(6)—S. 4—Applicability to British born subjects.—S. 4 of the Statute of Frauds applied not only to cases in which both parties were European British subjects, but also to cases in which the defendant alone was such. So, where in a suit on a covenant to pay, the defendant alone was a British-born subject, it was necessary that the contract sued upon should have been in writing. MUTTIYA PILLAI v. WESTERN, 1 M. H. C. 27. [R., 14 W. R. 305.]

(7)—S. 4—Muhammadan law—Procedure.—It may be laid down as a general proposition that the Statute of Frauds is in force in the island of Bombay. But the provisions of s. 4 of the Statute are not applicable in Bombay in suits between Muhammadans, or in which the defendant is a Muhammadan. MANIKJI MEHERVANJI v RAHIMTULLA ALUBHAI, 1 B. H. C. App. 1. [R., 14 W. R. 305.]

(8)—S. 4—Hindu defendant.—The 4th section of the Statute of Frauds does not apply to suits in which the defendant is a Hindu. NEKRAM JEMADAR v. ISWARIPRASAD PACHURI, 5 B. L.R. 643 = 14 W R. 305, (9 M.I.A. 426, 1 M.H. C. 27; 1 Hyde 63, 1 L.H.C., 2nd Ed., App 1, R.)

Statute 29, Car. 2, C. 7 (Lord's Day Act).

(1)—Lord's Day Act.—Entirely unsuited to the circumstances of this country—Applicability of the Act to India—Proceedings taken on Sunday by Munsif, whether void—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 5 A.L J. 106 = A.W.N. 1908, 43 = 3 M.L.T. 211 = 30 A. 136.

(2)—S. 6.—Mahomedan debtor, arrest of, on a Sunday, not illegal.—The arrest of a Mahomedan debtor within the original jurisdiction of the High Court on a Sunday is not illegal. Per Holloway, J.—The provisions of the Lord's Day Act (XXIX Car., 2, c. 7), do not apply in this country. Even if the substantive portions of the statute were applicable, it did not follow that s. 6 would be. The mode of execution of judgment is exclusively determined by the Court of process. Per Kernan, J.—As between natives of India, the Lord's Day Act does not apply. PARAM SHOOK DOSS v. RASHEED-OOD DOWLAH BAHADOOR 7 M H C 285. [R., 30 A. 136=A.W.N. 1908, 43=5 A L.J. 106=1 M.L.T. 211]

Statute 29, Car. 2, C. 7 (Lord's Day Act) —concluded.

Statute 5 and 6, Edw. III, C. 16.

See SALARY, 3 M I.A. 435.

Statute 32, Hen. VIII, C. 34.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—FORFEITURE, 14 C. 176.

St. 13, Eliz, C. 5.

(1)—Statute 13, Elizabeth, c. 5—Applicability to mofussil.—The Privy Council has expressly sanctioned the adoption in the mofussil of the principles of the Statute 13, Elizabeth, c 5, for avoiding fraudulent conveyances. EUGENE-POGOSE v. THE DELHI AND LONDON BANKING CO., LD., 10 C. 951. (10 C. 616=11 I.A. 10, R.)

(2)—Statements made out of Court—Doctrine of fraudulent conveyance void against creditors. — The doctrine of a fraudulent conveyance being void as against creditors held to be a principle of Hindu as it is of English law under 13, Elizabeth, c. 5 SHAMKISSORE SHAW v. COWIE, 2 Ind. Jur. O S., 7. See also, SUDHEEKEENA CHOWDRAIN v. GOPEE MOHUN SEIN, 1 W.R. 47.

(3)—See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR, 11 B. 666, 13 B. 434, 10 C. 616=11 I.A 10, 1 Hyde 178.

(4)—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 53, 7 Bom. L R. 267.

(5)—S. 6—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT. 1882, s 53, 11 C.W.N. 989=6 C.L J. 410 =34 C. 999.

Statute 27, Eliz., C. 4.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT. 1882, s. 53, 7 Bom. L.R. 267=22 C. 185.

Statute 43, Eliz., c. 4,

See BOM. ACT III OF 1888, ss. 143, 144, 16 B. 217.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL, 1 B.H.C. 71.

Statute 2, Jac. I. C. 16.

See ENGLISH LAW, 5 M.I.A. 43.

See STATUTES, CONSTRUCTION OF, 5 M I. A 234.

Statute 3, James I, C. 7.

If applies to India—Statute 3, James I,C. 7, has not been extended to this country. C. J. WILKINSON v. ABBAS SIRKAR, 3 B.L. R. O. C. 96.

Statute 7, Geo. I, C. 21.

S. 5—See JURISDICTION—ADMIRALTY AND VICE-ADMIRALTY, JURISDICTION, 5 B.H.C. O.C. 64.

Statute 13, Geo. III, C. 63 (The East India Company Act, 1772).

See MORTGAGE — ACCOUNTS BETWEEN MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE. 5 A. 419= A.W.N. 1883, 43.

S. 36—See BEN. REG. III OF 1818, 6 B.L. R. 392.

Statute 21, Geo. III, C. 70 (The East India Company Act, 1780).

(1)—Act XXVI of 1864—Effect of statute.—The law or equity to be administered in the High Court does not depend upon any previous Act of Parliament. The Stat. 21, Geo. III, c. 70, which gave to Mahomedans and Hindus the right to have matters of contract and dealing between party and party, inheritance and succession, determined by their laws and usages, was an Act which was applicable to the Supreme Court. If the provision has any effect in the High Court, it is not by virtue of the Act, but by virtue of the Charter which, by its terms, introduces into it the directions contained in the Act. MADHAB CHUNDER PORAMANICK v. RAJCOOMAR DOSS, 14 B L R. 76 =22 W.R. 370.

(2)—S. 5—See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF—MADRAS, 8 M 24, F.B.

(3)—S. 8—See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF BOMBAY, 4 M I.A 353.

(4)—S. 17 — Contract between Hindus in Calcutta, by what law governed —A tenancy created, by express contract, between Hindus in Calcutta is within the words "matters of contract and dealing between party and party" in s. 17 of 21 Geo. III, c. 70; and the rights of the parties thereto are governed by Hindu Law. RUSSICKLOLL MUDDUCK v. LOKENATH KURMOKAR, 5 C. 688=5 C.L R. 492.

(5)—S. 17, Construction of.—The true construction of 21, Geo. III, c. 70, s. 17 must confine the words "their inheritance and succession" to questions relating to inheritance and succession by defendants. A question of plaintiff's succession is therefore not determinable by the laws and usages of the Gentoos, etc.—Per Pontifex, J. SARKIES v. PROSONOMOYEE DOSSEE, 6 C. 794=8 C.L.R. 76. [R., 6 B. 168, F.B.]

(6)—S. 17—See ENGLISH LAW, 5 B. 154.

(7)—S. 17—Applicability of Hindu law—See ENGLISH LAW, 8 C. 582.

(8)—S. 17—See GUARANTEE, 5 B.L.R. 639.

(9)—S. 24 — See JUDICIAL OFFICERS, LIABILITY OF, 2 M.I.A. 293.

Statute 37, Geo. III, C. 142 (The East India Act, 1797).

S. 8—See BEN. REG. III OF 1818, 6 B.L. R. 392.

Statute 36 and 40, Geo. III, C. 79 (The Government of India Act, 1800).

S. 3—See HIGH COURT—JURISDICTION OF —MADRAS, 8 M 24, F.B.

Statute 49, Geo. III, C. 126 (The Sale of Officers Act, 1809).

See SALARY, 3 M.I.A. 435.

Statute 52, Geo. III, C. 101 (Lord Romilly's Act).

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 92, 93 and 99, 24 C. 418.

See RIGHT OF SUIT -ENDOWMENT, SUITS RELATING TO, 17 M. 462, F.B.

Statute 53, Geo. III, C. 155 (The East India Company Act, 1813).

See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF - MADRAS, 1 M. 89, F.B.

S. 11—See ADVOCATE-GENERAL, 4 M.I.A. 190.

Statute 56, Geo. III, C. 100.

See HABEAS CORPUS, 5 B.L.R. 557.

Statute 4, Geo. IV, C. 71 (The Indian Bishops and Courts Act, 1823).

S. 17— See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF —MADRAS, 8 M. 24, F.B.

Statute 6, Geo. IV, C. 16.

Statute, if applies to India.—The Statutes, 6th Geo. IV, c. 16, and the 2nd and 3rd Will. IV., c. 114, made to facilitate the proof of Bankruptcy, do not extend to India. CLARK v. MULLICK, 2 M.I.A. 263=3 Moo. P.C. 232 =Morton 430=1 Sar. 188.

Statute 6, Geo. IV, C. 85 (The Indian Salaries and Pensions Act, 1825).

See SALARY, 3 M.I.A. 435.

Statute 9, Geo. IV, C. 14.

Prospective and retrospective operation of.—The Statute 9, Geo. IV, c. 14, extended to India by the Indian Act, XIV of 1848, held to apply to an action pending in the Supreme Court, at the time of its introduction into India. THE EAST INDIA COMPANY v. ODITCHURN PAUL, 5 M.I.A. 43=7 Moo. P.C. 85=14 Jur. 253=1 Sar. 394.

Statute 9, Geo. IV, C. 31.

S. 8—See ST. 9, GEO. IV, c. 74, s. 56, 4 W.R. P.C. 109=7 M.I.A. 72.

Statute 9, Geo. IV, C. 33.

See LAND TENURE IN BOMBAY, 4 B. H. C. O.C. 1.

Statute 9, Geo. IV, C. 73.

S. 36—Insolvency.—Palmer & Co., having borrowed a large sum of the Bank of Bengal deposited Company's paper with the Bank to a greater amount, as a collateral security, accompanied with a written agreement authorizing the Bank, in default of repayment of the loan by a given day, "to sell the Company's paper for the reimbursement of the Bank, rendering to Palmer & Co. any surplus." Before default was made in the repayment of the loan, Palmer & Co. were declared insolvent under the Indian Insolvent Act, IX Geo. IV, c. 73, by the thirty-sixth section of which it was declared, that where there had been mutual credit given by the insolvents and any other person, one debt or demand might be set off against the other; and that all such debts as might be proved under a commission of Bankruptcy in England, might be proved in the same manner under the Indian Insolvent Act. At the time of the adjudication of insolvency, the Bank were also holders of two promissory notes of Palmer & Co., which they had discounted for them before the transaction of the loan, and the agreement as to the deposit of the Company's paper. The time for repayment of the loan having expired, the Bank sold the Company's paper, the proceeds of which, after satisfying the principal and interest due on the loan, produced a considerable surplus. In an action by the assignees of Palmer & Co., against the Bank, to recover the amount of this surplus, held, that the Bank could not set off the amount of the two promissory notes, and that the case did not come within the clause of mutual credit in the Indian Insolvent Act. YOUNG v. THE BANK OF BENGAL, 1 M.I.A 87=1 Moo. P.C. 150=1 Deacon, 622=1 Sar. 97.

Statute 9, Geo. IV, C. 74 (The Criminal Law (India) Act, 1828).

S. 56—Offences committed in two places—Applicability to persons amenable to the Supreme Court of Calcutta—"Within the limits of the Charter," meaning of.—The object of Stat. 9, Geo. IV, c. 74, s. 56 was been the application and extension to the British territories in India the same provisions as had then been made for England by the recent enactment in the 9th of Geo. IV, c. 31 with respect to offences in two different places or partially committed in one place and accomplished in another. The statute extended only to persons who were otherwise amenable to the criminal jurisdiction of the Supreme Court at Calcutta as described in s. 1, and it applied only to cases in which the felony or the crime has been committed by persons who committed it partly within the jurisdiction and partly without. The statute could therefore have no application to persons not amenabe to the Supreme Court and also where the offence committed has been within one jurisdiction. NGA HOONG v. THE QUEEN, 4 W.R.P C. 109=7 M.I.A. 72=Boul. 189=1 Suther. 285=1 Sar. 598.

Statute II, Geo. IV and I, Will IV, C. 68.

S. 1—See CARRIERS, 19 C. 538.

Statute 2 and 3, Will. IV, C. 51.

(1)—Privy Council rules issued under 2 and 3, Will. IV, C. 51—Vice-Admiralty jurisdiction —Procedure.—The Privy Council rules issued under 2 and 3, Will. IV, C. 51, do not operate, except in the cases in which they were expressly kept alive, that is to say, suits in rem in which there is no appearance, and other matters to which the Procedure Code cannot be applied. (17 C. 66, R.) [R., 22 C. 511] The effect of appearance, the mode of objecting to the jurisdiction and the mode of questioning the validity of a pleading are in Vice-Admiralty cases matters governed by a settled practice under the Procedure Code. In the matter of the ship "FANNE SKOLFIELD," 17 C. 337.

(2)—Rules issued under — See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 22 C. 511.

Statute 2 & 3, Will. IV, C. 71.

See PRESCRIPTION—EASEMENTS—LIGHT AND AIR, 12 B. L. R. 406, P.C.=Sup. Vol. I. A. 175=19 W. R. 194=3 Sar. P. C. J. 236, 6 B. L. R. 85.

Statute 2 & 3, Will. IV, C. 114.

Statute, if extends to India.—The Statutes, 6th Geo. IV, C. 16, and the 2nd and 3rd Will. IV, C. 114, made to facilitate the proof of Bankruptcy, do not extend to India. CLARK v. MULLICK, 2 M.I.A. 263=3 Moo. P. C. 252= Morton 430=1 Sar. 188.

See INSOLVENCY—MISCELLANEOUS, 2 M. I. A. 263.

Statute 3 & 4, Will. IV, C. 41 (The Judicial Committee Act, 1833).

(1)—See COSTS—MISCELLANEOUS, 3 W. R. P. C. 31=8 M. I. A. 225.

(2)—See LIMITATION — MISCELLANEOUS, 3 W. R. P. C. 31=8 M. I. A. 225.

(3)—See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—SPECIAL LEAVE TO APPEAL AND TO DEFEND APPEAL, 2 M.I.A. 428.

(4)—S. 3—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 5 M.I.A. 499.

(5)—Ss. 3, 4—See BOM. ACT XVIII OF 1848, 5 M.I A. 499.

(6)—S 4—See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL —CASES WHERE APPEAL LIES OR NOT, 8 M I.A. 274, Note.

(7)—S. 4—See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—GENERAL, 8 M.I.A. 270.

(8)—S. 4—See No. 5, supra.

(9)—S. 21—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 118, 119, 182, B L.R. Sup. Vol. 506=6 W.R. Mis. 69.

Statute 3 and 4, Will. IV, c. 42.

See STATUTE, CONSTRUCTION OF, 26 A. 299, P.C.=31 I.A. 116=8 C.W.N. 521=14 M.L.J. 190=6 Bom. L.R. 505.

S. 28—See ACT XXXII OF 1839, 6 M.I.A. 232, 4 W.R. P.C. 8=7 M.I.A. 263.

St. 3 and 4, Will. IV, C. 85 (The Government of India Act, 1833).

S. 43—See CESSION OF BRITISH TERRITORY, 10 B.H.C. 37, 1 B. 367, P.C.=3 I.A. 102.

S. 43—See HABEAS CORPUS, 6 B.L.R. 459.

S. 43—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 118, 119, 182, B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 506=6 W.R. Mis. 69.

Statute 5 and 6, Wm. IV, C. 54.

See MARRIAGE, 2 Hyde 65.

Statute 6 and 7, Will. IV, C. 96.

See HIGHWAY RATE, 3 M.I.A. 409.

Statute 1, Vict., C. 26.

S. 9—See SUCCESSION ACT, 1865, s. 50, cl. (3), 1 B. 547.

Statute 1 and 2, Vict, C. 110.

See ST. 11 AND 12, VIC., C. 21, 3 B.H.C. O.C. 25.

Statute 2 and 3, Vict., C. 39.

Father's right to custody — Legitimate children—English Law, Previous to—See CUSTODY OF CHILDREN, 1 Hyde, 99.

Statute 3 and 4, Vict., C. 56.

See SHIP, 4 M.I.A. 179.

Statute 3 and 4 Vict., C. 65.

See JURISDICTION—ADMIRALTY AND VICE ADMIRALTY, JURISDICTION, 5 B.H C.O.C. 64, 10 B.H C. 110.

Statute 5 and 6, Vict., C. 39.

Ss. 1 and 3 — See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT, AUTHORITY OF AGENTS, 1 Ind. Jur. O. S. 17 =1 W.R.P.C. 43=9 M.I A. 140.

Statute 5 and 6, Vict., C. 45 (The Copy-right Act, 1842).

See COPY-RIGHT, 19 B. 557, 17 C. 951.

Statute 5 and 6, Vict., C. 100.

See COPY-RIGHT, 8 B.L R. 298=16 W. R. 90.

Statute 6 and 7, Vict., C. 94.

See CONSULAR COURT, 3 B. 59.

Statute 7 and 8, Vict., C. 69 (The Judicial Committee Act, 1844).

See BOM. ACT XVIII OF 1848, 5 M.I.A. 499.

See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 5 M.I.A. 499.

Statute 8 and 9, Vict , C. 16.

S. 97—See COMPANY—POWERS AND LIABILITIES OF DIRECTORS, 5 B.L.R, 195.

Statute 8 and 9, Vict., C. 18.

S. 92—See ACT X OF 1870, s. 55, 11 A. 378 = A.W.N. 1889, 104.

Statute 8 and 9, Vict., C. 30.

S. 2—See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—RESTORATION OF APPEAL, 6 M.I.A. 491.

Statute 8 and 9, Vict., C. 109.

See ENGLISH LAW, 4 M.I.A. 339.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848).

(1)—Summons to insolvent and creditors—Practice.—An application for a summons to insolvent and the petitioning creditors to be examined with reference to the debt on which the insolvency had been adjudicated should be made to the Commissioner. In re KHODA BUX, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 42.

(2)—Verification of schedule by affidavit.—The insolvent must personally attest the truth of the schedule. In the matter of HAMILTON ANSTRUTHER, 11 B.L.R. App. 34.

(3)—Trading in reckless manner.—Reckless trading, although unaccompanied by any legal or moral fraud, is a ground for suspending protection. In re BAGGOT, Bourke, Ins. 5.

(4)—Fraudulent practice in trade—Power of Court to punish criminally.—Certificate refused where insolvent had been guilty of fraudulent practices in trade. Certificate suspended in the case of a partner at home who, though innocent of the fraudulent practices, omitted to give notice to the parties intended to be defrauded. The Insolvency Court has no power to punish criminally for fraudulent practices in trade. This is left to the action of creditors through the channel of Criminal law. In re JANSEEN v. REUSS, Cor. 13.

(5)—Minor, adjudication of, as insolvent.—A minor who has traded cannot be adjudicated an insolvent on the petition of those who have supplied him with funds for his business. In re NOBODEEP CHUNDER SHAW, 13 C. 68. (L.R. 18 Ch. D. 109, Rel.)

(6)—Effect of final discharge - Bankruptcy Act, 1861 - Premia on policy of insurance.—An insolvent obtained his final discharge in April 1863. Held that he was not still liable, under the provisions of the English Bankrupt Act, 1861, s. 154, for the ascertained value of certain premia on a policy of insurance which he had undertaken. GRAY v. CHICK, Cor. 136.

(7)—Suit by Official Assignee—Leave to sue—Practice.—It is not necessary for the Assignee to obtain the leave of the Court before commencing an action; the absence of such permission is matter of objection only between the assignee and the Court of bankruptcy and not between the assignee and the other party to the suit. In re LATAPIE. Cor. 4.

(8)—Agent of company paid by commission—Trader—Broker.—The agent of a company or private individual who procures and receives parcels for transmission by his employers, or who by his personal exertions obtains passengers for their dak, although he may be entrusted with the receipt or price of carriage, and is paid by commission, is not a broker or trader within the meaning of the Insolvent Act. In re CAMPBELL. 2 Hyde 177.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(9)—Adjournment—Illness of insolvent—Protection order.—An adjournment on the ground that the insolvent is unable to attend Court by reason of ill-health will only be granted when the insolvent enjoys the benefit of the Court's order granting him personal protection. In re ODOYTOO CHURN ROY, Bourke, Ins. 3.

(10)—Non-resident trader carrying on business through resident gomastha—How the conduct of gomastha may amount to an act of insolvency by the principal—Firms exclusively managed by gomastha - Rights of creditors—Insolvency—A man cannot commit any act of bankruptcy by an act of his agent which he has not authorised, and of which he had no cognizance. The application of the principle that the act of a gomastha may be taken as the act of the principal must depend upon the position and authority of the gomastha, and great care must be taken in applying it. The principle in 5 C. 605 which was that the act of a gomastha, his authority flowing from his general position, may, in some cases, be taken as the act of his principal rendering him liable within the statute, was correct. When the gomastha does not occupy such a position, his principal will not be adjudged insolvent on the ground of the gomastha's personal conduct. It cannot be held that the creditors of firms exclusively managed by gomasthas have no remedy by way of insolvency, whatever the gomastha may do. The Statute (11 and 12 Victoria) should be interpreted with reference to the facts of Indian life. KASTUR CHAND RAI BAHADUR v. DHANPAT SINGH BAHADUR, 23 C 26, P.C. = 22 I.A. 162 = 5 M.L.J. 269 = 6 Sar. 617 [R., 31 C. 761 = 8 C.W.N. 553.]

(11)—Indian Insolvent Act (Stat. 11 and 12 Vic C. 21)—Debtor filing petition in insolvency and obtaining discharge—Expunging from schedule names of creditors who do not prove their claim—Official Assignee's relation towards creditors admitted in schedule.—Certain insolvents filed their schedule in July 1868 in Bombay and obtained their discharge on 15—8—1869. The schedule contained the names of 26 creditors, all of whom were residents of Multan and Karachi, and the aggregate amount of admitted debts amounted to Rs. 51,819-13-0. The Official Assignee filed an affidavit in which he stated that a dividend of 4 per cent. had been declared in the year 1870, and that since that time only one creditor had applied for and received the dividend. K, the largest creditor of the insolvents, applied in July 1886 for payment of the dividend on his claim of Rs. 27,500. Being unable to produce evidence, in his possession, in support of his claim after so long a period, he was allowed to prove his claim from the books of the insolvent which were in the office of the Official Assignee. Thereupon, on 5th October 1887, K obtained a rule calling upon each and all of the creditors of the said insolvents to appeal and show cause why they should not come in and prove their claims against the insolvent's estate, or, in default, why their names should not be expunged from the schedule Held discharging the rule, that, where no fraud is proved or even alleged with regard to the claims of those creditors whose names are entered in the schedule, the Court has no powers to expunge their names therefrom. Held, further, that the Official Assignee was a trustee of the property in his hands for all the creditors whose names were admitted in the insolvent's schedule. It was immaterial whether they had actually proved their claims or not. In re DEWCURN JEWRAJ AND HEERJEE DEWCURN, 12 B 342. (R., 20 B. 636.)

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848) –continued.

(12)—Summary proceeding under—Commissioner in Insolvency passing in effect an order for ejectment of the insolvent tenant, at the instance of the landlord—Whether valid—Jurisdiction.—Where the Court ordered an insolvent to make over possession of a house, which she tenanted, to the Official Assignee, at the instance of the landlord. Held, that it is virtually an order for ejectment, and that there are no provisions in the Insolvent Debtor's Act, which enable the Court sitting in Insolvency, on a summary proceeding, to make virtually an ejectment decree, at the instance of a landlord, against his tenant. In re MAUD ANDERSON, 36 C. 489=2 Ind. Cas. 405.

(13)—Discretion of Court—Making of an adjudicating order in this country, notwithstanding existence of prior adjudicating order in another country—Presence of large assets—Convenience—Different High Courts exercising concurrent jurisdiction—Constituted Attorney in Calcutta of the firm of the debtors in London, effect of.—The Indian Insolvency Courts have a discretion in making an adjudicating order in this country, notwithstanding the existence of a prior adjudicating order in another country, if the conditions of the Insolvency Act are satisfied and there is no valid reason to the contrary. (21 B. 297 (307), R.) The presence of large assets within their jurisdiction is a strong circumstance in favour of making such an order. [R., 11 Bom. L R. 1032.] The same principle applies to the different High Courts in India exercising concurrent jurisdiction. But, where there is a conflict, having regard to the questions of convenience and considerations of a like nature, one Court should practically have to yield to another as it may not be just or equitable to allow the proceedings in both Courts to go on concurrently. (21 B. 297, R.) Case, wherein it was held that the constituted Attorney in Calcutta of the firm of the debtors in London, occupied such a position that his principals must stand or fall by his act, so that his departure must be imputed to be the departure of his principals, for the purpose of bringing the case within the statute. In the matter of WILLIAM WATSON, 31 C. 761 =8 C.W.N. 553.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(14)—Vesting order made under—Official assignee.—A vesting order, made under the Insolvency Act, has not the effect of giving the Official Assignee priority over the claim of a judgment creditor, in respect of property attached, at his instance, previous to the passing of such order. The Official Assignee stands in the shoes of the insolvent and takes the property, subject to any equities which are good against the latter. MILLER v. LUKHIMANI DEBI. 28 C. 419=5 C.W.N. 761. (14 W.R. 33, F.B. F.; 10 C. 150, D.) [Overruled 29 C. 428, F.B. =6 C.W.N. 577; D., 25 M. 406, 29 B. 405=7 BOM. L R. 498; Cons., 26 M. 673.]

(15)—Vesting order under—Insolvency Act, III. of 1909, passed thereafter—Further proceedings governed by Act of 1848—S. 127 (2), Act III of 1909—Arbitration—Submission—Not revoked by vesting order or insolvency—Failure to pay claim—Whether a difference between parties—Official Assignee not a necessary party to arbitration proceedings—Award—Effect upon Official Assignee—Suit against insolvent—Duty of Court.—A vesting order made under the Indian Insolvent Debtors Act, 1848, cannot be treated as one made under the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, III of 1909, in view of the clear provisions of s. 127 (2) of the latter Act. Where the vesting order was made under the Act of 1848, all proceedings continue, and all provisions of the old Act apply thereto, as if the new Act had not been passed. Though the Court can entertain a suit against a debtor against whom a vesting order has been passed under the Act of 1848, it is nevertheless the duty of the presiding Judge to see that the decree is so drawn as not to prejudice the rights of the other creditors under the Insolvent Debtors Act. (22 C. 259, R.) Insolvency or the issue of a vesting order does not operate as revocation of a submission to arbitration. (4 S. L. R. 14, R.) Where at the time of the reference, a vesting order is in force, the proceedings of arbitrators cannot have any direct effect on the property of the insolvent, and the result of an award is to merely convert an unliquidated claim into a liquidated one which the Official Assignee or Trustee can scrutinize like any other claim. Such an award is an order merely in personam. The Official Assignee is not a necessary or a proper party to such proceedings. (22 C. 259, 26 M. 406, R. and F.) Mere failure to pay a claim constitutes a matter in difference between the parties to a submission. JAMES FINLAY AND CO. v. JESHANMAL R. KIRPALANI, 5 S. L.R. 4. (5 S. L. R. 7, Note, R.) property, possession by Official Assignee taken of, how far amounts to election to accept lease.—In a Presidency town in India, in cases of onerous property (e g., lease-hold property) belonging to an insolvent and as such vesting in the Official Assignee under the Indian Insolvent Act, the Official Assignee has the right to elect whether he will accept or repudiate such property? He is not bound to take upon himself against his will the liabilities arising out of a lease-hold vested in the insolvent at the time of his insolvency. Nor can it be argued that he would be bound by the lease, unless or until he expressed his intention by words or acts not to take it as part of the assets of the insolvent, because an onerous property cannot be considered to vest in the Official Assignee except when it has been accepted by him. The taking of possession, by the Official Assignee of the insolvent's lease-hold property, is, except under exceptional circumstances, tantamount to an election on his part to accept the lease. Such acceptance of the lease would date back to the vesting order so as to render the Official Assignee liable for the rent during the period of his continuing to be Assignee of the lease, his liability ending when, with the landlord's assent, he surrenders the term, or otherwise gets rid of his obligation. ABDUL RAZAK v. J.G. KERNAN, 22 B. 617.

(16)—Vesting of insolvent's property in Official Assignee—Option of Official Assignee to accept or refuse onerous property—Lease-hold

Statute 11 and 12 Vict., C. 21, (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(17)—Vesting order, signing of—Practice—Attachment before judgment—Execution creditor—Official Assignee—Priority—Execution—Seizure—Vesting order—Act VIII of 1859, 11 and 12 Vict., c. 21—Where the vesting orders were under the seal of the Insolvent Court, and an objection was taken to their validity on the ground that they were not signed by the Clerk of the Insolvent Court but were signed for him by the Official Assignee, and no attempt was ever made in the lower Court to have them set aside for irregularity, held that they were in full force and effect. The District Court was bound to regard them as such and so was the High Court on appeal. It was further held to be in conformity with practice, in the transaction of business in the office of the Insolvent Court, for the Official Assignee to sign on behalf of the Clerk of that Court in his absence. The High Court however held such a practice to be objectionable, requiring alteration. In cases of attachment before judgment, of moveable properties belonging to defendants, which continued till decrees and orders in execution in such suits had been passed and warrants for such execution had been lodged with the Nazir of the Court:—Held that without seizure those properties were bound by the warrants, as soon as they were delivered to the Nazir, and that, consequently, the attaching creditors were entitled to priority as regards the attached properties over the Official Assignee in whom the estate of the defendants had become vested by orders of the Insolvent Debtors Court of Bombay passed before sale of the attached properties, but after delivery to the Nazir of the warrants for execution. Held, also, that attachment before judgment does not give the attaching creditor priority over the Official Assignee in whom the estate of the defendants had become vested by an order of the Insolvent Debtors Court made subsequent to attachment, but before decree and warrants for execution. GAMBLE v. BHOLAGIR, 2 B. H.C. 146. [F., 8 M. 554; Expl., 1 N.W.P. 172; R., 13 W R. (F.B.) 9, 14 W.R. (F.B.) 33, 8 B.H.C.O.C. 140. 2 B. 148 (F.B.), 3 B. 58. 4 B. 163, 3 B. 433. 7 C. 213, 10 C. 150 (F.B.) =13 C.L R. 433, 7 B. 452, 19 B. 232, 23 B. 428.]

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(18)—Attachment before judgment—Insolvency—Vesting order—Official Assignee—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, ss. 83, 84, 89, 246.—This was an application by the Official Assignee, under s. 246 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, to remove an attachment before judgment, from goods which he claimed under the usual vesting order made upon a petition in insolvency by the defendant. The order of attachment was obtained on the 24th of November, the goods were attached on the 25th, and subsequently, in the course of the same day, the defendant presented his petition, and the vesting order was made. The plaintiff creditor insisted that the effect of the attachment before judgment was to secure the payment of his decree in this suit in priority to the claim of the Official Assignee. Held (1) that an attachment before judgment is not known to Courts in the United Kingdom, except so far as the process of foreign attachment may be considered to be somewhat analogous to it; (2) that the property in the goods attached is in nowise altered, but remains as before in the defendant, the Court as it were merely locking up the goods, so that they cannot be disposed of or carried away in any mode that would improperly delay or defeat the execution of the decree, if obtained; (3) that it does not in any other way interfere with a legal disposition of the attached property, beyond declaring that possession shall not be taken without its previous sanction being obtained; nor does the Court engage to the plaintiff that he shall be paid out of the goods in its custody. The Court merely undertakes that, if no subsequent order to the contrary be made, the property shall be forthcoming at the time of pronouncing the decree, to abide whatever order the Court shall make about it; (4) that s 89 of the Code gives a clear priority to a decree-holder over any right which the attachment before judgment creditor might be supposed to have acquired, and a voluntary assignment in trust for creditors at any time before seizure under decree would defeat the claim of such a judgment or decree-holder against goods so assigned; (5) that such assignments are much favoured by Courts of Justice, and a Court having the control over the property will consider it more equitable that it should be applied for the benefit of all the creditors than for the exclusive advantage of one; (6) that a vesting order in insolvency is in effect an assignment in trust for the benefit of the creditors, and as such it should be treated as paramount to the rights which an attachment before judgment-creditor can claim by virtue of his having called the Court into action, to preserve the property during the suit; and (7) that, accordingly, in the present case the Official Assignee was entitled, on behalf of the creditors, to take advantage of this assignment in trust, and thus claim priority over the plaintiff's decree, and over the rights (if any) which the plaintiff as attachment-creditor may have acquired. JAVA RAMJI v. JADAVJI NATHA, 1 B.H.C. 224=2 B H.C. 142. [R., 8 B.H.C.O.C. 140, 20 B. 403.]

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(19)—Insolvency—Vesting order — Death of insolvent—Effect.—An insolvent died after the petition and schedule were filed and the vesting order was made. It was contended that the proceedings in such insolvency abated. Held that the death could not cause the proceedings to abate. The property was, by order under s. 7 of the Insolvency Act, vested in the Official Assignee in trust for the creditors, and the death of the insolvent cannot supersede or nullify that order. The right of the Official Assignee to proceed to deal with the property cannot be affected. In re SITARAM ABBAJI, 10 B.H.C. 58. [R., 7 B. 438.]

(20)—Insolvency — After-acquired property.—Under the Imperial Statute, 11th and 12th Vict., c. 21. relating to insolvent debtors in India, the assignees have a right to subsequently acquired property of an insolvent, unless the Insolvent has obtained a certificate and discharge, but this title of the assignees is subject to two qualifications—first, when the insolvent has acquired property subject to liens and obligation; in such a case the property taken is subject to the equities and charges which affect it in the hands of the Insolvent; and, secondly, when the Insolvent carries on trade at a subsequent period, with the assent of the assignees, the property which is acquired in the subsequent trade will be subject in equity to the charge of creditors in that trade, in priority to the claim of the assignees. An uncertificated Insolvent borrowed money for the purpose of purchasing goods to carry on a business, and, in order to secure the advance made, gave a bond and agreed, in writing, to execute a mortgage of the goods so purchased to the lender to secure repayment. He afterwards executed an assignment of the goods for that purpose. The business was carried on with the knowledge of, and without any objection by, the Official Assignee. The lender never had possession of the goods assigned to him by the Insolvent, and the same remained in possession of the Insolvent until his death. Held (reversing the decree of the Supreme Court at Madras), that the insolvent's after-acquired property was subject to the lien of the lender, and that such lien was paramount to any claim of the Official Assignee under the insolvency. KERAKOOSE v. BROOKS, 4 W.R. P.C. 61=8 M.I.A. 339=1 Suther. 426=1 Sar. 778.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(21)—Bankruptcy—Rights of creditors.—The principle that one creditor shall not take a part of the fund, which otherwise would have been available for the payment of all the creditors, and at the same time be allowed to come in pari passu with the other creditors, for satisfaction out of the remainder of that fund, does not apply, where the creditor obtains by his diligence something which did not, and could not, form a part of that fund. The Orphan Chamber of Batavia being the executors of a foreign creditor in the Island of Java, by their agent in Calcutta, proved the amount of their whole debt against the estate of A. B., who had been declared insolvent under the Indian Insolvent Act (9th Geo. IV, c. 73), and after making such proof, and receiving the dividends upon the whole debts, instituted a suit, in the Island of Java, to recover a plantation or estate there, held by one of the Insolvents as Trustee for the firm of A. B. and C.D., in equal shares; to which suit, the Assignees of the Insolvent appeared as defendants, but judgment was given in favour of the creditor, and for the sale of the estate for his benefit; the proceeds of which amounted to three-fifths of his whole debt. The assignees of A. B. filed a bill, on the Equity side of the Supreme Court at Calcutta, against the agent of the foreign creditor, resident within the jurisdiction, praying that the dividends might be refunded, and that the defendants might be restrained by injunction from receiving any further dividends, until all the other creditors were put on an equal footing with the creditor at Java, the defendant demurred, and obtained judgment against the Assignees. Held, on appeal, by the Judicial Committee, that the estate in Java, not passing to the assignees under the assignment, did not form any part of the fund that was available for the benefit of the general creditors, and that the creditor was, therefore, not bound to refund the dividends, nor ought to be prevented from receiving any future dividends, provided he did not receive more than 20 s. in the pound upon his whole debt. But, the bill having stated that the creditor had also instituted proceedings against certain debtors of the insolvents at Bencoolen; held, that the assignees were entitled, under the prayer for general relief, to an injunction to stay the receipt of further dividends, until the proceedings at Bencoolen were abandoned. COCKERELL v. DICKENS, 2 M.I.A. 353=3 Moo. P.C. 98=1 Mont. D.Y.D. 45=Morton 407=1 Sar. 203.

(22)—Act XXVIII of 1865—Execution of decree—Stay of suit—Laches.—The effect of a winding up order under Act XXVIII of 1865 passed against the estate of a trader is to prevent the completion of an execution against his immoveable property or ordinary moveable property, if it has not been consummated by seizure and sale before the filing in Court of the resolutions, unless the leave of the Court be given to the execution creditor to proceed. Such leave ought not to be given except under special circumstances. Leave of the Court will not generally be given if there have been laches on the part of the execution-creditor. Under the Insolvent Debtors Act, 1 and 2 Vict., c. 110, mere delivery of the writ of fi. fa. to the Sheriff or his Deputy for execution bound the goods as against the assignee in insolvency, although there had been neither seizure nor sale under the writ. The property in the goods passed to the assignee in insolvency, but it did so subject to the right of the execution-creditor to have satisfaction of his debt by sale. The execution must be levied by seizure and sale before the date of the fiat or the filing of the petition for adjudication, otherwise the execution-creditor is entitled only to a rateable part of his debt with the other creditors. The practice of the High Court under the Civ. Pro. Code on the execution of decrees for money either against immoveable or moveable estate has been, in the first instance, to issue a writ of attachment and subsequently, on its return by the Sheriff duly executed, to issue a writ directing a sale. It therefore becomes necessary for the execution-creditor to come again to the Court after the attachment, and to apply for the aid of its process to compel a sale. This was not so in the Supreme Court. The writ of fi. fa. which issued from that Court, was an authority to the Sheriff not only to seize but also to sell. S. 250 of the Civ. Pro. Code, applies neither to executions against immoveable property nor to executions against debts due to the defendant. In order to give third parties, whose property may have been wrongfully taken in execution, as that of the defendant, full opportunity of vindicating their rights before sale, and also to give the defendant an opportunity of paying, it has not been usual to issue process for attachment and sale simultaneously even against personal property, and it would not seem to be proper to do so except under special circumstances. THE FINANCIAL ASSOCIATION OF INDIA AND CHINA, LTD. v. PRANJIWANDAS HARJIVANDAS, 3 B.H.C.O.C. 25.

Statute 11 and 12 Vict., C. 21, (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(23)—See BOM. ACT XXVIII OF 1865, s. 24, 9 B.H.C. 27.

(24)—Effect of insolvency being declared—Officer having jurisdiction in insolvency under Punjab Laws Act and Civ. Pro. Code, how to proceed—See PUN. ACT IV OF 1872, ss. 24, 27, 31, 5 P.W.R. 1909=6 P.L.R. 1909=1 Ind. Cas. 55.

(25)—See ARREST, 8 M. 276.

(26)—See COMPROMISE—GENERAL, 4 W.R. P.C. 66.

(27)—See INTEREST—SPECIAL CASES, 14 M.I.A. 209.

(28)—Suit to recover money from defendant who has been adjudicated as insolvent—Official Assignee not to be made a party—See PARTIES TO SUITS—GENERAL, 18 C. 43.

(29)—S. 5—Residence within jurisdiction of High Court—Act X of 1877.—The petitioner, whose zemindari and dwelling-house in the mofussil had been sold in execution of a mortgage decree, came down to Calcutta early in May and, living there for nearly two months in a hired house, filed an insolvency petition in the High Court. He remained there till the middle of September when the Courts rose for the vacation, and returned to Calcutta just before the expiry of the vacation, having in the interval gone to his native district, for the purpose of obtaining funds to carry on his insolvency proceedings. The petitioner's wife was living in his native district. Held, that residence within the High Court's jurisdiction, within the meaning of s. 5, Insolvency Act, had not been proved, and that the High Court had, therefore, no jurisdiction. In re RAMPAUL SINGH, Insolvent, 8 C.L.R. 14. [R., 21 C. 634.]

(30) S. 5—Insolvent Debtor's Court at Bombay—Jurisdiction—"Reside"—A person residing at Shanghai cannot apply for insolvency to the Bombay Court.—A person residing in Shanghai and carrying on business in partnership in Bombay cannot present his petition to the Insolvent Debtor's Court at Bombay to have the benefit of the Act. In re MANEKJI PESTONJI TALATI, 10 Bom. L.R. 84.

(31)—S. 5, Letters Patent, 1865, s. 18—Residence—Jurisdiction.—Where the petitioner came down from Cawnpore, where he had resided for sometime, to Calcutta, to file his petition, and stated that he intended to settle in Calcutta on obtaining his discharge, held, that his being in Calcutta under these circumstances did not constitute residence. By s. 18 of the Letters Patent, 1865, the jurisdiction of the Insolvent Court has been narrowed to the Bengal Division of the Presidency of Fort William (i.e., that portion of the Presidency over which the authority of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal extends). The residence of the petitioner under 5 of the Insolvent Act (10 & 11, Vict., c. 21), must be within the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of the High Court. In the matter of TIETKINS, 1 B.L.R.O.C. 84. [R., 21 B. 405, 5 Bom. L.R. 454, 9 Bom. L.R. 1093; D., 21 C. 634.]

(32)—S. 5—Letters Patent (1865), cl. 18—Insolvency application presented by resident of Karachi, not entertainable by High Court of Bombay—High Court, exercise of insolvency jurisdiction by.—All the powers and authorities under the Insolvent Debtors' Act, originally of the Supreme Court and then of the High Court including the power to sit in and hold the Insolvent Court as its Commissioner, form a branch of the jurisdiction of the High Court, and are, therefore, subject to any legislative restrictions of that jurisdiction whether imposed by the Letters Patent themselves or by any subsequent enactment. Further, the power of the High Court or any Judge of it under cl. 18 of the Letters Patent to exercise the jurisdiction of the Insolvent Court, whatever that jurisdiction may be, is locally limited by the clause

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

"within the Presidency of Bombay," and therefore, irrespective of s. 5 of the Insolvent Debtors' Act, cannot be exercised outside the Presidency, nor outside any area within the Presidency to which the scope of the clause may, by subsequent enactment be restricted. Assuming that, but for Act V of 1872, a Judge of the High Court would, under cl. 18 of the Letters Patent have had power to exercise original jurisdiction in the Insolvent Court over Sind as well as over the rest of the Bombay Presidency, the effect of Act V of 1872 is exactly as if the following proviso had been added to the clause:—"Provided that the said High Court, and any such Judge thereof, shall not have or exercise, and shall be deemed never to have had, any such powers and authorities within the Province of Sind." That would as effectually prevent a Judge of the High Court from entertaining in the Insolvent Court a petition by a European British subject residing at Karachi as the clause, apart from Act V of 1872, would undoubtedly prevent him from entertaining a petition from such a subject residing outside the Presidency. In re JAMES CURRIE, 21 B. 405. [Appl., 10 Bom. L.R. 84; R., 13 C.P.L.R. 61, 9 Bom. L.R. 1093.]

(33)—S. 5—Term "reside" explained.—The word "reside" in s. 5 of the Insolvent Act, when applicable to the insolvency of traders, includes an occupation for the purpose of trading, whether or not accompanied by sleeping or dwelling. In re HOWARD BROTHERS, 11 B. L.R. 254. [R., 5 C. 605, 10 Bom.L.R. 84.]

(34)—S. 5 — Meaning of 'residence'.— A presented his petition at Rangoon for the benefit of the provisions of the Insolvency Act, describing himself as residing at No. 45 in 38th Street in Rangoon, although six out of his twelve creditors were residents of places outside Rangoon and all his debtors were residents of Letpadan or Tharawa. The property in his possession was in Letpadan Township, and he admitted that he had been living and carrying on business at Letpadan for the past 15 years and had come to Rangoon to file his schedule; Held, that the Insolvency Commissioner at Rangoon had no jurisdiction to entertain the petition. (1 B.L.R. O.C. 84, 8 C.L.R. 14, Rel. upon.) Where none of the partners carry on business at Rangoon, the petition of a partner asking to be relieved of partnership debts cannot be entertained by the Rangoon Court. SUBRAMANIAM CHETTY v. PICHAI ROWTHER, 10 Ind. Cas. 786. (11 B.L.R. 254, D.)

(35)—S. 5, Insolvency Act (11 and 12, Vict., c. 21), object of—Residence contemplated by s. 5, need not be permanent residence—Jurisdiction of Court.—The residence contemplated by s. 5 of the Indian Insolvent Act, is not necessarily a permanent residence. The object of that section is to extend the benefits of the Insolvency Act to those, who are bona fide residents within the jurisdiction of the Court, at the time of filing of the petition. In the matter of F. DE

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

MOMET, 21 C. 634. (1 B.L.R.O.C. 84 and 8 C.L.R. 14, D.) [R., 13 C.P.L.R. 61, 1 L.B. R. 222.]

(36)—S. 5—Jurisdiction—Residence.—Where a person applied for the benefit of the provision of the Insolvent Act on a petition in which he described himself as "William Cockburn, of Doomarah Factory in Tirhoot," and stated in his petition "that he is now residing at No. 19 Garden Reach, in the suburbs of Calcutta, within the jurisidiction of the High Court." Held, the petition was rightly dismissed for want of jurisdiction. In re COCKBURN, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 326.

(37)—S. 5—Applicability to "British Subjects."—Where the insolvent was the widow of a surgeon, and it appeared that, for sometime before and at the time of the presentation of her insolvency petition to the Court, she was resident at Salem, and it also appeared that she was born in England of English parents, held, that the Insolvent Court had jurisdiction over her and that the order for personal discharge might be issued and that the 5th section of the Insolvent Debtors' Act is as applicable to "British Subject" (in the sense in which that appellation is used in the Charter of the late Supreme Court) resident within the jurisdiction of the High Court of Madras, as to an inhabitant within the local limits of the town of Madras. In the matter of DOROTHEA RICKS, 3 M.H.C. 151. [R., 21 B. 405.]

(38)—S. 5—Letters Patent of High Court, cl. 18—Insolvency—European British born subject.—The jurisdiction of the late Supreme Courts was twofold local as respected the inhabitants of the town and island of Bombay, and personal as regarded European British-born subjects as they are now called, residing in any part of the territories subject to the Bombay Government. This latter jurisdiction, as regards civil actions, does not now exist, but, as regards the Insolvent Court, it has not been interfered with. A European British born subject who resided in the Bombay Presidency but outside the local limits of the jurisdiction of the High Court, could go to Bombay and present a petition in the Court for the relief of Insolvent Debtors and obtain the benefit of the Indian Insolvent Act, the original jurisdiction of the Supreme Court in that respect continuing to the High Court by cl. 18 of its Letters Patent. In re GEORGE BLACKWELL, 9 B.H.C. 461. [R., 23 B. 474, 13 C. P.L.R. 61, 9 Bom.L. R. 1093; D., 21 B. 405.]

(39) S. 7—Insolvent—Vesting order—Official Assignee—Withdrawal of the petition for insolvency—Property revested in the withdrawing insolvent.—On the filing of a petition in insolvency a vesting order is made in favour of the Official Assignee and the property of the insolvent vests in him. The adjudication of a man, insolvent, has the same effect. On the withdrawal of the petition for insolvency the vesting order comes to a determination and must be taken to be annulled; and the property of the insolvent revests in him. N. C. MACLEOD v. HAJI SAJAN LALJI, 9 Bom. L. R. 1006.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(40)—S. 7—Insolvent—Vesting order—Official Assignee—Withdrawal of the petition for insolvency—Right of Official Assignee to maintain a suit.—On the 14th October, 1903, a petition in insolvency was filed; and a vesting order was made by the Court. On the 15th June, 1904, the insolvents took out a rule nisi to withdraw their petition; and the rule was made absolute on the 21st September, 1904. But the rules were not drawn up till 7th February, 1906. In the meanwhile, the Official Assignee filed a suit on the 2nd March, 1905, on behalf of the insolvents to recover a sum of money alleged to be due to the insolvent's firm in respect of certain mercantile transactions. It was objected that the Official Assignee was not entitled to maintain the suit: Held, that at the date of the institution of the suit the insolvency proceedings were still in force, and the assets of the insolvents still remained vested in the Official Assignee. The subsequent coming into force of the order could not vitiate the institution of the suit, and it was clear that the Official Assignee was competent to bring the suit. He was also competent to continue it, for the order of the withdrawal even after it became operative, was not effective to divest the Official Assignee and revest the property in the insolvents. The withdrawal of a petition for insolvency does not operate to discharge the vesting order. A withdrawal for which no provision is made in the Act cannot be regarded as the legal equivalent of a dismissal by consent. HAJI SAJAN LALJI v. N. C. MACLEOD, 10 Bom. L.R. 178=32 B. 321.

(41)—S. 7—Insolvent—After-acquired property of the insolvent—Construction of an Act.—The words of s. 7 of the Indian Insolvency Act, cover the after-acquired property of an insolvent. An Act is not to be deemed to be retrospective which takes away or impairs any vested right acquired under existing laws. MACLEOD v. B. B. & C. I. RAILWAY CO., 7 Bom. L.R. 618. (Reversing, 7 Bom. L. R. 337).

(42)—S. 7—Insolvency—Undischarged insolvent—After-acquired immoveable property—Adverse possession for over 12 years—Right of Official Assignee—Extinguishment—Limitation Act (1908), s. 28, art. 144—Vesting order—After-acquired property—Title vesting in Official Assignee—No conveyance necessary.—Where the insolvent obtained no order for his discharge in the nature of a certificate, and such insolvent acquired subsequently certain properties and was in possession of the same for over twelve years, his possession was adverse to the Official Assignee, and the right of the Official Assignee to the property was extinguished (Limitation Act, s. 28, sch. II, art. 144). (8 C. 556, R.) Where an undischarged insolvent subsequently gets by bequest certain properties, the Official Assignee becomes, under s. 7 of the Insolvency Act, entitled to those properties, without any assignment or conveyance, and the property bequeathed passed at once to the Official Assignee. P. BALAKRISHNA PILLAI v. M. P. NARAYANSAMI NAIDU, 12 M.L.T. 215=17 Ind. Cas. 14. (17 M. 33, 2 Ch. D. 138, R.)

Statute 11 and 12 Vict., C. 21, (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(43)—S. 7—Death of a partner—Insolvency application by surviving partners, if vests in the Official Assignee.—Where out of two partners, one dies and the surviving partner filed a petition of insolvency, and a vesting order is made. Held, that the surviving partner's rights and obligations vested in the Official Assignee, so as to be available for the benefit of the firm. The business also could be wound up so as to bind the representatives of the deceased partner. The surviving partner's obligation to sell the partnership property and to pay partnership debts vested in the Official Assignee as an incident of the estate which vested in him, under s. 7 of the Insolvency Act. The interest of the deceased partner in the partnership assets, even if it became vested on his administrator, was subject to the obligation of the surviving partner to sell partnership property to pay partnership debts. ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF MADRAS v. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS, 6 M.L.T. 188=3 Ind. Cas. 163.

(44)—S. 7—Right to sue—Official Assignee.—The right of suit appertaining to an insolvent does not pass at his insolvency to the Official Assignee as it is not enumerated in s. 7 of this Act. DATTOOBHOY v. VALLU, 1 Bom. L. R. 828.

(45) *S.*7—Execution sale of judgment-debtor's undivided share in ancestral property--Insolvency of judgment-debtor prior to execution-sale—Suit for partition by the assignee from purchaser in execution.--In the execution of a simple money decree against the judgment-debtor, a member of a joint Hindu family, his undivided share in the ancestral immoveable property was sold and the purchaser conveyed his right to the plaintiff. Prior to the ezecution-sale the judgment-debtor had become an insolvent and all his property had vested in the Official Assignee under s. 7, Insolvency Act. On the plaintiff bringing a suit for partition and possession of the share, held, that as soon as an order had been made under s. 7, Insolvency Act, vesting property of a judgment-debtor in the Official Assignee, the judgment-debtor had no saleable interest in such property, and that as such, the plaintiff's suit could not be maintained. SUNDRAPPAYAR v. RAMA, ARU, ARU, RAMA ARUNACHELLA CHETTIAR, 4 M.L.T. 183=18 M.L.J. 487=31 M. 493. (11 C.L.R. 389, 3 B. 437, R.; 30 M. 145, Not F.)

(46)—S. 7.—Attachment of debt—Money paid by garnishee to sheriff in execution—Subsequent insolvency of judgment-debtor—Priority between Official Assignee and judgment-creditor to money in the hands of the Sheriff.—A judgment-creditor obtained a warrant for atttachment of the debt due by a third person to his judgment-debtor,

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

A prohibitory order was served on the garnishee. No cause having been shown, the notice to pay was made absolute. In execution against him, the garnishee had to pay the sheriff a sum much more than what was really due from him to the judgment-debtor. Soon after this, the judgment-debtor filed his petition in the Insolvent Court and his whole estate became vested in the Official Assignee. The Official Assignee claimed the amount which was found actually due by the garnishee to the judgment-debtor. Held, the effect of an attachment is to prevent alienation. It does not confer title. Although money was paid to the Sheriff, it could not be treated as equivalent to the actual payment to the creditor himself. What took place was really tantamount to paying the money into Court. No order was obtained for payment of the money to the creditor himself. The amount paid by the garnishee being much more than what was due by him, it was merely paid under protest for the purpose of getting rid of the attachment, and not in satisfaction of the amount due from him. Therefore, the money in the hands of the Sheriff must be considered as belonging to the insolvent and, in consequence, it vested in the Official Assignee. JITMAND RAMANAND v. RAMCHAND NANDRAM, 29 B. 405=7 Bom.L.R. 488. (29 C. 428, 26 M. 673, R.)

(47)—S. 7—Dismissal of petition—"Null and void," effect of—Revesting property in insolvent retrospectively from date of vesting order.—S. 7 of the Indian Insolvency Act, 1848, provides that in case, after the making of any vesting order, the insolvent's petition should be dismissed, the vesting order shall, from and after such dismissal, become null and void, subject however, to the condition that all acts done by the Official Assignee prior to the dismissal of the petition shall be good and valid, a saving which would be unnecessary if the revesting had not a retrospective effect. The use of the phrase "null and void" has the effect of revesting the property in the insolvent retrospectively from the date of the vesting order, and provision is, therefore, made for validating all acts done by the Official Assignee in the interval between the date of the vesting order and the dismissal of the insolvent's petition. KOTHANDRAM RAVUTH v. MURUGESA MUDALIAR, 27 M. 7. (20 M. 452, Appr.)

(48)—S. 7—Settlement made by insolvent before insolvency—His right to sue thereon.—An insolvent cannot bring a suit to enforce the terms of a settlement regarding landed property, made before he filed his petition in insolvency. Any rights which the insolvent had under such settlement vested, as soon as the Court made its order under s. 7 of the Indian Insolvent Act, in the Official Assignee; and a suit to enforce such rights could be maintained by the Official Assignee only. (Herbert v. Sayer, 5 Q.B. 965; Jameson and Co v. The Brick and Stone Co., Ld., L.R. 4 Q.B.D 208, D.) SADODIN v. W.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

SPIERS, 3 B. 437. [R., 31 M. 493=18 M.L.J. 487=4 M.L.T. 188; D., 16 B. 452, 31 M. 347 =4 M.L.T 197.]

(49)—S. 7—See ACT IX OF 1897, s. 4, 26 M. 440.

(50)—S. 7—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION 7 B. 438.

(51) S. 7—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF—DECREE—WRONGFUL AND INVALID SALES, 11 C.L.R. 389.

(52)—S. 7—Insolvent judgment-debtor—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—WRONGFUL AND INVALID SALES, 12 C.L.R. 60.

(53)—S. 7—Benefit of executory contract, if can vest in Official Assignee—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 3 and 6, 11 C.W.N. 566=34 C. 286.

(54) Ss. 7, 21, 28, 29, 31—Sale by Official Assignee of the effects of the insolvent—Sanction by the Court—Practice.—The Insolvent Court, acting under the Indian Insolvency Act, has no power to sanction the sale by the Official Assignee of the estate and effects of the insolvent. In re BHUKHANDAS, 7 Bom. L.R. 954.

(55)—Ss. 7, 27—After-acquired property of insolvent—Salary—Pension—Personal earnings—Execution proceedings, stay of—Vesting order, notice of.—After-acquired property of an insolvent, whether it consists of salary of personal earnings, or property of a different kind, must be regarded as property all alike vesting in the Official Assignee, but subject to the provisions of s. 27 of the Indian Insolvent Act as to salary and pensions, and subject to the unwritten law as to personal earnings sufficient for the maintenance, according to his position in life, of the insolvent and his family, the result being that the Official Assignee is not entitled to claim such salary or income from the insolvent except by means of an order obtained under s. 27 of the Act, nor such personal earnings at all unless and until in either case the insolvent has accumulated a margin beyond what has been required for his adequate support. Under ordinary circumstances, an insolvent is entitled when sued for a sum of money which he has admitted in his schedule, to have the suit or execution proceedings upon it stayed upon proof of its being so admitted. An attachment upon the salary of a railway servant ceases to be operative after he has filed his petition in insolvency and should be withdrawn on notice being given of the making of the vesting order. In the matter of C. M. J. DONAGHUE, 19 B. 232. [Appr., 21 M.L.J. 78=8 M.L.T. 202=7 Ind. Cas. 801; R., 13 C.P.L.R. 61.]

(56)—Ss. 7, 27, 48 and 49—Discharge of insolvent—Earnings or salary of insolvent—Vesting in the Official Assignee Execution of decree by plaintiff having notice of his debt being included in the Schedule—Costs.—After bankruptcy and before discharge, whatever property a bankrupt acquires belongs to his trustee, save only what is necessary for his support. And for this purpose there is no difference between personal earnings and salary. So the salary of an officer vest in the Official Assignee, but the latter cannot get any of it until the Court makes an order under s. 27. (19 B. 232, R.) Held also, that the plaintiff, who execute decree against the insolvent subsequent to his having notice of his debt being included in the Insolvent's Schedule is liable, under s. 49, for the costs incurred by the insolvent by reason of such proceedings. RANGANATHA ROW v. ANANDACHARIAR, 8 M.L.T. 202=7 Ind. Cas. 180.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(57)—Ss 7, 30—Application in insolvency by undivided brothers carrying on ancestral trade vesting of family property in Official Assignee—Sale by Official Assignee—Sale in execution of decree against member of family not party to insolvency proceedings—Rights of respective purchasers — Civ. Pro. Code, s. 266.— An application was made by all the undivided brothers of a family carrying on an ancestral trade to be declared insolvents. On the applicants being discharged. all their property including the plaiut property, was vested in the Official Assignee. Plaintiff purchased the plaint property from the Official Assignee. A son of one of the brothers, who was not a party to the insolvency proceedings in consequence of his having been a minor at the time, becoming indebted, a decree was obtained against him. In execution of the decree, his share in the plaint property was sold. Plaintiffs thereupon sued for a declaration that the execution sale was void and inoperative as against them. Held that as the trade was an ancestral trade and not one commenced by the managing members during the minority of the judgment-debtor, as the scheduled debts were incurred in the course of such trade and as all the adult members of the family applied for the benefit of the Insolvency Act, the debts were prima facie binding upon the whole family, including the judgment-debtor. There was no ground for saying that the judgment-debtor's share in the family property was not liable for the debts. The vesting order under s. 7 of the Insolvent Debtors Act vests in the Official Assignee only the real and personal estate and effects of the insolvent, and whether the petitioner be managing member or a junior member of a Hindu family, his undivided interest alone in the joint family property will under that section vest in the Official assignee and the proprietary interest of the other members even if they should be the sons of the petitioner would continue vested in them. The effect of s. 30 of the Insolvent Debtors' Act and of s. 266 of the Civ. Pro. Code, considered by Bhashyam Ayyangar, J. NUNNA BRAHMAYYA SETTI v CHIDARABOYINA, 26 M. 214. [R., 6 Bom. L.R. 925, 11 C.W.N. 478; Appl., 27 M. 375.]

(58)—Ss. 7, 49—Priority of Official Assignee —Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 81.—The plaintiffs brought a suit against P and Co., for the recovery of a sum of money with interest and on 15th May obtained a prohibitory order for attachment before judgment under s. 81 of Act VIII of 1859, under which they attached, on the 17th of May, the right, title and interest of P and Co., in the premises in which they carried on business in Calcutta. On the 20th of May P and Co. were adjudicated insolvents on the petition of other creditors, and the usual order was made vesting their estate and effects in the Official Assignee. On an application on behalf of the Official Assignee for an order releasing the property from attachment, the Court ordered the prohibitory order to be set aside, and the property attached thereunder to be released. BANK OF BENGAL v. NEWTON, 12 B.L.R. App. 1.

(59)—Ss. 7, 49—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, O. XXI, r. 58, 7 A. 752=A.W.N. 1885, 116.

(60)—S. 8—Debtor—Adjudication—Insolvent.—To enable the Court to adjudicate a debtor under s. 8 of the Indian Insolvency Act, three things are necessary:—(1) the debtor should have been in jail for twenty-one days without satisfying the debt for non-payment of which he was imprisoned; (2) the petitioning creditor should be the detaining creditor; and (3) the debtor shall be in prison at the time the petition is presented or is heard. In re AHMED ISMAIL, 4 Bom. L.R. 458=26 B. 649.

(61)—S. 8—Annulling fiat of bankruptcy.—The annulling of the fiat contemplated by the proviso of 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21, s. 8. applies only to cases in which the original judgment has been the result of mistake of fact, misapprehension, or fraud. In re SREENARAIN BYSACK, 2 Hyde 180.

(62)—S. 9—Procedure—Adjudication of insolvency, application for—By petition or by a rule.—The usual procedure for obtaining an adjudication order is by petition to the Court duly verified under s 9 of the Indian Insolvency Act (XI and XII, Vict., c. 21) and not by a rule. In the matter of BITHAL DASS KALLA, 12 C.W.N. 538.

(63)—S. 9—Form of petition — Wording of the section to be strictly followed.—Petitions under s. 9 of the Act should follow the exact wording of that section. An insolvent can prove the terms of any proposed agreement on the part of the petitioning creditor to settle his claim In re MEGHRAJ GUNGABUX; In re RAMMUL DAYALMUL, 11 Bom. L.R. 81=1 Ind. Cas. 199.

(64)— S. 9—Act of insolvency — Debtor — Composition deed — Trustees —A conveyance by a debtor, of all his property, to trustees for his creditors, is an "act of insolvency" within the meaning of s. 9 of Indian Insolvent Act. In re KURSANDAS RAMDAS, 3 Bom.L.R. 905.

(65)—S. 9—Act of insolvency — Debtors — Composition deed—Assignment of all goods — Trustees—Fraudulent intent.—The execution by a trader of a deed purporting to be a general assignment of all his property to trustees for the benefit of his creditors is an act of insolvency. Though a deed may not be fraudulent within the doctrines of Common law, it still may be fraudulent within the meaning of the Insolvency Act, and it is clear that the absence of pressure though relevant to the question of fraudulent preference, is not a necessary element of an act of insolvency consisting in an assignment of the whole of a trader's goods. KURSONDAS v. MAGANLAL, 4 Bom. L. R. 94 =26 B. 476.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(66)—S. 9—Non-resident trader carrying on business through resident gomasta—"Departure" —Intent to depart must be proved—Insolvency not committed by act of agent unauthorized by the principal and of which principal had no cognisance.—A departure such as is made an act of insolvency by s. 9, 11 and 12, Vict., c. 21, is a departure by the debtor personally and cannot be committed by any other person on his behalf. Such departure must be his departure and intention to depart must be proved to be his intention. A man cannot commit an act of bankruptcy by particulars act of his agent which he has not authorized, and of which act he had no cognizance. (Ex parte Blain, In re Sawers, 12 Ch. D. 522, R.) Held, under the circumstances of the case, that stoppage of payment by the gomasta of a trader beyond jurisdiction carrying on business by gomasta within jurisdiction, was not an act of insolvency within the meaning of the Insolvent Act and that the retirement of the gomasta to his chambers on the third storey of the business premises from the second storey in which the banking business was carried on, did not amount to a departure with the intention to defeat and delay the creditors of the trader (principal). In re DHUNPUT SINGH, 20 C. 771. [Reversed, 23 C. 26, P.C. = 22 I.A. 162.]

(67)—S. 9—Assignment for benefit of creditors—Act of bankruptcy.—An assignment of the whole of a debtor's property for the benefit of his creditors generally, constitutes an act of bankruptcy within the meaning of s. 9 of the Insolvency Act (11 and 12, Vict., c. 21.) DRIJMOHUN DOBAY v. BUNGSIDHUR, 2 C. W.N. 335.

(68)—S. 9—Delaying and defrauding creditors.—An assignment by a debtor of all his properties to trustees in trust to pay and satisfy his debts and liabilities, where it appears that most of the creditors assent to it, and the debtor really intends that all the creditors should be finally satisfied, and the assets seem to be sufficient for the purpose, amounts to delaying and defeating creditors within the meaning of s. 9 of the Indian Insolvent Act (11 and 12 Vict., c. 21), and is, as such, an act of insolvency, as the effect of the deed is to delay payment to the creditors who are not bound to wait, but are entitled to insist on immediate payment. (1 C.M. and R. 777, F.) In the matter of BRIJMOHUN DOBAY, 2 C.W.N. 306.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(69)—S. 9—Adjudication of an insolvent—Departure of the person from jurisdiction with intent to defeat or delay the creditors.—The jurisdiction to adjudge that a person has committed an act of insolvency only arises when a petition complying with the conditions set forth in s. 9 of the Insolvency Act has been presented. It must, therefore, be stated in the petition that the person sought to be adjudicated an insolvent departed from the jurisdiction of the High Court with intent to defeat or delay his creditors or with like intent departed from his usual place of business or abode within the jurisdiction. ABU HAJI SULLEMAN v. HAJI JAN MAHOMED, 8 Bom. L.R. 648.

(70)—S. 9—Setting aside order of adjudication—Notice to creditors — Practice.—Certain persons had been adjudged insolvents under s. 9 of the Insolvent Act upon the petition of certain creditors. The insolvents subsequently applied, on notice to the Official Assignee and to the petitioning creditors, for an order that the adjudication might be set aside upon such notice to their creditors as the Court might deem proper. In their petition for this order, the insolvents stated that they had come to a settlement with all their creditors, that the adjudicating and some of the other creditors had already received the amount of their composition, and that the remaining creditors had agreed to receive the amounts respectively due to them under the settlement out of the sale-proceeds of the insolvents' property in the hands of the Official Assignee. The Insolvents had not filed any schedule and no claims had been proved. The Official Assignee objected that notice must be given to all the creditors before the adjudication could be annulled. The Court held that the objection must prevail but refused to make any order. If the adjudication were improper it could be set aside; if proper, a schedule must be filed in the usual way. In the matter of RAJNARAYAN PAL, 13 B.L.R. App. 25.

(71)—S. 9.—Adjudication of insolvency—Non-resident trader carrying on business through resident gumashta.—A non-resident trader, carrying on business through his gumashta, can be adjudicated an insolvent under s. 9 of the Insolvent Act, on the gumashta stopping payment and closing and leaving his usual place of business or doing any act which, if done by the trader himself, would render him liable to be adjudicated an insolvent. In re HURRUCK CHUND GOLICHA, 5 C. 603=6 C. L. R. 382 (11 B.L.R. APP. 26 and 11 B.L.R. 254, R.) [Diss., 20 C. 771; Cons., 23 C. 26. P.C. =22 I.A. 162; R., 14 B. 189, 8 C.W.N. 553 = 31 C. 761.]

(72)—S. 9—Revocation of adjudication — Stranger cannot apply for revocation—Insolvent only can do so—Review.—Under s. 9 of the Indian Insolvent Act, the only person who can apply for a revocation of the order of adjudication is the person adjudged to have committed an act of insolvency. There is no other provision in the Act, which authorizes any person other than the adjudged insolvent to apply to have the order of adjudication revoked. The Insolvent Court has power to review its own orders, but that power can only be exercised at the instance of the party entitled to invoke the exercise of it. In re HAJI NAN JAN HAJI MAHOMED, 11 Bom. L.R. 1032=5 Ind. Cas. 126.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(73)—S. 9—Application for adjudication as insolvent, time for presentation of—The words "it shall be lawful" in s. 9, meaning of.—There is nothing in the Insolvent Act fixing any limit to the period within which a creditor may petition for adjudication as an insolvent. The petitioning creditor has a right to petition; and the Court has jurisdiction to make the order of adjudication, notwithstanding that the insolvent has been discharged from jail at the date of the petition and adjudication and notwithstanding that the act of insolvency was committed more than twelve months prior thereto. The provisions of s. 9 are imperative and do not confer any discretion on the Court. The words " it shall be lawful for the Court " occurring in the section have not the effect of giving the Court any discretion in respect of the adjudication ; because, inasmuch as they confer on the Court authority to do a judicial act in a certain case, they make it imperative on the Court to exercise that authority when the case arises and the exercise of such authority is duly applied for. In the matter of THUCKER BHAGWANDAS HARJIVAN, 4 B. 489. [R., 11 Bom. L.R. 1032.]

(74)—S. 9—Order of adjudication of insolvency by the High Court—Second application for adjudication in different High Court—Discretion—Concurrent proceedings, if maintainable.—This rule was granted at the instance of an insolvent adjudged as such in the Bombay High Court, on the 23rd April 1896, under s. 9 of the Indian Insolvent Act (Stat. 11 and 12, Vict., c. 21) to have committed an act of insolvency, calling upon the petitioning creditor to show cause why the order of adjudication should not be revoked. At the time when the above order was made, the Court was not aware that, on the 9th April, the same debtor had already been adjudged to have committed an act of insolvency, and that a vesting order had been made by the Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors at Madras. The main ground upon which the order was sought to be revoked was that, after the Madras Court had adjudged the debtor to have committed an act of insolvency and had made a vesting order, a second adjudication by the Bombay High Court should not have been made and ought not to be continued. Strachey, J., having passed an order discharging the rule, the insolvent appealed against the order. The appellate Court, agreeing with the learned Judge, held that the prior adjudication of the Madras Court did not deprive the Insolvent Court in Bombay of jurisdiction to adjudicate the appellant an insolvent at the instance of a Bombay creditor. Also, the Court had a discretion vested in it to refuse the adjudication order, if, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, it considered that an adjudication again in Bombay would be a vain and useless proceeding. The insolvent subsequently obtained his personal discharge in Madras, and since, thereupon, there was no longer any ground for apprehending that the proceedings at Madras would be discontinued, it would not be just or equitable to allow the proceedings in the Bombay Court also to go on concurrently. The proceedings in Madras having been prior in time, and the assets of the insolvent having vested in the Official Assignee there, the Court at Madras had the prior claim to continue the proceedings, and so the best course was held to be to stay the proceedings in the Bombay Court until further orders leaving the Bombay creditors to take such steps in Madras as they might be advised to take. Re ARANVAYAL SABHAPATHY, 21 B. 297. [R., 31 C. 761=8 C. W.N. 553, 6 P.L.R. 1909=5 P.W.R 1909=1 Ind. Cas. 55, 45 P.R. 1910, 15 C.W.N. 244= 12 C.L J. 445=7 Ind. Cas. 691.]

(75)—Ss. 9 and 73—Revocation of adjudication on the petition of a person aggrieved—"Person aggrieved"—Assignee by deed of the property of an insolvent may be a "person aggrieved."—The Commissioner sitting in the Insolvency Court can annul an adjudication on the application of any person aggrieved. An assignee by deed of the property of an insolvent may be a " person aggrieved, " under s. 73 of the Indian Insolvent Act, who is entitled to come in and object to an order of adjudication. HAJI JACKERIA HAJI AHMED v. R. D. SETHNA, 12 Bom. L.R. 27=5 Ind. Cas. 618.

(76)—Ss. 9, 92—Joint debt—Members of joint Hindu family —Though the members of a Hindu joint trading family may not be, in all respects, partners within the definition of the Contract Act, they may be so, for the purposes of s. 9 of the Insolvent Act. When a trader in Madras makes a promissory-note in the joint names of two persons trading as a joint Hindu family, and the debt amounts to Rs. 527, they may petition for the adjudication of the debtor's insolvency. Ex parte RAGAVALOO CHETTI, In re RANGIAH CHETTI, 15 M. 356.

(77)—S. 12 — Insolvent — Final discharge under his insolvency—Subsequent bankruptcy—Insolvent filing his petition—Insolvent's duty to serve his creditors at his own expense—Adjudication as insolvent—Petitioner's duty of serving notices—Adjudicated insolvent's duty to attend and point out the persons to be served.—There is no objection to man becoming a bankrupt a second time before he has received his final discharge under the first ; the only result being that the trustee under the first bankruptcy will swallow up all the assets collected under the second, and the trustee under the latter will be entitled to nothing until all the debts under the former are paid off. Where an insolvent has filed his petition under the Insolvent Debtors Act, he has the carriage of the petition and it is in his interest to bring it to a hearing; consequently, it is his duty and to his interest to serve his creditors and at his own expense in order to bring it to a hearing. Where, however, he has been adjudicated an insolvent, it is the petitioning creditor who wants the affairs of the insolvent investigated; consequently, on him rests the burden of serving notices, though it is still the duty of the insolvent to attend when required and point out the persons who are to be served. DOSSA v. BHANJEE, 3 Bom. L.R. 453=26 B. 171.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(78)—S. 13—Judgment-debtor—Interim protection order—Re-arrest under the same decree.—A judgment-debtor who has been arrested and imprisoned in execution of a decree and has obtained an interim protection order under s. 13 of the Insolvency Act, is liable to be retaken in execution of the same decree, under the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882. SHAMJI v. POONJA, 4 Bom. L. R. 483=26 B. 652.

(79)—S. 13—Arrears of maintenance—"Debt or liability"—Protection order—Insolvent Act.—Arrears of maintenance, included in an insolvent's schedule, are a debt or liability (notwithstanding that they may be enforceable in Criminal Courts) within the meaning of s. 13 of the Insolvent Act; and a protection order would protect the insolvent from arrest or imprisonment in respect of such debt. Quaere.—Whether the protection order extends to proceedings in respect of maintenance accruing subsequent to the filing of the schedule?—TOKKEE BIBEE v. ABDOOL KHAN, 5 C. 536=5 C. L. R. 468. [R., 17 C. P. L. R. 127.]

(80)—S. 19—Rule 14 of Insolvent Court—Right of Official Assignee to commission.—The right of the Official Assignee to his commission arises only when there are in his hands any funds realised and available for distribution among creditors. If at such time, the adjudication is annulled, the right to commission subsists. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE v. RAMALINGA, 8 M. 9.

(81)—S. 19, Insolvency—Interest on scheduled debts—Official Assignee's commission on it.—Where the estate of an insolvent leaves a balance with the Official Assignee after paying off the creditors, interest at 6 per cent. will be ordered to be paid on contract debts which expressly or impliedly carry interest. The Official Assignee will be allowed to retain his commission on it, and the balance will be ordered to be paid to the insolvent. In re MAHOMED MAHMUD SHAH, 13 C. 66.

(82)—Ss. 19, 21, 31—Act XV of 1848 (Supreme Courts' Officers)—Sale of insolvent's estate subject to mortgage—Official Assignee's commission.—An order in insolvency proceedings was made directing the Official Assignee to sell certain immoveable properties which were subject to a mortgage, on the application of the mortgagee, with the consent of the Official Assignee. On the question as to the commission payable to Official Assignee. Held that the Official Assignee was entitled to commission out of the insolvent's estate, not on the full value of the property sold, but only on the amount coming to the insolvent's estate. (13 B.L.R. App. 9, Commented on)—The Official Assignee cannot claim commission on the full value of the properties, qua auctioneer, on account of the probibition contained in the Supreme Courts' Officers Act. Besides, a trustee having power to sell by auction cannot employ himself as the auctioneer and charge the trust estate with his commission—The practice of the Court for 30 years to allow commission on the full value of the properties sold, was overruled as being contrary to the express words of both the Indian Insolvency Act and the Supreme Courts' Officers Act. In re OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE'S COMMISSION, 36 C. 990=4 Ind.Cas. 697.

(83)—Ss 19, 41—Insolvency Rules, R. 131—Right of Official Assignee to retain commission without order of Court—Long practice—Order directing not to draw commission pending orders of Court—Validity—Held that, on a true construction of s. 19, Insolvency Act, 1848, and R. 131 (3) of the Insolvency Rules 1905, an order which (after declaring a dividend) directs the Official Assignee to deliver into Court the statement of accouut prescribed by s. 41, Insolvency Act, 1848, and R. 94 of the Insolvency Rules, 1905, and further directs that all questions arising on account and as to the payment of the Official Assignee shall be reserved, and that the Official Assignee shall not draw any commission in respect of the amount to be distributed as dividend under the order in question till these questions have been decided, is proper and valid. (8 M. 79, Expl.) The present practice, which has for a long period prevailed, under which the Official Assignee has drawn or retained, without the order of Court, the commission to which he is entitled out of the estate of the insolvent, is wrong. In re MESSRS. ARBUTHNOT AND CO., 7 M.L.T. 290=5 Ind. Cas. 727.

(84)—S. 21—See Nos. 54 and 82, supra.

(85)—Ss. 21 and 26—Effect of death of insolvent after filing his petition, but before filing schedule.—On the 15th of March 1862, the petitioner brought an action in the Supreme Court against the insolvent to recover a sum of money, and on the 17th of that month the usual summons was served on the insolvent. On the last mentioned day the insolvent was committed to prison on the charge of murder, notwithstanding which, on the 21 March 1862, he filed his petition in the Insolvent Court. The usual order was then passed, vesting all the insolvent's estate and effects in the Official Assignee from the date of the filing of the petition. On the 26th March 1862, the present petitioner recovered judgment in his action in the Supreme Court. The insolvent was tried and convicted and sentenced to death, and on the 14th of April 1862, before the insolvent filed his schedule in the Insolvent Court, the sentence was carried into execution. Held first, that s. 6 of 11 and 12, Vict., c. 21, is not imperative; and, secondly, that ss. 21 and 26 of the same Act give the Official Assignee ample powers for the ascertainment and realization of an insolvent's estate without the aid of a schedule. In re KALLEE CHURN KETTRY, 1 Ind. Jur., O.S. 16.

Statute 11 and 12 Vict., C. 21, (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(86)—S. 23—Fixtures—Goods and chattels—Machinery—Engine—Trade fixtures—Insolvent—Official Assignee.—On 23rd June, 1893, Vishram covenanted with the plaintiff that the machinery, engines, trade fixtures, &c., should stand charged with and continue to be a security to the plaintiff for Rs 8,000, then advanced, and power was given to the plaintiff to sell the same on default in payment. In March 1899, while there was still a large sum due to the plaintiff, Vishram filed his petition under the Act for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors, and thereby his assets became vested in the Official Assignee. The Official Assignee having contended that the articles above named were in the possession, order, or disposition of the insolvent with the consent of the true owner and so vested in him, the plaintiff filed a suit to establish his right over them. The Division Court decided in plaintiff's favour, as to such of the articles as were fixed on the ground that they were not goods and chattels, and as to such as were not fixed on the ground that the plaintiff was not the true owner On appeal by the Official Assignee:—Held, (1) that the articles not fixed were clearly in the Insolvent's possession: and that, therefore, the Official Assignee had a good title over them. (2) That the annexed articles were not goods and chattels in the possession, order or disposition of the insolvent as their reputed owner; and they, therefore, were in his reputed ownership; and that as to them the Official Assignee had no title. MACLEOD v. KIKABHOY, 3 Bom. L.R. 426=25 B. 659.

(87)—S. 23—Mortgagee allowing possession to remain in mortgagor firm—Insolvency of two partners of firm—Rights of mortgagee.—The two petitioners along with another carried on business as livery stablekeepers in Calcutta under the name of Thomas Smith & Co. The petitioners actually carried on the business of the firm, the third partner being resident in England. On 3rd May, 1873, all the partners mortgaged all their stock-in-trade, by a mortgage-deed which contained a proviso that the mortgaged property should be treated and considered as the property in the order and disposition of the mortgagee, but the mortgaged property was allowed to be in the possession of the mortgagor firm. On the 10th May, 1880, the petitioners, the first two partners, filed their petition in the Court for the relief of insolvent debtors, and the estates and effects were, under an order of the Court, vested in the Official Assignee, who on the same day entered into possession.—On the 12th the mortgagee entered into possession and on the 26th June, the third partner, who had meanwhile returned from England, filed his petitions. Held that the mortgaged property was, by the consent of the true owner, in the possession, order or disposition, of the insolvents, as reputed owners, and had vested the Official Assignee for the benefit of all the creditors, and the mortgagee's petition to be paid in full should be refused. Ex parte Union Bank of Manchester, In re Jackson, L.R. 12 Ex 354; Ex parte Doman. In re Lake, L.R. 8 Ch. App. 51. In re Bainbridge, L.R. Ch. Div. 218, R.; Reynolds v. Bowley, L.R. 2 Q.B. 41 474. D) In re MORGAN AND FORBES, 7 C.L. R. 29. (On appeal see 6 C. 633=9 C L R. 385.)

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(88)—S. 23—Order or disposition.—If goods are in a man's possession, order or disposition under such circumstances as to enable him by means of them to obtain false credit, the owner who has permitted him to obtain false credit must suffer the penalty of losing the goods for the benefit of those who have given the credit. In re F. H MARSHALL T. BOILEAN v. A. B. MILLER. 10 C. L. R. 591. (Ex parte Wingfield, L. R. 10 CH D. 591, R.)

(89)—S. 23—Doctrine of reputed ownership—Notice—Devolution of judgment-debtor's interest on Official Assignee—Civ Pro. Code., 1882, s. 372.—By an instrument dated March 1897, one B covenanted to repay by instalments a sum owing by him to P and mortgaged to P his stock in-trade and all outstandings and moneys then due and owing and thereafter to become due and payable to the mortgagor. B remained in possession. In July 1899, P brought a suit against B on his mortgage-bond, and in August 1899, upon an ex parte application by P, an order by way of injunction was made in the suit restraining the mortgagor from disposing of the stock in trade and outstandings and debts payable to him. This injunction was afterwards dissolved In the same month, P gave notice to N who was indebted to B that he claimed the sum under the mortgage as an outstanding due to the mortgagor. In September, 1899, B was adjudged an insolvent and the usual vesting order was made. In October, 1899 P obtained a decree in his suit by which the insolvent was directed to pay to him the principal and interest due under the mortgage-deed, and in default of payment before the end of January, the mortgaged premises were ordered to be sold. In February, 1900, N paid to the Official Assignee the debt due by him to B. In September, 1900, an order was made in P's suit against B directing that the decree should be executed by the attachment of the money in the hands of the Official Assignee. In December, P applied by summons in his suit against the insolvent for an order that the Official Assignee should pay over that money. Held that he was not entitled to that order as the whole right, title and interest of the insolvent in and to the debt due from N to him became vested in the Official Assignee as soon as the adjudication and the vesting order were made, and so the decree obtained by P was invalid against the Official Assignee. The Official Assignee was not bound by the decree by the doctrine of lis pendens, because the subject-matter was not real property, and the interest devolved by operation of law. P might have applied under s. 372, Civ. Pro. Code, to have the Official Assignee added as a party in the suit in which case he would have been bound by the decree. Where a debt has been assigned notice by the assignee to the debtor will take the debt out of the disposition of the assignor. A chose in action, if it is a debt due to the insolvent in his trade or business, comes within the words "goods and chattels" as contained in s. 23 of the Indian Insolvent Debtors Act—Per Sir Arnold White, C. J. The instrument can only be construed as creating in favour of the plaintiff a charge or hypothecation; but a charge-holder is as much the substantial owner of and has as substantial an interest in the goods and chattels as the mortgagee thereof, and if either of them allows the mortgagor or the person creating the charge to remain in possession of the goods and chattels under circumstances which will lead to his being "reputed" as owner and to his being enabled to command credit thereby, he will be estopped from asserting his substantial interest or ownership in the property as against the Official Assignee—Per Bhashyam Ayyangar, J. PUNITHAVELU MUDALIAR v. BHASHYAM AYYANGAR, 25 M. 406=12 M. L. J. 282. [R., 9 C. W. N. 14; D., 26 M. 230=12 M. L. J. 368.]

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(90)—S. 24—Insolvency—Voluntary transfer by insolvent.—A firm trading at Calcutta stopped payment on a certain night, and was adjudicated insolvent two days after. One of its branches located at Lucknow, transferred, on the day on which the firm stopped payment, a debt due to it to the defendant, whom the Official Assignee in this case issued for the recovery of the amount, on the ground that such transfer was "voluntary" within the meaning of s. 24 of the Insolvency Act. The transfer was made by means of a draft dated the day on which payment was stopped, and purported to have been made by the debtor of the Lucknow branch under its assignment in favour of the defendant, to the amount of such debt. The greater part of the amount thus transferred was to put the defendant (who had accepted certain hundis of the firm), in funds to meet such hundis. It also appeared that there was great delay in entering up the amounts transferred, in the books of the various parties concerned. Though their Lordships of the Privy Council were not prepared to say that the transfer, in so far as it provided the defendant with funds to meet the contingent liability incurred by him by taking up the hundis, would, as a matter of law, be "voluntary" within the meaning of the Insolvency Act, yet considering that the transaction was out of the ordinary course of business, and the un-explained delay in entering up the transaction in the accounts, as well as the other circumstances of the case, it was held that the transfer was "voluntary" within the meaning of the Insolvency Act, and therefore void as against the Official Assignee. MILLER v. SHEO PRASAD, 6 A. 84, P.C.=10 I A. 98=13 C.L.R. 305=4 Sar. 430. (On appeal from 2 A. 474.) [R., 10 O.C. 305, F.B.]

(91)—S. 24—Voluntary—Fraudulent—Meaning of.—Where a promissory note was executed by the insolvents on the 10th August and title-deeds were deposited to secure the same, and a petition by a creditor to adjudicate them insolvents was presented on the 13th and it was found that the pro-note was not supported by consideration to the extent of nearly a half, it was held that the promissory note and mortgage was fraudulent within the meaning of s. 24. Held, also that, to the extent of the failure of consideration, the mortgage was granted to secure the property from the clutches of creditors. Where it appeared that the defendants executed the mortgage on the understanding of plaintiffs preserving the property over the extent of their debts for the defendants, such a disposition must be held to be voluntary and fraudulent and void as against the Official Assignee The mortgage even to the extent of the past debts cannot be upheld. VENKATAKRISHNAMA CHETTI v. LAKSHMI NARASIMHAM, M.W.N 1912, 1001=17 Ind Cas. 393.

(92)—S. 24—Insolvent—Transfer of property—Fraudulent intention.—A transfer of property made by a party in insolvent circumstances is absolutely void although there be no evidence of any fraudulent preference. Where a person conveys all his property to trustees in favour of his creditors, his act is an act of insolvency and all his property vests at once in the Official Assignee, it not being necessary to prove that the assignment is void as being fraudulent. In re KURSONDAS RAMJEE, 4 Bom. L.R. 154=26 B. 765.

(93)—S. 24—Voluntarily—Interpretation—Composition deed—Non-consenting creditor—Debtor declared bankrupt—Official Assignee—Vesting of the insolvent's property—When a creditor who has not signed the deed whereby the debtor conveys all his property on trust for his creditors gets the debtor adjudicated a bankrupt, the Official Assignee is entitled to take possession of the property comprised therein as the property of the insolvent, because the deed being void the property comprised therein still remains the property of the insolvent as against the Official Assignee, who represents the non-consenting creditors. The word "voluntarily" in s. 24 of the Indian Insolvency Act, includes the sense of freely and uninfluenced by pressure or obligation. MUNMOHANDAS v. MACLEOD. In re KARSONDAS, 4 Bom. L.R. 647=26 B. 765.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(94)— S. 24— Preference of one creditor not fraudulent.—A person in insolvent circumstances may dispose of his property in favour of one creditor even though the act may have the effect of disappointing other creditors. Where a debtor two months before insolvency transferred part of his property to a creditor in preference to others, held, that the conveyance was not fraudulent within the meaning of s. 24 of the Act, and could not be impeached. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF BOMBAY v. BRIJ KISHORE, 3 A.L.J. 604=A.W.N. 1906, 250. (2 A. 474, F.).

(95)—S. 24—Voluntary conveyance—Fraudulent preference—Burden of proof.—In this case the plaintiffs sued on a mortgage by deposit of title-deeds to secure the amount of a promissory note alleged to have been executed on the 10th of August by defendants 1 to 4, who absconded on the 12th August, and against whom a petition for adjudication was presented on the 13th. Held, that the onus of showing consideration for the mortgage was on the plaintiffs, and also that the mortgage was created before the date of insolvency; but that, assuming these things in favour of the plaintiffs, it lay in the first instance on the contesting defendant to show that the mortgage was void under the Act as a voluntary settlement, though not very much would be required to turn the scale. Prima facie a transfer to secure past debts on the eve of insolvency is void as a voluntary preference. S. 24 of the Act only requires that the dominant motive should be shown to be to prefer one creditor to another. VENKATAKRISHNA CHETTI v. LAKSHMINARASIMHAM, 8 M.L.T. 335=8 Ind. Cas. 293.

(96)—S. 24—Insolvent—Voluntary transfer—Burden of proof.—A firm which failed in business on the 16th March, and was adjudicated insolvent on the 11th April, conveyed on the 6th and 7th April, to a creditor, property almost sufficient to discharge his claim, amounting to Rs. 1,100 in full. The Official Assignee brought a suit to recover the property, on the ground that the transfer was a voluntary one, and void under s. 24 of the Insolvent Act, 11 and 12 Vic., c. 21. Held that, looking to the nature of a proceeding in insolvency under the statute, and to the position occupied by the Official Assignee in regard to the estate of the insolvent, the Official assignee is entitled to the whole of such estate wherever it may be; and that any person in possession of a portion of the estate or claiming to hold it under a conveyance or transfer made within the period prohibited by s. 24 and under such circumstances as were disclosed in this case, must defend that conveyance or transfer, and establish that it was not within the mischief contemplated by the section. Such a conveyance or transfer should primarily be presumed to have been voluntarily made; and it rests upon those who seek to uphold it and who must necessarily be best able to prove the facts, to establish that it was made under such pressure as would remove it from the operation of the section. Held also, apart from the question of burden of proof, and looking to the judgments of the Courts below, in conjunction with the facts and dates proved, that there were materials which justified the finding that the transfer in the present case was a voluntary transaction of the kind contemplated by s. 24, and as such unsustainable. BHOLA NATH v. MACGREGOR, A. W. N. 1889, 24. (7 A. 340, 51 L. J. Ch. D. 556, A. W. N, 1883, 187, and A. W. N. 1887, 93, R.)

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(97)—S. 24—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1900), s. 47—Fraudulent preference—Surety or guarantor of the principal is a creditor—Endorser of negotiable instrument is creditor of maker—Voluntary payment—Insolvent—Adjudication.—Any surety or guarantor who might, should a bankruptcy supervene before the debts of the principal were discharged, be entitled to claim among the other creditors in bankruptcy, is himself always regarded constructively as a creditor, when the question is one of fraudulent preference. This legal position, with its attendant rights and disabilities, is not affected by the fact that the principal has not been, even could not have been, called upon to discharge the debt at the time the payment to the surety was made. The acceptor or indorser of a negotiable instrument, which has not yet reached maturity, is, for the purpose of s. 24 of the Indian Insolvency Act (11 & 12 Vic., c. 21), a creditor in regard to the maker or drawer; and any payment made by the latter to the former, if otherwise fulfilling all the requirements of s. 24, would be as much a case of fraudulent preference as though it were made to a creditor whose legal rights against the debtor were at the time of payment actually complete and enforceable at law. (1897, 1 Q B. 122, F.). S. 47 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, 1909, occurs in a chapter which deals with ways of proving in insolvency, and describes the methods, in which, in certain circumstances, mutual debtor and creditor accounts, as between the insolvent and a creditor claiming in insolvency or being pursued by the Official Assignee for a debt to the insolvents' estate, are to be handled and adjusted. The section does not apply to a suit brought under s. 24 of the Insolvency Act on the allegation of fraudulent preference. What is a "voluntary payment" within the meaning of s. 24, discussed. (1892, 10 Morrell 15, 1899, A. C. 419, R.) Under s. 24, all that is necessary to be shown to bring it into operation are two facts, (1) that the payment was voluntary, (2) that it was made when the insolvent firm was in insolvent circumstances and within two months of its adjudication. R. D. SETHNA v. KALLIANJI SANGJIBHAI, 15 Bom. L.R. 113=19 Ind. Cas. 57.

(98)—S. 24—Indian Insolvency Act—'Voluntary payment'—Secretaries and Treasurers of a society—Authority to receive moneys of society—Duty to invest the same in Government paper—Mixing moneys of society with their own—

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

Mere issue of pass book as in the case of banking customers—No issue of cheque book—Fiduciary capacity—Breach of trust—Voluntary payment—Meaning—Test—English and Indian Law.—A & Co., the secretaries and treasurers of a society, received, in their capacity as secretaries, moneys belonging to the society. A & Co. had also a banking business and treated the moneys of the Society as they dealt with the monies belonging to their banking constituents, and issued a pass book in the same form as the pass book which they issued to their banking customers. But no cheque book was issued to the society. A& Co., were insolvents at the date of suit. Held, that A & Co. held the funds of the society as its secretaries and treasurers, and consequently in a fiduciary capacity, and that they committed a breach of trust. It was the duty of A & Co. not to mix the money of the society with theirs, and the Society's money is recoverable from the unspent balance in their hands at the date of insolvency. (32 M. 68, 22 C. 354, R.) It is a well established rule of equity that, if trust money is mixed up with the trustee's private money, then, the cestui qui trust will have a lien on the aggregate amount, and any sum which may be drawn by the trustee for his own use will be deemed to have been taken out of his own money. If there was no appropriation, then no question of 'voluntary payment' to or preference to the Society within the meaning of s. 24 of the Indian Insolvency Act arises. The test of a "voluntary" payment is, whether it was spontaneously made by the debtor of his own motion; if so, it will be presumed to have been made with a view to give preference to one creditor over the others. If, on the other hand, the payment was made under the pressure of a demand from the creditor, or because of pressure arising from outside circumstances and influencing the mind of the creditor, such as the existence of a special agreement or a possible danger of prosecution, or if the payment was made in the ordinary course of business, such payment would not be deemed to be voluntary. There is substantially no difference between the English Law and the law as laid down in s. 24, Indian Insolvency Act, so far as the present question is concerned. (10 B.H.C. 327, R.) Even if A & Co. had misappropriated the trust money and thereby committed a breach of trust and subsequently wanted to repair the breach of trust by making purchases of Government Paper for the moneys misappropriated, which they were bound to do by a resolution of the Society dated 31st July 1906, the payment would not be regarded as "voluntary." MESSRS. RAMASAMY AND CO. v. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS, 10 M.L T. 124=21 M.L.J. 920=11 Ind. Cas. 769.

(99)—S. 24—See DEPOSIT OF TITLE DEEDS, 6 B.L.R. 701.

(100)—Ss. 24, 26—'Voluntary' delivery—Practice—Payments of money and delivery of goods made in the ordinary course of business stand on a different footing and are not voluntary payments and transfers within the meaning of s. 24. Consequently restitution could not be enforced under s. 26 of that Act. It is undesirable to dispose of summarily under s. 26 cases involving difficult questions of title. The ordinary practice should be to leave such cases to be settled by regular suit. ADJIM ARIFF v. J. D. BAYLY, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 75.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(101)—S. 26—Power to order any person to deliver insolvent's property to assignee—Practice—Conflict of equity.—Under s. 26 of 11 and 12 Vic. C. 21, the insolvent Court has the power to order any person who has the possession of, or has under his power or control, any property of the insolvent, to deliver over such property to the Official Assignee; but it is discretionary with the Court to enter upon the trial of such a question and to make an order. [Appr., 3 C. 434.] It has always been the practice of the Insolvent Court to abstain from making orders to deliver over goods belonging to the insolvent or to pay debts due to him, when it appears that there is really a conflict of right or equity between the insolvent and the person in whose possession the goods are or from whom payment of the debt is sought to be obtained. In re DWARKANATH MITTER. S M. RATANMANI DASI v. A.B. MILLER, 4 B.L.R O.C. 63=15 W R.O.C. 18. Note.

(102—S. 26—Gift by insolvent just before insolvency.—Where a person, shortly before his insolvency, makes over his property to another, wholly without such consideration as the law could recognise, the transaction comes within 13 Eliz., c. 5 and is void as against creditors. The word 'property' in s. 26 of the Insolvent Act includes money. The trial of difficult questions of title could not satisfactorily be effected in proceedings under s. 26 of the Insolvent Act. In the matter of UMBICA NUNDUN BISWAS. 3 C. 434=1 C.L.R. 561.

(103)—S. 26—Insolvent's property at Shanghai—Order vesting the property in the Official Assignee at Bombay—A British subject in possession can be ordered to deliver the property to the Official Assignee—Commission to examine witness at Shanghai.—When a trading firm is declared insolvent by the Court for the relief of Insolvent Debtors at Bombay, it can order the moveable property of the firm in Shanghai to be vested in the Official Assignee of the Insolvent Debtor's Court in Bombay and the Court can order the person in possession of the property at Shanghai to hand over such property to the Official Assignee at Bombay. If the person in possession at Shanghai is a British subject, he is subject to the insolvency jurisdiction of the Consulate Court at Shanghai and that Court can order him if requested so to do by the Insolvent Court of Bombay to produce all the moveable property, books, papers and documents of the insolvent's firm that may be in his possession. A commission can be issued by the Court for the relief of Insolvent Debtors at

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

Bombay for the examination of a British subject at Shanghai through H. B. M's Supreme Court at Shanghai. Re NAOROJI SORABJI TALATI, 10 Bom. L.R. 965=33 B. 462.

(104)—S. 26—Jurisdiction—Power of the Court of Insolvent Debtors outside the Bombay Presidency—Vesting order—Property outside the Presidency in the hands of a Receiver—Receiver cannot be directed to hand over the assets to the Offcial Assignee.—The Court for the Relief of Insolvent Debtors at Bombay has no jurisdiction or power to order a Receiver appointed by the Insolvency Court having jurisdiction in Amritsar, and who is in possession of an insolvent's property, to hand over the assets to the Official Assignee in Bombay. The powers of the Commissioner in Insolvency at Bombay are limited, in the first place, to the town and island of Bombay, in the next, where British subjects are concerned, to any place within the the limits of the Presidency of Bombay. Re GANESHDAS PANALAL, 9 Bom. L. R. 1093.

(105)—S. 26—Jurisdiction of the Insolvent Court outside the Bombay Presidency—Person in possession of insolvent's property can be directed to hand it over to the Official Assignee.—The Court for the relief of Insolvent debtors sitting in Bombay has jurisdiction to make under s. 26 of the Indian Insolvent Act against a person residing outside the Bombay Presidency. In re GANESHDAS PANALAL; R. D. SETHNA v. R. D. S. CHOPRA, 10 Bom. L. R. 77=32 B. 198.

(106)—S. 26—Debts "admitted" or "established," meaning of.—The terms debts "admitted" or "established," in s. 26 of the Indian Insolvency Act, mean admitted in the Schedule or established on proof, and not that it has been alleged and not denied. In the matter of BUCKTWAR CHAND, 1 C.W.N. 328. [F., 29 C. 503].

(107)—S. 26—See Nos. 85, 100, supra.

(108)—Ss. 26, 36, Insolvent Debtors Act, 11 and 12 Vic., C., 21, rule under—Creditor—Construction.—Under s. 26, no rule should be granted save on the application of an "assignee" or an "admitted creditor" (1 C.W.N. 328, F.) No man can be regarded as a creditor until his name is admitted to the schedule or until he establishes it there. The words "and it shall be lawful for the Court on those or any other occasions," in s. 36, are intended to receive a very wide application, and the Court has power to proceed under this section, as soon as there is an insolvent. In the matter of CHUNI LAL OSWAL, 29 C. 503.

(109)—Ss. 26, 72, 73—Evidence not recorded in writing—Scope.—Evidence not taken down and rendered as provided by s. 72, by the lower Court, could not be gone into on an appeal under s. 73, as the appellate Court could have no means of knowing the facts on which the judgment proceeded. S. 26 empowers the Judge who finds that a debt is due to an insolvent, to make an order that the whole of the debt, or part thereof, shall be paid, that is to say, that where the circumstances of the case render it necessary or proper that the Court should make an order for payment, the Court has power to make such order. In the matter of AJUDHIA PRASAD MOHANT JAIRAM GIR v. MILLERS, 7 B.L.R. 74=95 W.R.O.C. 16.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(110)—S. 27—Commissions on policies of insurance are assets—Salary—Emolument.—The commission earned by an insolvent in respect of policies of insurance effected through his instrumentality is an asset and not a 'salary' or an 'emolument' under s. 27 of the Indian Insolvent Act. Such commission is not his personal earning. JAMASJI SHAPURJI v. SORABJI KAWASJI, 10 Bom. L.R. 579.

(111)—S. 27—Intimation of vesting order to Court executing decree—Duty of Court to stay execution.—Where intimation nas been given of an order vesting in the Official Assignee the Court executing the decree is bound to stay proceedings, unless the decree-holder satisfies the Court that execution should not, for some particular reason, be suspended. DEOJI v. V.S. GILLESPIE, 13 C.P.L.R. 61. (21 B. 205, 21 C. 634, R.)

(112)—S. 27—See Nos. 55, 56, supra.

(113)—S. 28—See No. 54, supra.

(114)—S. 29—Suit by Official Assignee—Leave of Court to sue—Leave nunc pro tunc—Costs—Practice.—To an action brought, prosecuted, or defended by the Official assignee, it cannot be objected that such action was brought, prosecuted, or defended without leave first obtained from the Court. Should, however, the Official Assignee bring, prosecute, or defend any such action without leave first obtained from the Court, he will do so at his own risk in regard to the matter of costs. Leave should be obtained before suing: it cannot be granted in the course of the suit nunc pro tunc. COCHRANE v. OWEN, 2 Hyde, 150.

(115)—S. 29—See No. 54, supra.

(116)—S. 30—Dismissal of application by Official Assignee - Person making affidavit, whether can be made liable for costs. On the dismissal of an application by the Official Assignee to get a certain sale of the insolvent-debtor's property set aside, persons who were merely deponents to certain affidavits in the proceedings could not be held liable for costs. They are not persons "interested in the insolvent's estate," nor can they be said to have applied, appeared or opposed in the proceedings within the Bankruptcy Rules. It is the Official Assignee that must be made liable for the costs of the unsuccessful application made by him, it being open to him to take such further steps as are necessary to indemnify himself. RAMANNA NAIDU v. BRAHMAYYA-CHETTY, 23 M. 26.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(117)—S. 30—See No. 57, supra.

(118)—S. 31—Effects of an insolvent—Sale by Official Assignee — Sanction of the Court—Power of Court to set aside completed sale—Practice.—Under the Indian Insolvent Act the Official Assignee has full power to sell the property and effects of an insolvent, and it is his duty to make sale of the same with all convenient speed. The sanction of the Court to the sale is not necessary. S. 31 of the Indian Insolvent Act does not vest the Court with power to set aside completed sale. WOONWALA v. MACLEOD, 8 Bom. L.R. 470 =30 B. 515.

(119)—S. 31—Arbuthnot Insolvency—Sale of properties in auction by the Official Assignee —Offer for a certain sum—Knowledge of it kept from other persons—Sale not complete—Jurisdiction of High Court to interfere.—Where an intending purchaser at an auction-sale keeps his offer to purchase the properties as a whole at a certain sum from the knowledge of other persons, so as to defer competition, the sale though made by the Official Assignee and confirmed by the Commissioner is liable to be set aside, if other persons offer for them a higher sum. The High Court, in such cases, has jurisdiction to interfere and cancel a sale held by the Official Assignee, provided it has not become complete. THE SOUTH INDIA INDUSTRIALS, LTD. v. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS, 1911, M.W.N. 367.

(120)—S. 31—See Nos. 54, 82, supra.

(121)—S. 32—Arrangement for cultivation of indigo and management of factories for benefit of creditors.—T & Co., a firm in Calcutta, the mortgagees of certain indigo factories and crops, mortgaged them to the A bank, the bank stipulating to make advances for the cultivation and manufacture of the indigo in consideration of the mortgage. T & Co., became insolvent, and the bank went into liquidation, and a provisional liquidator was appointed. On application by the Official Assignee to the Court to allow S, a leading merchant in Calcutta, to carry on the cultivation and manufacture on the ground that the whole crop would otherwise be lost to the creditors. Held, that the Court would grant the application, and, in exercise of the power given by s. 32 of the Insolvent Act, would order the indigo factories not to be sold until further notice, and allow the Official Assignee to make such an arrangement as being one by which the interests of the creditors would be best consulted ; the right to hold the produce of the factories to be to such extent only as the interest in them which belonged to the insolvents, and was vested in the Official Assignee, enabled him to give. In the matter of THOMAS AND CO., 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 352.

(122)—S. 36—Appearance by counsel.—A person from whom property is sought to be taken under s. 36, Insolvency Act, is entitled to be represented by Council. In the matter of the petition of NOLIT MOHAN DOSS, 11 B.L.R. App. 33.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(123)—S. 36, legality of order obtained by an insolvent's creditor under, for examination of defendants in a previous suit by insolvent as witnesses—Practice.—Subsequent to the filing of his suit against the present appellants as defendants, the plaintiff happened to be adjudicated an insolvent. Two of the appellants, the then defendants, had proceeded with the defence but not the other. A creditor of the insolvent having obtained an order under s. 36 of the Insolvent Act for examining the appellants as witnesses, the latter obtained a rule to cancel the order for their examination or postpone it till the disposal of the suit against them. On the rule being subsequently discharged, this appeal was preferred and it was held that the two appellants who had, in the suit by the insolvent, filed their written statements and given the inspection of the documents in their possession, ought not to be allowed to be examined as witnesses until the suit itself was heard. They had given all the information they could be required to give in the suit against them, and they ought not to be prejudiced in their defence by being subjected to an examination under s. 36 of the Insolvency Act. The examination of the remaining appellant, who had not filed his defence in the suit, nor had given any inspection, was ordered to proceed though he was not bound to answer any questions to his prejudice, if so advised. In re BHAGWANDAS NAROTAMDAS, 22 B. 447.

(124)—S. 36—Application by creditor of an insolvent for examination of certain persons under—Probability of benefit resulting, should be shown—Application to be preferred without delay.—When a creditor makes an application for the examination of a person, under s. 36 of the Insolvency Act (11 and 12, Vict. c. 21), the Court must be satisfied that there is a probability of some benefit resulting from such examination. It should not be vague. It is most expedient that such application should be preferred without delay. In the matter of NOOR MAHOMED ABDOOL SUCCOOR, 14 Bur. L.R. 175.

(125)—S. 36—Property of insolvent discovered subsequent to insolvency—Examination of witnesses, when ordered under s. 36—Applicant for examination to be bona fide creditor of estate.—When an application praying for an order for examination of witnesses under s. 36 of the Indian Insolvency Act has been made or supported by the Official Assignee himself, it is the duty of the Court to grant the same readily ; but, when any person other than the Official Assignee asks for such examination, the grounds of the application should be carefully considered and sifted by the Court, which should satisfy itself that the examination of the proposed witness is likely to be of some benefit to the creditors or to the estate, and has not been made merely with a view to harass and annoy persons to be examined. The said section empowers the Court, on the application of the creditor, or of its own motion, to summon any person who may be suspected of having any of the estate of the insolvent in his possession, or who may be capable of giving information respecting the estate and effects of the insolvent, or his acts dealings, or conduct. Such power of examination of third persons, with a view to discovery of the insolvent's property, has been inherent in Insolvency and Bankruptcy Courts from their first establishment in England. The applicant in this case was found not to be a bona fide creditor, and the Official Assignee did not support his application. The Court, therefore, hesitated to admit it. The order for examination was however passed as the application happened to be supported by a Bank, which was admittedly one of the bona fide creditors of the estate, and the prima facie probability of the allegations of the original applicant was increased by being repeated by the bank. The Court, however, directed that the Official Assignee or the Bank, and not the original applicant, should conduct the examination. In re ALLADINBHOY HUBIBHOY, 11 B. 61.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(126)—*S.*36—Witnesses entitled to be represented by Counsel.—In a case in which witnesses have been summoned to attend Court under s. 36, Insolvent Debtors Act, held, that, under special circumstances, counsel may properly be allowed, to attend on their behalf and to have all the powers of counsel appearing in an ordinary case. In the matter of CHUNI LAL OSWAL, 29 C. 507. (3 B. 270, F.)

(127)—S. 36—Order to examine witnesses—Right of witnesses to appear by counsel to show that the order is prejudicial to his interests.-A person, to examine whom as a witness an order has been passed by the Court, under s. 36 of the Indian Insolvency Act, 1841, is entitled, as of right, to appear by counsel and to satisfy the Court that the order passed ex parte, was erroneously made. But after once the order has been made the party complaining of it ought to take out a rule to have it set aside. It is not the right procedure to apply for its revocation just before the commencement of the examination without any previous notice to the other side. In re MANEKJI CAWASJI, 8 Bom. L.R. 85=1 M.L.T. 50.

(128)—S. 36, witness summoned under—Right to appear by counsel.—A witness summoned for examination under s. 36 of the Insolvent Act cannot claim, as of right, to appear by counsel. In practice, however the Judge in his discretion may grant such a request, if the special circumstances of any case should require it. In the matter of NURSEY KESSOWJI, 3 B. 270. [F., 29 C. 509; Expl. and D., 8 Bom. L.R. 85=1 M.L.T. 50.]

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(129)—Ss. 36, 37, 47, 59, 60—Final discharge—Postponement of hearing—Maintenance—Practice.—The benefits of the Act are intended for persons who place such property as they have in the hands of the Court with the object of such property being collected and distributed amongst the insolvent's creditors. The whole object of the Act implies that the insolvent must render every assistance in his power to enable the Court and its officer, the Official Assignee, to realize the property. To extend the benefits of the Act to a person who merely informs the Court in his schedule that he has certain debts owing to him but does nothing more, would be an abuse of the powers of the Court and contrary to the intention and scheme of this Act and of every other Act regarding bankrupts. The Act contemplates, and as a fact the vesting order vests in the Official Assignee not only all the property which the insolvent possesses or is entitled to, at the time the order is made, but also all property which he may thereafter become entitled to until he obtains a certificate of final discharge either under s. 59 or s. 60 of the Act. Consequently as an effect of the vesting order, the Official Assignee, is entitled to receive the whole of the salary which the insolvent is now or may hereafter earn. The Court is, however, empowered by s. 47 of the Act to direct that the Assignee shall make a reasonable allowance for maintenance of the insolvent until final order. MAUNG CHIT U v. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, 1 L.B.R. 249.

(130)—S. 37—See No. 129, supra.

(131)—S. 39—"Mutual credits," meaning of.—According to s. 39, 11 and 12, Vict. c. 21 (Insolvent Act) "mutual credits" mean simply reciprocal demands which must naturally terminate in a debt. A. B. MILLER v. THE NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA, 19 C. 146.

(132)—S. 39—Set-off.—The defendant-company issued two policies on the life of W.S. who assigned them to A and Co., a bank, by way of securing advances made to him. A and Co. were subsequently adjudicated insolvents in 1906. W.S. died in 1907. In a suit by the Official Assignee to recover the sums on the policies: held, that the defendants could set off a debt due by the insolvent bank. The same result will follow with reference to the Insolvency Act (11 and 12 Vict. C. 21, s. 39). OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. MADRAS EQUITABLE ASSURANCE SOCIETY, 8 Ind. Cas. 761=9 M.L.T. 132.

(133)—*S.*39—Set-off--Right of petitioning creditor to set off, costs payable by him to insolvent as against his debt.—A petitioning creditor in an insolvency proceeding cannot set-off the costs payable by him to the insolvent as against his debt, as the former is an asset of the insolvent's estate in which all the creditors are entitled to share. Such a case is not a case of "mutual credit." KARRY MANGIAH CHETTY v. KANACHI RAMIAH CHETTY, 17 Ind. Cas. 164. (1907, 2 K.B.896, L.R. 8 Ch. D. 198, 47 L.J. Ch. 414, 26 W.R. 393, 15 Beav. 458, L.R. 3 Eq. 196, Rel. on.)

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(134)—S. 39—Set-off—English and Indian Law—Claim in respect of notes discounted before insolvency and since dishonoured, whether may be set off—General lien of Bankers for general balance of accounts—S. 171, Contract Act.—Under ss. 39 and 40 of the Indian Insolvency Act, anything may be set off in India which can be set off in England under the Bankruptcy law in force for the time being. (1 M.I.A. 87, F.) Mutual credits which may be set off include credits which have a natural tendency to terminate in debts, and not merely credits which must necessarily terminate in debts. So, claims in respect of bills and notes discounted for the insolvent before insolvency, but dishonoured by the makers after insolvency, may be set off under s. 39 (1 M I.A 87, It. and Expl.; 19 C. 146, Not F.) Under s. 171 of the Contract Act, a lien in favour of the Bankers is only for the general balance of account. In the matter of CANTHOM, 33 M. 53 = 5 Ind. Cas. 843 = 8 M.L.T. 83.

(135)—S. 39—See SET-OFF, 6 C.L.R. 294.

(136)—Ss. 39, 40—Mutual credit—Set-off—Act XV of 1882 (Presy. S.C.C.), s. 70, Payment under, effect.—In August, 1906, the insolvent entered into a contract with A that he was to do shipping work for two years, that he was to receive an advance of Rs. 2,000 for which he was to execute two pro-notes in favour of the insolvents. The advance was received and the notes were executed. Two decrees were obtained against A on the two pro-notes. The first decree was passed contingent upon the opinion of the High Court, and A deposited the amount of the decree and costs in Court under s. 70, Presidency Small Cause Courts Act. The decree-holders were declared insolvents and the vesting order was made on the 30th Nov., 1908. A had on that date a claim against the insolvents for certain sums due to him for work done, and for damages for breach of contract, which after the date of the vesting order matured into a decree on 12th Feb., 1909. A applied for an order that the amount of the decree he had obtained against the insolvents should be set off against the amount of the two decrees obtained against him on the two pro-notes. The Commissioner disallowed the set-off as regards one of the decrees, on the ground that, as the Official Assignee had obtained an order for payment out to him of the amount of this decree, and the money had been paid to him, and there was nothing to set off, and this order was made pending the application for set-off to the Commissioner in insolvency. Per C.J.—Held for the purpose of s. 39 of the Insolvency Act the line is to be drawn at the date of the vesting order. On that date, both the decrees were unsatisfied, since the money in deposit in Court by way of security under s. 70, Presy. S.C.C. Act, was, at the date of the vesting order, A's money. There is no distinction between the two decrees. Per Krishnaswamy Iyer, J.—If s. 39 of the Insolvency Act applies, no dintinction can be made between the two decrees. The payment of the Small Cause Judge pending the application to the Insolvency Court would clearly be illegal, and the Official Assignee would be liable to refund the money received by him, to be set off against the decree to which the Insolvent's estate was liable. The time at which the right of set-off is to be determined is the date of the vesting order. The mere payment by the judgment-debtor into Court, under s. 70 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, as a condition of the reference to the High Court, has not the effect of making the money so paid the property of the decree-holder. (29 M. 232, 25 A. 179, 13 W.R. 29, 12 M.I.A. 65, It.) Though a claim for unliquidated damages by or against the insolvent cannot be set off under the provisions as to mutual credit in s. 39, still, under s. 40 of the Insolvency Act, which makes the provisions of other statutes, hereafter to be passed, applicable, coupled with s. 38 of the English Act of 1883 which provides that there shall be a set-off in respect of mutual dealings, unliquidated damages may be proved against the insolvent's estate. (2 M. 15, 13 B.L.R. App. 2, R.) Mutual credit is a wider term than mutual debt, but not so wide as mutual dealings. CHENGALVAROYA MUDALY v. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS, 7 M.L.T. 207 = 5 Ind. Cas. 379 = 33 M. 467.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(137)—S. 40—Sale of mortgaged property—Sale by Official Assignee—Private contract.—A creditor of the insolvents who had filed their petition of insolvency on 17th March 1873 and obtained their final discharge on 2nd September, 1873, applied for the sale, of certain properties which had been mortgaged to him by the insolvents, and prayed for an order directing an account to be taken of what was due for principal and interest and costs of the mortgage; that the mortgaged properties be sold under the conduct of the Official Assignee, that the applicant be at liberty to bid and to set off the amount of any purchase against the balance which should be found due to him, but that, if any other person should become the purchaser, then that the proceeds of such sale, after deducting the Official Assignee's commission, should be paid to the applicant in liquidation of his debt so far as the same might extend, and that after crediting such amount, the applicant might rank as a creditor on the insolvent's estates for any balance that might be remaining due, and that the insolvent's schedule be amended accordingly. The Court ordered the sale to be made as prayed for in the petition and directed the Official Assignee to reserve a price on the properties intended to be sold, and to advertise such sale. The Court further ordered that, after the properties should have been put up and offered for sale by public auction, if they should not have been sold, or should have been bought in by the Official Assignee at the reserved price, then that the Official Assignee should be at liberty to apply to the Court for leave to sell the said properties by private contract. In the matter of HOWARD BROTHERS, 13 B.L.R. App. 9. [Commented on, 36 C. 990.]

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(138)—S. 40—English Bankruptcy Act of 1869, s. 31—Unliquidated damages—Proof.—By the operation of s. 40 of the Indian Insolvent Act taken with s. 31 of the English Bankruptcy Act of 1869, a claim for unliquidated damages arising out of a breach of contract could be proved in the Insolvent Court. In the matter of OMERTOLOLL DAW, 13 B.L.R. App. 2. [F., 5 Ind. Cas. 379=7 M.L.T. 207=33 M. 472.]

(139)—S. 40 - Insolvent—Final discharge—Debt payable by instalment—Suit to recover instalments.—The defendant passed in favour of the plaintiff a deed by which he agreed to return the money borrowed, in certain instalments. On the 25th January, 1900, the defendant filed an application for insolvency; at that date no instalment had become due. The second schedule was filed on the 9th January, 1901, when the first instalment had become due but it was not mentioned. The defendant obtained his personal discharge on the 19th June, 1901, at which date two instalments were due. A rule nisi to show cause why the final discharge should not be granted was issued on the 3rd November, 1902; and it was served upon the plaintiff on the 5th December, 1902. The plaintiff filed this suit on the 27th February, 1903, against the defendant to recover from him the instalments which had become due. On the 1st April 1903, the defendant obtained his final discharge: Held, that the defendant was not liable, since his discharge was a sufficient answer to the claim against him. COWASHA v. HOMI N. A. WADIA, 6 Bom. L.R. 81.

(140)—S. 40—English Bankruptcy Acts—Rules under the English Bankruptcy Laws.—The reference to conditions and provisions in s. 40 of the Indian Insolvency Act does not import mere rules of procedure, but only those general rules of Bankruptcy law applicable for the time being to the proof of the debts in England. In re KALIDAS; MACLEOD v. PESTONJI, 4 Bom. L.R. 351=26 B. 623.

(141)—S. 40—English Bankruptcy Acts—Rules under the English Acts—Applicability to India.—The words "in the same manner and subject to the like deductions, conditions and provisions as in the said statutes are or may be set forth and prescribed," in s. 40 of the Indian Insolvency Act, do not incorporate the Rules under the English Bankruptcy Act, 1883. In re KALIDAS KESHOWJI, 4 Bom. L.R. 227.

(142)—S. 40—Cestui que trust creditor.—By virtue of the terms of s. 40, Indian Insolvency Act, and by s. 15 of the English Act of 1869, property held by the bankrupt in trust for others is not his property divisible among his creditors. Such property is not vested in the Official Assignee, and a cestui que trust creditor is not entitled to come in and prove, because what is being administered in insolvency is the insolvent's estate, of which property of this nature does not form part. In the matter of VARADALACA CHARRI, 2 M. 15.

(143)—S. 40—See No. 136, supra.

(144)—Ss. 40, 73—Interest after filing of the petition of insolvency, stoppage of, for purposes of dividend.—The appellant in this case was a scheduled creditor in a petition of insolvency. Under a document executed to him by the said debtor, the latter had agreed to repay the sum then borrowed, by a fixed time, and in the meanwhile to pay commission thereon at 10 per cent. per mensem. In respect of the said commission the appellant was admitted to dividend only on its amount accrued up to the date of the filing of the insolvent's petition, and was held disentitled to dividend so far as regards the amount of commission or interest from the date of the filing of the schedule up to that of payment. The general rule in bankruptcy is that interest ceases at the date of the bankruptcy, and there shall be no proof for interest subsequent to that date. SUBBARAYALU v. ROWLANDSON, 14 M. 133.

(145)—S. 41—See No. 83, supra.

(146)—S. 42—Claims of European assistants and Native establishment a workmen of insolvent firm.—The application for payment under s. 42 of the Insolvent Act must be taken to imply consent to a dissolution of the contract of a service by the filing of the petition. Claims, therefore, by servants of an insolvent firm are only allowed up to date of insolvency, and not to the end of the month. Claim of servant who had left insolvent's service before date of insolvency allowed, but only for so much as accrued due to him within the six months previous to insolvency. Sum agreed to be paid to an assistant as extra salary or remuneration for making up insolvent's statement to be laid before the creditors disallowed. Costs of the application allowed out of the estate. One claimant was the manager of the insolvent's business at Simla on a salary of Rs. 350 per month up to 11th April, 1867, when one of the partners wrote to him promising him commission to make his salary up to Rs. 500. During the six months previous to the insolvency he had received Rs. 3,100, being more than the salary claimed for 6 months. Claim disallowed. In the matter of PARKE PITTAR, 6 B.L.R. App. 144.

(147)—S. 46—Winding up of company—Payment of servants' salaries—Companies Act, 1866, s. 173.—Under s. 46 of the Insolvent Act, the Court on the failure of a Bank, ordered the salaries of the employees of the Bank to be paid, the payment to be confined to the salary already learned at the date of failure of the

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

Bank. The Court refused a more extended application for six months' salary in lieu of notice and the amount payable to them under their agreements as passage-money and expenses of passage, which it was contended could be granted under s. 173 of the Companies Act. In the matter of the COMPANIES ACT, 1866, and of the AGRA AND MASTERMAN'S BANK, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 350, 352. But see in the matter of the CALCUTTA STEAM TUG ASSOCIATION, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 17.

(148)—S. 47—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909), s. 15—Debtor obtaining personal discharge—Right to apply again in respect of fresh debts.—The petitioner, who had filed an insolvency case in 1904 and had been granted his personal discharge, again filed a fresh petition of insolvency in respect of debts contracted subsequent to his personal discharge. Held, that there was nothing in the Insolvency Act or in the new Act of 1909 to prevent an undischarged debtor from filing a fresh petition in respect of fresh debts. In the matter of CHARLES STEVENS, 10 Ind. Cas. 792. (12 W.R. 428, 26 B. 171, Rel. upon.)

(149)—S. 47—Insolvent—Personal discharge—Liability to pay subsequent calls—Ss. 98, 100, Indian Companies Act.—Where an insolvent, who had obtained an order of discharge under s. 47 of the Insolvent Debtors Act, allowed his name to continue in the list of contributories to a certain association in which he held 20 shares, and there was no transfer of those shares and of the liabilities thereunder to the Official Assignee, held on the liquidation of the Company, that the Company was not barred from making a claim upon him on the ground that the call was proveable under s. 48 of the Act as the claim was incapable of valuation and that ss. 98 and 100 of the Indian Companies Act of 1862 would not afford any defence to the insolvent. In re THE MERCANTILE CREDIT AED FINANCIAL ASSOCIATION, LIMITED; BABA SAHIB DAMASKAR'S CASE, 8 B.H.C.O.C. 117.

(149-a)—S. 47—See No. 129, supra.

(150)—Ss. 47, 50—Adjournment after ... ing to imprisonment.—The words "and declar... him entitled to his discharge," which occur ... s. 51 of the Insolvent Debtors' Act, must be looked upon, not as imperative or directory, but as permissive and en... the Court to declare, that at the termina... imprisonment, the insolvent shall be ... to his discharge without the necessity ... her hearing; but not directing the Court ... so. Looking at the many inconveniences which would result if a different construction were adopted and considering that in many cases it would operate mischievously if the Court had no power while making an order under s. 50 to deal with the other matters in the case as law and justice require, and seeing also that the words are capable of bearing this construction, a Court is bound so to construe these words. It is competent to the Court, if the circumstances require it, to make an order under s. 47, adjourning the further hearing of the insolvent's petition, and at the same time to adjudge that the insolvent shall be imprisoned under s. 50. In re MANIKJI SHAPURJI KAKA, 3 B.H.C.O.C. 61.

(151)—Ss. 47, 50, 60—Personal discharge under s. 47—Subsequent inquiry under s. 60—Evidence—Imprisonment.—An insolvent who has been opposed at the times he applied for his personal discharge under s. 47, can be opposed by the same creditor on the same grounds on his application for a discharge in the nature of a certificate under s. 60. The order made on the hearing of the petition under s. 47 of the Act can be used as evidence against the insolvent when applying for his discharge under s. 60, provided that such order clearly states the offences established against the insolvent. Having been punished for the offences of which he is found guilty in the inquiry under s. 47, he can still be held liable for the same offences when the question is for a discharge under s. 60. The discharge under s. 60, of an insolvent who has already obtained his discharge under s. 47, is not as of course, but will depend upon the general conduct of the insolvent both before and subsequent to his obtaining his discharge under s. 47. In re N. D. COORLAWALLA, 9 B.H.C. 14.

(152)—Ss. 47, 51.—An order made under s. 51 of the Insolvent Act is a final order: and a Commissioner in insolvency has no power under that section to commit an insolvent to jail, but must leave the excepted judgment-creditors to their ordinary remedies for the time mentioned in the order. SAMARAPURI v. PARRY AND COMPANY, 13 M. 150, F.B. (8 M. 97, overruled.)

(153)—Ss. 47 and 51.—Where the transactions of an insolvent show gross misconduct in contracting debts, the Commissioner has power to commit him to custody, under the provi... and 51 of the Insolvency Act, ... directed that he was entitled to ... as to all the debts save and except ... debt due to a certain creditor, and as ... debt, the insolvent should be entitled ... discharged as soon as he had been in ...ody at the suit of the creditor for six ...onths. NI... v. CHARTERED MERCANTILE BANK, ... M. 97. [Overruled, 13 M. 150.]

(154)—Ss. 47 and 56—Personal discharge of insolvent, order granting—Setting aside of—Appeal.—Where an insolvent obtains his personal discharge under s. 47 of the Indian Insolvent Act (Stat. 11 and 12, Vict., c. 21), the order granting the discharge ... set aside only on the grounds mentioned ... 56. Where no such grounds can be shown, the only course open to an opposing creditor is to appeal under s. 73 from the order granting the discharge. In re DAYABAI SARUPCHAND, 23 B. 475.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(155)—Ss. 47, 60—Discharge under s. 47 not opposed—Final discharge opposed—Consideration of debtor's career.—A creditor, who has not filed grounds of opposition to the discharge of the insolvent under s. 47, can be allowed to oppose a final discharge under s. 60. [R., 20 B. 636.] The grounds of opposition against an order under s. 60 may include matters which might have been put forward as grounds for opposing the personal discharge under s. 47, and need not be confined to matters either not known at that time or which have occurred since. [R., 20 B. 666, 9 B.H.C. 14.] A certificate under a bankruptcy is not a matter of right, but a matter of discretiona—discretion to be exercised on judicial principles; and the case of a certificate is one in which the judicial principles involve the duty of attending to the public interest and the claims of society at least as much as in any other classes of cases. Therefore, in considering whether the insolvent should or should not have a final discharge, all the circumstances of his mercantile career may be taken into account. In re PESTANJI SHAPURJI KAKA and EDALJI SHAPURJI KAKA, 8 B.H.C.O.C. 37.

(156)—S. 48—See No. 56, supra.

(157)—S. 49—'May,' construction of—Stay of further proceedings after the filing of the insolvent's schedule.—S. 49 of the Indian Insolvent Act empowers the Insolvent Court to deal with (1) cases in which a decree has been passed; and (2) cases in which a suit has been instituted but a decree has not been passed. In the former case, the Court may stay the execution; in the latter, it may stay further proceedings in the suit. The word 'may,' in the section, indicates that the requisite conditions which the section lays down being fulfilled the Court will and ought to exercise the power it may exercise. The word 'may' does not vest the Court with a discretion which it can uniformly exercise in one case and renounce in the other. What discretion there is, is meant to be used in exceptional cases. HOOKAMCHAND v. NOWALORJI, 10 Bom. L. R. 345.

(158)—S. 49—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 245-B.—The provisions of s. 49 of the Insolvency Act are not directory or imperative, but merely permissive; and even after a vesting order has been made and the Schedule of the insolvent has been filed, the Court has power, under, s. 245-B of the Civ. Pro. Code, to direct execution against the person of the defendant by his arrest and imprisonment in cases of fraud or misconduct; although the amonnt of the judgment-debt is fully admitted by the Insolvent in his schedule. BHASKAR v. SHRIDHAR, 9 Bom. L.R. 898.

(159)—S. 49—Decree—Execution—Insolvent—Discharge—Proceedings, stay of—Discretion—Court.—S. 49 of the Indian Insolvency Act, 1848, gives discretion to the Court to stay or not to stay a suit or execution against an insolvent. To enforce process against a man whose estate is already vested in the Official Assignee would in ordinary cases be improper, but under certain circumstances it would be improper to stay it. If, on the other hand, there is no misconduct shown and no order of the Insolvent Court appears to the contrary, the High Court would ordinarily and properly stay proceedings under s. 49. MOTILAL v. MADHAVRAO, 7 Bom. L.R. 146.

(160)—S. 49—Suit for declaration—Insolvency of defendant after institution of suit—Maintainability of suit.—Where plaintiff sued for a declaration that the house in dispute was liable to attachment in execution of his decree against defendant, and the defendant was adjudged an insolvent after the institution of the suit. Held, that the insolvency of the defendant was no bar to the continuance of the suit, and that the provisions of s. 49 (11 and 12 Vict. c. 21) did not apply. SRINIVASACHARIAR v. RAMANUJACHARIAR, 8 Ind. Cas. 152=8 M.L.T. 446.

(161)—S. 49—Decree for alimony and costs—Application for insolvency—Discharge of insolvent—Liability.—A person who was ordered to pay a certain amount by way of alimony and costs of the proceedings amounting to Rs. 200, did not pay any amount for the alimony or for costs and applied to be declared an insolvent, without making any mention of his liability for alimony or filing the accounts. But he did not obtain ad interim protection. Held that the filing of the petition did not discharge his liability to pay alimony. GEORGE v. GEORGE, 11 B.L.R. App. 2.

(162)—S. 49—Effect of vesting order—Effect of insolvency on relative rights of Official Assignee and creditors—Suit pending at date of vesting order—Suits in which decrees were passed prior to vesting order.—By ss. 7 and 11 of the Indian Insolvent Act, from the moment of the vesting order being made, all the property, real and personal, of the insolvents, and all their future rights to any such property, "whether within the territories within the limits of the charter of the East India Company, or without," and all debts due or growing due to them, become absolutely vested in the Official Assignee as trustee for the general body of creditors from the date of the insolvent's petition under s. 7 and from the date of the creditor's petition and adjudication (under s. 11). The rights of the Official Assignee for the benefit of the general body of creditors over the property of the insolvent lawfully vested in him, wherever that property may be situated, are rights that must be respected and recognized not within limits of the Prisidency Town jurisdiction only, but by all Courts, wheresoever situated, in which the Official Assignee has reason to appear on behalf of the general body of creditors. In suits founded on contract (with very few exceptions) in which the insolvent was a plaintiff, the old rule was that the suit abated, i.e., came to an end, by the insolvency of the plaintiff; this remained the rule in England till 1852, when the Common Law Procedure Act provided that the bankruptcy or insolvency shall not be pleaded as a bar by the defendant, unless assignees shall decline to continue and give security for costs thereof. This only affects suits pending at the time of the vesting order, in which the insolvent is plaintiff; and as to these suits and these only, it gives the assignees a power they did not before possess (and which they can exercise only within the strict limits of the statute), not indeed of being added as parties to the suit with the bankrupt (such a thing was never thought of), but of carrying on the suit on behalf of the general body of the creditors in substitution and in lieu of the insolvent. And as to suits pending at the date of the vesting order in which the insolvent is defendant they are not touched by that statute: they remain as they were at Common Law; as to them the assignees have no power whatsoever of continuing to defend them in substitution of the insolvent, far less any power of getting themselves added as co-defendants in such suits together with the insolvent. The law as to pending suits is the same in India as in England, except indeed in so far as s. 49 of the Indian Insolvent Act has supplied a procedure, for the stay of suits pending against the insolvent as defendant, which does not exist. But this clause applies only after a schedule has been filed. With regard to pending suits in which the insolvent is plaintiff, s. 106 of the Civ. Pro. Code is the same as s. 142 of the English Common Law Procedure Act of 1852. The result then is that, as to suits pending at the date of the vesting order, in which the insolvent is the plaintiff, the law in England and India is the same, viz., that the Official Assignee, on certain specified conditions, may carry on such suits for the benefit of the general body of creditors, in substitution of, but not as co-plaintiff on the record with the insolvent. As to pending suits in which the insolvent is a defendant, the law in India is the same as the law in England, except that, under s. 49 of the Indian Insolvent Act, the Courts in India are specially directed, after the filing of the insolvents' schedule and before his discharge, to stay suits and all proceedings therein founded on any debt or demand inserted in the schedule, on proof to the Court's satisfaction that the debt or demand so inserted in the schedule is identical with that which forms the subject of the suits, etc., which they are asked to stay. As to any power of continuing such actions in substitution of the insolvent, or of being made parties to the suit in addition to the insolvent defendant, the Official Assignee in India has not such power, any more than the corresponding functionary in England. S. 29 of the Indian Insolvent Act gives the Official Assignee no such power, as that relates not at all to suits pending at the date of the insolvency, but to suits which, but for the insolvency, the insolvent himself might have commenced, prosecuted, or defended, and which, therefore, the Official Assignee, after the insolvency, shall not be precluded, provided he first obtains the leave of the Court, from commencing, prosecuting or defending in his own name as Official Assignee of the insolvent, for the benefit of the general body of creditors. This section has, therefore, no application whatever to suits commenced, prosecuted, or in the course of being defended by the insolvent at or before the date of the insolvency, i.e., of the vesting order. [R., 22 C. 259.] As to this neither in England nor in India have the assignee of an insolvent ever been held to have the power, after judgment and decree, to get themselves made parties to the suits with a view of moving for a new trial, setting aside the judgment, or for any other purpose whatsoever. They have invariably been left in such cases to try their right to the property at the time of execution, as against creditors, by action brought either against the Sheriff for an improper execution of the decree, or against the purchaser under the decree, the former mode of procedure being that generally adopted. With regard then to seizures and sales in execution by the Sheriff, after the date of the petition, on judgments obtained against the bankrupt (or insolvent) before that date, the Official Assignee in India was left to pursue his remedy against the Sheriff as prescribed by the Common Law of England. And since the Civ. Pro. Code has become the law regulating the practice of the High Court with regard to all civil suits of every description between party and party, the proper course for the Official Assignee to pursue is that prescribed by ss. 216 and 247 of the Code, viz., by claim, in the first instance, to remove the attachment, and if that be refused, by order of the Court (against which order there is no appeal), then by suit to establish his right, which suit must be brought within one year. As, however, by s. 17 of the Letters Patent, the practice of the Insolvent Court (where any such practice is specially pointed out by the Insolvent Act, or the rules framed under it) is not to be affected by the amalgamation of the Courts, it would appear clear that under s. 49 of the Insolvent Act, the Official Assignee, after schedule filed, and before the discharge of the insolvent, might still apply to any Court in which a suit has been brought against the insolvent for any debt or demand admitted in the schedule, or disputed as to amount only, for a stay of process or execution. In re HUNT, MONNET, AND CO. V. KHOLAGIR MANGIR, 1 B. H. C. 251.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(163)—S. 49—See Nos. 56, 58, 59, supra.

(164)—S. 50—Lower Burma Courts Act (XI of 1889), ss. 50 and 69, cls. (b and (c)—Criminal case—Reference to the High Court.—A petition presented to the special Court under s. 50, cl. (5) of the Lower Burma Courts Act by a person considering himself aggrieved by an order of the Recorder sitting as Insolvency Commissioner, comes before the Special Courts as a criminal case and should be dealt with under s. 69, cl. (c), of the Lower Burma Courts Act, where there arises a difference of opinion between the members of the Special Court. YOE SWEE CHOON alias BA U v. THE CHARTERED BANK OF INDIA, AUSTRALIA AND CHINA, RANGOON, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 646. (17 C. 209, F.)

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(165)—S. 50—Criminal charge—Contempt of Court — Conviction— Sentence.—An insolvent seeking the benefit of the Indian Insolvent Act was found to defeat the object of the Act by wilfully preventing and purposely withholding the production of letters written to him. No charge was framed against him regarding this: and no pointed question was asked to him during the proceedings: yet, at the termination of the proceedings, he was sentenced to a term of imprisonment, under the provisions of s. 50 of the Act:—Held, reversing the sentence, (1) that the proceedings so far as they resulted in imprisonment amounted to a criminal charge; and in all criminal cases it was necessary that there should be a charge, a finding and a conviction, as a foundation for the sentence: everything should be strictly and accurately pursued; and if in any one of these three points a substantial defect should appear, it would be a ground for reversing the proceeding: (2) that no person should be punished for contempt of Court, which is a criminal offence, unless the specific offence alleged against him be distinctly stated, and an opportunity of answering it given to him. VALABHDAS v. NARONJEE, 5 Bom. L.R. 343=27 B. 394.

(166)—S. 50, insolvent adjudged to be imprisoned by order under—Offence—Criminal procedure—Notice to accused—Omission or irregularity in proceeding.—A person who becomes adjudicated an Insolvent has ample notice in the provisions of the Insolvency Act of the conditions under which he can regain his liberty by an order of personal discharge with protection. It is in his own hands to make out the best case for himself when he is passing through his ordeal. If then a Court for the relief of insolvent debtors decides, upon the admissions of an insolvent so circumstanced (admissions which he has had further opportunity to explain away when re-examined) and upon the facts and omissions of the insolvent occurring in view of the Court, that the circumstances as the insolvent has himself made them appear are such as to convince the Court that the insolvent has acted in one or more respects in the manner described in s. 50, and proceeds to adjudge the insolvent to imprisonment, it would be difficult to hold that the insolvent has been taken by surprise even if not one of the grounds for adjudging imprisonment under s. 50 of the Act had been set out in the notice of grounds of opposition filed by any opposing creditor. The Insolvency Court, as already remarked, is a Court specially constituted and empowered to grant relief from the operation of the ordinary law under which debtors are already liable to be imprisoned. But such relief is obtainable upon conditions set forth in the Insolvency Act and easily ascertainable thereform, if not already known to insolvents, by whom, or in respect of whom, the special jurisdiction of such a Court is invoked. One of the provisions of the Act is that in certain circumstances described in s. 50, the Insolvency Court may adjudge the insolvent to imprisonment instead of being granted the protection from arrest under the ordinary law which he seeks to obtain. If an insolvent by his own conduct and evidence before a Court so constituted and so empowered becomes his own self-accuser in respect of the circumstances which render him liable to be so adjudged to imprisonment by the Insolvency Court instead of being granted protection from arrest under process of the ordinary Courts, it is not easy to follow the argument that such insolvent ought not to be treated as self-condemned or even as accused in respect of such circumstances, or that the power to adjudge to imprisonment under s. 50 ought not to be exercised until some accusation has been made in some form or other by some accuser. It is not necessary for a Court of Relief for Insolvent Debtors, when exercising its power under s. 50, Indian Insolvency Act, of ordering the imprisonment of a person adjudicated an insolvent to formally call upon such person to meet and disprove the fact on which its order is based. COWRINGEE VEERASAWMY v. A. M. S. CHELLAPPA CHETTY, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 141.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(167)—S. 50, "In case it shall appear," meaning of.—S. 50 provides a punishment, by way of penalty, for the commission of certain offences, which punishment is to be administered by the Commissioner of Insolvency. The words "in case it shall appear," in s. 50, must mean, in case it shall by legal evidence appear that the person to be punished has committed the specific crime he is said to have committed, and that before any person can be punished under that section, he must be shown by legal evidence to have committed on some specific occasion, one or other of the offences enumerated in the section. RASH BEHARI ROY v. BHUGWAN CHUNDER ROY, 17 C. 209.

(168)—S. 50—Conviction of insolvent—Appeal under s. 73—Bail pending appeal.—When an insolvent has been convicted and sentenced to imprisonment by the Insolvent Court under s. 50 of the Indian Insolvent Act (11 and 12, Vict., c. 21) and has preferred an appeal under s. 73 of the Act, the High Court has no power to admit him to bail pending the hearing and the determination of the appeal. In the matter of HORMARJI ARDESIR HORMARJI, 17 B. 334.

(169)—S. 50—See Nos. 150, 151, supra.

(170)—Ss. 50, 51—Insolvency—Court's power to make order to apply to particular debts.—Respondent applied in March 1909 for the benefit of the Act for the relief of Insolvent Debtors in India, and an order was passed under s. 51 adjudging that he be entitled to his personal discharge except in respect of two specified sums, and that, in respect of those debts he be discharged as soon as he shall have been in custody at the suit of each of the respective creditors for six months. Appellants urged that the insolvent should have been dealt with under s. 50, or in the alternative that his petition should have been dismissed or his personal discharge postponed. As more than a year had elapsed, the insolvent had obtained his discharge altogether: Held, there were grounds for passing an order under s. 51, and it was within the discretion of the Court to make an order to apply to debts as it thought fit. Held, further, that, although respondent had not been in custody, the effect of the order had been to act as a punishment on him. GRAHAM & CO. v. AHMED ISMAIL, 12 Ind. Cas 24.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(170-a)--Ss. 50, 51--See WARRANT, 17 C. 209.

(170 b)—S. 50, punishment under—Ss. 50 (5) and 69, cl. (c), Burma Act XI of 1889—Petition under s. 50, cl. (5), to special Court by a party aggrieved by an order under s. 50 Insolvent Act, a Criminal case—Remedy in case of difference of opinion.—The punishment, which can be awarded under s. 50 of the Insolvent Act, is a punishment for something which the person to be punished has done, and is not in any way an imprisonment to which he is subject in order to compel him to do something in the future; and that brings the case within the definition of a Criminal case. (17 C. 209, F.) [R., L.B.R. 1893-1900, 141]. A petition presented under s. 50, cl. (5) of the Lower Burma Courts Act, to the Special Court, by a person considering himself aggrieved by an order of the Recorder, sitting as an Insolvency Commissioner, made under s. 50 of the Insolvent Act, comes before the Special Court as a Criminal case. It is therefore to be dealt with, in case of difference of opinion between the members of the Court (Special), under s. 69, cl. (c) of the Lower Burma Courts Act. YEO SAM CHOOW v. THE CHARTERED BANK, 19 C. 605. [R., L.B.R. 1893-1900, 141.]

(170-c)—Ss. 50, 51 — Rule 20 —Where, at the close of the cross-examination of the insolvent, an opposing creditor applies for leave to add several fresh grounds of opposition, and all the facts relied upon in support of these grounds were known to the opposing creditors at the outset or were within their means of knowledge, the Court would refuse to grant the application. The power given to the Court by r. 20 should be exercised with great caution. Rash and reckless speculation on the part of the insolvent is not, in terms, an offence under s. 51 of the Indian Insolvent Act, though, if rash and reckless speculation be proved, the Court would be justified on account of it, in adjourning the insolvent's discharge under s. 47 of the Act. What the Court has to determine under s. 51 of the act is, whether the insolvent's debts, or any of them, were contracted without his having any reasonable or probable expectation, at the time when he contracted them, of paying the same, or whether his whole debts so greatly exceeded his means for providing for the payment thereof during the time when the same were in the course of being contracted (reference being had to his actual and expected property) as to show gross misconduct in contracting the same. Banks do not forfeit the protection which the provisions of s. 51 of the Act afford them, because they do not refuse the forward bills of the insolvent firm, which they belived to be solvent, on the suspicion that they are speculative in character. S. 50 of the act is a highly penal section, and in it the word "fraudulent" must have its ordinary meaning assigned to it. From the mere fact of a voluntary payment, fraud of a penal nature cannot be inferred. When the conduct of the insolvent in giving a fraudulent preference is made penal, the Court must be satisfied that the guilty intention necessary to constitute the offence existed in the mind of the insolvent and ought not to assume it, unless the circumstances point to no other probable conclusion. In the matter of HORMARJI ARDESIR, HORMARJI, 17 B. 313.

(171)—S. 51, Insolvent Act—Interpretation.—The words "without having any reasonable or probable expectation at the time when contracted, of paying the same" refer only to a man who incurs a debt knowing that he cannot repay that debt and not to one who incurs a debt knowing that he cannot pay his debts generally. The words "if it shall appear that the insolvent's whole debts so greatly exceeded his means of providing for the payment thereof during the time when the same were in course of being contracted, reference being had to his actual and expected property, as to show gross misconduct in contracting the same," apply not to this or that debt or class of debts, but to all the debts contracted for some years past. In the matter of the petition of D. COWIE, 6 C. 70=7 C.L.R. 19.

(172)—S. 51, nature of order under—Personal discharge except as to opposing creditor.—When a creditor, holding a mortgage from an insolvent, who opposes his discharge on the ground that he was induced to advance money to him on the faith of false and fraudulent representations made by him, has not taken steps to place himself in a position to issue execution against him, the Court, under s. 51, Insolvent Act, has no power to order immediate commitment. Accordingly, the Court can only make a prospective order that as to that particular creditor, the insolvent shall be entitled to his personal discharge, as soon as he shall have been in custody, at the suit of that creditor, for the period of six months. The creditor wishing to detain the insolvent for such period must place himself in a position to issue execution against the insolvent. (5 B.H.C.O. C. 55, F.) Quære—Whether an insolvent will be relieved from the penalty prescribed by s. 51, if the claim of the opposing creditor is satisfied, after the creditor has placed himself in a position to issue execution against him. In the matter of SARAT KUMAR SEN, 26 C. 973=4 C.W.N. 32.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(173)—S. 51—See Nos. 152, 153, 170, supra.

(174)—Ss. 51, 52—Court to be governed by a language of Legislature — "Dischared after custody at the suit of creditors," meaning of.—A Court must be governed by the language of the Legislature, without considering what may have been its intention. Per Couchman, C.J.— Where, under s. 51 of the Insolvent Debtors Act, it has been adjudged that an insolvent shall be forthwith discharged from all his debts, etc., except as to certain specified debts, and as to these, that he shall be discharged as soon as he shall have been in custody, at the suit of the person or persons who shall be creditor or creditors for the same respectively for such period as the Court shall direct, such an order of adjudication does not itself operate as an order for the imprisonment of the insolvent; but the detaining creditor, if he wishes to arrest or detain the insolvent for such period, must, if he has not already done so, place himself in a position to issue execution against the insolvent. In re MANCHARJI HIRJI READMONEY, 5 B.H.C. O.C. 55. [F., 26 C. 973=4 C.W.N. 32; Appr., 13 M. 150, F.B.; R., 7 Bom. L.R. 146]

(175)—S. 52—See No. 174, supra.

(176)—S. 56—See No. 154, supra.

(177)—Ss. 56, 73—Discharge of Insolvent—Opposing creditor taken by surprise—Appeal.—An insolvent filed his petition and schedule. Two of his creditors filed joint grounds of opposition to his discharge, and the petition was therefore placed upon the list of opposed petitions. The principal ground of opposition was that the insolvent was not an inhabitant of and did not reside in, Bombay, and that therefore the Court had no jurisdiction to hear his petition or grant him his discharge. Misled as to the time when the petition was to come on for hearing, the creditors failed to appear when the petition was called on and the insolvent obtained his discharge ex parte. The appellate Court, on the ground that the opposing creditors had been taken by surprise, set aside the order of discharge and restored the case to the board. Semble that, under the circumstances, the Commissioner sitting in insolvency, had no jurisdiction to set aside the order of discharge. DWARKADAS LALUBHAI v. GEORGE BLACKWILL, 9 B.H.C. 319.

(178)—S. 59—Vesting of insolvent's estate in Official Assignee under vesting order—Subsequent order of discharge—Effect on vesting order—Right of creditors to receive interest on interest carrying debts—Right of insolvent to balance in the hands of Official Assignee.—An insolvent's estate became vested in the Official Assignee under an adjudication and vesting order. All the creditors having been fully paid out the principal amount due to them out of the estate that became vested in the Official Assignee, the insolvent petitioned for and obtained, under s. 59 of the Insolvent Debtors' Act, an order nisi in the nature of a certificate for the discharge of his person and property from the demands of his creditors. Subsequent to the order of discharge, the Official Assignee received a certain amount which became due as interest payable in respect of certain Government securities to which the insolvent had become entitled for life. Thereupon, some of the creditors applied to have interest allowed them upon their debts, and the insolvent applied for payment to him of the balance in the hands of the Official Assignee. Held that the order of discharge under s. 59 of the Insolvent Act did not render the vesting order void; nor did it take effect as vesting immediately in the insolvent the property vested in the Official Assignee. Held also that the interest which subsequently became due could not be considered as "after-acquired property," within the meaning of s. 59 of the Insolvent Act; nor could it be considered as "debt growing due to the insolvent before the Court made its order," within the meaning of s. 7 of the Act. Held, further, that the creditors were entitled to an order for payment of interest upon such debts as legally carried interest out of the surplus which remained in the Official Assignee's hands after payment of the scheduled amount of the debts. Held, moreover, that the insolvent or his legal representative was entitled to the balance still left in the hands of the Official Assignee. In the matter of THOMAS PEREIRA, 1 M.H.C. 217.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(179)—S. 59—See No. 129, supra.

(180)—S. 60—Trader—Discharge—Subsequent suit for debt not entered in schedule.—Defendant, who had taken the benefit of the Insolvent Act, was sued by plaintiff for a debt contracted previously to his insolvency, the debt not having been entered in the insolvent's schedule at the time of his final discharge. Held, insolvent being a trader, that under the provisions of s. 60 of the Insolvency Act, taken in connection with 5 & 6 Vict., c. 122, the discharge was good and valid, and that subsequently-acquired property could not be attached for any debt discharged under the insolvency. BRETT v. SCHONERSTEDT, 2 Hyde 1.

(181)—S. 60, Insolvent Act (11 and 12, Vict., c. 21)—Indigo planter trader.—A person carrying on the business of an indigo planter, is a trader within the meaning of s. 60 of the Indian Insolvent Act. In the matter of DEMOMET, 21 C. 1018.

(182)—S. 60—Mukadam if trader.—A mukadam of shipping and landing business was held not to be a trader within the meaning of the Indian Insolvent Act (11 & 12, Vict., c. 21, s. 60); and therefore he could not obtain a discharge in the nature of a certificate under s. 60 of the Act. In the matter of COWASJI EDALJI, 5 B. 1.

(183)—S. 60—Order absolute—Effect of order on debt not included in schedule.—An order absolute under the Act was meant to discharge and did discharge an insolvent from all demand, which were liable to be discharged by a certificate under a flat in bankruptcy of even date with the insolvent's petition. The discharge was not intended to be confined to the debts enumerated in the schedule. DADHABHAI NASARVANJI v. MANIKJI SHAPURJI KAKA, 7 B.H.C.O C. 22. [R., 6 Bom. L.R. 81, 10 O C 305.]

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(184)—S. 60—See Nos. 129, 151, 155, supra.

(185)—S. 61—See COMPANY—WINDING UP OF COMPANY, 10 B. 582.

(186)—S. 62—Crown-debt, what is a.—Where a debt is a debt in respect of the price of crown property (e. g., opium) sold, and the amount when received would be a part of the revenue, of India, the debt is in substance a debt due to the crown. The question is not in whose name the debt stands, but whether the debt, when recovered, falls into the coffers of the State. JUDAH v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 12 C. 445. (5 B.H.C.O.C. 23, at p. 47, F.)

(187)—S. 63—Property settled without power of anticipation—Married Women's Property Act, 1874, s. 8—Insolvency of a married woman.—Property settled upon a woman for her separate use without power of anticipation does not enure to the benefit of her creditors. S. 8 of Act III of 1874 makes it clear that married women cannot evade such restraint as can be lawfully imposed on them. In re MANTEL AND MANTEL, 18 M. 19. (12 C. 522, Diss.) [R., 30 M. 378=17 M.L. J. 363=2 M.L.T. 322.]

(188)—S. 72—See No. 109, supra.

(189)—Ss. 72 and 73—Limitation—Evidence.—When the time for appealing against the Commissioner's adjudication expired during the annual vacation of the High Court, and the appeal was filed on the re-opening day, it was in time. When no evidence was recorded under s. 73 of the statute, the Commissioner's notes cannot be used in appeal. ABDOOL v. MAHAMED, 14 M. 404.

(190)—Ss. 72, 73—Insolvent Court—High Court—Notes of evidence not taken—Jurisdiction to hear appeal.—There are no provisions in the Insolvent Act as to the presentation of petitions of appeal similar to those contained in s. 336 of the Civ. Pro. Code. Though the taking down of evidence by an officer of the Insolvent Court is not a condition precedent to the right to appeal, yet in cases where it is necessary to consider the evidence, the appellate Court can only look at the notes of evidence taken down by an officer of the Insolvent Court in the manner provided by s. 72 of the Insolvent Act, and, when it appears that no such notes had been taken, has no option but to dismiss the appeal. KALLIANDAS KIRPARAM v. TRIKAMLAL GULABRAI, 9 B. H.C. 307. (5 B.H.C.O.C. 63, R.) [F., M. 14 404.]

(191)—S. 73—Security for costs of appeal—Personal appearance of insolvent.—On an application for deposit of securities for the payment of the costs of an appeal under s. 73 of the Insolvent Act, by an insolvent who had been sentenced under s. 50 to imprisonment for three months, where it was shown that the insolvent absconded at the time when the order under s. 50 abovementioned was being made, the Court declined to pass such order. In re GHASSERAM. 15 B L.R App. 10.

(192)—S. 73—Practice—Application to the High Court in its appellate jurisdiction, if lies—Petition by creditor not included in schedule.—When at the time of the order of final discharge, a creditor's claim was by some inadvertence omitted from being entered in the schedule, and the creditor applied for relief under s. 73 of the Insolvent Debtors Act, and the insolvent acknowledged the claim and knew of the omission, held, that the High Court has jurisdiction to pass an order that the creditor's name should be entered in the schedule in respect of past as well as future dividends. In re COBBOLD, 36 C. 512=2 Ind. Cas. 572.

(193)—S. 73—"Any person who shall think himself aggrieved" who is—Appeal by Official Assignee, whether maintainable.—R held a fixed deposit receipt from A & Co. The amount with interest fell due on 9th October 1906, and on the 18th October, R demanded payment, and A & Co. suspended payment on the 26th. R applied to the Official Assignee for the full amount which was refused, and the Commissioner in Insolvency passed an order as prayed for, and the Official Assignee preferred this appeal. Held, that the Official Assignee is a "person aggrieved" by the order appealed against, since he was brought before the Court to submit to a decision that he was bound to pay a certain sum to R, and the decision was against him. The Official Assignee was therefore entitled to appeal under s. 73 of the Insolvency Act. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v. RAMACHANDRA IYER, 7 M.L.T. 214=33 M. 134=5 Ind. Cas. 974.

(194)—S. 73—Petition of appeal.—The Commissioner in Insolvency has no power under s. 73 of the Insolvent Act, to extend the time for presenting a petition of appeal from an order of the Insolvent Court. In re GHOLAM RASUL KHAN, 1 B.L.R. O.C. 130=1 B.L.R. S.N. 3 (d). [R., 17 B. 334.]

(195)—S. 73—See COURT-FEES, 24 M. 160.

(196)—S. 73—See Nos. 75, 102, 144, 177, 189, 190, supra.

(197)—S. 86—Insolvency—Entering up judgment against insolvent—Final discharge—Discretion of Court.—In August 1892, the insolvent, at the hearing of his application for discharge under s. 47 of the Insolvency Act, was found guilty of reckless speculation and other offences and was sentenced to a term of imprisonment under ss. 50 and 51 of the Act. In December, 1894, the insolvent applied for his discharge under s. 60 of the Act. Then the Official Assignee intervened, and applied under s. 86 of the Act to enter up judgment against the insolvent for the amount of his debts. The Court made the order, and directed that judgment should be entered up. On appeal by the insolvent, held, reversing the order, that under the circumstances of the case, the Commissioner had improperly exercised his discretion, as there was no suggestion that the insolvent was likely to come into any property in the future, and that the order to enter up judgment against the insolvent should be discharged. In the matter of HORMARJI ARDESHIR HORMARJI, 19 B. 778. [R., 28 M. 16.]

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21, (Insolvent Act, 1848)—continued.

(198)—S. 86—Right of assignees of debts due to insolvent—Inapplicability of s. 135 of the Transfer of Property Act, IV of 1882.—In this case, the purchasers of certain claims against the insolvent contended that they were entitled to receive from the Official Assignee the full amount of the debts entered in the schedule as due to the creditors. The insolvent contended that, under s. 135 of the T.P. Act (IV of 1882), they could not get more than the price they had paid for those claims, but it was held that they had the right to be paid the full amount of the scheduled debts purchased. If, at the time of the assignment, the debts retained their original nature of claims under promissory notes passed by the insolvent, s. 139 of the Act would apply excluding the operation of s. 135. If, on the other hand, they should be regarded as claims against the insolvent under the judgment entered up against him under s. 86 of the Insolvent Debtors Act, assuming it to be an "actionable claim" within Chap. VIII of the Act, cl. (d) of s. 135 would apply depriving the insolvent of the benefit of the earlier provision of the section. In re RUNCHOD KHUSHAL, 21 B. 572.

(199)—S. 86—Entering up judgment against insolvent—Final discharge.—Under s. 86 of the Insolvent Act (Stat. 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21) the Court has a discretion to grant or refuse an application to enter up judgment against an insolvent for the amount of his debts. In exercising this discretion, the Court must be guided by the circumstances of the insolvency. In the matter of HORMARJI ARDESHIR HORMARJI, 19 B. 297. [Reversed, 19 B. 778.]

(200)—S. 86—Entering of judgment against the insolvent.—An insolvent, after obtaining his personal discharge, had inherited a house worth Rs. 5,000 from his father. Under s. 86 of the Insolvency Act, the Official Assignee moved the Commissioner in insolvency and got judgment entered up against the insolvent for balance of the scheduled debts. In an appeal against the order, held, that the insolvent had no interest in the house at the time of his personal discharge, that there is no provision in the Insolvent Act, which imposed, upon an insolvent, personally discharged, the duty of disclosing to the Official Assignee, that he has become possessed of property since the order of personal discharge was made. The non-disclosure of it does not amount to fraud. Under the English Bankruptcy Act, judgment will not be entered up, against a bankrupt, as a condition of his discharge, if he cannot command an income more than sufficient, to keep his family in good circumstances. The order of entry of judgment was set aside. ABDUL KAREEM SAHIB v. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS, 28 M. 168.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 21 (Insolvent Act, 1848)—concluded.

(201)—S. 86, execution of judgment entered up under—Applicability of provisions of Civ. Pro. Code.—The question in this case was whether the procedure laid down in clauses 34 and 35 of the Insolvent Act, 1848, was to be adopted in enforcing execution of judgments entered up under s. 86 of the Insolvent Act or the procedure laid down in the Civ. Pro. Code, and it was held that such execution must be carried out according to the rules laid down in Chapter XIX of the Civ. Pro. Code. The Civ. Pro. Code says (s. 649) that Chapter XIX of the Code is applicable to the execution of any judicial process ordered by any Civil Court in any civil proceeding. In the execution of a judgment under s. 86 of the Act, the Insolvency Court, undoubtedly "a Civil Court" in its realisation of assets for distribution, orders the "execution of a judicial process," to wit the judgment. In re BHAGWANDAS HURJIVAN, 8 B. 511. [R., 11 B. 138, 21 B. 405.]

(202)—S. 86—Absence of insolvent—Judgment entered against him in his absence.—Where an insolvent after filing the petition of insolvency, but before he was declared an insolment, left the jurisdiction of the Court, without any idea of coming back, the Court ordered judgment to be entered up against the said insolvent, in the name of the Official Assignee, for the amounts of the debts or demands stated in the insolvent's schedule. In re C.R. ENGLISH, 7 C.L R. 378.

(203)—S. 86—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art 183, 13 B. 520, P.C.=16. I. A. 156.

(204)—S. 86—Execution of judgment entered up under, not subject to limitation in art. 180. Limitation Act, 1877—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 183, 11 B. 138.

(204-a)—S. 92—See No. 76, supra.

(205)—Insolvent Court Rules, Nos. 10, 14—Practice—Fresh petition.—On an appeal by an opposing creditor, from an order made by the Commissioner in Insolvency, by which the petition of the Insolvent was dismissed, under Rule 10 of the Court, as the schedule had not been filed within 30 days after the filing of the petition, while at the same time leave was granted to file a fresh petition, held, that Rule 14 of the Bombay Insolvent Court, requiring a special application, on affidavit and notice to opposing creditors, before a fresh petition can be filed, was not intended to apply to the case of a petition being dismissed under Rule 10, by reason of the schedule not having been filed, but that it referred only to a dismissal upon the hearing of a petition. In re MANEKJI FRAMJI, 3 B.H C.O.C. 167.

Statute 11 and 12, Vict., C. 42 (Insolvency Act).

(1)—S. 7.—See OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE, 7 Bom. L.R. 488=29 B. 405.

(2)—S. 13—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 58, 4 Bom. L.R. 483=26 B. 652.

(3)—Ss. 13 and 49—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 37, 9 Bom. L.R. 898.

(4)—S. 49—See No. 3, supra.

Statutes 11 and 12, Vict., C. 49 (Insolvent Act).

S. 24—See INSOLVENCY —ORDER AND DISPOSITION, 2 C. 359.

Statute 12 and 13, Vict., C. 83.

Right of G.I.P. Railway Company to levy terminal charges—See RAILWAY COMPANY, 15 B. 537.

See RAILWAY COMPANY, 16 B. 434.

Statute 17 and 18, Vict., C. 31.

S. 7—See CARRIERS, 19 C. 538.

Statute 17 and 18, Vict., C. 104 (Merchant Shipping Act 1854).

(1)—Shipping Master, Power of—Discharge of seamen with consent of captain and men—Regulations of Board of Trade.—Where the captain of a ship consents to the discharge of a seaman, who also desires to be discharged, the shipping Master has no discretion in the matter, but is bound to sanction the discharge of the seaman under the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Acts of 1854 and 1862, and the Regulations of the Board of Trade. REG. v. SHIPPING MASTER OF CALCUTTA, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 371.

(2)—Attachment—Mortgagee—Power of sale.—An attachment on behalf of the rights of the mortgagor of a ship will not debar the mortgagee from his power of sale under the Merchant Shipping Act. AHMED MAHOMED v. AUHIN, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 95.

(3)—Non-registration of ship—Letter creating charge on ship.—A letter, purporting to create a charge on a ship, was not registered as a mortgage under the Merchant Shipping Act. The ship not having a British register, it was held that the letter created a valid charge on the ship. SHIB CHUNDER DOSS v. COCHRANE, Bourke, O.C., 388.

(4)—Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, s. 3—Agreement for sale of ship, whether creates any equitable title—Completion of sale of ship, necessity of registered sale-deed for.—There can be no equitable ownership in respect of a ship apart from the legal ownership in it, and Courts therefore do not grant specific performance of an agreement for the sale of a ship. Since the passing of the Merchant Shipping Act, 17 and 18 Vic., Ch. 104, the only ownership in a vessel that can be created either in law or in equity is when the requirements of that Act have been complied with, i.e., a sale deed has been executed and registered. Consequently, on the destruction of a ship delivered to the defendant under a mere agreement to sell, plaintiff, the owner of the ship, was held to be not entitled to sue and recover the purchase money due to him. RAMANADAN CHETTI v. NAGOODA MARAKAYAR, 21 M. 395. [Diss., 29 M. 526=1 M.L.T. 407.]

Statute 17 and 18, Vict., C. 104 (Merchant Shipping Act 1854)—concluded.

See Bom. ACT XIX OF 1838, 14 B. 170.

Statute 18 and 19, Vict., C. 115.

See COMPANY—POWERS AND LIABILITIES OF DIRECTORS, 5 B.L.R. 195.

Statute 20 and 21, Vict., C. 66.

S. 67—See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT, 1860, s. 6, 1 M.H.C. 443.

Statute 20 and 21, Vict., C. 85.

See ACT IV OF 1869, s. 22, 26 A. 553.

Statute 20 and 21, Vict., C. 160.

Ss. 3, 18 and 54—See COMPANY—POWERS AND LIABILITIES OF DIRECTORS, 5 B.L.R. 195.

Statute 21 and 22, Vict., C. 21.

(1)—S. 53—Order compelling attendance of insolvent (residing more than 200 miles from Court-house) for examination—Jurisdiction.—An insolvent filed his petition of insolvency on 4th December 1865. On his application for a personal discharge under s. 47 of the Act he was, on 15th January 1866, ordered to be imprisoned under ss. 50, 51 of the Act. He did not apply for his discharge under ss. 59, 60 of the Act. Having completed the term of his imprisonment, he left Bombay and went to Morar and ultimately settled at Aligarh in the North-Western Provinces. In August 1886, the Official Assignee was informed by a creditor of the insolvent that the latter was possessed of valuable landed property at Aligarh and also of considerable moveable property. On the 25th August 1886, the Official Assignee obtained a rule nisi calling on the insolvent to show cause why he should not hand over all this property to the Official Assignee for the payment of the insolvent's creditors. Under s. 58 of the Act, the Insolvent Court passed an order on 10th August 1887, calling on the insolvent to appear before it for being examined as regards certain property which the Official Assignee believed might be available for the payment of his creditors. The insolvent contended that the Court in Bombay had no jurisdiction to make such an order against a person resident more than 200 miles from the Court-house, and that, even if it had the jurisdiction, the granting of such an order was a matter of discretion, and that in the present case that discretion had been improperly exercised. Held that the Insolvent Court at Bombay had jurisdiction to pass the order. In re CAWASJI OOKERJI, 13 B. 114. [D., 9 Bom. L.R. 1093.]

Statute 21 and 22, Vict., C. 70.

See COPYRIGHT, 8 B.L.R. 298=16 W.R. 90.

Statute 21 and 22, Vict., C. 106 (The Government of India Act, 1858.)

(1)—See DOMICILE, 4 C. 106=2 C.L.R. 496.

(2)—See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR, 1 B.L.R. P. C. 44=10 W. R. P. C. 31=12 M. I. A. 448 =2 Suther. 160=2 Sar. 382.

(3)—Ss. 39, 40, 41, 42, 65—Stay of execution—Powers of Secretary of State to offer security—See Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, O. XLI, rr. 5, 6, 15, C.W.N. 475=13 C L.J. 365.

(4)—S. 40—See No. 3, supra.

(5)—S. 41—See No. 3, supra

(6)—S. 42—See No. 3, supra.

(7)—Ss. 42, 65—Secretary of State for India, liability of, for torts committed by servants—Torts—Police Sergeant on a Government Railway assaulting a passenger—"Debts and liabilities lawfully contracted" meaning of.—Where a Police Sergeant, under instructions from the Station Master, assaulted the plaintiff in removing him from a compartment of the train which had been reserved for Europeans, and the plaintiff sued the Secretary of State for damages, on the ground that the reservation was wrongful and that he had a right to travel in the compartment from which he was ejected. Held, that a suit for a tort by a Railway servant will not lie against the Secretary of State for India. In England there is no right of suit against the Crown for the tortious acts of its servants. (8 M. I. A. 103, 5 B.H.C. App, 1, D.; 1 C. 11, 3 A. 885, 4 M. 344, 7 M. 466, R.; 28 B. 314, Expl.) Under s. 65 of the Government of India Act, the Secretary of State is liable only when a suit is brought against him as representing the late East India Company, or which can, by any possibility, be described as a suit which, if the Government of India Act had not been passed, might have been brought against the East India Company. Even if loosely interpreted, s. 42 of the Act restricts the liability only to that lawfully incurred on account of the Government of India. MATHRADAS v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA, S. L.R. 360=2 Ind. Cas. 373.

(8)—Ss. 42, 65—Liabilities lawfully contracted or incurred—Government of India—Secretary of State, suit against East India Company—Tortious act of the public servants—Chief Constable, negligence of—Suit for damages.—In the expression "liabilities lawfully contracted or incurred." as used in St. 21 and 22 Vic. c. 106, ss. 42, 65, the word "lawfully" qualifies "contracted" alone, and not "incurred." The term "Government of India" as used in s. 42 of the Statute points to its bearing the meaning not of the Governor-General in Council, but of the superintendence, direction and control of the country. The words of ss, 42 and 65 of the statute are possibly capable of the construction that the reference in them to the East India Company is in the case of the earlier section to furnish a clue to the character of the charge, rather than to the conditions which can bring it into being, and in the latter section to indicate the mode in which liability may be enforced, and not the circumstances under which it may be incurred. The liability of the revenues of India for the tortious acts of the public servants is no greater under the statue than in the time of the East India Company. In an action of tort against the Secretary of State for India, the plaintiff to succeed must establish that the liability was one incurred, on account of the Government of India; such liability, however, can be incurred by those alone in whom the governing of the country is vested. Before it can be said that a liability on account of the Government of India had been incurred by the Bombay Government as the result of the act or omission of the Chief Constable so as to be chargeable on the revenuee, it is necessary to exclude those conditions which would afford a principal exemption from liability for the act of an agent. And it is settled law that where the duty to be performed is imposed by law and not by the will of the party employing the agent, the employer is not liable for the wrong done by the agent in such employment. Hence, where a Chief Constable causes damage by an act done not in obedience to an order of the Executive Government but in performance of a statutory power vested in him by the legislature (the Chief Constable being appointed not by the Bombay Government but by an officer clothed by the legislature in that behalf), where his action is not in any sense productive of benefit to the revenues of the Bombay Government nor is it a transaction out of which profit can be derived, and where there is no ratification or adoption of the act, no suit can lie against the Secretary of State to recover damages arising from such act. SHIVABHAJAN v. SECRETARY OF STATE, 6 Bom. L.R. 65=28 B. 314.

Statute 21 and 22, Vict , C. 106 (The Government of India Act, 1858)—continued.

(9)—S. 65—Indian Councils Act (24 and 25 Vict., C. 67), s. 22, proviso—Right of subject to sue Government, if may be taken away by legislation in India—Act IV of 1898 (Burma), s. 41 (b) if ultra vires—Indian Legislature, control of, overprocedure, without affecting substantial right—Secretary of State for India in Council, position of, as successor of East India Company.—The effect of s. 65 of the Government of India Act of 1858 was to debar the Government of India from passing any Act which would prevent a subject from suing the Secretary of State for India in Council in a Civil Court, in any case in which he could have similarly sued the East India Company. The Governor-General in Council not having power, under the proviso to s. 22 of the Indian Councils Act of 1861, to repeal or in any way affect, among other matters, any provision of the Government of India Act, 1858, s. 41 (b) of Act IV of 1898 (Burma), which debars a Civil Court from entertaining any claim against the Government to any right over land, is ultra vires.

Statute 21 and 22, Vict., C. 106 (The Government of India Act, 1858)—concluded.

Semble:—The Indian Government can legislate validly about the formalities of procedure, so long as they preserve the substantial right of the subject to sue the Government in the Civil Courts like any other defendant, and do not violate the fundamental principle that the Secretary of State, even as representing the Crown, is to be in no position different from that of the East India Company. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. J. MOMENT, 17 C.W.N. 169, P.C.=11 A.L.J. 49=13 M.L.T. 53=(1913) M.W.N. 45=15 Bom. L.R. 27=17 C.L.J. 194=24 M.L.J. 459=40 C. 391=18 Ind. Cas. 22=7 L.B.R. 10. (5 B.H.C. App., 1, 4 I.A. 119, R.)

(10)—S. 65—Suit for wrongful dismissal against Crown—Maintainability—See DISMISSAL FROM SERVICE, 15 C.W.N. 486 note=13 C.L.J. 357.

(11)—S. 65—See JURISDICTION—CAUSES OF JURISDICTION, 14 C. 256.

(12)—S. 65—See Nos. 3, 7, 8, supra.

Statute 22 and 23, Vict., C. 41 (The Government of India Act, 1859).

(1)—Grant of waste land—Delegation of power by Governor-in-Council to make grants under dharkast rules—Binding character of grant so made—Power of Civil Court to determine validity of grant—Revision of grant properly made.—On an appeal being preferred by plaintiff from an order of assignment of the plaint lands made by a Deputy Tahsildar in favour of another in the plaint village, the Deputy Collector cancelled the assignment made by the Deputy Tahsildar and granted the lands to plaintiff. This order of the Deputy Collector was confirmed on appeal. Subsequently, the villagers petitioned the Collector that the plaint lands were required for grazing purposes and that they should be reserved as poramboke. Thereupon, the Collector permitted the then Deputy Collector to revise the order of his predecessor if he thought proper in the light of the facts that had been subsequently brought to notice. The Deputy Collector then directed that the assignment to plaintiff should be cancelled and ordered the Deputy Tahsildar to submit the necessary application for transferring the lands to grazing ground poramboke. Plaintiff was not formally placed in possession of the lands, nor had any patta been issued to him. He had, however, taken possession of the lands, and as an attempt was made to levy penal assessment from him therefor, he brought this suit for a declaration of his right to the lands. Held that when a person claims that a grant has been made to him by an officer on behalf of the Crown, the mere fact that the alleged grant purports to have been made under the dharkast rules does not affect the jurisdiction of Civil Courts to determine whether a grant has been made which would bind the Crown or any one claiming under it subsequent to such grant. A grant purporting to be made under the dharkast rules by an officer empowered to make such a grant under those rules must be regarded as one made by a person authorized in that behalf so as to give it the same validity as if it was made by the Governor-in-Council himself. The various officers specially empowered by the dharkast rules to dispose of Crown lands thereunder are agents appointed by the Governor-in-Council in their official capacity by executive orders, and their acts within the scope of their respective authorities are as binding upon the Crown as if they were done by the Governor-in-Council himself. The action of Government officers in the disposal of lands under dharkast rules is not subject to any control other than that specially provided by those rules, viz., by way of appeal. If such officers, however, act beyond the scope of their authority, the grant will be invalid. The mere registry of the name of the applicant can give him no title as against the Crown. When the proposal of an applicant is accepted by an officer duly authorized in that behalf by the dharkast rules, and the acceptance is communicated to the applicant, there is a valid contract and disposal of the land, unless the grant was procured by fraud, misrepresentation, or mutual mistake. The grantee cannot be divested of that title by the Collector, the Board of Revenue, or even the Governor-in-Council. Observations by Bhashyam Ayyangar, J., on the subject of alienation of Crown lands under St. 21 and 22 Vict., Cap. 106; 22 and 23 Vict, Cap. 41; 32 and 33 Vict., Cap. 29; Act, XV of 1895 (India); and also under the dharkast rules. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. KASTURI REDDY, 26 M. 268=12 M.L.J. 453. [Appr., 29 M. 461=1 M.L.T. 278; R., 30 M. 270=2 M.L.T. 141, 31 M. 264=18 M.L.J. 62=4 M.L.T. 69, 26 M. 742.]

Statute 22 and 23, Vict., C. 41 (The Government of India Act, 1859)—concluded.

St. 22 and 23, Vic., C. 41.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 7 Bom. L.R. 27=29 B. 580.

St. 22 and 23, Vic., C. 63 (The British Law Ascertainment Act, 1859).

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 109.

St. 23 and 24, Vic., C. 104 (Charter Act).

(1)—Charter Act, s. 15—Interlocutory order—High Court's power of revision—Defendant examined as plaintiff's witness—Hearing adjourned—Defendant undertaking to appear on—Failure—Defence struck out—Illegality—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 115, 151, O. XI, r. 21, O. XVI, r. 20.—The High Court has ample powers under s. 15, Charter Act, to revise an order which is in the nature of an interlocutory order. (28 C. 680, 31 M. 60, F.) Where the petitioner, who was examined as a witness by the plaintiff, did not attend on the day to which the case was adjourned, although he had given an undertaking to do so, and the lower Court thereupon ordered that his defence might be struck off;

St. 23 and 24, Vic., C. 104 (Charter Act) —concluded.

Held, that the lower Court had no power to pass the order complained of, and that its order was not warranted by any of the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. MANKOLAM VASUDEVAN NAMBUDRI v. MANKOLAM SANKARAN NAMBUDRI, 10 M.L.T. 451.

(2)—S. 15—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s.115, 11 Ind. Cas. 125.

(3)—S. 15—Revision of interlocutory orders —See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 124, 162, 2 M.W.N. 1911, 369.

St. 23 and 24, Vic., C. 127.

See COSTS—COSTS OUT OF ESTATE, 10 B. 248.

St. 24, Vic., C. 10.

(1)—See JURISDICTION—ADMIRALTY AND VICE-ADMIRALTY, JURISDICTION, 5 B.H.C. O.C. 64.

(2)—S. 6 — Jurisdiction — High Court— Charter party—Lien of ship-owners for unpaid freight.—S. 6 of 24 Vic. c. 10 (which is extended to the Colonial Courts by 53 and 54 Vic., c. 27, s. 2 (sub-s. 2)) relates to a suit brought by the owners of any goods or the assignee of any goods, or the assignee of any Bill of Lading. It is by no means confined to a suit brought upon Bill of Lading where a contract is directly proved between the shipper and shipowner. BOMBAY FLOUR MILLS CO. v. AARVAK, 6 Bom.L.R. 466.

St. 24 and 25, Vic., C. 73.

See COPYRIGHT, 8 B.L.R. 298=16 W.R. 90.

St. 24 and 25, Vic., C. 67 (Indian Councils Act, 1861).

(1)—See ACT III OF 1864, s. 3, 18 B. 636.

(2)—See CESSION OF BRITISH TERRITORY, 10 B.H.C. 37.

(3)—See CONFISCATION, 12 B.L.R. 167, P.C. =Sup. Vol. I.A. 119=18 W.R 389=3 Sar. P.C.J. 191=2 P.R. 1872.

(4)—S. 22 — See CESSION OF BRITISH TERRITORY, 1 B. 367, P.C.=3 I.A. 102=1 A. C. 322.

(5)—S. 22—See LEGISLATURE, POWERS OF, 11 A. 490, F.B.=A.W.N. 1889, 194.

(6)—Ss. 22, 24, 40, 43—Power of Viceregal Council and Provincial Councils to make laws affecting prerogative of the Crown.—Since the passing of the Indian Councils Act, not only the Viceregal Council but also the Provincial Councils can, without obtaining the previous sanction of the Crown, make laws affecting the prerogatives of the Crown, when such prerogatives have no relation to any of the matters exempted from their respective legislative jurisdiction. Even if the imposition of a duty or tax upon Crown property be regarded as affecting the prerogative of the Crown, it is competent to a Provincial Legislature to impose such a duty or tax, which will be payable out of the current public revenue for purposes that make for the peace and good government of the Presidency or Province. MAGOR C. BELL v. THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS FOR THE CITY OF MADRAS, 12 M.L.J. 208=25 M. 457.

St. 24 and 25, Vic., C. 67 (Indian Councils Act, 1861)—concluded.

(7)—S. 24—See No. 6, supra.

(8)—S. 40—See No. 6, supra.

(9)—S. 43—See No. 6, supra.

St. 24 and 25, Vic., C. 104 (The Indian High Court Act, 1861).

See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF.

See SUPERINTENDENCE OF HIGH COURT.

(1)—See ACT XVIII OF 1879, s. 36, 21 A. 181=A. W. N. 1899, 15.

(2)—See BUR. ACT XXI OF 1863, 6 B. L. R. App. 15.

(3)—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 13 C. W. N. 346=36 C. 233=1 Ind. Cas. 927.

(4)—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS, VAKIL, 1 M. 24, F. B.

(5)—S. 7.—Power of the Lieutenant-Governor, N. W. P.—Appointment of Acting Puisne Judge of High Court—Time restriction.—The Lieutenant-Governor, N. W. P., has power under the High Court Act to appoint a Puisne Judge for an acting vacancy in the High Court; and as no time-limit is mentioned in the Act, it is left to his discretion, and it is not competent to a Court of law to invent a restriction not contemplated by the Legislature. RAO BALWANT SINGH v. RANIKISHORI, 2 C. W. N. 273, P.C.=20 A. 267=25 I. A. 54=7 Sar. 279.

(6)—Ss. 7 and 16—See HIGH COURT JUDGES, 16 A. 136, F. B=A. W. N. 1894, 39.

(7)—Ss. 7, 17—Letters Patent, s. 2—Vacancy in office of Judge-Crown not filling up vacancy —Powers of High Court not suspended.—Whatever may be the true interpretation of s. 7 of the Charter Act with regard to the duty of the Crown to make provision for a vacancy in the office of a Judge, it is certain that while, by s. 2 of the Letters Patent, the High Court is constituted to be a Court of six Judges, no omission on the part of the Crown to fill up a vacancy under s. 7 of the Act amongst the puisne Judges can operate to discharge or to suspend the jurisdiction and functions of the Chief Justice and subsisting Judges of the Court. LAL SINGH v. GHANSHAM SINGH, A. W.N. 1887, 179, F.B.

(8)—S. 9—Decree of High Court—Application of twelve years' limitation—Act XIV of 1859, *s.*19 —High Court—Amalgamation of Supreme and Sudder Courts.—A decree of the High Court being one made by a Court established by Royal Charter, falls under s. 19 of Act XIV of 1859, and the limitation prescribed in that section, i.e., of 12 years, is the limitation applicable to a decree passed by the High Court on its appellate side. If s. 19 of the Act be regarded as a provision applicable on the 1st July 1862 to the Supreme Court, it became on that day applicable to the High Court by reason of its establishment. The High Court is, in fact, one amalgamated Court possessing and exercising "all jurisdiction and every power and authority whatsoever in any manner vested in any of the abolished Courts." (S. 9, High Courts Act). It is erroneous to assume that the High Court has got two parts, of which one represents the late Supreme Court and exercises its powers, the other representing the late Sudder Court with the jurisdiction and authority of that Court. Whenever therefore, any power vested in the late Supreme Court can be usefully brought to the aid of the High Court acting in its appellate jurisdiction, it would be the duty of that Court to exercise such power. KISHEN KINKER GHOSE v. BURODA KANT ROY, 8 W.R. 470. [Reversed, 10 B.L.R. 101, P.C.; F., 5 B.H.C. 214; D., 12 W.R. 73.]

St. 24 and 25, Vict., C. 104 (The Indian High Court Act, 1861)—continued.

(9)—S. 9—See CESSION of BRITISH TERRITORY, 1 B. 367, P.C=3 I.A. 102=1 A.C. 322.

(10)—S. 9—See LEGISLATURE, POWERS OF, 3 C. 63=1 C.L.R. 161, F.B.

(11)—Ss. 9, 13 and 14—See ACT XX OF 1847, ss. 6, 14, 2 C.L.J. 511=10 C.W.N 134=33 C. 571 on appeal from 9 C W.N. 591=1 C.L.J. 278.

(12)—S. 11—Letters Patent, 1865, arts. 11, 13—Jurisdiction—Power of Judge of High Court to appoint special bailiff.—A Judge of the High Court in the exercise of his ordinary original civil jurisdiction directed a warrant to issue against the person of a judgment-debtor and appointed a special bailiff to execute the warrant against the judgment-debtor wherever he might be found in the Presidency of Madras. Held that the order was made without jurisdiction. Held also, that the order could not be in the exercise of the extraordinary original civil jurisdiction conferred by s. 13 of the Letters Patent of 1865. RAJAH OF RAMNAD v. SEETHARAM CHETTY, 26 M. 120. (7 M. 56, R.)

(13)—S. 12—See JURISDICTION—SUITS FOR LAND, 21 W.R. 204.

(14)—S. 13—See No. 11, supra.

(15)—Ss. 13, 14, Right of Chief Justice to appoint Judges for the hearing of cases.—It does not follow, from the facts that no rules have been made under s. 13, Charter Act, assigning to any Judges or to any Division Bench, applications made in connection with the Presidency S. C. Court, that such an application can only be heard by the Chief Justice and all the Judges of the High Court sitting together. Whenever an application under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, against an order by the Presy. S. C. Courts, is made to the Chief Justice, he, by virtue of the powers conferred on him, under s. 14, Charter Act, does then and there appoint himself and the other Judge who may be sitting with him, to be the Bench to hear such application. HALADHAR MALLI v. CHOYTONNA MAITI, 30 C. 588=7 C.W.N. 547. (29 C. 498, D.)

(16)—Ss. 13 and 14—See LETTERS PATENT, HIGH COURT, 1865. N.W.P. ss. 10 and 27, A. W.N. 1887, 199.

(17)—Ss. 13 and 40—Privy Council—Leave to appeal—Interlocutory order — Question of jurisdiction.—Leave to appeal to the Privy Council can be given where the order appealed from transferring a case from one Court to another is interlocutory, and raises a question of jurisdiction. MUNICIPAL OFFICER, ADEN v. ABDUL KAREEM, 6 Bom. L.R. 85=28 B. 292.

(18)—S. 14—See Nos. 11, 15, 16, supra.

(19)—S. 15—Superintendence of High Court.—The powers conferred by the 15th section of 24 & 25, Vict , c. 104, ought not to be exercised in such a way as to indirectly do what the law forbids to be done directly. Where the lower appellate Court having jurisdiction has only erred in the exercise of it, and no appeal is allowed by law, the High Court is not at liberty to exercise its superintending power under the Charter Act. KARIM SHEIKH v. MUKHADA SOONDERY DASSEE, 15 B.L.R. 111=23 W.R. 268. [R., 1 C. 180=24 W.R. 440.]

(20)—S. 15—High Court's powers of superintendence.—The uniform practice of the High Court has not been to interfere, in exercise of the powers of superintendence under s. 15, Charter Act, except in cases in which the lower Court was not competent to deal with the subject-matter or had improperly declined jurisdiction. It is no ground for the High Court to interfere with the order of any of the Courts inferior to it by way of motion that that Court has put an erroneous interpretation upon a provision of law. In the matter of the petition of KASINATH ROY CHOWDHRY, 7 B. L. R. 146, Note. (R., 7 B.L.R. 144, 18 W.R. 289, 511, 1 A. 101 F.B.)

(21) S. 15—Superintendence of High Court—The High Court will not interfere, where a special appeal is forbidden and where no question of jurisdiction is involved. In the matter of the petition of LUKHY KANT BOSE, 1 C. 180. (1 A. 101, R.) [R., 9 B. 432, 9 C.W.N. 1046=2 C.L.J. 241, 33 C. 68.]

(22)—S. 15, powers of superintendence of High Court under, when to be exercised—Solicitor's lien for costs.—The power of superintendence vested in the High Court by s. 15 of the Charter Act is not to be exercised in cases where there is no danger of any such failure of justice as would render it necessary for that Court to interfere under such power. So, where a solicitor claiming a lien, for his costs, on certain documents, objected to produce them on summons of Court, but the objection was overruled, the High Court refused to interfere under the Charter Act. SWINHOE AND CHUNDER v. HERA LAL SIRKAR. 2 C.W.N. 727.

St. 24 and 25, Vict., C. 104 (The Indian High Court Act, 1861)—continued.

(23)—S. 15, superintending powers of High Court under, extent of—Power to compel subordinate Court to act up in accordance with law.—Where, while there had been no negligence on the side of the parties to a proceeding before a Court subordinate to the High Court, the subordinate Court has clearly failed to do its duty, held that, in dealing with and disposing of the matter under the power of general superintendence vested in the High Court by s. 15 of the Sts. 24 and 25 Vic., cap. 104, it is competent to the High Court to direct such subordinate Court to do its duty and to complete, as required by law, those acts of procedure which the legislature requires it to do, and not neglect to do, nor delegate them to the parties before it. ABDULLAH v. SALARU, 18 A. 4=A.W N. 1895, 124. (9 A. 104, R.)

(24)—S. 15—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 622—High Court—Power of superintendence—Revision.—Per Edge, C J., and Oldfield and Brodhurst, JJ.—Under s. 15 of the Charter Act, it is competent to the High Court, in the exercise of its power of superintendence, to direct a subordinate Court to do its duty or to abstain from taking action in matters of which it has no cognizance; but the High Court is not competent, in the exercise of this authority, to interfere with and set right the orders of a subordinate Court on the ground that the order of the subordinate Court has proceeded on an error of law or an error of fact. The power of the High Court is not limited to cases in which the Subordinate Judge declines to hear or determine a suit or application within his jurisdiction. Per Straight and Tyrrell, JJ—The word "superintendence" used in s. 15, Charter Act, contemplated and now includes powers of a judicial or quasi-judicial character, apart from those conferred on the Court by s. 622 of the Civ. Pro. Code. At the same time, the last-mentioned provision may properly be accepted as indicating the extent to which the Court should ordinarily interfere with the findings of such subordinate tribunals as are invested with exclusive jurisdiction to try and determine all questions of law and fact arising in suits within their exclusive cognizance, and in which their decisions are declared by law to be final. MUHAMMAD SULEMAN KHAN v. FATIMA, 9 A. 104, F. B.=A. W. N. 1886, 309. (1 A. 101, 3 I. A. 330, 1 A. 296 R.; 8 A. 111, Expl.) [F., 9 A. 486; R., 18 A. 4=15 A.W.N. 124, 30 C. 155, 31 A. 59=A.W.N. 1908, 272=6 A.L.J. 52.]

(25)—S. 15—High Court—Powers of superintendence—Act X of 1859, s. 77.—Under the powers of superintendence given to the High Court, by the Charter Act, that Court is competent to direct Courts subordinate to it to do their duty and to see that they do not avoid to try and determine cases simply because a party to the suit has not done that which he was not imperatively required to do, and which is irrelevant to the real question which the Court had to decide. In a suit for arrears of rent, an intervenor was added as a party under s. 77, Act X of 1859, but the Collector in appeal refused to notice the intervenor's claim. because the latter had not produced her title-deed. Held that the refusal to try the intervenor's claim was a denial of jurisdiction on the Collector's part and that the High Court was competent to interfere under s. 15 of the Charter Act, and to send back the case to the Collector for trial of the intervenor's claim. In the matter of the petition of SRIMATI NASSIRE JAN, 7 B.L.R. 144=15 W.R. 418 [R., 1 A. 101, F.B.]

St. 24 and 25, Vict., C. 104 (The Indian High Court Act, 1861)—continued.

(26)—High Court's powers of superintendence Act VIII of 1879, s. 378—Review of Judgment—Whether a Subordinate Judge rejected an application for review of judgment, on the ground that he had no right to interfere, as the judgment sought to be reviewed was that of his predecessor, held that the High Court, under the general powers of superintendence vested in it by s. 15 of the Letters Patent, is competent to point out to the subordinate Court its error and to direct it to reconsider the application presented to it, and to dispose of it according to law. In re MATHRA PRASHAD, I.A. 296. [R., 9 A. 104, F.B.=A. W.N. 1886, 309.]

(27)—S. 15—Powers of revision of High Court.—The very wide powers of superintendence over the proceedings of subordinate Courts conferred on the High Court by s. 15 of the High Courts Act, extend to cases like the above and enable the High Court to correct an abuse of powers by a subordinate Court. In re SIDDESHWAR BORAL, 4 C.W.N. 36.

(28)—S. 15—Application for review—Jurisdiction.—In deciding an application under s. 15 of the Charter Act, the Court has nothing to do with the question whether the decision is right in point of law or not. It is only when a Judge declines jurisdiction or acts beyond his jurisdiction, that the parties aggrieved can move the High Court under s. 15 of the Charter Act. RAM LALL SINGH v. JANKI MAHATOON, 4 C.L.R. 14.

(29)—S. 15—Application under s. 15 of the High Court's Act—Delay.—A party who prays for the interference of the High Court under s. 15 of the High Court's Act, should do so without delay. BUGGOBUTTY KOWAR v. MONEY, 2 C.L.R. 545.

(30) S. 15—Power of High Court—Execution proceedings.—A Deputy Collector refused to make an order for restitution of an amount levied in excess of what was due under a decree, directing the applicant to institute a separate civil suit to enforce his claim. There being no appeal, the High Court, in the exercise of its general powers of superintendence, interfered and directed the Deputy Collector to give restitution himself, he having power by law to do so. In the matter of the petition of GOBIND KOOMAR CHOWDHRY, B L.R. Sup. Vol. 714, 7 W.R. 520. [F., 15 W.R. 170, 246; R., 12 W.R. 406, 14 W.R. 212, 1 A. 101, 18 A. 4=A.W.N. 1895, 124, 30 C. 155; Expl., 10 W.R. 341, 14 W.R. 9; D., 9 W.R. 372, 9 W.R. 440, 13 W.R. 121.]

Statute, 24 and 25, Vict., C. 104 (The Indian High Court Act, 1861)—continued.

(31)—S. 15—Order under s. 15—Appeal to Privy Council. — Orders made by the High Court under s. 15 of the High Courts Act are subject to an appeal to the Privy Council. HURDEO NARAIN SAHU v. GRIDHARI SINGH, 13 B.L.R. 103=21 W.R. 263. [Diss., 30 C. 679.]

(32)—S. 15—Order of remand—Judgment—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 584——Second appeal—Ground.—A judgment of a Judge of the High Court sitting singly and remanding a case after dealing with the whole case and setting aside the judgment and the decree of the lower Court is a judgment within the meaning of s. 15 of the Charter Act. A question as to the weight which the lower appellate Court should have given to certain documents, or that the lower appellate Court misunderstood the result of the first Court's local investigation, is no ground of second appeal. RAI BENODE BEHARI BOSE v. RAI PASUPATHI NATH BOSE, 13 C.W.N. 105=4 Ind. Cas. 329.

(33)—S. 15—Order passed without jurisdiction—Claim overvalued for purpose of giving jurisdiction.—The plaintiff brought a suit in the Court of the Subordinate Judge of Dacca, under s. 15, Act XIV of 1859. The defendant pleaded that the Judge had no jurisdiction inasmuch as, if the suit had been properly valued, it was one cognizable by the Munsif. The Judge found that the value of the property did not exceed Rs. 500, and that the plaintiff had over-estimated the value of the claim in order to exceed the jurisdiction; but instead of returning the plaint, he proceeded to try the case on its merits, and dismissed the suit. On an application on behalf of the plaintiff to set aside the judgment as passed without jurisdiction the High Court refused to interfere under s. 15 of 24 & 25, Vict., c. 104. In re J. P. WISE, 10 B.L.R. App. 20.

(34) — High Courts Act (24 and 25, Vict., c. 104), s. 15—Proof of circumstances entitling party to relief—Suit against deceased persons—Notice of execution given to representation of deceased defendant—Objection not taken—Sale properties—Application to set aside sale.—In affording relief to parties applying to the High Court under s. 15 of the High Courts Act, it must be made quite clear that the party applying for it has not contributed by his own conduct to his being placed in the position he finds himself in. A suit to recover possession of certain lands appertaining to an indigo concern with wasilat was instituted against one D as manager on behalf of G.M. and Co., the proprietors of the concern. At the date of the institution of the suit no member of G.M. & Co., was alive. The suit appears to have been defended but the plaintiff obtained a decree for the recovery of the land and for wasilat. In execution, the decree-holder was put into possession of the land. Subsequently, the concern was sold to A by the executors of the last surviving member of G.M. and Co., the conveyance stipulating that A should take over the dena pana of the concern. Thereupon, on the application of the decree-holder, under s. 210 of Act VIII of 1859, to execute the decree in respect of the wasilat against A as the representative of G.M. and Co., a notice was issued under s. 216 of the Code calling on A to show cause why the decree should not be executed against him. Under the advise which he received that such application was groundless, he did not appear and show cause, and therefore, in his absence, the wasilat were inquired into and assessed. Later on the decree-holder applied again to execute the decree notice again issued, again A did not appear whether in consequence of the notice not having reached him or in consequence of advice received by him. A putni taluk M belonging to A was attached and afterwards sold without objection. The decree-holder became the purchaser and after confirmation of the sale, he was put in possession. Then A applied to the execution Court to have the sale set aside, and on its refusal, to do so, he applied to the High Court under s. 15 of the High Courts' Act for the same relief. Held that the petitioner was not entitled to have the relief asked for. The acts of the Court complained of, when done after notice to the party affected thereby, could not be regarded as nullities, so as to enable the petitioner to take the position that he was absolved from the necessity of taking notice and cannot entitle him to apply for setting aside the sale. As the decree-holder himself, having been the purchaser, could not successfully contend that a suit to set aside the sale would not lie, the petitioner was not entitled to have the sale set aside. In the matter of the petition of SAMUEL COCHRANE, 14 B.L.R. 330=23 W.R. 310. [R., 21 B. 424, F.B.]

(35)—S. 15 — Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 145, 435, 439—Order of Magistrate in case of a dispute relating to immovable property—High Court's Powers of revision.—Held that the High Court cannot exercise revisional powers in respect of proceedings under ch. XII of the Code of Criminal Procedure unless in a case where the Magistrate has acted without jurisdiction. In the matter of the petition of NATHU MAL, A.W.N. 1902, 74. (26 C. 625, F.)

(36)—S. 15—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, ss. 15, 16, 14 C.W.N. 788=12 C.L.J. 1=6 Ind. Cas. 193.

(37)—S. 15—See MAD. ACT XXIV OF 1839, s. 4, 9 M.L.J. 323.

Statute 24 and 25. Vict., C. 104 (The Indian High Court Act, 1861)—concluded.

(38)—S. 15—See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL—CASES WHERE APPEALS LIE OR NOT, 21 W.R. 263.

(39)—S. 15—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 109, 115, 9 Ind. Cas. 183=13 C.L.J. 90.

(40)—S. 15—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr, 36, 100, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 310=11 W.R. 191.

(41)—S. 15—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 68, s. 115, 5 C. 878 F.B.

(42)—S. 15—Power of High Court to interfere with order of Subordinate Courts passed without jurisdiction—See COMMISSION, 3 M. L.T. 246=31 M. 60.

(43)—S. 15—Whether s. 15 empowers High Court to interfere where District Judge initiates Criminal Proceedings under s. 476, Crim. Pro. Code—Conditions under which revisional jurisdiction should be exercised by High Court—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 476, 35 C. 999.

(44)—S. 15—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—TRANSFER OF DECREE FOR EXECUTION—EXECUTION OUT OF COURT'S JURISDICTION, 9 C. 295, P.C.=12 C.L.R. 361=9 I.A. 174.

(45)—S. 15—See INTERLOCUTORY ORDER, 15 C.W.N. 682= 10 Ind. Cas. 308.

(46)—S. 15—High Court's power to revise interlocutory orders—See INTERLOCUTORY ORDER, 9 M.L.T. 273=21 M.L.J. 484=9 Ind. Cas. 672.

(47)—S. 15—See LAND ACQUISITION, 15 B.L.R. 197.

(48)—S. 15—The power of transfer contained in—is dependent upon the exercise of appellate jurisdiction—See LETTERS PATENT, HIGH COURT, 1865—BOMBAY, cl. 13, 3 C.L.J. 5= 3 A.L.J. 53=10 C.W.N. 185=8 Bom. L.R. 4 =1 M.L.T. 1=16 M.L.J. 73, P.C.=30 B. 246.

(49)—S. 15—See LIEN, 15 W.R. 246.

(50)—S. 15—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, S. 12, 12 B. 617.

(51)—S. 15 — See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT, 1882, ss. 6, 18 cls. (a). (c), 33, 18 M. 236, F.B.=5 M.L.J. 114.

(52)—S. 15—See RECORDER OF MOULMEIN, 6 B.L.R. 180=14 W.R. 257.

(53)—See REVIEW—REVIEW WHEN LIES, 5 B.L.R. App. 29.

(54)—S. 16—See APPEAL—MISCELLANEOUS, 3 C. 708=2 C.L.R. 278.

(55)—S. 16—See No. 6, supra.

(56)—S. 17—No. 7, supra.

(57)—S. 40—See No. 17, supra.

Statute 25 and 26, Vict., C. 63.

S. 3—See ST. 17 AND 18, VICT., C. 104, 21 M. 395.

Statute 25 and 26, Vict., C. 89 (Joint Stock Companies Act, 1862).

See COMPANY—WINDING UP OF COMPANY, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 335.

S. 4—See COMPANY—FORMATION AND REGISTRATION, 1 B. 550.

St. 27 and 27 Vict. C. 26.

See JURISDICTION—ADMIRALTY AND VICE-ADMIRALTY JURISDICTION, 10 B.H.C. 110.

Statute 26 and 27, Vict., C. 57 (Regimental Debts' Act, 1863).

(1)—Ss. 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10 12, 22, and 35—Royal Warrant, cl. 17—Committee of adjustment — Notice—"Person"—Bona fide.—The chairman of an adjustment committee, appointed under the provisions of 26 and 27, Vict., c. 57 (Regimental Debts' Act of 1863), in a letter to the Bank, enclosing the order by which the committee had been appointed, informed it that he had given over to the widow of a deceased officer the whole of the estate of her husband by direction of the Military Secretary to Government, and requested the Bank to conform to her instructions concerning the amount of deposit receipts then in the Bank to the credit of the deceased officer. The widow had taken out no letters of administration to the estate of her husband, nor had she a preferential claim or any preferential charge against it, but she paid all the preferential charges. On receipt of the letter the Bank paid over all the moneys of the deceased officer in their hands to his widow. The first plaintiff (the granddaughter of the deceased officer), who had taken out letters of administration to his estate on 6th June, 1873, and her husband, the second plaintiff, sued to recover two-thirds of the moneys so paid by the Bank to the widow with interest. Held that, on payment by the widow of the preferential charges, the whole of the property remaining in the hands of the committee was "surplus" within the meaning of s. 5 of the Regimental Debts' Act of 1863, and that assuming the Agra Bank at Bombay to be "within the command," within the meaning of s. 7, the moneys of the deceased officer in the hands of the Bank, as being part of such "surplus", should have been dealt with by the committee in accordance with the provisions of s. 10 of the Regimental Debts' Act, 1863, and cl. 17 of the Royal Warrant, and should have been remitted to the Military Secretary to Government. Held, also, that the Military Secretary to Government was incompetent to pay or order the payment of such "surplus" to any person, save in conformity with the provisions of s. 12 of the Regimental Debts' Act of 1863. Held, also, that under s. 8 of the Regimental Debts' Act of 1863 it was not the duty of the widow, for the purpose of ousting the jurisdiction of the committee of adjustment, to pay the preferential charges before the committee had taken any steps under s. 7. S. 8 properly construed required that, on payment of the preferential charges, the committee of adjustment must be regarded as functi officio, except for the purpose of reporting, and should make over whatever property they have, which comes under the denomination of "surplus" in accordance with the terms of s. 10. Held, also, that a sufficient notice was given by the chairman's letter to the Bank that the committee were functi officio, and that the period had arrived when the civil law stepped in to regulate the case. Quære:—Whether the Bank could be held to be a "person" within the meaning of s. 22 of the Regimental Debts' Act of 1863; supposing that the Bank was a person within the meaning of s. 22 Regimental Debts' Act, 1863 the Bank would not even then be protected by that section, the payment by them not having been made to a "representative" as defined in the Act. Held, also, that s. 35 of the Regimental Debts' Act could not save the Bank, the payment not having been made in "pursuance" of the Act, and the carelessness of the Bank in paying the money having been such as to amount to positive negligence, and debar them from pleading that they acted under the bona fide belief that the payment was made in pursuance of the Act. E. SARSTEDT v. THE AGRA BANK, LIMITED, 12 B.H.C. 267.

Statute 26 and 27 Vict., C. 57 (Regimental Debts' Act, 1863)—concluded.

Statute 28 and 29, Vict., C. 15 (The Indian High Courts Act, 1865).

(1)—See HABEAS CORPUS, 6 B.L.R. 392.

(2)—See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF—BOMBAY, 5 Bom. L.R. 869.

(3)—S. 3, interpretation of, by reference to repealed St. 24 and 25, Vict., c. 105, s. 18—See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF—CALCUTTA, 12 C.W.N. 657=35 C. 701=7 C. L.J. 563.

(4)—S. 12—See JURISDICTION—SUITS FOR LAND, 6 B.L.R. 686.

Statute 30 and 31, Vict., C. 13 (Mutiny Act).

(1)—Ss. 2, 99—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF — GENERAL, 2 B.L.R.S.N. 7=10 W.R. 386.

(2)—S. 99—Small Cause Court—Jurisdiction.—The 99th section of the Mutiny Act exempts all Military officers in all places from the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts in respect of their personal actions. HOSSEIN v. DICKENSON, 2 B.L.R.S.N. 3=9 W.R. 112.

(3)—S. 99—See No. 1, supra.

Statute 32 and 33, Vict., C. 29.

See ST. 22 AND 23, Vict., C. 41, 26 M. 268=12 M.L.J. 453.

Statute 39 and 40 Vict., C. 46 (Slave Trade Act, 1876).

See CONSULAR COURT, 3 B. 58.

Statute 42 and 43, Vict., C. 33 (Army Discipline Act).

(1)—Ss. 141, 144—Jurisdiction.—A person subject to the Army Discipline Act, 1879, can be sued only in the Court within whose local jurisdiction he is residing. FOY v. MACTURK, A.W.N. 1881, 79.

(2)—S. 144—Decree against person subject to military law.—Where a decree was passed against an officer of the Native Indian Army, the Court directed, under s. 144, 42 and 43, Vict., c. 33, that the amount of the decree should be paid out of the pay of the defendant not exceeding one half of such pay. R. H. RAMSAY v. A.W.L. ANDERSON, 7 C. L. R. 336.

(3)—S. 144—See No. 1, supra.

Statute 44 and 45, Vict., C. 58 (The Army Act, 1881).

(1)—S. 136—Pay of military officers—Attachability.—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 60, O. XXI, r. 2, 8 A.L.J. 487.

(2)—Ss. 136, 151 — See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, 25 M. 402.

(3)—Ss. 136 and 151 (3)—See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, 143 P.L.R. 1902.

(4)—S. 144—Sub-conductor of Ordnance—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 468.—The Sub-conductor of Ordnance on the establishment of the Indian Military Forces is a soldier within the meaning of s. 144 of the Army Act, 1881. A summons sent to him through the Commissary-General ought to be served on him (s. 468, Civ. Pro. Code), though the soldier is entitled to protection under s. 144 of the Army Act and is not compelled to appear in Court in person. ABRAHAM v. HOLMES, 11 M. 475.

(5)—S. 144—Assistant Surgeons in the Indian Subordinate Medical Department—Warrant officers—Soldier's pay—Liability for attachment—See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, 14 O.C. 82.

(6)—S. 144, exemption under—Attachment of Military Assistant Surgeon's pay—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 60 (1) (i) and O. XXI, r. 48 (3), 10 P.R. 1910=23 P.W.R. 1910=5 Ind. Cas. 802=65 P.L.R. 1910.

(7)—S. 144, proviso — Jurisdiction — Suit against soldier—Execution.—The proviso to s. 144 of the Army Act, 1881, makes it clear that a suit will lie against a soldier in Her Majesty's service up to judgment, however small may be the amount of the debt. The question, whether the defendant is a soldier or not, will only arise when the plaintiff seeks to execute the decree he may obtain; and as his position may then be different from what it is at the time of the suit, it would be premature to discuss it at the time of the suit. KISANDAS BUDHMAL v. P. HALPIN, 10 B. 218.

(8)—Ss. 144, 151— See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—MISCELLANEOUS, 10 M. 319.

Statute 44 and 45, Vict., C. 58 (The Army Act, 1881)—concluded.

(9)—S. 148—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF — GENERAL, 21 P.R. 1887.

(10)—Ss. 148, 151—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 111 P.R. 1897, F.B.

(11)—S. 151—Persons subject to military law—Court of Small Causes and Court of Requests—Jurisdiction—Construction.—The Army Act gives jurisdiction to a Court of Small Causes, in all actions of debt and personal actions, against persons subject to military law (other than soldiers in the regular forces) over which such Court would ordinarily exercise jurisdiction, and provides a Court of Requests for those cases only where an action of the value of Rs. 400 or under has to be brought against such persons at a place lying beyond the jurisdiction of any Small Cause Court. The words "within the jurisdiction" in s. 151, cl. 1, refers to "actions" and not to "persons." SHERE ALI v. C. L. PRENDERGAST, 13 C. 143.

(12)—S. 151—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 20, 93 P. R. 1900.

(13)—S. 151—See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT, 1882, s. 18 (1), 18 C. 372.

(14)—S. 151—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 110 P. R. 1890, 1 P. R. 1893, F.B., 48 P. R. 1893; 37 P.L.R. 1901.

(15)—S. 151—See Nos. 2, 3, 8, 10, supra.

Statute 46 and 47, Vict., C. 37 (English Patents Designs and Trade Marks Act, 1883).

S. 103—See TRADE MARK, 98 P.L.R. 1902=55 P. R. 1902.

Statute 46 and 47, Vict., C. 52 (Insolvency).

(1)—Ss. 7, 27—Exemption from attachment of insolvent's salary after deducting amount payable per mensem to Official Assignee—Exemption on footing of necessaries.—When an Insolvency Court, acting under the provisions of the Indian Insolvent Act, directs the insolvent to pay a portion of his salary per mensem to the Official Assignee, the remainder of his salary is to be regarded on the same footing as necessaries which are exempted from attachment. A Court cannot, therefore, in execution of a decree against the insolvent, direct the attachment of any portion of his salary remaining over after payment to the Official Assignee of the amount ordered to be paid. MAUNG GLAY v. ODEYAPPA, 8 Ind. Cas. 438.

Statute 51, Vict., C. 4.

S. 7—See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT, 1882, s. 18 (1), 18 C. 372.

S. 7—Jurisdiction given to Small Cause Courts (Presidency)—S. 18, Act XV of 1882—S. 7, Army Act (1888) (51 Vict., c 4.)—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, PRESIDENCY TOWNS, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 18 C. 144.

Statute 51 and 52, Vict., C. 4.

S. 6—See LIMITATION—GENERAL, A. W. N. 1897, 203.

Statute 52 and 53, Vict., C. 49 (English Arbitration Act).

(1)—S. 12—Order in High Court of England, that award be enforced as judgment, whether amounts to foreign judgment—An order obtained in the High Court of England enforcing an award under s. 12, English Arbitration Act (52 and 53, Vict. c. 49), does not operate as a judgment, on which an action can be brought as on a foreign judgment. DEEP NARAIN SINGH v. DIETERT, 31 C. 274=8 C.W.N. 207.

Statute 53 and 54, Vict., C. 27 (Colonial Courts of Admiralty Act, 1890).

See JURISDICTION—ADMIRALTY AND VICE-ADMIRATY JURISDICTION, 29 C. 402=6 C. W.N. 773.

Statute 55 and 56, Vict., C. 14 (Indian Councils Act, 1892).

S. 5—See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881, ss. 51, 52, 86, 10 Bom. L. R. 924, 32 B. 634.

Statute 57 and 58, Vict., C. 60 (The Merchant Shipping Act, 1894).

(1)—Intention of the Act—Right to share in ship—Without registered bill of sale.—The intention of the Act being that "interest arising under contract or other equitable interests may be enforced by or against owners and mortgagees of ships, in respect of their interest therein, in the same manner as in respect of any other personal property," it is competent to a person to establish his alleged right to his share of a ship and its income, without any registered bill of sale. P. M. P. A. ALAGAPPA CHETTY v. N. S. T. V. CHIDAMBARAM CHETTY, 1 M.L.T. 407=29 M. 526. (21 M. 395, R.)

(2)—S. 24—Vendee of a share in a ship—Absence of bill of sale in his favour—Right to be registered as owner.—A person, who is only the beneficial owner of a ship and in whose favour there is no bill of sale, is not entitled to be registered as owner. First defendant, who owned a one-fourth share in a ship, executed a nominal sale-deed in favour of his agent, the fourth defendant. Subsequently he sold the one-fourth share to plaintiff. Plaintiff sued, among other things, for a declaration that he was entitled to be registered as owner of one-fourth share in the ship. Held, that plaintiff was not entitled to be registered as owner. RAMAN CHETTY v. ALAGAPPA CHETTY, 8 M.L.T. 407.

(3)—Ss. 53, 55—Contract between British subject and non-British subject as to registered ship in Calcutta—Jurisdiction of Small Cause Court—Execution of Small Cause Court decree—See SHIP, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 251.

(4)—S. 55—See SHIP, 1 Ind. Jur. N. S. 263.

(5)—S. 55—See No. 3, supra.

Statute 58, Vict., C. 7.

S. 4—See ATTACHMENT—SUBJECTS OF ATTACHMENT, 25 M. 402=143 P.L.R. 1902.

Statute. Construction of.

(1)—Codification, object of—Method of interpreting a statute—Code, construction of.—The object of codification of a particular branch of law is that, on any point specifically dealt with by it, such law should be sought for in the codified enactment, and ascertained by interpreting the language used. In interpreting a statute, the proper course is, in the first instance, to examine the language of the statute and to ask what is its natural meaning, uninfluenced by any considerations derived from the previous state of the law, and not to start with enquiring how the law previously stood, and then assuming that it was probably intended to leave it unaltered, to see if the words of the enactment will bear an interpretation in conformity with this view. NORENDRA NATH SIRCAR v. KAMALBASINI DASI, 23 C. 563=23 I.A. 18. P.C.=6 M.L.J. 71=6 Sar. 667 (F., 23 C. 738, F.B. 24 C. 725, F.B., 24 C. 881=1 C.W.N. 642. 24 C. 908. F.B., 27 C. 11=3 C.W.N. 660, 10 Bom. L.R. 1146; Observed, 30 C. 155; R., 46 P.R. 1909=72 P.L.R. 1909=56 P. W.R. 1909=1 Ind. Cas. 745, 25 C. 239, 25 B. 202, 3 O.C. 325, 28 C. 517=5 C.W.N. 640, 25 M. 244, 6 Bom. L.R. 131, 74 P R. 1906=137 P.L.R. 1906. 29 A. 685=4 A.L.J. 605=A.W.N. 1907, 235=6 M.L.J. 197. 34 C. 999=11 C W. N. 889=6 C.L.J. 410, 35 C. 34=11 C.W.N. 983=6 C.L.J. 273; D., 25 M. 457.]

(2)—Act or written contract providing that something shall be done immediately—Object of statute to be had regard to.—Where a statute or a written contract provides that a certain thing shall be done immediately, you must in construing that word, pay regard to the object of the statute or the contract as the case may be and the position of the parties and purpose for which the legislature or the parties intend that it shall be done immediately. In re LAND ACQUISITION ACT, 7 Bom L.R. 697=30 B. 275.

(3)—Essence of Code.—The essence of a Code is to be exhaustive on the matters in respect of which it declares the law, and it is not the province of a Judge to disregard or go outside the letter of the enactment according to its true construction. GOKUL MANDAR v. PUDMANUND SINGH, 29 C. 707. P.C=29 I.A. 196=6 C W N. 825=4 Bom. L.R. 793=8 Sar. 323. [F., 26 M. 423, 10 Bom. L.R. 1113, 11 Bom. L.R. 335, 4 N.L.R. 61; Appr., 27 M. 531=14 M.L.J. 155=1 Weir 419, 29 M 336=1 M.L.T. 153=16 M.L.J. 395, 35 C. 353=12 C.W.N. 359 =7 C.L.J. 470, 18 M.L.J. 89=31 M. 277=7 Cr. L.J. 329; R., 27 B. 91, 32 C. 494=9 C.W.N. 372 =1 C.L.J. 118, 1 S L.R. 29, 2 S.L.R. 37; Cons., 29 A. 601=A.W.N. 1907, 189=4 A.L.J. 545.]

(4)—Statutes. Construction of — Mode of construction.—The meaning of an Act is to be gathered solely by reference to the Act itself. MUDDOOSOODEN DEY v. BAMACHURN MOOKERJEE, 1 Hyde 100.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(5)—Section in a statute, construction of.—A Court is bound to construe a section in a statute according to the plain meaning of the language used, unless it finds, either in the section itself or in any other part of the statute, anything that will either modify or qualify or alter the statutory language, even if the result of such construction lead to anomalies, or be productive even of absurdity. (Bank of England v. Vagliano, L.R. App. Cas. (1891), p. 145; St. John Hampstead v. Cotton, 12 App. Cas. 6 (1886). F.) RAJIB PANDA v LAKHAN SENDH MHAPATRA, 27 C. 11=3 C.W.N. 660. (23 C. 563, R.)

(6)—Canon of construction — No part of statute to be rendered superfluous.—The Canon of construction is that a statute ought to be construed so that, if it can be prevented, no clause, section or word shall be 'superfluous, void or insignificant. SWAMINATHA AIYAR v. VAITHIANATHA SASTRIAL. 15 M L.J. 116, 124. F.B.=28 M. 466. [R., 17 M.L.J. 300.]

(7)—Ss 26 and 17, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Cause of action meaning of—Joinder of plaintiffs—S 31 (a).—Ordinarily, a clause in a statute should be construed, so as to give some meaning to every part of it. HARAMONI DASSI v. HARI CHURN CHOWDHRY, 22 C. 833.

(8)—Words to be interpreted clear—No ambiguity—Rule of construction.—The ordinary rule of construction is that, when the words to be interpreted are clear, that meaning should be attached to them which the words in their general acceptance bear. The Court should construe the law as its unambiguous words indicate in their ordinary meaning—Per Bayley, J. MADHUSUDAN RAGCHI v. RAGAH MAHES CHANDRA SINGH, 3 B.L.R.A.C 202.

(9)—General terms following particular ones—Rule of construction.—General terms following particular ones apply only to such things as are ejusdem generis. BAL MOKOOND LALL v. JURJUDHUN ROY, 9 C. 271=11 C. L. R. 466.

(10)—Always dangerous to paraphrase enactment.—It is always dangerous to paraphrase an enactment, and not the less so, if the enactment is perhaps not altogether happily expressed. DURGA CHOWDHRANI v. JEWAHIR SINGH CHOWDHRI, 18 C. 23, P.C.=17 I.A. 122=5 Sar. 560.

(11)—Language of enactment to be examined.—In construing a particular section of an enactment, the language of the section must be first examined—Per Banerjee, J JAGODISHURY DEBIA v KAILASH CHUNDRA LAHIRY, 24 C. 725, F.B.=1 C.W.N. 374. (23 C. 563, P.C., R.)

(12)—Words of Act to be understood in ordinary and natural meaning—Limit of rule.—It is a sound rule of interpreting statutes that words must be understood in their ordinary and natural meaning, unless there is clear reason to the contrary. The rule that a word used in a statute is to be understood in the same sense throughout, is only a rule of presumption, by no means inflexible, and certainly not of such character as to be irrebuttable by other rules of interpretation founded upon the especial context of statutory words or reasons and objects wherefor any special section is enacted—Per Mahmood, J. BAIJ NATH v. SITAL SINGH, 13 A. 224=A.W.N. 1891, 68. [R., 4 N.L.R. 78=8 Cr. L.J. 18.]

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(13)—Interpretation of statutes — Words of prohibition and words of direction, distinction between.—There is a difference between a case where a Court omits to do something which by statute it is enacted shall be done, and a case where a Court does something which by statute it is enacted shall not be done. In the former case the omission may not amount to more than an irregularity in procedure, whilst in the latter case the doing of the prohibited thing by the Court is ultra vires and illegal and consequently without jurisdiction, RAMESHUR SINGH v. SHEODIN SINGH, 12 A. 510=A.W.N. 1810, 188, F.B. [Diss., 28 C. 324=5 C.W.N. 509; Appl., 18 C. 496.]

(14)—S. 244, Civ Pro. Code, 1882—Liberal interpretation to language of section — Disposal in one suit.—A liberal interpretation ought to be given to the language of s. 244 (c), Civ. Pro. Code. The intention of the Legislature appears to be to dispose, in a single litigation, of all questions in reference to the subject-matter of that litigation arising between the parties once properly brought before the Court. GOWRI v. VIGNESHVAR, 17 B. 49. [Diss., 23 A. 346, 6 C.W.N. 10=30 C. 134; F., 15 C.P. L.R. 106, 6 Bom. L.R. 697; R., 23 M. 361 F.B., 8 Bom. L.R. 858=31 B. 33.]

(15)—Construction of statutes — Practice of Court – Hardship.—A practice which is in contravention of the law, even if the practice be that of a High Court cannot justify a Court in construing an Act of the Legislature contrary to the plain wording of the Act. Nor can the Court allow any extraneous considerations, such as hardship, to influence it in construing the Acts where the wording of those Acts is plain and unambiguous. BALKARAN RAI v. GOBIND NATH TEWARI, 12 A. 129, F.B=A.W.N. 1890, 39. [R., 4 N.L.R. 166, 13 C.W.N. 815.]

(16)—Construction of Acts and sections—Duty of Courts.—The Court will put a reasonable construction upon Acts of the Legislature and will not allow the strict language of a section to prevent such a construction being given—Per Garth, C.J., and Morris, J. It is the duty of Courts to expound the sections according to the plain sense of the words—Per Prinsep, J. GUREEBULLAH SIRCAR v. MOHUN LAL SHAHA, 7 C. 127=8 C.L.R. 409. [Diss., 9 C. 711, F.B.]

(17)—Duty of Court in construing law.—Not to make new law—Expound existing law.—The duty of a Court is to construe the law as it stands and not to make a new, though it may be a better law. RAI CHARAN GHOSE v. KUMAD MOHUN DUTT CHOWDHRY, 25 C. 871=2 C.W.N. 297.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(18)—Act purporting to confer narrow and limited right—Construction.—It could not be contended that an enactment, which purports expressly to confer a narrow and limited right, of necessity excludes a larger right, if the existence of the larger right is clearly established apart from the special enactment. But where the existence of a larger right is not clear but highly doubtful, the express creation of the narrower right tends strongly to negative the existence of the larger. KINU RAM DAS v. MOZAFFER HOSAIN SHAHA, 14 C. 809, F.B. (14 B.L.R. 155, overruled; 11 M.I.A. 258, Expl. and D.; 8 C.402, Appr.)

(19)—Substantive provisions and their essential propositions enacted.—A statute not only enacts its substantive provisions but, as a necessary result, it also enacts as a legal proposition everything essential to the existence of the specific enactment. LEMAN v. DAMADARAYA, 1 M. 158. (7 M.H.C. 249, F.)

(20)—Enactment partly ultra vires—Divisibility of bad part from good – Good part valid and pending.—An enactment partially ultra vires, with the bad part separable from the good, must be deemed as valid and pending in respect of the good portion. THE COLLECTOR OF AHMEDABAD v. SAMALDAS BECHARDAS, 9 B.H.C. 205.

(21)—Different statutes in pari materia—Construction as one explanatory system.—Where there are different statutes in pari materia, though made at different times or even expired and not referring to each other, they should be taken and construed together as one system explanatory of each other. COLLECTOR, SEA CUSTOMS v. P. CHITHAMBARAM, 1 M. 89, F.B.

(22)—Restriction of jurisdiction of superior Court.—The general presumption is against constructing a statute as ousting or restricting the jurisdiction of the superior Courts. The intention must be expressed in clear terms; not merely implied, but necessarily implied, the general rights of the Queen's subjects are not hastily to be assumed to be interfered with and taken away by Act of Parliament. Such statutes are to be strictly construed when their language is doubtful. A construction which would impliedly create a new jurisdiction is to be avoided, especially where it would have the effect of depriving the subject of his freehold or of any common law right or of creating an arbitrary procedure. No doubt when a power has been conferred in unambiguous language by statute, the Courts cannot interfere with its exercise and substitute their own discretion for that of persons or bodies selected by the Legislature for the purpose. Nor does any presumption arise against the finality of a decision by an authority with statutory powers to pronounce in respect of a duty or liability created by the statute. BALVANT v. SECRETARY OF STATE, 7 Bom. L.R. 496.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(23)—Positive law—Analogy—Extension of law—Parity of reasoning.—Positive law cannot be extended by analogy or parity of reasoning. JUMOONA DASSAYA v. BAMASOONDARI DASSYA, 1 C. 289, P.C.=3 I.A. 72=25 W.R. 235=3 Sar. 602. [Appr., 11 B. 727.]

(24)—Provisions of law clear—Competency of Court to enter into questions of natural justice.—When the provisions of law are clear, it is not competent to Courts of justice to enter into questions of "natural justice" and, having regard to the economy and social conditions of the country, the provision that the Government should be the sole judge of what is likely to prove useful to the public is both expedient and reasonable. EZRA v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE, 30 C. 36=7 C.W.N. 249. [Affir., 32 C. 605, P.C.=9 C.W.N. 454=1 C.L.J. 227=2 A.L.J. 771=7 Bom. L.R. 422.]

(25)—Hindu Wills Act—Full and natural meaning to be given to provisos—Rule to be followed independently of consequences.—In construing an Act of the Government of India passed in the form peculiar to the Hindu Wills Act, the sound rule of construction is to give their full and natural meaning to the provisos, and only to give effect to the enactments contained in the applied sections and chapters, so far as the latter do not contravene the full and natural meaning of the provisos, although the result of such construction might be that some of the applied sections are rendered nugatory. ALANGAMONJORI DABEE v. SONAMONI DABEE, 8 C. 637=10 C.L.R. 459.

(26)—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, s. 23—"May" not mandatory—Semble.—The word "may" in s. 23 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act is not mandatory. FATMA v. BANDHU LAL, A.W.N. 1889, 4. (A.W.N. 1888, 193, R.)

(27)—Interpretation of statutes—'May' and 'Shall'—Act XIV of 1859, s. 21, construction of.—The words 'must' and 'shall' may in some cases, be substituted for the word 'may,' but only for the purpose of giving effect to the intention of the Legislature. In the absence of the proof of such intention, the word 'may' should be taken as used in its natural, i e., in a permissive, and not in an obligatory, sense. [R., 21 C. 832.] In construing s. 21 of Act XIV of 1859, the words 'nothing in the preceding section shall apply to a judgment in force at the time of the passing of the Act' mean that nothing in the preceding section should prejudicially affect the right of a creditor under a judgment in force at the time of the passing of the Act; and the words "but process of execution may be issued, &c." mean that, notwithstanding anything in the preceding section, execution might issue, either within the time limited by the law in force when the Act is passed, or within three years next after the passing of the Act, whichever should first expire. DELHI AND LONDON BANK v. ORCHARD, 3 C. 47=4 I.A. 127, P.C.=3 Sar. 721, [F., 153 P.L.R. 1901; Appl., 6 B. 26; R., 2 P. 148, F.B., 5 B. 653, 7 B. 297, 7 B. 459, 90 P.R. 1904.]

(28)—Interpretation of statutes—"May and shall."—There is no authority for the proposition that the word "may" can, in any connection, be read as meaning "shall," though the word "shall," may, under certain circumstances be substituted for the word "may." In the goods of PREMCHAND MOONSHEE, 21 C. 832. (3 C. 47, R.)

(29)—Act VIII of 1869 (B. C.), s. 29—"Months," meaning of the word—Act V of 1867 (B. C.).—According to Act V of 1867 (B.C.), the word "months" mentioned in s. 29, Act VIII of 1869 (B.C.), means calendar months, and, in the absence of anything to the contrary, they also mean calendar months according to the English calendar. LUCHMEEPUT SINGH BAHADOOR v. RAJ COOMAREE DABEE, 23 W.R. 275. (18 W. R. 403, 13 W.R. 183, F.) [F., 2 C.L.R. 265.]

(30)—Reg. VIII of 1819, s 8, cl. 2—Sale of putni taluq—Attestation of service of notice by three substantial persons—Meaning of "substantial."—This was a suit for a reversal of the sale of a putni taluq, on the ground that the notice required by cl. 2, s. 8, Reg. VIII of 1819 had not been duly served. On second appeal the High Court agreed with the lower Courts and confirmed the sale on the ground that, as there were three attesting witnesses of comparative respectability to the service of the notice the requirements of the law had been fulfilled On an application for review, it was, however, held that, though the attesting parties were sufficient in number and resided in the neighbourhood, yet, with the exception of one of them, the rest were not what could be called substantial persons within the meaning of s. 8 of the above Regulation. It was to protect the putneedar from fraud that the above provision has been enacted that the notice of sale must be attested by three substantial persons, by which is meant respectable men of moderate wealth against whom, in case of false attestation, the party injured may have his remedy in a suit for damages, and unless the attesting parties answer to the above common meaning to be put upon the the words "substantial," the putneeder would be wholly without remedy in case of false attestation. GOPAL KISHORE SHOOR v. MUDUN MOHUN HOLDAR, 2 W.R 188. [R., 14 B.L.R 394.]

(31)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, ss. 329, 331—Execution—Obstruction by stranger.—In construing the words "as the Court shall see fit," in s. 329, Civ. Pro. Code, regard should be had to the circumstances in respect of which the power is to be exercised. GOVINDA NAIR v. KESAVA, 3 M. 81.

(32)—Bengal Act VIII of 1869—Act X of 1859, s. 32—Construction of "after passing of the Act."—The words in Act X of 1859, s. 32, limiting suits for arrears of rent due at the passing of the Act to a period of "three years after the passing of the Act " refer to the date when the Act passed, and not to the subsequent date fixed for its coming into operation. PEARY MOHUN DOSS v. MCARTHUR, Marsh. 637.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(33)—Interpretation not to create—" Casus omissus."—It is not permissible to create a casus omissus by interpretation save in some case of strong necessity. EMPEROR v. RUSTOMJI, 9 Bom. L.R. 363.

(34)—Rules as to construction of statutes—Parliament, Powers of — The Parliament should be presumed to know the laws and regulations of the Governor-General in Council. Though a mistaken opinion of the Legislature concerning the law does not make the law, yet it may be so declared as to operate in future. Though the construction of a statute may be erroneous, it may be so declared by Parliament as to render its adoption obligatory. ABDULLA v. MOHAN GIR, 11 A. 490, F.B. = A.W.N. 1889, 194. [Appl., 18 B. 636.]

(35)—Acts, construction of—" Optimus legis interpres consuetudo."—When a legislative measure of doubtful meaning has, for several years, received an interpretation that has generally been acted upon by the public. Courts should change that interpretation only for cogent reasons. PROKASH CHUNDER DASS v. TERACHAND DASS, 8 C. 82, F.B. = 12 C.L.R. 1. [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 574.]

(36) — Interpretation of law in favour of suitor long continued—Change of interpretation to suitor's prejudice.—Where for a series of years a law imposing a heavy tax on litigation has received a particular interpretation in favour of the suitor, and a course of practice has prevailed for years throughout the whole country in accordance therewith, a Court of Justice ought to be very slow in changing that interpretation or course of practice to the prejudice of the suitor, in the absence of clear and weighty reasons. KISHORE LALL ROY v. SHARUT CHUNDER MAZUMDAR, 8 C. 593, F.B. = 10 C L R. 359. [F., U.B.R. 1903, 3rd Qr., Court Fees. 1; R., 10 C. 274, 13 C.W.N. 815, 4 N.L.R. 166.]

(37)—Preamble, scope of.—In cases of doubt, and in the absence of express provision to the contrary, the preamble must be taken as restricting and governing the rest of the enactment. SHANKARAHAI v. DIN DIAL, 12 A. 409 = A.W.N. 1890, 145, F.B.

(38)—Effect of preamble in an Act.—The tendency is not to give effect to the preamble, unless it be quite clear that the Legislature can have only had in contemplation the particular mischief to which the preamble relates, and the words of the operative part are ambiguous. Unless there is good reason to the contrary, full effect ought to be given to the operative part of the statute. KRISTO NATH KOONDOO v. T. F. BROWN, 14 C. 176. [R., 16 C.P.L.R. 99, 16 C.P.L.R. 145.]

(39)—Statute — Construction — Provision of section in Act going beyond preamble—Enacting words of statute preferred where strong enough for the purpose.—Where the provisions of a section of an Act went beyond the scope of the preamble to the Act, the enacting words of the statute were preferred, where the words were strong enough for the purpose. CHINNA AIYAN v. MAHOMED FAKIR-UD-DIN SAHIB, 2 M.H.C. 322. [R., 6 Ind. Cas. 259 = 12 C.L J. 8.]

(40)—Acts, Translations of—Legislative sanction.—Official translations of Legislative Acts do not possess any legislative force or sanction. JETHA PARKHA v. RAMACHANDRAVITHOBA, 16 B. 689. [R., 21 B. 588.]

(41)—Construction of Acts—Punctuation.—It is an error to rely on punctuation in construing Acts of the Legislature. THE MAHARANI OF BURDWAN v. KRISHNA KAMINI DASI, 14 C. 365, P.C. = 14 I. A. 30 = 4 Sar. 772. [R., 22 A. 270, F. B.]

(42)—Legal character of "Illustrations" to sections of Indian enactments—Indian Contract Act, s. 127, ill. (c). Per Stuart, C. J.—Illustrations form no part of the Act, and are not absolutely binding on the Courts. They are open to the objection of being opposed to the canons of construction, which prevail in the English Courts for the interpretation of statutes. Thus it has been ruled in England that "the intention of the Legislature must be ascertained from the words of a statute, and not from any general inferences to be drawn from the nature of the objects dealt with by the statute"—Fordyce v. Bridges, 1 H. L. Cases 1 = 11 Jur. 157; and "the Court knows nothing of the intention of an Act except from the words, in which it is expressed applied to the facts existing at the time." Logan v. Courtown (Earl), 13 Beav. 22 = 20 L. J. Chanc. 347; "the language of a statute, taken in its plain ordinary sense, and not its policy or supposed intention, is the safer guide in construing the enactments" Philpott v. St George's Hospital. NANAK RAM v. MEHIN LAL, 1 A. 487 [R., 20 M. 481, 34 C. 941 = 6 C.L.J. 237 = 11 C.W.N. 959, S. B.]

(43 & 44)—Grammatical meaning not to be varied by marginal note.—The marginal note to a rule which is unambiguously expressed cannot be allowed to vary the clear grammatical meaning of the rule QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAHOMED, 2 Bom. L. R. 918.

(45)—Interpretation—Marginal notes.—The marginal notes in an Indian Statute cannot be referred to for the purpose of construing it. BALRAJ KUNWAR v. JAGATPAL SINGH, 26 A. 393 = 8 C.W.N. 699, P.C = 31 I.A. 132 = 1 A.L J. 384 = 7 O.C. 248 = 11 Bom. L.R. 516 = 8 Sar. 639. [R., 8 O.C. 45, 8 O.C. 317.]

(46)—Marginal notes not part of Act.—The marginal notes to a section ought not to be treated as part of the section. C. V. SVAYAMBU AIYAR v. THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF NAGAPATAM, 1 M.L.J. 37.

Advocate High Court
Jammu & Kashmir
Srinagar

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(47)—Marginal notes to section—Reference—Construction.—The marginal notes to a section do not form part of it and cannot be referred to for the purpose of construing the section. (L.R. 22 Ch. Div. 511, 23 C 55, R.) PUNARDEO NARAIN SINGH v. RAM SARUP ROY, 2 C.W.N. 577=25 C. 858. [Diss, 3 O.C. 125.]

(48)—Interpretation of statute — Marginal notes.—Marginal notes to sections do not form part of an enactment, and cannot be referred to for the purpose of construing the sections. PUNARDEO NARAIN SINGH v. RAM SARUP ROY, 25 C. 858=2 C.W.N. 577. (23 C. 55, R.) [R., 28 B. 129.]

(49)—Marginal notes—Marginal notes to sections are no part of the enactment. (Claydon v. Green, 3 C.P. 511, Attorney General v. Great Eastern Railway Co., 11 Ch. D. 449 (465), Sutton v. Sutton, 22 Ch. D. 511, R.). N. B.—The rest of the case deals with points relating to Criminal Law. DUKHIMALLAH v. HALWAY, 23 C. 55. [F., 25 C. 858, 28 B. 129; R., 7 C. W. N. 883, 16 C. P. L. R. 145; Diss., 3 O.C. 120.]

(50)—Marginal notes may be referred to.—Indian Acts are always framed with the marginal notes which appear in the State Publications of them. The marginal notes may be looked at for assistance and for the purposes of interpreting the Acts. KAMESHAR PRASAD v. BHIKHAN NARAIN SINGH, 20 C. 609. [R., 3 O.C. 120, 16 C.P.L.R. 145, 29 B. 193=6 Bom. L.R. 735; D., 2 Bom. L.R. 918.]

(51)—English law, how far a guide in—Indian Arbitration Act, s. 12.—The words used in s; 12 of the Indian Arbitration Act are similar to those contained in the English statute, and they may be taken to bear the same construction and confer the same powers on the Court as those exercised by the English Courts under the corresponding section of the English Act of 1889. SETH UTOOMAL VASOOMAL v. SETH HARIDAS ASANAND, 4 S.L.R. 23=7 Ind. Cas. 595.

(52) — English cases—Value in construing Indian Acts.—English cases on construction of English statutes are of great assistance, sometimes in construing Acts of the Indian Legislature; but of course, it is always necessary to see that the Indian statute and the English statute resemble one another in their purposes, and not only in a portion of a section which, for convenience of drafting, has been adopted by the draftsmen of the Indian Act. PERSHAD SINGH v. RAM PERTAB ROY, 22 C 77.

(53)—Interest Act XXXII of 1839—Construction—English cases.—The Interest Act was passed for the purpose of extending to India the provisions of the English Act (3 and 4 Will. IV C. 42). English decisions may therefore be referred to as a guide to construe the Act. GANESH BAKHSH v. HARIHAR BAKHSH, 26 A. 299, P.C.=31 I.A. 116=8 C.W.N. 521=14 M. L.J. 190=6 Bom L.R. 503=8 Sar. 628. [R., 7 O.C. 193; Cited, 11 C.W.N. 1109=17 M.L. J. 465=4 A.L.J. 750=31 B. 566=2 M L.T. 394; R., 31 B. 354=9 Bom. L.R. 439.]

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(54)—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894)—Cases under English Act, how far guidance in construction of Indian enactments.—No useful purpose is served by referring to cases decided under the English Acts, in construing Indian enactments. For, unless the English statute, and the Act of the Indian Legislature are in pari materia, such reference, instead of affording any help, will only tend to confuse the consideration of the matters in issue. EZRA v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE, 30 C. 36=7 C.W. N. 249. [Affirmed, 32 C. 605, P.C.=9 C.W.N. 454=1 C.L.J. 227=2 A.L.J. 771=7 Bom. L. R. 422.]

(55)—Letters Patent, 1865, cl. 12—Interpretation—English decisions—The English County Court's Act—The Common Law Procedure Act, 1852.—The English County Court's Act, like the Letters Patent of the High Court, is directed to the marking out and limiting of the jurisdiction of the Courts; but the Common Law Procedure Act (1852), deals with matters of procedure and not of jurisdiction. Hence the decisions of English cases under the former Act are more authoritative in the interpretation of the language of the Letters Patent, than those under the latter Act. MULCHAND JOHARI MAL v. SUGANCHAND SHIVDAS, 1 B. 23. [R., 14 B 541, 11 M.L.J. 91, 29 M. 239, Foot Note.]

(56)—Cases under English Act, how far guidance in the construction of an Indian Act?—In construing a section of the Indian Act, cases bearing upon the construction of similar provisions of an English Act, different in its language, can be of little or no assistance. COLLECTOR OF DINAGEPORE v. GIRJA NATH ROY, 25 C. 346.

(57)—Interpretation of Evidence Act I of 1872—Reference to English Law.—(a) Although the Indian Evidence Act is in the main drawn on the lines of the English Law of Evidence, there is no reason to suppose that it was intended to be a service copy of it. (b) But when any important and radical change is attempted to be introduced it may be expected that it would be provided for in a separate section enacted for that purpose. RAMCHHODDAS KRISHNA DAS v. BAPAN NARHAR, 10 B 439.

(58)—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894), Construction—Earlier Act, how far a guidance.—It is not necessary to examine the provisions of earlier Acts in order to apprehend the meaning or to construe the law now in force. EZRA v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE, 30 C. 36=7 C.W. N. 249. [Affir., 32 C. 605, P.C.=9 C.W.N. 454 =1 C.L.J. 227=2 A.L.J. 771=7 Bom. L.R. 422.]

(59)—Appeal—Decision of two Judges on original side of High Court—Alteration of Letters Patent.—Under the old Letters Patent, two Judges of the High Court of Bombay heard and decided a suit on the original side, and then, before the sealing of the decree in that suit, the amended Letters Patent, 1865, came into force. The question was whether the High Court had jurisdiction to hear an appeal in accordance with the practice as regulated by the old Letters Patent, which were in force when the suit was heard and decided, or whether that right of appeal was taken away by the new Letters Patent, and the only appeal which the party could have was an appeal to the Privy Council.—Held that (i) although a right of action is not taken away by a change in the law, unlesss something express is contained in that Act, still, in the matter of mere procedure, unless something is said to the contrary, the principle is that the new Act does apply without reference to the former law or procedure; and (ii) that, in the present case, since there is no reservation in s. 15 of the new Letters Patent that parties should retain any right of appeal which existed before its publication in respect of suits then pending this section should be deemed to have taken away the right of appeal to the High Court—constituted so as to hear an appeal from two Judges—which existed in such a case under s. 14 of the old Letters Patent. FRAMJI BOMANJI v. HORMASJI BARJORGI, 3 B.H.C.O.C. 39. [Cons., 3 C. 662, F.B.=2 C.L.R. 391; R., 6 B H.C. 166, 2 B. 148, F.B., 8 B. 511, 16 C. 267, F.B., 5 B. 79, 21 B. 779.]

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(60)—Previous law, how far useful.—Held also, that pre existing legislation may be referred to as an aid towards construction, subject to this, that, if the terms of an Act are clear, positive and express, they cannot be modified by indication of an intention to be gathered from previous legislation upon the same subject. JANKI BARSARAN v. RAMKUMAR DAS, 3 O.C. 325.

(61)—Previous state of Law.—Interpretation of statutes.—When a statute is to be interpreted, it is not necessary to consider what the law was before the passing of that statute, but what the Legislature has said is to be the law after the passing of the same. Bank of England v. Vaglians GOLAB CHAND v. LALA SURAJ PROSAD, 28 C. 517=5 C.W.N. 640, (23 C. 563 27 C. 649, 724, R.) [R., 10 Bom.L.R. 1113.]

(62)—Construction of legislative enactments—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 205 and 237, how far Reg. IV of 1831 and Act XXIII of 1838 repealed by.—Reg. IV of 1831 and Act XXIII of 1838 are not repealed by ss. 205 and 237., Civ.Pro. Code. The rule of construction "leges posteriores priores contrarias abrogant" is no doubt applicable to a new affirmative enactment, but has application only when there is such complete contrariety or repugnancy between it and a prior enactment as makes it certain that the legislature could not have intended the latter to stand. When there is an admissible construction by which both enactments can reasonably have operation together, that construction must be adopted. MAHOMED ABDUL VAKAB SAHIB v. RAMASWAMY AIYANGAR, 4 M.H.C. 277.

(63)—Enforcement of direct provision of Act—No similar provision in previous Acts.—It would be no answer to the enforcement of any direct provision of an Act that it is not found among the previously existing laws, which the enactment is described as consolidating, amending and defining.—DAIMODDEE PAIK v. KAINH TARIDAR, 5 C. 300=4 C.L.R. 419.

(64)—Legislative enactment—Principle of interpretation—International comity—Per Sir Arnold White, C.J.—Of course, no exception can be taken to the general proposition that every statutory enactment should be interpreted and applied, so far as its language admits so as not to be inconsistent with the comity of nations or with the established rules of international law. But, if a legislative enactment cannot be construed without contravening the principles of international law, it is none the less the duty of the Municipal tribunals governed by the enactment to give effect to it. VENKATALACHMI AMMAL v. SRIRANGAPATNAM SRINIVASAMURTHY, 11 M.L.J. 91.

(65)—Interpretation of Statute—International law.—In the interpretation to be put on a Statute, the thing to be observed is that, so far as its language admits, such interpretation is not inconsistent with the comity of nations or with the established rules of international law. KESSOWJI DAMODAR JAIRAM v. KHIMJI JAIRAM, 12 B. 507.

(66)—Provisions of other enactments—In construing a statute, provisions of other enactments, not in pari materia, cannot be referred to. ASSAN v. PATHUMMA, 22 M. 494. [Appl., 27 B. 330; R., 4 O.C. 108, 123 P.R. 1907=82 P.W.R. 1907=3 M.L.T. 63, 32 M. 305, F.B., 27 M. 77, 31 M. 228.]

(67)—Considerations of equity, convenience or hardships not to affect construction.—When the language of a Statute admits but one construction, considerations of equity and convenience, hardship or injustice cannot be allowed to prevail against it; but where it is not incompatible with a construction that avoids hardship and injustice, Courts are at liberty to adopt that construction. JAGESHAR SINGH v. JAHAWER SINGH, 1 A. 311, F.B.

(68)—Interpretation of statutes—Question of hardship.—The question of hardship should not weigh with the Judges in the interpretation of statutes. JAMNA BIBI v. SHEIKH JHAN, 24 A. 532, F. B.=A. W. N. 1902. 112. [R., 110 P. R. 1907=51 P. W. R. 1907.]

(69)—Legislative proceedings—Enactments in pari materia—Rules as to construction of statutes.—(a) Enactments in pari materia should be read together as if they were one law, and interpreted as consistently and harmoniously as their language will fairly admit. (b) An inquiry into the vicissitudes which a measure experienced in the course of its passage as a Bill through the Legislature, is not a legitimate mode of ascertaining the intention of the Legislature. WALJI KARIMJI v. JAGANNATH PREMJI, 2 B. 84.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(70)—Construction of Act—Debates in Legislative Council on the Bill, whether may be referred to.—It is a mistake to refer to the debates on the Bill, when before the Legislative Council, for the purpose of construing an Act. GOPAL KRISHNA PARACHURE v. SAKHOJIRAV, 18 B. 133 = P.J. 1893, 42.

(71)—Act, construction of—Reference to proceedings of Legislative Council.—In construing an Act, the proceedings in the Legislative Council cannot be referred to. SURAT SUNDARI BARMANI v. UMA PROSAD ROY CHOWDHRY, 31 C. 628 = 8 C.W.N. 578.

(72)—Construction of Acts—Reference to proceedings of Legislature.—It is not competent to refer to the proceedings of the Legislature as legitimate aids to the construction of a law. Per Pigot, J., (Prinsep and Macpherson, JJ., concurring). QUEEN EMPRESS v. SRI CHURN CHUNGO, 20 C. 1017, F.B. (22 C. 788, P.C., F.)

(73)—Interpretation of a consolidating statute—Proceedings of the Legislature—Object of consolidating a statute.—It is not competent for Court to refer to proceedings of the Legislature as legitimate aids to the construction of law. The same reasons which exclude these considerations when the clauses of an Act of British Legislature are under construction, are equally cogent in the case of an Indian Statute. [F., 22 C. 1017, F.B., 22 B. 112, 26 P.L.R. 1902 = 26 P.R. 1902, 1 L.B.R. 231; Rel. on, U.B.R. (1897—1901), Cr. p. 370; R., P.L.R 1900, 488, F.B., 1 L.B.R. 110, F.B., 2 L.B.R. 146, F.B., 16 C.P.L.R. 145, 2 C.L.J. 546, 3 N.L.R. 40.] In dealing with a consolidating Statute, it is not required that each enactment must be traced to its original source, and, when that is discovered, must be construed according to the state of circumstances which existed when it first became law. The very object of consolidating a Statute is to collect the statutory law bearing upon a particular subject, and to bring it down to date, in order that it may form a useful Code applicable to the circumstances existing at the time when the consolidating Act is passed. THE ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. PREMLAL MULLICK, 22 C. 788, P.C. = 22 I.A. 107 = 6 Sar. 603.

(74)—History of passing of Act — Intention of legislature.—In construing Acts of the Legislature, it has been the practice in India to take into consideration the history of the passing of an Act, and the intention of the Legislature in introducing the same (though the same practice is not followed in England for explaining a Statute). THE ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. PREM LAL MULLICK, 21 C. 732. [Reversed, 22 C. 788, P.C. = 22 I.A. 107; R., 16 C.P.L.R. 145, 2 L.B.R. 146, F.B., 9 Bom. L.R. 404.]

(75)—Construction of statute—Reference to history of section, policy of Government or statement of objects and reason, &c.—In construing a statute, Courts cannot go into considerations of the history of a clause, or the policy of Government with reference to any particular legislation, nor can they seek help from the Statement of Objects and Reasons, nor from the debates in the Legislative Council, or any other proceeding which preceded the passing of the Act. GOPAL PANDEY v. PARSOTAM DAS, 5 A. 121, F.B. = A.W.N. 1882, 128. [R., 11 B. 1.]

(76)—Objects and Reasons of a Bill.—Quaere.—Whether the "Objects and Reasons" may be resorted to, where the intention of the Legislature, as gatherable from an Act, is doubtful. Whether the vraious forms in which the Bill was brought before the Legislature ought not to be referred to. FADU GHALA v. GOUR MOHUN GHALA, 19 C. 544.

(77)—Construction of Acts, Reports by Select Committees and Statement of Objects and Reasons, whether may be referred to for.—When a Court has to construe a Statute, whether of the Imperial Parliament or of the Legislative Council of India, it is the statute alone to which the Court is entitled to look. Judges having to administer the statute-law are not entitled to refer for guidance either to speeches in Parliament or in the Legislative Council of this country or to reports made by the Select Committee of that Council. KADIR BAKSH v. BHAWANI PRASAD, 14 A. 145 = A.W.N. 1892, 5. [F., 22 B. 112.]

(78)—Reference to statement of objects and reasons in enactments.—It is unusual to refer to the objects and reasons given for introducing a Bill into the Legislative Council, for they can safely be referred to, only as expressing the motives which were present to the particular member of that council, and in the course of legislation, the objects and reasons so stated are altogether lost sight of, and the law ultimately passed bears only a slight resemblance to the Bill, on which it professes to be based. MOOTHORA KANT SHAW v. THE INDIA GENERAL STEAM NAVIGATION CO., 10 C. 166, F.B. = 13 C.L.R. 342. [R., 19 C. 544, F.B.]

(79)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 355—Appellate Court—Competency to examine witness again—Interpretation of Acts.—If it is made apparent to the lower appellate Court that the original Court had imperfectly taken the evidence of the defendant as between the parties and if the result is such that the Judge could not pronounce a satisfactory judgment, it would be competent to the lower appellate Court, under the provisions of s. 355, to have the defendant fully examined before himself. But in such a case he is bound to record his reasons for directing this examination, in order that the High Court may be enabled on appeal to judge whether or not the new evidence has been rightly admitted. The lower appellate Court is not competent in such a case to remand the case for re-hearing and re-trial. [R., 18 M. 94.] It is not competent to a Court to speculate upon what was in the mind of the Legislature in passing a statute. The Court is bound by the words of an Act judicially construed. MOHESH CHUNDER DOSS v. MADHUB CHUNDER SIRDAR, 13 W.R. 85. [R., 7 A.L.J. 370.]

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(80)—Statute imposing duty — Action for failure to perform duty, implied.—Where a statute imposes a duty, it without express words gives an action for failing to perform it and for wrongfully performing it. PONNUSAMY TEVAR v. COLLECTOR OF MADURA, 3 M. H. C. 35. [F., 16 C. 183.]

(81)—Penal statutes.—Statutes which encroach on the rights of the subjects, whether as regards person or property must receive a strict construction. SECRETARY OF STATE v. BALWANT, 5 Bom. L.R. 790=28 B. 105.

(82)—S. 36, Beng. Act XI of 1859.—S. 36, Act XI of 1859, should be construed strictly and literally. BRINDABUN CHUNDER NUNDI v. RAM SUNDER MOZUMDAR, 21 C 375. (14 M.I.A. 496, P.C., 2 I.A. 154, P.C., R.)

(83)—S. 37, Act XI of 1859 (Revenue Sale Law), construction of.—S. 37 of Act XI of 1859 should be construed strictly and in favour of holders of incumbrances and under-tenures, so as to prevent hardship as much as possible. AKHIL CHANDRA CHOWDHRY v. JATRA MOHAN SEN, 1 C.W.N. 314. (10 M.I.A. 126, R.)

(84)—Acts for protecting revenue—Construction of clauses imposing penalty—Tests.—Two tests have been applied. (1) In an Act intended only for the raising of revenue and the protection of that revenue, a clause imposing a penalty may well be construed, not as prohibiting a transaction in such sense as to make it illegal and void but as providing a means of enforcing the liability of the person on whom the penalty is imposed. (2) Another test has been applied in various cases in order to determine whether the penalty imposed by an Act was intended to create a prohibition so as to invalidate a specific act of dealing in violation of the law in which the penalty is to be found, and that is, to see whether the penalty is imposed in general terms for the carrying on of a trade, or for the omission of some preliminaries which the law imposes on the opening of a trade, or some such general purpose as that, or whether the penalty is imposed on each specific act of dealing. In the latter class of cases the Courts have been prone to construe the penalty as creating a prohibition, and therefore vitiating each transaction. BOISTEB CHURN NAUN v. WOOMA CHURN SEN, 16 C. 436.

(85)—Construction of statute—Principle.—The rule which is always to be applied in construing Acts of the Legislature which impose a tax is, that a duty or tax cannot be imposed except by clear and distinct words, and that the Acts which impose a tax or charge upon the subject cannot be extended by implication. If the express words of the enactment do not warrant or necessitate a demand of duty or charge, it is not competent to a Court of law, in construing such enactment, to extend it, or to give the words a meaning beyond their strict and literal signification, so as to include any case which may reasonably come within the spirit of the enactment. THE PORT CANNING LAND COMPANY, Petitioners, 16 W.R. 208.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(86)—Acts imposing taxes—Construction—Ambiguous wording—Municipal bye-law.—It is a well-settled rule of law that every charge upon the subject must be imposed by clear and unambiguous language. No pecuniary burden can be imposed upon the subject, by whatever name it may be called, whether tax, due, rate or toll, except upon clear and distinct legal authority, established in proof by those who seek to impose the burthen. In cases of doubtful expression, one is always to lean against the construction which imposes a burden upon the subject. The term 'copper' in Appendix B to the Surat Municipal rules was held in this case not to include copper pots. The words "for consumption," used in the rules, when applied to copper, may be interpreted to mean for the purpose of being manufactured, and is inconsistent with the supposition that copper, already manufactured into vessels or other articles, was intended. Also where toll has once been levied on the goods being originally imported into a town, if they be taken out of the town for sale and brought back unsold, they are not liable to the Municipal toll on such re-entry into the city. DULLABH SHIVLAL v. HOPE, 8 B H.C. A.C. 213. [F., 8 B.H.C O.C. 169; R., 10 B.H. C. 21, 11 B H C. 129, 6 B. 292.]

(87)—Taxing provisions of statute—Right of Government to claim exemption when not named in statute.—In England, owing to historical causes, the Legislature has proceeded on the view that the Crown is not bound by a statute unless named in it and it is therefore that the Crown is in many statutes expressly stated to be bound; but it is impossible to say broadly that in India the Crown is not bound by a statute, unless expressly named in it. Such express inclusion is altogether exceptional here. It would be more correct to say that, as a general rule, the Indian Legislature has proceeded on the assumption that the Government will be bound by the taxing provisions of a statute unless expressly or by necessary implication excluded from its operation. Per Benson, J. English Law as to the exemption of the Crown and Crown property from payment of toll, poor rates and other taxes, local or imperial, imposed by statute, rests partly upon historical reasons, and principally upon judicial decisions, which do not proceed upon a course of reasoning or principle which will be binding on Indian Courts. Exemption from payment of tolls, rates, and taxes is not in reality a prerogative of the Crown, but depends solely upon the right construction to be placed upon the Crown grant or the statute in question. According to the uniform course of Indian Legislation, statutes imposing duties or taxes bind Government as much as its subjects, unless the very nature of the duty or tax is such as to be inapplicable to Government, and whenever it is the intention of the Legislature to exempt Government from any duty, the Government is specially exempted. Per Bhashyam Aiyangar, J. MAJOR C. BELL v. THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS FOR THE CITY OF MADRAS, 12 M.L.J. 208=25 M. 457.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(88)—Act not to be construed as a contract—Taxation implies no answering right.—A statute should not be construed as if it was a contract. The power to impose tax needs no correlative right. BRANSON v. THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS FOR THE TOWN OF MADRAS, 2 M. 362. [R., 27 M. 13, 1 S. L. R. 228.]

(89)—Law, the intention of which is to punish to be administered as Criminal Law.—A law of the kind, the intention of which is to punish people, should be administered as the Criminal Law is administered, i.e., to say, specific offences should be charged against people, not technically specific in the sense of a specific form of indictment, but that the Judge and the insolvent and every one else should know what offence the insolvent is being tried for, and the evidence should be directed to the proof of that offence, so that the accused may be in a position to produce the evidence, if he has got any, to rebut the charge of that offence; and the Judge should specifically find what offence the insolvent has been guilty of, and in his judgment and order, and in the warrant, it should appear what the man has done. In the matter of RASH BEHARI ROY v. BHUGUAN CHUNDER ROY, 17 C. 209. [F., 19 C. 605= L.B.R. 1872—92, 646; R., L.B.R. 1893—1900, p. 141.]

(90)—Straining Act in favour of interference with private rights.—Courts ought not to strain an Act in favour of an interference with private rights, which is not justified by the primary sense of the language. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HARILAL, 14 B. 180.

(91)—Act XXIII of 1871, ss. 3,4,6—Construction of Act.—An enactment of a character so arbitrary as Act XXIII of 1871, i.e., a disabling statute, ought to be construed strictly, and the Court should not extend its operation further than the language of the Legislature requires. (23 W.R. 378, Civ. Rul. R.) The meaning of the expression "grant of money or land revenue" even as declared by s. 3, is not of so wide a range as to include a grant of the proprietorship of the soil; and therefore any suit involving the right of a proprietor of the soil does not come within the section. RAVJI NARAYAN MANDLIK v. DADAJI BAPAJI DESAI, 1 B. 523. (1 B. 203, R.), 1 F. B. 531, 10 A. 396, 16 B. 537; R., 16 B. 731, 29 B. 480= 7 Bom. L.R. 497, 30 B. 101=7 Bom. L.R. 659.]

(92)—Statutory prohibition refers not to transactions prior to Act.—A statutory prohibition could have no reference to transactions which had been completed before the Act came into force. LALA HURRO PROSAD v. BASARUTH ALI, 25 C. 909.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(93)—Affirmative general enactment not to be construed as an implied repeal.—A Court should not construe the affirmative general enactment in a Code as impliedly a repeal of a special earlier enactment, if the latter is not so contrary to and inconsistent with the former that the two may not stand together. SABAPATI MUDALIYAR v. NARAYANASAMI MUDALIYAR, 1 M.H.C. 115.

(94)—New Law—Rule as to operation—Registration Act.—A new law innovates no more than is necessary for its own proper operation, and this is especially the case with laws like those as to forms and procedure of a purely positive character. The mere circumstance that they would work more harmoniously with one system than another, is not a reason for implying a repeal of the latter, supposing it to have been the previously subsisting law, unless there be an actual repugnancy. Accordingly, the Registration Act, although giving to certain documents a special advantage, is not meant to modify the general law of sale any further. LALUBHAI SURCHAND v. BAI AMRIT, 2 B. 289=P.J. 1880, 57.

(95)—Bom. Act II of 1865, s. 240.—A construction strictly in favour of the subject must be given to Acts relating to the acquisition of land for public purposes. SORABJI NASARVARJI DUNDAS v. THE JUSTICES OF THE PEACE FOR THE CITY OF BOMBAY, 12 B.H.C. 250.

(96)—Enactment imposing burden, Strict construction in favour of subject of.—An enactment imposing a burden requires a strict construction in favour of the subject but exemptions in the Stamp Act must be construed strictly in favour of the State. In re NIRABAI, 6 Bom. L.R. 844=29 B. 203.

(97)—Stamp Act, 1899—Construction.—An Act of this nature must be construed strictly. REFERENCE UNDER THE STAMP ACT OF 1899, 30 C. 565.

(98)—Stamp Act—Fiscal enactment—Construction.—The Stamp Act being a fiscal enactment, the intention to tax a particular instrument must appear in terms clear and positive, and in case of doubt, the construction must be in favour of the subject. RAMIER v. GOULD, 13 M. 255.

(99)—Stamp Act—Construction—Earlier Indian and European Act on the subject.—The Stamp Act of (1879) in India ought to be construed according to the same principles of construction as the Stamp Act in England and the Earlier Stamp Acts in this country. RAMEN CHETTY v. MAHOMED GHOSE, 16 C. 432.

(100)—Construction of Stamp Laws—Government Notification No. 2955 dated 1-12-1882, Effect of.—Provisions of laws relating to stamps and cognate matters are to be construed strictly and, whenever there is any ambiguity or doubt, in favour of the subject. RADHA BAI v. NATHU RAM, 13 A. 66 A.W.N. 1890, 238.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(101)—Stamp Act—Rule of construction.—The Stamp Act is a Revenue Act, and the rule of construction of such Acts is, that, in case of a doubt, the construction most beneficial to the subject is to be adopted. Per Garth, C. J. and Field, J. ANONYMOUS CASE, 10 C. 274. [R., U.B.R. 1903, Court Fees, 1.]

(102)—Stamp Act, Construction of.—Acts of the nature of the Stamp Act should, when there is a doubt as to what construction should be placed upon their terms, be construed in favour of the subject. BISHANBAR NATH v. NAND KISHORE, 15 A. 56=A.W.N. 1892, 234.

(103)—Limitation Act, scope of.—A Limitation Act is not intended to define or create causes of action, but simply to lay down the periods within which existing rights may be enforced. JIVI v. RAMJI, 3 B. 207. [Appr., 28 C. 37=5 C.W.N. 195.]

(104)—Limitation Act—Ambiguity—Rule of construction. — The Limitation Act, being a disabling statute, must, where it does not unequivocally and in precise language bar the proceedings, be construed strictly, i.e., in favour of the right to proceed. UMIASHANKAR LAKHMIRAM v. CHHOTALAL VAJERAM, 1 B. 19. [F., 9 B. 373, 8 Bom. L.R. 892=31 B. 162; Expl., 133 P.L.R. 1904=79 P.R. 1904; R., 3 C.L.R. 440, 7 B. 542, 9 B. 250, 15 B. 299, 28 B. 601, F.B.=6 Bom. L.R. 612, 29 B. 480=7 Bom. L.R. 497; D., 1 C.L.R. 252.]

(105)—Two articles of Limitation Act, one general and one special—Special article to be selected.—If there be two articles of the Limitation Act which may cover the case, the one, however more general, and the other more particular or specific, as a principle of construction, the more particular and specific article ought to be regarded as the one governing the case. SHIVLAL v. BHAVANISHANKER, 4 Bom. L.R. 72=26 B. 430.

(106)—Rules of construction in the Limitation Act.—In construing the Limitation Act, a case ought not to be regarded as coming under art. 120 of the Act, unless the Court is clearly satisfied that it does not come under one of the many articles dealing with specific cases. If there be two articles, which may cover the case, the one, more general and, the other more particular or specific, as a principle of construction, the more particular and specific article ought to be regarded as the one governing the case. SHAROOP DASS MONDAL v. JOGGESSUR ROY CHOWDHRY, 26 C. 564, F.B.=3 C.W.N. 464.

(107)—Statutes of limitation—Their nature—Construction.—Statutes of limitation being "statutes of repose" should be liberally construed. Such statutes, being in limitation of common right, must not be extended by construction to cases not clearly included within their terms. PARASHRAM JATHMAL v. RAKHMA, 15 B. 299. [F., 160 P.L.R. 1903=70 P.R. 1903.]

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(108)—Statutes of limitation—Construction.—Statutes of limitation are in their nature strict and inflexible enactments, and they ought to receive such a construction as the language in its plain meaning imports. LUCHMEE BUKSH ROY v. RUNJEET RAM PANDEY, 13 B.L.R. 177, P.C.=20 W.R. 375=2 Suther. 897. [F., 8 C.W.N. 500=31 C. 519, 3 A.L.J. 113=A.W.N. 1906, 23=28 A. 333; Appr., 14 C.W.N. 1, P.C. =10 C.L.J. 284=6 A.L.J. 857=11 Bom. L.R. 234=19 M.L.J. 530=4 Ind. Cas. 449=33 C. 1003; R., 17 B. 173, 1 C.W.N. 260.]

(109)—Rent Recovery Act, Madras VIII of 1865, s. 69—"From" meaning of—Computation of period of limitation—Exclusion of day of delivery of judgment.—The word "from" in s. 69 of Act VIII of 1865 has the same meaning as "after" and the day on which judgment was delivered has to be excluded in computing the period of limitation. GANNE KOTAPPA v. VENKATARAMIAH, 10 M.L.J. 398.

(110)—Statutes restricting legal rights, construction of.—An Act of Limitation, being restrictive of the ordinary right to take legal proceedings, must, when its language is ambiguous, be construed strictly, i.e., in favour of the right to proceed. THE NEW FLEMING SPINNING AND WEAVING COMPANY v. KESSAWJI NAIK, 9 B. 873. (1 B. 19, R.) [R., 15 B. 299, 29 B. 480=7 Bom. L.R. 497.]

(111)—Limitation Act—Restrictive enactment—Strict construction.—The Limitation Act, as an enactment of a restrictive character, must be strictly construed. RAMCHANDRA v. LAXMAN, 8 Bom. L.R. 892=31 B. 162.

(112)—Statutes of limitation—Construction—Inflexible enactments.—Statutes of limitation are in their nature strict and inflexible enactments and ought to receive such a construction as the language in its plain meaning imports. ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL v. KRISTO KAMINI DASSEE, 31 C. 519. (13 B.L.R. 177, R.)

(113)—Limitation Act—Construction—Practice—How to apply proper article when a number of articles seem to be relevant.—Statutes of limitation are to be strictly construed; in construing an Act, such as Act XV of 1877, where there are a variety of articles dealing with a variety of particular cases, the Court must try so to construe those articles as to make them harmonious and consistent. SATI PRASAD SEN v. JOGESH CHANDRA SEN, 31 C. 681, F.B.=8 C.W.N. 476.

(114)—S. 14, Limitation Act, 1877—S. 77, Registration Act, 1877—Time occupied by review, exclusion of.—Where a special or local Act is a complete Code in itself, the provisions of the General Limitation Act will not apply to a suit falling under it. ABDUL HAKIM v. LATIFUNNESSA KHATUN, 30 C. 532=7 C.W.N. 550. (18 C. 368, F.; 18 M. 99, 17 C. 263, R.; 10 C. 265, Disc.)

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(115)—Limitation Act—Interpretation to be liberal.—The Limitation Act is an act limiting or restricting a plaintiff's rights, and according to the well-known rules applicable to the interpretation of Statutes, such an act should be interpreted liberally so as not to curtail or restrict rights, unless it is clear that the legislature intended that this should be done. JOGESHUR BHAGAT v. GHANASHAM DASS, 5 C.W.N. 356.

(116)—Limitation Act—Rule of construction—Liberal construction.—The Civil Courts will not construe Limitation Acts so as to make them more stringent than the legislature has made them. JAMNA DASS v. LALITARAM, 2 B. 294.

(117)—Limitation Act — Construction—Liberal interpretation.—In construing Acts of Limitation, the Court is bound to give them a liberal interpretation—Beverley, J. LATIFUNNESSA v. DHAN KUNWAR, 24 C. 382.

(118)—Argument ab inconvenienti—Applicability—Cases of doubt.—New statute—Suspension of operation—Intention of Legislature—Limitation Act, IX of 1871.—Time running under—Law of limitation—Repeal—Effect.—The argument ab inconvenienti, although forcible in law, is only applicable in cases of doubt, and not where the legislature is clear. A provision for the suspension of the operation of a new statute indicates that, from the day to which its operation is deferred, the Legislature intended it should regulate the bringing of suits on causes of action which had accrued before that day. Accordingly, the law of limitation applicable to suits subsequently brought upon causes of action which had accrued previously to the day to which the operation of Act IX of 1871 stood deferred, and which had not been barred under previous enactments, as well as to suits upon causes of action which accrue afterwards, is Act IX of 1871. [R., 6 B. 628 ; D., 2 B. 148, F.B. 6 B. 26]. Although it is true, that when once time has commenced to run under a law of limitation, it cannot be stopped, the rule is dependent on the continuance in force of the enactment under which time has been running. If the statutory pressure be removed by the total repeal of the Act, there is nothing to cause time to run against the creditor, unless the Legislature re-enact the old, or substitute some new, rule of limitation. ABDUL KARIM v. MANJI HANSRAJ, 1 B. 295.

(119)—Provisions of statutes, Crown how far affected by—Limitation Act (XV of 1877), s. 26, not applicable to the Crown—Rights of pasturage claimed as against Government—Profits a prendre, rule of English law regarding—Acquisition by custom or prescription.—The Crown cannot be deemed to be subject to the provisions of an Act, unless the enactment itself contains words to that effect. The mere mention of the Crown in an Act cannot have the effect of making all its provisions applicable to the Crown. S. 26 of the Limitation Act of XV of 1877 contains provisions in prejudice of the rights of the Crown and there is nothing in the Act evincing any intention on the part of the Legislature to include the Crown in s. 26. Also, the section is not exclusively one providing limitation for proceedings, but relates to a matter different from limitation, viz., to a branch of substantive law and the creation of rights by the enjoyment of them. The rule of English law that a claim to a profit a prendre cannot be acquired by the inhabitants of a village either by custom or prescription can have no application to the right of grazing claimed against the Government by the inhabitants of villages in the Presidency of Bombay. Such right of free pasturage has always been recognised by Government as belonging to certain villages and must have been acquired by custom or prescription. Such rights, however, admittedly enjoyed by the villagers according to the recognised custom, do not necessarily confer any right on any particular piece of land although it may confer the right of having sufficient land set apart for the purposes of the village. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. MATHURA BHAI, 14 B. 213. [Appr., 6 C.L.J. 218 ; R., L.B.R. 1872-1892. 550, 21 B. 684, 25 M. 457, 31 C. 503. P C.; R., 31 B. 86=8 Bom. L R. 904=2 M.L.T. 13, 20 M.L.J. 362=7 M.L.T. 390, 12 Bom. L R. 34.]

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(120)—Rule of construction—Limitation Act (1877), scope of—Preamble—Enabling terms and imperative terms, different effects of, in enactments.—A legislative mandate cannot be evolved from inferences based upon the mere use of words without expressly enacting terms, and this rule applies with especial force where a mandate or prohibition is sought to be evolved from words in the body of the Act referring to matters which fall beyond the scope and purview of the Act as represented in its preamble. There is not a word in the preamble to the Limitation Act to show that any alteration of the nature of personal laws of marriage and conjugal relations was intended, and in the absence of explicit declaration, either in express terms or unmistakeable implication, the scope of the enactment cannot be extended beyond the preamble, unless the body of the Act points to a different conclusion by employing enacting words of "irresistible clearness." To hold otherwise would be to credit the Legislature with disturbing well-settled existing rights of persons and property by indirect and almost surreptitious methods ; and this is one of the reasons why, in interpreting statutes, it is important to bear in mind the distinctions between words and phrases which are intended to be merely declaratory or enabling, and those which are employed to convey a mandate or prohibition by directory or imperative terms. BINDA v. KAUNSILIA, 13 A. 126=A.W.N. 1891, 18. [Commented on, 25 B. 644, F.B.; R., 28 C. 37=5 C.W.N. 195.]

(121)—Limitation Act, Rules as to interpretation of the provisions of—Rules obtaining in England not applicable.—In India, in interpreting Acts of Limitation, the Courts are not bound by the rules established by a balance of authority in England. The provisions of the

Statute, Construction of—continued.

Indian Limitation Act should not be subjected to the rule of strict construction against their operation. S. 4 of the Act places it beyond the power of the Judge, as well as beyond that of the defendant, to ignore or waive the plea of limitation. The rules of limitation here, not being waivable, the Limitation Acts are not to be construed as imposing a burden but as being emphatically " statutes of repose." MANGHU LAL v. KANDHAI LAL, 8 A. 475=A.W.N. 1886, 233. [R., 9 A. 11=A.W.N. (1886) 245, 10 A. 587, 12 A. 79=10 A.W.N 25.]

(122)—S. 230, Civ. Pro. Code—Construction of the provisions of the Limitation Act.—Per Innes, J.—The right to execute decrees having been curtailed by Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 230, the provisions of the Limitation Act should be construed, as far as possible, so as to prevent the defeat of bona fide endeavours to secure the fruits of a decree once obtained. KUNHI v. SESHAGIRI, 5 M. 141. [D., 76 P.R. 1904=132 P.L.R. 1904; R., 28 M. 557.]

(123)—Civ Pro. Code, 1882, s. 54—Limitation Act, 1877, s. 4—Construction of statutes.—It is one of the primary rules of construction to be applied to statutes, that if Statutes of the Legislature can be read so as to reconcile them, they are so to be read, as they are not to be read as in conflict unless it is manifest and apparent that there is conflict between them. If s. 54, Civ. Pro. Code, were to be construed as giving a Court power to extend limitation, that construction would be at variance with the plain wording of s. 4, Limitation Act, 1877, and with the clear intention of the legislature as evidenced by the Act, that a suit should not be entertained unless it was instituted within the periods of limitation prescribed by that Act. JAINTI PRASAD v. BACHU SINGH, 15 A. 65=A.W.N. 1893, 29.

(124)—Rule of construction — Meaning of words used in a technical sense — The words "beyond the seas."—The English Statute of Limitation applicate to Hindus and Mahomedans in India. The English Statute of Limitations, 21 Jac. I, c. 16, extends to India, and applies to Hindus and Mahomedans as well as Europeans, in civil actions in the Supreme Court. Where words have been long used in a technical sense, and have been judicially construed to have a certain meaning, and have been adopted by the Legislature as having a certain meaning, prior to a particular Statute, in which they are used, the rule of construction of Statutes requires that the words used in such Statute should be construed according to the sense in which they have been so previously used, although that sense may vary from the strict literal meaning of the words. The words in the Statute of Limitations 21 Jac. I, c. 16, s. 7, "beyond the seas," are synonymous, in legal import, with the words "out of the realm," or "out of the land," or "out of the territories," and are not to be construed literally. HER HIGHNESS RUCKMABOY v. LULLOOBHOY MOTTICHUND, 5 M. I.A. 234=8 Moo. P.C. 4=1 Sar. 423.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(125)—Mahommadan law—Remedial statute, construction of.—A remedial statute must be so construed as to give to it the widest operation which its language will permit. Accordingly, the words in s. 3 of Act V of 1843 "that the person from whom the property derived was a slave" must be taken to apply not only to a person who was a slave at the time of his or her death, but also to any person who had at any time been a slave. SAYAD MIR UJMUDDIN KHAN v. ZIA-UL-NISSA BEGAM, 5 C.L.R. 11, P. C.=3 B. 422=6 I.A. 137=4 Sar. 37.

(126)—Remedial measure- Mamlatdars Courts Act.—The Bombay Mamlatdars Courts Act is a remedial measure and must be liberally construed so as to advance the remedy. DEU v. SITARAM, 9 Bom. L R. 1179=32 B. 46.

(127)—Mahomedan law—Suit by wife to recover her property in husband's hands—Admission by husband of receipt of property—Plea of purchase set up by husband—Onus on husband to prove bona fides—Bona fide purchase of immoveable property from by stranger—Suit to set aside conveyance—Onus on plaintiff—Holding of lands benami—Court not to make every presumption against apparent owner—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 7, 200—Relinquish or omit to sue, meaning of—Distinct causes of action, Test of—Mahomedan husband's right to sue his wife for conjugal rights—Decision according to Mahomedan Law—Reg. IV of 1793, s. 15—Defence of legal cruelty—Court's order in suit for restitution, Execution of—Imprisonment and attachment.—This was a suit by a Mahomedan woman against her husband, after having left his protection, for recovering the value of certain company's papers and other personal estate, alleging that the above securities came to her hands whilst she was an inmate of his zenanah, that they got into the possession of the husband and were detained by him. Her case was that the securities were entrusted to him for a particular purpose, viz., that of receiving the interest on them for her, and that, though they may have been indorsed, she never meant to transfer the property in them. The husband's case was that he purchased them from her on several occasions, and that, on their indorsement and delivery, he paid her the full value for them. With respect to the burden of proof, the judgment of the Courts below proceeded on the principle that, although the wife may have failed to establish affirmatively the precise case alleged by her, her husband, having admitted the receipt of the securities from her, was bound to show something more than mere indorsement and delivery; that the relation of the parties being what it was, it lay upon him to prove that the transactions which he set up were bona fide sales and purchases, and that he actually gave full value for what he received from her. Their Lordships of the Judicial Committee expressed that the above principle was a sound one and was in accordance with the long established practice of the Courts in India. Their Lordships therefore decided that the wife was entitled to the protection which, according to the authorities, the law gives to a purdahnasheen, and that the burden of proving the reality and bona fides of the purchases pleaded by her husband was properly thrown on him, and that the husband having failed to discharge this burden, there was no ground for disturbing the concurrent judgments of the Courts below. [R., 4 A. 462, 8 A. 267, 12 M. 380; D., 15 W.R. 329.] In this case, it appeared that some immoveable properties of the wife had been conveyed by her to a person who purchased them bona fide. It was the wife that came into Court seeking to be relieved from the effect of her own conveyances the execution of which she did not dispute, against one who, if not an absolute stranger, stood in no fiduciary relation to her, and it was therefore held to be upon her to establish her right to that relief. The habit of holding lands benami is inveterate in India; but that does not justify the Courts in making every presumption against apparent ownership. [R., 18 W.R. 132, 9 C.W.N. 89, 6 C.L J. 472.] The words in s. 7 of Act VIII of 1859, namely, 'if a plaintiff relinquish or omit to sue for any portion of his claims,' include accidental or involuntary omissions as well as acts of deliberate relinquishment, and where the words of law are clear and positive, they cannot be controlled by any consideration of the motives of the party to whom it is to be applied, nor limited by what the Judges who apply it may suppose to have been the reasons for enacting it. The correct test in all cases of this kind is whether the claim in the new suit is, in fact founded on a cause of action distinct from that which was the foundation of the former suit. [Appl., 15 W.R. 408; F., 2 C.L J. 490; R., 9 W. R. F.B. 1=B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 774, 12 W.R. 79, 3 N.W.P. 27, 8 B.H.C. 205, 20 W.R. 450, 1 A. 543, 2 M. 352, 6 C. 142, 8 C. 483, 8 C. 819, 8 M. 520, 14 B. 31, 19 C. 352, 17 B. 573, 20 B. 469, 21 M. 153=8 M.L J. 92, 23 B. 597, 25 M. 736=12 M.L.J. 103, 29 C. 513, 26 M. 760.] On authority as well as principle, it is competent to a Mussalman husband to institute a suit in the Civil Courts of India for a declaration of his right to the possession of his wife, and for a sentence that she return to co-habitation, and such a suit must be determined according to the principles of the Mahomedan law. Their Lordships expressed that, if cruelty in a degree rendering it unsafe for the wife to return to her husband's dominion were established, the Court might refuse to send her back. The Mahomedan law, on the question of what is legal cruelty between husband and wife, is not materially different from the English law and, according to both, there must be actual violence of such a character as to endanger personal health or safety or there must be a reasonable apprehension of it. [R., 7 B.H.C. 122, 9 B.H.C. 290, 23 W.R. 178, 23 W.R. 179, 1 B. 164, 14 C. 276, 10 B. 301, 8 A. 149, 17 C. 670, 17 A. 126, 28 C. 37, 28 C. 751=5 C.W.N. 673, 25 B. 644, F.B., 4 Bom. L.R. 820, 34 C. 971=9 C.W.N. 510=1 C.L.J. 283, 7 Bom. L.R. 602, 29 A. 222=4 A.L.J. 60=A.W.N. 1907, 27, 31 B. 366=9 Bom.L.R. 451.]

Statute, Construction of—continued.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

In this case, their Lordships expressed their doubt whether in such a case, under the new Act of procedure, regulating the Civil Courts of India, in the event of disobedience on the part of the wife to obey the order of the Court, she might be given over bodily into her husband's hands. They stated that the disobedience of such an order directing the wife to return to co-habitation would fall within s. 200 of the Code so as to be enforcible only by imprisonment or attachment of property or both. MOONSHEE BUZLOOR RUHEEM v. SHUMSOONISSA BEEGUM. 8 W.R P.C. 3=11 M.I.A. 551=2 Suther. 59=2 Sar. 259.

(128)—Existence of two or more remedies—Effect.—Where the law provides two or more remedies, it cannot be said that one debars the other. SHANKARAHAI v. DIN DIAL, 12 A. 409, F.B.=A.W.N. 1890, 145.

(129)—Statutes, construction of—Substantive and Adjective law.—It is a general rule in construing statutes that, in matters of substantive right, they are not to be so read as to take away vested rights, but that, in matters of procedure, they are general in their operation. The Legislature does not appear to have departed from this settled principle of legislation in the Transfer of Property Act—Per Wilson, J. There is a clear distinction between relief and the mode or procedure for obtaining such relief. The relief remains unaffected by a change of procedure. The rights and liabilities of a mortgagor and mortgagee, and the relief in respect of such rights and liabilities, are the same under the Transfer of Property Act as they were before, though a different procedure for enforcing such rights and obtaining such relief has been adopted by the Transfer of Property Act. The procedure for enforcing a right is no portion of that right, nor does it alter or affect it—Per Trevelyan, J. BHOBO SUNDARI DEBI v. RAKHAL CHUNDER BOSE, 12 C. 583, F.B.

(130)—Retrospective effect.—It is not in accordance with sound principles of interpreting statutes to give them a retrospective effect. MUHAMMAD ABDUS SAMAD v. QURBAN HUSAIN, 26 A. 119, P.C.=31 I.A. 30=6 Bom. L.R. 238=8 C.W.N. 201=8 Sar. 593. [R., 31 A. 557=10 C.L.J. 297=14 C.W.N. 59, 7 Bom. L.R. 618.]

(131)—Construction of Acts—Retrospective effect.—An enactment affecting rights of property is not to be so construed as to give it retrospective effect, unless the intention that it shall have such effect clearly appears. TUPSEE SINGH v. RAM SARUN KOERI, 15 C. 376, F.B. [F., 21 C. 940, F.B.]

(132)—Retrospective effect—Vested rights.—An act is not to be deemed to be retrospective which takes away or impairs any vested right acquired under existing laws. MACLEOD v. B. B. AND C. I. RY. CO., 7 Bom. L.R. 618=7 Bom. L.R. 337.

(133)—Retrospective effect to be avoided.—Where an enactment would prejudicially affect vested rights or the legal character of past transactions, it should be construed to operate in future, unless, from the language, a retrospective effect is clearly intended. KALA TIHARI v. NARAIN, 13 C.P.L.R. 143. [Rel. on, 16 C. P.L.R. 135, 17 C.P.L.R. 33.]

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(134)—Cattle Trespass Act I of 1871, s. 20—Wrongful seizure of cattle—Suit for damages, maintainability of.—The remedy given by s. 20 of the Cattle Trespass Act, 1871, is cumulative and does not deprive the person injured, of the right he otherwise has to recover damages by Civil suit. The Legislature in this section intended merely to give a summary remedy for recovery of damages and expenses, and release of cattle illegally seized, without making that remedy exclusive—Per Fitzpatrick, J. The general rule is that when a right exists at common law and a statute is passed giving a new remedy for an infringement of it, it is to be presumed, in the absence of anything to indicate the contrary, that such new remedy is meant to be cumulative and that it is not the intention of the Legislature to take away the old remedy at common law. SURJAN v. BHOWANI SAHAI, 92 P.R. 1877.

(135)—Acts interfering with private rights—Interpretation.—Where an Act expressly takes away one particular remedy, which would otherwise have been open for enforcing a right of property, or in any other particular interferes with proprietary rights, but does not, in express words or by necessary implication, declare that those rights shall cease to exist, the method of interpretation which ought to be adopted is to give effect to the Act exactly so far as its words extend, and no further. E. G., See the provisions as to benami purchases contained in the Revenue Sale Acts and those portions of the Procedure Codes relating to execution sales. KRISTO CHUNDER DASS v. O. STEEL, 12 C. 279.

(136)—Principle of interpretation — Taking away private right of property.—It is a well-settled principle of interpretation that no statute is to be construed to take away private right of property, unless such an intention appears by express words, or by necessary implication. UMACHURN BAG v. AJADANNISSA BIBEE, 12 C. 430.

(137)—Retrospectivity of statutes, rule as to—Registration Act (III of 1877), s. 50.—Every statute, which takes away or impairs vested rights acquired under existing laws, or creates a new obligation, or imposes a new duty, or attaches a new disability in respect of transactions or considerations already past, must be presumed, out of respect to the Legislature, to be intended not to have a retrospective operation. KANITKAR v. JOSHI, 5 B. 442.

(138)—Registration Act, 1887, s. 50—Retrospective effect.—The provisions of s. 50 of the Registration Act, 1877, have no retrospective effect. BHOLA NATH v. BALDEO, 2 A. 198. [R., 6 B. 168, F.B.]

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(139)—Vested rights—Retrospectivity.—There is a strong legal presumption against the retrospective operation of an enactment, especially where such an operation affects vested rights, unless the terms of the Act clearly and unambiguously show that such was the intention of the legislature (Dash v. Venkleek, 7 Johns. 477, R.) RANCHODDAS DAYALDAS v. RANCHODDAS NANABHAI, 1 B. 581.

(140)—Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871)—Not retrospective—The Pensions Act (XXIII) of 1871) is not retrospective in its operation. JAMNADAS v. LALITARM, 2 B. 294.

(141)—Madras Act VIII of 1865—No retrospective operation.—Madras Act VIII of 1855 has no retrospective operation. The general principle is that rights already acquired shall not be affected by the retro-action of a new law. Rules as to procedure are an exception. The law as to the acquisition of rights is that prevailing at the period of the arising of the matters of fact which generate them. Their enforcement must be according to the rules of process at the period of suit. G. LEE MORRIS, v. SAMBAMURTHI RAYAR, 6 M.H.C. 122. [R., 22 B. 884, 7 Ind. Cas. 11.]

(142)— Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act, 1879, s. 12.—S. 12 of the Act must be allowed a retrospective effect only in so far as it regulates the procedure of the Court. The portion of the section "and secondly with a view to taking an account between such parties in manner hereinafter provided" must be denied a retrospective effect. FATMABIBI v. GANESH BALLAL, 9 Bom. L R. 917=31 B. 630, reconsidering 8 Bom. L. R. 798.

(143)—Act IX of 1859—Retrospective operation.—Act IX of 1859 is plainly retrospective in its operation and includes claims to forfeited property which had been confiscated previously to its passing. MAHOMED BAHADUR KHAN v. THE COLLECTOR OF BAREILLY, 13 B.L.R. 292, P.C.=21 W.R. 318=1 I.A. 167=3 Sar. 363.

(144)—Act X of 1859, s. 6.—S. 6, Act X of 1959 is retrospective. THAKOORANEE DOSSEE v. BISHESHUR MOOKERJEE, B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 202=3 W.R. Act X, Rul. 29.

(145)—Semble—Repeal of Acts—Effect upon existing rights—Act I of 1868, s. 6.—Independently of s. 6 of Act I of 1868, the repealing of an Act, would not affect rights already acquired. BESSESSUR BHUGUT v. MURLI SAHU, 9 C. 163=11 C.L.R. 409.

(146)—Legislation—Substantive rights—Procedure—Pending suit.—It is a general rule that when the Legislature alters the rights of parties by taking away or conferring any right of action, its enactments, unless in express terms they apply to pending actions, do not affect them. But there is an exception to this rule, namely, where enactments merely affect procedure, but do not extend to rights of action. VEDAVALLI NARASIAH v. MANGAMMA, 27 M. 538. [F., 5 M.L.T. 27=32 M. 140.]

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(147)—Procedure Codes—Construction.—The widest possible construction should be put upon Codes of Procedure as distinguished from substantive law. GOBINDA RAM MONDAL v. BHOLANATH BHATTA, 15 C. 432.

(148)—Construction of statutes—Rule as to retro-activity of enactments.—Per Westropp, J.—As a general rule, a retro-active effect should not, in the absence of express language or necessary implication showing that the intention of the legislature is otherwise, be given to statutes or Acts. The rule does not apply where a Statute is remedial, and merely alters procedure, without diverting any pre-existing right. Per Bayley, J.—When, of two possible constructions, one is in strict harmony with the improvements introduced by the Act, and with the spirit of modern legislation, while the other treats the point under consideration as not having been considered by the legislature at all, the former is to be preferred. Cases as to construction of statutes relating to procedure and retrospective effect of enactments generally, reviewed and discussed at great length. In the matter of the petition of RATANSI KALIANJI, 2 B. 148. [F., 9 C. 446=12 C.L.R 431, 9 C.L.R. 281, 5 B. 653, 6 B. 26, 11 B. 469, 12 B. 449, 21 B. 822, 153 P.L.R. 1901, 88 P.L.R. 1904=90 P.R. 1904, 31 B. 630=9 Bom. L.R. 917, F.B.]

(149)—Alteration in law—Laws governing a suit.—Where the law is altered when a suit is pending, the law which existed when the suit was commenced must decide the rights of the parties. PRABHAKAR KASHINATH v. KHANDERAO ANTAJIRAO, 10 Bom. L. R. 625.

(150)—Alterations in procedure—Retrospectivity.—Changes of law relating to procedure hav eretrospective effect. BALAKRISHNA PANDHARINATH v. BAPU YESAJI, 19 B. 204.

(151)—Procedure—Change of law—New Act to apply.—Where a new Act has come into force after the institution of a suit, that Act will apply to matters of procedure. SEVAI ROWTAN v. THASILDAR OF PERIAKULAM, 6 M.L.J. 122. (3 M. 98, Rel. on.)

(152)—Indian Companies Act, 1857 and 1866 —Illegal contract—Effect of alteration of law on pending suits.—This was a suit to recover from the defendants a certain sum, in specific performance of an agreement in writing made between the plaintiffs and the defendants on 1st March 1865, for the purchase and sale of a share in the Bombay Reclamation Co., which the plaintiffs were ready and willing to deliver, but which the defendants had refused to accept. The plaint was amended, at the trial, by the addition of a prayer for damages, in the event of specific performance not being granted. The original Court dismissed the plaintiffs' suit on the ground that the plaintiffs could not sue on the alleged contract, as the same was void by reason of its having been entered into before the plaintiffs' company was registered and at a time when it was an illegal association. An appeal was made against this decree on the grounds that the alleged contract was not illegal nor was it rendered invalid by s. 2 of Act XIX of 1857. Held (i) that upon the proper construction of s. 2 of Act XIX of 1857, the contract was illegal and that the plaintiff could not sue on it; and (ii) that, although Act XIX of 1857 was repealed by Act X of 1866, still the rights of the parties in this suit must be governed by it, because the suit was commenced when Act XIX of 1857 was the Act which was in force. When a law is altered while an action is pending, the law as it existed when the action was commenced must decide the rights of the parties, unless the Legislature, by the language used, show a clear intention to vary the mutual relations of such parties. In the present case, Act X of 1866, in s. 220, far from showing any clear intention to vary the mutual relation of the parties under the previous law, indicated an intention that the relation should be preserved, because—without going to the extent of saying that the right which the party has to defend himself, in a suit brought upon the contract, on the ground that it was illegal, is a right or privilege acquired under the repealed Act,—the introduction of that provision by the Legislature, in repealing the former Act, shows an intention that the relation of the parties should be preserved. GUJARAT TRADING CO. v. TRIKAMJI VELZI, 3 B.H.C.O.C. 45. [R., 15 B. 79, 10 Bom. L. R. 625, 11 Bom. L. R. 1372=34 B. 220=4 Ind. Cas. 843.]

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(153)—Wager contracts enacted invalid after suits in Supreme Court—Act XXI of 1848 —Existing contracts not affected—Retrospective operation.—After an action was entered in the Supreme Court at Calcutta, upon a wager contract, wager contracts were declared invalid by Act XXI of 1848. Held, not to affect existing contracts, or actions already commenced upon such contracts, there being no words in the Act to show the intention of the Legislature to affect existing rights. Statutes are prima facie, deemed to be prospective only: "Nova constitutio futuris formam imponere debet, non praeteritis" DOOLUBDASS PETTAMBERDASS v. RAMLOLL THACKOORSEYDASS, 5 M. I A. 109=7 Moo. P. C. 239=Perry O C. 232=1 Sar. 403.

(154)—Contracts made without prescribed formalities—Legality—Repeal of Act prescribing formalities—Fate of contracts—A statute restricting Courts of Justice from hearing and determining suits upon certain contracts not entered into without the consent of Government and not registered in a particular manner, does not render those contracts illegal, and, therefore, when that statute has been repealed, such contracts may be enforced in Courts of Justice, although entered into whilst the statute was in force. GOPEE MOHUN TAKOOR v. RAJAH RADHANAT, 2 Knapp 228.

(155)—Pending proceedings—Subsequent passing of statute—Construction.—Alterations in forms of procedure prescribed by subsequent statutes are retrospective in effect and apply to pending proceedings. HAJRAT ATRAMNISSA BEGAM v. VALIUNISSA BEGAM, 18 B. 429. [F., 7 Ind. Cas. 11 ; R., 153 P.L.R 1901.]

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(156)—Statutes, Construction of—Law governing suit when law is changed pending suit.—The law, as it exists when a suit is commenced, must decide the rights of the parties to the suit, unless the Legislature has expressed a clear intention to vary the relative rights of the parties to each other in the new law. Rule followed in the interpretation of Act X of 1859. BUNGSHEEDHUR DOSS v. MAHOMED KHULEEL, 1 Hay 369.

(157)—Rights of parties—Alteration by Legislature—Effect—Pending actions—Procedure—Madras Acts II of 1894 and III of 1895.—It is a general rule that when the Legislature alters the rights of parties by taking away or conferring any right of action, its enactments, unless in express terms they apply to pending actions, do not affect them. But there is an exception to this rule, namely, where enactments merely affect procedure, but do not extend to rights of action. (Per Jessel, M.R., in In re Joseph Suche and Co., 1 Ch. D. 50, F.) There is nothing in the wording of s. 31 of Madras Act III of 1895 to negative the application of this general rule. Madras Act II of 1894, when extended to the office of Village Accountant in the Venkatagiri Estate, did not take away the jurisdiction of the Court to decide the suits then pending before it. CHINNA NARASIAH v. MANGAMMA, 14 M.L.J. 340. [R., 7 Ind. Cas. 11.]

(158)—Bombay Vatandar's Act—Application of, to pending suits.—It is a general rule that when the Legislature alters the rights of parties by taking away or conferring any right of action, its enactments, unless in express terms they apply to pending actions, do not affect them. BHUJANG HANMAJI KULKARNI v. SANJIVA BASWANT, 2 B. 374, Note.

(159)—Right of appeal is not a mere matter of procedure.—To disturb an existing right of appeal is not a mere alteration of procedure. NANA ABA v. SHEKU ANDU, 10 Bom. L.R. 330=32 B. 337.

(160)—Act XXV of 1857, s. 9—Right of action barred—Repeal of Act—Act IX of 1871.—A right of action which was extinguished by Act XXV of 1857 is not revived by the repeal of the Act. THAKOOR KAPILNAUTH SAHAI DEO v. THE GOVERNMENT, 13 B.L R. 445=22 W.R. 17. [F., 4 C. 283 ; Appl., 3 C. 331.]

(161)—Right to sue for debt barred—Effect of repeal of enactments—Right not revived.—Where, under a previous enactment, the right to sue for a debt was barred, the subsequent repeal of that enactment would not revive the right to sue, the debt being extinguished. NOCOOR CHUNDER BOSE v. KALLY COOMAR GHOSE, 1 C. 328. [Expl., 6 C.L R. 489 ; R., 7 C.L.R. 121.]

(162)—Repeal of statute—Absence of express words—Right acquired, under repealed statute.—

Statute, Construction of—continued.

The repeal of a statute or other legislative enactment cannot, without express words, or clear implication to that effect, in the repealing Act, take away a right acquired under the repealed statute or other enactment while it was in force. SITARAM VASUDEV v. KHANDERAV BALKRISHNA, 1 B. 286. [F., 1 B. 295 ; R., 2 B. 148, F.B , 153 P.L.R. 1901, 90 P. R 1904=88 P.L.R. 1904]

(163)—Conflict of statutes—Rule of interpretation—Intention of legislature.—When enactments are apparently opposed, one must, if possible, be read as qualification of the other, so that some effect, furthering the intention of the legislature, may be given to each. SHANKER RAMACHANDRA v. VISHNU ANANT, 1 B. 67.

(164)—Conflict of enactments—Later to be followed.—Where a conflict arises on a comparison of two enactments, the one of later date must be followed. AJOODHYA PERSHAD v. GUNGA PERSHAD, 6 C. 249=6 C.L.R. 367. [R., 4 A. 27.]

(165)—Provisions of Civ. Pro. Code inconsistent with those of Probate and Administration Act - Procedure.—If the provisions of Civ. Pro. Code are inconsistent with those of the Probate and Administration Act, those of the Code must prevail, as it is the later enactment. ESOOF HASSHIM BOOPLY v. FATEMA BIBI, 24 C. 30=1 C.W.N. 8.

(166)—Indian Contract Act, 1872—Scope.—The Indian Contract Act, so far as it goes, is exhaustive and imperative. MOHRI BIBEE v. DHARMODAS GHOSE, 30 C. 539, P.C.=30 I.A. 114=1 C. W. N. 441=5 Bom. L.R. 421=8 Sar. 374. [F., 10 Bom. L.R. 1113, 11 Bom. L. R. 335.]

(167)—Prerogative of Crown—Rule of Interpretation.—The rule of interpretation that the prerogative and the advantages it affords cannot be taken away except by the consent of the Crown embodied in a statute, applies not only to the statutes passed by the British, but also to the Acts of the Indian Legislature, framed with constant reference to the rules recognised in England. GANPAT PUTAYA v. THE COLLECTOR OF KANARA, 1 B. 7. [F., 25 M. 457=12 M.L.J. 208 ; R., 14 B. 213, 31 B. 86, F. B., 8 Bom. L. R. 904=2 M.L.T. 13, 12 Bom. L. R. 34.]

(168)—Incomplete transfer—Transfer of Property Act, 1882.—After the Transfer of Property Act came into force, a transfer of immoveable property cannot be effected in any manner not prescribed by the Act. IMMADIPATTAM THIRUGNANA v. PERIYA DORASAMI, 24 M. 377=5 C.W.N. 217=22 I.A. 46, P.C.=7 Sar. 811. [R., 29 M. 336=16 M.L.J. 395=1 M.L.T. 153, 26 M. 339.]

(169)—Arbitrator incapable of acting—Court superseding reference—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 319.—When one of the arbitrators becomes incapable of acting, the Court is competent to supersede the reference and decide the case itself. Ss. 318 and 319 of the Code are throughout permissive and not obligatory. BISHUN v. BHAG AND GOPAL, 66 P.R. 1870.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

(170)—The Charter of the Court is to be construed by the Acts of the Parliament to which it refers. To exclude the jurisdiction on the ground that the matter concerns the revenue, the connection must be immediate, not consequent or argumentative. To restrict it in respects of acts ordered or done according to the regulations of the Governor in Council, it must appear that they had reference to the collection of the revenue. The regulations relied upon must be set forth upon the plea or answer. Natives, bound by the rules of the service into which they enter, cannot recover back bribes which they have been (it may be improperly) compelled by the Company to give up. Interest and costs refused to a Native of this description, with reference to claims in which he succeeded. VENCATA RUNGA PILLAI v. THE HONOURABLE EAST INDIA COMPANY, Strange's Notes of Cases, Vol. I, 174.

(171)—Charter Act, s. 12—Construction of. —S. 12 of the Charter does not require persons to personally carry on business, within the limits specified in order to give jurisdiction to the High Court. M.R.R.M. MUTHAYA CHETTI v. JOHN HARRISON ALLAN, 4 M. 209. [F., 12 B. 507, 17 B. 662.]

Scope of preamble—See ACT XIX OF 1841, s. 3, 6 Ind. Cas. 259=12 C.L.J. 8.

"Representative," meaning of the term, in Act XIII of 1855—See ACT XIII OF 1855, 15 M.L.J. 363=28 M. 479.

Of the word 'relative' in s. 3 of the Lunatics Act (XXXV of 1858)—See ACT XXXV OF 1858 ss. 3, 22, 94 P.R. 1906.

See ACT IX OF 1861, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 193.

Effect of legislative change upon proceedings instituted before change—See ACT I OF 1868, s. 6, 16 C. 267, F B.

Inference from punctuation—See ACT IV OF 1869, s. 3 (1), 171 P.L.R. 1911.

See ACT X OF 1870, s. 55, 11 A. 378=A.W. N. 1889, 104.

Value of marginal notes—See ACT XVIII OF 1879, ss. 12, 13 and 14, 6 Ind. Cas. 313=8 M. L.T. 22=11 Cr.L.J. 310=20 M.L.J. 500.

Of the words 'undivided family' and 'dwelling house' in s. 4 of Act IV of 1893 (Partition) —See ACT IV OF 1893, s. 4, 9 O.C. 156.

Where statutory rights of an exceptional character have been created—See ACT I OF 1894, s. 6 (1), 11 C.L.J. 612=6 Ind. Cas. 457.

Construction of statutes conferring on private promoters or corporations, a special power of acquiring land and of encroaching upon general rights—See ACT I OF 1894, ss. 6, 7, 9 to 12, 2 S.L.R. 68.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

Meaning of the words 'Person interested' in s. 18 (1) of the Land Acquisition Act—See ACT I OF 1894, s. 18, 10 C.W.N. 195.

The word 'house' in s. 49 of Act I of 1894, meaning of—See ACT I OF 1894, s. 49, 9 O.C. 311.

Statutes conferring jurisdiction—Construction—See ACT IX OF 1899, ss. 8, 9, 3 S.L.R. 221=6 Ind. Cas. 857.

Principle of interpretation—See ACT II OF 1902, ss. 21, 26, 28, 34, 13 P. R. 1909=31 P. L. R. 1909=17 P.W.R. 1909=1 Ind. Cas. 431.

See BEN. ACT XI OF 1859, s. 31, 11 C. 359.

See BEN. ACT XI OF 1859, s. 37, 24 C. 334.

Whether benefit of the 4th exception to s. 37 of Act XI of 1859 can be extended to cover lands, included in lease, whereon buildings and tanks, etc., have not been constructed—Exception limited only to land covered by buildings, tanks, etc.—See BEN. ACT XI OF 1859, s. 37, exc. 4, 12 C.W.N. 1029.

See BEN. ACT IV OF 1876, s. 357, 18 C. 91.

Of the words 'such debts and liabilities' in s. 3 of Act VI of 1876 (Bengal)—See BEN. ACT VI OF 1876, s. 3, 4 C.L.J. 238=33 C. 1065.

Court when can override plain language of statute—Use of proviso—See BEN. ACT III of 1884, s. 85, 11 C.L J. 524=6 Ind. Cas. 410=14 C.W.N. 857=37 C. 697.

"May" and "shall"—Meaning of—See BEN. ACT III OF 1884, s. 339, 17 C. 329.

In matters of procedure, amending Acts affect legal proceedings commenced under repealed provisions—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 106, 12 C.W.N. 987.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 148, cl. (h), 6 C.W.N. 91.

Meaning of the term 'protected interest' in s. 160 of the Bengal Tenancy Act—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, ss. 160, cl. (g), 167, 9 C.W. N. 803=32 C. 911.

Act conferring new right—Retrospective operation—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 174, 14 C. 636, F.B.

See BEN. ACT II OF 1888, ss. 24, 25, 19 C. 198, Note.

Value of marginal notes—See BEN. ACT XV OF 1891, s. 4, 6 Ind. Cas. 392.

S. 634 of Bengal Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipality)—'Cause of action'—'Accrual of right to sue'—See BEN. ACT III OF 1899, s. 634, 9 C.W.N. 217=32 C. 277.

See BOM. ACT X OF 1876, s. 11, 20 B. 803.

See BOM. ACT V OF 1878, s. 55, 17 B. 154.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, 8 B. 340.

One statute incorporated by reference into a second statute—Repeal of the first by a third —Effect on the second—See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, s. 13, cl. (c), 13 Bom. L.R. 503.

See BOM. ACT VI OF 1888, s. 31, cl. 2, 17 B. 289.

The Mamlatdars Courts Act, 1906, in so far as it disturbs an existing right of appeal is not an enactment of procedure and has no retrospective effect—See BOM. ACT II OF 1906, 10 Bom. L.R. 330=32 B. 337.

Acts, retrospective operation of—See BUR. ACT VI OF 1900, s. 27, 5 L.B.R. 148=5 Ind. Cas. 980.

Rule of—See C. P. ACT XVIII OF 1881, ss. 71, 138 (a), 5 N. L. R. 189.

Rule of construction—Words of old statute made part of new statute—Object—See C. P. ACT IX OF 1883, s. 41 (5), 6 N.L.R. 69=6 Ind. Cas. 819.

Statutes interfering with private rights, construction of—See C. P. ACT IX OF 1883, s. 41 (7), 4 N.L.R. 45.

Meaning of the word 'days' in s. 55 of the Madras District Municipalities Act—See MAD. ACT IV OF 1884, s. 55, 16 M.L.J. 101=29 M. 329.

"As if they were arrears of land-revenue," meaning of the phrase in s. 28 of Act I of 1886 (Madras, Abkari)—See MAD. ACT I OF 1886, s. 28, 28 M. 420.

See PUN. ACT I OF 1900, 53 P.L.R. 1901= 39 P.R. 1901, 153 P.L.R. 1901=4 P.R. 1902.

Expression "whether that right has accrued before or after its commencement" in s. 2 (3) of Punjab Pre-emption Act, 1903, includes right created by Act itself—See PUN. ACT II OF 1905, s. 2 (3), 22 P.R. 1906=48 P.W.R. 1908=122 P.L.R. 1908.

Of ss. 8, 11, 14, 15 and 22, cl. (6) of Act I of 1869, Oudh Estates—See U.P. ACT I OF 1869, ss. 8, 11, 14, 15 and 22, cl (b). 8 O.C. 45.

Value of marginal notes—See U.P. ACT I OF 1869, ss. 14, 15, 22. 11 Bom.L.R. 516, P.C. =8 C.W.N. 699=1 A.L.J. 384=7 O.C. 248=3 Ind. Cas. 359.

Interpretation of statutes—Marginal notes in Indian statutes—See U.P. ACT I OF 1869, ss. 14, 15, 22, cl. (6), 3 O.C. 120.

Construction of the word 'legatee' in s. 22 of Act I of 1869 (Oudh Estates)—See U.P. ACT I OF 1869, s. 22, 2 C.L.J. 194, P.C.=9 C.W. N. 1009=8 O.C. 317=15 M.L.J. 352=27 A. 634.

See U.P. ACT XVII OF 1876, ss. 173, 174, 5 O.C. 256.

Construction of the word 'sub-division' in the Oudh Laws Act—See U.P. ACT XVIII OF 1876, ss. 8 and 9, 9 O.C. 211.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

Revenue enactments passed on the same day —Interpreting terms of one Act by reference to the terms of the other—See U.P. ACT XVIII OF 1876, s. 9, 14 C.W.N. 817, P.C.=12 C.L.J. 40 =12 Bom. L.R. 508=8 M.L.T. 89=13 O.C. 165=7 Ind. Cas. 196.

Rule of construction of articles of Limitation Act—See CARRIERS, 8 Ind. Cas. 882=9 M.L. T. 169.

Of the term 'representative' in s. 244, Civ. Pro. Code—Purchaser of putni tenure—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, 9 C.W.N. 824= 32 C. 1031.

Meaning of the words "representatives" and "or their representatives" in s. 244, Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, 8 O.C. 370.

When statutes are to be construed as operating—Retrospective operation—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 48, 7 A.L.J. 420=6 Ind. Cas. 188=32 A. 499.

S. 295, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—'Against the same judgment-debtor'—See CIV. PRO, CODE, 1908, s. 73, 8 O.C. 86.

Meaning of the words "purporting to be done in official capacity" in s. 424, Civ. Pro. Code —See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 80, 9 O.C. 275.

Statutes imposing restrictions upon the subject's right of suit to be construed strictly— See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 92, 93, 1 S.L.R 155.

Meaning of 'direction of the Court is necessary for the administration' and 'such further or other relief' in s. 539, Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 92 and 93, 10 C.W. N. 581=33 C. 789.

Laws affecting rights—Retrospective effect— See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 104, 105, 154, 7 A.L.J. 1070=8 Ind. Cas. 8.

Of 'substantial question of law' in s. 596 of the Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 110, 59 P.R. 1905=177 P.L.R. 1905.

Of 'the value of the matter in dispute' in s. 596 of the Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 110, 60 P.R. 1905=150 P.L.R. 1905.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 115, 13 C. 225.

Meaning of the expression 'same matter' in s. 28, Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O.I, rr. 3, 4 (b), 16 M.L.J. 39=29 M. 50.

Rule as to—Construction of provisions of the Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. I, r. 3, O. II, r. 3, s. 115, 7 N.L.R. 130.

Of s. 539, Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. I, r. 8 (1), ss. 92 and 93, 9 C. W.N. 594.

Meaning of the words 'suit' and 'plaintiff' in s. 43, Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, r. 2, O. VIII, r. 6, 1 C.L.J. 364= 32 C. 654.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

Of the words 'not resident' in s. 37 of the Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. III, r. 2, 2 A.L.J. 626=A.W.N. 1905, 221=28 A. 135.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O.V. r. 17, O. XVI, rr. 10 to 13, 17, 18, 3 C.W.N. 307.

Meaning of the words 'Fails to present' in s. 113 of the Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. VIII, r. 9, 16 M.L.J. 30.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 16 and s. 47, 26 M. 264.

Meaning of the words 'the right which the plaintiff claims to the property in dispute' in s. 283, Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 58, 61, 63, 3 C.L.J. 381.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 64, s. 65, 6 C.L.J. 130=34 C. 836.

"Person whose immoveable property has been sold" in s. 310-A, Civ. Pro. Code—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 89, 94, s. 65, 17 M.L.J. 127=30 M. 214.

Acts of procedure — Retrospective effect—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXIX, rr. 2, 3, 12 Bom. L.R. 730.

On points specifically dealt with by enactments, Courts cannot disregard or go outside the letter of enactments—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLIII, rr. 5, 6, s. 104, O. XLIII, r. 1, 3 C.L.J. 67=33 C. 927.

Construction of the word 'object' in s. 23 of the Contract Act—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 23, 10 C.W.N. 755=33 C. 702.

Absence of a provision in an Act is not legislative withdrawal—Construction of Contract Act—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 39, 73, 11 Bom. L.R. 335=2 Ind. Cas. 475=34 B. 192.

Extension of principles underlying the existing law to new phases of affairs by analogy and other methods—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 87 and 88, 19 P.W.R. 1906, F.B.=18 P. R. 1908=156 P.L.R. 1908.

Construction of limitation laws—See CUSTOMS—PUNJAB—ALIENATION, 9 Ind. Cas. 300, F.B.

Construction of Statutes of Limitation—See DEBUTTER PROPERTY, 10 C.L.J. 284, P.C.=6 A.L.J. 857=11 Bom. L.R. 734=19 M.L.J. 530=36 C. 1003=14 C.W.N. 1=4 Ind. Cas. 449.

See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT—ENHANCEMENT, LIABILITY TO, 6 N.W.P. 373.

Statute of limitation—See ESTOPPEL—ESTOPPEL BY JUDGMENT, 6 C.L.J. 621.

Relaxing or avoiding Indian Statute Law by applying principles of equity—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 92, 3 N.L.R. 19.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

Right and jurisdiction expressly conferred by statute--When can be taken away—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—GENERAL, 10 M.L.T. 437.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—EFFECT OF CHANGE OF LAW PENDING EXECUTION, 21 C. 940, F.B.

Rules of—Legislative recognition of the—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MODE OF EXECUTION, 9 C.L.J. 271=36 C. 543=1 Ind. Cas. 168.

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT, 1890, ss. 34, 41, 5 C.W.N. 207.

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT, 1890, s. 39, 18 B. 375.

Construction of statutes by reference to repealed statutes, when permissible—Statute 24 & 25, Vict., c. 105, referred to as throwing light on 28 & 29 Vict., c. 15—See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF—CALCUTTA, 12 C.W.N. 657=35 C. 701=7 C.L.J. 563.

Illustrations ought not to be construed as limiting the right given by the section—Illustration (c) of S. 42 of the Specific Relief Act—See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONERS, 28 M. 57=14 M.L.J. 209.

See INTEREST—SPECIAL CASES, 11 W.R. P.C. 19=2 B.L.R. 44, P.C.=12 M.I.A. 157.

Meaning of the words 'total interest decreed' in Regulation III of 1872 (Sonthal Pergunnahs Usuary Laws) as amended by Regulation V of 1893, s. 24—See INTEREST—SPECIAL CASES, 1 C.L.J. 182.

Statute when may by held to have been repealed by another statute by implication—See—LEASE—GENERAL, 6 Ind. Cas. 685=12 C.L.J. 126.

Meaning of the word 'dwell' in art. 12 of the Letters Patent—See LETTERS PATENT, HIGH COURT, 1865—MADRAS, s. 12, 1 M.L.T. 71=16 M.L.J. 238=29 M. 239.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 3, 22 M. 494.

S. 5, Limitation Act—Meaning of the words 'sufficient cause'—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ss. 4, 5, 3 C.L.J. 545=10 C.W.N. 986=33 C. 1323.

Construction of Limitation Act--See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 10, arts. 120, 123, 12 Bom. L.R. 881=8 Ind. Cas. 189.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 13, 2 N.W.P. 173.

All legislation is primarily territorial—Limit when to be placed upon the general sense of words used in statutes—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 14, 12 Bom. L.R. 977=8 Ind. Cas. 645.

Acknowledgment by agent—Repeal of previous Limitation Act—Revival of right to sue—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 19, 8 A.L.J. 1272.

Statute, Construction of—continued.

Construction of the words 'new plaintiff' in s. 372, Civ. Pro. Code—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 22, 9 C.W.N. 883.

Meaning of the word "interruption" in s. 26 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877)—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 26, 73 P.R. 1905=203 P.L.R. 1905.

Suits for contribution—Interpretation of Limitation Act—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 61, 99, 100 and 120, P.L.R. 1900, p. 149.

Construction of the words "wrongfully in possession" in art. 109 of the Limitation Act. —See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 109, 120, 3 C.L.J. 182.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 171, 6 B. 26.

Construction of the words 'date of issuing notice' in art. 179 (5) of Limitation Act, 1877 —See LIMITATION ACT, 1908—STEP-IN-AID OF EXECUTION, art. 182, 10 C.W.N. 303=4 C. L.J. 530.

Municipalities Act, Construction of—See MUNICIPALITY, 6 N.L.R. 53=6 Ind. Cas. 431.

Repealing of old law—Effect of Procedure under new law—See POSSESSION—SUITS FOR POSSESSION, 2 A. 94.

Of the word 'lands' in s. 10 of the Punjab Laws Act—See PRE-EMPTION—RIGHT TO PRE-EMPT, 22 P.R. 1906=115 P.L.R. 1906.

Construction of the word 'village' in the Punjab Laws Act. See PRE-EMPTION — MISCELLANEOUS, 21 P.R. 1906.

When one statute may be impliedly repealed by a subsequent statute—See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT, 1909, ss. 17, 103, 12 Bom. L.R. 750.

See PROBATE—EFFECT OF PROBATE, 8 B. 241.

Meaning of the words 'persons claiming to have an interest in the estate'—See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881, ss. 69 and 71, 1 C.L.J. 258.

Statutes conferring summary remedy are to be strictly applied—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1886, s. 53, 6 M.H.C. 4.

See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 2, 5 M.L. J. 27.

See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 17, 18 B. 92.

See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 50, 6 B. 495.

See SMALL CAUSE COURTS, PRESIDENCY TOWNS, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 17 B. 662.

Where the law has been codified it is of little avail to inquire what is the law apart from such codification, and the Courts must look to the Code itself as their guide in the matter—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 57, 13 C.W.N. 255=9 C.L.J. 190=36 C. 354=1 Ind. Cas. 829.

Statute, Construction of—concluded.

Enactments imposing burdens how to be construed—Exemption of a deed from stamp-duty by whom and how to be proved—See STAMP ACT, 1899, s. 24, 29 B. 203.

See Statute 24 and 25, Vict., c. 104, s. 9, 8 W.R. 470.

Of the word 'value' in s. 19 of Act XII of 1887 (Bengal, etc., Civil Courts)—See SUITS VALUATION ACT, 1887, ss. 8, 9, 12, 3 A.L.J. 266, F.B.=A.W.N. 1906, 99=28 A. 545, F.B.

Construction of statutes relating to procedure —Rule of interpretation — Applicability to Indian Legislature—See SUITS VALUATION ACT, 1887, s. 9, 31 P.R. 1909=49 P.L.R. 1909=3 Ind. Cas. 404=36 P.W.R. 1909.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 2, 99, 19 M. 382=6 M.L.J. 88.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 59, 123, 24 A. 319, F.B.=A.W.N. 1902, 127.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 72, 31 C. 975.

Of s. 95 of the Transfer of Property Act—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 95, 10 C.W.N. 626, P.C.=3 C.L.J. 481=8 Bom. L.R. 397=3 A.L.J. 360=1 M.L.T. 143 =16 M.L.J. 296=28 A. 482.

Statutes creating special right or authorizing the doing of an act which is prima facie a wrong to an individual—See TRESPASS, 13 C.W.N. 458=9 C.L.J. 298=36 C. 433=5 M.L.T. 367=2 Ind. Cas. 436.

Where language used is of doubtful import—See VALUATION OF SUIT, 6 C.L.J. 255, F.B. =11 C.W.N. 1133=34 C. 954.

Statute of Mortmain.

(1)—Applicability.—The Statute of Mortmain does not extend to the British territories in the East Indies. THE MAYOR OF LYONS v. THE EAST INDIA COMPANY, 1 M.I.A. 175=1 Moo. P.C. 175=3 State Tr. N.S. 647=1 Sar. 107.

Statutory Charges.

Suit by vendor for the enforcement of payment of purchase-money by sale of purchased property is a suit to enforce - differing from the lien which an unpaid vendor in equity possesses for recovery of balance of purchase-money —See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 111, 132, A.W.N. 1908, 71=3 M.L.T. 374=5 A.L.J. 243=30 A. 172.

Statutory Duties.

(1)—Breach of—Action—Notice—Action on a contract—Suit in contract—Distinction between —Procedure—City of Bombay Municipal Act (Bom., Act III of 1888), s. 527—Municipality—Refund of town duty.—A person seeking the protection of an Act cannot claim that his conduct has any relation to the "execution of the Act," if he knowingly and intentionally acts in contravention of its provisions. It is an established principle of law that notice is not required where the action is brought on a contract. The exemption from this requirement, however, does not apply to all suits in contract as distinct from suits on a contract; since a tort may give rise to a suit in contract. RUNCHORDAS v. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER OF BOMBAY, 3 Bom. L. R. 158=25 B. 387.

Statutory Duties—concluded.

(2)—Damage done in the exercise of statutory duties—Action—Right to sue.—No suit lies on behalf of a man, who sustains a private injury by the execution of powers given by a statute, those powers being exercised with judgment and caution. If, on the other hand, the injury could have been avoided by reasonable and practicable precautions then a suit for damages will lie. BHOGILAL v. AHMEDABAD MUNICIPALITY, 3 Bom. L. R. 415.

(3)—Breach of—Right of action.—Where a person or body of persons having statutory authority for the construction of works (whether these works are for the benefit of the public or for the benefit of the undertakers, or as in the case of the railway, partly for the benefit of the undertakers and partly for the good of the public) exceed or abuse the powers conferred by the legislature, the remedy of a person injured in consequence is by action or suit and not by a proceeding for compensation under the statute which has been so transgressed. H. H. THE GAEKWAR v KATCHAR ABAI, 5 Bom. L.R. 405=27 B. 344. (On appeal from 2 Bom. L. R. 38.)

Statutory Powers.

Statutory powers, how far a mistake of law affords protection to a person acting under—See MISTAKE OF LAW, 7 Bom. L.R. 337.

Stay of Criminal Proceedings.

See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF CALCUTTA, B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 426=5 W.R. Mis. 24.

Pending Civil suit — See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF, 23 C. 610.

Stay of Execution.

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL—STAY OF EXECUTION PENDING APPEAL.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, rr. 5, 6.

(1)—Execution, stay of—High Court—Jurisdiction—Judgment-debtor intending to appeal specially to Privy Council—Inherent power—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s 151.—Per Mookerjee, J.—A Court has inherent power to stay proceedings pursuant to its own order in view of an intended appeal, even though there is no express statutory provision in that behalf (5 C.W.N. 781, R.). The High Court is competent to make an order for stay of proceedings in execution of its decree in view of an application by the judgment-debtor to the Judicial Committee for special leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council. The stay, however, can be granted only for a limited time, and on terms. Per Holmwood, J.—Stay of proceedings in execution of decree, which the law does not expressly authorize, is not to be allowed except on very good grounds shown to the satisfaction of the Court. Per Curiam. S. 151 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not lay down any new principle, but merely declares that the Court has inherent power to make such orders as may be necessary for the ends of justice or to prevent abuse of the process of the Court. This inherent power is not capriciously or arbitrarily exercised; it is exercised ex debito justitiae, to do that real and substantial justice for the administration of which alone the Court exists. NUND KISHORE v. RAM GOLAM, 16 C.L.J. 508 =18 Ind. Cas. 207.

Stay of Execution—continued.

(2)—S. 545, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882 (=O. XLI, r. 5, present Code)—Order for stay of execution passed by appellate Court—Sale held before communication of such order, nature of.—An order of an appellate Court under s. 545, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, to stay execution of a decree against which an appeal is pending, is in the nature of a prohibitory order, and, as such, would only take effect when communicated. If property is sold before such an order is communicated to the Court holding the sale, such sale is not void and cannot be treated as a nullity. BESSESSWARI CHOWDHRANI v. HORRO SUNDAR MUZAMDAR, 1 C.W.N. 226. (N.W.P. IV, 398, N.W.P. VI, 354, 2 A. 686, D.) [F., 6 M.L.T. 159; Expl. and D., 33 C. 927=3 C.L.J. 67.]

(3)—Principle on which execution is stayed.—The principle which underlies stay of execution pending appeal is this, that the successful party in the litigation, that is, the ultimately successful party, is to reap the fruits of that litigation and not obtain merely a barren success. MUSSAMAT BRIJ COOMARREE v. RAMRICK DASS, 5 C.W.N. 781. (14 I.A. 1, 27 C. 1, P.C. =26 I. A. 281, F.)

(4)—Execution—Rejection of security offered for stay of proceedings—Interference of High Court, under s. 15 of its Charter—Civ Pro. Code, ss. 209, 221—Act XXIII of 1861.—S. 15 of the Charter Act does not justify the High Court in interfering with an order of a Court rejecting as insufficient, the security offered by a judgment-debtor for staying proceedings in execution till a suit brought by him against the judgment-creditor is decided. The most obvious course in such a case is that suggested by the latter part of s. 209, Civ. Pro. Code, which directs, that "whenever a suit shall be pending in any Civil Court, against the holder of a decree of such Court by the person or persons against whom the decree was passed, the Court may, if it appears just and reasonable to do so, stay execution of the decree either absolutely or on such terms as it may think just until a decree should be passed in the pending suit." Under s. 221, Civ Pro. Code (of 1859), also, a Court executing a decree has the power, in every step in execution, of staying the proceedings before proceeding further. [R., 28 C. 734.] S. 38 of Act XXIII of 1861 was not intended to make the procedure and the powers of the Court which may be applicable in suits before decree, applicable to proceedings in suits after decree. those various proceedings and questions being sufficiently provided for in the Civ. Pro. Code, itself It was only intended to provide a procedure as nearly resembling Act VIII of 1859 as possible for the many other kinds of cases not being suits which come before the Civil Courts. JODOO MONEE DOSSEE, petitioner, 11 W.R. 494.

Stay of Execution—concluded.

(5)—Appeal to the Privy Council—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss 603, 608 (=O. XLV, rr. 8, 13, present Code).—An application for stay of execution under s. 608, Civ. Pro. Code, cannot be granted before an appeal to the Privy Council is finally admitted under s. 603, Civ. Pro. Code. S. M. BIBI JARAO KUMARI v. GOPI CHAND BOTHRA, 5 C.W.N. 562. (19 B. 10, not followed.)

Appeal admitted by special leave—Power of High Court to stay execution—See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL—GENERAL, 8 A.L.J. 449, P.C.=13 C.L.J. 529=13 Bom. L.R. 419.

Appeal to Her Majesty in Council—Application for—before admission of appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 608—See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL—GENERAL, A.W.N. 1890, 92.

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL—CASES WHERE APPEALS LIE OR NOT, 4 C.L.R. 125.

Order refusing—"Order passed on appeal"—"Final order"—"Fit case"—Question of substantial loss—Discretion—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 109, cls. (a) and (c) and O. XLI, r. 5, 13 C.L.J. 681.

Rent decree—Refusal to stay execution pending appeal—High Court's powers—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 115, O. XLI, rr. 5, 6 (2), 15 C.W.N. 432=9 Ind. Cas. 323.

Powers of appellate Court re—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 151, O XXI, r. 29 and O. XLI, r. 5, 82 P.R. 1910=149 P.L.R. 1910.

Inherent power to order, at the time of passing a decree—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XX, r. 11, 7 M.L.T. 151=5 Ind. Cas. 421.

See INJUNCTION—INJUNCTION UNDER CIV. PRO. CODE, 6 B.L.R. 571.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 182—GENERAL, 5 C.W.N. 347.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 182, MISCELLANEOUS, 6 C.W.N. 735.

Defendant in original suit applying to appellate Court for—Costs—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 25 C. 893.

See SET OFF, 1 Ind. Jur. N. S. 330.

Stay of Proceedings.

(1)—Act X of 1877, s. 20—Two suits in different Courts in respect of same subject matter—Stay of one suit.—An agent sued his principals for the balance of an account in respect of their dealings with him. Six months afterwards, the principals sued the agent in a different Court for an account and for damages caused by his negligence. Held that, as in both suits practically the same issues were triable, the agent was entitled, as having been the first to institute the suit, to proceed in the Court in which he had chosen to bring his suit, and to have the other suit stayed, but without prejudice to the right of the plaintiffs (principals) in the latter suit to institute a cross claim in the agent's suit. MECKJEE KHETSEE v. KASOWJEE DEVACHUND, 4 C.L.R. 282.

(2)—Crim Pro. Code (1882), s. 195—Sanction—Criminal proceedings arising out of civil litigation-Pendency of civil suit—Stay.—Criminal proceedings for perjury or forgery, arising out of a civil litigation, should go on during the pendency of the civil litigation. In re SHRI NANA MAHARAJ, 16 B. 729. [R., 23 C. 610, 26 B. 785, 31 C. 858, 7 Bom. L.R. 84; D., 6 C.L.J 531=11 C. W. N. 712.]

(3)—Stay of criminal proceedings during pendency of civil suit.—The High Court ought not to interfere with the Magistrate's discretion and order that criminal proceedings pending before him should be stayed pending the result of a civil suit dealing with the same subject matter, except on good cause shown for such interference. DWARK NATH CHOWDHRY v. EMPEROR, 31 C. 858.

(4)—Order directing stay of proceedings and trial of test case—Right of persons obtaining adverse decision.—Persons obtaining an order directing the trial of one out of 44 cases as a test case and stay of proceedings in the rest, are not, after getting an adverse decision in the test case, precluded from requiring the consideration by the Court of the other cases. KASHIN PRASAD SINGH v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 29 C. 140.

Suit for divorce—Stay of proceedings till payment of costs by husband—Poverty of husband—See ACT IV OF 1869, 14 C. 580.

See ACT VI OF 1882, s. 134, 18 B. 65.

Suit for partition—Preliminary decree—Appeal—Powers of appellate Court to stay subsequent proceedings—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, rr. 5, 6, 1 C.W.N. 264.

Order for—Ad interim stay—Proceedings continued in disregard of order.—See CONTEMPT OF COURT, 15 C. L. J. 335.

See PARTITION—RIGHT TO PARTITION, 3 P.R. 1886, Rev.

Application for—High Courts, jurisdiction of, to order security for costs pending appeal by special leave to Privy Council—Privy Council, jurisdiction of—See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—STAY OF PROCEEDINGS IN INDIA PENDING APPEAL, 27 C. 1 P.C.=26 I. A. 281=4 C.W.N. 34.

Stay of Proceedings —concluded.

Exécution, denial of—Prosecution—Stay of proceeding pending civil suit—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 82, 5 C. W. N. 44.

Order of adjudication of insolvency by the High Court—Second application for adjudication in different High Court—Discretion—Concurrent proceedings, if maintainable—See ST. 11 AND 12, VICT., C. 21, s. 9, 21 B. 297.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 87, 6 C.W.N. 654.

Steam Tugs.

See TOWING, 1 Hyde, 293.

Step in aid of execution.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 182.

Step-mother.

Not competent to give in adoption—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 16 M. 384=3 M. L.J. 80.

Step-sister.

Of father entitled to succeed before mother's brother—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 4 Bom. L.R. 527=26 B. 710.

Stipend.

See INSOLVENCY — INSOLVENCY UNDER CIV. PRO. CODE, 6 B.L.R. 575=15 W.R. 201.

Stock-broker.

Contract in Government paper in excessive amounts as between stock-broker and stock-jobber do not amount to wagering contracts—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 30, 5 Bom. L R. 768.

Stolen Coin.

Bona fide holder of "Goods"—See CONTRACTS ACT, 1872, s. 108, 83 P.R. 1890.

Stolen Currency Note.

(1)—Stolen currency note—Title of innocent holder for value—Contract Act, s. 108.—A stolen currency note, when it passes into the hands of an innocent holder for value, ceases to be stolen property. The title of a bona fide holder, for consideration, of a currency note (of the Government of India) does not become defective by reason of a defect in the title of a previous holder. S. 198 of Contract Act is inapplicable to the case of coin or Bank notes passed in the course of business; a currency note given in payment of goods or in exchange for metal coin, cannot be said to be brought by the person selling the goods or supplying metal coin in exchange. If a bona fide transferee is deprived of his note by a decree of Court, he has no cause of action against the bona fide transferor. MATHRA DAS v. RAMANAND, 73 P.R. 1878. [F., 18 P.R. 1905=114 P.L.R. 1904; Appr., 83 P.R. 1890.]

Liability of bona fide holder of—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 106 and 108, 18 P.R. 1905.

Stolen Goods.

Contract of bailment—Bailed goods stolen—Liability of bailee—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 151, 90. P.R. 1900.

Stolen Notes.

See CONVERSION, 1 Hyde 263.

Claim to stolen notes—Verdict of Criminal Court—Evidence of ownership—See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS DOCUMENTS, 3 B.L.R. App. 2.

Stolen Property.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 76, 1 C.L.R. 339.

Deposit of stolen notes as security—Detention by Public Debt Office—Claim to return note upon suit for recovery of debt — See GOVERNMENT PROMISSORY NOTE, 5 C. 654 =5 C.L.R. 586.

Suit to recover stolen property or damages—Limitation—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 48, 229 P.L.R. 1911.

Suit to recover—See RIGHT OF SUIT—MISCELLANEOUS, 26 P.R. 1883.

Stoppage in Transit.

Duration of the debt—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 99, 11 Bom. L.R. 1250=4 Ind. Cas. 561.

Unpaid vendor—Pledgee for value of bills of lading—Rights of—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 99, 12 Bom. L.R. 553=34 B. 292=7 Ind. Cas. 650.

See SALE OF GOODS, 17 B. 62.

Stranger.

—to suit, managing the conduct of the suit, when bound by the decree—See ESTOPPEL—ESTOPPEL BY JUDGMENT, 6 C.L.J. 621.

Copy of judgment—to suit — See JUDGMENT—RIGHT TO COPIES OF JUDGMENT, 2 C.L.R. 553.

See PRE-EMPTION — CONSTRUCTION OF WAZIB UL-ARZ, A.W.N. 1905, 45=2 A. L. J. 689=27 A. 457.

—promoting litigation, if bound by judgment—See PROBATE—GENERAL, 12 C.L.J. 91=6 Ind. Cas. 912.

Street.

(1)—Madras District Municipalities Act, IV of 1884—Amending Act III of 1897, s. 3, cl. 27—Legislature vesting street in Municipal Council, effect of—Limitation Act XV of 1877, sch. II, art. 146 (a), effect of.—When the legislature has vested a street in a Municipal Council such vesting does not transfer to the Municipal authority the right of the owner in the site or soil over which the street exists. It does not own the soil from the centre of the earth usque ad coelum. It has the exclusive right to manage and control the surface of the soil and Street—concluded.

so much of the soil below and of the space above the surface as is necessary to enable it to adequately maintain the street as a street, and it has also a certain property in the soil of the street which would enable it as owner to bring a possessory action against trespassers. [R., 14 M L.J. 37, F.B.=27 M. 386, 6 A.L.J. 539 =5 M.L.T. 391; Cited, 30 M. 185, P.C.=4 A. L.J. 333=11 C.W.N. 585=5 C.L.J. 506=17 M. L.J. 240=9 Bom L.R. 663=2 M.L.T. 204.] The new art. 146 (a) of the Limitation Act cannot reasonably be restricted to streets or roads formed by the Municipality on lands belonging to or acquired by it in proprietary right—(Per Bashyam Aiyangar, J.)—S. SUNDRAM AIYAR v. THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF MADURA AND THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 25 M. 635=12 M.L.J. 37. [R., 14 M.L.J. 37, F.B.=27 M. 386, 10 C.L.J. 613 =2 Ind. Cas. 512.]

See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, ss. 3,17, 6 B. 686.

A passage, in a private property, kept open and having houses on both sides of it, is a street—See BOM. ACT III OF 1888, s. 3 (w), 8 Bom. L. R. 457=4 Cr. L. J. 23=30 B. 558.

In a ryotwari village, rights of the public in—See MAD. ACT V OF 1884, 9 Bom. L. R. 663=4 A. L. J. 333=11 C. W. N. 585=17 M. L. J. 240.

Stridhanam.

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHANAM.

(1)—Hindu law—Benares school—Stridhan —Suit by wife for ornaments given during marriage — Civ. Pro. Code, 1877, s. 208.—Under the Benares School of Hindu law, the term stridhan or woman's property means (conformably to its derivation) property of every description belonging to a woman, and includes gifts to the wife at the time of her nuptials, as well as gifts made to the wife by the husband himself. Ornaments "worn" by women during their husbands' lives are considered to be their peculiar property and are not liable to partition amongst the husbands' heirs; but a distinction is drawn between such ornaments as are "worn constantly," and such as are simply kept for festive occasions. It is only with respect to the former that the Hindu law (as expounded by the Benares School) recognizes the independent power of the wife, for it is from the constant wearing that a presumption is drawn that they were intended to be treated as the wife's stridhan; and when ornaments are merely given to a wife to be worn on festive occasions, it is a conditional gift which establishes no right of property. S. 208 of the Civ. Pro. Code does not require that in every suit for moveable property, the decree shall be for the delivery of the property, in the first instance, with an alternative decree for its value, if delivery cannot be given. The very introduction of important words—"If the decree be for the delivery of such property" shows plainly enough that the contrary is possible, and that the object and scope of the section are limited to providing for an alternative decree in these cases only where the Court considers it proper to direct the restoration of the property in dispute. MUSSAMMAT RUKMAN v. GUNGARAM, 81 P.R. 1880.

Stridhanam—concluded.

Striking off case from file.

(1)—Act X of 1859, ss. 54, 58, 68—Dismissal of suit for non-appearance of plaintiff—Appearance by mookhtear—Appeal.—On the day fixed for the hearing of a case, both the plaintiff and defendant did not appear though the plaintiff's mookhtear was present. The Court, holding that there was no appearance on the part of the plaintiff, struck the case off the file under s. 54 of Act X of 1859. The lower appellate Court on appeal held that the hearing of such appeal was barred under s. 58 of the same Act. Held that, though the order of the first Court in dismissing the case under s. 54 was erroneous, still, it was covered by s. 68, and that the lower appellate Court should have entertained the appeal on the ground that there had been no default since the authorized mookhtear of the plaintiff was present before the lower Court. KALEE CHUNDER CHOWDHRY v. KISTO CHUNDER BISWAS, 12 W.R. 169.

(2)—Execution-cases—Striking off the file—Proceedings to keep alive decree · Bona fides—Limitation.—Where a Court executing a decree overrules the judgment-debtor's plea of limitation, and its order is upheld in appeal, and both decisions become final by operation of law, the appellate Court is not competent to go behind these orders in order to declare that the proceedings previously taken were ineffective to keep the decree alive. The only way in which execution cases can be struck off the file is under the provisions of ss. 110 and 114 of the Civ. Pro. Code and these sections relate to those cases only in which plaintiff has failed to appear either in person or by pleader. A proceeding in execution which is not followed by some substantial result is not necessarily male fides, irrespective of all the other circumstances by which it may be accompanied. The practice of striking an execution case off the file with the consent of the parties and commencing steps for execution afresh in the event of the judgment debtor not paying within the time allowed is objectionable and not warranted by law. GAURMOHAN BUNDOPADHYA v. TARACHAND BUNDOPADHYA, 3 B.L.R. App. 17=11 W.R. 567. [R., 7 C.L. R. 424.]

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 10 C. 416.

Striking off Execution Proceedings.

(1)—Execution of decree—Striking off execution application—Effect.—An order merely striking an execution petition off the file is legally inoperative as a disposal of the petition. VENKATAPPIAH v. JAGANNADHA RAO, 12 M. L.J. 24.

Striking off Execution Proceedings—concld.

"Struck off the file," meaning of—See EXECUTION OF DECREE — APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION AND POWERS OF COURT, 15 A. 84=A.W.N. 1893, 36, F.B.

Effect—See EXECUTION OF DECREE — MISCELLANEOUS, 4 C. 877=3 C.L.R. 161, 11 C.L.R. 17, 13 C.L.R. 176.

Sub-agent.

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.

Sub-lease.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

See LEASE.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 105-108.

Sub-lease.

(1)—Sub-lease without landlord's consent—Termination of sub-lease by determination of tenancy.—Where a sub-lease is granted by a tenant without the consent of his landlord the determination of the tenancy determines also the sub-tenancy. SAIYAD NOOR v. RAMJI PATIL, 12 C.P.L.R. 158. (11 C.P.L.R. 5, F.; 12 C.P.L.R. 134, Diss.) [R., 3 N.L.R. 162.]

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, sub-s. 1, ss. 22, 167, 28 C. 205=5 C.W.N. 310.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, ss. 49, 85, 6 C. W.N. 377.

By raiyat without consent of landlord, registered before commencement of Tenancy Act—Validity—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 85, 29 C. 148.

Grant of sub-lease by tenant—Effect of determination of tenancy on sub-lease—See C.P. ACT XVII OF 1889, 11 C.P.L.R. 5.

Lease without covenant against sub-letting—Sale of entire holding in execution—Sub-lessee's interest whether affected—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—TRANSFER OF TENANTS' INTEREST, 14 B. 384.

Ordinary tenancy—Acceptance of rent by landlord from sub-tenant with knowledge of sub-lease—Right of landlord to eject sub-tenant on extinguishment of tenant right—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—EJECTMENT, 15 C.P.L.R. 99.

See LEASE—CONSTRUCTION OF LEASE, Marsh 366=2 Hay, 451.

Submergence of Land.

See ALLUVION.

(1)—Submergence of land—Subsequent emergence of submerged lands—Effect on proprietary intereset—Malik Kabza.—The proprietary interest in lands is not extinguished by the mere submersion of those lands; in the absence of a local custom which can prevail against the general rule of law, a Malik Kabza can seek to recover his interest in submerged lands on their subsequent emergence. No such local custom was proved to prevail in Mouzah Shergrah. CHIRAGH v. TUREL KHAN, 1 P.R. 1880. (59 P.R. 1877, R.)

Submergence of Land—concluded.

(2)—Hereditary cultivator—Submergence of land in possession of cultivator—Subsequent accretion—Claim to land after eight years.—Though a tenant with a right of occupancy in a holding, if a portion be submerged and there be accretions on the former substratum, may be entitled to rights of occupancy in the increment to his actual holding, in the absence of an actual abandonment or intention to relinquish his rights, still if such tenant takes no steps to assert his rights (for eight years) when occasion arises and permits the proprietor to enter into engagements with other persons, he will be estopped from afterwards asserting his rights. BAKHTAWAR v. SULTAN AHMED, 83 P.R. 1876. [R., 122 P.R. 1876, 59 P.R. 1877, 8 P.R. 1901, Rev.=54 P.L.R. 1901.]

(3)—Land re-appearing after submersion—Right of occupancy tenant—Wajib-ul-arz.—In a previous suit, one of the present plaintiffs, an occupancy tenant, had sued the proprietor for an equivalent of his half share in the land now in suit which was then submerged, to be made out of the shamilat, but his suit was then dismissed on the ground that there was no shamilat to give him. The present suit was brought to recover from the proprietor the holding itself which again reappeared from the river. Held that neither the provision in the wajib-ul-arz nor the decision in the previous suit prevented the plaintiff from now recovering possession. The non-payment of revenue on the land during the period of its submersion was not fatal, for the plaintiff was not bound to pay that except in the case of being supplied with land in its place. The plaintiff was in the result held to be entitled to recover the land in suit, but conditionally upon payment of the revenue paid upon it by the proprietor, since the date of the re-appearance of the land. MORID v. MUSSAMMAT RAM DEVI, 127 P.R. 1879. [R., 152 P.R. 1883.]

Sub-mortgage.

See MORTGAGE.

(1)—Sub-mortgagee—Suit, right of—Suit, frame of.—A sub-mortgagee is entitled to bring a suit against his mortgagor and to realize the dues on his mortgage by sale or foreclosure. It may also be open to him, but by no means obligatory, to frame his suit in such a way as to enforce the original mortgage against the mortgagor of his mortgagor. ZAKI HASAN v. DEO NATH SAHAI, 10 C.L.J. 470=4 Ind. Cas. 433. (9 C.L.J. 429, 29 A. 385, Appl.)

(2)—Mortgagor with notice of sub-mortgage-bound by it—Appeal between co-defendants—Co-defendants, contest between—Decision between co-defendants, when necessary.—The plaintiffs brought this suit for sale of property mortgaged to them, to which a number of persons were made defendants. The first Court absolved

Sub-mortgage—continued.

defendants Nos. 1, 2 and 5 and the half share in village Bhatpura, which had been the subject of a sub-mortgage, from liability. The plaintiffs did not appeal. But an appeal was instituted by defendant 3, who contended that the half share in Bhatpura was liable for the debt. That appeal was dismissed. Upon second appeal by defendant 3, it was held, that, as the real contest was between the defendants and it was necessary to decide it in order to give the appellant the relief which he claimed, the Court could on appeal direct the sale of the half share in Bhatpura, although the plaintiffs had acquiesced in the decree exempting it from liability. Held further that a mortgagor is bound by a sub-mortgage of which he has notice. He cannot destroy the security of the sub-mortgagee by redeeming the mortgage. MAHAMMAD BASHI-UZ ZAMAN v. PANDIT SURAJ NARAIN, 12 O.C. 260=3 Ind. Cas. 917. (27 A. 23, 18 B. 520, 31 C. 643, 28 M.229, 31 C. 95, 8 O.C. 140, Not F.)

(3)—Sub-mortgagee, rights of, principle regulating—Formal transfer of mortgagee's interest, if necessary.—One of the objects, which a Court of equity ought always to have in view, is to minimize the number of cases which may arise out of the relation between the parties to a mortgage. The equities between the parties may be adjusted in one suit by allowing the sub-mortgagee to bring the property mortgaged to sale for the amount of the original mortgage. Where a Zuripeshgi lease of property was given in favour of the defendants by D, under which the lessees were to remain in possession and pay huqa ziri to D, and the defendant sub-mortgaged that property with others to the plaintiff, the decree in a suit by the sub-mortgagee should be a decree for sale of the leased property for the Zuripeshgi, amount less any amount that might be recovered by sale of other properties and less such money as was payable by the mortgagees to D as huqa ziri with liberty to D to redeem the leased property by paying off the amount thus found. In this country no formal transfer or assignment of the mortgagee's interest is necessary to create a sub-mortgage. BANSI LAL BHAGAT v. DURGA PRASAD, 9 C. L.J. 429=2 Ind. Cas. 645. [Appl., 10 C.L.J. 470.]

(4)—Rights of—Effect of redemption of original mortgage.—Held, that a person who accepts a sub-mortgage of property, does so at the risk of his security disappearing by redemption of the original mortgage and that his interest in the property continues only so long as his mortgagor has interest in the property. BALDEO PERSHAD v. GUR BUX SINGH, 8 O.C. 140. [Not F., 12 O.C. 260]

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 134, 24 M. 471, F.B., 24 M. 473, Note.

Mortgage by kanomdar representing himself to be jenmi—Suit by jenmi for redemption—Right of sub-mortgagee—See LIMITATION ACT, 908, art. 134, 24 M. 475, Note.

Sub-mortgage—concluded.

Sub-mortgagee's right to sue mortgagor of mortgagor.—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 3 Ind. Cas. 311=14 C.W.N. 165.

Right of sub-mortgagee to bring to sale the original mortgagor's interest—See MORTGAGE GENERAL, 9 O.C. 233.

A sub-mortgagee is entitled to redeem a prior mortgage under s. 91, Transfer of Property Act, as he acquires an interest in or charge upon, the mortgaged property—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 91 (b), A W.N. 1905, 58=2 A.L.J. 162=27 A. 473.

Subordinate Court.

What are.—"Subordinate Courts" does not include Small Cause Courts. MAKHAN LAL v. AMIR BAKSH, 91 P.R. 1890.

Subordinate Court, Duty of.

(1)—High Courts, conflict of opinion among—Subordinate Courts, duty of.—The lower Courts are bound to follow the concurrent decisions of the Court to which they are immediately subordinate, and are not at liberty to adopt a contrary opinion expressed by another High Court. KORBAN ALLY MIRDHA v. SHARODA PROSHAD AICH, 10 C. 82=13 C L R. 256.

(2)—High Court's ruling—Duty of Subordinate Court to follow.—Subordinate Courts in the N.W.P. should follow the rulings of the Allahabad High Court and should not be guided by conflicting decisions of other High Courts. IMAM ALI v. SANDAT ALI, A.W.N. 1882, 106.

Subordinate Judge, Jurisdiction of.

See JURISDICTION OF SUBORDINATE JUDGE.

(1)—Probate—Subordinate Judge—Jurisdiction—Suit to set aside probate.—A suit brought to set aside a probate cannot be entertained by a Subordinate Judge. BULDEB SURMAH v. TARANATH SURMAH, 22 W.R. 416.

(2)—Sonthal Pergunnahs, suits relating to land in—Jurisdiction—Act XXXVII of 1855, s. 2—Act VI of 1871.—An officer in the Sonthal Pergunnahs, appointed by the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal under s. 2, Act XXXVII of 1855, although invested with the powers of a Subordinate Judge under Act VI of 1871, has jurisdiction to try suits in regard to land, etc., where the value of the matter in dispute exceeds the value of Rs. 1.000. RAM RUNJUN CHUCKERBUTTY v. RAM PROSHAD DASS, 5 C.L.R. 128.

(3)—Sirdar of third class — Execution—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts.—Where a person held only the rank and precedence of a Third Class Sirdar, his name being written in red ink, held that a Subordinate Judge had jurisdiction to try an application for execution of a decree passed against his ancestor by the Agent for the sirdars of the Dekkhan. MAHARAJGIR NARPATGIR v. ANUNDRAV KRISHNARAV, 8 B.H C.A.C. 25. [F., 9 B. 598; R., 3 B. 193.]

Subordinate Judge, Jurisdiction of—contd.

(4)—Act XIV of 1869, s. 28—Subordinate Judge invested with Small Cause powers—Jurisdiction in respect of counter claims—Act IX of 1887, s. 33.—A Subordinate Judge invested with the powers of a Small Cause Court under Act XIV of 1869 is precluded by s. 33 of Act IX of 1887 from entertaining counter-claims exceeding the pecuniary limit of his Small Cause jurisdiction. BAROTE GAGA PARSHOTAM v. SEPOY PANJU RAMJAN, 14 B. 371. [Appr., 5 Bom. L.R. 398.]

(5)—Jurisdiction—Small Cause suit filed as original suit—Appeal.—Where a suit really cognizable by a Court of Small Causes is filed in a Court of Small Causes and it declines jurisdiction and the plaint is thereupon filed in the Moonsif's Court where it is dismissed as being cognizable by a Small Cause Court, and the Subordinate Judge, in appeal, decides the case, his decision is without jurisdiction and cannot be upheld. MOHESH CHUNDER MOJOOMDAR v. JHAROO KHOLEE, 20 W.R. 332.

(6)—Appeal referred to Subordinate Judge—Act VI of 1871, s. 26—District Judge—Power of review—Act VIII of 1859 s. 376.—A District Judge has power to refer cases to the Subordinate Judge, who is to "hear and dispose of them accordingly," that is, as District Judge; therefore, a Subordinate Judge disposing of an appeal referred to him under Act VI of 1871, s. 26, does so as District Judge, and he has therefore, by implication, the same power of reviewing his judgment as a District Judge has under s. 376, Act VIII of 1859. SHAMA CHURN BHUTT v. L. PAYNE & CO., 18 W.R. 292. [R., 16 A. 363, F.B. = A.W.N. 1894, 113.]

(7)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 246—Jurisdiction—Execution.—Where an application is made to a Court charged with the execution of a decree under the provisions of Act VIII of 1859, s. 246, the only question to be determined is whether or not the judgment-debtor was in possession of the property at the time when the attachment was made. In the matter of GOPEE LALL PANDEY v. LEKHRAJ ROY, 21 W.R. 56.

(8)—S. 10, Bengal Act VIII of 1869.—Act VIII (B.C) of 1869, s. 120, relates only to suits decided by the District Judge, not to those tried by the Subordinate Judge. MOONSHEE MAHOMED MUNOOR MEA v. SREEMUTTY JYBUNEE, 10 B.L.R. App. 29 = 19 W.R. 200. [Appr., 1 C.L.R. 39.]

Jurisdiction of Subordinate Courts to try offences under cls. c. to f, s. 13, Legal Practitioners Act—See ACT XVIII OF 1879, s. 13, 3 A. L. J. 811 = A.W.N. 1906, 268 = 29 A. 61.

Subordinate Judge in temporary charge of office of District Judge, whether competent to decide revenue appeals—See U. P. ACT XII OF 1881, s. 189, 23 A. 455, F. B.

Exercising jurisdiction which he had not and declining to exercise jurisdiction which he had—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 115, 20 C. 8.

Subordinate Judge, Jurisdiction of—concld.

Decree by Court for Sirdars—Execution thereof in Subordinate Judge's Court against heir of Sirdar—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MODE OF EXECUTION, 3 B. 42.

See RIGHT OF SUIT—TRUSTS, SUITS RELATING TO, 15 B. 148.

Small Cause decree of Subordinate Judge—Transfer to Munsiff's Court and execution—Sale certificate not filed—Validity of sale—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 7 M. 592.

Small Cause decree of Subordinate Judge—Transfer to Munsiff's Court—Execution against immoveable property—Execution by Munsif—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 8 M. 8.

Subordinate Proprietor.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—NATURE OF TENANCY, 4 N.W.P. 172.

Sub-Partnership.

See PARTNERSHIP — MISCELLANEOUS, 1 M.I.A. 414.

Sub-Registrar.

Mortgage-deed, when said to be properly attested — Signatures of Sub-registrar and identifier on the back of the bond not sufficient to render mortgage valid—See DEED—ATTESTATION OF DEEDS, 26 C. 246 = 3 C.W.N. 84.

Subrogation.

See MORTGAGE—SUBROGATION.

(1)—What and when arises—"Legal" and "Conventional" subrogation, difference between—Subrogation by part payment if allowable—Suit to enforce mortgage—Assignee of or purchaser from mortgagee—Necessary party—First and second mortgagee, questions between.—To entitle one to invoke the equitable right of subrogation, he must either occupy the position of a surety of the debt or must have made the payment under an agreement with the debtor or creditor that he should receive and hold an assignment of the debt as security, or he must stand in such a relation to the mortgaged premises that his interest cannot otherwise be adequately protected. (11 I.A. 126 = 10 C. 1035, 33 C. 1133, 29 I.A. 9 = 29 C. 154, R.) It is only in the case of "legal subrogation" or subrogation as a matter of right, as distinguished from "conventional subrogation" or subrogation by reason of agreement, that the question of intention to keep the mortgage alive arises. The doctrine of subrogation is not applied for the mere stranger or volunteer who has paid the debt of another, without any assignment or agreement for subrogation, being under no obligation to make the payment and not being compelled to do so for the preservation of any rights or property of his own. Subrogation is by redemption, and, unless there is redemption, subrogation cannot take place. The person who makes the payment cannot, by simply paying the interest as it accrues or paying or discharging a portion of the interest which has already accrued, claim a right of subrogation. He must pay the entire amount of an incumbrance which is senior to his own. Before one creditor can be subrogated to the rights of another, the demand of the latter must be entirely satisfied so that he shall be relieved from all further trouble, risk and expense. (18 B. 86, Expl.) In a suit to enforce a second mortgage, the first mortgagee is not a necessary party. GURDEO SINGH v. CHANDRIKA SINGH AND CHANDRIKA SINGH v. RASH BEHARI SINGH, 5 C.L.J. 611 = 36 C. 193 = 1 Ind. Cas. 913. (1 C.L.J. 337, F.) [R., 6 C.L.J. 612 = 12 C.W.N. 107, 6 C.L.J. 46, 3 M.L.T. 395 = 31 M. 439 = 18 M.L.J. 306, 11 C.L.J. 226 = 14 C.W.N. 617 = 5 Ind. Cas. 165.]

Subrogation—continued.

(2)—Mortgage, subrogation, principle—Equity—Encumbrancer, prior and subsequent—Purchaser, assignee of, rights of.—When money due upon a mortgage is paid, it shall operate as a discharge of the mortgage, or in the nature of an asignment of it, as may best serve the purposes of justice and just intent of the parties. It makes no difference whether the party, on payment of the money, took an assignment of the mortgage or a release, or whether a discharge was made, and the evidence of the debt cancelled. The debt itself may be held still to subsist in him who paid the money, as assignee, so far as it ought to subsist, in the nature of a lien upon the land and the mortgage be considered in force for his benefit, so far as he ought, in justice, to hold the land under it, as if it had been actually assigned to him. The doctrine of subrogation is a doctrine of equity jurisprudence. It does not depend on privity of contract express or implied, except in so far as equity may be supposed to be imported into the transaction, and thus raise a contract by implication. It is founded on the facts and circumstances of each particular case and on the principles of natural justice. While, therefore, the doctrine will be applied, in general, wherever any person other than a mere volunteer pays a debt or demand, which in equity or good conscience should have been satisfied by another, or where the liability of one person is discharged out of a fund belonging to another, or when one person is compelled, for his own protection or that of some interest which he represents, to pay a debt for which another is primarily liable, or wherever a denial of the right would be contrary to equity and good conscience, the doctrine will never be permitted, where the application of it would work injustice to the rights of those having equal or superior equities. (2 C. L. J. 288, R.) A purchaser of the equity of redemption, if he discharges the prior encumbrance, cannot claim to be subrogated to his rights, to the prejudice of the latter encumbrancer whose debt he had agreed to discharge. The representatives of the purchaser of the equity of redemption are not entitled to be subrogated to the rights of the prior mortgagee because they had constructive, if not, actual notice of the debt due to the later mortgagee, and of the circumstance that their assignor had assumed payment of it. BISSESWAR PROSAD v. LALA SARNAM SINGH, 6 C.L.J. 134. (16 M. 301, R.) [R., 20 M.L.J. 380.]

Subrogation—concluded.

Carrier—Insurer—Right of suit of owner—See CARRIERS, 15 C.W.N. 226=38 C. 28=9 Ind. Cas. 364.

Doctrine of subrogation—See COMPANY—WINDING UP OF COMPANY, 18 C. 31.

Right to—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 8 A.L.J. 1289.

Right to claim, when arises—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 6 C.L.J. 46.

Presumption of intention—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 14 C.W.N. 1093.

Extent of right of—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 11 C.L.J. 226=5 Ind. Cas. 165=14 C.W.N. 617.

Co-mortgagor paying off whole debt—Charge upon the other co-mortgagor's property for his proportion of the debt—Priority over mortgage by latter of subsequent date—Subrogation—Transfer of Property Act, ss. 82, 95 and 100—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 6 A.L.J. 67=31 A. 166=1 Ind. Cas. 825=6 A.L.J. 832.

Principle of, on what based—Legal and equitable claim, if both may be urged together—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 14 C.W.N. 1089.

Effect of lis pendens—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 7 Ind. Cas. 473.

Principle of, when applies — Presumption of intention to keep alive first mortgage—Rebuttal—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 20 M.L.J. 380=6 Ind. Cas. 781=8 M.L.T. 132.

Lien of auction-purchaser of land — Paying off mortgage money—Purchaser in possession—Sale set aside—Subrogation—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 8 A.L.J. 663.

See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 6 A.L.J. 832=13 I.A. 166=1 Ind. Cas. 825=6 A.L.J. 67.

Subscription.

Right of suit to enforce subscription promised.—A suit will lie to recover a subscription promised, if, on the strength of the defendant's promise and of similar promises, the plaintiff has been induced to incur liabilities which, but for such promises, he would not have incurred. RAI BAHADUR DEVI PRASAD v. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF BHANDARA, 13 C.P.L.R. 57. (14 C. 64, F.)

Of a newspaper, limitation for a suit to recover arrears of—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 42, 7 Bom. L.R. 190.

Subscription—concluded.

Suit against a trust for—Jurisdiction—See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT, 1887, art. 18, 20 M.L.J. 146=5 Ind. Cas. 912 =8 M.L.T. 67=33 M. 494.

Suit to recover money collected as—For building debera—Person collecting subscriptions, trustee for community—Suit for recovering of subscriptions—Suit entertainable by Subordinate Judge's Court and not on small cause side—See RIGHT OF SUIT—SUBSCRIPTION, 22 B. 729.

Suit for—Secretary whether competent to sue—See RIGHT OF SUIT—MISCELLANEOUS, 10 C.L.R. 197.

Erection of public building from—Suit for—See RIGHT OF SUIT—MISCELLANEOUS, 14 C. 64.

Subsistence-money.

(1)—Subsistence money—Illegal commitment—Duty of Jailor.—Unless subsistence money is paid before the commitment, the commitment is illegal. The jailor is bound by the words of the Act. It is for him, and not for the prisoner, to see that the money is paid. In the matter of THOMPSON, Bourke, O.C. 421.

(2)—Subsistence-money—Fixing subsistence-money—Detention in jail on decree of defendant arrested prior to decree—Right to discharge.—Where a defendant is arrested prior to decree under Act VIII of 1859, s. 78, and a decree is afterwards obtained against him in the suit, the plaintiff, if he wishes to detain the defendant in prison, must have him brought before the Court, and his subsistence-money fixed, in the same way as in the case of an arrest in execution of a decree; and if he fails to do so, the defendant is entitled to his discharge from prison. In the matter of CALLACHAND DASS, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 327. S. C. RAM PERSAUD ROY v. CALLACHAND DASS, Bourke O.C. 423.

(3)—Subsistence-money—Application for discharge on nonpayment of subsistence-money—Petition for discharge—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 278.—A prisoner was arrested on the 30th of December on a ca. sa., dated the 24th of December, on which day the execution-creditor paid subsistence-money for thirty days. This failing on the 29th of January, the prisoner made a fruitless application to the Sheriff for more, and then applied to the Court for his discharge, upon which notice was directed to be given to the execution-creditor. Held, that no particular form of petition of discharge was required from a prisoner applying for his discharge for non-payment of subsistence-money; that subsistence-money must be paid in advance by the execution creditor before putting a writ of ca. sa. in force; that the discharge by the Sheriff of a prisoner detained on a writ of ca. sa. was equally imperative on the happening of any of the contingencies specified in s. 278 of Act VIII of 1859; and that on failure of subsistence-money the prisoner should be released, and further detention of him by the person in whose custody he is was illegal. SPEYER v. JANSSEN, Bourke O. C. 28.

Subsistence-money—continued.

(4)—Subsistence-money — Non-payment of subsistence-money in advance—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, s. 276.—The monthly subsistence-money under s. 276 of Act VIII of 1859 must be paid in advance; therefore, where a debtor was arrested and subsistence-money paid for January, but no further deposit was made till 4th February, the prisoner was held entitled to his discharge. In re KONOY LOLL DOSS, Bourke O.C. 51.

(5)—Subsistence-money—Right of debtor to discharge—Omission to make order for allowance—Civil Procedure Code, 1859, ss. 276, 278.—A debtor, having been imprisoned on a writ of ca sa, was brought up on a habeas corpus and applied for his discharge on the ground that his arrest and imprisonment were illegal, as no order for his allowance under s. 276 of Act VIII of 1859 had been made. Sufficient subsistence-money, however, was paid to the Sheriff previous to the arrest, and he was kept amply supplied with it. Held that ss. 276 and 278 of Act VIII of 1859 applied as much to the execution of a mofussil decree as to an arrest by writ of the High Court; that no one is to be imprisoned in execution of a decree unless subsistence-money for a month in advance be paid to the person to whose custody he is committed; that a similar payment must be received in advance every successive month pending the imprisonment; that if any such payment be not made, the prisoner is entitled to be released; that the "allowance" referred to in s. 276 of Act VIII of 1859 meant subsistence-money of 4 annas per diem that s. 276 of Act VIII of 1859 enacted only that the prisoner shall have an allowance of 4 annas per diem paid monthly, unless the Court shall specially fix a less amount; that an order for an allowance to the prisoner was not necessary, and was intended only as a relief to the execution-creditor; that the omission to have such order made did not render the arrest and imprisonment illegal; that in the absence of such order, s. 278 of Act VIII of 1859 ensured 4 annas a day as subsistence-money for the prisoner. AGA ALI KHAN v. JOYDOYAL PARSAUD, Bourke O.C. 52.

(6)—Subsistence-money—Order for allowance—Application for discharge in absence of order—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, ss. 276, 278.—S. H and two other debtors in the custody of the Sheriff on a ca. sa., appeared on a habeas corpus for the execution creditor to show cause why they should not be discharged. S. H had been arrested in execution of a decree in a suit which was begun under the old procedure in the Supreme Court, and the question was whether the procedure in his case should be regulated by Act VII of 1855 or Act VIII of 1859. The grounds relied on by all three prisoners (besides the above in S. H's case) were, that no order for their allowance had been made by the Court, nor had they been brought before it for that purpose. Held that the case of S H was to be regulated by the old procedure, and as under Act VII of 1835 no order for allowance was necessary, he must be remanded to jail. Held also (Peacock, C.J, dissentiente) that a prisoner arrested on a ca. sa, must, within a convenient time, be brought before the Court to have his allowance fixed; that an "allowance" within the meaning of s. 276 or 278 of Act VIII of 1859 meant subsistence-money fixed by order of the Court; that the Court must have the prisoner before them to exercise their discretion upon a matter which must be determined before he can be formally committed to prison, and which may be so determined as to entitle him to be discharged; that a decree must be carried into execution by and under the direction of the Court which pronounces it by means of a special application to the Court, and an order passed thereupon; that a jailor or other officer cannot lawfully receive a prisoner for debt under commitment unless the preliminary payment of subsistence has been made in compliance with the order of the Court; and that the jailor cannot lawfully detain a judgment-debtor when the time limited for payment of any subsistence-money under the order of the Court passes without the payment accordingly. In re SUMBO CHUNDER HALDAR. In re DOORGA-PERSAUD MITTER. In re RAKHAB DOSS, Bourke O. C. 59.

Subsistence-money—continued.

(7)—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 276, 278—Subsistence-money.—S. 276, Act VIII of 1859, must be construed strictly before the committal of a judgment-debtor, the execution creditor paid into the hands of the jailor subsistence-money for 27 days at 4 annas per diem. Two days after, a further sum of 4 annas was paid to make up any deficiency. Held that the requirements of s. 276 of Act VIII of 1859 had not been complied with and the prisoner was therefore entitled to be discharged under s. 278. DUTT v. CORNELIUS, 5 B.L.R. App. 79.

(8)—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 276, 278—Subsistence-money—Discharge.—S. 276, Act VIII of 1859, ought to be construed strictly. S. 276 says that sufficient subsistence-money must be paid to the jailor before the commencement of the month for which it is paid. On the 30th September, plaintiff paid to the jailor subsistence-money for 30 days, the jailor then having a balance of 4 annas over from the subsistence-money for September. Held that s. 276, Act VIII of 1859, had been sufficiently complied with. HALADHAR DEY v. AMBIKA CHARAN BOSE, 5 B.L.R. App. 80.

(9)—Civil Gaol fund—Subsistence-money.—Where the defendants, who were arrested in execution of a decree, were released at the request of the creditor before they had been sent to Civil Gaol, the creditor was entitled to a refund of the balance of subsistence money that remained at the time of his debtor's release. S. 10 of Act IV of 1865 (Bom.) is not applicable to such a case Ex parte. KASHINATH BALALOK, 5 B.H.C.A.C. 84.

(10)—Plaintiff's failure to pay subsistence money—Discharge of defendant from jail—

Subsistence-money—concluded.

Second arrest barred.—The discharge of a defendant from confinement in jail, owing to the plaintiff's failure to pay subsistence money at the rate fixed by the Court, is a bar to a second arrest and imprisonment in execution of the decree. C. APPIAH CHETTY v. CHENGADOO, 4 M.H.C. 76.

(11)—Omission of Nazir to re-arrest judgment-debtor released—Nazir liable to plaintiff in damages for negligence—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 28, time for payment of batta for maintenance of debtor in jail.—Where a Nazir allows a debtor in the civil jail to be released, having overlooked the existence of a fresh warrant for his arrest in execution remaining in his hands unexpired, he could be held liable in damages to the holder of the decree for his negligence in having allowed the judgment-debtor to escape. The batta required to be paid for the maintenance of a judgment-debtor in the jail did not, under the law as it stood at the end of 1876 and until October 1877, (viz., Act VIII of 1859, s. 282), become payable until he had been arrested and brought up before the Court and such Court had made the order for the committal of the judgment-debtor to jail in execution of the decree. KASTURCHAND v. RAVJI SADASHIV, 4 B. 65.

See ARREST, 8 M. 21.

Non-payment of subsistence-money—Arrested person discharged from Court-house—Effect—Discharge from jail—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 58, 9 B. 181.

See WARRANT, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 315.

Subsisting Decree.

(1)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 316—"Subsisting decree," meaning of.—The words "subsisting decree" mean a decree unreversed and in full force, and not a decree, the execution of which is not barred by limitation. SARODA CHURN CHUCKERBUTTY v. MAHOMED ISUF MEAH, 11 C. 376.

Sub-soil Rights.

Right of landlord to—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 9 C.W.N. 292.

Holder of mineral rights entitled to the incidental—for boring into the land to ascertain if there are minerals underground—See LESSOR AND LESSEE, 3 C.L.J. 103=33 C. 462.

Substantial Injury.

Material irregularity—Inference of material irregularity from substantial injury — See INJURY, 6 C.W.N. 48.

Substantive Offence.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 197, 468, 7 C.W.N. 494=30 C. 905.

Substituted Service.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O.V, rr. 9 to 20.
See SUMMONS.

When may be accepted—See ACT I OF 1895, ss. 8, 10 and 31, 5 C.L.J. 555.

See NOTICE, 4 C.L.R. 397.

Mortgage—Foreclosure proceedings—Service of notice—Substituted service when permissible—Demand by registered notice—Burden of proof—Evidence—See BEN. REG. XVII OF 1806, 63 P.L.R. 1902=48 P.R. 1902.

Sub-tenant.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

See LEASE.

See SUB-LEASE.

Succession.

See BUDDHIST LAW—INHERITANCE.

See CUSTOMS—PUNJAB, INHERITANCE.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—INHERITANCE.

See MALABAR LAW—INHERITANCE.

(1)—Succession to Palliam — Right of females.—Females are not precluded by any rule of descent, custom, or usage of the Cumbala Tottier caste from succeeding to a Palliam. THE COLLECTOR OF MADURA v. VEERACAMOO AMMAL, 9 M.I.A. 446=2 Sar. 43.

(2)—Rule of descent—Private and public property of Hindu sovereign.—There is a distinction between the public and private property of a Hindu Sovereign, as upon his death his private property goes to one set of heirs, and the Raj and the public property to the succeeding Rajah. The general rule of the Hindu Law of inheritance is partibility. The succession of a single heir, as in the case of a Raj, is the exception. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. KAMACHEE BOYE SAHABA, 7 M.I.A. 476=13 Moo. P.C. 22=7 W.R. (Eng.) 722=4 W.R.P.C. 42=1 Suther. 373=1 Sar. 684.

(3)—Hereditary office — Succession. — Hereditary office means an office to which the person in the direct line of heirs not otherwise disqualified is entiled to succeed on the occurrence of a vacancy, however that vacancy be caused, whether by the death, resignation or dismissal of the last holder. It is erroneous, therefore, to hold that a person is not the heir to an hereditary office until the death of his immediate predecessor. GOPINADHA PANDA v. RAMACHANDRA PUNIGRAHI, 6 M.L.J. 255. [R., 7 M.L.T. 189.]

(4)—Succession—Persons governed by two systems of law—Succession to property how determined—Mahomedan law.—Where persons are governed by two systems of law (e.g., Mahomedan law and Marumakkattayam law, as in this particular case), held, that, in the absence of usage to the contrary, property inherited under the Mahomedan law will pass in further descent according to that law. MUKKATPARKUM KODARAKAUDY MAMMAD HAJI v. KATHKAYILPAKUM KOSHIPURANKARADY, 19 M.L.J. 736=7 M.L.T. 221=4 Ind. Cas. 1081. (8 M. 238, 22 M. 494, 27 M. 77, R.)

Succession—continued.

(5)—Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889), s. 4—Curator under Act XIX of 1841—No certificate necessary.—A curator appointed under Act XIX of 1841 is not a person claiming to be entitled to the effects of the deceased person whose estate he is appointed to manage, within the meaning of s. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act, and he is, therefore, not required to take out a certificate under it before he can obtain a decree. The Curator is not a representative of the deceased person, but is merely entrusted by the Court with certain powers over the estate for a temporary purpose, amongst which is the power to sue in his own name, given him by s. 9 of Act XIX of 1841. And this view is confirmed by the provisions of s. 23 of the Succession Certificate Act, for which there would have been no necessity had the provisions of s. 4 applied to the Curator, since it contemplates his exercising his authority until a certificate under the Act has been granted. BABASA v. NARSAPPA, 20 B. 437. [R., 37 C. 754=12 C.L.J. 252=6 Ind. Cas. 416.]

(6)—Bhagdari lands in Broach District—Succession—Special custom—Males and females, preference between—Hindus and Mahomedans.—The custom prevailing in the District of Broach as regards the succession to Bhagdari lands, was that on the death of the Bhagdar without male issue, his nearest male relations (after the death of his widow) whether claiming through males or through females, succeeded to those lands to the exclusion of the Bhagdar's female relations, such as daughter or sister. There is no difference in this particular between Hindus and Mahomedans. Quære:—Whether, under that custom, females were absolutely excluded from inheritance, or whether male relatives claiming through males were preferred to male relatives claiming through females? PRANJIWAN DAYARAM v. BAI REVA, 3 B. 482.

(7)—Hindu law—Mitakshara—Sister's son heir to mother's brother.—In the absence of nearer relatives, a man may be heir to his mother's brother as regards property subject to the Mitakshara. AMRITA KUMARI DEBI v. LAKHINARAYAN CHUCKERBUTTY, 2 B.L.R. F.B. 28=10 W.R. F.B. 76. (1 Sel. S.D.R. 43, 3 Sel. S.D.R. 37, 6 Sel. S.D.R. 301, Mad. S.D.R. 1860, 247, 1 M.H.C. 85, S.D. R.N.W.P. 1865, 200, Agra L.J. 1864, 17, 1 W.R. 74, 4 W.R. 13, 1 B.L.R. P.C. 44, R.) [F., 18 W.R. 331, 8 M. H. C. 88; Rel. on, 2 B. 388: R., 6 B.H.C.; O.C. 1, 5 B. 110, P.C., 5 B. 597, 5 M. 69, 9 A. 467, 13 M. 10, 22 C. 339, 20 A. 191, 6 C.L.J. 190; Cons., 2 M. 304.]

(8)—Hindu Law—Inheritance—Brothers.—Under the Hindu Law, a united brother takes

Succession—continued.

in preference to the separated brother who does not inherit. Quære—As to the effect of re-union on inheritance. KESHABRAM MAHAPATTAR v. NANDKISHOR MAHAPATTAR, 3 B.L.R. A.C. 7=11 W.R. 308. [R., 7 P.R. 1870, 25 M. 149=11 M.L.J. 353, 5 C.L.J. 417.]

(9)—Hindu Law—Mitakshara—Succession.—Under the Mitakshara, if there be no kindred belonging to the same general family and connected by funeral oblations, the succession devolves on kindred connected by oblation of water. Gentiles must be exhausted before the cognates can succeed. MUSST. DIGDAYI v. BHATAN LAL, 5 B L.R. 448, Note=11 W.R. 500. [R., 5 B.L.R. 433, 5 B L.R. 442=14 W.R. 117.]

(10)—Non-talukdari property, rule of succession applicable to—Talukdar, acquisitions by—Succession.—Certain properties were granted to G by a sanad which provided that it should descend to male heirs only under the rule of primogeniture. G and his successors acquired other property. Held that the devolution of the acquired property was not governed by the sanad. Held further, that a zemindar cannot make his property descendible in a manner not recognised by the ordinary law to which he is subject. RAJENDRA BAHADUR SINGH v. RANI RAGHUBANS KUNWAR, 11 O.C. 256. (17 I.A. 173, 28 I.A. 100, R.)

(11)—Succession to property of Armenian Christian residing in Oudh at the time of annexation—Lex loci with reference to the English law of succession—Territorial Law of Oudh on the introduction of British rule—Executory trust—Will, construction of—Justice, equity and good conscience—Intention of testator—Indian Limitation Act, sch. II. arts. 134, 136, 140 and 144—Champerty—Sale in execution of decree upon mortgage executed by holder of life-interest—Purchaser for value without notice.—J, an Armenian Christian, who was residing at Lucknow at the time of the occupation of Oudh by the British Government in 1856, made a will on the 21st September 1863 by which he appointed his wife his executrix and guardian of his daughter and made the following bequest of his house known as "Dolly House:"—"I give and devise to my beloved daughter the said V (then follows a specification of the property including Dolly House) "upon trust to be settled and assured for her use during her natural life and at her decease to vest in her issue and failing any such to revert to my said beloved wife absolutely." In 1867 V married Q and in 1875 she mortgaged the house to S.N. The mortgagor obtained a decree for the sale of the property which was put up for sale in March 1880 and was purchased by him. In July 1883 he sold it to the defendant No. 1, who in September 1883 sold it to the defendant No. 2. V died in February 1880 leaving her surviving two sons E and A. E after his mother's death made a gift of his rights under the will of J to his minor son and in October 1901, after obtaining as his minor son's guardian, the permission of the District Judge under Act VIII of 1890, sold the house to the plaintiffs. In the same month the plaintiff brought a suit against the defendant claiming a moiety of the house. On the contention that by his will the testator intended to create an executory trust, held, that the will did not create an executory trust but devised the property to the testator's daughter for life and after her death to her issue. No part of a will ought to be rejected as destitute of meaning if a reasonable construction can be placed on it, but it may be rejected as such, if such a construction cannot be placed on it. Held, that no reasonable construction could be placed on the words "upon trust to be settled and assured for her use," and that therefore they should be rejected as destitute of meaning. Held, that on the introduction into the province of Oudh of British rule, there did not exist in British India generally a territorial law, namely, the English law in the modified form in which it was applicable within the city of Calcutta, applicable to persons not having a personal law of their own, and that consequently such a law did not become a territorial law in Oudh when it came under British rule. Held, therefore, that J's will was to be construed according to justice, equity and good conscience, i.e., excluding all such rules of English law as the rule in Shelley's case and the rule in Wild's case, and construing the will in accordance with the intention of the testator, his intention appeared to have been that his daughter should enjoy the property for life, and that after her death, if she left issue her surviving, it should pass to her issue. Held, therefore, that V did not take an estate tail in the property, but an interest therein for life, and that on her death her sons became absolute owners of the property. Held, further, that art. 134, sch. ii of the Indian Limitation Act, did not govern the suit, but if either art. 136 or art. 140 or art. 144 was applicable, the suit was within time, having been brought within twelve years from the date of the death of V. Held, further, that the sale to the plaintiffs was not champertous, inasmuch as it was not an unfair and illegitimate transaction got up merely for the purpose of spoil, or of litigation, to be carried on from corrupt or other improper motives. Held, further, that the execution-sale to S.N., did not pass the absolute ownership of the property but merely the life interest of V, and that therefore the plea that the defendants were purchasers for value without notice was of no avail. NAWAB FARRUKH BEGAM v. SHEIKH AHMAD ALI, 6 O.C. 305.

(12)—Religious institution—Succession—Custom.—Where questions arise as to the succession to the management of a religious institution, regard must be had to the custom of the particular institution. RAMJEE DOSS v. RUGBEER DOSS, 52 P. R. 1867.

(13)—Byraghi Faqir—Right to inherit—Custom.—There is no established custom showing, that a Bhyragi Faqir, who has not given up the world, cannot succeed to property in his natural family. (1 W.R. 209, 1 B.L.R. 114, 15 P.R. 1874, 1 P.R. 1868, R.) BANSI v. MIHAN SINGH, 24 P.R. 1880. [R., 7 P.R. 1892, 93 P.R. 1899.]

Succession—continued.

(14)—Kadiri Fakirs—Succession to inheritance—Custom.—As regards succession to inheritance there is no custom prevalent among the Kadiri Fakirs (of the Khangah Shabgadda in Garhi Sahu village near Labore), by which a chela excludes all natural heirs however near in degree; and such chela is entitled to succeed only in the absence of sons or relatives of the deceased fakir. ALAM SHAH v. BULAKI SHAH, 57 P. R. 1880.

(15)—Hindu Law—Inheritance—Son claiming extra share as laik beta—Equal division among sons—Alteration of succession.—A jagirdar who was the father of the parties to this suit, having died in 1867, was succeeded in the jagir by the plaintiff, his eldest son, and the defendants. No special order was made at the time of the succession in reference to the shares of the sons or of the eldest son, the plaintiff. Plaintiff now sued his brothers for certain crops as 'huq sirdari,' one share more than his brothers, on the ground that he was the eldest son and qualified to be laik beta of the deceased jagirdar. It appeared that in 1860, the deceased jagirdar had, along with a number of others at the invitation of the authorities, signed a document which alone, it was intended, should be of force to determine the legal devolution of their jagirs By this document they declared in favour of equal division among all the sons, and in the case of jagirs not less than Rs. 1,000, they assigned a double share to the son who is fit, laik beta. In 1865, the jagirdar made an equal division of the jagir as well as his liabilities among his sons. The question was whether the deceased jagirdar was or was not competent to depart from the arrangement of 1860, whether the arrangement was or was not binding on the jagirdars, and whether it established a canon of inheritance by consent. Now, the jagir had long previously been granted, and the engagement had not been taken at the time of grant. It was out of the hands of Government, who had no authority at that time to impose any condition or exact any terms in regard to the inheritance or succession to it. The promise on the part of the numerous jagirdars, if promise it was, must be regarded as a purely voluntary one unsupported by any consideration moving from the Government. For any interest belonging to the Government in the matter, the jagirdar was perfectly free to alter his intention in regard to his jagir, and, although he had at one time said that there should be a 'laik beta,' yet freely to dispose of his jagir among his sons conformably to Hindu law, if he afterwards thought fit to do. The arrangement was thus not binding as between the jagirdars and the Government: It was therefore not binding as between the parties to the suit. SIRDAR SUJAN SINGH v. MAN SINGH, 68 P.R. 1869.

Succession—continued.

(16)—Adopted son's right of inheritance—Disinherison for neglect to support adoptive father.—An adopted son is entitled, by reason of the fact of adoption, to succeed to his adoptive father's ancestral property, and cannot, on the ground of his having neglected to support his adoptive father, be disinherited by him. JHUNDA v. SAHIBA, 15 P.R. 1877. [R., 17 P. R. 1878.]

(17)—Inheritance—Agricultural Brahmins of the Amritsar District—Succession to adopted son dying childless.—Found, that no such well-established custom prevails. MUSSAMAT SADA KOAR v. RAM SINGH, 21 P R. 1890.

(18)—Informal adoption—Adopted son dying without issue—Inheritance—Custom.—Where the original proprietor, a Bhular Jat of the Lahore district, died sonless, but leaving two daughters and a step-son, who was allowed to succeed him, on what title it was not clear, but apparently as an adopted son, for the step-son called himself henceforth a Bhular Jat (he was by birth a Man Jat) his succession having been accepted by the collaterals of the original proprietor, and the step-son also being sonless, adopted the son of one of the original proprietor's daughters, who had married a Manhes Jat, and the adopted son likewise dying without issue, the estate was taken by the male collaterals of the original proprietor (who, however, claimed as heirs male of the step-son), and was claimed by the adopted son's brother's sons, who were also great grand-sons of the original proprietor through the daughter:—Held by Lindsay, J., that the adoption, which had been found to be an informal customary adoption, must be held to be an adoption in the kritrima form, the effect of which was to create a purely personal tie between the adoptive father and the adopted son. Held by Smyth, J., that, in the absence of a custom to the contrary, it must be held, upon a consideration of the nature of the relationship which an informal adoption creates between the adoptive father and the adopted son, and the rights which it confers upon the latter, that the property passes not to the heirs of the adoptive father, but to the natural heirs of the adopted son; further, the relationship being purely personal, confined to the adoptive father and adopted son, and not extending to the other members of the adoptive father's family, the latter cannot be considered as in any sense the heirs of the adopted son. DEWA SINGH v. NIHAL SINGH, 9 P.R. 1880. (43 P.R. 1879, 97 P.R. 1879, 122 P.R. 1879, R.) [F., 89 P.R. 1885; Appr., 18 P.R. 1900=14 P.L.R. 1900, 79 P.R 1901=107 P.L. R. 1901; Relied on, 37 P.R. 1910=62 P.W.R. 1910=6 Ind. Cas. 712; R., 34 P.R. 1883, 14 P.R. 1884, 85 P.R. 1888, 147 P.R. 1889, 12 P.R 1992, F.B., 138 P.R. 1894, 37 P.R. 1910 =50 P.L.R, 1910.]

(19)—Hereditary cultivator—Daughter's sons—Right of succession.—Where the village wazib-ul-arz contains a statement that collaterals also can succeed to hereditary village cultivation and that succession can also be permitted when there is relationship and family dependency. a grandson by a daughter who lived with the hereditary cultivator comes within that definition and is entitled to succeed his maternal grandfather, when there are no other nearer relations of the deceased. TANNE v. NUBBEE BAKSH. 19 P.R. 1867. See MAYDA v. HARJAS, 96 P.R. 1867.

Succession—continued.

(20) — Hereditary cultivator— Succession—Sister's son.—As a general rule, no one can succeed to the right of an hereditary cultivator, unless he be a descendant in the direct male line of the person who originally obtained the cultivation. The exception is where relationship exists, and also family dependency is established on the part of the claimant. In this case, there were nearer relations than the plaintiff who was a sister's son of the deceased, but they did not object to the plaintiff's claim to succeed. But it was held that notwithstanding the waiver of their rights by these relations it was open to the proprietors of the village to object to the plaintiff's claim. Moreover, rights to hereditary cultivation cannot be transferred and therefore, as against the proprietors, such waiver can have no effect MAYDA v. HURJAS, 96 P.R. 1867. [R., 18 P. R. 1868.] See TANNE v. NUBBEE BAKSH, 19 P.R. 1867.

(21)—Chimbah Jats of Sialkot District—Widow.—Right of widow of son who has died sonless before his father MUSSAMMAT JIWAN v. HARI SINGH, 61 P.R. 1889.

(22)—Raiens of Karnal—Interest of widow or mother in lands inherited—Custom. — Held, that no special custom, as distinguished from the general custom of the Punjab under which a widow or mother succeeding by inheritance to land takes only a life interest in the property was established to prevail among the Raiens of Karnal. MUSSAMMAT IZZO v. MUSSAMMAT LADO, 34 P.R. 1880. [R., 52 P.R. 1885.]

(23)—Lands—Inheritance—Dispute between descendants of male and female line of common ancestor.—Plaintiffs and defendants were the common descendants of one Aja, the former in the male line, the latter in the female line. At the settlement, the names of the latter were entered as proprietors of more than half of the lands of Aja. Plaintiffs claimed preference on the ground that they were in the male line. Held that the Commissioner had decided rightly and equitably in throwing the whole into the common stock and dividing it equally between the litigants. KHAN MALLICK v. KHODA BUKSH, 73 P.R. 1866.

(24)—Jats of the Her got, Hoshiarpore district—Succession of whole blood and half blood—Custom—Application of Hindu Law.—Where the plaintiffs, cousins of the half blood, sued the defendants, cousins of the whole blood, for the property of a deceased cousin of the whole blood, held that among the Jats of the Her got, in Hoshiarpur district, to which the parties belonged, there was no established custom by which the relatives of the half-blood can claim equal shares with the relatives of the whole blood. that therefore the plaintiffs' case must be decided according to Hindu Law which postpones the succession of the half-blood in favour of the whole blood. MEHTAB SINGH v. JOWAHIR, 21 P.R. 1880. [R., 187 P.R. 1883, 150 P.R. 1888, 75 P.R. 1889, 4 P.R. 1891 F.B., 83 P.R. 1894.]

Succession—continued.

Arrears of pension, succession to—Heirs—Succeeding grantee—See ACT VI OF 1849, 3 Agra 44.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1876, 2 Bom. L R. 613.

To property acquired from the profits of talukdari property—See U.P. ACT I OF 1869, ss. 3, 8, 10, 22, 23, 9 Ind. Cas. 83.

To acquired property of talukdar—See U.P. ACT I OF 1869, ss. 22, 23, 9 Ind. Cas. 76.
See COMMON LAND, 76 P.R. 1888.

To property left by deceased head of religious institution, upon what depends—Mohunt's power to alter—See DEBUTTER PROPERTY, 1 Ind. Cas. 216.

See ENGLISH LAW, 5 B. H. C. O.C. 172.

Religious institution—Custom and practice—See HINDU LAW — RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT, 7 C.W.N. 145.

Religious endowment—Priest—Succession—See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT, A W.N. 1881, 52.

Impartible Polliapat held by one member of family—Mode of descent—See IMPARTIBLE ESTATE, 8 M.H.C. 157.

See JAGHIR, 108 P.R. 1901.

See JOINT TENANCY, 57 P.R. 1868.

Succession to foreign state—Jurisdiction of Court in British India to decide the question as to who is entitled to succeed—See JURISDICTION—GENERAL, 12 C.W.N. 777=8 C.L. J. 1=4 M.L.T. 27=35 C. 777.

Whether Transfer of Property Act deals with cases of—See LEASE—GENERAL, 5 Ind. Cas. 500=11 C.L.J. 401=37 C. 377.

Slayer's right to inherit property of person slayed—Mahomedan Law—Public policy—See MAHOMEDAN LAW—INHERITANCE, P.L.R. 1900, p. 455=74 P.R. 1900.

Succession Act, 1865—Succession to estate of intestate Native Christian—See NATIVE CHRISTIANS, 9 M. 466.

Indian Succession Act — Applicability to Native Christians previously following Hindu law—See NATIVE CHRISTIANS, 10 M. 69.

See NAWAB OF TONK, 30 C. 843, P.C.=67 P.R. 1903=112 P.L.R. 1903.

Poliem, mode of—Holder if liable for debts of predecessor—See POLIEM, 3 M.H.C. 303.

See POSSESSION—ADVERSE POSSESSION, 9 W.R. 98.

Succession—concluded.

See RELIGIOUS INSTITUTIONS, 32 P.R. 1867, 76 P.R. 1874.

Liability to pay arrears of rent of predecessor in interest—See RENT, 16 C.P.L.R. 55.

Succession—Survivorship — Recognition by landlord of right as heir of deceased tenant—Effect—See RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY—ACQUISITION OF RIGHT, 23 P.L.R. 1910=6 Ind. Cas. 499.

See RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY—TRANSFER OF RIGHT, 1 P.R. 1868.

Succession Act (X of 1865).

[REP. IN PT. ACT XXIV OF 1867; ACT VII OF 1870; ACT XV OF 1877; (AS TO LOWER BURMA), ACT VI OF 1900, S. 48. REP. IN PT. AND AM.—ACT VI OF 1889, SS. 2 TO 7, 9, 10; ACT XII OF 1891. AM. ACT VI OF 1881; ACT II OF 1890, S. 9. ACT V OF 1902, S. 9, SS. 187, 242, 244, 246, 250 AM. SS. 242A, 246A, 277A, INS., ACT VIII OF 1903, S. 2. APPLICATION OF PART III. PART IV (EXCEPT S. 25). PART V AND S. 43 RESTRICTED, ACT XXI OF 1865, S. 8. APPLICATION OF SS. 190 AND 239 RESTRICTED, ACT VII OF 1901, S. 3. APPLICATION EXT., ACT XXI OF 1870 (AS AM. BY ACT V OF 1881, S. 154). DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT (EXCEPT SS. 329 AND 330 AND THE SCHEDULE), BUT NOT SO AS TO AFFECT NATIVE CHRISTIANS, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3.]

See ADMINISTRATOR.

See EXECUTOR.

See HINDU WILLS ACT, 1870.

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION.

See PROBATE.

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881.

See WILL.

(1)—Applicability of.—The Indian Succession Act, 1865, while to a large extent embodying the rules of the English law, yet departed in many particulars from those rules, and was not only made applicable to persons of European descent, or those to whom the system derived from the Ecclesiastical Courts might naturally be applied, but was made the law for all persons in British India other than Hindoos, Mahomedans and Buddhists, including for instance, the Parsees who form so important a part of the community in some districts of India. MIRZA KURRATULAIN v. NAWAB NUZHAT-UD-DOWLA, 7 Bom. L.R. 876=9 C.W.N. 938=1 C.L.J. 594, P.C.=33 C. 116=15 M.L.J. 336=2 A.L.J. 758=32 I A. 244=8 Sar. 839.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(2)—Illegitimacy—Scope of Act.—The Succession Act does not say anything about illegitimate persons. DE MOLLO v. BROUGHTON, 11 B L.R. App. 6.

(3)—Relationships contemplated by the Act—Illegitimate children outside the scope of the Act—Gift of the residue to such charities as the trustees may think deserving.—The relationships contemplated by the Indian Succession Act, 1865, are only those flowing from lawful wedlock. The gift, by a will, of the residue to "such charities as the trustees may think deserving" is a good gift, the objects being wholly charitable. SMITH v. MASSEY, 8 Bom. L.R. 322=30 B. 500.

(4)—Native Christians—The Indian Succession Act governs the succession in Native Christian families; since the passing of that Act, such families have not been at liberty to adhere to the Hindu Law of succession. Right to ancestral property before Succession Act—alteration. A member of a Native Christian family, observing the Hindu Law of succession till the enactment of the Succession Act of 1865, and acquiring an interest in the ancestral property at his birth, will not be deprived of that right, by virtue of the subsequent Act. PONNUSAMI NADAN v. DORASAMI AIYAN, 2 M. 209. [F., 9 M. 466; Cons., 10 M. 69, 129 P.R. 1889, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol.II, 488; R., 31 C. 11.]

(5)—Inheritance—Succession of daughter among Native Hindu converts to Christianity—Hindu law—Custom—Object and meaning of Act XXI of 1850—Punjab Laws Act, IV of 1872, ss. 5 and 6—The Indian Partition Act IV of 1893. What is partition—Partition of business not allowed on equitable grounds—In partition of immoveable property when only money decree allowable—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 561—When no right of cross appeal.—F, a Bengali Hindu convert to Christianity, died in 1888, leaving G, H, and E. his three sons, M daughter, and P a son of his predeceased daughter C. In 1889, E also died. The estate of F consisted of two houses and a business styled George Alfred and Co., which included a Medical Shop, a Press, and a Soda Water Factory. M was maintained and educated by her brothers with whom she lived until her marriage in 1897. In 1899, M attained majority, and in 1902 she claimed ¼ share of F's estate, under Indian Succession Act X of 1865. Her claim was resisted solely by G whose principal pleas were:—(a) The business belonged to him exclusively. (b) The Indian Succession Act was not applicable. (c) By family custom M was not entitled to any share. Held, that (a) all Christians are bound by the provisions of Act X of 1865 in matters relating to succession, whether intestate or testamentary; but also, as pointed in I.L.R., XXXI Bombay, p. 25, this Act does not affect the rights of co-parcenership as between those to whom it applies; (b) A Native convert to Christianity, living in this Province, is not debarred from either proving that he has adhered to his old personal law as regards inheritance, &c., notwithstanding that he has denounced his original religion, or from establishing any family custom, applicable to the parties, such as, that daughters are excluded from succession by sons, &c., as provided for in s. 5 (a) of Act IV of 1872 ; and (c) The plain object of Act XXI of 1850 is, not to confer on any party the benefit of the provisions of Hindu or Mahomedan Laws, but, to prevent them from depriving any party or parties of any property, which, but for the operation of such laws, they would be entitled to receive. (9 M. I.A. 195, F. ; 63 P. R. 1895, 102 P. R. 1904, Civil Appeal No. 1413 (unreported), 11 A. 100, 4 A. 343, 19 B. 783, R. & D.) Held also, that, (a) although the business is the family property, yet, its division is inexpedient and inequitable, on the ground, that it had been carried on by the sole exertions of G, who had specially qualified himself for the same, and M is to get ¼th price of the whole existing stock ; (b) There is absolutely no law or authority now in force independently of the provisions of Act IV of 1893 to justify a money decree in a suit for partition of immoveable property, and M is entitled to get of that property by partition ; (10 C. 675, D) ¼ (c) Where in a partition case of moveable and immoveable property, a mere money decree is given only in favour of plaintiff in lieu of his share, it is not a decree for partition in favour of all the parties concerned as laid down in 23 P. R. 1905. Held, further, that a party accepting the decree of the 1st Court by reason of not appealing, or filing cross-objection, as provided in s. 561, Civ. Pro. Code against it is incompetent to take cross-objection against the said decree in further appeal. Found, in this case, not proved, that F continued to attach himself to Hindu society, or to observe Hindu usages, after his conversion. MRS. EDITH SUSAN MUKERJEE v. MRS. GEORGE ALFRED, 52 P.W.R. 1907.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(6)—Contingent or executory bequests.—In regard to contingent or executory bequests, the Succession Act, 1865, has laid down a hard and fast rule, which must be applied, whenever it is applicable, without speculating on the intention of the testator. NORENDRA NATH SIRCAR v. KAMALABASINI DASI, 23 C. 563=23 I.A. 18=6 M.L.J. 71=6 Sar. 667. [R., 33 C.947 =10 C.W.N. 695=3 C.L.J. 502; F., 3 C.W.N. 478.]

(7)—Act X of 1865—Codicil—Execution of codicil appointing executor — Formalities, whether same as in execution of a will.—A codicil is, according to the definition in Act X of 1865, considered as forming an additional part of the Will, and consequently it must be executed in the same mode as a will; it requires attestation just as a Will, whether altering it or doing anything else. MAJOR S.B. GOAD v. DAVID COLYER, 33 P.R. 1876.

(8)—Succession Act (X of 1865), estate vested in administrator under—Purchaser of share before administration, suit for partition not maintainable by—Administration suit, the proper remedy.—Where the property of a deceased person becomes vested in his administrator under the Succession Act, it remains in him until he distributes the estate and the widow of the deceased person has no saleable interest in any part of such estate until, in the course of the administration thereof, her share is determined and allotted to her. Till then, the only process, by which a purchaser of the interest of such a widow in the estate can legally obtain such interest, is by a suit for the administration of the entire estate, and to such a suit, the widow, if alive, must be made a party. If she is not alive letters of administration to her estate must first be taken out and the administrator must be made a party. SRIRANGAMMAL v. SANDAMMAL, 23 M. 216=9 M.L.J. 338.

(9)—This circular prescribes a form, to be submitted quarterly, of all grants of probate and letters of administration made under Part XXXI, Act X of 1865, Cir. No. 32, dated the 28th Sepetember 1867. 8 W.R. Civil Circular Orders, p. 11.

(10)—See BEQUEST, 6 M.L.J. 71, P.C.=23 C. 563=23 I.A. 18.

(11)—See BUDDHIST LAW--INHERITANCE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 402.

(12)—Applicability to Native Christians—See CONVERTS, 36 P.R. 1909=1 Ind. Cas. 697.

(13)—See DOMICILE, 4 C. 106=2 C.L.R. 496.

(14)—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 1 B. 269.

(15)—See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL, 7 Bom. L.R. 876=9 C.W.N. 938=1 C.L.J. 594, P.C.

(16)—Succession to estate of intestate Native Christian—See NATIVE CHRISTIANS, 9 M. 466.

(17)—See NATIVE CHRISTIANS, 15 M.L.J. 235.

(18)—Applicability to Native Christians previously following Hindu law—See NATIVE CHRISTIANS, 10 M. 69.

(19)—S. 2—General law in British India.—Since the passing of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, the Courts must look to that Act and that alone, for the law of British India applicable to all cases of testamentary and intestate succession.—The words "applicable to all cases" operate as a repeal of the pre-existing law subject to the exception in the section. DE SOUZA v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE, 12 B.L.R. 423. [F., 2 C. 208.]

(20)—Ss. 2, 3—Minor—Age of minority—Act XL of 1858.—The definition in the Indian Succession Act of "minor" and "minority" does not apply in cases where a person enters into a contract on his own behalf and not in any representative character under that Act—

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

the law in it being applicable to cases of intestate or testamentary succession. SULTAN CHAND v. SMYTH, 12 B.L.R. 358=21 W. R. 221. [R., 8 C.L.R. 419.]

(21)—Ss. 2, 331—Succession—"Hindu"—Conversion to Christianity—Dying as Christian—Acquisition of title by adverse possession—Pleading.—The Indian Succession Act is of universal application in this country, unless a person claiming to be excepted can show that he is specifically excepted from the operation of its provisions. A Hindu, who has embraced the Christian faith and continues to be a Christian up to the time of his death, is not a "Hindu" within the meaning of s. 331, Succession Act, and all questions of succession to his estate upon intestacy are to be determined by the Succession Act. The test to be applied in determining whether the plea of title by adverse possession should be allowed to be urged, though not explicitly raised in the plaint, is, how far is the defendant likely to be prejudiced if the point is permitted to be taken. NEPEN BALA DEBI v. SITIKANTA BANERJEE, 12 C.L.J. 459=8 Ind. Cas. 41.

(22)—Ss. 2, 331—Koli caste of fisherman—Hindus converted to Christianity—Inheritance—Custom—Evidence.—The Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) and the rules of inheritance prescribed by it, govern succession among Hindus who have become Christians; and evidence to show that they and the community to which they belong have retained the Hindu custom of inheritance, is inadmissible. DAGREE v. PACOTTI SAN JAO, 19 B. 783. [F., 15 C.W.N. 158; D., 36 P.R. 1909=52 P.W.R. 1907=1 Ind. Cas. 697.]

(23)—S. 3—See No. 20, supra.

(24)—S. 4—Applicability of section.—Succession Act (X of 1865), s. 4, does not not apply in respect of the moveable property of persons not having an Indian domicile. MILLER v. THE ADMINISTRATOR—GENERAL OF BENGAL, 1 C. 412. [Cons., 23 C. 506; R., 2 C.L.R. 431.]

(25)—S. 4—Is of prospective operation.—The provisions of s. 4 are prospective, and leave rights unaffected, which had already been acquired before the Act was passed. SARKIES v. PROSONOMOYEE DOSSEE, 5 C. 794=8 C.L.R. 76.

(26)—S. 4—Suit for divorce—Adultery—Wife's right to costs.—In a suit by the husband for a divorce from his wife on the ground of his wife's adultery, it appeared that the wife had no separate property of her own. Held that the wife was entitled to an order that her husband should deposit her costs of the suit. It was also held that s. 4 of the Indian Succession Act did not affect the wife's right to costs. BROADHEAD v. BROADHEAD, 5 B.L.R. App. 9. [Not F., 5 C. 357=5 C.L.R. 1; F., 19 B. 293.]

(27)—S. 4—Marriage settlements in restraint of anticipation—Married Women's Property Act (III of 1874), s. 8—Separate estate of married woman—Preamble—Absolute owner—Husband acquiring interest in property—Retrospective effect—Contract entered into before Act—Contract made after Act—Clause against anticipation in marriage settlement.—A husband T and wife R, who were married in 1868, after the passing of the Indian Succession Act, executed two joint and several promissory notes, one in 1871 and another in 1872, before the passing of the Married Women's Property Act (III of 1874) in favour of the plaintiff. Under a Marriage settlement, certain property was vested in two persons G and S, upon trust, among other things to pay over the whole of the profits of such trust estate from and after the marriage of T and R to them jointly upon their joint receipt, but in case the husband T should become insolvent, then to the wife R, upon her separate receipt free from the debts or control of T and without power for R to alienate or in any manner anticipate the same; and certain other trust estate was vested in G and S upon trust to pay over the whole of the profits thereof unto and to the use of R for and during the term of her natural life for her separate use and free from the debts or control of the husband T, without power of anticipating or alienating the same. Plaintiff sued the husband and the wife and the trustees of the wife's marriage settlement on the said two pro-notes and prayed inter alia, that the trustees might be directed to pay to the plaintiff the suit amount out of the income of the said trust fund. Held that s. 4 of the Indian Succession Act did not prevent the operation of the clause in the marriage settlement in restraint of anticipation, such restraint being created not by the marriage but by the settlement. The Legislature, when using the words "absolute owners" in the proamble of Act III of 1874 did not intend to make a declaration which would have the effect of extending the provisions of s. 4 of the Indian Succession Act. It was intended to describe the legal effect of s. 4, and the word 'absolute' is used with reference to the husband not acquiring any interest in the property. [R., 11 B. 348, 30 M. 378=17 M.L.J. 363=2 M.L.T. 322.] Act III of 1874 has not retrospective effect, and is not intended to affect contracts made before the passing of the Act, and to alter the rights of persons or the obligations arising out of them. Obiter:—Where a contract is made after Act III of 1874 came into operation, there will be a remedy against the separate property of the wife, although there is a clause against alienation or anticipation in the marriage settlement. PETERS v. MANUK, 13 B.L.R. 383=22 W. R. 175. (Sanger v. Sanger, L. R. 11 Eq. 470, R.)

(28)—S. 4—See ACT IV OF 1869, 5 C. 357=5 C.L.R. 1.

(29)—S. 4—Wife with English domicile—Suit without joining husband—See PARTIES TO SUIT—GENERAL, 15 C. 35.

(30)—Ss. 4, 44—Person with English domicile marrying wife with Indian domicile—Succession to moveable property of wife.—

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

Where a marriage between a person whose domicile is English and another whose domicile is Indian has been effected, on the death of the wife, the husband has the right to succeed to the whole of his wife's moveable property to the exclusion of her next of kin. (1 C. 412, Cons.) Ss. 4 and 44 read together should be understood as laying down a general rule as to the immediate effect of marriage on moveable property belonging to each or either of the married persons not comprised in an ante-nuptial settlement, and not as laying down a rule intended to affect the law of succession. HILL v. ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL, 23 C. 506.

(31)—S. 5—See FOREIGN STATE, 11 C. 17.

(32)—S. 23—Amendment of probate—Succession Act, s. 23.—Amendment of error in probate allowed. In the goods of J. WHITE, 4 C. 582.

(33)—Ss. 25, 46, 105—Converts—Co-parcenership between persons converted from the Hindu religion — Difference between co-parcenership and inheritance.—Parcenership can be a part of the law governing the rights of a Christian family converted from the Hindu religion. The Indian Succession Act, 1865, deals with the devolution of rights on intestacy; it does not purport to enlarge the category of heritable property. The act does not affect rights of co-parcenership as between those to whom it applies. The difference between co-parcenership and inheritance is radical. In the case of inheritance property devolves on death, it survives in, the case of co-parcenership; on inheritance new rights are acquired, on survivorship the enjoyment of existing rights is increased by the removal of one from the body of co-sharers. FRANCIS GHOSAL v. GABRI GHOSAL, 8 Bom. L.R. 770=30 B. 33.

(33-a)—S. 44—See No. 30, supra.

(33-b)—S. 46—See No. 33, supra.

(34)—S. 47—Hindu wills—Power of a Hindu father to appoint a testamentary guardian of his minor son by his will.—S. 47 of the Indian Succession Act being not applicable to Hindu wills, a Hindu father has no statutory power to appoint a guardian to his son after his death. BUDHILAL v. MORARJI, 9 Bom. L.R. 553=31 B. 413.

(35)—S. 48—Application to set aside will—Undue influence—Burden of proof—Law applicable to wills.—The onus probandi lies, in every case, on the party propounding a will, and he must satisfy the conscience of the Court that the instrument so propounded is the last will of a free and capable testator. If a person writes or prepares a will under which he takes a benefit, that is a circumstance, which ought generally to excite the suspicion of the Court, and calls upon it to be vigilant and jealous in examining the evidence in support of the instrument, in favour of which it ought not to pronounce, unless the suspicion is removed and it is judicially satisfied that the paper propounded does express the true will of the deceased. MR. CECILLA KING v. ARTHUR ABREU, 5 L.B.R. 1909, 141.

(36)—S. 48—Undue influence, what constitutes—Will of a Mahomedan.—As to what constitutes undue influence in this country a useful guide is afforded by s. 48 of the Indian Succession Act. It is true that that section does not apply to the Wills of Mahomedans, but still it is a useful guide for all as to what does or does not constitute undue influence. KHAS MEHAL v. THE ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL. 5 C.W.N. 505.

(37)—S. 48 (g)—Will procured by wife's importunity—Undue influence.—Where a wife persuades her husband to make a will in her favour, but the influence which she exerted on the testator was not such as to deprive him of the exercise of his judgment and volition, the wife's conduct does not amount to undue influence as defined in the Indian Succession Act. MORISON v. THE ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF MADRAS, 7 M. 515.

(38)—S. 50—Difference between signing and affixing the mark—Impression of facsimile of testator's signature on will — Validity.—The word "signing" means the writing of the name of a person so that it may convey a distinct idea to somebody else that the writing indicates a particular individual whose signature or sign it purports to be. A "mark" is a mere symbol and does not convey any idea to a person who notices it, often even to the person who makes it. The impression of the facsimile of a testator's signature on his will by some other person in the presence and by the direction of the testator is not the making of a mark, but really the affixing of the name to the document. It comes strictly within the meaning of the words used in s. 50, Act X of 1865. The use of pen and ink is not necessary for signing. NIRMAL CHUNDER BANDOPADHYA v. SARATMONI DEBYA, 25 C. 911=2 C.W.N. 642. (11 W.R. Eng., 854, Appl.)

(39)—S. 50, Testator's acknowledgment of his signature — Effect on will — Attestation.—A testator's signature at the commencement of the will, when the witnesses signed the same, and the fact of his admission to several of the witnesses that the paper signed by them is his last will and testament, amount to a sufficient acknowledgment of his signature to his will. The fact that the witnesses have not seen him sign it or observed any signature to the paper attested by them, will not affect the acknowledgment of signature by the testator. (1 B. 547, 6 C. 17, 11 C. 429, F.) There is sufficient attestation and the requirements of s. 50, Succession Act, are satisfied, if the will is registered by the testator, and on the back of the will is the signature of the testator to the certificate of admission of execution, testified to by the signature of the Sub-Registrar and of one of the attesting witnesses. AMARENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE v. KASHI NATH CHATTERJEE, 27 C. 169. [R., 4 O.C. 408.]

Succesion Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(40)—S. 50—Will—Attestation—When the testator does not himself sign, but some other person signs in his presence and by his direction, then, besides this other person, who has so signed at the request of the testator, there must be two witnesses who should sign the will in the presence of the testator. In the matter of the petition of HEMLOTA DABEE, 9 C. 226.

(41)—S. 50—Attestation of Will—Sufficient attestation under the section, what would be.—The two attesting witnesses to a will, must, under s. 50 of the Succession Act, sign their names after the testator shall have executed the will. (5 C. 738, 3 B. 382, F.) [F., 27 C. 169; R., 11 C.L.R. 359, 9 C. 226.] If, on admission by a testatrix of her signature on the will before a Registrar of Assurances and on her identification before the Registrar by one of the attesting witnesses, both the Registrar and identifying witness sign their names as witnesses to the admission, it would be sufficient attestation under s. 50 of the Succession Act. HURRO SUNDARI DABIA v. CHUNDER KANT BHUTTACHARJEE, 6 C. 17 =6 C.L.R. 303. (1 C. 150, F.) [F., 11 C. 429, 16 C. 19, 27 C. 169; R., 4 O.C. 408; Doubted, 76 P.L.R. 1905.]

(42)—S. 50—Attestation of will—Attesting witnesses must sign after testator.—The signatures of the attesting witnesses to a will, required by s. 50 of Act X of 1865, must be affixed after the testator has signed or affixed his mark. Quære.—Whether a marksman can attest a will? BISSONATH DINDA v. DOYARAN JANA, 5 C. 738=5 C.L.R. 565. (3 B. 382, R.)

(43)—S. 50—Attestation and subscription—Signature.—Signature by mark—Attestation.—One of the attesting witnesses to the will of a British born subject who died in India possessed of personal property was a native servant of the testator, who, at his attestation, wrote some words in the Persian character of which the translation was "This is Mr. Wynne's signature," without any signature or mark. On an application for probate of the will: Held that the servant of the testator did not write the Persian words with the intention at the time that those words or any of them, should be considered as his signature or mark and that those words would not be considered a sufficient subscription of the will. (In the Goods of Maddock, L.R. 3 P. & M. 169, R.) A signature by mark would be a sufficient signature by a witness even under the Indian Succession Act, as it would be under the English Act. In the goods of WYNNE, 13 B.L.R. 292. [Diss., 11 C. 429.]

(44)—S. 50—Will—Attestation by witnesses, valid, mode of.—S. 50 of the Indian Succession Act, prominently makes a marked distinction between the action of the testator and that of the witnesses, as regards the mode of their respective signatures; so that the direction therein contained regarding the signing of a will by witnesses is not satisfied by their affixing their marks, but they must sign, to give validity to their attestation. (13 B.L.R. 392, dissented from, and 3 B. 382, F.) Where, on a presentation of a will by a testator before Registrar, the testator admits his signature on it and is identified before the Registrar, and both the Registrar and the identifier sign on the will, testifying to the testator's admission of his signature, it would be sufficient attestation under cl. 3 of s. 50 of the Indian Succession Act. NITYE GOPAL SIRCAR v. NAGENDRA NATH MITTER, 11 C. 429. (6 C. 17, F.) [Doubted, 15 M. 261; D., 1 N.L.R. 14; F., 27 C. 169; D., 26 C. 246; R., 16 C. 19.]

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(45)—S. 50—Will—Attestation—Strict proof not necessary.—To prove the due execution of a will for the purposes of getting probate of it, strict affirmative proof of due attestation is not absolutely necessary, and if, from the circumstances, the Court can reasonably come to the conclusion that the will has been duly attested, probate may be granted. (Wright v. Sanderson, L. R. 9 Pro. Div. 149, R.) Held upon the evidence in this case that the will was duly attested in accordance with law. SIBO SUNDARI DEBI v. HEMANGINI DEBI, 4 C.W.N. 204.

(46)—S. 50—Witnesses not signing in testator's presence—Will invalid—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, sch. II, arts. 1, 11, 9 M.L.T. 314=21 M.L.J. 481=9 Ind. Cas. 538.

(47)—S. 50—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 115, 4 O.C. 408.

(48)—S. 50—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 74 P. R. 1891.

(49)—S. 50—Provision as to attestation, whether applies to other Acts—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 59, 3 M.L.T. 300=18 M.L.J. 219=31 M. 250.

(50)—S. 50, cl. (3)—Will—Acknowledgment of signature by testator—English Wills Act (I Vic., Cap. 26), s. 9.—If a testator produces a paper and makes the witnesses understand that it is his will, that is an acknowledgment of his signature, if the Court is satisfied that his signature was on the will when the witnesses attested it. It is not essential that the witnesses should see him sign it, or that they should observe any signature on the paper which they attest. (Cooper v. Bockett, 4 Moore P.C. 419; G. Willim v. G. Willim, 2 Sw. & Tr. 200; Smith v. Smith, L.R. 1 P. & D. 143; Bockett v. Howe, L.R. 2 P. & D. 1. R.) The provisions of the English Wills Act (I Vic. Chap. 26), s. 9 with regard to the acknowledgment by the testator of his signature to his will, are substantially the same as those of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) s. 50. MANICBAI v. HORMAS BOMANJI, 1 B. 547. [F., 27 C. 169.]

(51)—S. 50, cl. 3—Will, proof of execution of—When a document which on the face of it purports to have been executed as a will and attested, is proved to have been duly executed in the presence of witnesses in the assembly,

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

the presumption, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, is that the requirements of attestation under s. 50 of the Act were satisfied. To raise this presumption, it is not necessary that there should be a regular attestation clause. NITAI CHAND SAHA BANIKIYA v. NAGANI DASSYA, 10 C.L.J. 499=3 Ind. Cas. 427. (4 C.W.N. 204, F.)

(52) Ss. 50, 261, 263—Grant of letters of administration—"Order"—"Decree"—Will, execution of. Mark of testatrix affixed with the assistance of one of the witnesses.—Held that an appeal from an order of a District Judge granting letters of administration under Act No. X of 1865 was properly brought as a first appeal from an order. Held, also that where one of the witnesses to a will held and guided the hand of the testatrix while she was affixing her mark by way of signature to the will, this was not an affixing of the mark of the testatrix by the witness so as to disqualify him from being a witness within the ruling in 11 B.H.C. 87. ARTHUR LANE v. HEDEYAT-UL-LAH KHAN, A.W.N. 1895, 127. (11 B.H.C. 87, D.)

(53)—S. 54—Bequest—Attesting witness—Validity of.—Under s. 54 of the Indian Succession Act, a bequest, made to an attesting witness or his wife by a will, is void, though the attestation of the witness is not indispensable. THE ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL v. LAZAR STEPHEN, 4 M. 244.

(54)—S. 56—Doctrine of implied revocation—Applicability to Hindu wills—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 16 M.L.J. 491.

(55)—Ss. 56 and 57—Revocation of will—English Law—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 17 M.L.J. 269=30 M. 369=2 M.L.T. 242.

(56)—S. 57—See No. 55, supra.

(57)—S. 58, Hindu will, unattested alterations in—Letters of administration.—Having regard to the terms of s. 58 of the Indian Succession Act which is made applicable to Hindus by the Hindu Wills Act, if some subsequent alterations, which were unattested, were made in a will properly attested, by the testator in the presence of the Registrar, those alterations should have been attested, like the will itself, by two persons signing in the presence of the testator. So letters of administration in the above case should issue, not with the copy of the will, but with the copy of the will without the alterations. RAGHUBAR DYAL v. RAM RAKAN LAL, 1 C.W.N. 428.

(58)—S. 58—Application for probate of will wherein pencil alterations made before execution—Photographic facsimile of will attached to probate—Practice.—On an application for probate of a will wherein the testator had made certain pencil alterations before execution, the Court directed that a photographic facsimile of the will, taken in the presence of the Registrar and of the executors, be attached to the probate, as the pencil alterations were likely to fade away in course of time (Gaun v. Gregory, 1854, 3 De G.M. & G. 777; Shea v. Boschetti, 1854, 18 Beav. 321, Relied on; In the goods of Hall, 1871, L.R. 2 P. & D. 256, D.) The provisions of s. 58, Act X of 1865, do not apply to this case. In the goods of BROUGHTON, 29 C. 311=6 C.W.N. 477.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(59)—Ss. 58, 242—Will—Unattested alterations prior to execution—Effect—Amendment of s. 242 by s 2 of Act VIII of 1903—Jurisdiction of District Judge—Effect upon.—S. 58, Act X of 1865, has no application to unattested alterations made in a will prior to its execution. Where the alterations are in themselves of no importance and were evidently intended to merely make the terms of the will more explicit and formal:—Held, that the alterations may be left out of account, the intention of the will having been perfectly clear even without them and being not affected by them, and that they did not invalidate the will. The effect of the amendment of s. 242 of Act X of 1865 by s. 2 of Act VIII of 1903 is to give the District Judge jurisdiction to grant probate, but he will have to certify that the value of the property and effects affected beyond the limits of the province does not exceed Rs. 10,000. NAGENDRA NATH BANERJEE v. P. N. BANERJEE, 21 P. R. 1913=19 Ind. Cas. 692=221 P.L.R. 1913.

(60)—Ss. 62, 164—Will—Construction—Extrinsic evidence.—A clause in a will ran as follows:—"My trustees shall give to my brother Pestonji Framji Mistry, Rs. 1,500, namely, fifteen hundred, without interest, and they shall get him to vacate the place in my house which he now occupies." The testator was indebted to the legatee in a sum of Rs. 1,500 which did not bear any interest; and in lieu of interest the legatee was residing in the house at a reduced rent. In a suit by the legatee to recover Rs. 1,500 given to him by the will, the trustee contended that it appeared from the will that that was not an ordinary bequest, but was intended to be no more than the satisfaction of the debt owed by the testator. This fact was sought to be proved by conclusive evidence of three facts; (1) that the testator owed the legatee Rs. 1,500; (2) that that sum was not carrying interest; and (3) that in lieu of interest the legatee was residing in the house, referred to in the clause at a rent reduced in proportion to what would otherwise have been interest on Rs. 1,500:—Held, that no extrinsic evidence, under s. 62 of the Indian Succession Act, could be let in to construe the clause, which, though in an unusual form, had no uncertainty or ambiguity about it. There was no possibility of any ambiguity about the person to be benefited; for the testator had directed his trustees to give to the plaintiff, naming him, a definite sum of money. Nor was there any ambiguity about the property to be given, which was Rs. 1,500. S. 62, Succession Act, empowers Courts to avail themselves of extrinsic evidence for the purpose of determining questions as to what person or what property is denoted by any words used in a will. Where there is an ambiguity in the language used by the testator, the Judge is entitled by the use of extrinsic evidence to put himself in the testator's shoes or seat himself in the testator's chair. But where the testator has left no uncertainty as to the person to be benefited and the property by which the benefit is to be conferred, the Judge is precluded from going outside the actual words used by the testator. Where the language of the will presents no ambiguity, the Judge ought not to imagine ambiguity in its application to different sets of existing facts, and so to initiate an inquiry into those facts. PESTONJI FRAMJI MISTRI v. FRAMJI BEJANJI BILLIMORIA, 12 Bom. L.R. 863=8 Ind. Cas. 180.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(61)—Ss. 62, 164, 292—Probate and Administration Act, s. 112—Satisfaction—Legacy given by the testator—Debt due by the tesator—Suit by legatee—Assent of executor—Khoja Mahomedan—Will—Hindu Law.—S. 164, Succession Act, abolishes the doctrine of satisfaction. Although the Act does not apply to Hindus, Mahomedans and Buddhists, it cannot be doubted that it was the intention of the Legislature, to announce what they considered to be a generally correct principle of interpretation universally applicable unless overridden by some special provision of local law or usage. S. 112 of the Probate and Administration Act corresponding with s. 292 of the Succession Act, criticised. Quære.—Whether a Khoja Mahomedan is, for all testamentary purposes, to be treated as though he were a Hindu governed by Hindu Law. HASANALLI MOLEDINA v. POPATLAL PARBHUDAS, 14 Bom. L.R. 782=17 Ind. Cas. =37 B. 211. (6 Bom. L.R. 601, 29 B. 133, Criticised.)

(62)—S. 78—Will—Power of appointment—Appointment by general bequest—Power created after will.—A general power of appointment may be exercised by will executed previously to the creation of the power and that too by mere residuary gift. DINSHAW v. DINSHAW, 9 Bom. L.R. 488=31 B. 472.

(63)—S. 80 — "Without any qualifying terms."—Meaning of.—The expression "without any qualifying terms" in s. 80 of the Succession Act, 1865, refers to the bequest and not to the relations. PESTONJI v. KHURSHEDBAI, 7 Bom. L.R. 207.

(64)—Ss. 80, 81, 83, 84—See SHELLY'S CASE, RULE IN, 1 Bom. L.R. 393.

(64-a)—S. 81—See No. 64, supra.

(65)—S. 82—See HINDU LAW—GIFT, 5 C.W.N. 300.

(66)—S. 82—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 10 Bom. L.R. 604=12 C.W.N. 729=35 C. 896=5 A.L.J. 460=18 M.L.J. 287=8 C.L J. 48=35 I.A. 118, P.C.

(67)—Ss. 82, 93—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 24 C. 646=1 C.W.N. 578.

(68)—Ss. 82, 111—Life estate—Estate of inheritance—Executory gift over.—A testator left an adopted son and gave authority to his widow to take three sons in adoption one after the death of another. The will contained a provision that the adopted son shall succeed to the estate on the death of the testator, and that, on the death of one adopted son and until the adoption of another son the estate shall remain in the ownership and possession of the widow as ordinary heir, the estate to vest in the adopted son immediately on adoption: Held, that the adopted son would take not a life interest but an estate of inheritance, subject to a condition of defeasance. Held, also, that the executory gift over did not take effect. MANIKYAMALA BOSE v. NANDA KUMAR BOSE, 4 C.L.J. 357. = 33 C. 1306=11 C.W.N. 12. (23 I. A. 18, Appl.) [R., 4 Ind. Cas. 386=7 M.L.T. 236.]

(69)—Ss. 82, 111, 125—Testator—Will—Absolute gift—Subsequent provisions making the gift defeasible on happening of certain events—Non-happening of those events—Gift remains absolute — Executory bequest—Distribution—Parsi Law—Palak son.—By his will, a testator provided that his two sons P and J, were "proprietors half and half alike and in equal shares" of his whole estate (cl. 2). The further clauses of the will provided that none of the heirs had power to alienate the property in any way; and that,if any heir carried on any trade which resulted in loss, the risk of it was to be on that heir (cls. 3, 8). P, the elder of the two sons, having been of weak intellect, the testator by his will provided that his younger son J was to look after the whole estate and both the heirs were to equally enjoy half and half alike the whole estate. If P had a son born to him, half of the estate was to be made over to him on his attaining full age. If he had no son born to him, then J was directed to give away his son as palak to the former, and all the clauses of the will were made applicable to the palak son. P died without having a natural son ; and on the third day after his death, J gave his own son B as palak to P, a dispute having arisen between the palak and the heirs of P about his share in the estate :—Held, (1) that, under cl. 2 of the will, each of the two sons P and J took an absolute estate in the moiety of the testator's property, (2) that the restrictions on the powers of enjoyment (cls. 3, 8) having been repugnant to the absolute gift already made under cl. 2, were invalid and inopertive under s. 125 of the Indian Succession Act. (3) That, though the absolute estate given to P was made defeasible in the event of his having a son and that son attaining majority, the absolute gift became indefeasible inasmuch as that event did not happen. (4) That there was no legacy given to B as palak, either as a persona designata or as a palak son. (5) That, even assuming that there was an executory bequest to the palak son, the bequest was void under s. 111 of the Succession Act. JEHANGIR DADABHAI v. KAIKHUSRU KAVASHA, 13 Bom. L.R. 141.

(70)—Ss. 82, 116—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 12 C.W.N. 729, P.C. = 35 C. 896=35 I.A. 118=4 M.L.T. 23=18 M.L.J. 287=5 A.L.J. 460=10 Bom. L.R. 604=8 C.L.J. 48.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(71)—Ss. 82, 187—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 3 Ind. Cas. 475.

(71-a)—S. 83—See No. 64, supra.

(71-b)—S. 84—See No. 64, supra.

(72)—Ss. 90, 94—Will—Bequest in favour of testator's children "or the survivors or survivor of them"—Attestation of will by one of them—Residuary bequest in favour of widow—Death of widow—Right of non-attesting children—Applicability of doctrine of acceleration.—A testator directed that the interest of all his moneys in any Bank in fixed deposits and also the interests on all his Railway shares be enjoyed by his wife for life, and that, after the death of his wife, the deposits and the shares "be divided into equal shares between my three children, James Joseph Barefoot, Cornelius Barefoot, and Florence Dinah Barefoot, or the survivors or survivor of them." James Joseph Barefoot was appointed a trustee under the will. Then there was a residuary bequest in these terms: "and as to the residue of all my estate, I will and devise to my wife all my property except the fixed deposits and Railway shares aforesaid, together with all property not hereinbefore referred to, for her sole use and benefit and to be disposed of as she may think fit and proper." James-Joseph Barefoot was an attesting witness to the will. On the death of the widow, Florence sued for a declaration that James Joseph was incapacitated from taking under the will and that she was entitled to the moiety of the property bequeathed. Held that, as James Joseph Barefoot was an attesting witness to the will, the bequest to him was void under the provisions of s. 94 of the Succession Act. The effect of the words "or the survivors or survivor of them" was, in the circumstances of the case, to take the case out of the ordinary rule that a legacy lapses where the legatee dies during the lifetime of the testator. The doctrine of acceleration did not apply as Cornelius and Florence did not survive James Joseph. The shares of James Joseph therefore fell into the residue and did not go to Cornelius and Florence. CAMANI v. BAREFOOT, 26 M. 433.

(73)—Ss. 90, 100, 102 and 103—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 15 B. 326.

(74)—Ss. 90, 105—Charitable gifts—Hospitals, gifts to—Corporate bodies—Property subject to trust incapable of taking effect.—Charitable gifts to hospitals, which are recognised as existing public institutions, are good charitable gifts, provided always, when the Succession Act applies, that the provisions of s. 105 as to registration and deposit are complied with. To validate such a gift it is not necessary that the institution to be benefited should be a corporate body; it is sufficient if there be some responsible authority charged with the general administration of the funds of the institution. Under s. 90 of the Succession Act, property which is the subject-matter of a trust which is incapable of taking effect, prima facie falls into the residue, and it can only be prevented from doing so by the express directions of the testator. FANINDRA KUMAR MITTER v. THE ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL, 6 C W.N. 321. (L.R. (1893), 3 Ch. D. 348, L.R. (1883), 23 Ch. D. 218, R.)

(75)—Ss. 92, 96—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 24 M. 299.

(76)—Ss. 92, 96, 128—Will of Hindu in City of Madras - Legacy to son—Appointment of son as executor—Death of son during lifetime of testator leaving issue - Right of issue to claim legacy.—S. 96 of the Indian Succession Act can only apply to a case where the legatee predeceases the testator, whether he has been named an executor or not. S. 128 implies that the executor survives the testator. It cannot apply to a case where the executor predeceases the testator. And it does not affect the case contemplated by s. 96. A Hindu in the City of Madras executed a will giving a legacy in favour of her son and appointing the son her executor. The son predeceased his mother, leaving a son behind. Held that, as s. 128 is absolute and applies only if the son survived and refused to act as executor, the legacy in favour of the testatrix's son did not lapse on account of the predecease of the son during his mother's lifetime but enured to the benefit of the grandson of the testatrix. RAMASAMY IYAH v. KUPPUSAMY IYAH, 13 M.L.J. 351.

(77)—S. 93—Presumption in favour of joint tenancy—See GIFT, 7 M.L.T. 379=6 Ind. Cas. 7=20 M.L.J. 377=M.W.N. 1910, 74=34 M. 80.

(78)—S. 93—See No. 67, supra.

(79)—S. 94—See No. 72, supra.

(80)—S. 96—Act XXI of 1870 (Hindu Wills)—Tagore case.—Where a testator gave a legacy to his son's daughter, who, however, died during the lifetime of the testator, leaving an only child who survived the testator, held that the child could recover the legacy left to her mother (the legatee), as the latter was in point of law, within the meaning of s. 96, Succession Act, a person in existence at the death of the testator, because a lineal descendant of hers survived the testator. The rule in the Tagore case, when it speaks of a person being in existence in the contemplation of law, refers not to the Hindu Law, but to general principles of jurisprudence. JITU LAL MAHTA v. BINDA BIBI, 16 C. 549.

(81)—S. 96—See Nos. 75, 76, supra.

(82)—Ss. 96, 321—Wills executed by Hindus, interpretation of—Justice, equity and good conscience.—In interpreting a will executed by a Hindu, the lower appellate Court applied the provisions of s. 96 of the Act. Held, that, under s. 331 of the Succession Act, the provisions of the Act did not apply to wills executed by Hindus in Oudh. RAM KISHEN SINGH v. SRIPAL, 9 O.C. 159.

(83)—S. 98—See ACT XXI OF 1865, 7 Bom. L.R. 207.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(84)—Ss. 98, 101, 102—Residuary gift in a will—Vested interests—Postponement of distribution.—Where a testator gave his residuary estate to trustees in trust for his nephews and nieces, to be paid in certain proportions and at certain times, with benefit of survivorship between and among them, it was held, on a claim, as upon on intestacy, on the allegation that the residuary gift under the will was void for remoteness under ss. 101 and 102, that, on a construction of the will, the legatees took vested interests, subject to be divested on death before the contingencies in the will happened, that the will only postponed the distribution and that the legacies were, therefore, valid. Semble:—S. 98 applies only to vested interests. MASEYK v. FERGUSSON, 4 C. 304. [R., 6 A. 583.]

(85)—S. 100—See No. 73, supra.

(86)—S. 101—Rule against perpetuity.—One of the clauses of a will ran: "As to my other property which there is, that is, the property situated on the east side of the house of my step-brother, I give the same to my younger son Chiranjivi Mahadev for his life. He shall have no authority either to mortgage or to sell the said property. He shall only receive the income of the said property and I give the property after his death to his son or to his sons in equal shares should there be (any such son or sons). In case he leaves no son behind him by Mukhtyars shall get a son adopted by his wife and thus perpetuate his name. And they shall give the said property to him on his attaining the age of twenty-one years." Held, on a construction of the above clause, that the bequest in favour of a sod of Mahadev who might be adopted at any time after Mahadev's death by a widow who might not have been living at the testator's decease was void under s. 101 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865. KASHINATH v. CHIMNAJI, 8 Bom. L.R. 268 = 30 B. 477.

(86-a)—S. 101—See No. 84, supra.

(87)—Ss. 101, 102—Disposition of residuary estate—Construction of ss. 3 and 4 of the Hindu Wills Act—See HINDU WILLS ACT, 1870, ss. 3, 4, 4 M.L.T. 306.

(88)—Ss. 101, 102, 159—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 20 B. 450.

(89)—S. 102—Gift to a class—Some of whom cannot take—Effect.—Where there is a gift to a class and some persons constituting such class cannot take in consequence of the remoteness to the gift or otherwise, the whole bequest must fail. A gift by a Hindu to a person not ascertained or capable of being ascertained at the time of the death of the testator cannot take effect; therefore, the gift, to the unborn male issue of the son and grandsons of the testator must fail. A Hindu cannot under any circumstances make a gift by will to an unborn person or persons. SRIMATI BRAMAMAYI DASI v. JAGES CHANDRA DUTT, 8 B.L.R. 400. (4 B.L.R.O.C. 103, F.) [Not F., 12 C. 663; 32 C. 992=9 C.W.N. 749=1 C.L.J.482; F., 3 Bom. L.R. 857=26 B. 449; R., 12. M. 393.]

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(90)—S. 102—See Nos. 73, 84, 87, 88, supra.

(91)—S. 103—See No. 73, supra.

(92)—S. 105—"Relative," meaning of—Death of testator leaving widow—Bequest for charitable uses—Validity.—A testator died two days after bequeathing certain property to charitable uses. He left a widow surviving him. The question was whether the bequest was valid. Held that the term "relative" in s. 105 of the Succession Act referred to kindred only as set forth in the table of consanguinity annexed to s. 24 of the Act and had no application to any relationship by marriage. Consequently, the bequest was not invalid by reason of the existence of the widow. ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL OF MADRAS v. SIMPSON, 26 M. 532.

(93)—S. 103—See No. 73, supra.

(93-a)—S. 105—See Nos. 33, 74, supra.

(94)—S. 106—See ACT XXI OF 1865, 7 Bom. L.R. 207.

(95)—S. 107—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, ss. 17, 18, 21, 25 and 77, 7 Bom. L.R. 742=30 B. 304.

(96)—S. 111—"Time is mentioned for the occurrence of the event," meaning of—Construction—Gift over void—Estate taken is absolute.—Where a will fixes the nearer limit of time beyond which the specified uncertain event is to happen, but does not fix either any definite point of time at which or any further limit of time within which that event is to happen, it does not amount to the mentioning of time for the occurrence of that specified uncertain event within the meaning of s. 111 of Succession Act. [D., 33 C. 947=10 C.W.N. 695=3 C.L.J. 502.] S. 111 of the Succession Act does not embody simply a rule of construction for giving effect to the intention of the testator. It lays down a hard and fast rule regulating the validity of certain classes of contingent bequests, which must be applied wherever it is applicable, without speculating on the intention of the testator. The language of illustrations (d) and (e) to the section. does not control the meaning of the section (23 C. 563, F.) [D., 33 C. 947=10 C.W.N. 695=3 C.L.J. 502.] Where a testator by his will bequeathed a legacy to one K with the proviso that if "after the expiration of nine years from my death, K should die without son or grandson, then M shall get K's properties," and the uncertain event, viz., the death of K without son or grandson did not happen before the expiry of 9 years from the testator's death, i.e., before the period of distribution, held, that this case came under s. 111 of the Succession Act and the gift over, i.e., the legacy to M, could not take effect, as the specified uncertain event contemplated did not happen before the period of distribution, and K took an absolute indefeasible estate in the legacy. MONOHUR MUKERJEE v. KASISWAR MUKERJEE, 3 C.W.N. 478. (18 W.R. 359, 9 M. I.A. 123, R.)

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(97)—S. 111—Period of distribution—Will—Construction—Marginal notes and alterations in will—Probate.—Marginal notes and alterations made by the testator in his will, which are unattested, cannot be admitted to probate. A testator bequeathed a portion of his property to his son and provided that, if the son died "without marrying, or, if married, without any lineal heir," his share should revert equally to his surviving sisters or their heirs. A question having arisen as to the validity of the restriction: Held, that the restriction imposed by the testator upon his son was nugatory and the son took the whole of his inheritance absolutely. SARDAR NOWROJI PUDUMJI v. PUTLIBAI, 15 Bom. L.R. 352=19 Ind. Cas. 832.

(98)—S. 111—Scope—Bequest—Real and personal property.—S. 111 applies to bequest of all descriptions of property, there being no difference in India between real and personal property. NARENDRA NATH SIRCAR v. KAMALA BASINI DASI, 23 C. 563=23 I.A. 18, P.C.=6 M.L.J. 71=6 Sar. 667.

(99)—S. 111—Construction of will—Bequest to daughter—Absolute estate.—Where in a will a legacy was given in the following words:—"On my death, my daughter Surjamoni, who has got sons, ahd who is a resident of.....shall possess as owner and possessor of all the rights of gift, sale, etc., in respect of all my property moveable and immoveable, and on the death of my aforesaid daughter, the sons born of her womb will equally own all my property." Held, upon a construction of the will, that it was the intention of the testator to give to Surjamoni an absolute estate. GOBINDA CHUNDER GUPTA v. BENODE CHUNDER DUTT, 12 C.W.N. 44.

(100)—S. 111—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 6 M.L.J. 71, P. C. 23 C. 563=23 I.A. 18, 24 C. 406.

(101)—S. 111—See Nos. 68, 69, supra.

(102)—Ss. 111 and 116—English law—Principle of the sections.—The principle well established by Jones v. Westcomb and various other English cases has been codified in India in s. 116 of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) which section applies to Hindus (15 C. 282, F.). S. 111 of the Succession Act applies only when the prior bequest is capable of taking effect and is not ab initio, void. If the bequest has failed, ab initio, the principle laid down in s. 116 applies. The rule, which has been applied to a bequest in a Will executed before the 1st September, 1870, of immoveable property, by a husband to his wife, viz, that she takes only a limited estate, when there are no express words creating an absolute estate, cannot apply to a married daughter. Though under Hindu law, a married daughter takes, by inheritance, a limited estate, she takes an absolute estate under a devise by will, unless her interest is curtailed by express words or necessary implication. (16 M. 466, 24 C. 406, 24 W.R. 395, 24 C. 646; 2 C.L.J. 5=9 C.W.N. 784, F.) The words in the Will, "to my daughters and their respective sons I give, devise and bequeath the same," give, an absolute estate to the daughters, and not a limited or joint estate. 'Sons' in this case was intended to have the same effect as "sons, grandsons, etc." Where it would be premature to decide whether an absolute gift is defeasible in the event of either daughter dying without male issue, the question was left undecided until it is ascertained what the events are. RADHA PROSAD MULLICK AND PEARY LALL MULLICK v. RANI MONI DASSEE, 3 C.L.J. 502=10 C.W.N. 695, S.B. =33 C. 957. (24 I.A. 76=24 C. 834, F.) [On appeal., 35 C. 896, P.C.=35 I.A. 118=12 C.W.N. 729=8 C.L.J. 48=5 A.L.J. 460=10 Bom. L.R. 604=18 M.L.J. 287.]

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(103)—Ss. 111, 187—Bequest to daughters on marriage—Testator's death before marriage—Effect—Grant of letters of administration with will annexed to a legatee—Grant limited on appeal, but letters not amended—Effect—Necessity for fresh letters of administration—Effect of grant of probate pending suit and before decree.—The clause in a will relating to the two daughters of the testator ran thus:—"When they will be married and if they desire to live in separate houses, the person in whose management my property will be at the time will make separate houses for them in the vicinity of my house from the income of my property. For the maintenance of my daughters I fix an allowance of Rs. 600 a year." Held that the will dealt with the maintenance in a clause which stood by itself, and that the payment of maintenance was not made contingent on the marriage of the ladies, and s. 111, Succession Act, had therefore no application. In this case, another legatee obtained grant of letters of administration with the will annexed, but the High Court afterwards modified the grant by limiting it to the realisation of the legacy given to the applicant, who however died before the letters could be recalled and altered accordingly by the District Court. Held that probate of the will had been granted within the meaning of s. 187 of the Act, and that the subsequent limitation of the grant, even if right, is immaterial. Where probate was obtained subsequent to suit but before decree, held, this was sufficient compliance with s. 187 of the Act. KUMAR CHANDRA KISHORE ROY v. PRASANNA KUMARI DASI, 9 M.L.T. 71, P.C.=8 A. L.J. 96=15 C.W.N. 121=21 M.L.J 116=13 Bom. L.R. 67=13 C.L.J. 58=9 Ind. Cas. 122.

(104)—S. 114—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 23 M. 613=10 M.L.J. 214.

(104-a)—S. 116—See Nos. 70, 102, supra.

(105)—S. 117—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 2 N.L.R. 123.

(106)—S. 125—See No. 69, supra.

(107)—S. 128—Legacy to person appointed executor—Rebuttal of presumption—Parol evidence inadmissible.—The language of s. 128 of the Succession Act is peremptory and leaves no room for a presumption; it is not left to the Court to decide whether the legacy is given to the person named in his character as executor. It is assumed that it was so given and the prohibition follows. Parol evidence to rebut the presumption is not, unlike the case in England, admissible in India. PROSONO COOMAR GHOSE v. ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL, 15 C. 83.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(108)—S. 128—See NO. 76, supra.

(109)—S. 159—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 3 C.L.J. 515.

(110)—S. 159—See NO. 88, supra.

(111)—S. 164—See NOS. 60, 61, supra.

(112)—S. 172—Suit for share of inheritance and suit for maintenance—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 43—Doctrine of Election.—Where a Hindu testator, in bequeathing all his property, included therein the share of his brother's widow, but made a suitable provision for her maintenance, and the widow recovered the provision by suit, held, a subsequent suit by her for recovery of her share in the ancestral property would not be barred under s. 43 of the Civ. Pro. Code, though such suit would be precluded with regard to the doctrine of election under s. 172 of the Succession Act, as the widow must have known that the maintenance was provided for her in lieu of her ancestral property. PRAMADA DASEE v. LAKHI NARAIN MITTER, 12 C. 60.

(113)—S. 179—"Property of deceased" does not include property held by deceased as executor or administrator.—"Property of the deceased" in s. 179 of Act X of 1865 means only the actual property of the deceased, whether held by him for his own benefit or the benefit of others, and does not mean property vested in him as executor or administrator under the Indian Succession Act. Therefore, under the Indian Succession Act, the executor of an executor is not derivate executor of the original testator, even though such testator died before 1866. DE SOUZA v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE, 12 B. L.R. 423.

(114)—S. 179—Hindu Wills Act—Grant of limited probate.—The application for the grant of limited probate in this case to the son and executor of the testator was refused. The will in question was made subsequently to the passing of the Hindu Wills Act, XXI of 1870, by which certain sections and amongst them, s. 179 of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865), were declared applicable to all wills of Hindus made on or after the 1st of September 1870. Under this section, the interest of the executor in the property of the deceased is not limited as it is in cases falling under s. 18 of Act XXVII of 1860. There is no provision in the Succession Act which authorises the Court to grant probate limited to part of the estate in cases where, under s. 179 of the Act, the whole estate is vested in the executor. In re THAKER MADHAVJI DHARAMSI, 6 B. 460. [R., 26 B. 571=4 Bom. L.R. 9.]

(115)—S. 179—See PARTIES TO SUIT—GENERAL, 12 B. 621.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(116)—Ss. 179, 187, 188, 240 and 242—See PROBATE—GENERAL, 4 C. 1=2 C.L.R. 422.

(117)—Ss. 179, 187, 191—See ACT II OF 1874, s. 31, 21 C. 732.

(118)—Ss. 179, 187, 260—Suit by executrix—Necessity for production of copy of will as well as the grant of administration—Non-production thereof, effect on suit—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 167, 32 C. 710.

(119)—Ss. 180 and 212—Application for Letters of Administration with copy of will, proved abroad, annexed—Original will deposited and registered in Scotland—Copy produced being copy certified under the hand and seal of Notary Public to be true copy of original granted by Assistant Keeper of Register of Deeds—No certificate of having been compared with original—Not shown to be admissible in England—Copy not admissible under s. 63, Evidence Act.—Where, in an application, under ss. 180 and 212 of the Succession Act, for letters of administration with copy of the will, proved abroad, annexed, the original will, described as a trust disposition and settlement having been deposited and registered in Scotland, a copy certified, under the hand and seal of a Notary Public, to be a true copy of the original granted by the Assistant Keeper of the Register of Deeds, neither purporting to be a copy made from the will itself nor bearing any certificate that it had been compared with the original, nor shown to be a copy admissible in England to prove the original, was produced: Held that the copy produced was not a properly authenticated copy of the will and inadmissible as secondary evidence, under s. 63 of the Evidence Act, and that the applicant should produce a copy certified, by the Keeper or Assistant Keeper of the Register, to be a true copy of the original will. In the matter of the estate of ADAM ROBERTSON WHYTE, 14 Bur. L.R. 33.

(120)—Ss. 180, 212—Letters of Administration—Agent of the executor.—The Agent for an executor duly appointed by him applied for letters of administration under s. 180 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865. Held that s. 212 was the appropriate section and letters of administration were directed to be issued to the Agent under that section limited for the use and benefit of the executor. In re THE WILL OF SIR HENRY MARION DURAND, 28 P.R. 1871.

(121)—Ss. 180 and 212—Letters of Administration—Application for limited grant after probate of will in England—Application not maintainable.—Where, after a will had been duly proved by the executors in England, the attorney of the executors applied to the High Court for a grant of Letters of Administration limited until the executors should obtain probate in India, purporting to apply under s. 212 of Act X of 1865, it was held that the application could not be sustained, first, because only a copy of the will, and not the original, was produced, and, secondly, because the executors could not, under the circumstances, ever obtain probate of the will in India. S. 180 of the Act might have been applicable, but that the authority of the executors' attorney did not empower him to apply for more than a limited grant. In the goods of ASHTON, A.W.N. 1905, 251.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(122)—Ss. 181, 186, 187, 196—Will—Probate—Residuary legatee — Administration suit—Probate of the will.—The plaintiff instituted a suit for the construction of a will, and for a declaration that certain property was at the time of the death of the testator at his disposal and that the same has been validly disposed of by his will in favour of plaintiff and one Dharamshi in equal shares, and for administration. The Court below construed the will and decided in plaintiff's favour, but directed that the decree should not be drawn up until the plaintiff obtained letters of administration with the will annexed. The plaintiff appealed: Held, that notwithstanding the terms of s. 181 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, the plaintiff as residuary legatee could obtain a grant that would satisfy the requirements of s. 187 of the Act; and that until he had done so, he was not entitled to establish his claim in a Court of law. GORDHANDAS v. RAMCOOVERBAI, 3 Bom. L.R. 874=26 B. 267.

(123)—S. 182—Executor by implication.—Where, by a will executed by a Hindu testator, all his property, including his liabilities, is left to his sons, they are not entitled to apply for probate of the will, on the ground that they have been appointed executors by implication. Ex parte VITTAL DOSS, 15 M. 360. [R., 1 N.L.R. 164, 15 P.W.R. 1907=73 P.L.R. 1908.]

(124)—Ss. 182, 264—Executor by implication—Reference—Jurisdiction of High Court.—When the clauses in a will clearly indicated that the testator gave, to a porson mentioned in the will, full powers to collect and receive all debts and manage the estate for a period of nine years, after the expiry of which he was to distribute it to the various legatees, in the manner directed, such person was held to be an executor and entitled as such to probate of the will (In the goods of Baylis, 1 Prob. and M. 21, F.). Though a District Judge erroneously refers a matter relating to probate under s. 611 of the Civ. Pro. Code, yet, the High Court can, acting under the concurrent jurisdiction given to it by s. 264 of Act X of 1865, treat the matter as if originally brought before it. In the matter of MONOHUR MOOKERJEE, 6 C.L.R. 228.

(125)—Ss. 183, 187, 198, 215—Will—Christian testatrix—No provision for appointment of executor—Minor son not sole residuary legatee—Power of Court to appoint executor—Grant of letters of administration to minor or his mother.—Where, by the will of deceased Christian testatrix, no one is expressly appointed executor, probate or letters of administration with the will annexed should be taken out by somebody; otherwise, under s. 187, Succession Act, the legatees acquire no title to the property. It is open to the Court to grant, under s. 198, letters of administration with the will annexed to one of the persons having a beneficial interest in the estate; but such letters cannot, under s. 183, be granted to a minor. And where the minor is not a sole residuary legatee, letters could not, under s. 215, be granted to his mother. MA SAW v. MA THIT, 6 L.B.R. 118 = 18 Ind. Cas. 187.

(126)—S. 186—See NO. 122, supra.

(127)—S. 187—Hindu Wills before 1870—Probate—Letters of administration.—S. 187 of the Succession Act not being applicable to wills made before 1870, executors or legatees under them need not take out probate or letters of Administration to establish their rights in a Court of justice. KRISHNA KINKUR ROY v. RAI MOHAN ROY, 14 C. 37. [R., 17 C. 272, 25 C. 103.]

(128)—S. 187—S. 2, Hindu Wills Act, 1870—Wills of Hindus executed prior to 1*st September*, 1870, Probate or Administration to.—An application may be made, and probate or letters of administration granted in respect of wills executed before the first day of September, 1870. But s. 187 of the Succession Act, which, by s. 2 of the Hindu Wills Act, was made applicable to wills subsequent to the 1st September, 1870, has not been incorporated in the probate Act and it follows from this that although it is fully competent to a Court to grant probate or letters of administration in respect of wills antecedent to the 1st September, 1870, still it is not obligatory upon executors or persons claiming letters of administration to obtain such probate or letters of administration, before they can establish their right in respect to any property of the deceased in a Court of justice. KRISHNA KINKAR ROY v. PANCHURAM MUNDUL, 17 C. 272. [F., 18 A. 260=16 A.W.N. 44, 2 O.C. 33, 2 N.L.R. 123.]

(129)—S. 187—Hindu Wills Act, 1870, s. 2—Estate of deceased Hindu—Legal representative.—A Hindu defendant in a pending civil suit died leaving a will which, however, was not proved. His step-brothers were added as representatives, and a decree by consent was passed. The mother of the deceased then got a decree that she was entitled to the estate of her son as against the step-brothers, and subsequently sued to set aside the original decree on the ground that the will, not having been proved, ought to be ignored, since s. 2 of Act XXI of 1870 makes the provisions of s. 187 of the Succession Act applicable to Hindu wills in Madras. Held, though the executors can establish no right without taking out probate, the will cannot be ignored for all purposes whatever, and since the existence of the will was proved and the mother was not entitled under it, she could not now sue to set aside the original decree. JANAKI v. DHANU LALL, 14 M. 454. [R., 20 M 446, 30 C. 1044, 8 C.W.N. 843, 10 C.W.N. 566, 2 C.L.J. 484, 2 N.L.R. 123, 6 C.L.J. 719=11 C.W.N. 1078, 19 M.L.J. 671.]

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(130)—S. 187—Will—Application by legatee for Letters of Administration—Grant limited to recovery of legacy only—Suit by another legatee to recover legacy—Maintainability—Proof of will only essential.—Letters of administration with a copy of the will annexed in respect of the entire estate left by the testator was granted by the District Judge to a legatee to whom the testator had bequeathed an allowance for maintenance. On appeal, the High Court directed that the Letters should be limited to the realisation, by the grantee, of that allowance only. But, before fresh letters in terms of the High Court's order could be issued by the District Judge, the legatee died. Subsequently, another legatee to whom also the testator had bequeathed an allowance for maintenance, brought a suit for recovery of the same. Held, that s. 187 of the Act was no bar to the recovery of the plaintiff's claim. If a will is once proved and Probate or letters of Administration granted, that would entitle any one of the legatees or any one claiming under the will to obtain relief from Court. S. 187 of the Act does not contemplate that every legatee claiming under a will should have to obtain separate Probate or Letters of Administration in respect of the estate or a portion of the estate in order to be entitled to maintain a claim for the legacy. KUMAR CHANDRA KISHORE ROY v. PROSANNA KUMAR DASS, 10 C.W.N. 864=4 C.L.J. 523.

(131)—S. 187—See CERTIFICATE OF ADMINISTRATION—EFFECT OF CERTIFICATE, 23 W.R. 252.

(132)—S. 187—See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE, 15 B. 657.

(133)—S. 187—See Nos. 71, 103, 116, 117, 118, 122, 125, supra.

(134)—S. 188—See NO. 116, supra.

(135)—S. 190—One executor de son tort suing another—Debts due to executor de son tort—Recovery—Remedy—Letters of administration.—The father of the defendants (a Parsi) died intestate leaving behind him a widow, three daughters and two sons (the plaintiff and his brother). Without taking out letters of administration to the estate of their deceased father, the plaintiff and his brother managed the estate and collected the rents and outstandings due to the estate. Letters of administration were obtained by the widow and the three daughters, but they were limited to the extent of their interest in the estate of the deceased. The plaintiff brought the present suit against his brother and other members of the family for recovering Rs. 61,948-8-0 which he alleged to be due to him in respect of monies advanced to his deceased father when he was alive. Held, that the suit must fail under s. 190 of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865), because neither the plaintiff nor any other member of the deceased's family had taken out letters of administration in respect of the deceased's whole estate. The letters of administration taken out by the widow and the three daughters purporting to deal only with such shares in the estate as they may be entitled to were not such as are contemptated by s. 190 of the above Act, and that the only course open to the plaintiff was to take proceedings to obtain the appointment of an administrator of the estate who either would administer it by the payments of the debts and the distribution of the surplus (if any) amongst the heirs after taking an account of all property already received out of it by the creditors or heirs, or who could be compelled to do so by an administration suit. FRAMJI DORABJI GHASWALA v. ADARJI DORABJI GHASWALA, 18 B. 337. [R., 20 M.L.J. 984=8 M.L.T. 77=M.W.N. 1910, 272=7 Ind. Cas. 242.]

(136)—S. 190—Letters of administration to estate of deceased Parsi—Right of suit.—The land in dispute belonged originally to a Parsi who died intestate. After his death, one of his brothers without taking out letters of administration sold the land to the plaintiff. The defendant asserted a right of way over it and obtained an injunction in the Mamlatdar's Court, restraining the plaintiff from obstructing him in the enjoyment of his alleged right. Thereupon the plaintiff filed the present suit to have the Mamlatdar's order set aside, and for a declaration that the land belonged to him and that the defendant had no right of way over it. Both the lower Courts dismissed the suit on the preliminary point that the plaintiff could not establish his right to the land in the absence of letters of administration to the estate of the deceased to whom the land originally belonged. Held, reversing the decrees, that s. 190 of Act X of 1865 did not apply. Neither party relied as the basis of his own right on the previous title of the deceased owner. There was no question about administration, nor could the result of the suit prejudice the rights of any heirs who might possibly exist. TULJARAM v. BAMANJI KHARSEDJI, 19 B. 823.

(137)—S. 190—Letters of administration—Firm—Family firm—Debt contracted by manager—Liability of members of the family.—K and his three sons constituted a family firm. It was managed by K during his lifetime; and after his death, by one of his sons, A. During his management, A executed a san mortgage-bond to the plaintiff, for paying off a judgment-creditor who had attached one of the family properties. The mortgage bond was attested by E, another son of K. The plaintiff brought a suit to recover the mortgage-money; but it was dismissed on the ground that the estate of K was not legally represented by A at the time when he passed the mortgage-bond (s. 190, Succession Act, 1865). On appeal: Held, reversing the decree, (1) that, as the mortgage-debt was incurred after K's death, it could not be a debt of K and could not give rise to any claim against the estate of K; and that s. 190, Succession Act, 1865, had therefore no application; (2) that the claim was made upon a mortgage which purported to bind the partners in the family firm and a certain property which was specified in the mortage-deed, and the interest which was intended to be conveyed was the interest of the three sons of K who were bound under s. 43 of the Transfer of Property Act to satisfy the mortagee's claim out of that interest. AHMEDABAD UNITED CO. v. ARDESHIR, 14 Bom. L.R. 644=36 B. 515=16 Ind. Cas. 684. (L.R. 7 Ch. 123, F.)

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(137-a)—S. 190—See No. 211, infra.

(138)—S. 191—See No. 117, supra.

(139)—S. 196—See No. 122, supra.

(140)—Ss. 196, 229 "May" in the sections directory.—The word "may" in ss. 196 and 229 of Act X of 1865, is not to be construed as merely permissive, but as directory, and as showing the course which the Legislature intends shall be adopted. So, where an executor dies before fully administering the estate, as between the residuary legatee and the executor, of the deceased executor, the former is the preferential claimant for letters of administration. DE SOUZA v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE, 12 B. L.R. 423. [Appl., 25 W.R. 489; R., 16 M. 71.]

(141)—S. 198—See No. 125, supra.

(142)—S. 206—Grant of letters-of-administration to creditor—Execution of decree—Limitation Act, 1877, art. 179.—An application for execution of a decree against a deceased judgment-debtor does not comply with the provisions of cl. (4), art. 179, of the Limitation Act if it does not give the name of the legal representative of the deceased. A judgment-creditor does not cease to be a creditor for the purpose of s. 206 of the Succession Act through execution of his decree being barred under art. 179, sch. II, of the Limitation Act. E. SOLOMON & CO. v. S. A. JOHNSON, U.B.R. 1892-1896, Vol. II, 635. (4 C. 583, 5 C. 897, R.)

(143)—Succession Act (X of 1865), Ss. 208, 209, applicability of—Wills of Hinaus.—Ss. 208, 209 apply to cases of the grant of letters of administration with will annexed to the estates of Hindus, in respect of wills executed after 1st September, 1870. ISHUR CHUNDER SURMAH v. DOYAMOYE DEBEA, 8 C. 864.

(144)—S. 209—See No. 143, supra.

(145)—S. 212—See Nos. 119, 120, 121, supra.

(146)—S. 215—See No. 125, supra.

(147)—S. 217, Administrator appointed under—Creditors advancing money to such administrator, position of.—Held, that an administrator appointed under s. 217 of the Indian Succession Act possesses all the powers conferred by the Act upon an ordinary administrator. Held, further, that creditors dealing with an administrator appointed under s. 217 are in the same position as those advancing money to an ordinary administrator appointed under some other section of the Act. Held also, that the words "for the use and benefit of the lunatic" in s. 217 create a special liability as between the administrator and the lunatic on whose behalf he is appointed to act, but they do not affect the position of creditors dealing with such administrators. BONY, B. v. J. EDWARDS, 12 O. C. 390. [R., 12 O. C. 414.]

(148)—S. 221—Administrator—Limited grant—Plea of purchase for value without notice.—A person obtaining a limited grant under s. 221 of the Indian Succession Act, does not by virtue of it acquire, nor has he, power rightfully to dispose of any interest outside the limits of that grant. Hence, where a person has conveyed to him by the husband the property which stands in the name of his deceased wife, and such person obtains a limited grant to the estate of the deceased under s. 221 of the Indian Succession Act, he cannot, by virtue of the grant, convey the rights which the heirs of the deceased have in the property. The plea of a purchase for value without notice should be specifically put forward either in the written statement or in the issues. DE SILVA v. DE SILVA, 5 Bom. L. R. 784, on appeal from, 4 Bom. L.R. 849.

(149)—S. 229—See No. 140, supra.

(150)—S. 234, Object of.—The object of s. 234 of the Succession Act is the same as s. 50 of the Probate and Administration Act, BRINDA CHOWDHRAIN v. RADHICA CHOWDHRAIN, 11 C. 492.

(151)—S. 234 — Revocation of probate — Hindus, applicability of section to—Probate, who cannot apply, revocation of.—S. 234 of the Indian Succession Act applies to Hindus, and an application to revoke probate of the will of a Hindu may be made under this section. When once probate in solemn form has been granted, no one who has been cited or has taken part in the proceedings, or who was cognizant of them, can afterwards seek to have it cancelled. In re PITAMBAR GIRDHAR, 5 B. 638. [R., 11 C. 492, 18 C. 45, 17 M. 373 27 C. 927.]

(151-a)—S. 234—See Nos. 160, 180, infra.

(152)—Ss. 234, 250, 261—Probate, revocation of—minor—Practice—Contested and uncontested cases.—The absence of citation upon an infant whose interests are affected by a will would be just cause for revoking the probate under s. 234 of the Indian Succession Act, and he would be entitled to require the executor to prove the will in his presence. In applying for the probate of a will which affects the interests of a minor, the proper course is to serve the minor with a notice and have a proper guardian ad litem appointed for him. [R., 12 C.W.N. 6.] Although it is quite true that s. 250, Indian Succession Act, which provides for the issue of citation, does not render it obligatory on the Court to issue any special citation, but merely declares that it shall be lawful for the Court to do so, yet it is not only desirable but necessary in the ends of justice that this power should be exercised when it appears that some of the heirs whose interests are effected by the will are minors. It is stated that according to the law in India there is no distinction between proving a will in "Common form" and proving it in "Solemn form." But the sections of the Indian Succession Act point clearly to a difference between cases which are contested and cases which are not contested, and s. 261 lays down the procedure in contentious cases. WALTER REBELLS v. MARIA REBELLS, 2 C. W. N. 100.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(153)—Ss. 234 and 259—Revocation of letters of administration.—When a District Court has made a grant limited as to its local operation, the Chief Court cannot amend the grant made by the District Judge so as to give it operation beyond the limits of the District Judge's jurisdiction to make a grant. When the attorney for the executrix and the District Judge were both aware that effects of the testator existed in British India outside the Punjab, but in spite of this the one applied for probate, and the other granted letters of administration, not with the will but with a copy of the will annexed and the will was not filed, as prescribed by s. 259 of the Succession Act, held, that the proceedings to obtain the grant were so defective in substance that the grant should be annulled under s. 234 of the Act. In the goods of ARTHUR JAMES GRANT, 37 P.L.R. 1902=1 P. R. 1902.

(154)—S. 235—See JUDICIAL COMMISSIONER, ASSAM, 12 W.R. 424.

(155)—S. 237—Exemplification of Will—Probate—Order to produce testamentary paper.—Testator died in Calcutta, leaving a will, whereof he appointed A, B, C, and D executors. D, the mother of the testator, had carried on business in partnership with the testator in Calcutta, and a considerable portion of the testator's estates was in India. A renounced probate and the will was proved in England by B and C who sent their agents in Calcutta an exemplification of the will for the purpose of obtaining a grant of probate or letters of administration to the estate in India. On an application by D for an order directing the agents to bring the exemplification into Court with a view to obtaining probate thereof, held that the exemplification was an instrument which the Court would order to be produced under s. 237, Succession Act. In re WILLIAM NEWTON, 8 B.L.R. App. 76.

(155-a)—S. 239—See NO. 183, infra.

(156)—S. 240—Probate or Letters of Administration—Deceased not having lived in or left effects within limits of Presidency—High Court—District Court—Jurisdiction—Letters Patent, 1862, cl. 34.—Where the deceased did not live in, or leave goods or effects, within the limits of the Presidency of Madras, the High Court of Madras had no jurisdiction to grant probate or letters of administration to his estate. The jurisdiction of the District Courts are similarly circumscribed under s. 240 of the Succession Act. In the matter of ROSE LEARMOUTH, 24 M. 120.

(157)—S. 240—See NO. 116, supra.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(158)—S. 242—Question of status—Res judicata—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 41, 110, U.B.R. 1910, 4th Qr., 61.

(159)—See Nos. 59, 116, supra.

(160)—Ss. 242 and 234—Amending Act VIII of 1903—Application for extension of certificate—Revocation of the grant of probate—Court Fees Act, s. 19 (c).—An application for probate to have effect throughout the Province of Sind was granted. But the testator also left some money due from a Life Insurance Company, the head office of which was situated at Bombay; and the Company refused to pay the money as the probate had no effect in Bombay. Held, on an application for the extension of the probate to the whole of India; (1) that no extension could be ordered inasmuch as the preliminaries required by Act VIII of 1903 had not been complied with, and that those preliminaries were not mere empty formalities; (2) that the grant might be annulled under s. 234, Expln. 4, of Act X of 1865, in order that a fresh grant might be applied for, which will be exempt from further Court-fee under s. 19 (c) of the Court Fees Act, 1870. APPLICATION BY ELIZABETH A. DESOUZA FOR PROBATE OF WILL OF ALFRED JAMES DESOUZA UNDER ACT X OF 1865, 1 S.L.R. 177.

(161)—Ss. 244, 256—Probate—Executor—Security—Jurisdiction—If there was property in the possession of the testatrix at the time of her death, which was claimed by her as being in her possession in her own right, it was not for the Court, in considering whether probate should be granted or not, to enter into the question whether the title, under which she held the property, was good or bad. It is sufficient, for the purpose of giving jurisdiction under Act X of 1865, that property claimed as her own should be actually in the possession of the deceased. The Court refused to depart from its uniform practice of granting probate without taking a security bond from the executor named in the will, in spite of the words of ss. 3 and 256 of Act X of 1865. RUN BAHADOOR SINGH v. MAHARANEE RAJRUP KOER, 4 C.L.R. 498. [D., 7 C. 84.]

(162)—S. 246—Grant of letters of administration by District Judge—Subsequent application to High Court.—The petitioner, after obtaining letters of administration to a deceased's estate from the District Judge, found, subsequently, that the deceased had left property outside the jurisdiction of the District Judge and applied to the High Court for grant of letters of administration. The High Court directed the petitioner to obtain the revocation of the letters granted by the District Judge before applying to the High Court. In the goods of ROSE ANNE D'SILVA, 25 A. 355=A.W.N. 1903, 62.

(163)—Ss. 246, 261—Letters of administration—Caveator propounding will—Former application for probate withdrawn—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 373.—When an application for probate of a will has been withdrawn before it became contentious, the applicant is entitled as caveator to propound the same will in opposition to an application for grant of letters of administration to the estate of the deceased. Though the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure are applicable to suits under the Indian Succession Act, s. 261, still, when an application for probate has been withdrawn before it became contentious, s. 373, Civ. Pro. Code, is not applicable, and will bar a subsequent propounding of the will. PAKIAM PILLAI v. INNASI FERNAND, 19 M. 458.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(164)—S. 250—Practice—Citations—Mode of issuing citations—Payment for advertisements in newspapers.—In this case it was held that the costs of citations directed by the Court to be issued by means of advertisement in a newspaper must be deposited before the citations should issue. In the goods of H.D. SHRIVELL, A.W.N. 1903, 30.

(165)—S. 250—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881), s. 81—Caveator—Interest of the caveator.—The provisions of s. 250, Succession Act, 1865, and s. 81, Probate and Administration Act, 1881, are that the interest, which entitles a person to put in a caveat, must be an interest in the estate of the deceased person, that is, there should be no dispute whatever to the title of the deceased to the estate, but that the person, who wishes to come in as caveator must show some interest in that estate, derived from the deceased by inheritance or otherwise. PIROJSHAH BHIKAJI v. PESTONJI MERWANJI, 12 Bom. L.R. 366=6 Ind. Cas. 523=34 B. 459. (17 C. 48, F.)

(165-a)—S. 250, and ss. 234, 244—Probate—Proceedings for revocation of probate—Locus standi of objector—Interest in testator's estate—Held, that an objector claiming specific property adversely to, and not through the testator, is not a person who has such an interest in the estate of the deceased as will entitle him to ask for a revocation of a grant of probate. Held also, that an executor of a will is under no obligation to set out in the application for probate a complete or any list of the heirs and relations of the testator. RALPH v. HALE, 7 P.R. 1902=2 P.L.R. 1902.

(166)—S. 250—See No. 152, supra,

(167)—S. 254—Application for probate—Power of testator to dispose of property, whether can be questioned.—Where, on an application for probate of a Will, certain persons objected to the granting of probate on the ground that the testator had no power to make a disposition of the property in dispute, held, that the District Judge was right in having refused to go into the questions thus raised, and in having granted probate. NANHU KOER v. SOMIRUN THAKUR, 8 C.L.R. 287. [R., 17 C. 48, 1 L.B.R. 157.]

(168)—S. 256—Administration bond—Discharge of surety—Refusal—High Court Original Side Rules, Rule 470—Practice.—Where sureties were appointed under s. 256 of the Succession Act, and their bond provided that, on the fulfilment of the conditions specified in the bond, the bond shall be void and of no effect:—Held, on application by the sureties for cancelling the bond on the ground that the administration was complete—Per C.J.—There is no provision of law to make an order to vacate an administration bond. Rule 470 of the Original Side Rules applied to an application to vacate a bond during the pendency of the administration, with a view to having another surety appointed in the place of the surety whose bond is vacated. The English practice with regard to the substitution of sureties appears to be that the Court will not discharge an original surety to the administration bond and allow another to be substituted for him; and this practice has been followed in this Court. Nor was there any provision in the English Probate Rules. Per Krishnaswami Iyer, J.—The principle of law is that, as the bond becomes void on the happening of a condition, it is allowed to work itself out on the happening of that condition, and if, as a matter of fact, the administration has become complete, the bond becomes void. If it is not, the bond is in force. There is no need for the Court being invited to make a declaration on the subject. In re ARTHUR GERALD NORTON KNIGHT, 7 M.L.T. 160=5 Ind. Cas. 311=33 M. 373.

(169)—S. 256—Administration, to whom to be given—Assignment.—Per Curiam.—Under s. 256 of the Indian Succession Act, an administration bond should be given to the "Judge of the District Court." In the case of the High Court, such bond may be given in the name of the Chief Justice. Under s. 257, such a bond may be assigned to "some person, his executors, and administrators." The Administrator-General is such a person. This section is not confined to private individuals only. In the case of the High Court, such a bond can only be assigned by the Court through one of its officers, e.g., the Registrar on the Original Side. In making the preliminary order granting the Letters, the Court does not guarantee that the evidence upon which the order is made is true. The grant of Letters, having been obtained fraudulently, was void ab initio. The invalidity of the grant does not render the surety bond void. Whether the shares sold by the administrator are or may be recoverable from the purchasers does not affect the liability of the sureties; since there is a present loss to estate, they are bound to make it good. Per Mitra, J.—The grant being void ab initio all acts done under it are also void. (6 C.W.N. 787, R.) The sale of shares was not in due course of administration, ss. 242 and 269 of the Indian Succession Act are not intended to afford protection to unwarrantable and fraudulent dispositions by an administrator, whose title rests on a grant absolutely void. S. 262 affords protection to debtors making bona fide payments to an executor or administrator before revocation of the grant. But it does not protect purchasers. DEBENDRA NATH DUTT v. THE ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL AND BANKU BEHARI BANERJI v. THE ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL OF BENGAL, 3 C.L.J. 422, S.B.=10 C.W.N. 673=33 C. 713. [Affirm., 35 C. 955, P.C.=35 I.A. 109=12 C.W.N. 802 =8 C.L.J. 94=10 Bom. L.R. 648=18 M.L.J. 367 ; F., 12 C.W.N. 481.]

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(170)—S. 256—Effect of breach of condition in bond executed under—Damages recoverable by assignee of bond—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 74, exception.—In an action brought on the breach of a bond given in accordance with s. 256 of the Indian Succession Act and assigned over to the plaintiff, he cannot recover more damages than he could prove to have resulted to himself or those interested in the bond on which he relies. A bond of this description cannot be regarded as an instrument covered by the exception to s. 74 of the Indian Contract Act, so that the whole sum mentioned in the bond might become payable on the breach of a condition therein. LACHMAN DAS v. CHATER, 10 A. 29=A.W.N. 1887, 279. [R, 16 M. 474.]

(171)—S. 256—Letters of Administration limited to particular purpose—Form of administration bond—Practice.—S. 256 requires a bond to be given in every case, but in such form as the Judge shall from time to time by any general or special order direct. It is only open to the Court to make a special order as to the form of the bond. The administration bond may follow the English form ; and, in the case of a limited or special administration, it should provide that the administrator "will exhibit a true and perfect inventory of the said estate and effects limited as aforesaid and render a just and true account thereof whenever required by law so to do." In the goods of GUBBOY, 26 C. 408=3 C.W.N. 364.

(172)—S. 256—See No. 161, supra.

(173)—S. 257—Grant of administration to widow of testator—Application by creditors for assignment of administration bond.—On the death of one G, his widow obtained grant of administration with the Will annexed on her executing an administration bond with a surety. The petitioners, to whom the testator owed a sum of money on a pro-note were not paid by the administratrix though there were sufficient assets in her hands, and they consequently applied to the Court for the assignment of the administration bond to some person who might bring a suit thereon, with a view to be adjustment of their claim. Held, that it would be competent for the High Court to pass an order empowering the persons to whom the bond might be assigned to sue as a trustee, and so to secure to the petitioners substantially the relief they sought. In the goods of GEORGE SAUNDERS, 6 N.W.P. 62.

(174)—S. 257—See GUARDIAN — DUTIES AND POWERS OF GUARDIANS, 5 A. 248=A.W.N. 1883, 12.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(175)—S. 258—Grant of letters with will annexed.—Letters of administration with will annexed may be granted after expiration of 7 clear days from the testator's death. In the goods of WILSON, 1 C. 149.

(176)—S. 259 — Practice—Mode of issuing citations.—In the case of an application made by the attorney of the executors, who had taken out probate of the will in Canada, for letters of administration with a copy of the will annexed in respect of certain property left by the testator in India, it was held under the special circumstances of the case, that citations might issue by registered letter from the Court with acknowledgment due. In the goods of FREDERIC NICHOLSON, A.W.N. 1903, 31.

(177)—S. 259—See No. 153, supra.

(178)—S. 260—See No. 113, supra.

(179)—S. 261—See Nos. 52, 152, 163, supra.

(180)—Ss. 261 and 234—Reference to arbitration—Legality of—Ground for revocation of probate.—Although according to s. 261 of the Act, the proceedings in contentious cases should, under the Civ. Pro. Code, take, as far as possible, the form of a regular suit, a Court, in which an application under s. 234 is pending has no power to delegate the decision of the question to arbitration, even with consent of parties. The words " the grant has became useless and inoperative through circumstances " in s. 234, referring to an application for revocation of probate, do not apply to a case where one of two executors appointed by a will and granted probate, finding it impossible to work harmoniously in concert, with his co-executor, applies for revocation of probate. CAMPBELL v. SIMPSON, 72 P.R. 1894. [D., 75 P.R. 1900.]

(181)—S. 263, Act XXVII of 1860—Whether order of District Judge as to security appealable on the ground of the security being insufficient.—The Indian Succession Act provides by s. 263 that the orders made by the District Judge shall be subject to the appeal to the High Court under the rules contained in the Code of Civil Procedure so far as these rules are applicable. So far as that section furnishes the Court with a guide by analogy as to whether this order is appealable or not, the conclusion is that it is not so, because no provision is made by the Code of Civil Procedure for an appeal against an order made, whether in pursuance of the directions of the High Court or otherwise by the District Judge, founded on the ground that security insufficient in point of quality has been accepted. Such orders are not appealable at all. So, the fact that the security accepted by the lower Court is insufficient cannot give a right of appeal. LUCAS v. LUCAS, 20 C. 245. (1 C. 127, R.)

(182)—S. 263—See APPEAL—MISCELLANEOUS, 2 C.L.R. 589, 27 C. 5.

(183)—S. 263—See COURT FEES, A.W.N. 1889, 27.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(184)—S. 263—See No. 52, supra.

(185)—S. 264—Probate order—Reference to High Court—Concurrency of jurisdiction of High Court.—A District Judge's order on a probate application is not final and cannot be referred to the High Court under s. 617 of the Civ. Pro. Code. But the High Court may, as a Court of concurrent jurisdiction, entertain such an application under s. 264 of the Indian Succession Act. In the matter of MONOHUR MOOKERJEE, 5 C. 756=7 C.L.R. 228.

(186)—S. 264—See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 1 P.R. 1902.

(187)—S. 264—See No. 124, supra.

(187-a)—S. 265—See EXECUTOR, 21 B. 400.

(188)—Ss. 265, 266 and 239—Executor of his own wrong—Intermeddling with estate of deceased—Estoppel—Civ Pro. Code, s. 368.—S. 368 of Civ. Pro. Code, read with ss. 265 and 266 of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) seems to show that an "executor of his own wrong" though not a legal representative, may, after a Court has allowed the plaintiff to have him joined as representing a defendant governed by the Succession Act and dying pendente lite, be estopped by his own conduct before suit from denying a limitation with regard to the representative capacity. Personal services rendered to the relatives of the deceased, because of the ties of friendship or the connection between employer and employed, in order to preserve personal effects from theft, depreciation or loss, afford no ground for natural belief that the functions of an executor or administrator have been assumed. They come, moreover, well within the rule of law that intermeddling with the goods of the deceased for the purpose "of preserving them, * * * * * * or for the intermediate necessities of his property, does not make an executor of his own wrong." If the goods are valuable and not required for the immediate necessities of the deceased's family or property, the safer course would be to invoke the jurisdiction of the District Judge under s. 239 of the Succession Act to appoint a custodian to take and keep temporary possession. Any creditor of the deceased can take that course (or can set the Administrator-General in motion wherever Act II of 1874 applies) But ss. 265 and 266 of the Indian Succession Act are so framed that they need not deprive a European, employed away from his country and relatives and without fixed abode, of the kindly services of friends or employers, and need not expose such friends or employers to be sued by creditors of the deceased if they, in the exercise of such kindly services, secure the preservation of the personal effects of small value, and, being under no obligation to warehouse such property (otherwise uncared for) hand it over to the custody of persons better entitled to possession than themselves. MUTHIYAN CHETTY v. THE IRRAWADDY FLOTTILLA COMPANY, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 305.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(188-a)—See No. 1888, supra.

(189)—S. 269—Powers under—Application for Letters of Administration de bonis non.—The Succession Act does not give the Court jurisdiction, when granting probate or letters of administration under its provisions, to include in such grant authority to dispose of property in respect of which the grant is made, such power of disposal being expressly given by s. 269 of the Act. So, in an application for letters of administration de bonis non, it is not necessary to ask for leave to dispose of the property concerned. In the goods of MARY HEMMING, 23 C. 579.

(189-a)—S. 269—Liability of deceased's estate for unsecured debts incurred by administrator—See ADMINISTRATOR, 12 O.C. 414.

(190)—S. 269—See EXECUTOR, 1 A 710. F.B.

(191)—S. 277—Executor or administrator—Failure to file an inventory—Jurisdiction of Court to take action suo motu.—Following the settled practice of the Calcutta High Court it was held that the Court (of Judicial Commissioner of Sind), as a Court of Probate, will not ordinarily act suo motu (or as a matter of course and routine), under s. 277 and cite an executor or administrator to account for the property that has come into his possession in pursuance of the authority granted to him, but will await the disclosure of special reason for such action. Re-petition by JEHANGIRJI and BYRAMJI, 3 Sind. L.R 197=4 Ind. Cas. 1163.

(192)—S 282—Execution against the estate of deceased—One year—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859.—An application for execution against the estate of a deceased debtor was resisted by the executor on the ground that under Act X of 1865, he was entitled to one year before he could be called upon to pay debts. Held that as the Civ. Pro. Code, had made no provision for carrying out the theory of s. 282 of the Indian Succession Act, execution could be issued. ABDOOL RAHMAN v. RYPER, 70 P. R. 1871.

(193)—S. 282—Interest on claim based upon decree—Distribution of assets by administrator. The only claims to priority which s. 282 of Act X of 1865 (Succession Act) was intended to exclude, were claims on the ground that the debt is a speciality debt and on other grounds ejusdem generis, i.e., on the ground that the debt is a debt of record or a debt due to the Crown. A debt secured by a lien on property stands on a totally different footing, the executor or administrator taking such property subject to the charge. Where an administrator had obtained a decree against the (deceased) intestate and that decree did not provide for the payment of interest, held that he was not entitled to pay himself interest from the assets of the deceased. The administrator of the estate of a deceased debtor is not justified in paying certain creditors of the deceased in full when he had notice of the claims of the other creditors of the deceased before he had actually made the payments. DIALU MAL v. MR. O. BRYAN, 11 P.R. 1878.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(194)—S. 282—Priority—Act VIII of 1859, s. 203—Execution of decree against representative of deceased person.—S. 282 of the Indian Succession Act does not interfere with the right of a decree-holder, under s. 203, Act VIII of 1859 to have his decree satisfied out of the property of a deceased person (or out of the property of the defendant, the representative, if it should appear that he has not duly applied the property of the deceased) to the exclusion of other creditors after deducting the expenses chargeable under ss. 279 to 281 of the former Act. NILKOMUL SHAW v. REED, 12 B.L.R. 287=17 W.R. 513. [F., 22 M. 194 ; R., 17 B. 637, 25 C. 54, 29 B. 96=6 Bom. L.R. 853.]

(195)—S. 282—See ACT II OF 1874, s. 35, 25 C. 54.

(196)—S. 282—See RES JUDICATA—RES-JUDICATA IN EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS, 29 B. 96=6 Bom. L.R. 853.

(197)—Ss. 287, 288, 290 and 291—Abatement of legacies—Specific bequest—General bequest.—A bequest of a rent-producing property on trust, the trustees to apply the rents and profits for the benefit of a legatee, is not a specific bequest ; for the object of the testator's bounty will not necessarily attain a specific, that is to say, a fixed and named annual sum, as the rents and profits are liable to fluctuate. BAI BHIKALJI M. R. MODY v. BAI DINBAI, 13 Bom. L.R. 319.

(198)—S. 288—See No. 197, supra.

(199)—S. 290—See No. 197, supra.

(200)—S. 291—See No. 197, supra.

(201)—S. 292—See No. 61, supra.

(202)—Ss. 297 and 326—Payment of legacies—Executor's year—Construction of will—Such debts.—The combined effect of ss. 297 and 326 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865, is that a residuary legatee becomes entitled to the residue after the executors have paid the testator's debts and legacies, and that no legatee can insist upon being paid within a year from the testator's death, which is, therefore, "called the executors' year." For one year from that death, no legacy, residuary or otherwise, can be claimed. One year is given by the law to the executors to liquidate the estate. On the expiration of that year the moment the estate is liquidated the legatees can insist upon being paid ; the moment the debts and legacies have been paid, the residuary becomes entitled to the residue and if there are more than one residuary, the residue then becomes divisible. Where a will is silent, the law says that as soon as on the expiration of "the executors' year" the executors have liquidated the testator's estate, that is, reduced it into possession, and paid his debts and legacies, the residue becomes "free for enjoyment by the heirs" or, in other words, "divisible" whether it is actually divided or not is immaterial, if it is in a condition to be divided. One of the clauses of a will provided that the share of the testator's sons should be made over to him absolutely "if at the time the said residue is divisible my son—shall have no debts due by him or any liabilities likely to result in a debt or debts of more than Rs. 5,000," but "if otherwise the said share shall be held or settled" by the executors "upon trust until the said—(son) shall be free from such debts and liabilities or until he shall die :" Held, on a construction of the above clause that the words "such debts" could not be treated as meaning all debts whenever contracted but they meant only "those debts," which existed at the time the residue became divisible. MACLEOD v. SORABJI, 7 Bom. L.R. 755.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—continued.

(203)—S. 321—See No. 97, supra.

(204)—S. 326—See No. 202, supra.

(205)—S. 331—Probate—Limited probate—Probate duty—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), sch. I, art. 11.—Under the High Court Charters of 1862 and1865 the testamentary and intestate jurisdiction of the High Court remained the same as it was at the time when the supreme Court Charter was granted, qualified, however, by Act XXVII of 1860. s. 18, with respect to Hindus, Mubammedans and others not usualy designated as British subjects. The result is that in cases to which the Indian Succession Act does not apply, probates and letters of administration granted by the High Court in respect of such persons take effect only for the purpose of recovering debts and securing debtors paying the same, except so far as is otherwise provided in Act XXVII of 1860, and where probate is only granted in respect of such debts as may be due to the estate, the amount of probate duty payable by the executors will be per cent. on the amount of such debts, as regulated by the Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), sch. I, art. 11. In re HAJI ISMAIL HAJI ABDULLA, 6 B. 452 [Appr., 6 B. 703 ; R., 8 B. 474, 8 B. 241.]

(206)—S. 331—Act XXVII of 1860—Native Christians—A Native Christian cannot apply for a certificate of heirship to his deceased ancestor under Act XXVII of 1860. Native Christians are not "Hindus" within the meaning of the term as used in s. 331 of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) and therefore they are affected by the provisions of that Act and cannot proceed under Act XXVII of 1860. JOSEPH VATHIAR OF NAZARATH. 7 M.H.C. 121. [Appr., 2 M. 209 ; R., 10 M.69. P.L.R. 1900, 251, 31 C. 11, P.C.]

(207)—S 331—See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION, 3 A. 55.

(208)—S. 331—See NATIVE CHRISTIANS, 1 Bom.L.R. 53=23 B. 539.

(209)—S. 331—See Nos. 21, 22, supra.

(210)—S. 332—See PRE-EMPTION—GENERAL, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 26.

(211)—Ss. 332, 190—Letters of administration—Chins who are not Buddhists and Chins who are Buddhists—Probate and Administration Act, s. 85—There are no rules under s. 332 of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) exempting people of the Chin race from the provisions of that Act. If Chins are Buddhists they will be governed by the provisions of the Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881). Under s. 85 of that Act it would be open to the Judge to refuse letters of administration. S. 190 in Act X of 1865 has no counterpart in Act V of 1881. A suit in respect of the property of an intestate Buddhist Chin can be maintained without letters of administration having first been granted. The necessity of stating clearly under what Act and sections letters of administration are issued pointed out. The proviso of s. 53 of Civ. Pro. Code, prohibits the amendment of a plaint so as to convert the suit into one of another and inconsistent character. An application for letters of administration cannot be converted into an application under the Guardians and Wards Act, VIII of 1890. MA HLA v. MAUNG PYIN, 1 L.B.R. 193.

Succession Act (X of 1865)—concluded.

Succession Certificate.

Effect of obtaining—See CO-SHARERS — SUITS BY CO-SHARERS, 1 Ind. Cas. 205.

Application for execution by heir who has not obtained a--See EXECUTION OF DECREE—EXECUTION BY OR AGAINST REPRESENTATIVES, 9 Ind. Cas. 800.

Grant of, to mother acting as guardian of minor son's property — See HINDU LAW—GUARDIANSHIP, 2 M.L.T. 246.

Production of, to collect debt due to deceased joint creditor—Right of suit—See JOINT-CREDITORS, 18 C.W.N. 509=9 C.L.J. 331=2 Ind. Cas. 254.

First judgment deciding case but deferring passing decree till filing of—Subsequent judgment reversing decision arrived at in first judgment—Legality—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 202. See JUDGMENT—GENERAL, 6 A.L.J. 54=31 A. 153=1 Ind. Cas. 820.

Dismissal of previous suit for non-production of succession certificate —See RES JUDICATA—ADJUDICATIONS, 18 M. 466=5 M.L.J. 189.

Succession Certificate Acts.

See CERTIFICATE OF ADMINISTRATION.

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860).

[REP., ACT VII OF 1889.]

(1)—Certificate to collect debts—Effect.—The granting of a certificate does not and cannot determine any question of title, or decide what property does or does not belong to the estates of the deceased. It merely enables the person or persons to whom the certificate is granted to collect the assets belonging to the deceased; and the certificate is conclusive of his or their representative title as against all debtors to the deceased. A certificate cannot be granted for the collection of fractions of the debts of the deceased. WASELUN HAK v. GOWHURUN NISSA BIBI, 1 B.L.R. S.N. 7 C=10 W.R. 105. [Cons., 4 B.L.R. A.C. 149.]

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860)—continued.

(2)—Application for certificate under—Limitation.—A Hindu woman applied for a certificate of administration under Act XXVII of 1860, to enable her to collect the debts due to the estate of her brother who died 7 years back and whose property had been taken possession of by his so called heir-at-law. The applicant urged that at the time of her brother's death she was pregnant and subsequently gave birth to a son, who died in infancy and that as representative of that son, who was the legal heir of her deceased brother, she was entitled to the certificate. The lower Court rejected the application on the ground of lapse of time. Held, that the Judge ought not to have rejected the application and that he must proceed to an enquiry under the Act. SRIMATI DURGADASI DEBI v. JADUNATH MOOKERJEE, 2 B.L.R. App. 26. (6 W.R. 398, R)

(3)—Recovery of debts of deceased—Certificate of Administration—Act XXVII of 1860.—Where payment of a debt due to a deceased person is not being withheld for fraudulent or vexatious motives, but from a reasonable doubt as to the party entitled to it, the plaintiff, in a suit to recover it, is bound to produce a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, before he can obtain a decree or execute a decree already obtained by the deceased, though he may institute his suit or apply for execution without such a certificate, provided it is filed before decree or before execution issues. JANAKI BALAV SEN v. HAFIZ MAHOMED ALI KHAN, 13 C. 47. [F., 19 C. 482; Doubted, 15 C. 54; D., 19 C. 336; R., 22 C. 143, 23 C. 87, F.B., 7 C.L.J. 658=12 C.W.N. 145.]

(4)—Act XXVII of 1860—Certificate—Jurisdiction.—Where a certificate having been granted by a Zilla Judge under Act XXVII of 1860, application was made to have it cancelled on the ground that the Judge had no jurisdiction to grant it, inasmuch as the deceased, at the time of the death, was not ordinarily residing within the zilla, held that the Judge should have called on the applicant to give evidence in support of his allegation, and that he should have served notice on the opposite party to show cause why the certificate should not be recalled. In the matter of the petition of JAGESWAR DHAR, 6 B.L.R. App. 128=14 W.R. 464.

(5)—Certificate under Act XXVII of 1860—Fraud—Jurisdiction.—One EK. obtained on a stamp sufficient to cover Rs.2,000 only, a certificate to collect the debts of her alleged father—HB. The debts due to the estate having turned ought to be larger than had been supposed, she applied for the cancelment of the first certificate, and the grant of a fresh one on a higher stamp. Meantime, B represented to the Judge that she was the widow and sole heir of HB, and that EK was in no way connected with the deceased, asking for inquiry into the alleged fraud, and the grant of certificate to herself. This application having been rejected, an appeal was preferred to the High

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860) —continued.

Court which was also dismissed. Before decision of the appeal, B intervened on EK's second application, praying that orders might be stayed until the decision. The Judge refused to entertain B's petition, and returned it to her vakeel. An order was afterwards obtained from the High Court suspending the grant of the further certificate to EK. Held, that, under the special and remarkable circumstances on this case, which called for the most careful inquiry and scrutiny, the Judge should have made inquiry into B's allegation and, if he had ascertained that they were correct, should have refused to grant E K, an extension of her certificate, and should have taken steps to have the parties who committed the fraud punished in the Criminal Court. Every Court has inherent authority to make inquiry into fraudulent abuses of its own processes. MUSSAMAT BHIHUN v. MUSSAMAT ELAHI KHANUM, 8 B.L.R. Ap. 44, Note=11 W.R. 153. [F., 8 B.L.R. Ap. 13; R., 17 W.R. 174.]

(6)—Act XXVII of 1860—Certificate—Powers of District Court.—Application for a succession certificate. Objection was raised by a relation of the deceased, who was alleged to have made an oral gift of all his property to the objector, in respect of which he intended to file a suit. The District Judge ordered the grant of a certificate to the applicant on his depositing a certain amount as security, and binding himself not to alienate any of the landed or other property of the deceased until the case in the Civil Court was settled, and also directed the objector to bring the suit within one year. Held, that the orders of the lower Court in respect of security being given not to alienate the landed estate of the deceased and binding the objector to bring the suit within one year were not orders that could be made under Act XXVII of 1860. PADAM PRASAD v. CHOTEY LAL, A.W.N. 1881, 157.

(7)—Rival claimants—Discretion of Judge to grant certificate to person best entitled to it—Grant of more than one certificate.—Where there are rival claimants for a certificate, under Act XXVII of 1860, to collect debts due to the estate of a deceased person, the Judge is not bound to give certificates to each of them to enable them to collect the debts according to their own shares, but he has a discretion to grant the certificate to that person who shall appear to be best entitled to obtain it. Quære:—Whether Act XXVII of 1860 contemplates the grant of more than one certificate, or of a joint certificate, when there are rival claimants for the same? RANI RAISUNNISSA BEGUM v. RANI KHUJUNNISSA, 4 B.L.R. A.C. 149=13 W.R. 143. (1 B.L.R.S.N. 7, 12 W.R. 38, R.)

(8)—Act XXVII of 1860—Act X of 1865, s. 331—Native Christians.—A Native Christian cannot apply for a certificate of heirship to his deceased ancestor under Act XXVII of 1860. Native Christians are not "Hindus" within the meaning of the term as used in s. 331 of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865), and therefore they are affected by the provisions of that Act and cannot proceed under Act XXVII of 1860. JOSEPH VATHIAR OF NAZARETH, 7 M.H.C. 121. [Appr., 2 M. 209; R., 10 M. 69; P.L.R. 1900, 251; 31 C. 11, P.C.]

(9)—Applicability of—Presidency towns—Natives.—Act XXVII of 1860 (excluding the sections relating to power to grant certificates) applied to the Presidency towns, and to the Hindus, Mahomedans and others, who at the time of the passing of the Act were not usually designated by the term British subjects. The intention of the Legislature, must be ascertained from the words of a statute, and not from any general inferences to be drawn from the nature of the objects dealt with by the statute. MUTHAMMAL v. THE BANK OF MADRAS, 7 M. 115.

(10)—Object—Certificate of administration—Holder, a trustee.—The object of Act XXVII of 1860 is, not to enable parties to litigate questions of disputed title, but to enable debtors to pay the debts due by them with safety to the representatives of deceased Hindus and others; and to facilitate the collection of such debts by removing all doubts as to the legal title to demand and receive the same. It enables debtors to get sufficient acquittances when they pay money due to the estate of the deceased, and preserves that estate from loss by giving some one the right to collect the debts, lest they should be lost, e.g., by the operation of the law of limitation The holder of a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 is a trustee liable to account for the monies received by him to the legal heir or representative of the deceased. PRANKISTO BISWAS v. NOBODIP CHUNDER BISWAS, 8 C 868. [R., 15 C. 574, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 639.]

(11)—Debt due to deceased person—Suit by legal representative—Certificate to collect debts.—Where, in a suit for recovery of a debt due to a deceased person, the defendant denied the title of the plaintiff, not frivolously or vexatiously (there being good reasons to doubt the validity of such title), and the plaintiff failed to produce a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, although the Court gave him time for the same, held, that the lower Court had not acted improperly in dismissing the suit under the circumstances. BATASI v. MAHESH, 5 A. 555=A.W.N. 1883, 133.

(12)—Act XXVII of 1860, certificate under—Right of suit of the representative of deceased creditor.—A certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 is not necessary to give to a person, claiming to be the representative of a deceased creditor, the right to institute a suit to recover a debt due to the estate of the deceased, or the right to present an application for execution of a decree obtained by the deceased. But such a certificate, or a probate, or letters of administration must be produced by the person proceeding as representative, before a decree or order can be passed, or process of execution issued for payment of the debt due, except the Court should think that payment is withheld from fraudulent or vexatious motives, and not from any reasonable doubt as to the party entitled. GOVINDAPPAH v. KONDAPPAH SASTRULU, 6 M.H.C.R. 131. [R., 13 C. 47, 23 C. 87, F.B.; D., 6 C. 370.]

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860) —continued.

(13)—Debt due to endowment—Pro-note in favour of former manager—Suit by successor—Heirship certificate.—Where a pro-note was executed to the former manager and founder for a debt due to an endowment, and the manager was succeeded by his son, who, in his turn, was succeeded by the manager's widow who continued the management of the endowment even after her adopted son got into possession of the rest of her husband's estate, it was held, in a suit by her on the pronote, that she was entitled to sue as manager, and that she could get a decree without producing an heirship certificate. She did not sue as being entitled to the effects of her deceased husband, or for a debt due to her deceased husband, but as manager. MALLIKARJUNA v. SRIDEVAMMA, 20 M. 162, P.C., =24 I.A. 78=1 C.W.N. 497=7 Sar. 205. [R., 28 B. 215=5 Bom. L.R. 932.]

(14)—Certificates under—Wakf property and private debts—Successors to trusts—Legal heirs—Where an application for a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 is opposed by one claiming to be the legal heir, and alleging that the Will is spurious, the only point to be determined is the validity of the Will. A party may by Will appoint a stranger to succeed him in the trust of wakf property, while his legal heir succeeds to his private property; the former in such a case would be entitled to collect debts due to the deceased as trustee, and the latter to recover debts due to him in his private capacity, and each may have a certificate granted to collect his respective debts. MIRZA DAND ALI v. SYED NADIR HUSSEIN, 3 B.L.R.A.C. 46=11 W.R. 333.

(15)—Act XXVII of 1860— Scope and object of the Act—Rival claimants for certificate—Procedure—Trial of questions of title—The title, which the Court under Act XXVII of 1860 really determines, is not the title to the estate of the deceased person, but the title to the certificate; but in a case where there are rival claimants, each claiming the effects of the deceased person, such a title cannot be determined unless the question of title to the estate itself is to some extent at least gone into. And when this title depends upon a question of fact, that question must be gone into, before it can be held who has the preferential claim to be the representative of the deceased, and entitled as such to a certificate to collect the debts due to the deceased—Per Ghose, J. ASHGAR REZA v. ABDUL HOSSEIN, 15 C. 574 [R., 23 C. 431.]

(16)—Act XXVII of 1860 — Certificate to collect debts—Inquiry as to title—Questions for decision.—In administering the provisions of Act XXVII of 1860, the Courts are not to enter on the determination of intricate questions of law or of fact, but to issue a certificate to the person who has prima facie the clearest title to the succession, such as the natural heir, and to leave a person, whose claims to a superior title is disputed on reasonable grounds, to establish that title by a regular suit. SURFOGI v. KAMAKSHIAMBA, 7 M. 452. [R., 5 M.L.J. 36, 23 C. 431; D., 15 C. 574.]

(17)—Investigation of title—Certificate to collect debts.—No question of title, e.g., whether a certain person was adopted by another) can be judicially determined between parties as the result of an enquiry made under Act XXVII of 1860. [Appl., 6 C. 303=7 C.L.R. 475; R., 15 C. 574.] No certificate to collect the debts of an intestate, dead for more than forty years, can be granted, the presumption being that there could not be, owing to the operation of the law of limitation, any debts due to him, which could be recovered. KOONJ BEHARY CHOWDHRY v. GOCOOL CHUNDER CHOWDHRY, 3 C. 616.

(18)— Act XXVII of 1860, certificate for collection of debts under, not grantable to several claimants' jointly.—Two widows, J and H were the rival claimants in this case for a certificate of heirship under Act XXVII of 1860, to enable them to collect the debts due to the estates of their deceased father-in-law and his sons, their deceased husbands. The District Judge having granted a joint certificate in the name of both J and H, J preferred this appeal against such order, and the High Court held that the granting of the certificate to both the widows would be frustrating the object of the Act; and, further, in the present case, the husband of one of the widows having predeceased his father, the other widow in whom alone the estate vested on her husband's death had the better claim to a certificate authorising her to get in the debts due to the estate. JAMANABAI v. HASTUBAI, 11 B. 179. [F., 15 B. 684; D., U. B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 563.]

(19)—Certificate for collection of debts—Grant of joint certificate.—Act XXVII of 1860 does not authorise a Judge to grant a certificate to several persons jointly; where there are several claimants, it is his duty to decide which of them has the best right. MADAN MOHAN v. RAMDIAL, 5 A. 195=A.W.N. 1882, 215. [F., 15 B. 684.]

(20)—Right to collect subsequent debts of deceased Hindu by son adopted by widow.—Right of such adopted son to certificate to collect debts accruing during minority—The estate of a deceased Hindu vests in the son adopted by his widow, subsequent to his death, under genuine unoomoti puttra, immediately on the adoption and the adopted son is entitled to collect the debts, accruing due subsequent to the death of the adoptive father, in his own right and not as representative of the deceased. Such adopted son has no locus standi to apply for a certificate, to collect the debts, that accrued due during his minority, while the estate was under his adoptive mother's management, under Act XXVII of 1860. NARAIN MAL v. KOOER NARAIN MYTEE, 5 C. 251.

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860) —continued.

(21)—Act XXVII of 1860—Certificate granted to father—Right does not descend to son after father's death.—The effect of a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 is to entitle the person so obtaining the certificate to the right of collecting debts, and, under that Statute, to give full receipts to the debtors of the deceased. Such right is purely personal, and cannot be subjected to the law of inheritance. BANSI v. TIKA, A.W.N. 1887, 248.

(22)—Certificate to collect debts—Consideration of nearness of kinship and residence.—Considerations of nearness of kinship and nearness of residence to the place, where most of the debtors reside, should not warrant a Judge, in awarding a certificate to collect debts, to a person, in preference to another, who has prima facie the better title to the beneficial ownership of the debts. [Appl., 6 C. 303 = 7 C.L.R. 475.] A father's brother's grandson has a right to a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, in preference to a brother's daughter's son. In re, OODOY CHURN MITTER, 4 C. 411. (15 B.L.R. 35 = 23 W.R. 117, F.) [F., 11 C. 343; Appl., 15 C. 780.]

(23)—Act XXVII of 1860—Application for certificate—Competition between heirs of one of full blood and heirs of another of half blood.—A certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 was only evidence of the representative title of the grantee as against the debtors to the estate. Where the competition was between two heirs, one of the half blood and the other of the full blood, the High Court on appeal preferred the latter, who was in possession of the title-deeds and had performed the shradh of the deceased, and gave him a certificate in respect of the whole estate. HURRO KRISTO DOSS v. RAMA NUNDO DOSS, 22 W.R. 274.

(24)—Act XXVII of 1860—Karnavan, debtor to tarwad—Refusal of certificate to collect debts.—Ordinarily a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, to collect debts, would be issued to the Karnavan, but where he is a debtor to the tarwad under circumstances which justify the tarwad in withholding their confidence from him, the discretion of the Judge is properly exercised in refusing the certificate. MADHAVA PANIKAR v. GOVINDA PANIKAR, 5 M. 4.

(25)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 101—Hindu Law—Mahomedan Law.—A certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 cannot be granted to any number of representatives of the deceased, either under the Hindu or the Mahomedan Law, as it would not facilitate the collection of debts to grant certificates to separate applicants entitled to fractional shares of the estate. If some of the share-holders do not consent to one certificate being granted to all, it is within the competency of the Court under Act XXVII of 1860 to select one or more of those share-holders who would consent to act, and appoint him or them as representatives of the deceased. If this could not be done, a Receiver might be appointed under s. 101 of Act VIII of 1859. SRIMATI AMIRUNNISSA BARKAT v. SRIMATI AFIATUNNISSA, 3 B.L.R.A.C. 404 = 12 W.R. 307. [R., 7 A. 313, F.B. = 5 A.W.N. 34.]

(26)—Act XXVII of 1860—Sale for arrears of revenue—Balance of sale proceeds in deposit with Collector—Right of widow of owner to apply for certificate of administration.—On the death of the owner, an estate was sold for arrears of revenue. The widow of the owner applied to the Collector for payment to her of the balance of the sale proceeds in deposit with him. The Collector called upon the applicant to produce a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860. The Judge to whom the application under the Act was made rejected the same, on the ground that the case was not governed by the provisions of the Act, inasmuch as the sum in deposit was not in any sense a debt due to the deceased at the time of his death. Held, that the sale proceeds, although they might have been recovered after the decease of the owner, were clearly payable to his estate, and there was nothing in the provision of the law which prevented the Judge from entertaining an application under the Act from his widow in respect thereof. MUSSAMAT TRIPOORA SUNDUREE. APPELLANT, 22 W.R. 45. [R., 24 W.R. 203.]

(27)—Representative of assignee by devise of debt—Suit to recover debt.—The representatives of an assignee by devise of a debt cannot sue to recover the debt, without having first taken out probate of the will of the testator, or having obtained a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 to realise the debts of his estate. SHODONE MOHOLDAR v. HOLALKHORE MOHOLDAR, 4 C. 645 = 3 C.L.R. 462. [R., 13 C. 47.]

(28)—Execution of decree by heir—Certificate to collect debts—Civ. Pro. Code (1859), s. 208.—A certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 to collect debts due to a deceased person, is not indispensably necessary to enable an heir to apply, under s. 208 of the Civ. Pro. Code (1859), for the execution of a decree held by the deceased. A person, who has not obtained a certificate, may apply under that section. It will, of course, be open to the Court, in the exercise of the discretion vested in it, if there is any doubt that the person applying for execution is entitled by inheritance to the rights decreed, to refuse the application until a certificate has been obtained. KARAM ALI v. HALIMA, 1 A. 686.

(29)—Execution of decree—Order refusing representative to execute decree until certificate granted for collection of debts—Appeal—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 244—Certificate for collection of debts whether absolutely necessary for representative to execute—Objections to title.—The order of a Court refusing to allow the representative of a deceased decree-holder to execute the decree, and staying such execution until he should have obtained a certificate to collect debts, is one passed under s. 244 and as such subject to appeal. The possession of a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 is not an imperative condition precedent to the institution of execution-proceedings by the representatives of a deceased decree-holder. In such cases, the Court should consider whether the objections to execution are vexatiously raised, or are bona fide objections on the part of the judgment-debtor to the title of the person seeking to execute the decree. HOTILAL v. HARDEO, 5 A. 212=A.W.N. 1882, 191. [R., 13 C. 47, 23 C. 87, F.B.]

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860) —continued.

(30)—Certificate of administration—Jurisdiction to recall—Judge sitting on original side, power of—Act XXVII of 1860.—Norman, J., ruled that sitting on the original side of the Court, he would not grant a certificate of administration in supersession of the one which had been granted by the Judge of the 24 Pargannahs, under Act XXVII of 1860. In the goods of SHAMLAL DAS, 5 B.L.R. App. 21.

(31)—Act XXVII of 1860—Certificate of administration, power to re-call.—A Judge is competent to entertain a petition to re-call a certificate granted by him under Act XXVII of 1860, if the certificate has been obtained by means of false and fraudulent statements. In the matter of the petition of BHABADA DASI, 8 B.L.R. App. 13. (9 W.R. 394, 8 B.L.R. App. 14, Note, F.)

(32)—Suit to annul certificate for collection of debts—Maintainable.—A suit is not maintainable to annul a certificate for the collection of debts granted under Act XXVII of 1860. The intended operation of the Act is to make the right to the certificate conclusively determinable in the manner specially provided; and the representative title of the certificate-holder is left open to question only in a suit or proceeding to enforce a claim to assets realized under the certificate or to other property of the deceased. PERINGADI IBRAYI v. P. PERINGADI AMANATH, 5 M.H.C. 283. [F., 22 W.R. 312; Appr., 5 M.H.C. 417.]

(33)—Certificate—Power of District Court to cancel—Appeal.—Under Act XXVII of 1860, the District Court has no power to cancel a certificate granted to collect the debts of a deceased person. Where the Judge erroneously orders a cancellation, an appeal lies against the order under the general provisions of the Procedure Code. VENKATAMMA v. CHENGALRAYAPPA, 7 M. 555.

(34)—Certificate — Appeal by person not appearing in first Court.—A person who did not appear in the Court of the District Judge to oppose an application for the grant of a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 was not in a position to contest the order of the District Court in the character of an appellant. TAPESHRA KUARI v. AJUDHIA KUARI, A.W.N. 1881, 162.

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860) —continued.

(35)—Appeal—Order as to deposit of security.—No appeal lies against orders under Act XXVII of 1860 relating to deposit of security by grantee of a certificate of heirship. MONMOHINI DASSEE v. KETHER GOPAL DEY. 1 C. 127=24 W.R. 362. (2 N.W.P. 146, F.) [F., 3 A. 304, 19 M. 199=5 M.L.J. 37; R., 20 C. 245, 1 A. 287.]

(36)—Act XXVII of 1860—Order for certificate passed subject to conditions—Appeal not maintainable to vary conditions—Application for reconsideration of order.—The present applicants for a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, dissatisfied with the conditions subject to which their application was granted, omitted to apply for the grant of a certificate and none had therefore been granted by the Court below. The Chief Court held that if there be any appeal from the order it should purport to be under the first clause of s. 6 of the Act, but that clause, however, does not contemplate or give an appeal to a successful petitioner against an order in his favour with a view to varying the terms for the grant of a certificate. An application with such object must be made to the Court which passed the order and to that Court only which is competent to reconsider its order at any time before the certificate is actually granted. MUSSAMMAT PARBATTI v. DWARKA DAS, 133 P.R. 1879.

(37)—Act XXVII of 1860, person holding certificate under—Order directing him to furnish security in case in which there had been sale of portion of property held as security, nature of and appeal from—Act VII of 1889.—Where an order, by which a person who had obtained a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, was directed to furnish security to the extent to which the security originally furnished had been diminished by the sale of a portion of the property, held, that neither under Act XXVII of 1860 nor under the provisions of Act VII of 1889 (Succession Certificate), does an appeal lie from such an order. It is not an order relating either to granting, refusing, or revoking of a certificate. ALTA SOONDARI DASI v. SRINATH SAHA, 20 C. 641.

(37-a)—Right of an heir—Certificate under s. 73 of Act VIII of 1859.—In a suit by a co-heir for administration and division of the estate of a deceased person, plaintiff is entitled to have an account of the entire personal estate; and to follow the property into the hands of any person who has misappropriated it; and such right is not taken away by the fact that another co-heir holds a certificate under s. 73, Act VIII of 1859. NGA THA YA v. MI KHAN MHAW, 5 B.L.R. 371=13 W.R. 443.

(38)—Order refusing to grant administration certificate—Appeal.—There is no appeal from an order under this Act, after proper enquiry, refusing to grant a certificate of administration to any claimant. RAM CHAND v. MUSSAMMAT RUKMAN DEVI, 103 P.R. 1883. F.B. (117 P.R. 1831, 58 P.R. 1833, 78 P.R. 1836, R.) [R., 68 P.R. 1890.]

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860) —continued.

(39)—This circular directs that no copies of decision ofthe Courts in cases of certificates under Acts XXVII of 1860 and XI of 1858 be granted unless the certificate has been previously issued. Civ. Cir. No. 17, dated 23rd June 1870. 14 W.R. Civ. Cir. 1.

(40)—This circular calls for a return of the duty levied on Probates and Letters of Administration under the Succession Act, and on Certificates under Act XXVII of 1860. Civ. Cir. No. 20, dated 13th July 1871. 16 W.R. Civ. Cir. 4.

(41)—See ACT XI OF 1876, s. 4, 8 C. 300=11 C.L.R. 274.

(42)—Collection of debts in succession—See APPEAL—ORDERS, 117 P.R. 1881.

(43)—See APPEAL—ACTS AND REGULATIONS, 1 Ind. Jur. N., s. 365, 13 W.R. 395, 17 W.R. 566, 20 W.R. 312, 50 P.R. 1868.

(44)—See ATTACHMENT—MISCELLANEOUS, 11 W.R. 532.

(45) — See CERTIFICATE TO COLLECT DEBTS. 94 P.R. 1887.

(46)—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXII, r. 3 (1), A.W.N. 1882, 73.

(47)—See COSTS—SPECIAL CASES, 3 W. R. 23.

(48)—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, sch. II, s. 17, art. 3, 16 W.R. 259.

(49)—See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR, 10 W. R. 105=1 B.L.R. S.N. 7.

(50)—See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—DECLARATION OF TITLE, 22 W.R. 301.

(51)—See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—REVERSIONERS, 16 W.R. 214.

(52)—See DELEGATION OF POWERS, 142 P.R. 1889.

(53)—See ESTOPPEL—STATEMENTS AND LEADINGS, W.R. 1864, 198.

(54)—See EVIDENCE—DECREES, JUDGMENTS AND PROCEEDINGS IN SUIT, 18 W. R. 514.

(55)—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION AND POWERS OF COURT, 11 W.R. 204.

(56)—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—EXECUTION BY AND AGAINST REPRESENTATIVES, 15 W.R. 476.

(57) — See GOVERNMENT PROMISSORY NOTES, 15 W.R. 267.

(58)—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 12 W. R. 356.

(59)—See HINDU LAW—DEBTS, 2 A. 513.

(60)—See HINDU LAW — INHERITANCE, A.W.N 1882, 79.

(61)—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY, 11 C.L.R. 514.

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860) —continued.

(62)—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 8 B.L. R. 385=17 W.R. 102, 6 W.R. 139, 13 W.R. 199.

(63)—See HINDU LAW—PRESUMPTION OF DEATH, 8 W.R. 421.

(64)—See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, 8 B.L.R. 389, Note, 8 B. L. R. 390, Note, 8 B. L. R. 395, Note.

(65)—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 13, Marsh, 573=2 Hay 633, 8 W.R. 126.

(66)—Application for certificate to collect debts due to a deceased person—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 181, 8 M. 207.

(67)—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 182 —Miscellaneous, 4 M.H.C. 89.

(68)—See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ACKNOWLEDGMENT, 11 W.R. 426.

(69)—See PROBATE—POWER OF HIGH COURT TO GRANT PROBATE, 1 Ind. Jur. N. S. 10=Bourke Test 3.

(70)—See RENT, SUIT FOR, 13 W.R. 356.

(71)—See RES JUDICATA—MATTERS IN ISSUE, 24 W.R. 111.

(72)—See REVIEW--GROUNDS FOR REVIEW, 18 W.R. 413.

(73)—See REVIEW—REVIEW WHEN LIES, 5 M.H.C. 417, 24 W.R. 376.

(74)—See RIGHT OF APPEAL, 24 W.R. 92.

(75)—See SALE—SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—PURCHASERS, RIGHT OF, 14 W.R. 448.

(76)—See SUCCESSION ACT, 1865, s. 263, 20 C. 245.

(77)—See SUPERINTENDENCE OF HIGH COURT, 6 W.R. Mis. 53.

(78)—S. 2—Suit by heir of Muhammadan wife for his share of dower-debt—Absence of succession certificate—No objection by defendant —Suit tried as administration suit and decreed —Validity.—Where one of the heirs of a Muhammadan wife sued for his share of the dower-debt due to the deceased without producing the requisite certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, but the defendants did not raise any objection to the suit upon that score, but the suit was tried as an administration suit: Held, that the defendants could not raise that objection in second appeal, as the defect in the claim had been removed by the procedure adopted in trying the suit by the lower Court. HAKIMUNNISSA v. ABDULLA, A.W.N. 1888, 202.

(79)—S. 2—Debt due to deceased person's estate—Suit by legal representative—Certificate to collect debts.—It is not an imperative condition precedent to the institution of a suit by the legal representative of a deceased person, for a debt due to his estate, that such legal representative should first obtain a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860. In such cases, the Court should consider whether the objections raised by the debtor are vexatious or are bona fide objections to the title of the plaintiff. LACHMI v. GANGA PRASAD, 4 A. 485 = A.W.N. 1882. 122. [F., 5 A. 212; R., 13 C. 47, 23 C. 87, F.B.]

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860) —continued.

(80)—S. 2—Suit by representative of deceased creditor—Special defence of want of certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, not put in issue—Duty of appellate Court—Interpretation.—In respect of a very special defence (e.g.) (the want of a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 in a suit by the representative of a deceased creditor) where no issue has been raised upon it, and no evidence given, and it has not been pressed in the first Court, an appellate Court ought not to entertain the question. The want of such a certificate does not of itself bar a suit by such representative. Semble.—The word "debtor" in s. 2 of Act XXVII of 1860 does not include the purchaser of a mortgaged property, who is in no sense a debtor. The section is limited to cases of personal decrees against the debtor. ROGHUNATH SHAHA v. PARESH NATH PUNDARI, 15 C. 54. (13 C. 47, questioned,) [F., 4 C.W.N. 558 = 26 C. 839; Appl., 19 C. 336; Appr., 22 C. 143; R., 12 C.W.N. 145.]

(81)—S. 2—Bond given to secure debt due to estate of deceased—Suit by heir—Waiver of protection implied.—Where the debtor to the estate of a deceased Hindu, executed a bond unconditionally in favour of the heir to secure the debt, he cannot, afterwards, compel the heir to produce a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860. When a suit is brought upon a specific contract, any defence available to the debtor must arise out of the contract, and he cannot be permitted to rely on the prior state of things which had merged into it, in order to add to its terms. KOTTAM ZEMINDAR v. PITTAPUR ZEMINDAR, 9 M. 171.

(82)—S. 2—Exception "doubt as to the party entitled."—The "doubt as to the party entitled" contemplated in the section, is not a speculative or possible doubt, but a reasonable doubt so far as the facts are ascertainable, after due inquiry, from faithworthy persons, either connections of the deceased or from others. The exception in s. 2 is not satisfied by the mere absence of "a reasonable doubt as to the party entitled"; but, there must also, be present, fraudulent or vexatious motives in withholding payment. MUTTAMMAL v. THE BANK OF MADRAS, 7 M. 115.

(83)—Suit by only son and heir alone for recovery of debt—Certificate of Administration—Act XXVII of 1860, s. 2—"Vexatiously withheld"—The only son and heir of a deceased Hindu, could not, when the widow was the administratrix of the estate, sue alone for recovery of a debt though he was beneficially entitled to it, when there was no vexatious or fraudulent withholding of the debt within the meaning of s. 2 of Act XXVII of 1860. A debt cannot be said to be "vexatiously withheld" under the section, simply because the debtor omits to pay it, in a case where there is no doubt as to the person entitled to receive it. CHUNDER COOMAR ROY v. GOCOOL CHUNDER BHUTTACHARJEE, 6 C. 370. [R., 7 M. 115, 13 C. 47.]

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860) —continued.

(84)—S. 2, Act XXVII of 1860—S. 4, Act VII of 1889 (Succession Certificate)—Suit for sale of certain mortgaged property—Personal relief not granted—Case of representative of deceased plaintiff—Suit on mortgaged bond.—The language of s. 2 of Act XXVII of 1860 is similar to the provisions of s. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act. Where a decree was made for a sale of certain mortgaged property, but the personal relief was not granted on the ground of lapse of time, held, that this was not "a decree against debtor for payment of his debt" within the meaning of s. 4, Act VII of 1889. (15 C. 54 and 19 C. 336, Approved) [F., 28 B. 630 = 6 Bom. L.R. 582; R., 29 M. 77.] Whether the Act would apply not only to the case of a person claiming by succession to the original creditor, but also to a case where, upon the death of such person during pendency of suit, another person is substituted as plaintiff in his place, is an open question. BID NATH DAS v. SHAMANAND DAS, 22 C. 143. [R., 20 M. 232, 26 C. 839 = 4 C.W.N. 558, 12 C.W.N. 145 = 7 C.L.J. 658.]

(85)—S. 2—See JURISDICTION—CAUSES OF JURISDICTION, 13 W.R. 24.

(86)—S. 3—Certificate for collection of debts—Jurisdiction of District Court.—The District Court is competent to grant a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, in respect of the whole of the property of a deceased person in the Province. Petition of TRIBENI SAHAI, A.W.N. 1882, 69.

(87)—S. 3—See APPEAL—ORDERS, 58 P.R. 1883.

(88)—S. 3—See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER, 19 W. R. 315.

(89)—Act XXVII of 1860, ss. 3, 6—Grant of certificate under s. 3—Whether appealable—Application for supersession of certificate under s. 6.—No appeal lies from the order of a lower Court, i.e., a District Court, granting a certificate to a person under s. 3 of Act XXVII of 1860, though such appeal may be treated as an application to supersede the certificate under the second part of s. 6 of the Act. (76 P.R. 1881, F.) Where the claim of an applicant was founded on her being the heir of her son, and it was not denied that she was unchaste during her son's lifetime, the Chief Court refused to supersede the certificate granted by the District Court to the opposite party. (4 C. 550, R.) MUSSAMAT PREMI v. WADHAWA SINGH, 34 P.R. 1885.

(90)—Ss. 3, 6—See APPEAL—ORDERS, 76 P.R. 1881.

(91)—Ss. 3, 24—Application for certificate—Power of District Court to grant certificate—"District Court," meaning of.—A certificate under s. 3 of Act XXVII of 1860 may be granted by the District Court within whose jurisdiction the deceased ordinarily resided, or, if at the time of his death he had no fixed place of residence, then, by the District Court within the jurisdiction of which any part of the property of the deceased may be found. The expression "District Court" as defined in s. 24 of the Act, means the principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction of a zilla or district. SRI GOSWAMI GOPAL LALJI v. SRI GOSWAMI JAIDEO LALJI, A.W.N. 1885, 39.

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860) —continued.

(92)—S. 4—Succession certificate—Effect—Disputed succession — Payment to certificate-holder.—The proprietor of an estate died leaving a son and the plaintiff, the widow of a predeceased son. The second defendant claimed to be the adopted son of the son who had died in the meanwhile, and his widow successfully asserted her right disavowing second defendant's claim as adopted son. The first defendant executed a hypothecation bond in favour of the plaintiff, and in her name alone, for a sum of money including debts, principal and interest, then found to be due to her, but originally incurred by him in favour of her deceased father-in-law and brother-in-law. The plaintiff also obtained a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, the opposition of the second defendant who again claimed as the adopted son of the brother-in-law being overruled. In the present suit, the plaintiff sued the first defendant, the mortgagor, and the second defendant, the alleged adopted son to whom the hypothecated property had been sold by the first defendant in discharge of the mortgage-debt, in recognition of his superior right as adopted son, held that, under the circumstances of the case, the first defendant was not competent to withdraw from his contract under the bond with the plaintiff, or to sell to the second defendant the hypothecated property by way of payment of the bond-debt. RAM DAS v. SUDDI, A.W.N. 1882, 32.

(93)—S. 4—Certificate to collect debts—Effect of certificate against debtors.—A certificate given to be a person, to collect debts due to a deceased creditor, under Act XXVII of 1860, is conclusive in respect of the representative character of such person, and is a full indemnity to all persons paying their debts to him; and a suit for a declaration that he is not the legal representative of the deceased will not lie. GAURI v. GAYADIN, 4 A. 355 = A.W.N. 1882, 66.

(94)—Ss. 4, 8, 9, 21—Effect of certificate under Act.—Under Act XXVII of 1860, certificates could only be granted to persons claiming to be the representatives of deceased persons to enable them to recover the debts due to the estate of such deceased persons and receive interest or dividends. A certificate so granted was conclusive of the representative title, only against the debtors of the estate. The procedure given by the Act was not intended to apply to the decision of any claim of right to succeed to the estate of a deceased person or any part of it. Such claims could be determined only by a regular suit in the ordinary way. Ex parte RAU NARASINGA, 2 M.H C. 164.

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860 —continued.

(95)—S. 5—Application for certificate — Widow and nephew of deceased—Joint certificate—Validity of.—Two persons claiming to be the adopted sons of a deceased last male-holder the widow and a nephew of the deceased, applied for certificates under Act XL. The Court granted a joint certificate to the widow and the nephew as the adoptions were not established: Held that under the circumstances of the case, a certificate should have been given to the widow alone, and not jointly with the nephew whose right to the property would arise only after the widow's death. The Court may take security from the widow under s. 5, Act XXVII of 1860. MUSSUMAT ROOKMINEE v. CHOONNEE LALL, 1 Agra Mis. App. 6.

(96)—S. 5—Suit by heir of deceased on security bond—Assignment necessary.—A certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 was issued to the first defendant, and the second defendant executed to the Court a security bond. The plaintiff, having established his right to the monies collected under the certificate, sued on the security bond, without getting an assignment of the same, for the recovery of such monies. Held that the suit as against the surety was not maintainable. MAYAN v. CHATHAPPAN, 14 M. 473.

(97)—S. 5—See APPEAL — CASES WHERE APPEAL LIES OR NOT, 38 P.R. 1888.

(98)—Ss. 5 and 6—Certificate for collection of debts—Order requiring security—Appeal — No appeal lies to the High Court against the order of a District Judge, requiring security from the person to whom he has granted a certificate to collect debts, under Act XXVII of 1860. There is nothing to prevent the Judge, however, where the security demanded is excessive, from reconsidering his own order. In the matter of the petition of SRIMATI PADDO SUNDARI DASI, 3 A. 304. (N.W.P. 1870, p. 146, 1 C. 127 = 24 W.R. 362, 1 A. 287, F.)

(99)—Ss. 5 and 6—Certificate for collection of debts—Security— Appeal.—No appeal lies to the High Court against the order of the District Judge, requiring security from the person to whom he has granted a certificate to collect debts under Act XXVII of 1860. (H.C R., N. W.P., 1870, p. 146, 1 C. 127 = 24 W.R. 362, Fol.) Semble. A review of the order may be admissible. In re RUKMIN, 1 A. 287. [F., 3 A. 304.]

(100)—S. 6—Order refusing succession certificate—Appeal.—An order refusing a certificate under s. 6, Act XXVII of 1860, is not appealable. BAIJNATH v. MAICHAL, A.W.N. 1881, 22.

Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860) —continued.

(101)—S. 6—Certificate for collection of debts —No appeal.—No appeal lies from an order refusing to grant a certificate for the collection of debts under s. 6 of Act XXVII of 1860. GULRAJ v. DHARAP NATH, A.W.N. 1883, 248.

(102)—S. 6—Prayer for fresh certificate, whether could be made by way of appeal to High Court.—On an appeal to the High Court with a prayer for a fresh certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, on the ground that the District Judge should not have made his grant of certificate to the appellant, conditional upon her giving security to her opponent, the preliminary objection, taken on behalf of the respondent, that no appeal lay, in the case, under s. 6 of the Act, was allowed. The fresh certificate contemplated by the above s. 6 means a certificate granted to a person other than the one to whom the first certificate was granted. NAURANGI KUNWAR v. RAGHUBANSI KUNWAR, 9 A. 231 =A.W.N. 1887, 20.

(103)—S. 6—Person objecting to grant of certificate before District Court, petition to High Court maintainable by, for fresh certificate in supersession.—The person who has originally opposed the granting of a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 is not restricted, by s. 6 of the Act, to his remedy by way of appeal, from the order of the District Judge, to be brought prior to the actual issue of the certificate. Two different proceedings are contemplated by the section. It contemplates an appeal which is to have the effect of suspending the granting (meaning, the issuing) of the certificate by the District Court, pending the order of the High Court. There is also the further provision, in the latter portion of the above s. 6, for the filing of a petition after the certificate is granted, with a view of the High Court granting a certificate in supersession of that granted by the District Court. There is nothing in the said latter portion of s. 6 to show that such a fresh certificate cannot be applied for by, or is not to be granted to, the person who was dissatisfied with and opposed the granting of the original certificate. No restriction has been placed by the section on the powers of the High Court to grant such a fresh certificate to any petitioner who may show himself to be entitled thereto. GANGIA v. RANGI SINGH, 9 A. 173=A.W.N. 1887, 9.

(104)—S. 6.—See Nos. 89, 90, 98, 99, supra.

(105) S. 8—Act XXVII of 1860, application by daughter-in-law for a certificate under—Immediate rejection —Civil Court granting a certificate—Third person's right to cancel grant, grounds of.—An application by a daughter-in-law for a certificate as heiress under Act XXVII of 1860 can at once be rejected very properly on the sole ground that she is not the heiress. If a Civil Court, under s. 8 of Act XXVII of 1860, is proceeding to grant, or has granted, a certificate authorising a person to deal with Succession Certificate Act (XXVII of 1860) —concluded.

Government securities which are claimed by a third party as his property, that is a good ground on which such third party may come into Court to oppose the grant of a certificate or to seek its cancelment, BANDAM SETTAH v. BANDAM MAHALAKSHMY, 4 M.H.C. 180.

(106)—S.8—See. No 94, supra.

(107)—S. 9—See No. 94, supra.

(108)—S. 18—Will of Parsi executed prior to 1st January 1866—Applicability of—See PROBATE—EFFECT OF PROBATE, 8 B. 474.

(109)—S. 21—See No. 94, supra.

(110)—S. 24—See No. 91, supra.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889).

S. 1 (3) REP. IN PT. (AS TO BURMA), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 18. S. 1 (4) RESTRICTED, ACT VII OF 1901, S. 5. DECLARED IN FORCE —IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, s. 3, IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.

(1)—Object of the Act.—The appointment of a person to give a legal discharge to debtors to the estates of deceased persons for the debts due, and not the determination of nice and intricate questions of title to such estates, is the object of the Succession Certificate Act. GUNINDRA PROSAD v. JUGMALA BIBI, 30 C. 581.

(2)—Object of the Act—Debts due to impartible estates— Necessity of succession certificates —Nature of succession to impartible estates.—The Succession Certificate Act was passed principally for the protection of honest debtors. The debtor is entitled, before payment, to ask that the person demanding the payment should satisfy him either that he is, as the heir of the person who lent the money, entitled to receive payment, or that he is so entitled as having been an owner of the money, but before the death of the lender. In the former case, the succession certificate is the proper evidence. A person succeeding to an impartible estate succeeds not as joint owner of the estate before his predecessor's death, but merely to the "effects" of his deceased predecessor. He is therefore bound to produce a succession certificate, before he can enforce the payment of debts due to his predecessor. Semble.—An impartible zemindari devolving on the zemindar's decease upon one of the members of the family is assets in the hands of the latter, and the succession thereto is not by survivorship. RAJA OF KALAHASTI v. ACHIGADU, 17 M.L.J. 367 =30 M. 454. (29 M. 453, Disc.; 6 C.W.N. 879, 31 C. 224, 18 C. 151, 10 A. 272, 22 M. 283, R.) [Appr., 30 M. 429=19 M.L.J. 401=2 Ind. Cas. 18.]

G. N. Das
Advocate High Court
Jammu & Kashmir

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(3)—Hindu law—Survivorship.—A founded a shop which he called by his own name. At his death his sons continued the old shop in its old names. The defendant, who had dealings with the sons, passed a bond to them in the name of A, on the 27th May 1895. In a suit brought by the sons on the bond the Court of first instance held that the sons could not sue without taking out a certificate under the Succession Certificate Act. Held, that it was not necessary for the sons to take out a certificate under the Act, because when their father died, they succeeded to his estate by survivorship, and that all dealings after that would be the dealings of the new firm then formed and the members of it could sue and be used in respect of them. VITHAL v. GOTYA, 1 Bom. L.R. 197.

(4)—Hindu joint family—Debt due to family —Death of one co-parcener—Certificate not necessary.—Certain bonds stood in the name of a co-parcener in a joint Hindu family. That co-parcener having died, the managing member of the family sued the defendant to recover the sums due on them on the ground that the debts were due to the family. After suit, the parties referred the matter to arbitrators who passed an award. The parties then applied to have the arbitrators' award filed. The Court doubted if it could be filed without a certificate. The High Court held that there was nothing in Act VII, 1889, to prevent the award being filed without a succession certificate. RAMCHANDRA HARI v. BAPU, 16 B. 240.

(5)—Joint Hindu family--Mitakshara—Death of managing member after institution of suit—Application for revival by sons.—On the death of the managing member of a joint Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara Law, it is not necessary that either letters of administration, or a certificate under Act VII of 1889, should be obtained in order to entitle his sons to ask that they may be permitted to proceed with the suit instituted by him. BEEJRAJ v. BHYRO PERSAUD, 23 C. 912. (16 B. 349, F.) [R., 12 C.W.N. 145=7 C.L.J. 658.]

(6)—Succession Certificate Act XXVII of 1860 --Heirship, Certificate of--Manager of endowment. —A trustee of a religious endowment succeeding another trustee need not take out a certificate to enable him to sue for a debt due to the institution. SRIMANT RAJA YARLAGADDA MALLIKARJUNA PRASADA NAYADU BAHADUR ZAMINDAR GARU v. MAKERLA SRIDEVAMMA, 1 C.W.N. 497, P.C.=20 M. 162=24 I.A. 73=7 Sar. 205. [R., 28 B. 215=5 Bom. L.R. 938.]

(7)—Suit by son on pro-note standing in name of father.—Act VII of 1889 clearly contemplates only cases of succession; but a suit by a son on a pro-note executed to his deceased father should be dismissed if no certificate has been produced, where it appears that the promissory note stands in the name of the father and there is nothing on the record to show that the debt sued for was a joint family debt. PERA REDDI v. MOHAMED ABDUL HUSSAIN, 1 M.L.J. 679.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(8)—Court—Inquiry—Certificate, grant of.—There is no law or authority which requires a Court to find whether the debts alleged to be due to the estate of a deceased person are really due or not as a preliminary condition of the grant of a certificate under the Succession Certificate Act, 1889. The Succession Certificate Act, 1889, is intended for the protection of debtors, which means that where a debtor of a deceased person either voluntarily pays his debt to a person holding a certificate under the Act, or is compelled by the decree of the Court to pay it to that person, he is lawfully discharged. There is nothing in the Act which either expressly or by necessary implication requires the Court granting a certificate to hold an enquiry into the existence of any debt alleged by the person applying to be due as a preliminary condition of the grant. All that a Court has to do under the Act is to ascertain the right of a person to a certificate apart from the question of the existence or non-existence of the debts in respect of which he applies. The mere fact that a debtor produces money in Court is not sufficient by itself to extinguish the debt. KASHI v. PARBHU, 5 Bom. L.R. 721=28 B. 119.

(9)—Application by minor through next friend for a Succession Certificate—Non-maintainability—Proper course.—A minor cannot apply for a Succession Certificate under Act VII of 1889, through a next friend (20 A. 354, D.) The legal guardian of a minor has a right of management of the minor's estate and has, in consequence, an interest in a debt due to the minor and a right to collect it. (28 B. 344, Rel.) Where therefore a Succession Certificate is required to collect a debt due to the estate of a deceased person and the representative is a minor, the requirements of the Act are sufficiently complied with if the application is made by the legal guardian of the minor. In the matter of an application under Act VII of 1889 by DANBAI, 4 S.L.R. 266.

(10)—Summary proceeding — Certificate — Guardian of a minor—Security.—It is contemplated by the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, that questions arising under it are to be determined by a summary proceeding, which means, a short enquiry, leading up to and resulting in a rapid decision, in contrast with the lengthy investigation which may be required for the more tardy determination of a regular suit; the nature of the inquiry depending on the circumstances of each case. The Act does not permit the issue of a certificate to the guardian of a minor without requiring any security. GULABCHAND v. MOTI, 3 Bom. L.R. 795=25 B. 523.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(11)—Application by widow—Objection on the ground of non-division—Summary enquiry—Refusal to make any enquiry.—On an application for a Succession Certificate made by a widow in respect of the estate of her deceased husband, an objection was put forward by the nephew of the deceased to the effect that he and the deceased were members of an undivided Hindu family and that, consequently, no certificate could be granted to the widow. The District Judge granted the certificate to the widow, refusing to go into the question of non-division. Held, though the proceedings under the Act are summary, the District Judge ought to make some investigation (however brief it might be) towards ascertaining who had the prima facie title to the grant of the certificate. He ought not have refused to make any enquiry. BALMAKUND v. KUNDAN KUNWAR, 2 A.L.J. 144=A.W.N. 1905, 44=27 A. 452.

(12)—Hindu widow—Condition precedent to the grant of certificate—Security—Apprehension of waste—Deposit in bank.—A District Judge, in granting a Succession Certificate to a Hindu widow, ordered that the money should be deposited in a bank and interest thereof paid to the widow: Held, that the order was ultra vires. All that the Court could do was to require, as a condition precedent to the grant of the certificate, that the widow should give a bond to the District Judge with one or more sureties that she would render proper accounts. Even such an order should not be passed, unless it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that there is reasonable apprehension of waste or other danger on the part of the applicant. MUSAMAT SHIB DEI v. MUNSHI AJUDHYA PERSHAD, 9 Ind. Cas. 571.

(13)—Woman's property—Right of husband's brother and sister's son to certificate—Presumption as to marriage in Hindu Law.—The husband's brother of a deceased woman has a better right to the Succession Certificate for her assets, than the sister's son. If the property in question was her husband's property, it passes to the husband's heirs. If it was her stridhanam, and if she left no issue, it passes to the husband's heirs, if the marriage was in one of the approved forms. (19 M. 35, 11 M.I.A. 139, R.) In the absence of evidence to the contrary, there is a presumption that a marriage was in one of the approved forms. MUTHAN CHETTY v. RAMASWAMY CHETTY, 16 M.L.J. 550.

(14)—Joint certificate cannot be granted.—Under the provisions of the Succession Certificate Act, a joint certificate to recover debts cannot be granted, as it would be to frustrate the object of the Act. LONACHAND GANGARAM MARWADI v. UTTAMCHAND GANGARAM MARWADI, 15 B. 684. (5 A. 195, 11 B. 179, R.) [R., 6 M.L.J. 90=19 M. 497, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 563.]

(15)—Mortgage — Lease by mortgagee, to mortgagor—Death of some of the mortgagees—

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

Suit for rent—Certificate, necessity for.—The defendant mortgaged with possession certain immoveable property to two persons C and F, the proprietors of two firms which traded together jointly. On the day the mortgage was made the mortgagees leased out the mortgaged property to the defendant. Subsequently C and F died. Thereupon the plaintiffs (the partners of the mortgagee firms and the sons of the deceased partners) brought the present suit for recovering rent which had accrued due after the deaths of C and F. The lower Court passed an order directing the plaintiffs to produce a Succession Certificate, on the ground that their partnership was a partnership by contract and not a family partnership. The plaintiffs applied to the High Court under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882. Held that, as the rent sued for became due after the death of C and F, it formed no part of their estates at the time of their deaths, and that, therefore, no certificate was necessary under Act VII of 1889. RANCHORDAS NATHUBHAI v. BHAGUBHAI PARMANANDAS, 18 B. 394. [R., 36 C. 936=13 C.W.N. 966=16 C.L.J. 180.]

(16)—Decree for foreclosure, certificate under the Act not necessary for.—A decree for foreclosure of a mortgage is not one for the payment of a debt so as to fall within the provisions of Act VII of 1889. The direction to pay within the period fixed in the decree is given not to fix a personal liability for the debt, but to enable the defendants to save their right of redemption and to prevent its extinction by foreclosure. Also the provisions of the Act cannot effect suits instituted before it came into force. In such a case, the vested right in the plaintiff to a decision in the suit already instituted by him in accordance with the law as it existed when the suit was instituted, would certainly be curtailed, if the Act subsequently passed were applied to it. AMMANNA v. GURUMURTHI, 16 M. 64=2 M.L.J. 155. [R., 16 A. 259, 29 M. 77.]

(17)—Madras Village Courts Act (I of 1889), application of this Act to suits in Courts under.—The provisions of the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) apply to suits in Village Munsifs' Courts under the Madras Village Courts Act (I of 1889). RASIBI AMMAL v. OLAGA PADAYACHI, 21 M. 115.

(18)—See BOM. ACT XIV OF 1869, s. 16, 16 B. 277.

(19)—See APPLICATION, 20 C. 755.

(20)—Right of sister's daughter and sister's daughter's son to claim certificate under Act—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 12 C.W.N. 453=7 C.L.J. 555=35 C. 631.

(21)—See JOINT-CREDITORS, 13 C.W.N. 509=9 C.L.J. 331=2 Ind. Cas. 254.

(22)—See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1889, s. 18, 19 B. 123.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(23)—See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, V OF 1881, s. 98, 2 L.B R. 161.

(24)—S. 1, cl. 4—Will of a Hindu testator—Right of devisee to apply for certificate—No Probate or Letters of Administration obtained.—The devisee under the will of a Hindu testator, residing in the United Provinces, may apply for a succession certificate entitling him to collect the debts due to the deceased testator's estate, notwithstanding the fact that he obtained no Probate or Letters of Administration. JAMNA KUAR v. DOULAT RAI, 2 A.L.J. 126.

(25)—S. 1 (4)—Application by executor for succession certificate—Will disputed—Jurisdiction to decide genuineness of will—Remand—Duty of Judge—Executor whether bound to take out probate.—The executors under a certain Will applied to the District Court for a certificate of administration under s. 6 of Act VII of 1889 to enable them to collect the debts due to the testator. The genuineness of the Will was disputed by a lady who applied for a certificate on the ground that she was the heir of the deceased. The District Judge rejected the applications on the ground that the validity of the Will could not be settled in a summary proceeding. Held, remanding the matter for re-hearing, that the Judge had jurisdiction to decide upon the genuineness of the Will. At the re-hearing, the heir of the deceased withdrew her application and the Judge held that, as the certificate was claimed by the executors as such, probate of the Will should be taken out and he therefore refused the application. Held, on appeal, that the duty of the Judge in carrying out the remand order of the High Court was confined exclusively to determining whether the applicant or the heir was entitled to the certificate, and that he could not refuse the certificate simply because the applicants might have asked for probate, as the case did not fall under s. 1, cl. 1 (4) of the Succession Certificate Act. KALIDAS FAKIRCHAND v. BAIHAMALI, 16 B. 712. [F., 18 B. 608; R., 19 B. 821, 22 M. 9.]

(26)—Ss. 1 (4), 6 (d) and 7 (1)—Will—Application for certificate under—Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1870)—Succession.—Where a will, in respect of which a certificate is applied for under the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889), is proved to be genuine after a contest between the parties and there is no suggestion that the Will is one to which the Hindu Wills Act applies, the Court must grant the certificate to the applicant under s. 1 (4) of Act VII of 1889. DAVE LILADHAR KASHIRAM v. BAI PARVATI, 18 B. 608.

(27) Ss. 1, cl (14), 7, cl. (3)—Grant of the certificate where oral Will set up—Practice—Procedure to be adopted when Will upset—Hindu Law—Circumstances establishing Will.—When, in answer to an application under the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) a Will is set up as having been made by the person with respect to whose estate the application is made, the Court trying that application has jurisdiction to try the question whether or not there was a Will, though ordinarily questions regarding a Will should not be decided on a summary application for a certificate. According to the Hindu law, it is not necessary that a Will should be executed by the testator. When the evidence showed, (1) that a deceased pereon had dictated his wishes with regard to his property when he was possessed of a disposing mind, (2) that the draft had been explained to him, and (3) that he gave the draft to a third person, telling him that he had been appointed a trustee under it, and asking him to take it to have it copied out fair for his signature, and that the deceased died a few days after, (4) without having executed the Will, and (5) there was nothing to show that he changed his mind before his death, held, that the deceased could not be said to have died intestate. JANKI v. KALLU MAL, 6 A.L.J. 171 =31 A. 236=2 Ind. Cas 213.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(28)—Ss. 2, 4—Certificate not to be given for collection of part only of a debt—Debt in part irrecoverable—Mahomedan Law—Dower-debt.—The plain meaning of the phrase "his debt" in s. 4 of the Act is the whole of the debt due by the debtor to the deceased, and not a portion of that debt. Such a meaning of the term (1) is against the canons of interpretation, for the natural meaning of the term "debt" is not a share of some one in that debt; (2) is opposed to the scheme of the Act, which has been enacted to afford protection to debtors, and has nothing to do with the convenience of the applicant or his right to or share in the debt; (3) will cause the splitting of an indivisible liability; and (4) will lead to the harassing of a debtor more than once on one cause of action and to multiplication of suits thereon. Hence, no succession certificate can be granted for the collection of a part only of a debt. Muhammad Ali Khan v. Puttan Bibi (19 A. 129, fol.), the remarks therein favouring the grant of a certificate for a portion of debt being held to be obiter dicta. The observation to the like effect of Chamier, J., in Akbar Khan v. Bilkisara Begam (A W.N. 1901, 125, not F.) The dower of a Mahomedan wife, whether prompt or deferred, is a debt within the meaning of s. 2 of the Succession Certificate Act. Proceedings under the Act are in no way intended to determine the share of the applicant in the debt, or to adjudicate upon the relative rights of the applicant and others therein. GHOFUR KHAN v. KALANDARI BEGAM, 8 A.L.J. 79=9 Ind. Cas. 127.

(29)—Ss. 3 (2), 8 and 9—Grant of certificate—Order to file security—Practice.—Where a Judge, acting under s. 9 of the Succession Certificate Act, requires security to be furnished by a person, to whom a certificate of succession is granted, the amount of the security should be specified in the order and a time should be prescribed within which the security must be furnished. Semble—that s. 8 of the Act cannot be applied to the case of a fixed deposit in a bank, such a deposit not being a "security" within the meaning of s. 3 (2). GULRAJI KUNWAR v. JAGDEO PRASAD, A W.N. 1906, 94=28 A. 477.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(30)—Ss. 3 and 19—Agent to the Governor at Vizagapatam—General Clauses Act, 1868, s. 2 (12)—Appeal from his order as from an order of District Court—Madras Act XXIV of 1839.—Under s. 3 of Act XXIV of 1839 and Rule X, cl. 4, of the Rules framed pursuant to that Act, the Agent to the Governor at Vizagapatam is the Judge of the Principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction in the Agency of Vizagapatam. In s. 2 (12) of the General Clauses Act, 1868, which was in force when the Succession Certificate Act was passed, "District Judge" is defined as the Judge of the Principal Civil Court of Original Jurisdiction. The Succession Certificate Act, in s. 3, defines the District Court as a Court presided over by a District Judge. The Agent's Court is, therefore, a District Court, and an appeal lies, therefore, under s. 19, Succession Certificate Act, from his order as from an order of District Court. GURUVARAJU v. GOPINATHA TRIPATHI, 18 M.L.J. 252=3 M.L.T. 264=31 M. 362. (18 M. 227, D.)

(31)—S. 4—Debt due to undivided Hindu family—Necessity for production of certificate of heirship.—The production of a succession certificate is not necessary in the case of a debt due to an undivided Hindu family and claimed by a person entitled to it by right of survivorship and not by way of inheritance. RAO BAHADUR MUKUND BALKRISHNA BUTI v. PURNIA AND OTHERS, 9 C.P.L.R. 65. (16 B. 349, 19 B. 338, F.)

(32)—S. 4—Execution of bond in name of Hindu father—Suit by son to recover money due on said bond—Necessity for succession certificate.—Where a Hindu sued upon a bond executed to his father, in the absence of any admission or evidence to the contrary, the presumption was that the debt was one due to the family, and no certificate of heirship was necessary to enable the plaintiff to recover the debt. PALANIAPPA v. AVATHARAMAN, 7 M.L.J. 195.

(33)—S. 4—Res judicata.—The principle of res judicata has no effect upon the provisions of s. 4 of Act VII or 1889. It imposes a duty on the Court which the Court is bound to perform, no matter what the proceedings between the parties or any agreement between the parties may be. But the Court, instead of dismissing an application for execution, should give reasonable time to the applicants to perfect their title by the production of one or other of the documents specified in s. 4 of the Act. BEHARI

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

LAL v. MAJID ALI, 24 A. 138=A.W.N. 1897, 29.

(34)—S. 4—'Debt'—Suit on a mortgage—Decree against the mortgaged property - Decree against person.— No succession certificate need be taken when the suit is one by a mortgagee to recover the mortgage-money by sale of the mortgaged property, the decree in such a suit not being a 'debt' within the meaning of s. 4 of the Act; but a certificate is necessary as a condition precedent to the passing of a decree, if the suit is one to enforce the personal obligation of the mortgagor. PALANIYANDI PILLAY v. VEERAMMAL, 29 M. 77. (:6. A. 259, Not F.) [R., 12 C.W.N. 145=7 C.L.J. 658.]

(35)—S. 4—Deferred dower, suit by one of several heirs for a portion of her share—Certificate for the portion if may be granted—Heirs' claims if joint or several—Severance of debt.—Where one of several heirs of a deceased Mahomedan lady sued her husband for a portion of the share of the deferred dower due by the defendant to the deceased, relinquishing the balance. Held that an application by the plaintiff for succession certificate in respect of the amount claimed by her in the suit was properly granted. S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act does not require that the certificate should cover the whole of the debt, if the heirs do not seek to realise the whole. (33 A. 327, Diss.) In respect of deferred dower, each of the heirs of the deceased has a distinct right enforceable by himself, though all may jointly sue, and it is open to each to relinquish a portion of the claim. The Defendant husband being moreover one of the heirs, the debt, assuming it to be joint, is severed, and a certificate cannot in consequence be granted for the whole debt. MOHAMED ABDUL HUSAIN v. SARIFAN, 16 C.W.N. 231=15 C.L.J. 384=12 Ind. Cas. 593.

(36)—S. 4—Reversionary heirs, if may apply for succession certificate on Hindu widow's death—Debts accrued due during widow's lifetime—Government promissory notes of which certificate had been taken out by the widow—Certificate, if necessary—Money awarded under Land Acquisition Act—Arrears of rent for non-agricultural land—Whether "debts."—The right of the reversionary heirs of a deceased Hindu to take out succession certificate in respect of debts due to the estate of the deceased is not affected by the interposition of the estate of the widow, and the Court cannot reject an application for succession certificate by such heirs merely on the ground of the deceased having died long ago. A sum of money awarded in a case under the Land Acquisition Act after the death of the owner and kept in deposit under s. 32 of the Act, arrears of rent for non-agricultural lands belonging to the estate, and a Government promissory note standing in the name of the widow as the certificate holder of her husband's estate, were all debts for which it was necessary for the reversionary heirs to take out succession certificate. ABINAS CHANDRA PAUL v. PROBODH CHANDRA PAUL, 15 C.W.N. 1018. (13 C.W.N. 966=36 C. 936, D.)

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(37)—S. 4—Debt, meaning of—Debt falling due after the death of the creditor—High Court interfering in revision in public interest.—A debt that falls due after the death of the creditor comes within the terms of s. 4, sub-s. (1), cl.(a) of Act VII of 1889. In the case of a debt existing in the life of the creditor, which did not become payable in the circumstances until after his death, his heirs cannot obtain a decree without the production of a certificate under the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889). (2 C.W.N. 591, overruled). A debt is a sum of money, which is now payable or will become payable in future by reason of a present obligation. BANCHARAM MAJUMDAR v. ADYA NATH BHATTACHARJA, 13 C.W.N. 966, F.B.= 10 C L.J. 180=36 C. 936=3 Ind. Cas. 492.

(38)—S. 4—Application by heir of mortgagee for supplementary decree—Succession Certificate, if necessary—"Debt"—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 90.—Where after a preliminary decree had been made in a mortgage suit, the mortgagee died, and his sons got themselves substituted on the record, and an order absolute was made in their favour, but the proceeds of the sale of the mortgaged property proving insufficient, they applied for a personal decree for the balance under s. 90, Transfer of Property Act. Held (on a review of the authorities), that, until the applicants obtained certificate under the Succession Certificate Act, no such decree could be made in their favour. SAHADAV SUKUL v SHIKH SAKHAWAT HOSSEIN, 12 C.W.N. 145=7 C.L.J. 658.

(39)—S. 4—Succession Certificate—Execution of decree—Jurisdiction of execution Court to question validity of decree.—Where the Court refused execution of a decree, on the ground that it should not have been passed, since plaintiff had not obtained Succession Certificate before passing of the decree. Held, that, as the Court executing a decree is not competent to question the validity of a decree passed by a Court of competent jurisdiction, the execution Court had acted with material irregularity in refusing execution of the decree. TIKA BAI v. GODHA RAM, 145 P.L.R. 1906.

(40)—S. 4—Joint decree-holders, right to execute a decree passed in favour of—Execution of decree by a survivor of two joint decree-holders—Heir of a decree-holder, right of, to execute a decree. — Two decree-holders were awarded certain sum under a decree jointly and certain other sum severally. One of the decree holders died and the other claimed to execute the whole decree because she was the survivor of the joint decree-holders and because she was the heir of the other decree-holder, and that she could do so without producing succession certificate. Held, that, so far as the sums awarded jointly were concerned, the surviving decree-holder could execute the decree, but she could not be allowed to execute it with respect to the sums awarded severally without the production of a Succession Certificate. RAI JAGATPAL SINGH v. THAKURAIN BILAS KUNWAR, 10 O.C. 378. (26 C. 839, 16 A. 259, R.)

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(41)—S. 4—Suit for account—Suit by heir against agent of the deceased — Necessity for certificate under — "Debt" defined.—A lady died leaving the plaintiff and defendant No. 2 as heirs. Defendant No. 1 was her agent. The plaintiff brought the present suit against defendant No. 1 for an account of his dealings with the deceased lady's property. Defendant No. 1 contended that the plaintiff, who took out a certificate under the Succession Certificate Act, was not authorized, under that certificate, to claim any debt due from him. Under the circumstances, held, an action claiming an account is not an action for recovery of a debt. An heir is entitled to bring an action of account as distinguished from an action of debt without taking out Letters of Administration. Therefore, a Succession Certificate was unnecessary for the maintenance of plaintiff's action and the plaintiff's suit was rightly instituted. Per Mookerjee, J.—The word "debt" means all money which the deceased was entitled to receive as certain liability on bonds and other contracts. BISSESWAR ROY v. DURGADAS MEHARA, 32 C. 418 (22 M. 139, Appr.; 22 M. 144, Note, R.) [D., 12 C. W. N. 145=7 C. L.J. 658.]

(42) S. 4—Necessity of certificate by a member of joint Hindu family.—A certificate under s. 4, Act VII of 1880, is not necessary in the case of the plaintiff suing in respect of debts to which he had become entitled, as a member of a joint Hindu family, by right of survivorship. When a certificate of succession is not produced with the plaint, proceedings may be stayed and the plaintiff directed to take measures to procure it. NAYA RAMA v. SHIB DAS, 84 P.L.R. 1901=20. P. R. 1901. (13 P. R. 1883, F.; 102 P. R. 1889, Expl.)

(43 & 44)—S. 4—Separate Hindu family—Certificate necessary — Revision—Irregularity. —It is a serious irregularity not to require the plaintiff to produce the certificate required by s. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act in the case of a separate Hindu family. GHISU v. RAM BALLABH, 13 Ind. Cas. 363.

(45)— S. 4, applicability of—Suit for sale on mortgage.—S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act applies to suits for sale under s. 88 of the Transfer of Property Act. RAM SARUP v. KALLA, 14 Ind. Cas. 570. (16 A. 259, F.)

(46)—S. 4—Suit on mortgage—No personal decree.—No certificate under s. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act is necessary before a decree can be passed directing the sale of mortgage properties in a suit by the heirs of a mortgagee for the recovery of the debt by the sale of the property mortgaged, where no personal decree is asked for against the defendant. KAMBALI NAIDU v. SANKER AMMAL, 12 M.L.T. 202 = 16 Ind. Cas. 224. (29 M. 77, 32 C. 418, 28 B. 630, F.)

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(47)—S. 4—Equity of redemption not a security—Letters of administration not to be granted when proper remedy of petitioner is to file regular suit to recover property.—The respondents applied for Letters of Administration to the estate of a deceased person claiming to administer the estate as his daughters. The appellants denied the legitimacy of the respondents and claimed to be in possession for 30 years as the deceased's nieces. The property was alleged to be under a mortgage to another person. Held, (1) that the equity of redemption was not a security or debt within the meaning of s. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act and the respondent could file a suit for redemption without such a certificate or Letters of Administration (4 L.B.R. 287, 14 Bur L. R. 280, D.); (2), that the application for Letters of Administration was an attempt to obtain adjudication as to the status of the respondents and to obtain possession without filing a regular suit, and should be rejected ; (3) that the proper remedy of the respondent was to bring a regular suit against the parties in possession of the property. MA THEIN MAY v. MA THAN MYA, 5 Ind. Cas. 425.

(48)—S. 4—Civ. Pro. Code (Act V of 1908), s. 113, O. XLVI, r. 1—Hindu Law—Mitakshara family—Bond in name of deceased father—Impartible Raj—Whether succession certificate necessary to be taken out by son—"Effects of deceased"—Succession by survivorship.—A Succession certificate is confined to the case in which the claim is to the effects of the deceased, and not to family property when the claim is by right of survivorship. (19 B. 338, 23 C. 912, 1 C.W.N. 32, 11 I.A. 149, 7 A. 1, 5 I. A. 149, 4 C. 190, F.) Succession to impartiable estates has always been determined by the rule of survivorship. Therefore, a successor to an impartible Raj does not succeed as an heir to the effects of the deceased holder of the Raj, but he succeeds by right of survivorship. And consequently, when a bond stands in the name of the last holder of an impartible Raj, his successor is not bound to produce a succession certificate before he can obtain a decree on the bond. GUR PERSHAD SINGH v. DHORI RAI, 7 Ind. Cas. 806.

(49)—S. 4—Receiver appointed to take possession whether "person claiming to be entitled to the effects of the deceased"—Whether receiver bound to take out succession certificate.—A receiver by his appointment does not become the representative of the parties, but is an officer and representative of the Court. (34 C. 305, 5 C. L.J. 270, R.) Therefore, where, in a suit for partition amongst the sons of a deceased person, one of the sons is appointed receiver and he seeks to take possession of the Government promissory notes and the cash in deposit in a bank belonging to the estate of the deceased, he cannot be said to "claim to be entitled to the effects of the deceased person" within the meaning of s. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act, and is competent to take possession of the securities and monies in the hands of the bank without a certificate under the said section. HARIHAR MUKHERJEE v. HARENDRA NATH MUKHERJEE, 6 Ind. Cas. 416 = 12 C.L J. 252 = 37 C. 754.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(50)—S. 4—Certificate—Personal decree—Sale on mortgage.—S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, limits the necessity of a certificate under the Act to those suits where the Court is called upon to pass a personal decree against the debtor of a deceased person for the payment of his debt ; the section does not apply to a suit for a sale on a mortgage. NANCHAND v. YENAWA, 6 Bom. L.R. 582 = 28 B. 630.

(51)—S. 4—Suit by heir for refund of purchase money—Necessity for production of succession certificate.—The heir of a vendee sued for the refund of the price alleged to have been paid for goods sold but not delivered. Held, that as the suit was for recovery of a debt within the meaning of s. 4, of the Succession Certificate Act, the plaintiff was bound to produce a succession certificate. PENTA REDDI v. ANKI REDDI, 2 M.L.J. 34.

(52)—S. 4—Usufructuary mortgage—Suit on mortgage by adopted son of mortgagee—Succession certificate whether necessary. — Plaintiff sued to recover the amount due under a usufructuary mortgage executed in favour of his adoptive father or for possession of the property comprised under the mortgage. He did not produce a certificate of heirship. Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to a decree for the mortgage amount without the production of a certificate of heirship. The decree was not for money due under a contract, but was in reality the assessment in money of the value of the plaintiff's mortgage interest. In strictness, the plaintiff was entitled to a decree for the land itself. The amount could not be treated as a debt within the meaning of the Succession Certificate Act. ARUMUGAM PILLAI v. VALURA KOUNDAN, 24 M. 22.

(53)—S. 4—Suit for mortgage money, the security becoming impaired—Objection re want of succession certificate.—When the representatives of a usufructuary mortgagee sue to recover the mortgage-money from the mortgagor personally, by reason of the mortgage security being impaired by subsequent events, no succession certificate need be produced. Objection re want of succession certificate, ought not to be allowed to be taken for the first time in appeal. UMESH CHANDRA PARAMANICK v. MATHURA MOHAN HALDAR, 28 C. 246 = 5 C.W.N. 607.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(54)—S. 4—Certificate not to be given for a collection of part only of a debt—Debt in part irrecoverable.—A certificate for collection of debts under Act No. VII of 1889 may not be given for collection of part only of a debt. Where such a certificate is applied for, the applicant must pay succession duty on the whole, or the whole of the unpaid portion of the debt, irrespective of the amount which is likely to come into the applicant's hands. AKBAR KHAN v. BILKISARA BEGAM, A.W.N. 1901, 125. (19 A. 129, F.)

(55)—S. 4—Certificate to collect debts—Suit for foreclosure of a mortgage.—S. 4 of Act VII of 1889 does not apply to a suit for foreclosure of a mortgage. HANWANT SINGH v. MITHANA KOER, A.W.N. 1900, 94. (16 A. 259, R.)

(56)—S. 4—Claim to recover arrears of annuity by representative of deceased annuitant —Certificate of succession necessary.—A plaintiff sued as an annuitant under a will to recover arrears of the annuity. During the pendency of the suit the plaintiff died, and his son was brought upon the record in his place. Held, that before a decree could be pronounced in favour of the son, it was necessary for him to produce a certificate of succession according to the provisions of Act No. VII of 1889. For this purpose the lower appellate Court ought to have granted reasonable time to the plaintiff to produce the certificate, and not to have dismissed the suit. JAGAN NATH PRASAD v. BAGESHWAR KUNWAR, A.W.N. 1899, 217. (A.W.N. 1897, 29, R.)

(57)—S. 4—Certificate under, when necessary. —S. 4 of Act VII of 1889 (Succession Certificate Act) forbids any Court from passing a decree against a debtor of a deceased person for payment of his debt, except on production, by the person claiming, of a probate or letters of administration. A decree would be "against the debtor," when passed, although he consented to it. The plaintiffs sued to recover a certain amount due on a mortgage-bond executed by the defendant to their deceased father. But they did not produce a certificate as required under the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889). The claim was compromised by the parties and they prayed that a decree might be passed in terms of the compromise. Held that the plaintiffs must produce a certificate under s. 4 of Act VII of 1889 before they could get a decree as prayed for. SANTAJI KHANDERAO v. RAVJI, 15 B. 105. [R., 12 C.W.N. 145=7 C.L.J. 658; D., 28 B. 630.]

(58)—S. 4—Civ.Pro.Code, 1882, s. 50—Death of plaintiff—Representation—Practice.—S.50 of the Code contains the only provision which prevents a legal representative from continuing a suit until administration is taken out. That applies to the institution of a suit. Illustration (a), which requires probate to be taken out before suit filed, is an advance on the English law. Whether the principle involved in that illustration should have been extended by analogy when it was sought to revive a suit under s. 365, may be doubted. Since the passing of Act VII of 1889, however, it has become unnecessary to enquire as to the effect of s. 50 where it is sought to revive a suit under s. 365 of the Code, for that Act shows that all that can be insisted upon is that the representation should be complete before decree. D. D. TORREGROSA VASQEZ v. PRAGJI HURJI, 16 B. 519. [R., 12 C.W.N. 145=7 C.L.J. 658; D., 6 C.P.L.R. 157.]

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(59)—S. 4—Decree obtained by one of two undivided brothers—Right of surviving brother to execute—Nature of debt.—A decree obtained by one of two undivided brothers can, after his death, be executed by the surviving brother without a certificate of heirship under s. 4 of Act VII of 1889, if the debt is in its nature a family debt; because the right to execute the decree would devolve on him by survivorship and not as the heir of his deceased brother. But if, on the contrary, the debt is part of the separate property of the deceased, the applicant can only execute the decree as heir, and must, in that case, obtain a certificate of heirship to enable him to proceed. RAGHAVENDRA MADHAV v. BHIMA, 16 B. 349. [F., 19 B. 338, 9 C.P.L.R. 65, 23 C. 912; R, 17 B. 6; L.B.R. 1872—1892, 651; D., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 204.]

(60)—S. 4—Sale of Deshmuki hak—Suit for damages by deceased vendee's heirs for wrongful receipt of hak by vendor — Certificate unnecessary.—S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act, VII of 1889, prevents a Civil Court from passing a decree only as against a debtor of a deceased person for payment of his debt, except on production of one or other of the documents there mentioned. In the present case, the defendants sold on 30th March, 1873, to the deceased M, the amount due on account of the deshmuki hak which the Sarker might please to order to be debited. The defendants, notwithstanding the aforesaid sale, received the hak from the revenue authorities in 1886, some two years after the death of M. The heirs of M brought the present suit against the defendants for recovery of damages or for money had and received by the defendants for their use. The defendants contended that the suit was not maintainable without obtaining a succession certificate. Held that the property in the amount of the hak sold to M, became vested in him at the time of the sale, i.e., in 1873, that the defendants never became his debtors at any time, as the amount so assigned was not received by the defendants from the revenue authorities until after M's death in 1884; and that, therefore, no succession certificate was necessary for the plaintiffs to maintain their suit. NARAYAN BHAU BARTAKE v. TATIA GANPATRAO DESHMUKH, 15 B. 580. [Disappr., 21 M. 139; R., 18 M. 457=5 M.L.J. 61.]

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(61)—S. 4—Bar to decree not to suit.—S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act prohibits a Court from passing a decree against a debtor of a deceased person for payment of his debt to a person claiming to be entitled to the effects of the deceased person except on the production by the person so claiming of—among other things—either letters of administration or a certificate granted under the Act with the debt specified therein. The section does not bar the suit as the Courts below have imagined. The Court of first instance should therefore allow plaintiff a reasonable time to obtain the necessary qualification by means of letters of administration or a succession certificate. MAUNG PO KYI v. MA NYEIN, U.B.R. 1892–1896, Vol. II, 638.

(62)—S. 4—Joint Hindu family—Family debt, suit for—Certificate, if necessary—Hindu Law—Evidence—Presumption as to nature of debt.—Under the Succession Certificate Act VII of 1889, a plaintiff does not require a certificate where his claim is for family property by right of survivorship. Where the plaintiff's family is admitted or proved to be a joint Hindu family, but there is no direct evidence as to the nature of the debt claimed by him, the presumption is that it is a family debt. JAGMOHANDAS KILABHAI v. ALLU MARIA DUSKAL, 19 B. 338. [F., 17 A. 578, 15=C.W.N. 49=7 Ind. Cas. 806=38 C. 182; R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 204, 21 B. 53, 9 C.P.L R. 65, 4 L.B.R. 99.]

(63)—S. 4—Succession—Provisional decree.—A Court cannot pass a decree, provisional or otherwise, against a debtor of a deceased person for payment of the debt to any person who does not hold probate or letters of administration or a certificate of succession. MA SEIN NYO v. MA MAI TU, 2 L.B.R. 164. (P.J.L.B. 334, Diss.)

(64)—S. 4—Execution of decree—Application for execution by legal representative of decree-holder—Necessity for certificate — Limitation Act (1877), art. 179 (4).—An application for execution of a decree made by the legal representative of a deceased decree-holder, without the production of the certificate under the Succession Certificate Act, is nevertheless one made "in accordance with law" within the meaning of art. 179, cl. (4), of the Limitation Act. BALKISHAN SHIWA BAKAS v. WAGARSING, 20 B. 76. (19 C. 482, 20 C. 755, 16 A. 26, 8 C. 422, 6 M. 181, 12 B. 625, 5 M.H.C. 453, R.; 6 B. 31, D.) [R., 31 M. 77=17 M.L.J. 566, 9 C.L.J. 443=13 C.W.N. 533, 13 Bom. L.R. 22=9 Ind. Cas. 349.]

(65)—S. 4 — Execution of decree—Sale of debt due to deceased judgment debtor—Rights of purchaser—Representative of creditor—Certificate.—A obtained a decree against B, who subsequently died. In execution of the decree, A brought to sale a debt due to B by a firm, purchased it himself, and thereupon applied to the District Judge for a certificate under the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) to enable him to recover the debt. The District Judge rejected the application holding that A was not a representative of the deceased. A, thereupon, appealed to the High Court. Held that, under s. 4 (a) of the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889), the applicant was entitled to a certificate, he being the purchaser at the Court sale of part of the effects of the deceased creditor B. MANCHARAM PRANJIVAN v. BAI MAHALI, 18 B. 315.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(66)—S. 4—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), s. 88—Suit for sale by representatives of mortgagee — Certificate whether necessary.—Such alteration as was made in the law by s. 4 of Act VII of 1889 having been only an alteration in procedure not affecting any vested right of action, as soon as the Act came into force, its provisions should be taken to have applied even to suits instituted prior to the Act. (6 A. 262, F.) A mortgagee who brings his suit for sale is bringing his suit against his debtor, the mortgagor, for payment of his debt, and the decree which he seeks in that suit is a decree for payment of such debt by sale of the mortgaged property. S. 4 of the Act therefore applies to a suit for sale under s. 88 of the Transfer of Property Act, which, in the result, is a suit in which, if the plaintiff succeeds, the decree would be one form of a decree for payment of a debt. FATEH CHAND v. MUHAMMAD BAKHSH, 16 A. 259, F.B.=A.W.N. 1894, 74. (16 M. 64, D. 19 C.336 Diss.) [Diss., 26 C. 839 =4 C.W.N. 558; Not F., 28 B. 630, 29 M. 77; R., 16 A. 418, 17 A. 537, 20 M. 232, 20 A.W.N. 95, 10 O.C. 378, 5 M.L.T. 278.]

(67)—S. 4—Suit by survivor for debt due to joint family— No certificate necessary—Bond debt due to joint Hindu family—Nature of debt need not appear from bond.—Where it is proved that a debt is advanced from the funds of a joint Hindu family and is due to that family, there is no necessity for a certificate under the Succession Certificate Act, in order to enable the survivor of such family to recover such debt. [R., 7 C.L J. 658=12 C.W N. 145.] Where such a debt is a bond-debt, it is not necessary that it should appear in the bond that the funds were those of a joint family. PATESHURI PARTAB NARAIN SINGH v. BHAGWATI PRASAD, 17 A. 578=A.W.N. 1895, 132. (19 B. 338, F.)

(68)—S. 4—Collection of portion of particular debt, when certificate grantable for.—It would be against public policy that a certificate to collect a portion only of a debt should be granted, where the other portion remains undischarged, because it would possibly tend to multiplication of suits in respect of one liability and the consequent harassment of debtors. There is nothing however to prevent the grant of a certificate for the collection of any one of several distinct debts, or of more than one of such debts; in other words, it is not obligatory on the applicant to pay for a certificate for the collection of one and all of the debts, due to the deceased, and where a portion of a debt having been already satisfied, the certificate sought to be obtained is to cover only the unsatisfied portion of the debt, the applicant will have to pay duty, under the Act, only in respect of such undischarged balance. MUHAMMAD ALIHAN v. PUTTAN BIBI, 19 A. 129 = A.W.N. 1896, 198. [F., A.W.N. 1901, 125; R., 70 P. R. 1904.]

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(69)—S. 4—Contract Act, ss. 45, 263—Suit by a surviving member of a firm—Suit by heir of deceased partner and surviving partner.—When a debt is owing to joint Hindu family, carrying on business as a partnership, after the death of one of the partners, the surviving partner may sue alone for the recovery of the debt without obtaining a certificate under the Succession Certificate Act, and if the heir of the deceased partner is also joined as a co-plaintiff, a certificate of heirship will be necessary, unless it appears on the face of the document sued on, that the debt was a co-pracenary debt. VAIDYANATHA AYYAR v. CHINNASAWMI NAIK, 17 M. 108. [F., 10 P.R. 1906; R., 70 P.R. 1904, 17 A. 578, U. B R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 204, 9 C.P.L.R. 65, 4 L.B.R. 99, 9 C.L.J. 331 = 13 C.W.N. 509.]

(70)—S. 4—Debt bond in favour of one member of joint Hindu family—Debt due to family—Necessity for certificate.—Suit by sons on mortgage bond in favour of their father. On the face of the bond the debt did not appear to be a joint family debt. Held, that inasmuch as the debt was found to be a joint debt, a Succession Certificate was not necessary. SUBRAMANIAN CHETTI v. RAKKU SERVAI, 20 M. 232 = 7 M.L.J. 100. (14 M. 377, Expl.) [F., 22 M. 380; R., 4 L.B.R. 99.]

(71)—S. 4—Application for execution—S. 4, cl. (b), Act VII of 1889, does not apply to applications to execute decrees which were pending at the date of the passing of the Act, but refers to applications made after the Act came into force. RAMA RAO v. CHELLAIAMMA, 14 M. 468 = 1 M.L.J. 602.

(72)—S. 4—Suit by son for debt due to his father.—In a suit by a son on a bond executed in favour of his deceased father, the defendant is entitled to insist on the production of a certificate under Act VII of 1889, unless it appears on the face of the bond that the debt claimed was due to the joint family consisting of the father and the son. VENKATARAMANNA v. VENKAYYA, 14 M. 377. [F., 20 M. 232; R., 17 M. 108, 19 B. 338, 17 A. 578, 9 C.P.L.R. 65, 12 C.W.N. 145 = 7 C.L.J. 658; D., 17 M. 147.]

(73)—S. 4—Civ Pro. Code (XIV of 1882), s. 622—Order wrongly dismissing application to sue in forma pauperis, open to revision by High Court.—Where a Court, having jurisdiction to entertain an application presented to it for leave to sue in forma pauperis, declines to do so by reason of its erroneously supposing that a succession certificate, under Act VII of 1889, was necessary before it could be entertained, the case would come within the principle enunciated in 11 M. 220, F.B., as warranting the interference of the High Court under s. 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure. KAMMATHI v. MANGAPPA, 16 M. 454. [R., 13 C.W.N. 509 = 9 C.L.J. 331; D., 22 M. 68.]

Succession Certificate Act (XII of 1889 —continued.

(74)—S 4—Suit for refund of price paid—Liquidated sum of money.—A suit for the refund of the price paid for goods sold but not delivered, is a suit for a liquidated sum of money and not a claim for damages. A succession certificate is therefore necessary. PENTA REDDI v. ANKI REDDI, 22 M. 44, Note. (18 I.A. 158, R.) [Appr., 32 C. 418; Expl., 22 M. 139.]

(75)—S. 4—Mortgage in favour of managing member of joint Hindu family—Suit on mortgage by person claiming by right of survivorship—Necessity for succession certificate.—Suit to recover the amount due under a mortgage bond executed in favour of the managing member of the family to which the plaintiff belonged. In a family partition, the mortgage bond fell to the share of the plaintiff. Held, seeing that the family was admittledly undivided and that the plaintiff claimed by survivorship, the Succession Certificate Act did not apply, and no certificate was necessary. PALLAM RAJU v. BAPANNA, 22 M. 380. [R., 12 C.W.N. 145 = 7 C.L.J. 658.]

(76)—S. 4—Mitakshara Law—Survivorship—Succession.—In the case of a family governed by the Mitakshara Law, the son is a joint owner with his father from the moment of his birth, and takes by survivorship. S. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act has no application to a suit by the father revived, after his death, in the name of his son. BISSEN CHAND DHUDHURIA BAHADUR v. CHATRAPAT SINGH, 1 C.W.N. 32. [R., 7 C.L.J. 658 = 12 C.W.N. 145.]

(77)—S. 4—"Debt," meaning of.—The Succession Certificate Act refers only to such debts as the deceased could sue upon. For the realisation of a debt that has fallen due since the death of the deceased, no certificate is necessary. NEMDHARI ROY v. MUSSUMAT BISSESSARI KUMARI, 2 C.W.N. 591. [Overruled, 13 C.W.N. 966, F.B. = 10 C.L.J. 180; Diss., 30 A. 315 = 5 A.L.J. 598 = A.W.N. 1908, 113; D., 12 C.W.N. 145 = 7 C.L.J. 658.]

(78)—Ss. 4, 78—Ben. Act VII of 1876—Suit for rent by unregistered proprietor—"Debt."—Where arrears of rent fell due during the life-time of a registered proprietor, a rent suit, for such rent, by his son, is maintainable, though his name is not registered. (2 C.W.N. 493, R.) [F., 27 C. 535.] Rent is not a debt. Therefore, no succession certificate is necessary, to recover the same. NAGENDRA NATH BASU v. SATADAL BASINI BASU, 26 C. 536 = 3 C.W.N. 294.

(79)—S. 4—Assignee of property mortgaged, not a debtor—Suit for sale of mortgaged property, not as against mortgagor personally—Certificate to collect debts not necessary—Suit to enforce charge— Nature of.— The assignees of a certain mortgaged premises are not debtors within the meaning of s. 4, Act VII of 1889. (15 C. 54, Appl.; 13 C. 47, D.) The heirs of a mortgagee, seeking relief against the mortgaged property alone need not take out a certificate under the Act. S. 4, Act VII of 1889, does not apply to a suit for sale on a mortgage. (13 C. 47, D.; 15 C. 54, App'.) [F., 26 C. 839=4 C.W.N. 558, 28 B. 630; Appr., 22 C. 143; R., 12 C.W.N. 145=7 C.L.J. 658; Diss, 16 A. 259=14 A.W.N. 1894, 74.] The wording of s. 2 of Act XXVII of 1860 is very similar to that of s. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act, so far as the matter referred to in this case is concerned. [Appr., 22 C. 143]. A suit to enforce a charge against immoveable property is one to recover an interest in the immoveable property. KANCHAN MODI v. BRIJNATH SINGH, 19 C. 336.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(80)—S. 4—Execution of decrees.—S. 4 of Act VII of 1889 merely provides that the Court shall not proceed upon an application of a person claiming to be entitled to execute a decree, except on the production of a certificate or other authority of the like nature. But it does not follow from that section that an application might not be made without the production of the certificate, the certificate being supplied during the pendency of the proceedings. BROJO NATH SURMA v. ISWAR CHANDRA DUTT, 19 C. 482. (13 C. 47, F.) [F., 16 A. 26= A.W.N. 1893, 197, 20 B. 76; R., 18 A. 34=15 A.W.N. 148, 13 C.W.N. 533=9 C.L.J. 443.]

(81)—S. 4—Decree made in favour of a deceased mohunt—Right of successor and representative to apply for execution of decree made in favour of the deceased for costs incurred on behalf of the muth.—The successor and representative of a deceased mohunt need not take out probate, certificate, or letters of administration to enable him to apply for execution of a decree made in favour of a deceased mohunt for costs incurred in proceedings carried on by him on behalf of the muth. JOGENDRANATH BHARATI v. RAM CHUNDER BHARATI, 20 C. 103.

(82)—S. 4—See PUNJAB ACT XVIII OF 1884, s. 70 (b), 70 P.R. 1904.

(83)—S. 4—See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL—CASES WHERE APPEALS LIE OR NOT, 20 A. 118=A.W.N. 1897, 220.

(84)—S. 4—See BUDDHIST LAW—INHERITANCE, L.B.R. 1893—1900. 334.

(85)—S. 4— See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 48, 27 P.R. 1894.

(86)—S. 4—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. 21, s. 16, 37 P.R. 1893.

(87)—S. 4—See EXECUTION OF DECREE — APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION AND POWERS OF COURT, 54 P.R. 1893.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(88)—S. 4—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s.22, 21 B. 580.

(89) — S. 4—See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER, 88 P. R. 1891.

(90)—S. 4—Suit for recovery of dower by heirs of deceased wife against husband—Whether plaintiff entitled to decree without certificate required by Act— See MAHOMEDAN LAW— DOWER, A.W.N. 1908, 113=30 A. 315=5 A.L.J. 598.

(91)—S. 4—See MAINTENANCE, 13 Ind. Cas. 148.

(92)—S. 4—See PARTIES TO SUIT—GENERAL, 18 C. 86.

(93)—S. 4—Parties not having certificate, etc., under—Receiver in suit between them—Effect—See RECEIVER, 3 S.L.R. 118=4 Ind. Cas. 605.

(94)— S. 4—Certificate not granted to mortgagee's representative—Court cannot pass any decree under s. 90, Transfer of Property Act, in favour of mortgagee's representative, in suit to enforce mortgage—Subsequent grant of certificate not sufficient— See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 90, 35 C. 767.

(95)—S. 4—See NO. 28, supra.

(96)—S. 4, sub-s. 1, cl. (a)—Necessity for representation being complete before decree —The words "no Court shall pass a decree without the production of a succession certificate in cl. (a) sub-s. (1) of s. 4 of the Act do not mean any more than that the representation shall be complete before decree and do not render the obtaining of a certificate a step necessary to enable a plaintiff suing in a representative capacity to institute a suit. YADO v ANANDRAO, 6 C.P.L.R. 157. (16 B. 519, R.)

(97)—S. 4 (b)—Application for execution of decree—Certificate.—The words of cl. (b) of s. 4 of Act VII of 1889 prohibit an execution Court from proceeding to execute the decree unless, in cases where a succession certificate under the Act is required, such a certificate has been produced. This means that only upon the production of such certificate, is it competent to the Court to direct that execution should issue and proceed on the decree. It is not, however, necessary that the certificate should be produced along with the application for execution; it is sufficient if it be produced and tendered in Court at any time before the Court proceeds to pass any order for the execution of the decree. KALIAN SINGH v. RAM CHARAN, 18 A. 34=A.W.N. 1895, 148. (19 C. 482, A.W.N. 1893, 197, R.)

(98)—S 4 (I)—Debt does not include rent—Court's jurisdiction to inquire whether debt is due.—The word "debt" in s. 4 (1) includes any debt except rent. A Court granting the succession certificate is not competent to inquire whether a debt alleged by the petitioner is really

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

due to the estate of the deceased, before granting the certificate. ANDALAMMAL v. VENKATACHARLU, 17 M.L.J. 257. (28 B. 119, R.)

(99)—S. 4, (1)(a)--Suit for account of partnership —Suit by son of Muhammadan partner.—Suit by a Muhammadan for an account of the capital and profits of a partnership and for payment of the share of his father, the deceased partner of the firm. The plaintiff had not obtained letters of administration or a Succession Certificate. Held, that the claim was not a debt within the meaning of s. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act, as there was, at the time of the death of the plaintiff's father, no present obligation to pay a liquidated sum of money to him. A Succession Certificate was therefore not necessary. SABJU SAHIB v. NOORDIN SAHIB, 22 M. 139. [R., 32 C. 418, 7 C.L.J. 658=12 C.W.N. 145, 13 C.W.N. 966=10 C.L.J. 180, F.B.=36 C. 936, F.B.]

(100)—S. 4, sub-s. 1, cl. (b), scope of.—S. 4, sub-s. 1, cl. (b) of Act VII of 1889, is not confined to the execution of decrees passed subsequently to the time when the Act came into operation. Where the legal representative of a decree-holder applies for the execution of the decree after Act VII of 1889, came into operation, the decree having been passed prior to the passing of the Act, a certificate under s. 4 of the Act must be produced by him. CHINNIRAM UMAJI v. HANMANA, 15 B. 265.

(101)—S. 4, sub-s. 1, cl. (b), Succession Certificate Act, 1889, construction of—Original mortgagee applying for execution, death of—Subsequent proceedings by his heirs—Necessity of Succession Certificate.—S. 4, sub-s. 1, cl. (b) is inapplicable to a case where the Court has commenced proceedings on the application of the mortgagee-decree-holder himself, but is applicable, if, during the pendency of the execution-proceedings, the decree-holder dies and his legal representatives are brought on the record. (22 C. 143, R.) Where a mortgagee decree-holder dies after applying for execution, his legal representatives applying for leave to continue the execution-proceedings, may do so, without producing a certificate. MAHOMED YUSUF v. ABDUR RAHIM BEPARI, 26 C. 839=4 C.W.N. 558. (15 C. 54, 19 C. 336, 22 C. 143. F.; 16 A. 259, D.) [F., 28 B. 630=6 Bom. L.R. 582; R., 29 M. 77, 5 M.L.T. 278, 12 C.W.N. 145 =7 C.L.J. 658; Diss., 10 O.C. 378, B.]

(102)—S. 4 (1), (b)—Application for execution presented without certificate.—S 4, sub-s. 1 cl. (b) of Act VII of 1889, provides that the Court shall not proceed to execution except upon the production of one or other of the certificates set forth in that section. But the application for execution need not, at its presentation, be accompanied by such a certificate, and, therefore, such an application, though presented unaccompanied by the certific te, will constitute a good application "in accordance with law" for the purposes of art. 179 of the Limitation Act, 1877. MANGAL KHAN v. SALIM-ULLAH KHAN, 6 A. 26=A.W.N. 1893, 197. (19 C. 482, F.) [F., 20 B. 76, 18 A. 34, 13 C.W.N. 533=9 C.L.J. 443; R., 31 M. 77=17 M.L.J. 566.]

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(103)—S. 4—sub-s. 1, cl. (b)—Proceedings in execution of decree taken before passing of Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889)—Applicability of s. 4, sub-s. 1, cl. (b) of Act to such proceedings.—Cl. (b) of sub-s. 1 of s. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) does not apply to applications or proceedings in execution of a decree pending at the time at which the Act came into force. The application therein mentioned must mean one made after the Act came into force, and the proceeding of the Court in execution must be an initial one under that application, and not one in continuation of proceedings taken on applications made before the Act came into force. BALUBHAI DAYABHAI v. NASAR bin ABDUL HABIB FAZLY, 15 B. 79. [F., 14 M. 458; R., 15 B. 265.]

(104)—S. 4, sub-s. 2.—Suit by zamindar on bond executed to his father, the late zamindar for arrears of rent — No suit for rent.—A suit by a zemindar on a bond executed to his father, the late zamindar, for arrears of rent, is not a suit for rent within the meaning of s. 4, sub-s. 2, of the Succession Certificate Act. The debt is now due upon the bond and is not rent. The character must be determined by the promise contained in the document and not by the consideration recited for the promise. ZAMINDAR OF KALAHASTI v. VENKATAPA, 1 M.L.J. 680.

(105)—S. 4, sub s. 2—Certificate to collect debts—Debt—Profits of zamindari property.—A suit to recover as heir to a deceased co-sharer profits of zamindari property from the lambardar is not a suit to recover a "debt" as that term is defined in s. 4, sub-s. (2), of Act VII of 1889. The plaintiff therefore in such a suit is not bound to provide himself with a Certificate of Succession. AULAD HUSAIN v. TAJAMMAL HUSAIN, A.W.N. 1900, 96.

(106)—S. 4, sub-s. 2—Claim for unliquidated damages.—A Hindu died leaving some sheep with X, who did not return them. His widow applied for a Succession Certificate to enable her to sue X for damages for wrongful detention. It was held that the word "debt" in s. 4, sub-s. 2 of Act VII of 1889, does not include a claim of this nature, and that, though it was not necessary that there should be a loan, there should be a certain sum of money due by the debtor to the deceased. A certificate could not therefore be granted under the Act. SUBBANNA v. MUNEKKA, 18 M. 457 =5 M.L.J. 61. [R., 7 C.L.J. 658=12 C.W.N. 145.]

(107)—Ss. 4, 6—Suit by assignee of debt due to deceased creditor.—If a person, claiming to be the heir to a deceased creditor, is bound to produce a Succession Certificate before he can sue to recover the debt, no less is the assignee from such heir bound to take a certificate for the collection of the assigned debt. KARUPPASAMI v. PICHU, 15 M. 419=2 M.L.J. 116.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(108)—Ss. 4, 7—Debt—No certificate for part of a debt.—A Mahomedan lady died leaving several heirs and her dower unpaid. One of the heirs was entitled to Rs. 17,000 out of the dower debt. She relinquished her claim to all but Rs. 800, and applied for a Succession Certificate for Rs. 800 only and offered to pay duty for the same. Held, that no certificate could be granted for a part of the debt. BISMILLA BEGAM v. TAWASSUL HUSAIN, 7 A.L.J. 255 =5 Ind. Cas. 424=32 A. 335. (19 A. 129, F.; A.W.N. 1901, 125, R.)

(109)—Ss. 4, 9—Minor—Applying through natural guardian—Issue of certificate.—A Succession Certificate may be granted to a minor on application made by him though his natural guardian. Otherwise, s. 4 of the Succession Certificate Act would stand in the way of the minor suing for the effects of the deceased father, and no such suit could be filed during his minority. (28 B. 344, 6 Bom. L.R. 281, 25 B. 523, 3 Bom. L.R. 795, Considered; 5 C.L.R. 517, 20 A. 352, F.) The provisions of s. 9 of the Act can be satisfied by the guardian depositing the necessary security on behalf of the minor. SINGANAMALA KRISHNAMACHARLU v. SINGANAMALA VENKATAMMA, 15 Ind. Cas. 408=M.W.N. 1912, 411=36 M. 214.

(110)—Ss. 4 and 16—Assignment of the debt by the holder of Succession Certificate—Right of the assignee to sue for the debt--Practice--Assignee not allowed time to produce a fresh certificate.—B. A. who was the mortgagee of the property in suit, died leaving behind him F.A. and others as his heirs. F. A. got a Succession Certificate with regard to the mortgage in suit and assigned the mortgage to the plaintiff, together with his right to sue as a holder of the Succession Certificate. Held, that the plaintiff had no right to maintain the suit, as he did not hold a Succession Certificate. Held, further, that he could not be allowed to convert the suit brought by him as an assignee of the debt into one by a certificate holder by allowing him an opportunity to produce a Succession Certificate. ALLAH DAD KHAN v. SANT RAM, 10 A.L.J. 506=35 A. 74=17 Ind. Cas. 486

(111)—Ss 4, 17—Probate issued from Native Court—Suit in British India.—The executors of the will of a subject of a Native State cannot maintain a suit in a British Court on the strength of a probate issued by a Native Court, but must take out probate or letters of administration in British India under Act V of 1881, or a Certificate under Act VII of 1889. MANASINGH v. AHMED KUNHI, 17 M. 14.

(112)—S. 5—Granting of certificate by competent Court—Right of other Courts to question the certificate.—Where a competent Court grants a Certificate of Succession to a certain person, under the Act, it is not open to a Court, before which such Succession Certificate is produced as authority to collect the debts entered therein, to question the right of the Court which granted the certificate; to hold otherwise would be to open the door to confusion and give opportunity for fraud. DURGA DAS v. GULLU, 27 A. 87=A.W.N. 1904, 172. [F., 17 M.L.J. 37.]

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(113)—S. 6—Certificate to collect some only of the debts due to the deceased, legality of.—Where a person applies for a certificate under s. 6 of the Succession Certificate Act, in order to enable him to comply with the requirements of s. 4 of the Act, such person cannot be compelled to ask for a certificate in respect of more debts than he wishes to collect for the time being. There is nothing in the law to prevent the Court from entertaining an application and granting a certificate in respect of some only of the several debts due to a deceased person. In the matter of the petition of INDARMAN, 18 A. 45=A.W.N. 1865, 152.

(114)—S. 6 (d)—Certificate, grant of—Guardian—Minor.—A certificate under the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, can be issued to the guardian of a minor. In re MAHADEV, 6 Bom. L.R. 281=28 B. 344.

(115)—S. 6—See Nos. 26, 107, supra.

(116)—Ss. 6, 7—Grant of Succession Certificate to minor through next friend.—A certificate may be granted to a minor through his next friend to collect debts alleged to be due to the minor's adoptive father, then deceased. RAMKUAR v. SARDAR SINGH, 20 A. 352=A.W.N. 1898, 64. (5 C.L.R. 517, R.) [R., 28 B. 344.]

(117)—Ss. 6, 19—Appeal.—When a Succession Certificate is granted to the petitioner and he is ordered to furnish security, no appeal lies against so much of the order as requires security to be furnished. RAMA REDDI v. PAPI REDDI, 19 M. 199. [F., 5 O.C. 213.]

(118)—S. 7—"Summary enquiry," meaning of—Procedure where questions of law or fact are intricate—Prima facie title to be determined in case of intricacy.—Under s. 7 of the Succession Certificate Act, when a Court, considering that the pleadings of the parties are contentious and are such as will necessitate a prolonged enquiry into intricate questions of law or fact, decides summarily as to who is prima facie entitled to the certificate, the Court need not frame issues on such questions or record evidence thereon. The "summary enquiry" contemplated by the section means a short enquiry leading up to and resulting in a rapid decision, in contrast with the lengthy investigation required for the more tardy determination of a regular suit. The nature of the enquiry must depend on the circumstances of each case. CHUNNI LAL v. GULAB CHAND, 8 Ind. Cas. 730. (25 B. 523, 3 Bom. L.R. 795, R.)

(119)—S. 7—Question too intricate and difficult for decision in summary trial—Previous enquiry not necessary—Person having prima facie right—Right to grant certificate without inquiry—Whether exists,—Where, in a proceeding for the grant of a succession certificate, the rival claimant is the widow of the person for whose assets the certificate is asked for. Held that the widow's prima facie right was clear upon the pleadings, and that the Court was justified in granting the certificate to the widow, without an inquiry. (17 M. 477, Cons.) The language of s. 7 of the Succession Certificate Act does not support the contention that, in all cases, a Court dealing with an application for a succession certificate must hold some inquiry, before it can hold that it raises questions too intricate and difficult for decision in a summary trial, and it would be going too far to uphold such a contention. ANGAPPA CHETTIAR v. MEENAKSHI AMMAL, 24 M.L.J. 198 = 1913 M.W.N. 175 = 18 Ind. Cas. 733.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(120)—S. 7—Decision of Court.—On an application for a succession certificate, the Court is bound to decide, though in a summary manner, the question as to the right to the certificate, especially, when there is conflict between two parties. BASANTA LAL v. PARBATI KOER, 31 C. 133 = 8 C.W.N. 51. (23 C. 431, Rel on; 6 C.W.N. 345, D.).

(121)—S. 7—Summary manner—What is meant by—Debts and securities, ss. 4 (2) and 6—Meaning of "debt"—Is money advanced on usufructuary mortgage included in term?—The Act was never intended to take the place of a Probate and Administration Act, and s. 21 expressly provides that the grant of probate or letters of administration is to supersede a certificate under the Act. "Debt" must be taken in its ordinary and common acceptation. In Stephen's Commentaries on Blackstone, Book II, Chap. V, it is said : "For in general, whenever a contract is such as to give one of the parties a right to receive a certain and liquidated sum of money from the other as in the case of a bond for the payment of money, or an implied promise to pay for goods supplied so much as they shall be reasonably worth—a debt is then supposed to exist between these parties." The Transfer of Property Act is not in force but among the cases of mortgage of the usual kind prevalent in Upper Burma, which have come before the Court, I do not think that there have been any in which the mortgage-money has been sued for. Probably such mortgage-money is not a debt, but the point would have to be settled in a mortgage suit. If the applicant for the certificate proposes to sue for any mortgage-money, she can of course include the amount in her statement of debts and pay duty on it. But the mortgaged property cannot be entered as the debt itself. MA BE NAUNG v. MA BOK, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 639. (8 W.R. 2, 8 C. 858, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 428.]

(122)—S. 7—Grant of joint certificate.—Under the special circumstances of the case the grant of a joint certificate to the contending parties was not interfered with, but the opinion was indicated that there ought to have been a definite determination between the rival claims. MAUNG PON v. MAUNG SAN, U. B. R. 1897—1901, Vol II. 563. (15 A. 195. 16 A. 21, 11 B. 179, 15 B. 684, 19 M. 497, R.)

(123)—S. 7—Joint certificate.—Under certain circumstances, it is legal to grant a joint certificate in the name of the rival claimants to collect the debts due to the estate of the deceased under the Succession Certificate Act, 1899. NARAYANASAMI v. KUPPUSAMI, 19 M. 497 = 4 M.L.J. 112. [R., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 563.]

(123-a)—S. 7—See NOS. 26, 27, 108, 116, supra.

(124)—S. 7, cl. 1, application for certificate under—Duty of Court to decide questions at issue touching right to certificate.—Cl. (3) of s. 7 of Act VII of 1889, enables the Court in cases of difficulty and intricacy, to grant a succession certificate to the person having prima facie the best title thereto, but it is also expressly laid down by cl. (1) of the section that "the Court shall proceed to decide in a summary manner the right to the certificate." The District Judge was therefore wrong in having refused jurisdiction on the grounds given by him. Even though the question at issue between the applicant and his opposite party related to the status (joint or divided) of the family to which the deceased belonged, it was the duty of the District Judge to have proceeded to decide the matter in a summary manner. DHARMAYA v. SAYANA, 21 B. 53. [Expl., 5 C.W.N. 494.]

(125)—S. 7. cl. 3—Revocation of certificate by District Judge—Functions of Appellate Court — Judicial discretion—Exercise by Appellate Court—Error of law—High Court's power of interference — Revision — S. 115, Civ. Pro. Code.—The functions and powers of a Court of Appeal invested with plenary jurisdiction to decide a question which the Court of First Instance had to decide, is the same as those of the Court of First Instance itself. Held, that the District Judge, who, in appeal, was not prepared to hold the will proved on the evidence on record, had power to exercise the discretion by s. 7, cl. (3), Succession Certificate Act, and to revoke the grant of the certificate, on the ground that the question was an intricate one. Even if the District Judge had committed an error either of law or of fact in considering the question to be intricate, the High Court has no power to interfere with his order in revision under s. 115, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908. V. S. RAMAKRISHNA AIYAR v. NAGAMMAL, 10 M. L.T. 164.

(126)—S. 7, (3)—Inquiry into title set up.—On an application on behalf of a minor, for a certificate under Succession Certificate Act, the Court ought to make some enquiry into the title set up by the applicant, prior to the disposal of his application. HURRI KRISHNA PANDA v. BALABHADRA PANDA, 23 C. 431. (6 C. 303, 15 C. 574, 17 M. 477, R.; 7 M. 452 D.; 5 C. L.R. 517, Diss.) [Rel. on., 31 C. 133 = 8; C.W. N. 51; Appr., 25 C. 320; R., 5 C.W.N. 494.]

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(127)—S. 7 (3)—Inquiry into—Prima facie title.—The intention of s. 7 (3) of the Succession Certificate Act is not to save the Court the trouble of making any inquiry at all where the applicant is not the heir to the deceased, but it is to allow the prima faice title to the certificate to prevail when a question of law or fact arises on inquiry, too difficult to be determined in a summary proceeding. SIVAMMA v. SUBBAMMA, 17 M. 477. [Appr., 23 C. 431 ; R., 21 B. 53, 5 C.W.N. 494.]

(128)—Ss. 7 (3) and 9 (1)—Grant of certificate —Taking security essential—No discretion to Court.—Where a certificate is issued under s. 7, sub-s. (3) of the Succession Certificate Act, the Court shall require security-bond with one or more sureties to be given as a condition precedent to the granting of the certificate (Vide s. 9, cl. 1). The section leaves no discretion to the Court in this matter. RAJAM CHETTY alias SUBBARAYA CHETTY v. EDALAPALLI AUTHIAMMAL, 11 M.L.T. 384=M.W.N. 1912, 535=14 Ind. Cas. 303.

(129)—S. 7, cl. (4)—Certificate for collection of debts not grantable to several of the applicants. —The provisions of cl. (4) of s. 7, Succession Certificate Act, empowers the Court to select one out of several applicants for a certificate on consideration amongst others, of the extent of their interest in the estate. This however does not imply that the Judge is competent to issue certificates to several of the applicants for partial collection, by each of them, of the debts in question. SHITAB DEBI v. DEBI PRASAD, 16 A. 21=A W N. 1893, 191. [R., 19 M. 497, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 563, 70 P.R. 1904.]

(130)—Ss. 7, 9—Certificate of succession— Power of Judge to grant certificate as to a portion of the debts of a deceased person.—There is nothing in the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, to preclude a Judge from granting a certificate for partial collections of the debts of a deceased person, security being furnished by the applicant to a proportionate amount. In the matter of the petition of GHANSHAM DAS, A.W.N. 1893, 84.

(131)—Ss. 7 and 19—Orders under ss. 7 and 19—Appeal.—No appeal lies against an order under s. 7 of Act VII of 1889 directing security to be given, but an appeal lies against an order passed under s. 19 of the Act. MAYILKOTHIL KUNJUNNI NAIR v. VADAKEVEETIL KONGATHIL ELAYA NAIR, 7 M.L.T. 246=6 Ind. Cas. 599. (19 M. 199, 20 M. 442, R.)

(132)—Ss. 7, 25—Summary enquiry—Effect of decision under the Act.—There must be an enquiry before a certificate is granted under the Succession Certificate Act, but the enquiry is to be a summary one, and when a Judge has legal evidence before him on which he comes to a proper conclusion, his proceedings cannot be set aside because they seem not to have been of a very protracted nature. (23 C. 431, 17 M. 477, 25 C. 320, 21 B 53, R.) No decision under the Succession Certificate Act bars in any way the rights of the parties, or establishes the right of the party to the debt to collect which the certificate is granted. MUSSTT. JIGIRI BEGAM v. SYED ALI NAWAB, 5 C.W. N. 494.

(133)—S. 8—Petition for succession certificate, contents of.—A Court has no power to grant a succession certificate except upon a petition complying with the provisions of the Act. Amongst other things, it must specify each debt and security in respect of which the certificate is asked, and the certificate, when granted, must specify each debt and security covered by it. MAUNG THA MAUNG v. MAUNG HLAW, 8 Ind. Cas. 996.

(134)—S. 8—Widow's application for succession certificate—Objection by reversioner—Suit by widow for declaration of abstract right —Maintainability—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 42, 7 A. L. J. 311=5 Ind. Cas. 593=32 A. 316.

(134-a)—S. 8—See NO. 29, supra.

(135)—S. 9—Cancellation of security-bond. —Held, that a person who has given security and executed a bond under the provisions of s. 9 of the Succession Certificate Act, VII of 1889, cannot be relieved of his liability so long as the certificate of succession granted by Court holds good. KAMAL DIN v. MUSSAMAT HAJRAN, 5 P.L.R. 1901.

(136)—S. 9—Suit for a share in inheritance against administrator—Civ Pro. Code, s. 43—Cause of action—Administrator's refusal to pay interest to plaintiff, on denial of plaintiff's title. —In August 1893, Z a lunatic, died, leaving the plaintiff and the defendants as his heirs. J.A., one of the defendants, obtained a succession certificate under Act VII of 1889, limited to the collection of the interest of certain promissory notes which formed the greater part of the estate. In September 1894, the plaintiff sued J.A., for recovery of a certain sum on the allegation that the plaintiff was one of the heirs of Z; that J.A., had, under the succession certificate, received a certain sum as interest, but had declined on demand made, to pay to the plaintiff his share thereof which amounted to the sum claimed. J.A., did not deny plaintiff's title to a share in the Estate. He refused to pay on the ground that he was entitled to set off against the claim certain sums expended by him on behalf of the Estate. That suit was dismissed on the ground that as some other person had filed a suit against the parties to that suit, an element of uncertainty had been created in the right of the plaintiff. In August 1896, the plaintiff instituted another suit for recovery of his share in the entire property of Z the deceased lunatic; the plaintiff's allegations were that he was one of the heirs of Z that in September 1895, he had applied to the Court that security should be taken from J.A., under s. 9, Act VII of 1889; that the latter in the course of those proceedings alleged that he had become the owner of the plaintiff's share, thereby setting up for the first time, a title adverse to the plaintiff. J.A., the defendant, pleaded that the suit was barred by s. 43, Act XIV of 1882. Held, that the refusal of J.A. to pay interest in 1894 was not, and did not involve, a denial of the plaintiff's title; and it was only a denial of the plaintiff's title that could force the plaintiff into Court with a claim for possession of his share by administration and partition. Held, that the cause of action in the second suit was not complete when the first suit was brought; and that the second suit was, therefore, not barred by s. 43, Act XIV of 1882. The cause of action, which arises against an administrator who, being bound to administer the estate and to render accounts thereof as administered by him, fails to do so, differs from the cause of action which arises against the trespasser or a person who wrongfully withholds possession of property to which the plaintiff is entitled. SYED MOHAMMAD ZAKI ALI KHAN v. SYED MOHAMMAD JAFAR ALI KHAN, 2 O.C. 17.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(137)—S. 9—Certificate to realise interest only-Ultra vires—Security.—On an application by a widow for a succession certificate for the debts of her deceased husband, the Court ordered that she was entitled to draw interest only without disturbing the principal. Held, that the order was ultra vires and all that the Court could do under s. 9 of the Succession Certificate Act was to take, if necessary, security for rendering an account of the debts and securities received by her, and the certificate when granted should be both for the principal debt and the interest. JAI DEI v. BANWARI LAL, 11 A.L.J. 248=35 A. 249=19 Ind. Cas. 447.

(138)—S. 9—Disputed question of title—Duty of the Court.—S. 7 of the Succession Certificate Act makes it incumbent on the Court to pass a definite order giving the certificate to one applicant or another with all convenient speed. If the question of title is in doubt, the Court should decide it on prima facie grounds to the best of its ability, give a certificate accordingly and take security. It should not refuse to adjudicate, because difficult questions arise or because the matter is in issue in a regular suit. RUKMAN DEVI v. SAIN DAS, 137 P.R. 1907.

(139)—S. 9—Security—Reversionary heirs—Contingent interests.—The security taken under s. 9 of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, does not protect the contingent interests of reversionary heirs, when the certificate granted in the same proceeding is given to the real heir. BAI PARSON v. SOMNATH, 5 Bom. L. R. 929.

(140)—S. 9—Grant of succession certificate to Hindu widow in preference to next reversioner

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

—Necessity for taking security—Right of applicant to extend debts--Order as to furnishing security and form thereof--Appeal--Right of respondent to file memorandum of objections—Nature of enquiry under Act—Necessity for enquiry as to reunion.—Where the Court granted succession certificate to a Hindu widow in preference to the next reversioner, it was bound to require security from her under s. 9 of the Act. Even if the demand of security were discretionary, an appellate Court would not meddle with the exercise of such discretionary power. An applicant for the grant of a succession certificate is not bound to mention all the debts in his application. Under s. 10 of the Act he is at liberty to have the certificate extended to debts not originally mentioned. No appeal lies from an order directing an applicant to furnish security or as to the form of security. There is no provision in the Act for a respondent to file a memorandum of objections. In the course of the summary proceedings under the Act, the Court is not bound to enquire into such intricate questions as re-union between the members of a divided family. SUNDARAMMAL v. KULLAPPA CHETTY, 5 M.L.J. 36.

(141)—S. 9—See Nos. 29, 109, 128, 130, supra and No. 164, infra.

(142)—Ss. 9, 10—Appeal.—An appeal lies from an order of the District Court granting succession certificate to an applicant conditional on his furnishing security, when the right of the applicant is contested by the appellant. The order is not merely an interlocutory order. ARIYA PILLAI v. THANGAMMAL, 20 M. 442. [F., 139 P.R. 1908; Com., 26 A. 173=A.W.N. 1903, 225; R., 5 O.C. 213.]

(143)—Ss. 9, 19—Order granting certificate conditionally on furnishing security—If appealable.—An order passed on an application for a succession certificate, granting a certificate, conditionally on the applicant furnishing security is not an order of the kind described in s. 19 of the Act and no appeal lies therefrom. NANNHU LAL v. GULABO, 26 A. 173=A.W.N. 1903, 225. (13 A. 214, 19 B. 790, F.; 20 M. 442, 5 M.L.J. 28, 25 C. 320, R.) [Diss., 139 P.R. 1908=4 P.L.R. 1909; F., 2 A.L.J. 606.]

(144)—Ss. 9, 19—Certificate granted on applicant furnishing security—Appeal from order—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 622 (=s. 115, New Code).—The widow of a deceased person applied for a certificate of succession under Act VII of 1889, and the Judge ordered a certificate to issue on the petitioner furnishing security under s. 9 of the Act. Held that such order was not an order "granting, refusing or revoking a certificate" within the meaning of s. 19 of the Act, and was, therefore, not appealable. BAI DEVKORE v. LALCHAND JIVANDAS, 19 B. 790. [Not. F., 139 P.R. 1908=4 P.L.R. 1909=156 P.W.R. 1908; F., 26 A. 173=23 A.W.N. 225.]

(145)—S. 10—Extension of certificate, application for—If can be made by any other than the certificate holder.—Where S obtained a succession certificate as heir of B and assigned a pro-note not included in the schedule, to the petitioner, and he (assignee) applied for an extension of the certificate, held that the District Court had no jurisdiction to grant extension of the certificate to any other than the holder of the certificate. RAJAH OF KALAHASTI v. RAMA RAYANIMGAR, 6 M.L.T. 161=3 Ind. Cas. 84=19 M.L.J. 456.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(146)—S. 10—Application by next friend of minor, whether sustainable.—An application can be made by a next friend on behalf of a minor for a succession certificate. GODAVARTI PERIAH v. GODAVARTI LAKSHMIDEVI AMMAL, 16 Ind. Cas. 797. (25 B. 523=3 Bom. L.R. 795, 28 B. 344=6 Bom. L.R. 281, Diss.; 20 A. 352=A.W.N. 1898, 64, Appr.)

(147)—S. 10—Extension of certificate—No grant of certificate—No appeal under s. 19.—The extension of a certificate under s. 10, Act VII of 1889 to additional debts is not the grant of a certificate so as to give a right of appeal under s. 19 of the act against extension. VENKATESWARALU v. BRAHMARABUTU RAJA KRISHNAJI, 25 M. 634.

(148)—S. 10—See No. 142, supra.

(149)—S. 14, money deposited under, when refundable to applicant.—Whenever an application for a succession certificate is allowed, i.e., the Court has passed its order for the issue of the certificate to the petitioner, the amount of the deposit paid by him into Court becomes at once legally appropriated as duty to the extent of the debt covered by the order, and cannot be refunded. In other cases, a refund can be made to the person who has deposited the amount. SANKARA AYYAR v. NAINAR MOOPPANAR, 21 M. 241.

(150)—S. 16—Joinder of parties—Certificate holder entitled to half sum due on bond—The others not joining—Effect.—The holders of a succession certificate entitled to half the sum due on a bond can sue under this section to collect that part of the debt due to them (and if the persons entitled to the other half refuse to join as plaintiffs) by impleading them as defendants. SHIB RAM v. MUHAMMAD SHAH, 29 P.R. 1899.

(151)—S. 16—See No. 110, supra.

(152)—S. 17—See No. 111, supra.

(153)—Ss. 17, 20—Certificate of heirship, grant of—Hindu family — Notice to other members—Political Agent, grant of certificate by—Irregularity—Stamp of certificate—Court fees Act VII of 1870, s. 26—Notification of Governor-General — Certificate of heirship granted by Political Agent — Recognition in British India.—Where a District Judge confirmed the grant of a certificate by the Subordinate Judge, on the ground that the certificate granted by the Political Agent was invalid, because the applicant had not given the Political Agent the requisite information as to the other relatives of the family, and no notice had been issued to them it was held that these irregularities might be reasons for the opponent asking the Political Agent to cancel the grant, but that they did not enable the District Court to treat it as a nullity. A certificate having been granted on an ordinary stamp of the requisite value, it was contended that it was not properly stamped in accordance with the Court Fees Act of 1870, as required by s. 17 of Act VII of 1889, because it did not bear upon it the words "Court Fees" as directed in the Notification of the Governor-General, No. 361, dated 18th April, 1883. Held that the direction in s. 26 of Act VII of 1889, that the stamp should bear the words "Court Fees" is not a matter on which, by the terms of that section, the Governor-General in Council had authority to give any direction, and it can, therefore, only be regarded as a departmental order, the non-performance of which cannot invalidate the stamp for the purpose of the Act. A certificate of heirship stamped with the proper stamp, and granted by the Political Agent of a Native State, must be recognized by the Civil Courts in British India "as having the same effect in British India as a certificate granted under this Act" as provided by s. 17 of Act VII of 1889, and, under s. 20, precludes the granting of a certificate by a Civil Court. ANNAPURNA BAI v. LAKSHMAN BHIKAJI VAKHARKAR, 19 B. 145.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(154)—S. 18 (b and c)—Revocation of certificate—Res judicata—Estoppel—Judgment obtained by fraud, not conclusive inter partes.—One P died in 1889 leaving behind him his daughter M as his heir. It was alleged that he made a Will appointing K and L as his executors. These executors applied for a certificate under Act VII of 1889 to recover a debt due from one N to P's estate. M opposed this application, and claimed the certificate for herself in a separate application. The District Judge granted the executors' application and rejected that of M on 14th September 1892. In the meantime, one R, claiming to be auction-purchaser of the right, title, and interest of P in the debt due from N, applied on 12th September, 1892, in his own name, for a certificate under Act VII of 1889. The District Judge rejected this application. R appealed to the High Court. To this appeal, the executors were made parties at their own request. The High Court reversed the District Judge's order and remanded the case for disposal on the merits. Upon the remand, the executors did not appear before the District Judge to contest R's application, and the District Judge granted him a certificate. Thereupon, he applied for revocation of the certificate previously granted to the executors; and the executors in their turn applied for a revocation of the certificate granted to him. The District Judge revoked R's certificate on the ground that he had fraudulently concealed from the Court the previous grant of a certificate to the executors. Against this order R appealed to the High Court, contending (inter alia) that the executors not having resisted his application for a certificate after the case had been remanded by the High Court, were estopped, on the principle of res judicata, from applying for a revocation of the certificate granted to him. (a) Held that the executors were not estopped. The executors having applied to be made parties to the appeal proceedings were bound to appear in the Court below, and their failure to do so disabled them from pleading objections, such as the collusive character of the decree and M's want of title, but it did not operate as res judicata, especially when there was reason to suspect fraud on the part of R. The order obtained by him could not have the effect of res judicata, unless the executors being called on to dispute it, had failed to do so. (b) A party to a proceeding is never disabled from showing that a judgment or order has been obtained by the adverse party by fraud. (c) Held, also, that the District Judge had the power, under s. 18 (b or c) of Act VII of 1889, to revoke the certificate he had granted under a mistake of fact to R. MANCHHARAM v. KALIDAS, 19 B. 821. [Appr, 3 C.W.N. 660=27 C. 11; Appl., 27 C. 11.]

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

(155) —S. 19, cl. (c)—Suit for declaration of plaintiff's right to collect debts due to a deceased person's estate—Previous grant of a succession certificate to the defendant—Maintainability of suit—See RIGHT OF SUIT—MISCELLANEOUS, 15 M.L.J. 399.

(156)—S. 19—Appeal—Costs.—In cases under the Succession Certificate Act, where an appeal is prohibited by s. 19, no appeal will lie as to costs alone. RAM GHULAM v. SHIP DIN, A.W.N. 1892, 35.

(157)—S. 19—Conditional order for grant of succession certificate, whether appealable.—An order granting a succession certificate, though coupled with a condition that the applicant must give security, is an order granting a certificate and is appealable under s. 19 of the Act. BIRI v. BARKHURDAR, 139 P.R. 1908=4 P.L.R. 1909=156 P.W.R. 1908=4 Ind. Cas. 639. (25 C. 320, F.; 5 M.L.J. 28, 20 M. 442, 2 A.L.J. 606, R.; 13 A. 214, 26 A. 173, 19 B. 790, D.)

(158)—S. 19—Order granting certificate conditional on furnishing security, not appealable.—Where a certificate is granted conditional on the applicant's furnishing security, no appeal lies, under s. 19, from such order—(13 A. 214, 26 A. 173, F.)—Per Richards, J.—(dubitante) Where the order of the District Court grants the applicant a right to obtain a certificate on the furnishing of security, but no time is fixed within which it should be furnished, nor are the consequences that should follow upon failure to do so set forth, the order falls within s. 19 of the Act. The order which a Legislature intended to be appealable was the decision of the Court as to who was or was not the proper person to be granted a certificate, and not the question whether or not that person should within a definite or indefinite period, furnish security. GAURI DUTT v. MUSAMMAT MAIKIA, 2 A.L.J. 606. [R., 4 P.L.R. 1909=139 P.R. 1908=156 P.W.R. 1908.]

(159)—S. 19—Agent to the Governor at Vizagapatam—Appeal—District Court.—Under s. 19 of the Succession Certificate Act, an appeal lies from the order of the Court of the Agent to the Governor at Vizagapatam as from an order of a District Court, which the Agent's Court is. BABUBALENDRANI GURVARAJU v. BABUBALENDRANI CHANDRASAKARA RAJU, 3 M.L.T. 264=31 M. 362. (18 M. 227, Diss.)

(160)—S. 19—Insurance—Premia paid out of salary of deceased—Sum insured prima facie his separate property.—Application for a certificate under the Act, in respect of moneys due to deceased on policies of insurance, was made by his widow but opposed by his brother, who set up his title by survivorship and prayed for a certificate in his own favour. The District Judge granted the certificate to the brother. On appeal by the widow, held, the lower Court ought to have issued the certificate to the widow, acting on the view that the money in question was prima facie the separate property of the deceased, the premia having been paid by him out of his salary (13 M.L.J. 75, R.) and the brother must have been left to establish his right by suit, chiefly because he had based his claim solely upon the assumption that the education of the deceased was at the expense of the family. RAJAMMA v. RAMAKRISHNAYYA, 29 M. 121.

(161)—S. 19—Security, certificate granted on condition of giving—Appeal from order requiring security before granting certificate.—An appeal by a person against that part of an order under the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, directing that a certificate shall issue to him on his giving security, which requires him to give security, is not an appeal against "an order granting a certificate" within the meaning of s. 19, whether the other part of the order is "an order granting a certificate," within the meaning of s. 19 or not, and that therefore such an appeal does not lie. DILAJ KUAR v. JAGDAT SINGH, 5 O.C. 213.

(162)—S. 19—Order to grant certificate on security being furnished—Appealability of order.—An order that certificate be granted on security being furnished is an order granting a certificate within the meaning of s. 19 of the Act and as such is appealable. VENKATASAMI v. CHINNA NARAYANA, 5 M.L.J. 28. [N.F., 26 A. 173=23 A.W.N. 225; F., 139 P.R. 1908=4 P.L.R. 1909=156 P.W.R. 1908.]

(163)—S. 19—Order conditional on giving security—Enquiry as to existence of debts.—An order granting a succession certificate, though coupled with a condition that the applicant must give security, is nevertheless an order that is appealable within the meaning of s. 19,

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —continued.

Succession Certificate Act. (13 A. 214, Diss.) [F., 139 P.R. 1908=4 P.L.R. 1909 ; Diss., 5 O.C. 213, 26 A. 173=23 A.W.N. 225.] Before granting a certificate, the Court ought to take at least some evidence going to show that the debts, in respect of which certificate is applied for, were due to the estate of the deceased. RADHA RANI DASSI v. BRINDABUN CHANDRA BASACK, 25 C. 320=2 C.W.N. 59. (23 C. 431, R.) [R., 5 C.W.N. 494.]

(164)—Ss. 19, 9—Appealable orders—Order requiring security as condition precedent to granting certificate—Appeal.—S. 19 of the Act is the solitary authority under which any appeal from orders under the enactment can lie. Where, on an application for a certificate under the Act, a Judge acting under s. 9 required security as a condition precedent to his granting it, held that it was not an order "granting, refusing or revoking a certificate" within the meaning of s. 19 of the Act, and that, therefore, it was not appealable. BHUGWANI v. MANNI LAL, 13 A. 214=A.W.N. 1891, 45. [Diss., 5 M.L.J. 28, 20 M. 442, 25 C. 320; F., 19 B. 790, 26 A. 173=23 A.W.N. 225, 2 A.L.J. 606 ; R., 5 O.C. 213, F.B. ; D., 139 P.R. 1908=4 P.L.R. 1909.]

(165)—Ss. 19 and 20—Appeal from orders—Punjab practice.—Under notifications Nos. 570 and 571 (4th November 1889) of the Punjab Government, it is to the Divisional Court and not to the Chief Court that appeals from orders passed by a District Judge or Subordinate Judge under the Succession Certificate Act lay. TIKAYA MAL v. LAUNGA MALIK, 124 P.R. 1890. [R., 98 P.R. 1908.]

(166)—Ss. 19, 26—Munsif invested with functions of District Court—Appeal from his decision—Jurisdiction.—An appeal from an order of a Munsif invested under s. 26 with the functions of the District Court lies to the District Judge, and a Subordinate Judge or a Judge of the Court of Small Causes has no jurisdiction to entertain such an appeal. HURAN BIBI v. HINGAN BIBI, 8 A.L.J. 1300.

(167)—Ss. 19, 26—Appeal from order of District Court under s. 26.—S. 26 of the Succession Certificate Act confers on the District Court the same appellate jurisdiction over an order of an inferior Court as is conferred by s. 19 on the High Court over the order of a District Court. There is no provision in the Act for a second appeal in any case. SUBBA RAO v. PALANI ANDI PILLAI, 17 M. 167=4 M.L.J. 72.

(168)—Ss. 19, 28—Reg. VIII of 1827—Order refusing certificate, if appealable.—An appeal lies from an order refusing to grant a certificate of heirship under Reg. VIII of 1827, by virtue of s. 19 of the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889). RANGUBAI v. ABAJI, 19 B. 399.

(169)—S. 20—Certificate for part only of a debt.—Under Act VII of 1899, a separate certificate cannot be applied for and granted to each and every heir to a fractional share in the estate of a deceased person so as to qualify him to separately recover his share from the creditor or creditors of the deceased. SHAMSH-UN-NISSA v. WAJID ALI, A.W.N. 1890, 91.

Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) —concluded.

(170)—S. 20—See Nos. 153, 165, supra.

(171)—S. 25—See No. 132, supra.

(172)—S. 26—Bombay Reg., VIII of 1827, s. 2, Jurisdiction of Court.—A Subordinate Judge who had been invested by Government under s. 26 of Act VII of 1889 with the functions of a District Court under Act VII of 1889 has jurisdiction to hear and determine an application made under s. 2 of Bombay Reg. VIII of 1827. PITAMBAR MANCHARAM v. ISHVAR JADURAM, 17 B. 1230. [F., 18 B. 748, 19 B. 399.]

(173)—S. 26—Grant of certificate on the applicants' furnishing security—Appeal.—An order passed under the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, granting a certificate on the applicant's furnishing security, is an order appealable under s. 26 of the Act. BAI NANDKORE v. MAGAN LAL VARAJ BHUKHANDAS SHAH, 13 Bom. L.R. 1208. '19 B. 790, D.)

(174)—S. 26—Civil Judge—Investment with functions of District Court.—After the notification which made the Civil Judges not inferior in grade to the District Courts a Civil Judge could not be invested with the functions of a District Court under s. 26 of the Succession Certificate Act. HIRALAL MAYARAM v. KHUSHALIRAM, 15 C.P.L.R. 54. (9 C.P. L. R. 19, R.)

(175)—S. 26—See Nos. 166, 167, supra.

(176)—S. 28—Certificate of heirship under Reg. VIII of 1827—Refusal by District Judge—Appeal.—An appeal lies from the order of a District Judge refusing to grant a certificate of heirship under Reg. VIII of 1827 by virtue of the provisions of s. 28 of the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889). JAVERMAL v. THE NAZIR OF THE DISTRICT COURT OF POONA, 18 B. 748. [F., 19 B. 399.]

(177)—S. 28—See No. 168, supra.

Succession Law.

Applicable to converts—See NATIVE CHRISTIANS, 1 Bom. L.R. 53=23 B. 539.

Sudder Court.

Petition for review heard by four Judges of the Agra—All four Judges equally divided in opinion—The same heard by the Chief Justice of N.W.P.—See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF, CALCUTTA, 15 W.R.P.C. 16=6 B.L.R. 283=13 M.I.A. 585.

See ST. 24 AND 25, VIC., C. 104, s. 9, 8 W.R. 470.

Sudder Khajana.

Sudder Khajana — Meaning.— The words 'Sudder Khajana' may imply a rental payable to the zemindar also, not merely to the Government. KALEE TARA DEBIA v. NITTIANUND SHAHA, 12 W.R. 90.

Sudra Ascetic.

Sudra ascetic—Devolution of property—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 22 M. 302.

Sudras.

(1)—Adoption by Sudra—Religious ceremony—Pollution.—An adoption by a sudra under pollution is valid as in his case no religious ceremonies are essential. THANGATHANNI v. RAMU, 5 M. 358.

(2)—Adoption by sudra after marriage.—Quære.—Whether a sudra can be validly adopted after marriage. VYTHILINGA v. VIJAYATHAMMAL, 6 M. 43.

(3)—Illegitimate daughter — Succession.—Under Hindu Law, the illegitimate daughter of a Sudra is not entitled to inherit in preference to the son of a divided brother. BHIKYA v. BABU, 10 Bom. L.R. 736=32 B. 562.

(4)—Offspring of illegitimate son of sudra—Rights of inheritance.—Offsprings of the illegitimate son of Sudra are entitled to a share of his property along with the offspring of his legitimate son. FAKIRAPPA v. FAKIRAPPA, 4 Bom.LR. 809.

Khatris—Rajpoots—See CASTE, 4 W.R. P. C. 132=7 M I.A. 18.

Adoption—Mother's sister's son—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 1 M. 62.

Adoption among—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 6 C. 381=7 I.A. 250=7 C.L.R. 313, P. C.

Hindu Law—Widow not competent to give only son in adoption—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 6 B. 524.

Adoption of Sudra—Ceremonies, if necessary—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 4 B.L.R.A. C. 162=13 W.R. 168.

Adoption by a—Leper in Bengal—Religious ceremonies—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 28 C. 168.

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION, 7 B.L.R. 1=15 W.R. 300, 12 B.H.C. 364.

Right of illegitimate son of—Not born of female slave, when putative father dispossessed of his property during his life—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 28 C. 194.

Legitimate son of illegitimate son of sudra preferential heir to divided brother—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 25 M. 519=11 M.L.J. 399.

Illegitimate son, inheritance of—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 4 B. 37.

Ahirs, illegitimate sons among, not entitled to inherit to father's property—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 8 A. 387=A.W.N. 1886, 186.

Hindu Law—Impartible property — Mitakshara—Sudras—Illegitimate son, right of—Ordinary rule of survivorship applies — See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 18 C. 151, P.C. =17 I.A. 128.

Sudras—concluded.

Hindu Law—Inheritance —Illegitimate son of Sudra, whether entitled to succeed to whole estate — Widow restricting illegitimate son's right, to his one half share. See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 14 B. 282.

Son of a Khatri by a—woman—See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE, 4 W.R.P.C. 132=7 M. I.A. 18.

See HINDU LAW — INHERITANCE, 23 B. 257. 3 B.L.R.P.C. 1=13 M. I. A. 141=12 W. R.P.C. 41.

Right of illegitimate son to maintenance—Maintenance, a charge on the Zemindary—See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE, 11 W.R. P.C. 6=2 B.L.R. 15, P.C.=12 M.I.A. 203.

Zemindar of—Caste—Illegitimate son, right to maintenance—See HINDU LAW — MAINTENANCE, 5 M.H.C. 405.

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE, 1 M.306, 8 M. 325, 8 M.557, 3 B.L.R. P.C. 1=13 M.I.A. 141=12 W.R.P.C. 41, 8 M.L.J. 105, 7 M. L. T. 17=20 M.L.J. 49=5 Ind. Cas. 42=33 M. 342.

Marriage between different sub-divisions of Sudra caste—See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE, 1 C. 1=23 W. R. 334, 15 C. 708.

Hindu Law—Sudras—Adopted son, share of—Subsequent birth of legitimate son — See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 7 M. 253.

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 12 M. 401.

Suds.

Adoption of wife's brother—Custom among Suds — Hindu Law.— In the absence of a custom prohibiting such adoption, amongst the Suds (of Ludhiana claiming to belong to one of the twice-born classes), the adoption of a wife's brother is not invalid. NUND LAL v. LAKHA, 125 P.R. 1880.

Sufficient Cause.

For recalling certificates granted, what does not amount to—See ACT XL OF 1858, ss. 7, 21, A.W.N. 1881, 4.

Non-appearance of guardian of minor—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. IX, r. 13, 5. C.W.N. 58.

Review of order of dismissal for default—Advocate engaged in a case elsewhere—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLVII, rr. 7, 9, 2 L.B. R. 279.

Where cross-objections turned into a memo of appeal—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ss. 4 and 5, 1 Bom. L.R. 768=23 B. 692.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ss. 4, 5, 21 B. 552.

Sufficient cause, time required in obtaining copy of the judgment appealed from is not—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 12, 1 Bom. L. R. 112.

Suggestion by Court.

(1)—Erroneous suggestion by Court—Party acting upon it—Res judicata—Where the defendant raised certain contentions, and the Court, instead of trying and adjudicating on them, referred him to a fresh suit, his acquiescence in such suggestion, instead of preferring an appeal, is reasonable submission to the Court and, in such circumstances, the rule of res judicata cannot be applied with justice. BABU LAL v. ISHRI PRASAD NARAIN SINGH, 2 A. 582, F.B [R., 14 B. 31.]

(2)—Judge suggesting to a pleader about the sufficiency of evidence, how far bound down by that suggestion.—When a Judge suggests to a pleader that it is needless for him to call further witnesses' evidence on a particular point and suggests that they should be merely tendered for cross-examination, that is an intimation to the pleader that the Judge is satisfied with the evidence so far as it has gone and that the cross-examination of the witnesses that have been called has not impressed him, and when the Judge has made such a suggestion and it has been acted on by the pleader, he and his client have a just cause of complaint if the Judge afterwards turns round and says "I decided against you on the point." HASAJI v. DHONDI RAM, 6 Bom L.R. 636.

Suits.

See RIGHT OF SUIT.

(1)—Definition of 'Suit.'—The word 'suit' in Act IX of 1871 does not include an application. DHONESSUR KOOER v. ROY GOODER SAHOY, 2 C. 336, F. B.

(2)—Suit defined.—The word "suit" ought to be confined to such proceedings as, under that description, are directly dealt with in the Code of Civil Procedure, or such as by the operation of the particular Act which regulates them are treated as suits. WATKINS v. FOX, 22 C. 943. [R., 17 C. P. L. R. 178.]

(3)—'Suit' meaning of.—The word "suit" does not include an appeal. BHARASI LALCHOWDHRY v. SARAT CUNDER DASS, 23 C. 415.

(4)—"Suit," meaning of.—The word "suit" in Act VIII (B.C.) of 1869, s. 102, covers all proceedings whether prior or subsequent to decree. KEDARNATH BISWAS v. HURO PERSHAD ROY CHOWDHRY, 23 W. R. 207.

(5)—Broach and Kaira Encumbered Estates Act (XIV of 1877), s. 19—"Suit" includes application for execution.—The word 'suits' in the last paragraph of s. 19 of Act XIV of 1877, includes applications for execution of decrees. BHULJIBECHAR v. BAWAJI DAJI, 5 B. 448.

(6)—Suit—Appeal—Application.—The word "suit" does not include an appeal or application. BANESS v. TURTON, 23 P.R. 1883. [Cited, 22 P. R. 1905=57 P. L. R. 1905.]

(7)—Suits, applications and appeals, distinction between—Limitation—Jurisdiction.—The distinction taken for the purposes of limitation between suits, appeals and applications by the Suits—continued.

Limitation Acts, has no bearing upon a question of jurisdiction. BALAJI v. RANCHODDAS, 5 B. 680.

(8)—"Suit"—"Appeal."—S. 647 makes s. 373 of the Code applicable to proceedings in execution. The words "suit" and "appeal" in s. 647 apply to those proceedings generally known as a suit and an appeal, i.e., to suits and appeals in the strict acceptation of the terms, and they were not intended to cover proceedings for the enforcement of rights decreed in a suit or appeal. RADHA CHARAN v. MAN SINGH, 12 A. 392, F.B.=A.W.N. 1890, 119. [Diss., 18 C. 462, 18 C. 515, 37 P.R. 1892; Not F., 15 M. 240, 18 C. 635; R., 26 B. 76=3 Bom. L.R. 431.]

(9)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 647—Applicability to suits and appeals.—The section was intended to apply to miscellaneous matters other than suits and appeals. AMIR HASSAN v. AHMAD ALI, 9 A. 36.

(10)—Order under s. 28 of Act X of 1859 is 'suit'—Appeal.—The proceedings under s. 28 of Act X of 1859 is a suit and is subject to the provisions regarding appeals. CHOWDREE JEYCHUND v. KADHOREE, 2 N.W.P. 244.

(11)—When a suit terminates.—A suit can ordinarily be said to terminate when there is nothing more to be done in it except execution. The fact that the attorney may have to appear in the execution proceedings cannot postpone his right of suit. ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL OF BENGAL v. CHUNDER CANT MOOKERJEE, 22 C. 952, Note.

(12)—Application under the Administrator-General's Act—Suit—Res judicata.—An application by petition under s. 63 of Act II of 1874 is a suit within the meaning of s. 13 of the Civ. Pro. Code (X of 1877) and is barred by the disposal of a similar former application in the same matter, though the order passed is capable of being reviewed. ELIZA SMITH v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE, 3 C. 340.

(13)—Suit—Act LIII of 1860—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 378.—S. 2, Act LIII of 1860, refers to appeals and to suits; and as the suit of the special appellant, which had been decreed in the Court of first instance, was dismissed by the lower appellate Court, the special appellant was held entitled to a revival of his suit. S. 378, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859 refers to applications for review of judgment, but this was an application for revival of suit under s. 2, Act LIII of 1860. BUNGSHEODHUR MONDUL v. PUDDOHOGHUN ROY, W.R. F.B. 11=Marsh 38=1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 5=1 Hay, 90.

(14)—Mistake in framing of—Procedure.—The plaintiff framed his suit for injunction, when he ought in reality to have sued for declaration of title and possession. The lower Court, thereupon, dismissed his suit on the ground that the suit was manifestly brought in defeat of the stamp laws. Held that the lower Court ought not to have dismissed the suit and that the procedure to be followed in cases like the present was to order the plaintiff to add the proper prayer and to pay the additional Court-fees within a reasonable time. BALARAM v. MAHADU, 1 Bom. L.R. 40.

Suits—continued.

(15)—Defective suit.—A suit to set aside the sale of certain lands attached and sold by a decree-holder is not defective, because the auction-purchaser is omitted from the list of defendants. SREEKISHEN CHOWDHRY v. RAM KRISTO BHUTTACHARJEE, 19 W.R. 317.

(16)—Application for assistance to eject a ryot—S. 25, Act X of 1859—Stamp Act XXVI of 1867— Stamp of eight annas.—An application under s. 25, Act X of 1859 for the assistance of the Collector in ejecting a ryot is not a suit, and ought to be received by the Revenue Courts on a stamp of 8 annas. PEARY MOHUN MOOKERJEE v. KENA BEWAH, 11 W.R. 90. (W.R. F.B. 118, F.)

(17)—Suit, restoration of—Decree set aside for fraud—Order of Court of concurrent jurisdiction if effective to restore suit.—Where a decree obtained in a Court of equal jurisdiction was set aside by another Court, which went on to add that the result of the decree being declared fraudulent would be that the original suit would be restored. Held, that this order of a Court of equal jurisdiction could not operate as a direction to the first Court to restore the suit, and that, in refusing to restore the suit, the Court had committed no error. KHETRA MOHAN BARIK v. MANGOBINDA PAL, 14 C.W.N. 558 =6 Ind. Cas. 13.

(18)—Allegation of suit being instituted without knowledge and consent of plaintiff—Procedure to be adopted.—In this case after the plaint had been duly admitted, an objection was raised that the suit was instituted without the knowledge and consent of the plaintiff. Held that the Court should raise a preliminary issue whether the plaint had been duly signed and presented, and should decide the same after recording the evidence of both the parties thereon. Where an order was passed rejecting the plaint without holding such formal enquiry. Held, such an order was bad. MUSSAMAT BIBI SADHU v. SAYED GHULAM HYDER SHAH, 4 S L.R. 35=7 Ind. Cas. 600.

(19)—Act X of 1859, s. 23, cl. 5 and s. 78—Suit for ejectment—Allegation of contract providing for forfeiture and lessor's entry on non-payment—Application to set aside ex parte decree by Collector—Competency of Collector's successor to rescind decree and revive suit.—Plaintiff sued the defendants under cl. 5. s. 23 of Act X of 1859, for khas possession of a farm for which the latter had paid a bonus. He stated in the plaint that the contract between them was that on default in payment of the farming rent as per kistobundee, a suit was to be instituted, and a decree obtained for the arrears in execution of which decree the lease was to be forfeited and the plaintiff, the lessor, entitled to enter upon khas possession of the leased properties, unless the amount due was paid within 15 days. The defendants having failed to pay rent within 15 days from the date of the execution of the decree for rent obtained by the plaintiff, he alleged that they had violated the terms of the lease and were liable to be ejected. Held, that the terms were in strict accordance with the provisions of s. 78 of Act X of 1859, and that the plaintiff ought to have brought his suit under that section, under which it would be the duty of the Court, to specify the amount of arrear in its decree, so that, if such amount be paid into Court within 15 days from the date of the decree, the lessees or tenants could not be ejected. The plaintiff in such a case must show an arrear and must obtain a decree under s. 78 for the ejectment of his lessees, and the lessees, from the date of decree, specifying the amount of arrear, if any due, will have 15 days from the date of such decree within which to pay in the amount found to be due. Where defendants, against whom the Collector had passed an ex-parte decree, applied, under the provisions of s. 58 of Act X, for a revival of the suit and showed good and sufficient cause for their non-appearance, and the successor of the Collector to whom the application had been made was satisfied with the cause shown and further found that there had been a failure of justice, it was held to be competent to him to alter or rescind the decree passed by his predecessor, according as the justice of the case might require. RUGHOO MOHINEE DOSSEE v. KASHEENATH ROY CHOWDHRY, 10 W. R. 156.

Suits—continued.

(20)—Possession, suit for, by mortgagee, on default of payment of interest - Suit for specific performance of contract—Contract to transfer immoveable property—Specific Relief Act, ss. 12 and 21 (a)—Suit for recovery of property based on title acquired under the mortgage-deed, not a suit for specific performance—Money compensation not an adequate relief.—A mortgage-deed contained a stipulation that the interest was to be paid half-yearly and it was provided, that in case of default the mortgagee would be entitled to take possession of the property and hold it for 15 years. Default in the payment of interest having occurred, the mortgagee sued for possession. It was contended by the mortgagor that the suit for possession should be regarded as a suit for specific performance of a "contract for non-performance of which compensation in money is an adequate relief" within the meaning of s. 21 (a) of the Specific Relief Act.—Held, that a suit like this was not a suit for specific performance of a contract. (5 O.C. 148, 6 O.C. 167 R.) Held, further, that the suit could not be regarded as a suit to enforce a contract to transfer immoveable property within the meaning of s. 12 of the Specific Relief Act, but that it was a suit for recovery of immoveable property, based on a title acquired by the mortgagee under the terms of the mortgage-deed. KALKA SINGH v. HIMAYAT ALLY; 10 O.C. 218. (2 O.C. 24, Diss.; 13 B.L.R. 312, 6 A. 231, 11 A. 27, 26 A. 497, 2 A. 718, 23 M. 593, 23 A. 285, R.)

Suits—concluded.

Complaint, whether a—Appeal—See BEN. ACT X OF 1859, s. 23, cl. 7, ss. 145 and 160, 6 B.L.R. 569=15 W.R. 136.

Allegation of wrong cause of action—Legality of dismissal of suit—See CAUSE OF ACTION, 14 C.P.L.R. 151.

Suit by temple committee against temple servants for declaration as to their right to have the services performed by others—Jurisdiction—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 9, 11 Bom. L.R. 389=33 B. 387=2 Ind. Cas. 419.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 10, 26, O. IV, r. 1, s. 47, 22 M. 256.

Meaning of word "suit" occurring in s. 11, Civ. Pro. Code, 1908.—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 11. 12 C.P.L R. 91.

Time for objecting to the maintainability of. —See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, 32 M. 425 =4 Ind. Cas, 723.

Applicability to—and appeals—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 141, 9 A. 36.

Mesne profits—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, rr. 1, 2, U.B.R. 1904, 1st Qr., C.P. C. 1.

Multifariousness of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. II, r. 2, 3 Bom. L.R. 799.

To set aside incumbrance, form of — See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 66 and 70, 1 Bom. L.R. 220=23 B. 759.

To set aside a sale—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, rr. 90 and 92, 3 Bom. L.R. 463 =26 B. 40.

Evidence let in one suit, may by consent of the parties be used in another—See CONSENT, 2 Bom. L.R. 386=24 B. 591.

See COURT-FEES ACT, 1870, s. 11. 24 C. 173 =1 C.W.N. 43.

Dismissal for default—See DISMISSAL OF SUITS, 2 Bom. L.R. 206.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION AND POWERS OF COURT, 18 C. 635.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 14, 1 A. 97.

Restoration of—Application without affidavit not bad—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 3 Bom. L.R. 130.

Meaning of—See RES JUDICATA—RES-JUDICATA IN EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS, 6 B. 54.

Suits and Appeals, Bengal and Madras, Dismissal of.

See ACT XXIX OF 1841.

Suits, Bombay.

See BOM. ACT XVI OF 1838.

Suits Legal Representatives.

See ACT XII OF 1855.

Suit of Civil Nature.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 9.

See RIGHT OF SUIT.

Proceeding for revocation of probate, if—See PROBATE—GENERAL, 12 C.L.J. 91=6 Ind. Cas. 912.

Suit for declaration of right to recite Stotrams—See RIGHT OF SUIT — OFFICE OR EMOLUMENT, SUITS RELATING TO, 20 M. L. J. 530=8 M. L. T. 137=7 Ind. Cas. 148.

Right to perform Ram Lila—Not connected with shrine or temple—Right of suit—See RIGHT OF SUIT—OFFICE OR EMOLUMENT, SUITS RELATING TO, 7 A.L.J. 529= 6 Ind. Cas. 223 =32 A. 527.

Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887).

[REP. IN PT., ACT XII OF 1891. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA, (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4].

(1)—See PUN. ACT XVIII OF 1884, s. 40, 145 P.R. 1892.

(1-a)—Appeal to Privy Council—Value of the subject-matter of suit—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 110, 60 P.R. 1905=150 P.L.R. 1905.

(1-b)— See CUSTODY OF WIFE, 53 P.R. 1891.

(1-c)—S. 3—Suit for pre-emption of reversionary rights—Value of suit—Rules framed by Local Government.—Where the suit is for the acquisition of a contingent interest in land and not for possession or for a present interest, the rules of the Local Government framed under s. 3 will not apply and the value for purposes of jurisdiction will be that set forth in the plaint. HAIDAR KHAN v. ALI AKBAR KHAN, 18 P.R. 1897. [F., 32 P.R. 1901=88 P.L.R. 1901.]

(1-d)—S. 3—See COURT-FEES ACT, 1870, s. 7, cl. V, 20 P.R. 1893.

(1-e)—Ss. 3 and 4—See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 16 P.W.R. 1907.

(1-f)—Ss. 3,7, 8, 11 = See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 7, cl. 4, sch. II, art. 17, cl. 1, 8 Bom. L.R. 885=31 B. 73.

(1-g)—S. 4— See PUN. ACT XVIII OF 1884, s. 40 (a), 132 P.R. 1893.

(1-h)—S. 4—See No. 1-e, supra.

(1-i)—S. 7—See No. 1-f, supra.

(1-j)—Ss. 7, 8, 11 — See ACT XII OF 1887, s. 21, 17 C. 680.

(2)—S. 8—Suit for partition, valuation of purposes of Court-fees and jurisdiction.—The point for decision in this case was whether the suit for partition was properly brought in the Court of the First Class Subordinate Judge. The value of the whole land to be partitioned was over Rs. 5,000. Plaintiffs valued the share claimed by them at Rs. 250. Held, the Suits Valuation Act, 1887, s. 8, providing that for such a suit the value for the computation of Court-fees and that for purposes of jurisdiction should be the same, the value of the subject-matter of the present suit cannot be held to be more than Rs. 250, so that the suit ought to have been filed in the Court of a Second Class Subordinate Judge. MOTIBHAI v. HARIDAS, 22 B. 315. [Cons., 33 B. 658=11 Bom. L.R. 1074; R., 15 C.P.L.R. 81, 120=21 M.L.J. 21=9 M.L.T. 3=8 Ind. Cas. 512.]

Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887)—continued.

(3)—S. 8—"Determinable," meaning of.—The word "determinable" in s. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act applies as much to the final and exact and judicial determination made under s. 11 of the Court Fees Act as it does to the inexact and ex parte valuation in the plaint. IBRAHIMJI ISSAJI v. BENJANJI JAMSEDJI, 20 B. 265.

(4)—S. 8—Civil Courts Act, s. 12—Suit for share of undivided property.—When a suit for partition relates to co-parcenary property, unless it is one for general partition among all the share-holders, the specific and definite share claimed must be held to be the subject-matter of the suit as stated in the Suits Valuation Act and the Civil Courts Act, and the value of the same should determine the Court's jurisdiction, and not that set on the whole property which will, of course, be the value of a suit in which a general partition of all the shares may be prayed for. CHAKRAPANI ASARI v. NARASINGA RAU, 19 M. 56. [R., 20 M. 289.]

(5)—S. 8—Partition suit, computation of Court-fees in.—In the case of a suit for partition, whether it falls under s. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act, or under s. 14 of Act III of 1873, the value for the computation of Court-fees and that for the purposes of jurisdiction are the same, viz., the value of the share claimed by the plaintiff. Where the value of such share happens to be within the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the Court in which the suit is instituted, it is immaterial that the value of the entire property sought to be partitioned goes beyond such jurisdiction. CHINNASAMI PILLAI v. KARUPPA UDAYAN, 21 M. 234. [R., 15 C.P.L.R. 120.]

(6)—S. 8—Claim for partition—Property in joint possession of plaintiff and defendant—Value of relief—Plaintiff's discretion—Rules in s 7, cl. 5, Act VII of 1870 (Court Fees)—Non-applicability of—Interlocutory order—High Court's power to set aside.—In a suit for partition, a plaintiff, who alleges that he is in joint possession with the defendant of the properties belonging to both in common, is entitled to value the relief according to his own discretion. S. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act, applies to suits for partition which are not also suits for possession. (21 M.L.J. 21, 19 M. 56, 21 M. 234, 20 M. 289, 13 M. 56, 31 M. 89, R.) The rules contained in s. 7, cl. 5, Court Fees Act, do not apply to such suits. The High Court has power to set aside in revision an interlocutory order passed by a subordinate Court. CHALASAWMY RAMIAH v. CHALASAMY RAMASAMY, 11 M.L.T. 155=M.W.N. 1912, 199=13 Ind. Cas. 903.

Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887)—continued.

(7)—S. 8—Suit for accounts.—Valuation of a suit, after dissolution of a partnership, for a specific sum alleged to be found due on an adjustment of partnership accounts, or, in the alternative, for accounts, is according to value set by plaintiff on the relief sought. DHANI RAM SHAH v. BHAGIRATH SHAHA, 22 C. 692.

(8)—S. 8—Suit for accounts—Valuation for Court fees and jurisdictional purposes—Appeal.—Under s. 8 of the Court Fees Act (VII of 1887), in a suit for account, the valuation entered in the plaint for purposes of Court-fee determines the question of jurisdiction, the value for both purposes being the same, So, where, after the rejection by the Subordinate Judge of the First Class of the claim of the plaintiff in a suit for an account (valued by the plaintiff at Rs. 130), the plaintiff preferred an appeal to the High Court, valuing his claim in appeal at Rs. 10,505, held, that the appeal did not lie to the High Court, but only to the District Court. BHAGVANTRAI MUNSHI v. MEHTA BAJURAO, 18 B. 40. [R., 18 B. 100, 20 B. 265.]

(9)—S. 8—Amount of claim as fixed by plaintiff—Items incidental to principal relief—Appeal—Suit to take accounts—Court-fee—Jurisdiction.—In a suit for taking account, the plaint having contained several items which were all incidental to the chief item of relief, the plaint was held to be substantially one to have the minor plaintiff's estate administered, that is, to have accounts taken and the accounting party ordered to pay what (if any) should be found due from him on the balance of such account. The valuation of the suit put by the plaintiff being Rs. 130, it was held that the High Court had no jurisdiction to hear the appeal which ought to be to the District Court. The appeal was therefore returned for presentation in the proper Court. According to s. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1877), in suits for taking account, the Court fee stamp and jurisdiction are both determined by the amount of claim as fixed by the plaintiff. BAI AMBA v. PRANJIVANDAS DHULLABHRAM, 19 B. 198. [R., 9 Bom. L.R. 316.]

(10)—S. 8—Value of a suit for redemption—Market value—Principal amount—Appeal from an order of Subordinate Judge.—The value of the subject-matter of the suit in a redemption suit is not the market-value of the property but the amount of the mortgage money. In a suit for redemption where the principal amount of a mortgage was Rs. 1,000, held, that the suit was cognizable by a Munsif and an appeal lay to the District Judge from an order of the Subordinate Judge returning a plaint for presentation to the proper Court. S. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act does not affect the law laid down in. KEDAR SINGH v. MATABADAL SINGH, 3 A.L.J. 713=A.W.N. 1908, 296=31 A. 44=1 Ind. Cas. 703. (5 A. 332, 8 A. 438, R.)

Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887)—continued.

(11)—S. 8—Jurisdiction—Valuation of suit—Suit for the cancellation of an auction sale of a house sold in execution of a money decree not exceeding Rs. 100—Punjab Courts Act, 1884, s. 3.—The value, for purposes of jurisdiction, of a suit for the cancellation of an auction sale of a house sold in execution of a money decree is the value of the judgment-debtor's interest in the house in suit assessed by the auction sale, and not the value the plaintiff chose to assess it at. RADHA RAM v. HIRA, 42 P.R. 1901. (15 A. 378, 50 P.R. 1890, 1 P. R. 1887, F.B., 15 C. 104, 50 P.R. 1896, F.)

(12)—S. 8—Valuation of suit—Suit for lease, annual rent being Rs. 71—Suit to be valued at Rs. 71—Jurisdiction of Munsif—Court Fees Act, s. 7 cl. X, sub-cl. (c) — Civ. Pro. Code, (1908), s. 115—Decision on facts—Failure of Court below to grasp real point—Judicial decision—Interference by High Court—Prejudice to neither party—Question of prejudice, if arises.—In a suit in a Sub-Judge's Court, the plaintiff prayed that his mourasi mokarari right in certain lands be declared and a decree passed against the defendants for directing them to grant him lease, the yearly rent payable on which was Rs. 71. The plaintiff valued the suit for the purposes of jurisdiction at Rs. 1,100 but gave no materials or data to support the valuation : Held that, under the provisions of s. 7, cl. (x), sub-cl. (c), of the Court Fees Act and s. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act, the suit should have been valued at Rs. 71 for purposes of Court-fee and jurisdiction, and it ought to be filed in the Munsif's Court. Where the decision of a Subordinate Court is arrived at, though wrongly, either on the facts or on a proper judicial consideration of the matters placed before it, the High Court will not interfere under s. 115 of the Civ. Pro. Code. But where the Court below failed to grasp the point which really had to be determined, namely, whether, under the provisions of the Court Fees Act and the Suits Valuation Act, the valuation of the suit given by the plaintiff was correct or not, and the Court simply accepted the valuation given by the plaintiff without attempting to ascertain the materials on which the valuation was based, in fact without arriving at a judicial decision at all : Held, that, the High Court should interfere, if satisfied that the decision of the Court below was wrong. (11 C. 6, 11 I.A. 237, 1 C.W.N. 626, R.) In such a case, the High Court will interfere even if neither party is prejudiced, because the law requires that suits of certain values should be tried in certain Courts and the question of prejudice does not arise. PORT CANNING AND LAND IMPROVEMENT CO., LD. v. ROSON ALI, 15 Ind. Cas. 46=17 C.W.N. 160. (32 C. 734, 9 C.W.N. 690, D.)

(13)—S. 8—Amendment of valuation of suit in appeal—Court-fee—Jurisdiction.—In a suit brought for an account, for the return of certain property, and for the cancellation of a power-of-attorney, the plaintiff valued the suit at Rs. 600. From the decree in this suit, the plaintiff appealed to the Chief Court valuing the appeal for the purposes of the Court-Fees Act at Rs. 600, and for the purposes of jurisdiction at Rs. 13,800. It was held, that, as the value given for the purposes of Court fees both in the plaint and in the memorandum of appeal was only Rs. 600, the value for the purposes of jurisdiction, must, under s. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act, be taken at that figure, and that the plaintiff could not be allowed to amend the valuation so as to bring the appeal within the jurisdiction of the Chief Court. THEIN YIN v. FOUCAR BROTHERS & CO., LTD., 4 L.B.R. 120.

(14)—S. 8—Court Fees Act, s. 7 (iv) (d) (e)—Jurisdiction—Further appeal.—A suit in which an ad valorem Court-fee was payable under s. 7 (iv) (d) (e) of the Court Fees Act was valued at Rs. 1,005 for the purposes of jurisdiction and at Rs. 130 for the purposes of Court-fees ; it was dismissed by the Courts below. On appeal to the Chief Court, held that no appeal lay, as, under s 8 of the Suits Valuation Act, the value of a suit of this nature for purposes of Court-fees and for purposes of jurisdiction was the same, the amount of Court-fees being computable according to the value of relief sought. SOHAN LAL v. GULAB MAL, 50 P.R. 1896. (18 B. 207, F.) [R., 6 P.R. 1904 ; F., 42 P.R. 1901, 27 P.R. 1910 ; Cited, 63 P.R. 1902.]

(15)—S. 8—Jurisdiction, value for purposes of—Further appeal—Punjab Courts Act (XVIII of 1884), s. 70 (1) (b).—The plaintiffs filed an application under s. 70 (1) (a) and (b) of Act XVIII of 1884 as amended by XXV of 1899 in a suit for a perpetual injunction to the effect that the defendants should not restrain the plaintiffs from saying prayers in a certain mosque and from setting up their own imam to lead the prayers of their congregation and from performing other ritual connected with the Divine service. Held, that the application did not lie, under s. 70 (1) (b), as the value for Court-fees was the value for purposes of jurisdiction and that value was assessed in the Court of first instance and in the Chief Court at Rs. 100 only, being less than Rs. 200. UMAR DIN v. ABDULLA, 43 P.L.R. 1903. (50 P. R. 1896, F.)

(15-a)—S. 8—See BOM. ACT II OF 1864, ss. 8, 15, 12 Bom. L.R. 149=34 B. 267.

(15-b)—S. 8—See APPEAL—FORUM OF APPEAL, 86 P. R. 1892.

(15-c)—S. 8—Jurisdictional value for suit for settlement of accounts—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, ss. 7 (v) (f), 11, 46 P. R. 1906=94 P. L. R. 1906.

(15-d)—S. 8—See MESNE PROFITS—SUITS FOR MESNE PROFITS AND ASSESSMENT IN EXECUTION, 7 Ind. Cas. 778.

(15-e)—S. 8—Redemption suit—Valuation of subject-matter—See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 5 L.B.R. 208, F.B.=8 Ind. Cas. 973.

Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887)—continued.

(15-f)—S. 8—See Nos. 1-f, 1-j, supra.

(16)—Ss. 8, 9—Valuation by plaintiff—Found arbitrary—Power of Court.—The valuation made by a plaintiff of the relief sought by him, in a suit for partition of properties which he claims to be in joint possession of along with his co-parceners, cannot be rejected by the Court, even if it is proved not to be a bona fide but an arbitrary valuation. The powers conferred by s. 9 of the Act, if exercised, are sufficient to meet cases, where difficulties arise as to the valuation of any class of suits. CHELASANI RAMIAH v. CHELASANI RAMASAMI, 13 M.L.T. 128=M.W.N. 1913, 105=24 M.L.J. 233, F.B. =15 Ind. Cas. 363.

(16-a)—Ss. 8, 9—Valuation of suit for purposes of jurisdiction and Court-fee—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 7 (iv), (d), 63 P. R. 1902.

(16-b)—Ss. 8 & 9—Suit to direct registration of will—Method of valuation for purposes of jurisdiction—See JURISDICTION OF MUNSIFFS' COURTS, 17 M.L.J. 573, F.B.=3 M.L.T. 73= 31 M. 89.

(17)—Ss. 8, 9, 12—Bengal, N. W. P. and Assam Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887), ss. 18, 19—General Clauses Act (I of 1887), s. 3 (13)—"Value"—Jurisdiction—Suit for restitution of conjugal rights—Capability of valuation—Long practice.—The practice, which has prevailed for upwards of half a century, of allowing the plaintiff, in a suit for restitution of conjugal rights, to put a value on the relief, which he asks for, and thus determine the jurisdiction, is not illegal and should not be departed from. The word "value" in s. 19 of Act No. XII of 1887 may be interpreted to mean the valuation put by the plaintiff on the relief sought by him. A suit for restitution of conjugal rights does not admit of being satisfactorily valued, but the plaintiff can put his own valuation, subject to the power of the Court to refuse to accept the valuation if it is not bona fide. A money value, however arbitrary, can be placed on all suits. A Munsiff can, therefore, try a suit for restitution of conjugal rights, the value of which as fixed by the plaintiff, is within his pecuniary jurisdiction. ZAER HUSAIN KHAN v. KURSHED JAN, 3 A.L.J. 266; F.B.=A. W. N. 1906, 99=28 A. 545, F. B. (31 C. 849; Diss.) [R., 34 C. 352=5 C.L.J. 400=11 C.W.N. 458, 17 M.L J. 573, F.B.=31 M. 89=3 M.L.T. 73.]

(17-a)—Ss. 8, 11—Value of suit—Suit for dissolution of partnership and for accounts—Course of appeal— Punjab Courts Act, 1884, s. 39—See APPEAL—FORUM OF APPEAL, 58 P.R. 1902.

(18)—S. 9—Rules under—Retrospective effect—Jurisdiction—Procedure—Rule of interpretation regarding—Applicability to Indian Legislature—Suit for custody of wife—Valuation.—Held, that the rules framed under s. 9, Part II, Suits Valuation Act, 1887, were not intended to have retrospective effect, so as to affect jurisdiction with respect to an appeal in a suit instituted before the rules came into force. Held, that, although, speaking generally, an enactment relating to matters of mere procedure is held to have a retrospective effect, and to apply to suits or action already instituted, yet, this principle is not recognized by the Indian Legislature. DHIRTA v. KESRI, 31 P.R. 1909=49 P.L.R. 1909=3 Ind. Cas. 404=36 P.W.R. 1909. (12 P.R. 1900, F.B., F.)

(18-a)—S. 9—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 7 (iv) (d), 118 P.L.R. 1904.

(19)—S. 9—See Nos. 16, 16-a, 16-b, 17, supra.

(19-a)—S. 9, r. 4—Rule IV framed under s. 9 of the Act—See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, P.L.R. 1900, p. 135.

(20)—S. 11—Applicability—Designed exaggeration of claim.—Where a suit which has been designedly over or undervalued has been tried on the merits by the first Court, and the over-valuation or under-valuation has not prejudicially affected its disposal on the merits, the defect of jurisdiction is cured. An objection as to valuation in appeal for the first time, cannot be given effect to. S. 11 of the Act applies to cases where the effect of improper valuation has been to oust the jurisdiction of a Court of exclusive jurisdiction, and to those where the plaintiff has designedly undervalued or over-valued his claim for getting a trial in a Court different from the one intended by the Legislature. HAMIDUNNISSA BIBI v. GOPAL CHANDRA MALAKAR, 24 C. 661=1 C.W.N. 556. [R., 31 C. 849=8 C.W.N. 705, 2 O.C. 103.]

(21)—S. 11—Partition, Suit for—Valuation.—The value of a suit for partition for purposes of jurisdiction, is the value of the entire estate sought to be partitioned (3 C.L.J. 197, F.) and not that of the share claimed by the plaintiff. Where, however, the suit had been erroneously valued in the Court of first instance according to the share of the plaintiff: Held, that s. 11 of the Act was applicable and the appellate Court would not interfere, unless it was proved that the undervaluation had affected prejudicially the disposal of the suit. EDWARD DALGLISH v. RAMDHARI SAHU, 4 C.L.J. 509. (1 C.W. N. 136, Appl.)

(22)—S. 11—Value of the plaintiff's share in a partition suit, within Munsif's Jurisdiction—Decision by Sub-Court—Civil Courts Act Madras (III of 1873), s. 12—Valuation for jurisdiction.—The vendee of a portion of an estate from its purchaser at a Court-sale sued in the Sub-Court for partition. The value of his share was much below Rs. 2,500, while the whole property was worth more than that amount. The Sub-Judge decided the suit. Held, the suit ought to have been instituted in the Court of the District Munsif; but since the over-valuation has not prejudicially affected the case, the provisions in s. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act apply, so that the decree of the Sub-Judge might be confirmed as if there had been no defect of jurisdiction. Quære:—Whether in suits of less than concurrent jurisdiction with a District Munsif. KRISHNASAMI v. KANAKASABAI, 14 M. 183 = 1 M.L.J. 234. [F., 15 M. 69, 23 M. 367 = 9 M.L.J. 263 ; R., 20 M. 289, 19 M. 56, 35 P.R. 1901 = 47 P.L.R. 1901, 8 Bom. L.R. 516.]

(23)—S. 11—Valuation of suit — Appeal — Mortgage—Redemption suit — Jurisdiction of Court—Objection not taken by defendant—Objection on appeal.—The words "over-valuation" and "under-valuation" in s. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act, 1887, refer to those cases only in which the valuation is discretionary. When plaintiff cannot at his discretion fix a value for the suit, the section has no application. A suit by a mortgagor for redemption of a house sold in execution of an ex parte decree obtained by a third person without the knowledge of the mortgagor, against the mortgagee, the decree-holder and the purchaser, must be valued at the amount which the decree-holder would recover if successful. MALI v. TULSI RAM, 214 P.L.R. 1910.

(24)—S. 11, Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 578—Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Suit for removal of trustee for breach of trust—Forum—Effect of under valuation or over valuation of suit.—In a suit for removal of a trustee for breach of trust, the value of the trust property is the guide to the determination of the question of jurisdiction.—The effect of s. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act is simply to place over-valuation or under-valuation of suits on the same footing with other irregularities contemplated by s. 578, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, except that the objection must be taken either in the Court of first instance or in the lower appellate Court. The mere change of forum consequent on an under-valuation cannot of itself be treated as prejudicially affecting the disposal of the suit on the merits within the meaning of s. 11 of the Act, for, that is the very case premised and provided for by the sections. RAGHAVA CHARIAR v. RAGHAVA CHARIAR, 20 M.L.J. 726 = 8 M.L.T. 404 = 8 Ind. Cas. 545.

(25)—S. 11—Pre-emption, Suit for—Jurisdiction—U.P. Act XVIII of 1876, s. 10, notice by mortgagee under — Notice amount to be entered in—Interest, when mortgagee entitled to—Costs, mortgagee entitled to include in decree for foreclosure—T. P. Act, s. 86.—In June 1886, M. A, mortgaged his zemindari share to M. K. for Rs. 3,600 by executing a deed of conditional sale. The defendants (representatives of the mortgagee) obtained against the mortgagor a decree for foreclosure in default of payment of Rs. 5,022 in March 1896 ; no interest being decreed subsequent to the institution of the suit. In April 1896, an order absolute was passed and in July 1896 the defendants obtained possession. In March 1897, the plaintiff sued the defendant and the mortgagor for pre-emption, alleging that Rs. 3,600 only were due on the mortgage at the time of foreclosure, which sum he was willing to pay. The Court of first instance dismissed the claim ; on appeal, the District Judge decreed it on payment of Rs. 5,022. The defendants in second appeal objected to the jurisdiction of the District Judge to hear the appeal, and claimed a further sum due on the mortgage for interest from the date of institution of the suit to date of obtaining possession. The plaintiff, under s. 551 of the Code of Civil Procedure, objected to his liability for costs included in the sum of Rs. 5,022. Held, that s. 11 of Act VII of 1887 did not apply. What prima facie determines the jurisdiction of a Court is the claim or subject-matter of the claim as estimated by the plaintiff and the determination having given the jurisdiction, the jurisdiction itself continues, whatever the event of the suit ; and this is so notwithstanding a bona fide error in the estimate made by the plaintiff, if the wrong valuation has not prejudicially affected the disposal of the suit or appeal on the merits. SAKINA BIBI v. ABDUL HAFIZ KHAN, 2 O C. 103. [R., 3 O.C. 184 ; 6 O.C. 255.]

(26)—S. 11—Jurisdiction—Pre-emption suit —Appeal—Court-fee—Payment of deficiency after limitation period.—The District Judge declined to hear an appeal in a pre-emption suit valued, for purposes of jurisdiction, at less than Rs. 100, decided by a Munsif of the Third Class, on the ground that the suit was undervalued, and the true value for purposes of jurisdiction, was over Rs. 100. The District Judge also held that the plaintiff could not be allowed to make up the deficiency in the payment of Court-fee after the period of limitation prescribed for such suits had expired. Held, (1) that the District Judge had overlooked the provisions of s. 11 of Act VII of 1887 (Suits Valuation Act), and that he should have acted in accordance with them ; (2) that as the case fell within those provisions, the proceedings of the Munsif were not void for want of jurisdiction ; (3) that the deficiency in the Court-fee could be levied after the period of limitation had expired. The Chief Court remanded the appeal to be determined by the Divisional Judge having jurisdiction to try the case. RAM v. TAJA, 173 P.L R. 1903 = 74 P.R. 1903, Note (15 A. 65, 20 A. 11, 23 A. 423, 24 A. 218. Not F.; 3 P.R 1893, C.A. No. 635 of 1902, 19 C.780, 20 C. 44, F.) [R., 74 P.R. 1903.]

(27)—S. 11—Suit for specific performance of contract—Under-valuation—Objection not taken in Court of first instance—No prejudice on merits proved—Decree reversed in appeal—Impropriety.—Where the plaintiff sued for specific performance of a contract to sell an oil well and valued his suit at Rs. 2,000 and the terms of the contract were that the defendant agreed to sell the well for a total consideration of Rs. 4,600 out of which he received a sum of Rs. 600 and the plaintiff had to discharge a prior mortgage of Rs. 2,000, and where the plaintiff, without any objection being taken as to valuation by the defendant, obtained a decree in his favour, and where, on appeal, on objection taken by the defendant, the decree was set aside on the ground that the suit was Rs. 2,500 in value a Subordinate Judge has no undervalued and the plaint was returned for presentation to the proper Court. Held, that s. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act applied, and that the decree ought not to have been set aside, because no objection was taken in the Court of first instance and there was no allegation that the under-valuation prejudicially affected the disposal of the suit on the merits. BAIJNATH SINGH v. MI CAUK AND MI TA, U.B.R. 1911, 1st Quarter, 82. (1 L.B.R. 85, Diss.; U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 443. 14 M. 183, 10 M. 326, 23 M. 367, R.)

Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887)—continued.

(28)—S. 11—Objection as to jurisdiction—No prejudice.—Where an objection was taken that the Madras City Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain a suit, as the subject-matter, a house, was worth Rs. 3,275, (according to the valuation put upon it by a Commissioner appointed for the purpose) and the Judge decided that, under s. 7, cl. (4), sub-ss. C and D of the Court Fees Act, and s. 8 of the Suits Valuation Act, plaintiff can put any value for purposes of jurisdiction, and decided the suit on the merits. Held, that the case fell within the terms of s. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act, and the High Court could not interfere, as the disposal of the suit had not been prejudicially affected. KUPPUSAMI NAIDU v. ANDALAMMAL, 6 M.L.T. 241=3 Ind. Cas. 440.

(29)—S. 11—Objection as to jurisdiction of appellate Court—Improper valuation of suit—Objection not taken in first Court—Objection cannot be permitted in appellate Court.—An appellate Court cannot entertain an objection which has not been raised in the first Court to the effect that the suit has not been properly valued and if properly valued the appellate Court had no jurisdiction to hear the appeal. HIRA LAL v. MT. JANI BAI, 2 C.P.L.R. 18. (5 W.R. P.C. 69, F.: 12 M.I.A. 440, 12 W.R. P.C. 1, R.) [F., 11 C.P.L.R. 49.]

(30)—S. 11—Objection as to under-valuation of suit—Under-valuation not prejudicially affecting disposal of suit—Second appeal—Admissibility of objection.—In a suit for the removal of a karnavan and for the appointment of another in his stead, an objection was taken on behalf of a defendant that the suit was undervalued, and that the suit if valued correctly, was beyond the jurisdiction of the Court in which it was instituted. The objection was, however, overruled. Held that the objection could be raised even in second appeal. Held also that, as the disposal of the suit was not prejudicially affected by the under-valuation, the objection was not one which the High Court could entertain, having regard to s. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act. GOVINDA MENON v. KARUNAKARA MENON, 24 M. 43. [D., 3 C.L.J. 266.]

(31)—S. 11—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 578—Want of jurisdiction in original Court to try a suit—Objection not raised—Value of suit—Jurisdiction.—If the value of the subject-matter is not set out in definite terms in the plaint, s. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act, 1887, would not apply. It was to be inferred in this case, however, that the value of the subject-matter was in excess of the jurisdiction of the Court which tried the suit. When there is inherent incompetency in the Court of the Myook invested with powers for the adjudication of suits of value not exceeding Rs. 3,000 to try the suit, and notwithstanding that no objection to the jurisdiction was raised in the original Court, the appellate Court is bound to decide the question. The error in exercising jurisdiction where none existed cannot be cured under s. 578, Civ. Pro Code, 1882. MAUNG MYAING v. MAUNG SHWE YON, 1 L.B.R. 85. [F. & R., 1 L.B.R. 186.]

Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887)—continued.

(32) S. 11—Jurisdiction—Suit for a declaratory decree that land is shamilat-i-deh and liable to partition—Objection in appeal—Powers of a Subordinate Judge appointed as Additional District Judge.—Held, that a question of jurisdiction may be raised for the first time at the hearing of a further appeal, if it is patent on the record. Held, also, that a suit for a declaratory decree that certain land is shamilat deh and liable to partition must be valued for purpose of jurisdiction at thirty times the jama of the whole land and not of the plaintiff's share in it according to the rules framed by the Local Government under the Suits Valuation Act, 1887. A suit for partition has no analogy with such a suit. (110 P.R. 1888, R.) Held, also, that s. 11, Suits Valuation Act, 1887, applies only where questions of over-valuation or under-valuation arise and is limited to cases in which the valuation depends on the parties or the Court, and is not applicable where the valuation is fixed by rules having the force of law. (133 P.R 1894, F.) When the presiding officer of the Court was appointed by Government notification as an Additional District Judge in a district and the Government ordered that the ordinary civil powers to be exercised by him were to be limited to those of a Sub-Judge of the second class, he was competent to try civil suits up to the value of Rs. 5.000 only. KHUDA YAR v. WAHAB DIN, 47 P.L.R. 1901=35 P.R. 1901. (46 P.R. 1899, R.) [Cited, 58 P.R. 1902.]

(33)—S. 11—Lower appellate Court's decision under—No appeal lies from—Objection as to under-valuation by plaintiff in second appeal—Not tenable.—Objection taken by the first defendant, in this case, as to plaintiff's under-valuation of the suit in the Court of first instance was disallowed by that Court, which gave a decree for plaintiff. The same contention was, again, raised by the first defendant, on appeal, and was allowed by the Dt. Judge, who, however, on the ground that he was not satisfied that the under-valuation had prejudicially affected the disposal of the suit on its merits, proceeded to dispose of the appeal in exercise of his powers under s. 11 of the Act. On second appeal, the contention was sought to be raised on behalf of the plaintiff that the lower appellate Court ought to have held that the under-valuation affected the case on the merits and it was held that a plaintiff cannot be heard to say that the under-valuation of his suit prejudicially affected its disposal on the merits, where he himself instituted the suit in a Court, which had not jurisdiction to try it and the decision in the suit in the Court of first instance was in his favour. Further, no appeal lies against the decision of an appellate Court to exercise the powers conferred by s. 11 of the Act and dispose of the appeal. RAMASAWMY AIYANGAR v. OBAI GOUNDEN, 15 M.L.J. 487.

Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887)—continued.

(34)—S. 11—Questions to be considered in appeal.—Where a Court of first instance has entertained and decided a suit on the merits, and an objection is raised in appeal that such Court was not competent to try it, the suit having been under-valued, it is the duty of the appellate Court to find whether the under-valuation had prejudicially affected the disposal of the suit on the merits. If it finds that it has affected, the decree of the lower Court may be discharged; if not, the appellate Court should decide the appeal on the merits. WAHID-ULLAH v. KANHAYA LAL, 25 A. 174. F.B.=A.W.N. 1902, 222.

(35)—S. 11—Suit not properly valued to evade jurisdiction—Remand by appellate Court for findings—No final disposal by appellate Court—Validity of remand order.—Plaintiff sued for possession of certain immoveable property. Defendant contended that the suit was under-valued to evade jurisdiction. The suit was, however, dismissed on the ground of limitation. On appeal, the District Judge remanded the suit for a finding on the issue as to title. When the findings were returned, he held that the value of the suit was above Rs. 5,000, and returned the appeal memo for presentation to the proper Court. On its being presented in the High Court, the respondent objected that the order of remand for a finding on the issue as to title was made without jurisdiction, and that anything done in pursuance of that order was a nullity. The objection was based on under-valuation. Held that in a case like this, the effect of s. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act was to cure the want of jurisdiction, unless the appellate Court was satisfied that the under-valuation prejudicially affected the cause on the merits. As the lower appellate Court did not finally dispose of the appeal on the merits, it was open to the High Court to deal with the findings and go into the question of their correctness. S. 11 of the Suits Valuation Act did not apply, only when there was a final disposal on the merits. RAMAN v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 24 M. 427=11 M.L.J. 315.

(36)—S. 11, cl. (1)—Scope—"Over-valuation or under-valuation."—By the phrase "over-valuation or under-valuation," the Legislature intended to include all cases of erroneous valuation. The language of s. 11, Act VII of 1887, is comprehensive enough to cover a case wherein a Court has exercised jurisdiction by reason of an arbitrary valuation, when no valuation ought to have been made, because the suit was incapable of valuation. Where a Court of first instance tries a suit on account of the arbitrary valuation thereof by plaintiff, no objection being taken to jurisdiction by the defendant, the appellate Court ought not to dismiss the suit. AKLEMANNESSA BIBI v. MAHOMED HATEM, 31 C 849=8 C.W.N. 705. [D., 34 C. 352=5 C.L.J. 400=11 C.W.N. 458; Diss., 28 A. 545, F.B.=3 A.L.J. 266=A.W.N. 1906, 99; R., 31 M. 89, F.B.=17 M.L.J. 573 =3 M.L.T. 73.]

Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887)—concluded.

(36-a)—S. 11—See ACT XII OF 1887, s. 21, sub-s. (2), 31 C. 344.

(36-b)—S. 11—See U.P. ACT XIX OF 1873, ch. IV, A.W.N. 1889, 169.

(36-c)—S. 11—See APPELLATE COURT—OBJECTIONS FIRST TAKEN IN APPEAL, 18 M. 418.

(36-d)—S. 11—See JURISDICTION—GENERAL, 71 P.L.R. 1906=55 P.R. 1906.

(36-e)—S. 11—See Nos. 1-f, 1-j, 17-a, supra.

(37)—Ss. 11, 21—Bombay Civil Courts Act (XIV of 1869), s. 24—Valuation of suit—Jurisdiction of Court—Restitution of conjugal rights.—Where the claim in a suit for restitution of conjugal rights is valued by the plaintiff, that valuation must be accepted for the purpose of jurisdiction, unless it is shown to have been made either from any improper motive, or deliberately for the purpose of giving the Court a jurisdiction which it has not. JASODA CHHOTU v. CHHOTU MANNU, 11 Bom. L.R. 1352=4 Ind. Cas. 836. (34 C. 352, F.).

(37)—S. 12—See No. 17, supra.

(38)—S. 21—See No. 37, supra.

Sukavasi Tenants.

(1)—'Sukavasis'—Ulkudi tenants—Rights of—Compulsory sale—Right on—Value of land acquired—How apportioned.—The class of tenants known as "Ulkudi tenants," also called 'Sukavasis,' have a qualified interest in the soil. Generally it would seem Ulkudis cannot sell their holdings without the Mirasidar's consent, but when a statutory transfer is forced on them they are clearly entitled to compensation for the loss of their interest. The value of the land appropriated having been ascertained, it must be assigned to the Mirasidar and the Ulkudis proportionately to the value of their respective interests. APPASAMI v. RANGAPPA, 4 M. 367.

Suit against—of cultivated land—Limitation—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MIRASIDARS, 3 M.H.C. 381.

Sukhadi.

Sukhadi, the hak of, is not affected by Act XX of 1839—See BOM. ACT XX OF 1839, 7 Bom. L.R. 798.

Summary Decision.

(1)—Summary decision — Registration Act (1866), s. 53, decree under.—A summary decision is one arrived at by a summary proceeding; and a decree under s. 53 of the old Registration Act of 1866 is a summary decision. MINA KONWARI v. JUGGAT SEHANI, 10 C. 196=13 C.L.R. 385, P.C.=4 Sar. 454=10 I.A. 119, P.C.

Summary Dismissal of Suit.

See RES JUDICATA—ADJUDICATIONS.

(1)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act X of 1877, s. 13—Summary dismissal of former suit—Institution of fresh suit not barred.—In order to support a plea of res judicata under the provisions of s. 13 of Act X of 1877, there must have been a determination of the merits of the claim in the suit, and a final adjudication of issues raised by one party and denied by the other. Where a decision, in a former suit in which no issues had been raised or determined, is not based on the merits, it cannot afford a bar to a subsequent suit with reference to s. 13 of the Civ. Pro. Code. SHAM SINGH v. KHARAK SINGH, 107 P. R. 1880 [F., 104 P.R. 1883.]

Summary Execution of Decree.

(1)—Decree against father—Engagements by sons of judgment-debtor to liquidate decree—Decree whether executable summarily against sons.—An engagement entered into by the sons of a judgment-debtor with the decree-holder to liquidate the decree against their father is not one which the Court executing the decree is competent to enforce summarily by process of execution, as they, being entire strangers to the suit in which the decree was made, are not bound by it; consent of parties cannot give the Court jurisdiction to permit the summary procedure provided for decrees made in regular suits to be substituted for a regular suit between the parties to the agreement. RAI BHAG SINGH v. HARDIT SINGH, 59 P.R. 1880.

Summary Jurisdiction.

(1)—Summary jurisdiction of High Court.—Summary jurisdiction of High Court to enforce soliciter's lien. CULLIANJEE v. RAGHAWJI, 6 Bom. L.R. 879=30 B. 27.

(2)—Summary jurisdiction is discretionary. In re TYABJI & CO., 7 Bom. L.R. 547.

Summary Order.

(1)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 246—Suit to set aside summary order—Onus.—In a suit to set aside a summary order under the provisions of s. 246, Act VIII of 1859, on the allegation that the order was illegal, it is for plaintiff to prove its illegality. MAHIMA CHANDRA KUNDU v. MOULVI NURUDDIN, 3 B.L.R. A.C. 70=11 W.R. 422.

For distribution of assets—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1882, ss. 350, 351, 352, 355, 356, 1 L.B. R. 229.

Costs—Payment of costs of—Act VIII of 1859, s. 269—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—See DECREE—DECREE, CONSTRUCTION OF. 2 C.L.R. 504.

Summary Petition.

(1)—Instalment bond—Stipulation for payment of entire amount on failure to pay one instalment—Summary petition not entertainable under s. 53, Act XX of 1866 for enforcing stipulation.—In respect of a bond payable by instalments and containing a stipulation that, in case of default in payment of any one of the instalments, the whole amount secured by the bond should at once become due, a petition, in a summary way could not be presented under s.53 of Act XX of 1866 for the purpose of enforcing the stipulation, JAIKISHEN v. ELAHIA; AROORA v. BUKSH, 85 P.R. 1869.

Summary Procedure.

(1)—Act XX of 1866, s. 53—Summary application.—A summary application under s. 53 of Act XX of 1866 cannot be entertained at the suit of the assignee of the obligee. GOUR MOHUN DASS v. RAM ROOP MOZOOMDAR, 10 W.R. 84=1 B.L.R. A.C. 42.

(2)—Against surety—Execution of decree—See SURETY, LIABILITY OF SURETY, 3 C.L.R. 505.

Summary Remedy.

Summary enforcement of contract made by Court while managing estate—See COURT, 15 C. 253.

Summary Settlement.

See CUSTOMS—PUNJAB—MISCELLANEOUS, 121 P.L.R. 1902=97 P.R. 1902.

Summary Suit.

(1)—Summary suit—Ben. Reg. VII of 1825 Effect of.—Summary suit under Bengal Regulation VII of 1825, s. 5, to set aside a sale by a judgment-creditor, for inadequacy of price. LAMB v. BEJOY KISHEN DASS, 8 M.I.A. 427.

See MAD. ACT VIII OF 1865, s. 69, 26 M. 518.

Ex parte decree in summary suit—Appeal—See APPEAL—EX PARTE DECREES, 2 B. 644.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 95, O. XXXVII, rr, 2, 3, 18 B. 717.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 104, O. XLIII, r. 1, 26 M. 518.

Failure to bring summary suit—No bar to—See EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR, 12 C.P.L.R. 59.

Summary suit on promissory note—Power to extend time for defendant to apply for leave to defend—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 3 C. 539.

Summary Trial.

(1)—Criminal Procedure Code, ch. XXII—Summary trial — Summary jurisdiction not affected by length of proceedings.—Where a Magistrate is empowered by law to try a case summarily the fact that the trial is a protracted one in no way affects his jurisdiction. MANSA, In the matter of the petition, A.W.N. 1892, 30. (A.W.N. 1891, 183, Diss.)

Summons.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. V, rr. 10 to 25.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XVI, rr, 1 —21.

(1)—No evidence adduced by defendant—Summons to plaintiff—Practice.—It is competent to a Court to refuse to summon the plaintiff in a case in which the defendant has not adduced any evidence in support of his case. CHYSTUNNO CHUNDER ROY v. KEDARNATH ROY, 14 W.R. 99.

(2)—Omission to serve summons—Appearance of defendant.—Where a summons has not been issued to a defendant, the defect is cured by his appearance. KHALUT CHUNDER GHOSE v. SARODA SOONDERY DOSSEE, Bourke, O.C. 244.

(3)—Party summoned but not appearing—Bound by decision.—A party who has been summoned before the Judge and has not appeared, is bound by such decision. Per Pontifex, J. NOBODEEP CHUNDER CHOWDHRY v. BROJENDRO LALL ROY, 7 C. 406 = 9 C.L.R. 117. [Doubted, 12 C. 33.]

(4)—Service of summons—Period—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 99-A. Section 99-A of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882, is not very happily expressed, but it means that when a plaintiff fails for a period of one year from the return of the summons unserved, to apply for the issue of a fresh summons and on that application to satisfy the Court that he has used his best endeavours to discover the residence of the defendant who has not been served, or that such defendant is avoiding service of process then, and only then, the Court may dismiss the suit as against such defendant under the section. The section refers to the lapse of a year, not from the filing of the plaint, but from the return of the summons unserved. JUGALPRASAD v. BISESAR, 7 Bom. L.R. 928.

(5)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act VIII of 1859, ss, 55, 113—Service of summons not in sufficient time—Ex parte decree—Application to set aside decree.—Where summons was not served on the defendant in sufficient time to enable him to appear and answer, an ex parte decree passed against the defendant was set aside on his application, and the suit was ordered to be re-heard. Quære:—Whether there was proper service under s. 55, Act VIII of 1859, when a copy of the summons was affixed on the door of the house in which the defendant was living? CHANBASAPPA bin SANGAPPA v. MAINABA bin MAHADSHET, 7 B.H.C. A.C. 138.

(6)—Court's power, if service cannot be effected in time—Summonses, application for—Nazir's duty.—Held, that if a party applies for summonses so late that service cannot be effected in time, the Court may refuse to adjourn the hearing; but neither the Court nor the Nazir should refuse to issue summonses simply because it is supposed that they cannot be served in time. ABDUL HAFIZ KHAN v. AJUDHIA, 2 O.C. 34.

Summons—continued.

(7)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877), s. 37 (a)—'Non-resident' meaning of.—The word 'resident' in legislative enactments must be construed according to what may be supposed to have been the intention of the Legislature in using the term. In s. 37 of the Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877), cl. (a) has been intended to enable persons who are not resident within the local limits of a Court to appear by a person holding a general power of attorney, and the term 'non-resident' in the section should be construed broadly, so as not to prevant a creditor from enforcing his claims against his debtor. The above term cannot be allowed to cover every absence from home, whatever its nature or duration; but it will include every absence which may reasonably be supposed to have been within the contemplation of the Legislature when enacting, the above clause for enabling non-resident persons to appear by general agent. So, a person who, having resided for a number of years at his place of business, was absent for an interval of several months at his distant native country, was held, during such interval, to be non-resident within the jurisdiction of the Court, in his place of buisness, for the purposes of s. 37. RAMCHANDRA SAKHARAM v. KESHAV DURGAJI, 6 B. 100. [F., 28 A. 135 = 2 A.L.J. 626 = A.W.N. 1905, 221; Appr., 14 M.L.J. 223; R., 14 B. 541.]

(8)—Affixing summons to door—Temporary absence, no ground.—Mere temporary absence of the person to be served does not justify the process server affixing the summons to the door. (21 B. 223, R.) It is the duty of the peon to take some pains to find out the person to be served, so that, if possible, personal service may be effected. SUBRAMANIA PILLAI v. MUTHUKUTTI, 8 M.L.J. 84.

(9)—Service on Railway Company.—For the purposes of summons, a Railway Company must be deemed to dwell at its principal office. HANLON v. INDIA BRANCH RIALWAY COMPANY, 1 Hyde 197.

(10)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 82—Service of summons, mode of—Duty of Court—Summons transmitted to another Court for service—Power of transmitting Court to question validity of service—Cases where transmitting Court can question sufficiency of service by another Court.—Where the service of summons is effected by affixing a copy of it to the door of the defendant's dwelling house, it is expressly provided by s. 82 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, that the Court should decide whether the summons has been duly served by such affixing or not, and must be satisfied that the defendant is keeping out of the way for the purpose of avoiding service; and if it is not so satisfied and consequently decided in the negative, then, a new summons must be issued, or substituted service directed. There must be personal service, if practicable, and substituted service of any kind whatsoever is only allowed on proof that reasonable efforts have been made to serve the defendant personally, and that he is wilfully evading service. As to the mode of substituted service, it is to be settled according to the circumstances of each case. [R., 16 B. 117, 18 A. 241, 7 Bom. L.R. 159, 18 M.L.J. 96.] Where, however, service of summons has been effected through another Court, the original Court is not bound, in every case, to satisfy itself that the law as to service has been strictly followed. The Court serving the summons alone can judge whether service has been properly effected, and the transmitting Court cannot act as a revising Court as regards the service. There is a presumption in favour of the proceedings of Courts of justice that everything has been duly performed, and if the return states that the service has been duly effected, that presumption would prevail, unless the return discloses some patent irregularity or clear divergence from the law. [Cons., 22 C. 889.] Although, on a return from a competent Court that service has been duly effected, the transmitting Court should presume that either personal service has been effected, or substituted service under ss. 80, 82 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, still, the presumption in favour of the due execution of acts of judicial nature only obtains donee probetur in contrarium, and there may now and then occur cases where there is something in the return distinctly negativing that presumption, and showing illegality in the mode of service. Thus, in the present case, where the return from the serving Court was to the following effect " Read bailiff's endorsement on the back of the process, stating that the summons has been affixed to the defendant's house on the 22nd December, 1884, at 9 A.M.; and proof of the same having been duly taken by me, it is ordered that the summons be returned;" held, that there was no sufficient service. The return itself proved the insufficiency, and the case constituted an exception to the general rule that a return of service by a competent Court must be taken as proof of such service. In the first place, there was no statement that service was duly effected; nor, in the second place, did it appear that anything was done beyond the affixing of the summons on the defendant's door; nor that the provisions of ss. 80 and 82 of the Civ. Pro. Code, were strictly followed. NUSUR MAHOMED v. KAZBAI, 10 B. 202.

Summons—continued.

(11)—Act X of 1859, ss. 47, 56, 58—Suit for rent—Service of summons on defendant residing outside district—Decree of Revenue Courts—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts.—The words in s. 56 of Act X of 1859 "upon proof that the summons or proclamation has been duly served according to the provisions of this Act," refer to the mode in which a summons is to be served. Where the defendant in a suit for rent resides in another district and the service of summons is effected by a peon of the Collector's office of the district in which the suit is brought, and not through the Collector of the district in which the defendant resides, as required by s. 47 of the Act such procedure would not amount to such irregularity as to vitiate the proceedings. An irregularity of this kind by which the party is not injured does not vitiate the proceeding and render the ex parte decree passed against him void. Quaere:—Whether the Civil Court, which includes not only the Court of the District Judge and of the Subordinate Judge, but also that of the Munsif, is competent to enquire into the irregularity of decrees obtained in the Revenue Court, and either set them aside, or treat them as mullities, on the ground of greater or less irregularities in the proceedings. MACKINTOSH v. KALLY DOSS MULLICK, 11 B L.R. 1=19 W. R. 234.

Summons—continued.

(12)—Summons to defendant—Service—Procedure—Affixture on house of defendant—Summons not served to be returned to Court for fresh order.—Every summons not actually served on the party, defendant or respondent, or on his recognised agent, must be stuck up on the house in which such party is actually residing, s. 55 of Act VIII of 1859, which lays down the proper course of proceeding in cases where a defendant or respondent cannot be found, directs that the summons should be returned to the Court and an order obtained from the Court as to the mode of service.—In this case, the High Court expressed strong disapprobation of the impropriety and want of care on the part of the lower Court in passing a decree against the defendants of the second part without any evidence and also actually making them liable for the costs of the defendants of the first part, when, very probably, the former had never been summoned at all nor had any notice of the suit itself. GOPAUL DOSS v. GREEDHAREE DOSS, 6 W.R. 13.

(13)—Service of summons—Practice— Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, *s.*80.—Where there is merely a statement that the respondent cannot be found but it does not appear that any effort was made to find him, the serving officer is not entitled to affix a copy of the summons on the outer door of the house in which the respondent ordinarily resided, as provided by s, 80 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882. SAKHARAM v. PADMAKAR, 8 Bom. L. R. 757=30 B. 623.

(14)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 55—Procedure.—Under s. 55 there is no proper service unless it be the fact that the defendant is actually dwelling in the house upon which the summons is affixed; and cannot after diligent search, be found in other words, is keeping out of the way to avoid service.—Where a judgment-debtor applies to set aside an ex parte judgment on the ground that there was no effectual service of the summons upon him, he should be called upon to give his evidence, or to make out a prima facie case. KHUDEERUN LALL v. CHUTTERDHAREE LALL, 21 W.R. 242.

(15)—Service of summons—Nature of dwelling necessary for effective service.—Service of a copy of the summons on the door of the house in which the defendant is dwelling is one of the modes of service provided in lieu of personal service, but it is necessary that the defendant should be residing in the house in such a manner as to make it probable that knowledge of the service of the summons will reach him. There may be a dwelling sufficient to give jurisdiction and yet not the kind of dwelling necessary to make a good service. ANANTHA NARAYANA v. PERIYANA KONE, 5 M.H.C. 101.

Summons—continued.

(16)—Ss. 79, 80, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Sufficiency of proof of service of summons—Affidavit of service of summons.—For the purpose of showing that the defendant cannot be found, the affidavit of service of summons must show that proper efforts to find him were made, and that the copy of the summons was affixed on the door of the house in which the defendants ordinarily resided at the time of service. Whether or not these conditions are established to the satisfaction of the Court, must in each case, depend on its own particular circumstances. It seems that in case of defendant's refusal to sign the summons, when tendered, those conditions need not necessarily be established. RAJENDRO NATH SANYAL v. JAN MEAH, 26 C. 101=2 C.W.N. 574. [F., 5 C.L.J. 555; R., 30 B. 623=8 Bom. L.R. 757.]

(17)—S. 80, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Affidavit of service.—S. 80 of the Code is intended for cases in which the writ of summons should be affixed in the way required by that section after a proper attempt has been made to find the defendant. A process server may go to a man's house and not find him, but that is not attempting to find him. The process server should go to his house, make enquiries, and if necessary follow him. He should make enquiries to find out when he is likely to be at home, and go to the house at a time when he can be found. Before service like this can be effected it must be shown that proper efforts have been made to find out, when and where the defendant is likely to be found; an affidavit filed in support of service of a writ of summons should substantiate this. COHEN v. NURSING DASS AUDDY, 19 C. 201. [F., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 639, 2 N.L.R. 63, 5 C.L.J. 555; R., 18 A. 241.]

(18)—Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, s. 3—Process includes summons.—Process includes summons. In that sense, it bars all suits to which cl. (3), Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, applies. According to the second part of s. 3 of that Act, all suits instituted after the vesting order is made and while it is in force, are barred. KAMESHAR PERSHAD v. BHIKAN NARAIN SINGH, 20 C. 609.

(19)—S. 80, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Summons—Service—Defendant refusing to sign acknowledgment—Substituted service.—The law requires that there shall be actual service of summons whenever that is practicable, and substituted service is allowed only on proof that the defendant is evading service. Hence, where the copy of a summons is tendered to the defendant personally and he refuses to sign the acknowledgment, the Court should proceed in the manner directed by ss. 80 and 82 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1882. GANGADHUR v. RAMCHANDRA, 7 Bom. L.R. 159.

Summons—continued.

(20)—Substituted service—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 57—Application to set aside ex-parte decree.—Substituted service, if duly effected under the provisions of the law, is as valid as personal service; and therefore, where substituted service had been effected under s. 57 of Act VIII of 1859, an ex-parte judgment would not be set aside on an allegation of no notice, and of good defence on the merits. KISSUR CHUND v. BHOOBUNESSUR CHUNDER, Bourke, O.C. 25=Cor. 151.

(21)—Substituted service—House—Dwelling-house.—A mofussil Judge stated, in his return to the Sheriff of Calcutta, that substituted service had been effected by fixing a copy of the summons to the "house" of the defendant. Held, that the return was insufficient, and that the word "dwelling-house" must be expressly mentioned. BUDDOO BABOO v. LAMBODAR MULLICK, 1 Hyde 132.

(22)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 49—Summons, service of—Agents.—Service of summons on persons merely looking after the affairs of a defendant is insufficient under s. 49 of Act VIII of 1859, such persons not being agents. RAM SOONDUREE DASSIA v. RANEE SURUT SOONDUREE DEBIA, 17 W.R. 33.

(23)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 17, cl. 2—Recognised agent—Carrying on business.—A Bombay firm simply employed by the owners, resident in England, of a ship visiting Bombay, to procure freight for her for a particular voyage, cannot, under ordinary circumstances, be regarded as carrying on business in the name of the owners, and, therefore, cannot be deemed recognised agents within cl. 2, s. 17, Civ. Pro. Code. Quære.—Whether, in order to constitute a recognised agent within the meaning of the above section, the business carried on by him must be continuous, and not an occasional or desultory business? RATANSI PANCHAM v. CHARLES SAUNDERS, 8 B.H.C.O.C. 159. [R., 9 B.H.C. 37.]

(24)—Civ. Pro. Code (1877), s. 76—Service of process on agent—Carrying on business, meaning of.—In order to satisfy the conditions laid down in s. 76 of the Civ. Pro. Code, there must be a person residing without the local jurisdiction, but carrying on business or work within those limsts by a manager or agent and sued on account of such business or work, that is, business or work either actually itself carried on by the agent or manager, or forming part of the business in the sense of a connected course of transactions, to the management of which he has been duly appointed. Where an agent has been put forward substantially to take the place of his principal within a particular jurisdiction, he should take his place at the option of a person who has dealt with him, in any legal proceedings that may arise out of the business or work carried on by him. The manager or agent contemplated by the Code means one having an initiative and independent discretion, although subject possibly to principles and general orders prescribed for its guidance.

Advocate High Co
Jammu & Kashmi
Srinagar.

Summons—continued.

His position is distinguishable from that of a servant employed only to carry out orders or to execute a particular commission, and from that of a factor or commission agent, who is not in any way identified with the firm. GOCULDAS DWARKADAS v. GANESHLAL HALASROY 4 B. 416.

(25)—Service of summons on the defendant—Defendants away in foreign territory—Whether affixing summons to outer door of their residence, proper and sufficient service—S. 89 of Act XIV of 1882.—Where it appears that reasonable efforts have been made to effect personal service on the defendants but without success, the Code of Civil Procedure permits of the summons being affixed to the outer door of the residence of the defendants. In this case the defendants went to a village in Pudukotai territory and it was not known when they would return. The serving officer tried to effect service personally twice but failed. Held he was justified in affixing the summons to the outer door of their residence, and that such service was proper and sufficient service. S. 89 of the Code of 1882 only deals with cases in which the defendant resides out of British India, and does not apply to a case where the defendant, being a resident of British India, is away in a foreign territory for a temporary purpose. KASI VISVANATHAN CHETTY v. MUTHU K.R. ARUNACHALLAM CHETTY, 2 M.W.N. 1911 357=21 M.L.J. 978. (29 M. 324, Doubted ; 21 M. 324, F.)

(26)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act VIII of 1859, s. 17—Service of summons—Foreign principal carrying on business through agents in India—Service of Indian agents.—Where a foreign principal carried on business in India through a local firm, service of summons on the manager of the firm is sufficient service on the principal in respect of matters connected with such business. RAJARAM GOVINDRAM v. M.B. BROWN, 7 B. H.C.O.C. 97.

(27)—Partners — Service of summons.—The service of summons on one partner for his co-partner was held to be a good service. RAMCHANDRA BOSE v. G.T. SNEAD, 7 B.L.R. App. 58.

(28)—Service of summons—Partners.—The defendants carried on business in partnership in Calcutta. Service of summons was effected by leaving the summons with one of the defendants, not at the place of business in Calcutta, but in a mofussil station ; held that the service was good only as against the defendant served and not as against others. KASTOOR MULL v. JOOKERAM, 11 B.L.R. App. 26.

(29)—Service on co-partner for partner.—Service of a summons intended for one partner upon another partner of the same firm is not a sufficient service. Partners are not the recognized agents of each other within the meaning of cl. 2, s. 17, Act VIII of 1859. LUCHMEEPUT DOGARE v. SIBNARAIN MUNDLE, 1 Hyde 97.

(30)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 74, 76, 443—Service of summons on minor defendants—

Summons—continued.

Partnership suit.—Service of summons on minor defendants must be effected on their guardian ad litem appointed in the first instance under s. 443, Civ. Pro. Code. (14 C. 204, F.) Where a firm consisted of certain minors and others, and a suit was brought against them to enforce a mortgage of the partnership property, the affixing of the summons at the place of the partnership business, instead of its being served on the minors or upon the guardians personally is not sufficient service of summons under s. 74 or 76, Civ. Pro. Code, even assuming that those sections apply to such a case. JATINDRA MOHAN PODDAR v. SRINATH ROY, 26 C. 267=3 C.W.N. 261.

(31)—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 60, 66—Service of summons by post—Foreign territory.—A summons cannot be sent by post to any place to which letters are not registered by a Post Office. A special bailiff cannot be sent to serve a civil process in a foreign territory. KASIM AJIM DUPLAY v. KASIM MAHOMED BARACHA, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 59=10 W.R. 349. [R., 1 N.W. P. 172, 8 B.H.C.O.C. 140, 7 B.H.C.O.C. 172.]

(32)—Service of summons by post on defendant — Return of summons endorsed as "refused"—Person alleged to be defendant not the real defendant—Material irregularity—Interference by High Court—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 82 and 622.—A Court acts with material irregularity in considering a summons which was sent through the Post Office for service on the defendant and which was returned by it endorsed as " refused " by a person (not shown to have been the defendant) as good service and in passing an ex parte decree against the defendant, so as to call for interference by the High Court under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code (1882). JAGANNATH BRAKHBHAV v. J. C. SASSOON, 18 B. 606. [R., 29 M. 324 ; D., 21 B. 412.]

(33)—Service of summons by post in registered cover—Practice.—A summons was sent by the Sheriff by post in a registered cover to the defendant at Colombo in Ceylon. It was delivered by the postman in the presence of a witness who was personally acquainted with the defendant and the place where he ordinarily resided and who saw the cover delivered to the defendant who refused to accept it. Held, that the service in this instance was good. ABDUL ALI v. CORIMJI TAFFERJEE, 1 C.W.N. 56.

(34)—Summons—Notice of appeal not served for one year—Fresh summons—Notice—Respondent absent from home—Service.—In a case where there is nothing whatever to mislead, an appellant who has failed for twelve months to serve notice of appeal upon the respondent will not be allowed to have a fresh summons issued and served. Where a party serving notice of appeal is told that the respondent is not in his house at that time, that he is elsewhere, and is told where he is, and yet chooses to affix the notice on the door of his house, such service is void. DOOLE CHUND v. NIRBAN SINGH, 20 W.R. 62.

Summons – continued.

(35)—S. 99-A, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—Summons – Fresh summons.—To satisfy the terms of s. 99-A, Civ. Pro. Code, the plaintiff must (1) apply within a year of the last summons unserved and also (2) satisfy the Court that he used diligence in the meanwhile. If he fails to establish any of the two points, his suit must be dismissed. BYAHARIMAL v. SATVA, 3 Bom. L.R. 402.

(36)—Application for fresh summons to defendant—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 72, 99-A—Limitation.—The Nazar of the Court is the proper officer to whom, under s. 72 of the Civ. Pro Code, 1882, the summons is delivered for service, and whose duty it is to return it to the Court, if unserved. So, where an application for a fresh summons to defendant (the first summons having been returned unserved, was made within one year from the date of the Nazar's counter-signature below the plaintiff's endorsement of non-service, held that the application was within the time prescribed by s. 99-A of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882). PARSOTAM VITHAL v. ABDUL RAHMANBHAI, 13 B. 500.

(37)—Summons—Issue of fresh summons—Return of old summons.—A fresh writ of summons will not be granted till the old one is returned into Court. ISSURCHUNDER SEIN v. ASHOTOSH CHATTERJEE, 1 Ind. Jur. N. S. 283.

(38)—Summons—Application for fresh summons—Practice.—An application for a fresh summons to appear, etc., should be issued on petition showing that a fruitless endeavour had been made on the part of the plaintiff to serve the first summons, and that it was not by any default of his that he had failed. URQUHART v. GILBERT, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 224.

(39)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 162—Suit adjourned for hearing—Necessity for issuing fresh summons to witnesses already summoned—Practice.—Where a suit is adjourned for hearing, it is not necessary to issue fresh summons to witnesses already summoned. The proper course is to warn the witnesses that they would be required to appear on the adjourned day. SUBBARAYADU v. CHENCHURAMAYYA, 24 M. 200. [R., 2 A.L.J. 345=A.W.N. 1906, 92.]

(40)—Return of summons—Order of Court—Clearness.—When summonses are returned unserved, the Court must pass subsequent orders very clearly, stating the delay for non-service, etc. A vague order to the effect "no vigilant steps are taken to secure attendance of witnesses" will not do. PONNA KRISHNAVASUDEMUDU v. KOVURIRI BASURI REDDI, M. W.N. 1912, 174=15 Ind.Cas. 188.

(41)—Summons—No return of service—Powers of Court—Duty of party.—Where there is no return of service to summons, the law gives the Court a full discretion either to issue a second summons or to take or not to take stronger measures provided by law. It is not imperative on one Court to take measures to expedite the service in another Court. It is the business of the party to move the Court to do what is necessary for his case. DOWLAT MUNDUR v. OMRAO SINGH RANA, 14 W.R. 336.

Summons—continued.

(42)—Irregular service of summons—Effect—Act VIII of 1859, s. 119—Joint promissory note.—An irregular service of summons on two out of three defendants to an action brought on a joint promissory note does not give the third defendant, who had been properly served, ground for objecting to a decree passed against him under Act V of 1866. EWING CO. v. GOSIDAS GHOSE, 3 B.L.R. App. 7.

(43)—Summons, non-service of – Decree, suit to set aside, on the ground of non-service of summons—Non-service of summons, defence of, if can be raised—Res judicata.—The principle of res judicata, is a principle of rest and convenience and not of absolute justice. A decree can be set aside either under s. 108, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, on the ground of non-service of summons, or on review, or by a regular suit on the ground of fraud. Non-service of summons alone is not a ground for setting aside a decree by suit. If the question of non-service of summons cannot be raised by suit, it cannot be raised as a defence to a suit. NARASINGH DAS v. BIBI RAFIKAN, 11 C.L.J. 250=14 C.W.N. 507=37 C. 197=5 Ind. Cas. 198. (29 A. 212, 4 A.L.J. 51, F.)

(44)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 119—Summons—Service—Onus of proof.—Under s. 119, Act VIII of 1859, the onus of proving that the summons was not served is on the party claiming the benefit of that section. SHAIKH TORAB ALI v. CHOORAMUN SINGH CHOWDHRY, 24 W.R. 262.

(45)—Act XIX of 1853, s. 26—Suit for damages against witness—Service of summons—Procedure—Plaintiff summoned by defendant—Evidence.—In order to maintain a suit for damages against a person for not attending as a witness at the hearing of a suit, it is necessary that the requirements of s. 26, Act XIX of 1853, should be fulfilled; in other words, that the summons should have been personally delivered. Service of summons through a pleader is not sufficient. Under the provisions of the Civ. Pro. Code, a defendant who, bona fide and for substantial reason, requires that the evidence of the plaintiff should be taken, ought never, in ordinary cases, to have a decree made against him until that evidence has been given. ROY DHUNPUT SINGH BAHADOOR v. PREM BIBEE, 24 W.R. 72.

(46)—Service of summons—Evidence—Admission by one defendant—Failure to prove service of summons on other defendants.—The witnesses who were present at the service of summons cannot be termed secondary evidence of the service of summons. They are the best evidence of such service. An admission made by a defendant in Court is no proof that plaintiff had no cause of action as against that defendant. The plaintiff would still be entitled to a decree as against that defendant even though the plaintiff failed to prove service of summons on the defendants who did not appear. SOOGUNDAMOYEE DEBEA v. AZEEMOODDEEN, W.R. 1864, 33.

Summons—continued.

(47)—Application for revival of suit—Enquiry as to non-service of notice—Evidence—Procedure.—When a party applying to have his case revived alleges that no notice was served upon him, as the law requires, it is the duty of the Judge to examine on oath the officer by whom that service is reported to have been made, and not to be satisfied with the formal report of the Nazir. The neighbours that signed the receipt given to the peadah should, at the expense of the petitioner, be sent for and examined. SREENATH THAKOOR v. MESSRS. R. WATSON AND CO., 4 W.R. Mis. 4. [F., 7 C. 34=8 C.L.R. 369.]

(48)—Legal service of notice, report of Nazir not sufficient proof of.—The report of a Nazir that a summons has been served on a defendant, is not sufficient proof of service as required by law. It is the duty of the Court to examine the officer who served the summons or any person on the part of the plaintiff that accompanied the officer to point out the debtor. RAM SOONDUR CHUCKERBUTTY v. KALEE KOMUL DUTT, 6 W.R. Act X, Rul. 92.

(49)—Witness—Service of summons and issue of proclamation—Evidence—Nazir's report—Witness evading service of summons—Penalty.—The Nazir's report of service of summons or of issue of proclamation is no doubt sufficient to admit of a Court taking steps to enforce the attendance of a witness. But when the Court proceeds to enforce the penalty, and one so heavy as in the case of a witness failing to attend a Court of Justice when duly summoned, it is necessary to see that all the steps for serving the various processes required by law have been duly observed, and the Nazir's report is insufficient for this purpose. The peadas who served the processes should be examined on oath, and the party should be allowed to cross-examine them. The only law now in force, under which punishment can be inflicted on a witness evading process, is the Penal Code, and ss. 172 to 175 limit the amount of fine to be imposed in cases such as the present to Rs. 1,000. In re NILKANT BHUTTACHARJEE, W.R. 1864, Mis. 9.

(50)—Application for execution—Service of notice—Nazir's return whether sufficient legal evidence.—The Nazir's return is per se no legal evidence at all of service of notice of application for execution. S. 222 of the Civ. Pro. Code, simply directs the Nazir to make a return, but does not in any way constitute that return to be legal evidence, especially when the return happens to be disputed. SHAH KOONDUN LALL v. NOOR ALI, 10 W.R. 3. (3 W.R. Mis. 11, F.) [F., 7 C. 34=8 C.L.R. 369.]

(51)—Notice, Service of—Nazir's return, if sufficient.—A bare return by a Nazir, to the effect that the peon swears that a notice has been served on a party, without the deposition on oath of the serving peon before a competent authority, is wholly insufficient in law to prove the service of such notice. RAJ KISHORE DUTT v. BYDONATH SHAHA, 12 W.R. 365.

(52)—Evidence—Deposition of serving peon—Report of Nazir—Perjury.—The same rule which holds that the deposition of the serving peon on oath is evidence, also holds that the report of the Nazir, not being upon oath or on anything on which perjury can be charged, is no evidence. MEAH KHAN v. NARAIN CHUNDER CHOWDHRY, 18 W. R. 197.

(53)—Evidence—Notice—Collector's peon's return of service.—The return of a Collectorate peon as to service of notice is not admissible as legal evidence. MOINOOLLAH v. GOLUCK MONEE CHOWDHRAIN, 15 W.R. 270.

(54)—Service—Evidence of serving officer.—Where a serving officer deposed that, not being able to serve the summons on the defendant personally, he affixed a copy of it on the outer-door of his dwelling-house, held that his testimony, if believed by the Judge, was legal evidence of the fact of service. RAMCOOMAR SINGH v. RAM SOONDUR SINGH, 17 W.R. 362.

(55)—Service of summons—Signature or mark on summons—Practice of the Presidency Small Causes Court at Bombay—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 79 and 80.—The service of summons on a person through the Presidency Small Cause Court of Bombay was held not proper when no signature or mark of his was affixed on the original copy of the summons, on the ground that he could not write. MALJI v. AMBI, 8 Bom. L. R. 584.

(56)—Non-service of notice, application for revival of suit on the ground of—Duty of Court to enquire into allegation of non-service.—In the case of a petition for revival of a suit on the ground of non-service of notice on the petitioner, he is entitled to a distinct finding on his allegation that he was not served with notice of the suit. It is not a sufficient answer in such a case to say that the father of the petitioner was alive when the suit was instituted and the petitioner did not allege that the father had not been served with notice. Notice to the father would be notice to the son who represented him, but any how the allegation of non service must be enquired into and, only if it could be shown that notice was served either on the petitioner or on his father, could the petitioner's case be rejected. DIG BIJOY CHUNDER NEOGY v. JADUB CHUNDER THAKOOR, 4 W.R. Mis. 19.

(57)—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 70 and 332—Service of summons for attendance as a juror—Service on servant of the person summoned.—Held that a summons for attendance as a juror could not, outside a Presidency town, be properly served by leaving it with a servant of the person summoned residing in his house, and hence that a person whose attendance as a juror was required was not liable to be punished under s. 332 of the Code of Criminal Procedure for non-attendance in answer to a summons served in the manner described. In re BEHARI LAL, A.W.N. 1899, 13.

Summons—continued.

(58)—Application for examination of opposite party—Duty of applicant to obtain order under s. 165 of Act VIII of 1859.—The defendant, the present appellant took the objection of the plaintiff not having been summoned to attend and give evidence. He had applied to the Judge under s. 162 of Act VIII of 1859 for an order requiring the attendance of the plaintiff, and the vakeel of the latter was called upon to show cause why plaintiff should not attend to give evidence. But on the day named, no cause was shown. Defendant however had failed to apply for an order under s. 165, requiring the plaintiff to attend and give evidence. The High Court held that the defendant was not entitled to take the objection as to the omission of summons to the plaintiff because it was the business of the defendant to have asked for such an order after the expiration of the time for showing cause, and that if he failed to apply for it, it was his own fault. ALLED SINGH ROY v. RAM PERSHAD SINGH, 2 W.R. 218.

(59)—Ex parte decree—Setting aside—Act VIII of 1859.—Under s. 119 of Act VIII of 1859 if it should be proved to the satisfaction of the Court that summonses were not duly served, it is the duty of the Court to pass an order setting aside the judgment, and appointing a day for proceeding with the suit. It is not a sufficient service, if a copy of the summons is affixed to the house of the defendant's brother, without making any attempt to find the defendant. SHIBOO ROY v. KASHEE ROY, 25 W.R. 394.

(60)—Suit to obtain relief respecting immoveable property—Service of summons on agent—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 16.—A suit for foreclosure or sale of immoveable property is one to obtain relief respecting immoveable property," under s. 16 of the Civ. Pro. Code, so that a service of summons upon the duly constituted agent (of the mortgagee's trustees) in charge the mortgaged premises is sufficient. MICHAEL v. AMEENA BIBI, 9 C. 733=13 C.L.R. 161.

Issues instructions regarding the service of writs of summons and of notices of appeals. Civ. Cir. No. 9 dated 6th April 1871, 15 W.R. Civ. Cir. 55.

Summonses issued under Act VIII of 1859, ss. 59 and 158 to be directed not to the Judge, but to the Moonsiff. Civ. Cir. No. 17 of 14th May 1872, 17 W.R.H.C. Rules and Ors. 15.

Instructions to prevent the decision of cases ex parte against a defendant without sufficient enquiry as to service of summons. Civ. Cir. No. 2, 23 W.R. Rules and Ors. of the H.C. p. 4.

Summons—continued.

Petition for administration summons, how to be treated—See ADMINISTRATION SUIT, 3 B.L.R. App. 3 (b).

Power of Court to refuse to issue—Exclusion of evidence—Ground for remand—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 132, O. XVI, XXVI, 8 Ind. Cas. 418.

Summons served on Railway servant without sending it through his officer—Ex parte decree—No service—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. IX, rr. 6,13, s. 104, O. XLIII, r. 1, 6 C.L.J. 45=1 Ind. Cas. 163.

Right of a party to have—Extent of right—Summons when may be refused—Laches of party—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XVI, r. 1, 5 N.L.R. 181.

Witnesses—Power of Court to refuse—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XVI, r. 1, 13 C.P. L.R. 152.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XVI, r. 20, 1 B.L.R.S.N. 11 (d).

Service of, on Companies—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXIX, rr. 2, 3, 12 Bom. L.R. 730.

Proper appointment of guardian ad litem, though no formal order—Service of—On wrong defendant—Irregularity—Procedure—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXXII, rr. 3 (1) 4 (2) s. 99, 30 C. 1021, P.C.=30 I.A. 182=7 C.W.N. 774=5 Bom. L.R. 882.

Misdescription of defendant in plaint—Served on wrong person—Witness, payment of expenses to—See COSTS—SPECIAL CASES, 4 B. 619.

See COSTS—TAXATION OF COSTS, 7 B.L.R. Ap. 50.

See DISMISSAL OF SUITS, 18 W.R. 454.

Defendant not served through plaintiff's machinations — Setting aside decree — See FRAUD—EFFECT OF FRAUD, 4 Ind. Cas. 596.

Judge's—Misdescription of party taking out Summons—Permission to amend, granted at hearing— Practice—See INSOLVENCY —MISCELLANEOUS, 21 B. 205.

To witness—See ISSUES—MISCELLANEOUS, Ind. Jur. O.S. 15=1 Hyde, 147.

See LIMITATION—GENERAL, 5 C. 126.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 147, 14 B. 269.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART. 182—STEP IN AID OF EXECUTION, 5 A. 344=A.W.N. 1883, 57.

Lis pendens—Contentious suit—Service of —See LIS PENDENS, 15 C. 647.

Service of, on unascertained persons—S. 82, Civ.Pro.Code, 1882—See PARTITION — GENERAL 11 C.L.J. 580=5 Ind. Cas. 244.

Summons, issue of, See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 1 Bom.L.R. 859.

Summons—concluded.

Non-service of—Fresh summons—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 1 Bom. L.R. 859.

Rule of practice of Calcutta Small Cause Court—Time for service of summons—See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT, 1850, ss. 26, 41, 9 B.L.R. 256.

Suit for rent—Service of—on defendant residing outside district—See RENT, SUIT FOR, 11 B.L.R. 1=19 W.R. 234.

Suit for damages for breach of contract—Arrest under s. 477, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882--of defendant before judgment—Summons not served on defendant—Application for withdrawal of suit under s. 373, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—objection by defendant, Procedure—See WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT, 15 B. 160.

Civ. Pro. Code, s. 168—When warrant of arrest may be issued to a witness not appearing after—See WITNESS—DEFAULTING WITNESS, 5 M.H.C. 104.

Summons Book.

(1)—Evidence—Proceedings of Small Cause Court—Admissibility.—The summons book of the Small Cause Court, Calcutta, which is kept in accordance with the practice of the Small Cause Court and is the only record of that Court, is admissible in evidence, though it does not bear the signature of the presiding Judge. QUEEN v. NAKUR SIRKAR, 6 B.L.R. 729.

(2)—Evidence—Proceedings of Small Cause Court—Admissibility.—The record of proceedings in the Small Cause Court is not admissible in evidence unless authenticated by the signature of the presiding Judge. Therefore the summons book kept according to the usual practice of that Court is not admissible in evidence if not signed by the Judge. QUEEN v. SHIBCHANDRA DAS, 6 B.L.R. 730, Note.

This circular enquires whether Moonsiffs with Small Cause Court powers use Summons Books and Registers. Civ. Cir. Memo No. 7, 23 W.R. Rules and Ors. of the H. C. p. 9.

Summons to and Attendance of Witnesses.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XVI, rr. 1—21.

Sunday.

Arrest under Civil Process of Mofussil Court on Sunday, legality of—See ARREST, 4 M. H. C. App. 62.

Mahomedan debtor, arrest of on a—, not illegal—See ARREST, 7 M.H.C. 285.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1859, B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 360=3 W.R.S.C.C. Ref, 5.

Disposal of suit on—Irregularity—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 99, A.W.N. 1907, 168=29 A. 562.

See CONTRACT—CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACTS, 15 B. 338.

Sunday—concluded.

Proceedings of Munsiff taken on, whether vitiated—Applicability of Lord's Day Act to India—See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 5 A.L.J. 106=A.W.N. 1908, 43=3 M. L.T. 211 =30 A. 136.

Sunderbund Estate.

See BEN. ACT XI OF 1859, ss. 37, 52, 14 C. 440.

Sunderbuns.

(1)—Reg. XIII of 1828 (Bengal), s. 13, cl. (2) —Sunderbuns— Limitation.—The Sunderbuns were not included in the perpetual settlement but remained the property of the Government. Bengal Regulation III of 1828 made provision for the immediate settlement of the limits of the Sunderbuns by fixing peremptorily a period at which the demarcation of those limits should be final. Any person objecting to the line of demarcation could not be heard unless he declared and offered proof that, at the time of the survey by the Commissioner appointed under the said law, he was in occupation of a definite quantity of land cleared under cultivation within that time. A person in occupation of cultivated land might, within three months, either pray for further investigation or put forward his claim to hold particular lands free from assessment. [F., 13 W.R. 180.] Where boundaries have been determined by the Commissioner under cl. 2, s. 13, of Bengal Regulation III of 1828, and no appeal therefrom made to the special Commissioner within three months, such determination is a bar to a suit seeking to open the question of boundaries. RAJA BARODAKANT ROY v. THE COMMISSIONER OF THE SUNDERBUNS, 2 B.L.R.P.C. 33=12 M. I.A. 225=11 W.R. A.C, 14=2 Suther. 184= 2 Sar, 413.

See BEN. REG. III OF 1828, 4 C.W.N. 513.

Sunjogee Bairagi Community.

See MOHUNT, 1 Bom. L.R. 743.

Sunnad.

See SANAD.

Superannuation Funds, Police.

See ACT X OF 1869.

Superintendence of High Court.

See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF.

(1)—High Court's powers of Superintendence —St. 24 and 25, Vic. c. 104, s. 15—High Court's Jurisdiction to reverse judicial proceeding.—The powers of superintendence, conferred on the High Court by the St. 24 and 25 Vic. c. 104, s. 15, relate to administrative authority and not judicial powers. The administrative authority may be thus summarised. The High Court has power under s. 15 of the High Courts Act—(1) to direct the exercise of a power or jurisdiction disclaimed by the Lower Court.—(2) to set aside the order made by the

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

Lower Court without jurisdiction. The High Court has no power, where no appeal lies and when no power of interference is given by the Civ. Pro. Code to interfere, by way of revision, with the proceedings of subordinate Courts on the strength of these powers of superintendence. TEJ RAM v. HARSUKH, 1 A. 101, F.B. [R., 9 A. 104, F.B. = A.W.N. 1886, 309, 22 M. 68, 9 B. 432, 12 B. 17, 1 C.W.N. 617, 26 C. 74, 8 M.L.J. 231, 28 M. 28 = 14 M.L.J. 329, 31 A. 59, 13 C.W.N. 1221, 36 C. 994, 6 A.L.J. 22, 33 C. 68, 9 C.W.N. 1046, F.B. = 2 C.L.J. 241.]

(2)—High Court's power of interference—St. 24 and 25 Vic., c. 104.—S. 15 of St. 24 and 25, Vic. c. 104, was not intended to confer any rights, whatever upon litigant parties. Its whole object was to give to the High Court some control over the Courts subject to its appellate jurisdiction. Nor it intended to be applied for setting aside the decrees of inferior Courts, except where a Court had altogether unmistakeably and clearly gone beyond the exercise of the powers conferred upon it. SREEMUTTY DOSSEE v. SREENIBASH DEY, 12 W.R. 74. [Appr., 14 W.R. 212; R., 1 A, 101.]

(3)—Facts sufficiently found by lower Court—Error of law in judgment—High Court to pass proper judgment and not remand for fresh judgment.—Where the judgment of the lower appellate Courts sufficiently clear and intelligible to enable the High Court to pass the proper judgment upon the case, and it is clear to the High Court how the judgment has determined the question of fact, though there be any error of law in the lower Court's judgment and though the judgment may not be very clear by itself, the High Court should not send it back to the Judge of the lower Court directing merely that a clearer or more intelligible judgment shall be written. Whenever the record enables the High Court to itself deal with and to dispose of the case, it is the duty of that Court to itself pass the proper judgment in the case and not to send it back to the lower Court for a fresh judgment. SHAH JUGHAN v. SHAIKH MUKSOOD ALI, 6 W.R. 97.

(4)—S. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—High Court's power of revision without being moved by parties—Limitation.—The High Court can deal with a case under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, without being moved by any of the parties. An application, therefore, under the section to the High Court will not be governed by any rule of limitation. PURAN MAL v. JANKI PFRSHAD SINGH, 28 C. 680 = 6 C.W.N. 114. (4 C.W.N. 695, Appr.) [R., 12 O.C. 78.]

(5)—Act XXIII of 1861, ss. 4 and 35—Power to call for records of Subordinate Courts—Delay in making application, effect of.—S. 35 of Act XXIII of 1861 empowers the High Court to call for the record of a case decided without jurisdiction by subordinate Courts, but does not make such a step compulsory. There is a certain discretion enabling the High Court to refuse an application under s. 35, when it is made after the lapse of a considerable time since the decree. BOODHEE v. ALLEE HYDER, 1 N.W.P. 271.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(6)—High Court, powers of superintendence of, over Mamlatdars' Courts—Bom. Act III of 1876.—The intention and effect of Bom. Act III of 1876 has been not to abolish the old Mamlatdars' Courts and create new Courts under the same name, but merely to provide for the continuance of the old Courts with more extensive powers. Consequently, even after the passing of the Act, the jurisdiction of the High Court and its powers of superintendence and revision continues the same as it was prior to the Act. Further, it is highly improbable that the Legislature, in giving largely increased powers to the Mamlatdars Courts would at the same time have exempted them from all supervision and control. BAI JAMNA v. BAI JADAV, 4 B. 168, F.B. [F., 5 B. 137; R., 7 B. 341 F.B. 25 B. 318 F.B., 31 B. 545 = 9 Bom. L.R. 1028; D., 13 B. 552.]

(7)—Decree for possession passed by Mamlatdar—Ouster of third person in possession—Jurisdiction.—The order of the Mamlatdar in this case directing execution of the decree obtained by the opponent in a suit against his tenants by the ouster of the applicant who was no party to that suit, was beyond the jurisdiction of the Mamlatdar and was therefore liable to be set aside under s. 622 of the Civ. Pro. Code, and where the applicant has actually been dispossessed under that order, his remedy to recover possession is by suit either before the Mamlatdar or in a Civil Court. CHINAYA v. GANGAVA, 21 B. 775. [F., 24 B. 397.]

(8)—Act XXII of 1861, s. 35—Application to order subordinate Court to receive appeal—Limitation.—If a Court is to exercise the jurisdiction of sending to some other Court an appeal which has been presented to and dealt with by a subordinate appellate Court which had no jurisdiction to entertain it, the application should be made promptly, at any rate within a reasonable time after the order of such subordinate appellate Court has been quashed by the High Court as made without jurisdiction. In the matter of RUSSICK LALL CHATTERJEE, 15 W.R. 518.

(9)—High Courts Act, s. 15—Interference by High Court—Effect.—The High Courts exercise the power conferred upon them by s. 15 of the High Courts Act only when there is a capital error in the judgment of the Court below which is complained of, and the plaintiff is entitled to special interference. When, therefore, an order under s. 15 is refused by the High Court, it does not follow that the order of the Court below was right, but it means that the application has not been made under circumstances which would induce the High Court to exercise its extraordinary powers. The plaint in a suit had been returned by the Munsif for presentation to the proper Court, the plaintiff went to the Small Cause Court for filing the suit and that Court also threw out the plaint. The High Court refused to pass an order directing the Munsiff to receive the plaint under s. 15 of the High Courts Act. The plaintiff thereupon filed the suit in the Court of another Munsif who received the plaint and decreed the suit. Held, that the Munsif did right in receiving the plaint as the plaintiff had a substantial claim and as the order of the High Court did not affect the merits. SREEMUTTY SHOOVANKURRY DABE v. DWARAKA NATH MOOKERJEE, 25 W.R. 344.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(10)—St. 24 and 25 Vict., c. 104, s. 15, Construction of.—On the true construction of s. 15 of the 24th and 25th Vict., c. 104, the power of superintendence to be exercised by the High Court is not merely administrative or ministerial, but also judicial. MUSSUMAT BAJEE KOOER v. RAI DAMODUR DASS, 5 N.W.P. 55. [Diss., 1 A. 87.]

(11)—High Court—Right of appeal—Jurisdiction.—The circumstance of the High Court calling up an appeal from the Court below for special reasons, and trying it as a regular appeal, does not entitle the parties to prefer an appeal directly to the High Court in the proceedings in execution. RAMANOOGRA SAHOY v. BYJNATH LALL, 10 B.L.R. 291, Note=51 W.R. 164.

(12)—Charter Act, 25 and 24 Vict., c. 104, s. 15—Superintendence of High Court over Recorder of Moulmein—Act XXI of 1863—Power of Recorder of Moulmein to license advocates—License to practice in Small Cause Court of Moulmein.—The Charter Act, 24 and 25 Vict., c. 104, s. 15, has distinctly made the Court of the Recorder of Moulmein established under Act XXI of 1863, subject to the superintendence of the High Court, and so has rendered it incumbent on the High Court and given it power to take care that all the acts of the Recorder of Moulmein done in his capacity of Recorder be done regularly and according to law. The fact that the High Court does not possess appellate jurisdiction over all clauses of cases tried in the Recorder's Court, and that the Privy Council shares with the High Court appellate jurisdiction over the Recorder's Court does not remove the Recorder's Court for the operation of s. 15 of the Charter Act. [F., 27 B. 575=5 Bom. L.R. 562; R., 20 B. 480, F.B.] The granting or withdrawing of a license to practise as a pleader in the Small Cause Court of Moulmein is such an exercise of the power and authority possessed by the Recorder as will come under the superintendence of the High Court. The authority thus given to the Recorder is part of his authority as Judge of the Recorder's Court and it is bestowed upon him simply with the view to enable him the more effectively to administer justice in the Court over which he presides. In the matter of JOHN THOMPSON, 6 B.L.R. 180=14 W.R. 257.

(13)—High Court's Act, s. 15—Collector's Court subject to superintendence of High Court.—Under s. 153 of Act X of 1859, where a question relating to title to land, or some interest in land, as between parties having conflicting claims thereto has been in point of fact actually determined by the Deputy Collector, the appeal lies to the Zillah Judge under ss. 160 and 161. In the present case however, an appeal had been presented to the Collector, and the question was raised whether the High Court could interfere to restrain the Collector from exercising jurisdiction not given to him at all by Act X. Held that, under the large and general powers of the 15th section of the Charter Act, it was competent to the High Court to prevent the exercise by the Collector of jurisdiction properly belonging to the Zillah Judge. In exercise of such powers given to them by the said s. 15 of the Charter Act, the High Court set aside the order of the Collector, giving the other side liberty to appeal to the Zillah Judge within a month. BHYRUB CHUNDER v. SHAMA SUNDEREE DEBEA, 6 W.R. Act X 68. [Appr., 11 W.R. 50; R., 1 A. 101, 15 C.W.N. 863=33 C. 832=14 C.L.J. 284 =11 Ind. Cas. 207.]

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(14)—Decree declaring plaintiff's right to bring property to sale in Collector's Court—Refusal of Collector to sell—Procedure.—If a decree of a Civil Court declares that the plaintiff has risght to bring certain property to sale in the Deputy Collector's Court, it is the duty of the Deputy Collector to conform to that decree and to take steps for proceeding with the sale of the property accordingly. If he, at the instigation of the defendant, declines to do his duty, it does not give a fresh cause of action for the purpose of obtaining a second declaration of right against the defendant, though it might be a very good ground for asking the High Court by the exercise of its extraordinary powers to put the Deputy Collector right. RUGHOONUNDUN SINGH BAHADOOR v. COCHRANE, 20 W.R. 16. [R., 20 W. R. 17.]

(15)—Suit for rent—Decision by Deputy Collector—Appeal to Collector—Revision by High Court—Charter Act, s. 15—Powers of High Court.—Where a rent suit to recover Rs 254 was decreed by a Deputy Collector for Rs 49, and, in the appeal preferred to the Collector, the full amount claimed was decreed, the High Court interfered, under s. 15 of the Charter Act, and set aside the decree of the Collector as having been made without jurisdiction. In such cases, an appeal lies only to a Civil Court. In the matter of ROOKNEY, ROY v. AMRITH LALL, 14 W. R. 254. [R. 1 A. 101, 38 C. 832=15 C.W.N. 863=14 C.L.J. 284=11 Ind. Cas. 207.]

(16)—Act X of 1859, s. 160—Jurisdiction of Revenue Courts—Jurisdiction.—A suit for arrears of rent and also for ejectment was dismissed. In the appeal to the Collector, the only questions before him were the extent and character of the lands and the arrears of rent, and no question of jurisdiction was ever raised. Held that the Collector had jurisdiction to hear the appeal, as the question of ejectment had been abandoned. DURSUN BHUGUT v. MAHOMED ALI, 13 W.R. 438. [R., 38 C. 832=15 C.W.N. 863=14 C.L.J. 284=11 Ind. Cas. 207.]

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(17)—Order in execution passed by Deputy Collector—Appeal to Collector—Sale once completed, when Deputy Collector can set aside.—In this case, the Deputy Collector, after holding a sale in execution of a decree under Act X of 1859, for certain reasons assigned, set it aside. An appeal was preferred to the Collector, who reversed the order of the Deputy Collector, holding that the officer was not competent to set aside a sale which he had once completed, when there was no default on the part of the auction-purchaser. On special appeal preferred to the High Court under the provisions of s. 35, Act XXIII of 1861, on the ground that, as there is no appeal from an order passed by a Deputy Collector in execution of a decree, the Collector acted without jurisdiction in receiving an appeal and reversing the order of the Deputy Collector, the High Court concurred in the view that no appeal lay to the Collector but considered that the order he had passed was a proper one and consequently, under the authority vested in the High Court by s. 35 of Act XXIII of 1861, passed the same order as that passed by the Collector and reversed the Deputy Collector's order setting aside the sale. ADURMONEE DOSSEE v. KAMINEE SOONDUREE DEBIA, 3 W.R. Act X, Rul. 145. [D., 5 W.R. Act X, 35 ; R. 5 W.R. Mis. 45]

(18)—Act X of 1859, s. 92—Sale of tenure—Order of Deputy Collector—Appeal.—A decree-holder made an application to the Deputy Collector for the sale of the tenure of the judgment-debtor. The Deputy Collector admitted the application, and the tenure was sold. The judgment-debtor appealed to the Collector from the order of the Deputy Collector allowing the sale. The Collector reversed the order of the Deputy Collector on the ground that s. 92 of Act X of 1859 precluded the issue of process of any description on a judgment-debtor under that Act for less than Rs. 500 after the lapse of three years from the date of the judgment. Held that, under Act X of 1859, no appeal lay to the Collector from the order of the Deputy Collector made in execution of a decree, and consequently, that the order of the Collector was one which he had no power to make ; and that the Deputy Collector's order also was wrong, being in violation of the provisions of s. 92 of Act X of 1859. TARA CHUND MUNDUL v. BHYRUB CHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY, 15 W.R. 551.

(19)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 35—Genuineness of sale deed disputed—Decision by Collector—Jurisdiction—A Collector by deciding upon the genuineness of a deed of sale propounded by plaintiff and denied by defendant, exceeds his authority, and his order can be set aside by the High Court under s. 35, Act XXIII of 1861, TOYLUCKONATH SIRDAR v. BALUCK RAM DOSS, W R. 1864 Act X, Rul. 26.

(20)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 35—When applicable to Revenue Courts—Power of High Court.—The provisions of s. 35 of Act XXIII of 1861 extend to the Courts of Revenue officers acting without jurisdiction under Act X of 1859. It is competent for the High Court to revise the decisions of the Collector passed in appeals from the Deputy Collector in suits under Act X of 1859, whenever it appears that the Collector has exceeded his jurisdiction. HURPERSHAD v. LALU, 3 N.W.P. 60, F.B. [D., 12 A. 198.]

(21)—Zillah Judge—Decision by Collector in regular appeal—Power of Judge to hear appeal—Act X of 1859, s. 153—Award of rent by Deputy Collector—Appeal to Collector—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 35—Decisions passed without jurisdiction—High Court's power to cancel same.—A Zillah Judge had no jurisdiction to hear an appeal from a decision passed by the Collector in regular appeal. The Collector had no jurisdiction to hear an appeal from the decision of a Deputy Collector in reference to the provisions of s. 153, Act X of 1859. The High Court had, under s. 35, Act XXIII of 1861, power to cancel decisions passed by the subordinate Courts without jurisdiction. MAHESH PANDY v. BALDUT PANDY, 3 Agra Ap. Rev. 10.

(22)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 35—Appeal to wrong Court.—Where an appeal, in a suit for arrears of rent, which ought to have been preferred to the Collector, was preferred bona fide under a mistake to the District Judge, the High Court, on special appeal, allowed the appellant 30 days to appeal, if so advised, to the Collector. MAHARANI ADHIRANI NARAN-KUMARI RAJRANI OF BURDWAN v. PARIK HIT RAWTRA, 7. B.L.R. App. 15=15 W. R. 426.

(23)—Decree passed informally—Execution—Powers of High Court—Charter Act, s. 15—A decree, though passed informally, is a decree, which the Court passing it, is bound in law to execute on the application of the decree-holder. So, where a Deputy Collector, having passed an informal decree, refused execution on application by the decree-holder, it was held that the High Court has power to interfere in the exercise of the powers granted to them by s. 15 of the Charter Act, and order the Deputy Collector to do his duty. In the matter of KHENUMKUREE DABEE v. RANEE SHULT SOONDUREE DABEE 14 W.R. 19. (5 W.R. 25, F.B., Expl.) [Appl., 1 A. 101.]

(24)—High Court's action suo motu—Suit for kubooleat—Failure to prove rate of rent.—Where a plaintiff suing for a kubooleat at enhanced rates obtained a decree below, though he was found not entitled to the rate of rent which he claimed, the High Court, considering that, under the rulling of a Full Bench, the suit should have been dismissed, of its own motion in special appeal, reversed the decree, notwithstanding that the objection was not taken in the written grounds of appeal. HAMID ALEE v. AFFEEOODEEN, 1 B.L.R.S.N. 14 (b)=10 W.R. 213.

(25)—Suit by co-sharer for aliquot part of rent—Other co-sharers made defendants—Nature of suit—Decree by first Court—Dismissal of suit by lower appellate Court—Beng. Act VII.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

of 1869, s. 102—Charter Act, s. 15—High Court, powers of.—A suit by a co-sharer in a taluq against a ryot for an aliquot part of rent, the other co-sharers having been made defendants on account of their resistance to the plaintiff's right to any share of the rent at all, should be treated as a suit instituted on behalf of all co-sharers collectively. Where a suit by a co-sharer against a ryot for an aliquot part of the rent making the other co-sharers defendants, which had been decreed by the first Court, was dismissed by the lower appellate Court as not being maintainable, held that, although in the judgment itself there was no expression of opinion on the part of the Judge as to the rights of the parties, yet the decree had, within the latter words of s. 102 of Act VIII of 1869 (B.C.) determined questions between parties having conflicting claims to an interest in land. Where a suit mentioned supra, on being dismissed by the lower appellate Court, came up before the High Court in special appeal, and the respondent was not placed in a disadvantageous position in regard to answering the complainant, held, that the High Court could interfere under s. 15 of the Charter Act and order the lower appellate Court to try the case on its merits. NOKHODA SOONDREE DASSEE v. KUREEM SHAIKH, 23 W.R. 11. [D., 25 W.R. 153.]

(26)—Charter Act, s. 15—Superintendence—Refusal to exercise jurisdiction—Appeal.—D had sued P for arrears of rent at the rate of Rs. 50 per annum. In the first Court, there was a decree at the rate of Rs. 25. In the appellate Court, that decision was reversed and a decree was passed at the rate of Rs. 50. On special appeal, this judgment was set aside and the rate decreed by the first Court was held to be the proper rate. In the meantime, D had sued out execution of the lower appellate Court's decree at the higher rate and had realized the whole of the rent at the higher rate. Then B, after applying to the Collector to recover the excess amount which D had realized, and having been told by the Collector that he could not interfere, brought a suit in the Civil Court to recover the amount which D had wrongly obtained from him. In the first Court, he obtained a decree. On appeal, the Sub-Judge dismissed the suit on the ground that the Collector was the only authority who had jurisdiction to refund the excess money. On special appeal: Held that no special appeal lay to the High Court as the suit was one of a Small Cause nature; but as the Collector had not exercised a proper jurisdiction and as an injury had been done to P, the claim should have been heard by the Civil Court and there being no bar to such hearing, it was not right for the Sub-Judge to send P back again to the Collector, but he should have heard the appeal and decided the case finally. HARDAYAL MUNDAL v. THIRTHANUND THAKUR, 4 B.L.R. App. 28=13 W.R. 34. [R., 1 A. 101, F.B., 15 C. 179.]

(27)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 13—Suit cognizable by Small Cause Court—No special appeal

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

—High Court—Interference.—The High Court exercising their extraordinary powers dismissed a suit cognizable by the Small Cause Court and from which special appeal lies to the High Court under s. 13, Act XXIII of 1861. MAHARAJA DHIRAJ MAHATAB CHUND BAHADUR v. SHAGOR KUNDU, 5 B.L.R. Ap. 91.

(28)—Small Cause Court — Extraordinary jurisdiction—High Court.—The High Court can interfere by the exercise of its extraordinary jurisdiction in cases in which there has appeared to be a manifest error of law, entailing manifest hardship on one of the parties to a suit. It will remand a case to the lower Court, though the value of the claim may be under Rs. 500 and the case may be one in which a special appeal is not allowed. RAMABAI v. TRIMBAK GANESH DESAI, 9 B.H.C. 283.

(29)—Small Cause Court—Jurisdiction—Act XI of 1865, s. 6—Extraordinary jurisdiction of High Court—Annulment of proceedings of the lower Courts.—On a case properly cognizable by a Small Cause Court having been heard and determined by the Subordinate Judge and by the District Judge, the High Court, in the exercise of its extraordinary jurisdiction, annulled the proceedings of the two lower Courts. BHIMRAV JIVAJI v. BHIMRAV GOVIND, 11 B.H.C. 194.

(30)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 35—High Court—Interference with orders of inferior Courts.—The High Court could interfere under s. 35, Act XXIII of 1861 with the order of the Court of first instance as well as of the appellate Court, where the orders of both the Courts appeared to be without jurisdiction. SHEO DYAL SINGH v. SHEIKH MAHOMED KAMIL, 3 Agra Mis. 2.

(31)—Decree ultra vires—Remedies of judgment-debtor.—Where a Court passes a decree which is ultra vires, the remedy of the judgment-debtor is not by way of appeal, but either by an application for review to the Court which passed the decree, or by an application to the High Court to exercise its general powers of supervision conferred upon it by s. 15 of the Charter Act. DOORGA DASS SANDYAL v. PANCHOO RAM MUNDUL, 23 W.R. 271.

(32)—Plaint, return of, for presentation to proper Court—Refusal by other Court to entertain plaint—Jurisdiction—High Court's power of revision—Bombay Reg. II of 1827, s. 5, cl. (2).—In this case the plaint was originally presented to the Second Class Subordinate Judge who, thinking that the subject-matter exceeded his jurisdiction, returned it for presentation in the proper Court. The plaintiff then went to the First Class Subordinate Judge who, finding that the subject-matter was below his jurisdiction, again returned it for presentation to the proper Court. Upon this, the plaintiff went back to the Second Class Subordinate Judge, where there was a new Subordinate Judge, and he was of opinion that he could not review his predecessor's decision. Upon this, an appeal was made to the District Judge, who rejected the appeal on the ground that no appeal lay against an order rejecting an application for review. On application for revision to the High Court, it was held that the case was one in which the High Court ought to interfere in revision under cl. 2 of s. 5 of Reg. II of 1827, and it accordingly set aside the order of the Second Class Subordinate Judge with a direction that he should admit the plaint as of the date of its original presentation. GIRDHARLAL HAR GOVANDAS v. LALLU JAGJIVAN, 20 B. 50.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(33)—Sale in execution of decree—Order of Munsif cancelling sale—Jurisdiction—Order of Munsif made without jurisdiction — High Court's power of interference.—A Munsif who is in charge of the current duties of the office of Sudder Ameen has no jurisdiction to cancel a sale which has taken place in satisfaction of a decree. [R., 1 A. 101.] As a Court of general supervision, the High Court is competent to declare an order of a Munsif which was wholly without jurisdiction, to be null and void. JOY RAM v. BULWANT SINGH, 5 W.R. Mis. 3. [R., 1 A. 101.]

(34)—District Munsif making illegal order which is not appealable—Civil Court hearing appeal and setting aside order—Special appeal to High Court—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 35.—Where the District Munsif passes an illegal order which is not appealable and the Civil Judge hears an appeal from that order and sets aside that order as one passed without jurisdiction, and a special appeal is made to the High Court from the order of the Civil Court, the petition of appeal should be treated as a petition under s. 35 of Act XXIII of 1861 and the order of the Civil Court must be set aside, and, under the jurisdiction given by the latter part of the above section, the invalid order of the District Munsif also should be annulled. ANNAMALAI CHETTY v. MUTHULINGA PILLAY, 6 M.H.C. 360. (6 M H.C. 22, F.)

(35)—Appeal — Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 209, 364—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 11—Extraordinary jurisdiction—Decree—Stay of execution.—Where a Court in consequence of a fresh suit by plaintiff, stayed the execution of a decree passed for costs in favour of the defendant, held that the stay order was revisable. No appeal lies against an order staying execution under this rule. The High Court, however, in the exercise of its extraordinary jurisdiction will examine the judicial propriety of such an order. GAMBHIRMAL v. CHERJMAL JODHMAL, 11 B H.C. 151. [D., 7 C. 733.]

(36)—Order of High Court executed by lower Court—Power of High Court to give directions.—The High Court has jurisdiction to direct a lower Court in what manner its own decree or order should be carried into effect by that Court. The High Court has also power to see that the lower Court does not pervert its order or do that which the order did not intend should be done. KALEE DOSS SANDYAL v. ROY LUCHMEEPUT DOOGUR, 14 W.R. 145.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(37)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act VIII of 1859, s. 246—Claimant in possession — Right under ladavee executed by judgment-debtor—Right of decree-holder to enforce mortgage lien against attached property—Unauthorised decision by Subordinate Court—Interference by High Court —Charter Act, s. 15.—Where the property attached was in the possession of the claimant on his own account and not on behalf of the judgment-debtor, the fact that the claimant preferred to derive his title under a ladavee executed in his favour by the judgment-debtor, could not enable the decree-holder to enforce his mortgage-lien against the attached property. Where a Court subordinate to the High Court passed a decision without authority, the High Court had power to interfere with the decision and was not prevented by the provisions of s. 15 of the Charter Act from so interfering. KHELLAT CHUNDER GHOSE v. GOUR CHURN MOJOOMDAR, 18 W R. 402.

(38)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 230, application under—Investigation as to applicant's possession.—Where an application is made for an investigation under s. 230, Act VIII of 1859, in respect of property which a decree-holder has got possession of, in execution of his decree, the Court is bound to investigate and decide whether the property was bona fide in the possession of the applicant on his own account or on account of some person other than the judgment-debtors, and should not, without holding any investigation, dismiss the application or give possession to the applicant. In the matter of WOOMESH CHUNDER ROY v. BIDHOO MOOKHEE DOSSEE, 11 W.R. 197. [R., 18 W.R. 395.]

(39)—Jurisdiction—Purchaser of rights and interests of plaintiff substituted for plaintiff—Withdrawal of suit by purchaser—Charter Act 24 and 25, *c.*104, s. 15—Superintendence of High Court—Act done without jurisdiction.—Whilst an action was going on, the defendant under an Act X decree which he had obtained against the plaintiff, caused the rights and interests of the plaintiff to be sold, and the property was bought in the name of one J. Afterwards an application was made by J to have his name substituted in the suit for that of the plaintiff and the purchaser's name was accordingly substituted. Subsequently, another application was made in the name of J, under s. 97, Act VIII of 1859, that he might be permitted to withdraw the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit; and upon that application an order was made that the suit should be withdrawn. Held that the Court had no power to order the name of the purchaser J. to be substituted for that of the original plaintiff, or to allow him to withdraw the suit. Neither order was one of that description in respect of which the Legislature intended to give an appeal to the next superior Court, nor was it one in respect of which they intended to declare that there should be no right of appeal. The order was one that was made without jurisdiction. [Appr., 15 W.R. 106, 15 W.R. 485=7 B.L.R. 149, Cons. and Expl., 2 C.L.R. 297.] Where a Judge has done a thing which a Court could never under any circumstanes, have power to do and has gone against every principle upon which litigation is conducted, the High Court, in the exercise of the power of superintendence vested in it by s. 15 of 24 and 25 Vic., c. 104, can in its discretion set it aside. JUDOOPUTTEE CHATTERJEE v. CHUNDER KANT BHUTTACHARJEE, 9 W.R. 309. [R., 1 A. 101; Expl., 7 B. 341; D., 12 W.R. 74.]

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(40)—Lower Court's omission to hear witnesses—High Court to consider evidence and form independent opinion.—The Additional Principal Sudder Ameen before whom this case came on after a number of witnesses had been examined by his predecessor, allowed, at a late stage, after most of the witnesses had been examined, a very great number of documents to be filed and placed on the record, without any explanation of their being tendered at that late stage, and also without any enquiry whether they were relevant or otherwise. On the whole, the suit had not been in any respect tried or dealt with in conformity with the directions of the Civ. Pro. Code, and the High Court thought it fit and competent to them to come to a conclusion upon the evidence observing that the Court below had also seen the most part of it only in paper and that the case had been protracted through a period of about two years. OPENDRO NARAIN GHOSE v. BAJPAYEE RAJAH KESHUB CHUNDER DEB, 6 W. R. 25.

(41)—High Court, whether competent to compel lower Court to make sale absolute—Act VIII of 1859, s. 259—Finality of order setting aside sale.—On sufficient grounds being established by the applicant, it is competent to the High Court, though it would be a very strong measure, to make an order upon motion to compel the Court below to make absolute a sale which had been made by that Court but which it had not confirmed and thought it was not expedient to confirm. Whether the purchaser has any rights which he may be capable of enforcing by suit is an entirely different question. Where the lower Court has allowed an objection and made an order to set aside the sale, such order, by s. 257 of the Civ. Pro. Code, is final. In re petition of MOONSHEE CODIUT ZUMAN, 8 W. R. 109.

(42)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 622—Material irregularity — Remand.—On 11-9-1888, the defendant contracted to sell to the plaintiffs 50 tons of brown rape-seed to be delivered at the plaintiff's godown and that such delivery should be made on or before April-May 1889. On 23-4-1889, the defendant endorsed over to the plaintiffs a delivery order for the seed given him by Messrs. Lang, Moir & Co., which was presented by the plaintiff's to Messrs. Lang Moir & Co., on 26th April. The latter refused to deliver on the ground that they had time till 31-5-1889. On 15-5-1889 the Company stopped payment. Thereupon, the plaintiffs informed the defendant that the seeds were not delivered to them by Messrs. Lang, Moir & Co., and demanded delivery from the defendant. The defendant failed to do so. Consequently the plaintiffs sued to recover Rs. 562-8-0 damages as of the 31st May. The lower Court held that the damages were assessable as of the 25th April, on which date the prevailing market rate was high. The plaintiffs thereupon took out a rule for a new trial on the ground that the Judge was in error in assigning 25th April and not 31st May as the date which ruled the question of damages. But the case was decided against the plaintiffs on another point, viz., that the plaintiff having failed to give notice to the defendant of Messrs. Lang, Moir & Co's refusal to deliver seed on 25-4-1889, they cannot call on the defendant to deliver the seed. On a motion having been made to the High Court under s 622, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, to set aside the order of the lower Court as being one which it was incompetent to make at that stage of the proceedings, held, remanding the case to the lower Court for a new trial, that the Court acted with material irregularity within the meaning of s. 622 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, in making the order in question. S. A. RALLI v. PARMANAND JEWRAJ, 13 B. 642.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(43)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 516, 622—Omission to give notice—Irregularity.—The omission to give notice of the filing of an award under s. 516, Code of Civil Procedure, is a material irregularity, within the meaning of s. 622, which will vitiate a decree passed in terms of the award. RANGASAMI v. MUTHUSAMI, 11 M. 144. [F., 20 A. 474=18 A.W.N. 132, U.B. R. 1897-1901, Vol. II, 290; R. 74 P.R. 1894 F.B., U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. II, 24.]

(44)—Want of reliable evidence—Conjectural grounds—Arbitration.—Where, on unreliable evidence and on conjectural grounds, the lower appellate Court set aside a judgment of the Court below, and divided the subject of the suit between the parties by way of arbitration, the High Court set aside the decree of the lower appellate Court, and restored that of the first Court. MOHESH CHUNDER SHAWUTH v. JOY KRISHTO SIRCAR, 23 W R. 397.

(45)—St. 24 and 25, Vic. c. 104 (High Court's Act), s. 15—High Court's powers of superintendence—Act VIII of 1879, s. 378—Review of judgment.—Where a Subordinate Judge rejected an application for review of judgment, on the ground that he had no right to interfere, as the judgment sought to be reviewed was that of his predecessor, held that the High Court, under the general powers of superintendence vested in it by s. 15 of the Letters Patent, is competent to point out to the Subordinate Court its error and to direct it to re-consider the application presented to it, and to dispose of it according to law. MATHRA PRASHAD, In re, 1 A. 296. [R., 9 A. 104=A. W. N. 1886, 309, F.B.]

(46)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 35—Appeal—Appellate Court exceeding jurisdiction—High Court—Right to interfere.—Where an appellate Court exceeded its jurisdiction in hearing an appeal from an order of the first Court setting aside a sale in execution, on the ground of the non-payment of purchase-money within the proper time, it was competent to the High Court to exercise its power under s. 35, Act XXIII of 1861 to set aside the order of the first Court, if there was sufficient ground for the exercise of such power. AMANEE BEGUM v. KOORBAN ALI, 3 Agra 204.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(47)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act X of 1877), s. 622—Execution of decree—Decree-holder not party to decree which reversed the lower Court's decree—Appeal—Jurisdiction.—No appeal lies against an order refusing an application for execution of a decree for costs. The High Court has power to interfere under s. 622 of Civ. Pro. Code, and to pass such order in the case as the Court thinks fit. In this case the High Court upheld the order of the appellate Court, although passed without jurisdiction, as it was really a right order. BHOYRUB CHUNDER DOSS v. WAJEDUNNISSA KHATOON, 6 C.L.R. 234.

(48)—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 544, 622—Appeal against appellate decree by a party who did not appeal against original decree—Revision by High Court.—Under the Civ. Pro. Code, when an appeal is presented against the whole decree, the appellate Court has power to inferfere on behalf of parties, who had not appealed as on behalf of parties who have. [Appr., 30 M. 470 = 17M.L.J. 119 = 2 M.L.T. 104; D., 17 M. 265.] Where the appellate Court fails to exercise such a power, in the belief that it has no such power, the High Court has jurisdiction to interfere under s.622, and call upon the appellate Court, at the instance of the party who did not prefer the appeal, to exercise such power. SESHADRI v. KRISHNAN, 8 M. 192. [R., 11 M. 220, F.B.]

(49)—Act XXIII of 1861, s.35—Act X of 1872, ss. 468, 469—Sanction to prosecute for perjury—Appeal.—No appeal lies to the District Court from sanction accorded by a Subordinate Court of first instance to the institution of a prosecution in cases in which such sanction is required. Where a Subordinate Judge gave sanction for an alleged false statement made by a plaintiff in a suit, and the District Judge on appeal cancelled it, the High Court under s. 35 of Act XXIII of 1861, set aside his order. In the matter of the petition of BULWUNT RAI, 6 N.W.P. 124. [Appr., 1 A. 17, F. B.]

(50)—Act VIII of 1859, s.265—Assignment of decree sought to be executed, impeachment of, as not bona fide—Possession of decree by assignee—Appeal—High Court's powers of superintendence.—When an assignment of a decree sought to be attached and sold under a decree has been impeached by the decree-holder as not being a bona fide conveyance, and such conveyance purports to be one of property of the description specified in s. 265 of Act VIII of 1859, the Court is bound to make enquiry as to whether the assignee under the assignment of the decree was or was not in bona fide possession of the property. Where the Judge had enquired into the above facts, no appeal could be maintained from his order. But, when he has refused such an enquiry which he ought to have made, it is competent to the High Court under the powers of superintendence vested in it by the High Court's Act to require the Judge to make the enquiry. GREESH CHUNDER LAHOOREE v. KASHEESSURREE DEBIA, 8 W.R. 26. [R., 1 A. 101.]

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(51)—Jurisdiction of High Court—Special appeal.—Where the District Judge set aside a judgment of the Court below dismissing a suit wherein the plaintiffs had adduced no evidence whatever and there was positive unrebutted testimony on the defendant's side, the High Court, on special appeal, reversed the decision of the lower appellate Court and restored that of the Court of first instance. ANUND CHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY v. RUTNESSUR DOSS SEN, 25 W.R. 50.

(52)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 622—Order wrongly dismissing application to sue in forma pauperis, open to revision by High Court—Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889), s.4.—Where a Court, having jurisdiction to entertain an application presented to it for leave to sue in forma pauperis, declines to do so by reason of its erroneously supposing that a succession certificate, under Act VII of 1889, was necessary before it could be entertained, the case would come within the principle enunciated in 11 M. 220 (F.B.), as warranting the interference of the High Court under s. 622 of the Code of Civil Procedure. KAMATHI v. MANGAPPA, 16 M. 454. [R., 12 C.W.N. 509 = 9 C.L.J. 331; D., 22 M. 68.]

(53)—High Courts Act, s. 15—Party guilty of delay—Exercise of extraordinary powers.—The High Court will not extend assistance by the exercise of its extraordinary powers under s. 15 of the Letters Patent, to parties who are not diligent in applying for it. RADHA MOHUN ROY v. RAJ CHUNDER SHAH, 22 W.R. 522.

(54)—Civ. Pro. Code, s.622—Revision—Application by whom to be made.—It is only on the application of the party interested that the High Court should act as a Court of revision. Where a Munsif considered that a Subordinate Judge acted without jurisdiction in setting aside his orders on appeal, and brought the matter to the knowledge of the District Judge, who, taking the same view, referred the case to the High Court for the exercise of its powers under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, held that the High Court could not interfere. MAHOMED FOYEZ CHOWDRY v. GOLUCK DASS, 7 C.L.R. 191. [Expl. & D., 4 C.W.N. 695, 20 A. 72 = 2 A.L.J. 749 = 1905 A.W.N. 191.]

(55)—Charter Act, 24 & 25, Vic. c. 104, s. 15.—The High Court will not interfere, where a special appeal is forbidden and where no question of jurisdiction is involved. In the matter of the petition of LUKHYKANT BOSE, 1 C. 180. (1 A. 101, R.) [R., 9 B. 432, 9 C.W.N. 1046 = 2 C.L.J. 241, 33 C. 68.]

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(56)—High Court, extraordinary jurisdiction of—24 & 25, Vic. c. 104, s. 15.—Though there would be a strong inclination to interfere under s. 15 of 24 & 25, Vic., C. 104, whenever an erroneous decision of a lower Court is brought to the notice of the High Court, an important consideration to move it into exercising these powers is a charge of judicial misconduct in the Court below, i.e., not misconduct of a moral kind only, but an entire misconception of its duty—Per Markby. J. Some special ground, something more than a mere error of law or a wrong conclusion on evidence, must be established for the High Court to interfere under the extraordinary powers of the section—Per Mitter, J. [R., 2 C.L.J. 241.] Where a remedy lies by way of regular suit, though it may not be quite complete, the High Court is reluctant to interfere MADHUB CHUNDER GIREE v. SHAM CHAND GIREE, 3 C. 243. [R. 1 C.W.N. 617.]

(57)—Act XX of 1863, s. 5—Appointment of manager—Jurisdiction—Charter Act, s. 15.—Under s. 15 of the Charter Act, the High Court can only interfere where the Judge in the Court below either has acted without jurisdiction or has declined to accept the jurisdiction vested in him by the law. Where a District Judge entertained an application by a petitioner under s. 5 of Act XX of 1863 to be appointed manager of a religious endowment and came to the conclusion, after hearing the pleaders on both sides, that the Act did not apply to the property in dispute, held that he could not be said to have declined to accept jurisdiction. Under s. 5 of Act XX of 1863, the appointment of a manager is in the discretion of the Court. Where a Court has refused to exercise that discretion on the ground that the property was not transferred under s. 4 of Act XX of 1863 by the Local Government, the High Court would not interfere KHAJAH ASHRUF HOSSEIN v. MUSSAMAT HAZARA BEGUM, 18 W R. 396.

(58)—S. 622, 295, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882(=ss. 63, 115, present Code)—No revision in case of erroneous decisions—"Acted illegally or with material irregularity.—Per Maclean, C. J.:—The Judge may have been right or wrong in the principles upon which he rejected the claim for rateable distribution; but he certainly had jurisdiction under s. 295 Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, to divide the assets; and if, with a view to that division of assets, he has made a mistake in the principle upon which they ought to have been divided, and, through error, rejected a particular claim, such an error is one of law merely, and not subject to revision under the terms of s. 622. It is clear that, in acting as he did, he was not acting illegally or with material irregularity. (21 C. 792, R.; 11 C. 6, F.). A Court is bound to go into the question of bona fides of the decree of an applicant under s. 295. A mere mistake in law, made by the Judge below, does not bring the case within s. 622. [11 C. 6 P.C. F.; 20 C. 8, R.] Under the penultimate clause of s. 295 the applicant is without remedy. If there has been any error of law, he can still obtain all he is entitled to. This clause affords some indication of what the Legislature regarded as the proper remedy for any mistake made in the division of assets under s. 295, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, viz, a suit to recover the money, and not an application under s. 622. The inexpediency of whittling away by fanciful distinctions, the effect of decisions which, in themselves, are clear and precise, pointed out. Per Banerjee J.:—The rule of law, that an executing Court is not authorised to enquire into the validity or bona fides of the decree, is limited in its application to cases where the validity or bona fides of the decree is impugned by one of the parties to it. But where the question arises, not between the parties to the decree, but between the holder of the decree and rival decree-holders, it is not only competent to the Court, but obligatory upon it, to enquire into the bona fides of the decree, in order to see whether anything is really payable to the holder of the decree the bona fides whereof is called in question, inasmuch as s. 295 of the Civ. Pro. Code, requires the Court to see whether the applicant for rateable distribution has or has not obtained satisfaction of his decree. (11 C. 6, Explained) [R., 13 C.W.N. 835=10 C.L.J. 30.] Per Banerjee, J.:—The third clause of s. 622, viz., "acted illegally or with material irregularity," is not limited to cases of procedure only. This clause is intended to empower the High Court to interfere in non-appealable cases with orders or decisions of lower Courts, where the orders or decisions are vitiated by an error which is so gross and palpable, and has led to injustice so grave and manifest, that it is desirable that the High Court should interfere with them. RAGHUNATH GUJARATI v. RAJ CHATRAPAT SING, 1 C.W.N. 633. (11 C. 6, P.C. Expl; 8 A. 111, Diss.; 17 M. 410, Disappr.)

(59)—S. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882 (=s. 115, present Code)—Revisonal powers of High Court—Acting in the exercise of jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity.—It cannot be said that the lower appellate Court acted illegally or with material irregularity, simply because its decision as to the jurisdiction of the first Court to entertain the suit was erroneous in law; and the High Court cannot interfere. (11 C. 6, P.C., 15 C. 47, 20 C. 8, P.C., 15 C. 47, R.] Per Banerjee J.:—The scope of cl. 3, s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, is not limited merely to cases of material irregularity or procedure, for, the third clause not only refers to cases where a Court has acted with material irregularity, but also to those in which it has acted illegally. The clause is evidently intended to authorise the High Courts to interfere and correct gross and palpable errors of subordinate Courts so as to prevent grave injustice in non-appealable cases. MATHURA NATH SARKAR v. UMESH CHANDRA SARKAR, 1 C. W.N. 626. (1 C.W.N. 617, R.; 11 C, 6, P.C. Expl.; 17 M. 410, Disappr.) [F.; 1 C.W.N. 633, 2 O.C. 67; Discussed, 2 C.W.N. 474; R., 3 C.W.N. 581; 32 C. 146; D., 29 C. 33.]

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(60)—S. 18, St. 24. 25, Vic. c. 104—High Court, powers of—cl. 3, s. 622. Civ. Pro. Code. 1882—Meaning of the words "acted illegally," "acted with material irregularity".—When the error of the lower Court, if any, is nothing more than an error of law, and the party has a full remedy by a regular suit, there is no necessity for the High Court to interfere under s. 15 of the High Courts Act. S. 15, Acts 24 and 25 Vic. C. 104, gives the High Court, in general terms, power of "superintendence over all Courts which may be subject to the appellate jurisdiction." The law having advisedly and wisely left this power unlimited, it is not desirable to limit it by any hard and fast rule, and it is not every error of law that would be a ground for the exercise of this power, and a party's claim to the interference of the High Court is very much weakened when he has another remedy provided for him by law. (1 A 104, 3 C. 243, R.) The words "acting with material irregularity" in cl. 3, s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, imply only the committing of an error of procedure, but "acting illegally" does not mean the same thing. Cl. 3, s. 622, is intended to authorise the High Court to interfere and correct gross and palpable errors of subordinate Courts, so as to prevent grave injustice in non-appealable cases. The question whether any case comes under the clause has to be determined with reference to the grossness and palpableness of the error complained of, and to the gravity of the injustice resulting from it. MOHUNT BHOGWAN RAMANUJ DASS v. KHETTER MONI DASSI, 1 C.W.N. 617. (17 M. 410. Disappr; 11 C. 6, Expl.) [F., 33 C. 487 = 3 C.L.J. 293; R., 1 C.W.N. 626, 3 C.W.N. 581.]

(61)—Act XIX of 1841, (Curators), scope and object of—Jurisdiction of High Court.—The nephew of a deceased Hindu presented a petition in the Court of the Judge under Act XIX of 1841, praying that the possession of the property of the deceased might be delivered to him and merely denied in a deposition the title of the widow and asserted his own. Upon his statement, the Judge directed the widow to come in and show cause against the application which she accordingly did. A daughter of the deceased also presented a petition in opposition to the nephew's claim. In the meantime, the widow had applied for a certificate to collect debts under Act XXVII of 1860, and to this petition the daughter and the nephew appeared as objectors. The latter also filed a cross-petition for a certificate under the same Act. These three petitions—one under Act XIX of 1841, and two under Act XXVII of 1860—being all before the Court at the same time, by consent of the pleaders on both sides the Judge determined to try at once, and upon the same issues, the different questions of law arising under those two Acts. The Judge in the result disposed of the applications in favour of the nephew. On application made on behalf of the widow, a rule was granted calling upon the nephew why the order of the Judge in the Act XIX case should not be quashed as having been made without jurisdiction. It was first objected that the Judge omitted to make the preliminary enquiry necessary under s. 3 before summoning the widow, but it was held that this error of the Judge was cured by the appearance of the widow and her opposition to the application on its merits. The second and the main objection was that, even if the parties were properly before his Court, the Judge had so completely miscarried in his mode of dealing with the application as to have gone beyond his jurisdiction, and that, consequently, the order may and ought to be set aside upon this ground. Held that, as the Judge had to decide at the same time upon two questions, namely, the Act XIX case and the case for a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860, he was quite wrong in having decided the case entirely upon issues common to both the Acts: but it cannot be said that such error could give the High Court jurisdiction to interfere with an order which was final by law and from which neither appeal nor review was allowed. The Judge in this case had jurisdiction over the subject-matter and he had jurisdiction to frame the issues whether rightly or wrongly. JUSODA KOONWAR v. BABOO GOUREE BYJNATH PERSHAD, 6 W. R. Mis. 53. [F. 34 C. 929 = 12 C.W.N. 65; R. 2 N.L. R., 76, 138 P.R. 1906 = 116 P.L.R. 1908.]

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(62)—Appellate jurisdiction of High Court—Act VIII of 1859—Act XXIII of 1861. s. 11—Charter Act s. 15.—The High Court cannot admit an appeal which the law (Act VIII of 1859 and s. 11 of Act XXIII of 1861) does not allow. S. 15 of the Charter Act is not applicable to the question. GOBIND NATH SANDYAL v. RAM COOMAR GHOSE, 9 W.R. 115.

(63)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act VIII of 1859, ss. 129, 363—Rejection of document—No appeal from order—Interference by High Court—Letters Patent, s. 15.—As s. 363, Act VIII of 1859 barred an appeal from an order rejecting a document passed under s. 129 of the Code, the High Court refused to interfere with the order under s. 15, Letters Patent. H. C. ERSKINE, In the matter of, 18 W.R. 511.

(64)—St. 24 and 25 Vic., c. 104, s. 15—High Court—Powers of supervision—Jurisdiction.—Where a decision passed by a Court is expressly declared by law not to be subject to appeal, the High Court cannot interfere in the matter in the exercise of any powers under s. 15 of St. 24 and 25 Vic., C. 104. SHAIKH BABUR ALI v. GOKHUL LALL, 24 W.R. 62.

(65)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, ss. 170, 246—Special appeal—Absence of summoned witness—Charter Act, 24 & 25 Vic., C. 104, s. 15.—The petitioner was a party to a certain proceeding instituted under the provisions of s. 246, Act VIII of 1859. He was summoned to give evidence personally in these proceedings but did not attend and the Court, considering that he had failed to comply with the order without lawful excuse, decided the matter before it with reference to the provisions of s. 170, Civ. Pro. Code, adversely to the petitioner. The petitioner tried to get the High Court to admit an appeal under the provisions of s. 15, Act 24 & 25 Vic., on the ground that the order was passed on no legal evidence. Held that as no appeal lay from an order under s 246, the petition could not be allowed, as it would amount to a special appeal. In the matter of DHUNPUT SINGH v. INDUR CHUNDER DOOGUR, 13 W.R. 121.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(66)—Application for review – Special appeal. —An appeal which has been preferred to the Judge was withdrawn the next day through another pleader. Subsequently an application was made to the Judge to have the appeal restored to the file, on the ground that the second pleader had no authority from his client to withdraw the appeal. The Judge refused to interfere. Held that the order was one passed on an application for review of the former order and therefore no special appeal lay from the second order. Further, as the only ground upon which the Judge was asked to proceed was a petition from the appellant said to have been sent to her vakil by post; the Judge could not be directed to take any further action in the matter. MADHOMUTTY DEBIA v. DHUNPUT SINGH, 13 W.R. 167

(67)—Order exempting a defendant from liability—Excess of jurisdiction—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 35—High Courts Act (St. 24 & 25 Vic., c. 104), s. 15—Error of law—Jurisdiction.—An order made in appeal by a Zillah Court in a case in which no special appeal lies, exempting a particular defendant from liability, even though erroneous, cannot be called an act done, or order made, without jurisdiction, and s. 35, Act XXIII of 1861, does not apply to such a case. [F., 12 W.R. 129]. Although the High Court is competent, under s. 15 of the High Court's Act (24 & 25 Vic., c. 104) to require the inferior Courts to exercise a jurisdiction which they possess, and which they have declined to exercise, or to set aside anything which has been done plainly without jurisdiction, that section will not enable the High Court, by way of motion, to deal with an order made by a lower appellate Court in cases where it has jurisdiction, and the law expressly declares that its order shall be final. SHOWDAMINEE DOSSEE v. MANICK RAM CHOWDHRY, 9 W. R. 386. [R., 1 A. 101, 7 B. 341.]

(68)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—Charter Act, s. 15—Extraordinary powers of High Court in cases where no special appeal lies.—In a case in which a special appeal is forbidden by s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861, the High Court, on allowing the objection against the admission of special appeal and on being asked to treat the petition of special appeal as if it were an application to the Court to exercise its extraordinary powers, and to quash the order of the Judge on the ground that it was made without jurisdiction, the High Court ought simply to reject the appeal without prejudice to the appellant's rights to make an application at some future time in proper form to have the Judges order quashed. SOONUT DASS v. BHOBAN LALL, 20 W. R. 478.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(69)—Charter Act, s. 15—Improper exercise of jurisdiction—Wrong view of law - High Court's interference.—The High Court will only interfere under s. 15 of the Charter Act when it is shown that a lower Court has either declined jurisdiction or has improperly exercised jurisdiction, and not when it is wrong in its view of law, but did not refuse jurisdiction. ISUR CHUNDER PODDAR v. SHOSHEE DHUR SEN, 18 W. R. 289.

(70)—Two decrees of different Courts against same person—Execution of one decree—Application for stay by holder of other decree—Jurisdiction—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 272—Letters Patent, s. 15.—Certain properties of M having been attached in execution of a decree obtained against him by W in the Sudder Ameen's Court, J who held a decree of the Principal Sudder Ameen's Court against the same judgment-debtor, applied to the Court of Sudder Ameen for stay of its proceedings, on the allegation that W's decree had been obtained by fraud. The Sudder Ameen rejected the application, and an appeal to the Judge was also dismissed on the ground that there was no fraud. Held that under s. 272 of Act VIII of 1859, J should have in the first instance applied direct to the Court which gave him the decree. Per Hobhouse, J.—The judgment of the lower appellate Court was on the face of it a good judgment for a reason given, and under a jurisdiction which, so far as the appellant's case was concerned, the Judge must be supposed to have had, and the High Court should, therefore, decline to exercise its extraordinary jurisdiction under s. 15 of its Charter. JUMAL ALI v. SHAIKH WAHED ALI, 11 W.R. 97.

(71)—Charter Act, 24 and 25 Vic., c. 104, s. 15—High Court's powers of superintendence. —The uniform practice of the High Court has not been to interfere, in exercise of the powers of superintendence under s. 15, Charter Act, except in cases in which the lower Court was not competent to deal with the subject-matter or had improperly declined jurisdiction. It is no ground for the High Court to interfere with the order of any of the Courts inferior to it by way of motion that that Court has put an erroneous interpretation upon a provision of law. In the matter of the petition of KASINATH ROY CHOWDHRY, 7 B. L. R. 146. Note = 11 W. R. 402. [R., 7 B.L.R 144, 18 W.R. 239, 18 W.R. 511, 1 A. 101, F.B.]

(72)—Act XVII of 1873—Execution sale of property under enquiry—Refusal to confirm sale—High Court's interference--High Courts Act, s. 15. —At the time of the sale of certain immoveable property in execution of decrees against Ameer Sahib (of Moorshidabad) the right, title and interest of the property sold was under enquiry by the Commissioners appointed under Act XVII of 1873 as to whether it belonged absolutely to the Nawab Nazim, or was held by the

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

Government of India for the purpose of upholding the dignity of the Nawab Nazim for the time being, and the President of the Commission addressed a letter to the Governor-General's Agent which letter was communicated to the executing Court and intimation was given at the time of sale that whoever purchased the property in question would purchase an empty title. After the sale, the Commissioners came to an actual finding under s. 12 of the Act, declaring the property to be held by the Government of India, and stating their opinion that the Nawab Nazim had no right of alienation and could not delegate such power to anybody else. In consequence, the Court which held the sale refused to confirm it. The High Court held that it was so manifestly right and proper in the interests of all parties to withhold confirmation of sale that it was unnecessary to enquire whether the order of the lower Court was in strict conformity with the law or not, and that this was not a matter which the High Court can interfere with under s. 15 of the High Courts Act. KALEE MOHUN SIRCAR v. HUMAYOON KADER MAHOMED ALI MIRZA, 24 W.R. 311.

(73)—Review—Irregularity in granting review — Jurisdiction — 24 and 25 Vic., cap. 104, s. 15 — High Court's power of interference.— Two concurrent suits having been disposed of by the lower appellate Court in a manner adverse to the claim of the plaintiff, he appealed to the High Court in one of the cases only, having been precluded from doing so in the other, as its value was below 500 rupees. The High Court reversed the decision of the Judge who, thereupon, with a view to correct what had become a manifest error in the other case, granted a review after 90 days had elapsed and without recording his reasons. Held that the Judge's failure to comply with all the provisions of the law did not make his act one without jurisdiction, and looking to the peculiar circumstances of the case, it did not call for the High Court's interference under s. 15 of the Charter Act. ASRAFANNISSA BEGAM v. SYAD INAET HOSSEIN, 5 B. L. R. 316 = 13 W. R. 439. [R., 14 W. R. 212, 1 A. 101.]

(74)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, ss. 256, 257—Application for cancellation of sale—Sale in execution—Grounds for setting aside—Appeal. —Where an application for cancellation of sale does not specifically mention the grounds referred to in ss. 256 and 257 of the Civ. Pro. Code, and such application is treated by the lower Court as one to cancel the sale on the ground of material irregularity leading to substantial injury, the High Court sitting as a Court exercising extraordinary jurisdiction, cannct consider that the jurisdiction of the lower Court was taken away because of such omission. The finding of the lower Court on the two points which are required to be proved for setting aside a sale, viz. material irregularity and substantial injury arising therefrom, is final, and the High Court cannot, therefore, go behind that finding and upon the record find any facts other than those which the lower Court had found. SOOKOOMAR SINGH v. KASHEE SINGH, 13 W. R. 250.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(75)—Exercise of jurisdiction—Application for execution.—In proceeding, on an application for execution of decree, to try the question of limitation by seeing whether, under the law, there was any effectual proceeding taken by the decree-holder in furtherance of the execution of his decree to keep it alive, a Court has not refused jurisdiction in the matter, but has exercised it. In the matter of KALEE PERSAUD CHOWDHRY v. RAM SOONDUR SIRCAR, 12 W. R. 129. (9 W.R. 386, F.)

(76) High Court—Error on facts—No question of jurisdiction—No interference by High Court.—Where a Court has jurisdiction to try a case, and has tried it, the High Court will not interfere with the decision of the lower Court merely because that there is error apparent in the decision on the facts. Petition of PEAREELAL SAHOO, 7 W.R. 130. [R., 1 A. 101.]

(77)—Charter Act, s. 15—Extraordinary powers of High Court—Jurisdiction.—It is only in cases where the lower appellate Court has exercised jurisdiction where it has none by law, or has refused to exercise jurisdiction when it clearly has, that the High Court can interfere under s. 15 of the Charter Act. But in cases in which no appeal lies to it, it cannot interfere under that section with the decision of the lower appellate Court, even if it is worng in law or has proceeded upon a misconception of the facts of the case. KALEE HUR DOSS v. ROODRESSUR CHUCKERBUTTY, 15 W. R. 90. [R., 1 A. 101, 13 C.W.N. 605.]

(78) Charter Act, s. 15—Powers of High Court under.— An order which, if right, would be admittedly passed with jurisdiction cannot be said to be made without jurisdiction, when wrong. Under s. 15 of the Charter Act, the High Court will not interfere except in cases where there is a refusal to exercise jurisdiction properly given, or where there is an improper exercise of jurisdiction. KHOWAZ RAM BUX SINGH v. BISHENDHAREE GEER, 23 W.R. 402. [R., 1 A. 101.]

(79)—Act VIII of 1869 (B.C.)—Attachment—Claim—Postponement of sale—Security not taken—Jurisdiction—High Courts Act s. 15—Revision.—Where, in a case under Act VIII of 1996 (B.C.) a claim is preferred in respect of property attached, and the Court postpones the sale without taking security or having the decree amount deposited, it is an erroneous proceeding in a case in which the Court has jurisdiction and is exercising it, and the High Court has no jurisdiction under s. 15 of the High Courts Act to interfere and set the decision aside. In the matter of J. G. BAGRAM, 20 W. R. 10. [R., 22 W.R. 277, 1 A. 101, 19 C. 544, F.B.]

(80) St. 24 and 25 Vict., c. 104, s. 15—Power of High Court—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 206, 363 —Refusal of party to attend as witness.—The High Court refused to interfere, in the exercise of its general powers of superintendence, with an order of a lower Court which, though apparently arbitrary and indiscreet, that Court was authorized by law to make. In the matter of the petition of JANKEE BULLUB SEN, 3 B. L.R. Sup. Vol. 716, F.B.=7 W.R. 519. [R., 1 A. 101, F.B., 23 C. 610; Expl., 12 W.R. 406.]

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(81)—Jurisdiction—Miscellaneous appeal—High Court's powers.—Where, in execution of the decree of a Court of Small Causes against immoveable property belonging to the judgment-debtor, the property was attached and sold by the Zillah Court, but the Judge refused to confirm the order of sale, held that the decision of the Judge was upon a matter entirely within his own jurisdiction and upon which there was no appeal. When the Courts below exceed their jurisdiction or refuse to exercise it, the High Court can interfere, but it cannot do so (except by way of appeal), on the sole ground that the lower Court's decision has been erroneous on a point of law. In the matter of the petition of DURGA CHARAN SIRKAR, 2 B. L R.A.C. 165=11 W.R. 23. [F., 18 W.R. 289, 1 A. 101, F.B.; R., 11 W.R. 402, 23 W.R. 402.]

(82)—Application for certificate of representation—Inquiry into genuineness of alleged will—Proceedings under ss. 170 and 171, Crim. Pro. Code—Discretion of Court—Interference by High Court.—The widow of S applied for a certificate of representation. Her application having been opposed by one K who produced what he alleged to be a will of S giving him certain powers over the estate, the Judge ordered that a certificate should be granted to K. The widow subsequently petitioned to the Judge to examine her witnesses and to make further inquiry into the genuineness of the will, and the Judge, after examining one of her witnesses, considered that there were sufficient grounds for investigating the charge of forgery and directed that K should be sent to the Magistrate. Held that, though the Judge did not properly exercise his discretion in making the order directing that K should be sent to the Magistrate, the High Court had no authority to interfere with the order, as it was made with jurisdiction. Under s. 171, Crim. Pro. Code, a party to civil proceedings if he desires to proceed against the opposite party in the way of instituting a charge of an offence under any of the sections therein enumerated, may apply to the Court for its sanction to such proceedings, and the Court may thereupon give or refuse its sanction. The initiative is taken by the party interested and the Court takes no part in it except in the way of giving or withholding its sanction. But s. 170 contemplates cases in which the Court itself, for sufficient reason, takes the initiative, and it does so when, in the course of any proceeding, it clearly and distinctly appears that some of the parties are guilty of the offences previously specified, and for some reason or other the duty of prosecuting devolves on the Court. The Court should not proceed in the manner there described except where the propriety or necessity of doing so in unmistakable. In the matter of KOONJ BEHARE GHUR, 11 W.R. 171.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(83)—St. 24 and 25 Vic., c. 104, s. 15—Superintendence—Jurisdiction of High Court—Execution of decree.—In execution of a decree, the only parties that are before the Court, and over whom the Court has jurisdiction, are primarily the judgment-creditor and the judgment-debtor; and if any third party wishes to intervene and to have any rights of his decided in reference to the property disposed of as between the judgment-creditor and the judgment-debtor, he can come in only under certain conditions or specific provisions of law When a claimant can only be allowed to come in under certain provisions of law, a person who appears on behalf of that claimant, must show that he has a right to be heard. Where a claim was disallowed to certain property attached in execution of a decree, and the property was sold and after satisfaction of the decree, it was ordered that the surplus proceeds should be rateably distributed among the judgment-creditors who had subsequently attached, held that the Principal Sudder Amin had no jurisdiction to make another order setting aside the previous order for distribution, so far as it affected some of the creditors, on the application of the unsuccessful claimant again preferring his claim to the property. The High Court could, therefore, interfere to set it aside under its general power of superintendence. Excepting in some special cases of obvious and gross illegality, the High Court cannot be called upon to exercise the extraordinary powers given to it by s. 15 of the Charter Act, as if they were ordinary powers of appeal. In re MAHARAJADHIRAJ MAHATAP CHAND BAHADUR, 2 B.L.R.A.C. 217=11 W.R. 54. [R., 1 A. 101, F.B.]

(84)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 622—Final judgment of competent Court—Superintendence of the High Court.—A decision of a competent Court, whether right or wrong, which by law is final and without appeal, when the Court has not acted, in the exercise of its jurisdiction, illegally or with material irregularity, cannot be set aside under s. 622 of the Civ. Pro. Code. MUHAMMED YUSUF KHAN v. ABDUL RAHMAN KHAN, 16 C. 749=16 I. A. 104, P.C.=5 Sar. 362. [F., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 548; Cons., 1 C.W.N. 617; R., 13 A. 533, 17 M. 410 F.B., 2 O.C. 67, 27 M. 504, 25 A. 509=23 A.W.N. 104.]

(85)—Interference by High Court in special appeal — Conditions. — The High Court will always refuse to interfere with the appellate judgment of a lower Court, unless it commits some error of law or is under some misapprehension of law. NOOR ALI MIAN KHONDKAR v. ASHANULLAH, 11 C. 608.

(86)—Order refusing to rectify decree—Appeal—Powers of High Court.—The general powers of the High Court are not sufficiently extensive to enable it to hear an appeal against an order of a Zillah Judge refusing to rectify a decree under which the appellant was unable to pay certain costs. MAHOMED BUSHEEROOLLAH CHOWDHRY v. RAMKANT CHOWDHRY, 9 W. R. 394. [R., 1 A. 101.]

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(87)—High Court—Irregular proceedings of lower Courts—Separate remedy open to party affected—Interference by High Court—Charter Act, s. 15.—Where an order of the lower Court is tainted with irregularity, without causing failure of justice, and there is a separate remedy open to the party affected by the order, the High Court would not interfere under the Charter Act, s. 15. BISHNO CHUNDER BHATTACHARJEE v. SHOSHEE MOHUN PAL CHOWDHRY, 22 W.R. 277.

(88)—Charter Act, s. 15—Regular suit available.—Where there is a remedy by a regular suit, the High Court cannot interfere by the exercise of its extraordinary powers under s. 15 of the Charter Act. In the matter of the petition of A. B. MILLER, 4 B.L.R.A.C. 72, Note=12 W.R. 103.

(89)—Mortgage decree—Decree directing sale of all mortgaged properties—Discretion to bring to sale one of the properties—Charter Act, s. 15—Extraordinary powers of High Court—Existence of remedy by regular suit.—Where a person obtains a decree enabling him to recover the mortgage-debt by sale of the two mortgaged premises, he is in law entitled to proceed against both or either of those properties as he thinks proper. Where there is a remedy by a regular suit, the High Court cannot interfere by the exercise of its extraordinary powers under s. 15 of the Charter Act. KHORSHED ALI v. CHOWDHRY WAHID ALI, 15 W.R. 170. [R., 1 A. 101.]

(90)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 246—Attachment—Claim—Possession—High Courts Act, s. 15—Remedy by regular suit.—Where a person prefers a claim to property attached alleging that he had purchased it from the judgment-debtor before the attachment, the Court is bound under Act VIII of 1859, s. 246, to enquire into the question whether the property was purchased by the claimant benamee for the judgment-debtor or not, and whether the property is or is not in the possession of the party against whom the execution is sought or of some other person in trust for him. It is only in cases where there is no remedy that the High Court ought to interfere under the special provisions of the Charter Act, and not where the complainant has a remedy by a regular suit. HUREEHUR MOOKERJEE v. NOBIN CHUNDER DOSS, 20 W.R. 202. [R., 1 A. 101.]

(91)—Reg. II of 1827, s. 5—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 270, 271—Interference in exercise of High Court's extraordinary jurisdiction.—Where the matter in dispute is between rival decree-holders and not arising between the parties to the suit, the High Court will not exercise its extraordinary jurisdiction, for the party affected can bring a regular suit against the others. MAHASHANKAR HARISHANKAR v. VALIBHAI UMANJI, 6 B.H.C A.C. 174.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(92)—Rival decree-holders—Execution of decree—Charter Act, s. 15—Discretion of High Court.—A, a decree-holder, allowed B, another decree-holder, to obtain a decree in a regular suit entitling him to follow the disputed property in execution of his decree and had nothing in the way of moving the Court by a regular suit to make the property liable for his decree. Further, he allowed another decree-holder to apply for attachment and sale of the suit properties, in execution of his decree. A's application for attachment and sale having been rejected, he applied to the High Court under s. 15 of the Charter Act after the expiry of 90 days. Held, that this was not a case in which the High Court could exercise the extraordinary powers vested in them under the above section and that the applicant should seek his remedy only in a regular suit. In the matter of KALEE KISHORE SEN v. J.P. WISE, 17 W.R. 477.

(93)—Sale of moveable property in execution—Order setting aside sale—Power of High Court to interfere—Procedure.—In the case of a sale of moveable property in execution of a decree, the Court has no authority to enquire into any objections raised to the sale by the judgment-debtor. If there had been any irregularities in the sale-proceedings, the remedy is an action for damages. Had there been fraud, such fraud might constitute a cause of action to set aside the sale by separate suit, but does not give the Court any jurisdiction to interfere summarily with the sale. There is no appeal provided for in such cases by the law, and the High Court has no power to interfere with the order of the lower Court setting aside the sale and to put matters right, even though the lower Court has acted wholly without jurisdiction and has done injury to a bona fide purchaser. DA COSTA v. HALL, 5 W.R. Mis. 25. [F., 7 W.R. 277; Cons. and doubted, 8 W.R. 109; D., 11 W.R. 511; Expl. and D., 12 W.R. 406; Expl., 14 W.R. 9.]

(94)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 269—Resistance or obstruction to delivery of possession—Order made without jurisdiction—Charter Act, s. 15—High Court's interference.—The High Court refused to interfere under s. 15 of the Charter Act with an order lawfully made by a Judge under s. 269 of Act VIII of 1859, upon a complaint of resistance or obstruction to the delivery of possession under s. 264 of the Act, and stated that it would not have interfered even though the order was one made without jurisdiction, after the delay, that had taken place, the petitioners having a remedy by regular suit to establish his right. MUSSAMUT JUHOORUN BEGUM v. SYUDMAHOMEDWAJED.—18 W.R. 87. [R. 33, C. 487=3 C.L.J. 293.]

(95)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 622. s. 103 (=O. IX, r. 9), s. 283 (=O. XXI, r. 63), s 278 (=O. XXI, r 58), s 647 (=s 141, new Code) —Objection under s. 278—Striking off for default—Remedy—Revisional power of High Court — Presumption as to jurisdiction—

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

Revisional Powers of High Court—When can be exercised.—Where an objection under s. 278, Civ. Pro. Code, entertained and adjourned by an Additional Subordinate Judge, subsequently somehow came before the Sub-Judge who struck off the case for default; and where neither the order of transfer of the case to the Sub-Judge under s. 25 of the Code was on the record, nor was it otherwise shown how he obtained jurisdiction to deal with the objection; held that the High Court should not interfere in revision and that the proper remedy for the petitioner was an application under s. 103 read with s. 647, or a suit under s. 283. [Appl., 15 A. 405 =13 A.W.N. 172.] Held also, in the same case, on the principle omnia præsumuntur rite et solemniter esse acta, that the High Court should not presume that the subordinate Court had acted without jurisdiction. The special and extraordinary remedy by invoking the revisional powers of the High Court should not be exercised, unless as a last resource for an aggrieved litigant. SHEO PRASAD SINGH v. KASTURA KUAR, 10 A. 119 = A.W.N. 1888, 26. [R., 12 O.C. 109, 30 A. 331=5 A.L.J. 297 = A.W.N. 1908, 142.]

(96)—High Court's powers of supervision—Act XIV of 1859, s. 15—24 and 25 Vict., c. 104, s. 15.—A party dissatisfied with a legitimate finding under s. 15 of Act XIV of 1859 has no remedy by way of appeal or review, but has only a special remedy by the institution of a suit in the Civil Court. He cannot invoke the interference of the High Court under s. 15 of the Charter Act (24 and 25 Vict., c. 104, s. 15), except in cases where the Judge has exercised a jurisdiction which he has not, or has refused to exercise a jurisdiction which he has. DOORGA SOONDUREE DEBIA v. KASHEE KANT CHUCKERBUTTY, 14 W.R. 212. [F., 1 A. 101.]

(97)—Civ. Pro. Code, Act VIII of 1859, s 351—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 35—Remand by lower appellate Court—Application to High Court to set aside such order whether maintainable.—A mortgagee having foreclosed the mortgage, sued the representatives of the original mortgagor for possession of the property mortgaged. The Court of first instance decreed his claim. The lower appellate Court remanded the case for re-trial. Against this order the plaintiff presented a miscellaneous application to the High Court. Held that as it was competent to the petitioner to have presented an appeal from the order of the Judge remanding the suit, the High Court had no power under s. 35, Act XXIII of 1861, to entertain a miscellaneous application to set aside the Judge's order. MEER TUKEE ALI v. MEER SAADAT ALI, 5 N.W.P. 14.

(98)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 588 (cl. 6), and 622—Appeal—Power of High Court to revise.—In execution of an ex parte decree, a tenure was sold in Court-auction. The judgment-debtor made an application to set aside the ex parte decree and the decree was set aside. The decree-holder applied under s. 622 of Civ. Pro. Code, to set aside the order of the lower Court. Held that the High Court ought not to interfere under s. 622 inasmuch as an appeal lay from the order. RAM KRISTO ROY v. NAIK TARA DASS, 12 C.L.R. 449. [D., 8 C.L.J. 43=11 C.W.N. 112.]

(99)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 622—Object of section—Interlocutory orders—Interference by High Court.—The purpose with which s. 622 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, was framed was to enable a party to a suit to get a decision or order of a lower Court rectified by the High Court when there would otherwise be no remedy. So, interlocutory orders against which no immediate appeal lies, but in respect of which a remedy is supplied by s. 591 which provides that the order may be made a ground of objection in the appeal against the final decree, cannot be interfered with by the High Court under s. 622. MOTILAL KASHIBHAI v. NANA, 18 B. 35. [F., 19 A.W.N. 210, 30 M. 230=17 M.L.J. 79=2 M.L.T. 88, 12 O.C. 405; Appl., 1 S.L.R. 120, 11 O.C. 238; R., 22 P.L.R. 1900, 140 P.L.R. 1904=14 P.R. 1904, 2 S.L.R. 22.]

(100)—Transfer of execution proceedings from one Court to another—Discretion of Judge so transferring—Interference by High Court—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 622.—Where a Judge, in the exercise of his discretion, transfers execution proceedings under a decree from one Court to another, the High Court will not, except under circumstances of a very special nature, interfere with such discretion under s. 622 of the Civ. Pro. Code. KRISHNA VELJI MARWADI v. BHAN MANSARAM, 18 B. 61=P.J. 1893, 258. [R., U.B.R. 1905, 3rd Qr., Civ. Pro. Code, p. 28.]

(101)—Decision of Special Judge on questions of fact—Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879, Bombay)—Interference by High Court—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 622.—Where, under the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act (XVII of 1879, Bombay), the Special Judge entertains a clear opinion that the findings of the Court of first instance on questions of fact are erroneous, and exercises his discretion in setting aside the decree on that ground, the High Court will not, in the exercise of its extraordinary jurisdiction under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, interfere with that discretion except under most exceptional circumstances. RAYACHAND MAYACHAND v. SULTAN RAHIMBHAI, 18 B 347. [R., 19 B 286.]

(102)—Petition to High Court—Allegations in affidavit—Powers of High Court.—The High Court will refuse to exercise their extraordinary powers as regards a finding of the lower Court that a summons had not been served, where the petitioner (who disputes the finding) omits to allege in the affidavit that the summons was served. In the matter of BIDDYABUTTEE DOSSEA, 14 W.R. 8.

(103)—Execution sale—Cancellation of—Irregularity—Jurisdiction.— Where an execution

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

sale of an estate in the towjee of Nuddea was confirmed, fifteen mouzahs of which were in the 24 Pergunnahs, the question as to how far those mouzahs were conveyed to, or a valid title to them was created in favour of the purchaser, was held to be one which must be raised between him and the judgment-debtor in a place other than the High Court, and that the High Court should not set aside the sale upon this ground in exercise of their powers of superintendence. It is not because an estate has been sold at auction for less than its market value that the judgment-debtor is entitled to have the sale set aside, and the property put up for sale again. He must show that such inadequate price has been directly and presumably the result of the irregularity in the sale of which he complains. HUBEEBOOL HOSSEIN v. MR. W. O. ALLENDER, MANAGER, ON BEHALF OF THE LAND MORTGAGE BANK, 14 W.R. 44.

(104)—Execution—Rejection of security offered for stay of proceedings — Interference of High Court under s. 15 of its Charter—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, ss. 209, 221.—S. 15 of the Charter Act does not justify the High Court in interfering with an order of a Court rejecting, as insufficient, the security offered by a judgment-debtor for staying proceedings in execution till a suit brought by him against the judgment-creditor is decided. The most obvious course in such a case is that suggested by the latter part of s. 209, Civ. Pro. Code, which directs, that "whenever a suit shall be pending in any Civil Court, against the holder of a decree of such Court by the person or persons against whom the decree was passed, the Court may, if it appear just and reasonable to do so, stay execution of the decree either absolutely or on such terms as it may think just until a decree should be passed in the pending suit." Under s. 221, Civ. Pro. Code (of 1859), also, a Court executing a decree has the power, in every step in execution, of staying the proceedings before going further. JODOO MONEE DOSSEE, Petitioner, 11 W.R. 494. [R., 28 C. 734.]

(105)—First Court's order to make up stamp deficiency—High Court's powers to interfere in revision.—The High Court has no power to interfere, under its revisional powers, with an order passed by the Court of first instance to make up the deficiency of stamp. In the matter of OMRAO MIRZA v. MARY JONES, 12 C.L.R. 148. [Diss., 14 C. 768; F., 170 P. L.R. 1903; Rel. on, 14 C.W.N. 343; R., P.L. R. 1900, p. 22.]

(106)—Bengal Act VIII of 1869, s. 102—Suit for rent—24 and 25, Vict., c. 104, s. 15—Superintendence of High Court.—A suit for arrears of rent, decreed by the first Court, was dismissed by the lower appellate Court, on the ground that the plaintiff, being only a sharer, could not sue separately for her portion of rent. A special appeal was preferred. Held that the judgment and not the decree was to be looked at in applying s. 102 of Act VIII of 1869 (B.C.). The judgment showed that a question of title was not even considered and the decree in general could not be considered to have determined it. No appeal, therefore, lay under that section. [R., 25 W.R. 153.] The powers conferred by the 15th section of 24 and 25 Vict., c. 104, ought not to be exercised in such a way as to indirectly do what the law forbids to be done directly. Where the lower appellate Court having jurisdiction has only erred in the exercise of it, and no appeal is allowed by law, the High Court is not at liberty to exercise its superintending power under Charter Act. KARIM SHEIKH v. MUKHODA SOONDERY DASSEE, 15 B.L.R. 111=23 W.R. 268. [R., 1 C. 180=24 W.R. 440.]

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(107)—Act X of 1859, s. 159—Collector's judgment in appeal—Finality—High Court's Act, s. 15—Superintendence of High Court over Collector's Court.—Under s. 159, Act X of 1859, the Collector's order in appeal is final whether his decision was one passed on the merits of the case or disposing of the appeal on preliminary objections. The words of s. 15 of the High Courts's Act (24 and 25 Vic., c. 104), which gives the High Court the power of superintendence over all Courts subject to its appellate jurisdiction, refer to the general appellate jurisdiction of the Court and not to particular cases in which that jurisdiction is extraordinarily exercised, or to a superintendence which is placed by a distinct law in the Commissioners and the Board of Revenue. Therefore, the superintendence of the High Court does not extend over a Collector's Court. HURO MOHUN MOOKERJEE v. KEDARNATH DOSS, 5 W.R. Act X, Rul. 25. [N.F., 15 C. W.N. 863=14 C.L.J. 284.]

(108)—Appeal before Collector without objection by respondent—Application for revision of Collector's order—Jurisdiction—High Court—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 35—s. 15, Charter Act.—The applicant in this case who was respondent in the Collector's Court allowed the appeal to be heard without objection. He then asked the High Court to exercise the general powers of superintendence vested in it by s. 35 of Act XXIII of 1861, and s. 15 of Act 24 and 25, Vic., cap. 104, and to set aside the proceedings before the Collector as being without jurisdiction. Held that the fact that he had allowed the appeal to go on without, in any way objecting to the jurisdiction of the Collector was sufficient to prevent him from moving the High Court to exercise its extraordinary powers of relief in his favour by setting aside proceedings of which he was willing enough to avail himself so long as there was a chance of their turning out to his own advantage; and the High Court therefore declined to interfere. DROBO MOYEE DABEE v. BIPIN MUNDUL, 10 W.R. 6. [Diss., 13 B. 650; Appl., 126 P.R. 1906; R., 14 A. 413, 33 C. 352, F.B.=2 C.L.J. 259=9 C.W.N. 1065, 38 C. 832=15 C.W.N. 863=14 C.L.J. 284=11 Ind. Cas. 207; D., 14 W.R. 254.]

(109)—Letters Patent, s. 15.—High Court's powers—Jurisdiction—Act X of 1859, ss. 109, 153.—A tenure having been sold for arrears of rent, the Collector ordered delivery of possession to the purchaser, but on discovering subsequently, on the motion of an objector, that the same tenure had been already sold for arrears due on it, the Collector re-called his order. As it was doubtful whether the Collector had or had not the power to review an order passed in execution, and with reference to the equity of the case being in favour of the order for recall, held, that it would not be a proper exercise of the powers vssted in the Court by s. 15, Letters Patent, to interfere with the last order. NARAYANI DAYI DEBI v. CHANDI CHARAN CHOWDHRY, 3 B.L.R. App. 65 = 11W.R. 512.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(110)—Order in execution passed by Collector—Appeal—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 35—Legality of Collector's order whether can be looked into by High Court on appeal.—In this appeal from an order of a Judge reversing a sale for arrears of rent under Act X of 1859, on the ground of irregularity producing substantial damage to the judgment-debtor, the appellant contended that the Judge had no jurisdiction, the Collector's order being one passed after decree, and relating to the execution thereof, and the High Court decided that, under the circumstances, the Judge had no jurisdiction to take up the appeal. The respondent, however, argued, that, granting the Judge's want of jurisdiction, the High Court was bound, under s. 35, Act XXIII of 1861, not only to annul the illegal order of the Judge, but to pass such other order in the case itself as may seem just and proper, and urged that the order of the Collector was altogether illegal and improper. The High Court, however, held that the powers given to it by s. 35 of Act XXIII of 1861 did not permit the looking into the legality or otherwise of the Collector's orders regarding the sale, as judgment-debtor had not preferred his appeal in the first instance to the Commissioner, to whom the party should have appealed, in the first place under s. 35 of the Act. SIRDAR GOLAB SINGH v. RAM BUDDUN SINGH, 4 W.R. Act X, Rul. 28 = 1 Ind. Jur. N. S. 1.

(111)—Suit in Mamlatdar's Court—Erroneous procedure of Mamlatdar, High Court—Revision.—The procedure of the Mamlatdar in this case in having referred for authority to a circular of the Executive Government was irregular, as, in the exercise of judicial functions, he was bound to be governed by the law as he understood it, or as it had been expounded by superior judicial authority, and not as it was expounded by unjudicial persons. But the mere fact of the Mamlatdar having fallen into such formal error cannot make it a case fit for the invoking of the interference of the High Court by way of exercising its extraordinary jurisdiction so as to upset the irregular order of the Mamlatdar. NANA BAYAJI v. PANDURANG VASUDEV, 9 B. 97. [R., 13 B., 552; 17 B. 645; D., 10 B. 78.]

(112)—Act VIII (B C.) of 1869, s. 102—Suit for rent—Title—Second appeal—Civ. Pro. Code,

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

Act X of 1877, s. 622.—Two persons were contesting with one another as to who was rightfully entitled to the property in which the defendants had tenures, and both of them brought rent suits against the tenants. These rent suits came first before the Subordinate Judge and afterwards before the District Judge. Subsequent to the institution of those rent suits, the plaintiff in one of them sued the plaintiff in another to establish his title, and while that suit was pending, the District Judge allowed the rent suits to stand over, thinking he might decide them in accordance with the decision which might be arrived at in the title suit. The title suit having been decided against the plaintiff, the Judge dismissed his rent suits against the tenants. Held, on appeal, that no question of title could be said to have been decided in such rent-suits and that consequently, no second appeal would lie. Under the circumstances, there was no ground for the interference of the High Court under s. 622 of the Civ. Pro. Code. DURGA NARAIN MISSER v. GOBURDHAN GHOSE, 9 C. L. R. 86.

(113)—High Court—Powers of superintendence—Per Seton-Karr and Jackson, JJ. (Norman J., dissenting).—The High Court is not competent, either under s. 15 of the Charter Act or under s. 16 of the Letters Patent, to interfere, as a superintending Court, in a case where an old decree, passed at a time when the Collector was not under the jurisdiction of the late Sudder Court, is being executed. GOPAL SING v. THE COURT OF WARDS, 7 W. R. 430.

(114)—Decision of Small Cause Court without jurisdiction—High Court competent to interfere, only on reference under s. 22 of Act XI of 1865.—This was an application to the High Court to call for the record of a case decided in a Court of Small Causes, on the ground that the Small Cause Court acted without jurisdiction and that the High Court should set aside those proceedings under the provisions of s. 35 of Act XXIII of 1861. The law having provided a certain procedure by which a party may move the Small Cause Court to bring the matter to the notice of the High Court, namely, by stating a case and referring to the High Court for an opinion and orders under s. 22 of Act XI of 1865, and the petitioner not having followed such course open to him under the law, the High Court declined to interfere. MESSRS. R. E. BELL AND CAMRBELL v. THAKOOR DOSS GOSSAN, 6 W.R. Mis. 26.

(115)—Suit of Small Cause nature—Jurisdiction—S. 15 of High Court's Charter.—Where in a case of a Small Cause Court nature, to recover the value of the produce or certain lands alleged to have been illegally cut and carried away by the defendants, the lower appellate Court found upon the real issues between the parties that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the money he claimed, held the mere fact that the lower Court had no jurisdiction to determine a part of the dispute, viz., whether the land whose produce was carried away was or was not in British territory, was not a sufficient ground for the exercise of the extraordinary powers of the High Court under s. 15 of its Charter. BHYRUL SINGH v. JHOGRU PATNEE, 11 W.R. 506.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(116)—Court of Small Causes, decision of—Interference by High Court—24 and 25 Vict., c. 104, s. 15—Act XI of 1865, s 4.—Where a Court of Small Causes rejects the application of the defendant in a suit to send for a document filed in another suit (which the defendant wanted to put in as evidence), held that the High Court cannot under s. 15, c. 104 of 24 and 25 Vict., and s. 4 of Act XI of 1865, interfere. In the matter of MUNNOO SINGH, 19 W. R. 306. [R., 1 A. 101.]

(117)—Suit of Small Cause nature—Special appeal—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 27—High Court's interference—Charter Act, s. 15.—In cases where s. 27, Act XXIII of 1861, forbids any special appeal, the High Court has no right to interfere under s. 15 of the Charter Act for the purpose of re-hearing the case upon a point of law. KETIKI CHUTIANY v. LUKHEE KANT BOSE, 24 W.R. 440.

(118)—Act XVII of 1873—Submitting decree to Commissioners—Error of law—Jurisdiction.—Where judgment-creditors submit their decree to the Commissioners appointed under Act XVII of 1873, as if it were a new and unascertained claim, they commit an error of judgment. If in such a case the Commissioners take the opportunity of expressing in connection with that claim, their opinion upon a matter which has already been determined by the decisions of the High Court and of the Privy Council, the High Court has no authority to inquire into an award of the Commissioners. OMRAO BEGUM v. COMMISSIONERS APPOINTED UNDER ACT XVII OF 1873, 24 W.R. 394.

(119)—Freedom from arrest in Court—Principle violated—High Court's power of interference under Charter Act, s. 15.—Although the principle of freedom from arrest in a Court eundo, morando et redeundo, is more or less a recognised maxim of law, the High Court will refuse to exercise the extraordinary powers vested in it under s. 15 of the Charter Act, and to declare that a Magistrate who does not interfere with the process of the peon of the Civil Court, which was being served in his Court on a person accused, but acquitted, has wrongly refused jurisdiction. In the matter of GUZEREE LALL, Petitioner, 13 W.R. 393.

(120)—Jurisdiction—Perjury or forgery in Civil Court—Power of High Court—Stay of criminal proceedings—Crim. Pro. Code, 1861 (Act XXV of 1861), s. 171.—If, in the course of hearing a suit, a Civil Court commits a party to the suit for trial on a charge of perjury or forgery, or directs that the case be made over to a Magistrate for investigation of such charge, the High Court, in the exercise either of civil or criminal jurisdiction, cannot, in the event of a regular or special appeal being lodged against the decision of the lower Court, interfere to stay the criminal proceedings until the appeal shall have been heard and determined. In the matter of the petition of RAMPRASAD HAZRA, B.L.R. Sup. 426, F.B. = 5 W R. Mis. 24. [F., 6 C. 308, 23 C. 610; Appl., 1 A. 17; Cons., 34 C. 848 = 11 C.W.N. 712 = 6 C.L.J. 531; D., 31 M. 510 = 4 M.L.T. 186 = 18 M.L.J. 466 = 8 Cr. L.J. 390.]

(121)—Bombay District Municipal Amendment Act (II of 1894), s. 23—Order by District Judge rejecting application to set aside Municipal election—Order for payment of opponent's costs, whether could be revised by High Court under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code.—A District Judge acting under s. 23 of the Bombay District Municipal Amendment Act, 1894, is not a Court within the meaning of the word in s. 622 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, and the High Court, therefore, has no jurisdiction to revise his orders rejecting an application to set aside the election of certain Municipal Councillors and directing the applicant to pay the actual costs incurred by the opponent. BALAJI SAKHARAM v. MERWANJI NOWROJI, 21 B. 279.

(122)—Jurisdiction—High Court—Municipality—Discretion—Repairs.—The Chairman of the Howrah Municipality brought a suit against the petitioner for a sum of money alleged to be due on account of expenses incurred in cleaning a tank belonging to the petitioner. The first Court held that the Municipality had expended more money than was necessary. On appeal the Judge set aside the decision and gave a decree for the full amount on the ground that the matter was purely within the discretion of the Municipality. On application by the petitioner, the High Court refused to interfere. In the matter of JOGESH CHUNDER DUTT, 16 W R. 285.

(123)—Ministerial officers, dismissal of by District Judge—Civil Courts Act (VI of 1871), ss. 35, 36—Superintending powers of High Court—Charter Act, s. 15.—The extraordinary powers of superintendence possessed by the High Court under s. 15 of the Charter Act should not be exercised except for the purpose of protecting a complainant in a matter wherein otherwise he would not be able to obtain redress coupled with the further qualification that the applicant must show himself worthy of the interference of the Court. So, where a person, who was dismissed from the post of Sheristadar of a Munsiff's Court by a District Judge complained to the High Court that the District Court acted ultra vires in dismissing him, held that, it being open to the applicant, under the Civil Courts Act, to seek his remedy from the Local Government, the High Court could not interfere. In the matter of AKBAR ALI, 19 W.R. 148. [R., 20 W.R. 470.]

(124)—Ministerial officer—Dismissal of Sheristadar on complaint of Munsif—Power of High Court—Act VI (B.C.) of 1871.—A Sheristadar dismissed by the Judge on the complaint of a Munsif, if aggrieved, may apply to the Local Government under Act VI (B.C.) of 1871 ; but the High Court cannot interfere in the matter in the exercise of its powers of superintendence. In the matter of FAKEER CHAND LALL, petitioner, 20 W.R. 470.

Superintendence of High Court—continued.

(125) —Practice—Reviews—Jurisdiction—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 377, 378.—In the case of an application for review after more than three years from date of order, the Principal Sudder Amin may decide that there were just grounds for the delay, and then on the same proceeding admit the review. Though ss. 377 and 378 contemplate two classes of circumstances, there is nothing in them to show that the finding under the one section and the order under the other, cannot be recorded in one and the same proceeding. JONNISSA BIBI v. SURJA KANT ACHARJI, 2 B.L.R. A.C. 181=11 W.R. 56. (9 W.R. 181, R.) [R., 13 W.R. 120, 1 A. 101, F. B.]

(126)—Lease—Suit by heir of lessor for her share of rent—Joinder of parties.— Where a kabuliyat was executed in favour of a person who subsequently died leaving two daughters, one of the daughters cannot sue alone for her moiety of the rent. She ought to sue together with her sister for the whole rent, and if she could not induce her to become plaintiff with her, she ought to make her a defendant. JAGADAMBA DASI v. HARAN CHANDRA DUTT, 6 B.L.R. 526, Note=10 W.R. 108. [R , 6 B.L.R. 523.]

(127)—Application to revise cases before Provincial Small Causes Court.—This circular announces rule passed with a view to facilitate applications for the exercise of the powers of superintendence vested in the High Court, with reference to cases before the Mofussil Small Cause Courts. Civ. Cir. No. 13 dated 4th June 1870. 13 W.R. Civ. Cir. 17.

See ACT XXXV OF 1858, 8 W.R. 375.

See PUN. ACT XVIII OF 1884, s. 13, 42 P. R. 1888.

See APPEAL—DECREE AND EXECUTION OF DECREES, 5 W.R. Mis. 45.

See ARBITRATION—GENERAL, 29 C. 167, P. C.=6 C.W.N. 226=29 I.A. 51.

Superintendence of High Court—See COMPANY—WINDING UP OF COMPANY, 5 B.H.C. O.C. 83.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—APPLICATION FOR EXECUTION AND POWERS OF COURT, 6 W.R. Mis. 15.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 6 W.R. Mis. 96.

See PAUPER APPEALS, 18 B. 454.

See BEN. REG. V OF 1812, s. 26, B.L.R. Sup. 655=7 W.R. 273=2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 178.

See RENT, SUIT FOR, 2 W.R. Act X, Rul. 16, 6 W.R. Act X, 56.

See REVIEW—REVIEW, WHEN LIES, 4 B. H.C.A.C. 87.

Superintendence of High Court—concluded.

See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 4 B.H.C. A. C. 173.

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL — GROUNDS OF APPEAL, 6 W.R. 196.

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, ss. 54, 56, 57 P.R. 1899.

See ST. 24 AND 25, VIC., C. 104, s. 15, 9 A. 104, F. B.=A.W.N. 1886, 309, B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 714=7 W.R. 520.

Powers of—When to be exercised—See ST. 24 AND 25 VIC., C. 104, s. 15, 2 C.W.N. 727.

Superintendent.

Trustee, manager or—of a mosque — See ACT XX OF 1863, ss. 14, 18, 8 C. 32=9 C.L. R. 433.

Superstitious Uses.

(1)—Superstitious uses in India.—The English rule of law which prohibits the bequest of money to superstitious uses has no application in this country. A bequest for the giving of alms for the testator's spiritual benefit is void because the object is both uncertain and not purely charitable. JOSEPH EZEKIEL JUDAH v. AARON HYE NUSSEEM EZEKIEL JUDAH, 5 B.L.R. 433. [R , 15 M. 424, 31 C. 166=8 C. W.N. 273, 5 Bom. L.R. 1010, 33 B. 122=10 Bom. L.R. 417.]

See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT, 12 B.H.C. 214.

See WILL — CONSTRUCTION, 2 Hyde, 65, 2 B.L R O.C. 148, 15 M. 424.

Supreme Court—Bombay.

See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF BOMBAY.

See LETTERS PATENT, HIGH COURT, 1865.

(1)—Letters Patent, 1823, s. 53—Admiralty jurisdiction conferred.—The admiralty jurisdiction of the English High Court of admiralty was, by s.53 of the Letters Patent of the Supreme Courts, 1823, conferred on the Supreme Court. 10 B H.C. 110.

(2)—Inhabitant—Carrying on business.—Constructive inhabitancy by carrying on bueiness within the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of Bombay. HER HIGHNESS RUCKMABOYEE v. LULLOOBHOY MOTTICHUND, 6 M.I.A. 234 ; 8 Moo. P.C. 4=1 Sar. 423.

(3)—Power of Supreme Court to admit persons as Attorneys and Solicitors.— The Supreme Court of Judicature at Bombay had no power to admit persons as Attorneys and Solicitors to practise in the Courts there, except such as are qualified in the manner pointed out by the Bombay Charter and Letters Patent of 1823, establishing the Court, viz., those who have been admitted Attorneys or Solicitors in one of the Courts at Westminister or were practising in the Recorder's Court at Bombay, at the time of the publication of that Charter. MORGAN v. LEECH, 2 M.I.A. 428=3 Moo. P.C. 368=1 Sar. 215.

Supreme Court—Bombay—concluded.

(4)—Judges of—Jury.—By the constitution of the Supreme Courts in India, the Judges, for the purpose of the trial of an action, sit as a jury as well as Judges, and the same weight is to be given to a decision of the Judges, in such circumstances, as to the verdict of a jury in England in which the Judge who tries the cause makes no objection. MUSADEE MAHOMED CAZUM SHERAZEE v. MEERZA ALLY MAHOMED SHOOSTRY, 6 M.I.A. 27=8 Moo. P.C. 110=1 Sar. 489.

Supreme Court—Calcutta.

See HIGH COURT—JURISDICTION OF CALCUTTA.

See LETTERS PATENT, HIGH COURT, 1865.

(1)—Inhabitant of Benares—Trade and business house in Calcutta—Jurisdiction.—An inhabitant of Benares, trading at Calcutta, and having a house of business there, held, to be subject to the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court. BABOO JANOKEY DOSS v. BINDABUN DOSS, 3 M.I.A. 175=1 Sar. 263.

(2)—Jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, of Calcutta.—Under the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court at Calcutta, a person, though resident at Benares, is liable to its jurisdiction, if privy to, and co-operating in, a misdemeanour committed within it. Where, therefore, a party resident at Benares was indicted with others before the Supreme Court for a conspiracy, in procuring the prosecutor to be arrested in a fictitious action at law, and the instructions for the arrest were proved, to the satisfaction of the jury, to have originated with the appellant, it was held by the Judicial Committee that, the offence being completed within the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court at Calcutta, that Court had rightly assumed jurisdiction over the parties privy to it; though, from the slight nature of the evidence, they directed a new trial. JANNOKEE DOSS v. THE KING, 1 M.I.A. 67 = 1 Sar. 94.

See EVIDENCE—DECREES, JUDGMENTS AND PROCEEDINGS IN SUITS, W.R. 1864, 159.

Supreme Court—Madras.

See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF MADRAS.

See LETTERS PATENT, HIGH COURT, 1865.

(1)—Supreme Court at Madras — Equitable jurisdiction.—The Supreme Court at Madras (established by the Madras Charter of 1800) has an equitable jurisdiction, similar to, and corresponding with, the equitable jurisdiction exercised by the Court of Chancery in England, over charities. ATT. GEN. v. BRODIE, 4 M.I.A. 190=6 Moo. P.C. 12=11 Jurist 137=1 Sar. 335.

(2)—Property of infant—Protection—Registrar—Commissions.—By a general Order, made on the equity side of the Supreme Court of Madras, it was ordered that, "Whenever it shall appear that the property of any infant is unprotected, and not secured for his or her benefit, the Registrar shall, with the previous consent of the Court, or a Judge, institute proceedings on behalf of such infant, for the purpose of protecting his or her person or property." In pursuance of this order, the Registrar of the Supreme Court, upon petition, obtained an order giving him liberty to file a bill in the equity side of the Supreme Court as the next friend, and on behalf of infants for an account of the estate of their father, who died intestate, against their mother, A, the Administratrix; and, notwithstanding an appeal against such order, such bill was filed, to which the defendant put in a plea, which being overruled, a further appeal from such decision was interposed to Her Majesty in Council. By the practice of the Supreme Court, the Registrar is entitled to a commission of 5 per cent. on all sums of money paid into Court. Held, by the Judicial Committee, that the order of the equity side of the Supreme Court, being made under the general jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, and not under the Statute 2 & 3 Vict., c. 34, was void, it being against public policy to allow an Officer of the Court to institute suits, in the conduct of which he might have a direct personal interest, and the orders made in pursuance thereof, reversed. KERAKOOSE v. SERLE, 3 M.I.A. 329=4 Moo. P.C.459=1 Sar. 286.

Supreme Courts, Equity Procedure.

See ACT VI OF 1854.

Supreme Courts, Lunacy.

See ACT XXXIV OF 1858.

Supreme Courts, Officers Trading.

See ACT XV OF 1848.

Surbarahkar.

See ACT XL OF 1858, 3 Agra, 220.

Surbarakari Tenures.

See BEN. ACT X OF 1859, ss. 15, 16, 8 B.L.R. 280=16 W.R. 289.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—TRANSFER OF TENANT'S INTEREST, 9 C. 526=13 C.L.R. 114.

Surety.

1.—GENERAL.
2.—DISCHARGE OF SURETY.
3.—ENFORCEMENT OF SECURITY.
4.—LIABILITY OF SURETY.
5.—MISCELLANEOUS.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 55.
See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 145.
See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 126—147.
See GUARANTEE.
See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY.

Surety—continued.

——1.—General.

(1)—Suretyship—Consideration—Forbearance to sue on defendant's request.—Where the defendant, by a letter, requests the plaintiff to grant time to the debtor for the payment of his debt, and in consequence, the plaintiff brings no suit against the debtor, until the expiry of the time requested for, there is forbearance to sue by the plaintiff, so as to constitute it a sufficient consideration to make the defendant liable as a surety. VIRA SADASIVA RAJENDRA UDAYAR BAHADUR v. RAMACHANDRA RAJA, 2 M.W.N. 1911, 145.

(2)—Punjab Civil Code, Part II, s. 1, para. 6—Re-opening of suit already decided—Powers of Commissioner—Appeal time—Principal and surety—Cause of action distinct—Debt extinguished only on payment.—The Commissioner is vested with power to revise the decisions of Courts subordinate to him for special reasons, although no appeal should have been preferred, provided such revision takes place within the time prescribed for the hearing of appeals. He cannot therefore reopen a case after the appeal time has expired without any appeal having been filed. In contracts of guarantee or suretyship, the surety is not jointly liable with the principal, his undertaking being collateral and secondary. Though judgment may have been obtained against the principal, yet, if it is not satisfied, an action would clearly lie against the surety. In the Punjab, it is usual (and the practice is convenient) to implead both principal and surety and make them co-defendants when the principal makes default. Still as they are separately responsible, if the creditor elects to sue the principal first and fails to obtain satisfaction from him, there is no legal objection to his subsequently proceeding by separate action against the surety. MAJOR MERCAR v. MR. DECORTANZE, 8 P.R. 1866.

(3)—Surety for portion of debt—Payment by surety of such portion—Rights of surety—Rights to benefits of securities held by creditor—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872). s. 141.—The right of a surety, who has paid a debt, to the securities held by the creditor, depends upon principles of equity. The reason of the rule is because, as between the principal debtor and the surety, the former is under an obligation to indemnify the latter. The equity between the creditor and the surety is for the creditor not to do any thing to deprive the surety of his right. But the right of the creditor to hold his securities until his whole debt is paid is paramount to the surety's claim upon such securities, which only arises when the creditor's claim agalnst such securities has been satisfied. One K was largely indebted to the Bank of Bengal in 1889 up to Rs. 3,15,000. The Bank pressed him to give sufficient security for the debt. Thereupon, K mortgaged certain lands of his to the Bank, which were valued at Rs. 1,35,000. The mortgages were stamped to secure this amount only, but were drawn to cover the whole liability of K to the Bank. There were recitals in the instruments to the effect that K owed large sums of money to the Bank on certain bills, and that all sums of money then due by K, or thereafter to become due by him under those bills would be paid off. Certain other securities also were given by the debtor to the Bank. The total sum thus secured was Rs. 1, 90,000 and the unsecured amount was only Rs. 1,25,000. On 9th September 1889, two of the bills on which K was liable to the Bank fell due. The Bank refused to renew the bills unless security for Rs. 1,25,000 was given. At the request of the debtor, the plaintiff agreed to stand security for the amount. This amount, the plaintiff subsequently paid to the Bank and brought the present suit against the Bank and prayed that he might be declared entitled to share in the benefit of the mortgages given as security to the defendant Bank, and that, out of the amount realized from the mortgages, he should be paid an amount proportioned to the amount of K's debt which he had paid to the defendant. The plaintiff contended that the mortgages were given as security for the whole debt of Rupees 3,15,000 due to the Bank, that of this he had paid off to the Bank a part, viz., Rs. 1, 25,000 that as the Bank held the mortgages from the debtor as security for that part as well as for the rest of the debt, he (the plaintiff), as a surety who had paid that part, was entitled to that extent to stand in the place of the Bank (the principal creditor) and to obain the benefit of the securities held by it.—Held that the plaintiff had no right to the benefit of the securities held by the Bank until the debt due by K to the Bank had been paid in full. GOVERDHANDAS GOKULDAS TEJPAL v. THE BANK OF BENGAL, 15 B. 48.

Surety—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(4) — Suit by creditor against principal debtor and surety—Dismissal of suit against principal debtor and decree against surety—Appeal by surety—Cross appeal by creditor without making debtor respondent—Dismissal of suit against surety by appellate Court—Second appeal by creditor—High Court's inability to interfere—Contract Act, s. 134.—A creditor sued the principal debtors and the surety. The suit was dismissed against the debtors but decreed against the surety, who appealed. The creditor also appealed but failed to make the principal debtors respondents to his cross appeal, which was dismissed. The appeal of the surety was allowed, and the suit of the creditor was dismissed. The creditor appealed to the High Court, joining the principal debtors as well as the surety as respondents. Held, that the creditor, by reason of his omission to join the principal debtors as respondents to his cross-appeal, made it impossible for the lower appellate Court or the High Court to review the decision of the original Court in favour of the principal debtors, and that, therefore, he could not claim a decree against the surety. MATHEWSON v. RAM KANAI SINGH, 16 Ind. Cas. 387. (14 B. 267, 1 L.B.R. 150, 12 C. 330, 5 B. 647, R.)

Surety—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(5)—Surety for judgment-debtor—Claim against, how enforceable.—A surety for judgment-debtor must be proceeded against by summary process in execution and not by a separate suit. KUSAJI v. VINAYAK, 23 B. 478. [F., 25 B. 409=3 Bom. L.R. 35, 109 P.R. 1906 =1 P.L.R. 1907, 4 L.B.R. 197=14 Bur. L.R 170.]

(6)—Principal debtor and surety—Suit by creditor against surety.—Where a person becomes surety for another with respect to a certain liability of the latter, the creditor is at liberty at once to proceed against the surety, and his suit against the surety cannot be dismissed on the ground that he has not already proceeded against the principal debtor or that he has not impleaded him in the suit. INAYATULLAH v. RANI. A.W.N. 1886, 306. (4 C.L.R. 145, F.)

(7)—Law not preventing creditor from proceeding simultaneously against principal and surety—Law not compelling creditor to exhaust his remedy against principal before suing his surety—Omission to sue principal when opportunity arises, effect of.—There is nothing in the law which prevents the creditor from proceeding simultaneously against the principal and the surety, or which compels him to exhaust his remedy against the principal before suing the surety, and the omission to sue the principal when the opportunity arises is not equivalent to giving him an extension of time. MANGURIAM MARWARI v. RAJPATI KOERI, 20 C. 366, Note.

(8)—Bill of exchange—Guarantee—Default of acceptor—Co-surety, suit for contribution by—Cause of action—Limitation.—The plaintiff and the defendant as co-sureties guaranteed to a bank the payment of a bill of exchange by the acceptor. The acceptor having become insolvent, the plaintiff paid the amount of the bill, and sued the defendant for one moiety as contribution. Held that the cause of action being the right to contribution, the right accrued, not when the bill was dishonoured, but when it was taken up by the plaintiff, and consequently limitation began to run from that date, (2 W.R. 159, F.) and that as between parties to the bill, the Courts are not bound to look at their liabilities as stated on the face of the bill, but must give effect to the arrangement into which the parties entered at the time when it was made. (Reynolds v. Wheler, 30 L.J.C.P. 350. F.) M. CONSTANTINE v. W. DREW, 1 N.W.P. 100. [F., 2 M.H.C. 26; R., 9 B.H.C. 121, 17 B. 486.]

(9)—Security—Contribution—Liability to costs incurred in defence of suit.—One of several sureties who is compelled to pay the whole debt, can in equity compel the others to contribute towards payment of it. This equitable right is one independent of contract although it may be taken by special agreement. As a general rule, one co-surety cannot recover from the others the costs of defending an action, unless he is authorised or induced by the latter to do so, or unless, from some combination of circumstances, it became necessary to defend such suit. MRS. K.C. BYRNE v. C.H. MACLEOD, 86 P.R., 1868.

Surety—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1869, Marsh, 410=2 Hay, 510.

Agriculturist—Remedy against principal barred—Liability of surety—See BOM. ACT XVII OF 1879, s. 72, 5 B. 647.

Sureties, liability of, under administration bond—See ADMINISTRATION BOND, 7 M.L.T. 90=5 Ind. Cas. 761.

For performance of appellate decree—Appeal—See APPEAL—DECREES AND EXECUTION OF DECREES, 7 B.L.R 81=15 W.R. 538.

Security bond—Right to question the validity of bond—See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 26 C. 246=3 C.W.N. 84.

Security for production of judgment-debtor within certain time—Death of judgment-debtor before expiry of specified time—Liability of surety in execution—Release of surety—Appeal—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1887, ss. 336, 349, 24 M. 637.

Pre-emption decree—Surety for payment of mesne profits—Proceedings against—See CIV. PRO CODE, 1908, s. 47, 113 P.L.R. 1909=147 P.W.R. 1909.

Becoming liable for decree in a suit—His right to sue for declaration of non-liability as to portion of decree amount—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 47, 28 M. 117=14 M L J. 430.

Appeal against order—Liability of surety as party—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 47 and 52, 145, A.W.N. 1888. 13.

Execution—Surety bond—Liability of—Suit to enforce liability—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 47, 145, 13 Bom. L.R. 909.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 47, 145, O. XLI, r. 5, 22 C. 25.

Judgment-debtor failing to apply for insolvency—Non-appearance—Discharge of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 55, O. XXI, r. 40, 61 P.W.R, 1910.

For performance of appellate decree—Enforcibility in execution proceedings—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss. 144 (1), 145, O. XLI, r. 6, 13 M. 1

Uncertified payment of decree-amount made by surety out of Court—Suit by surety against principal debtor—Admissibility of evidence of payment—See CIV. PRO CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 2, 12 B. 235.

Right of decree-holder to proceed against—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 40, 30 P.L.R. 1905=50 P.R. 1905.

Surety—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

Suit on mortgage—Surety made party—Effect on suit of death of surety—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXII, r. 4, s. 104, O. XLIII, r. 1, 25 A. 206=A.W.N. 1903, 15.

Security for due performance of appellate decree, suit for enforcement of—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 6, 23 C. 212.

For performance of appellate decree, whether could be proceeded against by way of execution —See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XLI, r. 6, 125 P.R. 1906=94 P.L.R. 1907.

Lex-loci contractus—See CONTRACT—MISCELLANEOUS, 8 C. 337=9 I.A. 58, P.C.

Contract to indemnify a surety for his bail-bond is illegal—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 24, 10 Bom. L.R. 553=32 B. 449.

Oral evidence to prove executant of document a mere surety whether admissible—Decree for contribution whether grantable — See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 92, 25 A. 337=A.W.N. 1903, 64.

Note of hand—Oral evidence to prove suretyship—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 92, 8 C.W.N. 101.

Principal and—Execution against surety—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MODE OF EXECUTION, 4 C. 331, P.C.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MODE OF EXECUTION, 19 B. 578.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE — PRIVY COUNCIL, EXECUTION OF ORDERS AND DECREES OF, 15 M. 203=2 M.L.J. 1.

Execution of decree—Liability of—Bond for appearance of judgment-debtor—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 186 P.L.R. 1905.

Agreeing to make good the sum by which sale-proceeds of the property fell short of the decretal amount—Extent of his liability—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 5 Ind. Cas. 139.

Execution proceedings—Surety for a judgment-creditor, liability of—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 2 Bom. L.R. 203.

Of guardian—Liability, whether extends to guardian's dealings with properties other than those specified in the petition for appointment of guardian—See GUARDIAN—GENERAL, 12 C.W.N. 481.

Principal debtor not sued—Suit against the, sustainable—See HINDU LAW—CONTRACT, 4 M.H.C. 190.

Debts contracted by a Hindu grand-father as, when binding upon grandsons—See HINDU LAW—DEBTS, 6 Bom. L.R. 434=28 B. 409.

Hindu Law — Son's liability for father's surety-debt—Contract Act, s. 131—See HINDU LAW—DEBTS, 11 M. 378.

Surety—continued.

——1—General—continued.

Obligation of Mitakshara son to discharge debt of father incurred as—See HINDU LAW—DEBTS, 13 C.W.N. 9=4 M.L.T. 429=1 Ind. Cas. 153.

Liability of Hindu son to pay debt contracted by father as—See HINDU LAW—DEBTS, 28 M. 377.

See HINDU LAW—DEBTS, 26 A. 611=1 A.L.J. 330.

Liability of a Hindu son to pay debt contracted by father as a—See HINDU LAW—DEBTS, 1 N.L.R. 173.

See LEASE—GENERAL, A.W.N. 1886, 241.

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—MUKHTEAR, 7 C.W.N. 281.

Whether liable for acts and defaults of administrator, who obtained letters of administration by fraud—Surety not party to fraud or cognisant of it. See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION, 12 C.W.N. 802, P C.=35 C. 955=35 I.A. 109=14 Bur. L.R. 197=4 M.L.T. 21=18 M.L.J. 367=10 Bom. L R. 648=8 C.L.J. 94.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 65, 4 C.L.R. 34.

For a judgment-debtor before the passing of the decree, liability of — See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART 182—GENERAL, 8 Bom. L.R. 807=31 B. 50.

Maintainability of application for execution against—When judgment-debtor has applied for insolvency—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, ART. 182—APPLICATION IN ACCORDANCE WITH LAW, A.W.N. 1906, 54=3 A.L J. 13=28 A. 387.

Principal and—deed for the benefit of creditor—Effect on surety's position—Indian Contract Act, s. 139—See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS—BILL OF EXCHANGE, 3 C. 174.

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—QUESTIONS OF FACT, 9 B.L.R. 364=16 W.R.P.C. 11=14 M.I.A. 86.

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881, ss. 51, 78, 29 C. 68=6 C.W.N. 7.

Administration-bond—Suit by—against administratrix to be discharged from obligation—Maintainability of suit—See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881, s. 78, 28 M. 161=14 M.L.J. 482.

For administrator — Whether guarantee continuing one—Extent of surety's liability—See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881, s. 78, A.W.N. 1908, 288=6 A L.J. 19=31 A. 56=1 Ind. Cas. 143.

Insolvency proceedings—Debt not proved—Creditor's remedies against surety—Surety's rights—See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT, 1907, s. 16 (2), 7 N.L.R. 122.

See RES JUDICATA—PARTIES, 3 B L.R. App. 37=11 W.R. 407.

Surety—continued.

——1.—General—concluded.

Security bond for appearance of judgment debtor at insolvency enquiry attesting witness to, whether liable for misrepresentation as to solvency of—See RIGHT OF SUIT—MISCELLANEOUS, 4 B. 465.

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT, 1860, s. 5, 14 M. 473.

Effect of guarantee contingent upon an event which does not happen—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 68, 14 Bur. L.R. 159.

Position of—See VENDOR AND PURCHASER—COMPLETION OF TRANSFER, 8 Ind. Cas. 674.

——2.—Discharge of Surety.

(1) Act XXIII of 1861, s. 8—Security for appearance—Appearance of defendant after inquiry—Liability of surety.—Where, during the pendency of an inquiry under Act XXIII of 1861, s. 8, the defendant is set at large upon security being furnished for his appearance at any time when called upon while such inquiry is being made, the liability of the surety is at an end, if, when the Court has concluded the inquiry, the defendant has appeared. BALMER, LAWRIE & CO. v. HUREE NARAIN PODDAR, 24 W.R. 292.

(2)—Security bond—Change of ownership—Liability of sureties.—Where certain persons executed a security bond to 3 persons, A, B, and C (who owned certain property) under which the sureties bound themselves to be answerable for the good conduct and proper discharge of his duties on the part of their gumastah D and to make good any defalcations, and the property was afterwards transferred to B alone, held, that, when A and C ceased to have any interest in the property and B claimed to be the sole owner, there was such entire change in the nature of the service that the sureties' liability did not continue, and that, consequently, they were not liable to be sued upon their bond. RAJ KRISTO MOOKEJEE v. ISSUR CHUNDER MOOKERJEE, 23 W.R. 90.

(3) Surety depositing moneys for another's debt, by way of security—Arrangement between principal debtor and creditor as to debt, without surety's knowledge—Surety, discharge of.—In a suit on a promissory note, the defendant contended that plaintiff's son-in-law had owed him certain debts, that plaintiff deposited her money Rs. 1,300, in cash with the defendant upon the latter undertaking to forbear suing plaintiff's son-in law for one week, that the deposit was made on the condition that, when the son-in-law paid the money to the defendant, the deposit should be returned to the plaintiff, that the defendant, by way of receipt for the Rs. 1,300 in his hands, executed the plaint promissory note to the plaintiff, that the son-in-law did not pay the amount due from him within the week stipulated, and that thereupon the defendant went to the son-in-law and obtained from him a promissory note for Rs. 1,800 for the money due by him. Held that any guarantee which was given by the plaintiff to the defendant ceased to have effect or operation when the latter made the new arrangement with his principal debtor and took from him the pro-note for Rs. 1,800, that such fresh contract discharged the obligation of the surety, that the Rs. 1,300 thereafter remained in the hands of the defendant as the moneys of the plaintiff, and as such might properly be regarded as due under the promissory note, according to which it was payable on demand, and that further the defendant had no right to retain it as the circumstances had been entirely altered by the defendant's own act without the knowledge or concurrence of the plaintiff, and that that was an undefended suit upon the defendant's own statement of the case, and that the plaintiff should therefore get a decree. CREET v. SETH AND SETH, A. W. N. 1887, 136.

Surety—continued.

——2.—Discharge of Surety—continued.

(4)—S. 130, I.C.A., 1872—Surety under an administration bond.—In Calcutta, a surety under an administration bond, who is not a legatee, and who is powerless to institute administration proceedings, can apply under s. 130, I.C.A. for revocation of the guarantee, on the ground of maladministration by the executor. RAJ NARAIN MOOKERJEE v. FUL KUMARI DEBI. 28 C. 68=6 C.W.N. 7. (19 B. 245, Ref.). [R., 52 P.R. 1902 =89 P.L.R. 1902, 31 C. 242; Not F., 28 M. 161=14 M.L.J. 482, 31 A. 56=6 A.L.J. 19= A.W.N. 1908, 288.]

(5)—Civ Pro.Code, 1882, ss. 336, 622 (=ss. 55, 115, new Code)—Insolvency—Liability of surety, when ceases—Order refusing to discharge surety—No appeal, but only revision lies.—The liability of a surety under s. 336, Civ.Pro.Code, becomes discharged by the judgment-debtor applying to be made an insolvent. And an order refusing to discharge the surety is not appealable, and is therefore open to revision under s. 622, Civ. Pro. Code. BANNA MAL v. JAMNA DAS, 15 A. 183=A.W.N. 1893, 68. (15 C. 171, R.) [F., 58 P.L.R. 1902; Appr., 16 A. 37; R., 100 R.R. 1894, U.B.R. 1892—1896, civil 269; D., 31 P.L.R. 1903=8 P.R. 1903, 13 M.L.J. 484.]

(6)—Surety—Alteration of position and risk without consent of surety—Discharge of surety.—Where a Salt Darogah deposited security for the due performance of his duties among which was the collection of outstandings from molungees to be appropriated by Government in case of loss to the State from his failure to perform them, and the Government, without his consent, altered his position and risk, held that such alteration relieved him from his engagement as surety in respect of such outstandings. SHIBNARAIN BANNERJEE v. THE GOVERNMENT, W.R. 1864, 137.

(7)—Principal and surety—Novation of bond—Evidence.—The treasurer of a Collectorate was found, on going into his accounts, to have been a party with another in embezzling Government moneys in the Collectorate. His defalcations ran over several years. A surety bond had been given on behalf of the treasurer, and the bond was renewed three times by the same surety during the period the treasurer was in office, but the surety never asked for the old bonds to be delivered up when they were renewed. In an action by Government against the surety to recover the amount embezzled, held that the renewal of the bonds did not discharge the surety from his liability under the first bond, as the renewed bonds were not in substitution of the first bond. The ex parte deposition of a witness who might have been called and cross-examined at the trial ought not to have any weight given to it. The lower Courts having admitted inadmissible evidence, the Judicial Committee examined the whole evidence, and, on being satisfied that there was sufficient evidence to support the decision of those Courts independent of such inadmissible evidence, dismissed the appeal. LALA BANSHIDHAR v. THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, 9 B.L.R. 364, P.C. = 14 M.I.A. 86 = 16 W.R. P.C. 11 = 2 Suther. 448 = 2 Sar. 689.

Surety*—continued.

——2.—Discharge of Surety—continued.

(8)—Death of surety—Effect on his liability to pay.—The death of a surety does not operate to extinguish the security. MT. PARBATI BAI v. GANPAT, 16 C.P.L.R. 8.

(9)—Surety bond voluntarily executed not taken off file—Plea of being only joint surety—Repudiation of obligation—Separate securities—Acceptance of additional separate security.—A surety who has voluntarily and with eyes open signed a security bond, and who has allowed it to stand on the record as subsisting, is bound by it. His intentions and motives in giving the bond should be gathered from what he has said in the instrument. The acceptance of separate securities of five sureties does not invalidate the acceptance of the separate security of an additional surety. Security of 5 individuals tendered by a plaintiff on appeal from the Zillah Court having been reported by the Nazir to be insufficient, the security bond of an additional surety was offered, and, being reported sufficient, was accepted by the Zillah Court. An appeal having been lodged against the sufficiency of this new security, and the Provincial Court having pronounced it insufficient, it was referred back to the Zillah Court with directions, that unless sufficient security was given, possession of the property in dispute should be delivered to the Collector. The Zillah Court, upon further investigation, being satisfied with the sufficiency of the additional surety, a security bond was executed in that Court, by the appellant, the additional surety alone, the other five sureties having failed to perfect their securities. On application after the decision in the cause, and pending an appeal to the King in Council by the appellant, to be discharged from the liability of his suretyship, on the ground that the rejection of his security by the Provincial Court for insufficiency thenceforth rendered his security null and void, and that the acceptance of his security alone by the Zillah Court without the other five securities, was without his knowledge and consent,—it was held by the Privy Council (affirming the judgment of the Court below) that the security bond, being on record, was not avoided by the rejection by the Provincial Court on its supposed insufficiency; the Zillah Court having revived the same by its acceptance of the appellant as surety, and he having taken no steps to discharge his liability by having the security bond taken off the file. RAJAGOPAL INDER NARAIN ROY v. RAJA JAGARNATH GURG, 5 W.R.P.C. 129 = 2 M.I.A. 311 = 1 Suther. 93 = 1 Sar. 193.

Surety*—continued.

——2.—Discharge of Surety—concluded.

(10)—Giving time to principal debtor—Subsequent interest.—Where the payment of a certain sum, with interest, had been decreed against some as principals, and against some others as sureties, the decree-holder would not, if he had allowed time to the debtors with a view to increase the amount of interest, be entitled to interest after the date, when he might, and ought to, have realized the entire debt from out of the property of the principal debtors, if it had been proceeded against. RAMANUND KOONDOO v. CHOWDHRY SOONDER NARAIN SARUNGY, 4 C. 331, P.C. = 3 Sar. 862 = 3 Ind. Jur. 79 = 2 Shome L.R. 172.

See RES JUDICATA — COMPETENCY OF COURT, 6 N.W.P. 77.

——3.—Enforcement of Security.

(1)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 253, 583—Surety for payment of decretal amount under appellate decree—Security how enforced—Effect of expression "in an original suit" in s. 253.—Under Act VIII of 1859 and the supplemental Act XXIII of 1861, the ordinary mode of enforcing payment by a surety was by summary process in execution, not by means of a separate suit. This was so equally whether the security had been taken in the course of the original suit or of the appeal. No alteration in the law has been made as regards this subject by the Code of 1882. Under ss. 253 and 583 of Act XIV of 1882, the Court is empowered to proceed against a surety for the fulfilment of the decree in appeal who has accepted that obligation under s. 546, in the same way as against a surety who has become liable under s. 253 to satisfy a decree of a Court of first instance. The introduction of the words "in an original suit" in s. 253 may be treated as superfluous. VENKAPA NAIK v. BASLINGAPA, 12 B. 411. [Diss., 23 C. 212; F., 23 B. 478, 25 B. 402, 109 P.R. 1906 = 1 P.L.R. 1907, 4 L.B.R. 197 = 14 Bur. L.R. 170; Appr., 13 M. 1, 17 A. 99; Expl., 30 B. 506 = 8 Bom. L.R 367; R., 15 M. 208, 19 B. 578, 22 B. 42, 13 C.P.L.R. 104; 2 Bom. L.R. 203, 7 O.C. 210, 31 B. 128 = 8 Bom. L.R. 932.]

Surety—continued.

——3.—Enforcement of Security—concluded.

(2)—Order against surety in execution proceedings—Appeal—Surety bonds under s 484, Civ. Pro. Code—Liability under, how far enforceable after fresh security under s. 545.—A surety for the performance of a decree against whom an application for execution has been made, under s. 253 of the Code, has a right of appeal, as if he was a party to the suit, against an order passed on such application. The liability of persons who have become sureties under ss. 483, 484 of the Civ. Pro. Code, for the production of property attached in the course of a Civil suit by the Court of first instance, could not properly be extended beyond the amount, including costs, awarded to the plaintiff by the Court of first instance. This and no other sum would be such "as the said Court may adjudge against the said defendant." Under ss. 483, 484 of the Civ. Pro. Code, the security is to be for defendant's placing at the disposal of the Court of first instance, such property as shall satisfy its decree, not the possible decree of a higher Court. The liability of the surety binding himself on the defendant's default to pay the sum awarded against him in the suit could not be made to extend to the amount afterwards awarded in the first or the second appeal. What the Code contemplates in such cases is apparently security to be given to the Court for the execution of its own decree which. in the regular course, should promptly follow judgment. If an appeal is made, it is left to the appellate Court to regulate the terms on which it will take security for the execution of its own decree. SHEK SULEMAN v. SHIVRAM BHIKAJI, 12 B. 71. [R., 28 M. 117=14 M.L.J. 430; D., 23 M. 73=9 M.L.J. 265.]

—— 4.—Liability of Surety.

(1)—Security bond—Liability of surety, extent of.—A person who stood surety for a clerk in a "choongee" office, pledged his house to the extent of Rs. 100 for the due discharge of the duties of his office. It was stipulated in the bond that if the clerk were to embezzle or misappropriate any sum of money, the whole of the property could be seized on account of the deficiency. The clerk was convicted of bribery for having allowed certain goods to pass the "choongee" without payment of duty which was Rs. 8. The President of the Municipality sued the surety for the enforcement of the terms of the bond. Held that the surety was liable only for such sums as were shown to have been misappropriated, that he could not be held liable for losses which might have accrued to the Municipality from misconduct on the part of the clerk other than misappropriation, and that, if he could be held liable at all, it could only be for the amount of damage actually sustained by the Municipality. TORAB ALI v. THE PRESIDENT OF THE MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF ALLAHABAD, 6 N.W.P. 170.

(2)—Surety—Liability—Extent and duration of.—The liability of a surety subsists only so long as the liability of the principal debtor to his creditor exists, and in reference to that person only to whom he made himself responsible. MOHIP NARAIN v. MR. F. A. SHAW, 25 W.R. 250.

Surety—continued.

——4.—Liability of Surety—continued.

(3)—Act XXIII of 1861, s. 36—Execution of decree—Appeal—Security—Restitution of property.—The liability of a surety executing a security bond, under s. 36 of Act XXIII of 1861, for the fulfilment of the decree, does not cease upon the decision of the Court of regular appeal because that decision is not final. As long as there is possibility of that decision being reversed, his liability continues to exist. NARAYAN DEV v. GAJANAN DIKSHIT, 10 B. H.C. 1.

(4)—Surety before decree in original suit—Enforcement of security—Surety in appellate Courts—Civ. Pro. Code, ss. 253, 549—Execution against surety—Procedure.—If a person becomes surety for a party before the passing of a decree in an original suit, he becomes, as it were, a party to the suit itself, and the security bond executed by him may be enforced in the same manner as a decree may be executed against a defendant. [R., 13 C.P.L.R. 104.] S. 253 does not apply to a surety who has become a surety in an appellate Court. Therefore, where a security bond was executed by a surety on behalf of an appellant for the costs of an appeal under s. 549, Civ. Pro. Code, the bond cannot be summarily enforced against the surety in execution, but the remedy is by separate suit. KALI CHURN SINGH v. BALGOBIND SINGH, 15 C. 497. (2 A. 604, Diss.; 12 C. 402, F.) [F., 22 C. 25, 23 C. 212; Cons., 25 B. 409; Diss., 17 A. 99 =15 A.W.N. 19, L B.R. 197.]

(5)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 338—Sureties—Fulfilment of all appellate decrees, meaning of.—Where a person agrees to be surety to "fulfil all such orders and decrees as may be given against the defendant in appeal," the expression "all decrees" cannot be cut down to the first decree of the appellate Court, but must be taken to apply also to the decree made by that Court on remand of the case by the High Court in special appeal. APPAJI BHIMARAV v. SHIVLAL KHUB CHAND, 3 B. 204.

(6)—Civ Pro. Code, 1859, s. 338—Extent of surety's liability.—Per Kemball, J.—Where a person agrees to be surety under s. 338 of Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, to fulfil all such orders and decrees as may be given against the defendant in appeal, the expression "all decrees" cannot be cut down to the first decree of the appellate Court, and must apply also to final decree made by that Court on remand by the High Court in special appeal. Per Pinhey, J., Contra. SHIVLAL KHUBCHUND v. APAJI BHIVRAV, 2 B. 654.

(7)—S. 260, I.C.A., 1872—Revocation of guarantee—Change in constitution of firm.—A person, becoming a surety to a firm for another's conduct as cashier, will not be liable to compensate any defalcation which occurs subsequent to a change in the constitution and the name of the firm. NEEL COMUL MOOKERJEE v. BIPRO DASS MOOKERJEE, 28 C. 597.

Surety*—continued.

——4.—Liability of Surety—continued.

(8)—Surety—Security placed with one surety to indemnify co sureties—Withdrawal of security—Liability of sureties inter se—Proper application of security.—If a surety without taking any sort of precaution to see to the proper application of a sum of money placed in his hands for indemnifying his co-sureties, permits the party for whom he is surety to withdraw the money, he loses his remedy against the co-sureties to the extent to which he allowed the security to be withdrawn from him. It is the duty of each surety as between himself and co sureties to see that money placed in the hands of sureties for the purpose for which they have become sureties is not misapplied. WOON CHIT POE v. WEE CHANG, 15 W. R. 185.

(9)—Contract of guarantee—Evidence to prove it—Damages, measure of.—In a suit by the plaintiff to recover from the defendant, the amount misappropriated by his employee, A, whose honesty the defendant had guaranteed, it was contended on behalf of the defendant that the evidence proving the guarantee consisted merely of a statement made at the time that the defendant believed A to be honest and that, though he subsequently wrote two letters wherein he specially referred to A's honesty, he refused to sign any guarantee bond. Held that the words used at the time of taking A into service, were sufficient evidence of a contract of guarantee and as the same was confirmed by subsequent letters the contract was complete. In a suit against the surety for damages for the dishonesty of the employee, the Court must act upon the principle that the damages must be proved to have resulted from the dishonest act of the employee. On this principle, the amount misappropriated by the employee can be claimed, but not the travelling allowance paid to him to join the appointment or the costs of a suit against the employee. DECERTANZE v. MERCER, 1 P. R. 1866, O. J.

(10)—Surety for gumastah—Defalcations after guarantor's death—Liability.—Where a person engages to be a surety for a gumashta, and to make good all defalcations made by him, the engagement would refer only to defalcations made by the gumashta during the period of the guarantor's life, and would not apply to a time after the guarantor's death when all power of advising and controling the gumashta would cease. MESSRS JAMES LYALL & CO. v. AMORABUTTY DOSSEE, 20 W.R. 12.

(11)—Suit against sureties for misconduct of servant—Parties.—Where a bond of indemnity was in respect of service under five persons, the sureties could not be made liable for the misconduct of the employe if he was engaged only by three of those five persons. PARBUTTINATH ROY v. TEJMOY BANERJI, 5 C. 303.

Surety*—continued.

——4.—Liability of Surety—continued.

(12)— Surety for Nazir— Liable only to Government—Act VIII of 1859, s 225.—A surety for a Nazir, under his obligation to the Government to indemnify the Government for any loss that the latter might incur, is not liable, except to the Government, for any wrongful acts done by him. BACHA GOPE CHOWDHRY v. BRAJAGOBIND DAS, 9 B.L.R. App. 26=18 W.R. 259.

(13)—Sureties of naib—Their liability.—The sureties of naib are discharged from their liability to the principal, if the latter takes bonds from the naib in acknowledgment of the debts, giving him different periods of time for payment, without the knowledge and consent of the sureties. W.G.N. POGOSE v. ANUNDO CHUNDER GOHOO, 1 W.R. 81. [F., 15 W.R. 252; R., 1 Agra 38.]

(14)—Undivided Hindu family— Ancestral property—Liability of deceased brother, whether binds survivor.—A suretyship entered into by an undivided member of a joint Hindu family on behalf of a stranger, is not binding on the family property in the hands of his sole surviving brother, where the suretyship was not for the benefit of the undivided family, and no mortgage was executed or special lien given on his share in the family property. NARSINBHAT bin BABUBHAT v. CHENAPPA bin NINGAPPA, 2 B. 479. (11 B.H.C. 76, F.) [R., 5 M. 232.]

(15)—Civ. Pro Code, 1882, s. 336, Security bond under—Conditions not contemplated by section, whether enforceable.—Where a security-bond given under s. 336, Civ. Pro. Code, happened to contain a covenant by the surety as to what would happen in case the judgment-debtor's application to be declared an insolvent were refused, such a stipulation was held not to come within the purview of the section so as to be enforceable in the manner provided by it. JANKI DAS v. RAM PARTAB, 16 A. 37=A.W.N. 1893, 203. [R., 100 P.R. 1894; D., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Civil, 269.]

(16)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 336 (=s. 55, new Code), 344—Judgment-debtor applying to be declared insolvent—Cessation of liability of surety.—The obligation of a surety who executes a bond undertaking to produce a judgment-debtor whenever the Court should want him, and stands security under s. 336 for the judgment-debtor's applying to be declared an insolvent, ceases when the judgment-debtor files his petition under s. 344, Civ Pro. Code, to be declared an insolvent. RAMZAN v. GERARD, 13 A. 100=A.W.N. 1891, 6. (15 C. 171, Appr. & Appl.) [F., 19 B. 210; Appl., 16 A. 37; R., 100 P. R. 1894 U.B.R. Civil 1892—1896, 269.]

(17)—Civ.Pro.Code, 1882, s. 336 (=s. 55, new Code)—Judgment-debtor—Surety—Application by judgment-debtor to be declared insolvent—Release of surety.—A person standing surety of the judgment-debtor udder s. 336, C.P.C., is released from his obligation when the judgment-debtor has applied to be declared an insolvent.

Surety—continued.

——4.—Liability of Surety—continued.

DWARKADAS PARSHOTAMDAS v. ISABHAI DAUDKHAN, 19 B. 210. [F., 24 M. 560, 26 M. 366.]

(18)—Ss. 336, 344—Judgment-debtor applying for insolvency—Liability of surety.—A person who executes a bond undertaking to produce a judgment-debtor at any time when the Court should direct him to do so, and standing security under s. 336 for the judgment-debtor's applying to be declared insolvent, is released from his obligation under the bond, when the judgment-debtor files his petition under s. 344 to be declared insolvent, though this petition may afterwards be dismissed owing to his non-appearance. KAYLOSH CHANDRA SHAHA v. CHRISTOPHORIDI, 15 C. 171. [F., 19 B. 210=24 M. 560, 26 M. 366; Appr., 13 A. 100=11 A.W.N. 5, 16 A. 37; R., 15 A. 183=13 A.W.N. 68, 100 P.R. 1894, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. II, 269.]

(19)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 204—Summary procedure against surety—Execution of decree.—In consideration of the plaintiffs being allowed to proceed with the execution of a decree which they had obtained in the High Court, A became surety upon a bond for the payment of what might be due to the defendants by such plaintiffs in the event of their decree being reversed or modified by the Privy Council to which an appeal was pending. Held that the summary procedure under s. 204, of Act VIII of 1859 might be enforced against A as such surety (Compare Act X of 1877, s. 253). CHUNDER KANT MOOKERJEE v. RAM COOMAR COONDOO, 3 C.L.R. 505.

(20)—Security for restitution of costs paid over to decree-holder—Surety, whether can be proceeded against in execution—Civ Pro. Code, ss. 253, 546.—On the ground that he proposed to file an appeal to the High Court, a judgment-debtor applied for stay of an execution taken out by the decree-holder to recover the costs under a decree passed by the lower Appellate Court. The execution was not stayed, and the costs which were deposited by the judgment-debtor were paid to the decree-holder on the execution of a security-bond, by which the surety undertook to guarantee the refund of the amount to the judgment-debtor, in case of his success in the High Court. The judgment-debtor was successful in the High Court, and the surety was held not liable to be proceeded against by way of execution of the decree of that Court. S. 546 of the Civ. Pro. Code has relation to stay of execution when an appeal is pending and cannot therefore cover the security in the present case. Nor can s. 253 of the Code apply for; that section contemplates that there shall be a suit pending at the time security is given, and it could not therefore apply to a case like the present one where no suit could be said to have been pending, as the litigation in the Court of first instance and the lower appellate Court had ended, and no second appeal had been instituted in the High Court

Surety—continued.

——4.—Liability of Surety—concluded.

when the security was given. HARDEO DASS v. ZAMAN KHAN, 8 A. 639=A.W.N. 1886, 238. [R., 2 Bom. L.R. 203, 125 P.R.1906=94 P.L.R. 1907.]

(21)—Proceeding against surety in execution—Separate suit.—A surety can be proceeded against in execution proceedings and a separate suit against him is not necessary. JAMSHEDJI v. BAWABHAI, 25 B. 409=3 Bom. L.R. 35.

(22)—Execution of decree against surety—Payment by instalments—C.P.C., 1877, ss 210, 253.—A decree cannot be executed against a surety who has become such after it was passed. A surety who executes a surety-bond before a Deputy Collector conducting a sale in execution of decree, but who does not appear before the Court which ordered the sale, does not make himself a party to the suit, so as to make the decree executable against him; nor can the circumstance that, subsequent to his becoming a surety, the Court, behind his back, altered the decree by making it payable in instalments make him a person who had become a surety before the passing of the decree. CHANDAN KUAR v. TIRLHA RAM, 3 A. 809=A.W.N. 1881, 78.

(23)—Minor, contract by—Contract Act (IX of 1872), ss. 11, 128—Principal and surety—Surety's liability.—A minor cannot be sued on a bond executed by him during minority and not ratified by him after his majority. A surety to a bond passed by a minor for moneys borrowed for purposes of litigation not found to be necessary, is liable to be sued on it whether the contract of the minor is considered to be void or voidable. KASHIBA NIKADE v. SHRIPAT NERSHIV, 19 B. 697. [R., 23 B. 1, U.B.R. 1897—1901, 313, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 656. 33 C. 713=10 C.W.N. 673=3 C.L.J. 422.]

See COSTS—MISCELLANEOUS, 6 W.R. Mis. 35.

See EXECUTION OF DECREE— MISCELLANEOUS, 62 P.R. 1871, 16 P.R. 1876, 75 P.R. 1876.

See LEASE—GENEREL, 126 P.L.R. 1901.

See RENT, SUIT FOR, 5 N.W.P. 222.

——5.—Miscellaneous.

(1)—Sureties for good behaviour—Object of the law in requiring—Money deposited with surety under such circumstances not recoverable.—Under the rules of the Crim. Pro. Code, a person called upon to furnish bail for good behaviour cannot pay cash in lieu of such security. The object of the law in requiring other persons to stand bail for the good behaviour of a person, is to protect society from the perpetration of crime, by requiring the sureties to look after their charge and see that he does not misconduct himself. This the surety may naturally be expected to do, so long as he is and remains subject to the risk of having his bail-bond forfeited and himself mulcted to the extent of his liability therein. But if the surety were to receive, from the person for whose good behaviour he stands surety, in consideration of undertaking the risk, the deposit of a sum of money equal to the amount of bail, he would not have the same interest in watching his doings; he may be quite indifferent and allow his charge to do whatever he pleases, conscious that, if the bail-bond be forfeited, he would only be called upon to make good its value; he will, in short, have served his friend a good turn, but will thus have defeated the requirements of law. Any act which is in itself opposed to the principles of law is incapable of relief, and the abetment of such an act also places itself beyond relief. Money deposited by a person, under the above circumstances, with one who stood surety for his good behaviour, cannot be recovered from the surety even after the period fixed in the bail-bond had expired without any act being done by the person bound over, so as to entail the forfeiture of the bond. FATEH SINGH v. SANWAL SINGH, 1 A. 751.

Surety—continued.

—5.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(2)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 204—Execution of decree—Subsequent arrangement—Surety—Regular suit.—After a decree was obtained by the appellant in a suit, the Collector, assuming to act under s. 244, Civ. Pro. Code, proposed that the amount of the decree should be paid by instalments and that the respondent should execute a surety bond hypothecating his property for the payment of a portion of these instalments. The respondent did execute a bond accordingly. Now the appellant proceeded to execute the decree against the respondent under s. 204, Civ. Pro Code. Held, that the terms of s. 204 are not applicable. The respondent became security for the performance of a part of the substituted agreement, and not for the performance of the decree, nor a part of the decree. The appellant's remedy against the respondent must be sought by the institution of a suit. CHUNDEE DEEN v. HUSSUN ALI, 3 N.W.P. 88. [R., 6 N.W.P. 261.]

(3)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 204—Execution of decree—Security bond for payment of decree-debt—Execution against surety—Regular suit.—S. 204 of Act VIII of 1859 permits a decree-holder, when a person has become liable as security for the performance of the decree, to execute the decree against such person; that is to say, the Code gives a remedy to a decree-holder against the surety in addition to any remedy he may have on the surety-bond. A suit may be brought by the decree-holder to enforce the contract made with him by the surety in the bond and the lien on the property mortgaged, to secure the performance of that contract. ABDUL KADIR v. BABOO HUREE MOHUN, 6 N.W.P. 261.

(4)—Execution of decree—Surety bond—Separate liabiltiy of surety.—The petitioner in this case was a surety who had undertaken to be liable for the debt or to suffer execution to be taken against him on failure of the payment of any of the instalments, of the decree by the debtors. The lower Court had erroneously considered the petitioner to be in the same position as the debtors. He might have made himself responsible for their debts, but he could not be regarded as generally and severally liable with them. Also, proceedings against one or other of the joint debtors which could keep the decree alive against all of them, cannot affect him. His responsibility was a separate one, and execution should have been taken against him from the date when his liability commenced, and the decree could be kept alive as against him only by proceedings irrespective of those taken against the judgment-debtors. HURKHOO SINGH v. BABOO RAM KISHEN, 6 W.R. Mis. 44.

Surety—continued.

—5.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(5)—Suit against surety for tenant—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court.—A Revenue Court has no jurisdiction to entertain a suit against a surety for payment of rent. BABU LAL v. ISHRI PRASAD NARAIN SINGH, 2 A. 582, F.B.

(6)—Suit for rent—Decree against surety—Jurisdiction of Revenue Court.—A Revenue Court (under Act X of 1859) cannot entertain a suit against a surety for payment of rent. BHUGWAN CHUNDER ROY CHOWDHRI v. MANICK BIBEE, 9 C. 383=11 C.L.R. 577.

(7)—Lease for term—Surety for performance of conditions of lease—Eviction before expiry of term—Suit by surety's representatives.—Lease, for a term of years, of a Pergunna in Bengal, to A., to which B. became surety for the due performance of the conditions, and afterwards a co-partner with A. in the lease. Before the expiration of the demised term, the representatives of the lessors evicted the lessee from the Pergunna. Held, that a suit would lie by B.'s representatives against the lessor's representatives, for ouster from the lease, although they were not parties to the contract with the original lessors. RAJAH BURDAKANTH ROY v. ALUK MUNJOOREE DASIAH, 4 M.I.A. 321=7 W.R. P.C. 15=1 Suther. 191=1 Sar. 355.

(8)—Reg. XVI of 1797, s. 4—Surety—Liability for costs.—H sued S to recover possession of her husband's share of moveable and immoveable property, and eventually obtained a decree in the High Court. S appealed to the Privy Council and while the appeal was pending, H prayed to be allowed to take out execution, and N became her surety for Rs. 10,000. The decree, however, was not executed. The Privy Council reversed the decision of the High Court and dismissed the suit of H with costs. S then sought to execute his decree for costs against N the surety. Held that N was not liable. In the matter of the petition of NAFAR CHANDRA PAL CHOWDHRY, 6 B.L.R. App. 126=14 W. R. 410.

(9)—Civ. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 349—Surety bond — Insolvency of defendant — Default of principal—Surety, liability of—Enforcement of liability.—The Civ. Pro. Code provides no means for enforcing in execution a surety bond passed under s. 349, and the proper course is for the plaintiff to obtain an assignment of the bond with a view to suing on it. MINGAL ANTONE KANE v. RAMCHANDRA BAJI, 19 B. 694. [Rel. on, 7 Ind. Cas. 917; R., 31 C. 162.]

Surety—continued.

—5.—Miscellaneous—continued.

(10)—Surety for guardian of a minor's estate—Release of surety—Minors Act (XX of 1864), s. 12—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 130—Protection to surety against guardian.—A surety for the guardian of a minor's estate appointed under the Minors Act (XX of 1864) applied to be released from his obligation as surety on account of the guardians' mal-administration of the estate. Held that the very object of requiring such security was to guarantee the minor against such misconduct or mismanagement on the part of the guardian, that the surety, therefore, could not be discharged, and that s. 130 of the Contract Act (IX of 1872) was not applicable to the case. Quære—Whether the surety may not apply to the Court for protection against the guardian? BAI SOMI v. CHOKSHI ISHVARDAS MANGALDAS, 19 B. 243. [F., 28 M. 161=14 M.L.J. 482; Appr., 5 A.L.J. 349, Note; Appl., 5 P.L.R. 1901; Expl., 6 C.W.N. 7=29 C. 68; R., 52 P. R. 1902.]

(11)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 349—Surety bond—Summary enforcement.—A surety bond given under s. 349, Civ. Pro. Code, cannot be enforced summarily; and no appeal lies from an order refusing summary enforcement of such a bond. The only course open to the party, who desires it should be enforced, is to move the Court to put it in suit. MOIDIN v. CHANDU. 7 M. 273. [R., 19 B. 694, 31 C. 162.]

(12)—Act VIII of 1859, s. 204—Surety—Execution of decree.—A suit was instituted by C against H S in the Hoogly Court, and was dismissed with costs. On appeal by the plaintiff, the defendants obtained an order in the High Court calling on C to give security for costs in the Court below and on appeal, and one R had as surety charged his house in Calcutta with the payment of costs to the extent of Rs. 2,000. The appeal was dismissed with costs, amounting to more than Rs. 2,000. An application by the defendants for execution against R under s. 204, Act VIII of 1859, by attachment and sale of the house, was granted. HIRA LAL SEAL v. A. CARAPIET, 9 B.L.R. App. 17.

(13)—Civ. Pro. Code (Act VIII of 1859), s. 204—Security bond subsequent to judgment—Enforcement.—In execution of a decree against the judgment-debtor, certain property was attached and advertized for sale. The sale was stayed on the application of one H, a third party, who gave a bond for the due payment of, the amount of the decree. The decree-holder, on default by the judgment-debtor, applied for leave to enforce the original decree against H, by attachment and sale of the property of the surety. Held that the decree-holder's application must be refused, inasmuch as the security bond could not be summarily enforced against the surety under s. 204 of Act VIII of 1859. GAJENDRENARAYAN ROY v. HEMANGINI DASI, 4 B.L.R. App. 27=13 W. R. 35. (7 W.R. 327, F.) [F., 3 N.W.P. 88; R., 2 A. 604, F.B.; D., 15 W.R. 538, 3 C. 318.]

Surety—concluded.

—5.—Miscellaneous—concluded.

(14)—Act VIII of 1859, ss. 76, 83, 204—Execution of decree—Sureties.—The provisions of s. 204, Act VIII of 1859, apply to cases such as that of parties who become sureties under s. 76 or 83 of the Civ. Pro. Code, and not to parties who agreed, after the decree was passed, to stand security for the payment of the debt if the judgment-debtors were unable to liquidate it. BABOO RAM KISHAN DOSS v. HURKHOO SING, 7 W.R. 329. [F., 13 W.R. 35=4 B.L.R. App. 27, 3 N.W.P, 88; R., 2 A. 604; D., 15 W.R. 21, 15 W.R. 538, 3 C. 318=1 C.L.R. 347.]

(15)—Suit to recover debt from surety—Admission by principal no evidence of amount of debt as against the surety.—Held that, in a suit by a creditor to recover the amount of his debt from a person who had become surety for the debtor, an admission of the principal debtor as to the amount of the debt is not evidence as against the surety. RAM BHAJAN LAL v. SHEO PRASAD, A.W.N. 1907, 293=3 M.L.T. 62=5 A.L.J. 142.

Sureties of farmers—Property in Bengal, Rev. Cir. No. 2. 25 W.R. Rev. Cir. 6.

Surety Bond.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 145.

See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, SS. 124—147.

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY.

See SURETY.

Concellation of—See APPEAL—DECREES AND EXECUTION OF DECREES, 7 B.L.R. 81=15 W.R. 538.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 68, 26 C. 222=3 C.W.N. 228.

Surplus Collections.

Suit for redemption decreed—Second suit for surplus collections made by the mortgagee during mortgage, not maintainable—Right to claim such collections synchronous with right to redeem mortgaged property—See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 5 A.L.J. 192=A.W.N. 1908, 96=30 A. 225.

Surprise.

"Fraud—or mistake or such other grounds," meaning of—See BELCHAMBERS RULES AND ORDERS, Rules 615. 617, 28 C. 272=5 C.W.N. 337.

Surrender.

Doctrine of surrender—See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONERS, 2 C.W.N. 132.

Doctrine of—Application of doctrine to mortgage by widow—See HINDU LAW—WIDOW, 13 C.W.N. 541=9 C.L.J. 453=1 Ind. Cas. 434.

See MORTGAGE—MISCELLANEOUS, 24 A. 538=A.W.N. 1902, 155.

Surrender of Tenure.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—ABANDONMENT OF TENURE.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—TRANSFER OF TENANT'S INTEREST.

(1)—Surrender of durmarasi mokurari tenure—Mere relinquishment after notice—Effect.—A man, who is bound by lease to pay his rent, cannot, by merely informing his landlord that he is going to relinquish the land, get rid of his obligation, and the mere fact that the landlord silently receives the notice cannot be construed into an assent to the relinquishment; and no Court has any right under such circumstances to find that the landlord did assent—Per Garth, C.J. The principle, that a patnidar cannot, at his own option, relinquish his tenure, is applicable to all intermediate tenures other than farming leases between the zemindar and the cultivator of the soil.—Per Field, J. JUDOONATH GHOSE v. SCHOENE KILBURN & CO., 9 C. 671=12 C.L.R. 343. (20 W.R. 383, R.) [R., 19 C. 489, 26 C. 460.]

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 86, 28 C. 256 =5 C.W.N. 351.

Surrender of holding by tenant in Central Provinces—No transfer of ownership—See C.P. ACT XVII OF 1889, 9 C.P.L.R. 122.

Surrender of holding by tenant—Necessity for regietration of—See C.P. ACT XI OF 1898, s. 35, 14 C.P.L.R. 29.

Surrender of service inam to Government—See LANDLORD AND TENANT — PAYMENT OF RENT BY TENANT, 18 B. 250.

Occupancy raiyat dying intestate—Liability of heirs to pay rent—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—TENANT'S LIABILITY FOR RENT, 19 C. 790.

Survarakari Tenure.

"Mourasi Sarvarakari" tenure—Mode of Succession—See LAND TENURE—IN ORISSA, 11 C. 699.

Survey.

See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS DOCUMENTS.

See MEASUREMENT OF LANDS.

(1)—Non-survey of land, no ground for dismissal of suit.—A suit should not be dismissed because the land has not been surveyed. KALEE DUTT KRISTO v. THE COLLECTOR OF KAMROOP, 25 W.R. 101.

Survey—concluded.

(2)—Excess land—Milleck lands—Land released by resumption proceedings—Previous survey—Mal.—Where the admitted milleck lands of a ryot are found to be over and above land released by resumption-proceedings based on a former survey, no presumption arises that the excess land is mal. DINOBUNDHOO SUHAYE v. THE COURT OF WARDS, 11 W.R. 347.

Power of Revenue-officer to make and prepare Record-of-Rights without order of Government—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, ss. 104 to 108, 117, 118, 119, 145, 158, 189, 30 C. 339=7 C.W.N. 33.

Proprietor of estate—Survey and measurement, right to—Rent, receipt of—See APPEAL—MISCELLANEOUS, 7 C. 684=9 C.L.R. 444.

See INAM, 13 B. 525.

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 21 W.R. 79.

See MEASUREMENT OF LANDS, 2 B.L.R. S.N. 5 (b)=10 W.R. 361.

Suit for possession—Effect of survey proceedings—See POSSESSION—SUITS FOR POSSESSION, 4 Ind. Cas. 547.

Survey and Settlement, Bombay.

See BOM. ACT I OF 1865.

Survey Award.

(1)—Survey award, what is a.—To constitute a survey award, there must be a decision on a bona fide contention between the parties, after a proper investigation into the points at issue betwen them. A plaintiff, suing for confirmation of possession, must, as a first step, prove that he is in actual bona fide possession of the land over which he wishes to have his title confirmed. NUBO KISHEN ROY v. GOBIND CHUNDER SEIN, 6 W.R. 317.

(2)—Reg. VII of 1822—Adjudication by Deputy Collector — Jurisdiction — Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, s. 14—Bona fide, meaning of.—A Survey Deputy Collector's award that a party has been in possession of certain land for more than a year, where the fact is not disputed, is not a summary award under Reg. VII of 1822. The adjudication by Revenue Authorities of the boundaries of two districts does not effectually settle the question of jurisdiction which must be tried by a Civil Court under s. 14 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1859. The legal meaning of bona fide is, with care and after due inquiry. RADHA PERSHAD SINGH v. RAM JEEWUN SINGH, 11 W.R. 389. [Diss., 12 W.R. 150; R., 16 W.R. 109.]

(3)—Survey Deputy Collector striking off case for default to deposit fees by plaintiff—Award—Cause of action.—The order of a Deputy Collector in the Survey Department, striking a case off his file owing to plaintiff's omission to deposit the Ameen's fees, is no award, and cannot be a cause of action. KRISTO CHUNDER DOSS v. SOUDAMONEE DOSSEE, 12 W.R. 174.

Survey Award – continued.

(4)—Entry on settlement paper, no award.—An objection to an entry made in the settlement papers was disallowed summarily without enquiry, on the ground that the papers had been drawn out more than a year before the objection was raised. Held that such an order was not "award," as it did not adjudicate on the right of the parties, or on the question of possession, and, that therefore, it was not an order on which a Court could base its judgment rejecting the suit without disposal of the point at issue upon the evidence. MOHUNT HEERA DASS v. BABOO HURMOO SINGH, 1 N.W.P. 77.

(5)—Survey award—Effect—Act XIII of 1848.—Act XIII of 1848 operates in certain cases to give to a survey award full effect of a decree of a Civil Court by taking away from the Courts the power of entertaining any suit for contesting the justice of such award after a limited time. MOKUND MOORAREE BISWAS v. WOOMA CHURN MOOKERJEE, 23 W.R. 173.

(6)—Survey award, who are entitled to benefits of.—Held that parties to a survey-award and persons representing the Government which was a party, are entitled to all the benefits which can be derived from the award. RAJ MOHUN MITTER v. THE COMMISSIONER OF THE SUNDERBUNS, 7 W.R. 344.

(7)—Award by Survey Authorities in favour of a person without possession—Its evidentiary value.—The mere fact of a survey-award being given in favour of a person, without any proof that he got possession under it or was in possession before it, cannot be conclusive against all other testimony. ALI ASHRUF v. CHONGA GOBIND ROY, 5 W.R. 220.

(8)—Act IV of 1840—Intervenor—Third party—Evidence of award.—An award under Act IV of 1840 between an intervenor and a party other than the plaintiff is no evidence against the plaintiff. AMEEROONISSA KHATOON v. JUGGURNATH ROY, 11 W.R. 113.

(9)—Award by survey Authorities—Evidence—Limitation—Jumma Wasil Bakee papers, how proved.—An award by Survey Authorities which is not followed by possession, and therefore infructuous, is no answer to a plea of adverse possession for upwards of 12 years after the date of the award. A survey award is binding on a vendee, if the award had been passed against those from whom his title had been derived. The best evidence is required to prove a Jumma wasil Bakee paper. ALLYAT CHINAMAN v. JUGGUT CHUNDER ROY, 5 W. R. 242.

(10)—Act IV of 1840. Award under, failure to set aside.—Held that the plaintiff, having failed to set aside an award made under Act IV of 1840 within the period of limitation, could not claim in opposition to the award. MOHUNT GOPAL NATH v. ABDOOL GHANEE, 1 Agra 120.

(11)—Award by survey authorities—Compromise—Joint undivided estate—Co-proprietors of.—A co-proprietor of a joint undivided estate is bound by a survey award and compromise to which the other co-proprietors were parties on proof of service of notice of the proceedings on the proprietors jointly and not on him individually. HUR LAL ROY v. SOORAJ NARAIN ROY, 3 W.R. 7.

Survey Award—continued.

(12)—Survey award—Admission.—In a suit to recover possession of certain land where plaintiff alleges possession on occasion of a Survey award between himself and defendant's predecessors, defendant's admission in a rent-suit of plaintiff's title and possession, and defendant's intervention in a suit for a kubooleut against the ryots. Held that the survey award is evidence quantum valet of the fact of possession, that defendant's alleged admission is an important part of plaintiff's case; and that plaintiff's cause of action is defendant's intervention in the rent suit. KASHEE KISHORE ROY CHOWDHRY v. BAMA SOONDAREE DEBIA CHOWDHRAIN, 23 W.R. 27. [R., 9 C.L.R. 305.]

(13)—Award by Survey Authorities—How affects the decree of a competent Court—Limitation.—The mere fact of a survey Court demarcating a certain land to be in a certain district and deciding it to belong to the party in possession cannot override the decree of a competent Court proceeding on evidence of title and deciding it to belong to another party in another district. Adverse possession to have benefited the former should have been pleaded before that decree was made. HURO NATH ROY v. ANUND CHUNDER ROY, 1 W.R. 329. [R., 7 W. R. 200; Expl., 11 W.R. F.B. 16.]

(14)—Suit to set aside survey award—Chur land—Right to sue for rent.—In a suit to set aside a survey award which declared the extent of the plaintiff's and opposite party's respective titles to certain Chur lands, it was held that the opposite party had no right to sue for rents on the plea of joint possession before fixing what lands are to be appropriated by him, and what by the intervenor as provided for by the survey award. TARINEE KANT LAHOORY v. HANEE MUNDUL, 7 W.R. 203.

(15)—Evidentiary value in contested suit.—A survey-award was held not to be conclusive evience of a contested right in a regular suit. KOYLASH CHUNDER GHOSE v. RAJ CHUNDER BANERJEE, 12 W. R. 180. [R., 9 C L.R. 305.]

(16)—Survey award—Effect of award - Suit to set aside award under Act IV of 1840—Proof of title.—In a suit to set aside an award under Act VI of 1840. Held, that the plaintiff ought to furnish some decisive proof of his title, to justify the Court in disturbing the award of a competent authority, and that resumption proceedings instituted by Government, which declared only that the lands were unfit for resumption and therefore left them in the plaintiff's possession, were not such convincing proof of title. BAMASOONDEREE DABEA CHOWDHRANEE v. BHUGRUTTEE DABEA CHOWDHRANEE; GREES CHUNDER CHOWDHRY v. BHUGRUTTEE DABEA CHOWDHRANEE, 1 Hay 495.

Survey Award—continued.

(17)—Award under Ben. Reg. VII of 1822, s. 33—Power of Court to set aside award—Held that an award of arbitrators under s. 3, Reg. VII of 1822, could not be set aside by the Courts of Judicature. FURZUND ALI v. AHMED HOSSEIN, 1 Agra 267.

(18)—Award by Survey Authorities—How far binding—Survey proceedings, evidentiary value of.—An award cannot legally be given in favour of a party for more than he claims ; and what is beyond the award is not binding or conclusive. An official opinion of the superintendent of survey regarding the trustworthiness of the survey proceedings is not legal evidence. The survey-proceedings are not conclusive as to title. Where they record a legal award of a competent Court, possession under it should not ordinarily be disturbed, unless a superior title be shown by the opposite party. LULEET NARAIN SINGH v. NARAIN SINGH, 1 W.R. 333. [R., 9 C.L.R. 305.]

(19)—Act IV of 1840—Act VIII of 1852, s. 14—Survey award—Act IV of 1840, order of Magistrate under—Adjudication by competent authority.—Neither an order by a Magistrate under Act IV of 1840 as to possession of lands nor an award by a surveyor is a decision by a competent authority. Where a plaintiff sued in the Court of B for the recovery of certain lands and the defendants objected that the lands in question were not in the District of B: Held that the Court had power, under s. 14, Act VIII of 1859, before it proceeded to try the suit, to enquire and determine whether the lands were in B or not. The rejection of a plaint under the same section cannot give jurisdiction to a Court which does not otherwise possess it. HURRONATH ROY v. R. W. SCOTT, B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 636=7 W.R. 200.

(20)—Survey award—Evidentiary value of.—A survey award sought to be set aside cannot be treated as evidence. ESHAN CHUNDER SEIN v. HUREE CHURN DEY, 2 W.R. 278.

(21)—Award of Survey Authorities—Order of Magistrate under Act IV of 1840—Limitation.—An award of the Survey Authorities adopting an order of a Magistrate passed under Act IV of 1840 is legal, because it is an adjudication founded on a previcus order of a competent Court. Being a legal award under Act XIII of 1848, the special limitation of three years applies to it. RAMGUTTY NAG CHOWDHRY v. BURODA CHURN BOSE, 1 W.R. 120.

(22)—Award by Survey Authorities—Suit by auction-purchaser to set aside—Limitation Act (XIII of 1848).—Held that a suit is not barred by Act XIII, 1848, when brought to cancel an award given by Survey Authorities by an auction-purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue subsequent to the award. PUREEAG SINGH v. SHIB RAM CHUNDERI MUNDUL, 3 W.R. 165.

(23)—Award of competent authority.—When a survey award is contested by a plaintiff within the proper time, and the accuracy or otherwise of the same is the very question to be tried, it cannot be held to be the award of a "competent authority" within the meaning of s. 14, Act VIII of 1859. ANUND CHUNDER MITTER v. DOORGA DOSS ROY, 2 W.R. 213.

Survey Award—concluded.

(24)—Its nature—Act VIII of 1859, s. 14—Jurisdiction.—An award of the Survey Authorities is an award within the purview of s. 14, Act VIII of 1859. Land demarcated to belong to an estate in one district, belongs de facto to that jurisdiction. While it so remains, a suit in respect of it should not be instituted in the Court of another District. RADHAMADHUB BANERJEE v. RAJA DAMOODUR SING AUDHAJ, W.R. 1864, 369. [Diss., 11 W.R. 389.]

(25)—Survey award—Suit to set aside—Limitation.—In a suit by a plaintiff, on the allegation that he was in possession, to cancel a survey award demarcating the land as a portion of lands in the possession of the defendant, held, that the plaintiff's right to claim a declaration of title against the defendant arose, when the defendant prosecuted the survey proceedings and obtained the award. RAJ KISTO ROY v. BEER CHUNDER JHOOBRAJ, 4 W.R. 100.

(26)—Evidence of actual possession—Presumption of correctness.—Survey proceedings are evidence of actual possession, and must be regarded as correct so far as the appearance of the country is recorded thereon, but if questioned in time, are not conclusive on the question of title. RAJAH LEELANUND SINGH v. RAJAH MOHENDERNARAIN SINGH, 13 W.R.P.C. 7=13 M.I.A 57=2 Suther. 286=2 Sar. 482.

See APPELLATE COURT—POWERS OF APPELLATE COURT, 1 B.L.R.A.C. 25=10 W.R. 71.

See BOUNDARY, 13 W.R.P.C. 7=13 M.I.A. 57.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 45, 46, 1 B.L.R. A C. 12=10 W.R. 48.

See PARTITION—PRIVATE PARTITION, 10 W.R. 336.

Survey, Bengal.

See BEN. ACT V OF 1875.

Survey Maps.

See EVIDENCE—MAPS.

See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS DOCUMENTS.

(1)—Survey map — Limits of permanently settled estate.—The Revenue authorities cannot go behind a survey map and question the boundaries of a permanently-settled estate as fixed therein. SARAT SUNDARI DABI v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 11 C. 784. [R., 30 C. 291, P.C.]

(2)—Maps and surveys—Evidentiary value—Act IX of 1847—Permanent Settlement of 1793—Assessment — Lands — Burden of proof.—Maps and surveys made in India for revenue purposes are official documents prepared by competent persons and with such publicity and notice to persons interested as to be admissible and valuable evidence of the state of things at the time they are made. They are not conclusive and may be shown to be wrong : but in absence of evidence to the contrary they may be properly judicially received in evidence as correct when made. Act IX of 1847 has no application to lands included in the Permanent Settlement of 1793 and the assessment of which lands was then fixed for ever. No new assessments of such lands can be lawfuliy made. In every case the question what lands were included in the Permanent Settlement is a question of fact and not of law. This question may or may not be proved by subsequent survey maps. The onus of proving that any particular lands were included in the Permanent Settlement of 1793, in other words the onus of proving that the Government Revenue then fixed was assessed upon any particular lands is clearly on those who affirm that such was the the case. JAGUDINDRA v. SECRETARY OF STATE, 5 Bom. L.R. 1=7 C.W.N. 193, P.C. = 30 C. 291=30 I.A. 44=8 Sar. 412.

Survey Maps—concluded.

Topographical — , value of, as evidence in cases of boundary disputes — See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 36, 11 C.W.N. 230=9 C.L.J. 415.

And map for private purposes — Comparative value as evidence—See FISHERY, 12 C.W. N. 334.

Survey Officer.

See BEN. ACT V OF 1875, s. 40, 21 C. 935.

Survey Officer's decision as to tenure, binding effect of until reversed by Court's decree—Settlement Officer's statements of facts in dharepatrak, admissible in evidence as entries coming under s. 35 of Act I of 1872—See BOM. ACT I OF 1880, ss. 20, 21, 21 B. 695.

Surveyor.

(1)—Surveyor employed by Collector managing khasmehal—"Public Officer."—A surveyor employed by the Collector in the Khas mehal department is a public officer. BAJOO SINGH v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 26 C. 158=3 C.W.N. 115.

Surveyor's Report.

Surveyor's report, evidentiary value of, in Land Acquisition cases—See ACT I OF 1894, 10 Bom. L.R. 660=33 B. 325.

Survey Proceedings.

Allegation of misconduct and collusion of survey officers—See COSTS—SPECIAL CASES, 1 Hay 520.

Survey Records.

Evidentiary value in suit for possession—See POSSESSION — EVIDENCE OF POSSESSION AND TITLE, 7 C.L.R. 269.

Surviving Partner.

See PARTNERSHIP.

Surviving partner, rights and liabilities of—See TRUSTS ACT, 1882, ss. 88, 95-a and 96, 9 Bom. L.R. 606.

Survivorship.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE.

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.

(1)—Of joint tenancy, scope of.—The survivorship in the case of joint tenancy is not an incident to it, in the case of real estate only, but exists also in the case of leasehold property and personal estate. WILLIAM WEBBE v. LESTER, 2 B.H.C. 52.

Right of, defeated by attachment — See ATTACHMENT—MISCELLANEOUS, 2 Bom. L. R. 32.

Government grant for family maintenance—Joint ownership—See GRANT— MISCELLANEOUS, 11 C. 1, P.C.

Gift to two persons jointly—Survivorship—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 15 B. 443.

Parsis—Custom—Presents to bride—Joint ownership—Right of survivor—See HUSBAND AND WIFE, 16 B. 630.

Doctrine of, applies to a family firm of Cutchi Memons—See MAHOMEDAN LAW, CUTCHI MEMONS, 9 Bom. L R. 274.

Money settled on husband or wife—Sum lent on mortgage by which interest was payable to both jointly—Death of husband——Widow's right of survivorship—Aliyasantana Law—See MALABAR LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE, 25 M. 385.

See RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY—TRANSFER OF RIGHT, 109 P.R. 1894, F.B.

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT OF 1889, s. 4, 1 C.W.N. 32.

Suspicion.

Expression of mere—Not actionable—See DEFAMATION, 13 M. 34.

Is not a ground on which to reject evidence of witnesses who though not independent are not shaken in cross-examination and are believed by the first Court—See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS, 6 Bom. L.R. 233.

Court not to proceed on—See GOSSAINS, 2 Ind. Cas. 385=14 C.W.N. 191.

Suti Tenure.

(1)—Assignment in breach of stipulation—Forfeiture. — An assignment without consent of a suti tenure does not involve a forfeiture. An assignment even though in breach of a stipulation does not necessarily create a right of forfeiture. The Courts both in England and in India lean strongly against a forfeiture ; so that, if a plaintiff comes into Court relying upon a forfeiture he must prove his rights strictly. CHHABILDAS v. KRISHNARAO, 5 Bom. L.R. 1016.

Svamibhogam Rent.

Landlord and tenant—Demise of temple lands by Collector at—Tenancy at will—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—EJECTMENT, 1 M. H.C. 109.

Symbolical Possession.

See POSSESSION.

Symbolical possession in execution proceedings is as good as actual possessicn as between the parties thereto—See EXECUTION OF DECREE—MISCELLANEOUS, 1 Bom. L.R. 48.

Synagogue.

Religious community worshipping at one synagogue—Resolutions at meeting of community dismissing officers of synagogue—Necessity of notice to officers—Decision by domestic tribunal for community, whether Court can interfere with—See RELIGIOUS COMMUNITY, 11 B. 185.

Tacking.

See MORTGAGE—TACKING.

Of various periods of adverse possession—See POSSESSION—ADVERSE POSSESSION, 9 O.C. 230.

Tahsildar.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts, 2, 6, 7, 8, 9, 22, 24, 25, 40, 48, 49, 1 B.L.R. S.N. 20, (b).

Petition by raiyats to Tahsildar—Bona fide statements against Zemindar held privileged—See PRIVILEGED COMMUNICATION, 12 M. 374.

Tahzimni Tenure.

Nature of—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 80 P.W.R. 1910=6 Ind. Cas. 1010.

Taidnuvees.

See LOCAL INVESTIGATION, 6 W.R. Act X, 81.

"Tainati Peon."

And chowkidar, distinction between—See LEASE—CONSTRUCTION OF LEASE, 6 C.L J. 572.

Takarridar.

Takarridar—Succession to his holding by his adopted son—Claim by proprietary body of Mauzia Talwandi, Tehsil Dina Nagar, District Gurdaspur—Land entered as Shamilat Deh—Charitable gift—Muafi—Occupancy tenant—No analogy between Takarridar and Mukarridar of Rawalpindi—Punjab Tenancy Act (XVI of 1887), ss. 5, 6 and 59.—In 1829 A.D. one S. acquired some land as a charitable gift (Dharm Arth) from the Sikh Government. In 1850, S received Muafi grant from the British Government for his life. In 1875, on his death the grant was resumed and an engagement for payment of revenue at full rates was made with his son R, and he was recorded as Takarridar in the proprietary column paying a small amount of rent (Malikana) to the proprietary body. This entry was repeated in the last settlement of 1890-91 and was continued till R's death in 1901 when mutation was effected in favour of R's adopted son K. Held that, the term Takarridar is neither defined in the Punjab Tenancy Act (XVI of 1887) nor it falls within the definition of various tenants detailed therein. Held, also that under the above circumstances, Takarridar occupies the position of a proprietor and not that of an occupancy tenant, and his adopted son is entitled to succeed him. Per Kensington, J.—R could establish occupancy rights under s. 5 of the Punjab Tenancy Act. The mere fact that the land has all along been shown in the settlement record as Shamilat Deh proves nothing, especially as in 1890 Settlement Record R was entered in the column for proprietors. R's Takarridari tenure has no analogy to that of Mukarridari of Rawalpindi District as explained in. BUDHA SINGH v. KANSHI RAM, 120 P.W.R. 1908. (10 P.R. 1896, R.)

Takarridar—concluded.

Takavi Advances.

Ex-proprietary tenants mortgaging trees to Government for takavi advances—Relinquishment of their rights to zemindar—Right of Government—See ACT XII OF 1884, s. 5, 26 A. 540.

Taking Instructions.

In contravention of Act XVIII of 1879 what amounts to—See ACT XVIII OF 1879, 6 M.L.J. 142.

Talbanah.

Talbanah—Refund.—Where the talbanah deposited for the purpose of giving notice to the other side had not been applied to its proper purpose, process not having been served, held that there could be no objection to its being refunded, NATHU SINGH v. BHOPAT RAM, A.W.N. 1881, 74.

See ACT XXIII OF 1861, s. 2, 3 B L.R. App. 25.

Taluq Board.

Suit against President of—held wrongly framed—Special limitation under s, 156—See MAD. ACT V OF 1884, ss. 27, 156, 16 M. 296.

Taluqdar.

Right of a—in Guzerat to recover trove—Government, Right of—See ACT VI OF 1878, 19 B. 668.

Guardian not competent to enter into contract binding ward personally—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1862, s. 12, 11 B. 551, P.C.

Debts incurred during management of Taluqdari by Settlement Officer—Taluqdari's personal liability for—Such debts not enforceable as against landed estate—Power of taluqdar to charge estate—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1862, ss. 12, 20. 11 B. 78.

Taluqdar—concluded.

Punitive post—Cost—Liability of taluqdar —See BOM. ACT VII OF 1867, s. 16, 16 B. 455.

See BOM. ACT VI OF 1888, ss. 16, 21, 16 B. 408.

Testamentary intention expressed by Taluqdar in a letter of reply to Government, whether constitutes will—See U.P. ACT I OF 1869, ss. 2, 20, 22, 18 C. 1=17 I.A. 82, P.C.

Suit relating to taluqdari village lands—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870), s. 7 art. 5, proviso—Difference between amount of jama payable by taluqdar and full survey assessment, a remission within cl. 3 of proviso—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 7, art. 5, proviso, 11 B. 541.

Partition and account against—See DECREE —DECREE, FORM OF, 14 C. 493=14 I.A. 37, P.C.

Rent, enhancement of—Tenants directly holding from Government—Settlement for 30 years made with Taluqdar—Right to enhance after expiry—See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT—GENERAL, 9 C.L.R. 189.

Powers of—See SETTLEMENT DECREE. 12 O.C. 267=3 Ind. Cas. 868.

Rules of succession applicable to non-taluqdari property — Acquisitions by taluqdar — Succession—See SUCCESSION, 11 O.C. 256.

Payment of assessment by—under protest—Right of, to sue—See VOLUNTARY PAYMENT, 14 B. 299.

Taluqdars, Ahmadabad.

See BOM. ACT VI OF 1862.

Taluqdars, Gujarat.

See BOM. ACT VI OF 1888.

Taluqdari Estate.

(1) Taluqdari estate—Sale of income.—The income of a taluqdari estate could not be sold in execution of a decree in the absence of the sanction of Government. NARAN v. CHUDASAMA, 1 Bom. L.R 212.

(2) "Taluqdar's estate"—Meaning of.—The expression "taluqdar's estate" means an estate held by Taluqdar as a Taluqdar. KHODABHAI v. CHHAGANLAL, 9 Bom. L.R. 1122.

Taluqdari Settlement.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—RELATIONSHIP OF LANDLORD AND TENANT, 11 C. 318, P.C.=12 I.A. 133.

Taluqdari Settlement Officer.

Taluqdari Settlement Officer, acting as Collector for the purposes of s. 320 of the Civ. Pro. Code, 1882—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, ss, 68, 70, 71 and sch. III r. 9, 6 Bom. L.R. 822.

Taluqdar of Kathiawar.

Whether a ruling chief—See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 8 B. 415.

Taluqdars' Relief, Oudh.

See U.P. ACT XXIV OF 1870.

Tambol.

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 141 P.R. 1888.

Tambol Register.

Evidentiary value of—See GUARDIAN—GENERAL, 86 P.W.R. 1910=7 Ind Cas. 505=213 P.L.R. 1910.

Tamlik-nama.

See DEED—CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS, A.W.N. 1881, 6.

Construction—See DEED—CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS, A.W.N. 1883, 233.

Tanjore District.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 27 M, 517.

Tank.

(1)—Surplus water of tank—Channel—Easement.—A right of easement may be acquired in the surplus water of a tank flowing through a defined channel, whether natural or artificial. RAYAPPAN v. VIRABHADRA, 7 M. 530. [R., 14 C.P L.R. 145, 11 C.W.N. 95 = 4 C.L.J. 370.]

(2)—Rent, assessment of—Permission to excavate silted-up tank—Rent, not fixed—Excavation at considerable expense—License—License to effect improvement, if can be revoked—Hindu shastra—Land, grant of, digging purpose—Sanad, a piece of evidence—Tank what includes—Tank, enjoyment of, for how long—Expectation—Estoppel—Zemindar's duty to maintain old tank—Resumption—Reversion—Rent, a recurring obligation—Right to receive rent, if can be held adversely—Limitation Act (IX of 1908), sch. I, art. 130.—In 1850, the ancestor of the defendant applied to the predecessor of the plaintiff for being allowed to excavate an unclaimed silted up tank in the plaintiff's (Maharaja's) zemindari. The tank was previously possessed by some one or other of the tenants. The permission was given by a Chiti bearing the plaintiff's ancestor's seal, and the grantee was required to re-excavate the tank by employing earth cutters, and the only restriction imposed was that the limits of the ancient tank were not to be exceeded. There was no provision for the payment of any rent presently or in future, and nothing was said as to the duration of the grant. The ancestor of the defendant re-excavated the tank at a considerable expense, and it was in the exclusive possession of the family of the defendant from father to son, and at the date of the suit, still supplied good drinking water. It was never assessed with rent, nor considered as a part of the rent-paying lands of the mehal. In the Survey and Settlement record, the Settlement Officer recorded, on the 21st November, 1894, the tank with its bank as jamas 'not paying rent.' The exclusive possession of the defendant continued as before and no action was taken by the plaintiff. In a suit brought on the 25th February, 1908, praying for recovery of possession of the tank with its banks, or in the alternative, for assessment of fair rent: Held, that, as a Hindu Raja, presumably possessing all the instincts and traditions of a Hindu Raja, the ancestor of the plaintiff, granted the land for the purpose of the re-excavation of the ancient tank, he could never have meant to grant a mere license, and a consistent course of conduct proved that this was so. Held, also, that the defendant was entitled to hold the tank with its banks without payment of rent, so long as the tank served the purpose for which the grant was made. That, when the predecessor of the plaintiff granted permission to the ancestor of the defendant to spend an indefinite amount of money for the reconstruction of the bank, he encouraged and created an expectation in the grantee that he would be allowed to enjoy the improved property without any let or hindrance, and his heir, the plaintiff, was equitably bound to give effect to such expectation (28 C. 693, 28 I.A. 211, R.). So long as the tank continued to be a tank, no assertion of adverse title by the defendant could give the plaintiff a cause of action for resumption or assessment of rent. (27 C. 156, 26 I.A. 216, R.) As the defendant relied upon his sanad as the root of his title and claimed rent-free title under the sanad and not by adverse possession as an alternative source of title, his possession could not be used for any purpose other than that of explaining the grant on which he relied. Per Caspersz, J.—It is the zemindar's duty to maintain old tanks in their zamindaries (11 A. 364, 14 B.L.R.209, R.). It was valid to allow a tenant to spend money and re excavate an old tank. A license to do a thing, to effect improvement, could not be revoked after the improvements had been carried out. The sanad was merely a piece of evidence showing the intentions of the parties and the nature of the subject-matter. If it had been intended to assess the tank at some future date, some apt and necessary provision would have been made among the terms of the document. If any rent had been previously paid for the tank, or any part of it, that fact also would have been mentioned. The word 'tank' included the banks which were necessary for the enjoyment of the water. If a person having a right to avoid a transaction on any legal ground, being aware of, and reasonably capable of enforcing, such right, manifests an intention to confirm the transaction, he cannot afterwards avoid it. (2 C.L.J. 125, D.) When private owners in this country, in times past, granted lands for various public purposes, such lands are liable to resumption, when the particular purpose has been exhausted. In such cases, there is a reversion in the grantor Obiter: As the obligation to pay rent is a recurring obligation, the landlord was not barred within the meaning of art. 130, sch. I of the Limitation Act. There cannot be any claim to hold adversely in respect of a right to receive rent. That right is not a limited interest; it is, in fact, the entire interest of the landlord. That, as the tank was never dissociated from being a part of the revenue paying properties of the zemindar, question of limitation under art. 130, sch. I, Limitation Act, could not arise. Per Chatterjee, J.—According to the Hindu Shastras, the grant of land for digging tanks, the digging of new tank and wells and the re-excavation of old ones, is extremely meritorious. MAHARAJA BIRENDRA KISHORE v. AKRAM ALI, 15 C.L.J. 194.

Tank—continued.

Tank—concluded.

Yearly tenant of a—See ACT I OF 1894, s. 23, 28 C.152=5 C.W.N. 349.

Right of tenant to dig a—on his land—See BURDEN OF PROOF—LANDLORD AND TENANT, 8 B.L.R. App. 69.

Repairs to a, the Government was bound to do—Zemindar interested—Suit for contribution against Zemindar—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 70, 18 M. 88=4 M.L.J. 205.

Surplus water of tank—See EASEMENT, 7 M. 530.

Water of—Different modes of drawing water—See EASEMENT, 8 C.W.N. 158.

Public tank, right to repair—Long user—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 6 M. 229.

Village tank, right of villagers to insist on repair at common cost—See INJUNCTION—SPECIAL CASES, 12 M. 241, P.C. =16 I.A. 48.

Suit against Government for recovery of a—Acts constituting adverse possession—See POSSESSION—ADVERSE POSSESSION, 5 Ind. Cas. 118=7 M.L.T. 139=20 M.L.J. 74.

Assessment of rent—Adverse possession—Limitation—See RENT, 15 C.L.J. 203.

Tanki Tenure.

Revenue-sale—Act VII of 1868 (B.C.), ss. 1 and 14—Ejectment—Act XI of 1859, s. 29—Subsisting title at the date of suit—Recognition of title as tankidar, if sufficient to give right of suit—"Revenue"—"Proprietor"—Amount due from tankidar and payable to Government—Sale by Collector for Government dues, if legal—Tanki tenure, nature of settlement of—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 7 C.L.J. 460.

Tariff.

See ACT VIII OF 1894.

Tarwad.

See MALABAR LAW—JOINT FAMILY.

See MALABAR LAW—TARWAD.

Declaration of membership of a—Valuation for purposes of jurisdiction—See MAD. ACT III OF 1873, s. 12, 15 M. 501=2 M.L.J. 255.

Specific Relief Act, s. 42—Consequential relief—Kanom—Suit by junior member of, for declaratory decree—See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—SUITS CONCERNING DOCUMENTS, 17 M. 232.

Tastik.

Arrears of cash allowance—Suit to recover—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 61, 131, 12 Bom. L.R. 157=5 Ind. Cas. 869=34 B. 349.

Taveris.

See MALABAR LAW—TARWAD.

Members of divided, of tarwad, whether bound by execution proceedings, to which they were not party, obtained against Karnavan of original tarwad—See MALABAR LAW—TARWAD, 3 M.L.T. 189=18 M.L.J. 132.

Tawazhi.

Suit by member of a, for separate maintenance—See MALABAR LAW—MAINTENANCE, 16 M.L.J. 275.

Tax.

(1)—Statute—Construction.—Power to levy tax.—A statute should not be construed as if it was a contract. The power to impose tax needs no correlative right. BRAUSON v. THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS FOR THE TOWN OF MADRAS, 2 M. 362, F.B. [R., 27 M. 13, 1 S.L.R. 228.]

(2)—Tax, levy of, by a private person.—The levy of tax on goods brought for sale at a fair by a private individual or a corporation is illegal in virtue of Act XIX of 1844. MAHADHU v. SAKHARAM, 5 Bom. L.R. 703.

(3)—Taxes on trades in ancient India—Muhtarafa—Trade-tax, Zemindar's right to collect—Reg. XXV of 1802, s. 4—Reg. XXV of 1832.—The right of the sovereign power to collect taxes on professions is of extreme antiquity in India, but these dues, though farmed out, were not exercisable by the owners of land. as such, but by the sovereign. The Zemindar of Karvetnagar has not the right of collecting the Muhtarafa or trade-tax from artizans in his Zemindari, delegated to him by Government, and the assignees of the Zemindar cannot legally exercise this right. Quære.—Whether it was competent to Government to commit the collection of this branch of the revenue to Zemindars for their own benefit. VEDANTA v. KANNIYAPPA, 9 M. 14, F.B. [R., 16 M. 34.]

(4)—Levy of house-tax—Distinct cause of action each year—Payment of tax one year without protest no bar to suit to recover tax paid under protest in subsequent year.—The levy of the house-tax in each year would give a new and distinct cause of action. and the payment of the tax without protest for one year would not bar a suit to recover a sum paid in subsequent year under protest on account of a tax which was not legally chargeable for that year on the plaintiff. PITAMBERDAS v. JAMBUSAR TOWN MUNICIPALITY, 17 B. 510.

(5)—Hak "Mogalai in Choki"—Preventing levy of—Reg. II of 1827, s. 43 and VII of 1831, s. 31—Act XX of 1839—Acts VI, XVI and XIX of 1844—Act VIII of 1859, s. 6.—Plaintiff sued to recover 6 years' annual produce of a hak called "Mogalai in Choki" stating that his father had purchased it from two persons in 1825 and continued to realise the produce thereof up to 11th of September 1844, when the Deputy Collector of Continental Customs and Excise by proclamation forbade him to collect his dues any longer under pain of punishment. The said produce of the hak consisted of the levy of certain fees on articles imported and exported through three of the City gates of Surat. Held that this hak was abolished by Act XIX of 1844 as the Act did not make any distinction between duties and other taxes and cesses belonging to the Government and those belonging to private persons. The omission to provide for compensation was held not to raise any inference that Act XIX of 1844 was not intended to apply to private persons, as there is the same omission in Act XX of 1839. The Court was not precluded from so deciding merely because the provisions of Act XX of 1839 had not been complied with in forbidding the levy of the fees in question. Held, further, that the intention of Act XIX of 1844 was to abolish haks such as this entirely, instead of leaving them to be abolished at different times, as provided for in Act XX of 1839. NASARVANJI PESTONJI v. DEPUTY COLLECTOR OF CUSTOMS, 2 B H.C. 75. [F., 8 B. 398; R., 9 M. 14, F.B.]

Tax—continued.

(6)—Choongee tax, when leviable—Confined to articles sold or consumed within a town.—The Choongee tax, if legal, is a tax upon articles brought into a town or manufactured therein and sold or consumed there; but if the articles be intended for sale or consumption elsewhere, the tax would then amount to a transit duty. GAMAN v. SULUKHUN MULL, 149 P.R. 1868.

Imposition of—See BURMA ACT (XVII OF 1884), s. 45, L.B.R. (1872-1892), 405.

Levy of—by Municipality—See MAD. ACT III OF 1871, ss. 38, 61, 7 M.H.C. 249.

Member of firm of attorney's holding a Government appointment—Liability of to pay separate, as such—See MAD. ACT I OF 1884 ss. 103, 110, 23 M. 529.

Tax on buildings—Standard hypothetical rent—Lying-in Hospital—See MAD. ACT I OF 1884, s. 123, 10 M. 38.

Liability of Government to pay tax for importing timber—See MAD. ACT I OF 1884, ss. 170, 174, 338, 341, 12 M.L.J. 209=25 M. 457.

School buildings not taxable—Illegally levied suit to recover—See MAD. ACT IV OF 1884, s. 63, 21 M. 367.

See U. P. ACT XV OF 1873, s. 15, 21 A. 348=A.W.N. 1899, 97.

Imposed without jurisdiction--Legality--Right to recover excess—Limitation—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 2, 62, 7 A.L.J. 496=6 Ind. Cas. 401=32 A. 491.

Tax—concluded.

Mortgage—Suit to recover mortgage debt by sale of mortgaged property—Property sold to realize Municipal taxes — Personal claim—Limitation Act, 1877, sch. II, arts. 97 and 116—See MORTGAGE—SALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY, P.L.R. 1900, p. 201.

Taxation.

University buildings—Exemption—Charitable purposes—See BOM. ACT III OF 1888, ss. 143, 144, 16 B. 217.

Mutual Assurance Company—Taxation—See MAD. ACT I OF 1884, sch. A, 11 M. 238.

Taxation of Costs.

See COSTS.

(1)—Commission to take evidence in England in respect of suit in India—Taxation of bill of costs—Principle of taxation—Objection to taxation—Procedure by taxing master—Commission to England—Production of vouchers—Rule in respect of—Discretion of taxing master—Principle of party taxation—Obtaining transcript of evidence given and of perusing it, costs of—Amount allowed to witness by taxing master—Discretionary—Interference by Court—Fees of Commissioner, scale of.—On the issue of a commission to take evidence in England in respect of a suit in India, the bill of costs as regards such commission must be taxed by the taxing master of the Court in India and not in England. It is to be taxed on the same principle and on the same scale as would be adopted in England. Where the taxing master finds any difficulty, he must refer to England for information. When an item in the taxation is objected to, the master is to re-consider and review his taxation, and, in doing so, he must throw the onus of proof as to the necessity of the item, upon such party as, having regard to its particular nature, he considers ought to bear it. It is impossible to lay down any particular rule as regards the production of vouchers in cases of commission to England. To require them in all cases in the first instance would occasion an unnecessary increase of costs in the proceedings. To rule that they should never be called for, would be to establish a dangerous precedent which unscrupulous practitioners might readily avail themselves of. The proper procedure is this: Upon the objections being brought in, it should be in the discretion of the taxing master, either of his own motion or on the application of the party objecting, to require vouchers for, or further proof of, all or any of the items objected to, and, failing the production of the vouchers or proof that he may require, to disallow the item. The principle of party and party taxation in England is that the successful party shall receive only such costs as were necessary to enable him to conduct the litigation. Quære:—Whether, on taxation as between party and party, the costs of obtaining a transcript of the evidence given and perusing it, should be allowed or not? The taxing master has a discretion to make payments to witnesses, and Courts will always be averse to review such discretionary allowances. Where a Court in India appoints a Commissioner to take evidence in England, it expects that his fees shall not exceed those which the Supreme Court in England would allow to a special Examiner or Commissioner acting in England under its orders; and parties should choose their Commissioners with reference to this undertaking. If they desire that higher fees should be allowed to the Commissioner whom they name, they should obtain an order from the Judge appointing the Commissioner. THE GOKULDAS BULABDAS MANUFACTURING COMPANY, LIMITED v. JAMES SCOTT, 15 B. 209.

Taxation of Costs—continued.

(2)—General rule as to—Taxing master's discretion—Interference by Court.—As a general rule the Judge in Chambers will not interfere with items of taxation which are entirely within the Taxing Master's discretion or go into details of such discretionary items, but there is nothing to prevent him from doing so if it appears to him that the interests of justice require his interference; and it would be his duty in all such cases to review and revise taxation and judge and decide for himself what would be a just order to make under the circumstances. BANOO BEGUM v. MIR AUN ALI, 9 Bom. L.R. 983=32 B. 262.

(3) — Originating summons — Costs of counsel.—In an originating summons, parties are entitled to instruct counsel; and without any certificate the costs of one counsel must be allowed on taxation. FATMABIBI v. SHAIKH HUSSAIN, 9 Bom. L.R. 1071.

(4)—Solicitor—Expert knowledge as to handwriting—Extra charges for the work—Taxing Master's decision—Review by Chamber Judge.—In a suit to obtain probate of a will, the defence was that the will was a forgery. The defendant's solicitor failing to obtain an expert in handwriting, made a special study of the subject occupying 128 hours, and arrived at the conclusion that the will was not genuine. He then, notwithstanding counsel's opinion to the contrary, got the suit decided in his client's favour. In his bill of costs, the defendant's solicitor claimed his extra fees for the special work: but the Taxing Master disallowed the claim: Held, in review of taxation, that the solicitor was entitled to a special remuneration for his work in qualifying himself as an expert in handwriting. DAHIBAI v. SUNDERJI, 9 Bom.L.R. 819=31 B. 430.

(5) — Taxation in probate proceedings.—Pleader's fees in appeals in probate proceedings should, according to a long standing practice of the High Court, be assessed at Rs. 30. SUNDRABAI v. COLLECTOR OF BELGAUM, 10 Bom.L.R. 1197=33 B. 256.

(6)—Act XXVI of 1864, s. 9—Certificate—Costs—Powers of appellate Court.—A certificate in respect of costs under s. 9, Act XXVI of 1864, may be given at any time. An omission of the original Court to certify the case under the section may be supplied by the appellate Court, Taxation of Costs—concluded.

if the case is a fit one to be brought before the latter Court. KEWATA MUG v. NOBOCOOMAR DOSS, 19 W.R. 207.

(7)—Taxation, Counsel's fees—Taxing Master—Plaint in short causes.—The Taxing Master should allow counsel's fees on taxation, where plaints in short causes are drawn by counsel, if he is of opinion that it was not ureasonable to submit them to counsel to be drafted or settled. GUNNAJI BHAVAJI v. MAKANJI, 10 Bom. L. R. 969.

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—ATTORNEY AND CLIENT, 3 C. 473.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 84, 1 B. 253.

See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 33 C. 827.

See RULES OF HIGH COURT AND SUPREME COURTS—BOMBAY, 16 B. 152.

Taxing.

Taxing provisions of statute — Right of Government to claim exemption when not named in statute—See STATUTES. CONSTRUCTION. OF, 12 M.L.J. 208=25 M. 457.

Taxing Master.

See COSTS—TAXATION OF COSTS.

See TAXATION OF COSTS.

Taxing Master, decision of, can be reviewed by the Chamber Judge—See COSTS—TAXATION OF COSTS, 9 Bom. L R. 983=32 B. 262.

Finality of decision of—See COURT FEES ACT, 1870, s. 5, 15 A. 117=A.W.N. 1893, 45.

Taxing Officer.

See TAXING MASTER.

Taylor's Medical Jurisprudence.

Evidence Act (I of 1872), ss. 57, 60—Science, evidence of books of.—Under the provisions of the penultimate paragraph of s. 57 and the first proviso of s. 60 of the Evidence Act, Taylor's Medical Jurisprudence may be referred to. In re HATIM, 12 C.L.R. 86.

Tazi Mandi Chitties.

Act XXI of 1848 (Gambling)—Tazi mandi chitties.—The Gambling Act (XXI of 1848) is inapplicable to the transaction with respect to opium known as tazi mandi chitties. KANAYA LAL v. CHAGMAL BATTIA, 8 B.L.R. 412.

Teacher.

Limitation period applicable to suit for pay of, or instructor—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 121, 8 M.H.C. 87.

Teiskhana Papers.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 35, 23 C. 366.

Teiskhana Register prepared by patwari, not a public document—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 35, 74, 18 C. 534.

Teji Mandi Transactions.

Nature of—Wagering—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, s. 30, 12 Bom. L.R. 590.

Telegrams.

This circular deals with telegrams to Board. Rev. Cir. No. 3, 25 W.R. Rev. Cir. 30.

Telegraph.

Telegraphic messages--their disclosure—See EVIDENCE — PAROL EVIDENCE, 2 N.W.P. 210.

Mistake of Reuter in transmitting message —Effect—See SALE—GENERAL, 9 M.L.T. 353 =8 Ind. Cas. 291.

Telegraphs, Electric.

See ACT VIII OF 1860.

Temple.

See ACT XX OF 1863.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 92.

See HINDU LAW — RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS.

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS.

See RIGHT OF SUIT—ENDOWMENTS, SUITS RELATING TO.

(1)—Management of temple by rotation among two branches of trustees — Discontinuance of possession by one branch—Adverse enjoyment by the other—Extinction.—The management of a temple had been conducted by two branches of a deceased trustee's family in rotation until 1881, by a family arrangement among them, and the members of the junior branch had, since 1882, discontinued possession of the immoveable properties belonging to the temple as also the performance of the duties usually appertaining to the office of trustee of the temple; and the members of the senior branch were, in turns, successively in possession of the properties of the temple and were performing the duties of the office of trustee, to the exclusion of and adversely to the members of the junior branch. Held, that the right of the members of the junior branch became extinguished in 1900, whether the appropriate article applicable to the case be art. 127 or art. 142 or art. 124. It is competent to co-trustees to settle a scheme of management by each of the co-trustees in rotation, at any rate where no emoluments are attached to the hereditary office of trustee. Where the office has emoluments attached thereto the emoluments will be subject to partition in the strict sense of the term like any other family property. But whatever may be the number of co-trustees, the office is a joint one and the co-trustees all form, as it were, one collective trustee and, therefore, must execute the duties of the office in their joint capacity. It would be competent for a Court in the exercise of its equitable jurisdiction to settle a scheme for the management of a public, religious or charitable trust by the various co-trustees in rotation, if such management would be more beneficial to the interests of the trust than the joint and concurrent management thereof by a large number of co-trustees; so, it is also competent to the co-trustees themselves to settle a scheme of management by turns. RAMANATHAN CHETTY v. MURUGAPPA CHETTY, 27 M. 192. (19 A. 428, Disc.) [Confirmed on Appeal, 29 M. 293, P.C. = 16 M.L.J. 265 = 1 M.L.T. 327 = 10 C.W.N. 825 = 4 C.L.J. 189 = 8 Bom. L.R. 498 = 3 A.L.J. 707 = 33 I.A. 139; R., 4 M.L.T. 486 = 19 M.L.J. 59, 3 Ind. Cas. 408, 11 C.L.J. 2, 6 M.L.T. 319].

Temple—continued.

(2)—Mohini arrangement—Release of assessment on temple lands—Temple to receive assessment from some lands—Effect.—In lieu of Mohini allowance payable to a temple by the Government, the latter exonerated the temple from its liability to pay the assessment on its own lands, and directed the first crop assessment payable on certain lands by defendant's ancestors to be paid to the temple. The defendant's ancestors executed a muchilika to Government undertaking to pay the assessment to the temple. The trustees of the temple also executed a muchilika to Government agreeing to receive the assessment in satisfaction of their claims to the Mohini allowance. Held, in a suit for the assessment by the temple, that the claim of the temple to such assessment was not based upon any contract between the temple and the defendant's ancestors irrespective of any possession by the latter of lands. It was a claim to enforce the liability upon property, as, by the arrangement, the lands, the revenue of which was assigned to the temple, became inam lands vested in the latter who became entitled to the melvaram on such lands. VYTHILINGA MUDALIAR v. RAMACHANDRA NAICKER, 14 M.L.J. 379. [R., 15 M.L.J. 7.]

(3)—Inam—Temple—Inam when extinguished.—Where the right to the tree-tax alone was assigned as inam to a temple, the inam becomes extinct when the trees cease to exist. But when the inam consisted of the land on which the trees stood, the temple is entitled to the melvaram on the land. JAGANNATHA BANDIAJIAR v. MUTHIA PILLAI, 14 M.L.J. 477.

Right of worshipper to complain of breach of trust of temple funds—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 92, 3 B. 27.

See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, s. 115, 26 M. 85.

Hindu law—Mirasi right in temple—Suit against office-holder—Compromise for sale of office and emolument—Public policy—Execution of decree passed in terms of compromise—Power of executing Court to refuse to execute decree—See COMPROMISE—GENERAL, 26 M. 31.

Office of dancing girl attached to—Courts bound to recognise endowments connected with—Custom—See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM, 14 B. 90.

Temple—continued.

Mitakshara law—Hindu father not competent to make gift of family land to temple—See HINDU LAW—GIFT, 11 M.L.J. 310.

Bequest to complete and to instal an idol—Validity—See HINDU LAW—WILL, 7 A.L.J. 296 = 5 Ind. Cas. 584 = 32 A. 337.

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 23 B. 122, 4 M.H.C. 349.

Landlord and tenant—Demise of temple lands by Collector at Swamibhogam rent—Tenancy at will—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—EJECTMENT, 1 M.H.C. 109.

Customary contribution to—from tenants—when leviable—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—TENANT'S LIABILITY FOR RENT, 17 M. 43.

See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 10, 8 B. 432.

Right to hold—office with lands attached, whether can be acquired by adverse possession—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, s. 28, 21 M. 278.

Suit for declaration of right to office of Dharmakarta of—and possession of property attached to it—Prescription—Hereditary right—Right to possession dependent on right to office—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 120, 124, 144, 26 M. 113.

Marriage fee for use of temple—Custom—Legal obligation—See MARRIAGE FEES, 5 M.H.C. 147.

Suit by some members of a caste for declaration of exclusive right to worship at—Cognisability of suit by Civil Court—Reg. II of 1827—See PARTIES TO SUIT—SUIT BY REPRESENTATIVES OF A CLASS, 7 B. 323.

Suit for declaration by some of the worshippers at a temple—Omission to obtain leave to sue, not fatal to suit—See PARTIES TO SUIT—SUIT BY REPRESENTATIVES OF A CLASS, 23 M. 28 = 7 M.L.J. 281.

Temple managed by three Sabhas, suit to recover land belonging to, whether maintainable by members of two Sabhas only—See PARTIES TO SUIT—MISCELLANEOUS, 23 M. 82.

Suit relating to—property—Plaint in name of idol—See PLAINT—AMENDMENT OF PLAINT, 19 A. 330 = A.W.N. 1897, 75.

Possession of temple property by the shevaks as servants of the idol, whether could be adverse to rights of hereditary manager—See POSSESSION—ADVERSE POSSESSION, 12 B. 322.

Manager and trustee on behalf of temple idol—Shevaks mere votaries in temple—Right to management or to custody of temple land, as against manager—See POSSESSION—ADVERSE POSSESSION, 12 B. 325 Note = P.J. 1879, 361.

Suit for damages against previous manager of—See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT, 1887, sch. II, art. 18, 21 M. 245.

Temple—concluded.

Dignities and emoluments appertaining to office in—Dignities and emoluments not separable—Suit for dignities and emoluments—Maintainability — See RIGHT OF SUIT—OFFICE OR EMOLUMENT, SUITS RELATING TO, 7 M.L.J. 23.

See VALUATION OF SUIT, 96 P.R. 1887.

Temple Committee.

See ACT XX OF 1863.

See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT.

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS.

(1)—Temple Committee—Dismissal of trustee.—A temple Committee proposed to inquire into certain alleged charges against a trustee and called upon him to appear on a certain day before them to answer those charges. He did not obey the order of the Committee and, by his contemptuous and evasive conduct, the Committee was led to infer that he was really guilty, and they, therefore, dismissed him from his office. Held that the Committee was amply justified in dismissing the trustee. NARASIMHA CHARIAR v. MUTHUKUMARSWAMY MUDALIAR, 11 M.L J. 236.

See PARTIES TO SUIT—SUIT BY REPRESENTATIVES OF A CLASS, 2 M. 200.

Dismissal of Dharmakarta by some members—Absence of meeting—Illegality of the dismissal—See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS, 23 M. 483=10 M.L J. 117.

Temple-trustees.

See ACT XX OF 1863, 21 M. 179.

Temple trustee—Joint right of management—Partition of right—Civil Court—Jurisdiction—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 19 A. 428=A.W.N. 1897, 103.

Temporary Absence.

(1)—Act XI of 1865, s. 8—Dwelling—Temporary absence—Intention of not returning—Effect of.—The mere fact that defendant has a house within the precincts of the Small Cause Court jurisdiction is not sufficient proof that he was dwelling there. The question is one of fact. Did he live there? Did he intend to return? Was his absence temporary? The above questions ought to be considered. Temporary absence with nothing to show an intention of not returning to a former place of abode is consistent with dwelling there within the meaning of s. 8 of Act XI of 1865. GUNDA MULL v. MULLA MULL, 17 P.R. 1871. [F., 32 P.R. 1879.]

See JURISDICTION—CAUSES OF JURISDICTION, Bourke O.C. 127=Cor. 152.

Temporary Lodging.

Civ. Pro. Code, Act X of 1877, s. 17, expl. I—Cause of action—Temporary lodging of defendant—Institution of suit.—The words, "temporary lodging," in expl. I, s. 17 of the Civ. Pro. Code, cannot be separated from the cause of action. A suit cannot be brought before the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant has a temporary lodging, if the cause of action did not arise within those limits. GANGA RAM v. SAIN DASS, 75 P.R. 1878.

Temporary Lodging—concluded.

Temporary Residence.

Jurisdiction—for pleasure—Person without residence elsewhere — See JURISDICTION—CAUSES OF JURISDICTION, Bourke O.C. 127=Cor. 152.

See JURISDICTION—CAUSES OF JURISDICTION, Cor. 46=2 Hyde 117.

Temporary residence, if enough to give jurisdiction to a Court—See LETTERS PATENT, HIGH COURT, 1865,—BOMBAY, cl. 12, 3 Bom. L.R. 291=25 B. 176.

Tenancy.

See JOINT TENANCY.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

See RENT.

See RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY.

Tenure in existence for more than twenty years, split up into two—New tenancies created—Presumption of fixity of tenure inapplicable—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 50, cls. (2) and (3), 13 C.W.N. 410=36 C. 287=1 Ind. Cas. 4.

Sub-division of—under s. 88, Bengal Tenancy Act, rent-receipts how far evidence of —See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 88, 10 C.W.N. 216.

Purchase of occupancy holding by a co-sharer— Right of other co-sharers to joint possession—See CO-SHARERS—ENJOYMENT OF PROPERTY BY CO-SHARERS, 13 C.P.L R. 153.

Purchase of occupancy holding by a co-sharer—Right of such purchaser in the holding —See CO-SHARERS—ENJOYMENT OF PROPERTY BY CO SHARERS, 14 C.P.L.R. 9.

Termination of—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss.109, 114, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 414.

Whether reservation of annual rent makes tenancy one from year to year—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—EJECTMENT, 11 C.W.N. 1124.

Agricultural lands—created not only by contract, but by occupation—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—RELATIONSHIP OF LANDLORD AND TENANT, 25 C. 324.

Creation of—Payment of rent and acceptance thereof, effect of, as to creation of tenancy—See LANDLORD AND TENANT, MISCELLANEOUS, 5 C.L.J. 9.

Proof of tenancy when lease was inadmissible—See LEASE—GENERAL, 2 Ind. Cas. 202=14 C.W.N. 141.

What constitutes cultivating partnership as distinguished from tenancy—See PARTNERSHIP—PARTNERSHIP WHAT CONSTITUTES, 10 C.P.L.R. 29.

Tenancy—concluded.

Alternative defence—and limitation—See PLEADINGS, 7 C.W.N. 294.

Instrument extinguishing tenant rights—Necessity for registration of—See REGISTRATION ACT, 1908, s. 17, 14 C.P.L.R. 29.

See SUCCESSION, 19 P.R. 1867, 96 P.R. 1867.

Tenancy, Agra.

See U.P. ACT II OF 1901.

Tenancy, Amendment, Chota Nagpur.

See BEN. ACT V OF 1903.

Tenancy-at-will.

(1) — Tenancy-at-will, what is.—Obiter— A tenancy-at-will is a holding by a tenant entirely dependent on the will of the landlord capable of being terminated at any time by the will and demand of the landlord, without any previous notice, and for the refusal to deliver up possession. a suit in enjeotment may be at once brought. ABDULLA v. PAKKERI, 2 M. 346.

Declaration of tenancy-at-will, suit for—Jurisdiction of Civil Court—See U. P. ACT XXII OF 1886, s. 108, 4 O.C. 180.

Permanent occupancy—Course of decisions—See BURDEN OF PROOF—LANDLORD AND TENANT, 13 M. 60.

See KABULIAT—GENERAL, 2 B.L.R. S.N. 15 (b).

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—EJECTMENT, 19 B. 150.

Landlord and tenant—Demise of temple lands by Collector at Swamibhogam rent—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—EJECTMENT, 1 M.H.C. 109.

Tenancy, Bengal.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885.

Tenancy, Bengal, Amendment.

See BEN. ACT III OF 1898.

See BEN. ACT I OF 1907.

Tenancy, Central Provinces.

See C.P. ACT IX OF 1883,

See C.P. ACT XVII OF 1889.

See C.P. ACT XI OF 1898.

Tenancy, Chota Nagpur.

See BEN. ACT VI OF 1908.

Tenancy from year to year.

(1)—What is.—A tenancy from year to year is a holding under contract, express or implied that the tenant may hold, until the end of any year entered on, unless the tenancy shall be determined either by agreement of both parties or by reasonable notice to quit by either party, terminating at the same period of the year at which the tenancy was commenced. ABDULLA v. PAKKERI, 2 M. 346.

Tenancy-in-common.

See CO-SHARERS.

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE.

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY.

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION.

(1)—Tenants-in-common—Courts of Equity.—Courts of Equity will not interfere where a tenant-in-common acts reasonably for the purpose of enjoying the property held in common, in any way in which an owner could enjoy such property without injury to his co-parceners, such as where such co-parcener either cuts down a tree, pulls down a wall, or builds up doors in a portion of the property held beneficially by him alone. But the case is different when there is a clear and distinct infringement of the right of a co-parcener by a wilful and deliberate act for the purpose of creating a right as against him or otherwise injuring him. GOPEE KISHEN GOSSAIN v. HEM CHUNDER GOSSAIN, 13 W.R. 322.

(2)—Partition between tenants-in-common.—A decree directing a partition, or the equivalent of a decree substantially undistinguishable from a decree, is a declaratory decree converting the parties into tenants-in-common. A tenant-in-common is entitled as of right to have a partition made of the property which he holds in common with others, whatever the means whereby he acquires that character. LADE v. SADASHIVA, 6 Bom. L.R. 35.

(3)—Possession of Deed — Tenants-in-common.—When deeds relate to two or more portions of an estate or to an estate which is held by tenants-in-common if any one of the interested parties gets possession of the deeds none of the other parties can get them from him: for no one can show a better title to have them than he has. This rule of law applies only where all the parties have equal rights. HUNSRAJ v. MONGHIBAI, 7 Bom. L.R. 622.

(4)—Adverse possession between tenants-in-common.—To constitute adverse possession as between tenants-in-common there must be an exclusion or an ouster. Exclusive receipt of profits by one tenant-in-common continuously for a long period would be sufficient evidence to presume an actual ouster of the other tenant-in-common. GANGADHAR v. PARASHARAM, 7 Bom. L.R. 252=29 B. 300.

(5)—Tenants-in-common—Adverse possession—Ouster, how presumed.—To constitute adverse possession as between tenants-in-common, there must be an exclusion or ouster. Ordinarily sole possession by one tenant-in-common maintained continuously for a long period, without any claim or demand by any person claiming under the other tenant-in-common, is evidence from which an actual ouster of the other tenant-in-common may be presumed. MUHAMMAD ISHAQ v. NATHU, 10 A.L.J. 59.

(6)—Tenants-in-common—Ejectment suit by one against another—Exclusion—Ouster—Adverse possession.—One tenant-in-common cannot maintain an ejectment against another tenant-in-common, because the possession of one tenant-in-common is the possession of the other, and, to enable the party complaining to maintain an ejectment, there must be an ouster of the party complaining. But where the complainant, a tenant-in-common, has not been in the participation of the rents and profits for a considerable length of time, and other circumstances occur, the Judge should consider whether a presumption that there has been an ouster would arise. To constitute an adverse possession as between tenants-in-common there must be an exclusion or an ouster. BANDACHARYA v. SRINIVASACHARYA, 5 Bom. L.R. 742.

Tenancy-in-common—continued.

(7)—Co-sharers—Possession by one tenant-in-common when adverse to others—Non-participation of profits for a long time, effect of.—In order to establish adverse possession by one tenant-in-common against his co-tenants, there must be exclusion or ouster and the possession subsequent to that must be for the statutory period. Mere non-participation of rents and profits would not necessarily of itself amount to exclusion, but such non-participation or non-possession may, in the circumstances of a particular case, amount to an adverse possession. What the circumstances may be which may have to be considered in determining the question of ouster, discussed. AYENENUSSA BIBI v. SHEIKH ISUF, 16 C.W.N. 849.

(8)—Tenants-in-common enjoyment of property—One of the tenants laying drain pipes under the property held in common—Right of the co-tenant to restrain him—Injunction.—The plaintiff sued to restrain the defendant who had commenced to lay a drain pipe, for the purpose of carrying off the drainage from his premises, under the surface of a piece of land which was held by the defendant in common with the plaintiff: Held, that the act of the defendant was not an infringement of the rights of the co-tenants giving rise to a cause of action, because the laying of the drain and the incidental temporary interference with the soil could not be regarded either as an ouster or destruction or even an act of waste. One tenant-in-common cannot maintain an action against the other for a temporary removal of the subject-matter of the tenancy-in-common, the party removing it having at the same time an intention of making a prompt restitution. MOHANCHAND v. ISAKBAI, 2 Bom. L.R. 898=25 B. 248.

Right of tenants in common to maintain joint action—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. I, rr. 1, 4 (a), 13 C.P.L.R. 130.

Grant of village to members of joint Hindu family and another—No tenancy-in-common—See DEED—CONSTRUCTION OF DEEDS, 27 A. 310=A.W.N. 1904, 269.

Effect of—Gift to two or more persons without specifying shares—See GIFT, 39 P.R. 1909 =59 P.L.R. 1909=55 P.W.R. 1909=1 Ind. Cas. 720.

The share of a tenant in common will pass after his death to his representative and not by survivorship to the survivors—See HINDU LAW —WILL, 28 M. 363=15 M.L.J. 299.

Tenancy-in-common—concluded.

Possession of one tenant-in-common not adverse in the absence of ouster, denial of title or abandonment—Sharers under Mahomedan Law —See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 123, 127, 144, 5 N.L.R. 41=2 Ind. Cas. 15.

Profits—Exclusive receipt—Effect—Suit for possession — Limitation — See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, arts. 142, 144, 5 S.L.R. 49.

Adverse possession — Tenants-in-common—Burden of proof.—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 144, 7 M.L.T. 155=5 Ind. Cas. 491=20 M.L.J. 323.

Mortgage by one of several co-tenants-in-common—Mortgage-security impaired by wrongful act of other co-tenant—Suit for damages by mortgagee against wrong-doer, maintainability of—See MORTGAGE—MISCELLANEOUS, 28 M. 208=15 M.L.J. 249.

Joint responsibility to pay Government assessment—Whether implies impartibility of the land — See PARTITION—GENERAL, 13 Bom. L. R. 963.

Question of adverse possession between tenants-in-common on what depends—See POSSESSION—ADVERSE POSSESSION, 11 Bom. L.R. 51=33 B. 317=1 Ind. Cas. 322.

Created by a sale-deed—Right of one of the tenants to enforce by suit a covenant contained in the deed—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 55, 15 M.L.J. 396.

Tenancy, Punjab.

See PUN. ACT XXVIII OF 1868.

See PUN. ACT XVI OF 1887.

Tenant.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

See LEASE.

(1)—Tenant under two zemindars—Ijmalee.—A tenant under two zemindars whose lands are ijmalee, may stand on his rights as to one, and waive them as to the other. SHIB NARAIN GHOSE v. KASHEE PERSHAD MOOKERJEE, 1 W.R. 226.

Meaning of—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 52, 27 C. 417=4 C.W.N. 107.

Right of, to prove that title of registered purchaser of zemindari, claiming rent, was declared void by competent Court—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 60, 12 C.W.N. 622.

Determination of tenancy—See BOM. ACT III OF 1876, 1 Bom. L.R. 464.

Denial of landlord's title—See BOM. ACT II OF 1906, s. 15, 1 Bom. L.R. 797.

Sub-tenancy, sub-tenants of a tenant, do hold under a right derived from the landlord—See BOM. ACT II OF 1906, s. 15 (a), 1 Bom. L.R. 71.

See U.P. ACT III OF 1878, s. 8, A.W.N. 1899, 187.

Tenant—concluded.

Does not include rent-free grantee within s. 32, cl. 2—Agra Tenancy Act—See U.P. ACT II OF 1901, ss. 4 (5) and 32 (2), Chapter III, 5A. L.J. 734=31 A. 49=A.W.N. 1908, 279=1 Ind. Cas. 705.

Suit by the heirs of a tenant whose holding was let to a third person by the landlord—Limitation—See U.P. ACT II OF 1901, ss. 79, and 81, 2 A.L.J. 69=27 A. 372=A.W.N. 1904, 281.

Whether representative of tenant by sufferance, who enters after his death, is a, within meaning of art. 139—See LIMITATION ACT, 1908, art. 139, 18 M.L.J. 26=3 M.L.T. 256=31 M. 163.

Agreement to pay each lambardar his proportionate share of rent—No partition of holding—See PARTITION—FORM OF PARTITION, 14 C.P.L.R. 33.

Mortgage by fixed rate tenant—Suit by zemindar to redeem it on death of such tenant without heirs—Zemindar not a person having "interest." in property—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 91, A.W.N. 1908, 210 =5 A.L.J. 578.

By sufferance, whether representatives of, can be converted, without their own consent, into such, by mere assent of lessor — Such representative holding over after death of—Whether a trespasser—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 116, 18 M.L.J. 26 =3 M.L.T. 256=31 M. 163.

Tenant and Landlord, Procedure.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1869.

Tenant and Landlord, Procedure, Chota Nagpur.

See BEN. ACT I OF 1879.

Tenants, Government, Punjab.

See PUN. ACT III OF 1893.

Tenants' Improvements, Malabar Compensation for.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1887.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1900.

Tenants-in-common.

See TENANCY-IN-COMMON.

Tender.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 83.

(1)—Plea of tender—Payment into Court.—A plea of tender before action must be accompanied by a payment into Court after action. HAJI ABDUL RAHMAN v. HAJI NOOR MAHOMED, 16 B. 141. [Diss., 4 L.B.R. 108; Appr., 11 C.L.J. 226=14 C.W.N. 617, 5 Ind.Cas. 165; R., 5 C.L.J. 270=34 C. 305, 4 M.L.T. 335; D., 5 C.L.J. 78, Note.]

Tender—continued.

(2)—Tender amounting to payment—Costs.—Though a mere unaccepted tender, not followed by payment into Court, would not entitle the defendant to costs, yet where the tender was made in such a way as to amount to payment, the defendant was entitled to costs. A person employed to receive money is not bound to receive a cheque, but if he so accepts it, it amounts to payment. BOLYE CHUND SINGH v. MOULARD, 4 C. 572. [R., 5 C.L.J. 270=34 C. 305.]

(3)—Tender of part only of debt—Costs.—Where the defendant tendered, before suit, only a part of the amount claimed by the plaintiff, in satisfaction of the entire debt, it would not be a legal tender, so that the amount of the entire claim, and not the difference between the sums claimed and tendered, would decide the fourm in which the plaintiff could sue and the costs to which, in consequence, he would be entitled. CHUNDER CAUNT MOOKERJEE v. JODOO NATH KHAN, 3 C. 468=1 C.L.R. 470. [R., 10 C.L.J. 91.]

(4)—Tender of money to creditor when valid.—The law requires for a valid tender that the money due should be produced to the creditor. A mere notice to the creditor of the payment of the principal to a third party is not sufficient for this purpose. MULCHAND v. BABAJI, 1 Bom. L.R. 841.

(5)—Of debt by debtor—Refusal by creditor—Subsequent suit for recovery of debt—Debtor failing to pay amount in Court—Effect on interest.—A person cannot be muloted in interest after he has offered the amount due on a certain debt, if the amount has been wrongfully refused by the creditor. But when the creditor brings his suit, it is the duty of the debtor on receiving intimation of the suit, to at once pay the money into Court. Thus, where the debtor made a tender of the debt to the creditor which was wrongfully refused by him, and the creditor subsequently instituted a suit against the debtor, who, however, failed to pay, the amount at once into Court, it was held that the debtor should not be liable for interest from the date of his tender until the date of the suit, but that interest from the date of the suit up to the date of realisation was to be awarded to the creditor. This interest need not be at the contract rate. MAUNG SHAN v. NVO. WIN, 4 L.B.R. 108. (16 B. 141, Diss.)

(6)—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 38—Tender.—Under a mortgage-deed taken to secure the re-payment within three years of a sum of Rs. 16,000 advanced by the plaintiff, with interest at 15 per cent. from the 2nd July 1874; the date of the mortgage, it was stipulated that interest should be paid every six months, but that if a year's interest should be unpaid, then the whole amount due for principal and interest should become payable at once; and also that the mortgagor might, after payment of interest, pay towards satisfaction of the principal any sum not less than Rs. 1,000. The first year's interest was allowed to get into arrear, but in September 1875, the defendant went to the plaintiff with Rs. 19,000, a greater sum than was due for principal and interest and told him to repay himself from that sum. The offer was refused and the plaintiff thereupon brought a suit on the 9th July 1877 for Rs. 16,000 with interest from the date of the mortgage to the date of the suit and subsequent interest. Held that the tender made by the defendant, although not valid according to English Law was valid under s. 38 of the Indian Contract Act. Per Wilson, J.—S. 38 of the Indian Contract Act substantially requires that there should be a genuine and unconditional offer, in case of payment, to pay unconditionally at a proper place, made by a person in a position to pay. KANYE LALL KHAN v. KHETTER MONEY DOSSEE, 5 C.L.R. 105.

Tender—continued.

(7)—Tender of payment by ryot.—A ryot's tender of payment to be valid, must be made at the proper place and to a person authorized to receive the same. ISHAN CHANDRA ROY v. KHAJA ASSANULLA, 8 B.L.R. 537, Note

(8)—Tender of arrears of rent due—Tender, when legal and valid, effect of—Cheque, tender by, if proper—Waiver—Current coin—Interest, if chargeable after tender and before deposit in Court—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885), *ss.*56 and 61—Deposit, effect of—Indian Coinage Act (XXIII of 1870)—Indian Paper Currency Act (XX of 1882)—Indian Coinage and Paper Currency Act (XXII of 1899).—A tender to be valid, must be made in the current coin of the realm. Under the Indian Coinage Act (XXIII of 1870), the Indian Paper Currency Act (XX of 1882) and the Indian Coinage and Paper Currency Act (XXII of 1899) legal tender includes coins and currency notes, and a tender by a cheque is not a legal tender. When a tender is actually made, but in a currency different from that required by the law, for instance by a cheque on a banker, the objection to the form of the tender may be expressly or impliedly waived by the creditor, and he will be deemed to have waived the objection, if he rejects the tender on the ground of the insufficiency in amount, or on some other ground, without making any objection to the legality of the tender in point of quality. (4 C. 572, R.) A tender is not vitiated, because a receipt is asked. JAGAT TARINI DASI v. NABAGOPAL CHAKI, 5 C.L.J. 270=34 C. 305. [R., 7 M.L.T. 253=5 Ind. Cas. 343.]

(9)—Money payable by decree—Tender during Court hours valid though not received.—Where a tender of a sum required by a decree to be paid is made during the hours the Court is open, the money must be received, or if not received the tender is yet a valid tender, for it is the Court which has not received the money tendered. PAIKAN PATEL v. DOMA POWAR, 3 C. P.L.R. 100,

(10)—Of mortgage amount with a protest.—Payment of the mortgage money into Court by the occupant of the mortgaged property accompanied with a protest and a threat of legal proceedings to recover the amount paid into Court, is not a good tender or such a tender as is contemplated by the Ben. Reg. XVII of 1806, ss. 7 and 8. S. 7 of Ben. Reg. XVII of 1806 provides for the equitable right of redemption "to the mortgagor and the owner of such property, or his legal representative." Quære—Whether a tender of the mortgage money and interest by a stranger, though in possession of the mortgaged property, is a good tender? PRANNATH ROY CHOWDRY v. ROOKEA BEGUM, 7 M.I.A. 323 =4 W. R. P.C. 37=1 Suther. 367=1 Sar. 692.

Tender—continued.

(11)—Tender — Mortgage-money due on a prior mortgage deposited by the mortgagor with puisne mortgagee. — When mortgage-money due on a prior mortgage was deposited by the mortgagor with a puisne mortgagee who sent a notice to the prior mortgagee to receive payment of the amount deposited with him, but no money was actually tendered for payment, nor was it deposited in Court when the prior mortgagee filed his suit. Held, that the tender was not sufficient, and the interest on the prior mortgage did not cease to run from the date of the notice. BURA RAM v. NUR BUKHSH, 115 P.L.R. 1902.

Of rent—Refusal—Running of interest—Tender how kept good—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, ss. 54, 61 and 67, 11 C.W.N. 983, F.B. =6 C.L.J. 273=35 C. 34.

Of amount of decree—Stay of execution—See CIV. PRO. CODE, 1908, O. XXI, r. 55, 2 Hay 302.

Contract of sale, terms of—How far fulfilled —When defective—Estoppel—See CONTRACT —MISCELLANEOUS, 4 C.W.N. 313.

Contract for sale of Government paper—Necessity for—See CONTRACT—MISCELLANEOUS, 9 C. 791.

See CONTRACT—MISCELLANEOUS, 26 C. 142=3 C.W.N. 116.

Condition of proper—See CONTRACT ACT, 1872, ss. 2 (c), 37, 38 and 67, 4 M.L.T. 335.

Effect of—See HINDU LAW—PARTITION, 5 Ind. Cas. 343=7 M.L.T. 253=20 M.L.J. 709.

Effect of—Refusal to accept—Effect upon creditor's costs—See LANDLORD AND TENANT —TENANT'S LIABILITY FOR RENT, 6 M.L.T. 255=3 Ind. Cas. 346=10 C.L.J. 538.

See MORTGAGE—GENERAL, 6 A. 399=A. W.N. 1884, 138.

Insufficient—of mortgage money—See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 16 C. 307, P.C.

See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 3 N.W.P. 80.

Of amount due on mortgage, absence of—Transfer of Property Act, s. 60—See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 5 O.C. 127.

Tender—concluded.

Offer by debtor to pay debt made through letter, whether amounts to a valid—See MORTGAGE—TACKING, 22 B. 440.

Pre-emption decree—Tender in Court—Refusal —Effect—See PRE-EMPTION —PURCHASE MONEY, 79 P.R. 1881.

Calling of, if necessary in the case of grant of lease containing a covenant—See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT, 1877, s. 45, 13 C.W.N. 129=36 C. 271=1 Ind. Cas. 968.

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT OF 1860, 1 B.L.R.S.N. 7 (c)=10 W.R. 105.

Of mortgage money in Court—Interest upon mortgage money subsequent to its deposits in Court—Construction of documents—Mortgage —See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, ss. 60, 83, 84 and 91, 4 C.C. 387.

Tender of mortgage money—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, s. 82, 10 Bom.L.R. 203=32 B. 521.

Meaning of—Subsequent inability to pay—whether interest will run—See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 84, 6 M.L.T. 262=3 Ind. Cas. 729=19 M.L.J. 648=33 M. 100.

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT, 1882, s. 135, 2 C.W.N. 147.

Tenure.

See LANDLORD AND TENANT.

See LAND TENURE.

(1)—Tenure— Measurement — Possession of land up to boundary line.—The holder of a tenure was entitled to get possession of all land up to his boundary line wherever that ran, without reference to the quantity which the land on measurement might prove to be, even though it exceeds the quantity which was alleged by him to be comprised therein. ESAN CHUNDER GHOSE v. PROTOB CHUNDER ROY, 20 W.R. 224.

(2)—Transferable nature of tenure, how decided.—It is a question of great difficulty to know what tenures are transferable. In every district of Bengal there is a different custom, and this question can only be decided by reference to local custom. What is the custom in Lower Bengal is not so in the Eastern or Northern parts and vice versa. In some parts the khoodkhast tenants are allowed to sell without reference to their landlords: in other parts the practice has not been allowed and the only method by which the question in each case can be decided is by reference to local custom, and not by the evidence of a few antagonistic witnesses. JOY KISSEN MOOKERJEE v. RAJKISSEN MOOKERJEE, 1 W.R. 153.

(3)—Transferable tenures, if necessarily mokuraree.—It is not necessary that a tenure should be mokuraree in order to be transferable. HUROMOHUN MOOKERJEE v. RANEE LALUN MONEE DOSSEE, 1 W.R. 5.

Tenure—continued.

(4)—Suit for enhancement—Document of title produced in support of defendant's plea of mokuraree title—Objection as to absence of expression denoting hereditary character of tenure—Evidence of transfers and treatment of estate as hereditary descending from father to son—Documents produced in Courts in India, dangers attendant on dependent talookdar, importance of title deeds of.—In this case, appellant took objection to the documentary evidence produced by the defendant to the effect that those documents, if genuine, contained no "words of inheritance," i.e., no expressions importing the hereditary character of the alleged tenures. Their Lordships of the Judicial Committee were of opinion that such objection not having been taken in the Courts below, it was not open to the appellant to do so now. He was not suing for the recovery of the land or to disturb the possession of the defendant but only for enhancement of rent. The pleadings admitted the existence of the tenures and the lawful occupation of the defendant. The only question between the parties was whether the talooks were tashkis or mokuraree, i.e., whether they were held at variable or at a fixed and invariable rent. Moreover, if the objection were open to the appellant, it would hardly prevail against the evidence which the record afforded that, for upwards of a century, these talooks had been treated as hereditary, and, as such, had both descended from father to son, and been the subject of purchase. [F., 11 W.R.P.C. 10, 8 C.L.J. 513; Expl., 14 W.R. 107; R., 9 W.R. P.C. 3, 1 N.W.P. 165, 21 W.R. 439, 7 C.W. N. 734, 9 C.W.N. 663, 1 C. L.J. 572, 15 C.W.N. 994.] It was set forth as a suspicious circumstance that, though the furud was produced in this case in 1806, the bundobusts or settlements of 1174, to which it referred, were then not produced. But, the Judicial Committee observed that their production was not then necessary for the purpose of the suit. Further, documents are not produced in the Court of India without some risk, and of all men the dependent talookdar has the greatest reason to be careful of his title deeds, since, whatever may have been the recognition of his title by his existing zemindar, he may at some future time have to establish that title by the strictest proof against one coming in by purchase at a sale for arrears of revenue. BABOOGOPAL LALL TAGORE v. TELLUCK CHUNDER RAI, 2 W.R.P.C. 1=10 M.I.A. 183=1 Suther. 558=2 Sar. 98.

(5)—Dur-putnee tenure—Possession and payment of rent for 12 years.—The mere fact that person has been in possession of lands for 12 years paying rent is not sufficient to establish a dur-putnee tenure. RAM KULPO BHUTTACHARJEE v. TARA CHAND BANERJEE, 11 W. R. 358.

(6) — Surburakaree tenures in Cuttack — Alienation.—A surburakaree tenure of the province of Cuttack, which province has not been permanently settled, is not alienable without the consent of the Zemindar. DOORJODHUN DOSS v. CHOOYA DAYE, 1 W.R. 322. [R., 11 C. 699.]

Tenure—concluded

(7)—Different suits for arrears of rent—Indivisible tenure—Splitting up of.—An indivisible tenure cannot be split up into parts with a view to the institution of different suits against the tenants for arrears of rent. MESSRS. R. WATSON & CO. v. KRISTO MOHAN RUKHIT, 19 W.R. 239.

(8)—Revenue sale—Purchase by Government—Right of Government to cancel tenure—Reg. XI of 1822.—The decision of the Privy Council reported in 13 W.R. 24, P.C., which declared the under-tenant entitled to retain possession of his land during the subsistence of his tenure in cases where the Government after their purchase of the tenure at the Revenue sale had not taken some step to avoid or cancel the under-tenure, has no application to a case in which the proceeding of Government shows that it had exercised the power of cancellation. Held also that the decision applies to tenures which had been purchased between 1817 and 1822, and not to tenures created after Reg. XI of 1822 had informed persons that their rights were liable to be cancelled by the purchaser at a sale by auction for arrears of revenue. KAZEE MOONSHEE AFTABOODDEEN MAHOMED v. SANIOOLAH, 23 W.R. 245. [Cons., 25 W.R. 536; R., 2 C.L.R. 13.]

Under-tenure, whether ipso facto avoided by sale of the estate for arrears of revenue—See BEN. ACT XI OF 1859, ss. 27, 28, 29, 37, 6 C. L.J. 472.

Presumption as to—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 5, cl. 5, 6 Ind. Cas. 362.

Transfer of tenure and registration—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, s. 12, 19 C. 17.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, ss. 15, 16, 195 (e), 19 C. 504.

Change of—Effect on law of succession—See BOM. ACT V OF 1862, 12 Bom. L.R. 573=7 Ind. Cas. 659.

Irredeemable or perpetual tenure--See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION, 16 M.L.J. 358=1 M.L. T. 290=29 M. 501.

See PRE-EMPTION—RIGHT TO PRE-EMPT, 34 P.R. 1868.

Tenure-holder.

Holding mela liability to pay road-cess, income tax—See BEN. ACT IX OF 1880, s. 106, 28 C. 637=6 C.W.N. 128.

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1885, 27 C. 205=4 C.W.N. 76.

Tenure of Groves.

Incidents of—Landlord and Grove-holder—Landlord, rights of—to resume grove by portions—See LANDLORD AND TENANT—MISCELLANEOUS, 9 C.C. 109.

Tenures, Bhagdari and Narwadari.

See BOM. ACT V OF 1862.

Tenures, Chota Nagpur.

See BEN. ACT II OF 1869.

Territorial Jurisdiction.

(1) Part of territorial jurisdiction of Court, removal of, by notification—Suits filed but not heard before notification — Jurisdiction. —A plaint filed against a resident of a village, within the local jurisdiction of a Small Cause Court at the time when the plaint was filed, but without it at the time when the suit was ready for hearing, could not be heard by that Court. MELA RAM v. PIRANDITTA, 36 P.R. 1876. [Overruled, 95 P.R. 1876.]

See CESSION OF BRITISH TERRITORY, 1 B. 367, P. C.=3 I.A. 102=1 A. C. 322.

Territorial Law of British India.

See ESCHEAT, 1 B.L R. O.C. 87.

Testamentary Guardian.

Removal of—When his interests are adverse to minor— See GUARDIAN AND WARDS ACT, 1890, s. 7, 16 M.L.J. 357.

Testamentary Suits.

Appointment of Receiver by High Court—See RECEIVER, 17 B. 388.

Testator.

See HINDU LAW—WILL.

See HINDU WILLS ACT.

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL.

See PROBATE.

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT, 1881.

See SUCCESSION ACT, 1865.

See WILL.

See PROBATE—REVOCATION OF GRANT, 10 C. 19, P.C.=10 I.A. 80=13 C.L.R. 314.

See SUCCESSION ACT, 1865, s. 50, 27 C. 169.

Liability of lands purchased from Hindu devisee for testator's debts, same as in English Law — See VENDOR AND PURCHASER — NOTICE, 4 C. 897=4 C.L.R. 193.

Mental capacity of—in dispute—Execution of Will, proof of—Presumption—Rules for deciding such cases—See WILL—EXECUTION, 21 C. 279.

Test Case.

(1)—Order directing stay of proceedings and trial of test case—Right of persons obtaining adverse decision.— Persons obtaining an order directing the trial of one out of 44 cases as a test case and stay of proceedings in the rest, are not, after getting an adverse decision in the test case, precluded from requiring the consideration by the Court of the other cases. KASHIN PRASAD SINGH v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 29 C. 140.

Testimony, Prisoners.

See ACT XV OF 1869.

Thakand Survey Map.

See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS DOCUMENTS.

Thakbust Map.

See EVIDENCE—MAPS.

See EVIDENCE—MISCELLANEOUS DOCUMENTS.

(1)—Evidentiary value of—Statement recorded in presence of parties—Effect.—The presence at the preparation of, and the signing by the parties or their agent of, a thakbust map may fairly be taken to be an admission by the parties of the boundary lines between adjoining villages. In this case the dispute was whether certain land belonged to the estate of the plaintiff or to that of the defendant. Plaintiff produced thakbust and survey maps for 1852 to 1853, the former containing a statement in support of his case. The defendant produced a survey map of the years 1855 to 1856, in support of his case, but failed to produce any thakbust map of the same year. It was found that the predecessor of the defendant had full notice of the thak proceedings, that he objected to the boundary line as laid down in the plaintiff's map between their estates, and that the objection was disallowed. Held, that the evidentiary value of the thakbust map and the survey maps produced on behalf of the plaintiff was greater than that of the survey map produced on behalf of the defendant. DUNNE v. DHARANI KANTHA LAHIRI, 35 C. 621. (2 W.R. 210, 21 W.R. 115, 9 C.L.R. 305, 8 C. 975, 7 C.W.N. 849, 16 C. 186, 16 C. 30, 16 C. 291, 30 I.A. 44, R.)

(2)—Thakbust maps—Jungle lands, possession of, presumption as to—Ex parte entry in thakbust records without enquiry, value of.—Certain plots of lands were entered in the thakbust maps as belonging to a certain Pergunnah in which the plaintiffs claimed them to be, and no question of the demarcation of boundary of these lands was raised in any of the many disputes which arose between the parties during the survey proceedings. It was further found that the title to those lands was with the plaintiffs: Held—that, having regard to the nature of the property which was jungle land, possession must be presumed to have been all along with the plaintiffs. A mouzah appertaining to Pergunnah Pukhuria had not been separately measured or thaked in the course of the survey proceedings. On a statement being called for from the person in possession of the mouzah for its non-appearance on the thak map, his agent appeared and stated that the mouzah was wholly covered with jungle, that, it being situated by the side of Garhgojali which was defendant's property, had been measured along with it, and that 10 gundas share of Garhgojali should be taken for that mouzah. Proceeding on these allegations the Deputy Collector made an entry to that effect. A petition made by the defendant's Mukhtear denying the allegations of the plaintiff's agent was rejected as the matter had been disposed of. With the help of this disputed entry the Subordinate Judge proceeded to mark off a certain area as belonging to the plaintiff as part of the said mouzah. The High Court set aside that decision: Held—that, as the decision of the Subordinate Judge was based on the entry made ex parte and without enquiry and on an allegation of the zemindar's agent which was immediately contradicted, the decision of the High Court was correct. MAHARAJA JAGADINDRA NATH ROY BAHADUR v. RANI HEMANTA KUMARI DEBI, 15 C.W.N. 887. P.C.

Thakbust Map—concluded.

Value of thak and survey maps as evidence generally and also when question is as to land being included in permanent settlement—See ACT IX OF 1847, ss. 3, 5, 6, 30 C. 291, P. C. = 30 I.A. 44 = 7 C.W.N. 193 = 5 Bom. L.R. 1.

Value of, as evidence of possession and title—Specified land included in estate at thak survey—Presumption that it was included within estate at permanent settlement—See BEN. ACT XI OF 1859, ss. 22, 37. 7 Ind. Cas. 849.

See DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR—GENERAL, 13 B.L.R. App. 12 = 21 W. R. 134.

Entry in thakbust map, if relevant evidence—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 36, 7 C.W.N. 849.

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—AUTHORITY OF AGENTS, 3 B.L.R. A.C. 377.

